

Eagle Eye

This is the LAW

Editors Note: Due to the recent drug raid in the city of Lock Haven and on the campus of Lock Haven State College, we feel that perhaps a refresher of the drug laws and the punishments for violation of these laws is in order.

The Pennsylvania State Legislature, under Act 64, has classified drugs into five categories:

- 1) drugs having no medicinal purpose, but having a high potential for abuse.
- 2) drugs having medicinal uses with severe restrictions, but also having a high potential for abuse.
- 3) drugs that are used for medicinal purposes causing moderate dependency but with less potential for abuse than 1 or 2.

4) drugs which cause limited dependency when used for medicinal purposes and have less potential for abuse than 1,2, or 3.

5) drugs which are used in medicine with a low potential for abuse.

With the exception of "small" amounts of marijuana or hashish, possession of drugs 1 through 4 will constitute a misdemeanor. This is punishable by imprisonment of up to one year or a fine up to $5,000.00.

A small amount of hashish is defined as 8 grams or less and a small amount of marijuana is defined as less than 30 grams. Possession of small amounts still is a misdemeanor, but punishable only by imprisonment up to 30 days and/or a fine of $500.00.

The degree of punishment for selling drugs depends on the category of the drug under consideration. Category 1 and 2 drugs are considered narcotic and peddling them constitutes a felony punishable by a 15 year prison term and/or fine of $250,000.

However, selling category 1 and 2 non-narcotic drugs is punishable by a five-year prison term and/or a $15,000 fine. A three-year prison term and/or a $10,000 fine is the penalty for selling category 4 drugs. Selling drugs from category 5 is termed a misdemeanor, punishable by a one-year prison term and/or a $5,000 fine.

Spend a summer in Europe

There are plenty of job opportunities in Europe this summer... Work can be found in the forests of Germany, on construction in Austria, on farms in Germany, Sweden and Denmark, and hotels in Switzerland. These jobs available as well as jobs in England, France, Italy and Holland to American university students coming to Europe the next summer.

For several years students made their way across the Atlantic through the AES Service to take part in the actual life of the people of these countries. The success of this project has caused a great deal of enthusiastic interest and support both in America and Europe.

Every year, the program has been expanded to include many more students and jobs. Already, many students have made application for next summer jobs. American-European Student Service

(on a non-profitable basis) is offering these jobs to students for Germany, Scandinavia, England, Austria, Switzerland, France, Italy and Spain. The jobs consist of forestry work, child care work (females only), farm work, hotel work (limited number available), construction work, and some other more qualified jobs requiring more specialized training.

The purpose of this program is to afford the student an opportunity to get into real living contact with the people and customs of Europe. In this way, a concrete effort can be made to learn something of the culture of Europe. In return for his or her work, the student will receive his or her room and board, plus a wage. However, student should keep in mind that they will be working on the European economy and wages will naturally be scaled accordingly. The working conditions (hours, safety regulations, legal protection, work permits) will be strictly controlled by the labor ministries of the countries involved.

In most cases, the employers have requested especially for American students. Hence, they are particularly interested in the student and want to make the work as interesting as possible. They are all informed of the intent of the program, and will help the student all they can in deriving the most from his trip to Europe.

Further information and application forms may be obtained by writing to the American-European Student-Service, Box 34 733, FI 9490 Vaduz, Leichtenstein (Eruope).
