SNOW.....

Lock Haven students Dig It!

by BETSY MONTANYA

Students returning to Lock Haven on Tuesday encountered what has been termed the worst snow storm in nine years. Snow and ice covered the roadways making it difficult for many students to return to school.

The city, for the first time in several years called in reinforcements to supplement their overtaxed removal force.

College maintenance crews began work at 4am. Wednesday morning in an effort to clean sidewalks and steps as well as the roadways. Maintenance utilized three plows, a front-end loader and two trucks to remove the 10 inches of snow. The clean-up job enabled classes to begin on schedule.

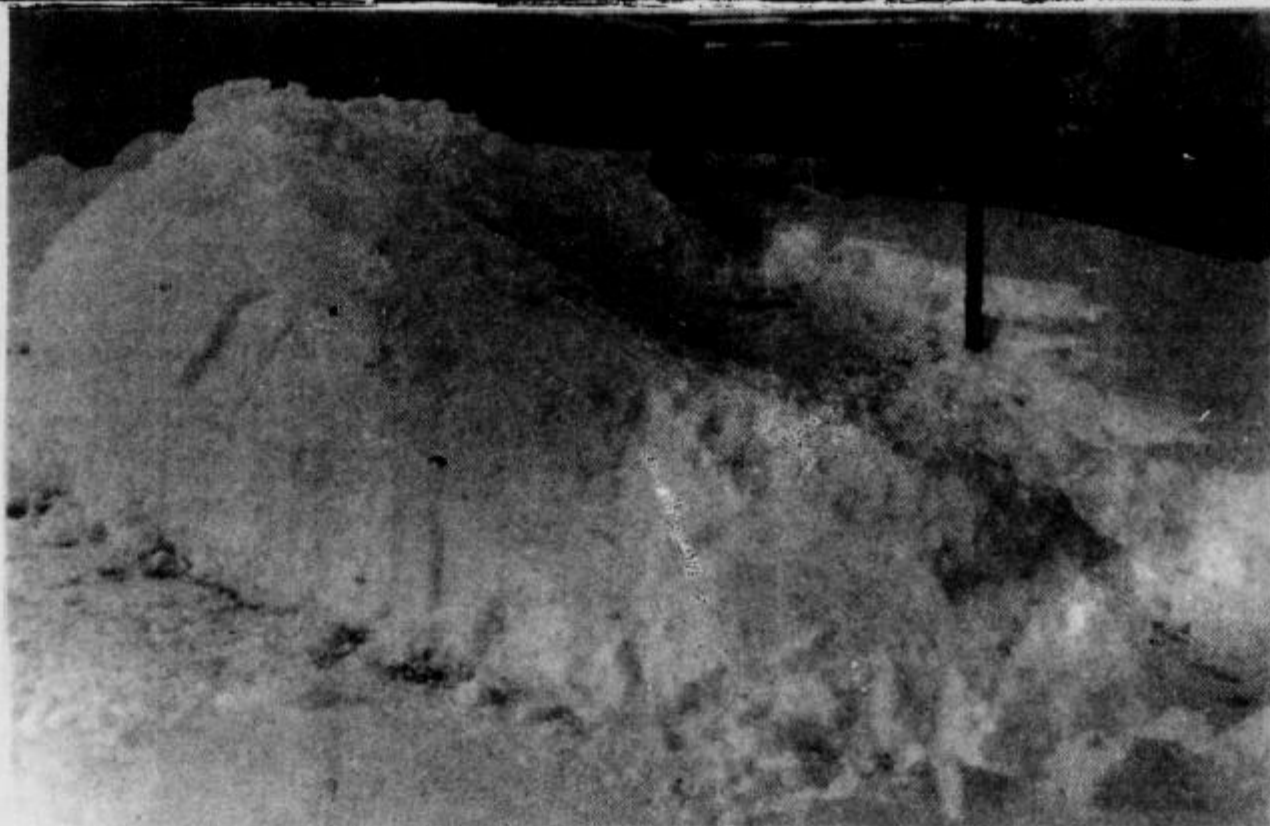

Dr. Francis N. Hamblin explained to the Express that there were more problems in closing the college because of the snow than with keeping it open. Thus LHS remained open despite the severe weather conditions.

Once again, early Friday morning the snow fell, leaving another ten inches on the ground. Although maintenance tried to remove this snow as quickly as possible, Jim Meckley, assistant maintenance supervisor, noted that the snow was being "trampled down faster than it could be shoveled off... we finally gave up." The all-day snow on Friday in conjunction with slippery streets, resulted in the cancellation of many classes.

On Saturday, students custodians, local tradesmen, as well as the maintenance crew came out in mass force to begin the final clean-up on the lower parking lots. On Sunday, crews cleared the upper parking lots, while two North Hall students, Ruth Patton and John "Tazz" Oleskey shoveled the walks and stairs leading up to North Hall.

Law Enforcement worked in conjunction with maintenance crews to clear the parking lots of student vehicles. They did this by checking campus registration stickers to identify the owners of the vehicles. In those dorms equipped with loudspeaker systems, announcements urged, car owners to move their vehicles to lower parking lots. Security officer Greninger commented that hall managers and counselors were of a "tremendous help" in the search for car owners.

Mr. Meckley noted that the problem which now remains is where to put the snow. Previously, it was moved behind Zimmerli and because that area is now filled to capacity with snow, it is now being moved to Jack Stadium parking lot.

Weaver and Dick report on CAS Conference

by SUSAN SHELLY

Bills concerning a lower drinking age in Pennsylvania, decriminalization of marijuana, anti-abortion laws, and the Keystone University Act which would form a board of governors designed to operate state owned colleges, were major topics discussed at the CAS conference held early in January at the Governor's Hotel in Harrisburg.

Colin Weaver, SCC second vice president, and Robbin Dick, parliamentarian, represented Lock Haven State College, as CAS lobbied for the drinking age and marijuana revisions, and the formation of the board of governors, and opposed the anti-abortion bill. Some of these bills have already passed the state Senate and will supposedly go before the House of Representatives sometime this month. Other issues discussed at the conference were student consumerism, minority boards, faculty evaluations, voter registration, off-campus housing and capital appropriations, which include renovation and improvements.

CAS has three boards; the presidential, minority and coordinator, represented by the student government president, CAS coordinator and minority representative from each Pennsylvania state college and university. The three boards meet separately and then recommend procedures to the entire CAS body.

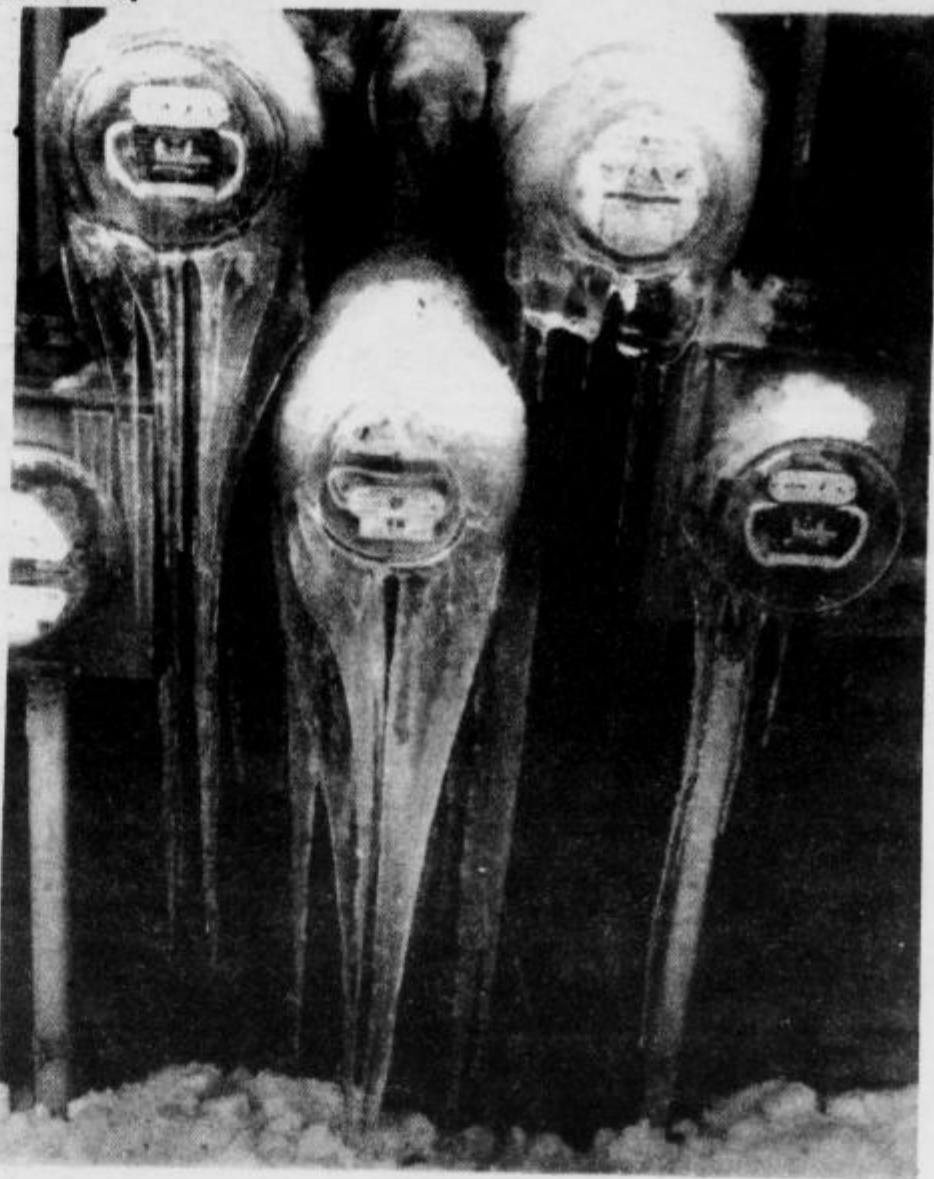

Weaver attended as proxy for SCC president, Joseph Harper, and Dick accompanied him as advisor.

Voter registration evoked the most enthusiasm from Weaver and Dick, who both said they feel there is a strong need for student involvement in city government. Plans are underway for a voter registration campaign, and Dick stated, "I hope to have a representative from this school in city government by the end of 1978."

Both Weaver and Dick were less than satisfied with the response of several state legislators who attempted to explain the higher education system in Pennsylvania to people at the conference. "It was quite a mess," stated Weaver. "Not one of those legislators could feed us a straight line; they all had to lie to us."

COM- MEN- TARY

No More Tokens

Appointing an "Associate Director" of Athletics to direct women's sports is an evasion by the LHSC administration of the spirit of Title IX legislation. It will not give equality to the women's sports program. What is needed instead is the appointment of Co-Directors of men's and women's athletics.

As it stands now, the proposed "Associate Director" will report to Dr. Eberle, the present Director of Athletics, whose principal responsibility will be to direct the men's athletic program. This will assure the continued dominance of men's ath-

In addition, the "Associate Director" will not be given parity in salary and in released time. Since the director of women's athletics would be carrying an equal load, parity in these two areas should be guaranteed: "Equal pay for equal work."

The directors of men's and women's athletics should be equal in power, pay, status and released time. Each should have one-half the responsibilities, a 50% share in decision-making, and equal released time and salary (excluding seniority).

Without these changes, the appointment of a director of women's athletics is tokenism and guarantees the continued inferiority of the status of women on this campus.

This appointment affects every woman on the campus and the Women's Resource Organization urges action to protect our rights. We must notify Dr. Hamblin and the Board of Trustees that we do not approve the appointment of merely an "Associate Director" of Athletics.

Lines...lines...and more lines...

As I write I stand about fiftieth in what seems like an endless line to receive my meal ticket. I've been standing here for at least a half hour and I ask myself if the cafeteria food is really worth it. Maybe I'd be better off starving. But I've never been much of a quitter, or maybe I'm just a masochist, and so I wait. And wait. And wait...

Meanwhile, I overhear bits and pieces of various conversations being carried on by the other bored, impatient crazies, most of which are in the form of desperate complaints and gripes about their immediate situation.

"Get used to it," I warn them. I should know. I've been a student here for three years, at least 25 percent of which, it seems, has been spent waiting in lines.

By far the biggest treat of all is fighting your way through the crowds in the bookstore during the first week of classes, and wasting hours in lines to buy books and cash checks, not to mention the infinite lines of people downstairs in the PUB to have ID's validated.

Well, I have to stop writing now. Seems I'm next in line already. Time sure flies. [chuckle, chuckle.]

Happy line-standing!

College Players' Major Production is Chosen

by RICHARD KLINE

This semester the College Players major production will be "The Good Doctor" by Neil Simon as adapted and inspired by the stories of Anton Chekhov. The play will be student directed by Cecilia Belmont.

Auditions will be held this Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at 7:00 pm. in Sloan 321. The auditions will be private and all people auditioning are asked to have two readings, one serious and one comic, for their auditions. These should each be between two and five minutes long, and need not be memorized. Belmont said that, if possible, she would like the women auditioning to take their serious reading from Chekhov's "The Three Sisters."

She also said that she hopes a lot of people audition, especially people who have not acted here before. There is one copy of "The Good Doctor" in the reserve room in the library.

this spring for LHS instrumentalists. The band directors of Lock Haven and Bloomsburg have arranged for a joint concert tour scheduled for May 20-31st. Participating students will present concerts in various cities of Italy. Concert sites will be the beautiful city of Rome, Bari, L'Aquila, and the Temple of Minerva in Assisi. Between concerts sightseeing will also include Pompeii, Sorrento, Florence, and Lucara. Steamer will carry the musicians to the Isle of Capri.

The band does not have the funds to cover the cost (remember, they couldn't even get money for away games) so each musician will pay his way. The cost will be $765.00 which is extremely reasonable for all it includes. The total covers round-trip airfare, hotel accommodations, transportation museum fees, and two meals a day for the 11 days. Everything possible has been done to keep the cost minimal.

Anyone who is interested in this unique experience should contact Mr. Caimi immediately. Rehearsals will be starting soon. Remember, no way can this type of accommodation and travel be matched on an individual basis.

For those who aren't musicians please check into the other types of travel bargains offered. Go on exchange or go on your own, but go. There is a whole other world out there just waiting to be experienced. Get hooked.

Senior Wins $500 Scholarship

by JIM RUNKLE
Editor-In-Chief

Tina Brooks, a senior at Lock Haven State College received a $500 scholarship last Thursday. The Lock Haven branch of the American Association of University Women provided the funds for the scholarship which was presented to Brooks by Dr. Romeo, a chairperson of the AAUW's fellowship committee.

The scholarship is awarded yearly by the AAUW, and the money is raised primarily through the group's annual Book sale and Calendar sale. The money is awarded yearly, to a local woman attending Lock Haven State College.

Tina Brooks, who is student teaching this semester, stated that she was extremely happy to receive the award.

OPENING NIGHT

by CARLA EATON

Those that know my flighty ways, know! I am addicted. What's more, I admit I wish I could get every single one of you hooked on taking trips, real trips - the travel kind.

Traveling is one of the most mind altering experiences in existence and those who don't try it will never know the thrill of new people, new faces and new ideas.

Traveling first class is truly an expensive habit, but via back-packs, hostels, friends, rail passes, tours, NUS discounts, ..., nearly everyone can afford to see the world or at least a part of it. Those who profess to being too poor are on the most part procrastinating. To use an old adage, "Where there's a will, there's a way."

The students of Lock Haven State are fortunate in having easy access to a wide variety of travel opportunities. The Office of International Exchange offers not only inexpensive methods to study or teach in foreign countries, but also offers information on all types of budget travel.

A very special travel package will be available

Advisory Board is Biggest Achievement

by MARY THORSON

How do people see the Vice President of Academic Affairs? As a stuffed shirt? a Stone-faced intellectual? The all-powerful boss, or decision-maker? This reporter went behind the scenes to find out just who is this person occupying Lock Haven State's number-2 position.

My first discovery: Dr. John L. Zaharis is indeed a thinking, feeling human being. Born in Westbrook, Maine, and educated at the University of Oklahoma and Kansas State University, he was awarded memberships in several honor societies and professional societies, including the American Association for Advancement of Science and the American Association of University Professors.

Directly prior to coming to Lock Haven in July, 1976, Dr. Zaharis served as Dean of Academic Affairs at North Adams State College in Massachusetts. When asked to compare the two colleges, Dr. Zaharis said, "The state college in Massachusetts had approximately the same enrollment as Lock Haven, but with only one-half the number of buildings, one-third the budget, and less faculty." He went on to say that the Pennsylvania state college system is much better off than that of Massachusetts, both physically and financially, and his first impression of Lock Haven State was a "very pleasing one." When asked if this first impression had changed in the 1 1/2 years since he's been here, he replied, "If anything, it's improved."

Dr. Zaharis feels that the student body at Lock Haven State, as a whole, seems to have a much better attitude toward education than those in Massachusetts. He stated, "The students here seem to be more concerned about learning and getting the most out of their education. That's a healthy sign." He went on to say, however, that many students are not taking the full initiative for academic progress. "They don't see their advisors, and then when they're short a few credits to graduate they expect me to make special exceptions for them, and I can't always do that... It's like they're transferring the monkey from their back to my back."

Dr. Zaharis also feels that the library is not being used well. He explained, "There has been a steady decrease in the number of books checked out of the Stevenson Library in the past five years... Are the students reading less or buying more books in the bookstore?"

Dr. Zaharis has been criticized by the SCC for instigating an ROTC program on campus without asking for their views on the issue. When asked for his reaction to this, Dr. Zaharis replied, "I have no guilt feelings. It has not been customary to go to the SCC about such things."

Dr. Zaharis believes that his biggest accomplishments so far at Lock Haven State have been the opening of the Academic Advisory Center, the new retention standards and the closing of Akeley School. "The closing of Akeley was an important step," he explained, "because it made the building available to us when we really needed office space."

Dr. Zaharis feels the most challenging problem he is currently being faced with is in finding a replacement for Dr. Milliken. "A decision will probably be reached by mid-January," he said, "and the new person will assume responsibility on March 1, 1978."

"Crucible" needs Contributions

The Crucible, Lock Haven State's endangered literary magazine, is being revived by a small, but dedicated and enthusiastic staff.

Your help is badly needed and contributions of original poetry, short stories, photography and art can be placed in the envelope outside the publications office in the ground level of the PUB.

Contributions do not have to be signed and there is no limit to the number you may contribute.

HAVEN GRAPPLERS HAD SUCCESSFUL HOLIDAY SEASON WINNING 8 OF 9

by JERRY PETERMAN

The East's 9th ranked team, the Lock Haven State Bald-Eagles (11-2) had a very successful holiday tour winning eight out of nine duals and winning the Delaware State College Invitational Wrestling Championship for the second straight year.

The Bald-Eagles opened their tour by downing a tough Morgan State team, 28-13, in Baltimore, Md., on Jan. 3rd. The following evening, the Bald-Eagles blasted the University of Baltimore, 55-0. On Saturday, Jan. 7th, the Bald-Eagles took top honors in the eight team DSC Invitational scoring a record 109 pts. to easily outdistance Southern Connecticut University, who gained 78½ points. The Haven crowned a record six individual champs. Garry Uram, 118; Sean Ahern, 126; Dave Moyer, 134; Micheal Moore, 142; Al Fricke, 177; and Gregg Koontz, Hwt., won titles. Micheal Moore, was also voted the 'Outstanding Wrestler' and won the 'Most Falls' award. Austin Shanfelter, 167 placed 2nd; Dusty Ream, 150, and Mike Nauman, 158 garnered 3rd places and Tim Thompson, 190, got a 4th place.

The vagabond Bald-Eagles then defeated George Mason University, 35-7, at Fairfax, Va.; Hampton Institute, 60-0, at Hampton, Va.; Old Dominion University, 45-3, at Norfolk, Va.; and Newport

News Apprentice, 53-0, at Newport News, Va., on successive nights at the host schools gymnasiums.

The big match was against one of the South's toughest teams, the College of William & Mary Indians at Williamsburg, Va. The Haven scored an impressive 28-14 win over the previously undefeated Southern Conference Champs. The 'Haven' then journeyed up to Towson, Md., where they upended Towson State University 31-13.

The Bald-Eagles met their first defeat on the tour this past Saturday night when they were upset by a good Slippery Rock State team, 23-20 at the 'Rock'. Al Fricke, 177, was forced to default his controversial match at Slippery Rock, because of a knee injury, which proved to be the margin of victory for the 'Rock'. Sporting the best record so far this season is 'All-American' candidate senior, co-captain, Michael Moore, 142, who now owns a tremendous 18-1 record with no less than 13 falls. Moore has established himself as one of the top 142 pounders in the nation. Also, having a great season is popular sophomore, Gregg Koontz, the 275 pound heavyweight, who now sports a 16-2 record and was especially impressive in decking Slippery Rock's Chuck Tursky in just 2:50 on Saturday night. Tursky had beaten Koontz by one point last season.

According to coach, Dr. Ken Cox, the Bald-Eagles wrestled extremely well on the tour and were at their best at William & Mary. "We are not as sharp at Slippery Rock," continued Cox, we were a little tired from all the traveling but we have no excuses. The default loss by Fricke was unfortunate, and I hope Al can rejoin our team soon and his injury is not serious. He's a fine co-captain and is having another good year. We're now 11-2, but have some 'big' matches still ahead of us. Anything can happen, its still two months to tournament time, concluded Dr. Cox.

The top 10 individual dual meet records for the Bald-Eagles are: Michael Moore, 142, 13-0; Gregg Koontz, Hwt., 11-1; Al Fricke, 177, 10-2-1; Mike Nauman, 158, 8-2; Austin Shanfelter, 167, 7-2-1; Gary Uram, 118, 8-4; Dave Moyer, 134, 8-4; Dusty Ream, 150, 5-3-1; Doug Gallaher, 150-158, 4-3; Sean Ahern, 126, 3-2-1.

LHSC Track Season Opens January 28

by GREGORY J. DULAK

The Bald Eagle track team will open its 1978 indoor season on January 28 against Bucknell and Bloomsburg at Bucknell.

The track team will have five indoor meets this winter, all away because Lock Haven has no indoor track. The regular outdoor season will start March 29 at California State College. The track team has been practicing on their own for quite a while," Coach Joseph Coldren said. "The indoor meets are like exhibitions for the team, to get ready for the outdoor season." Coldren said the team practices anywhere they can due to the lack of facilities indoors.

Tri-Captains for this season are Richard Bisking, Lou Forillo, and Stan Burke. The Assistant Coach is Mike Parker. Coach Coldren has 23 returning letterman and over sixty freshmen trying out. "We have good depth this year," Coldren said, "but the team has a long way to go." Coach Coldren has named a number of outstanding team participants: Benjamin Omiegbe, a sophomore from Nigeria, was an All American in NCAA Division Three where he place fifth. Omiegbe set a long jump record of 24'5" for both Pa. Conference and LHSC. Senior Richard Bicking won All American honors in NCAA Division Three, and placed third in javelin with a throw of 212'. Sophomore Stan Burk, All American in Division Three, placed second in the high jump, and set a record for LHS of 6' 10½". Byron Monst, senior, had a Triple Jump of 48' 10½" that set a new record at LHS, placed fourth at Pa. Conference, and completed in the Nationals.

Others who should contribute importantly, according to Coach Coldren, are Lou Fiorillo, mile; George Settle, mile and half mile; Jeff Mann, pole vault; Rick Blood, three and six mile; Jim Dressler, javelin; Mike Figard, javelin; Pete Fox, discus; Dave Roth, discus; Jim Newsome, 440 and ½ mile; Jim Hughsom, ½ mile.

The indoor track meets are as follows: January 28 Bucknell-Bloomsburg at Bucknell. February 4 East Stroudsburg-Millersville at East Stroudsburg. February 18 Bucknell-Bloomsburg at Bucknell. February 24 Bloomsburg-Mansfield at Bloomsburg. March 11 East Stroudsburg-Invitational at East Stroudsburg.

Guide positions available May through October with Wilderness Voyagers Inc., Guided River Trips. Must be 18 years of age or older, have current Red Cross Advanced First-aid and Senior Lifesaving cards, previous experience in working with people, and paddling experience. ## Bald Eagle Cagers Beat Edinboro Scots In Overtime

by JOHN SNYDER

On January 18 before a sizable crowd at Thomas Fieldhouse, the Bald Eagle Cagers finally won a game. This season has been a losing nightmare for the varsity squad, but this very hard earned victory sweetened the sour grapes a bit. The victim was powerful Edinboro State which had beaten LHS at their court in an earlier encounter; they fell in overtime 65-63. Outclassed but not to be denied, the scrappy squad rallied from a 29-24 halftime deficit to tie the contest 52-52 with only 2:31 remaining. A stingy defense kept the Scots at bay and at the end of regulation time the score stood at 56 points a piece.

A tremendous effort by LHS without players Thompson in overtime, Dave Roth for the game, and Dave Hendershot on account of departure, overwhelmed a star-studded Edinboro team in overtime with two seconds left. Ken Richter sank a cool twenty footer to clinch the win.

Foul shooting in bonus situations played a major role in LH's failure to break away from the tight nail-biting spectator's delight. The Scots placed four men in double figures, while the Bald Eagles were paced by outstanding Ken Richter's 21, with Al Holtzer pumping 13 and Tom Huff 11. This victory had been the first in 11 attempts. Before the break, LH lost to Union College 76-67 and 69-60 to Indiana. Both of these games could have been and maybe should have been won, but each time the Bald Eagles faltered in the last few minutes. In two tournaments during the break, LH accumulated four more losses. Two each in the George Mason tourney and Gull Classic at Salisbury State. A couple of very close contests in these tournaments could have been won. Saturday night the Bald Eagles traveled to Slippery Rock and were severely whipped 69-50. Leading scorers for LHS were Al Holtzer with 16 points and Tom Huff with 10 points.

Holtzer played a very fine game, hitting 8 of 10 shots. Coach Taylor commenting on the team's efforts said that the "offense was very sluggish" He also stated that the Rockets on paper were the best team in the league. LHS's shot selection was poor throughout. At the foul line, Slippery Rock was 15 for 19 whereas LH was 2 for 5. Numerous fouls in the final minutes of the game helped the Rockets break the game open handily. The Bald Eagles, however, continued to hustle and scrap as the did in the big Edinboro upset; this time the opposition was classier. The next game is at Clarion on Wednesday, January 25.

Womans Basketball Team Begins Season by Beating Alumni

by KATHY MURRAY

On Saturday, Jan. 20, at 1:00 pm. a women's basketball game between LHS Women's Varsity and LHS alumni was scheduled.

There was one problem however. Old man weather was up to his tricks again and apparently the alumni had difficulty being punctual. In fact, none of the alumni were present at the beginning of the game. Coach Kyle Cornelius decided to have a J.V. and Varsity scrimmage. Before the game progressed for any length of time few alumni were integrated into the game and proceeded to make their presence felt. Returning alumni were: Barbara Collins, class of '75; Jo Lereus, class of '75; Pat Ogle, class of '76; and Mary Rotz, class of '71.

Though the varsity took an early lead it was a close game right down to the last few seconds. The final score was 68-66. The LHS Varsity had proved their competency despite the fact that three starters were missing from the line-up. Those varsity players absent were Mary Flug, who has been out with a knee injury; Kathy Landis, sidelined with ankle problems; and Diane Tolemko who was at home for personal reasons. It is still uncertain when Flug and Landis will be returning at full strength.

High scores for the alumni were Pat Ogle with 21 pts. and Mary Rotz with 10. Ogle was also high rebounder with 10. For the Varsity Bea Henry and Lisa Hand scored 16 and 14 pts. respectively. Lois Kapp, Bea Henry and Lisa Hand each collected four rebounds.

Over Christmas vacation the Women's Varsity team was in two tournaments. The first was the "Kean College Christmas Classic" in New Jersey. Four teams participated: Kean, Slippery Rock, William Paterson and LHS. In the first game, LHS fell to Kean 49-67. High scorers were Sandy Koteckie with 12 pts. and Diane Tolemko with 10. In the second game LHS trounced William Paterson 90-40. Three LHS players scored in double figures: Landis 20 pts. Fleig 18 pts. and Tolemko 16 pts. LHS placed third overall.

The second tournament was the Towson Invitational in Maryland. Out of eight teams LHS placed fourth. The varsity defeated Salisbury 81-47 with scoring honors going to Landis who had 26 pts. and Tolemko with 11 pts. Beagle, Flug, and Gilgallen all had 8 pts. Next LHS played American University and suffered a 74-55 setback. Coach Cornelius noted that "At half-time the 'Haven' was down 19-46. LHS was able to outscore A.V. in the second half by hustling the whole time but we just couldn't pull back enough." In the "Haven's" consolation game they faced Towson State without starters Flug and Koteckie who were sidelined with injuries. LHS lost a heart-breaker, 68-61, as Lock Haven had led throughout the entire game until the last three minutes. Landis scored 22 pts., Henry scored 14 pts. and Beagle chipped in with 9 pts.

Coach Cornelius was quick to point out the attitude of the team by stating, "Everyone is putting out everything they have and are maintaining aggressive determination throughout all the games. They just don't give up."

There are 25 women on the roster. Of those 13 are returning from last year's squad. There are four junior transfers of which two are on varsity. Of six freshmen, two have made the varsity team.

The J.V. also acquired some game experience over Christmas by defeating Williamsport Area Community College 68-32. Greist gathered 15 pts. and Lenns had 10 pts. Neeter and Parks scored 8 pts.

Concerning the upcoming season Coach Cornelius feels, "we have a very rough schedule ahead of us. We will be meeting a lot of height on other teams and this should be our biggest challenge."

Lock Haven will be meeting Juniata the 24th and University of Maryland the 26th. Both games are away. The next home game finds LHS going against the likes of a tough University of Delaware team. This game is 2:00 on the 28th. In the words of Coach Cornelius, "This one should be a beaut!" Presently LHS sports a 2-3 record.

There will be a College Players meeting on Thursday, Jan 26, at 9:00 pm. in Sloan 321. Prospective members are welcome.
