Lisa Lisa and Expose featured in SCC sponsored concert

By Kate Kinney
Co-News Editor

Lisa Lisa and the Cult Jam, the group with the current top ten hit "Lost in Emotion," will be performing in Thomas Field House on November 1.

Jamie Crankfield, Student Cooperative Council (SCC) social activities chairman, said the double bill of Lisa Lisa and special guest Expose will be "the best concert Lock Haven has ever seen."

Only 3,000 tickets for the event will be sold, but Crankfield said he expects a sell out.

"Tickets are selling like wildfire. We have sold approximately 600 tickets today, and it's just the first day of sales."

This concert is on an east coast tour right now. Other colleges in the area to host this event on their tour are West Point, Princeton, and Lehigh.

After their engagement on the LHU campus, the groups are scheduled to tour Japan, said Crankfield.

He said he thinks the concert will help "people realize that we (the SCC) are here to serve the students."

Crankfield was aided in scheduling the concert to come to Lock Haven by SCC

Treasurer Matt VanLokeren.

He said that they began to ask people last May what concerts they would like to see on campus.

VanLokeren and Crankfield then called various agencies to begin to pick a popular choice who would be in the area, but within the SCC budget.

Lisa Lisa has had top ten hits including "All Cried Out" and "Head To Toe," while Expose boasts top forty hits "Point of No Return" and "Let Me Be the One."

A committee made up of SCC members and non-members has aided Crankfield with contacting radio stations and calling other ticket outlets.

On the day of the concert, this group will be responsible for concert security and moving the group equipment.

General Admission tickets are on sale in the SCC Business Office for $6 with a validated student ID.

Only one ticket per person will be sold at the $6 price, any tickets over that will be $11.

Tickets for the public will go on sale at other ticket outlets, such as Lycoming College and Williamsport Area Community College, on October 26.

"We anticipate a sell out," said Crankfield.

Lisa Lisa and the Cult Jam will perform Sunday, Nov. 1, in Thomas Field House with opening group, Expose.

Lambda Chi hosts non-alcoholic party...

Alcohol Awareness week offers speeches and demo

By John P. Elder
Staff reporter

Greeks, student life and CAMPS have joined together for National Collegiate Alcohol Awareness week to provide events that encourage the responsible use of alcohol.

According to Gary Brophy of Lambda Chi Alpha, the purpose of the week long observance is to teach people to be responsible when they drink.

"Alcohol Awareness week does not try to get people to stop drinking. It emphasizes alcohol awareness, not abstinence," said Brophy.

Today in Bentley lobby during lunch, members of Phi Mu Delta and the LHU faculty will be drinking alcohol and demonstrating its effects on the body.

Monitoring the alcohol levels and answering questions will be Chief Gordon

Mincer of the Pine Creek Township Police Department.

Tonight at 7 p.m. a speech by Dr. Donald Oakley will try to uncover the myths and misconceptions about alcohol use. The event will be held in Smith Hall Lounge and is sponsored by Alpha Sigma Phi.

Smith Hall will again be host to another presentation at 7 p.m. on Wednesday entitled "Death By Hazing." Sponsored and funded by Kappa Delta Rho, the presentation will feature Eileen Stevens, a nationally known opponent of dangerous hazing practices.

Slated for 7 p.m. Thursday in Woolridge Hall Lounge will be, "But I Just Had A Few..." The presentation will feature Chief Joseph Sanders of the Lock Haven Police Department.

Sanders will discuss such alcohol related topics as drunk driving, fake I.D.'s, and how an alcohol violation record can affect students. The event is being sponsored by Lambda Chi Alpha.

Concluding the week's agenda will be a Friday Afternoon Recreation Therapy (F.A.R.T.) party at the Lambda Chi Alpha House. The party will start at 4 p.m., and refreshments will be served.

A member of Alpha Sigma Phi, John Griffin, said that his goal for the celebration is to give Greek organizations at LHU a more positive image.

"We've got to show people that there's more to Greek life than alcohol," said Griffin.

The week-long festivities began on Sunday with a tailgating party at LHU's soccer match-up with Alderson-Broadus.

On Monday a representative from Miller High Life discussed the responsible use of alcohol.

The week's activities on campus are being sponsored by the Interfraternity Council, the Panhellenic Council, the Student Life Department, and CAMPS.

War College speakers to discuss military

By Heidi Weaver
Staff Reporter

What is the army's reaction to the proposed nuclear missile treaty between the U.S. and the Soviet Union?

U.S. Army Colonel Charles Harmon and members of the public affairs panel from the Army War College in Carlisle, Pa. will be discussing the proposed missile treaty and other military issues tonight at 7:30 in the Hall of Flags.

The panel will also be answering any questions the audience may have about army issues.

"Any topic is welcome and fair game," said Dr. Francis Perna, professor of political science and economics at LHU.

In the past, topics the panel addressed included women in the armed forces and Vietnam. Perna added that the panel always provides "lively commentary and insightful information."

The chance we've all waited for

Many people complain about the lack of parking spaces, the food at Bentley, and the new registration system just to name a few, but only a small number get the chance to air their complaints and pass possible solutions on to the people who can really make a difference. But, a conference held this past Sunday evening gave student presidents of all the organizations and clubs on campus the chance we have all been waiting for.

Speaking directly to the University's top administrators, we had a chance to tell them exactly what was on our minds, whether good or bad.

Registration was the top issue, and Dr. Woodbury was very eager to hear the student opinion. In fact, there was enough support against it that a special SCC meeting this Thursday at 6:30 p.m. has been called to discuss the problem in detail. It should be a heated meeting to begin with, but the grapevine tells me that a formal protest may also be on location.

Apathy, along with the term "suit-case-college" were also hot items. Students are not pleased with the lack of school pride, the lack of weekend activities, etc., etc.

Because of this, the idea of enhancing the PUB's facilities, having more coffeehouses, and organizing more weekend happenings may soon occur.

Another important point brought up was that most students cannot even name the people in charge, let alone know them to say "Hi." I realize that it would be impossible for the executive administrators to be on a first name basis with everyone who goes here, but they should be more visible than sitting behind their desks making school policy.

The most impressive part of the meeting was the openness of the administrators. Most, not all, were very open to suggestion and input.

Overall, most of the students including myself were very impressed. Although no resolutions were implemented, the administration got the message. I only wish that another such meeting could be held later in the year so that progress can be monitored.

Portrait of a unwary student

This afternoon I made the mad rush to the LHU Bookstore after I saw someone leaving with a copy of the listing of the courses that will be available for the Spring of 1988.

Hoorah!, the new course listings are here! I can now run to my advisor and show her the courses that I want (or is it need?). We can discuss my proposed schedule and reach the final decision as to what courses I need. All responsible students do what they are told to do when they are told to do it. Right!

Portrait of the student who believes that the new registration system is going to work:

He sees that the course listings have been provided for him, but he can see no further. Perhaps he'll better be able to see what's in store for him as he passes the signpost up ahead which tells him he's just entered...The Twilight Zone.

Well, I'm certainly glad that I don't have to worry about which professors to take and at what times my classes will meet. I do have to work from 1-3p.m. three days a week to support my college education, but I think that somebody will take care of that for me so that I won't have to worry about that part of next semester.

Confusion sets in as the student begins to find out that the reality of his situation differs from this new plan. What did someone once say about the best laid plans of men? Perhaps it wasn't realized that reality is often different from those best laid plans.

Finally, the student has begun to accept the new system, and perhaps he also begins to innocently offer his freedom of choice in the name of progress. He has also sacrificed which professor he wants and what times are appropriate for him. A sad time as we think some 200 years ago, when rebels with such strange names as Jefferson, Adams, and Washington dared to think of and write a plan that called for the establishment of some new system.

The following passage is intended to provide people with a partial perspective on the problems of this new registration system. However, I congratulate Vice President of Academic Affairs Ronald Woodbury and Associate Dean of Academic Affairs James Smalley for bringing a new registration system to the campus of LHU (the old system was a definite stress on all of our lives), but I think that this new system has some definite "bugs" that need to be worked out...NOW!

Mr. Woodbury, if 1000 students have an acceptable pre-schedule, what happens to the other two-thirds of the students who don't have the acceptable pre-schedule?

Next, I think that student input is necessary to assure that the system works for the administration and for those people whom the new system will administer (namely, the students). Perhaps a representative group of student leaders should be assigned to the group that is working on the new registration system.

Booters battle to draw with tough Alderson Broaddus

By Robert Cooper
Sports Reporter

Two 45 minute halves and two ten minute overtime periods were just not enough to settle the dog fight between the Bald Eagles and the NAIA's number one team, Alderson Broaddus (AB) College, which ended in a 1-1 tie.

"For us to tie a team that's 13-0-0 and ranked number one in the country is a good result," said Head Coach Lenny Long. "That's the best side I've seen at Lock Haven since I've been here."

The Bald Eagles drew first blood when an AB defender headed the ball into his own net at 5:43 mark, giving the Haven a 1-0 lead.

They held that lead until the closing moments of the first half, when Alderson Broaddus' forward Grant Shiffert hit a buzzer beating goal with one second remaining.

From there the goalies from both teams took over. Lock Haven's goalie Warren Westcoat had 15 saves, and Rich Alphonso saved nine for visiting Alderson Broaddus.

The Bald Eagles' record now stands at

Defense plays solid in 14-0 loss

By Bill Alexander
Sports Editor

Although the Bald Eagles were held scoreless for the third consecutive week, Head Coach Tom Jones has a reason to be pleased with the 14-0 loss to IUP on Saturday.

IUP raises their record to 5-1 overall and a perfect 3-0 in the PSAC West while Lock Haven falls to 1-6 overall and 0-4 in the West.

"I feel real good. The defense played with intensity, the way they are capable of playing," said Jones. "You hold Indiana, the number one team in the West, to 14 points and you do the things that we did on defense, I feel real good."

IUP took the very first possession of the game down the field and hit paydirt as Indian QB Jim Pahanick connected with Tony Trave for a 15 yard TD. John Sandstrom added the extra point for a 7-0 Indian lead.

The Indians extended their lead in the second quarter as Pahanick hit Trave for a 22 yard TD. Sandstrom's PAT was good and IUP led 14-0.

One bright spot for the Bald Eagles came in the third quarter as senior wide receiver John Klacik surpassed Bobby Lynn's career reception record of 113 catches.

Klacik now has 20 catches for 286 yards this season and 117 career receptions for 1,740 yards, 201 behind Lynn's record.

Darrell Chavis was the leading rusher for the Bald eagles as he picked up 89 yards on 16 carries and QB Rich Hunter went

4-5-5 while Alderson Broaddus remains undefeated at 13-0-1.

5-for-17 passing for 51 yards, no TD's and no interceptions.

Lock Haven travels to Edinboro this Saturday for a 1:30 p.m. match-up.

"They are capable of scoring and have a good offense," said Jones. "Defensively they're bigger than we are, but they have been giving up points. We have to get after them and play good football."

"If we finish the last four games strong, that is how we're going to be remembered," said Jones. "I'm very much looking for them to improve each week, finish the season strong, have a good year at the end and build for next year."

Tomorrow at 3 p.m., the Booters will host Indiana University of Pennsylvania.

U.Conn. upends Lady Eagles

By Mike Leavy
Sports Reporter

Despite a late game drive, the Lady Eagle field hockey team lost to the University of Connecticut 5-3 in overtime last Friday.

Kim Hasson and Heather Massey each had a goal late in the game to knot the score at 3-3 to force the game into overtime.

Paula Stephens also scored for the Haven as she netted her ninth goal of the season.

In overtime, the defense didn't stay together, and Connecticut scored twice to win the contest.

Head Coach Sharon Taylor said that the five minute break between the end of regular time and the first overtime period really helped Connecticut.

"We finally tied it up, and our momentum was stopped while U.Conn got their's back," said Taylor.

"If we had played for ten minutes longer instead of breaking," she said, "we would have won the game."

Overall, Taylor was pleased with her team's performance against the seventh ranked team in the nation.

"This is probably the toughest team we'll play all season," said Taylor. "The team played well, and we were close to them in most areas."

With their record standing at 8-2-2, the Lady Eagles travel to West Chester University on Wednesday for a 2:30 p.m. match.
