Smith Hall's Face Lifted

The first stage of the renovation of Smith Hall is now completed.

Gold curtains have been added and the inside of the building painted. In addition, rooms and closets have been painted as well as the hallways. The painting of Smith has added a great deal of flair to the building; even the rest rooms make you feel right at home with their brightly colored walls.

This painting was done under a property and supply contract for which several bids were submitted and the bid best suiting the college was accepted. The recent flood caused a delay in bidding which consequently caused a delay and an inconvenience for students, however this inconvenience was unavoidable.

Further renovation planned for the male dorm will include refinishing the woodwork and the possible partitioning of the basement into study rooms. No date has been set for this work.

Buildings Take Shape

On the hill in front of McEntire Hall stands the skeleton of the new Gross Hall. The five-story building, which will be completed in March, will house approximately 200 women students and will be opened for the '73 fall term.

The hall is named after two prominent Lock Haven State women. They are Rebecca F. Gross, a past member of the board of trustees, and Lydia E. Gross, ex-director of the division of Elementary Education.

This building, greatly needed to relieve the present overcrowding in the women's dorms. It will replace Russell Hall, which will be an administration building next year.

Construction of the new stadium, which will surround the recently completed track and football field, has been delayed because State officials have not yet approved the project.

The college has proposed a plan for the erection of a new stadium which will include seating for the public, locker rooms, concession stands, and a storage building for equipment. However, until word is received from Harrisburg, no progress can be made in the actual designing or even the selecting of the firm that will complete the project.

Who's Gonna Be Who?

Who's Who among students in American Universities and Colleges? A maximum of thirty-one students from Lock Haven State will be chosen for listing in Who's Who.

According to David J. Arsenault, Coordinator of Campus Activities, the criteria upon which students are selected for Who's Who includes their school scholarship, participation and leadership in academic and extracurricular activities, citizenship and service to the school and promise for future usefulness.

The process used for choosing candidates is: memorandums are sent to all campus organization officers who are mainly students, campus organization advisors, department chairmen, division deans, and administrators. These people can nominate as many Juniors and Seniors as they desire. Information forms are sent to the selected persons requesting information as to their address, class status, cumulative grade point, the activities in which they participate, and offices which they have held.

PSASG Conf. is 'Tremendous Success'

The Pennsylvania State Association of Student Government (PSASG) recently met at the Lock Haven Seig Conference Center.

George Bower, SCC President and chairman of the conference, reported that nine of the fourteen state colleges and university were represented. Also present at the conference were Ernest Ziegler, recently-appointed Commissioner of Higher Education and Mr. Hager, who is running for the Senate from the 23rd District. Approximately fifty people attended the three day conference.

The conference consisted of two days of workshops where various topics were discussed by the delegates. The topics discussed in Thursday's workshop were: Human Relations, Activities, Veterans Affairs, Alternatives to the Grading System, Computer Problems and Legislative Relations. Friday's workshop topics were: Educational Policy, Appropriations and Finance, Legal Matters, Abortion and Birth Control and Tuition Increase. The topics were discussed by the delegates with great interest and sincerity.

George was asked if he had any comments concerning the conference and he replied: "The delegates enjoyed the atmosphere of the Seig Conference Center immensely. It is the perfect place to hold any type of conference. In the future all PSASG conferences are planned for Lock Haven. On the whole, the conference was a tremendous success".

Latta Resigns as Director

Colonel Farley A. Latta resigned Monday afternoon following two and a half years of employment as the Director of the Student Union at Lock Haven State College. The Colonel did not state a specific reason for the resignation, but he said that the policies being formulated and actions being taken were in direct conflict with his principles and beliefs. He also said that "these actions appear to be contrary to the best interests of the majority of students of Lock Haven State College."

Francis Hamblin, President of the College, accepted the resignation and it became effective at the close of business October 31, 1972.

A board composed of students and administrators has already been selected to find a replacement for Colonel Latta. They hope to have someone chosen for the position before the Christmas holidays.

The guidelines of the position and the job description will be reviewed and reorganized by the "search committee" before a new director is selected. The new director will be a person with a BA or BS in Business Administration and someone who is not affiliated with Lock Haven in any way. Also, it is the aim of this board to hire an assistant director of the Student Union by June.

WE ARE THE PEOPLE OUR PARENTS WARNED US ABOUT.

College Players perform "The Sign in Sidney Brustein's Window." The play can be seen tonight and tomorrow night at 8 p.m. in Price Auditorium.

Pre-registration to be Dropped

Pre-registration for the next semester has been dropped by the administration who feels it causes a problem in time, effort and accuracy. Instead of pre-registration, students will meet with their advisors and discuss what courses are necessary for their curriculum.

Registration for spring classes will be held some time in December. At that time students will go to Thomas Field House, where they will select computer cards of the courses and sections they would like to be in. These cards will then be taken to the classes in which the student is registered.

Registration will take place with the seniors first, juniors second, sophomores third and freshmen last.

Campus Talent Strikes Again!

A new mural has been completed on the wall of the PUB Eagle Wing Snack Bar. The painting, finished last month is on the far wall facing the entrance into the snack bar.

It was painted by LHS art student Fred Brown and measures seven feet in height by nine feet in length, its top edge meeting the ceiling. The painting consists of a large flying eagle silhouetted by a golden sun with a weaving of grey stripes and different shades of green in the background. Acrylics material was used on a cinder block surface.

The mural, begun at the end of Spring semester, is the second undertaking of art project design on campus by the student body. The first was a mural done on the wall in the Eagle Wing opposite this new one.

Party Time For The C.E.C.

The Council for Exceptional Children held its annual Halloween party for a group of about 20 students from Craft's Incorporated and Mrs. Brungard's class from the Robb School, Wednesday evening, October 25.

Together with their parents and more than 75 college students, the children dressed up in costumes and enjoyed games, songs, cartoons and refreshments.

The members of C.E.C. are now making plans for their Christmas party.

Consider..

Breaking ground . . . Something new is being added. A new dorm. Now all it needs is a name. How about "Gross Hall", named in honor of two sisters, Rebecca Gross, LHS trustee, and Lydia Gross, recently retired head of Elementary Education? That's a good name. . . Or is it?

This is a candid report of what a few people think.

"I think it's a good idea. They deserve the honor." - Floyd Clark

"I think the name is weird." - Sherrie Williams

"I think the name is a great tribute for the women, but the word 'gross' is used for so many things in our society that no one will take the name as a tribute, they will make fun of it." - Jean Davis

"I think it's 'gross'." - Beth Daugherty

"They're two wonderful women. I don't know Rebecca that well, but Lydia is a very bright and sharp woman, who did a lot for our elementary education program." - professor

"I think it should be something different." - Pam Denault
 "They're nice women and they did a lot for the college. It doesn't matter what their name is. In a couple years, the name won't make any difference, like High Hall." - Linda Frey

"It's gross. When other people or anyone hear the name Gross Hall, it brings to mind what the word means. People will mock the name sake Gross. For this to happen is not worth having the hall named as it is." - JoAnne Poplawsky

"It's true that the name may be used out of context. If people are respectful enough it won't be used in that manner and it will be a great tribute to the Gross sisters." - Carol Mirto

Now what do you think? After all, as Shakespeare said, "A rose by any other name would smell as sweet."

Membership Drive Starts for P.E. Club

The Physical Education Majors Club is holding a membership drive this week in the Zimmerli lobby. The fee is $1 for local membership in the Lock Haven club. The cost of belonging to the statewide association is $2. Membership at this level enables the individual to receive a magazine and attend the State-wide Convention.

Tuesday night, October 24, was the first club meeting. The main topics of discussion at this meeting were the membership drive and the Convention which will be held at Lancaster this year which a group from LHS will be attending.

Subsequent meetings will be held the third Tuesday of every month at 7:30 unless there is a conflict with vacations.

Two Gridders Selected for ECAC Honors

Lock Haven State halfback Chuck Vennie and linebacker Jeff Knarr have been selected for the ECAC All-East Weekly All-Star Football squad for outstanding performances in the Bald Eagles 32-30 victory over Mansfield State last Saturday.

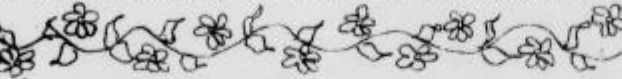

Vennie was picked for the first team for the second time this season and Knarr received Honorable Mention honors.

Vennie, who also saw some defensive action in the big game, was on the receiving end of eight of quarterback Ed McGill's 16 completions in the contest for a total of 192 yards. The Harrisburg native scored two touchdowns, one being a 72-yard pass-run play from McGill. The other score won the game and came with 41 seconds left on clock when he raced 50 yards with a screen pass from the LHS quarterback.

From his linebacker position, Knarr led the defensive efforts with 18 tackles and blocked a punt. Handling the punting chores for LHS, he averaged a fine 45.5 yards for four kicks including a 62-yarder.

The Headstart and Follow-Up children enjoyed games and refreshments at a Halloween party Wednesday night. The brothers of Phi Mu Delta and the sisters of Zeta Tau Alpha co-sponsored the party which took place at the Phi Mu Delta house.

Lingerer and Cox are Authors

Gary Linger, a physical education senior, introduced a new sports activity at the Lock Haven YMCA last summer as an independent study project, under the guidance of Dr. Ken Cox, LHS associate professor of physical education.

The new sport was Team Handball, played internationally for the first time in the Olympic Games at Munich, Germany. As an outgrowth of the project, Gary and Dr. Cox then collaborated on authoring an article entitled, "A New and Exciting Sport - -Team Handball" which was published in the November issue of Coach and Athlete Magazine. Coach and Athlete is a trade journal with an international circulation of over 30,000. The informative four page article discusses the rules, playing strategy, and a brief history of the new sport.

Dean Smalley Builds Arsenal

According to Dr. John Bone, Dean of Student Affairs, all firearms, explosives or any other form of weapons, including shooting bows, must be turned into Dean James Smalley and will remain in his office in Smith Hall when not in use.

Due the early morning hours designated for hunting, private arrangements must be made with Dean Smalley to remove the hunting equipment from his office. Rifles must then be immediately taken off campus and returned at once upon arrival back on campus.

Dr. Bone stated that he likes the idea of students being active in hunting if the rifles are kept under supervisory control. This system has been designed with the over-all safety of the student in mind.

Volleyball Sheets Are Posted

The women's volleyball intramurals, sponsored by the Women's Athletic and Recreation Association, are scheduled to begin November 29 in gyms one and two in Zimmerli Gymnasium.

The round-robin type games will be played on Monday and Wednesday evenings from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Sign-up sheets will be provided.

Women are urged to sign up, either individually or by team, during the week of November 13 on sign-up sheets which will be located in the dormitories, Bentley Hall, and Zimmerli Gymnasium. If one signs up by team, they should have at least eight to ten players.

A two dollar deposit is required for each team. It is collected in attempt to prevent the forfeit of games. A team must have six players on the court or prevent a forfeit. If a team has no forfeits at the end of the season, January 3, all the money will be returned.

GREEK GROUNDS

The Alpha Sigma Tau Sorority has had a full and busy schedule since the beginning of the fall semester. This year's officers are: President, Jane Aiken; Vice President, Diane Muthler; Treasurer, Gail Simpson; Recording Secretary, Linda Dreibelbis; Corresponding Secretary, Suzanne O'Conner; Historian, Joyce Shaul; Chaplain, Jane Witmer; Editor, Sue Shirey; Custodian, Beckey Harper; Housing and Money, Ann Marie Mast; Social Chairman, Eileen Banta; and Pledge Trainer, Linda Rothenberger. Also out three Panhellenic Council members are Dean Grove, Chris Swigert, and Jane Aiken.

After a successful fall rush the Taus have chosen their fall pledge class. The nine members consist of: Jayne Fetterman, Bev Garman, Becky Klunk, Pam Murock, Kathy Murray, Joanne Roch Dawn Spence, Debi Sweeney, and Cindy Van Sciver. Their officers are: President, Dawn Spence; Project Chairman, Becky Klunk; and Treasurer, Debi Sweeney. They have been busy all semester working on various projects, which included a slave sale with the Tau Kappa Epsilon pledges.

After receiving their bids on Friday October 6, they attended a pizza party held in their honor at the Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity house. Later that night, they celebrated with a party of their own in the sorority wing. On Monday October 9, these girls received their ribbons at the Tau Kappa Epsilon House. On Monday October 16, they were then pledge pinned at the Kappa Delta Rho house where the final rush party was also held during rush week. The sisters would like to thank all the fraternities for the use of their houses.

The Taus are very proud of two sweethearts this year. June Baker is Kappa Delta Rho's Sweetheart and Kathy Murray is Tau Kappa Epsilon's Sweetheart. Our congratulations go out to June and Kathy. Also Tau's placed third in float competition for this year's homecoming.

Last semester's national records showed that the Lock Haven State's Zeta Chapter of Alpha Sigma Tau ranked first in the nation for the Efficiency Award among all Tau chapters. Last year's officers can be proud of a job well done and this year's officers have a goal to work for.

So far the Tau's have successfully sponsored three dances and three hot dog sales. On Tuesday October 31, the sisters sponsored a Halloween party for the Lock Haven orphanage and collected money for Unicef. November 4 the Taus will also be celebrating their 51st Founders Day.
