KAP loses charter; brothers to vacate house by 1987

By Mike McKay
Staff Reporter

With the coming of the fall season, misty rumors of the folding of Lock Haven University's chapter of the Kappa Delta Rho fraternity, are abundant in the cool autumn air.

"The entire situation has gotten blown out of proportion," said Tim Smith, president of the local KAP chapter.

According to Smith, the problem stems from a pledging incident this semester.

"The fraternity wasn't even given the opportunity to voice our side of the story," said Smith. "It's a very unusual situation because we weren't even given a trial."

"We just received a phone call from the KAP national chapter and were told we had to take the letters off the front of the house," said Smith.

"KAP," Smith said, "is no longer recognized as a fraternity by the University or the national chapter, and because of this, we have withdrawn from the inter-fraternity council as of last week."

The fraternity was due to regain its charter on November 8 of this year, but will no longer be receiving it.

In addition to the bad news of no longer being recognized as a fraternity, the brothers are forced to vacate the premises by December 31.

"Our landlord, Ken Cooper, said we have to move out by the end of the year for no apparent reason at all," said Smith.

Smith mentioned that he personally felt that the landlord was contacted and perhaps influenced by Don Way, who is KAP's Alumni president, and the man personally responsible for the pulling of KAP's recognition.

"KAP brothers will stick together after we move out of our present house, and we have looked into the possibility of renting the 'Zoo' for the spring semester," said the president of the local chapter.

"The national chapter can stop us from using the name Kappa Delta Rho on the front of the house, but you can bet that the letters KAP will be beside the front door of our new residence," Smith said. "They can't legally halt us from doing that."

The situation as Smith views it centers on the fact that "the pride of our fraternity conflicted with the ideals of the national chapter."

Way, according to Smith, even had the national chapter try to freeze Kappa Delta Rho's bank account, but the fraternity's lawyer foiled their efforts.

"Our faculty advisor," said Smith, "is Larry Lebin, and he thinks we have a good case against the national chapter."

A student, who was a KAP pledge up until recently and who wishes to remain anonymous, stated that KAP's Alumni Association gave the fraternity a list of about 30 stipulations that it was supposed to comply with.

In this student's recollection, only two or three of the stipulations were ever carried out.

The student continued by stating that KAP's national chapter and their alumni association contacted all of the pledges and advised them to depledge immediately.

"All but two of the pledges quit," said Smith.

Smith continued commenting that KAP's pledge program has always been the same, and he doesn't believe it's any harder than that of ΣΠΙ or TKE.

"It's a tough program but it's like all the other fraternities," said Smith.

In any event, KAP's final fate will be determined Thursday evening when the fraternity goes on trial before Tim Susick, associate dean of students.

Susick refused to comment at press time on the situation, but he said that he would discuss the situation later in the week.

Garbage dumped behind McEntire Hall

By Sue Berger
Co-News Editor

Trash has been piling up behind McEntire Hall, especially after weekends, according to Lieutenant Dennis Grenninger of Law Enforcement.

Grenninger said that students are throwing garbage, paper airplanes, and food out of their windows in the back of McEntire Hall and also behind North Hall.

Grenninger said that all of the garbage thrown on the grounds causes extra work for the maintenance crew.

He said that on Monday mornings maintenance has to spend a lot of time picking up beer bottles from weekend parties.

Food that is also thrown out of the windows, especially on weekends, is difficult for the maintenance people to pick out of the grass said Grenninger.

"This is a problem that there is no need for," said Mary Lou Case, director of McEntire Hall.

Law Enforcement will be working with Case to find the students involved.

Campus police also plan to start several patrols around McEntire Hall at night and on weekends when the problem is occurring most frequently, according to Grenninger.

Law Enforcement already has some names of students whose garbage has been dumped behind the dorm.

"Students are responsible for their trash whether they throw it away or someone else threw it away. They're to make sure it's taken to the proper areas and disposed of," said Grenninger.

Grenninger said that the students they apprehend in the case will be arrested and charged with scattering rubbish which is a state offense. The fine for this crime is from $50 to $300.

Garbage is scattered behind McEntire Hall over weekend.

Churches, LHU hold meetings

By Kate Kinney
Staff Reporter

Lock Haven University recently held a religious seminar between local ministers, University administrators, and campus student leaders.

Seven local religious representatives met on October 30 in the Board room of Sullivan Hall.

Maureen McDonnell, a Newman Center representative, was the organizer of the day's meetings.

McDonnell stated the purpose of the day was to listen and talk to student leaders about the campus atmosphere, in a religious aspect; as well as to discuss the teachers as competent leaders in religious aspects.

Among the local denominations represented were Henry Sink (Lutheran), Bob Van Lew (First Church of Christ), and Don Haulman (Methodist).

Also in attendance were Joseph Irwin (United Church of Christ), Richard Cohoon (Episcopal), and David Rich (Executive Director of PA Commission for United Ministries in Higher Education).

The first meeting was with University administrators George Rhodes, Timothy Susick, and Carol Rinaldi. (The meeting was held in Dean Rhode's office.)

Susick said that the main purpose of their meeting was to understand "administrative purpose in respect to religion" on the campus of LHU.

He also stated that he felt the conference opened a line of communication between the religious representatives and the University administrators.

McDonnell, assisted by Paul Harker, Frank Derrick, and Jeff Lewis, felt that the seminar was overall "very helpful."

She said that student leaders were asked to participate in a discussion so that the churches could find out if students are provided a well-rounded education at LHU.

These participants included SCC President Kevin McNamara, Eagle Eye representatives Chris Fischer and Jeffrey Hilty, and student Butch Beidle.

Circle K revives "Cheers to LHU"

In the fall semester of last year, "Cheers to LHU" was offered at LHU. ("Cheers" was a non-alcoholic campus night club offered to the students and professors).

"Cheers" was all the rage at the beginning of the semester, despite the fact that the rage only lasted about two months.

Why am I re-hashing all this info on a happening that no longer happens here at LHU?

Well, it appears that "Cheers to LHU" will be making its return next semester.

The Circle K club is currently in the process of re-establishing the club on campus.

Circle K president Neil Vierling said that they (Circle K) are bringing it back because "there is a need for such social programs on this campus."

Vierling has also said that he has talked with Francis 'Chico' Disori. (Disori is the person who originally conceived and developed the idea of "Cheers")

He (Vierling) said that Circle K is working to eliminate the problems that "Cheers" had last year.

I agree with Vierling--there is a need for social programs on this campus, and it seems that Vierling and Circle K are working to correct the mistakes that were made last year.

I also think that "Cheers," both of fall '85 and of spring '87 (the starting date), is a noble idea. But I caution Circle K, because I recently talked to a student who said, "no alcohol, no interest," when it came to partying.

Concluding, I would like to go on record as saying that "Cheers to LHU" is definitely a worthwhile program and that Circle K should be commended for bringing it back.

Lady Eagles squeeze Syracuse

By Joselle Melito
Sports Reporter

The Lady Eagles defeated Syracuse University 1-0 Sunday in a game played at Syracuse.

The Haven's winning goal came at 27:01 into the first half. The ball was in play at the 20 yard line. Ginny Neiss tried to play it, but it got away from her. Karen Fry then got her stick on it and scored the Lady Eagles only goal off of an assist by Neiss.

Lori Sannella had 15 saves for the Haven, including two saves on two different penalty strokes during the second half.

The first penalty stroke for Syracuse occurred at 25:52 into the second half. Mary Ann Hopkins took a shoulder high shot to the right side of the cage, but Sannella was ready and blocked it away with her stick.

Nine minutes later, Syracuse was threatening again. A shot, taken by a S.U. forward, deflected off Sannella's hand and caused a penalty stroke. Syracuse's Jill Groff shot the ball to the left side, but Sannella got her hand on it and bounced it off the post and out.

Head Coach Sharon Taylor said, "Lori Sannella had two great saves in this game. To save one penalty stroke is a 25-50 percent chance, but to save two is phenomenal."

Although the Lady Eagles won the game, Syracuse outshot the Haven 19-11, and had eight penalty corners to the Eagles three.

The next game for the Haven is this weekend at the Eastern College Athletic Conference Tournament held here at LHU.

On Friday at 12 p.m. the number one seeded team, Lock Haven, will play St. Joseph's College of Philadelphia.

At 2 p.m., the second seeded team, Syracuse University, will play the University of Maine.

The winners of these two games will then play on Saturday at 1:00.

The next regular scheduled game will be held on Sunday at home at 1p.m. against Ohio State.

On Saturday, the junior varsity field hockey team competed in the Susquehanna Field Hockey Tournament at Susquehanna University.

In Lock Haven's first game, Tara Egolf scored the only goal of the game as the Eagles defeated Susquehanna, 1-0.

The Haven's second game was against Wyoming Valley and the Eagles were defeated by a 2-0 score.

Lock Haven and Mansfield tied 2-2 in game three. Diane Yonker and Heidi Schwartz scored for the Lady Eagles.

The Lady Eagles defeated Marywood in game four by a 2-0 margin. Yonkers and Kelly Charles scored the Haven's goals.

In the fifth game, Lock Haven defeated the Susquehanna Valley Club, 1-0. Cathy Green scored the only goal of the game.

The victory over the Susquehanna Club qualified the Lady Eagles for the playoffs, where they met Wyoming Valley.

The game went into overtime, but the Lady Eagles defeated Wyoming Valley 2-1. Charles scored the game winning goal.

Team members Tara Egolf, Debbie Payne, Kathy Stien and Karen Learn were voted to the All-Star team and will play at the Mid-East Tournament next week at Wallenpaupack.

Everything that could have gone wrong for the Vulcans of California did go wrong as they were crushed 7-1 by Lock Haven this weekend.

During Saturday's home match, the Bald Eagles took a blistering 36 shots and 13 corner kicks directed at the Vulcan net.

The Cal offense was turned into a completely defensive effort as the Haven would not permit the ball to cross the midfield line more than five times during the entire match.

Freshman Chris Kelly opened the scoring for the Bald Eagles at the 36:02 mark. Kelly drove the ball down the left sidelines and shot towards the post. Vulcan goalie Ian Imber dove across the crease, but could not stop the high corner shot.

The next six goals belonged to the Haven.

Midfielder Sean Perry got his name on the scoresheet as he knocked in the second goal by playing a ball that rebounded off of Imber.

The third goal was the first of many header goals. Senior Steve Paguia outjumped the defenders to score on a crossing ball. The pass, coming from Glenn Davis, came with 32:14 gone from the first half clock.

Before the horn sounded the end of first half, the Haven had struck again. Davis, with his second assist of the game, connected with defender Andrew Monteith with only :21 left.

X-C doesn't fair well at PSAC Championships

By Dan Hanson
Sports Reporter

Edinboro won the men's title with 25 points and IUP came out on top in the women's division, scoring 37 points, at the PSAC Cross Country Championship meet held Saturday at Edinboro.

In the 14 team field, the Bald Eagle men finished 12th with 328 points, but coach Kurt Smith was not disappointed with the performance.

Strong performances were turned in by John Widl (46th), Dan Sheredy (58th), Jason Tremblay (71st), and Brad Seth (72nd).

In the women's meet, Lock Haven finished ninth in a field of nine full teams, scoring 184 points.

Pam Noll led the Lady Eagles finishing 25th, while teammates Jill Baumgartner and Kathy Staib placed 27th and 32nd, respectively.

The men's and women's teams will again try for post-season honors this Saturday at the NCAA regional meet at Philadelphia Textile.

Vulcan captain Shawn Rogers said, "We lost our key defender with and injury in the first two minutes of the game. We fell apart from then on."

With the score 4-0, the Vulcans scored an "own goal" off of a deflection mistakenly knocked into the net. The last Bald Eagle to touch the ball (Rob Eaton) was given credit for the goal.

Goal number six came on a long run by defender Steve Eagleton. Eagleton carried the ball down to the Vulcan penalty box where he unleashed a screaming shot into the lower right corner of the net.

The seventh and final Haven goal was to be Eagleton's second of the game. Eaton chipped a corner kick over the Cal defenders and Eagleton finished the pass into the back of the net on a header attempt.

In a last ditch effort, the Vulcans showed signs of life as they scored their only goal of the game. Cal leading scorer Don Jacoby took a shot from the 18 yd. mark and then played the rebound into the net.

The game ended with only three shots and one corner kick being taken at the Bald Eagle net.

LHU Head Coach Lenny Long said, "The lack of competition may have an effect on our players. We'll be working extra hard this week."

Saturday the Haven face Eastern Division champs East Stroudsburg in a match that will be the birth into the national playoffs for the winner. See Friday's issue for an inside look into the championship match.

Gridders lose eighth game

With two games remaining in their 1986 season, the Bald Eagle football team is still looking for their first victory.

This past Saturday, the Bald Eagles were defeated by the Golden Eagles of Clarion by a 31-14 score, and finished PSAC Western Conference play with a 0-6 record.

Lock Haven jumped out to an early lead as Bruce Pendleton capped a 53-yard, nine yard drive with a five yard TD run. The PAT was no good and the Bald Eagles led 6-0.

Clarion scored the next 31 points to take a commanding 25 point lead.

The Bald Eagles final score came with 8:42 left in the game as Tom Smykowski scored on a 62-yard run. Pendleton added the two-point conversion for the final points.

Smykowski led the Bald Eagle rushers with 79 yards on five carries. Pat Cahill completed 5-of-14 passes for 53 yards.

The Bald Eagles are on the road again this weekend as they travel to Cheney. The game starts at 1:30 p.m.

Will anyone win the frying pan? Nightclub singer Jimmy Landry to perform at PUB coffeehouse

Performing songs as diverse as Jackson Browne's "Cocaine" and Willie Nelson's "Mama's Don't Let Your Babies Grow Up to be Cowboys" as well as the music of James Taylor and the Beatles, nightclub entertainer Jimmy Landry will be appearing at an SCC sponsored coffeehouse in the Eagle Wing Snack Bar this Thursday at 8 p.m.

Landry, who describes himself as phenomenal, fantastic, incredible, brilliant, polished, superb, masterful, dynamic, stimulating, enthusiastic, magic, and dog's best friend, has performed at at least 23 other universities and numerous clubs throughout New York, Washington D.C., Maryland, and Virginia.

"He's really friendly and a lot of fun. I'm sure he's going to put on a good show," said Assistant Dean of Students Carol Rinaldi, who has spoken to Landry on many occasions.

Ken Foster, the Social and Cultural Affairs Committee Co-chairperson said, "The committee was really impressed with Landry's demo tape, and when I talked to him to arrange the performance I realized that he had a really off-the-wall sense of humor."

As an example of this, Foster told the Eagle Eye that one time he attempted to call Landry only to reach an answering machine telling him that he was eligible to win a free Teflon-coated frying pan.

Landry also claims to be acquainted with an LHU student, Kelly Barnhart. We tried to reach Barnhart for a comment, but her telephone has been disconnected.

Is Jimmy Landry really as talented as he says he is? Does he really know Kelly Barnhart? Will Ken Foster win a free frying pan? Come to the PUB Thursday night at 8 p.m. and find out.

Jimmy Landry, to perform at the PUB on Thursday

University population rises

Enrollment increased by 2,500 students for the 1986 Fall semester at the 14 state-owned universities of the State System of Higher Education (SSHE).

Headcount figures for the beginning term of the 1986-87 academic year show 85,874 students enrolled at the System institutions.

The total enrollment reflects an increase of 2,506 students over the 1985-86 academic year. Of all the 14 universities, only Mansfield University of Pennsylvania showed a decrease of students.

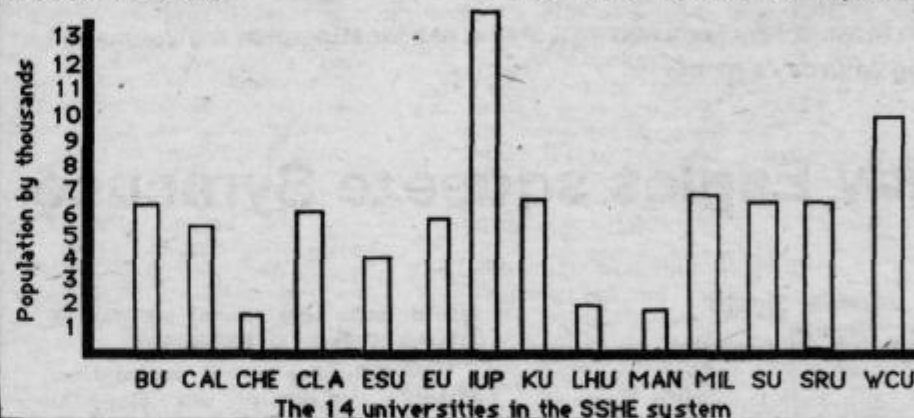

"Our prime mission of providing a high quality, affordable education is paying dividends in enrollments," SSHE Chancellor James H. McCormick said. "In addition to traditional freshman, we continue to attract non-traditional students; those older students who are returning to college to further their education or career."

"The increase in enrollment at Cheyney University is particularly pleasing," Dr. McCormick noted. "The entire institution has experienced a dramatic transformation. I know the Cheyney family of administration, students, faculty, and alumni has been working very hard. The campus is alive with the Cheyney spirit. We are confident about the future of Cheyney University."

Several factors may have contributed to the rise in student numbers according to Dr. Kerry L. Moyer, SSHE Director of System Research and Planning.

"More individuals in Pennsylvania are choosing to attend college," Dr. Moyer said. "Also, there is an increase in the participation rate of those people who are choosing to enroll in four-year degree programs."

System officials expect no major changes in the enrollment figures for the 1987 Spring Semester, Dr. Moyer added.
