

"Matchmaker" Opening Draws Capacity Crowd

by Darwin Zeigler
 Ever have an adventure? That is what anybody will have if he sees the College Players' Production of "The Matchmaker".
 The action centers around Horace Vandergelder played by Gary Robinson. Vandergelder seems to be able to manage everyone's affairs except his own. He refuses to allow his niece to marry an artist because he does not have a reliable profession. However, when it comes to his own romantic interests, Vandergelder is dominated by Mrs. Dolly Levi, played by Christine Salidis.
 The outstanding feature of this play is the importance which the minor characters seem to have. This is best illustrated by two clerks of Vandergelder. They decide to go off to New York for an "adventure". To the delight of the audience, their mission is a resounding success. Another interesting personality was Mrs. Melley played by Patricia Heidman. She had the talent of bringing out the best features in everyone. Jerry Binus played an excellent role as an opportunist cab driver.

 The play deals with the adventure of life and anyone who misses it will be left out of a very significant part of living.

The opening night of "The Matchmaker" was performed before an enthusiastic capacity crowd and surpassed the expectations of the audience by a wide margin.
 "The Matchmaker", by Thornton Wilder, was set during the 1880's in Yonkers, N.Y., and New York City, and was universally written to apply to any era. The sets and costumes contributed a great deal to the theme and setting of the play. They were in fact one of the highlights of the play.
 Particularly impressive were the turntables used for scene changes. This addition to the play created a very professional atmosphere in the theatre and allowed the audience to place themselves within the theme and sets of the play itself.

 The actors composing the cast of "The Matchmaker" portrayed the personality of their characters extremely well. Gary Lee Robinson successfully showed the many side of a wise man who has at times been foolish. One of the scenes in which this was more distinctly evident was when Mrs. Dolly Levi, played by Christine Salidis, was trying to persuade Vandergelder that he had asked her to marry him. Mr. Robinson became extremely outraged in one instance and very calm within the next few seconds. However, without the other cast member the scope of the theme would have been blurred, and hard to understand.

 Identification with cast members seemed very easy as was seen when an observation of the audience was made. Those attending related to different characters in the play and became involved with that particular character throughout the production.
 The entire cast and crew of "The Matchmaker" deserve a special applause for their outstanding performance in such an entertaining play. All members have made great contributions toward making this one of the most notable plays performed by the College Players.

SCC:Comments

by Karen Witcoskie
 Organized authority when it runs smoothly is a wonderful phenomenon. However when the lines of authority break down, either from neglect or ignorance, you are left with a lot of ugly rumors, personal slams, and scape goating.

Break downs of this kind are not pleasant to write about unless something constructive develops from the final solution. I suppose some sort of final solution was reached yesterday afternoon when the SCC, the Cultural Affairs Committee and the College Players sat down and settled their financial problems face to face rather than depending on rumored statements passed over PUB tables.
 A simple misunderstanding necessitated a motion by Jackie Kirchner at the Wednesday SCC meeting for a transfer of $300 from the College Players second semester allocation to cover what looked like gross over spending. When the books were opened yesterday the actual overspending for "The Matchmaker" was $53. The entire overspending for the semester, including Reader's Theater, will be $90 - a far cry from $300.

The mistake is a common one when one deals with red tape. It takes about a week and a half to two weeks before a submitted bill is received as paid. There are also incalculable expenses such as shipping costs which can not be recorded until the items arrive. Face to face confrontation in this situation brought about not only an end to rumors but also a greater understanding of the difficulties of operating a business venture in an academic situation.

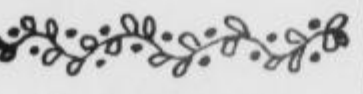

Much soul searching was evident at the meeting as each involved party became aware of flaws in the chain of command, various personality clashes, the desperate financial situation the SCC faces and the necessity of offering a learning as well as an cultural experience. And combined effort offered not only sympathy but some solid clarification of policy.

Vol. XV, No. 29 LOCK HAVEN STATE COLLEGE Fri., Nov. 5, 1964

First of all the chain of command for spending was defined so that voucher requests must be signed first by the advisor and chairman of the Cultural Affairs Committee, then SCC treasurer, George Bower, then through the SCC Executive and Business Offices. Secondly more copies of voucher records were made available so that voucher numbers will be carried down the entire chain. Lastly, and this is a word to all college organizations, the SCC executives explained very plainly that with budget cuts and the number of organizations drawing from the treasury, they can't afford $300 overspending. When everything came to light it was hard to criticize anyone involved for fighting for what might have been the very survival of their organization. Tempers inevitably had to fly. Somehow it's human nature for men to fight when backed into a corner. This writer perfectly willing to forget the bad temper, rumors, and misunderstandings with the hope that the problem is not only solved, but will not occur again. As Gary Worthington put it at the end of the meeting, "I guess we have to learn from our mistakes."

Tryouts for the next Reader's Theatre production, "Bald Soprano" will be held Monday, November 8 at 9 a.m., 1 p.m. and 7 p.m. in Dr. Kidder's office in Price Auditorium. There are parts available for 3 men and 3 women.

High School Drama Day

In order to familiarize interested high school students with the LHS Theatre Department, a High School Drama Day will be held on campus Saturday, November 6.

Approximately one hundred students from all over the state are expected to arrive here at 10 a.m.

Scheduled activities for the group include a tour of the department by the College Players. Lecture demonstrations on the aspects and problems of various areas of technical theatre, including costume and make-up, will also be presented. Following the lecture, an open session is scheduled to give the students an opportunity to air individual questions or difficulties encountered thus far in their theatrical experiences. It is hoped these sessions will be helpful to the students in their own high school productions.

Letter Policy

Eagle Eye will accept letters to the editor only if they contain at least one signature by the writer or writers. Names will be withheld from publication on request of the writer, but all letters must be signed.
 Letters on any subject are welcomed. However, they must not be libelous to any individual or group, and they must be written in good taste. Eagle Eye disclaims any and all responsibility for letters, both in content and in topic.

Culminating the day's activities the high school students will view the end results of the Theatre Department by attending the College Players production of "The Matchmaker" Saturday evening.

How About a Little Peace?

Eagles Expect Top Ten Rating

After two weeks of extensive practice and drills, the Bald Eagle wrestlers are rapidly rounding into excellent physical condition, a trademark the Bald Eagles are nationally known for. Forty-five out of the 58 candidates still remain in camp under the watchful eye of head mentor, Dr. Ken Cox.

With less than three weeks before the annual Alumni vs Varsity match, Coach Cox feels there is plenty of work to do in preparation for the exhibition match with the Alumni and annual scrimmage with Penn State University later this month. The Bald Eagles open the 1971-72 season against 3rd ranked Lehigh University at Lehigh's Snakepit on December 4th. The Bald Eagle Lehigh match will be televised by WGPA, Bethlehem, throughout the eastern portion of the nation.

Several critical battles for team positions are starting to develop on the Thomas Field House mats. A number of outstanding freshmen will be challenging seasoned veterans such as national (NAIA) champion, Don Fay, 118; Jim Rupp, 126; John Mapes, 134; Don Adams, 150; John Blackwell, 167; Jeff Knarr, 190; and Tom Zimmerman, HWT. Local wrestling buffs are predicting the Bald Eagles could open up against Lehigh using six or seven freshmen. The Bald Eagles opened the 1970-71 season ranked 15th in the NCAA-University Division. Since being transferred to the NCAA-College Division for the 1971-72 season, it is expected that Amateur Wrestling News (UPI) will place the Bald Eagles in the top ten nationally in the pre-season poll. A win over Lehigh would skyrocket the Bald Eagles into the number one position. The Bald Eagles' top challengers in the NCAA-CD will be Cal Poly, Makato State, North Dakota State, Northern Iowa, and Pennsylvania Conference foes East Stroudsburg, Clarion, and Slippery Rock.

The sisters of Delta Zeta had a very busy and profitable Homecoming weekend. Friday night the sisters and their guys put the finishing touches on the float, then adjourned to a pre-game party. Saturday, after accompanying their float along the parade, the sisters could be found in the pink and green section in the football stadium. At the game, President Jean Crouthamel was proud to accept the Panhellenic Scholarship trophy for Delta Zeta's 2.85 cumulative average for the second consecutive year in behalf of all the sisters. Delta Zeta also received fifty dollars for their float, "Edinboro today, the Orange Bowl tomorrow!" which won second prize. Following the game, the sisters and their dates celebrated with dinner at the Wipporwill Restaurant. On Sunday, the weather forced Delta Zeta's and their dates indoors for a picnic in their gaily decorated wing.

Delta Zeta thanks goes out to everyone who helped to make the weekend a success, especially the ever concerned and thoughtful Student Co-Operative Council.

Upholding the high scholastic ideals of Delta Zeta, Jean Crouthamel, Sharon Bahn and Ann Beckel are pledged to Kappa Delta Pi. Jean and Ann are also dorm counselors.

Delta Zeta sisters hold three of the four offices in Russell Hall. They are Judie Bailey (President), Kathy Andrews (Vice President), and Mitzi Fulton (Secretary). Sisters Jill Esterline and Linda Kerchinski hold office on the Women's Dorm Council.

Halloween received due celebration from Delta Zetas as well. The sisters sponsored a party at the Phi Mu Delta house for their many non-Geek friends. Following long-standing Delta Zeta tradition, jack-o-lanterns carved with their respective Greek letters were presented to each fraternity.

Delta Zetas turned out to form a small but noisy cheering section for their Greek brothers, the Phi Mu Deltas. The brothers made a valiant effort but went down fighting, and surrendered the Intramural Football League title to the Lambda Chi Alphas.

Podgajny Challenges

For First

Edinboro walked off with the team title last year by scoring 46 points. West Chester took second and Slippery Rock was third. Lock Haven's Bald Eagles placed fifth, with California in the number four spot.

Running for LHS along with Podgajny will be Steve Harnish, who has a good shot at the top ten, George Bower, Mike Gaige, Reed Humphrey, Carl Kingman, and Larry Wise. Commenting on his teams chances, Coach Jim Dolan said, "I personally feel that Podgajny has a distant shot at the title if he puts every thing together. I've been a little disappointed with our grouping - too much space between the top five runners, but I hope we can put it together."

Saturday afternoon will have the answer. This years race figures to be close, and fast, very fast.

The finest field ever assembled for a Pennsylvania State Colleges Conference cross country championships will toe the starting line at West Chester this Saturday at 11:00 a.m. Approximately ninety-eight runners from the fourteen colleges will compete for individual and team honors.

Slippery Rock seems to be a strong favorite for the team title. The Rockets are lead by Ed Galewski, a contender for individual honors, and are grouped closely behind him, Randy Deemer, Jeff Carr, and Glenn Yeakel give the Rockets strength enough to annex the title. Galewski placed third last year.

West Chester's trio of runners, Dan Lerch, Bill Showers, and Bill Dawson may help the Rams sneak past Slippery Rock. Showers was runner-up last year.

Beyond Slippery Rock and West Chester, the team race is wide open. Lock Haven, Edinboro, Indiana, California, Millersville all have a good shot at the number three spot. Other teams competing will be Clarion, Cheney, Kutztown, Bloomsburg, East Stroudsburg, Mansfield, and Shippensburg.

Dave Antagnoli of Edinboro is the defending champion, and will be chased closely by Galewski, Showers, Jeff Bradley of Millersville, sixth last year, and Steve Podgajny of Lock Haven, fifth last year. Other returnees from last years top 10 include Terry Lee of Bloomsburg and Glenn Yeakel of Slippery Rock.

Eaglettes Shut Out Crusaders

by Kathy "Sax" Umbach

Thursday afternoon the Women's Field Hockey team played Susquehanna University. The weather was brisk and just a bit to chilly to be considered perfect hockey weather. Nevertheless, the Eaglettes did their thing and won quite handsly by a score of 4 to 0.

The first half was played aggressively although the only score came from a shot by Rose Ann Neff just inside the circle. The tempo of the second half was no different; however, this time the Eaglettes capitalized on more of the scoring opportunities given them. Kelly Cromer scored two goals and Bonnie Groff added another making the final score Lock Haven 4, Susquehanna 0.

This was the final game of the season and the following seniors played their last regular season game for the Eaglettes: Wendy Dodson - captain and left fullback, Alice Rutkowsk-right fullback, and Sue Black - left halfback. The team played flawless hockey rarely allowing the opponent a shot at the goal.

The junior varsity squad also chalked up another win by defeating Susquehanna by the score of 6 to 0. Lock Haven scored 3 goals in the first half and came back to score 3 more in the second half to round out the score. Barb Collins scored 4 goals and Sue Perdue and JoAnn Gardner each scored one. The entire team worked together taking advantage of every opportunity given them.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I am presently in my second semester at Lock Haven State. It is only at this time that I have noticed a grave injustice and negligence on the part of the people who supply over women's dorms with "household" items.

What I am refusing to is the fact that Russell and McEntire Halls are supplied with wall containers of "leaf" tissue paper where as Woolridge Hall is fortunate in having the modern "rolled" paper. I am sure that one can not understand the problems this "leaf" paper presents.

First of all - it is an extreme menace to the cleaning ladies of our buildings. When one "leaf" is extracted from those GORGEOUS wall containers, the remaining paper often tumbles to the floor. By noon each day the entire restroom is decorated with such a heavenly sight. Also, such paper becomes very slippery underfoot. The paper is wasted because of this and thus becomes another expense to the school budget. Secondly - the paper often becomes lodged crosswise in the containers. Needless to say, problems are created when one cannot pry a piece loose! Thirdly - the wood chips remaining in the glossy, low grade paper are really in poor taste.

The negligence I speak of is the lack of paper towelling in all women's halls. It is rather embarrassing to have visitors wash their hands and then have to dry them by frantically waving them in the air. For those who seem to be so uninformed, girls do not come in a "drip dry" variety.

I do hope this small but important complaint will be adjusted. Until then, remember - "women's dorm restrooms maybe hazardous to your health!"
