Hostage 'Bash'

By HARRY CRAMER

The hostages have been in captivity for over a year and have faded into the background of most peoples minds. But a group of LHSC students decided election day was a good time to remember the Hostages, so they threw a party in their honor.

Pam Fletcher said, "It'd been a year, so we thought we'd have a party for them. We think they've been held a year too long." She went on to say, "We didn't want it to be sad. We wanted to have a happy gathering in their honor."

A group of about 35-students attended the party, everyone wearing yellow armbands in honor of the hostages. A card was signed by all who attended the party and it will be sent to Iran.

Fletcher said, "We thought a party was a good idea. We invited alot of people who have been held hostage by their studies."

James Smalley explains preregistration procedures

Emergency Loans Available to Students

By RICK BAKER

One of the many services provided by the student Cooperative Council (SCC), and one that many students are not aware of is the emergency student loan.

Any student who has a validated ID card is eligible for the loan said Mrs. Jean Nestlerode, who manages the program. "The students don't even have to give us a reason for the loan," she explained, "as long as there's money in the fund, they can borrow it, providing they have the required ID."

The limit on the loan is $20 said Mrs. Nestlerode, and the student has 30 days to repay the money. There is a standard form to fill out in which the student promises to pay back the money within the 30 days, but that doesn't always happen.

"Right now we have $180 out in loans," she pointed out, "and $160 of it is past due." When the student fails to repay the loan on time, Mrs. Nestlerode sends out billings to the students. After two such billings, she turns the matter over to Mr. Howard Reynolds, director of the SCC. Reynolds then calls the students and speaks to them personally about the loan, said Mrs. Nestlerode.

In the nine years Mrs. Nestlerode has been with the program, problems have been few. "Generally the program has worked well. This year I think we have more money past due than in any other year, but maybe that's because the student checks were delayed for a couple of weeks," she said.

In the past there have been scattered cases of students dropping out or leaving college for various reasons without paying back their loan. Mrs. Nestlerode said however that, "most of the students have handled the emergency fund wisely."

Students Meet Advisors Before Preregistration

By MARTHA HAROLD

"Some students are not meeting requirements for their specific major or are just on the wrong track." According to James Smalley, Associate Dean of Academic Affairs. Therefore students are now required to meet with their advisor before preregistration procedure.

Smalley believes that the mandatory system of advisement will be beneficial to the students. The student will be forced to develop a relationship with the advisor and hopefully continue to ask for guidance. The student will also become more aware of opportunities within their major.

Students who do not meet with their advisor will run into difficulty at preregistration. On the floor of the Field House a faculty member will give such a student a Supplementary Registration Card so they may obtain class cards. However, the faculty member will not give academic advisement at that time. The student will have to report to their department chairman for consultation at a later date.

Smalley urges students to make an appointment with their advisor as soon as possible. Preregistration Day is November 22nd, beginning at 8:00 am. Students unable to preregister that day may obtain class cards from department chairmen and return them to the Academic Affairs Office before Thanksgiving Break.

SCC Blames Paper For Election Delay

By PAM YOBLONSKI
News Editor

SCC executive elections will be held November 20, instead of November 13. This was decided by the Nominating Committee, and then a motion for it was passed by the senate at its meeting Wednesday.

Gerald Getz, president of SCC, said the delay is because there has been no media coverage of the election. Bob Bullet, vice-president of the SCC and chairman of the Nominating Committee, said that only three petitions have been returned. These petitions must be in before a name can be listed on the ballot.

Some senate members who are running for office opposed this, saying it is a violation of the constitution. Another said that he will be losing study-time because he will have to campaign two weeks longer.

Getz, who believes the election should be greatly publicized, received clearance from Dr. Hamblin, President of LHSC, to hold the election on the 20th even if the senate disagreed with the proposal.

In other matters, a letter of resignation was accepted from John Stemler, who was the SCC parliamentarian. Stemler's letter said he resigned because he didn't have enough time to give the job.

Don Beaver, SCC treasurer, gave a finance report. He said the contingency fund, which provides for unexpected events, is very low. There will be a meeting of the Finance Committee to decide what to do about this.

Harold Andrews, from the Cultural Affairs Committee, asked for senate backing on the issue of presenting student I.D.'s at campus events.

Andrews said students who haven't paid their activity fee, as well as students who have, are allowed free admission to many events. Andrews suggested making it mandatory to show an I.D. for admission. Students without a validated I.D. would have to pay for tickets at a reduced price.

The senate approved of this idea.

North Prints 'Nitty Gritty'

By MAURE KREMITSKY

North Hall's "Nitty Gritty" is a newspaper published bi-weekly by Robin Bokuniewicz consisting of cartoons, poems, editorials, and messages sent from one student to another. This paper is to help the people of North Hall get to know each other better and to be better informed on the happenings within the dorm and around campus.

The idea for the "Nitty Gritty" was inspired by Robin Bokuniewicz, a hall representative, who had seen a similar paper at another college. The paper will consist of happenings on campus, especially events within the dorm. This will be beneficial to the students of North Hall in getting to know each other, and in giving a more relaxed atmosphere within the dorm.

Starting Friday, November 14, the "Nitty Gritty" will be published bi-weekly and distributed to the residents of North Hall free of charge. Editorials, poems, and cartoons are published at no cost to the author, but messages cost a nickel for the first five lines and a penny for every line thereafter. The money received will be used by the hall to organize special programs. Ideas must be submitted, in the box at the main desk, no later than the Wednesday before publication.

North's "Nitty Gritty" is a great way to reveal many hidden talents found within the dorm residents and to learn about all the happenings within the dorm and around the campus.

Computer Center Moves to New Building

By MARIANNE ZAKEM

As of Monday, November 10, the LHSC Computer Center will be located on the fifth floor of the new Research Learning Center. In addition to its new location, the center will also house a new computer, an IBM370/148. This computer is twice the size and approximately four times faster than the computer used previously.

The new Computer Center will house offices for the staff, a spacious computer room which will contain the computer, a machine room for support equipment, a fireproof tape and disc vault and a large storage room.

In recent years the Computer Center has assumed many additional responsibilities. Some of these responsibilities are support of the Computer Science Degree Program in which the enrollment has grown to approximately 200 students; support of other disciplines such as geography, economics and the sciences; administrative applications such as student registration, student payroll, transcripts and applications processing.

In addition, the computer center supports outside users such as approximately 25 secondary schools for processing student scheduling, grading and attendance; Williamsport Area Community College; Keystone Central tax billing to name a few according to Mr. George Zakem, director of the Computer Center.

The staff of the Computer Center is looking forward to occupying their new home after being housed in what was once a laundry building.

Editorial

BY PAM YOBLONSKI
JEFF FLEISHMAN

While attending the SCC meeting on Wednesday, the issue of postponing the SCC election came up. The main reason for this delay was given as lack of publicity by "the press," (alias: the Eagle Eye).

Arguments flared about how it wasn't fair to postpone the election because "the press" didn't do its job. The senators who are running for offices were worried about even another postponement. One asked if the election would be delayed again if "the press" decided there still wasn't enough coverage.

I would like to point out to these people that the lack of publicity was not because the Eagle Eye didn't do its job; we have been. The fact is there is nothing to publicize. Only three names have been given to the Nominating Committee. The other people seem to be holding out til the last minute before handing in their petitions.

The Eagle Eye cannot give fair coverage unless all the candidates are known. A possible remedy for this problem would be if the candidates submitted their petitions before the deadline, instead of waiting till the last day. An even better solution is scheduling the deadline two or three weeks before the election instead of six days, as it was this year.

I also don't understand some peoples' objections to the delay. It would give them better publicity, and also is in the best interest of the student body. And helping the students is the supposed reason why they are running, isn't it? You would think they would be happy to receive more publicity.

The S.C.C. obviously wants to wash its hands of their lack of organization by putting the blame on the Eagle Eye for lack of publicity. First of all, incompetent student government, we are not a publicity news paper. If you want P.R. put out your own publication. We report on the news and we can't report if there is nothing to report on. That should seem logical even to you.

Again, the president of the S.C.C. has totally disregarded the democracy of the government. Getz went to President Hamblin to get an O.K. to move the elections back. What does this mean? It means that even if the senate voted against moving the elections to a later date it would be impossible. In other words democracy was thrown right out the window. The Eagle Eye suggest to the S.C.C. that the next time you want to blame someone for your own flaws make sure you get the facts right.

The Eagle's Claws

By Jonathan Bravard

For many of us, myself included, this has been a week of disappointment. President Jimmy Carter lost by a landslide to Ronald Reagan, an ex-actor and former Governor of California. The other disappointment this week was finally realizing that S.C.C. executive elections will soon be upon us. You ask how can this be disappointing, well just look at the four candidates for S.C.C. president at this writing.

The four candidates for S.C.C. president are Joe Kirby, Chris Birdsey, Phil Burge and Allen Rabert. I have nothing against these four men personally, It's just that I don't think any of them are qualified to do the job. These four men would undoubtedly come up to me and point out that they are more qualified for the job than the current S.C.C. President, Gerald Getz, when he first ran for office. If they said this I would have to agree with them. I remember when Getz was running for S.C.C. president he was asked what made him more qualified than his opponent. Gerald said that he was 25 years old, a veteran, and a hard worker. No where in the statement is anything that would prove to me that Gerald was ever qualified to do the job. At this point Gerald would say look at all the good things I have done. I am willing to concede this point but remember how much stumbling and bumbling that took place getting us all those "good things."

Now the big question before us is how do we solve this lack of quality and prevent any further damage to the credibility of the office of S.C.C. president. Well there is no solution folks at least not one that I can think of. But what I can offer you is a suggestion as how to vote. First vote for all the rest of the offices; second, search deep in your heart and pick the person you think will do the best job. Actually I don't think not having an S.C.C. President would do any harm, in fact it would save up $900; this is how much the S.C.C. President is paid.

Until next week remember these famous presidential words, "I am not a crook."

Come listen to one of the most sought after speakers in the area on the subject of Homosexuality! The 2 hour session, presented by Jim Knically from York, PA begins at 8:00 pm, November 13th. Refreshments will be served. Sponsored by Gross Hall Council, RHA and Human Relations.

We would appreciate it if all S.C.C. election posters were not torn down. Thank you, The S.C.C.

Thursday evening, November 13 from 7 to 9 pm there will be a Program on Relaxation techniques which will take place in the Woolridge Hall Lower Lounge area. The program will focus on development of a personal relaxation routine which will aid in the reduction of stress. If you've been experiencing a cramped schedule and are constantly on the go maybe this is for you. Come on down and relax! Dress comfortably please.

The New Life Student Fellowship (NLSF) will be sponsoring a coffeehouse in the north lounge of the PUB Saturday, November 8, beginning at 8:00 pm. Entertainment will be provided by several members of NLSF, including Sandy Galbreath, Chet Carbaugh, Arise (a women's singing group) and a closing number by NLSF. Several people from Campus Crusade will also be doing songs, and three skits are presently planned. Ted Headlee, director of NLSF, will be MC, in addition to performing several songs. The coffeehouse is intended to publicize the group and its objectives.

Review

By MARY KELLY

The College Players presented Samuel Shepherd's creation of "Buried Child" last night in Sloan Theater. Although the play got off on a slow start, it moved quickly by the second act.

Cathy Polischek and Darrol Sheets played the parents. Sheets portrayed a drunk, dying father and Polischek played a nagging old mother, and at times gave the audience a slight earache with her antagonizing voice.

The character of Tilden, played by Mike Winkleman was both hilarious and ridiculous.

Tim Cisco's portrayal of Vince was excellent as his true nature came out when he acted drunk. He is a rookie to the College Players and his performance was very entertaining.

Shelley, played by Karen Sue Poole, was a strong character and made the portrayal as a smart-ass come alive.

Sloan Theater was almost a packed house. Although the performance was extremely well done by the College Players, there was some confusion left in the minds of the audience. Because the play centered on a different type of family, it gave the members of the audience something to ponder about on the way home.

I'm still pondering about what that something is, though!

Letter to the Editor

Letter:

Dear Fellow Students,

The elections on Thursday, November 20, are important to all of us. The outcome of these elections will determine the Student Cooperative Council's New Executive Committee. We hope that you will all come out and vote. We also hope that you will consider the following slate of candidates when voting.

Joe "Kerbs" Kirby-President
Kent Hatter-Vice President
Cindy Swinehart-Pub Administrator
Joe Carucci-Treasurer
Ron "Stats" Williams-Recording Secretary
Carla Willis-Corresponding Secretary

We don't have any fancy name for our slate, but we are a team of six students willing to work together for you in the S.C.C. We are sophomores and juniors whose majors include all of the schools on campus. We have people involved with fraternities, sororities, the S.C.C., the band, Black Cultural Society, and we represent on and off campus students. We want to work for you!

Sincerely yours,
"Kerbs", Kent, Cindy, Joe, "Stats", & Carla.

English Offers Varieties

By SHAWN BINGMAN

English is a subject which most people frown upon for various reasons. Nouns, pronouns, verbs, and various adjectives and adverbs seem to cause problems for those students who like to use such words as ain't and hardly never.

But, there are people who especially like them and would never use the incorrect words. Such people are probably going to be English majors.

According to Dr. Michael W. Peplow, Chairperson of the English, Journalism, and Philosophy Department, the English major should acquire an ability to write well above all. Creative and business writing are important. They should also be able to understand and appreciate literature. Of course, they should also be able to understand the history and structure of the language.

There are approximately 50 English majors divided equally between the arts and sciences and secondary education. The English Department offers four degrees: Liberal Arts English, Liberal Arts Humanities English, Secondary Education English, and Communication major.

LHSC will be offering a new program soon - a joint certification program in English and Foreign Language, of which is the first program of its kind in the state. This will enable a student to graduate with 134 semester hours and will be able to teach in both fields.

In the spring, the English Department will be setting up a writing laboratory which is federally funded. It's offered to all students.

Dorm Counselor Positions Open For Spring Of '81

Applications are available beginning today for Student Counselor positions for the Spring of 1981. An Interest Session will be held November 13, 1980 for all interested new applicants during which the Student Counselor selection process and the responsibilities of a Student Counselor will be explained. Applicants will also have an opportunity to ask questions of current Student Counselors concerning the responsibilities and expectations of the position.

The Interest Session will be held in Zimmerli, Room Z-11 Thursday, November 13 at 7:00 pm. Applications for Student Counselor Positions will be available at the Interest Session, the Student Life Office, or from your Hall Manager or Director, but all applicants are encouraged to attend the Interest Session.

The required courses of an English major varies among the different degrees offered. The Secondary Education English major must take writing courses, intro. to the study of language and grammar among others.

The Secondary Education Communication major must take linguistics, literature, journalism and creative writing among others.

The Liberal Arts major in the Humanities with specialization in English must take a foreign language, humanities courses, liberal arts seminars, and writing courses among others.

The Liberal Arts major in English must take the various literature courses, seminars, and writing courses among others.

Dr. Peplow feels the more popular courses selected by English majors as well as other majors are the service courses such as composition and dimensions of literature. Two-thirds of the courses are service courses.

There's also intro. to film and various creative writing courses such as the fiction, poetry, and drama workshops. Dr. Peplow believes that business writing is becoming more and more popular.

Unlike some majors, the English major can find himself going into a variety of jobs such as public relations, teaching, advertising, book publishing and civil service. This is because he is trained to do most any kind of job due to his flexibility, tolerance, and willingness to learn.

If he is willing to relocate, the sky is the limit to his job possibilities, especially if he has communication skills.

The deadline for all completed applications to be submitted to the Student Life Office is Monday, November 24. The applicants must have a Sophomore standing at the end of the Fall Semester 1980 and have a minimum of a 2.0 cumulative average. More importantly, Student Counselors should have a sincere interest in working with people and a willingness to make a commitment of time and energy to the responsibilities of the position.

Individuals with questions about the Student Counselor position or the selection process should contact a Student Life Staff member in their residence hall, Karla Nurzyk, Assistant Dean for Student Life, Smith Hall or Tim Susick, Director of North Hall who is coordinating the selection process.

There are a few people who graduated from LHSC that were English majors who have received recognition in various jobs, which shows the diversity of the English major.

Ms. Meg Ardner was a Liberal Arts English major in the ROTC program. She's now the Public Affairs officer with the 38th brigade attached to headquarters in South Korea. She sets up all USO shows and handles all copies of the brigade newsletter.

Ms. Bev Spagnola is with a major advertising firm in Pittsburgh.

Ms. Robin Sterns is in Florida getting her PH.D. in English and Composition. She's also teaching.

Dr. Peplow stresses the point of the ability to write. As quoted by Dr. Robert Batscha, director of the Center for Communication in New York by the New York Times National Recruitment Survey, "Major in English. Employers everywhere, always, need people who can write."

HOBBIT SHOW

Red Fog Meets Indiana

By DAN MCGURGAN

As the 1980 football season winds down for LHSC, the team hopes to win its next two games and finish with a winning season overall in the tough Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference Western division. Tomorrow the "Red Fog" travels to Indiana, in what should be a good game. Both teams have identical records of 4-4 overall and 2-3 in conference play.

Last week LHSC gained its most impressive victory by whipping Slippery Rock soundly, 29-7. In that game senior tailback Joe Speese became the all-time leading rusher for LHSC. Speese gained 94 yards to raise his season total to 837, and his career high total to 3,233 with two games left to play.

Indiana fell to conference western division champion Clarion, 15-0 last week. In conference play IUP has also lost to Shippensburg, 17-14 and Edinboro, 11-7. The Big Indians defeated California State, 28-14 and Slippery Rock, 23-22.

The "Red Fog" defense, as usual, was impressive last week, allowing only 164 yards total offense. After intercepting three passes against Slippery Rock, the LHSC defensive unit has tied a school one season record with 25 interceptions. Junior defensive back Tony Garzione leads the team in interceptions with six and senior Scott Reiner is just behind him with five.

Two defensive players who have stood out all year are sophomore linebackers Carl Dean and Tony Tillar. They have a total of 183 tackles between them, Dean with a team leading 98 and Tillar with 85. Another sophomore, Terry Mathias has 72 tackles. LHSC is very fortunate to have these three players returning for the next two years.

In the Slippery Rock game the "Red Fog" offense put more points on the board than it has in any other previous game this year. One reason for this is the improved play of freshman quarterback Ben Pavalko. Pavalko hit on six of thirteen passes attempted for 134 yards and two touchdowns. On the year Pavalko has now completed 40 of 91 passes attempted for 546 yards and six touchdowns.

LHSC and Indiana have been playing each other annually since 1925, with Indiana winning 26 of those games and LHSC winning 14 with three ties.

Trevor Adair has soccer on his mind as the Bald Eagles prep for upcoming playoffs.

Soccer Team Victorious For 15 straight wins

By HARRY CRAMER

Sophomore Neil Johnson's two goals against Kutztown put the soccer team one game away from its first undefeated season. The Bald Eagles out booted Kutztown by a score of 4-2. Their record is now 15-0.

The Eagles opened up a 4-0 lead early in the second half before Coach Parker substituted the entire J.V. squad. Kutztown then managed to score twice before Parker inserted the starting line-up to finish the game.

Parker was happy with his teams performance saying, "In the first half we looked good. We dominated the play. If we were hard pressed we could have scored three or four more times."

Tim Gargan opened the scoring at 10:15 of the first half. The goal resulted from a scramble in front of the Kutztown net.

Jan Felker scored next at the 27-minute mark of the first half making the score 2-0.

Johnson followed with his first goal at 44:38 of the first half. Johnson tallied Lock Havens final score at 8:12 of the second half.

The Bald Eagles outshot Kutztown 24-7. They travel to Slippery Rock Saturday.

The Lock Haven fall intramural season is winding down as playoffs continue this week and next. In the co-ed flag football the team from KDR captured the team championship by defeating the Zoo Branch.

The men's division finals will be Monday, November 10 at 4:15 pm between KDR and Smith Hall.

Gross Hall is waiting in the wings for the winner of KDR and the Yellow Cards to determine one semi-final round for the soccer league. The Icemen and the Misfits will meet in the other semi-finals.

On the national side of Sportstalk, George Brett, to no one's surprise, has been selected as the American League Player of the Year. Steve Stone was picked as the Pitcher of the Year. In the National League it was a sweep for the Phillies as Mike Schmidt and Steve Carlton won their respective honors. Carlton was also selected as the Cy Young Award Winner.

Dallas Green will be back with the Phillies for the 1981 season, but look for Greg Luzinski to end up in the American League as Lonnie Smith takes over the left field spot. You remember Smith, the one with the great arm in the playoffs.

This week's top five in college football has a few changes in it from last week as Notre Dame moves into the number one position. Georgia, the only undefeated team besides Notre Dame, holds down number two. Florida State is ranked third with USC and Nebraska rounding out the top five.

Pittsburg has moved up to the number nine spot and Penn State is tenth.

Roberto Duran and Sugar Ray Leonard will be going at it again November 25 as Superfight II is rapidly approaching. If your interested in purchasing a ring-side ticket forget it. They are selling for $1,000 a seat. Editor Jeff Fleishman reports that not even the Eagle Eye can use its press pass for an on-the-spot report.

The Lock Haven College Soccer team travels to Slippery Rock tomorrow in hopes of closing out an undefeated season. The Bald Eagles, 15-0, are still ranked number one in the nation, Division II, after receiving 20 out of 24 first place votes in the national rankings.

This week we feature two games to watch from the NFL schedule. In St. Louis look for the Cardinals to knock off the red-hot Atlanta Falcons and in the Monday night game Houston could defeat the New England Patriots in a mild upset.

Odds on drum major Denny Titus for next week's Lock Haven-Mansfield football game have been unsteady all week because of his success in last week's game. At the present time, they are still 6-5 against him catching the baton.
