Willis brings LHU and Mexico closer

By Erin Regan
Staff Reporter

President Craig Dean Willis has returned from a visit to Mexico, one of the university's partner institutions, the Universidad de Las Americas in Puebla.

The Universidad de Las Americas and Lock Haven University have an on-going student, and now faculty, exchange program.

The program was initiated in the spring of 1988 and involves academic programs at the Universidad, situated near Puebla, Mexico's fourth largest city, and just two hours from the nations capitol, Mexico City.

The Universidad de Las Americas enrolls just over 5,000 students.

President Willis visited the Mexican campus at the invitation of Universidad President Enrique Cardenas to discuss the partnership as well as the possible expansion of the program. Cardenas is likely to visit Lock Haven in the coming months.

"This is a well managed university where I saw evidence of good teaching and a caring attitude about the students," commented President Willis on the visit.

He also added, "The location is ideal and the facilities are comparable to those at Lock Haven University."

A total of ten LHU students have taken advantage of the study abroad program available through the partnership with the Universidad de Las Americas, while seven Mexican students have enrolled at LHU.

The first faculty exchange was started during the fall semester of 1988 with two LHU faculty members, Dr. Stanislaus Wisniewski, Ed. D., a professor of art, and Dr. Betty C. Wisniewski, Ed. D., a professor of speech communication.

Dr. Stanislaus Wisniewski taught two classes in watercolor painting while also helping the Universidad design a bachelor of fine arts program. His wife, Dr. Betty Wisniewski, held volunteer workshops on communications in English.

Dr. Stan Wisniewski encourages students to take advantage of the opportunity to study at the Universidad in Mexico. He said, "Mexico is a land of tremendous contrast. You can experience the very old in Cholala, the oldest inhabited city in the Americas, to the very modern in Puebla. These cities are within fifteen minutes of each other." He also added, "Mexico is very economical."

Associate Dean of International studies, John Johnston, stated, "The trip was a worthwhile endeavor; it brought the ties between the two Universities closer."

Lock Haven University has an ongoing partnership program with the Universidad de Las Americas and thirteen other institutions around the world.

Maintenance department not to be blamed

Students heated up about new system

By Wendy Henck
Staff Reporter

Many students have complained about the heating and hot water systems in the residence hall recently.

The biggest complaints that students have are with the consistency of the heat and water. There have also been problems in Bentley Dining Hall due to the lack of steam for the steam kettles.

The reason for the problems as of late is the fact that the campus has converted to a new heating and hot water system.

The campus' heating and hot water system was controlled in the past by a boiler plant. On January 28, the campus switched to individual boilers for each building.

This decision was based on a study done six years ago regarding the loss of energy with the underground piping.

When asked about his opinion on the new system, Timothy Susick, Associate Dean of Students said, "I'm pleased with the concept and displeased with the fact that students are being effected." He went on to say that the maintenance department is not to be blamed.

The maintenance department is working around the clock on the new system. They make periodic readings and adjustments throughout the day and night.

Right now, the system is in a test period where fine tuning is an on-going process. James Meckley, the maintenance superintendent, said that things are expected to get better every day.

Dr. Phelps, vice president of Administrative Affairs, and the maintenance department would like to thank the students for their patience during the final tuning process. They hope to have things restored to everyone's satisfaction as soon as possible.

PUB expansion possible in two years

By Biff Miller
Staff Reporter

Major additions to the original PUB will take place within the next two years if the student referendum is passed in April, according to the PUB Expansion Committee.

On February 7th, the PUB Expansion Committee met for the first time this semester, discussing ideas on the PUB Expansion Project.

Apparently, the NUTECH architects in charge of the expansion project, anticipate actual reconstruction within the next two years.

The firm is concentrating primarily on designing a building that will serve the student body of the present and the future.

Additions such a larger bookstore, a cafeteria and food court are included in the expansion project. The project also includes a ballroom that will be available to the Lock Haven Community.

The estimated cost of the expansion alone is $2.2 million and another $1.3 million for future upkeep of the new building.

One of the main topics of the PUB

Expansion Committee is to focus on passing the student referendum.

Because of the project, students will most likely experience a small increase in their Community Center Fee.

As of now, the fee is $10, giving students access to the PUB, concerts, and other activities.

According to Leland Spangler, PUB director, "Other schools are already paying $40-50 towards their Community Service Fee."

Students will begin to see promotions for the PUB Expansion Project within the next few weeks in Bentley, the Eagle Eye, the Perspective, and other campus media.

In correlation with the PUB Expansion Project, Manuel R. Cunard, Director of the Student Center of Colorado State University, is planning on making a informational movie explaining Student Building Expansion Projects. Cunard will be using LHU as his example.

The movie will then be available to other campuses across the country, giving LHU national publicity.

According to Paul Knappenberger, PUB Administrator, the plans for PUB expansion are proceeding smoothly.

LHU men remain undefeated at home with victory over California

By Herb Samuels
Sports Reporter

The Lock Haven men's basketball team used their tough inside game to overcome a tough team from California University of Pennsylvania (CUP), 77-66, Saturday at the sold out (2,212 people in attendance) Thomas Field House.

California, the current Pennsylvania Conference champion, came into the "House of Noise" in a must win situation. They had three losses in the West division and one more would surely dampen their hopes for a repeat as top gun.

However, it was the Bald Eagles that came out and dominated the first half. "They came out and tried to put pressure on our perimeter game and underestimated our inside game," said LHU's head coach Dave Blank.

That resulted in an explosion of Bald Eagle points to put them up by as many as 10. Led by Dean Kriebel's 19 first half points the Bald Eagles went into the half with a 38-31 advantage.

Then, in the second half, California came alive and gave the Bald Eagles all they could handle. "I thought we saw two different California teams," said coach Blank. "They were like night and day."

California came surging back with their stars, senior center Joe Miller and sophomore forward Tim Brown, to lead by as many as seven.

But the Bald Eagles came back behind the experienced senior guards Tony Bacon and Tim Glass.

With 6:12 to go Bacon hit a layup to go up 59-58. From there, Glass hit a series of free throws to insure the put the game out of reach.

The Bald Eagles clamped down on defense and went on a 19-2 run.

The win keeps the Bald Eagles a top of the Western Division with a 7-1 divisional record and pumps up their overall record to 20-2.

Kriebel led all scorers with 27 points. Glass who hit 12 of 12 free throws popped in 16 points. Bacon and junior forward John Jekot hit for 11 points apiece.

Kriebel, the team leader in rebounds collected 12 boards. Bacon who owns the assists records for a single game (15), a season (165 and counting) and the career record (398 and counting), handed out 10 assists.

The win definitely pleased the coach. "We now control our own destiny. We don't have to depend on losses," said coach Blank.

The next game will be at Clarion University on Wednesday with a 7:30 tip-off.

Bald Eagle wrestlers score victory over host Mountaineers, 29-12

By Mike Leavy
Sports Editor

Craig Corbin and Mike Lingenfelter had pins while Thane Turner and Brad Lloyd notched major decisions enroute to a 29-12 LHU victory over West Virginia Saturday.

The Haven was never behind as Corbin opened things up with a pin 4:58 into the match over Joe Yankosky.

Corbin was ahead 12-6 when he pinned Yankosky. Yankosky's points were all escapes as Corbin let him up and then put him down.

Jeff Husick came back to gain a 9-7 decision over Dave Miller at 126 pounds.

Husick was behind 4-1 at the end of the first period when his comeback began. In the second period, he grabbed four points to Miller's two to close the gap by one point at 6-5.

In the third period, Husick took down Miller and then scored a near fall to make it 9-6. Miller won the riding time to make the final 9-7.

According to Head Coach Neil Turner, Husick is doing fine since coming back from shoulder problems.

Mike Lingenfelter took little over a minute to pin Dave Koreski at 134 pounds.

West Virginia finally got on the board making it 15-3 when Jaime Ritter decisioned Anthony Melfi 8-2.

Thane Turner gave the Bald Eagles another four points as he registered a 9-1 major decision over Dave Ornorato.

Turner was consistent the whole match giving up only an escape point in the first period while getting three takedowns, a reversal and the riding time.

Escapes seemed to be all West Virginia could get as John Barrett decisioned Dirk Cole 5-2 with all of Cole's points on escapes.

Barrett had a takedown in the first period and one in the third as well as riding time.

Jeff Karam lost a tough one at 167 pounds losing to Jay Schwartz 3-2. Karam had an escape and the edge on riding time but suffered due to two penalty points and an escape.

Brad Lloyd put the match away for good with a 12-0 crunch of Dominic Black. Lloyd had three takedowns and a nearfall in the contest. He also had over five minutes in riding time.

Larry Walker lost due to injury at 190 pounds. Walker strained his knee in the second period with the score 6-1 against him.

Turner said that he will rest Walker but may start him this weekend at Penn State.

Kenny Walker held off Frank Jezioro for a 4-3 decision at heavyweight. Walker had two escapes and a takedown to Jezioro's takedown and escape.

"Corbin really got things off to a good start," Turner said. "Everyone wrestled pretty good."

This puts the Haven's record to 5-0 in the Eastern Wrestling League and 11-5 on the year. The only other undefeated EWL team is Penn State who LHU faces Saturday.

West Virginia dips to 0-4 in EWL action and 5-5 overall.

LHU is currently ranked number eight in the nation.

The showdown for first place in the East will be decided this Saturday night 7:30 p.m. at State College when the Bald Eagles take on the number three ranked Nittany Lions.

Lady Eagles edged by Lady Mountain Cats for first home loss, 76-75

By Merritt La Porta
Sports Reporter

The Lady Mountain Cats of the University of Pitt-Johnstown came to town yesterday, and squeaked past the Lady Eagles 76-75 in a non-conference thriller.

UPJ jumped out to a quick 6-0 lead when Donna Heller hit a 3-point shot to cut the lead in half. Senior co-captain Cindy Richards followed Heller's with one of her own, and UPJ's lead was cut to a slim 8-6.

LHU took the lead at the 11:00 mark at 20-15, but had trouble with UPJ's full court press throughout the first half.

Thirteen first half Lady Eagle turnovers enabled UPJ to take the lead late in the first and hold on for a 42-30 halftime lead.

"We got off to a bad mental start," said head coach Frank Scarfo. "We played well for the first ten minutes, but during the last ten I didn't recognize the team that was out there."

"We weren't using the passing lanes, we were missing wide open shots that we should have hit, and we weren't helping each other," he said. "That put us behind the eight-ball."

In the second half the Lady Eagles came out flying and cut the lead to four, 46-42. However, each time the Lady Eagles scored UPJ answered back with a bucket of their own.

With 6:30 left in the game, Richards hit another 3-pointer to cut the score to 62-57 in favor of UPJ. Kris Wiberg converted two foul shots to bring LHU within three at 68-65, but UPJ's Bridget Hale answered back with two of her game total 30 points to give the Lady Mountain Cats the lead for good.

"Our biggest mistake was panicking at crucial situations," said Scarfo. "There was a point when we were down by three and then the kids panicked and lost their poise."

"Hopefully we can learn a couple of lessons from this game," he added.

Wiberg finished with 12 to lead the Lady Eagles while Richards, Maryellen Jaskuta and Angie Wolfe all added 10 in the losing cause.

The loss drops the Lady Eagles to 15-7 overall while UPJ climbs to 15-4.

Saturday afternoon the Lady Eagles squashed California 70-58 in a PSAC Western conference matchup.

Richards paced the team with 20 points while Lisa Sporer and Amy Barger chipped in for 13 each.

Clarion is the next stop for the Lady Eagle express as they take on the Lady Golden Eagles in another conference battle.

Gymnastics breaks school record for the third time this year

By Terry Day
Editor-in-Chief

Jacque Bressler scored a 8.55 on the floor exercise to give the Lady Eagles' gymnastics team a 152.15-152 victory over Ursinus College and another school record.

The school record was broken for the third time this season. The old record of 147.40 was set on February 3rd.

"I am really thrill with how we are doing this year," head coach Susan Engel said.

Bressler also scored 8.55 on the vault, 8.0 on the uneven bars, 7.35 on the balance beam and 32.45 in the all-around.

The Lady Eagles had a .25 point led after the vaulting competition.

In the following event, the uneven bars, the Lady Bears took a .9 lead when Ursinus' Karen Michelle recorded a 8.1.

Michel also registered scores of 8.7 on the vault, 8.4 on the beam, 8.3 on the floor and 33.5 in the all-around.

The Lady Eagles came back as Kathy Miller and Jennifer Ball scored 7.95 and 7.9, respectively

Going into the final event, LHU had a .05 lead.

Along with Bressler's 8.55, the Lady Eagles received an 8.2 and an 8.15 from Holli Spotts and Jen Kreider, respectively.

According to Engel, the team were on as they hit everything She added they are still something that have yet to put in the routines.

This Saturday the Lady Eagles host Cortland State at 1 p.m.

Seven Swimmers will compete in PSAC Champions

By Terry Day
Editor-in-chief

Seven Lady Eagle swimmers will compete in the upcoming Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference swimming and diving championships to be held at Indiana University (Pa.) from February 15th through 18th.

Lady Eagles will be represented by Kerry Fitzpatrick, Tracy Campbell, Deb Hovies, Kathy Kalemba, Christal Jensen, Kristin McCluskey, Therese Shambaugh.

"I think we are doing better than we have been doing," Fitzpatrick said.

They will compete in four relay event: the 200 meter medley, 400 m medley, 200 m Freestyle, and the 400 m Freestyle.

Head coach Carolyn Ludwig said, "I feel they can be competitive with Millersville, East Stroudsburg, and Mansfield." said Ludwig of her team's chances.

McGee explains the R.A. process

By James Gillespie
Staff Reporter

It is that time again for choosing the Resident Assistants (R.A.) for the resident halls.

The process of becoming an R.A. starts with the application. Then, application is reviewed by Max McGee, coordinator for resident assistant selections, before the interviews are started. According to McGee, each applicant is expected to attend three interviews and are expected to attend a group interview.

Two individual interviews are conducted after the applicants group interview is processed, said McGee. One interview is held with a professional staff member and the other interview is held with two present R.A.'s

If the interviewing process is successful an applicant is considered hireable. However, hireable does not mean an applicant will be made an R.A. Alternate positions are also offered, according to McGee. "The determining factor as to who is an alternate and who is placed as an R.A. is made after several training sessions," said McGee.

By becoming a resident assistant, you are expected to act as a role model in regard to "leadership, academic success, and personal conduct," said McGee.

Applications for fall and spring of next year are due February 17, 1989. The applications are available in the Student Life Office in Smith Hall.
