Guest speaker defines contraceptive methods

By MELINDA SMALE
Staff Reporter

On Monday night Mrs. Sue Congdon, outreach worker and office coordinator from the Family Planning Center at Lock Haven Hospital was the guest speaker at the Human Sexuality Series about Contraceptives.

Mrs. Congdon explained that the center provides health care services to couples and individuals. The objectives of family planning described by Congdon are primarily to provide a freedom of choice, for a woman to decide what type of birth control method she wants to use. Secondly, the gynecologic health of a woman is very important whether she is pregnant or not. Above all, the health of the entire family is of great concern. The father's health is of grave importance since he is the one who deals with the financial pressures of the family.

"The most widely used method of birth control is the Pill," explained Mrs. Congdon, "it is the safest method and very effective - 99.7% effective."

Students reach upward in federal program

By FRED SCHULTZ
News Editor

In an interview with Sandra Berkebile, Project Director for Upward Bound, she explained the concept of the program and who is eligible for it.

Berkebile, along with program counselor Cathy Ferrence works with high schools in a nine-county area surrounding the college.

High school students who meet the federal guidelines and financial criteria set up by the federal government are eligible for the program.

Upward Bound is conducted in two phases. The academic phase, which involves weekly meetings of high school students here at the college, includes career choosing, school selection, financial aid, tutoring, and counseling.

Students not only must meet the guidelines and criteria set up by the government, but also must have the academic ability to go on to a post-secondary school.

The summer residence phase involves a six week period in the summer for high school students in which they spend time at the college taking courses in a variety of areas taught by both college personnel and local high school teachers.

The students of WBVB, channel 10, and Dr. William T. Reich announced yesterday the programs for the television this week. This Thursday's productions will mark the third week the television project of Lock Haven State students' has been broadcasting.

Leading the card of programs for this week's entertainment includes the variety news show, "This Week", hosted by anchorman Bill Mahon. The program features a special focus on State Representative Russell P. Letterman. In an interview from early this week, Letterman discusses some very interesting topics of concern to all those involved in the State College system. Letterman also comments on the proposed revision of the Pennsylvania State Motor Vehicle Code which will eventually affect all motor-licensed residents.

On a much lighter side, Carl Rumbalski, renowned potter and professor at Lock Haven State, will be featured in a special program displaying the talent of pottery. The program, entitled "The Art of Pottery," shows Rumbalski displaying the talents of a stunning art which has been with man for centuries.

Moving from one distinct art to another, "Electric Sports Magazine" will focus on the recent Pennsylvania State Col-

Performer conducts workshop as choir members sing solos

By WENDY AKELEY
Staff Reporter

Victoria Villamil, opera mezzo-soprano, participated in a choral workshop Tuesday morning at 11:00 in Sloan, following her performance Monday night. Members of the College Choir sang solos they have been studying this semester under Mr. Gary Renzelman's direction to an audience of both college and local high-school students.

Villamil commented on each performance, giving her basic impressions of the singers' presentations. "All song is basically storytelling," she explained. "You really have to exaggerate in singing" to get the message across. She believes that although it is not always necessary to understand the words of a song, it is important for the singer to convey the piece's mood or atmosphere. She added, "I feel very strongly about listening to compliments and criticism from everyone," and urged the soloists to listen to any criticism they might receive and then make up their own minds as to who judged them rightly and who judged them wrongly.

Villamil then sang pieces from her Bicentennial program including Charles Ives' "Anne Street", Aaron Copeland's "Going to Heaven", and Charles Griffith's "We'll to the Woods". She illustrated what she had earlier pointed out to the soloists, that one should play around with fun, little touches in each song to make it come alive. Her singing style, animated and versatile, kept the audience

Elderly visited weekly by volunteers

By MELINDA SMALE

"The program is designed to provide companionship for the elderly people at Susque-View, and to show that someone does care, counteracting any feeling of abandonment and rejection," explained Mrs. Delores Lynch.

Mrs. Lynch is the coordinator of the Susque-View Volunteer Program at LHSC. This semester 20 LHSC students meet with two elderly Susque-View residents for an hour each week.

In many cases the students are the residents only visitors. "Sometimes a student will visit their assigned resident and hear the same story week after week. Some of the residents can't remember from week to week that they are meeting with the same student," continued Mrs. Lynch.

"Those that are able, attend a program on campus in the Spring - usually the Aquafins of a play," she reported. Other programs the volunteers have arranged for the residents are

With the fraternity housing situation still an issue, the Interfraternity Council (IFC) has been actively working on a plan to alleviate the problem. Presently, the individual fraternities are located at various places around the college, and many still have quite a bit of work to do to bring their houses up to the standards set by the building code office in Lock Haven. Others either don't have a house or are renting one. The IFC plan would relocate the fraternities in one area, and while each would still have their own house, they would be built as multi-unit dwellings rather than converting an existing property.

The land that the IFC is presently investigating is located on Glen Road near the site of the old foundation on college property. The land could be purchased from the college by the IFC and developed with electricity, water, etc. for future purchase and eventual building by the individual groups involved. The administration seems in favor of this plan which would create a fraternity complex similar to those at many other colleges and would help eliminate problems with both the city code office and the community. At this time, the idea is still in preliminary stages with questions remaining that include financial backing and the expected date to begin the work.

the annual Christmas Party and a Spring/Easter Party. This semester a Spring Party is planned for Wednesday, April 7.

Anyone interested in helping with the party or the volunteer program should see Mrs. Lynch in Bentley 10. "Any student can volunteer. You don't have to be a Social Welfare major," Mrs. Lynch pointed out.

Haven women take Pitt in close game

By MARY FEUSNER
Women's Sports Editor

In varsity action last week, the Eaglettes were host to the University of Pittsburgh on Saturday afternoon. Pitt fell victim to the Eaglettes on their home court. A 60-54 win was the Haven's seventh victory of the '76 season.

The Haven's early lead of 17-8 pleased the spectators at the fieldhouse. Hudson and Ogle tossed the ball through the hoop for eight and seven points respectively.

After a break in the action, Pitt returned to the court to employ their deliberate offensive set up. For the most part it was effective as they narrowed the Haven lead to two at the half. Pitt's Raymond, Jones and Senkowski had hit for seven points. Lock Haven's Hudson had worked inside for 12 points.

Pitt gained possession of the toss that started the second half. The Pitt guard hit from 15 feet to tie the contest at 31 all. It took Lock Haven four minutes to put points on the board in the second half.

A time out at 15:43, saw Pitt in the lead by four. The next ten minutes was marked by an exchange of baskets, but Pitt still retained the lead. At 2:33, guard Colleen Hacker ripped the cords for two points putting the Haven in the lead, 53-52. Hacker seemed to be the Haven spark in the closing minutes. When two Pitt players left the game with five fouls, the Haven took advantage. The game ended with the score, 60-54.

Fast, furious action expected Saturday

By GARY BRUBAKER
Staff Reporter

Action will be fast and furious this Saturday afternoon as the 1976 Lock Haven United Indoor Soccer Tournament gets underway at noon in Zimmerli gymnasium.

Sponsored by the Lock Haven Soccer Club the $10.00 entry fee from each of the 17 teams entered in the tournament will go towards the purchase of the team and individual awards. The remaining funds will be used in purchasing new uniforms for the 1976 Bald Eagle Soccer Team as well as to aid in paying entry fees for other indoor tournaments which the Haven may enter for the remainder of the season.

The seventeen entries will be divided into four divisions; A, B, C and D with each team playing a respective team in their division in round-robin competition. The top two teams in each single division with the best record will then advance to the quarter-final elimination competition to determine the champion.

Thomas Fieldhouse will be the site of the quarter-finals through finals competition and will allow interested spectators to enjoy this fast-growing type of soccer competition.

Each game will consist of two seven and one-half minute halves. Overtime periods will be used only to determine the winners in the quarter-finals through finals competition.

Quarter-final action is set to get underway at 3:20 p.m., semi-finals at 4:40 p.m., consolation finals (for 3rd place) at 5:20 p.m. and the championship game at 5:40 p.m. This schedule is tentative because overtime games would naturally change the starting times of the different rounds.

Trophies will be awarded to the first, second, and third place teams.

Awards will be given to the top two individual players in the tournament and as an added feature, a "Most Valuable Player" trophy will also be awarded.

"Indoor Soccer is a faster-moving, more competitive game than outdoor soccer," stated Roger Bernecker, coordinator of the tournament and co-captain of the 1976 Lock Haven Soccer team. "You play the ball off the walls

"With this back to nature kick, many women are using the diaphragm," commented Mrs. Congdon, "it is becoming very popular." One reason given for its popularity is that some women don't want to hurt their bodies by taking synthetic chemicals. Other contraceptive methods discussed were the Rhythm Method, various creams, jellies, and foams, and the Billings Method. The latter is the newest type of contraceptive method offered, but it is still in the testing stages.

Mrs. Congdon reported that the Family Planning Center at the hospital is opened Monday thru Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.
