Circle K celebrates International Week

By John P Elder
Staff Reporter

In only four years, LHU's chapter of Circle K has grown to be the largest in the state. Tomorrow, members of the international non-profit organization will wear Circle K sweatshirts to observe the celebration of International Circle K week.

"Basically, what we're doing is promoting an awareness of who we are and what we do," said Deb Pierson, Circle K Lieutenant Governor for Pennsylvania.

The week of international observance was declared by Kiwanis, the club's parent sponsor. Kiwanis is an organization made up of businessmen and other professionals.

The club's 57 members frequently take part in leadership training programs, said Pierson, but is "mostly a service and fundraiser group."

"We provide financial help and hours of service to anybody who asks for it," said Pierson.

"We provide financial help and hours of service to anybody who asks for it."

Locally, the club has provided assistance to Susque-View Home Inc., Meals on Wheels, Lock Haven Children's Daycare Center, and the LHU Foundation. However, LHU chapter president Jan Marek said that the club spends a considerable amount of its time helping outside organizations.

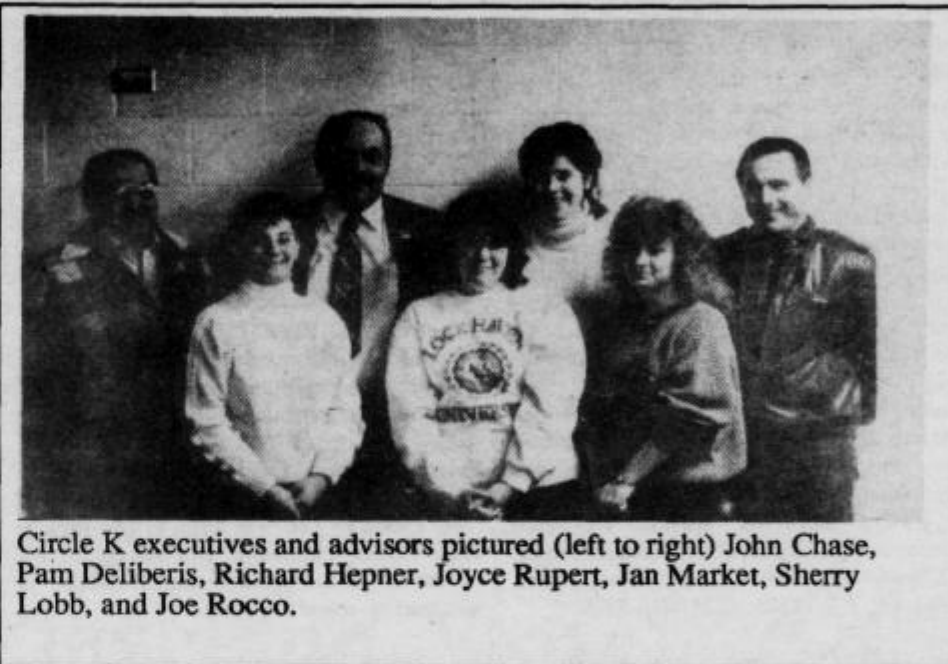

"Right now, our biggest project is the Kiwanis Children's heart program at the Geisinger Medical Center," said Marek.

The project is a statewide fundraiser that, according to Pierson, will see the LHU chapter contributing a disproportionately large amount.

"All of the state's 33 clubs have pledged $10,000 to the project," said Pierson. "We will be pledging $1,000 to the drive...a huge amount."

Circle K prides itself on "involving tomorrow's leaders today," said Marek. primarily "a service organization that raises money to give it all away."

Haven League works to represent LHU

By Sherry Lobb
Staff Reporter

The 1988-1989 academic year has brought a new honorary society to LHU. This society is Haven League.

Haven League is made up of 12 charter members, all seniors. The league's advisor is Rebecca Rosser, Director of Public Relations.

The members have served as university representatives throughout the academic year.

Currently, members of Haven League are working on an activity to beautify the campus.

Also, Haven League has worked with President Craig Dean Willis and has done some work for the alumni magazine, The Perspective.

Haven League also sponsored senior photographs this year along with a senior directory.

Membership in Haven League is based not only on academics, but also, campus activities, leadership qualities and recommendations from faculty, staff, and classmates, said Rosser.

Also, members are from a variety of backgrounds and majors.

"The Haven League members are similar to senior class representatives," said Rosser.

Two charter members, Jeffrey Hatton and Nicole Swick, will be representing LHU at a hospitality program in Pittsburgh on February 14.

"I feel very positive about Haven League," said Swick. "It's great to be involved in the university and its activities."

Record number apply to LHU

By Emilee Groce
Co-News Editor

This semester has seen an increase in the number of applications the admissions office has received as compared to the same time last year.

According to Joseph A. Coldren, Director of Admissions, the office has received 21 percent more applications for the coming fall semester than the 1988-89 academic year.

The increase in applications can be attributed to a combination of many factors, commented Coldren.

The popularity of the physical education, computer science and management science programs are contributing factors to the increase as well as the reasonable cost of LHU.

Lock Haven's size and location are also attractive to prospective students, continued Coldren.

Kreibel scores 1,000th point in victory over Slippery Rock

By Herb Samuels
Sports Reporter

The Lock Haven Bald Eagles basketball team got a leg up on the Pennsylvania Conference Western division with a big win over Slippery Rock 86-73 at the Thomas Field House last Saturday.

Both teams came into the game with a 4-1 intra-divisional record (18-2 overall). The winner would take sole possession of first place.

The "Rock" was up early in the game as they got off to a hot start. They led by as many as ten points in the first half. Slippery Rock went into the half with a 43-38 lead.

In the second half, the Bald Eagles found their winning ways. "Down the line we made better decisions," said head coach Dave Blank.

The Bald Eagles took their first lead, 46-45, when junior forward Dean Kriebel dunked the ball with 16:33 left. They took the lead for good at the 15 minute mark when senior guard Tim Glass hit a shot and a foul shot to put them up 51-49.

At the 12 minute mark Kriebel reached a milestone. He nailed a layup for his 1,000th career point. The "House of Noise" gave him a rousing ovation.

"I knew I got it (his 1,000th career point) and was happy to get it," Kriebel said. "But I thought it was more fitting that (guard) Tony Bacon gave me the assist. Without him I wouldn't have half of my points."

When things got back to normal, it got scary. With 7:17 left Kriebel picked up his fourth foul. At the 4:11 mark, Bacon (the coach on the floor as Blank likes to point out) went down hard into the bleachers and injured his knee. He played sparingly from that point on.

To top things off Glass fouled out with 3:03 left to play. That left some inexperienced players in the line up.

"We had some guys in the line up you are not used to seeing," said Blank. "God Bless them."

Junior transfer Stacy Porter and freshmen guard Troy Evans gave quality minutes and kept the Bald Eagle together down the stretch.

"I figured I'm here now and there's nothing I can do about it," Evans said of his job at point guard.

The Bald Eagles hit their foul shots down the line as Slippery Rock missed many a futile bomb as the Bald Eagles held on for the win.

Kriebel led all scorers with 26 points and collected a game high 12 rebounds. Glass pumped in 19 before leaving and center Dirk Remensnyder had 13. Bacon handed out a game high 10 assists.

But coach Blank attributed the win to team work. "We finally did some things we used to do. We won this game because of two great days of practice. Shippensburg (a loss last Wednesday) really scarred us," Blank said. "It's good to have them back."

The Bald Eagles will face Indiana

University of Pennsylvania Wednesday at IUP.

Wrestling team edges Cleveland State, 20-15

By Mike Leavy
Sports Reporter

It came down to heavyweight as Kenny Walker decisioned his opponent to clinch the victory for the Haven over Cleveland State, 17-12.

"It was ugly but we showed team character," said Head Coach Neil Turner about the give and go match where both teams held the lead more than once.

Craig Corbin got the Bald Eagles to a five point lead with a 23-7 technical fall over Mike Elsass at 5:09.

Danny Smith gave Guy Sako trouble at 126 pounds keeping it close until the final period. Sako, 17-6-1 on the year broke out with an escape point and took the riding time for a 6-4 decision.

Mike Lingenfelter edged out a 4-2 victory at 134 pounds as CSU's Danny Smith had a takedown taken away in the final minute.

At 142 pounds, Anthony Melfi almost turned the tables on Perry Ohl as Melfi came back from a 6-3 deficit but fell one point short losing 8-7.

Thane Turner, 150 pounds, faced last year's opponent Dave Wlodarz and came out on top with a 7-2 decision.

John Barrett put the Bald Eagles back on the winning side with a 2-1 decision over Matt Peters. Peters was charged with a stalling point in the second period and gave up an escape.

The Vikings took the lead back for the last time as Frank McKeon edged out Jeff Karam 3-2. McKeon won on a stall point with seconds left in the match.

Brad Lloyd kept his undefeated record with a 17-12 disqualification over Jay Suvak. Suvak was penalized stalling points and was disqualified after prying at Lloyd's fingers.

One point matches haunted the Haven more as sophomore Larry Walker gave senior Ernie Slone a run for his money in a 4-3 decision favoring Slone. Slone had an escape with less than 30 seconds left to clinch the match.

The match came down to the wire with the score at 17-15 favoring LHU. It was up to Kenny Walker to win or draw.

Walker dominated the match from the start registering a two-point takedown followed by a two-point nearfall in the first period.

He then notched an escape in the second period and won the bout on 6-2 the riding time point.

Turner was ecstatic about Walker's performance.

"Kenny came through with another key victory for the second match in a row," he said referring to Walker's victory against Edinboro on Thursday.

The Haven is now 2-0 in its EWL campaign with a 22-14 victory last Thursday at Edinboro. They are 9-5 overall and ranked seventh in the Amateur Wrestling News.

According to Turner, Jeff Husick is on a day to day basis and may wrestle Wednesday.

Brad Lloyd will appear in the Red vs. Blue all-star meet tonight in Philadelphia. Lloyd is scheduled to meet Jim Gressley of Arizona State.

Lloyd has already beaten Gressley once this year at the Midlands tournament with a 5-4 decision.

Lock Haven hosts Bloomsburg tomorrow at the Thomas Field House at 7:30 p.m.

Lady Eagles crush the Rock by 38

By Merritt La Porta
Sports Reporter

Junior Maryellen Jaskuta led the way with 16 points as the Lady Eagles destroyed the Lady Rockets of Slippery Rock, 101-63 Saturday night.

LHU had no problems against the Lady Rockets (0-6), leading from start to finish. They outshot SRU 57% to 36% for the game.

"We looked good," said head coach Frank Scarfo, "but we're supposed to look good against an 0-6 team."

However, Scarfo was pleased with the way his team looked.

"Everybody played well. They all got in there and showed their stuff," he said.

By the end of the first half, it was apparent that the Lady Eagles were on their way to an easy victory. Jaskuta scored ten of her points in the first half and the Lady Eagles had a commanding 45-24 lead at halftime.

The rout continued into the second half with sophomore Angie Wolfe scoring 13 points, senior Cindy Richards added 11, sophomore Amy Barger hit for 12, sophomores Amy Derus and Donna Heller finished with 10 points each.

The 101 points were the most scored by the Lady Eagles this season.

With an overall record of 13-6 and a PSAC Western Division record of 4-2 for third place, the Lady Eagles travel to Indiana University of Pennsylvania on Wednesday for another conference match-up which Scarfo deems important.

"The loss we suffered at Shippensburg (79-68) really put behind the eight ball," said Scarfo. "We need a win at IUP or Edinboro (Saturday, February 18)."

"If we beat IUP or Edinboro on the road," he continued, "we're still a contender for the conference title."

"Lock Haven has become a very popular school in Pennsylvania," said Coldren.

Last semester LHU enrolled a record 3,012 students, which contributed to some of the housing problems.

Coldren foresees some possible housing problems next semester as a result of the increase in applications received.
