Trustees Approve Calendar Changes

The proposed 1973-74 calendar which schedules finals before Christmas vacation was formally approved by the Lock Haven State Board of Trustees yesterday at their monthly meeting.

Following the Calendar Revisions Committee report presented by Dr. Gerald Robinson, the trustees voted unanimously in favor of the calendar changes.

In his report, Dr. Robinson stated that the results of the student survey which was conducted by the SCC, were four to one in favor of the new calendar. The faculty had endorsed the change at their March 5 meeting.

The approval by the trustees will give the Administration enough time to prepare for the initiation of the new calendar for the Fall, 1973.

The trustees unanimously approved the proposal of naming the small athletic field (soccer field) "Smith Field" in honor of Dr. Charlotte Smith, physical education instructor and team coach of both hockey and lacross. John Sloan Fine Arts Building was also approved as the name for the music-drama building now under construction.

In addressing the Board, LHS President Hamblin announced that there would be a reduction in the amount of funds coming to the college. This attributed to the decrease of federal and foundation funding of the college, the decline of LHS applicants, and the general state attitude against sustaining the high rate of growth seen in state colleges during the last decade.

Dr. Russell Miliken, Vice President of LHS, reviewed the current fiscal situation. He stated that although the state of affairs looks good for this semester, the budget for the next fiscal year contains a $792,027 deficit. This deficit may necessitate a cut in programs and overall expenditures.

In his presentation before the Board, APECUF Chairman Dr. Daniel Showan announced that the faculty bargaining agent has resolved to fight the proposed higher education budget. In reference to faculty salary increases, Showan stated that this organization bargained for higher wages with the understanding that it would not result in a tuition increase.

614 Decide For 2250

by Gary Brubaker

"Many students didn't realize the importance of this questionnaire," stated Doug Dows, SCC President, concerning the recent calendar revision questionnaire.

"If more people would have been against this questionnaire and stuffed the ballot boxes, this revision would not have gone through," Dows added.

Of the 2250 Lock Haven State students, only 27% of the student body voted. Of the 614 students who did, 81.8% were in favor of the new calendar while 18.2% preferred the present system.

Concerning the question of those in favor of one graduation per year instead of three, 13.4% were for the new proposal, while 82.12% were for the present program, with 3.4% having no opinion.

Thanks should be given the Administration, with a special thanks to Dr. Gerald Robinson, Vice-President of Academic Affairs, for his

The Editors of the EAGLE EYE were glad to receive the letter to the editor concerning the review of "Indians" written by D.Z. which appeared in yesterday's paper. The letter is merely signed "A Student in Theatre". Before we can print the letter, it must have a signature on it. All that is needed is the author to stop down to the Publications Office in the PUB and sign the letter. After that is done, we will gladly print it, omitting the name, if desired.

ACTION Is Hiring College Grads In Variety of Fields

Volunteer openings for programs in the Peace Corps and VISTA have been announced by the Philadelphia ACTION Recruiting Office. The openings cover a wide range of professional and non-professional skills.

For overseas programs in 60 developing countries, the Peace Corps is seeking persons with agricultural backgrounds, and in the humanities and social science fields.

Domestically, VISTA is also seeking architects and planners, nurses and business specialists. In addition, college graduates with experience in community volunteer work are needed.

Both programs are particularly interested in attracting minority candidates.

VISTA Volunteers are among the poor in urban ghettos, rural areas, migrant streams, and Indian reservations. Clem McClintock, Pennsylvania Recruitment Manager, emphasized that persons with a more general background are also being placed in the Peace Corps and VISTA, especially when their secondary skills fit a particular need.

Volunteers serve two years in the Peace Corps and one year in VISTA. To be eligible for either program, a candidate must be at least 20 years old and in good health. Singles are preferred. A basic living allowance is provided all volunteers.

McClintock stressed that any persons interested in Peace Corps or VISTA should visit the Placement Office at Lock Haven State on March 19 and 20. For more information phone (215) 597-0744 or write ACTION, 1405 Locust Street, Philadelphia, Pa. 19107.

Critical Language Program May Be Offered

by Dar Zeigler

Would you like to learn to speak Swahili, Hebrew, or Polish?

Students would have an opportunity to study these and other critical languages under a new program being planned by the 14 Pennsylvania state colleges. A "critical language" is defined as one which is not usually taught but has appeal to specific groups.

The new project came about as a result of John Pittinger, Pennsylvania Secretary of Education, setting aside $250,000 in this year's state budget for "innovative" programs. Of this amount, only $5,000 will be needed for the new foreign language studies.

The languages will be learned almost exclusively through the use of tape recordings. A set of master tapes for each of the 18 projected languages will be purchased and stored at Indiana University of Pennsylvania. The other state colleges will be able to send blank tapes to IUP and obtain copies of the tapes of a given language. Which languages will be available at each college will be determined by student interest.

Dr. Edmund Carney LHS Prof. of Spanish, is the local coordinator for the program. He points out that since the languages will be learned through tapes, the courses will be completely self-instructional. Each student will be able to work at his own pace. Dr. Carney says that the new program will be ideal for a student who is planning to spend a summer in a foreign country.

The new language program differs from the traditional courses in that speaking and listening are stressed at the expense of reading and writing. Dr. Carney explains that in the case of some languages, such as Arabic and Hebrew, reading and writing skills can only be learned through very complex programs. Therefore, the new studies will be offered on a non-credit basis initially. However, Dr. Carney hopes that eventually the local college will be able to offer formal courses in a few of the languages.

Although the new program will be relatively inexpensive, Dr. Carney sees no point in the college obtaining language tapes which will not be used. Therefore, it is very important that he learns which language would have the greatest appeal to local students. In the form below, students are asked to indicate if they would be seriously interested in participating in a self-instructional, non-credit course in one or more of the languages. Dr. Carney stresses the fact that, if the program is to become a local reality, there must be some evidence of genuine student interest.

New Direction

To the Editor:

It is apparent to the members of PCU, and many others around campus, that the new format of the Eagle Eye is definitely an improvement over the previous paper. Not only has the eagle righted his wing, but our glorious bird of prey has taken on a new direction, one we hope will not revert back to its former circumnavigational flight. We wish to commend the Eagle Eye and the staff for their new direction and hope that it continues in its flight of success.

Respectfully Submitted,

Matthew W. Delfert

Well, What D'ya Think?

The two-week trial period for the multiple-page Eagle Eye is now up. What do you think of it?

We have encountered some problems with article supply and makeup. The printing time has also presented a few obstacles. It is felt, however, that with a little help and a little more practice with the new standards, the bugs will work out of the system.

We've noticed that some days people search through the stacks of the EYE saying, "Hey, mine doesn't have an insert!". We have found that some days six pages is difficult to fill. On those days we have run only four pages: no matter how hard you look, you ain't gonna find those other two pages!

We, however, are willing to keep trying the new style and attempt to keep it working. It is important that you let us know what you think of it: any suggestions are welcome. PLEASE fill out the following questionnaire and drop it in the box in either Bentley, Raub, or the PUB.

EAGLE EYE QUESTIONNAIRE

Please circle the appropriate answer.

- Response to the multiple-page layout: good fair bad
- Do you like the increased use of pictures? yes no
- Do you like more feature stories? yes no
- Do you tend to notice ads more since they are not all lumped together? yes no
- Would you like to see more "controversial" articles such as the Lock Haven Hospital commentary and North Hall editorial? yes no
- Do you like having a classified ads section available for your use? yes no
- Would you like to see a weekly listing of the movies playing at Lock Haven, Williamsport, and State College? yes no
- We need help at about 8:30 or 9 each Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday mornings. Would you be willing to go to the basement of Russell for about 1/2 hour one morning a week and help put the EAGLE EYE through the folding machine and put the inserts in? yes no

Quiet Please!

To the Editor:

An open letter to Mr. Bravard:

Since I'm one of those seemingly few students that have to study to make the grade, I use the library quite a bit to study since my dorm room is like "Grand Central Station."

The noise in the second floor lobby is excessively loud. This seems to go against SOP (Standard Operating Procedure) for a library. Can something be done? Can a henchman be provided to remove the Bullshitters and disrupters of the Peace?

Quietly from the Law Alcove,

Rick

Landscape Is Subject Of Zoretich Exhibition

"Landscape Transformations," an exhibition of the works of George S. Zoretich, will open with a lecture by the artist on Wednesday, March 21, at 8 p.m. in Raub Hall.

Born in Monessen, Pa., Zoretich studied at the Pennsylvania State University, Columbia University, and Syracuse University. He is presently a professor of art at Penn State, where he teaches painting, drawing, sculpture, and printmaking on both the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Of his recent works, entitled "Earth Series", Zoretich says, "Outwardly, landscape has endless possibilities for interpretation. The outer landscape has a less accessible interior. It is the mysterious hidden structures, forces and energies of this interior space which the artist can explore imaginatively."

Zoretich has had a number of one-man shows at colleges, universities, and art centers, and has been represented in group exhibits throughout the country. His work has been shown at Baltimore, Seattle, and San Francisco Museums, and at the William Penn Memorial Museum.

The lecture, reception, and exhibit are open to the public without charge.

Rochester Philharmonic Coming Soon

The Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra will present a concert in Price Auditorium at 8:15 p.m. on Sunday, March 25, as part of the Lock Haven Artist Series.

Under the direction of Thomas Briccetti, the orchestra will present over 135 programs this season in the Eastern U.S. Throughout its 50 year history, the orchestra has been ranked among the 30 major symphony orchestras in North America.

Briccetti served as composer-in-residence with the Denver Symphony Orchestra in 1960 upon being awarded a Ford Foundation Composer's Fellowship. For five years he was the music director and conductor of the St. Petersburg, Fla., Symphony Orchestra. From 1968 to 1972 he served as associate conductor of the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra.

Absences Cause Concert Cancellation

The Fifth Anniversary Concert by the Lock Haven State College-Community Orchestra, scheduled for March 20, has been cancelled, according to Mr. Robert Lynch, orchestra director.

The temporary loss of three violinists caused the cancellation. Mrs. Eugenia Metz, concert master, has a OOOMA To Be Sung Wed.

An OOOMA Concert will be presented at 6:30 p.m. on Wednesday, March 21, in Price Auditorium. Selections of opera, operetta, oratorio, musical, and art songs will be offered by the College Choir, the College Singers, and the Men's Quartet.

The program will open with selections from Strauss's "Die Fledermaus" and from "Brigadoon" by Lerner and Loewe. Also included will be selections from "Guys and Dolls," "Oklahoma," and "Jesus Christ Superstar."

Cheryl Spitz will be the featured soloist in the presentation of "Trees on the Mountains," from the opera "Sannah" by Carlisle Floyd. Other songs include "Close to You," "Love of Brack Weaver" from Kurt Weill's "Down in the Valley," with Sue Stewart as soloist, and the Irish folksong "Apron of Flowers," with soloist Carolyn Bair.

The program will conclude with "The Creation," the Rock Cantata by Bobrowitz and Porter.

The concert is under the direction of Mr. Gary Renzelman, with Mrs. Mary Renzelman as accompanist.

Intramural Sports Action

Wrestling Tourney Begins Wednesday

by Gary Brubaker

Mr. Donald Keener, Men's Intramural Director, announced Wednesday that the Men's Intramural Wrestling Tournament is being held Wednesday and Thursday nights, March 21 and 22, in Thomas Fieldhouse.

Although it was previously scheduled to start Monday, March 19, Keener had to postpone the tournament until Wednesday due to columnist Jack Anderson's speech in the LHS fieldhouse that night.

The tournament will be held under NCAA rules with regular college weight classes being used. Weigh-in for the tournament will take place in the fieldhouse from 4-5 p.m. Wednesday night, with the matches starting at 7 p.m. and lasting until 10 p.m. both nights.

Periods will run 1 minute-2 minutes-2 minutes, and there will be no weight allowance. Wrestlers must weigh the allotted weight or under it. Following weigh-in the wrestlers may gain as much weight as they want.

"Last year many teams were unable to field a complete ten man squad," stated Keener, "which was unfair to the wrestler from the other team who had worked out, got into shape, and then had to settle for a forfeit." "This was one of the main reasons we decided to switch to tournament-style wrestling," Keener added.

To enter the tournament, men must register on a sheet outside Room 109 in Zimmerli, or register at the time of weigh-in Wednesday night.

BB Teams Vie For Berths

by Skip Haley

With the season drawing close to the end, the intramural basketball teams are battling each other for playoff berths.

Because of the women's basketball tournament, some of the teams had to play both Monday and Tuesday night.

Monday night in the "A" Division, undefeated Second North held off TKE, 55-48. Matt Bulezta led the scorers with 18 points. Off-Campus handled Third High 58-45. Jeff Levering paced the winners with 17 points. Sigma Pi beat KDR, 51-47. Keith Kohl hit 23 points.

In the "B" Division, PMD beat Second High 61-57. McGee had 20 points in that game. Outhouse nipped the Vets Club 53-52 with Kircher scoring 22 points. Beach-House came out on the big end of a hotly disputed game with LCA, 57-44.

Tuesday night in the "A" Division, TKE had little problem beating the Moonlighters 67-46. Jeff Yentsch paced the victors with 20 points. Second North beat the Faculty, 63-53. Off-Campus edged Sigma Pi, 58-56.

In the "B" Division, Third North lost to Outhouse, 54-46. Trimmers sneaked past LCA, 48-46 and PMD mauled the Vets Club, 80-51.

Vets Host Phila. All-Stars

The Vets Club met on Tuesday, March 13 with newly seated officers presiding. The major topic of discussion was the basketball game to be played Saturday, March 17 at 2 p.m. in the fieldhouse. The vets will host the Philadelphia All-Stars. Tickets can be bought from P.E. Majors or any vet for 50¢ - students, $1 - adults.

After the game, the Vets Club will host the All-Stars to an afternoon lunch. The money will go to charities.
