LOCK HAVEN—The promotion of Edward H. Young to the rank of associate professor, effective May 1, 1971, was announced today by Dr. Francis N. Hamblin, president of Lock Haven State College.

Mr. Young has served in the position of assistant to the president and as executive secretary of the college's alumni association since May 1965. He joined the faculty of LHS in January 1960 as dean of men.

In June 1960, he established the college's public relations office and served as director until 1966.

In addition to his other duties, Mr. Young serves as secretary-treasurer of the "Friends of Lock Haven State College," the college's foundation. He is also executive director of the college's centennial committee, responsible for the special events being held throughout the current academic year in recognition of the college's founding in 1870.

Golden Bell To Be Awarded

For the past five years, the Association of Childhood Education has sponsored a dinner for all the seniors in the elementary field. This year, as in the past, A.C.E. will award to the outstanding seniors the Golden Bell.

The Golden Bell represents high standards of honesty, loyalty, and integrity, - superior self-confidence and self-responsibility, a dedication to the elementary profession, and leadership. The recipients of the award are voted on by the students and faculty in elementary education and clearly display these qualities.

The dinner this year will be held on May 15 at 6:00 p.m. at the Dutch Inn. The guest speaker will be Dr. Howard Condon. All are invited to attend. For details contact either Mrs. Cruse or Kathy Clough by May 10.

Bill Proposed To Ban Animal Slaughter

Americans revolted by the massacre of baby harp seals, the threatened extinction of whales, and the killing of polar bears have a golden opportunity to translate their justifiable outrage into direct action.

An incensed citizenry can strike a telling blow against the brutality and needless slaughter by writing their representatives in Congress, demanding they vote for the Harris-Pryor Bill of Rights for Ocean Mammals.

Jointly sponsored by Sen. Fred R. Harris (D.-Okla.) and Rep. David Pryor (D.-Ark.), the Bill would:

1. Make it a criminal offense for any American to kill seals, polar bears, whales, sea lions, walrus, or any other ocean mammal.

2. Ban the importation into the United States of all products from ocean mammals, thus removing the economic incentive for their slaughter.

3. Phase out the seal kill on our Pribilof Islands without abrogating the current treaty with Japan and Canada. The United States now agrees to kill seals on land for those two countries in exchange for which they prohibit their nationals from killing seals in the open waters. The treaty, which expires in 1976, gives Japan and Canada the option of accepting their shares in the annual kill in dollars -- as they have done in past years; or, if they insist upon the skins, the Aleuts will kill 18,000 seals for them each year until 1976.

4. Direct the United States State Department to initiate a truly international treaty in which all countries agree to stop killing ocean mammals, both on land and at sea.

The Governments of the United States and Canada must be told by their employers -- the public -- that barbarity which stuns the minds and sickens the hearts of all decent people must be outlawed.

Right now is the time to push for passage of the Harris-Pryor Bill -- which bans slaughtering the 42,000 seals usually clubbed for the purported benefit of the U.S. Treasury -- before the next Pribilof kill begins the end of June. A copy of the Harris-Pryor Bill may be obtained by writing Friends of Animals, 11 West 60th Street, New York, N.Y. 10023.

Thanks are extended on behalf of the staff of Eagle Eye for the extensive work done by Linda Pollock and Floyd Clark to publish Friday's issue of the paper. Because of a conference in Washington, D.C. which was attended by a large part of the staff, these people were working extremely short-handed. Eagle Eye would like to apologize for any errors made in the past issue but recognizes the effort put forth by Linda and Floyd.

Report On Student Involvement

NEWARK, Del. - (I.P.) - The present system imposes a competitive impetus detrimental to the learning process, notes the preliminary report of the Student Design Committee at the University of Delaware.

Divided into two sections, the report deals with student involvement in the academic decision-making processes and an analysis of the present situation of the students including future recommendations. Flexibility of the university is a keynote of the report. "A primary aim of ours has been to provide means for increasing academic options, so that the varying needs of individual students can be met more satisfactorily than is presently possible." The report cites "service to students" as the university's highest priority.

The second part of the report, the analysis of the present situation, points out that "one of the main concerns of students is that an assembly line quality has become associated with mass education, with little emphasis being paid to the developing of an individual student's particular potential."

Motivation to learn is another target of the report. "We need a structure in which the motivation to learn is provided by the rewards inherent to involvement in the learning process."

In his annual report, released recently, President E. A. Trabant noted, "In the development of the new University of Delaware Community Design, human aspirations are coming from the grass roots of our University, the students, the faculty, the administration, the people of our State."

"These fundamental associations and expectations are helping develop the new University -- its new educational programs, its new service programs, its new student activities. In being flexible for continuous change, the University is more responsive to the needs of society and to the needs of our students."

Free blood for emergency treatment will be available for LHS students if the college meets its quota of 250 pints when the Red Cross Bloodmobile visits the campus on Thursday, April 29.

All students and faculty are invited to donate blood between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. at the donation center to be set up in Woolridge Hall Lounge.

New Form Of Registration

A new form of registration was discussed and accepted for the fall semester 1971.

Adopted was the Floor Sectioning Plan which will allow the student to choose his instructor and class time and will hopefully eliminate the dropping and adding of courses.

Between the middle and the end of April, master schedules will be issued to all faculty advisors and posted in various areas on campus. These master schedules will list the courses offered in the fall, the instructors teaching them, and the times they will meet.

Shortly after the master schedules are issued, all students will receive a worksheet that is color coordinated to each student's class. On this worksheet the student will set up his schedule and pick several alternate courses and times in the event his first choice is closed.

In the beginning of May, registration will be held in Bentley Hall Lounge. Three days will be devoted to registering students for fall; the first day will allow seniors and juniors to choose their classes, the second day will be set aside for sophomores, and the third day for freshmen. Registration will be carried on from 8:00 to 4:00 to assure all students a chance to register.

When students enter Bentley Hall, they will pick up their student identification cards. They will then take these cards to the department table under which the desired class is listed. One of the people at the table will tell the student if the class is open and will take one identification card and give the student the class card. If the class is filled, the faculty member at the table will give the student alternatives in the same area and allow him to choose what substitute class he will take.

After registration, students will take the class cards to the pick-up table. Students will keep the schedule worksheet that lists classes, instructors, and times.

During the summer, billing will be sent to all students. When the remittance is received by the business office, the academic affairs office will be notified and class cards will be sent to each student. This will eliminate the need for registration in the fall.

The day that has been set aside for registration in the Fall of 1971 will be used for late registrations and drop-adds. Tentatively there will be a $10.00 late registration fee which will be charged to students who fail to register in the spring. There will also be a $5.00 drop-add fee for every course that is dropped or added. This too, is tentative.

Identification cards for the Fall semester will be issued in the PUB, as will auto registrations tags. They will be available in September.

It is hoped this new system of registration will reduce the number of drop-adds by allowing the student to set up his own schedule, and will reduce the confusion often encountered by LHS students on registration day.

Teacher Workshop At LHS

LOCK HAVEN -- A workshop to acquaint teachers with computer assisted instruction will be offered by Lock Haven State College from June 7 to July 16.

Successful completion of the workshop will earn the participant six semester hours credit. It is open to teachers of any subject at any level.

The workshop will be conducted on an individual basis, with each participant working with staff members in setting goals, pace, and evaluating progress. Participants will transform an existing lesson into computer commands, program the computer to "teach" the lesson, and conduct revisions.

The purpose of the workshop is to acquaint participants with some facets of computer assisted instruction and the systematic planning of instruction. The principles learned will be applicable to CAI as well as to more traditional forms of instruction. No prior knowledge of either area is required.

Inquires should be directed to Dr. Gerald Cierpilowski, Lock Haven State College, Lock Haven, Pa. 17745

First Zimmerman Scholar Selected

Bruce Kafer, a 1971 graduate, will be among the first to receive a Fred O. Zimmermann award for scholastic excellence in a foreign language.

The award is given to each of three graduating students majoring in French, German, and Spanish whose cumulative average in the language is the highest among students graduating that year.

As a German major, Bruce Kafer will be awarded his prize at the annual picnic of the German Club, to be held this year on May 15.

Lacrosse Team Takes First Win

by Kathy "Sax" Umbach

Friday afternoon the Women's Lacrosse Team took the field to play their first game of the season. Although lacrosse is not considered to be a major varsity sport for women on this campus, the girls have the enthusiasm and drive necessary to compete and win.

Friday's competition was a spunky team from Hartwick College. Even though Hartwick was psychologically up for the game, Lock Haven held the edge in physical stability and stamina.

Similar to field hockey, the game of lacrosse is played in two halves. The Eaglettes completely dominated the first half by scoring 12 goals to Hartwick's 2. The first half scoring was led by Jan Sheridan who tossed in 4 goals. Jackie Crowell added 3, JoAnn Regimbal and Janet Harriger each scored 2, and Rose Ann Neff added 1 to balance out the first half score. Both of Hartwick's goals were scored by B. Greenwood who played center. The pace was slowed during the second half as Hartwick's goalie made several fine saves to baffle the Lock Haven shooters. However, LHS could not be stopped for long as Janet Harriger tossed in 2 goals and JoAnn Regimbal, Rose Ann Neff, and Barb Johnson each added 1 goal. The game ended LHS 17, Hartwick College 2.

As well as playing a fine offensive game, the Eaglette defense played good aggressive ball. Karen Shifflet, the right defensive wing, made several key interceptions setting up several LHS goals. Diane Webster, cover point, and Wendy Dodson, point, kept the Hartwick offense from the scoring area and Jill Esterline, goalie, made fine saves when a shot at goal was taken.

Lock Haven's offense and defense worked together as a team to move the ball upfield to score. By passing the ball to the open players and cutting in the open spaces many scoring opportunities were set up and taken advantage of.

The lacrosse team's next home game is tomorrow at 4:30 p.m. on the lower field behind Smith Hall. The competition will be a rough and challenging team from Ithaca College.

Spring Football

On Monday, April 19th the Lock Haven State Bald Eagles began their spring football practice in preparation for next fall's 1971 schedule.

On opening day, Coach Weller and his staff greeted 55 men, one of the largest spring turnouts in years. The Bald Eagles' head coach plans to utilize the spring sessions for fundamentals and new formations so the squad will be familiar with the basics in the fall.

The Bald Eagles have 22 returning lettermen, 14 which are regulars. Thirteen of the 22 letter winners are involved in other spring sports.

The team will practice from 4:30-6:00 all this week. Beginning Monday the team will be in full gear for the final two weeks and will practice from 6:00-8:00 nightly.

The maroon and gray spring game held on the final day of practice is still tentative.

In order to improve a bit the communications between various groups, it seems appropriate that the meeting noted below should be scheduled so that anyone who wishes to come may attend, Tuesday, April 27, 3:00 p.m. in Ulmer Planetarium. It will be just a general discussion period with the end in view that we may all come to know each other better and to understand more fully the variety and complexity of the problems with which we must jointly struggle successfully. Everyone welcome.

GREEK REETINGS

If some reordering of what is important in our national life does not take place, the consequences appear fearful and the future of mankind extremely bleak. Most of you will employ your professional skills in public schools, colleges, business, industry and in government employment. Each of these areas faces increasing frustration and disorder from the young and hopeful, and increasing cynicism from the no longer young and no longer very hopeful, in the face of each new outrage to conscience and mankind.

April 22 was the first anniversary of Earth Day. Today is the time for each of us to call upon our colleagues and all Americans, black and white, young and old, conservatives and liberals, to join in reversing our present priorities, to commit our wealth, our intelligence, and our skill to the vast challenges of inner space: the health, happiness and hope of the individual, the survival and embellishment of our collective places, the preservation for all the wonder of nature and the mutual sharing of the riches of the earth by all nations for the benefit of all mankind. What happened to GROPE and to National Earth Day?

April 22 marked the first anniversary of Earth Day. It was a day set aside as a time for the reconsideration of the uses and abuses of the Earth's surface and resources by man. It was also set aside as a time for the reconsideration of our national priorities. A recommitment to the principals of liberty, justice and a peaceful unpolluted existence on earth for all mankind.

We are the richest nation on the earth but we do amazingly poor by the needs of mankind. We geographers, scientists, who seek to understand the ways in which men occupy the surface of the earth in search of life and livelihood, can bear witness to the misuse of our wealth.

One third of the world goes to bed hungry each night, a fourth will never know an adequate or pure water supply. In our country, a fifth of the people still suffer from malnutrition and know hunger, still lack decent housing, still are barred from the opportunities for health, employment and education that should be open to all and all of mankind faces the prospect of increased numbers, decreasing the pitifully small wealth shared by many, diminishing the quality of the environment shared by most, and multiplying the scale, scope and complexity of human problems shared by all.

In the face of this overwhelming array of need, our national priorities, as evidenced by the ways in which we use our wealth, seem disordered at best and totally unconscionable at worst. To the people of Vietnam, we extend each year $30 billion of destructive power in a war so dubious and futile as to have made a mockery of whatever the motivation for our commitment; to the people of the world, for all their desperate needs, we offer barely one tenth that amount. To the people of our nation, we offer a share in a voyage to the moon at a cost estimated to equal that of the minimal requirement for making our larger cities adequate homes for man.

Delta Zeta State Convention was held at Indiana University April 17 and 18. Sixteen members of the Theta Chi chapter of Lock Haven were present. Clinics, seminars, awards, and social gatherings prevailed. We, of the Theta Chi, were honored to receive one of the most coveted awards presented in the state; that of Most Improved Delta Zeta Chapter in Pennsylvania State. Programs such as pledge education, scholarship, membership, philanthropies, etc. were the criteria for presentation of the award. As Delta Zeta is the largest national sorority with 175 chapters, 16 of which are in Pennsylvania, this was a great honor.

We are sad to note the passing away of Mrs. Jeanette Wenner, our Provence Chapter Director. Black-ribbon-pins have been worn in memoriam by Delta Zeta sisters and pledges.

Congratulations to the following girls who are pledged to Delta Zeta: Kathy Andrews, Leah Brose, Elaine Eichlan, Karen Iani, Ginny Klees, Sheryl Melville, Gail Ott, Cindy Pinelli, Kathy Russell, and Terry Wagner. Their initiation has been set for May 8.
