Woolridge Hall to Open For 200 Coeds in Fall

Although not expected to be completely finished, the most modernly-designed building on campus will be ready for occupancy when students return to the college in September.

Donald Stevenson, buildings and grounds superintendent, said that the new women's dorm, Woolridge Hall, south of Smith Hall, will house 200 women students and one floor of administrative offices. Anyone entering the dorm will cross a ramp to the street floor where there will be the offices and a reception lounge, he said. Under this floor will be a recreation room which also can be reached by a pair of steps leading from the ramp.

In the rear, the dorm will leap to four floors. There will be no elevator, the superintendent said.

In discussing the design of the rooms, Stevenson said that each room will have cement block walls on three sides which, it is hoped, will cut down on the noise. (This is unlike the rooms in Russell Hall where one of the walls comprise wooden closets and are not as soundproof as cement). The outside wall will include two obscure glass windows alongside one ventilating window. Venetian blinds will be supplied, he said.

Along one wall will be two built-in desks and drawers and two built-in dressers with mirrors, Stevenson said. Closets will consist of spaces for dresses, blouses, shirts and shoes.

Furniture in each room will include twin beds, two lounge chairs, two desk chairs and a waste basket.

Rooms in the inner wings of the building will overlook an open, terraced patio. Under the rear wing will be an open basement with a cemented floor which, Stevenson said, could probably be an ideal place for an outdoor theatre and outdoor dances. However, no definite plans have been made yet for these provisions.

Sororities Hold Initiation, Elect Officers for 1963-64

Delta Zeta will formally initiate 51 women Saturday in Price Auditorium, including Mrs. George Hayfield, advisor. A banquet will be held at 6:30 p.m. at the Dutch Inn, Mill Hall. The new officers will preside following the initiation: Lynne Thompson, president; Betty Conway, first vice president; Janet Scott, second vice president; Diana Stewart, recording secretary; Paula Stetts, corresponding secretary; Mary Ruth Steele, treasurer; Betty Schmidt, historian.

Barbara Friel was elected president of Sigma Kappa for 1963-64. Serving with her will be Margie Oberheim, first vice president; Bonni Ishler, second vice president; Jane Moon, recording secretary; Pam Geesey, corresponding secretary; Judy Eckman, treasurer.

Four sisters were taken into Sigma Sigma Sigma: Ann Pan-

Sign Praeco List

All students who will not be on campus at the beginning of the Fall semester are asked to sign a mailing list so that they can receive the supplement to the 1963 Year Book at the end of the summer.

Housing Decision Causes Thoughts of Pros and Cons

by Mary Lynne Harber

Your senses leap to attention as the piercing buzz, ring, or clang of the alarm clock cuts short your all-too-brief hours in dreamland. Here the similarity ends. What similarity? . . . the resemblance of the life of the off-campus coed, the apartment dweller, to the life of the dormitory student.

As in nearly every subject under discussion, there are both advantages and disadvantages to consider. To begin on the brighter side, the off-campus student is spared the ordeal of facing in the washroom approximately 12 pairs of drooping eyelids, whose owners are in contention for the same sink.

The apartment dweller, on the other hand, enjoys relative privacy in the early morning. She also enjoys the privilege of preparing her own breakfast. Whether this is an advantage is left to the discretion of the reader, who can judge for himself the quality of cafeteria food vs. that of his own cooking.

Unless the off-campus resident is fortunate enough to possess an automobile, she then faces the task of a long campus-ward trudge in weather, often sub-

SCC Announces Committee Heads

Committee chairmen of the Student Co-operative Council for 1963-64 were announced at the last SCC meeting:

Rick Clifton, Business Service; Jim Reeser, Social; Tom Labant, Community Concerts; Samuel Sanderson, Assembly; Joan Kochick, Religion; Dick Ballentine, Library; Joe Grebb, Food Service; Mike Richino, Awards; Bob Kievit, Station Wagon; Jim Reeser, Homecoming; Jeri Monks, Physical Improvement; Jean Meyers, World University Service.

A chairman for the Constitution committee will be appointed at the next meeting.

Bands, Majorettes Set For Program Today

The brass ensemble will play the "Suite for Brass" as one of the special features in the college band concert at 1 p.m. this afternoon. In addition to the concert band, performances will be made by the majorettes and dance band. Carol Billhartz will be soloist in "Reverie for Clarinet."

The ensemble includes Georgia Barrett and Margaret Axman, French Horns; Stephen Herzog, Denny Miller, Gary Herzog and Wayne Koch, Trumpets; Denny Gyurina, Trombone; Sam Walker, Bass.

The concert is set for Price Auditorium, but if weather permits today, the program may be held on the auditorium steps. John I. Schwarz, assistant professor of music, is director.

zero, rainy, windy, or in some other form of inclemency. An optimist, however, can find advantages in even this situation. One popular conception is that walking is good for the figure, therefore desirable. Another point is that the hike awakens the student and makes her less apt to fall asleep in her eight o'clock class.

To return to the dreary side of the situation, the apartment dweller must lug to the campus three to six books, notebooks, and perhaps a change of clothes for phys-ed. Unless her classes are evenly spread throughout the week, her books are light, or free periods are available to return to her apartment, this situation can become both serious and exhausting for the off-campus coed.

There is little difference in the daytime activity of the apartment and the dorm dweller, except that the off-campus student, instead of retiring to the comfort of her room during free periods, must study in the library, foist herself on her on-campus friends, or retire to the dayroom.

The evening meal is another aspect which has both pros and cons. If there are four or more girls sharing the culinary responsibilities in rotation, and these girls are good cooks, there is a decided advantage. If, however, the pudding is burned, the meat bloody, and the potatoes lumpy, to put it mildly — they've got a problem.

Night time in an apartment can be a relatively quiet study hall, an uproarious twist party, or an ice cream, popcorn, or fudge feast. This is up to the group, just as it's up to you to decide which life you prefer.

Panhel Sing Planned May 10

The Panhellenic Council will present its first "Greek Sing" performance Friday, May 10, in Price Auditorium.

The sisters of Alpha Sigma Tau, Delta Zeta, Sigma Kappa, and Sigma Sigma Sigma will present selections from musicals, the titles of which will not be known until the evening of the performance.

George Wolf, associate professor of social studies, will be master of ceremonies.

A plaque will be presented on the basis of originality, presentation, appearance, voice quality, and response to director. The judges will be Miss Ruth Datz, Tyrone Area High School; Miss Dorothy McGregor, Altoona High School; and Darwin Bristline, Keith Junior High School, Altoona.

Plans have been formulated to make this "Sing" an annual affair and perhaps include the fraternities in IFC.

Admission is 50 cents.

Student song directors and pianists will be Joy Neilson and Kay Sigmund, AST; Judy Piraino and Jane Moon, SK; Joan Kochik and Diane Stewart, DZ; and Judy Ferrari and Pam Blesh, Tri Sigma.

Miss Ferrari is general chairman. Other chairmen are Dodie Bayer, program; Mayanne MacDonald, plaque; Eileen Marsh, publicity; Janis Cuda, score sheets; Peggy Piper, stage decorations.

Alpha Psi Omega Pledges Pinned

Ribbon pinning of the new pledges of Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatics fraternity, was held last week at a formal meeting in the auditorium. Students receiving bids were Karen McMichael, Vicki Steinberg, Gail Williams, Carol Hockenbury, Pam Kupstas, Fred Hammer, Charles Gummo, James Marzo, Wayne Koch, and Karen Richardson.

Mrs. Hazel Ray Ferguson, faculty advisor, and Dr. Jack Handley, worked along with the members in determining worthy pledges for this year's membership.

Some of the requirements for membership in Alpha Psi are acting roles in school plays, both major and minor, working behind stage with costuming, make-up, lighting, and stagecraft. A point system is used to determine the new members.

So We Say . . .

Exam Break

Again we are faced with the gruesome prospect of final examinations starting the morning after the termination of classes. Those who have classes until 5 p.m. Tuesday and must take an exam at 8 a.m. Wednesday will have only overnight to review or study a semester's work.

Perhaps a day-off between the end of classes and the beginning of exams would relieve the tensions that usually accompany test-taking and would allow for more sufficient preparation.

If class assignments are required up until the last day of classes (as is the case in many courses), this preparation will not be adequately attained. A change in the schedule is too late this semester, but consideration should be given to this proposition for the future.

2 Pins Decide IM Bowling Title for Gutterdusters

by Bob Emery

Two pins brought the intra-mural bowling championship to the Gutterdusters. The team, composed of Walt Thurnau, captain, Sam Cramer, Bob Huddock, Max Liddick and Mike Richino, after going through eight weeks of the bowling season and holding a slim four game lead, sat out the last week of the season with a bye.

Their long reign, which lasted the entire season, as intra-mural bowling champs held up as the challenger TKE went down to defeat at the hands of the Longshots (6-2). A split (4-4) would have made necessary a play-off as identical records would have resulted. Just a mere two pins brought defeat to TKE for total pins. This is by far the closest finish in the college intra-mural bowling league in years.

A team trophy and individual trophies will be awarded to the members of the Gutterdusters. Trophies will be awarded for the following:

- High Average — Max Liddick
- Gutterdusters 179
- High Three Game Total — Marshall Harvey
- Sigma Pi 631

High Single Game — Max Liddick 245
Other Top Totals:
High Team Game — Pi Guys 929
Team High Three Game Totals Sigma Pi 2465
Most Improved Average — Joe Comes—TKE 110-143
Booby Prize for Lowest Game — Bob Sheppard 80

The top four teams will participate in a roll-off to decide a play-off champ. This team will also receive a trophy.

THE FINAL STANDINGS

Baseballers Rally Win Twin Bill

The rally was the order of the day when the Bald Eagle baseballers took the field against their opponents at Clarion Saturday. Coach Stan Daley's nine rallied in the final inning of both games to win a double-header from Clarion State College, 3-2 and 4-3.

Don Lease, the fifth pitcher of the nightcap for the Eagles, lashed a single to score Ed Journey who had doubled, to win in the eighth inning after a seventh inning rally had brought Lock Haven to a tie.

In the opener, Lock Haven scored twice in the sixth on Jim Reaser's double with two on to tie the score. The Bald Eagles then won the game for pitcher Jan Ostrum, who hurled a 3-hitter, on Ken VanDemark's single driving in Journey, who had singled and was sacrificed to second.

Lock Haven is now 3-2 on the season and 3-1 in the conference.

Religious Groups Elect Officers

Officers for the religious organizations on campus were elected at recent meetings.

Len Hoover is the new president of the Student Christian Association. Also elected were Joan Enck, vice president; Linda Harding, secretary; Liz Collins, treasurer; Hugh McCaffery, SCC representative.

Dr. Paul Klens, new advisor to SCA, was installed by Dr. William R. North, retiring advisor.

Serving the Newman Club in 1963-64 will be Tom Lynch, freshman in secondary education from Portage. Other officers are Mark Wallace, vice president; Mary Petruzzi, secretary; Linda Kern, treasurer; Lorraine Earnest, SCC representative.

The club voted to accept its newly-drawn constitution and will present it to the SCC at its next meeting.

Dad... I Need Help!

I met the sweetest, prettiest, most glamorous girl here at Lock Haven State that I ever saw. Dad, she's got everything but I can't expect to beat competition unless I get some new IVY LEAGUE clothes at THE HUB, Lock Haven's Fashion Center for Young Men. They've got what it takes to meet and keep the right people. My allowance is "shot." Please wire me some more!

Dr. Delevoryas To Return to LH

This weekend, Dr. Delevoryas of Yale University is going to return to the Lock Haven area to observe the plant fossils in the strip mines at English Center.

On a recent visit to campus, Delevoryas was taken to English Center by the Biology Club. This time he will be accompanied by some of his students. The purpose of this trip is to acquaint his students with the fossils of the Pennsylvania soft coal region.

According to tentative plans the Yale students will join some of Lock Haven's students and camp overnight at English Center.
