Cops bust eight students

By Beth Pressler
Eagle Eye News Editor

Several students woke up yesterday morning greeting state police and university law enforcement officers, and it wasn't for breakfast.

Agents from the Attorney General's office, Lock Haven University's department of Law Enforcement and other state and local police agencies coordinated a drug raid throughout Clinton, Lycoming, and Centre Counties at 6 a.m. Thursday, according to university Public Relations Director Debbie Jackson.

The investigation had been going on for two years and was headed by the attorney general's Bureau of Narcotics Investigation and the Clinton and Lycoming County Task Forces into the distribution of cocaine and marijuana in the area, according to information released to the The Express.

Jackson said arrest warrants were requested for 39 persons in all, adding that eight of them are current LHU students. Jackson said the continuing investigations are currently being handled by the Clinton County District Attorney Ted McKnight and Lycoming County District Attorney Brett O. Feese.

According to Mark Sohmer of WSNU radio station and Rick Mason of WBRE-TV, McKnight released the names of the LHU students who were arrested. The names of the students are as follows: Gordon Couillard, Clarion, PA; Gary Geiss, Royersford, PA; Jeffery Gordon, Palmyra, PA; Jeffery Harmon, York Haven, PA; Christopher Jones, Bethlehem, PA; Sean Leitz, Bethlehem, PA; Crista Salinska, Gibsonia, PA; Donald Welsch, Moscow, PA; and former student Candice Anderson.

Couillard, Gordon, Jones, and Welsch live in High Hall. Residence Director of High Hall Kevin Stone had no comment and referred all questions to the Public Relations Office.

Salinska resides in Smith Hall where Hall Director Max McGee could not be reached for comment. Anderson, Geiss, Harmon, and Leitz live off-campus.

Jason Shuey, a student at Pennsylvania School of Technology, formerly known as Williamsport Area Community College, was also arrested in the clean up.

Shuey is familiar with the LHU students through his part-time job as a bartender at the Fallon Hotel in Lock Haven.

The students are among those being held at the Clinton County Prison in McElhattan, according to a state policeman who wished to have his name withheld.

Bails ranging from $500 to $1000, have been set for all of the students, said a friend of the arrested students who wished to remain anonymous.

Preate said the Lycoming and Clinton Counties investigation used the statewide grand jury, local drug task forces, wiretaps, confidential informant and undercover drug buys to break up an organization which supplied cocaine and marijuana to street-level dealers in the counties from 1987 until 1989.

Further arrests are anticipated, said Preate.

New SCC Executive Committee inaugurated

By Cory Marshall
Eagle Eye Editor-in-Chief

The Student Cooperative Council last night inaugurated the new Executive Committee for the 1991-92 academic year.

SCC President Andrew Wendel inaugurated Kelly Beck as President for the new term. Beck then went on to inaugurate Vice-President, Chris Bowen; Treasurer, Steve Stephenson; Corresponding Secretary, Michelle Adams; Recording Secretary, Helen Heinemann, and PUB Administrator, Chris Borgese.

Wendel and the current Executive Committee of Vice-President Joe Yalch; Pub Administrator, Joan Bayer; Treasurer, Pat Patterson; Recording Secretary, Michelle Adams, and Corresponding Secretary, Deb Cowfer expressed their thanks and wished the new Committee good luck for next fall.

In the committee reports, RHA Liaison Shawn Schaeffer said that Spring Week went well and new ideas are already being looked at for next year. Schaeffer announced that Family Day will be October 8th. Schaeffer added her idea for newspaper dispensing machines to be put on campus. An example of a newspaper that utilizes such machines is USA TODAY.

Senior Brian Smith awarded Rebecca Gross Award for outstanding work in journalism

By Cory Marshall
Eagle Eye Editor-in-Chief

Senior journalism major Brian Smith was presented yesterday with the 1991 Rebecca F. Gross Award for his outstanding accomplishments in the journalism curriculum.

That presentation was all part of the Awards Program held yesterday in the Hall of Flags. It was the 11th annual Awards Day held at LHU.

Following a brief luncheon, Dr. Sandra Hybels, who has been credited for her work in bringing the journalism program to LHU, presented Smith with his award.

Hybels said in a brief speech that Smith "was one of and probably the best radio station managers LHU has ever had."

Hybels credited Smith with his tactfulness and humor that has kept the DJ's from being straight individualists.

Hybels said that Smith is very reliable and hard-working. He has also been working with Dr. Hybels as a research assistant.

Smith, after receiving his award thanked his parents and faculty for their help throughout his four years at LHU. "I think I learned a lot in four years about journalism and I am glad I had the opportunity to do so much," Smith said.

Dr. Douglas Campbell, department chairperson of journalism and master of ceremonies, presented graduate Julie Brennan, currently working as public relations director at Hammermill with the outstanding alumni award.

Brennan noted the first time that she ran into Rebecca Gross in a Council of Trustees meeting said "Becky is very charismatic in working with all types of people."

Brennan said that journalists should be honest and be able to work with people and speak in terms in which people can understand and know your audience of readers.

OPINIONS AND EDITORIALS

Farewell...

By Cory Marshall
Eagle Eye Editor in Chief

The end of the 1990-91 academic term is coming to a close and also my reign as Editor-In-Chief of the Eagle Eye.

But before I put on my cap and gown for graduation May 18, I would like to express my thanks to many people who have played a pivotal role this semester.

First of all, my thanks go to my staff. Without them this paper could not be possible.

My Associate Editor Jeanne M. Ruczhak, my right hand editor, has done an excellent job with the layout of the paper and has put in an extreme amount of time and dedication.

The News Editors, Andrea Vecchio and Beth Pressler have done a good job with the news coverage. Whenever a hot scoop arose, Beth and Andrea were there for the inside angle.

The Features Department was co-run by Tara Caimi and Karen Carlson. Tara and Karen were responsible for the various columns as well as the Cultural Events that went on during the semester. Both proved to be a valuable part of my team.

The newspaper would not be the same without sports and sports editor, Rob Heller. Rob's services proved more than helpful this semester as he gathered all the sports material for the week's events and made them into a proud product of the newspaper.

My photography editor, David Beahm is probably the most deserving of my thanks. David, only a sophomore has put in as much time as anybody on my staff and has been the man with the photographs of the Eagle Eye.

Much of the paper's revenue comes from advertising and manager Andrea Roote. Andrea has used her advertising talents very effectively in drawing clients from all over the state.

My last but certainly not least staff member is Circulation Manager Jeff Huckel. "Huck" has been the popular person on campus Friday mornings picking up the papers at the Express and making sure they get delivered to all distribution spots on campus. His services have been greatly appreciated as well.

My thanks also go out to faculty members, Dr. Douglas Campbell, Dr. Sandra Hybels, and Professor Karen Kline.

Dr. Campbell is my advisor to the Eagle Eye and has been a pivotal inspiration to my success at the Eagle Eye. His wisdom has given me the ability to run the Eagle Eye and for that I am deeply grateful.

Dr. Hybels is my academic advisor as well as a journalism professor I look up to. From the time I walked into my first class of her instruction, my journalism succession of writing has been well rewarded due to the teaching of Hybels.

Professor Kline is the advisor to the Society for Collegiate Journalists and has also been there for advice and encouragement when I needed it. For that I am deeply grateful.

My thanks go out to others that have helped me a great deal throughout this semester.

The Student Cooperative Council has also helped me. President Andrew Wendel, Vice-President Joseph Yalch, Recording Secretary Michelle Adams, Corresponding Secretary Deborah Cowfer, PUB Administrator Joan Bayer, Parliamentarian David Keenan, and Treasurer Pat Patterson, and Public Relations Officer George Nasci.

These people receive my deepest thanks because they not only help run the campus, but keep me informed of the activities that happen at LHU.

I want to wish the new Co-Editors-in-Chief for the Fall Term, Beth Pressler and Emilee Groce good luck in their reign as Co-Editors-in-Chief. I am very confident in their talents and I'm sure they will make this paper bigger and better.

As Editor-in-Chief I learned new experiences and met new people. Despite the many hours of work, I am deeply saddened to leave my position but hope it will lead me with new challenges yet to confront me.

(The Staff would like to thank Cory for his praise. Good luck, whatever you do, Cory. You will be missed.)

Letters to the Editor

It distributes to various businesses across the United States. She suggested to place one at the top of the hill and one at the bottom of it.

Also, Russell Hall requested a food vending machine.

In the Legislative Affairs Committee report, Chuck Leitzel announced that 100 students attended the student rally in Harrisburg concerning the tuition increase. He said 13 students from LHU attended. He said students voiced their opinion toward the Secretaries of the State Representatives.

Committee Chairman Beck added that she received word from Vice-President of Student Affairs that Harrisburg did receive letters from students and parents who are voicing concern over the tuition issue.

The Newman Center announced that Carnations will be on sale today at Bentley. The price is $1.50 and they will be distributed to students on Study Day, May 8th.

In other matters, the SCC Budget of club funding was approved. The total was $372,121.13. Wendell announced that the grade point averages for elections of Senators and Executive Board has risen to 2.2 and 2.5 respectively due to the concentration of responsibilities of each post.

To the Editor:

Last Friday, April 26, I went to the Infirmary because of a physical problem with my leg. I parked in the lot at the Infirmary and went in for treatment. After waiting for the doctor for a period of time, a policeman came through and asked if anyone was parked in the lot and if they were, they should move their vehicles to the upper parking lot to avoid receiving a ticket.

The upper parking lot was full and the closest spaces available for someone without a campus parking sticker was on on Main Street by the pizza shop.

As a result, I went to the hospital for treatment.

There are many students that live off campus and there must be times when they, too, need medical care. Why can't this campus provide at least one or two spaces in that parking lot for Infirmary use? I'm sure the staff need parking spaces but the university does exist because of the students. When you are sick or physically impaired, you should have access to the Infirmary. - Linda Fuller, Off-Campus student

The theft of American flags shows nothing but ignorance and disrespect

Most of us have "borrowed" things at one time or another. However, two LHU students have been accused of going too far. Not only were they accused of stealing something but also of showing a lack of respect for America.

According to the May 2 issue of The Express, (p.13), two students living in Gross Hall pleaded not guilty when charged with the March 4 theft of an American flag from the Roberts and Miceli law offices in Lock Haven.

The Express identified the students as Joseph J. Haney, 19, and Patrick J. O'Donnell, 18.

This alleged theft made me think about the flag, our country and what it stands for.

To steal a flag--an American flag--is the epidemic of disrespect for our country, our people and our armed forces who risk their lives for our liberty.

Someone said to me, "At least it wasn't burnt."

Burning is not the issue--respect is. By stealing it, a person shows no comprehension of what it stands for.

Perhaps to some the flag is merely a piece of cloth. These kinds of people do not understand the meaning and the pain and the glory behind it.

Why would anyone want to steal a flag? Perhaps it would make a nice decoration for a room. Perhaps it would be a thrill to steal a flag. Or perhaps, people don't think at all.

Without respect for our country, how can people like this possibly call themselves Americans? People for centuries have died trying to come to our country...really, boys, if you don't like it, why not leave?

Olympics bring Greeks together in closing games

By Beth Pressler
Eagle Eye News Editor

The 1991 Greek Olympic winners are Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority and Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. The olympics were planned for April 20, but were postponed until April 28 due to inclement weather. Held in Hubert Jack Stadium at 4 p.m., the games generated pride, excitement, and of course tension among the Greek students.

Phi Mu Delta fraternity brother Dusty Graves served as the Chairman of Greek Week. Each sorority and fraternity had a representative who aided Graves in the organization of the games. The Phi Sigma Beta fraternity brothers officiated the olympics.

Tri-Sigma Greek Week representative Pam Whiteman said, "All of the responsibilities of Greek Week is too much for one to handle and next year there should be two people serving as chairpersons of Greek Week: one representative from a sorority and one from a fraternity."

Tri-Sigmas clinched the championship by a narrow margin of only two points, with Sigma Kappa coming in second, Zeta Tau Alpha close behind in third and Alpha Sigma Tau in fourth.

For the fraternities, Lambda Chi Alpha took first place by a gap of over 20 points. Alpha Chi Rho came in second, Tau Kappa Epsilon in third, Kappa Delta Rho in fourth, Alpha Sigma Phi in fifth, and Phi Mu Delta in sixth.

One highlight of this year's Greek Olympics that captured the audience's attention was Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity brother Dave Glasier downing a cheese steak in amazing speed in the "Fratburger Contest". But every competition even the "People Pass Race" aroused the crowd's interest.

Guitarist and song-writer Jimmy Landry played at the Eagle Wing Snack Bar in the P.U.B. Wednesday night at 8 p.m.

Landry played cuts from his second and most recent album "Simple Things" which has received air time in various cities in the U.S. including San Francisco, Denver, and Dallas.

Landry also performed covers from Johnny Nash, the Boxtops, Jimmy Buffet, Elvis Costello and more.

Landry said his music from his second album is now being played on four radio stations in Boston, a place he calls "a hot bed for acoustic music."

Landry started playing guitar when he was 12 and his talent has been his only source of income for the past five or six years.

Landry first came to L.H.U. after meeting up with a student from the university in Virginia Beach and then preceded to fulfill her request to play here. He has performed here six times since.

"The night was very fun for me. The crowd wasn't very large but they were good and very attentive," said Landry.

"I play all over the country. About 50 nights a year in night clubs and 75 in bars," said Landry.

Landry has twice toured overseas doing a two week stint in Paris and has toured through Germany performing 18 shows in 15 different cities.

Guitarist Jimmy Landry serenades off his LP "Simple Things" for students last Wednesday night in the P.U.B.

After his performance on Wednesday night, Landry will have the next two weeks off then is going to the Kerrville Folk Festival in Kerrville Texas.

"I'm surprised, this festival is pretty prestigious, it's one of the top three festivals in the country," said Landry.

Other artists in the festival will include Jonathon Edwards and Timbuck 3. Landry will also be performing at the Black Mountain Festival in Ashville, North Carolina on Memorial Day.

Eagle Eye Editor-in-chief Cory Marshall recently was declared a finalist in the 1991 Schick Super Hoops Journalism Contest.

He received a monetary award for his article on the intercollegiate 3-on-3 basketball tournament.

The contest was sponsored by the National Media Group.

Doug Drotman, of the National Media Group, said, "The judges were impressed by the creativity, writing quality and depth of coverage."

Celebrity judges were ESPN's Barry Tompkins and San Francisco Examiner's Joan Ryan.

LHU's Dr. Douglas Campbell, advisor to the Eagle Eye, said he was extremely proud of Marshall and stated that not only was Marshall recognized but this was a reflection on the journalism department at the University.

Marshall was one of eight finalists, following one grand-prize winner and one runner-up.

Students from 800 colleges nationwide competed. The contest is now in its eighth year.

Marshall, along with all the entrants, also received a complimentary Schick Super Hoops T-shirt.

Demonstration in Harrisburg ends with little support from state university students

By David Beahm
Eagle Eye Reporter

In response to Governor Casey's recently proposed tuition hikes, students representing the 14 colleges of the State System of Higher Education rallied in the capitol building in Harrisburg on Wednesday morning.

The event was planned by then-president of the SCC Andy Wendel and the former student government president of West Chester University.

At 10:30, students formed up in the rotunda inside the capitol building, where they spoke their minds and answered reporters' questions.

Darren Parr, a senior and the former president of the student government at Indiana University of Pa., took the lead in voicing students' concerns about the proposed education budget. Parr detailed the bill's impact and said Pennsylvania would be the most underfunded state in the nation if the bill passed.

Several student leaders from other colleges addressed the audience of reporters, telling them what effect the hike would have on them and other students.

Although the legislature was not in session, two representatives were available and spoke briefly to the protesters.

Representative Peter Jay Daley, a member of the Governor's Board of Education, encouraged the students to get together what support they could before school let out for the summer. "(The legislators) think they're smart. They know June and July are coming, and it will be impossible to mobilize the students."

Daley said he had been in a similar protest during his college days, and the only way to succeed was to show the legislature that there are a lot of voters who care.

Representative Schuller congratulated the students on their effort, saying that the rotunda was for exactly this kind of demonstration, where students could voice their opinions and their grievances.

West Chester University produced the largest turnout for the event, with about 50 students. A representative of West Chester University announced that a larger rally was being planned for the following school year, with a proposed turnout of over 1000 students. The representative also emphasized that deferred maintenance, the legal term for state-supported up-keep of buildings, was an essential item to include in all communications with state legislators.

The West Chester students came armed with pictures and stories of failing buildings, including instances where classes were interrupted by falling plaster.

Various colleges made up the remainder of the turnout, which totaled around 100.

Fifteen students went to Harrisburg representing LHU, ten of them in an SCC-sponsored van.

Several of the Lock Haven students visited the senators from their own voting districts, telling them their feelings about the proposed increase.

Reactions to the event were varied. Chuck Leitzel felt the protest accomplished some of its goals. Leitzel said it demonstrated that "we are serious in our efforts to at least decrease the increase," explaining that while some increase is acceptable, $600 per year more is too much.

When asked what he felt had been accomplished, David Keenan said, "Nothing. If anything, the entire operation was set back." Keenan cited lack of participation as the major problem, saying that 100 students from 14 universities was a poor showing.

Minde Machande expressed a hopeful sentiment. "I guess this was just a start. We need to speak with a stronger voice."

P.U.B. plans in final stage

By George Nasci
Eagle Eye Reporter

There is much talk about the expansion of our student union, the Parsons Union Building. The price tag has been set at over 3.4 million dollars, but the blue prints have been selected, and are currently on display for all students to see in Stevenson Library.

The P.U.B. expansion project is in its final stage, except for the interior design which is still in the exploratory stage. Students must support the expansion of the Student Union for it to become a success.

The new P.U.B. will be a place that benefits all students: the clubs, commuter students, fraternities, sororities and many other organizations. The faculty, staff, administration, as well as the community of Lock Haven, will be served by such facilities as larger meeting rooms, banquet room, larger bookstore, recreation room and more club offices.

Some of the students will not be around to see the project completed as the ground-breaking will take place as soon as the attorney general signs the final contract. A completion date is expected for about 18 months after ground-breaking takes place.

Ready or not, world, here we come!

By Steven Infanti
Eagle Eye Columnist

The sun is high in the sky, bikinis are on the beaches, and graduation announcements are in the mail.

It's hard to believe that another year is about to come to a close.

We still have one last obstacle to hurdle before graduation--exams. I guess it's too late now to buy the textbooks.

I've attended classes here for five semesters now and have witnessed the past three Commencement ceremonies.

It is truly a moment of great joy and I always get a kick out of the people who yell and scream like they've just been released from prison.

No, I'm not talking about the graduating seniors. I'm referring to the professors.

Many students have already experienced living in an off-campus setting. However, for those of you moving out on your own for the first time, here's a few things you need to be aware of.

There won't be any of those little items like dishwashing lotion, Brillo pads, vacuum cleaners, brooms, ironing boards and dish pans that magically appear at home.

When I graduate, which should be sometime before all my financial aid self-destructs or I become eligible for social security, I'll have to find a bar that specializes in buffalo-

Well, Grandpa Infanti gave me a piece of advice when I first announced that I wanted to go to college and I wanted to take this opportunity to pass it all on to you.

He sat there on his rocker, looked me in the eye, and told me, "Keep your nose to the grindstone, your shoulder to the wheel, and be willing to work your fingers to the bone."

Now you know why we had him committed.

I'm not the world's most brightest person, but if I'd do that I'd have a flat nose, a sore shoulder, and bony fingers.

I'm sure that's not the way all of you want to go through life.

Take time out for that occasional game of volleyball, hackey sack, or a simple barbecue.

Try to get in some relaxation time while you're pursuing success.

However, don't relax too long.

I've said it before (in a column a long time ago) that life is like a sled dog race. If you're not the lead dog, the view is mighty unpleasant.

If you decide to live at home again, try to show your folks that you got a little more out of college besides spot chugging, mastering the game of quarters, scoping, the Electric Slide, or learning all the words to "American Pie."

wings, pint nights, and with classic rock in the jukebox.

I'll also need to find a new group of friends so that we can drink, stagger around together, and sing an off key version of "American Pie" just before last call.

rority, will usher for the concert.

The concert includes a speech by President Craig Dean Willis, and scholarships will be given out by the band fraternity and sorority, said Hull.

Kappa Kappa Psi will be awarding the John Ross Memorial Scholarship, a monetary grant given annually to an outstanding male member of the band.

Tau Beta Sigma, in turn, gives out their monetary Tau Beta Sigma Scholarship for an outstanding female member of the band.

"It should be an excellent concert; I encourage everyone to attend," said Hull.

The concert is free to the public.

WLHU Review:

Tribe After Tribe and Primus: two promising bands to watch out for

By Ryan Ritter
Eagle Eye Columnist

Well, this is it--the last edition of the WLHU Music Review for the year, and probably ever (unless my replacement, master of metal Matt Walsh, can be coerced into spending a few extra hours each week trying to think of what to say next).

As I've said in previous articles, part of my job consists of talking to representatives from various record companies about new releases and why they haven't sent us this record or that.

One particular representative, the lovely "Monica" from Megaforce Records, called me several times regarding the band Tribe After Tribe.

I never really never listened to the record she was talking about, so I just made stuff up to tell her.

Anyway, one day when I was talking to her, I said, "Hey, I've got an idea. I'll review Tribe After Tribe in my next column." She said, in a word, "Great." So...

Tribe After Tribe is another truly unique band. They combine hard, driving rock with an almost African jungle rhythm, creating a sound that really got my attention.

The combination of loud, rhythmic guitar over such a melodic beat is at the same time sensual and threatening.

The lyrics tend to be darkly shaded with concern for the shape of the today's world, and contain more than a few allusions to violence.

All these elements beautifully (in a sweetly dark way) come together in songs such as "Remember" and "What Are We Now."

But perhaps the most representative cut on the CD is the last one, "Poor Afrika," which combines the hard rock with the African influence.

This is not the most optimistic band I've ever heard.

This sound works much more often than not, and Tribe After Tribe is a band to watch.

Another band to look out for goes by the name of Primus.

All we have so far is a single ("John The Fisherman") and a three song EP, but from this they have managed to capture the number two spot at the station last week.

A kind of cross between hard rock and twist-ed progressive, Primus has a broad appeal many DJ's (and listeners) like.

For some reason, good, junky, solid rock with lyrics fringing on the satiric are very popular at WLHU. Primus is a perfect example.

The current single, "Jerry Was A Race Car Driver," is steadily climbing the college charts, both here and across the country.

We (especially Don Welsch, soon-to-be head inmate and station manager) are eagerly awaiting the release of the album "Sailing The Seas Of Cheese," sometime in mid-May.

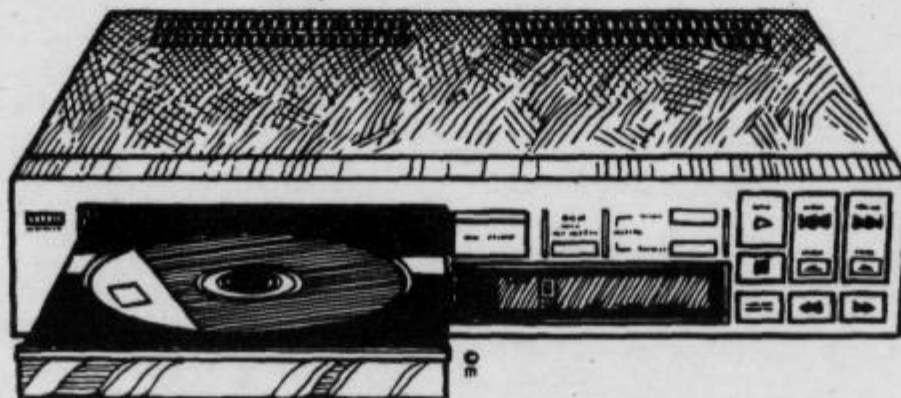

If you like hard rock, or progressive/alternative rock, or just about any kind of rock, chances are you'll like Primus.

Well, music fans, this looks like the end. Check out these two bands, or anything else for that matter, at your one and only, very own campus radio station.

We keep growing and getting bigger, so look out for us next year.

I personally will be back next Spring (I'll be in Scotland in the Fall), and who knows, maybe I can pick up then where I am leaving off now.

Have a great summer.

Jazz/Rock Ensemble performs Annual Jazz Festival downtown in Triangle Park

By Tara Caimi
Co-Features Editor

"It Had To Be You," "On Broadway," and "Vogue" are a few examples of the music that was played by the Jazz/Rock Ensemble during the Kappa Kappa Psi Annual Jazz Festival Concert at Triangle Park on Saturday, April 27.

The concert began at approximately 6:10 p.m. with the Bald Eagle Area High School Jazz Ensemble playing a variety of music styles, such as blues, swing, and contemporary rock.

Some of the pieces performed by the ensemble were "Somewhere," from West Side Story, which featured a solo vocal performance, Louis Armstrong's "What a Wonderful World," also featuring a solo vocal performance, and "Straight Up," by Paula Abdul.

Phil Carles, director of the ensemble, played keyboard for the last number, "It's Hip To Be Square," which he referred to as an "anti-drug message."

The concert continued with a performance by the Lock Haven University Jazz/Rock Ensemble, directed by professor Glenn L. Hosterman.

The ensemble played a variety of jazz and rock from various time periods and featured vocal performances by Ryan Pelkey and Krystal Smith.

Also featured in the concert was freelance trumpet performer, Pat Dorian, who performed a jazz ballad from the early 1970's called "It's a Heavy Town," by Donald Byrd.

Dorian, who has been Director of Bands at East Stroudsburg University since 1987, was invited to be this year's clinician for the Annual Jazz Festival Concert.

He worked with both ensembles in hour long clinics before the concert, observed and critiqued the concert, as well as performed in the concert.

He enjoyed working with both groups and commented on the University Ensemble's high artistic quality and nice variety of music.

Dorian also directs the 85-member University/Community Concert Band, University Jazz Ensemble, Special Events (PEP) Band, and University Brass Ensemble at East Stroudsburg.

This was Dorian's first visit to Lock Haven, and he referred to it as a "neat little town with a very active music program." Dorian enjoyed the concert's setting, as well as the nice weather.

This is the seventh year for the concert, which was sponsored by Kappa Kappa Psi, band fraternity.

The concert has been held downtown in Triangle Park for 2 years.

This is an attempt to "bridge the gap between the University and the community," according to Hosterman, who has been in charge of the concert for 3 years.

He said that, although it is more difficult to perform a concert outside due to the lack of feedback, he enjoys taking this concert downtown because the less formal atmosphere attracts a wide variety of people. "That's the way jazz should be," said Hosterman.

Hosterman said that each year he invites local bands to perform in the concert, and he tries to invite a well-known and respected musician to act as clinician.

He was pleased to have the Bald Eagle Area High School Jazz Ensemble performing, for the first time, in the concert.

He was also pleased with Dorian, who is in charge of jazz studies articles for Pennsylvania Music Educators Association (PMEA) Journal.

Hosterman said that the clinician is featured in the concert as a statement of his ability and, therefore, credibility in working with the ensembles and commenting on their performances.

The Jazz/Rock Ensemble does at least one concert per semester.

This semester their performances have included a February exchange concert with Bloomsburg University, a March concert at Jersey Shore Jr. High, the Honors Convocation on Thursday, April 25, and performances throughout the Spring Jazzfest '91.

Hosterman said that, in his concerts, he tries to cover all the style periods of jazz, as well as some rock 'n roll, vocals and current chart hits.

He feels the jazz band is a select group which gives people, who are involved with bigger groups, such as the marching band, the chance to perform in a more select group.

Hosterman feels that jazz bands are good public relations organizations because the music is mainly designed for entertainment and is enjoyable for all people.

Freshmen voice thoughts on first year

By Toni-Ann Siano
Eagle Eye News Reporter

As their first year of college comes to a close, freshman have expressed how their expectations of what college would be like compared to actual college life.

An alarming lack of maturity among fellow students is the major complaint within the freshman population. As incoming students, most expected that classmates would be above "high school" gossip and pettiness.

After her first semester at Lock Haven

Beth Mundy says that she had hoped to find maturity here, but that it seems to her that some people have even regressed.

According to many students, they came to college expecting to gain more responsibility and freedom, as well as a chance to break out of old molds set for them in high school.

"When you've gone to school with the same people all your life old perceptions stay with you for years. College gave me a chance to really be myself," Mundy added.

Other students expected college to be a lot of hard work, one paper after another. Tammy Kihullen was happily surprised to find that the work here wasn't as hard as she had expected. Jim Harris however had hoped for "one big party", and was sadly mistaken, finding himself studying at the library most nights.

Hope Willis, a former EOP student, says that the experience "semi-prepared" her academically, but did not help her at all socially. She says that she had expected more assistance in the first few weeks of school to make the transition less confusing.

Willis also expressed disappointment with the state of minority affairs, and added that there is a lack of unity among minority students as well as a lack of minority administration.

The main reasons that most freshman said that they chose Lock Haven were financial ones, and most added that they were happy with their choice.

Those freshman who said that they might not stay at Lock Haven for all four years said that they liked it here, but that there were other reasons for leaving.

Beth Mundy said, "The people here are nice but this school is too far from home. I've found that my family really needs me, and I need them."

Spring concert exhibits diversity in percussion

By Chris Leppo
Eagle Eye Reporter

Dr. Florentino J. Caimi conducted the Spring Concert with the LHU Percussion Ensemble, held April 29 in Sloan Theater.

John Wilson, a ΦΜΔ brother and member of the group, said the ensemble played a collection of conceptual rhythm pieces adapted to exhibit a "wide diversity of musical displays utilizing a vast array of percussive sounds."

Most of the pieces were a provocative combination of body sounds and unusual instruments like hand clapping, foot stomping, knee slapping, vocal sounds, text book, paper, and wood as instruments.

The remaining selections were more mainstream in that they used typical instruments like trumpets, snare drums, and the like.

LHU Sports Year in Review

Soccer recorded fifth PSAC title in seven years

Shawn Liddick
Eagle Eye Sports Reporter

Over the course of last semester, the Lock Haven University Soccer team proceeded to become nationally ranked, see the school record for most goals in a career shattered, and captured their fifth PSAC title in seven years.

Starting out the season was the Little Ceaser's Classic that is held annually at Lock Haven (September 8-9).

The first game was against Dowling University (September 8) where the Bald Eagles proceeded to obliterate them by a score of 7-0.

The Haven struck early registering five goals in the first half and adding two more in the second half. These goals were by Gary Ross (2), Dave Globke (2), Craig Shale, Casey Reed, and Mark Waite.

The championship game against Gannon was Senior All-American Ross.

The next stop on the Eagles' flight was against Division I opponent, Towson State (September 19).

After 120 minutes of furious play, Lock Haven ended up short as Towson St. won in overtime by a score of 2-1. The only goal of the game was by Adrian Blewitt.

The Home opener was next for the Haven as they hosted California University of Pa. (September 22). It was also the first division matchup of the season for the Bald Eagles.

Lock Haven took the forge out of the Vulcans by defeating them 4-1. Goals were scored by Raymond Bruce (2), Ross, and Kenny Tewsley.

Again, Lock Haven went on the road as they traveled to University of New York at Cortland (September 25) where the Eagles tied the game at 1-1. With goals for both teams coming in the Overtime period.

The lone goal for the Haven came from their opponents as they next hosted another arch-PSAC rival, Kutztown University (October 10) and tamed the Golden Bears by decapitating them by a score of 6-0.

LHU exploded in the first five minutes of the game by scoring three goals. These were by "Butchy" Williamson, Ross, and Tewsley.

Lock Haven, rolling over all in their path, completely shut down the University of Pittsburgh at Johnstown (October 15) by a score of 6-0.

Adrian Blewitt led the way by scoring three and his second hat trick of the season. Other score were by Cassidy, Waite, and Davis.

The team then had its six game winning streak snapped by Mercyhurst College (October 17) where they lost 3-0.

Lock Haven's defense, who had not allowed a goal in six games, got clipped as they let overconfidence get the better of them.

Homecoming (October 20) saw the Bald Eagles shoot down the Slippery Rock Rockets by a score of 4-0.

The goals scored for the Haven were by Ross, Waite, Blewitt, and Cassidy.

Next, with a 6-1 win over western PSAC rival Indiana University of Pa. (October 24), the Eagles won their sixth PSAC Western Division championship in seven years and had home field advantage in the semi-final game.

Lock Haven's Raymond Bruce led the way by scoring three, earning his hat trick, with Blewitt, Ross, and Cassidy each scored one.

Playing in the PSAC finals has started to become part of the regular season for the Bald Eagles as they advanced there by scalping the warriors of East Stroudsburg (October 31) by a score of 3-0.

Scoring for the Haven was Mark Waite (2); and Ross.

To end off the season, the Lock Haven University Bald Eagle Soccer Team claimed their fifth PSAC championship (November 4) in seven years as they mauled the Marauders of Millersville by a score of 3-1.

The Marauders caught everyone off guard by drawing first blood but Lock Haven came right back to dominate the rest of the game with goals by Williamson, Jamigan, and Ross.

Unfortunately, the Eagles did not qualify for the NCAA Division II finals as Lock Haven was ranked 17 and the finals only took the top 12 teams.

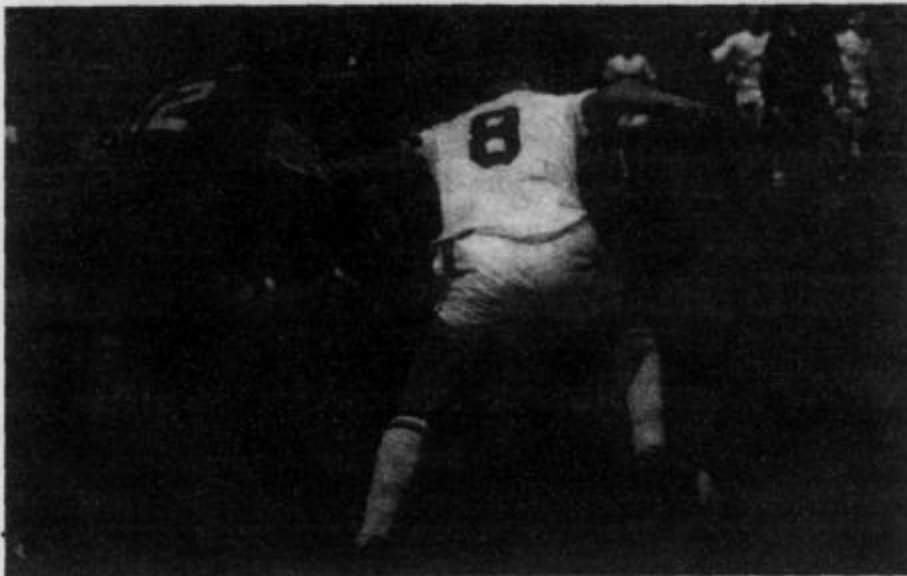

Another unfortunate piece of bad news was that Lock Haven lost their superstar, Gary Ross.

Ross, who holds the all-time scoring record for Lock Haven, ended his career with 53 goals and 23 assists.

He also earned PSAC all conference honors four season in a row, MVP of the PSAC in 1988 and 1990, All-Regional team in 1989, and the Division II All-American team in 1989 and 1990.

He has also been selected as a candidate for the Senior Bowl where 22 of the nation's top players compete. Usually, only Division I athletes are selected for it.

Lock Haven dominated the Western unit, placing six individuals from its 16-5-1 team to the PSAC All-Conference team. Including along with Ross were second year selections Lance DiFabio and Craig Shale, plus three freshman, Chad Abend, Mark Waite, and Adrian Blewitt.

Hey you, Get off of me! Senior Forward Gary Ross takes the ball down field in a match at McCollum field.

University (September 9) was completely opposite as the Eagles got shut out by a score of 2-0.

LHU had numerous chances in both halves to score even though the score did not indicate it. It was a very even game.

Next, the Eagles participated in the Northern Kentucky tournament (September 15-16) where they played University of Oakland and University of Southern Indiana.

Lock Haven drew 11 ranked Oakland (September 15) was their first opponent where they dropped a close match by a score of 2-0.

After this game, LHU made some procedural changes and came out on fire as they pulled a close game out of the hat to win against University of Southern Indiana (September 16) by a score of 1-0.

Scoring for the Bald Eagles in this game

Dave Globke.

The Haven next hosted arch-PSAC rivals, Bloomsburg University (September 29) where they took the game away from the Huskies by a score of 2-0.

Lock Haven scored once in each half. The goals were by Ross, and Chris Cassidy.

The Eagles then traveled to St. Francis (October 4) and defeated them in a non-conference game by a score of 2-0.

The Bald Eagles then continued to climb the national rankings when they decapitalized the University of D.C. (October 7) by a score of 7-0.

The win saw the Bald Eagles strike early and a few of the opposing players get ejected.

Blewitt did not blow it this time as he scored a first half hat trick.

Lock Haven then continued to dominate

Tennis goes 1-8 under new coach

By Cory Marshall
Eagle Eye Editor in Chief

The women's tennis team of new coach Dale Fisher turned in a 1-8 record during the 1990 season.

The Lady Eagles opened with losses of 6-3 each to Slippery Rock and Kutztown.

The Lady Eagles then ran into a tough Bucknell tennis squad where they were down, 9-0. Bucknell had won its NCAA Division I Tournament.

The lady netters ended the season with a win by defeating East Stroudsburg, 6-0 in a match shortened because of the rain.

Rebecca Chase won her match in three sets with scores of 7-5, 7-6, 7-3. Kenna Werkheiser followed with a straight set victory of 6-3, 6-0 over Cindy Wilbur while Karen Johnson, Stacey Clark, Jennifer Ferris and Kirstin Klopping each won straight set victories.

Football season saw new faces, new offenses

By Cory Marshall
Editor in Chief

The Lock Haven University football team started out 1990 with a new coach, but ended with many lumps.

The football team of coach Dennis Therrell wound up the season with a record of 1-10, 0-6 in the Pennsylvania Conference Western Division.

The Bald Eagles began their season by traveling to Division I-AA power Tennessee tech of the Ohio Valley Conference as they fell, 45-14.

In that game, quarterback Jimmy Broadway threw for 211 yards. The team managed only 278 yards total offense, however. Broadway's main target was wide receiver James Duckett who caught four passes for 113 yards and 1 touchdown.

Lock Haven then took its 0-1 record to the western half of the state taking on the Indians of Indiana University of Pennsylvania. IUP routed the Bald Eagles, 55-7.

The popular run-and-shoot attack was not effective in this game as the offense only produced 183 total yards. IUP passed for nearly 300 yards and accumulated 547 yards total offense.

Therrell's run-and-shoot found the right formula against Bloomsburg in their home opener as they edged the Bloomsburg Huskies, 14-7.

In that game, Bloomsburg got on the board when running back Sal Brown ran the pigskin in from four yards out to put Bloomsburg on top, 7-0. In the third quarter, the Bald Eagle offense showed some signs of life.

Broadway connected on passes to Duckett and Dave Wyland on passes of 18 and 28 yards respectively. The drive ended with a 3-yard pass from Broadway to Charles Burnahan. Rich Marriott nailed the extra point.

The score was deadlocked until the fourth quarter when Broadway again found Duckett open down the sideline from 44 yards out for the winning score. The defense stiffened again a Huskie rally and Lock Haven prevailed.

The football team again played host for the second week in a row at Hubert Jack Stadium to the Rockets of Slippery Rock.

In this matchup, running back Scott Opalsky, the PSAC's leading rusher bulldozed his way past the Bald Eagles for 233 yards on 28 carries leading Slippery Rock to a 42-7 rout of Lock Haven in a Western Division matchup.

Look Mom, I can Fly! Wide Receiver James Duckett makes a fourth quarter catch that set up a Bald Eagle Touchdown.

The following week, the Bald Eagles traveled on the road to Boston to tangle with the Huskies of Northeastern of Division I-AA.

Northeastern jumped to a 31-0 halftime lead en route to a 52-6 domination of Lock Haven. The Huskies gained 527 yards total offense, 351 of those yards coming on the ground. Broadway completed 18 of 36 passes for 112 yards.

The Bald Eagles then traveled to another Western Division powerhouse, the Scots of Edinboro. Edinboro muscled its way past the Bald Eagles with a 41-6 victory. In that game, running back Lester Frye rushed for 212 yards on 31 carries including a pair of touchdowns.

Lock Haven then dropped its fourth straight game as it fell, 50-14 to the Clarion Eagles. Clarion jumped to a 21-0 lead and never looked back.

The Lock Haven football team then dropped a 28-27 heartbreaker in its homecoming tilt with the West Chester Golden Rams.

The Lock Haven offense for the first time had outgained its opponent in rushing, 225-106 and total yards, 393-302.

Broadway threw for 168 yards and two touchdowns. Lock Haven came to within a point, 28-27 late in the game when Broadway found Duckett in a fading pattern from 13 yards out.

Therrell then opted to go for the two-point conversion and the win. The two-point play was incomplete however as the Golden Rams held on.

Lock Haven then fell to a 1-8 record and 0-5 in the PSAC West with its, 31-17 loss to the Shippensburg Red Raiders at Hubert Jack Stadium.

The Red Raiders led 31-0 before Lock Haven put any points on the scoreboard. Shippensburg's Bill Pettyjohn rushed 28 times for 136 yards and a touchdown.

Sam Mannery and the California Vulcans rolled into town as they crushed Lock Haven, 49-9.

The all-time passing leader led the Cal offense by piling up 634 yards total offense including a 35-2 halftime lead.

Broadway was 15-32 for 181 yards who did connect with Wyland for a 7-yard TD pass.

Lock Haven then ended its season in the mud as they fell to the Mansfield Mounties, 22-0 as Bill Bair completed 28 of 48 passes for 275 yards.

For the women, Brenner was the winner over the alumni with a time of 20:59.

The teams ended strong at the PSAC Championships at Slippery Rock.

McMichael was the strong finisher placing 19th overall and posting a time of 28:30. The team placed eighth with a total of 243 points.

Brenner was the top finisher for the Lady eagles posting a time of 21:46 good enough for 42nd place. The team placed tenth with 282 points.

Track teams had many winners during indoor, outdoor seasons

Steve Reeser was expected to be one of the top 800 meter runners in the country for this event. He nearly qualified for the NCAA division II Indoor Championships.

The meet at the Susquehanna Invitational was canceled (March 30) due to rain.

The Colonial Relays at the College of William and Mary (April 6) in Virginia was the beginning of the outdoor track season.

Those that qualified for the PSAC championships, which will be held on May 9-11, are McMichael, Reeser, Yingling (two events), Smoker and Walters.

Trapp also won two events. These were the Long Jump and the Triple Jump.

Other first place winners for the Lock Haven runners were Smoker in the High Jump, Walters in the Javelin, and Sheppard in the 3000 meter run. Both the 4x100 and the 4x400 relay teams captured first place.

Everyone has two more chances to place in the PSAC championships and possibly the NCAA division II outdoor championships. They are the Millersville Metric Invitational (April 25) and the Nittany Lion Open (May 4). The PSAC championships are on May 9 through May 11.

Can Leap Tall Buildings in a Single Bound! Well...maybe not that high, but sophomore jumper Patti Smoker leads the Lady Eagles in the most of the leaping events.

I'm Armed and Dangerous! "Cricket" leaps her way down field in a home match against Indiana University of Pennsylvania.

Field Hockey team reaches Division III Final Four

Sharon Taylor's field hockey team began the season with a quest to defend it's national title. At the end of the season, however, the Lady Eagles fell just short of repeating as national champs.

The team finished the 1990 season with a record of 12-7-2 and made it to the Division III Final Four before falling to Bloomsburg and Messiah in the semifinals.

Several players received All-Conference and All-American recognition for their outstanding play.

Seniors Teresa Cisney, Laurie Kerr and Dot Schmidt, juniors Robyn Rinkowski and Gia Sgrignoli all were named to the PSAC All-Conference team with junior Brooke Atland receiving an honorable mention.

Kerr, Rinkowski and Schmidt were chosen as First Team Pennsylvania Regional All-Americans, while Cisney and Sgrignoli were chosen for the Second Team. Kerr was also selected as a Division III All-American.

Emory led Bald Eagle batmen during 1991

By Rob Heller
Eagle Eye Sports Editor

The Bald Eagle Baseball team finished third in the PSAC last year, with an overall record of 13-24, and 9-11 in the conference.

Coming into this season Head Coach Lefty Lovelace felt that the potential was there. "That's why my expectations are so high. I think we are going to have a good ball club. I know we are going to be competitive this year.

The batmen are led by first baseman Neil Emory, a member of the All-PSAC team a year ago. He batted .405, .613 slugging percentage, five homeruns and 21 RBI. Emory is the all-time HR leader at LHU, with 15 coming into this season.

Along with his bat Emory also has a good glove. He handled 142 chances at 1st last year with out making an error.

Also returning from last years team are: Brian Naylor, Andy Grosh, Steve Smith, Brian Grenoble, Gary Heverly, Chuck Boswell, Roy Brodzina and Eric Kozak.

The Bald Eagles started their season with a five game road trip in Virginia against Hampton Sydney Lynchburg. The batmen went 0-5 on the trip. Four of the games were decided by 3 runs or less, three of them by one run. He led the Eagles offensive attack batting .600. Mike Signor hit .444 with a HR and four RBI while Emory batted .389 with seven hits and two RBI.

"Overall, we looked good," said Lovelace. "I think when we get the team together, we are going to be tough."

On the road trip eight of the players hotel rooms were broken into, and money (just cash) was stolen.

On to the PSAC! The Bald Eagles opened conference play with a doubleheader on the road against Slippery Rock.

The Eagles were unable to "get a piece of the Rock" dropping both to the Rockets, 9-8 and 6-1.

The next opponent for the Bald Eagles was the Golden Eagles of Clarion. The first game was a pitchers duel, that ended in a 2-0 Clarion victory. Brodzina went the distance striking out seven and walking none, but recorded the loss.

The second game was little different, low scoring, but this time our Bald Eagles soared on to victory, 2-1. Sophomore Signor scattered five hits to earn the complete game win.

Next up for the Eagles was California. The batmen split a doubleheader with Cal on April 6.

In game one the Eagles were grounded by a score of 11-0. "The pitcher that beat us is a real pitcher, he's going to get drafted," said Lovelace. The Bald Eagles took flight once again by bouncing back to win the second game, 5-4. Heverly got the "W".

Wednesday, April 10 the batmen went of to go against IUP. The first game was all the pitchers. IUP won 1-0. Brett Sterh gave up four hits, one walk and no earned runs, but got the loss.

In game two the Eagles came away with a victory, 2-1. Rob Wright went all the way giving up two hits, and recording three K's for the win.

April, 13 the batmen of LHU traveled

(for the last time) to Edinboro for a double header. The fightin' Scots swept our Eagles, moving their record to 3-7 in the conference, and 3-17 overall.

Last week the Bald Eagles were unable to get any games in due to rain. Last weekend they went up against IUP and Clarion at home. Check baseball article on other page!

Someday, I'll make the Big Leagues! Sophomore outfielder Bob Miller takes a few practice swings inside Thomas Field House to prepare for the upcoming season.

Veteran quartet gave Golf squad winning record

Snyder, Reeser, Kalma, and Masteller lead Bald Eagle Golfers to 4-2 dual meet record

By Rob Heller
Eagle Eye Sports Editor

The Lock Haven University Golf team, after an impressive fall season, was ready to hit long hard ones down the middle in the spring.

Four veterans are returning from last years team, they are: Mark Snyder, Brian Reeser, Chris Kalma, and Tad Masteller.

Snyder and Masteller were the projected number one and two players on the team.

As for how Head Coach Bob Weller and the team felt about this season, all they said was that "we're hoping for sunshine."

Monday, April 1, the LHU golf team competed in the Masters where Snyder finished -6 tied with Nick Faldo. APRIL FOOLS!

The golfers really traveled to compete in the West Chester Invitational. The Eagles finished last with a score of 378.

"That is something like 45 shots over our average," said Weller. "I think that part of that is we haven't been out a whole lot. Most of the schools in the tournament have been playing, and we have not (because of weather)."

The golfers then drove to Bucknell for a match with host Bucknell and Lehigh. The Haven finished third with a score of 439, 37 strokes out of first. Low scores for the Eagles were Masteller, 82, and Mike KENDALL, 87.

The golfers moved their record to 2-2 by defeating Lycoming and Juniata on April, 10.

The Bald Eagles shot a 423, defeating second place Juniata by 11 strokes. Low scores for the Haven were: Snyder, 81 and Masteller, 82.

"There has been quite a bit of improvement, but we are still not back to where we were in the fall," said Weller. "But since our first outing (spring), we have improved by 20-25 strokes as a team."

The Eagles next traveled to IUP to take part in a 16 team tournament. LHU finished last with a score of 343. IUP won with 307.

"This is an excellent tournament," said Weller "a lot of talented programs competed in it this year."

"This score (343) would have probably put us in the top five of the other tournaments that we've played in," said Weller.

Mark Snyder finished with a round of 81, while Brian Reeser shot an 82. Cory Lehman finished the day at 89.

The Bald Eagles finished the season on a high note, playing some good golf. They competed in the East Stroudsburg Invitational. The golfers finished ninth out of 16 teams with a score of 339.

Mark Snyder and Trent Ryan led the way, both shooting 84's for the day.

The next tournament was at Susquehanna on April 6. The men played good golf and finished with a 428. Leading the way were: Masteller, 83; KENDALL, Snyder, and Ryan all shot 85.

The Bald Eagle Golf team finished the season with a dual meet record of 4-2 by defeating Juniata and Messiah on April, 19.

Last week they competed in the PSAC's, look for the scoop on another sports page.

Mike Lyons, HWT, defeated Xavier's Dave Deahring handily. The fight was

Two-time NCBA champion, Manny Rose, 165, dropped out of school this semester to pursue his dream of making the 1192 USA Olympic Team.

February, 13 the Boxing team competed in the PSU Invitational. Ed Shilling, 147, earned a 4-1 decision over PSU's Neil Gorman. Shilling was so impressive that he won the evening's Most Outstanding Boxer Award.

Bryant, 180, recorded a 54 second RFC over Bob Shurf of PSU. Machamer lost the feature bout by a controversial 3-2 split decision to Walter Blake of PSU.

"As a team, we really didn't box well," Machamer said. "My bout kind of exemplified this, but I feel that we'll get things corrected when we fight next Saturday in Virginia (Virginia Military Institute).

At VMI Machamer and Bryant earned decisions while Lyons earned a RFC-first round.

February, 23 the Bald Eagle Boxers won five out of six bouts at Gettysburg College. Two for three in open competition and three for three in novice bouts.

1990 NCBA finalist, Asher, 190, stopped Travis Martin in the second round. Martin was given three standing eight counts before the bout was stopped.

Bryant earned a unanimous decision over Pavel Lesho at 180 to remain undefeated at 6-0. "This establishes Dewayne as one of the top 180-pounders in the country," said Head Coach Ken Cox.

Dan Buckley, 112, Steve Kramer, 139, and Rob Noll, 156, all won their novice bouts.

The Boxing team finished their regular season March 2, at the Central Connecticut State Invitational.

Bryant broke an LHU school record for regular season bouts and victories (7) with his RSC-1st round over Bob Shurf of PSU. Assistant Coach Ken Cooper feels that Bryant is rapidly becoming the top 180-pounder in the NCBA. Bryant was the sole winner at the CCS Invitational.

The Classy Machamer fought Toney Stanton in a non-scoring exhibition bout at 132. Machamer (5-1) is ranked #1 at both 119 and 125 pounds.

Next up is the ECBA-Northeast Regional Championships. Held in the Thomas Fieldhouse...the House of Noise

Torres scored the biggest upset of the day when he RSC-second round the tough Walter Blake of PSU.

Asher won a 5-0 decision over the muscular John Drohan of Army.

Machamer captured his second NCBA 119-pound championship April, 13 at the El Dorado Casino in Reno, Nevada.

Are you talkin' to me? Two time NCBA 119 pound Champion Dave Machamer poses for the camera.

Machamer efficiently defeated Jason Masaki of Santa Clara, 5-0, to earn a shot at his second straight title. In a repeat of last years final, Machamer once again decisioned Jeff Moore of Air Force Academy, 5-0. Machamer ended his career with a fine 21 and 6 record against some of the top competition in the country.

"This victory was the toughest for me," said Machamer. "There was a standing room only crowd, and many of the fans were for Air Force. My Teammates really stuck together, and cheered me on though, reminding me that I was the defending champ."

Scott Asher repeated his second place finish of a year ago. Asher dropped a close decision to Dennis Bundins of VMI.

Buckley lost in the 112 semi-finals to Ron Brown of Air Force. Buckley suffered a RSC-round one.

DeMilio lost a hard fought semi-final decision to Texas A&M's Jackie Whitley. Dewayne "UNLV" Bryant suffered his first loss of the year in Friday nights semi-finals to Bill Meshack of the Air Force Academy.

Torres won by disqualification over Greg Sekiya of Santa Clara. Torres won this bout but was unable to fight for the title, but was eventually given the silver medal.

LHU finished fourth in the team standings with 15 points. UNV-Reno won the National title with 34 points.

Tennis team has positive regular season

Shawn Liddick

Eagle Eye Sports Reporter

Opening up the season for the Bald Eagle Mens Tennis team was a week trip (March 8-18) to Denis Van Der Meer Tennis Center in Hilton Head Island, SC.

Opening up with a close loss to Transylvania College (5-4), they then proceeded to get destroyed by such Division I powers such as Tennessee Tech (24), North Carolina State (40), and Northeast Missouri State (10) where they lost 6-0, 8-0, and 9-0 respectively.

This was a good learning experience as they took that same experience in to the first regular season matchup against the Cheyney Wolves (March 27) and made them howl as they won 5-4.

They next traveled to Slippery Rock University (April 2) and got stoned with a humbling defeat of 9-0.

Even though they had a poor performance, it was a valuable lesson in sportsmanship, one that the Indiana University of Pa. (April 4) team did not know when they defeated the Eagles 9-0.

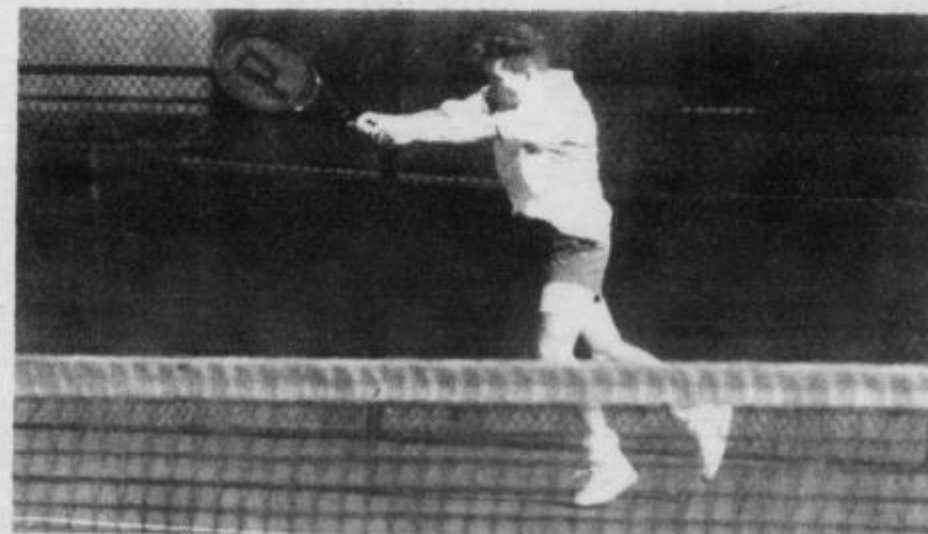

Head Coach Fisher declared that he refuses to schedule any matches in the future against IUP for their appalling behavior during the contest.

Following contests against Lycoming College (April 6), St. Francis College (April 10), West Chester (April 13), and Susquehanna University (April 16), the Bald Eagles hosted their last four games in the scenic Lock Haven area.

The first of these were against East Stroudsburg (April 18) where the Eagles lost by a score of 7-2. Winners for Lock Haven included Kinlock in both singles and doubles. His doubles partner was Brady Buck.

This contest put their season record at 3-3 with three contests to go and their next one only four days after against Shippensburg University (April 22).

Look out Agassi! Brady Buck follows through on a forehand 'inn one of Head Coach Dale Fisher's rigerous practice sessions.

Lady Eagles to host PSAC Championships:

Lacrosse Team undefeated in the PSAC

Shawn Liddick

Eagle Eye Sports Reporter

At the beginning of the season, the Lock Haven University Lady Lacrosse team had some high expectations of itself and what the team wanted to accomplish for this season. Whatever they were, they far exceeded them.

Currently, they are 7-2 on the season with their only defeats against non-conference teams.

In the first game of the season, the Lady Eagles defeated Holy Cross (Mar. 24) by a score of 5-3. This was a brilliant way to open the season. Goals were scored by Ginny Berry (2), Bridget Gillespie, Eileen Lady Eagles down at the half by a score of 4-2.

It looked like a repeat of the game against Bloomsburg when the Eagles' Eileen McCoy scored the first goal of the half.

The miracle at Bloomsburg would not be repeated because Cortland scored again to put Lock Haven out of the game for good. The final score of the game was 5-4.

Next, the Lady Eagles hosted Shippensburg (April 8) to play the Lady Raiders, and blew them out.

The Lady Raiders scored first but the lead did not last because Ginny Berry tied up the game at 1-1.

The Raiders then proceeded to score the next goal but ended up getting trounced as the Lady Eagles proceeded to go on a seven Next, Lock Haven traveled to East Stroudsburg (April 15) to play in a PSAC conference game.

The Lady Eagles came out shooting early and scored a quick two goals before East Stroudsburg realized the game even started. Both goals were by Deidre Kipp and both goals were with in 30 seconds of each other.

East Stroudsburg tried to make a game out of it when they scored the next to goal to bring the game to with in one, 2-1 LHU.

Lock Haven again scored two unanswered goals to put them up by a score of 4-2. One was by Denise Pileggi and the other was by Deidre Kipp.

Again, East Stroudsburg tried to mount some sort of offense as they scored yet again to bring the game to with in two, 4-2 LHU.

The Lady Eagles were relentless in their attack, however, as they again scored three goals in a row to put East Stroudsburg out of the game for good. These were by Eileen McCoy, Ginny Berry, and Denise Pileggi.

The Lady Eagles cruised through out the second half, scoring two more goals, as well as allowing two more. When the game was over, the Lady Eagles were victorious with a score of 9-4.

The game not only kept their unblemished PSAC record of 4-0, it also qualified them as the host for this year's PSAC championships.

Their next game was at Washington and Lee (April 20) and crushed them by a score of 10-5.

For the second time this season, Lock Haven went on a six score run, by five different players. They were Christine Curcio (2), Bridget Gillespie, Ginny Berry, Tara Igou, and Deidre Kipp.

Washington and Lee managed to scrape up a goal before Lock Haven again exploded for another two by Kipp and Eileen McCoy.

Washington and Lee then preceded to stun the Lady Eagles when they scored three in a row to end the first half and to start the second half.

Deidre Kipp scored her third goal of the game to send the Lock Haven score in to double digits, before Washington and Lee scored again to end the game with the final

Lady Eagles finish Second in PSAC Western Division

By Merritt LaPorta
Eagle Eye Sports Reporter

The women's softball team finished the regular season with a 17-12 record, good enough for second place in the PSAC Western Division.

Led by the strong pitching of junior Linda Polk, who was chosen as PSAC Player of the Week in early April, and the hot bats of Teresa Kovach and Amie Zimmerman, the team came within one game of sharing first place in the division.

This weekend the team squares off against the number four ranked team in the nation Bloomsburg as the PSAC Championships get underway at Elm Park in Williamsport.

score of 10-5.

The Lady Eagles next traveled to Sweet Briar (Apr. 21) where their victory was sweet as they won decisively.

For the second time in two days, and the third time during the season, Lock Haven exploded with an insurmountable offense that destroyed Sweet Briar's sweetness right off the bat.

Lock Haven went on a seven score run by four different players. These were Eileen McCoy (3), Bridget Gillespie (2), Denise Pileggi, and Amy Wills to utterly dominate the first half.

Sweet Briar became quite bitter about being rolled over the coals for the first half and exploded in the second half by surprising the Eagles and scoring three goals to dominate the second half.

Kenna Werkiser added insult to injury as she scored the last goal of the game and giving Lock Haven a 8-4 victory.

Frostburg St. was the next destination on Lock Haven's agenda, but were disappointed as they dropped an extremely close game.

Eileen McCoy started out the game on the right foot for the Lady Eagles as she scored the first goal of the game.

After Frostburg St scored one, Lock Haven went on a three score run with goals by Deidre Kipp, Kenna Werkiser, and Anne Whitlock.

Frostburg then scored two in a row before Denise Pileggi scored to end off the half with Lock Haven up by two at the half, LHU 5 Frostburg 3.

Frostburg scored the only two goals of the second half to send the game in to overtime.

After a 15 minute scoreless overtime, Frostburg won the game with a goal that was scored at 1:42 in the second overtime.

Expectations continue to be realized as they play Glassboro St. April 26, Slippery Rock on April 27, and West Chester on April 30.

CHARGE!!! Eileen McCoy (30) and her teammates charge down the field to get the ball from an overmatched Shippensburg squad.

McCoy, and Jen Uter.

The goal for Jen Uter was her first goal in her first ever game. After the game, teammates stated that she had only been playing since the beginning of the season and had never played a game before.

This was a brilliant way for the season to open and they continued the high standard of play when they took on PSAC rival Bloomsburg University (April 3).

In this game, the Lady Eagles dropped by a score of 4-2 during the first half. Anne Whitlock and Eileen McCoy scored the Lady Eagle's two goals of the half.

Trailing after the first half, the Lady Eagles came out smoking in the second half.

The Eagles' defense was unstoppable as they shut down the Lady Huskies for the entire second half.

Scoring for the Lady Eagles in the second half of this game was Bridget Gillespie, Deidre Kipp (2), and Denise Pileggi.

At this point, the Lady Eagle's Record was 2-0 with a 1-0 record in the PSAC.

Next was the match against SUNY and Cortland (April 6) where the Lady Eagles suffered their first loss of the season.

Lock Haven started out on the right foot when Bridget Gillespie drew first blood for the Lady Eagles.

After two unanswered goals, Gillespie scored again to tie up the game.

Cortland scored another two to put the score run. Goals were scored by Gillespie (3), Kris Rantz, Eileen McCoy (2), and Berry.

Shippensburg went on to score one last goal to bring the game to with in five as they lost to the Lady Eagles by a score of 8-3. At this point, the Lady Eagles were 3-1 and 2-0 in the PSAC.

To finish off a three game home stand, the Lady Eagles hosted their PSAC arch rivals, the Millersville Marauders (April 10).

The Marauders started off the game by scoring first but this didn't matter because the lead went back and forth the entire game.

Deidre Kipp then proceeded to score the next two goals, both with in a minute of each other.

Millersville then tied up the score before Lock Haven scored again when Bridget Gillespie put one in to end the half. Lock Haven was up 3-2 at the half.

Lock Haven then tried to blow the game open when they came out and scored two out of the three goals for the half. The first was by Ginny Berry and the other was by Deidre Kipp.

The Marauders would not give up as they scored again at the 11 minute mark.

At this point, both defenses were absolutely incredible because neither team scored another goal for the rest of the game. The final score was 5-4, in favor of LHU.

Give em' the good stuff! Eillen Morse is in mid motion, and about to deliver an incredible pitch.

Greene sets single season scoring mark:

Men's Basketball goes through transitional season

By Rob Heller

Eagle Eye Sports Editor

The Lock Haven University Men's Basketball team opened the 1990-91 season with a new system, the run-and-shoot.

"We will run a fast break, up tempo style offense, with pressing defense," said Head Coach Dave Blank. We will run off of steals and opponents turnovers. We would like to think that we will score 90 or more points a night."

That is exactly what they did! In the season opener, Nov. 20, the 3-Live Crew lit up Baptist Bible College for 132 points, setting a new school record. In the game the Bald Eagles attempted 62 3-pointers and connecting on 20 of them.

With 1:02 remaining in the first half, Truman Greene nailed a trademark 3-pointer to pass the 1,000 point mark for his career. Greene had 33 points in the contest.

The above mentioned scoring record would not last long, it would be broken on Dec. 3 against the Golden Bears of Kutztown University. The Eagles won the game by a score of 144 - 106. Greene tallied 40 points in this one, the second highest point total in LHU history.

This one was wild and woolly as LHU put on an air show that could only be matched by Mr. Jordan himself. An alley-oop from Tommy Johnson to Dana Vaughns...slam! Don Ross finishes the break with two hands...jam! David Wood to Greene in the open court...bam!

The Bald Eagles looked impressive in the early season scoring at will en route to a 4-1 start.

The hoopers of LHU began their PSAC Western division schedule with four conference games in only seven days. The Bald Eagles dropped 3 out of four, defeating IUP in the Thomas Fieldhouse on January 23 moving their record to (10-8, 1-4).

The Crew continued to struggle dropping two tearjerkers to conference foes (Clarion, 81-70, and Edinboro, 82-81) moving their record to 11-10, 1-5 in the conference. Talking about the Edinboro game coach Bland said, "It's a shame, we out played them in every phase of the game, but when it ended we weren't ahead."

With a three game losing streak under their belts, the Eagles played host to 20th ranked Shippensburg. The Eagles won the game behind an impressive performance by freshman Shon Crosby, 25 points. The game was won at the buzzer when another freshman, Johnson connected on one of two free throws with :01 left on the clock.

Crosby got four of his 25 points on high flying vicious slam dunks! First Crosby (with no help from Stills and Nash) leaped high in the air and dunked over All-World Center Kieth Hill. The other came when Woody lobbed the ball up to the rim and Crosby threw it down for two. Moving their record to 12-11 and 2-6.

The Basketball team ended the season with a record of 12-15, and 2-10 in the PSAC Western Conference.

In the season finale Senior Co-captian Carl Brown put an exclamation point on his wonderful career at LHU with the last of his many AWESOME slam dunks.

Greene set a single season scoring mark with 639 points, 23.7 per game, and finished second on the all-time scoring list with 1,534 points.

Brown finished the year averaging 9.2 points a game and 6.4 boards while shooting %47 from the field.

Both seniors feel that the season was disappointing, as far as the wins and losses.

Look out for the 3-Live Crew next year with a nucleus of Wood, Johnson, Crosby, and Don Ross. The Bald Eagles will be a year older and ready to take on the world, or at least the rest of the PSAC.

Can't Touch This! Senior Co-Captian Carl Brown (43) goes up between two Shippensburg defenders for the strong bucket.

Jill Mead finished 13th at PSAC meet in the one-meter dive:

Swimmers gain valuable experience for next year

By Rob Heller

Eagle Eye Sports Editor

The LHU Lady Swimmers came into the 1990-91 season with a crop of experienced swimmers, some talented freshman, and a new head coach, Dr. Nan Wood.

The team was led by seniors Tracy "TC" Campbell, Kathy Kalemba, Beth Kime and Renae Weaver. Sophomore Dana Goldstein, who set a new school record in the 1,000 freestyle last season with a time of 11:59.15, is looking forward to another good season.

Although the Lady Eagles dropped their first meet to Juniata, 135-112, Coach Wood was pleased with the performance and potential.

"I'm excited because some times have already dropped. The season looks very encouraging because of the attitude that has been shown."

Campbell won the 200-meter IM (2:44.85) ahead of teammate Kime who finished second with a time of 2:59.94. Amy Long came in first in the 200-meter Breaststroke with a time of 2:49.20.

The swimmers recorded their first victory in their second meet against Mansfield, 185-92. The Lady Eagles won all but one event.

Freshman Kimberly Conville finished first in the 1,000 yard Freestyle with a time of 13:21.76, while Goldstein was victorious in the 500 yard Freestyle, 6:05.28.

Next up was Shippensburg. LHU was defeated 155-119, but recorded some impressive times. Junior Captain Kristin McCluskey had an outstanding showing by taking first place in both the 50 yard and the 100 yard Freestyle.

Long and freshman Julie Harris had a great meet. Long finished first in the 100 yard Breast Stroke while Harris finished second in both the 100 and 200 yard Butterfly. Freshman diver Jill Mead came in first in the one meter dive.

In the last meet of their fall season the swimmers knocked the breath out of York College with a 113-91 victory.

Goldstein finished second in the 500 yard Freestyle with a time of 5:56.20. Conville completed the 1000 yard Freestyle in a time of 13:06.17 which was good enough for second place.

Freshman Jen Irwin recorded a second place finish in the 200 yard Freestyle, 2:16.15, while Long finished first in the 100 yard breast stroke in a time of 1:17.80. Campbell placed second in the 100 yard Breaststroke with a time of 1:23.38.

After losing their final three meets of the season the lady swimmers finished the year with a record of 3-6

At the Kutztown meet Mead qualified for the PSAC meet in the one meter dive. The rest of the swim team went to compete in relays.

At the PSAC meet at West Chester the Lady Eagles finished 10th out of 11 teams. Coach Wood had this to say, "They did their best, and swam very well and very competitively. I was pleased with their effort." Mead finished 13th out of a field of 26 competitors, and was one of six freshman in the top 16.

The lady swimmers lose four seniors, but return a flock of underclassman, who with this year under their belt will be very competitive next year. Look out PSAC!

How long is this race?! Sophomore Dana Goldstein is making waves and blowing the rest of the field away in the 1000 meter Freestyle. The person in the other lane is really a lap behind Goldstein. Since when do Bald Eagles swim anyway?

Wrestling squad produced for new coaching staff Finished season strong by winning three of last four

Shawn Liddick

When the Lock Haven University Wrestling team took the mat on November 17 at Navy, it marked the first time in 11 years, that a new coaching staff had reigned on the sidelines.

Head Coach Carl Poff and assistant Coach Rocky Bonomo were the men who controlled the team through the 1990-91 season.

He replaced interim Head Coach Tom Justice, who assumed the duties last February 6 when 11 year coach Neil Turner resigned amid allegations of NCAA wrongdoings.

And take the reigns he did. In his first match as coach, he took Dale Budd to a second place finish in the Navy Classic (November 17) held in Annapolis, Maryland.

In the matmen's home opener (November 30), they downed George Mason University in a close match. The final score was 19-15.

Winners for that match were Danny Smith at 128, Shannyn Gillespie at 142, Brian Wenner at 158, Jason Rocker at 167, Ron Coffel at 177, and Kenny Walker at Hwt.

Next were the Cornell duals (December 2) where the Eagles recorded an 0-2-1 record in the one day event. Winners for LHU were Mike Lightner at 134, Red Childress at 158, Coffel at 167, Budd at 177, and Walker at Hwt.

Sporer named PSAC West Player of the Year for Lady Eagles

By Merritt LaPorta

After capturing the 1990 NCAA Eastern Regional title last year, the Lady Eagle hoopsters were ready to make another trip to the Elite Eight behind the solid play of their offense.

This year the team ran into a small roadblock by the name of Clarion University and had to settle for second place in both the PSAC title game and the Eastern Regionals.

The team finished the season with a 20-10 record with several key players being recognized for their tremendous efforts.

Seniors Lisa Sporer and Amy Barger sparkled for the Lady Eagles this year. Barger was chosen for the PSAC All-Conference team and as an Eastern Regional All-Star.

Sporer received PSAC All-Conference team, was chosen PSAC Western Division Player of the Year, and was an honorable mention as a Kodack All-American. Senior Angie Murphy was also selected as an

After a small break between semesters, the mat men came back refreshed and rejuvenated as they hosted the PSAC championships (January 25 and 26) and put six wrestlers in the top three in the PSAC, including two state champions.

Coach Poff, in his first year at Lock Haven, coached Gillespie and Coffel (134 and 167 respectively) to the state championship title.

Also placing in the top three at the PSAC championships were Kemal Pengram at 150 (2nd), Brian Slates at 118 (3rd), Danny Smith at 126 (3rd), and Dale Budd at 177 (3rd).

After this, Lock Haven hosted Bloomsburg (February 7) and destroyed them by a score of 29-9. Winners for this contest were Slates at 118, Gillespie at 134, Lightner at 142, Wenner at 158, Budd at 177, and Rocker at 190.

The Bald Eagles then traveled to West Virginia (February 9), an EWL rival, where they were prevalent in a very close match, the final score was 21-16.

Winners against West Virginia were Jeff Brinker at 126, Gillespie at 134, Pengram at 150, and Budd at 177. Rockers match ended in a draw.

After this, something had to give when the EWL's first and second ranked teams went head to head at Penn State (February 15). Lock Haven showed up at Penn State and put a deep fear of the Bald Eagles in to the Nittany Lions before dropping the closest match of the season by a score of 19-16.

Winners for Lock Haven were Slates at 118, Gillespie at 134, Lightner at 142, and Budd at 190. Coffel at 167 drew in his contest.

After a disappointing loss to Penn State, Lock Haven bounced right back to Crush Clarion (February 22), at home, by a score of 28-8. In this contest, the home crowd gave Walker a standing ovation for his last

Shawn Liddick

This week was an extremely busy week for the LHU track team as they traveled to the Penn Relays, the Millersville Metric Open, and the East Stroudsburg Pocono Decathlon - Heptathlon.

In the Penn Relays (April 26), the Mens 4x100 team of Steve Kravitz, Steve Reeser, Mark Robinson, and Bo Thurman ran a 44.01 which was the best time of the year and made the semi-finals.

The Mens Distance Relay of Kevin Wheeler, Kravitz, Reeser, and Ron McMichael ran a 10:35.47 which was also the best time of the year and also made the semi-finals.

The Mens 4x400 of Kravitz, Robinson, Kenny May, and Reeser ran a 3:20.4 and placed third in the state of Pennsylvania division.

Bo Thurman was the second alternate out of 20 for the 100 meter but he did not run because no athlete scratched from the race.

At the Millersville race (April 27) the Eagles had some of the best performances of the year. Head Coach Mark Elliston said that "It was a nice sunny day and everyone just went for it."

The most impressive was senior Captain Sonja Yingling. She won the Long Jump with a result of 19' 1". This jump broke the school record of 18' 5 1/2" by Deanne Hoffer in 1985.

This provisionally qualifies her for the NCAA Division II national championships. Coach Elliston said that "Sonja had a great day. I think that she could qualify automatically for nationals (19' 7 1/4") if she can get better extension into the pit."

Yingling also broke the school record in the 100 High Hurdles by running a 15.35 sneaking by the former record of 15.14 held by Nancy Larena in 1984. In this event, she placed fourth.

Patti Smoker was third in the High Jump with a jump of 5' 4". She had some excellent attempts at the school record of 5' 6" but she is still coming up just a little short with just two meets left in the season.

Kristin Walters was fourth in the Javelin with a throw of 122' 10". "This is about five feet off her best but it is good to have her back in the 120's again", said Coach Elliston.

For the men, High Jumper Jimmy Rickett won the event with a jump of 6' 8 1/4". Coach Elliston said that it was "then that we decided that he should take some jumps at the school record of 6' 11 1/4" and he was close with a couple of jumps. When Jimmy starts putting good jumps together, he could possible get the record."

Junior McMichael qualified for PSAC championships in the 5000 meter run with a time of 15:22.72 and personal best by about 35 seconds. "Ron ran a super smart race and really came on in the last lap to win," said Coach Elliston.

Freshman Steve Kravitz had a personal best in the 400 meters with a time of 50.0 to place second overall. May placed sixth in the same event with a 51.24.

Wheeler was one of the big surprises of the meet running two personal bests and qualifying for PSAC conference championships in a second event. Wheeler dropped his time in the 1500 meter from 4.06 to a 3:59.69 to place fourth and in the 800 meter, he went from a 1:57.8 to a 1:54.53 to place fourth in the race and third on the all time LHU list.

The Mens 4x100 relay of Kravitz, Reeser, Robinson, and Thurman, bested their time from the Penn Relays to 43.87 to place second overall.

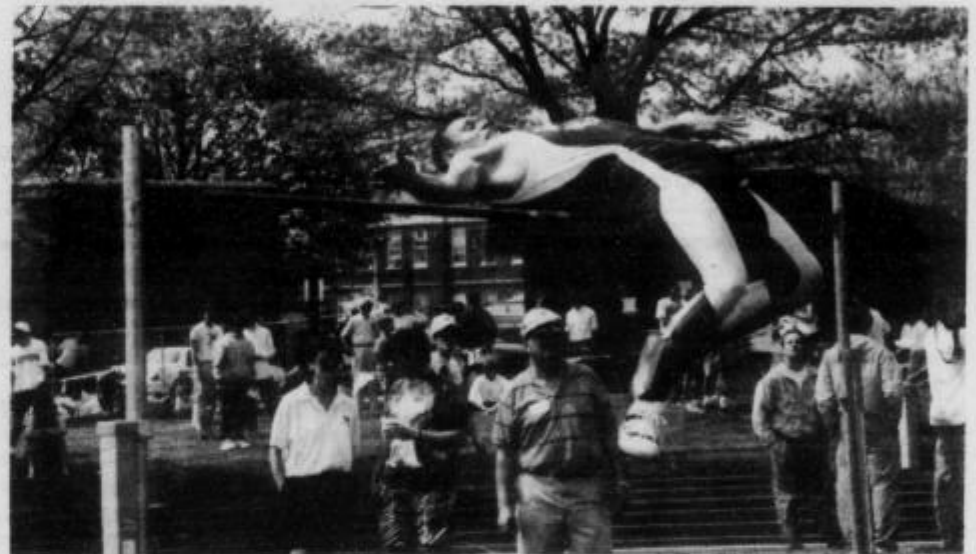

The 4x400 was first place with a time of 3:19.48 which was better than their Penn Relay time the day before. Steve Reeser, coming off a bad 800 race, ran a 47.19 split on the 4x400.

Tracy Trapp and Glen Allison competed at the East Stroudsburg in the Pocono Decathlon/Heptathlon.

Trapp won the Heptathlon out of five competitors with a personal best score of 3995, just 59 points off the school record. Coach Elliston said that "Tracy did a great job. Her 800 wasn't as good as it could have been but she was solid in her other events, especially in the High Jump which she won with a 4' 11"."

Allison had personal bests in seven out of 10 events but his High Jump and Long Jump were well below his usual. So he had to settle for a fourth place finish.

The team's next action is at Lincoln this Saturday (May 4).

Batmen swing past California and IUP

By Rob Heller
Eagle Eye Sports Editor

Last weekend the Bald Eagle Baseball team split double headers at home with Indiana (IUP) and California, moving their overall record to 5-21, and 5-11 in the PSAC Western division.

It was a high powered weekend for the Bald Eagles offense who outscored their opponents last weekend 32-31 in four games.

"We hit the ball well, but our pitchers couldn't hold them down," said Head Coach Lefty Lovelace. "In the first game (against California, Saturday) they scored eight runs, we won the game, but we shouldn't give up eight runs."

In that game against California, the Bald Eagles won 12-8. Rob Wright, Mike Signor, and Roy Brodzina combined for the Eagles victory. Signor was credited with the win, pitching 3 2/3 innings scattering five hits while giving up three runs.

Five members of the Eagles got together and knocked in all 12 runs. Chuck Boswell had a big day going 2-3 with 3 RBI, 2 runs scored and a HR. Brian Naylor also had a hot bat going 3-4 with 2 RBI, 2 runs scored and a HR.

Neil Emory put on a hitting display, going 3-4 with 3 RBI, 2 runs scored and a HR of his own. Andy Grosh (2-4 with 2 RBI, 1 run scored and a HR) and Erick Kozak (1-3 with 2 RBI, 1 run scored and, yes, a HR).

In the second game the Bald Eagles lost a tough 11-8 decision. Steve Smith received the loss, in relief of Brett Sterh, going 4 2/3 innings giving up eight hits and six runs.

Emory was a one man wrecking crew in this one going 2-3 with 5, that's right, 5 RBI, 2 runs scored, and 2 Dingers. Boswell and Greg Strouse both went 2-3 and each scored 2 runs.

On Friday the Bald Eagles drew with IUP, as they split the double header. The Eagles took the first one behind the arms of Heverly and Signor.

Heverly went 6 1/3 innings giving up four hits and six runs (two were earned). Signor pitched 2 2/3 innings of no-hit baseball to earn the victory.

Kozak was the offensive weapon today going 3-4 with 4 RBI, 2 runs scored, and a round tripper. Naylor went 3-5 in the contest.

The Haven dropped a tough one in the second game by a score of 6-5. Stehr gave up six runs and six hits in 1 1/3 innings of work and recorded the loss.

Shannon Herr kept the batmen close with some pretty impressive numbers, 2-3 with 2 RBI, 1 run scored to go along with a HR. Kozak went 2-3 with a run scored for the Eagles.

This moved the Bald Eagles to 5-11 in the conference. Slippery Rock is in first with a record of 10-6. IUP is right in their heels with a 11-7 conference mark.

"I don't think we can make the playoffs, but we can make it tough for some other teams to. And we can move up (in the standings)," said Lovelace.

The Bald Eagles will take the field for the last time this year, Saturday at 1 p.m. versus Edinboro.

Lacrosse team crushes competition this week

As the season winds down, the LHU Lacrosse Lady Eagles still crush all opponents for another five minutes. Next to score was McCoy, unassisted, when she put one in the back of the net at the 11:45 mark. Following up McCoy was Christine Curcio who blasted past Glassboro defenders with a fury none could match. They then put together another multi-goal run, except this time it was for five goals.

To lead off the second half for the Eagles was Tara Igou's goal, unassisted, less than a minute in to the new half. It came at the 24:13 mark.

Glassboro held tough for a short while but could not stop the scoring power of Denise Pileggi and Deidre Kipp.

Pileggi started the four minute onslaught when she put one in, unassisted, at the 16:32 mark.

Then, Lock Haven's one man gang took over as she proceeded to score three goals in less than three minutes. All three of her goals were unassisted and came at 15:21, 13:04, and 12:41 respectively. This was her third hat trick of the season.

Glassboro then scraped together two goals to make the game look more respectable when their Carol Hess at 11:05, and Sandy Duda at 5:04, scored to make the score 9-3 LHU.

McCoy added insult to injury as she scored her second goal of the game with just :39 seconds left to play and send the Eagles' score in to double digits as they shattered Glassboro by a score 10-3.

The next day, the Bald Eagles traveled to PSAC rival Slippery Rock as they crushed the Rock by a score of 16-7.

Leading the way for the Bald Eagles was Ginny Berry with a hat trick plus one as she led the Lady Eagles with four goals. Other leading scorers for the Haven were McCoy, Gillespie, and Kipp.

Two days later, the Haven went up against Ithaca College in a make up game that was originally scheduled for March 30.

Lock Haven defeated Ithaca College by a score of 8-6 in an extremely close game.

Leading the way for this game was McCoy and Igou who both scored a hat trick. Other goals were by Kipp and Ginny Berry. The only loss of the week is when the Haven were defeated West Chester in the last game of the season as well as the last PSAC matchup before finals.

This game was close from the start as the Lady Eagles hung tough the entire game and went goal for goal with West Chester.

Lock Haven's scorers for the West Chester game were Berry (2) and McCoy (2). Deidre Kipp recorded her fourth hat trick of the season in the 10-7 loss to the Rams of West Chester.

The Lady Eagles end the season 10-3 with a 5-1 record in the PSAC.

The Lady Eagles' next action is at home when they host the PSAC championships on May 3-4.

Golfers shoot well at PSAC Championships

By Rob Heller
Eagle Eye Sports Editor

The Bald Eagle Golf team took their successful 4-2 duel meet record into the PSAC Championships last Monday and Tuesday at Treasure Lake Golf Club in Dubois, Pennsylvania.

Over the two-day event all golfers played three rounds of golf, which is equal to 54 holes.

The final results of the Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference Championships were: 1. Indiana (IUP) 1,134 (team score); 2. Slippery Rock 1,163; 3. Clarion 1,211; 4. Edinboro 1,264; 5. Shippensburg 1,277; 6. Millersville 1,280; 7. Lock Haven 1,285; 8. West Chester had no team score.

Head Coach Bob Weller was correct in his quote to the Eagle Eye last week when he said, "I don't think anybody is going to challenge Slippery Rock or IUP. Those two will be all by themselves, and the other schools will be fighting for third place."

This was a good assessment of the talent pool in the PSAC. There was a 48-stroke difference between second place Slippery Rock and third place Clarion. The difference between fourth place Edinboro and seventh place Lock Haven was only 21 strokes.

Low scores for the Bald Eagles were: Mark Snyder, 254; Trent Masteller, 255; Tad Masteller, 260; Brian Reeser, 263; Cory Lehman, 264; Mike Kendall, 270; and Chris Kalna, 272.

"I feel that the team played better than they ever did in the Conference," said Weller. "IUP just shot the lights out." He added that the team was in fourth place at one time, but shot a bad nine holes. That was all, nine holes out of 54.

"I was pleased with the team's performance, especially the kids who will be back next year," said Weller. "This was a good indication that we'll be competitive next year."

The Bald Eagles will lose seniors Reeser and Kalna to graduation. The rest of the team will be returning next year to improve on their already outstanding play.

in their path as they were victorious in three out of four games this week.

The first game of the week was this past Friday when they played Glassboro State College at home. Here they were victorious as they crushed them by a score of 10-3.

During the first half, the Lady Eagles were feeling out their opponents until Anne Whitlock, assisted by Eileen McCoy, shot and scored at 12:28 into the first half. McCoy's assist was the only one of the game.

Thus sparked a four goal run that lasted and scored, unassisted, less than a minute later at 10:55 left in the first half.

A few minutes later, Bridget Gillespie screamed past all Glassboro players as she took a solo shot downfield and scored, unassisted, with 7:36 left in the half.

Glassboro decided to wake up at this point and held the Eagles scoreless and adding one of their own, from Kathy Cunningham, with 1:29 left in the half.

Lock Haven was not satisfied with only a 4-1 lead after the first half, and came out

LHU student runs in Boston Marathon

By Cory Marshall
Eagle Eye Editor in Chief

Lock Haven University student Matt Andrews was amazed at what he saw when he stepped onto the starting line of the Boston Marathon.

"It was like going to a Billy Graham Crusade," said Andrews. "When all the people in the crowd gather in front of him for his sermon."

All 8,500 of them as a matter of fact. Runners from all over the world were on hand for the prestigious event.

"Then it was like a volcano," Andrews said. "Since you are not allowed to wear warmups during the race, everybody began throwing them off in every direction before the gun sounded."

The race which started at Hopkington in downtown Boston was a 26-mile leg race. Temperature conditions at race time were 50 degrees and cloudy.

All runners were put into groups of 100 according to their qualifying time. All runners had to post a qualifying time of under three hours and ten minutes just to enter the race. He competed in marathons in Washington where he finally finished with a time of 3:08, good enough to compete in the Boston Marathon. There Andrews had to make a photocopy of the official records of the race and send it in order to compete.

He also had to submit a $35 entry fee plus pay an additional $12 to join the athletic Congress.

Andrews had his problems, however. At about the 14th mile, Andrews began experiencing leg cramps, and had to walk it off throughout the course of the race.

Andrews did finish, one of 5,500 runners who finished the race. His time was 3:38.

The marathon was all part of the annual Patriots' Day Celebration in the city of Boston. It is considered a state-wide holiday which honors Paul Revere and the thirteen colonies who fought in the Revolutionary War.

Also going on that day was a major league baseball game at Fenway Park between the Boston Red Sox and the Cleveland Indians which started at 11 a.m. that day. The race began at noon and ran past Fenway Park.

By the time Andrews finished, the weather was 40 degrees, and pouring down raining. The race ended at Wellesley College.

Andrews goes through extensive training. He runs 60 miles a week and swims a couple as well. He also tries to watch his diet. He competes in 8-10 road races a year.

The senior Health Science major credits his sister with getting into road racing. The Eagles Mere native joined by Pat Ward also of Lock Haven traveled by car to Boston where they drove through the race course the day before.

After the race, Andrews was given a reflective blanket to retain body heat. Each marathon finisher received a certificate.

Andrews said he would like to run in the marathon again despite having to go through the process of qualifying all over again. "It was pretty wild," Andrews said. "It is the biggest thrill I've ever had."

Lady Eagles finish second in PSAC Western Division

By Merritt La Porta
Eagle Eye Sports Reporter

The Lady Eagle softball team wrapped up the regular season with a doubleheader sweep against Edinboro last Saturday, and a split against Clarion on Sunday. The split cost the Lady Eagles a tie with California for the PSAC West title.

Saturday the Lady Eagles cruised to a 7-2 and a 3-2 win over the Lady Scots of Edinboro behind a strong offensive performance and outstanding pitching.

In game one Lock Haven struck for 14 hits with Jenn Huntzinger going 3 for 4. Teresa Kovach, Amie Zimmerman, Jess Brandt and Kim August all going 2 for 3.

Game two was an eight inning affair with junior Linda Polk going the distance for the win.

Sunday, Polk came right back and hurled another seven innings as the Lady Eagles took game one from Clarion, 6-0.

Polk held Clarion to just four hits while Jen Horner led the way at the plate with a homerun and a triple.

Zimmerman, Kovach and August also added to the offensive show with 2 for 3 performances.

In game two, however, LHU could only manage four hits for the game and lost 2-1.

Kovach went 2 for 3 at the plate and drove in the only Lady Eagle run, while Stephanie Malchak only allowed six Clarion hits, but took the loss.

Now the 17-13 Lady Eagles look ahead to the PSAC Championships this weekend at Elm Park in Williamsport. Because of their loss to Clarion, the Lady Eagles must now face off against top seeded and number four in the nation Bloomsburg in opening round play.

Tennis team breaks even

By Rona Houser
Eagle Eye Sports Reporter

The Lock Haven University Men's Tennis Team had a win and a loss, this week in dual meet action.

Lock Haven was defeated on Monday by Susquehanna University by a score of 1-8. The only winner for the Bald Eagle's was number one player, Scott Kinlock. He defeated Brian Torres, 6-3, 6-1.

The team ended the season with a win Tuesday against Juniata College, 5-4. The results were: Scott Kinlock over Jeff Clukey, 6-0, 6-3; Frank Rosato lost to Jon Thaler, 6-4, 6-4; Henning Schleutner defeated John Brenner, 6-3, 6-3; Dan Miller was defeated by Bill Brenner, 6-2, 6-1; Bill Feerrar beat Brian Kreps, 7-6, 6-1. Bob Murdock won by forfeit.

Juniata College won both doubles matches and gave L.H.U. a forfeit win at number three doubles to secure the overall win for Lock Haven. Doubles results: Harris and Murdock were defeated by Brenner and Brenner, 6-0, 6-2; and Ferrar and Miller lost to Clukey and Thaler, 6-3, 7-5. The win put L.H.U.'s season record at 5-4.

Coach Fisher said, "I'm very happy with the season results. I'm glad for the players that the season ended so well."

Lock Haven also attended the P.S.A.C. Championship this past weekend. The doubles team of Scott Kinlock and Brady Buck were successful in making it to the second round, but were eventually beaten in the next round by Slippery Rock. The team tied with Chyenny for 11th place out of 14 schools.

Lady Eagles earlier in the season. In 1988 Lock Haven finished fourth at the PSAC's but received an NCAA Division II playoff bid, and ended the season second in the nation, the highest national finish ever by a PSAC team.

Lock Haven finished as the fourth best hitting team in the conference with a .303 average

Teresa Kovach finished the season as the team's leading hitter with a .398 average. Jen Horner also finished as a consistent hitter for head coach Kim Hasson, batting a solid .354. Seniors Lori DiVecchio (.346) and Amie Zimmerman (.344) also provided power at the plate this season.

On the mound, Linda Polk finished with a 6-3 record and an ERA of 0.67, third best in the conference.

The Lady Eagles and Bloom square off in game one of the Championships at 11 a.m. Saturday, followed by California and Shippensburg at 1 p.m.

Lightner Participates in a NCAA YES Wrestling Clinic

Lock Haven University of Pennsylvania wrestling standout Michael Lightner participated in the recent NCAA Youth Education Sports (YES) wrestling clinic held at the University of Iowa, Iowa City, Iowa.

Lightner was selected by Head Wrestling Coach Carl Poff as a leader, role model, and student who excels in school and athletics. Lightner assisted with skill instruction, demonstrations and teaching younger student-athletes through the YES mentor program.

The Mentor Program provides opportunities for collegiate student-athletes to interact (in small groups) with younger student-athletes, discuss positive goal setting, share valuable personal experiences, proved positive feedback and help youth learn how to apply what they have learned in athletics to other areas of lives.

"We are delighted with the results of the YES Mentor Program and the effectiveness of mentors such as Michael Lightner who help younger student-athletes develop skills and abilities so they have a chance to be successful in life," said Edward A. Thiebe, director of youth programs.

YES demonstrates that college coaches and student-athletes share the NCAA's commitment to challenging young people to strive for higher levels of achievement, both in athletics and academics
