

Dayananda Knowledgeable On Novelist Malgonkar

The novels of the Indian author Manohar Malgonkar have become an area of special interest for Dr. James Dayananda, professor of English at Lock Haven State College.

In March, Dr. Dayananda will read his paper "Women in Manohar Malgonkar's Novels" for a panel discussion on "Feminine Sensibility and Characterization in Indian Literature" at the 25th Annual Meeting of the Association for Asian Studies in Chicago.

His review of Malgonkar's most recent novel, "The Devil's Wind" has been accepted for publication by the New York Times Book Review, and he is currently writing a critical analysis of Malgonkar for the Twayne's World Authors Series.

Two of Dr. Dayananda's articles on Malgonkar have been accepted by university presses. "Rhythm in Malgonkar's 'The Princes'" will be published in "Literature East and West" by the University of Texas. The University of Chicago will publish "The Initiatory Motifs in Malgonkar's 'The Princes'" in "Mahfil," a quarterly of South Asian Literature.

Through Dr. Dayananda's

efforts, Mr. Malgonkar will visit the Lock Haven State College campus on Thursday and Friday to meet with faculty and students and to discuss Indian culture.

Thursday evening at 8 p.m., the Indian novelist will lecture on "The Last Days of the Maharajas" in Bentley Hall lounge, open to the public.

Thursday morning, Mr. Malgonkar will discuss the art of fiction with the "Poetry and Fiction Workshop" classes of Vincent Stewart and Joseph Nicholson.

On Friday morning he will discuss Indian English with Dr. Marcus Konick's "History of the English Language" class. Friday afternoon he will talk about two of his novels, "The Princes" and "The Devil's Wind," with Dr. Dayananda's "World Literature" and "Non-Western Literature" classes.

A book exhibit in connection with the visit is on display in the library, and Mr. Malgonkar's novels are now available in the college bookstore.

Dr. Dayananda is a native of India, born in Bangalore and educated at Mysore University. He earned his Ph.D. in English at Temple University.

Accused Homosexual Affiliate Receives Teaching Approval

State Education Secretary John C. Pittenger has approved teaching credentials for Joseph Acanfora, a former Penn State student.

Acanfora, 21, graduated from Penn State earlier this year. Last February, he and three other persons filed a suit charging Penn State with discrimination against homosexuals. Acanfora was then dismissed from his student teaching position at Park Forest Junior High School in State College. However, he was reinstated with the consent of both the school district and Penn State.

Customarily, colleges and universities in Pennsylvania make recommendations for or against the certification of a teacher and these are seldom disregarded, even though under state law only the Secretary has the authority to certify teachers. In Acanfora's case officials at Penn State were unable to make a decision and forwarded the application to Secretary Pittenger with no recommendation.

In a letter to Acanfora, Pittenger said, "I have reviewed with care your application for teacher certification and other materials pertinent to my decision. Your performance academically and in the classroom as a student teacher fully meets the requirements of the law of this Commonwealth. I have, therefore, decided to issue you a certificate to teach earth and space science.

The role of a teacher in our schools is an important one. I would challenge you to be a learner as well as a teacher. Good luck to you."

Pittenger said that he had consulted with the attorney general and was informed that Acanfora could not be legally barred from certification. The part of the law which has been in question is the statutory requirement of "good moral character."

There was no evidence of homosexual acts on the part of Acanfora. However, the question arose out of Acanfora's association with a group at Penn State that seeks civil rights for homosexuals. Officials stated that they could not deny teaching certificates on a theory of guilt by association, nor could they act in a manner which infringes upon free speech.

"I based my decision on Mr. Acanfora's performance as a student and in his capacity as a student teacher. On both counts, he has performed consistently with standards of the Commonwealth and the Pennsylvania State University," concluded Pittenger.

Graduate School Hopefuls

May Obtain NSF Fellowships

National Science Foundation Graduate Fellowships are offered to graduate school aspirants again this year. Panels of eminent scientists will evaluate qualifications applicants. Final selection will be made by the Foundation, with awards to be announced on March 15, 1973.

Applicants to the NSF Graduate Fellowship Program must be beginning graduate students by the Fall of 1973. Subject to the availability of funds, new fellowships awarded in the Spring of 1973 will be for periods of three years, the second and third years contingent on certification to the Foundation by the fellowship institution of the student's satisfactory progress toward an advanced degree in the sciences. The annual stipend for Graduate Fellows will be $3,600 for a twelve-month tenure with no dependency allowances.

These fellowships will be awarded for study or work leading to master's or doctoral degrees in the mathematical, physical, medical, biological, engineering, and social sciences, and in the history and philosophy of science. Awards will not be made in clinical, education, or business fields, in history or social work, or for work leading to medical, dental, law, or joint Ph.D.-professional degrees.

Applicants must be citizens of the United States and will be judged solely on the basis of ability. They will be required to take the Graduate Record Examinations designed to test scientific aptitude and achievement. The examinations, administered by the Educational Testing Service, will be given on December 9, 1972 at designated centers throughout the United States and in certain foreign countries.

The deadline date for the submission of applications for NSF Graduate Fellowships is November 27, 1972. Further information and application materials may be obtained from the Fellowship Office, National Research Council, 2101 Constitution Avenue Washington, D. C. 20418.

Danforth Fellowships To Be Awarded In March

C. Herbert Larson, Director of Placement, Bentley Hall, invites inquiries about the Danforth Fellowships, to be awarded this March.

The Fellowships, offered by the Danforth Foundation of St. Louis, Missouri, are open to men and women who are seniors or recent graduates of accredited colleges in the United States, who have serious interest in college teaching as a career, and who plan to study for a Ph.D. in a field of study common to the American undergraduate liberal arts curriculum. Applicants may be single or married, must be under thirty years of age, and may not have begun any graduate or professional study beyond the baccalaureate at the time application papers are filed.

Approximately 100 Fellowships will be awarded in March 1973. Candidates must be nominated by Liaison Officers of their undergraduate institutions by November 1, 1972. The Foundation does not accept direct applications for the Fellowships.

Danforth Fellows are eligible for four years of financial assistance, with a maximum annual living stipend of $2,700 for single Fellows and $2,950 for married Fellows, plus tuition and fees. Dependency allowances are available. Financial need is not a condition for consideration.

Danforth Fellows may hold certain other fellowships concurrently and will be Danforth Fellows without stipend until the other awards lapse.

The Danforth Foundation, created by the late Mr. and Mrs. William H. Danforth in 1927, is a philanthropy concerned primarily with people and values. Presently, the Foundation focuses its activities in the areas of education and the city.

F U M B L E

by Bill Heilemann

The names and the numbers were the same, but any resemblance between the Bald Eagle offense on Friday night at Bloomsburg and the one that played Westminster is purely coincidental. The real Eagle offense ground out 426 yards in a 24-22 win over the Bloomsburg Huskies.

--- A WELCOME SIGHT ---

Ed McGill showed what he can do when he doesn't have to elude three defensive linemen before looking for someone to throw to. On Friday night, the offensive line made sure the only thing Ed had to look for was his receivers and he found them 14 out of 20 times. Five of these times the recipient was number 82, Skip Haley.

The game began, as it was to continue for most of the evening with Chuck Vennie, Frank Geiger, and Bob Kline controlling much of the game with their running ability. It must have been a welcome sight for these running backs to get the hand-off, and see just as and grass where a week before there had been two defensive linemen.

The pass blocking of the offensive line was not the only thing that had improved. The line opened holes which enabled the running game to gain 249 yards. Bob Kline strolled over 137 yards of Bloomsburg grass, while Chuck Vennie zigged and zagged for 61 yards. Frank Geiger slammed through a sufficient number of people to gain 50 yards. Ed McGill carried the ball enough times to pick up some crucial first downs.

--- KLINE SCORES TOUCHDOWN ---

The first two drives bogged down, but the third one worked. Passes to Haley and Wayne Hoffman and runs by Vennie, Geiger, and Kline took the ball down to the 2. From there, Bob Kline ran into five Bloomsburg defenders, but this minor annoyance was just in for the touchdown. While all this was going on, the defense put in it's three downs of works and quickly retired to the sidelines.

--- BLOOMSBURG FIELD GOAL ---

Bloomsburg took the kickoff and was called for clipping. From his own 13, Joe Geiger, Bloomsburg's quarterback, fired a pass to his split end that went to Lock Haven's 12 yard line. The defense held, but Oberholtzer kicked a field goal to make it 7-3.

--- HUSKIE DEFENDERS ON GROUND ---

On the next series of downs, L.H.S. moved down to the 37 where Bob Kline took the ball around left end for a score. Nobody touched Kline on this play, which was due partly to Bob's quickness and partly to the fact that many Huskie defenders had been placed on the ground by Bald Eagle blocks.

--- VISIONS EXPLORED ---

The second half started out auspiciously enough for the Eagles as Ed McGill hit Skip Haley for a 42 yard touchdown. Visions of last years romp came to mind as the score went to 21-3, but these visions exploded quickly as Guber from Bloomsburg ran 9 yards for the score.

Doug Williams kicked a 23 yard field goal to put the Eagles up 24-9. Doug played a great game. He kicked all three extra points and the field goal. Considering LHS only won by two points, that's a fairly important achievement. Doug not only did that, he ran back points and kickoffs and when Jeff Knarr was hurt, he substituted as a punter.

--- NO GOAL ---

The 24-9 lead was short-lived however, as Gruber and Geiger scored quick touchdowns to make the score 24-22. The LHS offense played great ball control, but was finally forced to punt.

Bloomsburg was driving again, but a holding penalty pushed them back. On the next play, Tom Zimmerman and Paul Simcoe broke through to push them back even further. This eliminated Bloomsburg's chance for a game winning field goal.

The Bald Eagle team was much improved. If they continue this improvement they can look forward to a shot at the Western Conference title.

Hockey Team Shuts Out Keystone, 4-0

Under the leadership once of Dr. Charlotte Smith, the field hockey team won their first game of the season with a 4-0 decision over the Keystone Hockey Club. The game was played on McCollum field at 11 Saturday morning after a sudden change of plans Friday evening.

The game started out rather sluggishly for our girls for the first few minutes. However, they quickly put things together as senior-captain Rose Ann Neff scored the first goal after the first 9 minutes. Most of the first half was dominated by the Lock Haven squad with the next three goals coming very close together as the first half was meeting an end. Fine rushing by the forward line in the circle accounted for goals by JoAnne (Flash) Reagin, Gail Simpson and Kelli Cromer.

Most of the midfield play was dominated by the right side of the field, while the scoring came from the left. Passing and teamwork by the entire team, both offense and defense, looked very good for early season play. However, more practice is needed on stopping straight on passes making cross passes, and getting a shot off at goal sooner in the circle.

Cindy Karl, goalie, did not much action, although she did have a nice stick save and several long clears to start an attack. Ronnie Lawson, the only freshman on the team played an impressive game.

Almost the entire team are returning varsity starters with a few additions: Deannie Grove, junior fullback and Lawson, Simpson, and Carol (Toot) Ervaszko who played the 2nd half.

Commenting after the victory, Dr. Smith noted, "I hope to have the 2nd half as strong as the first. I don't know if the team tired out or what, but they certainly held us."

The next scheduled game will be a JV game with Bucknell on Tuesday.

New Dorm Name Proposed

Gross Hall is the name proposed by the Lock Haven State College Board of Trustees for the new women's residence hall now under construction. The board approved the proposed name at their monthly meeting held Thursday, September 21.

Upon formal approval by the alumni during Homecoming Weekend on October 14, the name will honor Miss Lydia E. Gross, who retired in June as director of elementary education after 25 years on the faculty, and her sister Miss Rebecca F. Gross, a member of the college's Board of Trustees from 1963 to 1970 and currently a member of the Board of State College and University Directors.

The residence hall, scheduled for completion in March 1973, is a $1.3 million building which will house 200 women students. It is now being constructed on the hill above the infirmary in the residence hall complex now consisting of North, High and McEntire Hall.

Student Publications Board Established

A new system for the total coordination of all student publications on the Lock Haven State campus has been established through the actions of a publications committee. The Student Publications Board (SPB) will be comprised of students and faculty members to be elected by the student body and will serve to unify all SCC funded publications under one governing body.

While the Editor-in-Chief of each publication will maintain the responsibility to select and organize his own staff, the Editor, himself will be selected by the Board. Students with the needed experience and desire to fill an Editorial post may apply for the position and all applications will be reviewed by the Board.

Once selected, the work of the Editors of each publication will be under periodic review of the SPB and this Board will have the power to terminate his office if he is not fulfilling his obligation to the students. The Board will at no time, however, have the right to censor any publication's contents or intervene in the staff's editorial work as long as each publication is serving the student body justly.

Students elected to the SPB will also be involved in establishing general publications policies and mediating any disputes that may arise concerning specific publication's policies or contents. Approval of any SCC funded publications other than the established Proseco, Eagle Eye, and Crucible will have to be granted by the SPB. This may include such things as posters for lectures or other service publications.

The student component of the SPB is comprised of three students from the general student body to be elected by the campus body. These students must be sophomores or above. One student will be elected by and from the Communications major sector of the campus population. No ranking Editor of any publication may serve as an elected officer of the Student Publications Board.

Any student interested in becoming a member of the Board must submit a petition to the SCC Executive Office by NOON, Wednesday, September 27. Petitions can be obtained in the SCC offices.
