Costs Rise, Aid Rules Tighten

Who wins? Nobody does especially the Middle-class American parents who are trying to give their sons and daughters an education.

When this year's senior class started college in 1970 they paid a tuition of $300. That money paid for the tuition of both semesters. Now these same Lock Haven students are paying over $300 for just one semester's tuition. But it doesn't stop there. Public college tuitions are expected to rise at twice their current rate over the next decade.

"By and large, anyone who makes $10,000 (a year) or more is no longer eligible (for guaranteed subsidized loans)" said Donald Payton, president of the National Council of Higher Education Loan Programs. Payton also stated that, "In the 26 states where state agencies run the program, loans are off 52 percent from the same period a year ago. In some states they are off even more - 78 percent in Pennsylvania, for instance."

According to Francis Cornelius, director of financial aid at LHSC, previously, any student could get a state assistance loan simply by proving the loan was for college expenses.

Under the former program a student could borrow up to $1,500 a year. The loan had to be repaid, but at a low interest rate which was not charged until after the student graduates. And even then the student had ten years to pay all the money back.

"Many students who qualified for the loans in previous years cannot qualify for the state loans because the family income is too high," Mr. Cornelius explained. Last year 525 LHSC students borrowed $625,000 under the state loan program. For the upcoming year, Lock Haven can expect a minimum decrease of $250,000 in the loan program for it's students.

The students at Lock Haven have another financial problem to cope with, a $50 state-mandated tuition increase at all state-owned colleges. Robert Lynch, college development director says the increase was necessary for several reasons. There is a state appropriations freeze to colleges, yet personnel and operating costs have increased.

Mr. Lynch said that the $50 yearly tuition increase can be paid at $25 for each semester. "This will soften the financial burden somewhat," he said, but he did not say who's financial burden would be softened.

or the State of Pennsylvania's.

LH Welcomes Largest Fresh Class Ever

Lock Haven State will open its doors this year to the largest freshman class in its history.

After a sharp drop in enrollment over the past two years, this year's freshmen enrollment (682) climbed to well over the former all-time high of 650 freshmen in 1970.

The anticipated total enrollment for LHS this fall is 2,450, an increase of more than 100 students over the 2,337 who attended the college in the fall of 1972.

In addition to the six-hundred eighty-two freshmen, transfer students have enrolled for the fall semester. This is one of the probable reasons for increased enrollment at LHS this fall.

All students who have registered for LA101 English Conference are asked to meet their professors in Price Auditorium at 12:30 on Thursday, September 6. This is a very IMPORTANT meeting. All should be present.

LOST and FOUND

LHS Directory in Progress

Students who wish to have their name, address, and phone number printed in the Student Directory for the 73-74 term, must fill out a release form.

Students who did not send this release form back during the summer, and who want this information printed in the directory, are asked to fill out a form in the secretary's office, on the lower level of the Pub.

Those who have already filled out a release form during summer vacation but have changed their place of residence since returning to LHS are asked to please stop in the Pub Secretary's Office and make the necessary changes.

The Secretary will then send the corrected information to the Computer Center where the directory is being compiled for publication early in October.

Hours Longer, Menu Bigger

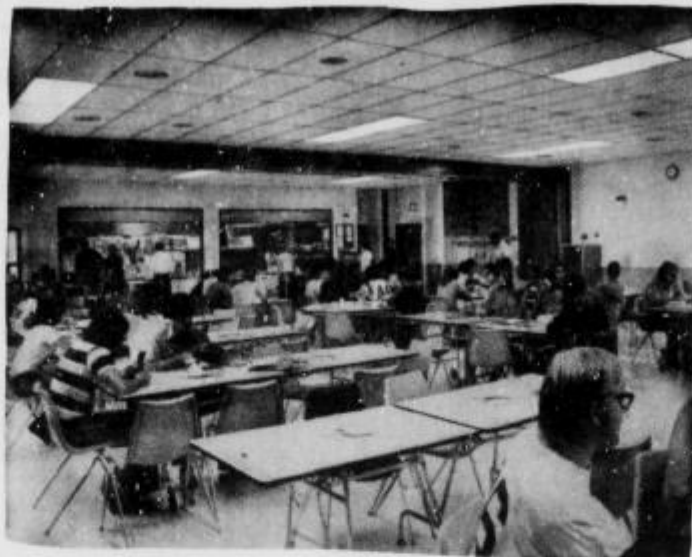

Summer Sees Progress For Eagle Wing

The popularity of the Eagle Wing Snack Bar has not faltered over the summer. Not only have the hours been extended for additional convenience to the student population but the menu is now bigger than ever.

Pizza a big favorite of many L.H.S. students appears on the menu at a reasonable price. Depending on size and type (plain, pepperoni, sausage), the cost ranges from $1.00 to $1.45. French toast has also been added to the breakfast variety for the cost of 50¢ for three slices.

As anyone who frequents the snack bar has noticed, the prices have been raised slightly. Mr. Joseph Nagy, Director of Parsons Union Building, attributes this to the rising cost of food which naturally is affecting everyone. The prices, Mr Nagy stated, were adjusted as little as possible and are still the lowest of any eating place in the campus vicinity. Some other notable changes in snack bar dining are the use of china plates and cups rather than paper ones. With the price of paper also on the increase, it became more economical to use regular plates. Also, Mr.

Nagy pointed out, it is more appetizing.

In order to serve the students more quickly, two adults who will work evenings join the adults who work during the day. Students will also work in the snack bar throughout the day and evening during the big rush hours.

In a continuing effort to satisfy the students, the snack bar will begin to offer a whole line of sundaes in the near future. Mr. Nagy is currently trying to locate the necessary equipment for this latest treat.

Since many campus activities run to a late hour, snack bar hours are extended for the students convenience. The Eagle Wing is open every evening until midnight.

First meeting of Chess club will be Tues., Sept. 11 at 7p.m. in Lg. Conf. Rm. of Pub. Will be org. meeting to plan events for year. Nominations for officers will be open at this time.

There will be a year book organizational meeting on Monday, Sept. 10th, in Raub 306 at 7p.m. Everyone is welcome to attend and join the PRAECO staff!!!

The information contained in the article about the fountain was misleading. The SCC supplied $3,100 thru Cultural Affairs Committee. College and Friends of Lock Haven provided the additional $1,500. College also provided installation masonry.

Rebuilding Key to Early Soccer Drills , Says Coach Herrmann

After the first week of practice LHS soccer coach Karl Herrmann commented, "We think we have some good personnel, excellent team speed, and a group of guys with good game sense and soccer intelligence."

"With the loss of some of our players through graduation, we have been doing a lot of experimenting and rebuilding," Herrmann continued. "It's just a matter now of getting the most efficient eleven on the field rather."

The LHS Soccer head coach stated that the returning members of last year's team have come back in good condition but added that it would be another four to five weeks before the whole team would reach peak of physical condition that they were capable of reaching, or he felt they could reach.

Herrmann listed a probable starting line-up for Saturday's scrimmage at Bucknell with an extra man listed at each position. This person would interchange with the other starters at that position in order to give each a rest.

Fullbacks slated to see plenty of action are Lenny Long, Bob Wright, Al Rice, and Bob Boles.

Alternating in the front line will be Tom Rowan, Dave Chambers, and brothers Bill and Tom Bush.

Halfbacks include Don Copeland, Darrell Nagle, Bob Weaver, Rich DeBernardo, and Sandy Bush.

Steve Tanner is set to start at goalie with Herrmann adding that the team's other goalies will see action also. "At the scrimmage we want to look at everybody and to see who works where," concluded Herrmann.
