Course of Study.

The chief object of all Normal Schools is to prepare young men and women to engage in the great work of teaching. Since the moulding of youthful minds has become an honored profession, too much importance can not be placed upon the necessity of thorough preparation on the part of those who engage in the profession. It has been said that "the destiny of the nation depends upon the children of the public schools." We would add that the success of public school children in forming the destiny of the nation depends upon the teacher. The State authorities have prescribed a course of studies which they deem best calculated to prepare teachers for their responsible duties. In our institution this course of study is followed out in the most thorough and systematic manner.

But as we live in an eminently practical age, and as all who are seeking an education do not intend to teach, courses of studies have been marked out which are intended to prepare students for different pursuits in life. He who desires a college education will here find opportunities for preparing himself for admittance to any class in the best colleges of the land, and those who expect to become business men may be assured that the advantages offered here are not anywhere excelled. In the department of ornamental branches we say, confidently, that no institution in the State offers greater inducements.

Drawing, painting, music, and the like, are taught by the most competent teachers and on the most reasonable terms.

In all the departments of this institution the great object will be to develop the several faculties of the mind in such a manner as to preserve a just equipoise among them.

The morals and manners of students are carefully moulded by watchful teachers.

The object of the institution is, in short, to send out into the world men and women who may spread abroad the influence of education; gentlemen and ladies who may be ornaments to society.

Model School.

This is entirely separate from all other departments, and is intended to be a model, not only in its management and in its course of elementary instruction, but also to afford an opportunity for those who are preparing to become teachers to gain a necessary degree of experience, under the guidance of the Principal, to enable them at once to enter upon the duties of the school-room, with a confidence and competence which parents and guardians demand of those who take charge of the training of their children.

Diplomas.

A student graduating in the Elementary Course, will receive a diploma, in which will be named the branches he has studied, and by which he will be constituted BACHELOR OF THE ELEMENTS; the diplomas of those graduating in the Scientific and Classical Courses, will enumerate the distinctive branches of these courses, and constitute their holders, respectively, BACHELOR OF THE SCIENCES, and BACHELOR OF THE CLASSICS.

Regular graduates who have continued their studies for two years, who have practiced their profession during two annual terms in the Common Schools of the State, and who have presented to the Faculty and Board of Examiners, a certificate of good moral character and skill in the Art of Teaching from the Board, or Boards of Directors in whose employment they taught, countersigned by the proper County Superintendent, may receive second diplomas, constituting them MASTERS in the several studies embraced in the courses in which they graduated, and conferring upon them corresponding professional degrees as follows: Teachers of Elementary Didactics, Teachers of Scientific Didactics, Teachers of Classical Didactics.

The Normal School law makes it the duty of the authorities of the Normal Schools to grant diplomas or State certificates to Actual Teachers in Common Schools, without their having attended the Normal Schools as students. The following are the conditions upon which these diplomas will be granted:

1. All applicants must be twenty-one years of age.
2. They must have taught in Common Schools during three full annual terms.
3. They must present certificates in regard to moral character and skill in practical teaching, similar to those presented by the regular graduates, and have them signed by the same school officers.
4. They must be examined in all the branches they desire named in their diplomas; and these examinations must be at the time of the annual examinations at the schools where application is made.
5. A Thesis on some educational subject will be required as a part of the examination.

The diplomas, granted in accordance with these conditions, will contain an enumeration of the branches of study in which the holder was found proficient, and confer upon him the professional degree to which the extent of his knowledge may entitle him.

All the diplomas are authorized and furnished by the State, and exempt those who hold them from any further examination by authorities acting under the provisions of our Common School laws.

By a recent Act of the Legislature, the following appropriations are made by the State to Normal Students and Graduates:

1. Each student over seventeen years of age, who shall sign a paper declaring his intention to teach in the Common Schools of the State, shall receive the sum of FIFTY CENTS per week towards defraying the expenses of tuition and boarding.

 Applicants will be particular to state their AGE and whether they intend to become TEACHERS.

Our Location

is one with which no one can fail to be pleased; Bloomsburg being the centre of a rich and extensive agricultural region. In point of healthfulness and beauty and variety of scenery, it is not surpassed by any in the country; the buildings being at such an elevation as to command a view of the town and valley below, stretching out to the distant mountain spurs, at whose feet flow the swift waters of the North Branch of the Susquehanna. Of this scenery a recent visitor says that "it alone is sufficient for a liberal education." Being situated on the Lackawanna & Bloomsburg R. R. and only two miles from Rupert, on the Catawissa R. R. it is easy of access.

Literary Society.

The Philologian Society has a large and handsomely furnished room in which its weekly meetings are held; besides a good reference Library.

Apparatus.

The Institution has already about two thousand dollars' worth of Chemical and Philosophical Apparatus, and intends to make additions as fast as the classes need illustrations and experiments that we can not give or make now. It is the purpose of the Trustees and Principal to provide such facilities as will make the School in its Normal Department equal to the best in the State. In its Classical and Scientific Departments, they at present only purpose to prepare young men and women for college as thoroughly as any other institution in the country. They do not make a show on paper of what they can not put in practice in the school.

The accommodations are very superior. There are two large and handsome buildings, of which the cut on the first page of the Register gives a minutely correct idea. One contains a fine hall, capable of seating from one thousand to twelve hundred persons, and seven large and well ventilated recitation rooms. The other is divided into dormitories sufficient in number to accommodate about one hundred and twenty-five boarders; there are besides four rooms for the Model School, Society rooms, parlors, apartments for the Principal and refectory arrangements to correspond. Everything is complete and every student who desires to board here may be sure of finding a comfortable home.

Requirements.

Every student should be present at the opening of the term when examinations are made for admission to the different classes.

Students will be required to attend Public Worship on Sunday at such place as their parents or guardians designate, and the School Bible Class in the afternoon.

Students must provide themselves with umbrellas, overshoes, towels, comfortables, slippers and table napkins.

All students must go immediately to their homes at vacations, unless there is a special understanding with their parents or guardians.
