HERE THE FRIENDLY SPIRIT STAYS

A POEM
BY WILLIAM BOYD SUTLIFF
CLASS OF 1891

If hurrying years have dim'd the past
Or busy life made you deplore
The joyous days of youth, let's cast
A backward glance and live once more
Amid the scenes which we shall greet,
Let's live again with youth now here
They play our games, our classes meet;
"youth must be served," give them a cheer.

Once more I climbed the hill
To see those ivy'd walls
That welcomed me, and still
Fond mem'ry to me calls
The forms, the voices of the past,
Here at "Old Bloomsburg," dear to all
Whose pleasant lot was cast
Amidst her friendly halls, recall
The days of youth, the happy past
And feel the thrill of present days
For here the friendly spirit stays.

Bloomsburg State College is blessed with a glorious heritage which spans nearly a century and a half—a heritage of a college as it evolved from an academy to a modern, multi-purpose college with more than 90 programs of study.

Since that time in 1867 when our alumni records were first recorded, more than 25,000 men and women have graduated from Bloomsburg. Perhaps the one thing common to all of our graduates since 1867 is Bloomsburg's landmark, Carver Hall. Although the graduates that year numbered only three and recent classes more than 1,000, all have known Carver as a focal point in their college experience.

Built in 1867, Carver Hall has remained a symbol of stability in a changing campus. We are committed to maintain Carver as a significant architectural feature of the campus and of the tower. Additional interior and exterior restoration projects are in the planning stages and will be instituted as fiscal support becomes available. We hope that the landmark of the past will become a beacon to future generations of the heritage and friendliness that is always Bloomsburg State College.

Throughout its history, the college has always had reason to be proud of its graduates. The growth and stability of Bloomsburg, our strong enrollment pattern, and the fine young people who continue to seek admission to Bloomsburg are a testimony to the quality and loyalty of Bloomsburg alumni. We appreciate your contributions and your very fine support.

One of my recent messages in the Alumni Quarterly carried the headline "Now More Than Ever." My theme in that article was that we, as a vital productive institution, need your support now perhaps more than at any time in our history. The years ahead promise to be difficult ones for public higher education. Your understanding of our missions, your support of our objectives, and your constructive criticisms will be essential. We look forward to your continued interest and support.

We hope that you will cooperate also in this directory effort by supplying missing addresses and reporting any other changes which you can to help us keep our alumni files up-to-date.

BLOOMSBURG STATE COLLEGE THRU THE YEARS

Bloomsburg State College is a multi-purpose college with an enrollment of approximately 6000 students. This number includes about 4800 undergraduates, 700 graduate students and some 500 part-time students. There are 28 modern buildings, including seven residence halls on the 150-acre campus. All of the buildings except five have been constructed since 1956.

Fortunately the origin, development, and growth of Bloomsburg State College have been recorded in the now faded records of the trustees of earlier years. The movement began in the hearts and minds of the enterprising citizens of Bloomsburg in the early 1800's. Animated by a great desire to place before the youth of the community the opportunity to secure the fundamentals of a classical education, an academy was opened in 1839 at the corner of Third and Jefferson Streets.

The growth of the academy was such that in 1856 a charter was granted to make the academy the Bloomsburg Literary Institute. In the years since the granting of the charter, many changes have occurred in the name of the institution and the face of the campus. First there was a new building on a new three-acre campus. The building, Institute Hall, was constructed in 1867 and is known today as Carver Hall.

Two years after the granting of the charter to the Bloomsburg Literary Institute, the superintendent of Public Instruction of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania suggested that the Literary Institute become a state normal school and train students for teaching. After considerable debate, the Board of Trustees agreed and the name was changed to the Bloomsburg Literary Institute and Normal School. This name continued until 1916 when the commonwealth purchased the facilities, and the name became Bloomsburg Normal School.

On April 15, 1868, Professor Carver submitted plans for a new dormitory. At this meeting it was agreed to purchase additional grounds, to accept the plans submitted and "to execute a contract with Henry Carver to erect the building at his estimated cost of $36,000." The area of the grove and the plot upon which Old Science Hall now stands was purchased at a later date. The laying of the corner stone for the new dormitory was a notable occasion with the governor of Pennsylvania and the state superintendent of Public Instruction participating. On February 19, 1869, the school was formally recognized as the Bloomsburg Literary Institute and Normal School. Students rooming and boarding in the new dormitory were charged four dollars per week.

The "Boarding Hall" burned down on September 4, 1875. Fortunately, it happened on a Saturday afternoon and no lives were lost. The insurance of $30,000 was received, and a demonstration of courage and belief in the future of the institution was immediately apparent. By April 26, a newly completed building was opened for inspection. Soon thereafter the state provided a special appropriation of $30,000 in return for a mortgage on the property.

Troubles for the trustees were not all financial, but September 25, 1878 seemed to be the low point. Certain creditors obtained a writ, and a sheriff's sale was advertised for the following day. A committee of three trustees was appointed to confer with the sheriff, asking a postponement until October 15. The sheriff consented, and some settlement was made as no mention of the sheriff's sale was made again.

Noetling Hall was constructed in 1885-86 at a cost of $13,485. It was occupied in July, 1886, and became the Model School for student teaching (sometimes called laboratory or training school). By January, 1894, a new gymnasium and a four-story dormitory connecting Waller Hall and Noetling Hall were completed. The athletic field was graded and ready for use with a baseball diamond where Old Science Hall now stands. A cinder track surrounded the field, and a new epoch began in the life of the school when three teachers were added to the faculty in the field of physical education.

A.K. Aldinger, one of the new teachers, introduced the game of basketball to the community. The game was first played with nine men on each team. The women played the game with the floor divided into three equal courts with two players to a court. Players were not allowed to leave their assigned court. No males were allowed to witness the women at play. However, the introduction of the Annual Gymnastics Exhibition, to which the public was invited, soon put an end to the taboo.

Following the erection of Science Hall in 1906, a new athletic field was necessary. Hence, in the spring of 1904, the eight and one-half acre plot east of the campus was purchased for the sum of $8000, and the athletic field was moved to "Mount Olympus." Another financial crisis arose when the mortgage of $50,000 became due on Science Hall in March, 1916. The problem was resolved, however, when the state approved the issuing of a new mortgage. On the same date the trustees received the deed for "Buckalew Place," as a residence for the president of the college. Bonds in the sum of $4000, secured by a mortgage, were issued in payment.

Like all educational institutions, the normal schools of Pennsylvania were not self-supporting. The meager doles of the state could not meet the expanding needs of the schools. In view of the financial situation, an act of the assembly on May 18, 1911 made it possible for the state board of education to purchase the property of each normal school. The sale to the state was approved by the trustees for an amount of $10,000 provided the state assume all indebtedness. Two years went by without action by the state. On May 19, 1916, a "Deed of Conveyance" was duly submitted to the state and on August 1, the institution became the Bloomsburg Normal School fully owned and controlled by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The announcement that the state had changed the names of all normal schools to teachers colleges came to Bloomsburg in a very unusual way. One evening in May, 1927, a school party was at its height, and the old gym was crowded with students and teachers. Dr. Riemer, the principal, had been on a visit to Harrisburg, but suddenly he appeared in the doorway, clapped his hands and called for silence.

Amidst the hush, everyone listened with the feeling, “What’s up?”

He announced in a loud voice, “I want everybody to sing the old school song, but put the word ‘college’ where ‘normal’ has been sung.” And everyone sang for the first time, “Bloomsburg, Bloomsburg, Bloomsburg College, up on College Hill.” Thus, the news of the birth of the title Bloomsburg State Teachers College.

Between 1906 and 1930 there was little or no construction on campus. The Benjamin Franklin Training School, erected about 1930, provided space for a full staff of instructors for kindergarten through the sixth grade. Thus Noetling Hall became available for housing the new Department of Commerce which grew to be one half the enrollment of the state teachers college.

Navy Hall, built in 1938 as a junior high school, received its unofficial name when the building was headquarters for several war programs at the college during World War II. Navy officers used nearly all of the first floor for offices and storage. The second floor was used for classroom instruction of trainees.

Centennial Gymnasium, as the name implies, was constructed in 1939 during the 100th anniversary of the institution. The building covered nearly an acre of ground with seating for 1000 spectators. Its playing floor, two auxiliary gyms and large swimming pool provided year round recreation and athletic facilities of the very finest.

Following World War II, for a short time, there were only 153 students on the campus. Since that time, the growth of the college has been phenomenal. The first of many new buildings to be constructed was the college commons (now the College Store) on the site of the old tennis courts in 1956. Although not immediately apparent, an event in 1957 was destined to have great impact on the future of the college. In that year, Bloomsburg became the first of the state teachers’ colleges to have a state approved long range campus development plan. Growing out of the plan, the Business Education Department moved into its newly-constructed home, Sutliff Hall, in 1960. It was also in 1960 that the institution was named Bloomsburg State College.

Other major projects followed in rapid succession: New North Hall (now Northumberland Residence Hall), 1960; Montour and Schuylkill Residence Halls, 1964; Francis B. Haas Auditorium (seating 2000), 1966; Harvey A. Andruss Library, 1966; Luzerne Residence Hall, 1967; Hartline Science Center, 1968; Elwell Residence Hall, 1968; William W. Scranton Commons, 1970; Columbia Residence Hall, 1970; Bakeless Center for the Humanities, 1970; E.H. Nelson Field House, 1972; Waller Administration Building, 1972; Dr. Marguerite W. Kehr College Union, 1973; Redman Stadium and Litwhiler Baseball Diamond, 1974; Lycoming Residence Hall, 1976.

In 1927, Dr. Francis B. Haas replaced Dr. Riemer and was named the first president of the college, ending a line of ten principals. He continued in that capacity until 1939 when he became superintendent of Public Instruction for the second time.

Dr. Harvey A. Andruss, a member of the faculty since 1930, department chairman, and dean, replaced Dr. Haas as president. Dr. Andruss served in this capacity for 30 years, longer than any previous principal or president. During Dr. Andruss' administration, the college grew in size, scope, and prestige. His remarkable leadership, combining the qualities of vision and common sense, skillfully guided the college through this period of great transition. The Bloomsburg State College Kehr College Union is the center of student activities.

Alumni Association presented Dr. Andruss with the Distinguished Service Award and a life membership on his 25th anniversary as president of the college.

Perhaps one of the most significant features in the early administration of Dr. Andruss was the contribution made by Bloomsburg during the second World War. In addition to training navy aviation cadets (V-5's), Bloomsburg was one of 140 institutions approved for the navy officers' candidate program (V-12). Of the eleven programs in Pennsylvania, Bloomsburg was the only state teachers college selected. During the four year period of war programs, the college taught 1000 people to fly, had 500 navy officer candidates, housed 2000 students for engineering, science, and management war trainees, and offered courses to nurses from the Bloomsburg Hospital.

Dr. Andruss' retirement in September, 1969, was followed by a period of unrest and dissension. Dr. Robert Nossen was appointed president and served until August, 1972. Following Dr. Nossen's resignation and early departure, Dr. Charles Carlson was appointed acting president for one year while a national search was made to find the next president. Dr. James H. McCormick was selected and became the fifth president of Bloomsburg State College and the 14th chief administrator in the institution's history. Under Dr. McCormick's leadership, a new pride and enthusiasm for Bloomsburg was developed among faculty, staff and students.

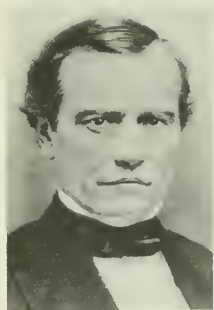

As this directory goes to press there are two serious needs for additional construction. They are the expansion of Andruss Library and the construction of the Human Services Building. The latter is necessary to provide badly needed classrooms and faculty offices.

It can truly be said that the future of Bloomsburg State College has never looked better.

THE BLOOMSBURG STATE COLLEGE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Donald Watts
Executive Director

The Bloomsburg State College Alumni Association had its beginning with the first graduating class from the Bloomsburg Literary Institute in 1867. That is also the date when records were first kept of graduating classes. There were three members in that first class; they were George E. Elwell, Charles Unangst, and David J. Waller, Jr.

Although records indicate many alumni meetings and activities during the early years of the institution, there is no record of a formal organization with elected officers. Instead, it appears that certain members of the faculty were assigned duties relating to alumni matters. In fact, the "Quarterly" was published by the school as "a publication of the faculty and students of BSNS devoted to the interests of the school and of education in general." Professor Joseph H. Dennis was chairman of the editorial staff, and Professor G.E. Wilbur was editor of the alumni department. The "Quarterly" continued as a school publication until 1921, when for some reason, probably financial, it was discontinued. There was no "Quarterly" published between 1921 and 1926.

Until 1921 the leadership of the Alumni Association was provided by George Elwell and David J. Waller, Jr., both graduates of the first Normal School class in 1867. The July 1908 issue of the "Quarterly" reported on Alumni Day and said, "The officers of last year were reelected. They are as follows: George E. Elwell, President; Dr. D.J. Waller, Jr., Vice President; S.J. Johnson, Recording Secretary; Professor G. E. Wilbur, Corresponding Secretary; H.G. Supplee, Treasurer. The "Quarterly" reported these officers reelected each year through 1920, with one exception—H.E. Rider became Treasurer in 1916. Thomas Francis '08, Superintendent of Lackawanna County Schools, was elected President in 1921 and served in that office until 1926. He was followed by Fred W. Diehl '09, Superintendent of Montour County Schools, who was President for three terms.

In June, 1926, the Association decided to revive the "Quarterly" at their expense, and in December of that year the first issue of "The Alumni Quarterly" was issued. Howard F. Fenstemaker '12, a new member of the faculty was named editor, and Professor F.H. Jenkins, Class of 1876, was business manager. The publication was financed by an appeal to the 5000 alumni to pay their "one dollar dues which entitles you to a year's subscription to 'The Alumni Quarterly' and a ticket to the annual alumni dinner held as part of commencement week."

Mr. Fenstermaker continued as editor until 1972, and Professor Jenkins served as business manager until his death, when Mrs. Jenkins assumed those duties. She continued as business manager until about 1933, when Dr. E.H. Nelson replaced her.

It was also April 14, 1933 that the Association received its charter as a non-profit organization. The incorporators signing the charter were D.J. Waller, Jr., 1867; O.H. Bakeless, 1879; F.H. Jenkins, 1876; R. Bruce Albert, 1906; Fred W. Diehl, 1909; Harriet F. Carpenter, 1896; Lillian Barton Funston, 1885; Dennis D. Wright, 1911; Edward F. Schuyler, 1924.

Fred W. Diehl was followed by R. Bruce Albert '06, as President in 1929. Mr. Albert served in that capacity for nearly 20 years and was the inspiration for the development of the Alumni Student Loan Program. Following Mr. Albert's untimely death in June, 1945, Dr. E.H. Nelson was elected to the presidency and served until his death in 1961. Howard F. Fenstermaker then assumed a dual role in the Association when he became President as well as editor of "The Alumni Quarterly." He served in this dual capacity until 1972 when he relinquished the editorial duties to Boyd F. Buckingham, '43. In 1973 Mr. Fenstemaker retired from the presidency and was succeeded by Millard C. Ludwig, '48. Mr. Ludwig is now in his fifth term as President of the Alumni Association.

In 1974 the Association employed a professional fund-raising company to engage in an 18-month fund drive to raise $50,000. It was a bold movement on the part of the Association to employ a full-time Executive Director. The fund drive was successful, and more than $53,000 was raised. In August, 1975, Donald A. Watts, '37, was employed as the first full-time Executive Director of the Bloomsburg State College Alumni Association.

THE PRIDE THAT IS BLOOMSBURG—

*Millard C. Ludwig
President, B.S.C. Alumni Association*

The appearance of Bloomsburg State College today differs vastly from that of earlier years, but the character which represents the College is still the same. It is something we like to call "Pride."

Bloomsburg, located at the gateway to the mountains, is a multi-purpose college and has provided extensive educational opportunities for nearly 150 years. The facilities which are available at Bloomsburg are certainly more abundant and sophisticated now than at any time in history, but we know that the pride that is Bloomsburg was prevalent then, just as it is now.

The attractive and well kept campus has lost many of its large trees due to the building program of recent years. Campus beautification is one of the Alumni Association's priority projects. This will require much time and money to accomplish, but to restore the look that it once had is a "must" and the alumni will help through their loyalty and support.

But pride goes deeper than the appearance of the campus. What makes Bloomsburg excel? Is it the accomplishments of athletic teams, or academic achievement? Is it the many extra-curricular activities, the dedicated students, or the well-trained, interested and resourceful teachers? Is it good administration? It is all of these, and much more. Pride is hard to define in any one way.

The pride that is Bloomsburg is neither haughty nor arrogant. It is self-esteem, dignity, and respect for knowledge. It is the satisfaction of knowing what is right and a concern for justice and human dignity; it is the accomplishment of a job well done and respect for one's fellow man. This has been Bloomsburg for one and a half centuries, and it will be Bloomsburg for centuries to come.

It is our hope that all of our alumni have experienced pride in Bloomsburg. It isn't something that we can demand one to have; it must originate within each individual. But reflection helps, and as you think of what Bloomsburg has meant to you, we hope that you will experience "The Pride that is Bloomsburg."

ABOUT THE DIRECTORY

The Bloomsburg State College Alumni Directory has been divided into three major sections, so that alumni may be located by name, geographic location, and class year.

BIOGRAPHICAL LISTINGS

All living alumni of Bloomsburg State College have been listed in alphabetical order. Each biographical sketch includes the class year of the alumnus, as well as degree(s) awarded, current job title, employer, and address and telephone number for both home and business.

Married alumnae are listed under both their married and their maiden names.

Complete biographical information has been included for all alumni who submitted their information and for those who were reached by telephone. For all other alumni, data includes name, class year, and most recent known address, furnished by the Bloomsburg State College or the Post Office. Neither the Publisher nor Bloomsburg State College assumes any liability for incorrect information or unintentional typographical errors.

GEOGRAPHICAL INDEX

This section lists the name and class year of alumni by the state and the city in which they live. You will be able to see who lives in your own town and to locate former classmates when you visit another city. Foreign addresses are listed under FOREIGN, by country. Alumnae are listed in each city under their married name followed by their first name and maiden name.

CLASS YEAR INDEX

This section lists alumni by their class year for their first degree program of study at Bloomsburg State College.

Deceased alumni are listed in this index only, with a dagger following their name. Lost alumni are also listed in this index with an asterisk (*) following their name.

APOLOGIA

Every attempt has been made to insure accuracy in this publication. However, it is possible for errors to occur and we wish to apologize for any inconvenience they may cause. Corrected information should be forwarded to the Alumni Office.

FOR YOUR PRIVACY

This Directory will be sold only to alumni/ae of Bloomsburg State College and to the school's administrative staff. The resulting lists and the Directory itself will not be sold or given away for any commercial purpose.

THE WHITE TOWERS OF BLOOMSBURG

(With acknowledgment and apologies to Winifred M. Letts, whose "Spires of Oxford" inspired these thoughts.)

I saw the towers of Bloomsburg as I was passing by,
The white towers of Bloomsburg against the autumn sky.

The river flowed beneath them across the purple hills,
The town lies just below them with all its stores and mills.

The towers shine white at Bloomsburg above the mountains grand,
Looking at the clock there, no matter where you stand.

There's a tower on old Carver and on sprawling Waller too
This first one is the larger that shines against the blue.

Those who come to Bloomsburg and see September's haze
Are reminded always of their happy college days.

Up the street to Carver with its ever-welcoming door,
They've climbed with eager footsteps for four score years or more.

So we set up our signposts for those who follow here,
That they may see the towers that we have tried to rear.

Our towers may not point upward like fingers to the sky,
But looking always at them we cannot fail to try

To serve our Alma Mater and to it e'er be true,
For the years look down upon us and others that we knew.

TIFFANY WINDOWS

The beautiful stained glass windows in the Harvey A. Andruss Library were created and installed in Old Waller Hall in 1919 by the Louis C. Tiffany Studios. Professor O.H. Bakeless, Class of 1879, and long-time member of the faculty, was the person responsible for the purchase of these windows and numerous paintings which were displayed in Old Waller Hall. The windows, depicting Truth and Virtue, were transferred to the Andruss Library prior to the demolition of Old Waller. They are illuminated at night by a memorial gift from Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kemp in memory of their daughter, Jacklyn, a student at BSC who lost her life in an automobile accident on November 6, 1965. The memorial reads, "Let There Be Light."
