

LIBRARY
STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE
Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2016

The Alumni Quarterly

State Teachers College

Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania

Vol. 51

No. 1

MARCH, 1950

Mid-Year Commencement

We are "back where we were before," Cameron Ralston, traveler and lecturer, told the mid-year graduating class of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College, Wednesday, January 18, after he had traced the cycles leading through two World Wars. Sixty-five received degrees of bachelor of science in education.

The author and lecturer stated that we are "spending our way back" and pleaded for economy and thrift in government spending. He queried, "How can we teach economy when the government persists in spending more than it takes in?"

Ralston's address was a feature of impressive ceremonies conducted in the college's Carver Hall auditorium. Gowned candidates filed in to processional strains. Fred W. Diehl, Danville, vice president of the college board of trustees, offered the invocation.

Following the address, quartet numbers were offered. Presentation of the candidates was made by Dr. Thomas U. North, dean of instruction, and the degrees were conferred by Dr. Harvey A. Andruss, president of the college. Dr. Andruss spoke briefly to the graduates prior to the recessional.

Miss Harriet Moore directed musical presentations and H. F. Fenstermaker presided at the console of the auditorium.

In a graphic manner, Ralston stressed the need for development of leadership and the responsibility for education to produce leaders as he traced the background of world conditions. He traced from World War I to the present. In the first war, he said, there were thirty-three million casualties, thirty billions of dollars property damage and the foundation laid for the building of international debts totalling 212 billions of dollars.

He cited the tragic failure of the Versailles conference as a product of machine politics that "trampled democratic ideals underfoot," and created conditions that resulted in the establishments of dictatorships that "preached the doctrine of hate and the praise of the state."

Ralston touched on the rise of money madness of the United States in the 20's, the creation of tariff barriers, and the raising of the

Vol. 51, No. 1

THE ALUMNI QUARTERLY

March, 1950

Published quarterly by the Alumni Association of the State Teachers College, Bloomsburg, Pa. Entered as Second-Class Matter, August 8, 1941, at the Post Office at Bloomsburg, Pa., under the Act of March 3, 1879. Yearly Subscription, $1.00; Single Copy, 25 cents.

H. F. FENSTEMAKER, '12 EDITOR
E. H. NELSON, '11 BUSINESS MANAGER

tremendous debt structure that toppled over in the 1929 crash that plunged the country into the depths of depression. The "pump priming" of the New Deal was recounted and also the breaking of World War II, a conflict, he pointed out, that took a higher price than before.

"All this leaves us," he said, "back where we were before." Against this pictorial background he painted three great needs of teachers today: enthusiasms, appreciation, and devotion.

Teachers are needed who will seek truth with enthusiasm and will educate to overcome world-wide pessimism and cynicism. He especially criticized the loss of enthusiasms for those who have made our country strong and decried the loss of Americanism. The first grade teacher, he said, is the most important in our school set-up because at that point in the child's life are sown the seeds of love for learning.

The graduating class was asked to inquire how they had gotten where they have, as he charged them to appreciate the opportunities they have received from their parents, home life and such. He called upon the graduates to continue with their tasks with the same starry-eyed attitude and devotion they held when they began their studies.

In closing, he decried the present attitude of the part of many Americans that the government owes us everything and emphasized that teachers should always be seeking truth.

-----O-----

Miss Keora Kono, head of the Personality Development Department at the Powers School, New York, gave a lecture at the Bloomsburg State Teachers College on Wednesday evening, December 7.

Miss Kono, born in Hawaii, came to the States for her adult education at Emerson College. At present she is taking work on her Ph. D. at New York University.

"Personality Development," as interpreted by Miss Kono, means personal adjustment to surroundings, society and circumstance. "A woman can pretty much control her own surroundings and is expected to adjust no more than half way to her society but over circumstances, be it a little thing like weather or a big thing like world affairs, she has very little control. She therefore finds it her duty to be better informed about other people's ideals, customs, backgrounds and beliefs so that her voice will have authority."

Miss Kono outlined the ways and means of widening a woman's horizons in her home, in her business, in her community and in her world. Her lecture covered the inter-relationships between a woman and her associates.

"A mirror can reflect your face," says Miss Kono, "but it cannot reflect your mind. The face seen in the mirror will look far more attractive if the mind is alert, receptive and well-stocked."

SCHOLARSHIPS AWARDED

Scholarship awards were granted to eight students of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College and members of the varsity and junior varsity football squads were presented letter awards at a special Awards Assembly held Tuesday, December 20, in the Carver Auditorium. In a special presentation, Nevin T. Englehart, Superintendent of Grounds and Buildings, was given the varsity gold key, the highest honor the College bestows on its athletes, as a token of appreciation for his services to the athletic teams of the institution over a long period of years.

Dr. Kimber C. Kuster, chairman of the Faculty Scholarship and Awards Committee, presented the candidates for four Alumni scholarships, while Howard F. Fenstermaker, Treasurer of the Alumni Loan Fund, presented the winners with checks totalling $200. Mr. Fenstermaker also announced the winner of the R. Bruce Albert Memorial Scholarship, and made the presentation.

President Harvey A. Andruss named the two winners of the President's Scholarship and presented checks totalling $100. Dr. Andruss also presented varsity letter awards to members of the 1948 football squad and minor awards to members of the junior varsity squad. Candidates for the athletic awards were presented by Coach Robert B. Redman. Coach Redman also introduced Mr. Englehart who was presented the key award by President Andruss.

James A. Kleman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kleman, 36 North 19th Street, Ashland, was presented the Bruce Albert Memorial Scholarship of $100. Mr. Kleman, who is a junior in the Department of Secondary Education, has been active in campus activities and athletics, and his scholastic record is excellent.

Four awards of $50 each were presented by the General Alumni Association of the College. These awards were given to Robert Martini, son of Mrs. Florence Martini, Benton; David Newbury, son of Mrs. Priscilla Newbury, Watsontown; Miss Faythe N. Hackett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James K. Hackett, 314 Mt. Carmel Avenue, Glenside (Montgomery County), and Miss M. Eloise Symons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Symons, 239 Inman Park, Wilkes-Barre.

Mr. Martini is a senior in Secondary Education, while Mr. Newbury is a freshman in the same department. Miss Hackett is a sophomore in the Department of Elementary Education, and Miss Symons is also studying in the Elementary Education field. She is a junior.

All the awards were made on the basis of scholastic attainment, character, campus activities and professional promises. A faculty committee made the selections.

Miss Louise Reinhart, president of the Bloomsburg branch, American Association of University Women, presented a $50 scholarship to Miss Vivian Brennan, daughter of Mrs. James P. Brennan, 23 South Parker Avenue, Atlantic City, N. J. Miss Brennan is a freshman in the Department of Elementary Education.

Two other students were announced as the winners of the President's Grant, and $50 checks were presented by President Andruss to Miss Delphine Buss, Watsontown, and Robert T. Granger, Hallowell. Miss Buss, who is the daughter of Mrs. Regina K. Buss, is a junior in the field of Elementary Education, and Granger, son of Mrs. J. C. Turrey, is enrolled as a freshman in the Department of Business Education.

Prior to the presentation of the Bruce Albert Memorial Scholarship, Mr. Fenstermaker told of the work and contribution of the late Bruce Albert in quadrupling the principal of the Alumni Loan Fund. The four Alumni awards were authorized by the governing board of the General Alumni Association from the interest that has accrued from the fund, while the Bruce Albert scholarship is an alumni grant memorializing the person who helped develop the alumni organization to its present status.

During the exercises, Mary Louise Todd, Bloomsburg, sang "O Holy Night." Her accompanist was Barbara Gulick, Riverside. Emory Rarig, Catawissa and Richard Wagner, Nescopeck, also presented a novel organ-piano arrangement of "A Christmas Fantasy." Zigmund Maciekowich, West Hazleton, presided over the devotional exercises preceding the musical portion of the program, and Miss Harriet M. Moore led assembly singing to close the exercises.

-----o-----

The Eighteenth Annual Business Education Contest will be held on May 5 and 6, 1950, at the Bloomsburg State Teachers College. The contest will consist of examinations in bookkeeping, typewriting, shorthand, and business mathematics. A book display and office machines show is planned in conjunction with the contest. The machines on display will include the latest models of equipment in common use in schools and small and medium sized offices. In addition, models of twenty and forty years ago will be on display to show the progress made in office mechanization. The period of twenty years was selected as this is the twentieth anniversary of the Business Education Department.

On Friday night, May 5, 1950, the Annual Fashion Show will be presented by the Retail Sales classes in honor of visiting contestants, teachers and guests.

-----o-----

Mr. and Mrs. George V. Ash, of Bloomsburg, announce the engagement of their daughter, Joyce, to Harry G. Gray, also of Bloomsburg. No date has been set for the wedding.

Miss Ash is a graduate of the Bloomsburg High School and is employed at the Bloomsburg Bank-Columbia Trust Co. Mr. Gray is a graduate of the Bloomsburg High School. He served eighteen months in the U. S. Navy and is now a sophomore at B. S. T. C.

Mrs. Florence H. Price

Lorstan Studios

Mrs. Florence H. Price, who was elected President of the New Jersey Education Association at its convention in Atlantic City, November 13, 1949, has combined elementary teaching with an extensive background of teacher organization work.

After graduating from Bloomsburg State Teachers College, she began her teaching career in West Pittston, Pa., her home town. Two years later she was employed in the Newark (N. J.) public schools, and was assigned to Roseville Avenue School. She has continued to teach in that same school for 29 years. At one time or another she has taught every elementary grade from fourth to seventh. Her present class is a sixth grade group. In the meantime she has continued her professional work at Newark State Teachers College and at New York University.

Early in her teaching career, she became interested in teacher organizations. She was first active in the Newark Women Teachers' Guild, serving as its secretary. The Newark Grade Teachers' Association elected her President, and she was a member of the Executive Committee of the Newark Teachers' Association.

Transferring her interests to state and national organizations, she was active in the New Jersey Elementary Classroom Teachers Association, of which she became vice president. At the same time she served on various state and national committees, including the NEA Resolutions Committee, and the NJEA committees on Certification, and Revision of the Constitution. She was chairman of the state committees on Neurology, Resolutions, Teachers' Liability, and Annual Banquet.

In 1947, Mrs. Price was elected treasurer of the NJEA for a two-year term, and in 1949 was chosen as President, without opposition.

She is the sixth woman president of the Association in its 96-year history.

ASSIST IN WRITING MANUAL

Four members of the faculty of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College were represented in the production of the new Business Education Manual recently published by the Department of Public Instruction. The manual, which was prepared to serve as a guide to improve the business education program in the secondary schools of Pennsylvania, contains a wealth of suggestions on the basic principles, best practices, problems, teaching techniques, visual aids, and standards in the field of Business Education.

Dr. Harvey A. Andruss, president of the College, served in an advisory capacity, and contributed the chapter on the philosophy and objectives of business education, while Richard G. Hallisy, director, Department of Business Education, was a contributor of the course of study on Business Economics. Miss Honora Noyes and Walter S. Rygiel contributed to the sections on Business English and Business Law respectively.

The manual was a cooperative enterprise; contributions having been made by outstanding teachers and leaders in the field of Business Education from the secondary schools, State Teachers Colleges, and universities of the state. It is the first of a series of bulletins dealing with the subject of Business Education in the state. In the near future it is expected that the sections dealing with courses of study, teaching techniques, equipment and supplies, tests and testing will be expanded. Each unit of each course of study will also be enlarged and more fully developed to enhance the contribution of Business Education to the areas of social and economic living.

Because of its importance, it is hoped that the new manual will serve to raise the general level of vocational and general business education in the public schools of the Commonwealth.

-----o-----

Miss Sarah H. Park, fifty-nine, of East Fifth street, Bloomsburg, teacher in the Catawissa schools for the past thirty-three years, died Sunday, November 27, shortly after suffering a heart attack while returning from an auto trip.

She was returning with a group of friends from a visit with her brother, Joseph, at Honesdale. She became ill as they arrived in Berwick and died before the car reached the Berwick Hospital. The cause of death was given as thrombosis.

Born in Pittston, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Park, she resided in Fairmount Springs before coming to Bloomsburg to live seven years ago. She had been a teacher in Catawissa since 1916 and had conducted her class work as usual when the Catawissa schools closed for the Thanksgiving holiday.

She was a member of the Order of Eastern Star, the Delta Society of Catawissa, and the Methodist Church.

Surviving are three brothers, William, of Council, Alaska; Harold E., of Carlisle, and Joseph B., of Honesdale.

BEGINNING TEACHERS' CLINIC

Problems of the beginning teacher and suggestions for more rapid adjustment to these problems were related during the Beginning Teachers Clinic held recently at the Bloomsburg State Teachers College. Nearly one hundred persons attended the clinic which was the first of its kind ever held at the College.

The program, in the form of an informal panel discussion, featured a short talk by Gerald P. Hartman, principal of the Catawissa High School, on "What The Principal Expects of a Beginning Teacher." Members of the panel, recent graduates of the College, were Miss Margaret Suchy, Lewis Rutherford Morris Central School, New York; James Hantjjs, Stroudsburg High School, and Ralph Baird, Williamsport Technical Institute. Richard G. Hallisy, director, Department of Business Education, was the moderator for the discussion.

In his remarks, Mr. Hartman stressed the qualities he would most like to find in a beginning teacher—a code of ethics, punctuality, loyalty, community spirit, and ingenuity. He stressed the basic importance of ethical standards in the teaching profession and stated that no one can go far in the field without having a high code of ethics. Mr. Hartman also emphasized the need for sympathetic understanding of teacher and administrator.

Members of the panel outlined their experiences during the first three months of teaching, indicating some of the outstanding problems faced and the adjustment they made to them. Following the talks, the members of the audience were given the opportunity to ask questions.

The clinic was sponsored by the Department of Business Education and was attended by members of the Curriculum Materials classes, student teachers and a number of alumni and friends of the College.

-----o-----

The State University of New York invited Dr. Harvey A. Andruss to attend a two-day conference held in Buffalo. This was probably the outstanding meeting of college educators during the year and included such speakers as Governor Thomas E. Dewey, the State of New York; Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, chancellor of the University of Chicago; Dr. James B. Conant, president of Harvard University; Chancellor Edmund E. Day, Cornell University and Dr. James L. Morrill, president, University of Minnesota. President of the State University of New York, Dr. Alvin C. Eurich, presided at some of the sessions.

The overall organizations of the State University includes thirty-three institutions of which eleven are State Teachers Colleges. Wide diversity of opinion was present and attention was focused on the public's concept of what a State University should accomplish to meet its responsibilities to the community.

ATHLETES RECEIVE AWARDS

Varsity letters were awarded to the members of the 1949 football squad of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College at a special Awards Assembly held recently in the Carver Auditorium. Coach Robert B. Redman announced the winners of the monograms, and President Harvey A. Andruss made the presentation. Minor awards were given eleven members of the Husky junior varsity squad.

The Huskies won eight straight games during the past season after dropping their opening game to Wilkes College, and their 1949 record gives Coach Bob Redman a three-year record of twenty-three wins as against three losses. His 1948 club was the only unbeaten college eleven in Pennsylvania.

Winners of the major award follow: Joseph Apichella, Hazleton; Benjamin Burness, Havertown; Fred Denesevich, West Hazleton; Richard Dietz, Bloomsburg; Jack Fetterolf, Bloomsburg; Edward Jones, Milton; George Lambrinos, Endicott, N. Y.; Jack Lewis, Bloomsburg; John Maturani, Milton; Rodney Morgans, South Williamsport; Frank Perry, Shamokin; James Reedy, Milton; Paul Slobozien, Johnstown; Edward Tavalsky, Johnstown; Glenn Von Stetten, Columbia; Ardell Ziegenfuss, Mowry; Charles Baron, Endicott, N. Y.; William Byham, Kane; Bernard DePaul, Berwick; Albert Eremich, Mt. Carmel; Louis Gabriel, Hazleton; Elmer Kreiser, Columbia; Robert Lang, Milton; Jacob Lichty, Shamokin; Henry Marek, Dupont; Eugene Morrison, Bloomsburg; Donald Peterson, Berwick; Thomas Schukis, Mahanoy Twp.; John Stonik, Baltimore, Md.; Robert Thurston, Sunbury; Harold Willig, Middletown; Joseph Zahora, Coaldale; Patrick Bredbenner, Berwick; Donald Cesare, Old Forge; John Dietz, Plymouth; David Evans, Reading; Richard Jarman, Plymouth; Stephen Kriss, Berwick; Robert Leshinski, Wilkes-Barre; Russell Looker, Johnstown; Thomas McLaughlin, Buck Mountain; Daniel Parrell, Hazleton; Jack Rebuck, Sunbury; John Slessor, Berwick; Willis Swales, Williamsport; Russell Verhausky, Coaldale; Richard Wolford, Milton; Managers—Thomas Anthony, Shamokin; Joseph Curilla, Shamokin; Henry Krauser, Wilkes-Barre; Elmer Wyant, Noxen.

Minor Awards were made to: Richard Black, Summit Hill; Donald George, Danville; Leon Green, Beach Haven; William Pague, Espy; Joseph Boyle, Harwood Mines; Guy Germana, Atlantic City, N. J.; Bernard Hammershock, Weatherly; Francis Sheehan, Mahanoy City; Charles Brennan, Towanda; Thomas Goodwin, Kane; Alex Kubik, York; Edward Cunfer, Slatington, Mgr.; Jack Powell, Scranton, Mgr.

-----O-----

Ruth Alice Mong (Mrs. Edward Erlsten) lives at 1000 Bridge Street, New Cumberland, Pennsylvania.

SENIOR BALL

Sixty-five seniors of the January class of 1950 at B. S. T. C. celebrated graduation with the traditional Senior Ball, held at the Hotel Altamont in Hazleton Thursday evening, January 19. The banquet was followed by dancing from eighty-three to twelve. Music was furnished by Lee Vincent's orchestra.

Plans for the affair were drawn up under the supervision of Joseph E. Sopko, chairman of the ball and banquet, who was assisted by Dorothy Lovett, banquet chairman, and Louis Gabriel, ball chairman.

Dance programs were handled by a committee composed of Walter Bird, chairman; Robert Wingate and Charles Jacobs. Alice Smolski and Edward Jackovitz composed the decoration committee. Members of the investigating committee were Robert E. Williams, chairman; Thomas McAndrew and James Reedy.

On the orchestra committee were Edward Mitras, chairman; and Edward Skowroski, Peggy Kashuba, chairman; and Joseph Murdock were the invitation committee. Wayne Von Stetten, chairman; and Frank Pringle handled publicity.

Other committees were: refreshment. Louis Pecora, chairman; Max Coolcy; Dance tickets, Luther Routh, chairman; Paul Slobozien; transportation, Owen Diehle, chairman, and Arthur Reigel.

The banquet program opened with the singing of America. John Hoch gave the invocation. Group singing was led by Miss Grace Smith. President of the 1950 class, Don Butcofsky, extended welcome and introduced Joseph Sopko, toastmaster.

Speakers of the evening were Dr. Marguerite Kehr, Dean of Women, and John Hoch, Dean of Men. Principal speaker of the evening was Dr. Harvey A. Andruss, President of the College.

The Class Will was presented by Dorothy Lovett. Alice Smolski presented the Class Prophecy. The floral centerpiece was then presented to Doctor Andruss by Miss Smolski.

-----o-----

Rev. Hobart W. Tyson, a rural Berks county Lutheran pastor, died Tuesday, January 3. He was 52 years of age.

Mr. Tyson, a graduate of Catawissa High School, Muhlenberg College, Mount Airy Theological Seminary and the University of Pennsylvania, served as an Army Chaplain during the Second World War and was in the infantry during the First World War.

A member of the Phi Beta Kappa Honorary Society and the Olney Lions Club, Mr. Tyson is survived by his wife, Mary Siegel Tyson ('16), a son, Rev. Dean E., assistant pastor of Hope Lutheran Church, Detroit, Mich., and two daughters, Joann, wife of Rev. E. P. Weber, Lutheran student pastor at Purdue University, West Lafayette, Ind., and Elinor N., wife of Rev. Charles Aurand, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, Sunbury.

WILL SHOW OFFICE MACHINES

In commemoration of the Twentieth Anniversary of the founding of its Department of Business Education, the State Teachers College, Bloomsburg, Pa., is planning to hold an Office Machines Show in conjunction with the Annual Business Education Contest and Clinic May 5 and 6, 1950. Many companies have already agreed to display modern office equipment commonly found in schools and small medium sized offices. In addition to the latest models, the companies are displaying machines in approximately twenty-year intervals to show the progress made in mechanical office equipment during periods equal to or greater than the life span of the Department. In view of the number of machine companies who have accepted the invitation and have entered into the spirit of the occasion, an exceedingly worthwhile display of modern and historical machines will be on hand. Representatives of the various companies publishing business education textbooks will display their wares in Navy Hall as they have in the past.

A short skit depicting an office of the Gay Nineties is being planned by Miss Honora M. Noyes of the Business Education Department and Miss Alice Johnston of the Speech and Dramatic Department who are collaborating in writing the skit.

Every effort is being made to bring back the graduates and former students of the Department of Business Education now numbering over one thousand. Dr. Harvey A. Andruss, the first director of the department and now President of the College, will present a short history of the department highlighting major events and outstanding graduates of the past twenty years. The annual luncheon will include not only contestants and their teachers but the graduates of the first class, outstanding graduates, representatives of the business machines companies, textbook companies and local businessmen's organizations. Refreshments will be served during the machine show and examinations.

On May 5 Mr. C. H. Henrie and his sales classes will present the annual Fashion Show honoring the visiting contestants, their teachers, and graduates in Carver Hall auditorium. This event has grown in importance and color until it represents one of the finest events on the college calendar.

All graduates of the Business Education Department, high school students, teachers and businessmen are cordially invited to attend the commemoration exercises in Navy Hall auditorium Saturday, May 6, 1950. We assure you a most enjoyable and profitable experience.

ALUMNI DAY, MAY 27

SERVICE KEYS AWARDED

In impressive convocation exercises Thursday, January 19, featuring the presentation of student awards, the college closed its first semester of 1949-50.

With members of the faculty, the gowned graduating class filed into the Carver Hall auditorium to the strains of a processional as the group, graduated Wednesday, attended their last assembly. The president of the Senior Class, Donald Butcofsky, of Shamokin, gave the Scripture reading.

In recognition of their services to the college during their enrollment, five graduates were presented with service keys. The presentations by Dr. Andruss were to Jean Stein, Hazleton; Wayne Von Stetten and Robert Walther, Columbia; Joseph Sopko, Carbondale, and Robert C. Welliver, Jr., a recent Bloomsburg resident.

Following those presentations, Dr. Andruss presented certificates of election to "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities" to two graduates, Wayne Von Stetten, Columbia, and Donald Maietta, Williamsport. The certificates are based on college service, personality, leadership and extra curricular activity.

Following the presentations, assembly closed with the singing of a hymn, led by Charles Henric.

-----o-----

In the picturesque Little Church Around the Corner, in New York City, at eleven a. m., on December 20, the marriage of Miss Lois Shaffer to Stanley L. LeVan, Jr., both of Bloomsburg, was solemnized.

The double ring ceremony was performed the Rev. Randolph Rae, rector of the church. The couple was unattended.

The newly-weds are at home at 635 East Fourth Street, Bloomsburg.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shaffer, of Berwick Road, was graduated from Scott Township High School in 1947 and has been employed as secretary in the office of Boyer's Garage.

The bridegroom, son of Dr. and Mrs. Stanley L. LeVan, of Bloomsburg, is a graduate of Bloomsburg High School, class of 1947, and is now attending B. S. T. C.

-----o-----

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lohr, of Berwick, announce the engagement of their daughter, M. Louise, to David P. Wentzel, son of Rev. and Mrs. B. E. Wentzel, of Trevorton, formerly of Berwick.

The couple are graduates of Berwick High School with the class of 1946. Miss Lohr is a senior at Bloomsburg State Teachers College. Mr. Wentzel, a veteran of World War II, is attending Dickinson College.

No date has been set for the wedding.

RETIRED TEACHERS AND FUTURE RETIRED TEACHERS OF PENNSYLVANIA

Michael D. Costello, Class of 1900

Date of Retirement—September, 1942

Freedom of speech and freedom of the press. What a privilege we have in this country of ours! Be thankful to the framers of our Constitution of the United States of America. We should avail ourselves of this opportunity as occasion arises.

It is with great pleasure that I write concerning the retired teachers and the future retired teachers of our great state. I am sure the eight thousand retired teachers and the active teachers are grateful to the law-makers of our state for enacting into law during the session of 1949 financial rewards in keeping with the high cost of living. Consider the legislation the beginning of better things to come. Not only should the retired teachers be grateful, but with their knowledge should be vitally interested in local school affairs in their districts.

Competent teachers are a requisite. The best qualified superintendent of schools should be a matter for all concerned. Men and women of integrity should aspire to the office of school director or any other elective office. The retired teacher is the forgotten individual. This should not be. The retired teachers are competent, providing they take advantage of the retirement age.

The local school district where the retired teachers gave many years of faithful service in the noble profession of teaching should feel free to consult with the retired teachers on educational and disciplinary matters. The need of guidance is evident from all sides. The first eight years in school are most important. During this period impressions are indelibly impressed upon the minds of our boys and girls.

First and foremost during the first eight years in school should be the responsibility of every teacher to promote respect for public and private property, respect for law and order and secondly to work for achievement in the studies prescribed in the curriculum. In many cases this accomplishment will be gained without much stress, but you will find some who will need particular attention if you wish to attain your goal. This is the test of a worthy teacher—to surmount difficulties where it is evident. The quality of persistency in a teacher will eventually be crowned with success.

To show you appreciate the noble work of teaching apply yourself assiduously to your work and when your time comes to retire you will do it feeling that you did not shirk your responsibilities to the boys and girls who came under supervision. Strikes are unnecessary in school districts that have an efficient Board of Education and trustworthy teachers. Only competent teachers should be employed and salaries should be high enough to attract teachers interested in the cause of education.

Since the minimum retirement allowance after forty years of service is twelve hundred dollars per annum, I feel the recent law enacted should have provided for an increase annually after the first year of retirement. And those teachers by ill health who were obliged to relinquish their teaching duties should upon reaching the retirement age, if still incapacitated, receive the same consideration as the teachers who completed forty years of service.

-----o-----

Miss Floyd Barbee, famous Powers model and consultant at the Powers School, New York, lectured on "Proper Care of your Skin and Hair," at the Bloomsburg State Teachers College on January 4, 1950.

Miss Barbee, a former student of Dermatology at John Hopkins, is an expert on the care of the skin and hair, and has headed this department at the Powers School since its inauguration over ten years ago. A nationally known Powers Girl, Miss Barbee says, "A woman's attractiveness depends upon her ability to enhance her own natural loveliness."

Miss Barbee's talk at Bloomsburg covered all the phases of the care a woman must give her skin and hair to bring out its natural beauty. She covered the four steps in the care of the skin, cleanliness, stimulation, lubrication and protection. Miss Barbee discussed the best methods to employ in each of these steps for every individual type of skin. Miss Barbee says, "You cannot take care of any woman's skin with a blanket prescription. Each woman needs advice according to her own type."

The lecture also included the most detailed information on the care and grooming of hair. Miss Barbee feels that hair is the most mobile of all of a woman's features and can make or break her otherwise beautifully turned-out appearance.

"Mkæe-Down," say Miss Barbee, "is dependent upon good health, a clear, clean complexion plus the careful application of cosmetics. A woman should use her cosmetics so that her worst enemy can't tell her best friend!" Miss Barbee's lecture stressed all the techniques of the proper application of every cosmetic. She also discussed the colors and textures suited to each individual type of skin.

-----o-----

Dr. Harvey A. Andruss, president, Bloomsburg State Teachers College, has been notified of his inclusion in the new 26th Biennial Edition of "Who's Who in America," published by the A. N. Marquis Company, and the new Seventh International Edition of "Who's Who in Commerce and Industry," soon to be published.

This forthcoming edition will be the first since the war to resume in full international coverage. It will contain the life and business records of approximately 25,000 of the most outstanding business men the world over. The initial volume was published in 1936.

'Saucered and Blowed'

Checking back 50 years to collect some items for the coming reunion Saturday, May 27, we find the following interesting notation:

"The Class of 1900 was the largest ever graduated from the school, but it is not upon this fact alone that the school is to be congratulated. It is because the class was one of the best prepared and fitted for its work."

Now after 50 years we shall see this class in reunion and check on the varied activities of its members. Their commencement program went something like this:

Saturday evening, June 23—Debate.

Sunday—Baccalaureate Sermon.

Monday—(a) Field Sports Day.

(b) Recital by Music Department.

(c) Junior Drama.

Tuesday—Class Night Program.

Wednesday—Commencement Exercises.

And while we are back in this 50 year daze, do you remember those "Seven Wonders," winners of the "Ladies' Basket Ball Tournament"? A male was persona non grata during the progress of the contests.

Long porch is no longer but the new porch is just as long. And even more desirable for romancing. The old wooden structure now joins the town pump on memory lane.

Prize of a year's subscription to the "Quarterly" given for the first correct answer received to the following question: "What was commonly referred to as 'State Aid' by the dormitory population in days gone by?" (Your scribe was graduated in 1911.)

All correct answers given honorable mention.

The Husky plaque is soon to have 7 additional names. The class of 1949 is the latest entry. Jackpots may grow, and grow, and grow. Then some one guesses correctly and the start must be made all over again. Not so with this list of loyal Alumni. It grows, and grows, and grows. "Ever striving, ever climbing, onward Bloomsburg goes."

Plans for an Alumni Meeting in the Greater New York area are underway. Another Washington, D. C., get-together is scheduled for February 20. How Professor Dennis would have liked to participate in the Washington meetings! He was the pioneer promoter of "On to Washington." The memory of those excursions in the early part of the century lingers on.

Noetling Hall is named after Professor Wm. Noetling who retired from the faculty just 50 years ago, after having served faithfully and well for twenty-three years. He was often referred to as "Nestor of our faculty." Webster says a Nestor is "The oldest, wisest and most experienced of any company or association." And from what Professor Noetling's pupils have told us, the term "Nestor" was well used.

Plan now to visit the College Alumni Day, May 27.

--E. H. NELSON, '11

-----o-----

Twelve women students of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College have been selected to compete for the honor of being named "Coed of the Year" in a contest sponsored by the 1950 Obiter, the All-College yearbook. John Robert Powers, nationally-famous beauty expert, has consented to judge photographs of the contestants and select the winner.

The contestants include: Jane Keller, Beverly Cole, Susan Dreihelbis and Laura Philo, all of Bloomsburg; Jane Kepping, Hazleton; Nancy Unger, Forty Fort; Joan Grazell, Shenandoah; Charlotte Matuleski, Nanticoke; Madelyn Schalles, Nescopeck; Mary Lou Cooper, Dallas; Kitty Mitchell, Mahanoy City and Diane Snyder, Mill Hall.

The young ladies were selected by a special committee headed by Joseph Curilla, Shamokin, editor of the 1950 Obiter. Members of the committee follow: Donald Butcofsky, Shamokin, president, Senior Class; Walter Zorn, Lansdowne, president Junior class; Thomas Anthony, Shamokin, president, Sophomore class; Alex Kubik, York, president, Freshman class; Merlin Beachell, Bloomsburg, editor, Maroon and Gold, the College newspaper; William Stimeling, Berwick, editor, the Olympian, the College literary magazine and Richard Wagner, Nescopeck, president, Community Government Association.

-----o-----

In a lovely ceremony at three-thirty Saturday afternoon, January 21 in the St. Matthew Lutheran Church, Bloomsburg, the marriage of Miss Janet Louise Hileman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eston W. Hileman, of Bloomsburg, to Robert H. Conrad, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey B. Conrad, of Boyertown, R. D. 2, was solemnized. The Rev. Edgar D. Ziegler, pastor of the church, performed the double-ring nuptials. The bride is a graduate of Bloomsburg High School with the class of 1948. The groom graduated from Boyertown High School in 1943 and served with the U. S. Navy for three years. He is a senior at B.S.T.C. majoring in business. Mrs. Conrad is employed as secretary to the director of business education at B.S.T.C.

COLUMBIA COUNTY ALUMNI

Columbia County Branch of the Alumni Association of the Teachers College completed a much enjoyed day with a dinner in the College dining hall Saturday evening, November 12, after having occupied a reserved section during the afternoon at Athletic Park as the Huskies ended a splendid football season with a dramatic 28-22 win over East Stroudsburg.

The group decided to hold a session on the evening of the last home game of each football season and also aided the alumni activities with a fifty dollar contribution.

Dr. Harvey A. Andruss, president of the College, extended greetings and told of the work of the College and of the gratifying results of a survey on the occupation of graduates of recent years.

Dean Emeritus W. B. Sutliff, one of the beloved College "Old Guard," graciously responded. President Edward F. DeVoe named these chairmen: Scholarship, Kimber C. Kuster; program, William I. Reed, and membership, Nevin T. Englehart.

Officers introduced were President DeVoe; Donald Rabb. Benton, vice president; Paul L. Brunstetter, Catawissa, treasurer, and Edward Sharretts, Berwick, secretary.

The session opened with the singing of the Alma Mater, led by Joyce Kleckner. The invocation was by Clayton Hinkel. Andrew Macieko pleased with some accordion selections. Edward F. Schuyler presided.

Attending: Thursabert Schuyler, Sara A. Graham, Lois Lawson, Harriet E. Adams, Beatrice M. Englehart, Beatrice E. Girton, Mrs. R. L. Diserod, Miriam R. Lawson, Mrs. C. C. Housenick, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Mover, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Hutchison, Edwin Barton, Mrs. Alice Keller, Mrs. Mary Myers.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Fenstermaker, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Cromis, Marie Cromis, Harry Gasser, Charles Henrie, Earl Gehrig, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Keller, Dr. Kimber Kuster, Elmer Levan, W. B. Sutliff, Dr. and Mrs. J. Almus Russell, Charles Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Trembley, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Bunges, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kistler.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. DeVoe, Dr. and Mrs. Harvey Andruss, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schuyler, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Hinkel, Edward Sharretts, P. L. Brunstetter, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rabb, Mrs. Martha Pursel, Mrs. Ruth Lenhart, Gertrude Miller, Mrs. Josephine Vanderslice, Mr. and Mrs. L. Clair Conner, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Davis, Mr. and Mrs. William Reed, Nevin Englehart, William Karshner, Mildred Johnston Karshner, Harold Miller, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Bidleman.

ALUMNI DAY, MAY 27

ELEMENTARY CONFERENCE

Mrs. Gertrude Speed Stokes, of the Temple University Laboratory School, addressed nearly 300 persons Saturday morning, December 3, at the Teachers College auditorium as the highlight of the annual conference on elementary education.

The group represented the largest number ever to attend the conference. Over 200 were educators of this area.

Mrs. Stokes spoke on "The School Is for the Children." She asked "How are children going to learn well unless the learning is done in a situation that is real?" The speaker said that children are being prepared for a life that is real.

"Until the child is old enough to realize the relation between academic work and its application, we are wasting our time," Mrs. Stokes said. "The study must make sense to the children. They must see how it operates."

Mrs. Stokes explained that the first objective in elementary education is discipline of a developmental type. These, she continued, include discipline of attitudes, prejudices and knowledges and skills.

Dr. Harvey A. Andruss, president of the College, spoke following a luncheon for the conference. Enlarging his subject "There Are All Kinds of Children," he said that enough attention is given the below and above average children but that the "so-called average" child gets little attention.

Dr. Andruss described the child that is developed by the imaginations of parents who succeed only in creating a miniature adult in a child's world.

"The job of the school is to meet the challenge posed by all kinds of children," Dr. Andruss finished, "and, teachers cannot shirk this responsibility."

Miss Edna J. Hazen, director of the conference, presided at the luncheon. Entertainment was provided by Andrek Macieko and his accordion, soprano Jane Kelvin and accompanist Lola J. Deibert.

One of the highlights of the conference were the demonstration lessons in the class rooms of the Benjamin Franklin school. These classes were taught by the regular teachers for the edification of those attending the conference. Following the lessons, various groups met for discussion.

The Women's Chorus, under the direction of Miss Harriet M. Moore and accompanied by Miss Mary Grace Almers, sang during the auditorium phase of the conference.

-----o-----

1943

David M. Jones has completed the requirements for the Master's Degree at Columbia University. His graduate work was in the field of Comparative and International Education. His address is 630 Fumald Hall, Columbia University, New York 27, N. Y.

THE ALUMNI

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

E. H. Nelson	President
Mrs. Ruth Speary Griffith	Vice-President
Mrs. C. C. Housenick	Secretary
Harriet Carpenter	Treasurer
Fred W. Diehl	Edward F. Schuyler	H. F. Fenstemaker
Hervey B. Smith	Elizabeth H. Huber

1886

Rev. L. M. Fetterolf, pastor of the First Reformed Church of Pottsville, died suddenly Thursday, December 22, in the Pottsville Hospital. His wife, the former Flora Jones, who had been seriously ill in the hospital for several months, followed him in death two days later, on Saturday, December 24. The double funeral was held in the First Reformed Church on Tuesday, December 27.

Mrs. Fetterolf was the oldest daughter of Eli Jones and his wife, Lavina Jones, of Bloomsburg, where the father was engaged in the contracting and building business. As a girl, she attended the public schools of her home town, and was graduated in 1884. She then attended the Bloomsburg State Normal School, from which she was graduated in 1886. After her graduation she taught for a number of years in the public schools of Nescopeck and Bloomsburg until the time of her marriage in 1896.

At the time of his marriage, Rev. Fetterolf was serving his first pastorate in what was then known as the Mainville Charge. As a young man preparing for the ministry, Rev. Fetterolf took the classical course at Mt. Herman, Massachusetts. In the fall of 1895, he entered the Theological Seminary of the Reformed Church at Lancaster, Pennsylvania, from which institution he was graduated in 1896. From 1896 to 1898, Mr. and Mrs. Fetterolf lived in Lancaster, from where they moved to Mainville, where they continued their work in the charge for three more years.

In 1902, Rev. Fetterolf accepted the call from the Tower City and Lykens Charge. Living in Lykens and serving also the Tower City Congregation until 1914, he accepted a call from the First Reformed Church in Pottsville, where he and Mrs. Fetterolf lived until the time of their deaths.

They are survived by two daughters, Gladys Fetterolf Crossman, of Pottsville, and Ruth Fetterolf Goodell, of Prospect Park, and by a granddaughter, Constance Goodell.

Word has been received of the death of Norman G. Cool, which occurred Thursday, January 19, at Culver City, California, where he and Mrs. Cool have been living. A more extended obituary of Mr. Cool will appear in a later issue of the Quarterly.

1889

Mrs. Fannie East Tressler, seventy-nine, widow of the late J. D. Tressler, died at her home in Hazleton, Saturday, April 9, 1949. Born near Hazleton, she spent most of her life in that city. Mrs. Tressler graduated from the Bloomsburg State Normal School, in 1889. She taught for a number of years in the Hazle Township Schools and later in the Conyngham public schools. Mrs. Tressler was an active member of St. Paul's Methodist Church and a Sunday School teacher for fifty-two years, teaching for thirty-five years the class which bore her name.

1911

Dr. E. H. Nelson, Bloomsburg Kiwanian and retiring lieutenant governor of the eleven-club district No. 9, was honored January 12 at the Reformed Church when he was given a beautiful clock by the district, with the presentation being made by Dean W. B. Sutliff, a past president, former teacher and long a friend of the honored man.

The clock was the work of two of the Bloomsburg club, John U. Ralston, jeweler, and Charles L. Haire, of the vocational department of the Bloomsburg schools.

The clock is electrically operated from a battery within the casing. The dedication plate is on the center of the face.

The Kiwanis emblem appears where the numerals "12" are generally found, and in place of the other numerals are the names of each of the eleven clubs of the district.

1913

Daniel Boone has at last reached Germany, with the publication in Munich of a German translation of DANIEL BOONE: Master of the Wilderness, by John Bakeless, which William Morrow and Company, New York, published in 1939.

The German publishers had troubles of their own finding the right title, since Daniel Boone as a name is rather less known in Germany than American names like Eisenhower and Pershing. However, all German know all about the "Leatherstocking" novels, and it is pretty generally known that Cooper borrowed a good deal of his leatherstocking material for "The Last of the Mohicans" and "The Deerslayer" from the real Daniel Boone. He also borrowed an incident from the Lewis and Clark expedition, which forms the subject of Dr. Bakeless' recent LEWIS AND CLARK: Partners in Discovery.

So the Germans are calling the book DER ECHTE LEDERSTRUMPF—"the real leatherstocking," an American name known to every German. The book is adorned with special American frontier maps, the familiar names translated into German, and is published by Paul List Verlag, of Munich, Leipsiz and Freiburg.

Walter J. Bower, of 160 Oakland Road, Maplewood, died in November of a heart attack recently while teaching at Upsala College, East Orange. He had been a mathematics teacher at Irvington High School since April, 1924, and since 1945 also had been an instructor of mathematics at Upsala. He was 55 years of age.

Born in Herndon, Pa., Mr. Bower attended Bloomsburg State Teachers College and received his B. S. degree from Bucknell in 1918. He was a member of Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity. He had lived 13 years in Maplewood.

Mr. Bower was a member of Herndon Lodge No. 702, F. & A. M., Temple, AAONMS, of Philadelphia, and also of the Areopagus Club of Irvington, and of Prospect Presbyterian Church, Maplewood.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Helen Diffendafer Bower, and a son, Walter J. Bower, Jr., of the home address.

1914

The present address of Lawrence Ryman is 720 Leavenworth Street, San Francisco 9, California.

1918

The present address of Helen R. Becker, B. S. T. C. 1918, is: No. 174 College of Education, the University of Akron, 302 East Buchtel Avenue, Akron 4, Ohio. Prof. Becker is head of the Kindergarten and Primary Department and director of student teaching in that department. She received the degree of Doctor of Education at Teachers College, Columbia University, and went to the University of Akron last September after a variety of teaching experience.

1919

Ralph Dreibelbis is employed as Soil Scientist in the Research Division of the Soil Conservation Service, U. S. D. A., and is located at the Hydrologic Research Station, Coshocton, Ohio. He has been conducting research in soil and water conservation investigations at this station for the past fifteen years. He is either author or co-author of nineteen publications which have appeared in various scientific periodicals. His name appeared in the Biographical Directory of American Men of Science (1949 edition). Besides graduating from Bloomsburg he also got a B. S. degree from Penn State, M. S. degree from Ohio State, and has also been a student at Stanford and at Cornell. The Dreibelbis family resides at 1255 Denman Avenue, Coshocton, Ohio, and have one son, Kenneth, who is a student at Wooster College.

1920

H. Keffer Hartline, professor of biophysics and chairman of that department at Johns Hopkins University, former Bloomsburg resident, has been appointed to succeed Robert D. Fowler as the scientific representative from John Hopkins on the Board of Trustees of Associated Universities, Inc. The board is one of the governing bodies of the Brookhaven National Laboratory.

1927

Mrs. Lottie Ross Frey lives at 2146 Swatara St., Harrisburg, Pa. She is teaching in the Swatara Township School, Dauphin County.

She has a daughter who is student at Wheaton College, and a son in the eighth grade.

1928

Miss Helen Hutton, formerly of Bloomsburg, became the bride of Philip Morris, of New York City, on Thanksgiving Day. The wedding took place in Trinity Episcopal Church, New Rochelle, N. Y., and was followed by a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Mason Ancker, at 109 Liberty Avenue, New Rochelle. Mrs. Ancker is the former Ruth Lapet Hutton, sister of the bride.

Mrs. Morris is a native of Bloomsburg, and a graduate of the Bloomsburg High School and the Bloomsburg State Teachers College. She recently received her master's degree from New York University. For several years she has taught school in Huntington, L. I. Mr. Morris is president of a New York advertising company. Mr. and Mrs. Morris will make their home in a house which Mr. Morris recently purchased in Huntington, L. I.

1930

Helen E. Snyder is living at 1059 Market Street, Sunbury, Pa. She is teaching third grade in the Rohrbach School in Sunbury.

1932

Dr. Henry J. Warman, associate professor of geography at the internationally known Graduate School of Geography, Clark University, Worcester, a native of Scranton, Pa., and son of Mrs. Alice F. Warman, of Woodstock, Ontario, has been appointed a member of the Executive Board of the New England Association of Social Studies Teachers. This marks the first time that a geographer has been named to the board.

Dr. Warman received his bachelor of arts degree from State Teachers College at Bloomsburg, Pa., his master of science in education from Temple University at Philadelphia, and his doctor of philosophy from Clark. He has also studied at the University of Pennsylvania and the Berlitz Schools in Philadelphia.

The Clark educator was formerly teacher, coach and athletic director in the Norristown, Pa., schools. A member of the Clark faculty since 1943, he is chairman of the committee of the National Council of Geography Teachers which is surveying, assembling and analyzing the research done since 1945 in the field of "Geography in Education."

1933

Joseph D. McFadden, aged forty-one, a graduate of Bloomsburg State Teachers College, class of 1933, and husband of the former Esther Evans, of Bloomsburg, died Saturday, November 12, in St. Joseph's Hospital, Hazleton, as the result of a heart condition and asthma.

Funeral services were conducted at St. Gabriel's Church, Hazleton, with a Solemn Mass of Requiem. Burial was made in St. Gabriel's cemetery.

Surviving are his wife; two children, John, six, and Mary Catherine, three; a sister, Catherine, of Hazleton and a brother, Daniel, Newark, N. J. He was employed by the State.

1937

Virginia E. Cruikshank, teacher of Grade Five, Fourth Ward School, Sunbury, Pa., is included in the list of prize winners in the 1949 Travel Contest sponsored by "The Instructor" Magazine. Miss Cruikshank was awarded a prize for her article "Down in Maine."

1938

Danny Litwhiler, veteran outfielder who hit .370 from July 4 to the end of last season, has signed his 1950 contract with the Cincinnati Reds.

Danny, who hits a long ball and likes to slide head first into bases, finished last year with a .291 batting average, and with 48 runs batted in.

Danny has just returned home after spending several days in Cincinnati and New York. He was a guest recently at the annual Sport Magazine banquet held in New York in which Leon Hart, Notre Dame gridiron ace, was honored as the athlete of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ditty (Helen Weaver) live at R. D. 3 Sunbury, Pa., where the former has a farm implement agency and repair garage. They have three sons.

1940

Lawrence J. Kiefer is teaching in the accounting department of Rider College. His work began there after he completed his work for the M. B. A. degree at the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce, University of Pennsylvania. Mr. Kiefer's address is 500 Osborne Avenue, Morrisville, Pa.

Two other Bloomsburg graduates, Neil Ritchie and Donald Baker, are also members of the faculty at Rider.

1941

A graduate of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College, F. Lewis Long, Berwick High School instructor, is the president of the Berwick Borough Council. Born May 4, 1903, he has been a lifelong resident of Berwick with the exception of three years when he was employed by the Bethlehem Steel Company at Danville.

He was graduated from the Berwick High School in 1927, attended Pennsylvania State College for two years, and was later graduated from the Teachers College. He was conferred the master's degree at Bucknell. Long joined the high school faculty in 1939, teaching until 1944, when he entered the Naval service for one year.

This is his second term on the borough's governing body, and his first term as president. Mrs. Long is the former Ethel Keller, of Berwick. The couple have two daughters, Muriel and Lenore, and one son, Harry.

1942

Anne Northrup (Mrs. Morrie A. Greene) lives at Apt. 406, 2331 Cathedral Avenue, N. W., Washington 8, D. C. Her husband, a member of the staff of the Australian legation, recently accompanied the Director-General of the Australian Food and Agricultural Organization on a world tour. His trip included England, Portugal, Spain, Italy, Greece, Turkey, Egypt, Pakistan, India and Thailand. In India he had lunch with Pundit Nehru, and at several points in the tour he participated in conferences. His trip continued to Colombo, Ceylon, Singapore and finally to Australia. After three weeks in Australia, he returned home by way of Noumea, Canton, Honolulu and San Francisco. The trip, almost entirely by air, lasted 107 days.

1943

Ruth Sluman is teacher of first grade in the schools of Portland, Oregon. Her address is 7110 S. E. Lafayette, Portland 6, Oregon.

1944

In a pretty ceremony at four o'clock Saturday afternoon, December 17, in the Trinity Methodist Church, Norwalk, Calif., Miss Mary Louise Scott, of Whittier, Calif., daughter of Mrs. Lillian H. Scott, Third Street, Bloomsburg, became the bride of Robert Clifford Bayless, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford A. Bayless, Norwalk, Calif.

The Rev. Phillip D. Norvell, pastor of the church, performed the double ring ceremony before one hundred guests.

The couple left immediately following the reception on a wedding trip to San Francisco. After February 1, they will be home at 712 East Putnam Drive, Whittier, Calif.

Mrs. Bayless was graduated from Bloomsburg State Teachers College and the groom graduated from Whittier College, in California. He served with the U. S. Navy in the South Pacific during World War II and is now a teacher.

Wanda Farnsworth (Mrs. Robert Langdon) lives at 49 West High Street, Bound Brook, New Jersey. Mr. and Mrs. Langdon have a son, Howard, nine months old.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome G. Lapinski lives at 8525 Philadelphia Road, Baltimore 6, Maryland. Mrs. Lapinski was formerly Miss Eleanor Althoff. They are the parents of a young son, born November 6, 1949.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Diehl (Helen Oyer) are the parents of a daughter born August 10, 1949. Mr. and Mrs. Diehl live at North Ninth Street, Lehigh, Pa.

1945

Enso R. Frosini, West Wyoming, has been awarded a grant under the Fulbright Act to study in Italy. He planned to leave New York for a year's study on November fourteenth, on the S. S. Saturnia, American Export Line.

1948

Mrs. Helena C. Greenly, of Bloomsburg, announces the engagement of her daughter, Barbara Jean, to Ralph K. Strawn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Strawn, of Perkaspie, Pa.

Miss Greenly is a graduate of Bloomsburg State Teachers College, class of 1948, and is employed as a teacher at Dalmatia, Pa.

Mr. Strawn served three years in the U. S. Navy and was graduated from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1947. At present, he is doing graduate work at that school and is employed as a research assistant in their Research Laboratory of Electronics.

Gloria C. Mainiero lives at 229 North State Street, Dover, Delaware. She is serving as Speech Correctionist in Kenty County for the Department of Public Instruction, State of Delaware.

1949

Mr. and Mrs. Arley D. McClintock, of Rahway, New Jersey, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Eleanor Alice McClintock, to Donald F. Maietta, of Williamsport.

The announcement was revealed at a Christmas Eve party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Mears, of Philadelphia.

Miss McClintock was graduated from Bloomsburg State Teachers College with the class of '49. She is now teaching at Elkton Elementary School, Elkton, Maryland.

Mr. Maietta is attending Bloomsburg State Teachers College, where he is president of Alpha Psi Omego, National Co-educational Dramatic Fraternity; vice president of Phi Sigma Pi National Honorary Men's Educational Fraternity, and a member of Kappa Delta Pi, National Honor Co-educational Society.

From the graduating class of 1950, Mr. Maietta has been selected for membership in "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." During the war, he served 30 months as an aviation cadet in the Army Air Force.

Robert J. Blew is a member of the faculty of the Millville High School.

Miss Mary Ruth Tyson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Tyson, of Fisher avenue, Catawissa, became the bride of Charles L. Lauck, of Mt. Carmel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lauck, of State College, in a ceremony performed November 22 in Trinity Evangelical Church, Middleburg.

The Rev. Mr. Stock, pastor the church, performed the traditional ring ceremony at eighty-thirty in the evening.

The bride was a member of the class of 1949 of Bloomsburg State Teachers College and is now English teacher in the West Beaver Township Schools, at McClure.

The bridegroom served three years in the U. S. Army and is now a senior at B. S. T. C.

William T. Tiddy, Jr., is teaching at Leonardtown, Maryland.

1950

The following were the members of the mid-year graduating class:

Allegrucci, Gene Joseph	Merena, Walter
Ande, Ralph Franklin, Jr.	Mitros, Edward John
Balent, Robert	Montague, Robert Edgar
Barnhart, Mildred Gray	Palencar, Andrew Emery
Baylor, Robert Arthur	Patterson, Andrew Thomson
Bird, Walter	Pecora, Louis Salvatore, Jr.
Bolinsky, Isabel Della	Phillips, Charles Elmer
Brennan, Dorothy Snyder	Pringle, Frank Madison
Bushinski, Walter Bernard	Reedy, James Allen, Jr.
Carl, John Harvey	Riegel, Arthur Clair
Cavanaugh, Claire Teresa	Rishel, William James
Cooley, Max Glenn	Roeder, William Keith
Dczak, Joseph Lewis	Roth, Luther Harry
Diehle, Owen Charles	Sakalski, Stephen Frank
Evans, Russell Yordy	Skowronski, Edward Frank
Fellon, Leonard Anthony	Slobozien, Paul John
Freedra, Stanley John	Smith, Grace
Gabriel, Louis Salvatore, Jr.	Smolski, Alice Ann
Gardner, Jack Elias	Soback, Andrew
Grande, Joseph John	Sopko, Joseph Eugene
Hartman, Dayne Ashel	Stair, Carol Vivian
Henry, Leroy Keller	Starr, Raymond Alvin
Jackovitz, Edward Frank	Stein, Jean Elizabeth
Jacobs, Charles Kenneth	Stratton, William Richard
Karas, Vincent William	Talarsky, Henry Charles
Kashuba, Margaret Kearnuff	Von Stetten, Wayne
Kelly, Daniel Edward	Walther, Robert Franklin
Keyser, Richard Bird	Williams, John Wilford
Krafchik, Thomas Albert	Williams, Robert Edward, Jr.
Leshinski, Robert Walter	Wingate, Robert Maxwell
Lovett, Dorothy Ruth	Wintersteen, William Jackson
Maietta, Donald Francis	Yakoboski, Joseph Richard
McAndrew, Thomas John

In a lovely ceremony, bright with the colors of the holiday season, Miss Carol Louise Ash, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Murray H. Ash, Bloomsburg, became the bride of Owen Charles Diehle, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Diehle, of Philadelphia, and the late Russel C. Diehle.

The wedding was solemnized in a candlelight setting at four o'clock on Christmas afternoon at the Methodist Church, Bloomsburg, by the Rev. Dr. Elvin Clay Myers, pastor.

The bride was graduated from Drexel Institute of Technology and is at present teaching home economics in the high school at Newport, Pa.

The groom, who was a lieutenant (jg) in the Naval Air Corps, was graduated from B. S. T. C. in January, having completed his major in speech correction.

-----o-----

The Margaret Webster Shakespeare Company presented "The Taming of the Shrew" at the Bloomsburg State Teachers College Friday evening, December 16, in the Carver Auditorium at 8:15 o'clock. The noted American company, now on its second annual tour, began its 1949 coast-to-coast tour at Rhode Island State College in October with a performance of "Julius Caesar." Heading the cast of twenty-one players are Louisa Horton, Kendall Clark, and David Lewis.

Miss Horton won acting honors as the star of the Broadway hit "The Voice of The Turtle" and in her recent performance in the screen version of the prize-winning drama "All My Sons." Kendall Clark, a veteran of numerous Broadway productions, has appeared opposite such stars as Ina Claire, Ethel Barrymore, Jane Cowl, Tallulah Bankhead and Eva LeGalliene. Mr. Lewis, another familiar performer along Broadway, scored an outstanding personal success in last season's touring production "Hamlet" and "Macbeth." Other important roles were portrayed by John Straub, Larry Gates, Frederick Rolf and Dion Allen.

Highly acclaimed during its initial 40,000 mile barnstorming venture last season, the troupe has been booked by Impresario S. Hurok through April 1950. Comprising twenty-one actors, five technicians and a company manager, this unique company travels by bus while a specially constructed trailer-truck carries scenery, lighting equipment, costumes and properties used in the two productions. The functional settings, conceived by Ben Edwards, who most recently designed "Medea" can be set up within one hour on stages of all shapes and sizes.

A musical score, arranged by Lehman Engel, accompanied the two productions.

-----o-----

Alex Kubik, York, was elected president of the Freshman class of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College. Mr. Kubik, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Kubik, R. D. 2, York, is enrolled in the Elementary curriculum. During the past football season, he was a member of the junior varsity grid squad.

Other freshman officers chosen during class elections were Nancy Heebner, West Orange, N. J., who was elected vice president; Bess Marie Williams, Forty Fort, secretary; Annetta Deussen, Bloomsburg, treasurer; Nancy Bogar, Selinsgrove, historian; James Creasy, Bloomsburg, and Wilma Jones, LeRaysville, representatives to College Council. Edward T. Devoe was named class advisor.

President Harvey A. Andruss of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College addressed a meeting of teachers of Business subjects and Consumer Education during the annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Education Association held in Harrisburg beginning December 27. Dr. Andruss spoke on the subject of "What Do We Expect?"

The theme is a development of the answers to three questions—What do we expect from education? What do we expect from schools? What do we expect from Business Education?

The philosophy and objectives of Business Education was developed in the light of the recently-distributed Bulletin 271 of the Department of Public Instruction—Business Education Teachers Manual—as it appears in Chapter One, which was written by Dr. Andruss.

Later in the week at a meeting of the National Business Teachers Association in Chicago at the Palmer House, Dr. Andruss attended the bookkeeping and accounting sections of the Association. He was one of the speakers on the general theme of how we evaluate bookkeeping ability. His subject was "Appraising Achievement in Bookkeeping and Accounting."

The widespread use of the words "test" and "measure" is too exact in use in dealing with learning situations and human beings, and Dr. Andruss proposed the use of the old-fashioned word "examine" in the place of test and "appraise" in the place of evaluation or measure. This follows the general line of reasoning contained in two books written by President Andruss some years ago which bear the titles "Ways to Teaching Bookkeeping and Accounting" and "Better Business Education."

-----o-----

Sixteen members of the 1949 Bloomsburg State Teachers College soccer team have received the varsity "B." Coach Shelly has also named eight minor award winners. The Husky booters won four, lost three, and tied one in Shelly's first season as coach.

Major awards went to: Clyde Ackerman, Zion Grove; Glenn Baker, Benton; William Cleaver, Orangeville; William Davis, Beach Haven; Harry Fenstermacher, Catawissa; Frank Furgele, Shickshinny; Richard Gearheart, Catawissa; Joseph Gieda, Plymouth; Doyle Johnson, Bloomsburg; Norman Kline, McClure; Clair Mensinger, Mifflinville; William Pague, Espy; Paul Plevyak, Carbondale; Dale Spiegel, Bloomsburg; Joseph Vincent, Ashley; Walter Zorn, West Lansdowne; Paul Gansel, Berwick, Mgr.

Those who received the minor award were: Adem Ben, Blakeley; Al Hitchings, Luzerne; Thaddeus Krensavage, McAdoo; Dreher Richards, Berwick; Milford Shellhamer, Mifflinville; Ray Wagner, Simpson; James Whibley, Parkersburg; Clyde Yoheny, Bloomsburg.

Bloomsburg State Teachers College has had a wonderful time with its Kids' Christmas project. Similar projects have been carried out for a number of years but none on so large a scale as this year's activity.

The Day Women's Association, Kathryn Graham, Bloomsburg, president, gathered gifts for distribution to fifteen children living in the town of Bloomsburg. The children's letters to Santa Claus were relayed to the day room where the gifts were placed at the foot of the large Christmas tree. This job was in charge of the Social Service Chairman, Alice Jacques, Falls, Pa., assisted by Arlene Pope, Sunbury.

A joint committee from the Student Christian Association and the Waller Hall Association handled the collection of gifts provided by women and men boarding students. Ruth Shupp, Plymouth, served as chairman for the Student Christian Association and Elvira Thomsen, Wilkes-Barre, for the Waller Hall Association.

The gifts, which were placed on exhibition, were wrapped for distribution by the Child Welfare, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army. Some gifts went to specially selected children.

Publicity for the project was in the form of attractive posters and a series of clever announcements. This activity was handled by a Poster Committee consisting of Madelyn Schalles, Nescopeck; Frances Cerchiaro, Nesquehoning; Jane Kenvin, Hazleton, and Leonora Macgill, Nisbet.

-----o-----

Dr. Thomas P. North, dean of instruction at the College and chairman of the State Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards, attended a two-day conference on teacher education held last month at Washington, D. C. Dr. North was chairman of the group of Pennsylvania delegates attending the conference.

In an address at the concluding general session of the conference, held at the Sheraton Hotel, the local dean emphasized the need for a reevaluation and improvement in the present certification standards of the teaching profession. He also recommended a plan for registering available, unplaced teachers and all unfilled teacher positions in Pennsylvania by August 1, 1950, as a mutual aid to teachers and school districts.

-----o-----

Miss Edna J. Hazen, director, elementary education, was a member of the committee, "Professional Activities in Teacher Education," which met at the State Association Headquarters at Harrisburg, in December.

Members of the committee were appointed by Dr. David H. Stewart, president of the Pennsylvania State Education Association. The committee has been active in formulating plans for organizing chapters of Future Teachers of America in high schools and colleges throughout the state.

"Education is not a process that can be shouldered by one institution," Dr. Harvey A. Andruss told a panel meeting of the Pennsylvania State Education Association held at Harrisburg in December. "It is a cooperative endeavor and the schools, the community, the home and the church all play an important part." The president of Bloomsburg State Teachers College said that it is equally unfair for schools to claim credit for all the successes of their graduates or bear the responsibility for their failure.

Speaking before a forum of the Pennsylvania Business Educators Association, held in conjunction with the parent group's annual convention, Andruss said there is a need for an appraisal of the competency of graduates.

"To say that every graduate will fill painstakingly all the needs of of an employer is foolish," he said. "We don't know exactly what business wants, and I'm not sure it knows itself."

In regard to business education, Andruss said he believed too many teachers spend too much time correcting papers and arranging tests instead of counselling their students. A business education must be based on lifelong needs, he said, and it must be concerned not only with earnings but must give emphasis to spending, saving and investing.

-----o-----

Nine students from the Bloomsburg State Teachers College have been selected for inclusion in the 1949 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American College and Universities." Nominated by a faculty committee, the selections were based on a number of points, including personality, leadership, professional promise, scholastic achievement, service to college, and potential usefulness to society.

Those nominated for the honor from Bloomsburg include: Aleki Comuntzis, Bloomsburg; Joseph Curilla, Shamokin; Kathryn Graham, Bloomsburg; Donald Maietta, Williamsport; Charles Roberts, Slatington; William Stimeling, Berwick; Wayne Von Stetten, Columbia; John Richard Wagner, Nescopeck Bernard Zelinski, Mt. Carmel.

-----o-----

John Henry Faulk, humorist and entertainer, presented his famous "Speaking of People" at the Bloomsburg State Teachers College in a recent assembly program. Mr. Faulk, who has been described as a "kind of a combination of Will Rogers and Mark Twain, and Ruth Draper," gave a series of amusing caricatures of people he simply called "your neighbors."

His "Congressman Guffaw" and the talkative President of the Magnolia Garden Club were matchless lessons in poetry, prose, and tolerance. He had his audience howling with laughter and enthusiastically applauding his unique and artistic presentation.

Peter Wisher, former basketball coach and physical education teacher at Bloomsburg State Teachers College, has accepted a position with the University of Maryland, at Elkins Park, Maryland.

He is teaching principles and methods of physical education and assisting A. L. Stewart, head basketball coach at the Maryland school. In addition, is helping with the supervision of student teachers.

Mr. Wisher, who has a bachelor's and master's degree, is working on his doctorate at present and returned recently from New London, Conn., where he did additional work last summer at the combined schools of New York University and Connecticut University. He is a graduate of The Pennsylvania State College.

After originally taking a job at Slippery Rock Teachers, Wisher decided upon the Maryland position. Slippery Rock consented to his release.

Mr. Wisher was basketball coach at B.S.T.C. for three years. Prior to that he spent some time in the service. He also coached soccer at the college. Mr. Wisher also served on the faculty at Bloomsburg High School prior to the war, and for a time was basketball coach.

Miss Roberta Miller, daughter of Mrs. Grace E. Miller, of Jefferson street, Bloomsburg, and John McGurk, son of Joseph McGurk, of Stroudsburg, were united in marriage on November 29, by the Rev. H. H. Sanddect, in the Zion Lutheran Church, Davenport, Iowa.

The newly-weds are now residing in their newly furnished apartment at 612 Brady street, Davenport, Iowa.

Mrs. McGurk graduated from Bloomsburg High School in the class of 1946 and attended B. S. T. C. for a year and one-half.

Mr. McGurk graduated from Berwick High School and attended flying school in South Carolina. He served in the Air Force during the war and is now attending the Palmer School of Chiropractor, at Davenport, Ia.

In a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Francis L. Conrad on Saturday morning, August 6, in St. Joseph's rectory, Danville, Miss Carol F. McCloughan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd T. McCloughan, Riverside, and Archie H. Hilkert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Hilkert, of Danville R. D. 1, were united in marriage.

Mrs. Hilkert, a graduate of Danville High School and the Bloomsburg State Teachers College, is a member of the faculty of the Danville Junior High School. The bridegroom is engaged in farming and is also employed as assistant technician by the Lewisburg Cooperative. Mr. and Mrs. Hilkert are living in the newly furnished home in Danville R. D. 1.

According to statistics released by the Teachers Bureau of the Department of Public Instruction, Bloomsburg State Teachers College ranks third among the fourteen institutions in the total student enrollment for the regular college year beginning September, 1948, and ending May, 1949. West Chester and Indiana are the two institutions who have served more students during this period than Bloomsburg.

The Department of Business Education at Bloomsburg had an enrollment of 354 students as compared with 347 for Indiana and 211 for Shippensburg. Extension classes for teachers-in-service showed an equivalent to sixty-two full-time students, while Edinboro showed fifty-eight and Indiana forty-seven. These figures did not include freshmen assigned by Pennsylvania State College to the various Teachers Colleges but represented the teacher education pre-service and in-service offerings of the various institutions.

The overall picture including summer sessions of 1948 showed the following adjusted enrollments: West Chester—2501, Indiana—1869, East Stroudsburg—1087, Bloomsburg—1079, California—1011. These enrollments are the largest in the history of the State Teachers College.

-----o-----

In a pretty holiday ceremony at eight o'clock Friday evening, December 23, in the Church of the Nazarene, Bloomsburg, Miss Julia Deitterick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Deitterick, of Bloomsburg R. D. 1, became the bride of the Rev. Robert P. Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Mitchell, of Mifflinburg R. D. 2.

The bride graduated from the Bloomsburg High School and attended B. S. T. C. The groom, a graduate of Mifflinburg High School, obtained his theological training at Florida Biblical College, Intercession City, Fla.

-----o-----

Perry D. Freas, eighty-one, died at his Light Street home Monday, January 23 following an illness of about twenty-three years. Mr. Freas was born and reared in Rohrsburg. He farmed in Fishingcreek township for six years, and later was employed as a carpenter of the Bloomsburg Normal School. He was Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds at the school for eight years. Surviving are his wife, at home and one sister, Mrs. Isabel Keller, of Dunmore, Pa.

-----o-----

Bernard Zelinski, Mr. Carmel and Richard Wagner, Nescopeck, represented the Bloomsburg State Teachers College at the annual meeting of the Association of Student Governments of the Pennsylvania State Teachers Colleges held in Shippensburg Friday and Saturday, October 7 and 8. Mr. Wagner is the president of the Community Government Association of the local College, while Mr. Zelinski is the vice president. Miss Mary McDonald, assistant dean of women, accompanied the students to Shippensburg.

BUSINESS CARDS — BLOOMSBURG GRADUATES

CREASY & WELLS
BUILDING MATERIALS

Bloomsburg 520

J. WESLEY KNORR, '34

NOTARY PUBLIC

252 West Fifth Street
Bloomsburg 669-R

TEXAS LUNCH
FOR YOUR REFRESHMENTS

Poletime Comuntzis, '44, Mgr.
Athamantia Comuntzis, '46
Asst. Mgr.

142 East Main Street
Bloomsburg 529

CONNER & FLECKENSTINE
PRINTERS TO ALUMNI ASSN.

Bloomsburg, Pa.
Telephone 867

Mrs. J. C. Conner, '34

ARCUS WOMEN'S SHOP
FOR YOUR RIDING CLOTHES

Max Arcus, '41, Mgr.

50 West Main Street
Bloomsburg 356-R

HERVEY B. SMITH '22

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW

Court House Place
Bloomsburg 1115

FRANK S. HUTCHISON, '16

INSURANCE

First National Bank Building
Bloomsburg 777-J

MONTOUR HOTEL

Danville, Pa.

Susquehanna Restaurant
Sunbury-Selinsgrove Highway

W. E. Booth, '42
R. J. Webb, '42

HARRY S. BARTON, '96

REAL ESTATE — INSURANCE

52 West Main Street
Bloomsburg 850

THE CHAR-MUND INN

Mrs. Charlotte Hoch, '15, Prop.
Bloomsburg, Pa.

THE WOLF SHOP

LEATHER GOODS — REPAIRS

M. C. Strausser, '27, Prop.
122 East Main Street
Bloomsburg, Pa.

MOYER BROTHERS
PRESCRIPTION DRUGGISTS
SINCE 1868

William V. Moyer, '07, Pres.
Harold R. Moyer, '09, Vice-Pres.
Bloomsburg 246

The Alumni Quarterly

State Teachers College

Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania

Vol. 51

No. 2

MAY, 1950

Dr. Furbay Commencement Speaker

Dr. John H. Furbay, Director of Air World Education, will be the speaker for the annual Commencement exercises of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College to be held in the Carver Auditorium Monday, May 29, it was announced by Dr. Harvey A. Andruss, president of the College. President Andruss said that Dr. Furbay, who was one of the featured speakers at the annual convention of the American Association of School Administrators held recently in Atlantic City, will speak on the subject, "At Home in One World."

Dr. Furbay has had a long and distinguished career in the field of education, having been a professor in a large mid-Western university and the president of the College of West Africa. He has held other teaching posts in a number of colleges and universities throughout the United States and Hawaii.

He was an official observer at the first United Nations meeting in San Francisco and in 1945 was the official United States delegate to the Mexico City meeting of UNESCO. At the present time he is Director of Air World Education, an organization devoted to interpreting our air world responsibilities. A speaker of national reputation, Dr. Furbay is exceptionally well qualified to speak on the subject he has selected for the Bloomsburg commencement.

-----o-----

A file of Alumni from the first graduating class of the Bloomsburg Literary Institute contains the names of 10,209 graduates, including the class of 1949. Of this number, 8,741 are living, approximately 2,000 of this number hold the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education, first conferred in 1927.

The Alumni Association now has 1,637 paid members. This is an increase of twenty percent over the paid membership of a year ago, and an increase of forty percent of the total membership in 1945.

-----o-----

Much of the student-teaching done by Bloomsburg seniors is done off the campus. Their work is supervised by seventy-four co-operating teachers, located in the high schools in Williamsport, Danville, Berwick and Bloomsburg.

Vol. 51, No. 2

THE ALUMNI QUARTERLY

May, 1950

Published quarterly by the Alumni Association of the State Teachers College, Bloomsburg, Pa. Entered as Second-Class Matter, August 8, 1941, at the Post Office at Bloomsburg, Pa., under the Act of March 3, 1879. Yearly Subscription, $2.00; Single Copy, 50 cents.

H. F. FENSTEMAKER, '12 EDITOR
E. H. NELSON, '11 BUSINESS MANAGER

'Saucered and Blowed'

E. H. NELSON, '11

We were much pleased with the response to our "State Aid" query. First prize for quick response goes to Clyde R. Luchs, 18 W. 3rd St., Bloomsburg. He won out by using the telephone. First prize for an answer with a chuckle goes to Grace Gilner Zane, and to those of you who remember Grace, doesn't this sound like her.

"Dear E. H. N.—Has the Bloomsburg culture declined to the point where the students no longer know that 'State Aid' is the black molasses one uses to skid the bread down after the butter gives out?"

Credit for correct answers goes also to Kathryn Dechant, Harold Box, "Fat" Hartman, Mabel Decker, Myrtle Turney Ash (along with a nice long letter), Maurice Hauck, Annie Cassel Keller, Mary Loury Shambach, Anna Sachs Allen, Blanche Miller Grimes, Edith Martin Larson, Martha Baum Moore, Lillian C. Fisher, Ann Challis Thompson, Bertha Horner Bidleman, Helen Carpenter, Abe Sharadin and Anna Kline Kocher. Thank you all.

One Alumna thought "State Aid" should be interpreted as money paid by the State to those who promised to teach for two years, but that answer is rather technical for the average graduate.

Still staying with State Aid, was it molasses or sirup? Webster and a couple of others define molasses as "a viscid dark colored uncrystallizable liquor which, in the process of manufacture, is separated from crystallizable sugar by draining." On the other hand sirup is, for one thing, "the condensed cane-juice before separation of the crystallizable sugar." Then there is the question of flavor. Flavor is more obvious in sirup. Did our State Aid have flavor, and to what degree? Maybe we should have analyzed some "State Aid" over in Miss Good's Chemistry Class. Notice above that Webster uses the word "liquor" in his definition. Perhaps there were possibilities in the "State Aid" that were never utilized! Or did it foam sometime? Then again, it might be sentences you analyze—not State Aid. I'll check with Miss Swartz. Professor Foote used to say a "word is a sign of an idea," so that double barreled word "State Aid" may be the sign of a couple of ideas. But on to the next query.

Do some species of snakes swallow their young for protective purposes? The idea being, of course, that when the danger is past, the young snakes come wiggling out again to check on the stability of Prof. Hartline's or Dr. Kuster's classes when on field trips. An authentic correct answer to that one carries with it paid up Alumni Dues for one year, plus one jug of State Aid. See you May 27. Will announce the winner then.

Oratorical Finals at B. S. T. C.

Bloomsburg State Teachers College was recently honored by being chosen the seat of the State Oratorical Contest Finals for 1950. The district champions of the state competed for the state championship on Friday, March 17, in a special college assembly period at 10:00 a. m. in Carver Hall auditorium.

Dean of Men, John A. Hoch introduced Mr. A. C. Morgan, Berwick, Department Chairman of the American Legion Oration Committee. Mr. Morgan presented the rules of the contest as well as the procedure for participants. The orations were to be based on some phase of the Constitution of the United States which gave emphasis to the attendant duties and obligations of a citizen to our government. The minimum time limit was ten minutes, the maximum twelve.

Dick Wagner and Joseph Curilla were official scorers. Sam Alley, a runner-up in the Lancaster division, was the official time-keeper. The names of the contestants were not given until all three of them had made their speeches.

Contestant number one, as was later revealed, was Barbara Nolan of the Holy Rosary High School of Scranton, Champion of the Central district. Miss Nolan delivered her speech with perfect diction and poise despite emotional handicap she suffered from having buried her father the preceding day. The Central Champion's speech centered on the constitution in general.

As an interlude between the speeches, Emory Rarig, at the organ, and Dick Wagner, at the piano, played a duet. Then Mr. Hoch introduced contestant number two, who later proved to be the State champion, Marion De Vore of Millersville, representative of the Eastern district. Her speech theme was "The Constitution and the Opportunities I Receive from it."

Thereon, Mary Joan Williams played Dubussy's "Clair de Lune" on the piano. The next contestant was later revealed as Phyllis Mermelstein, champion of the Western district and a native of Sharon. Miss Mermelstein spoke in a calm, sincere tone and held the attention of the audience remarkably.

At the conclusion of Miss Mermelstein's speech, Emory Rarig and Dick Wagner did a second number entitled "Triumphal March" by Greig. The contestants then made extemporaneous speeches on "Article I of the first ten amendments to the Constitution pertaining to rights and privileges.

The judges were scattered throughout the audience and included: Miss Alice Johnston, of the Speech department of B.S.T.C., Mr. Hemingway, President of the Board of Trustees of the college; Dr. Ernest Englehart of the secondary departments; Reverend Edgar Zeigler, minister of the St. Matthews Lutheran Church of Bloomsburg; and Mr. Edward T. DeVoe of the English Department.

Chairman John Hoch announced the results, which placed Miss

DeVore as state champion, Miss Mermelstein second and Miss Nolan in third place. The judges had a difficult decision as all of the girls were excellent. Mr. Morgan expressed his thanks to the judges and any other persons aiding in the contest. He stated that the three finalists were chosen from 1200 contestants. In short they were one in 400. The Department Superintendent to Public Instruction, Dr. Gross, presented the trophy to Miss Marion DeVore and stated that from here she would go to the quarter finals.

-----o-----

Retail Sales Training Conference

A preview of better living made possible by recent developments in the field of science and chemistry was afforded several hundred persons who attended the Fourth Annual Retail Sales Training Conference held Thursday, March 9, at the Bloomsburg State Teachers College. Speaking on the subject, "Progress in Better Living," Louis P. Shannon, Eastern Manager, Extension Division, Public Relations Department, E. I. DuPont DeNemours and Company, gave a lecture demonstration in which progress in better living was documented with a display of advancements in the field of chemistry.

Mr. Shannon also gave his listeners a preview of things so new as to still be in the experimental and developmental stage, indicating that much more progress can be expected in the development of plastics. He made note of the social and economic system that made these great developments possible. His lecture was challenging, educational and inspiring. The exhibits were colorful and his demonstrations held interest at a high level.

Immediately preceding Mr. Shannon's address, Q. Forrest Walker, Economist and Business Advisor, R. H. Macy and Company, New York, spoke on the subject "The Economic Outlook for 1950." Mr. Walker, who is widely known as a lecturer on corporation finance and investments, outlined the economic factors which are in operation today and related them to present conditions in business and finance.

Both Mr. Shannon and Mr. Walker spoke at the evening session of the conference which attracted one of the largest crowds ever to attend a similar affair on the campus.

In the afternoon session, Mr. Earl Lifshy, Editor, Retailing Daily, spoke on "Retailing Home Furnishing." Long a student of marketing and merchandising and a teacher of the subject at New York University for several years, Mr. Lifshy told his listeners that the future of the home furnishings business is bright. New developments in the field promise much more comfort and enjoyment in living.

The second speaker on the afternoon program was Mrs. Annie Reese, Director of Promotion, Josiah Wedgwood and Sons, New York, who addressed the group on the subject "Chinaware." A well-known authority in the field, Mrs. Reese told the story of Wedgwood, a living tradition. During the course of her remarks she pointed out that Wedgwood's achievements were varied, for he became famous as a scientist and a friend of the most eminent men in England. His work in social reform was outstanding.

Conference chairman was Charles H. Henrie, Retail Selling instructor at the College. President Harvey A. Andruss spoke briefly at both sessions and extended greetings to the guests who attended the conference.

-----o-----

President Andruss Publishes Article

The leading article in the current issue of American Business Education, "Appraising Achievement in Bookkeeping and Accounting," was written by Dr. Harvey A. Andruss, President, Bloomsburg State Teachers College. This particular issue was distributed to members of the National Business Teachers Association and the Eastern Business Teachers Association now in session at the annual convention in Boston.

"If we are to improve the bookkeeping ability of students," writes Dr. Andruss, "We would do well to consider these things:

(1) What does business want? (2) Can fairly valid prognostic procedures be developed to determine who will be able to keep books? (3) What other things must be considered along with examination results and ordinary school grades? (4) How can we improve school examinations? (5) Do we use employment examinations such as the United Business Education Association and National Office Management Association Business Entrance tests as widely as we should? (6) Recent studies show that technical knowledge of subject matter is not as important as teachers think."

"Improvement is a matter of supplementing and refining the best that we have today rather than supplanting or throwing overboard all present methods and material because they are not perfect," so concludes Dr. Andruss.

-----o-----

WHY THE INCREASE IN DUES?

In most of the copies of the Quarterly sent out this time will be found the usual renewal slip. Readers will notice that the annual membership dues have been increased from one dollar to two dollars.

An explanation of this change is necessary. As many Alumni are aware, the Alumni Association has developed a growing program of awarding scholarships to worthy students of the College. These scholarships have been awarded to such students, whether they are participating in athletics or not.

Realizing the growing needs of funds for this purpose, the Alumni who were present at the general meeting held on Alumni Day last year voted to increase the dues from one dollar to two dollars. The motion was made from the floor, and was not suggested by the Board of Directors. The Board did, however, at a later meeting, ratify the action taken by the General Association.

We hope that the Alumni, after having been informed of the good use that will be made of these funds, will help in this worthy program by renewing their membership from year to year.

-----o-----

The Business Education Department of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College welcomed to the campus on Friday, March 24, Mrs. Madeline Strony who spoke to the business education students on her favorite subject, namely shorthand. Mrs. Strony joined the Gregg Shorthand Company about a year and a half ago. Before joining the Gregg Shorthand Co. Mrs. Strony was a teacher in the Business Education field, also her name was connected with the famous "Business Girl Clinics" at the Packard School in New York. Under Gregg she has traveled extensively all over the United States giving lectures on Shorthand.

Every student of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College was invited to be present to hear Mrs. Strony, and a large number of pupils did attend this conference.

Mrs. Strony gave some very good hints to students who were not as competent in shorthand as they should be and suggested excellent remedies for improvement. After her lecture she opened the floor for questions to students regarding shorthand.

-----o-----

Evelyn MacGregor, radio star of the "American Album of Familiar Music" presented the final number of the 1049-50 Artists Course of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College in the Carver Auditorium Tuesday evening, February 7, at 8:15 o'clock. Miss MacGregor was joined on the program by Norman Kelley, leading tenor of the Philadelphia LaScala Opera Company. His many appearances in the United States and Canada have won him a place among the five leading tenors on the concert and opera stage today.

-----o-----

James Klemans, of Ashland, was chosen "Joe College," the typical college male, by a vote of the students at Bloomsburg, it was revealed at the intermission of the Junior Prom held Friday evening, April 21, at the College.

The Prom, a gala event on the Spring social calendar, emphasized the spring mood. The center of attraction was a "Wishing Well" in the center of the dance floor, while surrounding the dancing area were white posts from which were suspended bird cages. Lee Vincent and his orchestra provided music for the dancing. Walter Zorn, Lansdowne, is president of the Junior Class.

The Philadelphia Alumni

The annual dinner of the Philadelphia Alumni Association of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College was held at McCallisters, Saturday, April 22, 1950.

Mrs. Kate Seasholtz Morris gave the invocation.

Words of welcome were extended to all of the guests, especially to those who were there for the first time, by the president, Mrs. Lillie Hortman Irish, who also introduced the toastmaster of the evening, Dr. Ralph L. Hart, of Philadelphia.

Mr. John A. Hoch, Dean of Men of Bloomsburg State Teachers College, addressed the assemblage. His address was mainly about the most important things the College has done recently and is expecting to do in the near future.

It was Mr. Hoch's first visit with us. His address was very well received, and his affable manner made him a friend of all.

Dr. Nelson, President of the Alumni Association, talked about College Athletics which is dearest to his heart. He also told us about the new Alumni Association that has been instituted in Washington, D. C., and about the new one now being formed in New York City. These new organizations need our moral support and we wish them every success.

A fifty dollar Scholarship was presented by Dr. Hart for the Philadelphia Association. It was received for the College by Dr. Nelson. He assured the organization that a plaque would be inscribed and placed in the College.

The president then announced that for next year the luncheon meetings will be the second Saturday of each month from October to and including April, 1951. Meetings are held at Gimbel's Club Women's Center.

The next annual dinner will be held April 28, 1951, at McCallisters. Mrs. Mary Moore Taubel, the vice president, has graciously invited the Alumni to her Stone Harbor seashore home, New Jersey, for a day's outing, Wednesday, July 19, 1950.

The president then said that next year is the twentieth anniversary of the founding of the Philadelphia Association. She urged that all work together to make this a memorable reunion.

Dr. Ralph Hart was a very estimable toastmaster, and when the evening was over, every one went home feeling that they had a very wonderful evening.

Those present were:

Mr. Percy P. Teal, Norristown; Edwina Wieland Teal, Norristown; Alice Snyder Guthrie, Swarthmore; Marion Phillips Stiteler, Havertown; Harriet Shuman Burr, Wynnewood; Dr. Ralph L. Hart, Yeadon; Mrs. Ralph L. Hart, Yeadon; Elmira Guterman Linner, Philadelphia; John Linner, Philadelphia; Willie Morgan Stein, Philadelphia; Marjorie Reese Penman and daughter, Havertown; Lena Leitzel Streamer, Collingswood, N. J.; Anna Sachs Allen, Darby; Jeanne La Bohn, Darby; Harriet W. Pitner, Deans, N. J.; Kate Sea-sholtz Morris, Philadelphia; James Morris, Philadelphia; William Rarick, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Rowland, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Percival Rieder, Abington; Mrs. Mary Moore Taubel, Norristown.

Gertrude Rinker, Prospect Park; Margaret Butler Minner, Prospect Park; Robert Minner, Prospect Park; Grace Fenstermaker Frantz, Merchantville, N. J.; Irene Hortman, Camden, N. J.; Adda Brandon Westfield, Chester; Emilie Nikel Gledhill, Westmont, N. J.; Louella Burdick Sinquett, Haddonfield, N. J.; Roy Sinquett, Haddonfield, N. J.; Betty A. Burnham, Philadelphia; Grace Baylor Auten, Thorofare, N. J.; Hurley L. Auten, Thorofare, N. J.; Allen P. Rubrecht, Philadelphia; Anna Solomon Rubrecht, Philadelphia; George R. Buckman, Philadelphia; Rachel Oman Buckman, Philadelphia; Ruth Johnson Garney, Upper Darby; Myron F. Garney, Jr., Upper Darby; Marion G. Jeffers, Philadelphia; S. William Jeffers, Philadelphia; Mr. John A. Hoch, Dean of Men, S. T. C., Bloomsburg; Nora Woodring Kenney, Philadelphia; George Kenney, Philadelphia; Lillie Hortman Irish, Camden, N. J.; Dr. Elna H. Nelson, President of the Alumnia Association, Bloomsburg.

Mrs. Kate Seasholtz, '09, and her husband have recently returned from an extended vacation trip to Miami and Key West, Florida, Mexico, and other interesting points in the South.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Teal (Edwina Brouse '18) visited their daughter and family in Texas in January. They also had a delightful trip to Mexico.

The Philadelphia Alumni of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College were deeply grieved to hear of the death of Norman Grant Cool, who died at his home, 4113 Irving Place, Culver City, California, on Thursday, January 19, after a prolonged illness. He is survived by his wife, Florence Hess Cool, his son, Harold N. Cool, '12, by four grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren.

A native of Pennsylvania, he was born November 8, 1867. He was graduated from the Bloomsburg State Normal School in the class of 1886. He attended Lafayette College, and was graduated from the Eastman Business College.

He was engaged in the wholesale lumber business during the greater part of his life, and was connected with H. Millard and Sons, New York, William H. Whitmer and Sons, Philadelphia, and Beecher and Barr, Pottsville. After living for sometime in Pottsville, he returned to Philadelphia, where he was associated with the George B. Evans Laboratories in the drug business. He was associated with this firm for fifteen years. He retired in 1943, at which time he and Mrs. Cool moved to California to be near their son.

It was Mrs. Cool who organized the Philadelphia Alumni Association in 1931, and Mr. Cool was always at her side to give aid whenever it was needed. It was through their earnest efforts that the organization grew and prospered. The Philadelphia organization sends deepest sympathy to Mrs. Cool and her family.

Lillie Hortman Irish, President

Nora Woodring Kenney, Secretary-Treasurer

Plans For Summer Sessions

Workshops in Elementary Education and Shorthand and Typing will feature the 1950 Summer sessions of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College, according to announcements made by Dr. Thomas P. North, dean of instruction. Dr. North said that the three-weeks Pre-Session will begin Monday, June 5, while the regular six-weeks Summer Session will begin June 26. Registration for the Post Session will be held Monday, August 7.

Because of the present shortage of teachers for the elementary school, the Elementary Education Workshop is expected to attract a capacity enrollment. Developed to assist mature and experienced teachers, the workshop carries a credit of three semester hours in the courses listed in the tentative program. These credits, Dr. North indicated, can be used to make a college certificate permanent; they can be used toward graduation; credits may be used to extend a present certificate to include teaching on the elementary level, or as a refresher course for former elementary teachers who desire to re-enter the profession because of the critical shortage of elementary teachers.

The 1950 program is especially arranged so that observations may be an integral part of the workshop. Bloomsburg is one of the few colleges in Pennsylvania that maintains its laboratory school during the regular summer session. The Benjamin Franklin School affords an excellent opportunity for observation and participation by experienced teachers. The combined Typewriting and Shorthand Workshop will enable seniors and graduates to meet certification requirements in these subjects. The workshop will begin on June 5 and continue throughout the twelve weeks of the summer session.

-----0-----

A group of students of Bloomsburg State Teachers College presented a unique assembly program at the Nescopeck High School on Thursday, February 16, under the direction of Richard Wagner, a senior at the College and a graduate of Nescopeck High School. The following students presented a well-balanced and delightful program of music: Mary Lou Todd, Bloomsburg; Barbara Gulick, Riverside; Emory Rarig, Catawissa; Charles Edwards, Shamokin; Andrew Maciekko, Wilkes-Barre and Jack Wintersteen, Danville. Dr. Ralph Herre was in charge of the group.

ALUMNI DAY

Saturday, May 27, 1950

Business Education Contest

An Office Machines Show was held in conjunction with the Annual Business Education Contest and Clinic at the Bloomsburg State Teachers College Saturday, May sixth. A number of nationally-known companies displayed modern office equipment commonly found in schools and small to medium-sized offices. In addition to the latest models, the exhibitors showed machines manufactured during twenty-year intervals to show the progress made in mechanical office equipment during periods equal to or greater than the life span of the Department of Business Education.

The show featured the Twentieth Anniversary of the founding of the Department at the College, and as a special feature of the anniversary celebration, a short sketch depicting an office in the Gay Nineties was presented. Miss Honora M. Noyes, of the Department of Business Education, and Miss Alice Johnston, of the Speech and Dramatics Department, collaborated in writing the sketch which was acted by students of the Department. As has been the custom for many years, a display of textbooks, teaching materials, and audio-visual aids was staged in the Navy Hall Auditorium by representatives of the various publishing companies.

-----o-----

Charles Fowler Bomboy, a lifelong resident of Espy, passed away at his home Saturday, February 4. He was born March 2, 1864, in the home in which he died. In his boyhood he learned the blacksmith trade under the apprenticeship of his father, P. E. Bomboy, and worked at that trade in the days when the Pennsylvania Canal Company had a boatyard at Espy.

Following this he worked in furniture factories at Bloomsburg and Espy. He worked as a blacksmith for considerable length of time at the ACF Co., Berwick. In 1920 he began his employment in the maintenance department at the Bloomsburg State Teachers College where he worked fourteen years, retiring at the age of seventy. For the past fifteen years he lived in retirement at his home in Espy.

-----o-----

Arthur Hoffman, of 211 Robert Street, Sheatown, a retired Newport Township school teacher, died in March at Nanticoke State Hospital, where he had been a patient since February 21.

He was a native of Glen Lyon, being a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Hoffman. He was a graduate of Buckhorn High School, Buckhorn, Columbia County and Bloomsburg State Teachers College. He taught in Newport Township schools for 26 years and at the time of his retirement in January, 1945, he was co-principal of the K. M. Smith School, Alden. Mr. Hoffman was a member of the Alden P. O. S. of A. and St. John's Lutheran Church, Nanticoke. He was active in church affairs and formerly served on the official board.

TONY GRABOWSKI CHOSEN NEW C.G.A. HETD

Although the intensity of political campaigning did not reach the same level this year that it did in the past, several events of this season are not to go unnoticed.

In keeping with what seems to be tradition by now, the Waller Lounge was colorfully bedecked with numerous banners and placards, announcing candidates for office. Contrasting colors presented their messages boldly from the banners. The placards carried various slogans declaring the virtues and abilities of several of the candidates.

Election eve was highlighted, for the second year in succession, by a campaign dance. Informality was the keynote of the affair as dancing was enjoyed in Waller Lounge from eight until nine-thirty o'clock. Arrangements for this social event were begun by Max Kaplan.

During a short intermission, all candidates who were present were introduced by Max Kaplan. Most of these persons responded with bows, although Tony Grabowski added a few weighty comments. All those who were in attendance will remember the "band-wagon" entrance of Claire Davis, whose political campaign was directed by Donald Butcofsky.

Further ado was in order in Carver Hall Auditorium on election morning. The arch of the stage, the sides of the balcony, and several of the doors carried banners and cards as reminders of a number of candidates. On the auditorium seats were placed mimeographed pleas, in the form of a defense for some campaign speech remarks, asking members of the college community to "vote for Cal." The real flurry of the assembly period was provided when, during the announcement period, balloons and tags bearing the name of Dick Kressler came floating down from the balcony. The political operations of this aspirant for the office of vice president seemed to be supported to some degree by the Day Men's Association. Included at various phases throughout the week-or-so preceding the elections were the distribution of book-matches bearing the expression, "Matchless," and of pencils. A group of "Burma-Shave" type signs paved the way between Noetling and Carver Halls presenting another message in behalf of the "vote for Dick" campaign.

With the passing of the elections, losers have congratulated the victors (campaign managers as well as candidates) and, with the passing of the signs from Waller Lounge, all is once again back to normal for another year.

-----o-----

Mark Collins Wanich, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Collins Wanich, of Light Street, has completed work for his Master of Arts degree at Teachers College, Columbia University, New York City. He is now teaching in the Amityville High School, Long Island, and expects to start work for his Doctor's Degree in June.

TEACHERS AND ADMINISTRATORS ATTEND CONFERENCE

"A new look at the schools' public relations program" was the theme around which the annual Secondary Education Conference revolved on Saturday, March 25, in Carver Auditorium. Dr. Ernest H. Englehardt, director of Secondary Education, planned a varied and interesting program for teachers and school administrators of the Bloomsburg service area.

Dr. Jesse Burkhead, Professor of Economics, Maxwell School of Citizenship, Syracuse University, opened the general session speaking on "The Pennsylvania Revenue Problem." Dr. Burkhead, who has written a series of articles for the Pennsylvania School Journal on financial problems, outlined the possible solutions of our difficulty. He expressed the hope that we would not take the easy way out—that of raising additional revenue by adopting a sales or income tax—without first considering the needed improvement in existing property taxes.

An outstanding personality in the field of public relations, Roy K. Wilson, Assistant Director, Press and Radio relations, National Education Association, based his speech on the seven qualities that a community public relations program should have. Honest in approach, intrinsic in value, continuous in application, positive in content, comprehensive in scope, sensitive to public concern and simple in manner—these qualifications will mark any public relations program as a successful venture. Mr. Wilson further described specific public relations programs of varied natures which have been successful in securing community interest and aid in school affairs.

Following the general session, the conference continued with three discussion groups: "Good Teachers are Good Salesmen," led by Dr. John B. Kennedy, Superintendent of Schools, Kingston; "New Ideas in Newspaper—Radio Publicity for Schools" headed by Orrin Cocks, Supervising Principal, Watontown; and "School Financial Problems Facing Administrators and Directors" with Superintendent Fred Diehl, Montour County Schools, as chairman. After the panel group had introduced the topics, a very beneficial and enlightened discussion followed.

A short summary of each discussion was presented by the group chairman at the luncheon which included the conference program.

A vocal duet with Joseph Curilla and Aleki Communtzis, accompanied by Athamantea Communtzis, was given after the general session. Music at the luncheon was furnished by Thomas Jones on the marimba accompanied by Richard Wagner.

-----o-----

Margaret Potter (Mrs. Henry Steiner) is teaching geography in the high school at Lititz, Pa. Her husband is Director of Music in the same school. Mr. and Mrs. Steiner have a daughter, Sally, now in first grade.

Peggy Lewis is teaching in the high school at East Lampeter.

RECEIVES DOCTOR'S DEGREE

Ralph S. Herre, a member of the Teachers College faculty, was awarded the degree of Doctor of Education at the mid-year Commencement of the Pennsylvania State College. Dr. Herre, who came to Bloomsburg in 1947, is a teacher of social studies and serves as assistant dean of men at the College. Prior to coming here, he served as principal of the Senior High School, Lockport, N. Y., from 1944 to 1946. He was also principal of the Wolcott, N. Y., Central School and for a number of years served as principal of the High School Department of the State Normal School at Brockport, N. Y.

Dr. Herre is a graduate of Colgate University, where he received the degree of Bachelor of Science. He was awarded the degree of Master of Arts by the State Teachers College at Albany, N. Y., and at Clark University of Buffalo, and New York University before matriculating at Penn State.

He is a member of the Pennsylvania Historical Society, the National Education Association, and the Pennsylvania State Association. In addition to a number of articles he has written for educational journals and publications, he is the author of "A History of Auburn Prison."

-----O-----

In a letter received some time ago from David M. Jones, he says: "I have just completed the requirements for the Master's degree at Teachers College, Columbia University and am presently taking a few additional courses to round out my profession preparation. My graduate work has been in Comparative and International Education, a field that became of interest to me because of my rather intimate contact with world problems and other cultures during my foreign service with the Armed Forces and because of the increasing opportunities that seem to be afforded in the field of international relations as the world, despite discouraging set-backs at times, becomes more and more aware of the need for international unity. I hope eventually that this work will lead to a position with an inter-cultural or international education organization such as UNESCO, the State Department, or with the Division of International Educational Relations of the U. S. Office of Education, though I realize that I have yet to gain much more experience in the educational field."

-----O-----

The Sophomore Class of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College held its annual Cotillion in Centennial Gymnasium Saturday, February 24. The theme of this year's dance was "Antoine's Cabaret," and decorations were in keeping with the continental flavor of a French night spot. The dance floor was ringed with tables and chairs, carrying out the night club atmosphere, while a color scheme of cherry red and white added brilliance to the gala affair. Lee Vincent and his orchestra provided music for dancing, which began at nine o'clock and continued until midnight.

COLLEGE ENROLLMENT REACHES 900 2ND SEMESTER

With the second semester of the '49-'50 college year now under way, the student rollbook tallied up, in round numbers, to something like 900. Included in this check-up were seven hundred and eighty regular students, and over a hundred extension course enrollees.

The campus dormitories are bulging at the seams with a capacity house of 400. In the Waller Hall domain, 170 women are being housed, and in the North Hall, 230 men "sack in" nightly. The dining room is also doing a rush business with 450 mouths to feed three times daily. This culinary workshop takes care of faculty, dormitory students, and day men students who are residing in town households.

The veterans are slowly relinquishing their supremacy in the student line-ups. The number of G.I.'s now attending classes is 278. The overall picture reads a two to one dominance of men students over women students in the enrollment number.

The College now has three extension classes in Wilkes-Barre which total twenty-odd students, and in Hazleton, extension classes serve about 40 education-minded students. Saturday classes at the College have fifty teachers attending. In comparison with last semester's teacher-in-service total, there is now an increase of over one hundred teachers attending College sessions.

-----O-----

S. Dayton Beishline, principal of the Huntington Township Joint School, Luzerne County, stricken by a cerebral hemorrhage while on a fishing trip on April 15, died Sunday, April 23, in the Bloomsburg Hospital.

With his son, the Rev. Richard Beishline, pastor of the Pilgrim Congregational Church, Plymouth, Mr. Beishline had gone on a fishing trip on the first day of trout season. The two returned to rest, and the son fell asleep. Later the minister awakened and found his father in a coma. Mr. Beishline was later taken to the hospital.

He was a native of Columbia County. He was born at Bendertown, April 5, 1898. He attended the Bendertown School and the Fishing Creek High School. He was a graduate of Bloomsburg and took further studies at Cold Spring Harbor. In recent years he was awarded a master's degree at Bucknell University.

Mr. Beishline taught at the Crossroads School and the High School in Fishing Creek Township. Later he taught for a short time at the New Columbus School. After nine years at Scott High School, Espy, he became Supervising Principal at Picture Rocks. At the time of his death, he had served at Huntington Mills for fifteen years.

Mr. Beishline was well known for his church activities. He was a member of the Huntington Mills Methodist Church, its Sunday School Superintendent for the past twelve years, and the conference lay leader of the church. He also taught the adult Bible Class.

WALLER HALL WOMEN NAME GOVERNING BOARD

The new officers and members of the Waller Hall Governing Board were announced at the Waller Hall Dorm Party recently. The newly-elected officers are as follows: Shirley Ashner, president; Lola Deibert, vice president; Eleanor Johnson, secretary and Nancy Swartz, treasurer. Other members are: Mary Condon, Wilma Jones and Mildred Pliscott—sophomores; Doris Bowman, Olive Mouery and Eleanor Young—juniors; Barbara Frederick, Janet Price, Carolyn Vernoy and Muriel Wagner—seniors.

-----o-----

American life during the past half-century was colorfully reviewed in song and dance at the annual May Day ceremonies of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College Wednesday, May 10. Mrs. Robert B. Redman directed this year's fete, the theme of which will be "A Mid-Century May Day."

The boys and girls of the Benjamin Franklin School presented a varied and colorful program of dances in harmony with the various phases of American life during the past fifty years. The program took place before the court of the May Queen, who was crowned in traditional ceremonies on a dais erected on the terraces behind the Waller Hall gymnasium. The Maroon and Gold band provided music for the exercises and presented a brief concert prior to the processional, which began at 2:30 p. m. Daylight Saving Time.

This year's May Queen was Miss Jane L. Keller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Keller, Light Street Road, Bloomsburg. Miss Keller's attendants, were: Susan Dreibilbis, Bloomsburg; Mrs. Jane Kepping, Hazleton; Lucy Jane Baker, Bloomsburg; Betty Ridall, Town Hill; Jeanne Kelder, New Albany; Carmela Tarole, Bthlehem; Terry Ann Cierlitsky, Tamaqua and Elizabeth Reece, West Grove.

-----o-----

The present age of the average faculty member at Bloomsburg is forty-seven and one-half years.

A recent study of the teaching experience of the faculty shows the following, in years of service:

Years	Total	At Bloomsburg
0- 4	1	21
5- 9	4	2
10-14	4	2
15-19	8	4
20-24	6	11
25-29	5	7
30-34	9	—
35-39	9	47
40-44	1
<hr/>
47

Athletics

A new college scoring record was set by the Bloomsburg State Teachers College basketball team which recently closed its season with a record of twelve wins and seven losses. Coach Harold Shelly's cagers tallied 1156 points in nineteen games for an average production of 60.8 tallies per contest—a new record. Led by Walt Banull, Plymouth junior, who was named to the All-Pennsylvania squad, the Huskies outscored last year's outfit by more than 300 points.

Banull copped individual scoring honors with 271 points. His average of 14.2 points a game topped his last year's average of 5 tallies a contest. Ed Jones, Milton senior, was second with 194 tallies, while Bill Bartleson, the speedy Warrior Run dribbler, took third place with a production total of 166 points.

Defensively, the Huskies limited their rivals to 1069 points, an average of 56.2 points a game, but their offensive scoring punch was more than equal to the task. Interestingly enough, the Huskies dropped two decisions to rivals they had defeated earlier in the campaign. The wound up the season in a blaze of glory, pounding out three straight decisions. Their 12-7 record was the best since 1944 when a Navy V-12 studded Maroon and Gold outfit compiled a record of 10 victories in 14 starts.

Prespects for next year are rather bright since Coach Shelly will lose only Ed Jones, Milton center, and Bobby Kashner, diminutive Bloomsburg shotmaker. He will also have available one of the best junior varsity combinations in the school's history, an outfit that picked up 11 victories in 14 contests. Only the Bucknell Freshmen were able to pin the Husky Pups twice during the campaign.

In addition to the three top scorers, here are the records of the rest of the players for the season.

	g.	fg.	pts.
Robert Kashner	57	30-48	114
Bob Andrews	56	27-37	137
Bill Byham	43	27-47	113
Don Butler	45	12-28	102
Dan Boychuck	7	2-2	16
Tom Reed	3	0-1	6
Jim Thompson	2	1-1	6
Larry Ksansnak	2	1-3	5
Charles Daly --	2	0-2	4
Al Williams --	2	0-2	4
Jack Rittenmeyer	1	1-2	2
Dreher Richards	1	0-0	2
Bob McCaffrey	1	0-0	2
Don Raker	0	1-1	1
Ed Goodhart	0	1-2	1

B. S. T. C. TRACK SCHEDULE

April 22 Home	Cheyney STC	May 6 Home	W. Chester
April 25 Away	Shippensburg	May 13 Shippens.	State Meet
April 28 29 Phila.	Penn Relays	May 17 Home	Scranton U.
May 2 Away	Lock Haven

-----o-----

Those who were at Bloomsburg during the war years will be interested in knowing that Lloyd Paul Jordan, who has been football coach at Amherst since 1932, has accepted a similar position at Harvard. Mr. Jordan will be remembered as Lt. Jordan, sommanding officer of the V-12 Naval Unit at Bloomsburg.

-----o-----

Lovely spring and summer fashions, designed to please the most discriminating tastes, were displayed at the Fourth Annual Spring Fashion Show staged by the Bloomsburg State Teachers College as a feature of the Eighteenth Annual Commercial Contest held Saturday, May 6. The show, which last year attracted a capacity audience to the Carver Auditorium, was presented by the Retail Selling classes of the College, Friday evening, May 5, at 8:15 o'clock, while a special matinee performance was held Friday afternoon at 3 p. m. for invited high school students and women guests attending the Spring Reunion of the Caldwell Consistory.

With the assistance of a large number of retail merchants in the town of Bloomsburg, this year's show was the most outstanding of the series. Fashions from the following merchants were modeled by a group of College women: Arcus Women's Shop, Dixie Shops, W. T. Grant Company, Dorothy Kashner Millinery, Kay Long Shop, The Little Shop, J. C. Penney, F. P. Pursel, Racusin's and Snyder's Millinary.

The setting for the 1950 presentation will be a lounge in the Women's Dormitory. Furniture and materials for the stage set were furnished by the Davison Furniture Stores and the Mackay Home Decorators. Student chairman in charge of the stage setting were Mr. and Mrs. George Kepping, Hazleton, while W. B. Sterling, of the Department of Business Education, was the faculty advisor.

A special feature of the Fashion Show was a review of fashions of the beginning of the Century, centering attention on what the well-dressed college girl wore in the early 1900's. Susan Dreibelbis, of Bloomsburg, was the student chairman in charge of this phase of the program. A number of students served as store coordinators for the event: Betty Ridall, chairman, Town Hill; Berdine Logar, Weston; Marjorie Franzo, Bethlehem; Joan Grazell, Shenandoah; Kathryn Rhinard, Berwick; Lois Yeager, Numidia; Shirley Ashner, Lehighton; Mary Ann Alarcon, Keiser; Olive Hunter, Taylor; Betty Cole, Mes-hoppen and Lillian Mlkvy, Palmerton.

A glimpse behind the scenes of the grand opera and the Broadway theatre was given students of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College Thursday, April 20, by Humphry Douless, tour manager for Lily Pons, Dorothy Kirsten and Hildegard. In an exceptionally-interesting presentation, Mr. Douless, who personally managed the affairs of the late Grace Moore, bred nostalgia with high spirits, memories of the past, and intimate stories of the dazzling personalities of the greatest names in the story of the American theatre. He took his listeners behind the scenes of America's leading theatres and opera houses. He related the fabulous legend of a scared and pretty high school girl named Dorothy Kirsten who was auditioned by Grace Moore and rocketed to fame with her assistance. The former stage editor of "Newsweek" and "Variety" also told the inside story of how comparatively unknown singers and actresses are introduced to the music-loving public and rise to fame in a very short time.

-----o-----

President and Mrs. Harvey A. Andruss, of the College, attended the annual all-Pennsylvania College dinner held in the Sapphire Room of the Mayflower Hotel in Washington, D. C. Monday evening, February 20. It was the second of the dinners sponsored by the All Pennsylvania College Alumni Association, of Washington, D. C. The president of the Washington Alumni Chapter of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College, James Cummings acted as host for the reception of the presidents of the various colleges, which was held preceding the dinner. There was an attendance of around 500 representing all the colleges in Pennsylvania.

-----o-----

Members of the faculty have in recent years made many contributions in the field of published writings. The totals include nine books, with five more in preparation; 176 magazine articles, eighteen bulletins and yearbooks, two sets of testing materials, twenty-five book reviews and twenty theses and dissertations.

-----o-----

A five-year study of the progress in the degree status of the faculty at Bloomsburg shows that ten hold the Doctor's Degree, five have the Master's Degree plus an additional year of preparation, thirty-two hold the Master's Degree, and one has the Bachelor's Degree. There are now forty-seven members of the faculty.

ALUMNI DAY

Saturday, May 27, 1950

THE ALUMNI

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

E. H. Nelson	President
Mrs. Ruth Speary Griffith	Vice-President
Mrs. C. C. Housenick	Secretary
Harriet Carpenter	Treasurer
Fred W. Diehl	Edward F. Schuyler	H. F. Fenstermaker
Hervey B. Smith	Elizabeth H. Huber

1894

Mrs. Crawford C. Smith, the former Anna Straw, died suddenly of a heart attack Friday, March 10, in Kingston, where she resided. Mrs. Smith was well known in this section. A graduate of the Bloomsburg Normal School, she attended the fiftieth reunion of her class a few years ago. Her husband preceded her in death five years ago. He was a well known lumberman. Surviving are six children: Dr. Donald Smith, Wilkes-Barre; Mrs. Harold Howe, Daytona Beach, Fla.; Dr. Harold Smith, Wilkes-Barre; Miss Kathryn, Miss Jean and Gordon Smith, at home.

1896

The address of Florence E. Kitchen (Mrs. Clinton G. Fullmer) is R. D. 1, Box 225, Pasco, Washington. Mrs. Fullmer was also graduated in the College Preparatory Course in 1905. She informs us that her daughter, Roberta, is in Heidelberg, Germany, and plans to attend the Oberammergan Passion Play and the International Association of University Women during the coming summer.

1888

The present address of Mrs. Florence H. Cool is P. O. Box 225, Culver City, California.

1901

Philip Maue, 66, of East Dewart street, Shamokin, member of a pioneer Hazleton family, died Wednesday, March 15, after a years illness. He was born in Hazleton on November 26, 1883, a son of the late Philip and Mary Maue and was a graduate of Hazleton High School; Bloomsburg State Normal School and Lafayette College, class of 1911. A mining and industrial engineer by profession he was first affiliated with the Lehigh Valley Coal Co., in that capacity; later with the Harwood Electric Co. and then with the Temple Coal Co. Mr. Maue located in Shamokin in 1931 to associate with his brother, Fred Maue in the Maue Silk Corporation of which he was president. He was a member of Azalea Lodge, No. 687 F. and A. M. of Hazleton; the Williamsport Consistory; the Rajah Shrine, of Reading and was a member of St. John's Reformed church, of Shamokin.

Dr. Stephen Mitterling, West Philadelphia physician, died Sunday, March 19 at his home, 5731 Baltimore ave. He was 71 years of age. Dr. Mitterling, who had practiced medicine in West Philadelphia for 38 years, was graduated from the Medico-Chirurgical College of Philadelphia in 1911. He was born in Richfield, Pa. Dr. Mitterling served as instructor at his alma mater until the college closed in 1916. From 1916 until 1928 he was an instructor of anatomy in the School of Medicine of the University of Pennsylvania. In later years he was an instructor in the eye, nose and throat department of the Graduate School of Medicine at the University. For many years he was a member of the staff of Methodist Hospital and a courtesy member of the staffs of other hospitals. Dr. Mitterline was active in the West Philadelphia Medical Association. He served as president of the organization and as a member of the board of directors for many years. He was a member of the Philadelphia County Medical Society and served as its vice president. He also was a member of the American Medical Association and the Medical Club of Philadelphia. For the past 15 years he had been a physician at the Presbyterian Home for Widows and Single Women. Dr. Mitterling was an elder and president of the board of trustees of the Ninth Presbyterian church. He was a member of Rolling Green Golf Club and a Mason.

1903

William C. Delong retired last April from the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. He spent the winter in Orlando, Florida and the summer at his home in Berwick. He attended his forty-fifth reunion in 1948 and is a member of the committee which will plan the fiftieth reunion in 1953.

1911

Glen Cove, N. Y., school children and many adult residents of that vicinity were saddened by the death of the beloved principal of Landing School, Mrs. Grace Wegge McAleer, says the Glen Cove Echo.

A resident of 16 Roosevelt street, Glen Cove, Mrs. McAleer died on Sunday, March 19at, at the North Country Community hospital. A solemn requiem mass was sung on Wednesday, March 22, at St. Patrick's church and the funeral was held from her home, under the direction of Matthew J. Kramer. Interment was at St. John's cemetery in Brooklyn.

All schools were closed on Wednesday morning in tribute to the memory of this beloved teacher and to give those desiring the opportunity to attend her funeral. City flags were at half-mast.

A member of the Glen Cove school system for the past 31 years, Mrs. McAleer first started teaching at Hawley, Pa., where she was born. A graduate of Bloomsburg Teachers College, Bloomsburg, Pa., she also taught in Akron, Ohio.

She went to Glen Cove as a teacher in 1919 and in 1932 was appointed principal of Landing School. During her many years of educational guidance of Glen Cove youngsters, Mrs. McAleer endeared herself to young and old alike, and her passing is felt deeply by all who had occasion to know and work with her. The wife of the late John A. McAleer, who died in 1941, Mrs. McAleer is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Mary Gillespie of Pittston; Mrs. Ellen S. Schmit, of Philadelphia and Miss Agnes B. Wegge, of Hawley.

The following resolutions were drawn by the Glen Cove Board of Education on the passing of Mrs. Grace W. McAleer:

Whereas, the Board of Education of the City of Glen Cove deeply regrets the death of Principal Grace W. McAleer of the Landing Elementary School, and

Whereas, Mrs. McAleer served with devotion, loyalty and distinction as teacher and elementary school principal for a period of 31 years,

Whereas, the Board of Education is aware of her contributions in these capacities, and

Whereas, during Mrs. McAleer's years of service in Glen Cove, the scholastic standards and the moral standards in her classes and her school were always held high, increasing in prestige the development of our young people,

Whereas, the Board of Education is appreciative of the leadership and the fine personal qualities of Mrs. McAleer, a principal and educational leader of Glen Cove, in which she transmitted to the citizens, the teachers and children, a high type of American citizenship.

Now, therefore, be it resolved: That the Board of Education express its deep sympathy to the family of the late Grace W. McAleer, and further

Be it resolved: That a copy of this resolution be sent to the brother and sisters of Mrs. McAleer and spread in full in the minutes of the Board of Education.

1945

Enzo Robert Frosini, who graduated from Bloomsburg State Teachers College in February, 1945, as a business major, is now in Florence, Italy. Recipient of the Fulbright Grant (Senator Fulbright, of Arkansas), Frosini is in Florence. The Fulbright Grant is one of the many exchange programs in education whereby American ideas and aims are presented to the people of other nations.

After completing his work at Bloomsburg, Frosini studied at Columbia University where he received a Master's degree in psychology and guidance work. Now 27 years of age, Frosini sailed for Italy last November.

According to post cards sent to President Andruss and Dr. Maupin, Frosini is very much impressed with Old World culture and the beauties which exist in the vicinity of Florence. It has been the policy of such exchange scholarships to try to assign students to the locality of their particular ancestry so as to be familiar with the dialect and customs of the area.

1947

Harold W. Swisher is teacher of Social Studies and Speech in the high school at Lititz, Pa.

Paul Lauderman is teacher of commercial subjects in the Lititz high school.

Clifton S. Skow has accepted a position as chemical engineer with Hercules Powder Company, in Wilmington, Delaware. He is a graduate of B.S.T.C. in 1947, and Bucknell University in 1948. He recently completed requirements for a master of science degree to be conferred upon him in June graduation exercises at Bucknell.

1949

A survey of the Class of 1949 of Bloomsburg State Teachers College shows that 91 percent of those available for positions have been placed, 76 percent in teaching and 15 percent in other occupations. Of the total number of 225 graduating, 22 were not available for placement, having enrolled in graduate schools for the Master's Degree, or in other curriculums than those in which they had recently graduated, for extended certification.

The over-all placement picture for the four years since the war, beginning in 1946 and including 1949 shows a placement of 94 percent with 83 percent in teaching, and 11 percent in other occupations. Married women who had not taught or had other employment, students enrolled in graduate schools at the time of the survey, the small number of unemployed, and those from whom no information could be secured amount to less than 10 percent.

The study of 1025 degree graduates was begun about eight years ago by Mr. Earl N. Rhodes, then Director of Teacher Training and Placement, and has been continued by President Harvey A. Andruss, who has made a five-year survey covering 518 graduates from 1941 to 1945, a three-year survey covering 275 graduates from 1946 to 1948, and now has completed an additional survey of 225 graduates for the year 1949. Thus over 2040 graduates of Bloomsburg State Teachers College have been followed up in terms of employment.

In a lovely candlelight ceremony performed at four-thirty Saturday, January 28 in the Nescopeck Methodist Church, Miss Eleanor Alice McClintock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arley D. McClintock, of Rahway, N. J., became the bride of Donald Francis Maietta, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Maietta, of Williamsport. The Rev. J. Earl Bassler, pastor of the church, performed the nuptials. The couple left later on a honeymoon in the Poconos and are now living in Pittsburgh where the bridegroom is assistant professor in the department in the speech pathology, University of Pittsburgh.

The bride is a graduate of Nescopeck High School and the groom from Williamsport High School. Both received their degrees from B. S. T. C. The groom also served twenty-two months in the air corps.

Miss Claire Young, of Berwick R. D. 1, and Edward G. Baker, of Philadelphia, were married Saturday, April 22, in the First Presbyterian Church, Berwick. The Rev. Gladstone P. Cooley officiated at the ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of the Bloomsburg High School and the Katherine Gibbs School, New York City, and has been serving as a secretary at B. S. T. C. The groom, a World War II veteran of three and one-half years of service, is a graduate of the Spring City High School and the Bloomsburg State Teachers College.

Estelle Friday is teaching in the schools of Paradise, Lancaster county.

Alfred Lampman is teaching at Columbia, Pa.

Stewart Bechtel is teaching in the Thompson Business College, Harrisburg, Pa.

1950

On Saturday afternoon, February 4, at four o'clock, in the sanctuary of the Methodist Church, of Bloomsburg, Miss E. Norene Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Adams, West Fifth street, Bloomsburg, became the bride of John Harvey Carl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey M. Carl, of Trevorton. The Rev. Dr. Elvin Clay Myers with the class of 1946. She studied for one year at Bloomsburg performed the ceremony.

Miss Adams was graduated from the Bloomsburg High School State Teachers College. In June, she will enter Bucknell University as a medical technician. Mr. Carl was graduated from Trevorton High School with the class of 1941. He served three years in the United States Army with service overseas from 1943 to 1945. At the mid-year commencement Mr. Carl received from the Bloomsburg State Teachers College his bachelor of science degree. He is, at present, enrolled at Bucknell as a graduate student.

-----o-----

Leroy Brochy, fifty-eight, 252 North Third street, Catawissa, died at the Geisinger Hospital Thursday, February 2 at 4:20 o'clock. He had been in ill health for several years and seriously ill since October.

A native of Catawissa, he was the son of the late Edward and Cora Jessie Ward Brochy. He spent his entire lifetime in Catawissa, and was employed as an electrician at the Bloomsburg State Teachers College for the past twenty-eight years.

He was preceded in death about two years ago by his wife, the former Ruth Hunsinger. His daughter, Mrs. Phyllis Rider, died about two and a half years ago following an accident. Mr. Brochy was a veteran of World War I, and a member of the Catawissa American Legion Post 541, and the Harman and Allen Post, Catwaissa VFW. He was a member of St. Matthew Lutheran Church, Catawissa.

BUSINESS CARDS — BLOOMSBURG GRADUATES

CREASY & WELLS
BUILDING MATERIALS

Bloomsburg 520

J. WESLEY KNORR, '34

NOTARY PUBLIC

252 West Fifth Street
Bloomsburg 669-R

TEXAS LUNCH
FOR YOUR REFRESHMENTS

Poletime Comuntzis, '44, Mgr.
Athamantia Comuntzis, '46
Asst. Mgr.

142 East Main Street
Bloomsburg 529

CONNER & FLECKENSTINE

PRINTERS TO ALUMNI ASSN.

Bloomsburg, Pa.
Telephone 867

Mrs. J. C. Conner, '34

ARCUS WOMEN'S SHOP

FOR A PRETTIER YOU

Max Arcus, '41, Mgr.

50 West Main Street
Bloomsburg 356-R

HERVEY B. SMITH '22

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW

Court House Place
Bloomsburg 1115

FRANK S. HUTCHISON, '16

INSURANCE

First National Bank Building
Bloomsburg 777-J

MONTOUR HOTEL

Danville, Pa.

Susquehanna Restaurant
Sunbury-Selinsgrove Highway

W. E. Booth, '42
R. J. Webb, '42

HARRY S. BARTON, '96

REAL ESTATE — INSURANCE

52 West Main Street
Bloomsburg 850

THE CHAR-MUND INN

Mrs. Charlotte Hoch, '15, Prop.
Bloomsburg, Pa.

THE WOLF SHOP

LEATHER GOODS — REPAIRS

M. C. Strausser, '27, Prop.
122 East Main Street
Bloomsburg, Pa.

MOYER BROTHERS
PRESCRIPTION DRUGGISTS
SINCE 1868

William V. Moyer, '07, Pres.
Harold R. Moyer, '09, Vice-Pres.
Bloomsburg 246

The Alumni Quarterly

State Teachers College

Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania

Vol. 51

No. 3

SEPTEMBER, 1950

Commencement

To live in the one-world society which we now have we must know geography; be able to speak or know the languages of the peoples of the world and break down the walls of prejudice, Dr. John H. Furbay, director of Air World Education, told two hundred members of the graduating class of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College.

A capacity audience heard Dr. Furbay tell the class "we must sow the seeds of peace in the mind of man and the schoolroom is the place where this can best be done."

Declaring that every age has its pessimists, he declared, "we are living in a wonderful world" and not facing any problem today that has not arisen before. He declared those who look back to the "good old days" are never leaders and those who are pessimistic "never seem to do anything about improving the situation which they bemoan."

The Commencement opened with the processional, "Grand choeur," William Faulkes, and the invocation by Dean Emeritus William B. Sutliff. Following the address Joseph Curilla sang "One World"; Dr. T. P. North, dean of instruction, presented the class and Dr. Harvey A. Andruss, president of the College, conferred the degrees. The exercises concluded with the singing of "Alma Mater" by the assemblage and the recessional, "Egyptian March," Dudley Peele. Miss Harriet M. Moore directed the music with H. F. Fenstermaker at the console.

The Address

"We are living in a wonderful world. Pessimists say we are 'going to pot,' but such folks have lived before; every generation has its pessimists and crepe hangers who can see nothing but the dark side of the picture. The trouble with pessimists is that they never seem to do anything about improving the situation which they bemoan."

"There isn't a problem today that we haven't had before. The problems of the twentieth century are the same basic problems mankind has always faced. The pessimists of today would have been pessimists in an earlier age; on the other hand, there are other people who firmly believe that man has the intelligence to cope with the

Vol. 51, No. 3

THE ALUMNI QUARTERLY

September, 1950

Published quarterly by the Alumni Association of the State Teachers College, Bloomsburg, Pa. Entered as Second-Class Matter, August 8, 1941, at the Post Office at Bloomsburg, Pa., under the Act of March 3, 1879. Yearly Subscription, $2.00; Single Copy, 50 cents.

H. F. FENSTEMAKER, '12 EDITOR
E. H. NELSON, '11 BUSINESS MANAGER

problems now facing mankind. They are the ones who make the progress.

"The world is a changing world. Every community has a few people who look backward to the 'good old days,' but they are not the leaders. Throughout history, the leaders have been those who have had the courage to take hold of new things and turn them into channels to serve others."

He illustrated the changing nature of the world by telling of the 1949 meeting of UNESCO in Beirut, Lebanon, when 44 American delegates joined with hundreds of other leaders from almost every country in the world (save the Soviet satellites and the USSR) in an international meeting of unusual interest. All the delegates arrived by air, using technological improvements developed in the United States and extended by the scientific minds of other nations. A survey of those who attended showed that the delegation that had come from the longest distance had travelled only 36 hours to get there. It was truly a "town meeting of the world"; the whole world had "arrived" at Beirut in a day and a half.

He asked, "What does it mean to live in a 36-hour world?" and asserted, "A one-world community is already here. The physical proximity of all peoples is an accomplished fact, but there remains a big job to be done: the creation of a one-world spiritually—the accomplishment of this is a major task for education. Teachers must be prepared to educate children to live in a one-world society.

"The whole world today is smaller than any one of the original American colonies. Distance, that is actual linear distance has not changed, but space-time factor has been changed by man's scientific progress. Our lives are made of time."

Another task for education in an air-age world is to teach children now to get along with their global neighbors. "It is a dangerous thing," he stressed, "to bring our hatreds and prejudices together in such a small world. We must bring up one generation of children to be at home in one world," he said.

The program of the United Nations Assembly and Security Council is aimed to keep the political world from exploding into war, but it is the task of UNESCO to develop a feeling of brotherhood which will enable men to get along together. "Wars and peace are made in the minds of men," he said, "we must sow the seeds of peace there instead of the feelings that lead to war. The school room is the place where this can best be done."

We must teach friendship for other peoples; our children must learn how to get along with their neighbors across the seas. We must throw our energies toward peace. Teachers have a tremendous responsibility to show youth the new frontiers created by the air age in which we now live.

He said that the air world has opened new lands for conquest. Citing examples in South America, Africa, and the Orient, Dr. Fur-bay said that vast areas never before opened to man's economic and industrial penetration were made available by the airplane. He gave a number of examples to show the vast opportunities now being made available to Americans in overseas businesses. He predicted that our youth will take jobs all over the earth.

Furbay described his own job training young people to enter positions overseas in air transportation. "Aviation," he said, "is my business." Air World Education is sponsored by the airlines of America, chiefly, TWA, to educate technically-trained youth for jobs in other lands; jobs that have connections with the air transport industry.

He said that we are walking into a big world economically. The world is filling up with Americans . . . there are new worlds and empires in business and industry . . . we are entering an international existence in business, diplomacy, and education. "We will soon be educating our children all over the world," he predicted. He said that there are now 26,000 American students studying abroad. These are the things, he said, that pessimists do not like to talk about.

A hopeful sign, Dr. Furbay pointed out, can be found in the fact that Congress has appropriated 140 million dollars for international education. It marks the first time in the history of the United States that we have given the price of one machine of war (a battleship) for education for international understanding.

In order to live in "one world" Dr. Furbay outlined briefly three "musts": 1. We must know more about geography; 2. We must be able to speak or know the languages of the peoples of the world and be able to converse intelligently with them and get acquainted with them, and 3. We must break down the walls of prejudice—finding fault with other ways of life, religions, races and color—that have separated others from us.

"The base" of all prejudice," he declared, "are ignorance and lack of experience." The Russians, he explained, make use of our tendency toward prejudice to build up anti-democratic feelings in the countries of Asia, Africa and Europe. "We cannot afford to be separated from three-quarters of the people of the world by a thing like racial prejudice. He urged his listeners to get some sense into their racial relations and thus gain better international thinking. He begged the class to dissolve the walls of differences that are now dividing us from the rest of the world.

In closing, he urged the graduates, who are about ready to begin teaching, to do their best to educate children to live in one world, for in education lies the one hope that mankind has of attaining the dream of world peace and understanding.

Members of the class are:

Clyde J. Ackerman, Zion Grove; Glen R. Baker, Benton; Lucy Jane Baker, Bloomsburg; Ramona R. Baksi, Keiser; Leonard A. Balchunas, Shamokin; Hurley C. Baylor, Danville; Michael F. Bell, Camden, N. J.; Ned O. Benner, Sunbury; Frank J. Bertollo, Jr., Berwick; Lucy F. Bitteti, Freeland; Earl H.

Blake, Jr., Berwick; M. Gloria Bonin, Hazleton; Kenneth E. Borst, Equinunk; James H. Boyle, Shamokin; William J. Brennan, Bloomsburg; Elizabeth Broome, Shenandoah; Henry E. Brunn, Nanticoke; Nancy J. Brunstetter, Catawissa; Donald Butcofsky, Shamokin; John E. Buynak, Wilkes-Barre; Robert C. Canouse, Berwick; Frederick J. Case, Danville; Frances A. Cerchiaro, Nesquehoning; Katherine E. Chapin, Berwick.

George Chebro, Beach Haven; Theresa A. Cierlitsky, Tamaqua; Aleki D. Comuntzis, Bloomsburg; Robert H. Conrad, Boyertown; Kenneth L. Cook, Elverson; Eugene J. Corrigan, Bloomsburg; Jay B. Cortright, Berwick; Nancy J. Crumb, Berwick; Joseph Curilla, Shamokin; John B. Czerniakowski, Plains; William C. Davis, Beach Haven; Kathryn E. Dechant, Renovo; Dorothy M. DeMott, Eysers Grove; Neil E. Dent, Philadelphia; Mrs. Betty Dietrich, Mifflinburg; Bernard J. Dormer, Shamokin; Susan A. Dreibelbis, Bloomsburg; Harry J. Drennan, Jr., Buck Hill Falls; Elizabeth J. Dunnigan, Hazleton; Junior L. Edginger, Brwick; Edward H. Edwards, Edwadsville; Hannah Emanuel, Wilkes-Barre; Marian M. Engle, Nuremberg; Marcella J. Evasic, Luzerne; Marjorie L. Fanzo, Bethlehem; Sarah M. Faust, Weatherly.

Gerald E. Fink, Bloomsburg; Patrick J. Flaherty, Bloomsburg; Norma E. Gamble, Wyalusing; Harold A. Garrison, Trevorton; Elbert G. Gaugler, Port Trevorton; Leonard R. Gazenski, Wilkes-Barre; Mrs. Helen Hoffman Geringer, Danville; Joseph J. Gieda, Plymouth; Charles F. Glass, Danville; Richard C. Gleockler, Forksville; Harry J. Gobora, Danville; Mrs. Anna A. Golob, Scranton; M. Kathryn Graham, Bloomsburg; Leon E. Grant, Millville; Leonard E. Gricoski, Shamokin; Dorothy Grifasi, Berwick; Lucille Groff, Wilkes-Barre; Mrs. Hazel Chappell Guyler, Danville; Murray A. Hackenburg, Danville; Esther M. Hanlon, Tamaqua; Florence S. Hartline, Bloomsburg; Cyde H. Hartman, Bloomsburg; Howard R. Hartzell, Jr., Danville; Curtis W. Herb, Bechtelsville.

Robert S. Hippman, Shamokin; Donald L. Hoar, Harrisburg; Ralph E. Hornberger, Elysburg; Mrs. Erma Callender Huff, Federalsburg, Md.; Raymond A. Huff, Watontown; Mrs. Winifred Ikeler, Millville; Walter Guy James, Frackville; Richard E. Jarman, Plymouth, Leonard A. Jaszak, Dupont; Doyle W. Johnson, Bloomsburg; Francis R. Johnson, Bloomsburg; Luther Jones, Wilkes-Barre; Janice A. Jones, Plymouth; Shirley H. Jones, Ashley; Harold R. Kamm, Harrisburg; Robert J. Kashner, Bloomsburg; George L. Kearney, Paxinos; Norman F. Keiser, Scranton; Jeanne A. Keller, New Albany; Jane L. Keller, Bloomsburg; Anna M. Kemp, Conyngham; Wilbur H. Kemp, Bloomsburg; Jane L. Kenvin, Hazleton; George Kepping, Hazleton; Mrs. Jane Price Kepping, Hazleton; Donald F. King, Dallas.

Richard E. Kline, McClure; Thomas A. Klopp, Freeland; Mrs. Avis Wesley Kocher, Dallas; Michael Kollesar, Jeddo; Edward J. Kolodgie, Dupont; Glenn R. Koplin, Easton; Elmer Kreiser, Columbia; Edward J. Krietz, Slatington; Thaddeus P. Krensavage, McAdoo; Stephen F. Kriss, Berwick; Genevieve A. Krzywicki, Drums; Stephen Kundrat, Jr., Berwick; Joseph E. Kurey, Mt. Union; Charles L. Lauck, Mt. Carmel; Lionel C. Livingston, Courtdale; Berdine A. Logar, Weston; M. Louise Lohr, Berwick; Charles L. Longer, Bloomsburg; Grace A. Lord, Wilkes-Barre; Frank T. Lupashunski, Berwick; Zigmund D. Maciekowich, West Hazleton; Edward W. Mack, Glen Lyon; Henry L. Marek, Dupont; Muriel F. Marks, Reading; Robert Martini, Benton; Grace E. McCormack, Scranton; Leo J. McDonald, Ringtown.

Margaret McNealis, Nanticoke; Clarence J. Meiss, West Hazleton; Clair E. Mensinger, Mifflinville; Edward F. Messa, Easton; Thomas M. Metz, Wilkes-Barre; Nerine M. Middleswarth, Troxelville; Charles E. Miller, Sunbury; Mrs. Edythe Reimensnyder Miller, Milton; Richard C. Millhouse, West Hazleton; Jack L. Mordan, Millville; Rodney K. Morgans, Bloomsburg; John S. Morris, Bloomsburg; Joseph V. Murdock, Barnesville; Thelma M. Naylor, Scranton; Henry F. Pacholec, Scranton; John T. Panzetta, Allentown; Ann E. Papania, Bloomsburg; Donald Parry, Blakely; Concetta G. Petarra, Camden, N. J.; Paul P. Plevyak, Carbondale; Arlene M. Pope, Sunbury; Eleanor F. Poust, Muncy; Margaret E. Reece, West Grove; Virginia F. Reimensnyder, Milton, John J.

Rick, Marion Heights; Elizabeth J. Ridall, Town Hill; Mrs. Margaret Berninger Riffel, Bloomsburg; Mary E. Riley, Wilkes-Barre; Charles E. Roberts, Slatington; William G. Romig, Danville.

William H. Ryan, Riverside; Deryl Jack Samois, Danville; Madelyn J. Schalles, Nescopeck; Walter G. Scheipe, Pottsville; Leone M. Schain, Tamaqua; Edward F. Sheehy, Columbia; John Shelman, Lopez; Eugene R. Shipe, Danville; William F. Shoemaker, Espy; Ruth E. Shupp, Plymouth; Paul D. Slusser, Bloomsburg; Donald Smethers, Bloomsburg; Edward J. Smigelski, Wilkes-Barre; Marjorie A. Smith, Reading; Marguerite Somers, Hazleton; Elbert L. Stamm, Danville; Doyle T. Steinruck, Bloomsburg; Warren M. Sterling, Bloomsburg; William A. Stimeling, Berwick; Willis Swales, Jr., South Williamsport.

Mrs. Catherine Vollrath Symons, West Nanticoke; Carmela A. Tarole, Bethlehem; Martha L. Teel, Bloomsburg; Audrey C. Terrel, Waymart; Mrs. Alma White Todd, Girardville; Mrs. Edith LaBarr Tormay, Hazleton; Paul Edward Ulrich, Danville; Andre M. Vanyo, Duryea; Joseph G. Vincent, Ashley; J. Richard Wagner, Nescopeck; Mildred A. Wagner, Wilkes-Barre; Jane K. Warner, Weatherly; Josephine A. Wesenyak, Duryea; Harold J. White, Easton; George E. Widger, Catawissa; Catherine Williams, Nanticoke; M. Richard Wolford, Montandon; H. Grace Worrall, Shamokin; Elmer L. Wyant, Noxen; Frederick D. Young, Jr., Ashland; Bernard J. Zelinski, Mt. Carmel.

—o—

Baccalaureate Sermon

The present civilization must either meet the spiritual challenge or fall, the Rev. Howard Pierce Davis, Bolton, Mass., minister, teacher, traveler and author declared at the Baccalaureate exercises of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College.

The impressive divine service was conducted in the Carver Hall auditorium. The 200-gowned members of the 1950 class filed into the auditorium to the strains of the processional, "Ancient of Days," with Prof. Howard F. Fenstermaker at the organ console. Miss Harriet M. Moore was director of music.

The invocation by the Rev. Davis followed. Dr. Harvey A. Andruss, president of the College, lead the Scriptural selection that preceded the sermon, "Open Doors are Front Doors."

The word "doorway," Davis explained, "symbolizes all the doorways through which you will pass, or through which you have passed in reaching this stage of your life. Many of the doorways of life have already been opened to you—free education, the advantages given you be, membership in a free society, the heritage of birth, and heredity. Others, perhaps, have been slammed in your face by political chicanery and demagoguery.

"Life is a complete continuation of sequences of open doorways. There is a tremendous lure in an open door." He indicated that pride in our soul which mocks at a goal has had a great historical past and has implications for us in the future. It helps us determine the way in which we must direct our life.

"The most impelling and driving force in the universe is the spiritual force. This drives us through open doors and tests closed doors. It drove men to search for the truth of nature and planetary secrets. It helped our social organization develop into a democracy. It impelled men to unlock the mysteries of natural laws. It motivated mankind more than the mere acquisition of "things" and materialistic goals.

"An open door implies a 'there' which can conceivably be an improvement on the 'here.' It provides a challenge to go from 'here' to 'there.' Civilization cannot be static.

"In spite of the power, scientific progress, speed of living, and our 'upholstered' existence, things are getting too hot 'here.' Our generation is hysterical, degenerated, frustrated . . . only five years ago we stood at the peak of international power. We had every reason to expect a levelling off, a stabilization of society . . . peace was an immediate prospect, but today we are told that peace is wishful thinking . . . some say that it is a subversive sort of thing . . .

"We do not want to 'go back to religion.' The religion of Jesus Christ is far ahead of us; we have never caught up to it. No nation has ever yet applied the Christian ethics to the conduct of international affairs. Conserve the values of the past, but move forward in a dynamic sense."

He encouraged his listeners by saying "God is still here. He has not gone on relief; or old age pension. He has not abdicated. The ultimate values in life are still waiting for people who have dared go through open doors. His civilization will either meet the spiritual challenge or go down."

Following the address, Aleki D. Comuntzis, accompanied by Richard Wagner, sang, "The Greatest of These Is Love." The program concluded with the benediction and recessional.

-----O-----

A gland condition that developed while he was serving in the U. S. Army during World War II, resulted in the death on Wednesday, June 14, of Maclyn P. Smethers, well known young Berwickian. He had been receiving treatment at intervals at Walter Reed Hospital since his discharge from the Army four years ago and had, with the exception of four days, been in that hospital since March 1. His condition had been critical there for about ten days.

The former soldier was a member of the Episcopal Church, was long active in the Berwick Lodge of Elks and was a member of the American Legion. He was employed in the office of James Miller at the A. C. F. Mr. Smethers was a star athlete at B. H. S. and at B. S. T. C.

Surviving are his wife, the former Bette Dietterick; a son, Gregory, aged a year and a half, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Smethers, of East Second street, Berwick.

-----O-----

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Jurasik, of 8531 123rd St., Richmond Hill, Long Island, New York, announce the birth of a son, Peter Anthony, on April 25, 1950. They now have three children.

SENIORS RECEIVE HONORS

Eighteen members of the graduating class of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College Thursday morning, May 25, at the Senior Honor Assembly were presented with College Service Keys, the highest award made to students at the local institution.

The presentation of the keys, based on citizenship and service to the college community, were presented by Dr. Harvey A. Andruss, president of the institution, to the following:

Kaye Chapin, Berwick; Aleki Comuntzis, Bloomsburg; Joseph Curilla, Donald Butcofsky, Shamokin; Charles Roberts, Slatington; Robert Canouse, Berwick-- Kathryn Graham, Bloomsburg; Audrey Terrell, Waymart; Lucy Baker, Bloomsburg.

James H. Boyle, Shamokin; Nancy Crumb, Berwick; Richard Wagner, Nescopeck; William Stimeling, Berwick; Ruth Shupp, Plymouth; Junior Eddinger, Berwick; Doyle Johnson, Bloomsburg; Sara Maud Faust, Weatherly; Madeline Schalles, Nescopeck.

There were seven of the class who are in the Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges who were presented certificates of merit and accomplishments. They were Bernard Zielinsky, Mt. Carmel; Richard Wagner, Nescopeck; William Stimeling, Berwick; Charles Roberts, Slatington; Kathryn Graham, Bloomsburg; Joseph Curilla, Shamokin, and Aleki Comuntzis, Bloomsburg.

Two members of the class received commissions in the United States Marine Corps Reserve. They were John Buynak, Wilkes-Barre, who will enter active duty, and Willis Swales, South Williamsport, who will remain in the Marine Corps Reserve.

The program at the assembly opened with the Senior procession, "Festal March," Kroeger; Scripture reading, Donald Butcofsky, president of the class; presentation of service keys and Who's Who certificates, Dr. Andruss; presentation of commissions in U. S. Marine Corps Reserve, Captain Fred F. Herbin, Washington, D. C.; announcements of Ivy Day, Butcofsky; "Faith of Our Fathers," College chorus; recessional, "March," Merkel.

-----O-----

A bulletin, "Five More Years are Finished (1945-1950)," has just been mailed to three thousand alumni and friend of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College. Written by John A. Hoch, Director of Public Relations, the pamphlet summarizes the progress made at the College during the past five years in the broad fields of facilities, plant improvements, curricular offerings, student activities, alumni relations, and educational services. It is an outgrowth of a similar publication written by President Harvey A. Andruss in 1945 entitled "Five Years Are Finished (1940-1945)."

-----O-----

Dr. Carroll D. Champlin is teaching during the summer at the University of Utah.

CLASS OF 1900

Alumni Meeting

The presentation of a living memorial by the class of 1950 in the form of eight hundred dollars, to be presented as scholarships by the Alumni Association, and the honoring of three graduates with the Alumni Distinguished Service awards, featured the meeting of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College's graduate body.

The session, one of the largest and most interesting ever held, also saw the introduction to the graduates of the Husky canine Roon-go III, which has been purchased by the Alumni and has been presented to the College as mascot for its athletic teams.

The distinguished service awards were presented to Dean Emeritus William Boyd Sutliff, of the beloved College "Old Guard"; to Mrs. Garry Cleveland Myers, class of 1905, of Boyd's Mills, a pioneer in parent education and child literature, and Dr. George E. Pfahler, class of 1894, of Philadelphia, who has done outstanding work in radiology in which he was a pioneer worker and recognized as one of the world's outstanding men in this field.

The class of 1950 got an ovation from the graduates when they entered the auditorium, attired in caps and gowns. Donald Butcofsky, Shamokin, president, presented to Dr. E. H. Nelson, Alumni president, a check for dues of all members of the class in the association, and Miss Audrey Terrell, Waymart, presented a check for eight hundred dollars for scholarships.

The class announced that there is to be a fifty dollar scholarship given each year. Plans have already been made for the first reunion of the class and the program outline calls for the class to give a scholarship annually throughout its life.

Members of the class of 1900 were given the honored places on the platform and each was presented with a certificate such as was awarded by the State after graduates had taught successfully in the schools of the Commonwealth for two years.

Dr. Francis B. Haas, former president of the Teachers College and now the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, presented the Distinguished Service Award to Dean Sutliff and the graduates got to their feet, applauding, as he advanced to receive the certificate. It was presented by Dr. Haas to "a grand gentleman, a fine scholar and teacher, and an understanding friend of youth."

Dr. Pfahler, a native of Numidia, is one of the world's leaders in the fields of radiology and has received international recognition for his work.

Mrs. Myers was granted her award for "her pioneer work in family life and childhood education and for her charting new paths in children's literature, especially in children's magazines."

Dr. Nelson presented the awards to Mrs. Myers and Dr. Pfahler. Mrs. Myers also received a corsage from the Alumni which was presented to her by her husband, Dr. Myers. There were also corsages for Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Pfahler.

MRS. CARRIE CLARK MYERS

DR. GEORGE E. PFAHLER

WILLIAM B. SUTLIFF

Both Mrs. Myers and Dr. Pfahler responded briefly. Dean Sutliff, visibly moved by the presentation which was beautifully done by Dr. Haas, declined the invitation to respond but did pronounce the benediction concluding the meeting. Dr. Haas in his presentation read some of the Dean's poems.

Dr. Harvey A. Andruss, president of the College, extended welcome and presented Harry O. Hine, Washington, D. C., of the class of 1885, and Dr. and Mrs. Antonio Fiernos-Isern.

The doctor, who attended the Bloomsburg Normal in 1910 and 1911, declared his days at Bloomsburg the happiest of his life. He later became public health commissioner for Puerto Rico and then the representative of the U. S. possession at Washington, D. C.

Directors re-elected for three-year terms were Miss Elizabeth Huebler, Hervey B. Smith and Dr. E. H. Nelson. The latter did his usual expert job in keeping the session moving and reports of the reunion classes were, as always, one of the highlights.

-----o-----

COLLEGE TEACHER MARRIED

Miss Iva Mae VanScoyoc, daughter of Mrs. Charles Calvin VanScoyoc, of East Second Street, Bloomsburg, and William S. Beckley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Beckley, of Bloomsburg R. D. 4, were married in an informal ceremony Wednesday, April 5, in the Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. G. Douglas Davies performed the ceremony with the immediate families of the bride and bridegroom present. Mrs. Ruth Billig, of Danville, provided nuptial music on the organ.

The bride, escorted by her brother-in-law, Ward L. Myers, of Muncy, chose her sister, Mrs. Ward Myers as matron-of-honor. John B. Waters, Jr., of Camp Hill, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man and ushers were Frank Shuman, of Shamokin, William Shuman, of Bloomsburg.

Mrs. Beckley was graduated from Lock Haven State Teachers College and the Pennsylvania State College. She took advanced study at Teachers College, Columbia University, New York, and is a member of the faculty of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College.

Mr. Beckley graduated from the Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania, and recently received his law degree from the Dickinson School of Law. He is serving a clerkship in the law offices of Smith and Eves. During the war, he served four and one-half years in the U. S. Army.

-----o-----

James F. Krumerine, a former student at Bloomsburg, was graduated from Advanced Flying Training at Williams Air Force Base on June 29, 1950. He will be rated Pilot and be assigned to an Air Force tactical flying unit.

'Saucered and Blowed'

By E. H. NELSON '11

It was a genuine pleasure to welcome the fine reunion groups on Alumni Day. "Bill" Watkins went to work and had an enthusiastic representation from 1908 back for a get-together, although it was an off year for that class. And how our Challis Thompson is working for her class and the greater New York area! One feels honored to be associated with such loyal Alumni.

The presence of Dr. F. B. Haas, Superintendent of Public Instruction and former President of the College, is always an inspirational touch to Alumni Day activities.

The introduction of "Imp" (Roango III), the new College mascot, was well received by those in attendance at the general meeting Saturday morning, May 27, and the generous response to the appeal to provide for her "board and keep" was most gratifying. She is a fine husky dog from the Chinook Kennels in New Hampshire and does us proud. Meet her at the football games in the fall.

History was made when the graduating class presented $800.00 to the Alumni Association to be used for scholarships—one $50 scholarship each year, and the class will add to this at later reunions. Every year, for many, many years to come there will be a "class of 1950 scholarship" available for a worthy student. Thanks to the class and its fine officers.

Ed Schuyler, '25, the genial editor of the Bloomsburg "Morning Press," is an ardent booster for the College and the hill. Through the medium of his newspaper columns he does much to build the spirit that is Bloomsburg.

Louise Larrabee was in from Honolulu for the weekend activities. Older Alumni will remember her mother as the Librarian and custodian of the study hall.

The Reverend Mr. Klingaman of 1900, acting as Class Marshall, was as aggressive as the day he was graduated. His youthful spirit added much to the grand reunion of the Naughty Naughters. Harry O. Hine, '85, in fine health and keen mental acumen made those 50-year members seem like a bunch of youngsters!

Our next big get together will be Home Coming Day in the fall. We always find the College a royal host, so let's be on hand to enjoy the fine reception that will be ours.

Ivy Day

The traditional Ivy Day ceremonies, Senior Day feature, were held in the court of Waller Hall and featured the address by Kenneth Cook, of Elbersen, who declared that "one of the most horrible weapons scientific progress has made possible is thought control. There is the threat to our culture."

At the Ivy Day ceremonies, Mr. Butcofsky, Senior Class President, presented Mr. Cook. At the close of the oration, Mr. Butcofsky presented the spade to Richard Kressler, Bloomsburg, president of the class of 1951, and the program concluded with the Alma Mater led by Charles Roberts.

The Ivy Day oration follows:

"Today we are gathered together to take part in a ceremony which has become an established part of life at Bloomsburg. We plant ivy—that the ivy may symbolize by its growth and spreading upward, our own growth and dispersion into the world that awaits us upon graduation. As the ivy draws nurture from the soil in which it is rooted, so are we, and all people feeding on the cultural environment in which we grow and think. This cultural environment, largely our great American heritage, is today threatened more than it has ever been in our history.

"The graduating year of this class of 1950 is one of mounting crises. Modern technology has given man powerful tools which he is not yet prepared to use intelligently. Some of these tools are adapted to violence, others are more subtle and sinister. One of the most horrible weapons scientific progress has made possible is thought control.

"There is the threat to our culture.

"Today we find the thinking of a large number of the world's people dominated by a few men whose political philosophy is quite different from our own. At will, these men may manipulate the opinions of millions of people to gain support for any policy they may undertake. They have mobilized the press and radio, the schools, and every field of scientific knowledge to make possible this control. Meanwhile, the best minds in America are considering how we shall defend ourselves from the menace of that world power, without forfeiting our own freedom. Our indictment of Communism is not so much against the economic system as it is against the political philosophy that would sacrifice human freedom on the pagan altar of material gain.

"There are a few people in this country who are really afraid that the spread of Communistic ideas may destroy our institutions. But can we in this case fight fire with fire? Can we hope to preserve our freedom by restricting our freedom? This problem is of particular concern to workers in the field of education. On the teacher rests the responsibility of imbuing our young people with a love of freedom and with a respect for the opinions of others that will never tolerate the decimation of our liberties.

"I believe that the American way is the right way, and, believing that, I am sure that we need not fear for American ideas in the free exchange of thought.

"Can we not believe with Jefferson that 'Error of opinion may be tolerated where reason is left free to combat it.

"With a vigilant concern for the freedoms of speech, the press, religion, assembly, and petition let us move on to that brighter, better world that science and education have made possible for all mankind.

"As the ivy we plant here will be sheltered in its early growth by the walls which surround it, so have we been sheltered by our Alma Mater that we might be properly disciplined before assuming our places as educators and leaders in a world desperately in need of intelligent leadership."

-----O-----

TO HEAD COLLEGE SENIORS

Richard Kressler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan R. Kressler, R. D. 1, Bloomsburg, has been elected president of the Senior Class at State Teachers College. Kressler, who has been quite active in campus activities, graduated from Bloomsburg High School with the class of 1947.

Other officers elected include Carl Persing, Mt. Carmel, vice president; Barbara Frederick, Mifflinburg, secretary; Jack Reese, Forty Fort, treasurer; Nancy Powell, Scranton, and Frank Dean, Lost Creek, representatives to College Council. Miss Marjorie A. Keller is class advisor.

-----O-----

St. Paul's Methodist Church, State College, formed the setting at noon Saturday, April 8, for the marriage of Miss Marian E. Ballamy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart F. Ballamy, of Nescopeck, and Elbert B. Tice, of Jamesburg, N. J., son of the late Albert and Ida Tice. The Rev. Frank Montgomery officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Jones, of Bridgeton Pike, Millville, N. J., attended the couple.

Mrs. Tice is a graduate of Nescopeck High School and Bloomsburg State Teachers College and was a former teacher in the Nescopeck schools. She is now a teacher in the schools of Bound Brook, N. J.

The groom, a graduate of the Jamesburg High School, N. J., and Rider College, Trenton, N. J., is a service supervisor for Public Service Electric and Gas Company, New Brunswick, N. J.

Following a wedding trip to Washington and Virginia, the couple are now at home to their friends at 261 Handy Street, New Brunswick, N. J.

NEW MASCOT ARRIVES

Roongo III wagged into town a few days before Alumni Day and was apparently pleased with what he saw of his new home town from the confines of a wooden cage.

Roongo III, eighteen months old, is a Siberian Malamute of the same breed of canine that gave the Bloomsburg State Teachers College teams their title of "Huskies." For some time, the College has been without a mascot.

The name "Roongo" is contrived from a corruption of the names of the school colors, Maroon and Gold. Drop a couple of consonants and you've got a Husky.

Richard Whitner, of town and a student at the college, will be in charge of the animal.

Through the interests of Alumni and Prof. George J. Keller, the new Husky was obtained from the Greenlawn Kennels, Laconia, New Hampshire.

Roongo I was acquired by Prof. Keller for the formation of a dog sled team, and shortly become the College's mascot. He was borrowed by the Huskies of the University of Washington and went to the Rose Bowl in 1937. There wasn't much heard of Roongo I after that. Washington lost to Pittsburgh, 21 to 0.

Not long afterward, Roongo II put in his appearance. He finally went South with Admiral Byrd.

B. S. T. C. ACCREDITED

Bloomsburg State Teachers College graduates will now have their work at the local institution accredited in any graduate school in the country and in fields other than education as the result of having attained membership in the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, a regional accrediting association.

This important step of the local institution has been announced by Dr. Harvey A. Andruss, president of the college.

The school has been approved for years by the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education and was approved by the State Council of Education at the time that it became a Teachers College. But now the credits will be recognized in fields in addition to education and including such licensure boards as those in law and medicine. It amounts to national recognition in all collegiate fields. It also adds to the academic prestige of the local institution.

Acceptance into membership was based on an evaluation of the results of inspection during a visit of a group of educators designated by the Commission on Institutions of Higher Education.

The accrediting committee was headed by Dr. C. M. Huber, assistant to the president, Wilson Teachers College, Washington, D. C., and recently visited the Bloomsburg campus where it spent several days inspecting the facilities of the college, examining the program and evaluating the general offerings of the institution.

Other members of the committee were Dr. J. Conrad Seegers, dean of the Teachers College, Temple University; Dr. DeAlton Partridge, dean, State Teachers College, Montclair, N. J.; Miss Mary Jane Cort, librarian, State Teachers College, Slippery Rock, and Carl Sapper, steward, State Teachers College, Edinboro. Word of acceptance came from Frank H. Bowles, chairman, Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, Commission on Institutions of Higher Education, Columbia University, New York.

-----o-----

Miss Eleanor Elizabeth Woodruff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Woodruff, of East Third street, town, became the bride of Joseph Papania, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Papania, also of town, in a ceremony at two o'clock Saturday afternoon, June 10, at the Bloomsburg Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. G. Douglas Davis pastor of the church, performed the single-ring ceremony.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Papania are graduates of the Bloomsburg High School. Mrs. Papania is also a graduate of Beaver College, Jenkintown and Kutztown State Teachers College, where she majored in art. She has accepted a position as art instructor in the Millville School for next Fall. Mr. Papania attended the University of Maryland and is enrolled at present at the Bloomsburg State Teachers College in the junior class. They will be at home, upon their return, at their newly furnished apartment at 403 Fair street.

COLLEGE WILL AID IN PROJECT

Bloomsburg State Teachers College has been selected as one of several State Teachers Colleges throughout the United States, at the invitation of Teachers College, Columbia University, to participate in a project for the improvement of the teaching of citizenship in secondary schools. The project began with eight or nine selected school districts in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Pennsylvania, pooling their most effective methods of bringing high school students in touch with actual experiences in voting, jury duty, student government, etc.

The proposed plan is for one Teachers College in each State, Bloomsburg being the only Teachers College in Pennsylvania, to make these materials available to students being educated for the profession of teaching.

This means that college classroom instructors, college advisors of student government groups, and part-time cooperating teachers in the public schools in which student teaching is done will need to acquaint themselves with and cause students to have experience which will fit them for leadership in developing citizens of the future who will vote voluntarily in larger numbers than heretofore, be willing to act as jurors, and exercise an active interest and participation in the democratic activities of such a country as ours.

In addition to the Bloomsburg State Teachers College, the presidents of the following institutions, along with President Harvey A. Andruss, were invited to meet for a two-day seminar at Columbia University on April 28 and 29, 1950:

State College for Teachers, Albany, New York; State Teachers College, New Britain, Connecticut; State Teachers College, Montclair, New Jersey; State Teachers College, Emporia, Kansas, Indiana State Teachers College, Terre Haute, Indiana; North Carolina Teachers College, Greenville, North Carolina.

-----o-----

Dr. and Mrs. Harvey Harvey A. Andruss, their guests, members of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College Branch of Pennsylvania State Education Association and their guests enjoyed the Annual Faculty Banquet held at the Pine Barn Inn in Danville. Also attending were Dr. and Mrs. Francis B. Haas, State Superintendent of Education, Mr. and Mrs. George Shanno, of Hazleton, and Mr. and Mrs. Elfred Jones, of Wilkes-Barre.

Dean John A. Hoch gave the invocation and Mr. W. B. Sterling, president of the local PSEA Branch introduced Dr. Andruss who presided over the program. Mr. C. M. Hausknecht, retiring Business Manager, and Mr. Nevin T. Englehart, retiring Superintendent of Grounds and Buildings, were each presented with a Consistory ring for their outstanding service to the College by Dr. Kimber C. Kuster and Mr. H. F. Fenstermaker, respectively.

COLLEGE OFFICIALS RETIRE

Nevin T. Englehart, an employe of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College for forty-five years and its superintendent of buildings and grounds for the past third of a century, and C. M. Hausknecht, business manager of the institution for almost twenty-five years, retired on June 30.

Edward Sharretts, of Berwick, who has been an assistant to Englehart for the past two years, has become superintendent of buildings and grounds, and Paul Martin, of town, son of the Rev. L. M. Martin, of Catawissa, succeeded Hausknecht.

Mr. Englehart, who went to work for the institution, then a Normal School, six weeks after he graduated in 1905, has had the longest tenure of continuous service in the history of the college.

He and William H. Hagenbuch, local automobile dealer, were the first graduates of the commercial course of the Normal School which was then in charge of Prof. Goodwin. The latter is still active as head of a private business school.

The first twelve years of Mr. Englehart's service were as book-keeper in the business office and then he turned his energies to buildings and grounds. Throughout his tenure the appearance of the plant has won commendation from the town and visitors. It was touched upon in detail in a recent report of some educators who gave the college a high rating in the field of education.

Mr. Hausknecht has been in educational work forty-seven years. He is a former principal and head of the commercial department of the Lock Haven High School and came to Bloomsburg from Kutztown State Teachers College where he served a number of years as bursar. He succeeded the late Francis H. Jenkins, one of the beloved College "Old Guard."

Both Mr. Englehart and Mr. Hausknecht have been active in civic affairs. Mr. Englehart is a charter member of the Bloomsburg Kiwanis Club and a past secretary and president. Mr. Hausknecht is a past president of Rotary.

Mr. Sharretts is a graduate of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College and is well known in the community.

Mr. Martin, a Naval veteran with a number of years of service, was teller in the Farmers National Bank, here, for a time after the close of World War II and then accepted a position as a state bank examiner.

The two men retiring were guests of honor recently at the annual faculty banquet held at Pine Barn Inn, Danville, at which time each was presented with a Consistory ring.

Mr. Englehart and Mr. Hausknecht were honored at a party tendered them by more than seventy fellow employes of the State Teachers College. The party was held in the Waller Hall lounge. Each was presented with a wrist watch.

Theron Watts, store keeper and receiving clerk, served as master or ceremonies at the affair. Mrs. Anna Knight, secretary to the president, presented the watch to Hausknecht, and Walter Rhodes, of the maintenance department, made the presentation to Englehart.

A bouquet of flowers was given to Mrs. Hausknecht. A bouquet for Mrs. Englehart, who was unable to attend, was presented to her husband for her.

Edward D. Sharretts, who will succeed Mr. Englehart, and Paul Martin, successor to Mr. Hausknecht, were among those who spoke briefly.

—o—

COMMERCIAL CONTEST

Berwick and Trevorton High Schools tied for first place in the Eighteenth Annual High School Commercial Contest held at the Teachers College. The results, based on the sum of the rankings achieved by individual contestants from the schools in contests in business arithmetic, business law, shorthand, bookkeeping and typewriting, gave each of the winning schools a low-point total of twenty-seven tallies.

Wyoming, Collinsdale and Bloomsburg finished in third, fourth and fifth places, while Danville High School was sixth. A total of 177 contestants from thirty-five high schools competed in the contest which was one of the features of the Twentieth Anniversary celebration of the founding of the Department of Business Education. Richard C. Hallisy, director, Department of Business Education, said that championship plaques will be awarded to each of the two schools that were deadlocked for first place.

Berwick High School took first place in the bookkeeping contest through an excellent performance by Nancy Nagy who tallied 237 points in competition with twenty-five students and another top spot in the Business Law examination when Jo Anne May led seven contestants with a total score of 131 points. The Columbia Countians also picked up a third place in shorthand when Marion Smith scored 396 points to earn a high rating among forty-five contestants.

Trevorton won only one first place, as individual title in the shorthand contest, but picked up third-place ratings in bookkeeping and typewriting and had comparatively-good showings in Business Law and Business Mathematics to earn a tie for top honors with Berwick.

Collingsdale High School equalled Berwick's feat in picking up two first places, taking home honors in business, mathematics and typewriting, but other team contestants finished far down in the ratings, and the Collingsdale team finished in fourth place.

Bloomsburg High School netted one third in Business Law when Peggy Durling made a good showing in a contest with seven other entries.

THE ALUMNI

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

E. H. Nelson	President
Mrs. Ruth Speary Griffith	Vice-President
Mrs. C. C. Housenick	Secretary
Harriet Carpenter	Treasurer
Fred W. Diehl	Edward F. Schuyler	H. F. Fenstemaker
Hervey B. Smith	Elizabeth H. Huber

NEW YORK AND NEW JERSEY ALUMNI

On May 13, 1950, the Alumni Association of the New York and New Jersey area held the first Bloomsburg State Teachers College reunion in the history of the College. While a reunion meeting had been held in New York about thirty years ago under the auspices of the then State Normal School Alumni Association, the plans for further meetings were abandoned, and no attempt was made to organize an Alumni Association in this great area with upwards of four hundred alumni members and graduates.

Through the efforts of a few graduates who became interested in organizing the Association to meet annually, sixty-four persons representing classes from 1890 to 1946, following the invocation by Dr. Harvey A. Andruss, sat down to dinner at the Allerton House, 57th Street and Lexington Avenue, in New York City on the above date. President Andruss and Mr. Englehart represented the College faculty at the dinner and brought to the group assembled interesting facts about the College curriculum and student body; also plans for the future welfare of the College. Dr. E. H. Nelson, President of the General Alumni Association, brought greetings and congratulated the group for the splendid work being started in the Great New York area toward building a stronger Alumni body.

Following brief opening remarks by the Chairman and Master of Ceremonies, H. Walter Riland of the class of 1903, Mrs. Ann Chellis Thompson, class of 1904, and the one most instrumental in promoting the meeting, was called upon to state how the inspiration to hold this reunion came about.

Three minute sketches of personal achievement were given by:

1. Ira S. Brown, class of 1890, oldest graduate present.
2. Margaret Burke, class of 1898, Principal of Jane Adams Vocational High School, New York.
3. Miles Killmer, class of 1900, for many years engineer in charge of the building of New York's water tunnels and subway. Mr. Killmer is now Vice-President of Mason and Hanger, Construction and Contracting Engineers.
4. E. Joe Albertson, class of 1901, Editor Peekskill Star, N. Y.
5. Claude Fisher, 1904, Engineer Consolidated Edison Co., New York City.

6. Mrs. Florence Price, 1918, President of the New Jersey Teachers Association which has a membership of 26,000 teachers.

Time did not permit calling upon all of the graduates present, but enough was said by those who had an opportunity to speak to give sufficient evidence that Bloomsburg State Teachers College and its predecessor, the State Normal School, can be proud of the achievement of its men and women graduates.

There was unanimous agreement that the reunion should become an annual affair and to this end officers were elected and an Executive Committee was appointed to promote the meeting for 1951. The names of the officers and committee are as follows:

President—Mrs. Ann Challis Thompson, '04.

Vice-President—Gertrude Morris, '99.

Vice-President—Francis Paul Thomas, '42.

Secretary and Treasurer—Mrs. and Mrs. A. K. Naugle, '11.

Executive Committee—H. Walter Riland, '03, chairman, Guy H. Rentschler, '04; W. Claude Fisher, '04; Dr. Margaret Park, '23; Juel Carmody, '25; Eileen Falvey, '46.

At the close of the dinner all joined hands and sang "Should auld acquaintance be forgot." Many lingered to exchange further greetings and talk over experiences during Bloomsburg State Teachers College days. If we can judge by the enthusiasm created by the first Alumni meeting in this area, the Metropolitan New York Association is off to another successful reunion in 1951. Pennsylvanians, keep your eye on New York and New Jersey.

H. WALTER RILAND

-----o-----

MONTOUR COUNTY ALUMNI

The Montour County Branch of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College Alumni Association held its annual party recently in the Mausdale Reformed Church. The ladies of the church served a delicious chicken dinner.

The speakers were Dr. E. H. Nelson, president of the general Alumni, and Dr. Harvey Andruss, president of the College.

Special musical numbers were given by a trio from the College, composed of Andrew Macicko, Norman Kline and Max Kaplan.

The new officers are: president, Mrs. Ruth Rudy; vice president, Mrs. Donald Kessler; secretary, Miss Alice Smull, and treasurer, Miss Susan Sidler.

Those present were Mary MacDonald, Kathryn Campbell, Mrs. Olive Gass, Mrs. Mildred A. Ferry, Mrs. George McCollum, Miss Susan Sidler, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Miller, Mrs. Carrie Bryner, Miss Lois Bryner, Mrs. Carol M. Hilkert, Miss Ann Pappas, Charles Hunselman, David Foust, Mrs. Alice Karosa, Miss Harriet Fry, Miss Winifred McVey, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Hackenburg, Mrs. Bruce Rhawn, Miss Lois Wintersteen, Mrs. Olice Clark, John Betz.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hoffman, Mrs. Sara Fine, Miss Alice Smull, Mrs. Donald Swank, Mrs. Ralph Balliet, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Seibert, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hartman, Miss Rebecca Appleman, Miss Alice Guest, Mr. and Mrs.

admiration of her pupils. In the minds of many of Miss Guie's pupils of another generation she stands out as the teacher who most influenced their lives for good. Many of her pupils have the fondest memories of Miss Guie's classes in literature and the gems that were required to be memorized for special occasions.

Always a gentle personality, unselfish in her devotion to others and an inspiration to all those whose lives she touched, Miss Guie will be long remembered.

Many of her pupils, 20 and 30 years after graduation, made annual pilgrimages to Catawissa to visit Miss Guie. The years were kind to her and friends in recent visits have remarked that she was one who never seemed to age with the years.

Miss Guie was a member of the Daughters of American Revolution and retained membership in the Third Presbyterian Church of Seattle, Washington.

1885

The class of 1885 was the oldest class to be represented on Alum-Earl Deibert, Mr. and Mrs. John Sidler, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Warrington, Mrs. Donald Kessler, Mrs. Charles Guyler, Danville; Norman E. Kline, Max Kaplan, Andrew Macieko, Mrs. Lucille Baker, Thomas J. North, L. J. Satterfield, Mrs. William S. Beckley, Bloomsburg.

Rev. Charles Glass, Mrs. Charles Glass, Harriet M. Moore, Dr. Harvey Andruss, Mrs. Ruth Rudy, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Diehl, Dr. E. H. Nelson, Rush Shafer, Charles M. Derr, Mrs. Anna Miles, Miss Julia Warner, Daisy LeVan, Mrs. Daisy Girton, Mrs. Dorothy Dean, Ella Underwood, Marie K. Wright, Naoma M. Eble, Elizabeth Tovey.

-----O-----

1881

Miss Enola B. Guie, one of the most beloved teachers in the old Wilkes-Barre High School, died Friday afternoon, June 2, in the Bloomsburg Hospital after a short illness. She was 92.

Miss Guie was graduated from Bloomsburg State Normal School in the class of 1881. She came to the Wilkes-Barre High School, as it was known then, in 1891 and taught elocution and English literature until she reached retirement age in 1919. She also directed the dramatics of the various classes and the plays of the Shakespearean Society and the Cliosophic Society. Before she came to Wilkes-Barre she was a member of the staff at the Bloomsburg State Normal School.

When she reached her retirement age she left Wilkes-Barre and took up her residence in Morristown, N. J. Shortly afterwards she and her sister, Claudia, moved to Seattle. But the love of her old friends and the old famly home in Catawissa were too close to her heart to leave behind and upon the death of her brother she and her sister returned to Catawissa and reopened the old homestead, where they lived quietly in the community that meant so much to them.

In the classroom it was a rare occasion when Miss Guie had to discipline a pupil. Possessed of a fine sense of humor and an unique understanding of boys and girls, she immediately won the respect and ni Day. Harry O. Hinc, of Washington, D. C., was the lone standard bearer of the class.

1886

Emma W. Murphy Main, wife of Thomas B. Main, died May 5, 1950, in a hospital in Tryon, North Carolina, after a short illness. Emma Murphy was one of five Harrisburg, Pa., girls who attended Bloomsburg Normal School and graduated with the class of 1886. Mrs. Main graduated with first honors from Harrisburg High School in 1885. Her scholastic ability won her high honor at commencement at Bloomsburg. Teaching a few years, she resigned from the Harrisburg teaching force and moved with her parents to Philadelphia, where she became associated with the Fidelity Insurance Company. She married Mr. Thomas B. Main, a civil engineer, now retired. They resided in Haddon Heights, New Jersey. They finally decided to live in North Carolina on account of the fine climate. They spent their winters there and their summers in the North. Mr. Main and several cousins survive. She was a cultured Christian worker, a loyal friend by whose influence many lives have been enriched.

1888

Mrs. Annie Supplee Nuss, of Bloomsburg, was the lone representative of her class on Alumni Day.

1890

There were five members of the class of 1890 present for their sixtieth year reunion.

They were the Rev. John K. Adams, town; Ira S. Brown, East Rutherford, N. J.; Grace Gallagher Byron, New York; Mrs. Mary Moore Taungel, Norristown; Mrs. Kate Lewis Davies, Scranton.

Mrs. William H. Kerslake passed away Monday, April 17, after being ill at home a few days.

She was the former Carrie Smith, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith and was born at Newcastle, Pa.

A graduate of Bloomsburg State Teachers College, she taught school a number of years in Shenandoah.

She was a member of St. Paul's Methodist Church.

Survivors are her husband, a daughter, Mrs. W. C. Fleck, of Alden, Pa.; a sister, Mrs. Emily S. Carl, of Fresno, Calif., and a brother, Millard, of Niagara Falls, N. Y. Two grandchildren also survive.

1894

Seventy-six years ago George E. Pfahler was born unto Mr. and Mrs. William Pfahler in the southside community of Numidia.

He was no exception, having attended, like the rest of his playmates, the ungraded country school of the community.

This was the beginning of a distinguished and unusual career, for following graduation from the Bloomsburg State Normal School back in 1894 he received his M. D. from Medico-Chirurgical College, a diploma in medicine, radiology, and electrology from Cambridge University, England; an honorary doctor of science from Ursinus College in 1930 and finally in 1942 a LL.D. degree.

Alumni Day Dr. Pfahler was the recipient of a distinguished service award at the Bloomsburg State Teachers College.

As one might suspect, Dr. Pfahler began his career as a school teacher. However, this field was changed to his lifetime's profession. For over four years he was resident physician and more than three years assistant chief resident at the Philadelphia General Hospital.

His many other services included director of the radiological department at the Medico-Chirurgical Hospital; clinical professor of radiology at the same college from 1909-1911; professor of that department from 1911 to 1916; professor of radiology and vice dean of the Department of Radiology, University of Pennsylvania; graduate school of medicine from 1916 to 1946, and emeritus professor and emeritus vice dean since that date. During 1916-32 Dr. Pfahler was the director of the radiological department of the graduate hospital in Philadelphia, and director of the radiological department at the Misericordia Hospital from 1916 to 1943.

His activities have been both many and varied. He is a member of the board of directors of Ursinus College and a member of the board of directors of the Aid Association of the Philadelphia County Medical Society; chairman of the committee on cancer control of the Philadelphia County Medical Society for nineteen years; chairman of the executive committee of the American Cancer Society, Philadelphia division seven years, and a member of the advisory committee during World War I.

Dr. Pfahler served on the executive committee of the First and Second International Congress of Radiology; honorary vice president of the Fifth International Congress of Radiology, held in Chicago, 1937, and is named as honorary vice president of the Sixth International Congress, held in London, July, 1950.

Dr. Pfahler is a member of the American Medical Association; American Radium Society; College of Physicians of Philadelphia; American College of Physicians; American Gastroenterological Society. He was president of the American Roentgen Ray Society, 1909-10; American Electrotherapeutic Association 1912-13; served as first president of the American College of Radiology in 1922-23; president of American Radium Society 1921-22; he is honorary member of the Radiological Society of North America, and is honorary member of the Radiological Society of France; also the German Roentgen Society; the Radiological Society of Russia; Radiological Society of Scandinavia; Radiological Society of Austria; Radiological and Physiotherapy Society of Mexico; Radiological Society of Cuba; honorary member of the Radiological Section of the Royal Academy of Medicine in London; honorary Fellowship of the Faculty of Radiological Section of the Royal Academy of Medicine in London; honorary Fellowship of the Faculty of Radiologists, London, England, (1950); member of the Medical Club of Philadelphia.

Dr. Pfahler has been the recipient of a number of awards. Numbering among these are the Strittmatter Gold Medal of the Philadelphia County Medical Society; Gold Medal, American Roentgen Ray Society. The Hall of Science at Ursinus College was named in his honor in 1942.

Several of the world's greatest authorities have considered Dr. Pfahler as one of the pioneers of roentgenology and have dedicated works in his honor. They include such men as Francisco Arce, of Madrid, Spain, and H. R. Schinz, W. Baensch and E. Friedl.

Dr. Pfahler has contributed hundreds of articles to medical journals.

1896

Miss Ida D. Andrews, eighty-three, of New Columbus borough, died at the Nanticoke State Hospital Thursday, April 13.

She was born in Fishingcreek township and was a former resident of Plymouth and had resided in New Columbus for 52 years. She was a member of the Methodist Church and was a member of the first graduating class of the Plymouth High School.

She was graduated from the Bloomsburg Normal School, Class of 1896, and taught school in New Columbus, Plymouth and Shick-shinny for a number of years. She also served as a school director at New Columbus, and was long active in church and other community activities there.

1897

Amy V. Beishline (Mrs. W. F. Thomas) lives at 820 North New Street, Bethlehem, Pa.

1898

At the turn of the century, a nineteen-year-old girl was graduated from the Bloomsburg State Normal School.

Now, at the age of seventy, but still young through fifty-one years of contact with young America, Miss Gertrude Rinker, of 623 Eighth Avenue, Prospect Park, is packing her gift luggage for a tour of the United States and Canada. After more than a half-century of teaching in Pennsylvania, she is retiring from service.

Upon her graduation from the Normal School, Miss Rinker entered the teaching profession as instructor at the one-room Buckhorn school. After one term, she accepted a position in the local school system where she taught in the grades for twenty years.

Subsequently she taught six years at Prospect Park, Delaware county, and spent the past twenty-four years as first grade instructor for the school district of Tinicum township, Essington School, also Delaware county.

In honor of Miss Rinker's long and useful service, the school board, faculty, former pupils and townspeople gathered to pay her homage at a testimonial dinner at Essington recently. Miss Ethel Simpson Rayne, principal of the Essington School, who served as toastmaster, paid high tribute to Miss Rinker. Members of the school board and many others felicitated Miss Rinker.

The Chester Times, in an account of the event, reported, "Miss Rinker has established a reputation for thorough and careful teaching and has had the ambition to be patient, kind and interested in children."

Miss Rinker received many beautiful gifts, including a beautiful brooch from the school board. Members of the faculty presented her with a two-piece luggage set which she plans to put into immediate use in her projected tour.

1899

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Severance recently entertained in honor of their fiftieth wedding anniversary. Invitations were extended to three hundred guests. They have eight children, twenty-three grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Severance live at 10734 Lindbrook Drive, West Los Angeles, California.

1901

Dr. Peter Edward Fagan, practicing physician for forty years and for twenty-one years medical examiner for the Hazleton city school district who died at the State Hospital Friday, February 2, was buried from his home, 103 West Diamond avenue.

Although not in the best of health for the past year, Dr. Fagan was about as usual and entered the hospital following a sudden attack. His condition had been regarded as fair.

Dr. Fagan, who practiced medicine in Hazleton the past forty years and whose long medical career included the delivery of close to 4,000 babies, was born in Lattimer, a son of the late Robert and Adelia (O'Reilly) Fagan.

He graduated from the Hazle Township High School, Bloomsburg State Teachers College and from Jefferson Medical College in 1909. Prior to entering Jefferson College he was engaged as a teacher for a number of years in the Hazle Township school district.

Following his graduation from Jefferson he served his internship at the Hazleton State Hospital and then began his medical practice in Hazleton in 1910.

Dr. Fagan became affiliated with the medical staff of the city schools as assistant to the late Dr. W. F. Danzer and in May would have completed 21 years of service with the school district, most of them as head of the medical staff.

He became well known in industrial compensation work as chief surgeon for the Jeddo-Highland Coal Co., having succeeded the late Dr. H. M. Neale in this post after the latter's death in 1937.

In addition he served as a medical examiner for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., and had been a Veterans' Administration doctor since World War I, after having served with the rank of captain in the U. S. Army Medical Corps during that war.

As medical examiner for the city schools, Dr. Fagan's duties embraced his presence at various athletic events of the schools and until a few years ago he frequently accompanied the Hazleton High football and basketball teams.

Besides his medical work he served as president of the Union Savings and Loan Association, a post he held for some years past.

Fraternally he was associated with Hazleton Lodge No. 200, B. P. O. Elks and the Luzerne County Medical Society. Dr. Fagan was a member of St. Gabriel's Church.

The following editorial comment appeared at the time of Dr. Fagan's death:

The hand of death again touched Hazleton's medical profession and claimed Dr. Peter E. Fagan, whose forty years of practice exemplified the high ethics of that fraternity. Family doctor, coal company surgeon, school medical examiner, and a man whose varied business required an effort that finds him passing on when his years might have been extended to the service of mankind.

Dr. Fagan came of an old Hazleton family and his entire life is interwoven with region history. After his graduation at Bloomsburg State Normal School, class of 1901, he returned here to become a teacher in the Hazle Township schools. An athlete of renown, and a member of the college varsity baseball team, he followed that game after graduation and won notice in semi-pro ranks. A foot racer with few equals, he contributed much to that sport, which was a major event in his day.

His early youth and manhood was spent in Lattimer where his father, Bob Fagan, was mine superintendent. Like many of the boys from the villages, he made the best of every opportunity and after a few years as teacher, he left his school role for a higher calling in the field of medicine, and in which he was to distinguish himself.

Records show that he delivered close to 4,000 children throughout this area, and in view of the horse-and-buggy era in which he began the practice of his profession, it is evident that his path to success was no easy one.

As surgeon for the Jeddo-Highland Coal Co., for more than 12 years he was ever on call, and his 21 years as medical examiner for the Hazleton School District added another burden that undoubtedly shortened his years. His school obligations found him traveling with the athletic teams in all kinds of weather, adding extra hours of service during the long seasons of football and basketball.

With his tasks well performed, Dr. Fagan goes to rest and the people whom he served, particularly the youth to whom he was attached, will long remember his deeds and considerations.

1905

Mrs. Charles E. Mericle, seventy, of 307 Iron Street, Bloomsburg, died Sunday, March 26, at the Bloomsburg Hospital. She had been in ill health for a year and was bedfast for about six months. She had been hospitalized three weeks.

Born and reared in Mt. Pleasant township, at the age of fifteen she moved to Madison township. She was the former Zella Sarah Thomas. Mrs. Mericle resided in Mt. Pleasant township until three years ago when she moved to Bloomsburg.

She was a graduate of the Bloomsburg Normal School, class of 1905, and taught at the Geiser school and the Madison schools. Mrs. Mericle was a member of the Dutch Hill Reformed Church.

Surviving are her husband; one son, Wilbur, at home; two daughters, Mrs. Carroll Matson, of Baltimore, Md., and Mrs. Stanley Stewart, of Catawissa; two grandchildren; a brother, Fred Thomas, of Philadelphia, and a sister, Mrs. George Betz, of Bloomsburg.

Also surviving is her mother, Mrs. Matilda Hartzel, who has been confined to the Bloomsburg Hospital for the past year.

1906

Dr. Juan Jose Osuna, internationally known educator and retired Dean of the School of Education of the University of Puerto Rico, died Sunday, June 18, at his home, 1300 Twenty-fourth Street South, Arlington, Virginia. He had been ill since he suffered a heart attack last January.

In a letter to President Andruss, dated June 9, he said:

"After two months in the hospital and four more at home, I am beginning to go out a bit. It has been a long ordeal for a man who has been so active, but when the heart refuses to function properly, there is nothing else to do but to give it a long rest. We'll see if I ever come back to myself again."

Dr. Osuna was born June 24, 1884, in Caguas, Puerto Rico. He came to this country when he was sixteen years old, and studied for a time at Bloomsburg. He became naturalized in 1917. He was graduated from the Pennsylvania State College, and received his Ph.D. from Columbia University in 1920. Before taking his graduate work at Columbia, he had prepared for the Presbyterian ministry at Princeton Theological Seminary, from which he was graduated in 1915. After his graduation from Princeton, he served as a missionary in Anasco, Puerto Rico, under the Presbyterian Board of Missions.

After a wide European study in the educational field, Dr. Osuna became director of the summer school at the University of Puerto Rico, and served in that position from 1922 to 1928. From 1928 to 1945, he served as Dean of the College of Education.

In 1938-39 he traveled in Latin America in behalf of the World Federation of Education Associations.

Dr. Osuna was the author of "A History of Education in Puerto Rico," published in 1923 by the Editorial of the University of Puerto Rico. A second edition of the book appeared in 1949, and Dr. Osuna presented a copy of the book to the College.

As a testimony of the high reputation held by Dr. Osuna among his colleagues in Puerto Rico, a foreword, of which the following is a part, and which was written by Jose Padin, appeared in the second edition of the book:

"The author of this book is the most distinguished Puerto Rican educator of his generation. For almost a quarter of a century he was Dean of the College of Education of the University of Puerto Rico. Few educators have taken their work more seriously, and fewer still have combined the desirable zeal with the indispensable technical and professional equipment to do a good job. Firmly convinced that there is no equality of opportunity without an efficient system of public schools and no educational efficiency without properly trained teachers, he concentrated on teacher training. Thousands of teachers in Puerto Rico owe to him the inspiration to secure adequate professional training, and many of them the necessary aid in the form of scholarships to get it. To him belongs by right the lion's share of the credit for whatever the educational system of Puerto Rico may have accomplished during the first fifty years of American occupation. Obviously, such a man has one of the prime qualifications to write on the history of education in Puerto Rico, for he has contributed substantially to a large portion of it."

While he was a student at Bloomsburg, Dr. Osuna lived at the home of Dr. Welsh, near Orangeville. In accordance with his oft-expressed wish, his body was brought to Orangeville, to rest among his beloved Pennsylvania hills.

1908

Many perhaps will remember Charles L. Maurer, formerly of Fishersdale, and now of Collingswood, N. J. He graduated from the Bloomsburg State Teachers College, Ursinus College and holds a graduate degree from the University of Pennsylvania and a doctor's degree from Temple University and an honorary degree, L.H.D. from the College of South Jersey.

Dr. Maurer is a vocational and scholastic counselor for the Temple University high school adult and special programs.

He was principal of schools in Cleveland township for three years, and principal of Roaring Creek Township High School for two years. After two years as vice head master of Conway Hall, he moved to Camden, N. J., where he served as head of the history department and subsequently as director of Psychology and Guidance. He organized and served as director of the Parent Child Guidance Clinic.

In 1932 he joined with two other men in organizing The College of South Jersey and Law School. He served as dean from the inception of this Junior College. Steps have been taken to merge with Rutgers University, the State University of New Jersey. It will then be an autonomous division of the State University.

Since 1946 he has served, part time, as Coordinator of Veterans Education at Temple University-Secondary Division.

He is author of "Early Lutheran Education in Pennsylvania," and has an article on An Accelerated Program of a University High School in the February issue of Educational Administration and Supervision.

His name appears in Who's Who in America, Who's Who in the East, Who's Who in Education, and Who's Who in the World.

1909

Fred W. Diehl has been reelected superintendent of the Montour County Schools for the ninth time and for his thirty-third year, having been elected the first time in 1918.

He has next to the longest tenure as superintendent in the state.

During Mr. Diehl's tenure, forty-two one room schools in the county have been closed and six new buildings erected; Danville High School, Anthony, Limestone, Valley, Mahoning and Washingtonville.

1911

Edgar B. Landis, trust officer of the Chemical Bank and Trust Company of New York since 1927, died Friday, June 23, in White Plains Hospital.

Mr. Landis was graduated from the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania in 1919. He was national vice president of Alpha Phi Rho fraternity, and an honorary member and former president of the New York alumni of the Zeta Gamma Sigma fraternity.

He had been president for three years and a member of the council of the University of Pennsylvania Club of New York. He was the recipient of the 1947 alumni award of merit and was a director of the alumni board of the university.

Mr. Landis was for many years a lecturer on trust problems at the American Institute of Banking and was a member of the trust functions committee of the New York State Bankers Association. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Ruth Kendall Landis, and a son, E. Kendall Landis.

1912

Earl Andrews, of 184 Hillside Road, Oak Ridge, Tenn., died suddenly on Tuesday, May 9, 1950. Death was due to a heart attack.

Mr. Andrews is survived by his wife, Mary Eckert Andrews, a son, Richard E. Andrews, a student at the University of Maryland in Baltimore, a daughter, Mrs. William Rosenbaum, West Pittston, Pa., a brother, P. Lewis Andrews, of Billings, Mont., and two grandsons.

A native of Pennsylvania, Mr. Andrews and his wife came to Oak Ridge in July of 1947. Prior to his position in the physics division there, Mr. Andrews was associated with the Republic Aircraft Corporation in Farmingdale, N. Y.

He was born in Easton, Pa., on October 18, 1888, and was educated in Wilkes-Barre High School and Penn State College, where he specialized in aeronautics, design and engineering.

Mr. Andrews was a member of the Wilkes-Barre Methodist Church, but was not affiliated with any civic or fraternal organizations in Oak Ridge.

The Andrews went to Oak Ridge directly from Wyoming, Pa., the town where they were married.

Previous positions held were mainly associated with aircraft. He was connected with the Consolidated Vultee Company in San Diego, Calif., at one time.

For a number of years he worked for the borough engineer in Kingston, Pa., and before that worked for the commissioners of Luzerne county. He also was employed by the Pennsylvania Department of Highways.

Mrs. Andrews is now living with her son-in-law and daughter at 416 Luzerne Avenue, West Pittston, Pa.

J. Helen Appleman (Mrs. Herbert B. Keller) received the Bachelor of Science degree this year at Manchester College, Manchester, Indiana. She is teaching fourth grade in Culver, Indiana.

Isabel Thomas is principal of the Linden Street Building in West Pittston.

Helen G. Metzinger, 308 East Center Street, Mahanoy City, Pa., is Art Supervisor in the Mahanoy City Schools.

1915

Helene Mitchell Weaver, New Holland, Pa., has completed twenty-seven years of teaching in the public schools, and two years as a private kindergarten teacher.

1917

(From the June 19, 1950, issue of the "Evening Courier," Prescott, Arizona.)

Twenty-five years of service on the faculty of Prescott schools were marked off this month by Russell A. Ramage, principal of Prescott Senior High School, who came to this city in 1925.

The popular principal began his Prescott career as an instructor in woodworking and military training and has served in various capacities since that time.

Recalling his early years with the local schools, Ramage said that when he arrived, the high school was a four-year school in the building which now houses the junior high school, but in 1925 it was less than half the size it is now.

A class of 38 seniors was graduated at the first commencement Ramage attended, he remembers, 11 boys and 27 girls. There were only 15 teachers on the faculty, counting the principal, four men and 11 women.

In contrast to that time, the senior high school is now a three-year school, has a faculty of 29, 16 men and 13 women, and this year graduated a class of 132.

In September, 1938, Ramage was made vocational coordinator and counsellor for boys. He filled this position until the spring of 1944, when he was elevated to the position of superintendent of schools during the absence of Don R. Sheldon, then serving in Germany with the American Government section of the U. S. Army.

When Sheldon returned in January, 1946, Ramage returned to the senior high school as principal.

1929

Alice Rabuck (Mrs. Hiram Smith) has been living at 366 Broad Street, Portsmouth, New Hampshire. Her husband, Lieutenant Colonel in the Army was recently transferred to Fort Dix, and his wife has joined him there.

1934

Esther Evans McFadden has been elected teacher in the elementary grades of the Catawissa schools.

J. Wesley Knorr is handling Public Relations for the Magee Carpet Company, Bloomsburg. His address in Bloomsburg is 252 West Fifth Street.

1938

Robert R. Williams received his Master's Degree at the Commencement Exercises held at Bucknell University on Sunday, June 11. He is a member of the faculty of the Bloomsburg High School.

1939

Miriam Louise Utt (Mrs. Samuel R. Frank) is living at 462 Railroad Street, Manchester, Pa. Rev. and Mrs. Frank announce the birth of a daughter, Rebecca Louise, February 9, 1950.

Miss Virginia E. Cruikshank, a graduate of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College and now a teacher in the fifth grade in the Fourth Ward School, Sunbury, is represented in the May issue of "The Instructor." Miss Cruikshank has written the words and music for a song entitled, "Let's Go Travelling," which appears in the Program Material section of the magazine. The Sunbury teacher received her Bachelor of Science degree at the local institution in 1939.

1940

A daughter, Christine Isabel, was born to Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Miller on February 25. Mrs. Miller was Gwladys Jones, class of 1940. Her husband is a member of the East Providence, R. I., school faculty.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Moore (Ethel Ruth) have been living at the Park Lynn Apartments, Wilmington, Delaware. Mr. Moore is teaching in the Alexis I DuPont High School in that city. They are building a new home, which they expect to occupy soon.

1942

Erma M. Wolfgang (Mrs. John M. Latshaw) lives at 519 North First Street, Shamokin, Pa. Mr. and Mrs. Latshaw announce the birth of a son, John David, on the thirty-first of May, 1950.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Zimmerman, of Quarryville, announce the birth of a son, Douglas Bruce Zimmerman, on Sunday, June 4. Mrs. Zimmerman was formerly Jeanne Noll, also of the class of 1942. Mr. Zimmerman, a teacher in Quarryville, received the degree of Master of Science in Education at the University of Pennsylvania in August, 1949.

1943

Ruth B. Hope (Mrs. William P. Handy), lives at Hopewell Farms, R. D. 4, Coatesville, Pa. Mr. and Mrs. Handy have two children, a daughter, Frances Jean, almost three years old, and a son, William Hope Handy, born January 24, 1950.

Elizabeth Bierman (Mrs. Al Collis) lives at 1175 Gresham Rd., Plainfield, N. J. Her husband is employed by the Mack Motor Truck Company in Plainfield.

Elwood Wagner, an officer in the Army, has recently been promoted to the rank of Captain. Mrs. Wagner was formerly Catherine Jones, of Shickshinny. They have a son, Kurt, who was a year old in June.

1944

Miss Mary Elizabeth Hagenbuch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Boyd Hagenbuch, of Iron street, town, became the bride of Donald Eugene DeLong, of Philadelphia, in a ceremony performed by the Rev. Edgar D. Ziegler at St. Matthew Lutheran Church at two o'clock Saturday afternoon, June 17. The impressive double ring ceremony was used.

A reception followed at the Bloomsburg Country Club, and the couple then left on a wedding trip to Bermuda. They will make their home in Jenkintown.

The bride is a graduate of the Bloomsburg High School and the Bloomsburg State Teachers College. The bridegroom, who served as captain in the United States Marines during World War II, is completing a course at Temple University. He is employed by RCA Corporation in Camden, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeryl Moyer (Jean Ackerman), of 56 South Fourth Street, Hamburg, Pa., are the parents of a son born March 8. Mr. Moyer is a clerk at the Pennsylvania Steel Casting Company in Hamburg.

Salvatore A. Mazzeo, 1223 Ferry Street, Easton, Pa., is teaching in the Pen Argyl High School. He recently received the degree of Master of Education from Temple University. He is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, Temple's honorary graduate professional fraternity.

Janet Shank (Mrs. C. P. McLaughlin) states that she and her husband have recently purchased a new home near Bloomsburg. Her address is R. D. 2, Bloomsburg.

1948

Mr. and Mrs. John Scheber, Jr., announce the birth of a daughter, Robin Elissa, June 6, 1950. Mrs. Schieber is the former Rose Marie Kraiser, a graduate of B. S. T. C., class of 1948.

Since graduation Mrs. Schieber had been teaching commercial subjects at Hatboro High School, Hatboro, Pa. Mr. Schieber is a 1950 graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, and is now employed as a chemical engineer in Jenkintown, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. James J. Dormer live at 1616 Paxton Street, Harrisburg, Pa., have just returned from Japan, where the former served as Assistant A-4, with the 374th Troop Carrier Wing at Tachikawa, and later at Shiroy Air Base. He went to Guam in the autumn of 1948 and was transferred to Japan in the spring of 1949. His wife joined him in Japan in September, 1949. Mr. Dormer plans to teach during the coming school year.

1949

Miss Dorothy Gail Rowan and Vincent F. Friday were united in marriage Saturday, June 10, in the First Baptist Church, Phoenixville.

Miss Rowan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Rowan, Jr., 312 Gay Street. Mr. Friday is the son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy L. Friday, 455 Nutt Road.

The Rev. Ronald K. Adams, pastor of the church, officiated at the single ring ceremony. Wedding music was provided by Miss Sara T. Opp, organist, and Mrs. Leslie Prizer, soloist.

Mrs. Friday was graduated from Phoenixville High School, attended Pottstown Business School, and is employed in the office of the B. F. Goodrich Company, Oaks.

Mr. Friday, a member of the faculty of East Pikeland Consolidated School, is a graduate of Phoenixville High School and Bloomsburg State Teachers College. He served for three years in the U. S. Naval Air Corps, during World War II.

Miss Elisabeth Ann Wright, daughter of Mrs. Dennis D. Wright, of East Fifth Street, town, and the late Mr. Wright, became the bride of Samuel S. Papania, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Papania, of Bloomsburg, in a lovely ceremony Saturday, April 1, at the Bloomsburg Methodist Church.

Preceding the wedding service, Howard F. Fenstemaker, Bloomsburg, played organ selections and Miss Irene Engle, of town, sang "The Wedding Prayer," "Because" and "I Love Thee."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Papania are graduates of Bloomsburg High School. Mrs. Papania is also a graduate of Bloomsburg State Teachers College. The bridegroom is employed by Bruce Hippensteel, of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Noble, of Calkins, announce the engagement of their daughter, Eloise L., to Arthur E. Fasshauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Fasshauer, of Honesdale. Miss Noble is a graduate of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College, class of 1949. Mr. Fasshauer graduated from the Cybick School of Tailoring in New York and is proprietor of Art's Custom Tailor Shop in Honesdale.

Marie A. Stadts, 84 Main Road, Plymouth, Pa., is a teacher in the Harter High School, Plymouth Township.

officers were reelected for ten-year terms. The officers and their home addresses are as follows:

President, Don Butcofsky, 1149 Walnut St., Shamokin, Pa.

Vice-President, Bill Davis, Box 106, Beach Haven, Pa.

Secretary, Kay Chapin, 229 E. 5th St., Berwick, Pa.

Treasurer, Harold Kamm, 2510 Agat St., Harrisburg, Pa.

However, since the class officers are scattered over such a wide area, all general correspondence should be directed to Don Butcofsky at the address given above. There is a complete file available of the home addresses of all the members of the class of '50, and every effort will be made to keep the file up-to-date. Any of these addresses will be furnished upon request. All of you are also "cordially urged" to drop us a few lines every so often when you find the time. That is the only way we can keep this alumni report interesting and timely.

We have a lot of ideas on how to keep the Class of '50 in first place in the Alumni League. All we ask of you is that you send us your ideas and criticisms and let us know that you are interested. Our class is the biggest and best ever. We may not always be the biggest, but we will always be the best. Let's pitch in and make the Mid-Century Class the Class of the Century. We have fifty years in which to do it.

1950

By DON BUTCOFSKY

Back at the console of the Corona again, this time to give you a summary of affairs as they stand with our class since graduation. It's a little too early for much general news except to say that jobs are scarcer than orange hats in Dublin on St. Patrick's Day, if you who are sons and daughters of the Old Sod will pardon that figure of speech.

The first $50 award from our Memorial Scholarship Fund will be made during the 1950-51 term. The annual selection of the person to receive this award will be made by the Alumni Scholarship Committee, which is under the able chairmanship of Dr. Kimber C. Kuster. The prime consideration to be taken by the committee in naming the annual recipient of the scholarship will be professional promise and the existing need of the student for financial assistance.

Doubtless most of you January graduates are wondering how the transition from a fountain fund to a scholarship fund was made. Well, to make a long story short, the fountain fund which had already been established by the Class of '49 was found to be sufficient for the aqueous edification of the Waller Hall Court. The scholarship fund, which had been a close second in the previous balloting, was then established by a ballot that was only a few votes short of unanimity.

At the same class meeting the class also decided overwhelmingly in favor of remaining organized following graduation. The same

K. Rodney Morgans, a member of the class of 1950 at the Teachers College and a star tackle on the local institution's winning football teams of the past four years, has accepted a position on the faculty of his Alma Mater, South Williamsport High School.

Morgans is the husband of the former Patricia Mercer, of town, and the son of Mrs. John Morgans, of South Williamsport.

The widely known athlete graduated in the secondary department of the College and will teach at South Williamsport, and be assistant to Mac Hufnagle, the South football coach.

During his years at the College, Morgans has made many friends and is widely known in the area for his work at tackle. During the 1949 season, when there was a lessening of the manpower available at the tackle positions, his work was exceptionally outstanding.

In high school he was a member of the football team throughout his four years of scholastic training and was on the Susquehanna Conference championship team of 1943.

Upon his graduation from South Williamsport High in 1944 he entered the United States Marine Corps and served for thirty-two months in the South Pacific. He was in radar work.

Miss Claire Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Young, of Berwick R. D. 1, became the bride of Edward G. Baker, son of Mrs. Kathryn Baker, of Philadelphia, in a Spring ceremony at five o'clock Saturday evening, April 22, in the First Presbyterian Church of Berwick.

Palms, fern and baskets of white gladioli, stock and white chrysanthemums decorated the altar before which the Rev. Gladstone P. Cooley, pastor, performed the double-ring nuptials.

They will reside in Coatesville where the groom is employed by the J. J. Newberry Co.

The bride is a graduate of the Bloomsburg High School and the Katherine Gibbs School, New York City, and has been employed as a secretary at B. S. T. C. The groom, a World War II veteran of three and one-half years service with the expeditionary forces, is a graduate of the Spring City High School and B. S. T. C.

John W. Williams, Bloomsburg, has been elected to the faculty of the Haddon Heights High School, Haddon Heights, N. J. Mr. Williams will assume his duties beginning with the Fall term in September.

He will teach commercial subjects and assist in coaching varsity football and basketball at the New Jersey school.

A graduate of Bloomsburg High School, 1945, Mr. Williams was graduated from the Bloomsburg State Teachers College in January 1950 with a major in retail selling in business education. He was a member of the varsity basketball and football teams while in high school and was also active in the athletic program at the college.

During World War II he served eighteen months in the U. S.

Navy with fifteen months duty in the South Pacific theater.

Miss Dorothy R. Schug, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schug, of East Eighth street, Bloomsburg, became the bride of Walter Merena, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Merena, of Excelsior, Pa., in a ceremony at three o'clock Sunday afternoon, June 3, at the Ukrainian Church of the Transfiguration, Shamokin, performed by Father Haurta.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Penn Lee Hotel, Shamokin. The couple left later on a wedding trip to Atlantic City and upon their return will make their temporary residence at 151 East Eighth street, Bloomsburg.

The groom is a graduate of Coal Township High School, Shamokin, and B. S. T. C. He served with the 28th Division in World War II and plans to enter the teaching profession this Fall. The bride is a graduate of Bloomsburg High School.

The garden at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George J. Keller, of Light Street Road, was the picturesque setting at two o'clock Saturday afternoon, June 3, for the wedding uniting Miss Jane Louise Keller and Frank Louis Molinaro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Molinaro, of Pittsburg, Calif.

The Ven. William J. Watts, pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, town, performed the ceremony.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Molinaro are graduates of Bloomsburg State Teachers College. The former is teaching at John Hill School, Boonton, N. J., and Mrs. Molinaro will teach in the primary grades at Boonton this Fall. The bridegroom is a Navy veteran of four years service, two years of which were in the Pacific area. He is a lieutenant (jg) in the Naval Reserve.

Charles L. Lauck, of Mt. Carmel, has taken a position with the Popular Finance Company, Inc., there. A native of State College, he graduated from B. S. T. C. this year with a B. S. degree in business administration, majoring in accounting and minoring in retail sales. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Lauck, of State College, he is married to the former Mary Ruth Tyson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tyson, of Catawissa. She is also a graduate of B. S. T. C., class of 1949.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Walters, of 121 S. Woodward Court, Hazleton, Pa., announce the engagement of their daughter, Betty Anne, to Clarence J. Meiss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Meiss, Jr., of West Hazleton. Miss Walters is a member of the Senior Class and is majoring in the Elementary Field. Mr. Meiss graduated from B. S. T. C. in May in the Secondary Course, majoring in Social Studies. Miss Walters is the daughter of the former Florence Altmiller, member of the class of 1918.

Class Reunions

1895

The fifty year class, that of 1895, had a splendid turnout.

Among those presen were Mrs. Harry L. Higbee, Watsontown; Mary Pendergast, Harrisburg; Mrs. B. F. Beale, Duncannon; Fred E. Fassett, Wyalusing; Nathan W. Bloss, Wapwallopen; Harry J. Lewis, Trevorton; Mr. and Mrs. Claude M. Stauffer, Bethlehem; Mrs. William Monday, Pittston; Mrs. M. P. Ikeler, Danville R. D. 2; Charles W. Derr, Riverside; Mrs. Theresa H. Holmes, Mrs. J. S. John, Mrs. Jonathan W. Buck, of Bloomsburg Miss Bertha Seely, 1898, also attended.

1900

There were more than thirty of the class of 1900 in attendance at their reunion. The fifty year class was the honored class of the day and during the general meeting the members were presented with copies of certificates such as were presented to graduates after they completed two years of teaching in the schools of the Commonwealth. Some members of the class were able only to be present for the dinner on Friday evening. Others joined the class for Saturday's events. Most of them, however, were present throughout the observance and all had a splendid time.

In attendance Saturday were these members: Miles I. Killmer, South Orange. N. J.; Michael D. Costello, Shamokin; Clyde Confer, Watsontown R. D. 1; Lydia Zehner Shuman, Bloomsburg; Kathryn Gorrey Carlin, Gary, Ind.; Frank C. Harris, Orangeville; Guy A. Mowery, Danville R. D. 4; Rev. J. Edward Klingaman, Winchester, Va., R. D. 1; Mrs. B. F. Bieber, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Leslie Seely, Philadelphia; Mrs. G. Clayton Welles, Watsontown; Glenmore N. Snyder, Wilkes-Barre; Mrs. William Zimmerman, Mary Boyle, Hazleton; Mrs. Walter H. Andrews, Slatington; Mrs. W. C. Leach, Macomb, Ill.; Anna Solomon Rubrecht, Philadelphia; Emily Appenzeller, East Mauch Chunk; Stella Shuman Swenk, Philadelphia; Mrs. Jesse Y. Glenn, Berwick; Phoebe W. John, Charlotte I. Deitrick, Mt. Carmel; Edna Hassler, Pittsburgh; Lottie Burgess Mane, Hazleton.

1904

The class of 1904, holding a special reunion, had a good representation.

Present were: Mrs. Mabel Mertz Dixon, Belle Meade, N. J.; Mrs. Jessie Boyer Howell, Trucksville; Mrs. Elizabeth Specht Martin, Hazleton; Mrs. Leona Kester Lawton, Millville; Irwina Cogwell, Montrose; S. Margaret Seely, Berwick R. D. 1; Mrs. Harriet Hitchcock McMurray, Mehoopany; Emma Kelminski, Mt. Carmel; Sara E. Buddinger, Mt. Carmel; J. M. Malone, Shenandoah; Mrs. Anna C. Thompson, New York City.

1905

Class of 1905 assembled in the College auditorium, thirty-five in number, Alumni Day, for the General Alumni meeting. At the roll call of classes, Nevin T. Englehart responded briefly for the class.

At adjournment of the alumni meeting, the class and its guests moved to a private dining room at Fest's where a fine dinner was served.

Following the dinner brief remarks were made by E. Joe Albertson, J. Y. Shambach, Mrs. Carrie Clark Myers, Mrs. Emma Cortright

Shelly and others. Plans were laid for a reunion five years hence.

Attending: Edna Crouse Harrison, Orangeville; Kathryn Wilkins Pulson, Wilkes-Barre; Anna Thomas, Edwardsville; Carrie Clark Myers, Dr. Gary C. Myers, Boyds Mills; G. Edward Elwell, Jr., Sara Milleisen Elwell, Bloomsburg; Adelia Mertz Bergen, Harlengen, N. J.; Elizabeth Mertz Mitchell Vermorel, Hackensack, N. J.; Anne E. Conlan, Wilkes-Barre; Emma Cortright Shelby, Washington, D. C.; Blanche Miller Grimes, Harrisburg; Dora Leidy Fleckenstine, Bloomsburg; Beatrice Larrabee Albertson, Peekskill, N. Y.; Claire E. Colvin, Northumberland; Bessie K. Grimes, Catawissa; Dr. Charles L. Mowrer, Hagerstown, Md.; Grace E. Roberts Miller, Dorothy Keefer Kashner, Bloomsburg; Mary Kirkendall Hagenbuch, Pottstown.

Myrtle Robbins Wood, Nescopeck; Inez Robbins Wilson, Emma Smith; Nevin T. Englehart, Aleta B. Englehart, Espy; Vera Hemingway Housenick, Bloomsburg; Jesse Y. Shambach, Harrisburg; William G. Jenkins, Wilkes-Barre; Paul Pooley, Mrs. Paul Pooley, Danville; Neil Harrison, Orangeville; E. Joseph Albertson, Peekskill, N. Y.

1908

The class of 1908 held a special reunion and had twenty-nine members present, coming from four states. They started their program on Friday evening and continued throughout Saturday.

Present were: Miss Rebecca Appleman, Danville; Mrs. G. L. Dodson, Shavertown; Miss Ella M. Billings, Nicholson R. D. 1; Miss Laura E. Boone, Hazleton; Mrs. George S. Westfield, Chester; Mrs. Lloyd Wilson, Kis-Lyn; Mrs. William T. Wooters, Camp Hill; Mrs. Orrie Pollock, Wyoming; Miss Effie M. Conrad, Sunbury; Miss Margaret D. Coyle, Mount Carmel; Thomas Francis, class secretary, Scranton; Miss Sadie L. Hartman, Washington, D. C.

Miss Martha V. James, Scranton; Mrs. Frank Buck, St. Augustine, Fla.; Miss Olive A. Major, Philadelphia; Dr. Charles Maurer, Collingswood, N. J.; Miss Mary Louise Moore, Scranton; Mrs. Vincil G. Stein, Philadelphia.

Mrs. Bernard McCadden, Plains; Miss Evelyn Peck, Sayre; Mrs. Arthur Johnson, Hazleton; Miss Olwen Rosser, Kingston; Mrs. J. Clarence Creasy, Bloomsburg; Mrs. H. G. Williams, Rendham-Old Forge; Miss Mary Southwood, Mt. Carmel; Mrs. J. R. Garbut, Dallas; William D. Watkins, Wheeling, V. Va.; Mrs. A. L. Orner, Rocketon R. D. 1, and Mrs. J. Gaylord Jones, Bloomsburg.

1910

The forty year class had a splendid turnout. The members and guests enjoyed a luncheon at the Char-Mund. The class gave fifty dollars to the Husky fund.

Present: Hilda Altmiller Taylor, Hazleton; Lila Anwyl Davis, Harold Davis, Waltham, Mass.; Harold Box, South Canaan, Pa.; Julia Brill, State College; Blanche Brown, Akron, Ohio; Larue Brown, Lewisburg; Louella Burdick Siquet, Haddonfield, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Burlingame, Bloomsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Diehl, Danville; Howard Fetterolf, Camp Hill; Agnes Freas Keiser, Hollingswood, N. J.; Nora Geise, Northumberland; Grace Gilner Zane, Fred Zane, Sterling, Pa.; Josephine Holland Greenwood, Tunkhannock; Maurice Houck, Berwick; Florence Huebner Buckalew, Bloomsburg; Olive Kresge Montanye, J. D. Montanye, Wilkes-Barre; Grace Krum Savage, Turbotville; Sara Lewis, Forty Fort; Mary Lowry Shambaugh, Camp Hill; Emma McFarland, Hazleton; Georgena McHenry Sharadin, Abe Sharadin, Henry Sharadin, Abe Sharadin, Lewisburg; Robert Metz, Ashley; Charles Morris, Wilkes-Barre; Margaret Oliver Walton, Fred W. Walton, Berwick; Charles Potter, Jersey Shore; Emory Rarig, Catawissa; Tracy Roberts, Clark's Green; John Skweir, McAdoo; Ida Smith Conrey, Orangeville; Mildred Snell Boston, West Pittston; Enola Snyder Evans, Long Island, N. Y.; Ralph Wertman, Tamaqua; Lois Yost, Smith, Rev. Weston Smith, Hartford, Conn.; Mrs. Isabelle Smith Corson, Wilkes-Barre.

1915

The class of 1915 held its reunion dinner at the Char-Mund with Charlotte Welliver Hoch, proprietor, a member of the class, as hostess.

The dinner was at noon and the business session saw John H. Shuman, Bloomsburg, named president for the forthcoming five year period, with Catherine Leighow Bittenbender, Lime Ridge, vice president, and Eulah Boone Spiegel, Espy, secretary-treasurer.

A contribution of fifty dollars was given to the Alumni Association Husky Fund. Reminiscences and contributions of news concerning class members occupied the remainder of the afternoon. Thirty-two members were present at the general alumni meeting in Carver Hall and at the reunion dinner.

Attending: Lillian Zimmerman, Washington, D. C.; Frank S. Hutchison, Bloomsburg; Ray Koontz, New Haven, Conn.; Josephine Duy Hutchison, Bloomsburg; Etta Buss Evans, West Pittston; Hilda Davis Morgan, Forty Fort; Roy C. Kindig, Clearfield; Ruth Koehler Hayes, Scranton; Francis Smith Lewis, Dalton R. D. 1; Esther Helfrich, Wilkes-Barre; Eva Harris Gulliver, Wilkes-Barre; Sally Brace, Clarks Summit; Elizabeth Welsh Miller, Orangeville R. D. 1; Eulah Boone Spiegel, Espy.

Edith Martin Larsen, Laurel Springs, N. J.; Lois McCloughan Snyder, Catawissa; Ruth Albert Baer, Norwood; Ethel Watkins Weber, Scranton; Miriam Lawall Heller, Wapwallopen; Dr. Millard Cryder, Cape May, N. J.; John H. Shuman, Bloomsburg; Mary Grundy Prizer, Drexel Hill; Dorothy Rice Williams, Fannie Leggoe Wandel, Hazleton; Mary Hess Croop, Berwick; Catherine Leighow Bittenbender, Lime Ridge; Charlotte Welliver Hoch, Orangeville; Elizabeth Gronka Ravin, Glen Lyon; Warren Dollman, Bloomsburg; Joseph Cherrie, Nanticoke; Bessie Thompson Watkins, Nanticoke; Ruth E. Pooley, Bloomsburg R. D. 1.

1920

Twenty-nine members of the class of 1920 were back and had a splendid day.

They were Mrs. Anna Davis Barrow, Ringtown; Mrs. Edna Taylor Bailey, Kingston; Mrs. Ralph Morgan, Nanticoke; Mrs. Armeda Pctrini, Glen Lyon; Mrs. Ella Sweppenheiser Kennedy, Bloomsburg R. D. 5; Mr. and Mrs. Mark H. Bennett, East Bangor; Clara N. Santee, Conyngham; Jessie Mensinger, Sheppton; Mrs. Roy O. Fry, Bloomsburg; Mrs. Grayce M. Newhart, Bloomsburg R. D. 1; Mrs. L. R. Grover, Moorefield, W. Va.; Mrs. Helen S. Noack, Forty Fort; Alice Cocklin, Shickshinny; Mrs. Helen Roberts Truscott, Jermyn; Mrs. Grace Gotshall Pannemaker, Lock Haven; Mrs. Clair Herman Ruth, West Nanticoke; Agnes Anthony Silvany, Wilkes-Barre; Edward R. Unangst, Catawissa; Valara Fox Steinmayer, Pittsburgh; Marjorie Rose Thomas, Harrisburg; Margaret Ferree, Oak Hall Station; Jeanne Stroh Walsh, York Spring; Wilhelmine White Moyer, Bloomsburg; Ruth Johnson Garney, Upper Darby; Mary G. McBride, Wilkes-Barre; Ethel Kcttrick Oglin, Wilkes-Barre; Laura Shaffer Peters, Nescopeck; Mrs. Fern Traugh Eshleman, Berwick.

Guests were Mary Fern Eshleman, Berwick; Benjamin Bailey, Kingston; Mrs. Edward Unangst, Catawissa; Merton Ruth, West Nanticoke; Mrs. Mark Bennett, East Bangor; C. J. Steinmayer, Joanne and Charles Steinmayer, Jr., Pittsburgh.

1925

Forty members of the class of 1925 were back for their silver anniversary and kept most of their activities on the campus.

They were: Mrs. Anna Geary Sidler, Margaret E. Griffith, Plymouth; Lillian Burgess, Wyoming; Marian Hess Carmick, Philadelphia; Ruth Walper Hinder, Hazleton; Ellen Phebey Gray, Wyoming; Margaret Jones Bennett, Plainville; Gertrude Hildebrand Crayton, Clark Summit, N. J.; Laverne Hill Moore, Nanticoke; Anna Dougherty Gdenon, Freeland; Kathryn McMennimen Kennedy, Wilkes-Barre; Betty Davison Hoffner, Scranton; Martha A. Fisher, Sunbury; Martha Roushey Miers, Harford.

Margaret Fay, Kingston; Mary Hart Miller, Berwick; Bronwen Rees Boone, Washington; Gladys Richard Kleckner, Allentown; Francis Davenport Pennington, Bloomsburg; Frances Ruggles Trumbower, South Williamsport; Rachel Bolles Malone, Jessups, Maryland; Adaline Burgess, Wyoming R. D. 3; Myrtle Wharmby, Plymouth; Elsie Jones Voight, West Pittston; Jessie E. Keen Deeter, Nanticoke; Martha Lawson Goff, Shenandoah; Marian A. Gower, Hackensack, N. J.; Harriet Walp Eastburn, Coatesville; Vivian Harris Hallenback, Taylor.

Esther Whalen Farrell, Shenandoah; Pauline Bucher Swank, Elysburg; Juel Gaughan Carmody, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Laura A. Davis, Scranton; Wilhelmina Spangenberg Lesaius, Scranton; Edith Harris Frantz, Wilkes-Barre; Mrs. Margaret R. Price Miller, McAdoo; Mrs. Pearl Rodel Bickel, Sunbury; Mrs. Bessie Michael Bogart, Berwick R. D. 2; Mr. and Mrs. Arch Turner, Sheatown; Mrs. Walter R. Griffith, Bloomsburg.

Officers chosen were Pearl Radel Bickel, chairman of the class; with Mrs. H. Max Pennington, treasurer, and Maryan Hart Miller, secretary.

1930

Largest class reunion was that of 1930 which had almost a hundred at its luncheon at the Elks auditorium. One of the big features was the reception during the afternoon at which there were in attendance many of those who served on the faculty when the class was in college.

The class gave $70 to the Husky Fund.

Guests at the dinner were the two class advisors, Dr. E. H. Nelson and Dr. E. A. Reams.

Harold H. Hidlay presided. Dinner music was by the Star Dusters and they played college favorites. The Rev. Gilbert Gould, of Lansford, gave the invocation. Mrs. Luther Bitler, Williamsport, read the class poem and Mrs. Josephine Holuba Hawk, Lawrenceville, N. J., gave part of the Ivy Day oration. Pictures from the class Obiters were projected on a screen and motion pictures of the class graduation activities were shown. One member of the class, Dorothy Keith Harris, Plymouth, has missed only one reunion since graduation.

Those of the faculty who visited with the class during the afternoon or were at the dinner were Dr. Francis B. Haas, former college president, now Superintendent of Public Instruction; Miss Alice Johnston, Dr. Harvey A. Andruss, Dr. and Mrs. T. P. North, Mr. and Mrs. Howard T. Fenstemaker, Miss S. Mabel Moyer, Miss Harriet M. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hoffman, Dr. Nell Maupin, Earl N. Rhodes, Maude E. Kavanaugh, Mrs. Lucille J. Baker, Miss Edna J. Barnes, Miss Ethel A. Ransom.

Attending: Mildred Stroud Wilson, Wilkes-Barre; Ruth Vandermark, Pottsville; Catherine Vollrath Symons, West Nanticoke; Theodore Laskowski, Trucksville R. D. 1; Georgiena Weidner, Trucksville; Pauline Forsythe, Lewis-town; Miriam R. Gilliland, Oak Hall Staion; W. Brooke Yeager, Wilkes-Barre; Grace Lord, Wilkes-Barre; A. N. Spenseller, Hatboro; Mary Frances Morton, Berwick; Dr. Francis B. Haas, Harrisburg; Harvey A. Andruss, Bloomsburg; Mary White Bittenbender, Bloomsburg; Congetta Pecora Kotch, West Hazleton; Ruth Yeager Reinhart, Weatherly; Gertrude Schrader Johnson, Norristown; Hazel McMichael Eveland, Forks; Mabel Biggar, Unityville; Lavere Diefenbach Hoyt, Shickshinny; Leona Sterling Brunges, Bloomsburg; Kathryn Stine Hufnagle, Catawissa R. D. 1.

Loathe Mericle Matson, Baltimore; Myron R. Welsh, Philadelphia; Kathryn Jones Fritz, Jasper Fritz, Oseola Mills; Amelia Lottie Ceppa Conage, Mar-Lin; Margaret Davis Yenchar, Kingston; Catherine Robbins Nicholas, Edwardsville; Dorothy G. Brobst, Berwick; Grace Reichard Gardner, Muncy; Florence Jones Jones, Milton; M. Augusta Schnure, Milton R. D. 2; Kathryn House Everett, Lewisburg R. D. 2; Anna C. Strausner, W. Pen Argyl; Helen Morgan Daubert, Lewisburg; Mabel Gordon, Dorothy Wilson Kroh, Jane Williams Perry, Jeanette Roberts Williams, Olive Phillips Williams, Clara Thompson Miller, Elma Morris Price, Mildred Wagner, Myra Sharpless, Virginia E. Cruickshank, Cathryn E. Payne, Myrtle Klischer, Wilkes-Barre.

Jane Williams Perry, Edwardsville; Dorothy Wilson Kroh, Bolivar, N. Y.; Helen E. Snyder, Sunbury; Louise Miller Manning, Dalton R. D. 1; Jessie Cook Davis, Mechanicsburg; Mabel Gearhart Miller, Sunbury; J. Fred Berger, Bloomsburg R. D. 2; Josephine Holuba Hawk, William C. Hawk, Lawrenceville, N. J.; Alice Johnston, Earl A. Gehrig, Edward Reams, B. S. T. C.; Harold H. Hiday, Thursbert Schuyler, Bloomsburg; the Rev. Gilbert Gould, Lansford; Margaret Swartz Bitler, Luther W. Bitler, Williamsport; E. H. Nelson, Bloomsburg; Margaret Spalone d'Isidoro, East Orange, N. J.; Laura Shultz Magazzu, Hazleton; Dorothy Keith Harris, Plymouth; Shirley Snyder Sedam, Marysville; Mabel Gearhart Miller, Sunbury R. D. 3; Genevieve M. Norbert, Kingston; Catherine D. Reilly, Plymouth; Grayce R. Carr, West Hazleton; Genevieve M. Ransavage, Kingston; A. Elizabeth Myrick Jones, Peckville; Janetta York Coleman, Peckville.

Dorothy Erwin Schoeberlein, River Edge, N. J.; Mary Agnes Sharpess Boyer, Berwick; Anna Erwin Faux, Conyngham; Cyril W. Steiner, New York City; Richard Frymire, Bloomsburg; Myrtle Klischer, Mt. Carmel; C. E. Payne, Shamokin, Virginia Cruickshank, Sunbury; Clara Thompson Miller, Clark's Summit R. D. 2; Miriam Edwards, Benton; Sarah Welliver Edwards, Oaks; Dorothy Foote Pihlola, Jamestown, N. Y.; Karleen N. Hoffman, Newark, N. J.; Mildred Wagner, Wilkes-Barre; Elma Morris, Edwardsville; Fronda Bingman Cobb, Beavertown; Mr. and Mrs. Dew and son, Wilkes-Barre.

1935

Members of the class of 1935 had a fine representation for its fifteenth reunion. Special feature was a luncheon at noon at Fest's. The class made a contribution to the Husky Fund.

Attending were: Mr. and Mrs. E. J. McKechnie, Berwick; Mr. and Mrs. John H. Yeager, Hazleton; Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Diserod, Bloomsburg; Mrs. Leonard R. Baker, Lock Haven; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gedenic, Kulpmont; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Shakofski, Pearl River, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth C. Merrill, Riverton, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Krauss, Lock Haven; Bruno A. Novak, Houtzdale; Mr. and Mrs. William I. Reed, Bloomsburg; Albert A. Hayes, Berwick; Woodrow G. Brewington, Benton; Mrs. Fred J. Creasy, Berwick.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ungemach, Blanche Garrison, Mr. and Mrs. E. Rodcrick Hines, Berwick; Mrs. Veda M. Stewart, Catawissa; Mrs. Harriet Styer Boop, Bloomsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Michael Prokapchak, Newark, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin R. Creasy, Dallas; Mrs. Walter Angstadt, Lewisburg; Mrs. Irene Fredrick, Milton.

Clarence S. Stater, Atlantic City, N. J.; Mrs. Harold Steinhart, Bloomsburg; Naomi Myers, Red Lion; Unora E. Bendenhall, Benton; S. Stamilonis, Shenandoah; Gerald C. Harter, Holmes; Rosina Kitchever, Plymouth; Mrs. W. C. Forney, Nell Maupin, Dr. and Mrs. Harrison Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. North, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Fenstemaker, Bloomsburg.

1940

The ten year class had an enjoyed reunion with these attending:

Jane Darraw, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac T. Jones, Kingston; Don Houseknecht, Hatboro; Cora Baumer, Lewisburg; Mrs. Carrie Yocum Shultz, Milton; Mr. and Mrs. Michael Chismar, Gladys Jones, Bloomsburg; Mrs. Kenneth Merrill, Riverton, N. J.; Robert Lewis, Danville; James Hinds, Margaret Blecher, Eleanor Beckley, Clayton H. Hinkel, Bloomsburg; Fay Gehrig Clack, Danville, N. J.; Lora Snyder, Turbotville; Mrs. Harold Rarig, Catawissa.

1945

Eleven members of the class of 1945 enjoyed the fifth anniversary dinner at the Char-Mund in the Country. Letters were read from those not present.

Attending were Mrs. Mary Lou Fenstermaker John, Bloomsburg; Mildred Dzuris, Nanticoke; Marjorie Downing, Shickshinny; Julia Welliver, Bloomsburg; Mrs. Carol McCloughan Hilkert, Danville; Mrs. Martha Duck Kantrowitz, Lewisburg; Mrs. Carrie Johnson Balliet, Danville; Mrs. Shirley Wolfe Nicholas, Penns Grove, N. J.

Laura E. Schoener, Stouchsburg; Catherine Longo, Sheppton; Elsie Flail, Schuylkill Haven, and guests, Marjorie Stover, Bloomsburg; Eileen Falvey, Belleville, N. J.; Charles Driskell, Bloomsburg; Archie Hikert, Danville; Seymour Kantrowitz, Lewisburg; Dr. Nell Maupin, Boomsburg.

-----o-----

S. Dayton Beishline, fifty-two, supervising principal of the Huntington Township Joint School, Luzerne county, stricken with cerebral hemorrhage on a fishing trip on April 15, died in the Bloomsburg Hospital Sunday, April 23.

With his son, the Rev. Richard Beishline, pastor of the Pilgrim Congregational Church, Plymouth, the educator had gone on a fishing expedition in the Spring Brook section on the first day of trout season. The two returned to the car to rest and the son fell asleep. Later the minister awakened and found his father in a coma. He drove to the office of a Catawissa physician, who ordered the case to the hospital.

Mr. Beishline was a native of Columbia county. He was born at Bendertown, April 5, 1898, the son of the late Nathan and Alvera Weaver Beishline. He attended the Bendertown school and the Fishing Creek High School.

He was a graduate of the Bloomsburg Normal School and took further studies at Cold Spring Harbor. In recent years he was awarded a master's degree from Bucknell University.

Mr. Beishline taught at the Crossroads School and the High School in Fishing Creek Township, and for a short time at the New Columbus School. After nine years at Scott High School, Espy, he left to become supervising principal at Picture Rocks. He had served at Huntington Mills for the past fifteen years.

In addition to his profession, Mr. Beishline was well-known through his church activity. He was a devout member of the Huntington Mills Methodist Church, its Sunday School superintendent, for the past twelve years, and the conference lay leader for the church.

He also taught the adult Bible Class.

Surviving are his wife, the former Maude Wenner; one son, the Rev. Richard Beishline; a brother, Ernest, Benton; a twin brother, Clayton, Bendertown; one sister, Mrs. Sally Wenner, of Stillwater, and three grandchildren.

Funeral services, in charge of the Holcombe funeral home, Benton, were held from the Huntington Mills Methodist Church, with the pastor, the Rev. William Price, officiating. A special service of Huntington Mills students was held and regular services was conducted. Interment was in St. James cemetery at Bendertown.

-----o-----

Miss Edith M. Patterson, formerly of Orangeville, died in her apartment at Metuchen, N. J., recently. Death was sudden and due to a heart attack.

Miss Patterson was born and reared at Orangeville. After graduation at the Bloomsburg Normal School, she taught first at Stillwater and later at North Berwick. She then went to New Jersey where she taught for thirty-one years, first at Rahway and then at Newark.

For a number of years, while teaching at Newark, she resided at East Orange. About three years ago she retired and removed to Metuchen.

At the time of her death she was a member of the Rahway Presbyterian Church, and previous to that was for many years a member of the Munn Avenue Presbyterian Church, Newark.

In both churches she devoted much of her time to missionary activities. She was endowed with a fine personality and had a host of friends. Surviving are a brother, A. E. Patterson, of Orangeville, and a number of nephews and nieces.

Funeral services were held first from the Hilltop Funeral Home at Metuchen and then from the Orangeville Presbyterian Church. Interment was made in the McHenry Cemetery in Orange township.

-----o-----

The marriage of Miss Lillian B. Buckalew, of Ardmore, and Harry E. Rider, of Bloomsburg, took place in July at St. Mary's Episcopal Church in Ardmore. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Vought, assistant rector of the church.

Miss Buckalew was given in marriage by her brother, Raymond G. Buckalew, of Bloomsburg. The ceremony was attended by only the immediate families.

Miss Buckalew is a former teacher in the Bloomsburg schools but for some time has been teaching in the Lower Merion Schools at Penn Wynne.

Mr. Rider, a former principal of the Fifth Street School, Bloomsburg, in recent years has conducted the Kocher Coal business.

They are making their home at 26 West First Street, Bloomsburg.

Miss Beverly A. Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Cole, of Leonard street, Bloomsburg, served during the summer with the U. S. Marine Corps.

The Bloomsburg State Teachers College senior was one of seventy young women selected from more than 2,000 applicants throughout the nation to receive training in the W. O. T. C. (Women's Officers Training Class), Marine Corps School, Quantico, Va.

She has been engaged in a six-week training course at Quantico.

Her Marine training, if continued in a similar course next Summer, will make her eligible for an officer's commission in the corps and assignment to permanent duty. She was sworn into the service at Philadelphia with the rank of corporal.

Born and reared in Bloomsburg, Miss Cole is a graduate of the Bloomsburg High School, class of 1947. During her high school career, she was a member of the National Scholastic Honor Society for two years, president of the sophomore class, a member of the Red and White staff and editor of the year book, Memorabilia.

At the College, she has been a member of the student council and a student representative of the college at inter-school sessions, a member of the Maroon and Gold staff, and active in other extra-curricular activities. She will return in the fall to complete one semester for her graduation from the institution where she is majoring in language.

Clifton S. Skow, of Wilmington, Del., son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Skow, of East First Street, Bloomsburg, graduated at Bucknell University on Sunday, June 11. He received the master of science degree in chemical engineering.

He completed the work in February and accepted a position with the Hercules Company, in Wilmington. He received his bachelor of science degree in chemical engineering from Bucknell last year.

Skow is a former Bloomsburg resident and a graduate of Bloomsburg High School and B. S. T. C.

Maynard Harring, Pitman, was elected president of the Junior Class of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College in a class election held recently. Members of the class selected Richard Powell, Pottstown, vice president; Barbara Harman, Lykens, secretary, and Walter Troutman, Shamokin, treasurer. Representatives to the College Council will be Dale Bennett, Bangor, and Ruth Glidden, Susquehanna.

Newly-elected officers of the Community Government Association of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College are Anthony Grabowski, Kulpmont, president; Thomas Anthony, Shamokin, vice president; Claire Davis, Clarks Summit, secretary; Alfred Marsilio, Hazleton, treasurer; and John Ryan, Philadelphia, assistant treasurer. Mr. Grabowski, who is active in campus and fraternity affairs, succeeds Richard Wagner, Nescopeck, as president of the student body.

Dr. Henry J. Warman, associate professor of geography and secretary of the Clark University Graduate School of Geography, has been named the United States member on the Committee on Teaching and Methodology of the Commission of Geography, Pan American Institute of Geography and History.

Dr. Warman, Scranton, Pa., native and graduate of Bloomsburg, Pa., State Teachers College, Temple University and Clark, also studied at the University of Pennsylvania and Berlitz Schools in Philadelphia, and was teacher, coach and athletic director in the Norristown, Pa., schools. He is the husband of the former Miss Rita Ann Montgomery, of Drexel Hill, Pa.

-----o-----

Miss Marion E. Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wilson, of Drums, was married to Conrad A. Balliet, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Balliet, of Drums, at St. Paul's Methodist Church, Drums, by Rev. Gerald L. Wilson, brother of the bride.

The bride was graduated from Hazleton High School, and the Bloomsburg State Teachers College, and is a teacher in the Allentown schools. The bridegroom was graduated from Hazleton High School, and is a senior at Muhlenberg College.

-----o-----

Miss Peggy Latorre, Elysburg R. D., and Robert Tabachini, of Exchange, were married Saturday, June 17, in St. Peter Church, Mt. Carmel. Rev. William Bridy, cousin of the bridegroom, performed the double-ring ceremony.

Mrs. Tabachini, daughter of Mrs. Rose Latorre, Elysburg R. D., and the late Joseph Latorre, attended B. S. T. C. and is a graduate of the Empire Beauty College. The groom, son of Mrs. Lena Tabachini, of Exchange, attended Mt. Carmel Township High School and is employed by Mt. Carmel Motors.

-----o-----

As a result of a recent election, James Whibley, Parkesburg, has been elected president of the Sophomore Class of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College. Other class officers chosen include Ben Duke, Berwick, vice president; Midge Wrzesniewski, Chester, secretary; Joseph Feifer, Mt. Carmel, treasurer.

Joanne Fornwald, Bloomsburg, was elected historian, and Claire Davis, Clarks Summit, and Hank Marini, Wayne, were elected as representatives to the College Council.

-----o-----

The Quarterly has received an announcement of the death of Charles M. Keefer, Sr., which occurred Tuesday, April 4, 1950. Funeral services were held in Bedword, New Jersey, on Saturday, April 8, with interment in Fairview Cemetery, Red Bank, N. J.

Shirley Ashner, Lehighton junior, has been elected president of the Waller Hall Association, of the Teachers College for the college year beginning September 1950. Miss Ashner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth H. Ashner, succeeds Madeline Schalles, Nescopeck, as head of the governing board of the women's dormitory group.

Other officers of the Association are: Lola Deibert, Danville, vice-president; Eleanor Johnson, Kane, secretary; Nancy Swartz, Forty Fort, treasurer. Members of the Governing Board, also elected recently, include Barbara Fredrick, Mifflinburg; Janet Price, Reading; Caroline Vernoy, Canadensis; Muriel Wagner, Carbondale; Doris Bowman, Milton; Olive Mourey, Mt. Carmel; Eleanor Young, Lewisburg; Mary Condon, Old Forge; Wilma Jones, LeRaysville, and Mildred Pliscott, Exeter.

-----o-----

Miss Shirley Irene Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Jones, of Bloomsburg, became the bride of Dyar Haddad, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Staller, of Schuylkill Haven, in an impressive church wedding performed by the Rev. M. Edward Schnorr at the Evangelical and Reformed Church Saturday, April 1, 1950.

The bride is a graduate of the Bloomsburg High School and the Bloomsburg State Teachers College and is now employed as a secretary by the Westinghouse Electric Corporation in Sunbury.

The groom is a graduate of Schuylkill Haven High School and is now a student at the State Teachers College. During his high school years, he was an all around athlete. He is a veteran of World War II, having been in the submarine service.

-----o-----

1949

Robert T. Millard received the degree of Master of Arts at the commencement exercises held June 9 at the State University of Iowa.

DON'T FORGET
HOME-COMING DAY
SATURDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1950
FOOTBALL
B. S. T. C. vs. KUTZTOWN S. T. C.
SOCCER
B. S. T. C. vs. HOWARD UNIVERSITY

BUSINESS CARDS — BLOOMSBURG GRADUATES

CREASY & WELLS
BUILDING MATERIALS

Bloomsburg 520

J. WESLEY KNORR, '34

NOTARY PUBLIC

252 West Fifth Street
Bloomsburg 669-R

TEXAS LUNCH
FOR YOUR REFRESHMENTS

Poletime Comuntzis, '44, Mgr.
Athamantia Comuntzis, '46
Asst. Mgr.

142 East Main Street
Bloomsburg 529

CONNER & FLECKENSTINE
PRINTERS TO ALUMNI ASSN.

Bloomsburg, Pa.
Telephone 867

Mrs. J. C. Conner, '34

ARCUS WOMEN'S SHOP

FOR A PRETTIER YOU

Max Arcus, '41, Mgr.
50 West Main Street
Bloomsburg 356-R

HERVEY B. SMITH '22

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW

Court House Place
Bloomsburg 1115

FRANK S. HUTCHISON, '16

INSURANCE

First National Bank Building
Bloomsburg 777-J

MONTOUR HOTEL

Danville, Pa.

Susquehanna Restaurant
Sunbury-Selinsgrove Highway

W. E. Booth, '42
R. J. Webb, '42

HARRY S. BARTON, '96

REAL ESTATE — INSURANCE

52 West Main Street
Bloomsburg 850

THE CHAR-MUND INN

Mrs. Charlotte Hoch, '15, Prop.
Bloomsburg, Pa.

THE WOLF SHOP

LEATHER GOODS — REPAIRS

M. C. Strausser, '27, Prop.
122 East Main Street
Bloomsburg, Pa.

MOYER BROTHERS

PRESCRIPTION DRUGGISTS
SINCE 1868

William V. Moyer, '07, Pres.
Harold R. Moyer, '09, Vice-Pres.
Bloomsburg 246

The Alumni Quarterly

State Teachers College

Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania

Vol. 51

No. 4

DECEMBER, 1950

Five Years Reviewed

"Five More Years Are Finished" is the subject of a pamphlet recently published in the interest of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College.

As the title implies, it covers the past five year period from 1945-1950.

John A. Hoch, director of public relations, under the caption "A continuing service to all" comments: "It is not necessary for one to be a college graduate to see that the kind of world in which we live, the American kind of world, rests on a foundation of education. America's most important economic asset is its educated population, not simply men and women who can read and write, but men and women who have ideas and a background of ideas and information."

That America's urgent and most pressing need is teachers is based, but not entirely, on figures of the United States Bureau of Statistics that "we must recruit and educate nearly 1,000,000 new teachers during the next ten years (1950-1960). "The immensity of the job constitutes a tremendous challenge to institutions educating teachers."

Continuing Mr. Hoch observes "Bloomsburg State Teachers College has not stood still during the past five years. As before, we have continued to grow through service. We have not kept to our ivory towers; we have endeavored to extend our facilities to meet every need. Our usefulness does not end with any one period nor end with any one graduating class—ours is a continuing service to all."

The next subject touched upon was that of enrollment.

As has been true of colleges and universities throughout the country, there being few exceptions, the largest factor in the enrollment at the Bloomsburg State Teachers College was the ex-G.I. The greatest number of veterans of World War II were registered during the college year 1946-47 when 477 veterans were enrolled. The noted decrease of forty-five per cent is "indicative of the sharp reduction in veteran enrollments to be expected during the next few years."

Mr. Hoch made the observation "we do not anticipate too much difficulty in recruiting good replacements for the veterans presently enrolled" and added "it is rather difficult to predict an enrollment

Vol. 51, No. 4

THE ALUMNI QUARTERLY

December, 1950

Published quarterly by the Alumni Association of the State Teachers College, Bloomsburg, Pa. Entered as Second-Class Matter, August 8, 1941, at the Post Office at Bloomsburg, Pa., under the Act of March 3, 1879. Yearly Subscription, $2.00; Single Copy, 50 cents.

H. F. FENSTEMAKER, '12 EDITOR
E. H. NELSON, '11 BUSINESS MANAGER

trend, because enrollments in institutions of higher education are markedly influenced by general economic and social conditions."

He made this observation: "If present conditions remain relatively stable, however, the total enrollment at this college should level off at approximately 800 men and women."

That the program of the teachers colleges has been broadened is to be observed in the steps taken during the past five years.

These, briefly, have been to: "gradually expand, increase and broaden the elective offerings, develop curricula in retail selling, safety education, radio education and aviation, provide for the needs of in-service teachers through extension centers, develop a program of initial selection for admission and continual screening after admission, provide for a comprehensive and integrated program of student personnel services and finally cooperate with the Pennsylvania State College in the education of freshmen students in the field of Liberal Arts."

Of course many of the improvements to the physical plant of the college in the past five year span have been witnessed by the general public, at least by those who have had an occasion to either visit or drive past the campus. Others have been interior ones.

An amount placed at $335,000 has been spent by the state in that period. The work included new fire towers in Carver and Noetling Halls and construction of fire walls, extensive remodeling of Noetling Hall, making available an audio-visual aids laboratory, speech and psychology clinic. The old gymnasium was renovated and remodeled into a student lounge and recreational center. There was general painting and decorating. Major repairs were made to roofs and spoutings. One of the best-known landmarks of the college, the long porch, was torn down and replaced during the past year. Classrooms have been painted and lighting was improved. The college library was extensively remodeled and renovated.

A tentative allocation of $293,000 has been made to enlarge and improve the present heating plant.

Then coming to the topic "Improving Faculty Status" we find "one of the basic factors in improving the status of the individual faculty member is the obvious influence of financial remuneration."

A cost-of-living increase for all instructional and non-instructional employes receiving less than $3750 was made.

Continuing we read "during the same period, there was also a marked improvement in the degree-holding status of the faculty. In 1949 two per cent held bachelor's degrees, sixty-eight per cent master's degrees, ten per cent master's plus one year, and finally twenty per cent doctor's degrees.

It was also interesting to note the increased interest shown by the alumni, membership in which is the highest in the school's history. According to the 1950 report, 1637 members have paid dues for the present year.

That the college graduates are engaged in the teaching profession comes from the statement "as the result of a survey made in 1941 covering 1925 graduates of the college from 1931 to 1940, it was revealed that 77.27 per cent of our graduates were engaged in teaching.

"A further survey was made by President Harvey A. Andruss in 1949, including the original period and covering 1940 to 1948, inclusive. Results of this study showed that the overall teacher placement figure grew to 83.40 per cent in the period from 1941 to 1945 and increased to 88.73 per cent in the period from 1946 to 1948."

In the concluding section, "Looking Ahead," emphasis is placed on the job facing Pennsylvania in the educational field.

This is based on the fact that only seven per cent of Pennsylvania youth between the ages of eighteen and twenty-one are enrolled in institutions of higher learning. California leads with thirty per cent.

A point was stressed that "Obviously, Pennsylvania must narrow the gap between her present low percentage and the national average, or the future of the youth from eighteen to twenty-one will continue to suffer."

The conclusion was made "our college has kept in step with the times. Its future growth and development cannot help but reflect the demands that will be made on it, and the confidence it has inspired in the people of the Commonwealth whom it has so ably served."

DR. NORTH TAKES PART IN NATIONAL CLINIC

Dr. Thomas P. North, Dean of Instruction, Bloomsburg State Teachers College, participated in the National Clinic on Teacher Education held at Lansing, Michigan, October 8-13. Dr. Francis B. Haas, Superintendent of Public Instruction, named Dr. North as one of the Pennsylvania Representatives to the clinic. The planning committee for the clinic asked the Bloomsburg Dean to describe the Bloomsburg program of teacher education.

Delegates to the clinic were given an opportunity to observe the techniques of in-service education of teachers through participation in weekend educational conferences in camp situations.

Centers were also established to provide opportunities for those who attended the clinic to observe teacher education programs in selected public school systems and colleges and universities. Centers were established at Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Kalamazoo, Lansing, metropolitan Detroit and in Mt. Pleasant.

Along with Dr. North, who is Chairman of the Pennsylvania Commission of Teacher Education and Professional Standards, were the following educators from Pennsylvania: Dr. Carl Seifert, Secretary of the Pennsylvania Association of College and Universities; Mr. Stanley A. Wengert, Assistant Director of Teacher Education and Certification in Pennsylvania; and Dr. Arthur Ferguson, Superintendent of Schools, York, Pa.

NEW AUDIO-VISUAL DEPARTMENT

With the increasing attention being directed to sensory aids in education, the visual education departments of colleges throughout the country are carrying on more interesting and more educational programs than ever before. Bloomsburg State Teachers College is no exception.

Whether students enroll in the secondary, business, or elementary fields, they are required to take a course known as Visual Education. As summarized by the college catalog, the study "considers the psychological principles underlying Visual or Other Sensory Aids, and also studies the collecting and assembling of suitable teaching material." Instructors for the course are Dr. H. H. Russell and Mr. Charles H. Henrie.

In addition to the classroom activities, however, there are other responsibilities which the department undertakes. At the present, Bloomsburg State Teachers College is making plans to serve as the distributing center to the high schools in the area for the educational films which are used in the classroom. Because of these plans, an attempt is being made to expand the film library of the department. In recent years it has been shown that educational films are of immeasurable value in the classroom as an entertaining learning medium.

Appointed to the job of film librarian of Bloomsburg State Teachers College is Mr. Thaddeus Krensavage, a graduate of the class of 1950. His work entails the organizing and cataloging of all the films in the library. The majority of these films are vocational.

On the first of November, there was an Audio-Visual Clinic held here on the campus. Representatives from a number of schools convened here to discuss problems and methods of sensory education. In addition, the operation of projectors and other machines was demonstrated. The exact worth of the college's equipment in this department is not known, but it is estimated that it totals thousands of dollars.

The department renders a service to student teachers by permitting them to take out any films which they might desire to use in their classroom instruction. However, they must first give evidence that they can efficiently operate the projector and care for the films.

Besides the visual education staff, composed of Dr. Russell, Mr. Henrie and Mr. Krensavage, the college maintains an Audio-Visual Committee, headed by Dr. Russell and made up of Miss Hazen, Mr. Hallisy, Dr. Englehardt, Mrs. Beeman, Miss Johnston, Miss Zealberg, Mr. Henrie and Mr. Lanterman.

-----o-----

Chester O. Egner is teaching in the Department of Business Administration, Butler University, Indianapolis, Indiana.

-----o-----

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Lewis (Florence M. Beyer) live at 120 South Fourth Street, Lewisburg, Pa. They have two sons.

ATTENDS MEETING SPEECH GROUP

Miss Alice Johnston, of the speech department of the Bloomsburg Teachers College faculty, attended the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Speech Association in Harrisburg on the 29th and 30th of September. Miss Johnston reported that four recent B.S.T.C. graduates who are continuing their work in the speech correction field also attended this meeting. They are Robert Millard, Charles Shiefer, Donald Maietta and Martha Hathaway.

Robert Millard, a graduate of the class of January, 1949, earned his Master's degree at the University of Iowa. He is now the Director of Speech Correction at the Lancaster Pennsylvania Cleft Palate Clinic.

Charles Shiefer, who graduated in August, 1949, received his Master's degree at the Pennsylvania State College, working under a student fellowship. He is now a speech correctionist at the Pennsylvania State Center in Altoona, Pa. The Pennsylvania State Center is a clinical center connected with the Pennsylvania State College.

Donald Maietta is now on a fellowship, completing his work for a Master's degree in speech correction at the University of Pittsburgh speech department. Donald graduated from Bloomsburg in January, 1950.

Another recent graduate, Martha Hathaway, class of May, 1948, is doing elementary work with some speech correction. She has been working for her Master's degree during the summer and taking extension work at the Pennsylvania State College.

1950-1951 ENROLLMENT

Dr. Thomas P. North, Dean of Instruction, has issued an official report on the enrollment of Bloomsburg State Teachers College for the first semester of the college year 1950-51. It is expected, however, that a definite downward trend in enrollment will be felt as the semester progresses because of draft requirements. The Selective Service policy regarding eligible college students has not yet been stabilized; therefore estimates as to the number of students affected are impossible at this time.

The enrollment of Bloomsburg State Teachers College is fairly high as compared with her sister colleges. Other colleges reportedly have felt decreases of from five to fifty per cent of their enrollments, whereas B.S.T.C. has practically the same number of students as last year.

Total enrollment of full time students is 831. Extension and Saturday classes of teachers-in-service total 100.

Day students number 351—nearly half the enrollment. Dormitory students total 480.

Taken by classes, the Freshmen top the list with 342 members, Sophomores rank next with 214, and Seniors total 156; of these, 39 will graduate in January. Juniors bring up the rear with 116 students.

Columbia County leads the counties, with 204 representatives. Luzerne County contributes 198 students.

A breakdown of the 1950 enrollment figures, as supplied by Dr. Thomas P. North, Dean of Instruction, follows:

Total enrollment, full time students -----	831
Extension (teachers-in-service) -----	70
Saturday -----	30

Total enrollment -----	931
------------------------	-----

Freshman enrollment -----	342
Sophomore enrollment -----	214
Junior enrollment -----	116
Senior enrollment -----	156

Regular students -----	828
------------------------	-----

College graduates extending their certificate to include elementary -----	2
Graduate of secondary adding social studies to his field -----	1

Total on campus -----	831
-----------------------	-----

Day Men -----	250
Day Women -----	101

Total day students -----	351
--------------------------	-----

Resident Men -----	280
Resident Women -----	200

Total resident students -----	480
-------------------------------	-----

----- () -----

Miss Elaine Kreischer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kreischer, of Berwick, became the bride of Max E. Follmer, son of Mrs. J. Rolland Follmer, of Berwick, and the late Mr. Follmer, in a ceremony Saturday, August 19, in the First Presbyterian Church, Berwick, with the Rev. Gladstone P. Cooley, pastor, officiating.

The bride is a graduate of Berwick High School and received her B.S. degree at B.S.T.C. She did post graduate work at Lehigh University and is a teacher in the Berwick schools.

Mr. Follmer, a graduate of Berwick High School, is a veteran of World War II, having served overseas with the Signal Corps. He attended Gettysburg College and received his law degree from Dickinson School of Law, Carlisle, this Spring.

HOMECOMING DAY

The 1950 Homecoming celebration started with a big bang. The giant pep rally, bonfire, and snake dance on Friday night paved the way for the big weekend.

Saturday festivities began with the presentation of a concert by Maroon and Gold Band, under direction of Mr. Charles Henrie and Mr. Howard Fenstemaker at 10:30 in Waller Gymnasium. The band played the following selections: "Repasz Band," "Tzena, Tzena, Tzena," "March Independentia," "New Ashmolian Marching Society & Conservatory," "Hoop De Do," "The Thunderer," "The Jolly Tar," "Glory of the Gridiron," and the "Alma Mater."

From 12:15 to 1:15, open house was held in the Waller Hall and North Hall dormitories; visitors and students alike availed themselves of this opportunity to see the living quarters of friends and relatives.

At 2:00 P. M., the Huskies smashed Kutztown State Teachers College 35-0; the game, which was to have been the highlight of the day, proved to be a holiday for the Maroon and Gold, who scarcely let the Golden Avalanche see the ball.

A get-together in the Waller Gymnasium after the game gave alumni visitors, students and faculty a welcome chance to chat and renew old acquaintances. Refreshments of cider, coffee and doughnuts were served.

Festivities closed with an informal dance from 8:00 to 11:30 P. M. Saturday in Centennial Gymnasium. Music was furnished by Al Anderson's orchestra. The affair proved to be an overwhelming success, with what was estimated to be one of the largest throngs ever in attendance at a Homecoming dance.

DR. SATTERFIELD CLAIMED BY DEATH

On August 16, 1950, the students, faculty and administration of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College lost an instructor and a friend, Dr. Ted J. Satterfield. The former faculty member and line coach of the Husky football team died on the operating table at Jefferson Hospital, Philadelphia. Dr. Satterfield did not teach during the summer months in order that he might undergo surgery for the correction of a condition which he first encountered while serving in the United States Navy during World War II.

Dr. Satterfield, a graduate of West Chester State Teachers College, held a position in the Lower Merion Township schools from 1939 to 1942. From 1942 to 1945 he served in the Navy, with the rank of lieutenant. After leaving the Navy, he resumed work at the Lower Merion Township schools and remained there until 1949 when he accepted a position at the Bloomsburg State Teachers College.

Dr. Satterfield was the second member of the Husky coaching staff to pass away within a four year period. The late Alden J. (Lefty) Danks passed away suddenly before the start of the football season in 1946.

B.S.T.C. STUDENTS IN 'WHO'S WHO'

Eight students of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College have been selected for recognition by WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES. The Bloomsburg students, all active in campus and extracurricular activities, were officially recommended by a faculty committee and accepted by the national organization.

Their names will be included in the 1950-51 issues of the publication "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." This official annual directory of distinguished students selected from American schools has been published annually since 1934. Those who are nominated for membership in the "Who's Who" have given outstanding service to their college and are recognized as leaders in scholastic and service organizations. The Bloomsburg students are: Merlin Crowl Beacheel, 257 W. Sixth Street, Bloomsburg; Lois Edith Dzuris, 410 E. Church Street, Nanticoke; Anthony Raymond Grabowski, 1016 W. Spruce Street, Shamokin; James Anthony Kleman, 36 N. 19th Street, Ashland; Richard Norman Kressler, Route 1, Bloomsburg; Nancy Ruth Powell, 2217 N. Main Avenue, Scranton; Emory Webster Rarig, R. D. 1, Catawissa; Richard Fredrick Wacchter, 137 E. Broad Street, West Hazleton.

-----o-----

A two-volume college textbook in Accounting I and Accounting II is being written by Mr. Earl A. Gehrig, a faculty member of Bloomsburg State Teachers College and instructor in the Business curriculum of the college.

Mr. Gehrig has already completed the first volume of the book. This volume is now being edited by the H. M. Rowe Company of Baltimore, Maryland, but it will be about a year before it appears on the market. In the meantime, Mr. Gehrig is working on the second volume, so that both volumes will be presented to the public almost simultaneously. The books, both accompanied by practice sets, will probably make their appearance some time in December of 1951.

-----o-----

Dr. Ralph S. Herre, instructor in social studies, has returned to B.S.T.C. after spending nine weeks at Columbia University, where he represented the college in a citizenship project. B.S.T.C. is the only state teachers college in Pennsylvania that was chosen to partake in the project.

Dr. Herre has been a member of the college faculty since 1947. He received his B.S. degree at Colgate and his M.A. at Teachers College in Albany. He has held positions at the State Normal School in Brockport, New York; Central School in Wolcott, New York, and the Senior High School in Lockport, New York.

'Saucered and Blowed'

E. H. Nelson, '11

The College Bulletin Volume 19, No. 5 will be of real interest to Alumni. It will be a history of the College, with special reference to the last twenty-five years. When you visit your Alma Mata next Alumni Day (May 26) you will want to take home a copy.

Homecoming Day was another pleasant occasion. It was a pleasure to see the football squad in action. And that band is no mean organization! It's a joy to know our College is second to none, and the pride one feels when renewing his college days is justifiable.

How do you like Roongo III? She was trained for a lead dog, and when she appears at the head of the Band you known Bloomsburg spirit is on the move. Why not pose for a picture with the Mascot when you are back next time? Have the whole family included. Roongo III likes youngsters.

Gradually the shale banks on Mt. Olympus are being removed. It won't be so long now until a beautiful athletic field will be complete in every detail. Permanent bleachers—running track—separate areas for baseball and football and a generous supply of fresh air for good measure.

Classes of the 1's and 6's are beginning to take shape for reunions. As usual the 50 year group (this year 1901) will literally and figuratively hold the stage. But beware of the 1911 group, already cooking up something big.

An Alumnus down in Texas wrote me about meeting George Keller there. How he does get around this hemisphere with those cats! Television and a run on Broadway are his latest acts. When he hits the home town he usually has many stories to tell of Alumni he meets in his travels. Maybe we can arrange for a campus performance some Alumni Day. How would it suit you?

Happy New Year, and remember we can only be of service to our Alma Mater as we grow and Grow and GROW.

NEW MEMBER OF FACULTY

Appointment of Dr. Edward Paul Wagner to the faculty of the State Teachers College, filling a vacancy caused by the recent death of Dr. Ted J. Satterfield, was announced on the eve of the pre-season drills of the 1950 Husky football squad.

Dr. Wagner is a graduate of the Pennsylvania State College where he received a degree of Bachelor of Science in 1934, a degree of Master of Education in 1935 and a degree of Doctor of Education in 1950.

He taught health and physical education at Stony Creek High School, Shanksville, 1935-36, and Donora High School in 1936 to 1943. Stan Musial, well known here and outstanding baseball player, played at Donora High under Wagner.

He was engaged in the V-5 program during World War II and taught in the Navy pre-flight school at the University of Georgia in 1943. He was executive and welfare officer in the United States Navy, Pacific Theatre, 1944-45. From 1946 to 1948 he was director of Athletics and professor of physical education and department chairman of physical education at Mohawk College, Utica, N. Y. Since 1948 he served as graduate assistant in physical education at the Pennsylvania State College.

During his undergraduate days he participated in football at Penn State and coached football, baseball and basketball at Shanksville and Donora.

He is a Thirty-second Degree Mason, a member of the Kappa Sigma social fraternity and the Phi Delta Kappa and Phi Epsilon Kappa, professional fraternities.

Wagner is married and the father of two daughters, aged twelve and fourteen years. He is a member of the Presbyterian Church.

-----0-----

In a candlelight ceremony Friday, September 1, at St. Luke's Evangelical Lutheran Church, of Light Street, Miss Blanche Maree McHenry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Earl McHenry, of Lime Ridge, became the bride of Junior L. Eddinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil C. Eddinger, of Berwick. The Rev. D. L. Bomboy, pastor, officiated.

The bride is a graduate of the Bloomsburg High School and is employed in the Bell Telephone Engineering Office, at Bloomsburg. The groom, a Navy veteran of World War II, graduated from B.S.T.C. this year. He is teaching in the Berwick Schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddinger are living at 201 Line Street, Berwick.

~~~~~

To the readers of the Alumni Quarterly:

The Editor requests your forbearance for the reduced size of the present issue. The time usually available for the preparation of the copy was spent by the Editor recovering from an operation. Much of the material that would have appeared in this issue will be included in the next issue, which will be published early in the year.

~~~~~

THE ALUMNI

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

E. H. Nelson	President
Mrs. Ruth Speary Griffith	Vice-President
Mrs. C. C. Housenick	Secretary
Harriet Carpenter	Treasurer
Fred W. Diehl	Edward F. Schuyler	H. F. Fenstemaker
Hervey B. Smith	Elizabeth H. Huber

1895

B. Frank Beale

At the 55th reunion of the class of 1895 Max C. Stauffer was elected president. Since B. Frank Beale was class president at the time of graduation, and since he passed May 24, 1934, without a notice having been sent to the Quarterly, I feel that a short sketch of his life would be fitting.

After graduation, Frank taught school a few years, then entered Medico Chi College to prepare for his life work. In college, after much political didoing on the part of the city students in an effort to get one of their group elected had forced a second election, Frank was elected president of the class. When the time came for the state board examinations, he was the only member from a small school to be among the fifteen who were able to pass.

As Dr. Beale, Frank then began his medical career at McKees Half Falls, twelve miles below Selinsgrove on the Susquehanna. There in 1903 we were married and there we lived for three years. There our two oldest children were born, although the first baby did not stay with us. After the three years we moved to Duncannon where we purchased and remodeled Dr. Shearer's old-fashioned doctor's house with the drug store attached. There Frank was the real country family doctor for twenty-seven years. In Duncannon, three more children were added to the family thus making the doctor's home a community center for all the youngsters of the neighborhood.

Those who knew young Frank Beale will recall that he was born and brought up on a farm; at heart he remained a farmer, leaving two well-developed farms as part of his estate. Many older patients longed to have the doctor call because they knew that the talk about his farms was often as beneficial to them as the salves from his little black bag.

After graduating in his practice from the horse-and-buggy days to the automobile, his car was watched by everyone, not only because he was one of the first in his community to own a car but because his big dog rode standing on the fender with body braced against the body of the car, and no sharp curve, no rough road, no call of the day or night kept Rover from his watchful riding.

The real measure of the ability and worth of a person is found in the judgment of his professional colleagues, and Frank Beale's fellow physicians graded him one of the best diagnosticians of his time in the state, a gift seemingly inherited by his son, Dr. Rudolph Beale, who is now a practicing physician in Lemoyne, Pa., and a member of the medical staff of the Harrisburg Hospital.

So time has proved that one member of the class of '95 became a valuable asset to his community and to his profession, so therefore I, his widow and a fellow member of that class, proudly submit this brief summary for all the classmates and friends who knew us when we all lived in our dream instead of our memories.

—Ada Lewis Beale

Earl M. Creveling lives at 6367 Sherman Street, Philadelphia 44.

Harry M. Persing, Sr., who taught in Philadelphia schools and practiced law here for many years, died Saturday, August 5, in Temple University Hospital after a long illness. He was 76 years of age.

Mr. Persing, who lived at 7631 N. Gilbert Street, was a graduate of Bloomsburg State Normal School and Dickinson Law School. He taught in public schools here for twenty years. He was associated with the Philadelphia Saving Fund Society until his retirement some years ago. He was a Mason and a member of the Logan Methodist Church.

1900

Mrs. Stella Shuman Swenk, seventy, of Philadelphia, a native of Beaver Valley, died Thursday, July 13, at Ocean City, N. J.

Born in Beaver Township, Mrs. Swenk taught school there for several years prior to her marriage. She was a graduate of the Bloomsburg Normal School, class of 1900.

Surviving are a son, Shuman, with whom she resided, and a daughter, Mrs. Mary Catherine Rickobonno, both of Philadelphia, and a sister, Carrie, of Selinsgrove. Her husband preceded her in death ten years ago.

1904

The marriage of Miss Lillian B. Buckalew, of Ardmore, and Harry E. Rider, of Bloomsburg, took place at noon Saturday, July 8, in St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Ardmore. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Vought, assistant rector of the church.

Miss Buckalew was given in marriage by her brother, Raymond G. Buckalew, of Bloomsburg. The ceremony was attended by only the immediate families.

Miss Buckalew is a former teacher in the Bloomsburg Schools but for some time has been teaching in the Lower Merion Schools at Penn Wynne.

Mr. Rider, a former principal of the Fifth Street School, Bloomsburg, in recent years has conducted the Kocher Coal business.

They are making their home at 26 West First Street, Bloomsburg.

1905

William H. Hagenbuch, sixty-four, proprietor of the Hagenbuch Motor Company for the past quarter of a century and widely known throughout this section, died Tuesday, August 1, from a heart attack at his home, 360 East Third Street.

Mr. Hagenbuch, who was a native of Light Street and had resided in Bloomsburg for about thirty-five years, had been ill for about two weeks but had been able to be about his home practically all of that time.

He was a salesman for the local firm of Moyer Brothers for twenty-five years and it was during that time that he became interested in the automobile business. He obtained the Buick agency and then resigned as a salesman for the drug firm to devote all of his time to the Hagenbuch Motor Company which he founded.

At the start of his activities in handling Buicks he had his garage at the site of the present parking lot in the rear of the court house. For many years his garage was on West Main Street, at Jefferson, and for the past few years it was located on Center Street at Anthony Avenue.

He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, of Washington Lodge, No. 265, F. & A. M., Caldwell Consistory, the Bloomsburg Rotary Club and the Bloomsburg Lodge of Elks. He was a graduate of the Bloomsburg Normal School, now the Teachers College, in the class of 1905.

Surviving are his wife; a son, William, Jr., of town, and a granddaughter.

1906

The death of Dr. Byron H. Creasy, 62, of 200 South Pioneer avenue, Shavertown, occurred on Thursday, September 28, at Wilkes-Barre General Hospital. He was admitted there September 18, following a heart attack.

Dr. Creasy, a native of Rock Glen, Luzerne County, established a dental office in Wilkes-Barre in April, 1914. He attended public schools in Rock Glen and was graduated from State Teachers College, Bloomsburg. He taught school for a short time in Rock Glen and decided to enter University of Pennsylvania Dental School.

Dr. Creasy was a member of Landmark Lodge 442, F. & A. M.; Caldwell Consistory and Irem Temple.

Among the survivors are his wife, Helen; daughter, Marjorie, Philadelphia; son, Byron, Jr., Jacksonville, N. C.; two brothers and three grandchildren. Dr. F. J. Creasy, Berwick, is a first cousin as was the late Dr. R. W. Miller.

Mrs. Stella Evans Oswald died August 18, 1950, at Scranton, Pa. Surviving are her husband, Oscar A. Oswald; two daughters, Mrs. Walter J. Gordon, New Cumberland, and Mrs. Jack Beck, Hershey.

John E. Shambach has retired from public school teaching and is now a part-time instructor in the Department of Education, Hiram College. His address is Box 54, Hiram, Ohio.

1907

Mrs. Alice Shaffer Harry, of Berwick, died at the home of her daughter, Dr. Harriet Harry Henning, 718 West Nittany Avenue, State College, Thursday, October 19.

She was born in Briar Creek, Pa., the daughter of Wesley F. and Harriet Croop Shaffer. She is survived by one daughter, Dr. Harriet Harry Henning, one brother, Charles C. Shaffer, of Berwick, and two grandchildren.

She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Berwick and for many years was a teacher in the first grade schools at Berwick.

Mrs. Laura Rittenhouse Yohey, of Briar Creek, died Sunday, August 13, at the Berwick Hospital, where she had been a patient for two days. Mrs. Yohey was born in Briar Creek and had resided in that community all her life.

She had been in ill health for two years and confined to her bed for the past three months. She was graduated from the Bloomsburg State Normal School in 1907 and taught school for a number of years. She was a member of the Berwick Calvary Methodist Church and the P. O. of A., Camp 70. Her husband, the late William H. Yohey, died 20 years ago.

1908

Mrs. Thomas E. Walton, the former Mable Wilkinson, of Mount Carmel, died Tuesday, August 22, at her home at 6908 Willow Street, Washington, D. C., following a lengthy illness. She was 62 years old.

The funeral took place from her late home. Interment was made in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Walton was born in Mount Carmel, a daughter of the late Samuel and Elizabeth (Ludwig) Wilkinson. A primary grade teacher of the Mount Carmel Public Schools, she was graduated from the Mount Carmel High School and from the Bloomsburg Normal School as it was known at that time. Mrs. Walton also taught in Hastings, in the western part of the state. She was a Past Matron of Chrysanthemum Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, Mount Carmel. Mrs. Walton was an active member of the First Methodist Church.

Survivors are her husband, Thomas E. Walton, one son, Edward, two sisters and three brothers: Mrs. Martha Wills, Leonard Wilkinson, George Wilkinson, Samuel Wilkinson, Mount Carmel, and Miss Violet Wilkinson, of Plainfield, N. J.

1910

The Quarterly has been informed of the death of Edith Corae Tingley, which occurred in June, 1948.

1912

Violet Wilkinson is teaching in the fourth grade in the schools of North Plainfield, New Jersey.

1913

Miss Helen Mendenhall, fifty-eight, Benton school teacher and one of the upcreek community's best-loved residents, died in the Bloomsburg Hospital Friday, September 15.

Her death followed a brief illness. She had been hospitalized but a few days.

A native of Benton, she had been a resident of the community all of her life. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William K. Mendenhall.

Miss Mendenhall was an active member of the Benton Methodist Church, and for years, until the time of her illness, had taught a large Bible class of the church. A public speaker of unusual ability, Miss Mendenhall devoted her talents to church service and gave herself whole-heartedly to Christian work in the community.

A graduate of the Benton High School and the Benton Summer School, she received her preparation for teaching at the Bloomsburg Normal School. She engaged in her profession for thirty-seven years and early in her career taught at the West Creek and Welliver schools. At the time of her death, she was third grade instructor in the Benton Joint School. Her illness, however, had prevented her from starting the present term.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Grover C. Shaw, of Boston, Mass., and at home, a niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Karns, Jr., a grand nephew, Edward Dixon Karns, and a grand niece, Susan Elizabeth Karns.

Kathryn LeVan Wodock, of Allentown, became the bride of Ralph E. Kuster, of North Street, in a ceremony performed on Saturday, August 12, at the home of Mrs. Abbie Smith, of Light Street Road, with the Rev. Dr. Elvin Clay Myers, pastor of the Methodist Church, officiating. Members of the immediate families witnessed the ceremony.

Mrs. Kuster is employed as a teacher in the schools of Allentown and the bridegroom is a rural mail carrier out of the Bloomsburg Post Office. Their home will be in Bloomsburg, although Mrs. Kuster will continue to teach in Allentown for at least another year.

1916

The death of Harry K. Lear, 54, residential representative of Wilkes-Barre Division, Pennsylvania Power and Light Company, occurred Thursday, June 30, at his home, 29 Maffett Street, Wilkes-Barre, a few minutes after he suffered a heart attack.

Mr. Lear, former district manager for the utility, was employed by the PP&L Company almost 25 years, having joined the organization in 1926.

Born in North Wilkes-Barre, Mr. Lear was graduated from Coughlin High School in 1914 and Bloomsburg State Teachers College in 1916. He was named district manager for the PP&L January 16, 1942, and in March, 1946, he became residential representative.

The area resident was a member of 40 & 8 Lodge 61, F. & A. M. Caldwell Consistory, the Shrine, Wilkes-Barre Kiwanis Club and Derr

Memorial Church, Wilkes-Barre.

Surviving are his wife, the former Etta Drake, Ithaca, N. Y., a son, Harry, Jr., and two brothers, Ralph W. and Joseph W. Lear, both of Wilkes-Barre.

1918

Miss Martha M. Taylor, who would have been fifty-two on August 16, died at her home, 40 East Third Street, Sunday, July 16. She had been ill for a week and death was due to coronary occlusion.

Miss Taylor was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Taylor, and she was a native of Bloomsburg.

A successful teacher for thirty years, she was a graduate of the Bloomsburg High School, class of 1916, and at the Bloomsburg State Teachers College, 1918, and was valedictorian of both classes.

She began her teaching career in the Mifflin Township High School, where she taught for two years, and then for three years was a teacher at Prospect Park before going to Eddystone where she taught the past twenty-five years.

During her successful career as a teacher she took special work at Temple University and also at the Teachers College, receiving her Bachelor of Science Degree in Education from the local institution in 1937.

She was spending her summer vacation with her sister, Miss Erma Taylor, as has been her custom, when she was stricken. She was held in the highest esteem in the community of Eddystone.

1929

Miss Irene Guest '29 and William B. Jones '29 were instructors at the workshop conferences conducted November 2 and 3 at the 72nd Annual Teachers' Institute of Lackawanna County at West Scranton High School. Miss Guest had as her theme, "School Discipline—An Administrative and Teacher Problem" and Mr. Jones, "Better Parent-Teacher Relationship."

Miss Guest is a classroom teacher in the Van Buren Public School, No. 31 and Mr. Jones is principal of the school.

1930

Helen E. Snyder lives at 1059 Market Street, Sunbury, Pa. After having taught for some time in the third grade of the First Ward School in Sunbury, she is now teaching second grade in the Ninth Ward School.

1931

Genevieve Wolfe (Mrs. Burton King) died Wednesday, October 18, 1949, at her home at Harvey's Lake. She had been married a little over a year. Since her graduation from Bloomsburg she had been teaching in Lake Township, Luzerne County.

1933

Miss Beatrice E. Girton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Girton, of Light Street Road, Bloomsburg, became the bride of John H. Learn, son of Charles H. Learn, Sr., also of Light Street Road, in a ceremony at three-thirty o'clock Sunday, July 30, at the Bloomsburg Reformed Church.

The Rev. M. Edward Schnorr, pastor, performed the double-ring nuptials.

The bride is a graduate of the Bloomsburg High School and B.S.T.C. She taught for the past thirteen years at the Third Street School, Bloomsburg. The groom served three and one-half years with the U. S. armed forces during World War II, of which eight months were spent overseas. He is employed at Milco Undergarment Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Learn will reside at 395 Light Street Road, Bloomsburg.

1937

Josephine Magee is teacher of Latin and English at the Tower City High School, a position which she has held for the past six years. Her mailing address is 236 South 29th Street, Pennbrook, Pa.

1939

Dr. Alex. J. McKechnie, of Berwick, has been appointed secretary of the faculty and instructor in crown and bridge work at the Dental School of Temple University. Dr. McKechnie was graduated from the Temple Dental School last summer. After graduation from Bloomsburg, he received his Master's Degree at Bucknell, served as an officer in the Navy during World War II, and taught for a time at Gettysburg College.

1940

Mrs. Eleanor Beckley Martin, widow of John J. Martin, of Berwick, was married Saturday, September 8, to Capt. Eugene George Sabota, of the United States Army, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Sabota, of Cleveland, Ohio. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Daniel W. Beckley, of East Fifth Street, Bloomsburg.

The Ven. William J. Watts, rector of St. Paul's Parish, performed the ceremony in the presence of members of the families and close friends.

Mrs. Sabota graduated from Girls' Slovak Academy, Danville, Bloomsburg State Teachers College with a B.S. degree in Special Education and Women's Air Service Pilot training. She served as teacher in Allentown State Hospital Children's Clinic and substitute teacher at Benjamin Franklin Training School, Bloomsburg, one year. She was also Link trainer, Bloomsburg Airport, and pilot in Women's Air Service. She served in the American Red Cross as program director in Manila, Philippine Islands, and Bavaria, Germany.

Captain Sabota has served ten years in the United States Army. He served two and one-half years in the 79th Infantry Division in the states and forty-two months in foreign service. He was in five European campaigns. He has received the following military recognitions: Silver Star, Bronze Star, Purple Heart with Two Oak Leaf Clusters, French Croix de Guerre with two Palms, Presidential Unit Citation with one cluster, French Fouragerre, Combat Infantryman, Liaison Pilot. He is Army aviation instructor, 51st Division, South Carolina National Guard, Columbia, S. C.

Captain and Mrs. Sabota are living at 5707 Fairfield Road, Columbia, S. C.

Stella Herman McCleary is now living at 575 Kieffer Street, Wooster, Ohio. Her husband is a chain store manager, and she is serving as receptionist in the office of two optometrists.

Hannah Unger Houck is now living in Tunkhannock, Pa.

1941

After spending some time in Japan, where her husband was stationed with the United States Army, Ruth Shay Biery returned to the states in September, 1949, and is now living at 409 Hillcrest Drive, Plattsmouth, Nebraska.

Helen L. Johnson, formerly of Galeton, Pa., is now Mrs. Robert W. Scammell, and lives at Newtown Road, Yardley, Pa.

1943

Mr. and Mrs. Herman E. Vonderheid, 111 East 7th Avenue, Conshohocken, Pa., became the parents of a boy, Charles Edward, on July 21, 1950. Mrs. Vonderheid was Betty Lcbengood.

1946

The marriage of Miss Doris Jean Dickinson, La Plume, Pa., class of '46, to Mr. Frank Houghton Applegate, Manasquan, N. J., took place at 3 P. M. Saturday, June 17, in the First Methodist Church, Factoryville, Pa. The couple is residing in Manasquan, where Mrs. Applegate is a teacher in the elementary school.

1948

Miss Janet Gilbody, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gilbody, of Glen Avenue, Bloomsburg, became the bride of James Robert Murray, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Murray, of Cambridge Springs, Pa., in a pretty ceremony at two o'clock Saturday, August 29, in St. Matthew Lutheran Church, Bloomsburg.

The Rev. Edgar D. Ziegler, pastor, performed the ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of B.S.T.C., receiving her B.S. degree in 1948. She taught art two years in the Shamokin Junior High School. Her husband received the B.S. degree from Edinboro State Teachers College where he was a member of Phi Sigma Pi, national professional fraternity, and Beta Beta Beta, national biological science fraternity. He is social studies teacher at Cambridge Springs, Pa. High School and photographer for the Erie Times. He served with the Air Force during World War II.

Gloria Mainier is now Mrs. Harry John Dill, Jr. She was married Sunday, April 2, 1950, in the Presbyterian Church in Dover, Delaware. Mr. and Mrs. Dill are now living in Harrington, Delaware. She is the Speech Therapist for the Department of Public Instruction in Delaware.

Anne Baldy (Mrs. L. M. Boyer) is located at the U. S. Army Hospital, Fort Ord, California. Her husband, Major Boyer, is in the Dental Corps.

1949

In a ceremony at two o'clock Saturday afternoon, June 24, in the Berwick Presbyterian Church, Miss Madge L. Fuller, daughter of Mrs. C. Clark Fuller, of Berwick, became the bride of Robert F. Jones, son of Mrs. Clara Jones, of Nescopeck. The Rev. Gladstone P. Cooley, pastor, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of Berwick High School and B.S.T.C. and is a teacher in the Berwick schools. The groom, a graduate of Nescopeck High School, served with the U. S. Army and is, at present, sales manager of Main Auto Sales and Service, Berwick.

Jim Reedy, who was on the Bloomsburg College Husky varsity for the past four years and did much of the quarterbacking last Fall, has been named assistant coach to Coach Leonard at Highspire High where LaRue Derr, formerly at Beaver Consolidated, is the supervising principal.

Reedy will also help in coaching basketball. Following the completion of his College course here last January, Reedy taught for a semester at Paulsboro, N. J.

Frank Luchnick is teacher and coach in the Elizabethtown High School.

Thomas Donan is head coach at Columbia High School.

1950

In a pretty ceremony at eleven o'clock Thursday morning, July 20, in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Bloomsburg, Miss Susanne Louise Duy, daughter of Albert William Duy, Jr., became the bride of Francis Joseph Radice, son of Mrs. Catherine Radice, of Wilkes-Barre.

The Ven. William J. Watts, rector of the church, performed the ring ceremony before the altar which was decorated with white gladioli and yellow daisies. The ceremony was witnessed by relatives and a few close friends of the couple.

The newlyweds went to Bermuda on a wedding trip and reside at 152 West Fourth Street, Bloomsburg.

The bride is a graduate of Bloomsburg High School and the Bloomsburg Hospital School of Nursing. The groom, a graduate of Coughlin High School, Wilkes-Barre, and B.S.T.C., is a commercial teacher.

The Berwick Methodist Church was the scene on Saturday, October 21, for the marriage of Miss Katherine Ethel Chapin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Chapin, of Berwick, to Millard George Fisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Millard Fisher, of Berwick. The Rev. Aurance

Shank, pastor, performed the candlelight service.

After a reception in the church social rooms, the couple left for State College, where they will reside at 219 West Foster Avenue.

The bride graduated from Berwick High School and B.S.T.C. The groom graduated from Berwick High School and Susquehanna University and is now attending Pennsylvania State College where he is working toward his master's degree. He is a veteran of World War II having served with the Air Corps.

Frank Bertollo, Jr., son of Mrs. Frank Bertollo, West Front Street, Berwick, has been appointed to a teaching position in the Wellsboro Senior High School, Wellsboro, Pa. Bertollo is teaching Latin and English and is also serving as dramatic coach at the school.

Mr. Bertollo graduated in May from Bloomsburg State Teachers College with a degree of Bachelor of Science in Secondary Education. He was a member of Kappa Delta Pi, scholastic fraternity, Day Men's Association and the B.S.T.C. Dramatic Club. Before he transferred to Bloomsburg, Bertollo completed two years of academic work at St. Charles College, Cantonsville, Md.

The well-known young man is a member of the Berwick Theatre Workshop and the Young Men's Chorus. He serves as treasurer for the latter organization.

Miss Lois M. Datesman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Datesman, Bangor, became the bride of Wilmer F. Nester, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer C. Nester, of Emmaus, in a ceremony Saturday, August 26, in the Bloomsburg Methodist Church. The Rev. Dr. Elvin Clay Myers, pastor, officiated at the nuptials for the two former Bloomsburg State Teachers College students.

Mrs. Nester is a graduate of Bangor High School and of B.S.T.C., and is a teacher in Bangor High School. The bridegroom, a graduate of Emmaus High School and of B.S.T.C., is teaching in Pen Argyl High School. They are living at 22 Arch Street, Pen Argyl, Pa.

Richard Wagner is teaching in the Nescopeck High School.

-----o-----

Miss Mary Vera Foust, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Foust, of Danville, and Richard C. Olsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor A. Olsen, also of Danville, were married Saturday, August 5, at St. Peter's Lutheran Church, Grovania, by the Rev. B. W. Krapf.

The bride graduated from Danville High School and Bloomsburg State Teachers College and is a teacher at Fernville School. The groom, a graduate of Manheim Township High School, graduated from Northrop Aeronautical School, Northrop, Calif., and is employed at the Art Bronze and Iron Works, Danville. He was with the submarine service in the South Pacific during World War II.

Mr. and Mrs. Olsen are residing at 120 Mill Street, Danville.

PHILADELPHIA ALUMNI

President: Mrs. Lillian Hortman Irish, 732 Washington Street, Camden, New Jersey.

Vice-President: Mrs. Mary A. Taubel, 1246 West Main Street, Norristown, Pa.

Secretary-Treasurer: Mrs. Nora Woodring Kinney, 7011 Frederick Street, Philadelphia 35, Pa.

-----o-----

In a ceremony at seven-thirty Friday evening, October 13, in the Hanover Green Chapel, Wilkes-Barre, Miss Barbara Ann Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merlyn Jones, of Nescopeck, became the bride of Bradford Hayden Cecil, son of Mrs. John Agle, of Baltimore, Md., and Harold H. Cecil, of Stevensville, Md.

The Rev. L. Paul Harris, officiated at the candlelight ceremony and Miss Janet Kelly, of Wilkes-Barre, presided at the organ.

Attending the couple were Miss Mary Alice Aurand, of Nescopeck, and James O'Hara, of Phillipsburg.

A dinner at Hotel Sterling for the bridal party followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Cecil will reside on East Second Street, Berwick.

The bride was graduated from Nescopeck High School in 1945 and attended Bloomsburg State Teachers College. She is a secretary in the office of Dr. Otis M. Eves, Berwick.

The groom graduated from Baltimore Friends School in 1944 and from Duke University with a B.S. degree in civil engineering. He served with the Navy Air Corps for fourteen months during World War II. He is employed in the plant engineering department of the Berwick ACF.

-----o-----

Bruce Miles Callender, seventy-seven, of Shickshinny R. D. 3, died at the Berwick Hospital Friday, August 10, at three-forty o'clock.

He was born in Fairmount Township and moved to Berwick in 1912. In 1946 he took up residence with his daughter, Mrs. Arthur Michael, of Shickshinny R. D. 3. He had been in ill health for a number of years and had been confined to bed for three weeks.

Mr. Callender attended Bloomsburg Normal School and taught school in Fairmount Township for a number of years. He engaged in farming in Briar Creek Township and later worked at the ACF.

He served as a janitor at the Orchard Street School, in Berwick, served twelve years as a tax collector in Berwick when the borough was separated into two parts and later served as a janitor of the Berwick Bank, then known as the Berwick Savings and Trust Company.

His wife, the former Emma Harvey, died in March, 1945. He was a member of the Berwick First Methodist Church and the Odd Fellows.

-----o-----

Miss Mary Lorah, teacher in the Verona, N. J., public school system and a graduate of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College, has received a special award for her school, made by the Freedom Foundation, Inc., for teaching the students in that school system "The Fundamental Freedoms of the American Way of Life."

In an account of the recognition the Elizabeth, N. J. Daily Journal, states:

Verona is the only New Jersey school system cited by the foundation, which has its headquarters at Valley Forge, for special awards that will go to thirty-nine schools in twelve systems throughout the nation. Selections for these awards were made by a twenty-one man jury headed by Dr. Robert L. Johnson, president of Temple University. A total of 150,000 schools completed.

The program in Verona was fostered and carried out by a committee which drew up course outlining studies of American history, growth, personalities and literature, with democracy as its central theme. Miss Lorah was chosen to accept the award because of her activity in furthering this program.

A resident of Elizabeth four years, Miss Lorah, a native of Pennsylvania, taught in Sullivan County, Pa., before joining the Verona school system in 1946. She received her education at Marywood Seminary and Marywood College, Scranton, and the State Teachers College, Bloomsburg, Pa.

-----o-----

John Webster Harris, sixty-four, county native and former area teacher, died Wednesday, August 23, at his home, 101 North Twelfth Street, Sunbury, of a lingering illness. He had been bedfast since June.

A resident of Sunbury for the past seventeen years, Mr. Harris was born in Columbia County January 21, 1886, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Harris. He was a graduate of Bloomsburg State Teachers College and Gettysburg College. Some years ago he taught in the grade school at the Central Pennsylvania Orphanage, east of Sunbury. Formerly he was a teacher in Columbia County schools. During the last war he was a cost accountant for the Office of Price Administration in Sunbury. He was a member of the Methodist Church at Buckhorn.

-----o-----

Miss Elizabeth Jane Love, teacher in the Milton schools for 42 years, died unexpectedly at her home in Wesleyville, a suburb of Erie, Monday, August 28. She had been residing there since her retirement a few years ago. She had been injured in a fall and was hospitalized but apparently recovered and had been in good health until stricken suddenly with a heart attack.

She was born in Derry Township, Montour County, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Butler Love. She attended Derry Township schools and was graduated from Bloomsburg State Teachers College. She took graduate work at Bucknell University, Lewisburg, and Columbia University.

In a simple double ring ceremony Thursday, September 28, Mary F. Neuhard became the bride of Charles A. Richards, of Wilkes-Barre, formerly of Catawissa.

The ceremony was held at the bride's home on East Fifth Street, Bloomsburg, performed by the bride's uncle, M. S. Kitchen, minister, of East Orange, N. J., assisted by Kenneth Gould, minister of the Christian Church, of Bloomsburg.

Mrs. Richards is a graduate of Bloomsburg High and the Normal School. At present, she is teaching third and fourth grades in Main Township School. Mr. Richards is working in the mines and is employed by the Glen Alden Coal Company, near Wilkes-Barre.

-----o-----

On Saturday, July 8, in Aldie Episcopal Church, Aldie, Va., the marriage of Miss Hannah Virginia Grehan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin B. Hutchison, of Arcola, Va., to B. Robert Bird, son of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Bird, Coughlin Street, Berwick, was solemnized. The Rev. Spence Dunbar officiated.

Mrs. Bird was graduated from Mary Washington College of University of Virginia and Washington School for Secretaries. The groom was graduated from George Washington University and Bloomsburg State Teachers College. The couple will reside at Silver Springs, Md.

-----o-----

Miss Julia Alberta Welliver, daughter of Mrs. F. F. Welliver, of Bloomsburg, and Charles Edward Driskell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Driskell, of Kentucky, were united in marriage in a quiet ceremony at the Dutch Hill Emanuel Evangelical Reformed Church by the Rev. Ray E. P. Abbott at ten o'clock Saturday, July 8.

Following a reception held at the bride's home for the immediate families, Mr. and Mrs. Driskell left on a wedding trip through Canada.

Mrs. Driskell is a member of the faculty of Scott Township Consolidated School. Mr. Driskell is employed by W. W. Goodman, of town. They will reside at 314 Fair Street, Bloomsburg.

-----o-----

The marriage of Miss Joanne R. Spaid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hobart R. Spaid, of Mifflinburg, and Paul Simington, son of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Simington, of Mooresburg, was solemnized Saturday, August 19, in the Mifflinburg Methodist Church by the Rev. Clarence F. Johnson, pastor.

The bride, a graduate of B.S.T.C. and Bucknell University, is a teacher in the Mifflinburg schools. Mr. Simington was graduated from Danville High School and is employed with his brother in conducting a farm implements shop on Sunbury R. D. 2.

BUSINESS CARDS — BLOOMSBURG GRADUATES

CREASY & WELLS
BUILDING MATERIALS

Bloomsburg 520

J. WESLEY KNORR, '34

NOTARY PUBLIC

252 West Fifth Street
Bloomsburg 669-R

TEXAS LUNCH
FOR YOUR REFRESHMENTS

Poletime Comuntzis, '44, Mgr.
Athamantia Comuntzis, '46
Asst. Mgr.

142 East Main Street
Bloomsburg 529

CONNER & FLECKENSTINE

PRINTERS TO ALUMNI ASSN.

Bloomsburg, Pa.
Telephone 867

Mrs. J. C. Conner, '34

ARCUS WOMEN'S SHOP

FOR A PRETTIER YOU

Max Arcus, '41, Mgr.

50 West Main Street
Bloomsburg 356-R

HERVEY B. SMITH '22

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW

Court House Place
Bloomsburg 1115

FRANK S. HUTCHISON, '16

INSURANCE

First National Bank Building
Bloomsburg 777-J

MONTOUR HOTEL

Danville, Pa.

Susquehanna Restaurant
Sunbury-Selinsgrove Highway

W. E. Booth, '42
R. J. Webb, '42

HARRY S. BARTON, '96

REAL ESTATE — INSURANCE

52 West Main Street
Bloomsburg 850

THE CHAR-MUND INN

Mrs. Charlotte Hoch, '15, Prop.
Bloomsburg, Pa.

THE WOLF SHOP

LEATHER GOODS — REPAIRS

M. C. Strausser, '27, Prop.
122 East Main Street
Bloomsburg, Pa.

MOYER BROTHERS

PRESCRIPTION DRUGGISTS
SINCE 1868

William V. Moyer, '07, Pres.
Harold R. Moyer, '09, Vice-Pres.
Bloomsburg 246

