VOL. XIII

OCTOBER, 1907

NO. 1

School Notes.

Another school year is successfully under way. Registrations already total nearly 600 names and the extra accommodations provided by the numerous changes and improvements of the summer months are in every day use.

The commodious quarters provided on second floor for the Library and Study Hall have occasioned most favorable comment and have reduced in great degree the confusion caused by the too limited space previously allotted for this purpose.

Room T now known as the Girls' Recreation Room, is already a popular place on the girls' side of the house, and the boys are waiting with impatience for the furnishing of room P. which will soon be theirs for a similar purpose.

Practical Finance.

The net profits of one of the graduates of 1907, teaching for the first time, for the current year exceed five hundred dollars. Thus the expenses of two years in a State Normal School are met by the profits of the first year's work. Tho this may be regarded as sordid, it is a practical view. The usefulness of this teacher has been increased almost incredibly, and the acquisitions of the two years spent here are a life-long possession. Who can fully estimate the possibilities thus opened?

Foot-Ball Schedule 1907.

Alumni.

The QUARTERLY desires to hear from all Alumni of the institution. Please consider this a personal invitation to let us know all about yourself and all you can tell us concerning your classmates. Address all communications for this department to G. E. Wilbur, Lock Box No. 203.

Dr. Paul F. Peck, formerly Professor of History and Civics in the Normal School, but now Professor of History in Iowa College, was married, Thursday, Aug 15, to Miss Grace Parsons at Grinnell, Iowa.

'67, Elwell, George E., says in The Columbian of Sept. 26 :

With this issue of this paper the editor completes thirty-two years of work in the editorial harness in this office. At each annual recurrence of these anniversaries, now coming all too frequently, we sometimes feel like asking, "Has it paid?"

'74, Mears, Dr. Geo. V. wife and son, of Fon du Lac, Wis., visited in Columbia County during the latter part of July. The "frosts of time" have touched the doctor very lightly.

'75, Thompson (Snyder), Carrie is principal of School No 1, Blakeley Borough. Her post office address is Peckville, Pa.

'76, Welsh, Dr. J. P. We clip the following complimentary notice from the North American, Oct. 2.

"Dr. Judson Perry Welsh, vice president of the Pennsylvania State College at Bellefonte, is no ordinary school teacher. As a business executive he has few equals among the colleges of the country. He made a name for himself as head of the State Normal School at Bloomsburg, and when they needed a man to straighten out the finances at State College and build up the institution, Dr. Welsh was picked out as the man for the job. And he has "made good."

Busy as he is, he yet has time for farming, poultry raising and invention. Just by way of recreation he invented a new suspender, which it is declared will revolutionize the style in "galluses." These suspenders are being manufactured in Bellefonte, and the little plant where they are made bids fair to become a thriving industry there.

'78, Strauss, I. Hess, is superintendent and agent at the Pittsburg and Transfer Station, Penn'a. R. R. He writes congratulating the school on its last catalogue and correcting error in Alumni list. We wish all former students would call our attention to errors in this list. We are making every effort to have it correct.

'79, Moore, Charles H., has resigned his position as principal of the West Hazleton borough schools. In his resignation he states that his services are needed in another line of work and is unable to give proper attention to the schools while attending to these duties.

'82, Moore, Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Moore announce the marriage July 8th, of their daughter Blanche Laura to Mr. Ralph Quinn Mirick, Columbus, O.

'83, Kresge, Willis H., died at Fort Meade, Florida, May 17, 1903 of consumption. At the time of his death he was principal of the High School. He was for many years a minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church and was a member of the Iowa Conference. Failing health compelled him to give up his duties as a minister. He was very successful in his work both as minister and teacher.

'84, Fisher, Charles J., is an attorney-at-law, located at Catawissa, Pa. He is president of the Catawissa National Bank, and is interested in every measure for the improvement of the borough.

'85, Noetling, Charles B., is engaged in various business enterprises at Beaver Valley, Pa. He has resigned as postmaster and will relinquish the duties of the office as soon as his successor has been appointed.

'89, Berninger, Martha, went to Chicago about the middle of September, where she will fill the position of secretary of the Chicago Young Woman's Christian Association during the next six months while the secretary is on a leave of absence.

'79, Curran, Dr. James Harris. At the Jacob Tome Institute, Port Deposit, Maryland, on Tuesday, Oct 13, there was unveiled a memorial tablet to Dr. Curran whose untimely death occurred at that institution some time ago.

'89, Cohen, Alex. E. (sp. course) died very suddenly at his home in Wilkes-Barre, at 9:30 o'clock, Monday evening, Oct. 14. He was stricken with paralysis about eight o'clock in the morning and quickly lapsed into unconsciousness from which he was never aroused. A wife and three children, the youngest two years old, survive. The funeral services were held on Wednesday, Oct. 16, interment in the Jewish Cemetery near Danville, Pa. Dr. Wangheim, Rabbi of the Synagogue at that place, officiated at the services at the grave.

'91, Hess, R. Harry, was married Aug. 28th, in Newport, Pa., to Miss Lulu DeLancy, a trained nurse. Mr. Hess is a well known resident of Berwick. He was formerly a teacher in the Berwick High School, but for some time has been on the corps of mail carriers of that bustling borough. The wedding was cleverly planned and kept secret until the day of the ceremony. It is stated that a tremendous reception was tendered the bride and groom upon their return to Berwick.

'93, Thomas, R. M., a first lieutenant in the U. S. Army, was early in August ordered to proceed to West Point where he will be an instructor in the Military Academy. Through some unfortunate error Lieut. Thomas is reported as deceased in the Alumni list in the new catalogue. His appointment to West Point corps of instructors is reasonable evidence that he is still alive.

'93, Hart, John C., has been elected principal of the North Main Street Schools in Wilkes-Barre. He has been the efficient principal of the schools at Parsons.

'94, Hess, L. Floyd, is the proud father of a son, born Sept. 6. He has not, as yet, engaged a room for him at the B. S. N. S.

'94, Wiant, David, has moved from Dorranceton to Huntington Mills, where he is principal of the high school.

'94, Grimes, Byron J. and his wife spent several days visiting their parents at Light Street in July. He is superintendent of the schools of Queen Anne County, Maryland. In that state it appears that the superintendent is elected to serve as long as the services are satisfactory. Mr. Grimes' predecessor in office, who died last winter, held the position for twenty years. The superintendent purchases all supplies, is treasurer of the school funds and in general has his hands full.

'94, Derr, Isabelle (sp. course) was married Tuesday, Aug. 6, to W. L. Gouger, postmaster at Danville, Pa. The ceremony was performed at high noon at the home of the bride in White Hall by Rev. H. C. Munro. They will reside in Danville.

'95, Andreas, Margaret, was married in the Central M. E. Church, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Monday, Sept. 10, to Joseph Lindsay of Freeland, Pa. Dr. C. E. Mogg, pastor of the church, officiated. The couple presented themselves at the altar at 3:30 o'clock P. M. in the presence of a few relatives and immediate friends. They are at home at No. 57 Front Street, Freeland, where Mr. Lindsay is a successful business man.

'95, Davenport, Harry H., was on Saturday Sept. 28, admitted to practice law in the several courts of Luzerne County. Mr. Davenport was a student in the office of Judge Fuller. He will open offices in Plymouth, his native town.

'95, Conner, Grace (sp. course) has accepted a position as instructor in art at the Armitage School at Wayne, Pa.

'95, Maize, Boyd F. Invitations are out for the wedding of Boyd F. Maize, Esq., and Miss Edith R. Behrhorst of Avalon, Pa. The ceremony will be performed at the Avalon Presbyterian Church, Tuesday afternoon Oct. 29th at 4 o'clock.

'96, Oman, C. M., assistant surgeon U. S. Navy, visited his home in Wilkes-Barre a short time ago. He was on his way to join the U. S. S. Illinois to which he had been ordered for duty.

'96, Davenport, Dr. Fred. M., has opened offices in Scranton, Pa. He is located at No. 827 Green Ridge Street and already has an extensive practice.

'97, Johnson, Josiah, is employed as an electrical engineer for the Westinghouse Company in the south. He has recently been visiting relatives in Bloomsburg.

'97, Menzies, Jean F. and Frank L. Scott of Wilkes-Barre were married at the home of the bride, 900 Prescott Ave., Scranton on Saturday Sept. 14, by Rev. Dr. Bull, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of that city. The ceremony was witnessed by only the immediate families of the contracting parties. Mr. Scott holds a responsible position in the Lehigh Valley Coal Company offices in Wilkes-Barre. They reside at No. 164 West Ross Street.

'97, Milnes Mary V. A very pretty wedding took place at Espy, at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 7, when Miss Mary V. Milnes became the bride of George W. Roberts of Nanticoke. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's father Mr. W. B. Milnes, Rev. C. H. Campbell pastor of the Espy M. E. Church officiating. The groom holds a responsible position with the Baker Chocolate Company and, after the first of the year will have his headquarters in Atlanta, Ga.

'98, Dieffenbacher, D. N. (State Certificate) has been elected Superintendent of the Danville, Pa. public schools. Mr. Dieffenbacher has for a number of years been an instructor in the Danville High School.

'98, Frederickson, Elam, is physician for an Electric Company at Los Angeles, California.

'99, Davison, Dr. A. Paul, a dentist at Cambra, and Dr. Joseph P. Echternach, a dentist at No. 1126, 52d St., Phila., both of '99, spent some time visiting in this section of the state during July.

'99, O'Neill, Francis C., has entered the University of Pennsylvania to take a course in medicine.

'99, Welliver, Edna, was married Wednesday, Sept. 19th. at 7:15 o'clock in the morning at the home of her parents on Leonard Street, Bloomsburg, to Mr. Barton Fortner of Catawissa. The beautiful ring ceremony was used by the bride's pastor Dr. G. H. Hemingway. Upon their return from a wedding tour to Buffalo and Niagara Falls they will occupy their newly furnished residence in Catawissa, where Mr. Fortner is employed by the Penna. R. R. Co.

'00, McCollum, Harry H., has a fine opportunity to enter a dramatic school in New York City, which he will accept. He gave "A Night in Rileyland" in the Normal School Auditorium, Monday evening, Oct. 14, which was greatly appreciated and enjoyed. He is making his mark as an elocutionist and capable judges say he has a great future before him.

'00, Geary, Ada and Edward N. Zern of Leighton, were married in St. Luke's Episcopal church at Scranton, Wednesday noon, Aug. 28, the rector, Dr. Roger Israel, officiating. Only the immediate relatives were present. Mr. Zern is a mining engineer.

'oo, Stump, Florence E., was married Wednesday Oct. 9th to Henry Reed, a paper manufacturer and dealer of Philadelphia. The wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's mother at Stouchsburg, Berks Co., by the Rev. H. I. Welper, pastor of the Tulpehaken Reformed Church of Stouchsburg. The bride is a vocalist of ability and sings in the Calvary Episcopal Church of Germantown. The bridegroom is a nephew of Thomas B. Reed at one time Speaker of the National House of Representatives. After their return from an extended wedding trip through the New England states they took up their residence, at Mt. Airy, Phila.

'oo, Kilmer, Miles, since his graduation from State College has been employed as engineer on the Pennsylvania tunnel at New York City. He was married in October to a New York lady. We have neither the date nor the particulars.

'oo, Wilbur, G. Elmer, was married July 17th to Miss Allene Maloney, of Craig City, Virginia. The marriage was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, the pastor of the First Presbyterian church officiating. The wedding was a quiet one, only the immediate relatives being present. The bride is a sister of Mrs. Harry C. Wilbur. The groom has the chair of Latin in the High School, Jacksonville, Florida. They are at home at No. 54, W. Fourth street, Jacksonville.

'oo, Jones, Walter H. And here's another of the 'Naughty-Naughts.' 'Snooze' was married Aug. 12 at 10 o'clock, a. m. to Miss Rachel Jones of Hyde Park, Scranton. The wedding took place at Binghamton, N. Y. the officiating minister being Dr. J. B. Sweet, the Presiding Elder of the Binghamton District of the M. E. Church, and formerly the pastor of the Simpson M. E. Church of Scranton. The bride has been one of the most popular teachers in the Scranton City Schools and was assistant Principal of No. 14 school. Walter is a teller in the Keystone bank, Scranton. After an extended tour to Portland, Me., they occupied their own house at Garfield Ave. and Jackson street.

'oo, Savidge, Ralph (sp. course) and Miss Belle Snyder of Mifflinville, Pa. were married Saturday, Sept. 14, at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony was performed by the father of the groom assisted by Rev. J. W. Woerhle, pastor of the bride. Miss Vere Snyder and Homer H. Snyder, sister and brother of the bride played the wedding march.

'01, Smith, Ralph E., is Principal of the Espy High School. He is also a student at law.

'01, Larrabee, Louise is at State College taking a course in Domestic Science, and is delighted with her work and location.

'01, Merrell, Charles, is a book-keeper in the Farmer's National Bank, Bloomsburg.

'02, Frymire, Martha, has accepted a position as teacher of vocal music in the public schools of Cedro Wooley, state of Washington, one hundred miles north of Seattle. She writes that there is no winter there and she is very much delighted with the people and the country.

'02, Foresman, Helen S., is now Mrs. H. F. Dietrick and lives at Shickshinny, Pa.

'03, Snyder, W. D., is supervisor of drawing in the public schools of Bound Brook, N. J. He was married on the 12th of June to Miss Ethel Kleber of Easton, Pa.

'04, Goyituey, Anna. We take the following from the Phila. Inquirer of August 31. "Word has been received at the Carlisle Indian School of the marriage at Seama, New Mexico. of Miss Anna Goyituey, a full blooded Pueblo Indian maiden, formerly a teacher at the Carlisle Indian School, and Fred W. Canfield, until lately one of the Carlisle Indian School's field agents, and a son of W. W. Canfield, for years city editor of the Utica Observer.

The wedding is the culmination of a pretty romance which had its inception at the Carlisle School several years ago, while Mr. Canfield was a Drawing Instructor, and the shy little Pueblo girl one of his students. Their friendship warmed after Miss Goyituey graduated and secured an appointment as teacher and Mr. Canfield was placed in field work. In July Miss Goyituey was transferred to Seama, N. M., and shortly after Mr. Canfield requested his transfer.

The wedding took place at the Estuia of the Seama village, and was performed first under the ancient tribal ceremony. Immediately afterward, the two were married by a minister of the Presbyterian Church.

'04, Kelly, Martin, is a book-keeper for the Lytle Coal Co. at Minersville, Pa. He was married in July, to Miss Irene Kline of Minersville.

'04, Turner, Ruth, has gone to California where she will attend Leland Stanford University. Her brothers Warren and Thomas are now students there.

'04, Howell, G. L. and Jessie M. Boyer. We find the following in the Wilkes-Barre Record of Aug 20.

The many Kingston friends of G. L. Howell of Trucksville and Miss Jessie M. Boyer of White Haven will be surprised to learn of their marriage, which took place at the home of Miss Boyer on Dec. 25, 1906, Presiding Elder Rev. L. C. Murdock officiating. Mr. Howell is a third year student at the Medical College of the University of Pennsylvania and is a well known and popular young man on the West Side. Mrs. Howell is a teacher in the public school at White Haven and has a large circle of friends in Kingston, where she resided all her life until moving to White Haven with her mother last year. The young people both graduated from the Bloomsburg Normal School with the class of 1904.

'04, Hitchcock, Harriet, instructor in penmanship in the Asbury Park, N. J. schools, has tendered her resignation to accept an offer from the Brooklyn Polytechnic and Packer Institute at a very material increase in salary and the additional inducement of having the opportunity to attend lectures at Columbia College. The Board of Education of the Asbury Park City Schools decline to release her until a successor has been secured. This is expected in a short time. The board does not desire to stand in the way of her advancement.

'05, Farnsworth, W. J., and Miss Jennie Grace Moses, both of Pine Summit, were married at the M. E. Parsonage, Nescopeck, Wednesday, Aug. 14.

'05, Pooley, Paul, has accepted a position as reporter on the Bloomsburg Morning Press.

'06, Bohan, Anna, has secured the position of assistant in the higher mathematics in the Johnstown, Pa., high school. She is well fitted for the position.

'06, Albertson, Phebe, has been appointed a teacher at Whippany, N. J. She says it is a town nearly two hundred years old and about three miles from Morristown. She is greatly pleased with the country.

'06, DeWitt, Helen, was married in the "Little Church Around the Corner," New York City, to J. Reber Terwilliger, of Bloomsburg. The ceremony was performed Tuesday evening, Oct. 15, at 6 o'clock. They will reside in Bloomsburg. The groom is a clerk in the Prothonotary's office.

'06, Hartzell, Mabel, and Frank P. Zarr were married in Philadelphia, Monday evening, Aug. 19. Mr. Zarr is employed as book-keeper in the Bloomsburg plant of the American Car and Foundry Company.

'06, Shuman, Clyde, was married at Binghamton, N. Y., Monday, Aug. 5, to Miss Margaret Bitler of Main township. They will reside at Mainville.

'06, Piszczek, Stanley, is at Gettysburg College where he is maintaining his standing both in his studies and in athletics. He is a member of the Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity.

'07, Bartlett, Edith (sp. course) was married early in October at Boiling Springs, near Carlisle, to White Crow, a full blooded Sioux Indian. They have gone to South Dakotah.

'07, Dice, Charles W., (sp. course) who was teaching one of the Beaver township schools was stricken with paralysis Wednesday night, Sept. 25th. He died on the following Sunday. The funeral was held on Thursday, interment in the cemetery near Centre church in Pine township.

The Lackawanna County Alumni Association held an enthusiastic reunion on the evening of Oct. 2, at the Scranton Bicycle Club House. Covers were laid for one hundred and thirty-five and every chair was occupied. Prof. Charles R. Powell acted as toastmaster, and opened the speech making by calling on Dr. Waller who responded in his usual happy and practical manner. Among the invited guests who responded to toasts were City Supt. Geo. W. Phillips, County Supt. Taylor, Principal A. H. Wells of the Central High School, and Principal R. P. Gleason of the Technical High School. Good cheer, enthusiasm and loyalty to the school marked every moment of the occasion.

The only saddening feature of the occasion was the absence of Prof. David Owens whose untimely death has taken away from the Association one of its most active and enthusiastic members. At the business meeting the following resolutions were adopted:

Why the Almighty in His all wise Providence should remove from the midst of his fellow men, one, who by every physical appearance seemed to be destined to the enjoyment of a long and happy life, is one of those mysterious manifestations of His infinite wisdom and power that we fail to comprehend.

In the death of David Owens, the City of Scranton lost one of its foremost young men; those who knew him a true and loyal friend; his parents a son of whom they were well proud; and his wife a companion and husband whose loss she alone can measure.

In his death the Lackawanna County Bloomsburg State Normal School Alumni Association lost one of its most untiring officers and members; one whom the members all knew and esteemed for the many good qualities with which they were perfectly familiar. The teaching profession of this vicinity lost one of its foremost and most useful members; and the community a power for good, the extent of which can never be known.

Therefore, we, the members of the Lackawanna County Bloomsburg State Normal School Alumni Association, in the seventh annual reunion now assembled, feel that it is only fitting and proper that we thus acknowledge the loss of such a friend and fellow alumnus as David Owens, and we take this means of expressing our sorrow at his death, and extending our heartfelt sympathy to his wife and parents; and we also request that a copy of this testimonial of our deep respect to our fellow alumnus, David Owens, be printed in the newspapers of Scranton, in the Bloomsburg State Normal School QUARTERLY; and direct that a copy be sent to his widow and parents.

Athletics.

With the opening of the fall term the interests of the Athletic Association were directed to the formation and equipping of a representative foot-ball team. The spirit of the boys has been most helpful and enthusiastic. The team while composed of practically untried, inexperienced material, has shown remarkable development. Manager Davis has the team well equipped and provided with an interesting well balanced schedule.

The first game of the season was played upon the home grounds on Oct. 5th against the Wilkes-Barre H. S. team which is heralded as the strongest ever gotten together by Wilkes-Barre. They played an aggressive game and during the first few minutes played our boys off their feet and scored 12 points. The Normal boys took a brace from that time and no further score resulted.

On Oct. 12 the second game of the season was played at Williamsport against the Dickinson Seminary team. In the first half the teams struggled for twenty-five minutes without a score by either side. The half was marked by two exciting moments. From the kickoff the Normal School boys carried the ball to their opponents 15 yd. line and then when within striking distance lost the ball upon fumble by one of the backs.

The Seminary team a few minutes later had, by means of the forward pass and end runs, brought the ball within two yards of our goal line. A touchdown seemed inevitable but our boys by desperate playing held their opponents and secured the ball on downs.

Erikson at once punted to mid-field and in a few minutes time was called with the ball in Dickinson's territory.

In the second half the ball was not within striking distance of either goal for the first 17 minutes. A very unusual thing occurred at that time. The Seminary coach called his captain and two other players to the side lines and gave them their instructions. The boys claim that during those last eight minutes there was more rough playing on the part of the Seminary team than during the entire previous part of the game, and that Egan and Fausel were both forced to retire from the game on account of the rough playing of those three men who had been in consultation with their coach. And yet people seem to think Miss Jeane was not quite of sound mind when she conditionally offered her millions to Swarthmore College.

During the last eight minutes eleven points were scored by the Dickinson team.

The most interesting and closely contested game thus far played was that upon the home grounds on Oct. 19th, against the Stroudsburg Normal School team. The teams were closely matched and honors were very evenly divided. Both teams were strongest in offensive play.

The game was marked by much open play, end runs and the forward pass being frequently used by both teams. In the first half the ball after several exchanges of punts was rushed by our boys to their opponents' 27 yard line. Fisher and Sharadin dropped back and by a beautifully executed kick from placement, sent the ball squarely between the posts, scoring four points. The writer has seen many college games and feels safe in saying that very few people have ever seen a more accurate or a more quickly executed play than this field goal in Saturday's game. The half ended with the ball in mid-field in possession of Stroudsburg.

In the second half, after a few minutes of play, Stroudsburg came within striking distance of our goal. When within two yards of the goal line our team braced and forced them to surrender the ball on downs. Hendershott carried the ball out several yards when Sharadin booted it fifty-five yards.

By several end runs and the forward pass Stroudsburg soon brought the ball to our fifteen yard line. Here an offside play occurred and our boys were penalized half the distance to the goal line. Thus with the ball within seven and a half yards of our goal and a first down, the visiting team again seemed certain to score. This time they were not to be denied and in three downs carried the ball over. In attempting to kick the goal Patterick placed the ball upon the ground before Clark was ready and Capt. Morgan blocked the kick.

After the kick off the Bloomsburg boys showed the most consistent ground-gaining form of the game. Gain after gain was made through the line and around the ends. Displaying such form, all that was needed to score was time. But the score was not forthcoming as time was up with the ball in possession of our boys and in the territory of their opponents. Thus the final score was 5 to 4 in favor of the visiting team.

Quarterly.

Best wishes to all for 1908.

The Winter term opened December 3rd, with many new students in evidence.

Calendar conditions were responsible for an unusually long Christmas vacation this year. It was thoroughly enjoyed by all, students and faculty alike. One of the Science teachers was heard to remark, however, that he could have enjoyed it more if trout fishing had been in season.

The present Senior class which began the study of Physics this term is the first class to enjoy the advantage of individual laboratory work in this subject. Previous to the completion of the new building conditions permitted but few students to get full courses in laboratory work. The new laboratory of Science Hall and additional apparatus now enables every member of the class to get ample opportunity for this work. The Senior program of studies, furthermore, has been so arranged as to give double periods at each recitation in this subject. Few schools of the state now afford better opportunities for all branches of scientific work than may be found at Bloomsburg.

The boys' recreation room has at last been put in order for use. It has been equipped with various games and amusements and was much used during vacation by the students who, living at a long distance from the school, were under the necessity of remaining over the holidays. The school will shortly add more furniture and the Y. M. C. A. has announced its intention of maintaining a supply of periodical literature in the room so that it will undoubtedly prove a much appreciated feature of Normal school life.

The school office is engaged in completing a complete file of the school catalogs. Copies are missing for quite a number of years, and any reader of the QUARTERLY who can send Prof. F. H. Jenkins catalogs for any of the years mentioned in the following list will confer a favor which will be much appreciated. The years for which catalogs are desired are 1875-6, 1876-7, 1877-8, 1878-9, 1879-80, 1880-1, 1881-2, 1882-3, 1883-4, 1887-8, 1888-9, 1893-4, 1896-7, 1897-8, 1904-5.

Alumni.

The QUARTERLY desires to hear from all Alumni of the institution. Please consider this a personal invitation to let us know all about yourself and all you can tell us concerning your classmates. Address all communications for this department to G. E. Wilbur, Lock Box No. 203.

'72, Glover, James Oliver, (Sp. Course) died at his home Mifflinburg, Pa., Nov. 13, 1907, aged 53 years. Mr. Glover was one of the most prominent men of Union county, active in church, business and social circles. The funeral which was attended by a large concourse of relatives and friends was held on Sat. Nov. 14, the services being conducted by the Rev. Dr. M. H. Calkins of the Presbyterian Church.

'76, Evans, Charles C., President Judge of this Judicial District, is making a record of which he may justly be proud. The Columbia County Bar Association tendered him a banquet at the Central Hotel, Bloomsburg, Pa. on the evening of the 31st of Dec. '07 which was a happy and successful event.

'81, Lepley, Rev. M. O., is pastor of St. Paul's M. E. Church, Waterbury, Conn., and is President of the Waterbury group of Epworth Leagues. He has been very successful in his work. His brother Rev. W. A. Lepley, a member of the Cent. Penna. Conference, is also meeting with good success.

'81, Hower, Dr. Heister V., one of the prominent physicians of Columbia County, is located at Mifflinville. He is interested in a number of business enterprises and is one of the directors of the First Nat. Bank of Bloomsburg.

Hight, Frank R. (Cashier) Hanford, Kings Co., California.

"I will be on hand next June if possible. The three thousand miles journey will not keep me away if I can arrange business matters so as to leave."

Hobbes, D. Musgrave, (Lawyer) 20 North Franklin St., Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Hunt, Levi, (Lawyer) 2219 East 14th Avenue, Denver, Col.

"I have looked forward with great pleasure to meeting with my class next June. On account of my wife's health I am thinking of moving to the Pacific Coast, probably Washington or Oregon, and may not be able to come. If possible, however, I will be on hand."

Hutchinson, Louise G (Mrs. J. L. Dillon) Florist, Bloomsburg, Pa.

"I will be more than pleased to meet my classmates next June, and shall look forward to meeting all of them."

Karschner, Lloyd W., (Metho-

dist Episcopal Minister) Uniondale, Susquehanna County, Pa.

"I am unable at this time to say that I will be able to come, but I hope to be on hand to enjoy the pleasures now in anticipation."

King, John W. Deceased.

Kytle, Clara D., (Weyhenmeyer) Deceased 1897.

Kresge, Willis H. Deceased 1903. (Was a Methodist Episcopal Minister in Marshalltown and Waterloo, Iowa, until failing health compelled him to go to Florida where he died at Fort Meade in 1903.)

Leonard, Abbie J., (Ashley) Teacher. 123 Hanover Street, Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

"Of course I will attend our class re-union next June. Can't think of missing it."

Mack, Arbie E., "The Oaks," 109 Oak St., Binghamton, N. Y.

"I should very much like to meet my classmates in 1908, and shall make an earnest effort to do so. I have not visited the Normal since 1890."

McGuire, Mary A., Hazleton, Pa.

"I shall certainly attend our class reunion next June and hope every member will come."

McGuire, Sallie L. (Mrs. W. J. Hibbs) 302 Montgomery St., West Pittston, Pa.

"I will attend the reunion next June. It will be one of the real enjoyable occasions of life. Just think how we would all enjoy meeting all the members of the class. Urge every one to come."

Nicely, E. Josephine (New York real estate and bonds) 8 Regent St. Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

"I will attend our class re-union next June and look forward to the time with great pleasure."

Powell, Charles R., (Teacher, Scranton High School) 1358 Calypso Ave., Scranton, Pa.

"Yes, I'll be on hand next year to meet the boys and girls of '83. I expect to meet boys and girls notwithstanding the lapse of a few years. The calendar may indicate a quarter of a century since graduation and faces may have changed but hearts are young and friendships warm. Every member of the class should come."

Richards, Sarah E., (Mrs. Samuel Daniels,) 176 150th St. Harvey, Ill.

"If I can arrange to visit Pennsylvania next summer I shall certainly be at Bloom, for I would very much like to meet the members of our class and talk of the by-gone days."

Rittenhouse, Eva A. (Mrs. Chas. D. Dugan) 1222 North 53d Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

"I would like very much to attend the reunion next June and if possible will do so. Mr. Dugan's business may take us to Chicago in the spring and that leaves us unsettled for June. I hope the reunion will have a full attendance."

151 Chestnut St., Dunmore, Pa.

"I shall be very glad to join in the '83 class reunion next year. Doesn't seem possible that 25 years have passed since our class separated. It will be very enjoyable to meet all our class again."

Shiel, Robert (Supervising Principal,) Pittston, Pa.

My health is not good but I hope to so improve that I can meet the class next June. I am sure it will be very enjoyable for all."

Steck, Eva R., (Mrs. E. A. Chamberlin), 246 North Jameson Ave., Lima, Ohio.

"A daughter graduates at New York University and a son at Pennsylvania College next June. If their graduation does not conflict with our class re-union I will certainly meet with the class. It will be a source of great regret if I miss the class re-union."

Steely, O. B., (Physician) Pocatello, Idaho.

"Well I should say so. Sure I will try to be there. B. S. N. S. is one of the very dear spots on this old world to me. The world is going so fast out here that I almost fell into a swoon when I saw your mention of 25 years. Surely our lot has fallen in a pleasant place."

Wells, Jennie (Mrs. Samuel B. Henderson) Montgomery, Pa.

"One son graduates from Lewisburg Academy and one from Bucknell University next June and if the dates do not conflict I will attend the class reunion. I have not forgotten Normal days and it would be a great pleasure to meet my classmates. I will not miss the reunion if it is possible to attend."

Whipple, Mary E. (Teacher) 17 Taylor Street, Newark, N. J. "I will attend the class reunion next June if it is in any way possible. It is our last week in school and it will be difficult for me to get away. I would greatly enjoy meeting my classmates."

Woolcock, Christine (Mrs. T. J. Parmley) 5113 Cedar Ave., West Philadelphia, Pa.

"I will be delighted to attend our class reunion next June and will enjoy it in anticipation until that time."

Willis, Martha. (Deceased 1885)

'86, Townsend, Louis J., (special course) died at his home in Berwick, Thursday evening, Nov. 28, 1907. Mr. Townsend's illness began about four years ago when he became afflicted with stomach trouble which was the cause of his death. At the time of his death he was the General Superintendent of the Berwick Electric Light Co. He was married in 1892 to Miss Elizabeth Gruver, class of '90, who, with three children, Ruth, Donald, and Fred, survives. He was buried under the auspices of the Masonic Lodge of Berwick, Monday afternoon, Dec. 2d. Public services were held at Christ Episcopal Church, preceded by a private service at the residence.

'95, Davenport, Harry, was married Tuesday Nov. 12, '07 to Miss Cordie A. Smith of Plymouth. The ceremony was performed by Rev. L. O. Knipp, pastor of the Christian church, at the home of the bride's parents. The bridal party was composed of the brothers and sisters of the bride and groom among whom were Miss Blanche Davenport '94 and Dr. Fred Davenport '96. After an extended trip they began housekeeping on Carey Ave, Wilkes-Barre. The groom is a member of the Luzerne Co. Bar.

'95, Maize, Boyd F., and Miss Edith R. Behrhorst of Avalon, Allegheny County, Pa, were married in the Presbyterian Church of Avalon, Tuesday, Oct. 28, '07. The wedding was a beautiful and elaborate one. They make their home in Bloomsburg. The groom is a general adjuster in one of the large insurance companies, his duties taking him into several states.

'96, Lutz, Frank E., has received in course the degree of Ph. D., Cum Laude, from the University of Chicago. All who know Dr. Lutz are confident that the degree is merited.

'96, Kitchen, Florence, was married at the home of her parents in Greenwood township, at high noon, Tuesday, Nov. 6, to Clinton Follmer of Rocky Ford, Colorado. Mr. Follmer was formerly a resident of Columbia county, but for several years has been engaged in business in Colorado.

'97, Rawlings, Bessie, was married in the "Little Church Around the Corner" in New York City on Thursday, Oct 31, '07, to George W. Francis, a government employee. They reside at No 228 W. Cumberland St., Phila

'97, Peacock, Helen (Special Course) is now Mrs Howard R. Clark. They were wedded at the home of the bride's mother in Bloomsburg, Wednesday, Dec. 4. Mr Clark is an engineer engaged on the construction of the Panama Canal. They will for a time make their home on the isthmus, for which place they departed Jan. 16.

'97, Shortz, Bertha, was married in Pocatello, Idaho, recently to Mr. Alex. Campbell of that city. The beautiful ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Henry A. Mullen of the Presbyterian church. The best man was Mr. Donald Shortz, brother of the bride, now a resident of Salt Lake City. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell have a delightful home at 520 S. 7th Ave. Pocatello. Go to see them.

'99, McHenry, Arthur W., is with the fleet of battleships now on the way to San Francisco. He is one of the musicians on board the battleship Franklin. He writes interesting letters of his experience.

'99, Davison, Dr. Paul A. The Wilkes-Barre Record of Jan. 15, says that the Doctor and Miss Edith Withrow of Philadelphia will be united in marriage at that place on Sat. Jan. 18. The Doctor is now located in Scranton, Pa.

'99, Rhoads, Ray M., became the wife of Thomas P. Flanagan of Scranton at 9 o'clock Friday morning Oct. 25. The marriage was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents in Bloomsburg. Rev. H. A. Keiser, pastor of Grace Reformed Church, Mahanoy City, and a brother-in-law of the bride officiating. Mr. Flanagan is employed as designer for a lithographing establishment in Philadelphia. They reside in Germantown.

'03, Houtz, Howard, is teaching at Fitzgerald, Georgia. He is delighted with his position and with the city in which he is located. It is practically an old soldiers' colony.

'04, Herbst, A. Norman (Special Course) died Dec. 16, '07, at the home of his parents in West Hazleton, Pa. Funeral services were held Dec. 19, in Christ's Memorial Reformed Church. Interment in Mountain View Cemetery, West Hazleton.

'04, Beckley, Harry (Special Course) and Miss Lottie Shuman of Catawissa, were married at the home of the bride, Monday, Nov. 11. They reside in Catawissa.

'04, Kitchen, Clark and Miss Mabel Parker, both members of '04, were married Wednesday, Jan. 15, at the home of the bride in Greenwood township, in the presence of one hundred guests. Rev. Alexander Scott of the Methodist Church performed the ceremony.

'05, Brooke, Walter S., has taken charge of the school at Mainville, Columbia county, assuming the duties Monday, Dec. 30. The people of that district are assured of a good school.

'05, Elwell, G. Edward, a Junior at Trinity College, is editor-in-chief of "Ivy," the Junior publication of that institution.

'05, Jolly, Raymond, is a student at Lafayette College. He is the author of a ballad entitled "Sweet Louise." Those who have heard it say it is a very creditable production.

'06, Thomas, Zella. The news came to light about Nov. 14, that Miss Zella became the bride on May 18, 1907, of Mr Charles E. Mericle of Jerseytown, Pa. The ceremony was performed at the Reformed Parsonage in Pottsville by Rev. Dreisbach.

The Luzerne Alumni—We take the following from the Wilkes-Barre Record, Nov. 1.

The eighteenth annual meeting and banquet of the Luzerne County Alumni Association of the Bloomsburg State Normal School was held at the Sterling last evening and was one of the most successful affairs ever conducted by the association.

Two hundred and two members attended last night's meeting. Among those present were quite a number of the members of the Bloomsburg faculty, including Dr. D. J. Waller, the principal, and Professors Wilbur, Cope, Bakeless, Jenkins and Shambach.

John M. Garman, the president of the Luzerne County Association, presided at the meeting and acted as toastmaster, and his reputation was in no wise dimmed by last night's performance.

He first called upon Dr. Waller and the latter, after a few pleasant-ries, told of the progress of affairs at the Normal, referring especially to the new Science Hall and to additions to the teaching force. This building, of which F. L. Olds of Wilkes-Barre, was the designer, he declared to be a joy to the pupils who are privileged to use it and the teachers who are privileged to teach in it.

He told also of some other building changes in the study hall and library, the location of which has been changed from the first to the second floor of the building which it has occupied for some years, one-half of the second floor being given over to this purpose.

The number of critic teachers in the model school has been increased from two to four, and already the influence of this change is being noted. Dr. Waller urged the members of the association, however, not to depend upon him to tell of the improvements but to visit the institution and there see for themselves what has been accomplished.

Prof. Wilbur and Cope were also called upon for addresses, both of whom spoke briefly, the former concerning the alumni column in the Normal QUARTERLY, calling upon the alumni present to assist him by forwarding news items concerning former students and by keeping him informed as to changes of addresses; while the latter laid especial stress upon the annual Washington excursion, asking the alumni to join the students in this excursion, classing it as a great educational treat.

Attorney Granville J. Clark of Luzerne Borough, who was recently elected a trustee of the school, was elected president for the ensuing year and Miss Nan Wintersteen was reelected secretary. Mr. Garman closed the speechmaking with a splendid address upon the value of such associations, after which the room was cleared and the balance of the evening was spent in social intercourse and in dancing.

Athletics.

Athletic "doings" since the appearance of the last issue of the QUARTERLY have been very few. The final game of the football season having been cancelled and the Basket Ball season not opening until the 17th of January the athletic editor finds difficulty in securing copy.

The schedule of the Basket Ball season now opening is as follows:

Jan. 17—Shamokin Y. M. C. A. at B. S. N. S.

Jan. 24—B. S. N. S. at Kingston.

Jan. 25—Lebanon Valley College at B. S. N. S.

The outlook for a strong representative team is very encouraging. The spirit was never better and the student body is responding in a pleasing manner.

Mgr. Watkins has arranged a strong schedule as shown above and the varsity will have abundant work to win a majority of its games.

NORMAL 18 SHAMOKIN Y. M. C. A. 17

The first game of the season on January 17th resulted in a victory for the Normal five. The following account of the game appeared in the Morning Press.

NORMAL WON IN GREAT GAME.

ENTHUSIASM MANIFESTED LAST NIGHT NEVER EXCEEDED IN THE NORMAL GYMNASIUM.

NORMAL WON BY POINT.

In one of the greatest games ever witnessed on Normal floor, Normal opened the basket ball season with a whoop by downing Shamokin Y. M. C. A. by the score of 18-17.

It was a large crowd that was present and the enthusiasm was never greater at a Normal game. The crowd fairly went wild and there was reason in the enthusiasm, for never was a game more bitterly contested on Normal floor. There was not a minute during either half when either team could feel comfortable over the score, and the pace grew hotter as the game progressed. Such a housewarming the Normal gymnasium has never had.

There was a particular interest in the play of the visitors, for two of the team, Clayberger and Llewellyn, were former Normal players.

Grimes and Reese and Savidge for Normal, came in for the lion's share of the applause, while Barr and Clayberger, of Shamokin, played a spectacular game. But, then, discrimination is out of the question. Each man played to win and played to the last in a hard, gruelling contest.

And after the teams had struggled through two halves with the score a tie, 16-16, necessitating under the new rules five minutes more of play, Reese won the game by a spectacular goal from the centre of the field, topping a spectacular game with a spectacular finish. As the timers' whistle blew at the close of play a foul was called on Bloomsburg, and Clayberger threw the goal, making the score 18-17.

Reese, for Normal, scored the first goal and Barr quickly tied the score. From that time until the close of the first half Normal failed to take the lead, although they twice tied the visitors and the half ended with the score 8-7 in favor of the visitors.

During the first half, Rhoades, who had injured his nose in a former game, had it broken and Barr replaced him at forward, while Tinley filled Barr's place at guard.

The game during the first half had furnished about every variety of thrillers, but it was no circumstance compared to the half that followed. When Bloomsburg finally tied the score at 12-12 the crowd fairly went crazy. Sensational goals followed each other in such rapid succession that the crowd was carried off its feet.

With the score a tie at the end of the second half the five minutes that followed were of the heart-rending kind. Reese threw his spectacular goal, placing the game, as it proved, on ice. The line-up :

NORMAL.		SHAMOKIN.
Savidge	forward	Clayberger
Reese	forward	Rhoades, Barr
Erickson	centre	Llewellyn
Grimes	guard	Barr, Tinley,
Fisher	guard	Yost.

Goals from field—Reese, 4; Erickson, 2; Clayberger, 4; Barr, 2; Llewellyn. Goals from fouls—Clayberger, 3; Reese, 6.

The experiment of student management of the athletic relations of the school has brought very satisfactory results since it went into effect last Fall.

The policy of keeping teams on a strictly amateur basis, while it may have necessitated a change to some degree in the arrangement of schedules, has none the less developed a very gratifying growth of interest in athletics in the school at large. The inter-class games seem to have an added zest, and school spirit, so far as athletics at least is concerned, shows a healthy development.

The scores of games played may not show quite so decidedly to our credit, it is true, but they are at least a real and not an artificial representation of the student athletic ability, as they have not always been in the past.

The Spring term will open Monday, March 23d. Prospective students who have not already reserved rooms for this term should do so at once to secure proper accommodations.

Normal Notes.

Now it is to be Manual Training redivivus. This department has suffered somewhat in the past few years by the curtailment of its courses, but steps are now being taken to put the work again upon a proper basis. A competent mechanic has been secured to take charge of the room and its material equipment, while the direction of the work has been temporarily assumed by Prof. Hartline, who formerly had charge of this department before bugs and beasts stirred his affections.

A new three horse power electric motor has displaced the semi-occasional efforts of the asthmatic gasoline engine and the wheels now turn merrily and the Manual Training atmosphere is free from extraneous and forcible remarks concerning the motive power.

It is Prof. Hartline's expressed intention to have the Manual Training work represent, so far as possible, the material side of all departments of the school work. The students are afforded opportunity and instruction for making any and all needed material for class room work. Cube root blocks, geometric models, drawing boards and tables, mechanical apparatus for teaching the principles of Physics, Biological, Anatomical, and Botanical mountings, aquaria, note books card file equipments, etc., etc., are among the things which the students will be permitted to make ac-ording to their own desires under the direction of the department.

It is very gratifying for those interested in such subjects to note the comprehensive program of work outlined by Prof. Hartline.

The revised Alumni List for the present year will go to press early in the Spring term. Members of the Alumni having knowledge of any changes to be made in the addresses or other information to be included in this list will please communicate same at once to Prof. F. H. Jenkins.

The new society rooms in Science Hall have been completely decorated and equipped by the two societies and present a very beautiful and gratifying appearance. The Philo hall occupies the north-west corner of the building and is decorated in Philo blue. Callie has the south-east corner room and its society color, red, is there in evidence. Both societies have expended much time, money and effort in the decoration of their rooms and both are to be congratulated upon the results obtained.

Calliepien Anniversary

On the 22d of February, the Calliepien Literary Society will hold their annual reunion. Extensive preparations are in progress and it is hoped that a large delegation of our students will return to spend the day.

The new hall in the Science Building is now ready for occupancy and will be dedicated on that day.

In the evening a drama will be given by members of the society.

Signs of Spring.

Robins on the campus;
 Base balls in the air;
 Every field parading
 Geologic students fair.
 Tennis rackets waving;
 Track squad coming out;
 Cope with rod and tackle
 Planning death to trout.
 Awful shadow looming
 Of the State Exam.
 Boys with white duck trousers;
 Spring it surely am!

Examination Notes.

The annual examinations for admission to the Middle and Senior Classes of this school, will be held by the State Examiners, beginning Wednesday, June 17, 1908.

The preliminary examinations by the faculty for the selection of those who are to be recommended to the State Examiners will be held at the school beginning on Wednesday, June 10th, 1908, 10:30 a. m.

There will be no State examination at any other time. Applicants for admission to the Middle Class may take the Junior examinations at the end of the Middle year with the Middle examinations, but we strongly advise against this. Those who have tried it, advise against it. It is impossible, with the effort to keep all these subjects clearly in mind, to do good work in the Middle year and to pass good examinations in so many branches at the end of the year—even if the applicant is able to stand the strain.

Commencement Appointments.

Junior Entertainment, Saturday, 8:15 p. m., June 20th.

Baccalaureate Sermon, Sunday, 3:30 p. m., June 21st.

Entertainment by Middle Class, Monday, 8:15 p. m., June 22d.

Class Reunions, Tuesday, 2 to 5 p. m., June 23rd.

Class Day Exercises, '08, Tuesday, 8:15 p. m., June 23rd.

Commencement, Wednesday 10 a. m., June 24th.

Spring Term Items,

The Registrar reports an extremely gratifying increase in the number of students for the new term. Between fifty and sixty new students have so far reported and but a scant half dozen or so of last term's students have failed to return.

The proportion of boarding students among the new-comers is unusually large.

Alumni.

The QUARTERLY desires to hear from all Alumni of the institution. Please consider this a personal invitation to let us know all about yourself and all you can tell us concerning your classmates. Address all communications for this department to G. E. Wilbur, Lock Box No 203.

Prof. William Noetling celebrated his fiftieth year of school work, February 17, at his home in Selinsgrove, Pa. A very good half-tone cut of the Professor appeared in the Philadelphia Inquirer of Feb'y 18th.

'69, Appleman, Lloyd P. (special course), now living in Denver, Colo. has recently been visiting relatives and friends in Bloomsburg.

'71, Bartsch, G. W. who, some time ago, resigned from the Supreme Court of Utah in order to again take up the practice of law has been in the East several months interested in law suits which involve several million dollars. He occasionally comes from New York City to Bloomsburg to see relatives and old friends.

'71, Buckingham (Biddle) Agnes now resides in Scranton, her husband, Dr. J. C. Biddle, has resigned the superintendency of the Fountain Springs Hospital at Ashland, which institution he has most successfully managed and has moved to Scranton where he will practice his profession. Dr. Biddle is recognized as one of the most successful surgeons in the country and the city of Scranton is to be congratulated upon his locating in their midst.

'71, Ailman, Jerome T., Secretary of the State Grange, was present at a largely attended meeting of the farmers in Catawissa recently and gave an instructive talk on "Farmers' Needs."

'74, Eyer, Warren H., (Special course) was recently re-elected borough engineer of Berwick. He was the unanimous choice of the Council.

'75, Creasy Wm. T., is a candidate for re-election to the legislature to represent Columbia County. William Chrisman '78 is also a candidate for nomination on the Democratic ticket. Clarence E. Kreisher '94 (sp. course) and Geo. R. Styer '98 have filed nomination papers on the Republican ticket. Mr. Styer also represents the Local Option element of the county. In any event the interests of the Normal Schools of the state will have a champion from this county.

'79, Bakeless, Prof. O. H., was selected to represent the Faculty of the Normal School at a meeting of school faculties throughout the state, in connection with the Y. M. C. A. state convention which was held in Connellsville in February.

'79, Breece, Hannah, who is now employed by "Uncle Sam" as a teacher in Kodiak on Wood Island, Alaska, has recently completed the course in the Philosophy of Education with the University of Chicago and has received the certificate to that effect.

'79, Herring, Judge Grant, now a member of the Northumberland county bar attended the Annual banquet of the Northumberland Bar Association held at Shamokin in February and responded to a toast on the subject, "Does it Pay." The Judge true to his reputation made a brilliant after-dinner speech.

'80, Creasy, S. Clifton (sp. course) was for third time selected as a delegate to represent the State Lumbermen's Association in the National Association of Lumbermen. The convention was held in Washington, D. C. in March.

'80, Smith, Rev. N. H. who has just finished a very successful four years' pastorate of the M. E. church at Hanover, Pa., was assigned by the Conference, recently held at York, Pa., to the Diamond Ave. church in Hazleton. We expect to now see him occasionally at the Normal School.

'80, Kitchen, (Prutzman) Celeste is happy, cheery and, as ever, hustling on the farm near Huntsville. Her address is Frackville, Pa., R. F. D. No. 1.

'81, Lepley, Rev. M. O. of whose successful work in Waterbury, Conn, mention was made in last issue of THE QUARTERLY, has since then been sorely afflicted. His wife, Birdella S. Lepley, died February 4, after a week's illness of pneumonia. Two daughters, twelve and seven years old, survive her.

'82, Fisher, (Beasor) Tillie, is a friend and well-wisher of the Normal School, and is proud of its high standard and progress. Her home is at 526 Woodbine street, Harrisburg, Pa.

'83, Reifsnnyder, Dr. J. C. (sp. course) and his wife—Claire Whitmoyer '90 (sp. course)—with their son Donald have been visiting relatives in Bloomsburg. The doctor is located in Scranton.

'83, The Bulletin pertaining to the reunion of the class of '83, in the last issue of THE QUARTERLY was greatly enjoyed by the members of that and adjoining classes. The compiler of the bulletin—we wonder if any one can name him—writes the editor of this column as follows:

"An amusing and harmless mistake occurs in the '83 bulletin. Concerning a certain bugle or cornet with which "Billy" Sanders inflicted mental torture in '83. Sanders wrote that he cannot bring it next June to enliven the occasion with dulcet strains because the horn is "non in esse." The phrase last used appears to be from some dead and forgotten language and as translated freely by the context reads "gone up the spout." That phrase is printed in the QUARTERLY "now in esse" which by the same free translation reads "now in hock." Sanders will probably not view this as an aspersion on his financial standing and hence the error, though amusing, is harmless."

'84, Limberger Anna, a missionary at Pueblo, Mexico, has been elected a delegate to represent the latter country at the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church to be held at Baltimore in the month of May. Miss Limberger was chosen a delegate at the conference of the M. E. church held in the city of Mexico a matter of ten days ago.

The honor was utterly unsolicited by Miss Limberger, who was almost unanimously elected. The general conference will bring her to her native country most unexpectedly. The Normal School confidently expects a call from her.

'84, Glover, Sophie E., is connected with the School for the Blind at 638 Lancaster Ave., Philadelphia.

'85, Laudig, O. O. is now at Steelton, Pa., connected with the large Iron and Steel Works located at that place. He is the superintending chemist and commands a large salary.

'85, Barkley (Williams) May (sp. course) now makes her home in New York City. Her husband, Mr. Fred C. Williams, has been appointed resident manager in New York City of the Title Guaranty and Surety Company.

'86, Ikeler, Frank, has been elected Cashier of the First National Bank of Bloomsburg to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of the former cashier, Mr. E. F. Carpenter. Mr. Ikeler immediately entered upon the duties of his office.

'88, Jones, Bruce, agent of the Pennsylvania R. R. at Moca-nauqua for several years, has been promoted and has taken charge of the Pennsylvania's business at Shenandoah. Bruce stands well with the company.

'88, Zehner, Wm. P. (sp. course) is hustling as a candidate for the nomination for Treasurer of Columbia county at the approaching primaries. He is well fitted for the position.

'88, Hartman, Rev. Wade W. has received from the Gettysburg M. E. church a unanimous request to return as pastor. The Conference just closed complied with this request.

'90, Hirlinger, W. W., (Special course), who has been enjoying a fine business as jeweler and optician, moves April 1st to Lancaster where he will engage in a similar business.

'90, ^{Fortune} Evans (Eves) Margaret is the proud mother of a daughter, born February 15. Mrs. Eves' home is at Millville, Pa.

'90, Sutliff, Prof. W. B., has had his home enlivened by the arrival of a bouncing baby boy who put in an appearance Mon. Feb 3rd. He already shows mathematical tendencies as the highest common factor in the household and thrives in geometrical progression.

'91, Costello, James B., a successful lawyer of Hazleton visited Bloomsburg and the Normal School the latter part of January. He expects to send a son to the school.

'91, Smith, Elizabeth, is Assistant Preceptress at National Park Seminary, Forest Glen, Maryland. She has a delightful position and, though hard, greatly enjoys her work.

'92, Harman, Hon. John G., it is said, is slated as one of the four delegates representing the State at the Democratic National Convention. John was recently elected a director of the Bloomsburg National Bank.

'92, Nyhart, Prof. H. U., has a son Robert, seven years old, who has recently won a prize in a contest under the auspices of the Woman's Home Companion. The prize is a pony, named "Bob," and accompanying it will be a neat little cart and a fancy harness.

'92, Robison, Martha J. We clip the following from a local paper, February 21st:

"Miss Martha J. Robison, of Espy, who has been field secretary of the Columbia County Sabbath School Association for a number of years, and under whose efficient work the county ranks among the first in the state in Sunday School work, has recently been appointed on the state corps of workers and given charge of this district which includes several counties. Since her promotion Miss Robison has been engaged practically every day holding conventions and institutes in the several counties.

During the past week she has been engaged at Shamokin at the annual convention of Sunday School workers in that vicinity. The newspapers of that borough speak in highly complimentary terms of Miss Robison's addresses and work."

'93, Moran (McDonnell), Lizzie since 1904 has been Mrs. Joseph F. McDonnell '94 (sp. course), and lives at Jenkintown, a suburb of Philadelphia. Mr. McDonnell is now a Doctor of Pharmacy and conducts a very successful drug business. They have a little son Joseph Francis, Jr., two and a half years old. Mrs. McDonnell hopes to be present at the re-union of the Class of '93.

'93, Thomas, David L. (special course). A local paper dated January 24 has the following:

"David L. Thomas, one of the leading attorneys of Schuylkill county, strangled to death at the home of his father in Mahanoy City Tuesday evening. He was ill less than a week. The physicians diagnosed his case as quinsy and he was treated accordingly. Mr. Thomas was aged 34 years and is survived by his wife and one child, his parents, two sisters and a brother.

Mr. Thomas received his education at the Bloomsburg State Normal School and Lehigh University.

'93, Houston, John (sp. course) is a full fledged M. D. and enjoys a lucrative practice. He is located in Mt. Carmel, Pa.

'94, Sheep, R. Clark (sp. course) died at the Joseph Ratti Hospital, Bloomsburg, Tuesday, March 24. He was stricken with typhoid fever about two weeks previous to his death. When taken sick he was traveling salesman for the American Tobacco Company. He was thirty-one years of age. Funeral services were held at his late home in Bloomsburg, Friday afternoon, March 27, interment in Rosemont cemetery. A wife and two children, Mac. and Catharine survive, also his mother and a sister, Mrs. Gertrude Sheep Townsend.

'94, Hubler, Harry C. who is practicing law in Scranton, Pa., has a very interesting story entitled "Sunlight" in the Christian Endeavor World for February 9th, 1908. Harry is making, or indeed has made an excellent reputation in literary work. You will hear further from him.

'97, Thompson, W. E. is one of "the lost that has been found." He is in the Dental College of the University of Pennsylvania and expects to graduate this year and settle in Philadelphia. Will's got the muscle, all right for that business. He is business manager of the Penn Dental Journal.

'98, Pealer, S. Robert, was married March 18, to Miss Blanche L. Freas, of Berwick, Pa. The ceremony was performed in the parlor of their new home on E. 2nd street, which had been appropriately decorated with flowers. Only the members of the immediate families were present. They will be "at home" after April 1st. Mr. Pealer was recently appointed to the paymastership of the American Car and Foundry Co. at Berwick. He has been employed in that department for several years and is well qualified to take charge of this responsible position.

'98, Forster, Emma, is another one of "the lost found" She is now Mrs. Charles C. Sims and resides at 837 Market street, Williamsport, Pa.

'99, McHenry, Arthur W., continues his interesting letters respecting the cruise of the U. S. Battleships. They, the new ones, had a strenuous time getting across the equator. By the way, Arthur is on the Battleship Rhode Island instead of the Franklin, as stated in the last QUARTERLY, and for the very good reason that there is no Battleship named the Franklin.

'99, Clayburger, Harry, has signed with the Roanoke, Virginia, Base Ball Association and will play this season with that club.

'99, Stackhouse, Bertha, now Mrs. Chas. L. Lewis '94, lives in Los Angeles, Cal. They were married Oct. 25, 1905, at Shickshinny and left the same day for Los Angeles where Mr. Lewis had been located for some time. Mrs. Lewis is visiting friends in Shickshinny and vicinity and expects Mr. Lewis to join her some time this month, April. The Normal confidently expects a call from them.

'99, Keeler, Ray B., who has been employed at Kingston, N. Y. will open a jewelry store at Benton, Pa, on or about April 1st. Ray is a careful and skilled workman, and his experience in a large jewelry house for a number of years has, no doubt, made him an expert.

'99, Carpenter, Prof. Perry A., has charge of the department of mathematics at Genesee Wesleyan Seminary Lima, N. Y. and we know he can manage it. He was married Aug. 14, to Miss Maude A. Bonney of Pulteney, N. Y. The wedding was a very quiet affair, only the immediate families being present. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. W. Sander-son, pastor of the M. E. Church at Addison, N. Y., a brother-in-law of the bride.

'00, Conifer, Clyde and Miss Lulu Dieffenbach of Watsonstown, Pa., were married at the home of the bride's parents, April 17, 1906. They reside in Watsonstown. Clyde is now principal of the Delaware Twp. High School at Dewart, Pa. Preceding his marriage he enjoyed a three years tour of the west and taught one year in Saguache Co., Colorado. He visited most of the gold fields and has had some experience in gold mining. As to experience in copper stock he is silent.

'00, Geddis (Weir) Laura, another lost one, is at 915 N. 11th street, Reading, Pa. She taught school in Williamsport for three years, then married and moved to Reading, where her husband is engaged in railroad business. She is now conducting a kindergarten of her own for a little curly headed boy of almost four. Her husband has had a very flattering offer to go to Panama, and expected to sail March 28th. Mail addressed to Mrs. Weir at Williamsport will reach her. We greatly appreciate her efforts to aid us in finding others of the alumni.

'00, Bontz, Edna C. The Allentown Morning Call of June 19, 1907 has the following:

"Miss Edna Charlotte Bontz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin F. Bontz, of No. 744 North Sixth street, and Ralph I. Hassler, were married at the home of the bride's parents at 6 o'clock last evening, by Rev. A. H. Snyder, of Wilkes-Barre, an uncle of the bridegroom.

The ceremony was performed in the parlors of the home, which had been beautifully decorated for the occasion with a profusion of palms and wild flowers, and where a canopy of blossoms had been erected.

The bride was attended by Miss Lottie Burgess, of Hazleton as maid of honor. Miss Burgess was a classmate of Mrs. Hassler both in the Hazleton High School and at the Bloomsburg Normal School, from both of which institutions the ladies are graduates. The bride was attired in a handsome gown of crepe de chene over white taffeta, and carried a shower of lilies of the valley, while her attendant wore white batiste, and carried a shower of forget-me-nots. Walter E. Hassler, a brother of the bridegroom, officiated as best man.

The wedding march was played by Miss Seip on the violin accompanied by Miss Dundorf, of Womelsdorf, on the piano.

The happy couple left on the Black Diamond Express for Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington and Jamestown, and on their return will reside at No. 236 North Eleventh street, where they will be at home after July 1.

A splendid wedding supper was served the guests following the reception, at which people were present from this city, Hazleton, Easton, Wilkes-Barre, Womelsdorf and other places.

Miss Bontz was formerly a teacher in the public schools of North Catasauqua. She is an active member of Seibert United Evangelical church, in the Sunday School of which congregation she is a teacher. The members of her Sunday School class were guests.

Mr. Hassler is a graduate of Allentown High School, class of 1901, and is assistant chief clerk at the Allentown offices of the American Steel and Wire Company.

'00, Snyder, Ianthé, was married Wednesday, December 20th, 1905, to Mr. Palmer P. Wiand, Williamsport, Pa. The marriage was solemnized by the Rev. Dr. U. Q. Rosselle, pastor of the First Baptist church, of Williamsport, and at his residence. They reside at 626 Lycoming street.

'01, Ridge, Wallace W., is teaching at Centralia, Pa. He occasionally visits Bloomsburg friends.

'02, Cotner, David. The following is taken from one of the Scranton papers:

"Mr. David A. Cotner, of this city and Miss Mame Kisner, of Williamsport, were united in marriage at the parsonage of Rev. Stephen Paulson, pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran church, Williamsport, Pa., on February 19. After a wedding tour to Philadelphia and Atlantic City, they will reside in a newly furnished home at 121 N Bromley Ave., this city.

Mr. Cotner is a graduate of the Bloomsburg State Normal School of the class of 1902, and at present holds a very responsible position with E. I. DuPont DeNemours & Co., of Pennsylvania."

'04, Albertson, H. Elizabeth, of Fairmount Springs and Mr. Herman H. Hess, of Surprise, Nebraska, were married by the bride's pastor, Rev. Philip Thomas at the M. E. parsonage, Wednesday morning, February 12, 1908

'04, Lanning, Harriet L., was married in the First M. E. church, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., at 10 a. m. June 12, 1907 to Mr. Josiah W. Bonham of Wilkes-Barre. Dr. A. E. Piper, pastor of the church, officiated, using the ring ceremony. After their return from a tour to Niagara Falls and Canada, they began housekeeping in their new home on South Main street, Wilkes-Barre.

'04, Albertson, Dr. Charles, (sp. course), is the proud father of a son, born January 20, 1908.

'05, Ruckle, Rose, (sp. course), and Mr. George Ross, of Berwick, were married at Owego, N. Y., Wednesday, February 12 at the home of Mr. George Vannatta, an uncle of the groom. They are at home in Berwick, Pa., where Mr. Ross fills a responsible position at the steel plant.

'06, Piszczek, Stanley, R., is happy and interested in his work at Gettysburg College. In February he was elected 1st assistant editor of the weekly college paper, the Gettysburgian and, according to custom, next year, will be the managing editor of the publication. He has also been elected assistant track manager and next year will be the manager.

'06, Saborido, Rafael. The following is taken from a local paper:

"With his schoolmates almost within arm's reach, Rafael Saborido, of Havana, Cuba, a student at Ursinus Academy, Collegeville, Pa. was drowned while skating on the Perkiomen, at that place Wednesday afternoon, February 5.

Almost all the students of Ursinus College and Academy were skating on the creek, but most of the skaters were farther up, as the ice where the unfortunate student met his death was considered unsafe.

Hardly a minute before he broke through Saborido had been warned of his danger by one of his schoolmates. He skated on, however, into a large airhole.

Several students who were not far away came to his rescue, but the ice was so thin that they were unable to save him. Boats were then brought, and after grappling half an hour the body was brought to the surface, about three yards from where he went down.

Saborido was working his way through the academy and expected to visit his mother in Cuba, whom he had not seen for three years, next summer."

'07, Wendt, Lillian, is teaching the primary school at Shamokin Dam. She has forty-nine pupils ranging from five to fourteen years of age. She is kept busy.

'07, Hess, Derl, is principal of the Sonestown high school and is doing excellent work.

'07, Todd, Genevieve, has been elected to fill the vacancy in the Vine street school, Plymouth, Pa., occasioned by the resignation of Miss Agnes Farrell.

'07, Kline, Pearl, was compelled to resign her school in New Jersey and return home, on account of the illness of her father. Mr. Kline died Tuesday, March 10. The warmest sympathy is tendered Pearl in her bereavement.

Faculty Educational Club.

At a meeting of the Faculty early in the winter term it was decided to arrange a program of educational work to be carried on by members of the Faculty in monthly meetings held for the purpose. Meetings are held on the second Tuesday of each month and the program of each meeting comprises:

1. A maximum of fifteen minutes devoted to a resume of current events of sufficient moment to become a part of permanent history.

2. A maximum of fifteen minutes for a resume of recent publications, a. Books, b. Articles. In each case preference to be given to that which will influence our work—a permanent committee of six under a chairman being named to shape the work for each meeting.

3. One hour to be devoted to the theme—"Ideals, Hindrances and Limitations of the work of our School's Departments," by the Heads of Departments or others appointed by them.

The following appointments for the present year have been made:

1. Tuesday, February 11, 1908. Current Events, Prof. Sutliff, Miss Good. Our Principal's Ideal for our School, Dr. D. J. Waller.

2. Tuesday, March 3. Current Events, Prof. Bryant, Miss Burge. Pedagogical Department, Prof. Bakeless.

3. Tuesday, April 14. Current Events, Prof. Chase, Miss Waldron. Department of English, Prof. Foote.

4. Tuesday, May 12. Current Events, Miss Letson, Miss Harris. Department of Classical and Modern Foreign Languages and Literature, Prof. Dennis.

5. Tuesday, June 9. Current Events, Miss Bogenrief, Mr. Rarig. Department of Mathematics, a. Elementary, Prof. Sutliff. b. Higher, Prof. Wilbur.

6. Tuesday, Sept. 15. Current Events, Miss Leaw, Prof. Goodwin. Department of Physical Sciences, Prof. Cope.

7. Tuesday, Oct. 13. Current Events, Prof. Foote, Miss Dickerson. Department of Biology and Geology, Prof. Hartline.

8. Tuesday, Nov. 10. Current Events, Miss Muth, Mr. Shambach. Departments of Geography, and History and Civics, Prof. Albert, Prof. Chase.

9. Tuesday, Dec. 10. Current Events, Prof. Rockey, Miss Carpenter. Departments of Music and Fine Arts, Miss Waldron, Miss Leaw.

10. Tuesday, Jan. 12, 1909. Current Events, Miss Tuttle, Miss Frisbee. Physical Training and Manual Arts, Prof. Bryant, Prof. Hartline.

Much interest has been shown in the meetings already held, and much profit and pleasure is anticipated from the new departure.

Literary Societies.

The literary societies are now fully settled in their new halls. Both societies have done themselves great credit in the selection and arrangement of equipment for their halls. Few literary societies have better accommodations. Old members who visit the school will open their eyes in wonderment at the beautiful new homes in which the societies are now located. These new halls cannot fail to stimulate the members to do their best work.

PHILOLOGIAN.

The Philos are happy now in that their hall is pleasantly furnished, has been appropriately dedicated, and no large indebtedness is on hand. Even with additional furnishings soon to be selected, the society expects to be free of debt at the end of this term.

The literary work is proving of much interest. A miscellaneous private program is given each Saturday evening. The annual series of debates is now approaching the finals. This year three prizes have been offered in this work to the winners as follows :

First prize, $5.00.

Second prize, $3.00.

Third prize, Society Class Pin.

The drama, The Valley Farm, which was given the latter part of last term, was a great success. Never at one of their public programs or dramas have the members been greeted by a more crowded house.

Aside from miscellaneous public programs the society is planning two special public entertainments, one a mock trial, the other, a musical entertainment by the young ladies, which may be called "The Rainbow Girls." In this something original is promised the public. Miss Letson is to have charge of the vocal music, Miss Honsel of the piano, while Miss Eshleman will train the young ladies in the steps.

Plans are now under way for binding the "Philo Weekly Advance" that the copies may be preserved in the society archives. It is also hoped that the old copies of "The Acorn," published years ago, can be secured and bound as a society relic.

Stanley Piszczek, a former president, now a student at Gettysburg College, recently visited the society and made an inspiring address in which he placed high value on the training which the literary societies afford.

Those who are acquainted with Mr. A. E. Keiber, so prominent on our debating teams a few years ago, will be interested to know that he was chosen this year as one of the debaters on the Lafayette College team against Gettysburg. Though his team was defeated, he showed himself to be a strong opponent. The Philos are delighted to see their members taking prominent places in the literary work of other schools.

CALLIE.

Members of the Calliepiean Society worked hard to have their hall completed fully for the dedication on February 22, the time of their annual reunion. This was done, and a pleasing dedicatory service was held in which addresses were made by Dr. Waller, and President Schoch of the Board of Trustees.

The drama, "Ingomar the Barbarian," was very successfully rendered the evening of the reunion, and added a neat sum to the society funds.

The literary work of the society is progressing very satisfactorily. Aside from the weekly miscellaneous program, a series of debates is in progress. The interest in these is keen, and is becoming more so as the finals approach.

Aside from other public programs, it is expected that another drama will be given in the near future.

Religious Organizations

Y. W. C. A.

The regular term reception to new students was held Saturday evening, March 28th, in the Gymnasium. Both religious societies united in extending to the new students a cordial welcome.

Dr. Waller has kindly offered to the Y. W. C. A. the little room back of the old parlor. This will be furnished by the members, and it is believed that its use will add materially to the progress of the association.

The State Conference was held this year in Philadelphia, Feb. 13 to 16. Miss Gertrude Hobbes was sent as a delegate, and she brought back much of the spirit and enthusiasm of the conference. Her report was excellent.

The summer conference will be held at Mountain Lake Park, Aug. 28 to Sept. 6, instead of at Silver Bay as heretofore. This change was made necessary because of the great number of delegates who flocked to Silver Bay. The eastern states will hold their conference at Silver Bay, while Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Ohio and West Virginia will go to Mountain Lake Park. This Park is a beautiful place along the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. Plans are being made to have socials in the gymnasium, as heretofore, for the purpose of raising funds to send delegates.

The Bible Bands are progressing satisfactorily. There are now six bands under the general charge of Miss Bogenrief. A student teacher is at the head of each class. At the present there are in all about seventy girls enrolled in these bands.

The two mission classes are full of interest. Prof. Sutliff's "Home Missions" class has lively discussions on the important questions of the day which touch this work. Prof. Hartline's class is studying Japan and Korea. In this class discussions are given by the members, and in addition to these, Prof. Hartline gives illustrated talks on the people, their customs, etc. These add much to the interest of the work.

The new officers, who have recently been installed, are as follows:

Vice President, Nora Geise.
Secretary, Kathleen Major.
Treasurer, Marion Parker.

Y. M. C. A.

Under the direction of the Y. M. C. A. there are now five Bible bands in progress, while a new band will soon be formed to accommodate the new students coming in this term. These bands are studying the life of Paul. Once each month all meet in the Chapel to listen to a talk on Bible history given by Dr. Waller.

The missionary meetings are held every two months. The plan of these meetings is to have one student discuss the early life of the missionary under consideration, and another student discuss his later life. A professor is selected for each meeting to summarize the ground covered.

It is expected that State Student Secretary, E. E. Bonar, will be with us June 8th.

This year it is hoped that six delegates can be sent to Northfield. Strenuous efforts will be made to raise sufficient funds for this number. Of course the annual game of base ball between the Y. M. C. A. and the Faculty will be held, and will contribute much to these funds. This game is becoming one of the features of the spring term of school.

Mr. Robert Johnson, the newly elected president, is now planning the association work for his term of office.

Athletics.

The chief athletic event of the winter term was the gymnastic exhibition given on March 13. It was undoubtedly one of the best ever given by the school. Patrons residing near the school are apt, as one remarked, to grow critical and to remember only the best features of many former exhibitions and to unconsciously group these into an ideal entertainment of the past. In spite of this the comments of approval were numerous and hearty. The usual sized crowd packed the gymnasium to its fullest capacity. All were delighted with the grace and accuracy of the various drills. The class contests were won by the seniors.

The close of the Basket Ball season was followed by a banquet tendered by the school to the team and management. After a fine repast remarks were made by Dr. Waller, Manager Watkins, Captain Erikson and Profs. Bryant and Sutliff. The election of a captain for next season followed. William Savidge of Turbotville was the unanimous choice of the team. He was one of the best attacks of this year's team and played in every game of the season.

BASE BALL.

All are now looking forward to the opening of the base ball season. Active practice is well under way. Nearly thirty candidates are out. A dozen of these look like material for a good team. Savidge, Shardin, Pace and Brown are likely to figure in the pitching department. Hess and Morris will probably do the catching. Fisher will again be tried at first. Ash, Mulgren, Fausel, Savidge and Hess will try for infield positions while Shovlin, Dolan, Gordan, Fisher and Maloney will be prominent among those trying for the outfield. Others not mentioned may soon figure so prominently that the prediction of the Locals.

The campus is rapidly putting on its spring dress of green.

—o—

The local fishermen, Cope, Goodwin, Hartline, et al. are now conspicuous Mondays by their absence.

—o—

"The Civic Club will git ye, if ye don't watch out." Mrs. Larabee says that the campus was not intended for use as a waste paper basket.

—o—

Mrs. Dr. Waller accompanied by her daughter Miss Elizabeth, and Miss Laura Waller, formerly of Bloomsburg, are at present abroad investigating the beauties of the Nile. Before their return the party will visit many points of interest in Italy.

—o—

The Biological department has succeeded in securing some very excellent photographs of the live rattlesnakes which form a part of the Biological Zoo. They were secured at no small risk on the part of the investigators and show details of the live rattlesnake in action seldom or never before obtained. These pictures have been copyrighted by Prof. Hartline and form a valuable adjunct to the department's large collection.

—o—

For the past two seasons the Cuban students of the school have maintained a base ball team to represent their island. They have usually succeeded in capturing at least their share of games in contests with local teams. This year the team has been completely equipped with brand new uniforms and presents a very neat appearance. The QUARTERLY wishes them most abundant success.

—o—

The Geological students are much in evidence these fine spring days in their annual attacks upon the physical features of the landscape. The hills and valleys around Bloomsburg are especially rich in material for Geological investigation, of which the department is not slow to take advantage. Many deposits of glacial, mineral and fossil bearing material are readily accessible and field work forms a very important and valuable part of the course of study in this subject at this school. A very popular trip is the one taken every spring to the top of Catawissa mountain. A number of students also, take advantage every year of the opportunity, always afforded by Prof. Hartline, of visiting more distant and less readily accessible points, notably the primeval forests and glens of the North Mountain

—o—

Prof. Albert's collection of exhibits for the teaching of Industrial Geography, already the largest collection of the sort in the possession of any similar school, has been further augmented since our last issue by the receipt of a large number of specimens from the exhibit at the St. Louis Exposition showing the products of Japan and the Philippine Islands.

Not the least interesting feature of Prof. Albert's collection, by the way, is a case containing samples showing each individual step in the manufacture of a modern shoe. This particular collection forms the text of an extremely interesting and instructive talk on Industrial Geography by Prof. Albert, which has been in great demand by various institutes during the past year.

Society rivalry afforded an amusing opportunity to study effects in the combination of colors during the winter term. The night before the dedication of Philo hall in the new building last November, some of the loyal Philos' fearing that the recently erected line of electric light poles along the walk might suffer for lack of paint during the winter weather, took occasion to decorate the same with a liberal application of Philo blue. Along in February the Callies, equally desirous of protecting the same poles, decided another coat of paint was necessary. Entirely by accident, of course, the local painter furnished a yellow paint for this purpose. Desiring to correct the mistake the painters of the first part obtained more paint of the original blue and followed hard upon the heels of the party of the second part.

The painting of the poles by both parties took place when the absence of solar rays rendered inspection of results impossible. Rumor has it too, that the application of both shades of paint was not strictly confined to the aforesaid poles. At all events the morning sun revealed a sight that brought consternation to both painters yellow and painters blue. A line of poles not yellow and not blue, but vivid green adorned the campus and scarcely before turpentine had ceased to be a popular cosmetic with certain of the society boys the official painter of the school had closed the incident by coating the now well painted poles with a sombre tint of black.

The Lecture Course.

The Students' Lecture Course presented this year by the school has maintained its well known reputation, as a glance at the list of entertainments shown below will prove. That the efforts of the school in this direction are appreciated is evidenced by the constantly increasing attendance. The numbers of the course were :

Feb. 4th, Laurant the Magician.

Feb. 11th, Kaltenborn Concert Company.

March 10th, Judge Ben Linsey.
("The Kids' Judge.")

May 2d, Hcn. J. R. Wendling.

Orchestra Concert.

The annual concert of the Normal Orchestra was given on the evening of April 3d, and was pronounced by those competent to judge to be a musical event of more than ordinary merit. Unquestionably the best program ever rendered by a local organization, the production would suffer little even in comparison with that of many of the professional organizations which have appeared in the Normal Auditorium.

Under the leadership of Miss Lillian Waldron the orchestra played with a precision and finish that delighted all who attended the concert. With each number so well rendered any criticism other than favorable would be impossible.

One of the features of the evening's program were the soprano solos, "The Rosary," Nevin, and "A Red, Red Rose," Hastings, by Miss Lillian Waldron, accompanied by the orchestra. Miss Waldron possesses a rich soprano voice and the manner and style in which the two numbers were sung completely charmed the audience.

The violin numbers, Concert by de Beriot and Serenade by Kubelik, rendered by Miss Clara Atta Waldron, proved that she is a violinist of marked ability and one that a Bloomsburg audience seldom has the pleasure of hearing.

The only regret in connection with the performance is that more of the music loving people of the community could not have heard this excellently rendered program.

A Successful Year.

"To welcome the coming and speed the parting guest" is ever the traditional duty of mine host, and so it is with us. Scarcely are the commencement farewells spoken and almost before the last high piled load of departing trunks swings round the corner of the campus on its way stationward the work of preparation for the new term has begun. Forward and not backward is ever the outlook.

And yet, a glance at the achievements of the year just closed may not be amiss.

The year just closed, in many respects, has been one of the most successful in the history of the school. The total enrollment of students has exceeded previous figures, the material equipment of the school has been considerably increased and improved, and class room standards of scholarship have been well maintained. The health and discipline of the school have been almost uniformly satisfactory thruout the year, and teachers and students alike may now enjoy the well earned pleasures of the long vacation with a consciousness of a year's work well done.

IMPROVEMENT OF THE GROVE.

The class of 1908 has decided to appropriate its class fund of $350 for the improvement of the grove. A fountain is to be erected on the upper side of the grove. Surrounding this will be a pool with irregular rocky banks where ferns and water plants will be established. The overflow will be conducted down a winding channel with tiny falls and pools, and over the channel will be thrown a couple of attractive rustic bridges. The strictly utilitarian fence will be concealed under a decorative growth of ivy, and the whole grove will be cleared of underbrush and provided with rustic seats and benches. Always an attractive spot, with these improvements the grove will be more than ever one of the pleasant corners of the Normal campus.

The improvements were commenced shortly before the close of school and are already well advanced. The bridges are now in place and most of the necessary excavation and rock work has been completed.

VACATION CHANGES.

Steward Frisbie has already commenced work preparing foundations for the kitchen extension to be built this summer.

The Normal kitchen, in many respects a model in convenience and equipment, is to be still further enlarged and improved to properly accommodate the expected increase in numbers of the coming year. A new and more capacious bake house is to be provided and increased space will be given for the proper washing and storage of dishes. These conveniences, while not much in evidence, are of the greatest importance to the comfort of those who make the school their home, and the action of the trustees in providing for this department is most wise and thoughtful.

The Fall term will open Tuesday, September 8th.

Athletics.

The base ball season of 1908 was one of the most satisfactory in the history of the school. With each player able to meet every test of amateur standing, the team won twelve out of eighteen games. Four of those lost were each decided by a single run and four out of the six defeats were against professional teams of note.

The most noted victories were the games with Louisiana Uni., Susquehanna Uni. and Wyoming Sem. to say nothing of the fact that the three leading teams of the Susquehanna League, Benton, Bloomsburg and Nescopeck were all taken into camp by our boys.

Under favorable conditions two or three of the defeats might have had different results. The boys defeated Benton on July 10, and then going into the southern part of the state played three more games, thus making four games upon successive days. The strain was too severe and each of the last three games were lost by the closest possible margin.

The following is the schedule as played:

On May 23, the most remarkable game of the season was played upon the home grounds, with Susquehanna Uni. as the opposing team. The full nine innings were played in seventy minutes and not an error marred the perfect work of the Normal School boys. Neither team got a man on first until the fourth and not a man passed second until the seventh. The only run of the game was scored by Sharadin, who singled and went to third on a single by Hess. In trying to catch Sharadin at third Gaylor let the ball go through his hands and Sharadin scored.

But thirty men faced Sharadin at the bat in the nine innings, while only twenty-six of our boys batted during their eight.

WYOMING SEMINARY BLANKED.

Great enthusiasm marked the preparations for the game with Wyoming Seminary on May 29. Following a large mass meeting the base ball team, preceded by the Citizens' Band and followed by nearly every boy in school, paraded the town. Returning to the field where a large crowd had gathered, cheers again greeted the team.

The first inning was soon over with each team drawing a blank. In the second Dexter, the Seminary pitcher, had difficulty in locating the plate and Ash and Morris both walked. Sharadin then smashed out a clean two base hit, scoring both Ash and Morris. The next three men were retired.

In the third Metz, the first man up, made a clean single, followed by a hit by Brown. Savidge was out at first while Metz scored. Ash was then hit by a pitched ball and took second on a passed ball. In the mixup Brown attempted to score but was thrown out at the plate. By a clean single Morris scored Ash and went to second on the attempt to catch Ash. He then promptly stole third but got no further as Sharadin's long fly was gathered in by Newhart. In the fifth Metz again came up first and landed for a single, and soon stole second. The next two men were easy outs. Then Ash's single scored Metz and the side was retired when Morris sent a fly to Cooke.

In the sixth Sharadin led off with a single and went to second on a passed ball. Hess was out, Shara-din taking third. A moment later he scored on the catcher's error. This ended the scoring.

In the meanwhile the Seminary players had been making very little progress toward runs. But two men got beyond first base during the entire game, and two hits represents the total of their prowess at the bat.

The University of Louisiana base ball team, after having played Lafayette 1-0, defeating Bucknell, and having had a most successful trip among the colleges of New England, appeared upon Normal Field, June 20. The game was intensely exciting, running to eleven innings before the tie was broken. In the eleventh Ash drove a hot one to the pitcher which he failed to handle. Morris went out but Sharadin singled, putting Ash on second. Hess then came to bat and sent a single past the third baseman, scoring Ash and winning the game with one out.

As a fitting close to one of the most successful base ball seasons in Normal's history the members of the team and several members of the faculty held a very enjoyable banquet Wednesday evening, June 24.

The menu served was an excellent one and included: Pine Apple around mounds of sugar, chicken salad, sliced ham, buttered buns, cakes, coffee, ice cream, nuts and fruit.

Following the banquet in the dining hall, all retired to Dr. Waller's office where the business meeting was held and several addresses made. Those who spoke were: Prof. Sutliff, Prof. Albert, Prof. Cope, Captain Savidge, Manager Grimes and Prof. Bryant. The substance of the talks was the success of the season, the general work of the team as a whole, the good spirit manifested and the hard work and individual sacrifice made by each of the players.

For the ensuing year, Charles Morris was elected captain of the team and Carl Erickson, Manager.

The following players who had not previously been awarded B's, were given them last evening: Hess, Fausel, Keiser, Pace, Brown, Sharadin, Dolan, Metz. The necessary requirements to earn the B's, is that five scheduled games must be played.

Commencement.

The Commencement season of 1908 in many respects was one of the most successful and interesting in the history of the school.

While not strictly a part of the commencement exercises, the recitals given by the Music Department are a regular and most enjoyable feature of the season. The recitals this year were two in number and were held on the afternoons of Thursday, June 11 and Friday, June 12.

The graduates of the department this year are Miss Bessie Dent of Catawissa; Miss Olive Major of Forty Fort, and Miss Lucretia Christian of Bloomsburg.

The recitals were much more successful than in previous years and reflected great credit upon the instructor Miss Burge, who has fully sustained the high standard of excellence attained in this department of the school's work. The programs rendered were of a high order and showed the graduates to be very proficient in technique and expression.

The program Thursday afternoon was given by Miss Bessie Dent, assisted by Miss Sue Toole.

On Friday afternoon the program was given by Misses Major and Christian.

JUNIOR CONTEST IN RECITATION.

The Junior contest in recitation Saturday evening, June 20, drew a fair sized audience who heard some exceptionally able work in elocution and an altogether delightful evening's program. It showed throughout the strength of the department of elocution and reflected credit upon the participants and the school.

The judges, Rev. Edgar R. Heckman, Rev. J. D. Thomas and Rev. E. B. Bailey, experienced no little difficulty in determining the winners, but finally awarded the first prize, a 40 volume set of Shakespeare's works, to Miss Jennie Birth; the second prize, a 10 volume set of World's Best Poetry, to Miss Helen Trescott, and the third prize, a 5 volume set of Natural History, to David Moses.

The program was as follows: March, B. S. N. S. Orchestra; Selection from "Nicholas Nickleby," Charles Dickens, Margaret Oliver; Jimmie Brown's Steam Chair, W. L. Alden, Margaret Willits; The Little Match Girl, Hans Anderson, Reinee Potts; Menuet from E. flat Symphony, Mozart, Orchestra; Hezekiah and the Landlord, Anon, David Moses; Lady Clare, Tennyson, Louisa Corey; The Angel and the Shepherds, Lew Wallace, Hellen Trescott; Idilon, Lack, Orchestra ; Lily Servosse's Ride, Tourgee, Jennie Birth ; The Revenge, Tennyson, Horace Washburn ; Sarabande, Bohm, Orchestra.

BACCALAUREATE SERMON.

Commencement week proper was inaugurated Sunday afternoon, June 21, when the baccalaureate sermon to the graduates was preached by Dr. David J. Waller, principal of the school.

An audience that comfortably filled the auditorium was present when the graduates entered and took seats directly in front of the stage.

Following a hymn by the audience and prayer by Dr. G. H. Hemingway, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Dr. Waller delivered the sermon to the graduates. "Faces and Hearts" was the theme, based on Second Corinthians 4: 6. "For God who commanded light to shine out of darkness hath shined in our hearts to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ."

It was an earnest, forceful sermon and one that held the undivided attention of the audience until the end. Pregnant with thought calculated to prove of profit to the graduates in afterlife, it made a particularly deep impression by reason of the fact that the words were spoken by their principal whom they all love, honor and respect.

MIDDLE DRAMA.

"The Lady of Lyons," a play in five acts and numerous scenes, was presented in the Normal auditorium Monday evening, June 22, in the presence of an audience that entirely filled the large auditorium.

The play was well staged and elaborately costumed.

One of the most delightful features of the evening's entertainment was the musical program by the Normal orchestra.

The class colors, red and blue, were used advantageously in the decorations of the auditorium, festoons of red and blue being draped around the gallery, while the class numerals in the class colors, were suspended from the top of the stage.

The play called for considerable histrionic ability and the work of the cast showed they had studied their parts faithfully.

Claude Melnotte, Kenneth C. Ikeler ; Colonel Damas, Joseph B. Gordon ; Beausant, Michael J. Egan ; Glaris, William Savidge ; Monsieur Deschappelles, George Williams ; Landlord, Horace Washburn ; Gasper, Chester McAfee ; Captain Gervais, 1st officer, Chester McAfee ; Lieutenant Dupont, 2nd officer, Wm. Savidge ; Major Desmonlius, 3rd officers, Leroy Callender ; Notary, Leroy Callender ; Servant, Leroy Callender ; Pauline, Mary Edwards ; Madame Deschappelles, Anna Kuschke ; Widow Melnotte, Ruth Gleason ; Marion, Estella Marcy.

FIELD DAY SPORTS.

The annual Field Day Sports were held Tuesday morning, June 23. A full report of the contests appears in the Athletic columns of this issue. One school record, the Base Ball throw, was broken by Morris '10, who held the record made last year:

IVY DAY EXERCISES.

Forming two by two, each carrying an orange and blue pennant and joined by long chains of daisies, the class of '08 marched to the lower campus Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, where a most appropriate Ivy program was rendered.

DR. WALLER GAVE GOOD ADVICE.

Joseph Shovlin, president of the class, acted as chairman of the meeting and after a few remarks, called upon Dr. D. J. Waller, who very happily gave some good, sound advice to the graduating class. He congratulated the members of the class upon the success of their efforts and spirit during the time that he has had their acquaintanceship. The class has been a harmonious one and could look back to their days at the Normal with unalloyed pleasure. He told them not to allow the diploma which they would receive to satisfy them, but to use it as a foundation upon which to build higher. The importance of an education is greater now than ever before. Many of the men and women of influence are those with a college education. He urged them to get as high an education as they could possibly attain. In this country you can go as high as you want to in education, it is only a question of determination and sacrifice.

CLASS POEM READ.

The class poem was then read by Miss Martha James, and was an excellent one, giving a brief sketch of the three years' work at the school and many pleasant occurrences.

IVY ORATION GOOD.

The Ivy oration, by Merrill Smith, was a carefully prepared and well rendered production.

Prof. Sutliff was then called and gave a very practical talk which was well received. He stated that he had nothing personal to say of the class of 1908, and that he had no degrees to offer as is often done in the colleges, but he had a choice variety of advice to give. The Ivy typifies many things and he expressed a wish that the class of 1908 might have many heads that a crown of Ivy might adorn in future years.

JAY GRIMES READ WILL.

The class will was well gotten up and was read by Jay Grimes. He bequeathed everything the class owned to different persons at the school, including the faculty. He referred to the money which had been left by the class for the re-modelling of the grove and making it into a handsome park.

Following the Ivy song by the class, the Ivy was planted along side of the building by Joseph Shovlin.

CLASS REUNIONS.

During the afternoon of Tuesday, June 23d, well attended reunions were held by the classes of '83, '93, '98, '03 and '06. Detailed accounts of these reunions appear in our Alumni columns.

1908 CLASS NIGHT.

Before a large and appreciative audience of parents and others interested in education, the Class Day exercises of the class of 1908 held in the Normal auditorium, Tuesday evening, the 23d, proved to be one of the best and most appreciated numbers on the Commencement program.

The stage was beautifully decorated with large palms and numerous bouquets of cut flowers, while stretched across the front of the stage was a black banner upon which were inscribed the words, "Facta non verba," the class motto, translated, deeds, not words. Around the gallery was a black strip of bunting upon which hung numerous orange and blue pennants and festoons of orange artistically draped around the gallery.

CLASS MARCHED IN.

While the Normal orchestra was playing a selection the graduating class marched into the room two by two, the officers of the class and those participating in the program taking seats on the stage while all others occupied seats in the front part of the auditorium. President of the class, Joseph Shovlin, then gave the President's Address in which he extended a hearty welcome to all present. After paying a glowing tribute to the principal, Dr. D. J. Waller who is held in the highest esteem by the student body of the school, and to the school as a whole, he bade farewell to the faculty and classmates. In closing he referred to the three years spent at the Normal and the work of training the child, which profession most of them had chosen.

Miss Dent, accompanied by Mr Azpiazu, rendered Mendelssohn's Concerto on the piano, which showed her to be a skillful musician.

The Class History was very ably given by Miss Margaret Johnson. She began the history three years ago when they bade farewell to home and parents and started out to learn the great truths of life. The work of the three years was very carefully brought out showing the class, in the estimation of its own members, to be the best and most brilliant ever graduated from the Bloomsburg Normal School. The members of the class, she stated, would never forget the faithful efforts of the teachers, and that the class would always endeavor to raise the standard of the school.

Miss Martha Herring gave an excellent essay on the work of Burbank, possibly the most successful experimenter in the agricultural line, who ever lived.

The Senior Chorus then sang an evening song which was much appreciated, each of the parts being well taken.

The future destiny of the illustrious class of 1908 was then predicted by Miss Mary Morrow who stated that while on her way home late one dark night, she met a Will O' the Wisp, which led her to the edge of a great forest where a great number of them were playing in the trees. Finally they began to throw chips of bark down and upon picking them up she found that each contained the destiny of one of the members of the class of 1908 written in bright shining letters and the inscriptions she would now read. Judging from the prediction great things may be expected from the members of the class.

The great progress of America, the evils which are going on and how they may be remedied, was the substance of a very able oration by Darwin Maurer.

Francesco Petrilli then gave an excellent clarinet solo, Pierne Canonetta.

The Class Memorial was presented to Dr. Waller by Miss Mary Fegley. She stated that the primary purpose of any memorial is to be remembered by others in after years. In behalf of the class she stated that as they had received much from the school they felt like giving something in return and had decided upon giving $350 for the purpose of transforming the Normal grove into a beautiful park. The old trees are to be cut down, a fountain erected and many other changes made which will add to the beauty of the place.

The money was handed to Dr. Waller who responded in a few words thanking the class in behalf of the trustees for the gift. He stated, however, that it was not necessary for the class to make such a gift for the purpose of being remembered for they had just begun to be known, and that they would be remembered not by what they had left here, but by what will be done in years to come.

The class presentations were made by Miss Reba Breisch and Thomas Francis. The prizes were very appropriate and created much amusement. One of the most interesting features of this part of the program was a short address in the German and Italian languages by Francesco Petrilli.

The exercises ended with a class song by the Senior Class, the words of the song having been written by Miss Agnes Burke, a member of the class.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

"The best laid schemes o' mice an' men Gang a'ft a-gley.

—Burns.

The truth of this was practically demonstrated at the Commencement exercises of the Bloomsburg State Normal School, Wednesday, June 24th.

All the exercises incident to Commencement week had been successfully carried out during the preceding days as arranged, and despite the sweltering weather an audience which nearly filled the large auditorium assembled Wednesday morning to witness what was to be the last of the public exercises and hear the Commencement address which was to be delivered by President G. Stanley Hall of Clark University, one of the most prominent educators in the country, and an orator and public speaker of recognized ability.

About an hour before the time fixed for the exercises to begin, however, Dr. Waller received a telephone communication from Dr. Hall stating that he had missed train connections and was stranded at Wilkes-Barre and could not possibly get here before 12:30 p. m., which would mean that it would be one o'clock before he would be able to get to the school. To keep the large audience waiting all this time under present weather conditions was simply out of the question, and hence it was decided, after telephonic communication with several of the ministers and consultation with trustees, to go on with the exercises, and the result proved that it was a wise decision, as it was the consensus of the opinion of those who have been attending these exercises that it was one of the most successful and helpful and entertaining in the thirty-nine years of the life of the school.

The graduates entered the auditorium to music rendered by the Normal School Orchestra and took seats immediately in front of the stage.

Prayer was offered by Rev. W. M. Tinker, who with Revs. Hemingway, Heckman, Byers, Bailey and the trustees, occupied seats upon the stage.

After an overture, "Spring Song" by the orchestra, Dr. Waller stated that the school was so endeared to the hearts of the people of the community that no emergency had ever arisen but that there were friends ready to respond to the need of the hour. He then informed the audience of the fact that Dr. Hall would not be present to deliver the Commencement address as expected, and also the cause of his not being here, but that several of the ministers of the town had kindly come to his assistance and rescue. Before presenting the graduates with their diplomas he explained in a brief and clear manner the law of the state governing the issuance of the same, which was copied from the laws of England. The certificate which is given the graduates is a license to teach two years. At the expiration of that time the teachers present a certificate signed by the school board by whom they have been employed certifying as to their moral character and the fact that they are proficient teachers. This is signed by the county superintendent, endorsed by the state board of examiners and a certificate is issued which gives them the right to teach without any further examination. Seventy-nine such certificates were issued to former graduates of the school who had taught two full annual terms. Dr. Waller also stated that when the school was first organized it was as a literary institute. Subsequently it was changed to a Normal School, its offerings differing from many others, however, in that other departments, College Preparatory, Commercial and Music, were added to the studies for which diplomas were awarded after the completion of the course.

After the diplomas had been given to the graduates of the different departments Dr. Waller called upon Rev. E. B. Baily, pastor of the United Evangelical Church, who said in part that while he was sorry Dr. Hall was not here, as the audience would not have the pleasure of hearing a connected discourse, but some disconnected remarks by different ministers, however, there was a Tinker present and he might be able to bring them together and fix them up.

The next speaker was Rev. J. E. Byers of the Lutheran Church, who after congratulating the class upon the successful completion of the course which meant study and work, urged them to go out into the world and be a credit to the institution from which they graduated.

Rev. E. R. Heckman, pastor of the M. E. Church, after congratulating the class upon what they had accomplished said that their class motto, "Deeds, not words," was enough to inspire any one. The people who have amounted to anything in the world were those who had done something and didn't talk about it. Every one could succeed if they were willing to pay the price.

The next speaker was Rev. Hemingway, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, who endeavored to impress upon the minds of the graduating class the fact that the world was a great deal better than many people imagined, and that there was a great many good people in it.

The last speaker was Rev. W. M. Tinker, formerly the pastor of the Baptist Church of town now here spending a few weeks with friends. He said he desired to leave with the one thought and that was that love was the greatest thing in the world. It never fails. Everything else does. It has been the keynote to the success of the lives of many prominent men.

What we get out of life depends entirely upon what we put into it.

Dr. Waller closed the speaking by stating that the happiest thing manifested during the exercises was not the fact that the Bloomsburg ministry was composed of able men as was proven by their addresses, but the fine feeling which was manifested by their responding so willingly to his request for aid. He said if it had been planned, the exercises could not have been arranged better, and he was satisfied he expressed the opinion of the audience.

The exercises closed with the benediction.

THE ALUMNI BANQUET.

Very elaborate was the Bloomsburg State Normal School Alumni Banquet held in the dining room of the school on the afternoon of Commencement Day. An exceptionally large number of the alumni were present and all spent an enjoyable afternoon.

The toastmaster for the occasion was Granville J. Clark, a member of the class of '83. He fully demonstrated his ability and made some very appropriate remarks, two of his epigrams being, "Leisure is the spare time that women have to do other's work," and "Money talks—I never had a dollar yet that did not say Good-Bye." In responding to the toast "The Class of '83," he stated that of a class of 38 members, 5 have died and of the 33 members living, 18 were present.

Prof. G. E. Wilbur spoke in a happy vein as usual, speaking upon "The Secret of Perpetual Youth." There is no secret of perpetual youth, he stated. It is in the heart and soul. It enables us to get above the cares and come into contact with the young hearts.

"Our Decennials, the class of '98," was very ably responded to by Mr. Williams, a member of the class. He stated that of the 161 members of this class at the time of graduation, 90 are still teaching.

Dr. Waller spoke upon "My Old Girls," and Prof. Sutliff upon "The Faculty," Both addresses were very good and much appreciated.

"Naughty Eight," the baby or youngest class in the association, was then discussed by Mr. Maurer.

ALUMNI MEETING.

In the absence of the president, Geo. E. Elwell, who was attending a reunion at Trinity College, the vice president, Dr. D. J. Waller, Jr., called the meeting to order promptly at one o'clock.

The minutes of last year's meeting were adopted as read.

Upon motion the members of this year's class were admitted into membership of the Alumni without dues.

Prof. Jenkins, as chairman of the financial committee, read his report in which he stated that all moneys which were on hand had been evenly divided between the Philologist and Calliepan Literary Societies as per motion of last year. The report was adopted.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Geo. E. Elwell; vice president, Dr. D. J. Waller; corresponding secretary, G. E. Wilbur; recording secretary, S. J. Johnston; treasurer, H. G. Supplee; executive committee, Prof. O. H. Bakeless, Prof. C. H. Albert, Miss Eva Rupert, Mrs. L. P. Sterner, and Mrs. J. G. Harman.

Alumni.

The QUARTERLY desires to hear from all Alumni of the institution. Please consider this a personal invitation to let us know all about yourself and all you can tell us concerning your classmates. Address all communications for this department to G. E. Wilbur, Lock Box No. 203.

John, Dr. David C., professor of chemistry, physics and physiology in the Normal School in 1868-69, is now a superannuated member of the Wisconsin Conference with a residence at Omaha, Nebraska. Dr. John since leaving Penna. has been the founder and principal of a Western Normal School, president of a Western College, and of a University at Atlanta, Ga. Truly his life has been one of activity and usefulness, and he has earned a well deserved rest, but we are sure that his days, so far as health permits, are still devoted to the cause of christianity and education.

'67, Waller, David J., Jr., accompanied by his son Robert and daughters Margaret and Harriet, left on June 27 for England where they will meet Mrs. Waller, Miss Elizabeth Waller and Miss Laura Waller, who have been spending the last four months traveling in European and African countries, and together they will spend the summer months in England, returning to Bloomsburg in time for the opening of the fall term of Normal. The party anticipates spending the greater part of their time in rural England, remaining a week or two in various parts of the country,

'67, Elwell, Geo. E., attended, this year, the Commencement at his Alma Mater, Trinity College, Hartford, Conn. Among the other events was the 25th anniversary of the connection of Dr. Luther, a classmate of Mr. Elwell, with the College. For the past four years he has been president and prior to that a member of the faculty. A large number of the Alumni were present. G. Edward Elwell, Normal '05, was passed this year, with honors, to the senior class in that institution.

'97, Mellick, Leoni, one of the prominent members of the Philadelphia Bar, presided over the Yale Alumni Banquet at Philadelphia, at which William H. Taft was the principal speaker.

'71, Buckingham (Biddle) Agnes was located in the last issue of the QUARTERLY in Scranton, Pa., but since then Dr. Biddle has received and accepted an urgent and imperative call to resume his duties as superintendent of the Miners Hospital at Fountain Springs, Pa.

'72, Harman, David A., has been unanimously reelected superintendent of Hazleton City Schools. He has been at the head of the Hazleton schools for twenty-four years and to all intents and purposes is as young and vigorous as ever.

'73, Monroe, Will. (sp. course).

The Springfield Republican has this to say about Prof. Will S. Monroe of the Westfield (Mass.) State Normal School :

"Announcement is made by the State Board of Education of New Jersey of the election of Will S. Monroe of the Westfield Normal School as head of the department of psychology and history of education in the new State Normal School at Montclair. Mr. Monroe has been in Westfield for twelve years and through his activities and personal acquaintance with noted educators at home and abroad the Westfield Normal School has been visited by many educational representatives. Some of the noted foreign educators of England, France, Germany, Norway, Sweden, South America, Japan and Australia have visited the Westfield School because of a personal acquaintance with Mr. Monroe or from familiarity with translations of his extensive writings. His record has been one of almost ceaseless activity, for aside from his school work he has written numerous books and delivered scores of lectures. During the coming summer Mr. Monroe is to be a member of the faculty of the University of Chicago."

'74, Clark, H. Bruce (sp. course) has been elected treasurer of the Trustees of the Normal School to fill the vacancy caused by the death of his father, Henry J. Clark, who has filled the position for many years. Bruce has also been elected a director of the Bloomsburg National Bank. Both positions are well merited and will be well filled.

'75, Creasy, Wm. T. We clip the following from a local paper :
Susquehanna University, at its recent Commencement, conferred the degree of A. M. on Hon. William T. Creasy.

Mr. Creasy was slated for a speech at the recent Commencement exercises, but was unable to be there. Evidently the University authorities were planning the conferring of the degree as a little surprise to the "Farmer" but circumstances prevented. With or without titles, Mr. Creasy is a mighty useful member of society, a fact that no one will gainsay.

'76, Welsh, Dr. J. P., attained signal success in his administration as Vice President of the affairs at State College. He has now been made Dean of the Faculties of the College, and "it goes without saying" that he will fill this responsible position acceptably.

'76, Pohe, J. R. (Sp. Course) recently celebrated his twentieth anniversary as a representative of the Prudential Insurance Company. Mr. Pohe is now superintendent of the Sandusky, Ohio, district, and one of the company's best representatives. He started as an agent at Milton and was later transferred to Sandusky.

'77, Kisner, Jacob C. is one of the leading physicians of Carlisle, Pa. He is honored as well for his social qualities as a man and citizen as for his skill as a physician.

'80, Barton, Dr. Edith, of Scranton, Pa., applied herself so assiduously to her profession as to approach dangerously near to a complete break-down. She has been for some time at the home of her parents in Lime Ridge, Pa., and is now fairly on the way to a complete restoration to health.

'80, Kitchen, (Prutzman) Celeste, in some unaccountable way, was located in the last issue of THE QUARTERLY at Frackville, Pa. This was an inexcusable blunder. The editor hereof places it upon the typo and the proof reader. Celeste is at Brookside Farm, Trucksville, Pa., R. F. D. No. 1, and is the Secretary of the Class of '80.

'81, Sharpless, H. F., moved from Pueblo, Colorado, to Seattle, Washington, January 1, 1907, now residing at 1320 Terry Avenue, Seattle. Mr. Sharpless is vice president and manager of the Carstens & Earles Incorporated Company, engaged in the construction of houses and handling of bonds and mortgages.

'81, Shive (Wolf) Mary (sp. course) died Wednesday, April 8, in the Joseph Ratti Hospital, Bloomsburg, where she had been admitted while suffering from strangulated hernia. During recent years she had resided with her husband on a farm at Esther Furnace, Col. Co.

'81, Morgan, H. L., one of the most popular and successful teachers in the Scranton City Schools, got Commencement and a Royal Arcanum picnic slightly mixed. He however, recovered himself sufficiently to reach Bloomsburg, Wednesday afternoon where he was warmly greeted by his many friends both in the school and town.

'82, Rogers (Peck) Carrie, now of Susquehanna, Pa., greatly enjoyed a visit to the Normal School during Commencement Week. A daughter, Evalyn, was a member of the graduating class.

'83, Karschner, Rev. Lloyd W., is now located on the Maple Grove Charge in the Wyoming Conference of the M. E. Church. P. O. address Pike's Creek.

'83, Brindle, E. R., conducts a real estate, insurance and broker business in Freeport, N. Y. His offices are No. 7 Brooklyn Ave. He greatly regretted his inability to be present at the reunion of his class.

CLASS OF '83 REUNION.

As early as July, 1907, members of class of '83, began corresponding regarding their 25th anniversary reunion. In the January, 1908 QUARTERLY a bulletin of responses from all the members was published. In May Miss Helen T. Burnett and Charles R. Powell of Scranton, sent a joint letter to every member and about same time, Mrs. Sallie McGuire Hibbs of West Pittston, Mrs. Abbie Leonard Ashley, Miss Ella J. Nicely, D M. Hobbes and G. J. Clark of Wilkes-Barre also sent a joint letter. These letters were followed by a postal card, to-wit :

WRIT OF SUBPOENA.

To the members of the Class of '83,
B. S. N. S.

Setting aside all manner of business and excuses whatsoever, you and each of you are strictly commanded and required to be and appear in your own proper person, in Institute Hall at the State Normal School at Bloomsburg, Pa., at two o'clock in the afternoon, on Tuesday, June 23, 1908, there to join in the twenty-fifth anniversary reunion of your class. Hereof fail not, under penalty of everlasting regrets, inflicted in the court of memory, by the recollection of days gone by.

Bene excepturi sunt conjuges.

Progeniem vestram admitti potest.

Legite ! Contemplamini ! Animum advertite !

By order of the Class,
May 28, '08. G. J. CLARK, Scribe.

At two o'clock in the afternoon on 23d June, 1908, the reunion was held in Institute Hall in the room where Professor Wilbur taught the class of '83. 33 of the 38 members of the class are living and 18 were present. A very enjoyable afternoon was spent and the occasion was indeed a reunion of "boys and girls," of friends long parted. There were a few observable changes in face and form but none in friendship and spirit. At five o'clock the class picture was taken. At 7:30 p. m. the members of the class were entertained at the pleasant home of Mrs. Louise Hutchison Dillon on Normal Hill and the evening was very enjoyably spent. Letters of regret from absent members were read. Prof. Noetling gave an address. During the evening the following was unanimously agreed to :

1st. That the class of '83 is the best and strongest class in the history of the school.

2nd. That we hold a reunion in five years.

3rd. That each member of the class be an active committee for the next reunion.

4th. That our thanks be given the school management for the opportunity of holding a reunion and the entertainment given.

5th. That in addition to our expressed appreciation to Mrs. Dillon for her kindness and hospitality we accept her invitation to "come again."

On Commencement Day the class of '83 as guests at the banquet occupied a table at the head of the dining room. Mr. Clark of the class acted as toast-master. In responding to a toast Prof. Wilbur intimated that the Class of '83 could not well be improved upon and that its members to a remarkable degree retained the youthful school boy and school girl spirit, as well as looks.

The following members of the class were present :

Wm J. Sanders of Sunbury.

Mrs. Nora Finney Sterner of Bloomsburg.

Mrs. Eva Steck Chamberlin of Lima, Ohio.

Miss Mary E. Whipple of Newark, N. J.

Miss Helen T. Burnett and Chas. R. Powell (and wife) of Scranton, Pa.

Miss Angeline Birs of Carbondale, Pa.

Mrs. Jennie Wells Henderson of Montgomery, Pa.

Mrs. Sallie McGuire Hibbs (and husband) of Pittston, Pa.

Mrs. Abbie Leonard Ashley, Miss Ella J. Nicely, G. J. Clark (and wife) and D. M. Hobbes of Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Ira C. Dietrick of Berwick, Pa.

Peter Fallen of Hazleton, Pa.

L. W. Karschner of Pike's Creek, Pa.

Mrs. Alice Edgar Wilson and Mrs. Louise Hutchison Dillon of Bloomsburg, Pa.

Prof. Noetling, Prof. Wilbur and Dr. Waller attended the reunion as did Miss Martha Vaughn, H. L. Morgan, Mrs. May Wells Creasy, Mrs. Mary Brugler Mercer, Mrs. Jennie McGinnis Moore, Miss May Sharpless and others of previous and subsequent classes.

'84, Hopper, Frank P., was re-elected superintendent of Luzerne County Schools receiving 333 votes out of a total of 386. The salary was raised from $4000 to $5000.

'84, Mansell (McKee) Mary, is practicing Mechano Neural Therapy at 18 Marshall St., Newark, N. J. She has a very lucrative and extensive practice and is remarkably successful.

'84, Albright (Baxter) Ella M. has been visiting her parents in Mifflinburg for the past year after five years' residence in Buenos Ayres. Her husband who is making a year's tour of Europe, Asia Minor and the northern tier of countries of Africa will return to the United States some time during the summer before returning to Argentina. He has been employed by the Argentine Government as agricultural expert and is agricultural editor of the Buenos Ayres Herald.

'85, McHugh, Chas. F., is rapidly gaining the distinction of being the busiest lawyer in Luzerne Co. As an additional variety to his extensive practice he must sit and hear divorce cases occasionally, he being one of the five examiners appointed by the court.

'85, Birch, Rev. T. Bruce, who has received each year while in the Graduate School of the University of Pennsylvania the highest honors, and has completed thirty-four and a-half standard courses when only twenty-four were required, had his thesis accepted and received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy at this commencement.

The subject of the thesis is the "De Sacramento Altaris" of William of Occam (1491). It is the basis for Luther's doctrine of the Real Presence in the Lord's Supper, and other related doctrines are treated in it.

Dr. Birch has been elected to the highly endowed Chair of Philosophy in Wittenburg College, Springfield, Ohio.

'86, Sanner, Rev. Nolan H., is pastor of the First M. E. Church at Ligonier, Pa. He with his wife visited the Normal School May 27. While in Philadelphia he and Dr. Jas. Maurer and wife (Jennie Taylor) and Rev. Marcius W. Kratz and others had a regular old fashioned reunion of former Normal students and swapped stories and incidents of their school days until the wee small hours of the morning.

'86, Leckie, A. E. L., has law offices at 344 D. St. N. W., Washington, D. C. He is the senior member of the firm of Leckie & Fultou, which is one of the most reliable and best known law firms of the national capital. In addition to being a distinguished lawyer he is president of the First Presbyterian Church (the famous Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage's last charge) and has been superintendent of its Sunday School.

'87, Smith, K. Maude, is principal of the Model School and Critic Teacher, taking the place formerly held by Miss Mary R. Harris, '96, who has resigned to accept a position in the Normal School at Shippensburg, Pa.

'88, Bucke, W. Fowler, Ph. D., is principal of the Training School, department of Psychology and History of Education in the State Normal School at Geneseo, N. Y. Dr. Bucke has achieved great success as a teacher.

'88, LaWall, Charles H. We take the following from a local paper: "The February issue of the Faculty of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy contains a very excellent picture and biographical sketch of Prof. Charles H. LaWall whom we claim as a Bloomsburg boy.

The subject of the sketch was born in Allentown in 1871, and came with his parents to Bloomsburg in 1876 when his father took charge of the retail and prescription department of the Moyer drug store. His early education was obtained in the public schools and Normal School in Bloomsburg and in 1888 he registered with Moyer Bros. to learn the drug business.

In 1891 he entered the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and graduated therefrom in 1893. After a brief time in Atlantic City, he accepted a position in the analytic department with Smith, Kline & French Company in Philadelphia.

Since 1901 Prof. LaWall has been an instructor in the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy. In addition to this work, he in 1904 was appointed chemist for the state department of agriculture and in 1907 he was appointed chief chemist of the United States Department of Agriculture, having charge of the inspections of drugs coming into the port of Philadelphia. Prof. LaWall is also a liberal contributor to scientific journals and member of many societies.

'88, Hine, Annie M., spent two or three days in Bloomsburg, early in June, attending, as a delegate, the Epworth League Convention of the Danville District. She found time to give the Normal a very pleasant call.

'88, Patterson, Harry B., is a dentist and is located at 3403 N. 20th St., Phila., Pa.

'89, Apple, Benjamin, formerly County Superintendent of Northumberland Co. is the proprietor of the Sunbury Daily Item, and publishes a live, progressive evening newspaper.

'89, Small, Christian A., the efficient District Attorney of Columbia Co., is a delegate from the Bloomsburg Lodge B. P. O. E to the National Convention of Elks which meets in Dallas, Texas. Chris. left Bloomsburg, June 29, for his long trip. He expects to be absent about one month.

lives in New London, Conn., where her husband is a practicing physician. Mrs. Taylor is active in every good work in her home city and is greatly appreciated. She and her husband were the guests, in May, of the Union Circle of the M. E. Church, when Mrs. Taylor was presented with a sterling silver spoon. Her address is 159 State Street.

'90, Callender, Rev. Clark, has been returned by the Wyoming Conference to Taylor, Pa. His brother Asa Callender, '98, is stationed at Vestal, N. Y. in the same conference.

'90, Brown, Ira S., principal of a business college in Bridgeport, Conn., spent a day or two in Bloomsburg on his way to Iowa for a visit there

'90, Sears (Barbour) Irene S., Chambersburg, Pa., attended Commencement and thereafter spent several days visiting friends in town and vicinity.

'91, Kshinka, Marie. From a Berwick clipping we take the following: "A short session of the Board of Education was held last evening to complete the election of teachers for the High School, all members present. Miss Marie Kshinka, formerly assistant in the Berwick High School, and other grades, was elected teacher of English and Elocution, by a unanimous vote. She is a graduate of Syracuse University, where she completed the 4 years course in 3 years. She has since taught a year in New York State, and is well known and highly regarded in this city, from her previous term of employment.

'92, Nyhart, Harry U., was re-elected Superintendent of schools in Newport township, Luz., Co.

'92, Lagorce, (Streeter) Margaret A., is now settled in Tunkhannock where her husband Stephen D. Streeter has entered into partnership with his father in the furniture and undertaking business.

'93, Penman, Minnie, Gertrude Rinker '98, Clara Furman '00 and Helen Reice '02, all Bloomsburg teachers are taking an ocean trip from New York to Boston.

'93, Eves, Margaret, is teacher of Mathematics in the Ethical Culture School, New York City.

'93, Bowersox, Kate S., left the Carlisle Indian School, where she has been teaching since her graduation from the Normal School, last fall to become the Dean of Women in Berea College, Berea, Kentucky.

'93, Edwards, Wm. D., has gone to Los Angeles, California and will probably remain in that section.

'93, Krout, Jacob H., has been elected a member of the Penna. Historical Society which meets at 1300 Locust Street, Philadelphia in the beautiful building recently erected by the society for its own exclusive use. Mr. Krout has also made rapid advancement in his connection with the P. & R. Railway Co., in the Reading Terminal building.

'93, Williams, (Roderick) Eleanor, lives at 1735 Church Avenue Scranton, Pa. She is the proud mother of three children, a boy of nine and a daughter of seven years are already in training for B. S. N. S. Another daughter, the prettiest in Scranton, is two years old. Mrs. Roderick is a loyal friend of the Normal.

'93, Nichols (Davies) Norma B., resides at 1419 Lafayette St., Scranton, and is the mother of a big boy now two years old.

'93, Fister, Lizzie is a very well liked teacher in the Atlantic City schools.

'93, Thomas, Richard M., a lieutenant in the regular army and at present an instructor at West Point Military Academy denies very emphatically that he is dead. After thorough investigation he declares that it is an unqualified exaggeration. He says that he "did have a close call while in the Philippines, but a miss is as good as a mile." He will be pleased to see any old Normal friends at West Point.

CLASS REUNION 1893.

One of the most delightful reunions held at the Normal this year was that of the class of 1893 held Tuesday, June 24. A large number of the members of the class was back, making the event a pleasant one.

Following is a list of those present: S. J. Johnston, Mrs. Irene Girton Johnston, Emma Cadman, and Minnie Penman of Bloomsburg; Katheryn S. Bowersox, Kentucky; J. W. Miller, Berwick; Lena Straud VanLoon, New York; Margaret Eves, Millville; Mary N. Bogenrief, of the Normal; J. H. Krout, Philadelphia; Bridget Flynn, Shenandoah.

It was decided that at the 20 year reunion a regular program would be rendered.

'94, Yocum, S. C. The following is clipped from a Shamokin paper: The Coal Township school board met last evening and by a vote of four to two elected S. Curtis Yocum superintendent of the schools for a period of three years over Prof. Albert Lloyd, who has been superintendent for the past ten years. The salary is $2000 a year.

Mr. Yocum has been principal of the High School in Coal Township for a number of years and he is well qualified to assume the duties of superintendent. He is a very popular young man and his ascendancy to the rank of superintendent is a well deserved recognition of his ability as an instructor.

Supt. Yocum recently entertained Prof. Dennis in his pleasant home, 723 Packer Street, Shamokin. He has a boy of ten and is greatly interested in taxidermy and mounts birds and animals for recreation.

Mr. Yocnm is secretary of the Shamokin Gun Club and has more than a local reputation as a marksman.

'94, Johns, Rev. Ben. M., is now stationed at Lehman in the Wyoming conference.

'94, Hess, L. Floyd. Brigadier General Hess now, if you please. In the formation of the First Brigade, P. O. S. A. Volunteers, the newest and one of the largest military orders in northeastern Pennsylvania, Floyd was chosen as Commanding General of the brigade composed of regiments in Lackwanna and Luzerne counties. We saw the General some time ago and he bears his honors with becoming modesty and dignity. Brigade headquarters for the present will be in General Hess' law offices in the Bennett building, Wilkes-Barre.

'94, Evans, Wm W., was re-elected superintendent of the Col. Co., schools. The opposition was so slight that the election was immediately made unanimous. Supt. Evans is doing a great work for the schools of the county.

'94, Johnson, Bertha L. We find the following in the Philadelphia Inquirer:

HAZLETON, June 29—A romance that began in the Hazleton High School, when both were students there eighteen years ago, culminated in the wedding of Attorney John J. Kelley of this city, and Miss Bertha Johnson, supervisor of drawing in the public schools of Danbury, Conn., in New York Saturday, when they were married. The couple graduated together and had been lovers since their school days. Attorney Kelly went to Cornell University, and after graduation began the practice of law here. Miss Johnson was for some years a teacher in the schools of Hazleton and left two years ago to become head of the drawing department of the Danbury schools.

'94, Richard, Julia E. (sp. course) was married Wednesday, April 9, at the home of her father, F. J. Richard, on Normal Hill, to Mr. C. M. Frymire of Williamsport. The impressive ring ceremony of the M. E. church was employed by Rev. E. R. Heckman. They are at home in Williamsport, Pa.

'95, Stearns (Tucker) Laura, we take the following from the Wilkes-Barre Record, May 28:

On April 27, 1908, in the hospital at Wilkes-Barre, Mrs. Laura Stearns Tucker of White Haven, yielded up her spirit to him who gave it. Her passing away leaves four young children, her husband and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Stearns, to mourn her loss.

She was born at White Haven, Pa., March 4, 1876. Her education was received in the public schools, and at the Bloomsburg State Normal School. After graduating she, for a time, taught very successfully in the public schools. Nine or ten years ago she was married to Thomas Tucker, who, with their four children, survives her.

In early life she united with the Methodist Episcopal Church and remained an active and consistent member of it until the end of her life. Up to the time when ill health rendered it impossible she did active service in both church and Sunday school.

Her fatal illness was not of long duration but was attended with great suffering. In the hope of restoration she was removed to the hospital, where all was done that skill could do, but in vain. "She fell on sleep," and will not awaken until "He cometh to make up his jewels."

She was a careful and loving mother, a faithful wife and an affectionate daughter. She will be greatly missed also by her large circle of friends.

The funeral services were held on Thursday afternoon, April 30, in the home of her parents, also her late home, at White Haven, and were conducted by her pastor, Rev. M. J. Runyan, assisted by Rev. N. H. Smith '80, who was a former pastor. By their presence at the last sad rites, and by beautiful floral tributes, her many friends bore testimony to their affection for her, and sympathy for the bereaved ones.

'95, Bartholomew, I. A., has been filling a position in the Sunbury High School during the last year. His address is 1245 Highland Ave.

'95, Koerber, Geo A., graduated this year at Lafayette College in the Electrical Engineering course. Among others graduating this year were Harvey Maue '99, Civil Engineering, Wm. J. McAvoy '04, Civil Engineering and Charles L. Albert '03 in Classical Course.

'95, Eves, (Biddle) Edna. We clip from a local paper.

Mrs. J. W. Biddle, wife of the well-known dentist, died at her home in Millville on Wednesday morning, April 15, 1908, at 2:30 o'clock. Death was due to puerperal septicaemia following the birth of a son five days ago. She was aged 34 years, 4 months and 11 days.

The deceased was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chandlee Eves. She was a popular young woman and was held in high esteem by all who knew her. Her death comes as a sad blow to the family, and they have the deepest sympathy of the entire community. She was an active worker in the Society of Friends.

Besides her husband she is survived by a four year-old son, Charles Biddle and the young son just born. Her parents and the following named brothers and sisters also survive: Myron and Edith Eves of Millville; Dr. Carl Eves of Berwick and George Eves a student at the Ann Arbor, Mich., law school.

The funeral was held from her late home on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment in the Millville cemetery.

'96, Knittle Rev. John F., pastor of Redeemer Lutheran Church, Williamsport, Pa., visited in Columbia county in the early summer.

'96, Barton, Harry S., has been appointed treasurer of the reorganized Republican County Committee, and on Monday, June 15, he was presented with a bouncing baby boy. Harry proudly bears the double honors.

'96, Jones, Martha E., was married Wednesday, April 29, '08, to Sidney F. Saums. The ceremony was performed at West Pittston by Rev. J. B. Craven. The groom is employed in the mining offices at Scranton of the Lackawanna Railroad. They reside at 122 Linden Street, West Pittston.

'97, Miller, James M. We take this clipping from a local paper May 11.

"James M. Miller, formerly of Espy, now living at Wellsboro, where he is engaged in the newspaper business, has just had published by the C. M. Clark Publishing Company a novel entitled "A Random Shaft." The novel opens with the fascinating love story of a young officer for a beautiful Southern girl, the scene shifts to the Philippines, and presents the most faithful picture ever drawn of the danger that menaced the life, health and even the reason of our soldiers in those islands. This is a fine story. A book every American citizen should read. Dr. Hower, '81 of Mifflinville, plays quite a prominent part in the 5th chapter of the book."

'97, Swank, Rev. Martin J. St. John's congregation, at St. John's, Luzerne county, which until recently was in connection with the Conyngham parish of the Ministerium of Pennsylvania, has called Rev. Martin J. Swank, ordained at the last meeting of the Ministerium, as its pastor.

'97, Vanderslice, Helen, is on a trip to Panama, where she will spend most of the summer as the guest of her brother, George J. Vanderslice and his wife.

'98, Brennan, Eugene, was a member of the graduating class at Princeton University this year. He secured a fine standing in his class. He intends to practice law.

'98, Swank, Clara M., graduated in the Nurse's Training Course at Penna. Hospital, Phila., and is now Supt. of the Harrisburg Hospital.

'98, Bashore, Charles, a mining and civil engineer, connected with the Beach Creek and Eastern Coal Co., since 1903, is located at Cresson, Pa. He was married Dec. 6, 1906, to Miss Florence N Harding of Pittston, Pa. They have a little baby girl now.

REUNION CLASS OF 1898.

In many respects this class is the most remarkable which ever graduated from the school. With 164 members, it is possibly the largest class which ever graduated there and of this number about 90 are still in the teaching profession at the end of ten years, which also is remarkable.

The banquet was held in room K and was a very informal affair. Elaborate refreshments were served.

The following were present: Mrs. H. Anwyll, Harrisburg; Martha D. Evans, Hazleton; Mary I. Hill, Philadelphia; Nancy Wintersteen, Plains; Mrs. U. Grant Morgain, Bloomsburg; S. R. Pealer, Berwick; Mandilla Hartline, Manayunk; Harlan R. Snyder, Berwick; Auber J. Robbins, Bloomsburg; Jessie Lewis Gilchrist, Hazleton; Laura B. Landis, Rock Glen; Josephine Pursel, Bloomsburg; Gertrude Rinker, Bloomsburg; Harry L. Harman, Hazleton; Bessie T. Easton, Scranton; O. P. Miller, Lewisburg; Harriet Brenneman, Philadelphia; Deborah W. Lewis, Wilkes-Barre; Mabel Hawk Anthony, Glen Lyon; Bessie Millington, Alden Station; Mr. and Mrs. Oliver A. Parfitt, Nanticoke; Ruth A. Lynch, Wilkes-Barre; Minnie M. Shepherd, Wilkes-Barre; U. Grant Morgain, Bloomsburg; C. Alberta Nichols, Wilkes-Barre; Maude Giles, Hazleton; W. H. Williams, Scranton; Ira C. Cherrington, Turbotville.

'99, Oler, A. Esther, is now Sister Clementine of the Order of Sisters of Charity of Seton Hill, Greensburg, Pa. Has been thus located since Dec. 8, 1902.

'99, Fortune (Eves) Margaret, is the proud mother of a daughter, born Feb. 15, 1908. This item, in the last issue of the QUARTERLY, was inadvertently attributed to another Margaret Eves. The QUARTERLY makes its profoundest apologies to both Margarets.

'00, Beagle, Jennie, has been teaching at Pompton Lakes, N. J.

'00, Bogenrief, Mary L. (music) has taught successfully for three years at Wesleyan College, Macon, Ga. She goes next year to Belmont College, Nashville, Tenn., as teacher of Piano-Forte.

'00, Hoyt, Mae. An unusually pretty wedding which took place Wednesday afternoon, June 3, '08, was that of Miss Mae Hoyt, daughter of S. H. Hoyt of Waterton, and William Andres of Wilkes-Barre. The ceremony was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Harry Good of Nescopeck. Rev. Mr. Rose, the bride's pastor officiating.

Promptly at 4 o'clock the bridal party took their places as the organist, Miss Elizabeth Hosking of Scranton, played Lohengrin's Wedding March. They stood under a bower of ferns and roses and were unattended.

The bride is one of Waterton's most esteemed young ladies, being for years an active member of the Methodist Church. She is a graduate of Bloomsburg Normal School and has since been a very successful teacher in our public school, her last work being in the high school at Huntington Mills.

The groom is also widely known in lower Luzerne, having been one of the civil engineers at Mocanaqua until quite recently, when he entered the wholesale confectionery business at Wilkes-Barre.

After an extended wedding trip, including Philadelphia and Atlantic City, they will be at home to their friends at Wilkes-Barre.

'01, Sharpless, Warren, has gone to Charleroi, Pa., where he has entered into partnership with Geo. L. Schuyler, Esq., of that place for the practice of law.

'01, Ridge, Wm. W. We find the following interesting Centralia item. "Monday the schools of Centralia closed for the term. In the afternoon the supervising principal, Prof. W. W. Ridge, was pleasantly surprised, when Miss Lizzie O'Donnell, on behalf of the students, presented him with a fine gold watch fob. The professor made an eloquent speech of acceptance.

'01, Rearick, J. Paul, is a member of the firm of Sheasley & Rearick, dealers in furniture, carpets, rugs, &c., at State College, Pa. Mr. Rearick is the funeral director and embalmer of the firm.

'01, Lams, W. R., is a member of the Sophomore Class at State College. Mr. Lams has made his mark as a debater, having won a position not only on his class debating team but also on the College team.

'02, Lee, Nellie. The Plymouth column of the Wilkes Barre Record says: "Miss Nellie Lee, one of the ablest of the able teachers of the borough, is determined to keep her class up to the highest standard, and will teach them until the end of the present month in order that they may be fully capable of taking the first year in the high school.

'02, Ferris, Martha E. (special course) entered the New England Conservatory of Music in the fall of 1902, and remained until 1905, when she was obliged to leave on account of her health. On Nov. 28, 1907, she was married to Dr. H. H. Long, a dentist of Berwick. She is at home at 554 W. Front St.

'02, Heiss, Chas. A., is a student in the College of Political Science in The George Washington University, Washington, D. C., and expects to secure his degree in June.

'02, Hollopeter, Essene, was married June 9, 1908, in Shickshinny, Pa., to Mr. H. Ernst Martin. We do not have particulars of the wedding. They will be at home after Oct. 1, at 7128 N. Broad St., Phila.

'03, Miller, J. R., has recently accepted a very fine position with the Title Guaranty and Surety Co. of Scranton.

'03, James, Kathryn, has been made a permanent teacher in the city of Scranton after a few years experience in the country.

'03, Rarick, Abraham, has resigned his position as book-keeper for the Scranton Machine Works to become an accountant with the Title Guaranty and Surety Co.

'03, Riland H. Walter, was married Feb. 8, '08, to Miss Anna Burdick of Port Richmond, Staten Island. He lives at Pottsville and is employed by the Eastern Steel Co.

'03, Mac Farland, Laura, holds an important position in the International Correspondence Schools at Scranton, Pa.

'03, Neal, Mabel, (coll. prep.) The marriage of Miss Mabel, daughter of C. W. Neal, of Bloomsburg, and Wright D. Carey, of Wilkes-Barre, took place in the Reformed church, Bloomsburg, Pa., on Wednesday afternoon, April 22nd, at 6 o'clock. Rev. J. D. Thomas performed the ceremony. The church was beautifully decorated with palms and flowers. As the bridal party entered, Miss Grace Housel, '03 played the wedding march from "Lohengrin" With the ushers, Mr Robert Jacobs and Mr. Sutton, of Harrisburg, leading, followed by the bridesmaids, Miss Anna Creasy, '03, of Bloomsburg, and Miss Bell Burr, '03, of Watsonstown; the maid of honor, Miss Marie Funk, '06, of Bloomsburg, and the flower girl, Ruth Hutton, the bride entered the church with her father, C. W. Neal, who gave her away in marriage. As the bride reached the altar she was met by the groom with the best man, Ernest Carey, his brother.

During the impressive ceremony Rubenstein's Melody in F was rendered by Miss Housel, who played Mendelssohn's wedding march as the party left the church.

After the ceremony a reception was held for the relatives, the bridal party, and a few intimate friends. Mr. and Mrs. Carey will reside in Wilkes-Barre, where he is employed by the Gas Co.

'03, Dillon, Max, graduated as an electrical engineer at State College, this year.

'04, Challis, Anna, is director of physical training at Rye Seminary for young ladies.

'04, Hitchcock, Harriet, made a hurried visit to Bloomsburg and the Normal during the Easter vacation. She is teacher of penmanship in the New York City schools and has a fine position.

'04, Eister, A. Bertram is a student in electrical engineering at Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, N. Y.

'04, Boyer, John B., graduated at Bucknell University in June. He was the manager of L'Agenda, the college paper. Mr. Boyer has done fine work in the University making a specialty of science, and mathematics.

'04, Berry, Emma May, was married to Mr. George Oscar Matter on Wednesday, June 17, 1908, at Doraunceton, Pa. They are at home, Duncannon, Pa.

'05, Shambach, Thomas and wife rejoice over the arrival of a baby girl at their home in Bloomsburg. Born Friday, April 11, '08.

'05, Fisher, Claude, was one of the winning Syracuse crew in the recent inter-collegiate boat race at Poughkeepsie.

'06, Wright, Emma (sp. course) was married April 21, '08, to Amos A. Applegate of Pitcairn, Pa.

'06, Anstock, Warren, graduated with high honors from the New England Conservatory of Music at Boston. He stood second in his class.

REUNION CLASS OF 1906.

With about 55 of its members present, the class of 1906 met in the Language department rooms where they enjoyed an elaborate banquet and a general good time. The room was very tastily decorated with blue and red bunting, the class colors, and during the banquet the Normal Orchestra furnished a delightful musical program. This place of meeting was chosen that the members might view the pictures and casts purchased with their memorial fund. The reunion was one of the largest held for some time.

At the banquet the following responded to toasts: Dr. Waller, "1906;" Prof. O. H. Bakeless, "When We Were Young;" Mary Whitman, "Class Colors," an original poem; Prof. G. E. Wilbur, "Tic Tacs," which was very amusing; "Our Alma Mater," Stanley R. Piszczek; Prof. J. H. Dennis, "Status Quo." He thanked the class for the gift of the pictures and casts and outlined his plans with them. "The Future," was the subject of an interesting talk by John E. Shambach.

Christian Associations.

The series of socials given by the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. were very successful. They proved to be very entertaining from the amusement standpoint, and profitable by a financial measurement. About $70.00 was realized. This sum was increased by a gift of $20 from Dr. Waller, by contributions from other members of the Faculty, and lastly, by a neat little sum realized from the annual Faculty Y. M. C. A. baseball game. All told a sufficient sum was realized to make it possible to send to the conference at Northfield and Mountain Lake Park three members from each association. The young men were represented at Northfield by Messrs. Johnson and Bryant; the young ladies at Mountain Lake Park by Misses Hobbes, Cora Major and Kathleen Major. It is believed that these delegates will return full of inspiration and suggestions that will add much to the success of the work next year. It is hoped that the success of the work this year may be repeated next year.

Miss Frisbie has consented to take charge of the good-night prayer meetings of the young ladies, formerly conducted by Miss Letson.

A new desk has been purchased to be placed in the room where the Y. W. C. A. cabinet meetings are held.

Mention has already been made of the Faculty Y. M. C. A. base-ball game from the standpoint of finances, but now the score must be mentioned. Who could have imagined before the game that the old-timers in the Faculty could have trimmed the ball-tossers of the Y. M. C. A. by a score of 7-1? But such was the case. The Faculty presented a combination of players that the frisky Y. M. C. A. fellows could not keep sight of on the score board.

Next year a series of games should be begun early in the season making it possible to net a good sum for the association.

Literary Societies.

PHILO.

The Spring term's work as planned was successfully carried out. The private programs were entertaining, and profitable in a literary way, keeping up a good Society spirit, even though the effects of the hot days were felt, along with the hard work of the closing term of the year.

The series of debates resulted in a selection of the following members as finals: Miss Wilkinson, and Messrs. Watkins and Mather.

It is the intention of the society to give a drama next year for the reunion entertainment instead of engaging an outside company.

The Society feels happy that the debt on the furnishings has been nearly paid. Plans are now entertained for securing a society piano next year, and also a few good pictures and pieces of statuary.

At the election of the next year's officers William Savidge was chosen president.

CALLIE.

The Callies have been happy in their work in their new society hall. Tho the hot weather and hard school work have interfered somewhat with the spring term's work, yet the private programs have been kept up with good success. It is felt that the year has been a very successful one, yes, more than that, it marks an epoch in the Society's history. The Society now has a well furnished home and an enthusiastic membership. There is manifest also a stronger spirit to do good literary work so far as the freedom from school studies permits. All look forward to next year's work with expectations of accomplishing much.

Kenneth Ikeler was elected president for the first term of next year.

Locals.

Vacation.

Mrs. Schoonover is visiting at Codosia, N. Y.

A grateful summer quiet has succeeded the strenuous commencement rush.

Profs. Goodwin and Shambach are visiting with Prof. Chase at his home in Palmyra, N. Y.

Prof. and Mrs. Cope, Mrs. Larabee and daughter Beatrice, and Miss K. Maude Smith are making headquarters for a part of the summer at the Normal.

Prof. B. F. Bryant and family are spending the summer in the woods near Shickshinny. Prof. Bryant is conducting a summer camp for boys at that place.

The householders of the Faculty, Profs. Albert, Dennis, Foote, Sutliff and Wilbur will spend the summer at home in Bloomsburg.

Prof. Jenkins, the busy Registrar will spend part of the vacation with relatives in New York State.

"Patsey," a canine belonging to Dr. Waller, disputed the right of way with a passing automobile shortly after school closed. "Patsey" will not be in evidence hereafter at the school and will be missed by his many student and Faculty friends.

The Fall term of the Bloomsburg State Normal School will open Tuesday, September 8th. Reservation of rooms for the term is now going on and prospective students would do well to get their names in early to secure desired locations.

Prof. Wm. Noetling, for many years the head of the Pedagogical department at this school, was saluted by a number of his former associates and students on the occasion of his seventy-eighth birthday on July 8th.

Prof. and Mrs. Albert, Prof. and Mrs. Cope, Prof. Sutliff and Miss Bell journeyed to Selinsgrove on the date mentioned, and in company with about twenty others from nearby points took their good, old friend by surprise.

A banquet was held at the National Hotel in Selinsgrove at which congratulatory speeches were in order.

As a souvenir of the occasion the party presented Prof. Noetling with a handsome Morris rocker.

Quarterly.

During the summer vacation Dr. Waller's office and the school parlor were remodelled and refurnished. New floors of quartered oak were laid in both apartments and fresh paper and paint applied. Dr. Waller's office with green paper and hangings, and neat and appropriate mission furniture now offers dignified and suitable accommodation for the executive head of our school.

The improvements in the school grove rendered possible by the donation of the 1908 class fund for the purpose have been completed. Prof. Hartline and his corps of assistants are busily engaged in the task of adding plants and shrubs in various places and with the coming of the spring the grove will present a very pleasing and attractive appearance. The long continued dry weather has prevented the flow of water in the neatly banked stream, but the local fishermen are living in hopes (?) of catching trout in the distant future from one or the other of the rustic bridges which span the now dry channel.

Additions made to the kitchen extension during the past summer have transformed the one-time motley group of buildings in the rear of the school to a neat and modern looking structure. Interior changes thus made possible have added increased space for the more convenient and economical preparation and storage of food supplies. The new additions include a bake oven, freight elevator, coal bin and storage room. A complete electric motor equipment will be added in the near future to supersede manual labor in coffee grinding, meat chopping and ice cream making. The whole department is now well arranged for efficient and economical service.

The New Term.

The Fall term opened on Tuesday, September 8th with a goodly enrollment of students who, arriving the day before, had anticipated the regular registration day. Every indication pointed to a successful opening of the school term and with the dawn of Tuesday the real enrollment began. Never in the history of the school have so many students reported for duty in a single day as on this occasion presented themselves to our genial Registrar and his ever busy assistants. Before the arrival of the evening train this first day over four hundred students had registered in the upper school alone and the next morning's chapel presented an unbroken sea of faces from the first row of seats to the very last. Each succeeding day the number has been increased by the arrival of additional students and at the present time all records of attendance for a Fall term have been triumphantly exceeded.

The pleasure of the school community in this successful beginning of the year's work was marred only by the enforced absence of our universally beloved principal.

Dr. Waller, while enjoying a last few vacation days with his family in the north of Scotland, met with a slight accident resulting in a temporarily acute indisposition which could only be relieved by a minor surgical operation. This was performed on the 23d of August in the hospital at Inverness, Scotland. A satisfactory recovery followed promptly and after recuperating a short time in Scotland Dr. Waller sailed from Liverpool in the White Star Liner "Arabic" on October 1, arriving in Bloomsburg October 10. During Dr. Waller's absence the business of the principal's office was ably cared for by Prof. W. B. Sutliff.

Philo Items.

The officers of the Philo society at present are as follows:

President—Harrison Barrow.

Vice President—Marjory Reese.

Recording Secretary—Mary Edwards.

Assistant Recording Secretary—Alice Wilson.

Corresponding Secretary—Anna Kuschke.

Treasurer—Joseph Gordon.

Marshal—Orson Van Nan.

Assistant Marshal—Thos. Moore
Registrar—Edward Adams.

Thus far there have been 83 new members taken into the society this year.

After fully considering and discussing the matter with the Faculty, the Society has decided not to give a home talent drama for the reunion celebration on Thanksgiving Day. A first class company will furnish the entertainment for the evening.

The first public program for the school year was rendered in Chapel on Saturday, October 3, at 8:15 p. m. The program was as follows:

Piano Solo—Frances O'Neil.

Recitation—Genevieve Kenna.

Vocal Solo—Ethel Andrews.

Recitation—Hazel Longenberger

Vocal Duet—Sue Toole and Walter Broadhurst.

Reading—Miss Jones.

Vocal Solo—Anna Monahan.

Philo Advance—Mary Gillgallon

Selection—Girls' Chorus.

A large audience was present and the entertainment was enjoyed by all. The reading given by Miss Jones was an especially noteworthy feature of the program.

The Society work is progressing satisfactorily. The various committees have been appointed which will provide numerous debates and private programs during the winter months.

The Society intends to purchase a piano some time this year.

Callie News.

The first meeting of the Callie-pian Literary Society was held in the handsomely furnished Callie Hall on Saturday evening, September 12, with a large number of the old members present. The president appointed the various committees for the term.

The Society gave a reception for its new members, about seventy-five in number, in Callie Hall, Saturday evening, September 26. An excellent program was rendered and refreshments were served. All had a delightful time. The society has given a program at each weekly meeting, and the debating committee has arranged a series of debates. The public program committee has arranged for a public program to be given in the near future.

There are several newly elected members, and a large number of proposals for new membership coming into the society each Saturday night. The society is looking forth to the annual reunion on February 22, but has not decided definitely as to what entertainment it will have on that day.

Y. M. C. A.

The prospects for a good Y. M. C. A. this year are brighter than ever. With a larger membership than last year and the number of young men interested in Christian work that are here this year, we hope to make the Y. M. C. A. a very important factor in the school life.

The object of any Christian organization is to help win the world for Christ, and we aim to do our share of winning the world for Christ by winning this school for Him.

We recognize that in order to become a worker who is able to bear up his portion of the cross, one must have training in "Spirit, Mind, and Body," and we intend to afford opportunities for training along all three lines.

For the training of the Spirit we have weekly prayer meetings. During the weekly prayer meetings this year we intend having discussed a series of life vocations such as Y. M. C. A. secretaryship, law, ministry, teaching, etc., and their relation to the church. We also intend having a discussion on a college education and the ways by which a fellow of moderate means may obtain such an education.

For the training of the mind we offer an opportunity of studying the Bible, and also of studying foreign missions. We feel that all students should know the Bible from an educational standpoint, and it is gratifying to note that many of the fellows are studying the Bible.

For the training of the body we intend to go into athletics more this year than we have heretofore. Our plan is to form Y. M. C. A. teams in basket ball, indoor base ball, and other indoor sports for this winter, and in the spring we intend forming a base ball nine. In regard to all of these sports we are discussing the advisability of forming as many Y. M. C. A. teams as possible and offering prizes for the teams winning the greatest number of contests.

Preparation for the sending of delegates to Northfield conference always has a very important place in the Y. M. C. A. It is there that most of our officers are trained, and we always aim to send as many as possible.

The students that were at Northfield last year were Mr. Kenneth C. Ikler, Leon D. Bryant, Howard Fetterolf, and Stewart E. Acor. They reported having had a fine time, and one that they will long remember. We intend raising funds for the Northfield conference at once. Probably the first entertainment we shall have for this purpose will be an illustrated talk on a trip through Europe. We also intend having a first class Glee Club.

The association is always glad to hear from its former workers and will gladly welcome any advice that they wish to give. We feel that if the former workers who have had experience would send in suggestions that will aid us, we would make the Y. M. C. A. work for this year a greater success.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. has begun a new year with many new student and faculty members. Miss Myrtle Swartz has taken charge of the five Bible Bands, using the text book, "The King and His Kingdom."

The classes in City and Foreign Mission work, and the Biographies of Missionaries, will soon begin work.

Miss Cora E. Dyer, student secretary, will be with us from the 15th to the 19th of October.

The cabinet holds its meetings in the new Y. W. C. A. room now.

On November 4, 1908, Rev. S.

U. Mitman, Ph. D., will give one of his "Lantern Talks based on his trip through Egypt and Palestine." He is chaplain of Lehigh University, and was one of the party to which Mrs. Waller belonged while abroad. This lecture will be for the benefit of the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. conference fund.

Alumni.

The QUARTERLY desires to hear from all Alumni of the institution. Please consider this a personal invitation to let us know all about yourself and all you can tell us concerning your classmates. Address all communications for this department to G. E. Wilbur, Lock Box No 203.

Brown, James C., who for more than thirty years has been the publisher and editor of the Columbia County Republican, has sold the paper and retired from the editor's chair. Mr. Brown was a teacher in the Normal School for several years and for a time acting principal. Since 1890 he has been a member of the Board of Trustees, and one of the most active and interested members of that body.

Butts, Rev. William H., rector of All Saints church, Williamsport, Pa., has resigned on account of ill health. He is now receiving treatment in a sanitarium in eastern Pennsylvania. Prof. Butts was the head of the Department of Vocal and Instrumental Music in the Normal School during 1891-1893.

Stiles, Richard, who was Steward at the school during the years 1888-

90 died at his home in Secane, Delaware county, Pa., September 15, 1908. His age was eighty-six years. Mr. Stiles was a very efficient Steward and will be kindly remembered by the students during his term of service.

'67, Waller, Dr. David J. Jr., with his family spent the summer touring through England, Wales and Scotland. While in Scotland he was suddenly attacked with illness that required an immediate surgical operation. Fortunately he was at Inverness where there is a good hospital and skilled surgeons, and the operation which was not a very serious one was a complete success. He reached Bloomsburg October 10, and now, fully recovered, has resumed his duties at the Normal School.

'67, Melick, Leoni, College Preparatory, died at his apartments in Philadelphia, Monday, August 24, 1908 of acute Bright's disease. Mr. Melick was one of the leading lawyers of Philadelphia, and the senior member of the law firm of Melick, Potter & Dechart. He had been for years treasurer and vice president of the Art League, refusing the office of president several times. He was also president of the Yale Alumni in Philadelphia. His body was brought to Bloomsburg August 27 and thence to Light Street, his boyhood home, where interment was made.

'77, Richards (Lamb), Maggie

N. resides at Great Bend. Her son Fred D. Lamb, who is General Secretary of the Railroad Y. M. C. A. at Rochester, N. Y., was recently nominated by acclamation for State Senator by the Democratic Senatorial Convention of the Forty-Sixth District, N. Y.

'85, Ent, (Holmes) Edith V., has for twenty-five years been the organist in the M. E. church of Bloomsburg, and on October 4th the Sunday School and church appropriately observed the anniversary with presents and special exercises.

'88, Zarr, R. Rush, (special), who has held for the past few years a responsible position with the Bloomsburg National Bank, has been elected cashier of the recently organized National Bank in Forest City, Pa.

'91, Sutliff, W. B. We take the following from a local paper, August 11: "Ten years of married life were rounded out yesterday by Prof. and Mrs. W. B. Sutliff, of Normal Hill and in honor of the event a number of the guests present at the wedding ten years ago met at their home yesterday and spent a very enjoyable day. Those present were: Dr. Klopp, assistant superintendent of the Insane hospital at West Borough, Mass., and his wife and two children; Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Hemingway, of town; Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Drum, of Wilkes-Barre, and Miss Margaret Eves of Millville.

At the wedding ceremony which was performed by Dr. Hemingway, Dr. Klopp acted as best man and Mrs. Klopp, formerly Miss Stump, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Mr. Drum was one of the ushers and Mrs. Drum, formerly Miss Bowman, with Miss Eves were bridesmaids.

Dinner was served in the evening and the whole affair proved to be a very delightful one. Mrs. Sutliff throughout the day wore the gown which she wore at her wedding.

'91, Hess, Harry, one of the mail carriers of Berwick, was recently elected treasurer of the Pennsylvania State Letter Carriers' Association which met in Altoona in September. Harry had been vice-president of the Association

'91, McGuigan, Frank A. Attorney Frank A. McGuigan was yesterday appointed a permanent counsel for the Wilkes-Barre & Wyoming Valley Traction Co. Last year while Hon. John T. Lenahan, chief counsel for the company was in Congress attorney McGuigan successfully handled the suits against the company and has been rewarded with a permanent position on the company's legal staff. He is one of the most successful of the younger attorneys at the local bar. — Wilkes-Barre Record, Sept. 10.

'91, Major, C. C., an instructor in the Ohio State University at Columbus, Ohio, spent the summer vacation among the friends of his childhood in and about Forty Fort, Pa. He was accompanied by his wife and son.

'92, Spare, Carrie C., was married June 30, '08, in St. John's Lutheran church, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., to William C. Covert. The ceremony was performed by Rev. James F. Beates, pastor of the church and was witnessed by a large number of friends of the contracting parties.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's cousin, Mrs. William Barnes, 250 Carey avenue, for the wedding party and immediate relatives.

The bride is a popular young lady, and has been a teacher in the public schools of Wilkes-Barre for several years. The groom is a well known newspaper man, being connected with the reportorial staff of the Times for some years, and at present with the Sunday Independent. Both are esteemed by a large circle of friends who wish them every happiness. They received a fine array of wedding gifts. They reside at 108 St. Clement street, Wilkes-Barre.

'93, Reice, William, (Academic) who has been for many years in Philadelphia has accepted the position of manager and agent of a flourishing flouring mill. He will make his home at Shenandoah, Pa.

'93, Keiter, W. S., is Head Master of the Preparatory Department of Albright College, Myerstown, Lebanon county, Pa.

'94, Evans, Wm. W. A local paper of September 11, says: "A young woman assistant, who will aid County Superintendent William W. Evans in his work, arrived in town on Thursday afternoon. The little stranger weighed eight pounds."

'94, McLaughlin, George, a well known young attorney of this city, and a former resident of Freeland, was united in marriage to Miss Elizabeth O'Donnell of South Washington street, this city, a former resident of Hazleton, at St. Mary's Roman Catholic church yesterday morning. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Hefferman at 6:30 o'clock. The bridesmaid was Miss Katherine Gillespie of Philadelphia, and the groom was attended by James O'Donnell, a brother of the bride. Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin left for Scranton from where they left over the D., L. & W. road on a wedding tour. When they return to this city they will reside with the bride's mother on South Washington street.—Wilkes-Barre Record, Oct. 9.

'95, Stecker, Raymond, who for some time has been engaged in the grocery business with Mr. Warner Mifflin in Bloomsburg, has bought out his partner and will continue the business at the old stand under his own name.

'95, Lloyd, Catherine. The following is taken from a Wilkes-Barre paper dated July 16: "The community at Warrior Run was filled with sorrow yesterday at 1:30 o'clock when death claimed a most estimable and successful teacher, Miss Catherine Lloyd, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Griffith Lloyd. Miss Lloyd had been a teacher in the public schools of the borough for the past twelve years. She was a graduate of the Bloomsburg State Normal School. She is survived by her parents and the following brothers and sisters: Gaynor, Mary Elizabeth, Margaret Ellen, Jane, Benjamin and Griffith.

'95, Marvin, A. W. is principal of the public schools of Exeter Borough. Mr. Marvin efficiently filled this position about 5 years ago, but on account of ill health he was forced to resign and since then he had spent the greater part of his time in Porto Rico, and has regained his health.

'95, Achenbach, Harry J. (Special) and Miss Hortense Hicks were married in New York City, Sept. 10, by Rev. Lincoln B. Ferris. The marriage was a surprise to their friends, as it was not made public until about three weeks after the ceremony was performed. Miss Hicks was a student at the Normal School during portions of the years 1903 and 1906.

'95, Snyder, J. W. now supervising principal of the public schools of Slatington, Pa., was married in Berwick, Thursday, Oct. 8, to Miss Gertrude Mendenhall of that place. The wedding took place at the home of the bride, Rev. O. G. Heck of the First Methodist Church officiating. The beautiful ring ceremony of that church was used. Only the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends were present. They will be at home in Slatington, Pa., after Oct. 20.

'96, Carpenter, Hattie, has been elected a teacher in the Third street schools of Bloomsburg to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Mrs. Mary Adams Yetter. Miss Carpenter has for several years been a successful teacher at Lodi, N. J.

'96, Thielke, Etta M. was married November 27, 1907, at Hawley, Pa., to Lafayette W. Killam of Brooklyn, N. Y., formerly of Paupac, Pike Co. Her present address is 347, 55th Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

'96, Trevaskis, Anna is now Mrs. Nathaniel C. Klinetob. She was married about two years ago. The last address given to us by a friend was 517 E. 8th Street, Berwick, Pa.

'96, Harris, Mary R. is Principal of the Model School at the Shippensburg State Normal School. Miss Harris pursued a special course of study last summer in the Teacher's College of Columbia University, New York City.

'97, Ruckle, Belle. The Morning Press of Aug. 5 has the following: "A few days ago Miss Belle Ruckle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Ruckle of Espy, went to Buffalo, New York, ostensibly to visit friends. On Monday her mother was surprised upon receiving a letter from her stating that she had been married to Mr. Bow. Sobers of Wilkes-Barre.

The bride is one of Espy's best known young ladies, having been a successful teacher in the schools of that town for the last six or more years.

'98, Wylie, Arthur L., is in the Railway Mail Service on the Penn'a R. R., and resides at Cresson, Pa. We take the liberty of printing portions of a letter received from him. He says: First, I would like to enter for the geometry prize and the hundred yard dash in the year 1925, William Montaigne Wylie, who arrived on July 19th of this year. Our other son died in September of last year. He was almost a year old.

I have been disabled since February 10th of this year as the result of a collision on our line of railroad. The car where I was working was totally wrecked and I suffered a variety of injuries, including a dislocation of a cartilage in my right knee. This is the injury which has kept me disabled so long. I am not yet fit for work on the road.

The most important of the other injuries was a fracture of the skull, which however, was slight. No brain matter escaped, probably from lack of pressure.

The aesthetically inclined 98ers will no doubt be glad to know that I have added twenty pounds to my avoirdupois since I ornamented the campus (like a superfluous flag pole.)

Mr. Wylie has an interesting article in the August number of the Railway Post Office.

'99, Reilly, Michael E., was married Wednesday, Aug. 5, to Miss Margaret McGrath, one of the popular young ladies of Mahanoy Plane. The wedding took place in Holy Rosary Church and was solemnized by the rector Rev. J. A. Hogan. The wedding was a very fashionable one. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride. Upon their return from an extended wedding tour they occupied a handsomely furnished residence on West Oak Street, Shenandoah, where they are at home to their friends. Mr. Reilly is book-keeper in a large manufacturing company.

'99, Yearick, Harry F., after graduation taught in various parts of the state and then entered the mail service, and for the past few years has been a Railway Mail Clerk. His address is LeMoyné, Harrisburg, Pa.

'99, Curtis, Edith M., is teaching in Westfield, N. J.

'99, O'Malley, Sadie, was married early in July. We have the following from the Scranton Truth.

"One of the prettiest nuptial events of the season in Olyphant was that of this morning in St. Patrick's church at 11 o'clock, when Miss Sadie O'Malley and Thomas Hanahue, both well known residents of Olyphant, were married by the Rev. P. J. Murphy.

Following the ceremony there was a reception at the home of the bride on North Dunmore street, Olyphant, and later the couple left on a wedding trip to New York City. The bride has been a school teacher in Olyphant for some time, and is very well known. She is a sister of Attorney C. P. O'Malley and Dr. P. F. O'Malley of this city. Her husband is principal in the High School at Olyphant, and has a very wide acquaintance in the valley. The couple will live in Olyphant.

'00, McCollum, Harry, has completed his course with the New York Dramatic School and has had several very flattering offers. He accepted a part in the "Road to Yesterday" Company, one of the leading companies on the road. They open at St. Louis.

'00, Adams, Mary, and Clyde Charles Yetter, Esq. of Bloomsburg, were married Monday, Aug. 10th, at Stroudsburg, Pa. They were married by Judge C. B. Staples, at noon, in his home. The first intimation Bloomsburg people had of the event was from the register of the Bellevue-Stratford in Philadelphia, as published in the city papers. Mr. Yetter is a well known lawyer and politician, and former President of the Town Council and the bride has been one of Bloomsburg's most popular teachers.

'01, Albert, Keller, is now residing at Muncy, Pa. where he is engaged in the mercantile business.

'01, Sheriff, Nellie, is teaching at Wapwallopen, Luz. Co. Pa.

'01, Snyder, Clark, was married Aug. 20 to Miss Lulu Creveling of Bloomsburg, Pa. The marriage took place at Camden, N. J. at the home of Rev. C. E. Smith '89, a brother-in-law of the bride, Mr. Smith performing the ceremony. Mr. Snyder is a graduate of Bucknell University and an embryo lawyer. They will reside for the present at Ann Arbor, Michigan.

'02 Smith, Rachael, became the bride of Rev. Steward Day on Wednesday, Sept. 2nd at the home of her parents in Luzerne Borough. Rev. W. J. Day, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Luzerne, and father of the groom, officiated. The groom is a graduate of Princeton College and of Auburn Theological Seminary. The bride was assistant principal of the Luzerne Borough high school. Both young people have devoted their lives to the cause of missions, and left immediately after the ceremony for San Francisco, from whence they sailed on Sept. 15 for Amoy, China, where they will engage in mission work.

'03, Snyder, W. D., is principal of the East Bound Brook, N. J. public schools.

'03, Cook, Susie, and Mr. Chas. C. Morgan of Nanticoke, Pa. were married Monday evening June 29, at 8 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. A. Warburton in the rectory at Alden. They reside in a prettily furnished home at the corner of West Main and Hanover streets, Nanticoke.

'04, Kitchen, Clark, has gone to Rocky Fort, Colorado, where he will engage in farming.

'04, Briggs, Elna, (Music) became Mrs. Floyd A. Bradstreet Tuesday morning, Sept. 8, at 7 o'clock. Rev. Dr. J. D. Thomas, pastor of of the Bloomsburg Reformed Church officiated. Mrs. Bradstreet has been for several years the organist at this church. The ceremony was performed in the presence of only the immediate families. They reside at Providence, R. I., where Mr. Bradstreet is manager of a large shoe store.

'04, Smith, Margaret, is teaching at Lodi, N. J.

'04, Foley, LeRoy E. (Special Coll. Prep.) graduated last June at State College in Electrical Engineering and is now following that line of work with the Delaware and Hudson R. R. Co. at Carbondale.

'04, Robbins, Ella (Special) was married Thursday evening, Aug. 27, to Mr. Clark P. Reifsnyder. The wedding took place at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Robbins in Catawissa, Pa. Dr. S. C. Swallow of Harrisburg, a relative of the bride, performed the ceremony. They reside in Catawissa where Mr. Reifsnyder is engaged in business.

'05, Hemingway, Vera, is teaching at Atlantic City, N. J. This is her third year in the public schools of that place.

'05, Sitler, Ida, who has been a very efficient assistant in the Biological department of the Normal School, is taking a course of study at the University of Michigan.

'05, Griffin, Wilhelmina (Special) was married Wednesday, Sept. 23rd, to Mr. Edgar C. Weichel in Scranton, Pa. They are at home at Dagus Mines, Elk Co., Pa.

'05, Speer, Ruth W. (Special) was married Saturday afternoon, Oct. 10, to Joseph P. McKenzie of Centre Township, Col. Co. The ceremony was performed by Justice Clem R. Weiss.

'05, Kintner, W. H., who has been teaching in the Central High School at Dayton, Wash., is a candidate for Supt. of Schools in that county. At the primaries held Sept. 8th, he received more than two-thirds of all the votes cast. He

LACKAWANNA COUNTY ANNUAL BANQUET AND REUNION.

We take the following from the Scranton Republican of Thursday, Oct. 8:

"Amidst pleasing circumstances, old graduates of Bloomsburg State Normal School gathered at the Scranton Bicycle club last evening for the annual banquet and reunion. More than one hundred of the alumni and friends were in attendance. Bloomsburg hospitality was the keynote which made the event a pleasing success.

Professor Charles R. Powell, of the Technical High school, and the president of the association, presided at the business meeting. The officers elected were: President, Edward R. Hughes; vice president, Hayden Oliver; treasurer, W. H. Williams; secretary, Miss Margaret Lewis.

The banquet room presented a pretty scene, the multi-colored gowns of the ladies being in striking contrast to the decorations of palms and ferns. The tables were arranged the length of the room, and at the head of which were seated the toastmaster and guest of honor.

Professor Powell presided during the post-prandial exercises. Dr. D. J. Waller, the principal of the institution, was unable to be in attendance, and address the old students, much to the genuine regret of all. The school was represented by Professors C. H. Albert, G. E. Wilbur, J. H. Dennis, F. H. Jenkins, and the Misses Maude Smith and Mary Good.

Prof. Powell opened the speech-making, and by way of introduction, delivered a short address. He recalled the significance of the occasion and touched briefly on the close bounds of friendship by which the Bloomsburg graduates are united. Prof. Powell concluded his remarks by introducing George E. Wilbur.

Professor Wilbur has been a member of the school's faculty for some time, and was therefore a familiar figure to nearly all. He was given a most cordial reception, which continued later when he referred to the institution as not only flourishing, but as carrying on an active and earnest work.

Attorney G. J. Clark, of Wilkes-Barre, was introduced. Mr. Clark stated that he was more than pleased to see that so large a number of the old Bloomsburg graduates had retained sufficient interest to attend the reunions. Luzerne county had a similar association, he said, and the two ought to work together for the advancement of their old alma mater.

Such reunions meant much, at least they did to him. Old graduates not in attendance miss the friendships formed during school days, and live to forget the fond memories of school days.

Prof. Albert was the concluding speaker of the toast list. His remarks dealt principally with the great success that the school is meeting with under its present administration.

The 19th Annual Meeting and Banquet of the Luzerne Co. Alumni Association will be held at the Hotel Sterling at Wilkes-Barre on the evening of October 29th.

Athletics.

With a good schedule, a large squad of candidates, and a victory for the opening of the season, the foot ball situation looks decidedly hopeful.

Manager Richard Lewis, has the following schedule arranged:

Oct. 3, Wilkes-Barre H. S. at Bloomsburg.

Oct. 10, Ex. H. S. of Kingston at Bloomsburg.

Oct. 17, Dickinson Sem. at Bloomsburg.

Oct. 24, Open, away.

Oct. 31, Susq. Uni. at Bloomsburg.

Nov. 7, Open, away.

Nov. 14, Lock Haven N. S. at Bloomsburg.

Nov. 21, Bucknell Uni. Res. at Bloomsburg.

Nov. 24, Wyoming Sem. at Kingston.

NORMAL DOWNED WILKES-BARRE
HIGH IN A HARD FOUGHT GAME BY 11-6 SCORE.

Oct. 3, victory marked Normal's first gridiron contest of the season, which opened Saturday with Wilkes-Barre High School.

A good sized crowd was out and cheered Normal on to a 11-6 victory, under the leadership of cheer leaders Savidge and Davis.

Play from first to last was fast and furious with Wilkes-Barre leading at the end of the first half by a 6-5 score. The locals played even more aggressively in the second half and playing straight foot ball, pushed Wilkes-Barre off the field. The visitors resorted to the forward pass with good results.

Wilkes-Barre took the aggressive soon after play was called, scoring their touch down in the first ten minutes of play. Normal defending the south goal, received Wilkes-Barre's kick-off on the 10 yard line.

Varying their line and end plays Normal advanced the ball to Wilkes-Barre's 45 yard line. Held for downs Normal kicked and Wilkes-Barre getting the ball on their 15 yard line, by working the forward pass and end plays, got the ball on Normal's 30 yard line. This attack showed Normal's defense to be weak as yet. Wilkes-Barre punted to Normal's 10 yard line, a faulty forward pass causing them a 15 yard penalty. Punting to Brown he lost the ball on Normal's 5 yard line, and Miller, Wilkes-Barre's captain, went over the line for a touchdown and kicked the goal.

SPECTACULAR RUN BY BROWN.

A spectacular run by Brown for 70 yards enabled Normal to score its first touchdown. Wilkes-Barre received Normal's kick off and advanced the ball by steady plunges to Normal's 40 yard line. Here they fumbled and Brown getting the pigskin on a run went through the Wilkes-Barre team for a touchdown. Erickson failed to kick the goal. Time was soon called with the ball in Normal's possession in Wilkes-Barre territory.

THE SECOND HALF.

Williams replaced Brown at half for Normal when the second half opened. Wilkes-Barre defended the south goal and received the kick-off

After Normal had forced the visitors to their 4 yard line they made a gallant stand and got the ball on downs. Miller kicked to Wilkes-Barre's 35 yard line and again Normal started for their goal. At their 5 yard line Wilkes-Barre again held Normal for downs only to lose it on a fumble and unable to withstand another attack, they crumbled before Erickson's line plunge. Erickson kicked the goal.

WILKES-BARRE NEAR NORMAL'S GOAL.

Wilkes-Barre worked the forward pass to advantage at this stage and got the ball to Normal's 6 yard line before the locals finally held them for downs. The ball was near the middle of the field when time was called. The lineup:

KINGSTON EX. WON.

The game on Oct. 10 was with a team of ex-college and Seminary players, with some younger talent, playing under the name of Kingston Ex-High School. Their individual work was very strong, their kicking, handling of punts, and a pretty drop kick from the thirty yard line being features.

The defensive work of the Normal team was strong except in one particular. Tackling a runner in the open field has not yet been mastered. This weakness lost Saturday's game as Rodrick missed an easy chance to down Anderson, the old college star, who picked up a fumbled ball and made the first touchdown.

In the second half a field goal by Kingston, and a touchdown by our boys ended the scoring. Score 10-5.

The Students' Lecture Course.

The school lecture course this year will begin earlier than usual and will include the following exceptionally strong numbers :

Dec. 13—International Symphony Club.

Jan. 25—Strickland W. Gillilan.

Feb. 13—Gov. John A. Johnson of Minnesota.

Mar. 8—Gov. Joseph T. Folk of Missouri.

A training table has been established in the small dining room for the benefit of the foot ball squad.

Faculty Notes.

The opening of the new school year found a number of familiar faces missing in the Normal Faculty and a corresponding number of new ones in evidence.

Miss Gertrude Slayman of Shamokin, a graduate of Millersville Normal and Pratt Institute is in charge of the Art Department. Miss Slayman taught for several years in the Mt. Carmel schools and in the N. Y. Institution for the Blind. In the latter institution she taught basketry and other manual arts.

Miss Lotta A. Jones of Milford, Mass. has charge of the work in Reading and Elocution in the temporary absence of Miss Bryant. Miss Jones is a graduate of the famous Emerson College of Oratory in Boston, Mass., and her teaching experience includes successful service at Brewster Academy, Wolfeboro, N. H., the Murdock School, Wichendon, Mass., and the Oneonta, N. Y. State Normal School.

A new gymnasium instructor, Miss Edith A. Casho of Philadelphia, comes to us from the Dickinson Seminary at Williamsport. She is a graduate of the Phila. Normal School of Physical Training.

Miss Myrtle Swartz of Hallstead, well known as a former teacher, returns after efficient service in the Trenton, N. J. and Hallstead schools. She is a graduate of Elmira College.

Charles L. Albert, Normal 1903, Lafayette 1908, is now Instructor in History, vice W. L. Chase resigned.

Miss K. Maude Smith, Grade Teacher in the Model School, is now principal of the Model School, vice Miss Harris resigned.

Miss Clara Waldron is acting as assistant to her sister, Miss Lillian Waldron, who has charge of the Department of Music.

Miss Edith F. Perkins and Miss Anna S. Van Wyck are the new Grade teachers in the Model School. Miss Perkins is a graduate of the Delevan, N. Y. Teachers' Training School and of the Buffalo State Normal School Classical Course, and has taught in the schools of New York state. Miss Van Wyck is a graduate of the Kindergarten and Primary and English courses of the Oswego State Normal School. Her teaching experience includes service in the schools of Passaic, N. J. and Millerton, N. Y.

Miss Ella Deighmiller and Mr. J. Wesley Sitler are the new assistants in the Biological Department.

Mr. Bruce Sneidman is Prof. Goodwin's assistant in the Commercial Department.

The question of a school Washington Excursion in December is now being discussed. Former students wishing to take this trip may indicate their desires in this matter and if a sufficient number is secured the trip will be undertaken.

JANUARY, 1909

The Winter Term.

THE January days find us hard at work again after an unusually long and much enjoyed Christmas vacation. At the opening of school on January 5th many new faces were in evidence. Very few of the last term's students have failed to return, so that the total increase of students is considerable. In view of the fact that the fall term's registration showed a gratifying increase over that of previous years this influx of new students at this time is a very satisfactory evidence that the work the school is doing is being properly appreciated by the young people of our district.

Bloomsburg trained young men and women are in demand in the educational circles, of our own and neighboring states and are making records of which they and the school may well be proud. Bloomsburg boys and girls show up well at college in competition with those having apparently more ample educational training. Bloomsburg graduates are doing successful work in the teaching profession in many states. All this has undoubtedly contributed to our present large attendance.

The Girls' Recreation Room.

On several occasions in the past few months mention has been made in the columns of the QUARTERLY concerning the plans for Recreation rooms for the use of students of the school. Two rooms were long ago set apart for this purpose and arranged after a fashion, but only lately have the efforts of those working for the proper furnishing of the same met with any measure of success. The young ladies of the school now have in room T a room for use as a parlor and recreation room which is worthy of the name and which would do credit in appearance and in furnishing to any school or to any community.

The funds raised by the personal exertions of the ladies of the school, augmented by a liberal contribution from our Principal, has been expended under the direction of the Preceptress, Miss Port, who purchased most of the furniture personally in New York. Handsome Mission furniture in light stained oak has been secured from the most expensive and exclusive dealers in New York City, dainty and artistic hangings and rugs are in evidence and a number of choice etchings and photographic reproductions of famous paintings adorn the walls.

The floor has been stained dark brown, the former varnished wainscoting has become dull black. The ceiling from which hang simple but attractive chain supported tungstoliers, is a cheerful yellow and the walls a beautiful tint of dark blue with which latter color the upholstery of the furniture corresponds.

An artistic lamp of hammered brass decorates the round table of generous proportion in the center of the room, and the whole effect is that of quiet luxury and comfort.

The young men of the school declare it is their turn next and we trust that an early issue of the QUARTERLY may record the installing of equally comfortable and satisfactory furniture in the Recreation room on the boys' side of the house.

New and large sized fire escapes have been recently added in various parts of the building, making the means of exit from all parts of the school buildings unusually complete and numerous.

The Spring Term will open Monday, March 29th.

Alumni.

The QUARTERLY desires to hear from all Alumni of the institution. Please consider this a personal invitation to let us know all about yourself and all you can tell us concerning your classmates. Address all communications for this department to G. E. Wilbur, Lock Box No 203.

✓ Aldinger, Dr. A. K., has been appointed one of the Assistant Directors of Physical Training in the New York City public schools. The organization consists of a director and three assistant directors. Each assistant director has charge of definite Boroughs, the Doctor having Manhattan and Bronx. Under each assistant director there are special Teachers of Physical Training, sixteen in Manhattan and Bronx. These special teachers have definite appointments and instruct the different grade teachers. In this way the Doctor has supervision of over 350,000 school children in the special subject of Physical Training. Dr. Aldinger's many friends rejoice in his success and well-earned promotion.

'69, Jones, William (sp. course) died at Mordansville, Col. Co. Jan. 5. He came to Bloomsburg in 1860 and in 1868, although forty-one years of age, registered as a student in the school, which he attended about a year. Mr. Jones at the time of his death was 82 years old. He never visited an election poll and never cast a ballot. It was his boast that he had never voted and there was not a man living who could induce him to do so.

'71, Ailman, Jerome T. At the recent session of the State Grange in Altoona Mr. Ailman was re-elected State Secretary. He has served fifteen years in that capacity. At this meeting of the Grange he received a veritable boom for Governor. He is a farmer, reformer, orator and State Legislator, having been re-elected to the Assembly last fall. He was the honor man of his class at Princeton and ranks third in scholarship in the institution's history.

'72, Monroe, Prof. Will S. (sp. course), was in southern Europe at the time of the great earthquake. It seems quite certain that he was in Sicily. For some time no word could be secured as to his safety and his friends were getting alarmed. We understand that word has been received that he is safe.

'74, Clark, H. Bruce, (sp. course) of the well known firm of Clark & Son has retired from business. This decision was reached soon after the death of his father H. J. Clark, and will be generally regretted. The store has been a land mark in the town for many decades, and old students returning to the town will miss the familiar name.

'76, Welsh, Judson P. We clip the following from a local paper of Nov. 24: "The friends of Dr.

Judson P. Welsh, of State College, will be pleased to learn that at a recent meeting of the Board of Trustees of Temple University of Philadelphia they conferred upon him the degree of Doctor of Laws "in recognition of his good work and attainments." Steadily the Dr. is climbing to higher planes in the educational world and his sterling worth is being recognized by institutions that keep in touch with men and their work.

'80, Albert, M. F., is cashier of the First National Bank of Payette, Idaho. The Independent of that city has this to say of him: "Concerning the cashier, M. F. Albert, he is recognized as one of the leading financial chieftains of southern Idaho and faith in his word and its power as an asset is boundless throughout the state. He came to Payette valley 16 years ago, when all this region was in a primitive state and as it came fresh from the hand of God—without a fence, road, clearing, ditch, lateral, house, or any evidence of human handiwork. He first drove deep his stake, $\frac{1}{4}$ mile east of the present site of Fruitland, and helped to grub sage brush to make way for the first little lateral made on the bench land, which was in July, 1893. The public schools of Payette are the glory of the city and the pride of the state, and what they are to-day is to be credited in no mean measure to the educational generalship of Mr. Albert, their superintendent for 10 years, from 1893 to 1903. When he took charge of the schools two teachers and 70 pupils were Payette's school enrollment. But enviable the evolution since that day, a decade ago, for 19 teachers now daily preside over 700 students. So much for a man who has played a potent part in epoch-making movements, a man who is doing yeoman service in helping to work out the natural grand destiny of this section, a man who is as full of pointers about this valley as any barb-wire fence around a farm, a man whose private business career is as clean as a hound's tooth, a man exquisitely unobtrusive by nature and who shrinks from the meed of praise that is his due, and who will doubtless disapprove of the "Independent's" words in his behalf. But you cannot imprison the truth."

This is a sample of what our "girls and boys" are doing all over the world.

'83, Evans, Chas. M. (sp. course) one of the town's prominent business men, and Miss Pearl Katherine Harder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Harder of Catawissa, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, at the home of the bride's parents, on Thursday morning, Jan. 14th, '09. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. F. Shaffner, and the pretty ring service was used.

The couple were unattended. The bride was handsomely attired in a beautiful creation of white liberty satin, trimmed in hand embroidered fillet. She made an ideal bride.

Following the ceremony an elaborate wedding breakfast was served. They left on the 10:41 Lackawanna train for New York City, for a short tour, after which they will return to Philadelphia and take a boat for Jamaica, where they will spend some time. Upon their return they will reside in Bloomsburg.

'83, Hunt, A. Levi, has been for some time in North Bend, Oregon. We do not know that he has permanently located there.

'85, McNiff, M. Katharine, is taking non-resident work in Chicago University for the purpose of securing a degree. Those acquainted with Miss McNiff's ability and zeal know she will secure the desired honors.

'87, Stonebraker, Harry, is a clerk in the Auditor General's office, Harrisburg, Pa.

'88, Myers, B. Frank, who has not been in good health for several months, was successfully operated upon at the Hospital of the famous Mayo Brothers at Rochester, Minn. Jan. 19. There is every indication that he will soon be restored to his former health and vigor.

'88, Rawlings, Dr. Eva, spent about three weeks in Bloomsburg this fall visiting relatives and friends. She has been appointed a demonstrator in the Laboratory at Ann Arbor, Michigan, and has accepted the appointment.

'88, Hassinger, Jessie. The following is taken from the Waynesboro Record of Wednesday Nov. 25.

"Mrs. Jessie (Hassinger) Harbaugh, wife of Prof. A. J. Harbaugh, died in Bellaire, Ohio, Saturday evening, aged about 42 years.

Mrs. Harbaugh was formerly a teacher in the Waynesboro public schools for about five years and as Miss Jessie Hassinger is well remembered here. She was married about thirteen years ago, to Prof. A. J. Harbaugh, principal of the schools for a number of years. Their home has been in Bellaire, Ohio, for a lengthy period during which Mr. Harbaugh has held a number of responsible positions.

Mrs. Harbaugh was a woman of very pleasing disposition and had a great many warm friends here.

She is survived by her husband and five children.

'89, McReynolds, Agnes, (Academic course). Death came to Miss Agnes McReynolds, some time Thursday night, Dec. 24, but when found it was supposed she had been dead some time. A physician was called but could not state definitely the cause of her death, although an affection of the heart is supposed to have been the cause. Miss McReynolds while not a rugged lady was supposed to have been in her accustomed health, she giving no word or sign of any ailment. On the afternoon of Wednesday she was about town doing her Christmas shopping and was apparently in the best of health and spirit. Miss McReynolds was particularly popular among the young people of the Presbyterian church, in which work she took an active interest and was a consistent member. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Linie McReynolds and one brother, Matthew. The funeral services were held from her late home on West Third street, on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 26, conducted by her pastor Dr. G. H. Hemingway, and interment in Rosemont Cemetery

'90, Whitmoyer (Reifsnyder), Claire, (sp. course). On Thanksgiving afternoon an interesting ceremony was performed at the home of Dr. I. W. Willits, corner of Fifth and Market streets. It was the christening of J. Donald Reifsnyder, infant son of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Reifsnyder of Scranton.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. D. J. Waller, in the presence of the family and a number of relatives. An unusual feature was that the water used was brought from the river Jordan by Miss Laura Waller, having been procured by her during her travels in the Holy Land within the past year.

'91, Turnbach, Wm. A., was recently elected president of the Hazleton city school board. He succeeds Senator James who has filled the position nearly seventeen years. Will was a former teacher in the schools of that city and will render efficient services as president of the school board.

'91, Butt, Clarence, (sp. course) The following article was clipped from the Newberg (Oregon) Graphic.

"You have no doubt noticed the smile of contentment on the countenance of Attorney Clarence Butt of late and you have probably been puzzled to know the cause of it. Well, he received a hundred pound sack of buckwheat flour from his old home in Pennsylvania the first of the week and buckwheat cakes, the kind that mother used to make, are touching a tender spot—in his memory—and causing a renewal of his youth."

Clarence is a Columbia county boy.

'93, Edwards, Wm. D., has secured a position in the schools of San Diego, California. He is doing department work, his subjects being history and geography. He enjoys the work very much as he has opportunity for research along these subjects.

He and his wife "Bertha" like California very much. It seems to them "an ideal home land, and the weather is fine."

'94, Pfahler, Dr. Geo. E., was married, Saturday evening, Nov.

21st, at Overbrook, Phila., to Miss Frances Simpson, daughter of Alexander Simpson, Jr. The wedding, a very elaborate one, was solemnized in St. Paul's Church, Overbrook, the pastor Rev. William Turner officiating. Lieut. Richard Thomas, '93, of West Point, was one of the ushers.

Dr. and Mrs. Pfahler will be at home after June 1st, at "Lindenton," the former country seat of Mrs. Elizabeth Lucas at Merion, which was purchased by the bride's father as a wedding gift.

'95, Bartholomew, Irvin A., went to Weiser, Idaho, last August, and is now teaching there. He says there are two hundred and seventy-five pupils in his school. He has six assistant teachers.

'95, Diseroad, Sara C. A Scranton paper has the following: "Jas. S. Hubbell and Miss Sara C. Diseroad were united in marriage at 12 o'clock noon, Saturday, Jan 2nd, in the Second Presbyterian Church at Scranton by Rev. H. Odell, D. D. The bride was attired in a blue traveling suit with a hat to match and marched up the aisle to the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, played by Miss Leila Parsons, who also rendered "Hearts and Flowers" during the ceremony. The ring service was used and was very impressive, after which the couple received the congratulations of their many friends who had gathered at the church to witness the ceremony. They left on the 12:40 train for New York and Boston, where they will spend their honeymoon.

The bride is a graduate of the Bloomsburg State Normal School and has been a teacher of stenography in the Scranton Business College for the past five years. The groom is a son of Rev. C. A. Hubbell of Harpursville, N. Y., and is a prosperous lumber dealer and manufacturer of East Branch, N. Y., where they will make their future home.

'95, Lenahan, Agnes. "St. Mary's church was the scene of a pretty wedding at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning when Frank B. Brown, Esq. led to the altar Miss Agnes Lenahan, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Lenahan of North Franklin street. Rev. R. A. McAndrews celebrated the nuptial mass.

Attorney James T. Lenahan, brother of the bride, gave away his sister. She was met at the sanctuary railing by the groom and his best man, Attorney Andrew Hourigan. Miss Lenahan wore a white satin directoire gown with duchess lace trimmings, a picture hat of white bengaline with willow plumes and carried a prayer book with a marker of lilies of the valley. Miss Nellie Lenahan was a bridesmaid and wore a yellow satin directoire gown trimmed with real lace. She wore a black picture hat and carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

The church was prettily decorated with palms and chrysanthemums. Following the ceremony the bridal party went to the home of the bride's mother where a wedding breakfast was served by Mrs. Hochreiter. About 11 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Brown departed on their honeymoon trip. They will visit the Bermudas. Upon their return they will reside at 191 South Washington street.

Mrs. Brown is well known in the social circles of town and is a young woman with many accomplishments. Her husband is a member of the Luzerne county bar and creditably filled the office of city alderman for several terms.—Wilkes-Barre News, Friday October 23.

'96, Chase, (Newmeyer) Marion. The New Century Quartette of Philadelphia, captivated the music loving people of Bloomsburg upon the occasion of the Philologian Reunion, Nov. 26. Special interest was given the occasion because of the presence in the quartette of Mrs. Newmeyer. She was heard to good advantage in the Italian aria "Luce di Questa Amma."

'96, Houtz, A. B. is in Elizabeth City, N. C. connected with the Southern Roller, Stave and Heading Co. He recently sent to the Normal School a specimen of cotton in open ball accompanied with descriptive scenes &c. Alfred is a loyal son of the B. S. N. S.

'96, Davenport, Dr. Fred M.

was married on the evening of Oct. 21 to Miss Laura M. Church, at the home of the bride's parents in Luzerne. The wedding was a chrysanthemum wedding, those blossoms predominating in the floral decorations. A novel and beautiful feature was the playing of the wedding march on a harp by Miss Robertson, an accomplished harpist of Dunmore. Miss Blanche Davenport '94, was one of the bridesmaids, and Harry H. Davenport '95, was one of the ushers. Dr. Davenport is a graduate of Jefferson Medical College, Phila. For a time he taught school and while principal of the schools at Luzerne Borough became acquainted with Miss Church, who was at that time assistant principal and who held the position until a few weeks ago. Dr. Davenport has been successfully engaged in the practice of medicine at Scranton for nearly two years and there he and his wife will make their future home, he having purchased a neat home at 827 Green Ridge street, which is already fitted up for their occupancy.

'97, Lendrum, Grace, was married Saturday morning, December 12th, at the home of her mother in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., to Prof. John H. Coxe of Wyoming Seminary, Kingston, Pa., where they make their home. Owing to the recent death of the bride's father the wedding ceremony was witnessed by only the relatives of the contracting parties.

'98, Richards, John H., died at his home in Wilkes-Barre, Wednesday morning, January 20, following a long illness of a complication of diseases. He was thirty-one years of age. For several years he had been engaged in the grocery business at East Market and Sherman streets and was very successful. He was a member of and an energetic worker in the Welsh Presbyterian Church. The funeral was held Saturday afternoon, Jan. 23d in the Welsh Presbyterian Church, interment in the city cemetery.

'98, Butts, Harry, is a candidate for Justice of the Peace at Plains, Luz. Co. He has studied law for some time and ought to be well qualified for the position.

'99, Bowman, E. I., has charge of the Furniture Department of the Bee Hive Department Store, Shamokin, Pa. This store company bought a large portion of the stock of the H. J. Clark & Son's store in Bloomsburg, and Mr. Bowman spent several days in town looking after the sale and removal of this large stock.

'99, Carpenter, Prof. Perry A., is the proud father of a son born Oct. 24. He writes, the father, not the son, "Please reserve a room for him at old Normal in 1923. I want to make him a Christian, a Prohibitionist and a mathematician. Prof. Carpenter is professor of mathematics at Genesee Wesleyan Seminary, Lima, N. Y.

'99, Coyle, Philip A., was married Sunday Nov. 1, in Philadelphia, Pa. to Miss Mary G. Price of that city. They are at home at 3755 North Ninth St., Phila.

'00, Stump, (Reed) Florence. A local paper of Thursday, Nov. 12, has the following:

"Friends of Mrs. Reed, of Philadelphia, formerly Miss Florence Stump, a sister of Mrs. W. B. Suttiff, of Normal Hill, will be grieved to learn that her husband died Tuesday following a brief illness with pneumonia. Mr. and Mrs. Reed had been married only a year. Deceased was a prominent paper wholesaler of Philadelphia. The funeral was held Thursday Nov. 12, interment at Stouchsburg, Mrs. Reed's former home.

'00, Ent, Minnie, A pretty wedding took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. U. H. Ent at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, Nov. 3., when her daughter, Miss Minnie, became the bride of Ross Marley of Newark, N. J. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. W. Diggles, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church in the presence of only the immediate families and a few friends.

The bride is one of Bloomsburg's best known young women and has a legion of friends. For the last several years she has been teaching in the public schools of Newark, N. J.

Mr. Marley holds a responsible position in New York City. After an extensive wedding trip they made their home in Newark, N. J.

'00, Wilbur, G. Elmer. We clip from a Bloomsburg paper. The Jacksonville (Fla.) Times-Union had the following in a recent issue:

Hol-ba-loo-Hurrah ! Hurrah !
Hol-ak-ba-oo- Hurrah ! Hurrah !
Hurrah ! Hurrah !
Duval high school,
Wa-hoo—Wa.

The foot ball squad of the Duval High School Athletic Association tendered Prof. G. Elmer Wilbur a surprise banquet on Friday night. And a complete surprise it was as you might have seen from his looks as he was led into Till's banquet hall, which was most efficiently decorated with holly and mistletoe. Down through the centre stood the artistically arranged table loaded with cake, cream, candy, fruits and other delicacies. He was led to the head of the table, when Capt. Marion Coles, in a clever speech, welcomed him as their guest of honor whom they were ever proud to entertain. Capt. Coles thanked him for his interest and untiring zeal which had done so much to place their athletics on a firm footing.

Prof. Wilbur replied in a heartfelt manner, thanking the boys and telling them he appreciated their kindness and enjoyed their hospitality; that he stood now, as always, ready to help them in athletics or their studies and he would always respond to any request for assistance.

After the banquet the tables were removed and dancing indulged in till a late hour, when all expressed themselves as having had a most enjoyable time.

As the party dispersed for their homes the halls resounded with:

Rah ! Rah ! Rah !

Rah ! Rah ! Rah !

Rah ! Rah ! Rah !

Wilbur ! Wilbur ! Wilbur !

'00, Gallagher, William P. has resigned his position as political editor of the Wilkes-Barre Record to accept a position as deputy Register of Wills of Luz. Co. with a fine large salary attached. Mr. Gallagher is a brilliant newspaper writer and editor and has made his mark in the newspaper world. The Telegram of Dec. 8 has an extended article by William Leslie, which laudatory as it is, speaks none too highly of him. We regret that we have not the space to give our QUARTERLY readers the entire article. We can give only the closing part of it.

"He is a native of Plymouth, and a great shouter for old Shawnee. He has been president of the Press club ; is president of the Plymouth Eagles ; is high up in the Knights of Columbus, and belongs to other organizations. In the language of John Jap McDevitt, I regret that Mr. Gallagher is not an Irish protestant and an Orangeman. He is reputed to be quite wealthy. He owns considerable real estate and interest bearing stock in local corporations. He has as many warm friends, and almost as many bitter enemies as I have. He is only twenty-six years of age. When he is that much more he will be a United States senator, or possibly president. But no matter what he is, he certainly deserves all the success he may achieve. I wish him well, and in the language of the average soft soaping, palavering Connaught man, "God bless him."

'02 Heiss, Charles, was married Saturday afternoon Jan. 2 to Miss Anna Dreisbach of Catawissa, Pa. The wedding was solemnized in the Catawissa Reformed Church by Rev. A. M. Schaffner. Mr. Heiss holds a responsible position with the Interstate Commerce Commission. They will live part of the year in Washington, D. C. and the remainder in Ann Arbor, Mich.

'02 Keiber, A. E. is a student at Lafayette College. In an inter-hall debate held in November, he was chosen leader of the College debating team.

'02 Fine, Bertha, was married Oct. 21 at the home of her parents near Nanticoke, to Mr. E. M. Gunn. Miss Prethynia Curtis '02 was maid of honor. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. A. Warburton of St. Andrew's P. E. Church, Alden. Mr. Gunn holds a lucrative position with the National Biscuit Co., and is now stationed at Middletown, Conn. where they will be at home to their friends.

'02, Williams, Jennie E. The Hazleton Plain Speaker of Nov. 25, says: The wedding of William Cook of this city and Miss Jennie E. Williams of Drums, took place at 7:15 this morning at the home of the bride in the presence of only the immediate friends of the contracting parties. Rev. Swank, pastor of the St. John's Lutheran church, officiated. There were no attendants. Mr. and Mrs. Cook left later on an extended wedding tour. Upon their return they will live on West Broad street.

Lohengrin's wedding march was rendered by Miss Adele Altmiller. "Oh Promise Me" was played by Miss Altmiller during the ceremony. The bride wore white silk mull and carried chrysanthemums.

Mr. Cook is a clerk at the store of C. C. Heller & Co. and is one of the city's most esteemed young men. His bride was a former city school teacher and is a young lady of fine attainments.

'02, Leighow, Robert, was married Aug. 13, 1908 at Auburn, N. Y. to Miss Bertha Emily Jones of that city. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, in the presence of the families and immediate friends of the parties. The bride is a musician of rare ability and has been in charge of the department of instruction on the violin at the Mansfield State Normal School. Prof. Leighow, who is now teacher of chemistry at the Carnegie Technical School at Pittsburg, taught for a year at the Mansfield Normal where he met his bride. At Pittsburg he teaches a special branch, The Chemical Properties of Materials, and is preparing a text book on the subject.

'02, Hall, Ruth. George M. Harris of Dorranceton, and Miss Ruth Hall of Kingston were quietly married at 8 o'clock last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hall, on Rutter avenue, Kingston. The wedding was a simple affair, witnessed only by members of the families of the bride and groom and performed by Rev. F. von Krug, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Kingston. At the conclusion of the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Harris left the home from which Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Page had left as groom and bride only a week before, and will be gone for several days. On their return the young couple will go to housekeeping at 32 Maple street, Dorranceton.

Mr. Harris was for many years a resident of Jermyn, but for the last six years has resided at Dorranceton. During that time he was employed by the Wyoming Valley Trust Co. for five years, and has been with the Luzerne

National Bank as its cashier ever since the opening of that institution. His bride has been a lifelong resident of Kingston and has been a teacher in the public schools of that borough for a few years. She is a young woman of grace and refinement and Mr. and Mrs. Harris start on their matrimonial journey accompanied by the best wishes of a host of friends.—Wilkes-Barre Record, Oct. 22.

'02 Appleman, Ray (sp. course) a teacher in the Benton High School was married Dec. 4, to Miss Emma Strauch at the home of her parents in Waller. They reside in Benton.

'03 Hartman, Mabel (sp. course) became the bride, on Jan. 20, of Dr. E. C. Miller, of Newberry. The wedding took place in the First M. E. Church of Bloomsburg, Rev. E. R. Heckman, the pastor of the church, officiating. Dr. Miller is a promising young dentist practicing at Newberry, a suburb of Williamsport, Pa.

'03 Evans, Warland (sp. course) died at the home of his mother in Bloomsburg, Friday morning, Jan. 15, after an illness of about ten days. Death was due to pleuropneumonia. The funeral was held on Monday, Jan. 18, interment in Rosemont cemetery.

'03 Robison, Jean, is finishing her last year as a pupil-nurse at the Polyclinic hospital, Phila.

'03 Berkenstock, F. A. and Miss Florence A. Smith of Mifflinville, Pa., were married in the Mulberry Street, M. E. Church, Williamsport, Pa., Nov. 4, '08. Mr. Berkenstock is the supervising principal of the Port Allegheny schools. Mrs. Berkenstock was a student at the Normal in 1897-8, and subsequently graduated at Wyoming Seminary, Kingston, Pa.

'04 Robison, Emily (Coll. prep. '05) is a Senior at Temple College, Philadelphia. She has done the work of the Classical course in three years. She has charge of the library at the college.

'04, Snyder, Vera. We take the following from a local paper Oct. 29. A very pretty autumn wedding was that solemnized yesterday at noon at the home of the bride's parents, when Miss H. Vera Snyder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Snyder of Mifflinville, became the bride of Hugh W. Stebbins of Wellsboro, Tioga county.

The impressive ring ceremony was employed by Rev. J. W. Worley of Mifflinville, in the presence of the relatives and a few intimate friends of the bride and groom.

The bridal party included the bride and groom; Miss Irene Snyder, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid and Homer Snyder, brother of the bride as best man, with Inez Wintersteen and Eva Waters as flower girls.

The bride was most becomingly gowned in white batiste, trimmed with mechlin lace and carried a bunch of bridal roses. The bridesmaid was gowned in blue and carried pink carnations.

The bride is one of Mifflinville's best known and most highly esteemed young ladies. She is a graduate of the Bloomsburg State Normal and last year was principal of the Mifflinville High School. For years she has been an active worker in the Methodist Church of Mifflinville. The groom has a host of friends in this section. The son of contractor M. H. Stebbins, he had charge of the stone work of the Berwick and Mifflinville bridges for which his father was contractor.

The wedding gifts were many and beautiful and included a fine home in Wellsboro, the gift of the groom's father and mother. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful amethyst necklace.

The home was beautifully decorated for the wedding, ferns, carnations and chrysanthemums being used with charming effect.

Following the ceremony the newly wedded couple left on an extended wedding tour and upon their return will take up their residence at Wellsboro.

'05, Krumm, Katherine, was married Monday, Sept. 10th, to Dr. Arthur F. Twogood in Cincinnati, Ohio. They are at home at 79 S. Main St., Memphis, Tenn.

'05, Shirk—Thomas. At 6:30 o'clock yesterday morning, June 24, 1908, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Thomas, Luzerne Borough, Susan, their daughter, was quietly married to William Wayne Shirk of New York City. Rev. William J. Day performed the ceremony. The bride made a charming appearance in a semi-princess gown of cream satin striped chiffon, trimmed in baby Irish lace and folds of plain chiffon over cream silk. She was attended by Miss Nell Rowe of Wilkes-Barre, who was attired in a beautiful gown of flowered chiffon over pink. The groom was attended by W. R. Thomas, a brother of the bride.

After the ceremony a breakfast was served to the members of the family. The bride was well remembered by her friends with many beautiful gifts, consisting of china, cut glass, linen and silver. The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a gold chain with a beautiful topaz pendant. The groom presented the best man with a gold scarf pin set in pearl. Mr. and Mrs. Shirk left at noon over the Lackawanna road for Reading, Philadelphia and the New England States. Upon their return they will settle in New York City, where the groom holds a responsible position in the offices of the National Express Co.

Miss Thomas is a graduate of the Bloomsburg State Normal School, the past two years teaching in the public schools.

'05, Sipple, Kathryn, on June

25, '08 was married in Philadelphia to Mr. David J. Lewis of Lansford. They spent some time at Atlantic City. They now live at Lansford, where Mr. Lewis is employed by the Lehigh Coal & Navigation Co.

'05, Arnold, Edna L., on Oct. 24 surprised her many friends by announcing that on Sat., Sept. 26th she had become the wife of Mr. Andrew Jackson of Scranton. They were quietly married in Mauch Chunk, after which the bride resigned her school in Peckville. They reside in Scranton.

'05, Winter, Laura, is teaching in the Primary schools of Freeland and enjoys her work very much. She has confidentially told the editor of this column that as soon as she finds out that she is going to be married she will let him know all the particulars.

'06, Chrisman, Neil, (sp. course) who is a student at the University of Pennsylvania, has been elected president of the Hare Law Club of the University, an honor that is highly prized by all law students, and to which no one is eligible for membership except students that rank among the best in their classes.

'06, Girton, Raymond, (Commercial), visited school recently. Mr. Girton now holds a responsible position as accountant for The International Salt Co. of New York, located at Watkins, N. Y.

'07, Brooke, Margaret, is teaching at Lansdown, Pa. She has an interesting school and is greatly interested in her work.

'07, Conner, Helen. At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore F. Conner, of West street, on Wednesday morning a quiet wedding was solemnized when their daughter Helen became the bride of E. R. Vaccor of West Hoboken, N. J. Rev. Dr. G. H. Hemingway tied the nuptial knot.

Following their wedding tour they will make their home at West Hoboken, N. J., where the bride taught school last year and where the bridegroom is employed as assistant principal of the High School.

Only the immediate families of the contracting parties witnessed the ceremony.—Daily Mail, Wed. Nov. 25.

'07, Mauser, Helen, who has been teaching the school at Mainville, Pa., was married in October, to Alan B. Roat, (sp. course, '07). Mr. Roat is United States Express messenger on a steam boat plying between Washington, D. C. and Norfolk.

Miss Mabel Welsh, '07, has been elected to fill the vacancy in the Mainville school caused by Miss Mauser's marriage.

'07, Englehart, Paul H., (Com.) who for some time has held a position as a stenographer for the Bloomsburg Silk Mill, has resigned that position and gone to Columbus Ohio, where he is now a student in the Zanerian College.

'08, Brandon, Adda, is assistant principal of the Dalton high school.

Luzerne County Annual Banquet and Reunion. ↪

We clip from a Wilkes-Barre paper of Oct. 30:

The graduates of Bloomsburg Normal school composing the Luzerne County Alumni Association held their annual banquet and reception at the Hotel Sterling last night. One hundred and seventy-four graduates in addition to seven of the school's professors and their wives attended the affair.

The banquet and dance was held in the private dining room of the Sterling, located on the second floor. Those present took their places at the table about 7:30 o'clock, and for one hour were kept busy satisfying the cravings of the inner man. At 8:30 the speech making program had been concluded and the banqueters then withdrew from the room and several hours of dancing followed. Music was furnished by Oppenheim's orchestra, both during the banquet and at the dance.

Attorney G. J. Clark of this city, one of the trustees of the Normal school, and who has been president of the local alumni for nineteen years, acted as toastmaster. After making a few introductory remarks he introduced John M. Garman Esq., who delivered the address of welcome. Mr. Garman was followed by Dr. Waller of the Bloomsburg Normal School. The latter proved an extremely interesting speaker and in the course of his remarks referred to conditions as they exist at present at the old school, and said the attendance this year is 597 and of this number 300 are boarding at the school.

He also stated that since last year a number of improvements have been made about the buildings. The kitchen has been remodeled with some modern cooking equipment installed, new storage rooms have been erected, and extensive improvements made about the groves, costing in the neighborhood of $800. The attendance this year is 62 more than a year ago. Twelve changes have occurred in the faculty and according to the principal's assertions, there was never a time when the school was in better condition, financially and from an educational standpoint.

Dr. Waller has just returned from Europe, where he spent several months traveling with his wife and family. When on the other side he was taken sick and was compelled to submit to an operation. This delayed his return for several weeks and the school course had been started when he reported for duty.

Among the Normal professors who attended the banquet were: Dr. Waller and wife; Prof. O. H.

Bakeless and wife; Prof. C. H. Albert and wife; Prof. J. G. Cope and wife. Prof. W. B. Sutliff and wife; Prof. G. E. Wilbur and wife; Prof. F. H. Jenkins and wife and daughter, Margaret.

Attorney G. J. Clarke was re-elected president of the alumni association. This will make his nineteenth term. The other officers are, secretary, Miss Nancy Wintersteen of Plains; treasurer, B. Frank Meyers of this city.

Important.

A new edition of the Alumni List will go to press early in April. All former students of the school having knowledge of corrections to be made in the previous list or additional information which should be included will please communicate at once with Prof. F. H. Jenkins, the Registrar.

Philo Society.

The work of the Philo Society for the last three months has been very successful.

At the beginning of the school year the society was in debt. This debt has been paid and many improvements have been made in the Society Hall.

Skins and brass fixtures for the society tables, a large jardiniere and a fern, as well as very beautiful and expensive curtains have been added to make the room more useful and attractive.

The literary work of the society has been of the best. The private programs were very interesting and well worked out. A debate is always in order.

The Reunion, Thanksgiving Day was a success. The decorations in the gymnasium surpassed the decorations of the previous years. At 4 P. M. the president called a Rally Meeting, in the Society Hall for the benefit of the old Philos. Dr. Waller, Prof. Sutliff and Prof. Albert made short addresses. A private program was rendered. The evening's entertainment was given by "The New Century Quartette" of Phila. Their music was enjoyed by everyone who heard them. The Reunion was a success both socially and financially.

The various committees have planned interesting programs for the winter term. A male quartette, and a ladies' sextette have recently been organized.

Great interest is being taken in debates. The Society has challenged the Callie Society for an Inter-Society Debate, but nothing definite has been arranged.

The society expects to present a mock trial about the first week in February and a drama later.

The two-act comedy, "Cool Collegians," which was given on Saturday evening, Dec. 5, proved one of the most delightful plays ever rendered by the society, and the crowd, an exceptionally large one, showed itself well pleased. The evening's program was made the more delightful by the rendition of a piano solo by Grace Housel, '00; a trombone solo by Carl Erikson, '09; and a sentimental coon song by LeRoy Duck, '10.

Calliepien Society.

The Callie Society is in a very prosperous condition. Nearly every member takes an active part, and all seem very much interested in the literary work. The society has lately given a public program, and now has a drama well under way which it expects to give in the near future.

A private program has been given at nearly every regular meeting and a great deal of interest has been shown in these programs. A very interesting feature of one of the programs was a mock trial.

The society has an orchestra consisting of four violins, a cornet, a trombone, a clarinet, and a piano.

All efforts are now directed towards the anniversary, Feb. 22. The society has already a company engaged and the members will try to make this anniversary more successful than any former one.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The social committee has started to work obtaining funds for the summer conference. Its report thus far is as follows: $11.72 as our share of the funds from Mr. Mitman's lecture, and $3.23 as our share of the funds received from the sale of candy at the Hallowe'en party. This gives us nearly enough funds to send two delegates to the summer convention.

The probabilities are that the summer conference will be held somewhere in Eastern Pennsylvania or New Jersey instead of at Northfield, Mass. The reason for this, as given by the International Committee, is that the Northfield conference is getting too large to be managed for the best interest of all concerned. Therefore they are discussing the advisability of dividing the conference and having Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware and New Jersey hold a separate convention.

Kenneth C. Ikeler, Horace D. Washburn and Leon D. Bryant, were the delegates at the annual Y. M. C. A. convention of the 4th District. The convention was held at Bellefonte, Pa. They reported having had a fine convention.

Chas. Hess, chairman of the Bible study committee, attended the first annual Bible study convention held at Columbus, Ohio. He received many valuable suggestions in regard to Bible study, and is putting them into practical use whenever he has opportunity.

Chas L. Albert, Professor of History, has charge of the musical part of our prayer meetings. He has organized an orchestra and gives us special music. This is of great aid in our work.

Y. W. C. A.

The Treasurer reports $41.54 in the treasury. An intercollegiate committee to look after the posters for the Summer Conference, reports, etc., with Miss Slayman, chairman, has been formed.

Union meetings were held during the week of prayer, under the leadership of the ministers of the town. They were enthusiastic and well attended.

The missionary committee sent $8 to Miss Bartholomew, who is now in the Philippines.

Topic cards have been issued for the winter term to each girl.

Athletics.

Owing to several complications, among which was the departure of the manager, the Basket Ball season here is decidedly late in opening. A practice game with the Danville H. S. team is about the only event we have to report, save that ever memorable Faculty-Y. M. C. A. game of Jan. 16th.

In the Danville game on the afternoon of Jan. 15th, about a dozen of the most promising of the Normal School candidates were tried against the high school team. The resulting score was 37-12 in favor of our boys.

On Jan. 16th the Faculty made its annual effort to win fame, and incidentally gather in a few shekels for the Northfield Fund.

Eye-witnesses of the game state that if it had not been for the pernicious and excessive activity of the Y. M. C. A. team, the Faculty would have won. The baskets being of iron, the extremely cold weather had apparently had its well known effect in contracting them far below their normal size. This accounts for the many shots missing, as most of them were very accurately placed where the basket wasn't. In spite of these handicaps, and in view of the fact that there apparently was not enough air to satisfy the needs of all, the score was kept to the very creditable limit of 5-12. We are glad to state that more dollars than points were secured.

NORMAL 18, PITTSTON COMETS 16.

In a rattling fast contest the Normal basket ball team opened the season January 22nd by defeating the Pittston Comets. So closely contested was the game that both teams were tied at 14-14 when the second half ended. In an additional five minutes that were played to decide the supremacy Pittston scored once from the field and Normal tied and won out when Fisher scored a magnificent throw from the field. Normal showed up well, and the visitors proved a fast, snappy aggregation.

The game opened with the Comets getting the lead by a few points gained through their clever passing and poor guarding done by the local team. Fisher, of the Normal started the locals working by gaining a hard earned basket. From this on the playing was equally good on both sides. At the end of the first half the score was tied 9-9.

At the opening of the second half, both teams showed determination of winning. Brown took Metz's place as guard. The object of this was to give both men a chance as they have been showing up about equally well in practice.

But play as hard as they could Normal could gain no decided lead on the visitors and at the end of the second half the score was tie at 14-14.

After a rest of three minutes, the teams renewed the struggle for five minutes. Savidge again had a chance to shoot a foul and missed, but getting the ball passed to him, he made a neat delivery, gaining a basket.

Pittston then secured a basket again tying the score. This Fisher broke by delivering one of his long shots, placing the score 18-16, which was the final score.

NORMAL		PITSTON
Savidge	forward	Williams
Keiser	forward	Levi
Erickson	center	Haston
Metz	guard	Macadachan
Brown
Fisher	guard	Jordon

Goals from field—Fisher, Williams, 3, Savidge, Haston, 2, Erickson, Levi, Macadachan, Brown. Goals from foul—Savidge, 4; Williams, 2. Referee—McCrea. Umpire—Seeley. Time r—Albert. Time of halves—20 minutes.

The schedule for the season is as follows:

- Jan. 22, Pittston Comets at Bloomsburg
- Jan. 29, Bucknell Reserves at Bloomsburg.
- Feb. 6, Wyoming Sem. at Bloomsburg.
- Feb. 13, Dickinson Sem. at Williamsport.
- Feb. 20, Lock Haven N. S. at Bloomsburg.
- Feb. 25, Susquehanna University at Bloomsburg.
- Feb. 27, Wyo. Sem. at Kingston.
- March 5, Dickinson Seminary, at Bloomsburg.
- March 6, Lock Haven N. S. at Lock Haven.

"B's" Awarded.

In the presence of a large number of the resident students, the members of the foot ball team of 1908 who had won their "B's" were awarded them under very pleasant circumstances, on Monday evening, January 18th.

Prof. Bryant made the presentation speech, stating that his associations with the foot ball men had been most pleasant and that it afforded him much pleasure to make the presentation. The letters would mean more to their recipients ten years hence than they do now, standing as they do for some of the most pleasant hours of student life. The letters indicated that the fellows had learned to work together, and by so doing they had accomplished the most good.

The men who were awarded "B's" this year were: Rummer, Barrow, Williams, Brown, Maruri, Boone, Metz, Romaldo, Leidy, Roderick, Lewis and Baldwin, Lewis being the manager of the team. The members of this year's team who won the envied letter last year are: Fausel, Erikson, John and Oliver Klingaman, F. Hess and Sharadin.

The meeting ended in a rousing reception to the Basket Ball team for 1909, to which all pledged enthusiastic support.

Locals.

The Students' Lecture Course this year is exceptionally strong, as is very satisfactorily evidenced by a large attendance at each number.

The school will celebrate the centenary of Lincoln's birth on February 12th, an excellent program having been arranged for this purpose by a committee of the Faculty.

..*

Dr. D. J. Waller, Jr. who was elected as one of the Republican Presidential electors at the November elections gave a very interesting talk to the school recently concerning his experiences at the meeting of the electors at Harrisburg. A surprising amount of ceremony was shown to be necessary to properly and legally record the action of the voters of the state.

..*

A committee of six senior girls has been appointed by Miss Port, the Preceptress, to act as monitors in charge of the Girls' Recreation Room.

..*

Room A, headquarters of the Department of History, has been newly painted and decorated to afford proper surroundings for the busts and pictures which have been purchased by Prof. C. L. Albert from the fund left by the class of 1907 for this purpose.

..*

The QUARTERLY is regularly sent to all graduates of the school free of charge. We shall be glad to place the names of any former students not graduates, on our mailing list also, if the addresses are furnished us. Drop a postal to Prof. Jenkins and you will receive the paper regularly.

The State Department of Public Instruction has changed the date of the State Examination to MONDAY, JUNE 21st.

THE B. S. N. S

Quarterly.

VOL. XIV

APRIL, 1909

NO. 3

The Spring Term.

THE new term opened most auspiciously on Monday, March 29th, with an unusually heavy registration.

Prof. Jenkins, our ever obliging Registrar, had his office force well prepared for the invasion, however, and students new and old were promptly taken in charge, registered and consigned to their various apartments with surprising ease and quickness. Exactly one hundred students who arrived at the school from a certain train were registered in just sixteen minutes on one occasion, and Prof. Jenkins says he can do even better if necessary.

State Examinations.

The annual examinations for admission to the Middle and Senior classes of this school will be held by the State Examiners, beginning Tuesday, June 22nd.

Preliminary Faculty examinations of persons desiring to be recommended to the State Board will be held at the school, beginning Thursday, June 17th. The rules governing these examinations are to be found in the school catalog, a copy of which will be mailed to any one on request.

There will be no state examination at any other time.

Bloomsburg Teachers in Demand.

That Bloomsburg trained teachers are successful in their chosen field of effort is very strikingly shown in the ever increasing number of our graduates who are seeking and securing good positions in the neighboring states of New York and New Jersey, both states maintaining, by the way, high standards of preparation for teachers. But Bloomsburg teachers have a habit of "making good" in these states as well as our own.

Interesting Figures.

A most interesting summary of the membership of the school was prepared during the winter term, and while the registration figures have been materially increased by the new comers of the present term, the results are still worthy of mention.

Of a total registration of 642 students the major portion were, of course, from Pennsylvania, but the neighboring states of New York, Delaware and New Jersey were well represented, as were Cuba and Porto Rico, while far away Ecuador showed a solitary delegate.

Bloomsburg and the near by cities of Hazleton, Wilkes-Barre, Scranton, Danville and Berwick contributed the larger portion of the attendance, but nearly two hundred towns and villages had one or more students in evidence.

Alumni.

The QUARTERLY desires to hear from all Alumni of the institution. Please consider this a personal invitation to let us know all about yourself and all you can tell us concerning your classmates. Address all communications for this department to G. E. Wilbur, Lock Box No. 203.

Rev. John Hewitt, principal of the Normal School in 1872-3, and now rector of the Episcopal Church, Bellefonte, Pa., visited Bloomsburg during the last week in March. He preached in St. Paul's Episcopal Church of which, for several years, he was rector.

Prof. Isaac O. Best. When the Bloomsburg Literary Institute first occupied its new building on the hill in 1867, what is now known as the Auditorium, Prof. Henry Carver was the principal and he gathered around him an excellent faculty. Among the teachers was Isaac O. Best, teacher of Latin and Greek. He was a very popular teacher, and remained until 1871.

When he left Bloomsburg he prepared for the Presbyterian ministry. A letter recently received from him by Prof. F. H. Jenkins in answer to one written to him, gives his record since leaving here, and he has many friends who will be interested in knowing it.

He was for one year principal of the Mt. Morris Academy; three years pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Otisco, N. Y.; sixteen years principal of the Clinton Grammar School, a boys' college preparatory school; ten years pastor at Mayfield, N. Y.; six years pastor at Chili, N. Y. A year ago last August he returned to Otisco as pastor, and is now residing there. Nearly one hundred boys who were under his instruction at various times, have entered the ministry.

Prof. Best has not been in Bloomsburg since 1871, but should he and Mrs. Best decide to pay a visit here we have no doubt but that they would receive a very warm welcome.—The Columbian.

'69, Rutter, H. H. (sp. course) at the February election was elected Mayor of South Sharon, Pa., by a large majority. His success is especially complimentary in that he is the only democrat on the ticket who was elected.

'73, Tustin, George M. (Coll.

Prep.) has been re-elected president of the Bloomsburg Wheelmen, a very popular and influential social club of the town.

'75, Cleaver, Wesley M., is a successful farmer of Cleveland township, Columbia County. He was greatly bereaved, last July, by the death of his wife, who was formerly Miss Nellie M. Dyer, a student at the Normal School in 1886-87.

'76, Welsh, Dr. J. P., Dean of the Colleges in Pennsylvania State College, delivered the Commencement address at the last Commencement of the Medico-Chirurgical College of Philadelphia. His subject was: The Medical Profession of the Future. The address is printed in full in the November number of the College Bulletin and is very interesting and practical. We regret that we cannot publish it in the QUARTERLY. Dr. Welsh was recently honored with the degree of LL. D.

'76, Low, Myron I., who has a more than state wide reputation as a Sunday School worker, is the President of the Columbia County Sunday School Association and has brought it to a degree of efficiency that leads all similar associations in the State. He and Miss Martha Robison, '92, one of the State Field Workers, recently attended an important conference in Philadelphia of Sunday School officers and workers.

'79, Albert, Prof. Charles H., spent his spring vacation at Booker T. Washington's Industrial School, Tuskegee, Alabama. He was engaged in giving educational lectures to the teachers and students of that Institution. Prof. Albert's reputation as an educational worker is well-nigh national.

'79, Cather, William A., is proprietor of the Franklin Iron Works at Port Carbon and Pottsville, Pa., and is meeting with fine success. He is a loyal alumnus of the school and an appreciative reader of the QUARTERLY. We hope to see him in June at the thirtieth anniversary of his graduation.

'85, Conner, W. A., is teaching at Madera, California. At the risk of a long-distance castigation we take the liberty of publishing portions of a letter recently written by him to Prof. Jenkins :

"I have just been reading the QUARTERLY and noticed the article headed "important." Perhaps some change is needed in the addresses of the Madera members of the Alumni.

It is a pleasure, too, to make the report to you. Doing so gives me a chance to say that I have not forgotten the kind and lenient treatment which I received from you during the time my quarters were on the "fourth floor."

There are many pleasant memories of my Normal days. The town and the school are attractive places.

Madera does not compare with Bloomsburg in beauty, but on a bright morning now, when the rising sun lights up the snow fields on the Sierras, we do have something beautiful to look at. Perhaps some would call them more beautiful in the colors of the sun set.

Mr. W. L. Williams, '86, is still postmaster of Madera.

Mr. W. A. Moore, '85, is doing a large grocery business, and also raising an orchard of peaches and olives—about twenty acres of each.

Mr. C. M. Petty, '85, is manager of the Rochdale co-operative store in Madera.

May S. Conner, '87, does the managing of the home department for him.

As for me, '85, the old ties bind me to the school. I combine raising good citizens and raising barley. I will not say "training the young idea to shoot" because there is nothing to shoot but squirrels and we poison them. One of the boys and I scattered some poisoned wheat in the corner of the school yard to day and killed six large squirrels. They are a species similar to your gray ones, but not so pretty. They damage the grain."

'85, Knorr (Smith) Mildred (Coll. Prep.) In the Pictorial Review of the past few months there have appeared several articles on "Motherhood," written by Mrs. Smith which have attracted much attention. Mildred is the wife of Dr. Smith, a practising physician of New York City and a great nephew of the late Judge Elwell.

'85, Guie, Heister (Coll. Prep) We take the following from a local paper of Feb. 17.

"Hon. Heister Guie of Seattle, Washington, was in town to-day meeting his own friends—members of the bar and other friends. All were pleased to meet him, and as many said, he is a fine looking Columbia County boy. Mr. Guie is a member of the bar of Seattle, state of Washington. He read law with W. H. Rhawn, went west to Seattle. Landed there with nothing to depend on except his ability to work. He has succeeded well, being now one of the leading lawyers in the state and having served two terms as a member of the legislature, and was a candidate for nomination for governor on the republican ticket, but was beaten by 6 votes in convention. Mr. Guie is yet a young man and has a great future before him.

'87, Yetter, Orval H. The Williamsport Sun of March 1, in its account of the County Institute, says: "The presence of Prof. O. H. Yetter of Bloomsburg, as musical director of the county institute was much appreciated, and added much to the success of the association. His work is highly appreciated.

'87, Kitchen (Ferguson) Carola

(sp. course) died last July at Denver, Colorado, where she has been living during the past few years. Interment was made at Denver.

'88, LaWall, Chas. H. We have recently been very much interested in reading a number of articles from the pen of Prof. C. H. LaWall.

The first article is a paper read at the Pennsylvania Pharmaceutical Association meeting on "The Label and the Law." The subject had special reference to the Pure Food Law. Dr. LaWall is one of the specialists employed in making investigations for the Pure Food Commission.

The next is an address delivered by Dr. LaWall before the Philadelphia Retail Grocers' Association with "The Retail Grocer as a Factor in the Education of the Public" as a subject. This address appears in the December 15th number of the Monthly Bulletin of the Dairy and Food Division of Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture. It is quite interesting to the general public. The last article is a technical report on investigations made of milk and exhibits much careful research and original investigation. This paper is too abstruse for the average man to fully comprehend.

'90, Whatenecht, Prof. E. L. and L. Floyd Hess, Esq., '94, are very active members of the Municipal League of Forty Fort, Pa. Each gave an address at the first annual banquet held recently. Prof. Whatenecht is secretary of the League.

'90, Pealer, Woodin' W., who began the practice of dentistry in White Haven is now located in Hazleton. He has a suite of fine offices on Broad Street, and in every respect is up to date.

'91, Guie, Zua B. We clip the following from a local paper.

Miss Zua B. Guie of Catawissa, for a number of years teacher in the public schools of that place, and a former instructor in the local High School, died at the home of her father, E. B. Guie, Saturday afternoon, February 6th at 2:30 o'clock, a victim of typhoid fever and a complication of diseases. She had been ill about two months.

Miss Guie was a member of the graduating class of 1891 from the Bloomsburg State Normal School and later took a course at Emerson College, Boston. She taught in the Catawissa schools five years and in the local High School one year, teaching the subjects Literature and Elocution. She was a prominent member of St. Matthew's Evangelical Lutheran Church and at the time of her death was secretary of the County Sabbath School Association. She was well known throughout the county and was always held in the highest esteem by all who knew her. The news of her death came as a sad blow to a host of friends.

She is survived by her father, E. B. Guie and the following brothers and sisters: Enola B. Guie, '81, of Wilkes-Barre; Claudia Guie, '81, of Norristown; E. Heister Guie, '85, and J. A. Guie, '93, of Seattle, Washington.

The funeral was held from her late home Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 9th. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. The services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. U. Myers, assisted by Rev. Schaffner. Interment in Greenwood Cemetery, Catawissa.

'93, Houseknecht, W. M., is now employed in the Department of Commerce and Labor at Washington, D. C.

'93, Munson, Nelson (sp. course) died at his home in Franklin township, Col. Co., Saturday, March 20th, after a lingering illness of diabetes. Surviving him are his widow and four children, all quite small, also his parents and several brothers and sisters. The funeral was held Wednesday, March 24th, from his late home, burial in Mt. Zion Cemetery.

'94, Kreisher, Clarence E. (sp. course) a prominent attorney of Columbia County, was elected president of the Catawissa Town Council.

'94, Pfahler, Dr. Geo. E., has an interesting article in the November number of the Bulletin of the Medico-Chirurgical College on the Use of the Röntgen Rays in Dentistry, which was read before the Pennsylvania State Dental Society in June.

'95, Freeman, Gertrude. The following clipping was received as we are ready to go to press. It is presumably from a Scranton paper but no date is given. "The marriage of George Nuttin, a prominent business man of Boston, and Gertrude, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Freeman of 744 South Main Avenue, took place Saturday morning in the presence of the families of the bride and groom. The ceremony was performed by Rev. David T. Widner, rector of St. David's Episcopal Church. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Nuttin left on an extended wedding tour through the South.

'96, Perley (Cramton) Mabel. The following is from the St. Albans, Vt. Messenger, Thursday, March 11, 1909.

East Berkshire items: "The funeral of Mrs. Mabel (Perley) Cramton, wife of Homer Cramton, who died Wednesday, March 3, after but four days illness of typhoid pneumonia, was held in Calvary Church Friday morning, Mar. 5, at 11 o'clock. The Rev. W. C. Bernard Leach, assisted by the Rev. F. Barnby Leach, officiated. Music was furnished by the choir of Calvary Church and the bearers were four cousins of the deceased, D. W. and Herbert Smith and Blaine and Delmer Croft. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather the church was not large enough to accommodate all the friends who attended. Mrs. Cramton was 31 years old and was the daughter of Corliss and Mary Perley, of this place. She is survived by her husband, Homer Cramton, a son four years old, her parents, and one sister.

'97, Keiper, Maud A. A Shenandoah paper of Sept. 3, says: "At 6:30 o'clock this morning in the Trinity Reformed Church, James W. Hough and Miss Maud A. Keiper were united in marriage by the pastor, Rev. Z. A. Yearick. There were no attendants and only the immediate relatives were present. The couple left on an extended wedding tour to Bedford Springs, Niagara Falls and other places. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Hough, and employed as cashier at the Merchants' National Bank. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Keiper, and was until the close of last term a teacher in the public schools. They have the best wishes of a host of friends."

'97, Williams, Ruth, was married Wednesday, February 10th, at Norristown, Pa., to Mr. Robert J. Henry, a prominent Philadelphia merchant.

'97, Johnson, Josiah, is in the employ of the Westinghouse Electric Co. of Pittsburg, and has been promoted to superintendent of construction work. He is connected with the New York office of the company and at present is located at Hazleton, Pa., where he is superintending the rebuilding of the city electric light plant.

'97, Kline, W. Frank (special course) was married Wednesday, March 3, at noon, to Miss Thursa Drake of Bloomsburg. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Drake on Fifth Street, Rev. E. R. Heckman of the First M. E. Church officiating. The bride is a graduate of the Bloomsburg High School and one of the first graduates of the Joseph Ratti Hospital. They will reside in Bloomsburg.

'97, Robison, Bessie M., was married at her home in Espy on Wednesday, March 2nd to Dr. Jno. Decker Butzner of Virginia. Owing to the recent death of her father, the wedding was a quiet one, only members of the family and a few invited friends being present.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. E. Harman of West Berwick. After a wedding journey to the south, the young couple will reside in Scranton where the groom is a practicing physician.

The bride is a graduate of the Polyclinic Hospital, Philadelphia, where she took a course as a trained nurse. Mr. Butzner graduated at the University of Virginia.

'98, Callender, Rev. Asa, stationed at Vestal, N. Y., has been ill, and was unable to attend the sessions of the Wyoming Conference, of which he is a member, which was in session at Plymouth, Pa., during the last week in March. He is now, however, convalescent.

'99, Fortune, Arthur, of Canton, Ohio, spent several days, about the middle of March, in Bloomsburg, visiting his parents and friends.

'01, Merrill, Ernest, was married Saturday, July 18, '08, to Miss Ada Rink of Light Street, Pa. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents by Rev. Tubbs of the M. E. Church.

'02, Newton, Albert E. We clip the following from a local paper Feb. 22. "Al Newton, the well known ball player, arrived in Wilkes-Barre on Monday and will be the guest of his parents there until March 7, when he will report to the Atlanta club of the Southern League. Newton has been spending the winter at Orwigsburg, Pa. where he had charge of a sausage and "pon hoss" factory.

His release was purchased from the Lancaster Tri-State club by Atlanta. He is one of the most promising short stops in the minor league base ball, a fast fielder and a good batsman, and he should easily make good on the corn poue and sweet potato circuit.

'03, Hagenbuch, Rea, is now employed by the Western Electric Company at Seattle, Washington.

'04, Veith, Lewis, is in the flour, feed and grain business at Ebensburg, Cambria Co., and is meeting with good success. About the first of the year a little son came to brighten his home, of which he is justly proud.

'04, McAvoy, William, it is reported, will play ball in the out-field with the Rochester, N. Y. nine this season. He will "make good."

'05, Heacock, Lettie. A local paper of Feb. 22, has the following: At the M. E. parsonage, Saturday, Miss Lettie Heacock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Heacock of Sixth St., was united in marriage to George Davis of Beaver Valley, where the bride for the past two years has been engaged as teacher in the public schools. The ceremony was performed promptly at 3:30 by Rev. Heckman, the bride and groom being unattended. After a short visit at the home of the bride's parents it is understood they will return to Beaver Valley where they will make their home.

Being a graduate from the Bloomsburg State Normal School and a teacher in the county schools for the past few years, the bride is well known and very popular among the young people of town.

'06, DeWitt (Terwilliger) Heleu is the proud mother of twiu girls, who came to her home in Bloomsburg, Saturday morning, March 23rd.

'06, Doty, Edith L., of the course of stenography and typewriting has secured a fine position through the Employment Department of the Remington Typewriter Co.

'06, Rayos, Susie. The following clipping from the New Mexican Review, Santa Fe., N. M. is from the pen of Miss Mary E. Dissette, a well known teacher of the Laguna Indians.

"Married, at the residence of the bride's mother at Pugnate, by the Rev. C. R. Brodhead, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Laguna, Susie Rayos and Walter Marmon. The bride is a graduate of Carlisle college and of the State Normal school at Bloomsburg, Penn'a., and has been employed by the government as a teacher at Isleta. The groom is the son of that well-known pioneer, Robert G. Marmon. of Laguna, and is a well-educated, manly and courteous young man.

"The wedding was a quiet but pretty one. The bride, who is a handsome woman, wore a simple white mull dress which set off her brunette beauty. Eastern friends who were present, remarked that they had seldom seen a handsomer couple. The room was artistically decorated with school banners, fine Navajo rugs and many evidences of education and culture.

"The bride's father was one of the wealthiest and most progressive Indians of the tribe. It is not often that our young people start out in life so well mated in educational attainments, family connections and with so large a circle of friends to wish them all possible happiness."

'07, Harris, John, was elected by the Greenwood school directors to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Charles I. Parker, principal of the Greenwood High School.

'08, Oman, Ernest (book keeping) and Hazel Pauline Albertson, '08, (sp. course) were married September 28th in Binghamton, N. Y. The marriage was kept a secret by the parties concerned until the latter part of February, when the certificate was shown to their parents.

Philologist Society.

On January 17th a very successful mock trial was given by the members of the Philo. Society. It is expected that another will be given in the near future.

At a regular meeting of the Society it was decided to give a public drama about the middle of April, and give one-third of the net proceeds to the christian organizations of the school.

The Society intends purchasing a piano in the near future.

The annual debate with our sister Society will be held about May 8th. It was decided by committees representing both Societies that a debating cup be purchased with the proceeds of the debate. The debaters who will represent the Philo. Society are LeRoy White of Bloomsburg, Joseph Kochzynski of Mt.

Carmel, and Charles Morris of Ashley.

Calliepian Society.

The work of the Calliepian Literary Society during the past term has been fairly successful. The weekly meetings were well attended.

A great burden has been removed from the Society by the payment of a note of $90.

Our old bulletin board having become somewhat dilapidated, it was decided to purchase a new one. The new board is a credit to the Society. It is made of old oak with a mission finish, corresponding to the frame of our motto.

Early in the year an orchestra of eleven pieces was organized, and has furnished us with creditable music. The members of this orchestra are all Callies. This organization adds much to the enjoyment of our programs, both private and public.

Our Reunion was held on Monday February 22. On the Saturday evening preceding, the members of the Society gave a drama entitled "Higbee of Harvard." The play was well rendered and was much enjoyed by the large audience present. The auditorium was packed, many people being unable to obtain seats. About 1300 people were present, among them many old Callies who were back for the Reunion.

The morning of Feb. 22, exercises were held in Callie Hall, with President Bryant in the chair. The program rendered consisted of music and recitations. A number of letters were read from old Callies who were unable to be present. Short addresses were made by the old members who were with us. These letters and addresses were greatly appreciated by the members of the society, and much encouragement was derived from them.

In the afternoon the Normal Orchestra furnished music in the gym. from 2 to 5 p. m. The gym. was tastefully decorated and the afternoon was greatly enjoyed by all present.

In the evening the Rockway Concert Trio rendered a very pleasing program. On the whole the Reunion was a success.

On Saturday evening the members of the "Higbee of Harvard" cast gave the play in Benton for the benefit of the Methodist Church of that place. They were greeted by a full house. The receipts amounted to $64.

On Saturday evening, March 6, election of officers was held in Callie Hall. A large attendance was out and the meeting was an interesting one. The following officers were elected and installed: President, Fred Diehl; vice president, Miss Marian Williams; treasurer, Charles Hess; assistant treasurer, Miss Kingsbury; recording secretary, Miss Lydia Williams; corresponding secretary, Alfred Naugle; critic, Miss Sarah Bond; marshal, Charles Wiant. The society then elected Fred Diehl, Robert Matz and Robert Johnson, representatives in the inter-society debate which is to take place May 8, 1909. The alternate debaters elected were: Leon Bryant, Charles Potter and Charles Hess.

The society has decided to adopt a new plan for carrying on its meetings during the spring term. Instead of giving the program after the business part of the meeting, the program will be given first, and will be open to all new students. After the program the private business part of the meeting will be carried on. It is believed that in this way the new students can get an idea of the kind of work done in our society, before they join either society.

The members of the Society are now preparing a drama, entitled "Down in Maine", to be given some time in April. The members of the cast are working hard, and we have every reason to believe that the play will be a success.

Y. M. C. A.

The election of officers for the coming year was held Tuesday evening, March 16, 1909, in the chapel. The following officers were elected: President, Charles Hess; Vice President, Abe. Shara-din; Treasurer, Morris Houck; Secretary, Mr. Wertman; Chairman Membership Committee, L. Brown; Chairman Bible Committee, M. Smoyer; Chairman Mission Committee, George Landis; Advisory President, Prof. Sutliff. These officers were installed at the regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A., Wednesday evening, March 17, 1909. Prof. Sutliff led the meeting.

NORTHFIELD NOTES.

The Northfield fund is steadily progressing, and all indications point towards our having at least five representatives at Northfield.

This year a new feature was introduced by the committees for procuring Northfield funds. It consisted of a series of three games of basket ball between Faculty and Y. M. C. A. members. After the Y. M. C. A. won the first game, and felt confident of the other two, they were, however, disappointed, as well as chagrined, in seeing the Faculty come out victorious, winning two games out of three. But financially it proved a success to the Christian Associations, as enough funds were secured to enable each to send at least one delegate to the summer conference.

Another series of games is to be played between the same teams in base ball. The Y. M. C. A. is planning revenge upon the Faculty, while the Faculty is equally determined to win. These games are also expected to turn out successfully, from the money standpoint of view, for the Christian Associations.

On Tuesday evening, March 30, 1909 the Lafayette Glee and Mandolin Clubs gave an entertainment in the auditorium under the auspices of the Christian Associations. A large audience was present, and thus the summer conference fund was still more increased. Thanks are due to Prof. Albert, Jr., and Miss Carpenter for securing this club. The entertainment was of a high order from start to finish, and proved that Lafayette College is well equipped with musical facilities.

BIBLE STUDY NOTES.

The Bible Study bands are still proving successful in their study of the Bible. Under the leadership of Dr. Waller, the leaders of the bands receive instructions each Monday morning. This enables them to better present the topics in the Bible Study classes.

The bands will be continued until about the middle of the term when, according to former custom, they will be discontinued. This method has been found to work best in the past, and so it will be followed this year also.

The Y. M. C. A. cabinet has arranged for a series of "life work" topics to be presented in the regular prayer meetings. These topics include the ministry, the law profession, the doctor, Y. M. C. A. secretaryship, etc., and are to be discussed in relation to their usefulness in aiding the church.

A talk on "College Education and How a Fellow of Moderate Means May Secure One" has already been delivered by our State Secretary, Mr. F. O. Koehler, of Harrisburg while on his recent visit at our school. The majority of fellows were present and all took an interest in the work.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. has begun its work for Spring term with the following officers: President, Nora Geise; vice president, Ruth Ruhl; secretary, Edith Corse; treasurer, Zora Lowe.

March 30, 1909 a concert was given in Chapel by the Lafayette Glee Club, after which a reception was held in their honor. The concert was for the benefit of the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. fund.

Our summer conference will be held at Mountain Lake Park, Maryland, from June 25 to July 5.

The winter conference was held at Wilson College in March. The Y. W. C. A. of this school was represented by three delegates.

We have purchased a new picture for our Y. W. C. A. room. If any student or member of the Alumni wishes to contribute a cushion it will be appreciated very much by the girls.

Athletics.

The Basket Ball season closed on the night of March 12th with a victory, the opponents being the Kutztown State Normal School team. The first few minutes of the game resulted in no score, but from the end of the first eight minutes of play, the superior skill and training of the Bloomsburg team was so manifest that the result was never in doubt. The final score was Bloomsburg N. S. 37, Kutztown N. S. 15.

Like most amateur teams, our boys played better ball at home than abroad. The season was successful, the team winning more than half of its games, and succeeding in holding the support of the student body and a good patronage from town.

Much of the success of the team was due to the strong reserve team which gave the first team the stiffest kind of practice, frequently winning. The following is the schedule as played:

All athletic interest now centers upon the coming base ball season and track events.

Several track meets besides the usual field day will mark the present term. Of the base ball team, every man who finished the season with the school team last year is still in school ready to don a 1909 uniform. This should mean a win-

Gymnastic Display.

Friday, March 19th, 1909, the closing day of the Winter term, was marked by the Department of Physical Education in giving the 15th annual Gymnastic Display. Prof. B. F. Bryant, the Director of the Department and his assistant, Miss Edith Casho, deserve great credit for the high order of work shown in this exhibition. The program included many new and interesting features and easily ranks among the best of many entertainments offered by the department. The costumes of the classes, while simple and inexpensive, were well designed and added much to the effect. A large audience as usual tested the capacity of the gymnasium.

Lafayette Club Concert

The first public event of the Spring Term was the concert given in the Normal Auditorium by the Glee and Mandolin Clubs of Lafayette College, on Tuesday evening, March 30th.

A program of more than ordinary merit was offered by the college boys, and was appreciated by a good sized audience.

Special mention should be made of the singing by the quartette which good naturedly responded to numerous encores. The bass soloist, Mr. Spengler, and the pianist, Mr. Straub, rendered selections of a high order of merit.

The final chorus, "Alma Mater" was impressively sung by the combined clubs, while the Lafayette men in the audience, of whom there were many, rose, and remained standing during the number.

Faculty Educational Club.

The meetings of the Faculty Educational Club, which were inaugurated last year, continue to be held on the second Tuesday of each month, and offer much of interest to those attending.

Prof. Chas. H. Albert is President of the Club for the present year.

Locals.

Dr. Waller has been a frequent visitor at Harrisburg recently, advancing the interests of the school in the appropriations bills now before the Legislature.

Derl Hess, Normal '07, has accepted the position of assistant in common school branches for the present term.

✓ Prof. Albert spent the spring vacation at Tuskegee, Alabama, in educational work at Dr. Washington's famous school, where he has been a welcome visitor on many previous occasions.

Two large glass cases have recently been constructed for the Biological department rendering possible the proper storage and display of the department's collection of mounted animals and birds.

The Boys' Recreation Room is rapidly taking shape. The senior class at a recent meeting appropriated the sum of $350 to furnish and decorate the room as their class memorial. Painters and decorators were busy in the room during the vacation, and the construction of the necessary furniture is well advanced under the direction of the school carpenter, Mr. Perry Freas. The woodwork and walls have been decorated in tones of forest green and the furniture will be of real southern oak stained in an appropriate shade. It is expected that the room will be opened for use early in May.

The class of 1909 is to be congratulated on their action in furnishing and equipping this room for the use of the boys. It will form a highly appreciated class memorial and one that will fitly supplement the attractive parlor already in use on the girls' side of the house.

JULY, 1909

NO. 4

A Successful Year.

Success is not necessarily spelled in superlatives, but the school year just closed has certainly been both successful and superlative in more ways than one.

In point of attendance, character of scholarship, and results obtained the school has every reason to congratulate itself upon the work of the year.

The graduating class, in numbers well up to the usual average, has gone forth as one of the best prepared and best trained ever sent out, and the training of its coming successors has been well begun.

But, while pleased, we are not satisfied. The students and the classes of next year must do even a little better. Educational standards must not only be maintained at Bloomsburg but advanced. Progress must ever be the watchword on Normal hill.

The Fall Term will open Tuesday, September 7th. Prospective students will do well to advise the Registrar of their intentions as early as possible to secure a more favorable location of room.

Summer Improvements.

Scarcely has the summer quiet settled over Normal hill after the departure of the latest student, visitor or teacher, when a new activity begins, that of preparing for the year to come.

First, the building is cleaned from cellar to garret, and then begins the necessary repairs.

In addition to these, the present summer will, as usual, see many changes and improvements adding to the comfort and convenience of our great household.

Among other changes already determined upon will be the rebuilding and refitting of the cold storage room connected with the kitchen of the school. For some time the space devoted to this purpose, tho large, has been insufficient for the needs of the school, but the new engine and refrigerating rooms are to be planned with reference to both present and future needs.

Prof. Jenkins, our ever busy Registrar, reports an unusually heavy reservation of rooms for next September.

A Necessary Regulation.

A decision recently arrived at by the Board of Trustees will commend itself to all friends of the school. When the institution was small all visitors were so gladly welcomed that they were entertained without charge. This was good advertising. With the growth in the number of students has been a corresponding growth in the number of guests until it has been found by actual count that more than five thousand meals a year are furnished to visitors. To meet this unjustifiable drain upon the resources of the school it has been resolved that all persons not students or teachers shall provide themselves with meal tickets before entering the dining-room. Four tickets per year, not transferable, may be supplied to each graduate, however, without charge, upon application to the Registrar.

Kind Words for Bloomsburg.

The following item is clipped from the Bloomsburg Columbian and will be read with interest by every friend of the school.

"When W. S. Hertzog, High School Inspector of the Department of Public Instruction, announced the result of the state committee examinations of the students at the Bloomsburg State Normal School he paid a splendid tribute to the local institution.

In the course of his remarks he stated that during the past year he had visited practically every High School in Pennsylvania, the visits being made in his official capacity as inspector. "In none of these schools," said Mr. Hertzog, "did I find a graduate of the Bloomsburg Normal who was a failure in his or her work. This is something that I can not say regarding the graduates of some other Normal Schools."

This is a criticism of which every teacher, official, and graduate of B. S. N. S. can be justly proud, and is a tribute of highest worth to the work that is being done at the local Normal."

Athletics.

One of the best records in baseball, in the history of the school, closed on June 26th, with a victory over that perennial commencement opponent, the Freeland Tigers.

Eighteen games were played, our boys winning fifteen. Every school and college game was won, the boys breaking even with the Danville and Milton League teams.

One interesting feature was the winning of all three of the Wyoming Seminary games. A study of the fielding and batting averages show that the superior strength of the team lay in the infield, while the fine work of the pitchers, backed by Capt. Morris, pulled many games out of danger.

Space forbids more extended comment, but a glance at the scores which follow will tell something of the season's work.

 DANVILLE 15 POINTS.

In the first track meet with outside schools, in the history of the institution, the Normal School boys rolled up the grand total of 53 points, Berwick High took second with 20 points, Danville H. S. scoring 15. Normal took no less than second in any event. Rummer for Normal, taking first in the high jump and pole vault, and Ryan for Danville first in the shot put and hammer throw were the highest individual scores. The dashes and runs were especially well contested. In the 100 yard dash, Frantz and Bond of Berwick, Price of Danville and Metz of Normal qualified in the preliminaries. The final was exciting. Metz got a poor start but forged in ahead of Price for second place, Frantz taking first.

There were eight starters in the 220 dash. Frantz led at the end of the first hundred yards only to be passed first by Metz and Price in the last twenty-five yards. In the half mile run Barrow for Normal took the lead at the start and was never hurried. The two mile run was one of the best events of the day. Romaldo, S. N. S., held the lead for six laps followed by Seybert, B. H. S., Ricketts, D. H. S., and McDonald, S. N. S., well bunched. In the seventh lap Romaldo fell back with the bunch, still holding the lead. They remained thus until the beginning of the tenth lap. Then the pace quickened and Romaldo who had been pace maker dropped back. At the beginning of the last hundred yards McDonald took the lead and crossed the tape ahead of Seybert, followed close by Ricketts.

THE RELAY RACE.

Normal ended the runs in great shape by capturing the relay race from Berwick. In the first lap Shoemaker, B. H. S., passed Wertman, S. N. S., in the last hundred yards and led him to the finish about five yards. Bower then took up the grind for Berwick and Barrow for Normal, who soon passed Bower and gained a substantial lead, which try as they would, Shannon, Bond and Frantz could not cut down against Fisher, McAfee and Metz for Normal. Metz led at the finish by 51 yards.

Ryan, the big boy from Danville, won the shot put from J. Klingerman of Normal, Evans, B. H. S., being third. Ryan also easily won the hammer throw. Rummer took first in the pole vault and the high jump, breaking the Normal record in the latter, clearing the bar at 5 feet 3½ inches.

Fisher, Normal, won the broad jump from Eshleman of Berwick.

COMMENCEMENT.

The Commencement season began this year with the rendition of a Recital by the advanced students of the Music Department on Saturday evening, June 26th. The following program was very creditably rendered :

Godard, Second Mazurka, Margaret Oliver ; Dennee, LaPappillon, Esther Marcy ; Herbert, Serenade (Violin) Charles Potter ; (a) Chopin, Valse C sharp minor, (b) La-valle, LaPappillon, Ada Lore ; Parker, King of the Forest Am I, Vilas Yetter ; Joel, Faust Waltzer, Katherine Gearhart ; Mozart, Grieg, Fantasia, Florence Landis ; Orchestra parts on second pianoforte, Miss Waldron ; (a) Skinner, April, Lynes, If all the Dreams, song, Sue Toole ; Mendelssohn, G minor Concerto, First movement, Ada Lore, orchestra parts on second pianoforte, Miss Waldron.

BACCALAUREATE SERMON.

The fortieth annual commencement week opened on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when Dr. D. J. Waller preached the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class, in the auditorium.

His text was the second verse of the twelfth chapter of Romans, "And be not conformed to this world, but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is the good and acceptable and perfect will of God."

The theme was "Ideals," and the address abounded in good strong practical common sense.

MIDDLER DRAMA.

On Monday evening the Middler class presented a drama entitled "The Elopement of Ellen," which was very well done in the presence of a large audience. Miss Bryant, head of the department of elocution, superintended the preparation of the play, and much credit is due her, and all who took part, for the excellence of the performance.

Much more than the usual effort, also, had been expended on the scenery and the play was well staged in this respect, the garden scene, by moonlight, with Japanese lanterns being probably one of the most realistic and beautiful scenes ever presented in the auditorium.

IVY EXERCISES.

At 2 p. m. on Tuesday the planting of the class ivy took place on the campus at the east end of Normal Hall. The porch was used as a platform, and was elaborately draped in the class colors.

The program was as follows: Following the procession, Daniel J. Mahoney made the introductory address, after which Dr. D. J. Waller made an address, followed by the class poem by Nora G. Clancy; the ivy oration by Alvin L. Rummer; address by Prof. G. E. Wilbur; class will, by Fred W. Diehl and the planting of the ivy, by the Senior class.

It was a very interesting program, and a large crowd was present.

CLASS DAY.

Next to commencement, class-day is of most interest to a graduating class. The exercises were held in the auditorium on Tuesday evening at 8:15. The hall was filled, and the exercises were of a very interesting character. The following was the program:

1. President's Address, Daniel J. Mahoney.

2. Mendelssohn, Over Hill, Over Dale, Girls' Chorus.

3. History, Gertrude Hobbes.

4. Essay, Elizabeth Hinckley.

5. Needham, In Blossom Time (Song), Sue E. Toole.

6. Prophecy, Teresa Tobin.

7. Oration, W. LeRoy White, Jr.

8. Mozart-Grieg, Sonata C major, 1st Movement, Estella Adeline Marcy.

9. Memorial, Ray Mather.

10. Presentations, Miss Cora Major and George F. Williams.

11. Class Song, Senior Class. Words written by Mary A. Gillgallon.

The class officers were: President, Daniel J. Mahoney; Vice President, Marjory Reese; Secretary, Julia Elizabeth Simpler, Treasurer, Fred W. Diehl.

CLASS REUNIONS.

Class Day was marked by four reunions. The class of 1884 celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary of graduation, ten of the members being present. Classroom A was used as its headquarters, trimmed prettily in green and white.

'94 was represented by a dozen members who, in celebration of their fifteenth year away from Normal, met around the festive board set up in Professor Dennis' classroom.

The decennial of the class of 1899 was observed by about fifteen members, who had room B tastefully trimmed in purple and gold as their headquarters. Steward Frisbie served them a dinner in Room L.

Nineteen members of the class of 1904 were present at the celebration of their fifth anniversary.

By far the largest reunion was that of the class of 1907. Over sixty members sat down to a dinner in the gymnasium, which was made gay by blue and white trimming. Music throughout the dinner added to the enjoyment.

COMMENCEMENT DAY.

Commencement Day dawned clear and cool, an ideal day.

The final exercises in the student life of the class of 1909, were held at ten o'clock, when they received their diplomas.

Dr. George Edward Reed, President of Dickinson College, was the Commencement Orator and delivered a scholarly and helpful address which was listened to with interest and highly commended by all present.

The commencement program was as follows :

Bohm, Festival March, B. S. N. S. Orchestra.

Prayer, Rev. S. C. Dickson.

Beethoven, Serenade.

Commencement Address, George Edward Reed, Dickinson College.

Presentation of Certificates to Graduates of Supplementary Course.

Presentation of Certificates to Graduates of the Regular Course.

Presentation of Diplomas to Graduates in College Preparatory Department.

Presentation of Diplomas to Graduates in Commercial Department.

Presentation of Permanent Diplomas to Graduates who have taught two full annual terms.

Mozart, Marchalla Turka.

In the granting of degrees Chas. L. Maurer '08, received that of Bachelor of Pedagogy.

Bogert, Nellie E., '08; Brundage, Pearl, West Chester, '05; Coxe, George W., '98; Creasy, Mark, '91; Deighmiller, Nellie, '08; Foster, Marcia, '94; Hayman, Eleanor L. M., '90; Marcy, C. A., '06; Marcy, H. N., '07; Maurer, Chas. L., '08;

Morrison, Hannah B., '90; O'Connell, Elizabeth, '97; Petrilli, Frank, '08; Styer, George R. '98; Tiffany, L. J., '05.

The students receiving certificates for completion of the Normal course numbered ninety-seven, the College Preparatory fifteen, and the Commercial eleven, making the total number of graduates of 1909 123.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Alumni Association of the Bloomsburg State Normal School was held in the Auditorium at 12 o'clock. Quite a number of old graduates were present. G. E. Elwell, Esq. President of the Association, presided. In the absence of the secretary, Prof. W. B. Sutliff was elected pro tem.

The minutes of last meeting were read and approved. The members of the class of 1909 were admitted to membership. The report of the treasurer was read and accepted, and it was ordered that the dues paid in this year shall be divided between the two literary societies, the same as last year.

The officers of last year were all reelected. They are as follows :

President, G. E. Elwell ; vice president, Dr. D. J. Waller ; recording secretary, S. J. Johnson ; corresponding secretary, Prof. G. E. Wilbur ; treasurer, H. G. Supplee ; executive committee, O. H. Bakeless, chairman ; C. H. Albert, Mrs. L. P. Sterner, Miss Eva Rupert and Mrs. John G. Harman.

At the close of the business interesting remarks were made by John M. Garman, Esq., '71 ; M. H. McAniff, Esq., '84 ; Grauville J. Clark, Esq., '82, and trustee of the school, all of Wilkes-Barre ; J. Howard Patterson, Esq., of Williamsport, and Profs. C. H. Albert, J. G. Cope, G. E. Wilbur and Dr. D. J. Waller.

ALUMNI DINNER.

At two o'clock the alumni sat down to the annual dinner prepared by Steward Frisbie in the school dining room. The blessing was asked by Rev. Dr. Hemingway, formerly of Bloomsburg. John M. Garman, Esq., '71, of Wilkes-Barre, in his position as toastmaster, with his bright humor and his effervescent Normal spirit, made things interesting from the beginning. His introductory remarks addressed to the alumni, and particularly to the youngest, the class of 1909, were of an alternate witty and serious nature. He called for responses to the following toasts: "The Old Town Pump and Normal Ideals," Professor Geo. E. Wilbur ; "The Class of '84," Mr. MacAniff, of Wilkes-Barre ; "The Class of '99," Mr. E. P. Gager, of Scranton ; "The Normal Girl," Miss Port ; "Our Wives and Our Sweethearts," Professor J. C. Foote ; "Naughty Nine," Mr. Barrow, of the graduating class.

With a few farewell remarks Mr. Garman then brought to an end the final feature of the commencement week of 1909.

Alumni.

The QUARTERLY desires to hear from all Alumni of the institution. Please consider this a personal invitation to let us know all about yourself and all you can tell us concerning your classmates. Address all communications for this department to G. E. Wilbur, Lock Box No. 203.

Prof. William Noetling attended class reunions on Tuesday of Commencement week. Other duties necessitated his leaving town on that evening much to the regret of his old pupils and friends who greatly desired his presence at the Commencement Exercises and especially at the Alumni Banquet. With all due respect to the distinguished alumni and visitors present, no one was so heartily greeted on the campus and in the halls as Prof. Noetling who holds a warm and abiding place in the hearts of his former pupils.

'70, Rupert, Eva, made a short visit to town in May. She is secretary of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, and gave an interesting address before a joint meeting of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. in chapel Thursday evening, May 13th. Her address dealt with the methods used by the Moody School in training men and women for Christian work. Miss Rupert also gave some interesting accounts of the actual work done by the pupils in Chicago.

'71, Garman, John M., was nominated for Judge at the recent primaries in Luzerne County, winning the nomination on both the Republican and Democratic tickets. A friend of John says that "he had a very narrow escape from getting the nomination also on the Prohibition ticket." He knows the law as well as politics.

'76, Low, Myron, at the recent Sunday School Convention of Columbia County, was re-elected President of the County Association. Mr. Low has served in this capacity for seventeen consecutive years, and under his administration Columbia County has taken the very first place in the state in nearly every particular. Of the other officers of the Association ten are graduates or former students of the Normal School.

'76, Fetterman (Allen) Lizzie C. (sp. course) has moved to Hagerstown, Md., where she will make her home with her son Joseph Allen who is employed at that place. Mrs. Allen's husband, Wm. B. Allen, died very suddenly while at work in the Steel Plant of the American Car and Foundry Company at Berwick, May 10. Death was due to heart disease.

'79, Albert, Chas. H. In the May number of The World's Work, there appears an article giving the names of successful competitors in the recent thinking contest conducted by the publishers, Doubleday Page and Company, among them being that of Prof. C. H. Albert, who received half of the first prize of $100, the other half being won by a person whose suggestions and ideas were equally as good as those of Prof. Albert. The prizes which ranged from $10 to $100 were offered for the best suggestions and ideas for selling books. A large number of persons tried for the prizes and though many ideas and suggestions were offered, that of Prof. Albert and Clarence Green of Tacoma, Washington, were considered best and each was presented with $50.

'79, Ferree, Simpson E. (coll. prep.) The following is taken from the Artesia Advocate, published at Artesia, New Mexico, date of July 3rd: "Mr. S. E. Ferree of the Artesia Land Company was granted a license to practice law in all courts of the territory by Judge Wm. H. Pope at Roswell last week. Mr. Ferree was born in Williamsport, Pa., prepared for college at the State Normal School at Bloomsburg, Pa., and graduated at Allegheny College at Meadville, Pa. in 1883. After teaching school in Pennsylvania for five years, he moved to Minneapolis, Minn., where he attended the law school of the University of Minnesota, graduating in 1890, when he was admitted to practice law by the supreme court of Minnesota. He practiced law in Minneapolis until 1903, when he moved to Encampment, Wyoming, and continued his practice under a license obtained from the supreme court of Wyoming until he moved to Artesia last January.

'80, Barton, Dr. Edith, has returned to her home at Lime Ridge greatly improved in health. She has been staying at Philadelphia where she has been undergoing treatment from Dr. Stengel, a specialist of that city.

'83, Marr, Albert (sp. course) with his wife and daughters has been visiting friends and relatives in Bloomsburg. Mr. Marr is engaged in business in Newark, N. J. and resides in Caldwell, near that city.

'83, Shiel, Robert. We have just learned of the death of Prof. Robert Shiel, for many years the Superintendent of the Pittston schools. We have no particulars as to his final illness. He has been in poor health for several years. The funeral was held July 6th, with a solemn high requiem mass in St. John's Church, Pittston, at 6 o'clock in the morning. The body was taken to Wayne County for interment in Rock Lake Cemetery.

'84 Reunion. The oldest, but by no means the least enjoyable of the reunions held at the Normal was that of the class of 1884, held in Room A on the first floor of the lower building. Ten of the members of the class were present, time having worked such changes during the twenty-five years since their graduation that the large majority of the members were unable to be present. The room in which the reunion was held was prettily decorated, while at one end of the room hung the class motto, "We will adorn our profession." Twelve members of the class were present. M. H. McAniff, Esq., of Wilkes-Barre was elected president of the class, and it was decided to reune some more in 1914.

'89, Caldwell, Edward E. We clip the following from a recent issue of a local paper:

A marriage which will come as a surprise to even the closest friends of the contracting parties was that solemnized at Baltimore on the 30th of June when Miss Esther Geddes, daughter of Mrs. T. E. Geddis, of First street, and one of the most widely known trained nurses in this section, became the bride of Edward Caldwell, also very well known in town. Leaving their homes with the supposed intention of spending their respective vacations at different places, the bride at Kramer, and the groom at Gettysburg, nothing definite to the contrary was learned until Saturday when a letter was received announcing their marriage on the 30th. Among the places visited on the trip were Sunbury, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Old Point Comfort and Gettysburg, from which place they are expected to return today.

The bride was one of the members of the first graduating class from the Joseph Ratti hospital and for some time followed the profession of private nurse. Later, however, she was engaged by the State Health department, since which time she has had supervision over the tuberculosis dispensary patients in Danville. The groom for a number of years has been a mail carrier in town and with his bride has the best wishes of their many friends.

'89, Kennard, Frances, recently returned from a trip including Philadelphia, Brooklyn, New York and Washington. Miss Kennard went to the latter place as a delegate to the D. A. R. convention, being sent by the Tunkhannock chapter.

'89, Stager (Longshore) L. Irene was sadly bereaved last November by the death of her husband, Dr. A. B. Longshore, a prominent dentist of Shamokin and Herndon. Irene is left with three children, Jennie, Beth, and Britton who is now fifteen months old.

'89, McCollum, Mary E., who was quite ill early in 1908 has now nearly recovered her wonted health. She was enabled to finish her school term. She will spend the summer at Harvey's Lake, and will be glad to see all old Normal friends at "Sunny Bank" cottage.

'89, Sheep, (Tyerman) S. Laura, is located at 117 Cypress Avenue, Santa Anna, California. She and her husband will make a visit east during the summer.

'89 Reunion. A very delightful reunion of the class of '89 was held Tuesday afternoon of Commencement Week, accompanied by the regulation banquet and speeches. Greetings through letters or postals were received from several who could not be present. The following answered to roll call: Mary Albertson (Adams), Lulu C. Briggs, Jay J. Brower, Ed. E. Caldwell, Fannie East (Tressler), Mary Gold (Schlicher), Helen John, Carrie Moore (Grossart), Catharine Phillips, Sue Reay (Evans), Roland Renn, Malina Rhoades (Gabbert).

'90, Adams, Rev. Jno. K., of Berwick, was recently elected President of the Wyoming Classis of the Reformed church. The sessions were held in Hazleton.

'91, McGuigan, Frank. At the primary election in Luzerne county Frank was nominated on the Democratic ticket for District Attorney. He received a very flattering vote.

'91, John, E. Barton is principal assistant engineer of the Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington R. R. with headquarters at Wilmington, Delaware.

'92, Vincent, Fred. D. We clip the following from a Wilkes-Barre paper, June 17:

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Maris Gibson, 285. South Washington street, last evening at 8 o'clock, when their daughter, Miss Elinore E., was united in marriage to Frederick D. Vincent, a resident of Ashley and one of the best known of the younger attorneys in this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. E. G. Fullerton, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, in the presence of an assemblage of near relatives and friends.

The parlor where the wedding took place was attractively decorated with laurels, roses and palms.

Following the ceremony a wedding repast was served, and attorney and Mrs. Vincent departed at a late hour on a trip to Quebec by way of Montreal. An exceptionally beautiful selection of gifts was received by the bride.

For several years the bride taught school at the Central building. Mr. Vincent is a graduate of Yale and for a number of years has been practicing law before the Luzerne county bar.

'92, Kitchen, (Creveling), Anna is living in Mt. Airy, N. C., a very pretty southern town of about five thousand inhabitants. She has resided there nearly seven years, and greatly likes her home. Please correct her address in your copy of the catalog.

'93, Krout, Jacob H., was a delegate to the International Railroad Y. M. C. A. conference held at St. Louis, May 27 to 30, representing the Philadelphia Terminal Division of the P. & R. Y. M. C. A.

'93, Traub, Rev. Frank occupied the pulpit of the Lutheran church in Bloomsburg, Sunday morning, June 20, to the great delight of the congregation. Mr. Traub has been pastor of a Lutheran church in Lima, Ohio, but has resigned the charge owing to the ill health of his wife. His address for a time will be Bloomsburg, Pa.

'93, Fister, Elizabeth C. At 9 o'clock Thursday morning, June 24th, at the home of the bride in Orangeville, Miss Elizabeth C. Fister, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ranslow Fister, was married to Mr. Frederick A. Martin, of Atlantic City, N. J. The ring ceremony was used, Rev. Alexander Scott, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Orangeville, officiating. After a brief wedding tour Mr. and Mrs. Martin will go to Atlantic City, where they will make their future home. Mr. Martin ranks as one of the leading druggists in that popular seaside resort.

'93, Reice, William C. is manager of the large distributing offices of the Ceresota Minnesota Flouring Company, located at Shenandoah, Pa.

'94, Black, (Campbell). Jennie and her little daughter Jean, have been visiting recently in Bloomsburg. Mrs. Campbell resides in Newberry where her husband is a practicing physician.

'94, Beagle, Willits, is a Corporal in Company F, Twelfth Regiment, National Guards of Pennsylvania. In the recent distribution of decorations made to marksmen Willits received a special decoration the only one in the company, designating him as an "expert." It is in the form of a Maltese cross suspended from a gold bar with the inscription "Expert Marksman 1908."

'94, Keiter, Geo. H., is busily engaged these days building State roads. He is at present building a road in the vicinity of Hunlock's Creek. He has a large force of men employed, many teams, and all the modern appliances for successfully conducting that kind of work.

'94 Reunion. The '94 reunion at Bloomsburg on June 29 was a decided success, even though there were but ten of the alumni present. Those present were Mrs. Jessie Ent Philips of Bloomsburg; Mrs. Jennie Black Campbell of Williamsport; Mrs. Bertha Johnson Kelley of Hazleton; Miss Euphemia Monroe of Hazleton; Miss Edith M. Nesbit of Milton; Miss Elizabeth Ruddy of Miners Mills; Miss Bessie Sterling of Pittston; Miss Sara Hughes of Scranton; and J. Howard Patterson, Esq., of Williamsport.

At the banquet it was determined to hold another reunion in 1914. All present agreed to commence work immediately to insure a large turnout at that time.

Miss Bertha Espy of Towanda, Pa., sent her regrets and greetings on a postal card, but as she gave no excuse it was decided not to forgive her.

Mrs. Minnie Hehl Buck of New York City wrote that she would have been present if she had received a little longer notice, and sent greetings to her classmates.

Mrs. Nellie Coffman McDermott of South Connellsville, Pa., sent greetings and said that she had just tucked her two little daughters and wee son into bed. That they kept her busy, as they are a lively trio.

Dr. Fred R. Sutliff of Philadelphia wrote that his 180 pounds of flesh would be present with the class in spirit.

Warren L. Beddoe sent his regrets on a letter head which showed him to be Secretary of Price & Co. manufacturers of lumber at Hazleton.

Miss Euphemia M. Green of West New Brighton, N. Y., sent the class a poem in which she lamented the fact that her school would still be in session on the day of the reunion.

Miss Belinda Carrol of Pittston received her notice too late to do more than send regrets and greetings to her classmates.

William W. Evans, even though on the committee felt that, as a County Superintendent, he had to attend the State teachers convention in Bethlehem that day, and so left the class a letter which when read, almost turned the heads of every one present.

Dr. G. E. Pfahler of Philadelphia wrote that he was about to start on a two months vacation in Europe with his wife, a recent graduate of Bryn Mawr, and that he could not take two vacations so close together.

Every one there seemed to have a thoroughly good time, and it is hoped that every member of '94 will arrange to attend the twenty year reunion. The excuse that the notice is short cannot be accepted the next time, for five years' notice is being given now instead of the two days notice given this year.

'95, Yetter, Alfred E., who has been chief engineer of the Pennsylvania Coal Company with headquarters at Scranton, has been promoted to the position of District Superintendent.

'95-'96, Sharpless-Fagely. The following is clipped from the Bloomsburg Republican of April 21, 1909:

At six o'clock on Tuesday evening Mr. William Fagely of Kansas City, Mo., and Miss Julia Foster Sharpless, daughter of our townsman, L. T. Sharpless, were married in the First Methodist church, by the pastor, Rev. Edgar R. Heckman, the beautiful ring ceremony being used.

The church was filled with many relatives and friends of the contracting parties.

Mrs. Fred Holmes presided at the organ and Miss Helen M. Vanderslice, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Prof. O. H. Bakeless was best man.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her away. Preceding them to the altar were Miss Vanderslice, maid of honor, and little Miss Victoria Evans of Berwick and Miss Sylva Gross of town as flower girls. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Holmes rendered several selections and Charles O. Skeer and Mrs. Margaret Andreas Lindsey sang a duet, "Perfect Love."

Following the wedding ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride on Second street, where about seventy-five of the relatives and near friends were invited. The presents were beautiful and included silver, cut glass and linen.

The bridal couple left on a special trolley for Nescopeck where they took the Pennsylvania flyer for a brief wedding tour, after which they will return to Bloomsburg and Sunbury, and in a few weeks go to Kansas City, their future home. The bride is one of Blooms-burg's finest young ladies and is held in the highest esteem by all who know her, and the groom is also well and favorably known here through his business relations as manager for some years of the United Telephone Company of this district. The young couple have the best wishes of this entire community.

'96, Shuman, Warren, graduated in the Medical College of the University of Pennsylvania. He has been appointed a resident physician at St. Timothy's Hospital in Philadelphia.

'96, Oman, Dr. Chas. M. We find the following in the Wilkes-Barre Record May 22. "Dr. C. M. Oman, U. S. N., who during the recent cruise of the battleship fleet around the world was senior medical officer on board the Illinois, and who since returning home has been transferred to the New Hampshire, has been in town for a few days, visiting his father and sister on Terrace street. Since his last visit here several years ago Dr. Oman has had a fascinating series of experiences. He was at Messina, Italy, a day or so after the earthquake and helped to direct the excavations in the ruins for the bodies of Dr. Cheney, the American consul, and his wife. He remained in Messina only two days, but during that time was able to inspect a great part of the wrecked city.

Dr. Oman has been in the navy service eight years. For three years until he returned home from the cruise around the world he was on board the Illinois. He was ordered as senior medical officer to the New Hampshire, which is to join the fleet for the summer maneuvers to take the place of one of the three big battleships which have been withdrawn from service as members of the fleet. The fleet will go to Virginia Capes in August for target practice.

'96, Wilson, Edna (coll. prep.) who has been visiting in Bloomsburg, returned to her home in Philadelphia early in May. Her engagement to W. L. McClintock, a Philadelphia banker, has recently been announced.

'96, Rutter, J. Boyd (sp. course) who graduated from the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., in June, spent a short time with his parents in Bloomsburg. He was ordered on duty on the battleship Wisconsin, one of the vessels of the Atlantic fleet. The fleet left port July 10th.

'97, Moran, John A., a graduate of the Dickinson College Law School, has been admitted to the Columbia County Bar, and also, after an examination by the State Board, was admitted in the Supreme Court of the State.

'97, Knapp, Mary S., is a teacher in the public schools of Rochester, N. Y., and is meeting with good success. She considers the work more strenuous than in corresponding positions in Pennsylvania.

'98, Parfitt, Oliver A., is the senior letter carrier in the Borough of Nanticoke and bears an excellent record. Previous to entering the employment of the government he taught school in Nanticoke and stands very high in the estimation of the community in general.

'98, Rorer, Mary Louise, on account of ill-health has not been able to take regular work as a teacher. She writes: "This year I have been appointed a special primary substitute in the Philadelphia schools and have thoroughly enjoyed the work. I am not yet quite strong enough to accept a school but this has proved a great step to me toward the end. To have finished a successful year's work, as a substitute, is pleasing, and the good old spirit of the class of '98 still stays with me, and I cannot keep out of the field of teaching." She will spend the summer at Avalon, N. J.

'98, Williams, Watkins H. One of the most delightful June weddings of the year was that of Prof. Watkins H. Williams of Jackson street, West Scranton, and Miss Jane Jenkins, which was solemnized at 8 o'clock last night by Rev. Ebenezer Flack, D. D., at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Jenkins of 215 South Hyde Park Avenue.

The parlors in which the ceremony took place were artistically decorated with ferns and cut flowers. Mrs. David J. Davis, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and Miss Louise Davis, the bride's niece, acted as flower girl. Walter Evans was the best man. The bride was given away by her father, George W. Jenkins.

Following the ceremony, a reception, which was attended by many friends and relatives of the couple, was held at the home of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams will be at home at 215 South Hyde Park Avenue after August 1.—Scranton Times June 23.

'99, Dennis, Lindley H., and Geraldine Conner Dennis, '96, celebrated the fifth anniversary of their wedding at their home in Orangeville, June 24. A very enjoyable occasion.

'99, O'Neill, Francis C. We clip the following from a Wilkes-Barre paper: "Francis C. O'Neill arrived home last night from Philadelphia, where he has been attending the University of Pennsylvania. He finished his second year studying medicine, obtaining the highest marks that could be given. He will remain at home for the summer with his parents, attorney D. L. O'Neill and wife, at the old homestead on North Main Street. Mr. O'Neill is well known now in Philadelphia, where he has also appeared in several of the church choirs, being a singer of more than ordinary note.

ceiving the degree of A. B. He has been elected principal of one of the Wilkes Barre schools.

'99 Reunion. The ten year reunion of the class of 1899 was held in class room B, and a goodly number of the members of the class were present. The room was tastefully decorated with the class colors, purple and gold, while around the side of the room hung the names of the 37 members of the class who have been married since leaving the school and also a number of those supposed to have aspirations in that line. Following the business session the members returned to room L, where they held their banquet.

Present at the banquet were Dr. J. P. Echternach of Philadelphia, L. H. Dennis of Orangeville, Mrs. Edna Eves Oswald, Scranton; Gertrude Morris, Taylor; Jennie Smith, Wilkes-Barre; Mae Hankee, Pittston; Beula Mulliner, Williamsport; Emily Lattimer, Wilkes-Barre; Mrs. John E. Fidler, Bloomsburg; Mrs. B. C. Severance, Bloomsburg; Bessie Creveling and Herman Fritz, Bloomsburg; Miss Hulda Goss, of Sunbury.

'00, Letson, Blanche, former instructor in vocal music at the Normal School, and who during the past year has had a leave of absence to continue her studies in New York City, will resume her position as teacher of vocal music next year.

She possesses a voice of rare excellence, and her many friends will be glad to see her here again.—Columbian, June 17.

'00, Harris, Sara, was married June 30, at the home of her parents in Buckhorn, to Albert E. Chipman, of Seaford, Delaware. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. Wade Hartman, '88 of Hollidaysburg, an uncle of the bride.

'Twas a daisy wedding in all its details, the decorations being carried out along particularly elaborate lines. The bride was attended by Miss Mae House, '05. The wedding march was effectively rendered by Miss Ona Harris, cousin of the bride, Lohengrin's march being used.

Following the ceremony an elaborate wedding dinner was served, the bride and groom and the mother of the groom then leaving for Philadelphia. They will make their home at Seaford, Delaware, where the groom holds a responsible position.

The gifts were many and elaborate, including a wealth of cut glass, china, and silverware.

'00, Shuman, Dr. Myron B. (sp. c.) After a week's illness of diphtheria, Dr. Myron B. Shuman died at Reading, Pa., May 25, 1909. He was aged twenty-seven years and was one of the rising young dentists of Reading, and enjoyed a large practice. He was a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania. The funeral was held Wednesday, May 26. The Catawissa Lodge No. 349 F. & A. M., of which he was a member, met the 3:30 train on the Reading R. R. at Catawissa and accompanied the body to Bloomsburg where interment was made, Rev. E. R. Heckman of Bloomsburg, officiating. Beside his parents the following brothers and sister survive, former students of the Normal School: Dr. J. E. Shuman, Dr. Warren Shuman, Howard Shuman and Miss Edith Shuman.

'01, Morgan, Gertrude. The following is from a Northumberland paper dated October 27, 1908:

Miss Gertrude Morgan, daughter of Mrs. Annie Morgan, of South Queen street, Northumberland, was married at eight o'clock this (Tuesday) morning, to Edwin Northy, of Calumet, Michigan. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's mother and the Rev. H. C. Michael of St. John's Lutheran church, officiated. The young couple were attended by John S. Morgan and Miss Mary Morgan, brother and sister of the bride. A wedding breakfast followed.

The bride is a graduate of the Northumberland High School; also Bloomsburg Normal, and for several years was a teacher in the public schools of Northumberland, but for the past few years has been teaching at Calumet, Michigan.

The bridegroom holds a responsible position as clerk in the employ of the Calumet and Hecla Mining Company at Calumet. The young couple left on the 9:30 a. m. train for Chicago and other cities, and thence to their home at Calumet, Michigan, followed by the best wishes of a large circle of friends.

'01, Albertson, E. Joe. Adrift at sea 100 miles from shore in a frail boat and tossed about for 48 hours by the waves, E. J. Albertson, who for the past eight years has been engaged in school work in the Philippine Islands, had a harrowing experience, and for a time had little hope of ever again seeing land.

The following account of the experience taken from the Manila Cable News, will be of interest:

In attempting to reach northern Palawan and Puerto Princessa from the island of Cuyo, E. J. Albertson, Division Superintendent of Schools of the district of Palawan, was swept 100 miles out to sea in a frail banca and tossed about on the crest of the waves for many long hours at the risk of his life, in the late typhoon which swept across the Visayas.

He finally brought up in the vicinity of what proved to be Manamoc Island at the northwest of the Cuyo group. For two days and nights the tiny craft was blown hither and thither among the lands of the group and at the end of this time it was cast up on the shores of the island of Agutaya, about half way between Manamoc and Cuyo. From there the return was made to Cuyo and the trip to Puerto Princessa given up till the weather cleared and more satisfactory transportation was available. — Morning Press, May 17.

'01, Moss, Claude L., graduated in June at Syracuse University with high honors, securing the prized Phi Beta Kappa Key. He has been elected principal of the schools at Sherburne, N. Y., an excellent position. During the summer he will be engaged in work representing the Lyceum Bureau of Syracuse, N. Y.

'01, Moyer, (Zeigler), Rebecca, is living in Washington, D. C., 1906 3rd street, N. W. Her husband is employed in the Forestry Department of the government.

'02, Curtis, Prethynia, is contemplating a visit to Nanaimo, British Columbia, where she will spend several weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Morris Garman, former Nanticoke residents.

'02, Frymire, Martha, (Music.) At high noon, Wednesday, June 23 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Frymire, on East street, Miss Martha Frymire of Bloomsburg, became the bride of Jesse M. John of Millville. Rev. R. G. Bannon, D. D., of Williamsport, was the officiating minister, the ring ceremony of the Lutheran church being used.

The decorations were carried out in green and pink, the bower under which the couple were pronounced man and wife being ornamented in blossoming laurel.

Miss Frymire was attended by Miss Margaret Waller as maid of honor, the Misses Belle Burr and Marguerite Eshelman as bridesmaids, and Miss Florence Caswell as flower girl. Mr. Walter W. Skerry accompanied Mr. John as groomsman, and Myron Eves and Jay Grimes acted as ushers. Mrs. J. Emory Eves of Millville, formerly Miss Margaret Evans of Bloomsburg, rendered the Mendelssohn wedding march as the wedding party entered the parlors.

During the ceremony the pianist rendered an original composition dedicated to the bride entitled "The Bride's Dream." After the ceremony the wedding party left the room in order preceded by Miss Laura Herring, whom Bloomsburg salutes as a prima donna of the days to come, singing a recessional "Adeste Fideles" in Latin.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Dodson during which time Miss Herring further favored the company with a number of solos appropriate to the occasion rendered in a most acceptable manner.

A number of guests were present who had been in attendance at the weddings of the bride's mother and elder sister.

Mr. and Mrs. John left Wednesday evening for Solon Springs, Wisconsin, where they will make their future home, Mr. John entering mercantile business there on July 1.

'02, Hirlingler (Keller), Etta, now lives at No. 112, 15th street, N. E. Washington, D. C. Mr. Keller is employed in Cabinet Department of the Treasury.

'02, Bailey, Marie M., is living with her mother in Red Rock, Pa. She has successfully taught the school at home for a number of years.

'02, Knelly, Sue M., graduated from the Bellevue Training School for women nurses, Bellevue Hospital, New York, April 28, 1909.

'03, Hagenbuch, Rea, is on an engineering corps located about eight miles from Cardova, Alaska. He says it is a wonderful country, the climate is delightful, while in the gulches the snow is from two to fifty feet deep.

'04, Krommas, Lulu M. A Free-land dispatch, dated March 30, to the Philadelphia Inquirer, says:

A fashionable wedding took place at Upper Lehigh this morning, when Harry Lesser and Miss Lulu Krommas, both of that town, were married. The ceremony took place at the bride's home and was witnessed by a large circle of friends. Rev. Geo. B. Van Dyke, pastor of the Upper Lehigh Presbyterian church, officiated.

The bride is a former school teacher, and last year at a local fair contest, was voted the most popular instructress in the district. The groom is a law student, and a member of the County Commissioners' clerical force.

Bruce Mochamer, of Hazleton, was best man, and Miss Krommas attended the bride.

'04, Herring, Laura (Coll. Prep.) The following is from the New York correspondent of the Inquirer, June 8:

Miss Laura Douglass Herring has decided to leave the classic hall of Vassar for the grand opera stage. She is just completing her sophomore year and no more college for her. She will pass the summer at her home at Sunbury, Pa., and then begin serious study in New York city to fit herself for an operatic career. Still under 20 years old, Miss Herring has been singing since she was 16, when she discovered she had a contralto voice of grand opera possibilities. Two years of singing Vassar songs has improved her voice until now she is known as the best contralto among all the Vassar songstresses. Sitting in her room today packing up books, tennis racquets and balls, dumbbells, college flags and all the other paraphernalia of a college girl outfit, Miss Herring said:

"Oh, yes, I am going on the grand opera stage and I am going to plunge right into the work of preparation. I am leaving Vassar sooner than I want to, but I am anxious to begin preparation for what I believe will be my career. I expect to take a three years' course at the New York Institute of Musical Art, under Frank Damrosch. He has heard me sing twice and has praised my voice."

When asked what roles she aspired to sing, she said:

"Wagner roles, especially in 'Tristan and Isolde,' and 'The Ring' operas. I have only had twenty lessons in voice culture, but I have been studying the languages with a view to my future opera work. I have mastered French and German. I must now master Italian, so that I may sing Italian roles."

'04 Reunion. Nineteen members of the class of 1904 returned to attend the five year reunion of the class. Owing to the fact that notices had not been sent out to the members, the number present was small and as a precaution that such a condition does not occur at the next reunion of the class to be held in 1910 committees were named to see that the members are properly notified and that arrangements are made in ample time to make it a success.

The members present at the reunion were: Emma Berry Matter, Duncannon, Pa.; Matilda Black, Centralia; Mrs. Jessie Boyer Howell, Trucksville; Anna E. Challis, Wilkes-Barre; Harold C. Cryder, Willow Springs; Alvirde Davenport, Plymouth; Maude Davis, Taylor; Allen B. Eister, Seven Points; Nellie Fetterolf, Mifflinburg; Minnie V. Fineran, Carbondale; Emma S.

Hinckley, Tamaqua; G L. Howell, Trucksville; N. C. Keely, Seybertsville; Mary Murriu, Carbondale; Harry E. Rider, Bloomsburg; Margaret Seely, Beach Haven; Elizabeth E. Specht, Hazleton; Eugene R. Stead, Beaver Valley; Mary E. Sterner, Bloomsburg; Margaret E. Jenkins, Bloomsburg.

'05, Hemingway, Vera. A local paper says: The engagement of Miss Vera Hemingway, daughter of Rev. Dr. G. H. Hemingway, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Camden, N. J., formerly of town, to Charles Housenick, of town, has been announced. Both young people are very well known socially in town.

'05, Davis, Luzetta, left Bloomsburg, June 25, for Grand Junction, Colorado, where she has secured a position in the schools of that city. She has been a very efficient teacher in the public schools of Berwick.

'05, Elwell, Jr., G. Edward, who graduated at Trinity College, last June, earned the degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science. The first was conferred upon him, but owing to the rule of the college that but one degree will be given at a time to the same person, he will get his Bachelor of Science degree next year. No further study is required, and he will simply have to appear next June and receive his diploma, which has already been earned.

'05, Drum, Warren, who has been teaching in the High School at Flemington, N. J., will spend the summer in Bloomsburg.

'05, Rogers, Bertha M., (sp. course) graduated at the Training School for Nurses of the Williamsport Hospital, May 25th. Bertha made a splendid record at the hospital and school.

'05, Leidy, Dora. A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Miss Agnes Leidy on Wednesday evening, June 30, when Miss Dora Leidy became the bride of Carl Fleckenstine, both of Orangeville.

Mr. Fleckenstine succeeded his father in business and has had a successful career as a merchant, while Miss Leidy was recognized as one of the most successful teachers in Columbia county.

After a dainty luncheon had been served the couple left on the evening train. They will remain on a short honeymoon and then return home to Orangeville.

'05, Hess, Mae, (sp. course), was married March 31st to Mr. Norman Cox of Bloomsburg. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. R. Heckman at the home of the bride's parents on West Third street.

Following the ceremony an elaborate wedding dinner was served in the dining room which was tastily decorated in white and green. The parlor was decorated in green and white bells. The newly wedded couple then left on the 2:31 D. L. & W. train upon an extended wedding tour including Wilkes-Barre, Scranton, Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

Upon their return they will reside in their newly furnished home on West Third Street. The bride and groom were the recipients of many beautiful presents.

'06, Hamlin, Norma E., is connected with the International Correspondence Schools of Scranton, in the Civil Engineering Department. She is enjoying herself correcting papers in surveying. Her address is No. 920 Green Ridge St.

'06, Snyder, Homer, has been taking a course at Dickinson College, preparatory to entering one of the Medical Colleges of the State, which he will probably do this fall.

'06, Chrisman, Neil (sp. course) graduated in Law at the University of Pennsylvania in June. He took fine standing in the Law College. Of a class of one hundred and twenty who started three years ago, sixty-three graduated.

'06, Zehner, Maude (music) was married at the home of her parents at Tank, Thursday, April 8th to Mr. Ernest Paden of Berwick. The ceremony was performed at 7:30 o'clock by an uncle, Rev. S. P. Boone, of Berwick. Only the immediate families were present and the ceremony was a very quiet one.

A wedding breakfast was served and the newly wedded couple left upon the flyer for their wedding tour.

The bride is one of the best known young women in the community in which she lives.

Mr. Paden is a well known young man of Berwick and is employed in the auditing department of the A. C. & F. Company.

After a wedding tour they will take up their residence in their beautifully furnished home on East Seventh street, Berwick, Pa.

'07, Mauser (Roat) Helen, has been residing at Norfolk, Va., where her husband was employed by the United States Express Company. Mr. Roat has been transferred by the company to Kingston, Pa., where they will make their home.

'07, Dino, John will next year be a member in full standing of the senior class at Harvard University. Mr. Dino has made a fine record—doing three years work in two years. His brother Nicholas Dino '07 is planning to enter the same University.

'07 Reunion. Sixty members of the class of '07 gathered 'round the banquet board in their two year reunion at Normal yesterday. President Harry DeWire acted as Toastmaster and first introduced Dr. Waller, who responded to the toast, "The Class in its Relation to the School." Profs. Wilbur, Foote and Albert, Jr., told how they had invested the Class Memorial fund and the benefits derived therefrom. Miss Bryant then responded to "Some Reminiscences of 1907," while Derl Hess responded to "Our Alma Mater." The class then sang the class song after which a short business session was held. The occasion was an enjoyable one. We regret that lack of space prevents our printing the names of the sixty who were present.

'08, Grimes, Jay, is a student at the Bennett Medical College, Chicago. He will spend some time in Columbia county during the summer, but we hear that he has accepted a position as solicitor for the college. He will continue this work until school opens.

'09, Boody, Mary C., (sp. course) At 9:30 o'clock on Tuesday morning, June 29, a very pretty home wedding was consecrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs L. H. Boody of Rupert, when their daughter Mary was married to Mr. Daniel H. Fisher. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Lettie Boody as maid of honor and the groom's best man was S. R. Fisher, his brother. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William Allen, of Lloyd, Pa. The home was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The bride received many beautiful and valuable presents.

'09, Hinckley, Bess, has accepted the position of assistant to Prof. Hartline of the biological department. Very many of the class of 1909 have secured positions, most of them very desirable ones. They think '09 the very best class that ever left "Old Normal." However that may be, "Old Normal" expects great things from the class. We have not the space to publish the names and positions.

A Record Breaker.

The fall term for the year 1909, opened on the 7th of September with the largest first day's registration in the history of the school. As stated in our last issue the advance reservation of rooms was unusually heavy and before the end of the first week of the term had closed, practically every room on the girls' side of the building was in use and only a few on the boys' side were without occupants. Each week since has brought in its quota of new arrivals and our present attendance now surpasses that of any previous term. The trustees, prompt to provide needed accommodations, have arranged for additional dormitory space in the upper building, new class rooms have been equipped and in spite of the unexpectedly large attendance the work of the year has gotten smoothly under way and is progressing as uneventfully as in previous years. But everybody is busy just at present on Normal Hill.

The Winter Term will open December 6th, 1909.

New Members of the Faculty.

Unusually few changes have been made in the Faculty this year.

The vacancy in the department of English occasioned by the resignation of Miss Bryant has been filled by the election of Miss Mary Isabel Ellis of Kingston, N. Y. Miss Ellis is a graduate of the Kingston Academy and of the Emerson School of Oratory where she also completed a post graduate course of study. She comes to us after a successful experience in teaching in the schools of New York state.

Mrs. Lindley H. Dennis, formerly Miss Geraldine Conner of Orangeville, well known as a successful teacher in the county, has assumed the position of Grade teacher in the Model School, formerly held by Miss Perkins.

Mrs. Kate L. Larrabee, custodian of the study hall, in consequence of ill health, was obliged to resign shortly after the opening of the term, and the position is being filled for the present by E. Joe Albertson, home from the Philippines on a year's leave of absence. Mr. Albertson has made a most creditable record for himself in the educational field in the far east and his enthusiasm for the work keeps him in the harness even during his vacation time.

Vacation Changes.

Among the numerous changes and improvements made by order of the trustees during the summer may be noted the following: new hardwood floors in the entrance corridors near the office, new double tap porcelain drinking fountain connected with the new cooling coil in the cold storage, new dish-room, new cold storage equipment and other kitchen conveniences. Some of the corridors and class rooms have been given wooden ceilings to replace the constantly dropping plaster and many minor improvements throughout the building testify to the desire of the trustees to maintain a thoroughly up-to-date school.

The enrollment for the current term is larger than for any other term in the history of the school, 677 pupils. The nearest approach to this attendance was in the Spring of 1904, more than five years ago, 669 pupils. In the Spring of 1892 the enrollment was 453; in that of 1897, 560; in that of 1902, 640; in the Spring of 1909, 661.

Alumni.

The QUARTERLY desires to hear from all Alumni of the institution. Please consider this a personal invitation to let us know all about yourself and all you can tell us concerning your classmates. Address all communications for this department to G. E. Wilbur, Lock Box No 203.

Alumni Banquets.

"Ah, how good it feels!

The hand of an old friend!"

—Longfellow.

On Friday evening, October 22, the Lackawanna County Alumni Association of the B. S. N. S. will hold its annual reunion at the Scranton Bicycle Club, corner Washington Ave. and Olive Street, Scranton, Pa., beginning at 6:30 o'clock and ending—well, that's something to be determined later. These rich, royal, remembered times! Those who have formerly attended will permit no trivial reason to keep them away. Those who have never attended are several miles in the rear as to B. S. N. S. fellowship and loyalty. Please let the Secretary know if you will be there—it aids wonderfully in the preparations for the event. Please notify at once.

MISS MARGARET A. LEWIS, Secretary.

535 Adams Ave., Scranton, Pa.

Thursday evening, October 28th is the time set for the 20th Annual Meeting and Banquet of the Luzerne County B. S. N. S. Alumni Association. These meetings in the past have been very enjoyable. Old acquaintanceship has been renewed, new friends have been made, and a spirit of loyalty to our Alma Mater has been fostered at each meeting to such an extent that the loyalty of Luzerne Alumni has become proverbial.

If you have never attended one of these meetings, you have missed what you cannot afford to miss again. If you have attended before, we are certain no argument is necessary to induce you to attend this time.

The meeting will be at the Hotel Sterling, Wilkes-Barre, beginning at 6 p. m. The Banquet will be at 7 p. m. We want to know whether you will be there. Write our President, G. J. Clark, Esq., 12 North Franklin St., Wilkes-Barre, Pa., at once as to your intentions.

Yours truly,

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

As the QUARTERLY is sent to every graduate, these invitations are in place of those heretofore sent out by the local societies. Mark the date on your calendar at home and in your office that no other engagements may be made for these happy evenings. Let's have a great rally for the old school.

"Great souls by instinct to each other turn

Mr. E. C. Wells, Steward and Superintendent of Buildings and grounds at the Normal School from 1877 to 1888, died at the home of his son, Jos. G. Wells, in Bloomsburg, Pa., Wednesday, September 1, 1909. He had been in failing health for about a year, afflicted with heart trouble, but his condition did not become alarming until the Saturday before his death. The funeral was held at Muncy, Pa., where interment was made.

Mr. Wells will be fondly remembered by the students during his stewardship, for many kindly offices, and efforts for their comfort and welfare.

Dennis, Prof. S James. We take the following from The Columbian Sept. 30.

"The Daily Press of Riverside, California of September 22, contains an account of the wedding of Samuel James Dennis of Washington, D. C., brother of Prof. J. H. Dennis of the Normal School, to Miss Irene Mary Walker of Riverside, Cal.

The house was beautifully decorated with pink and white roses.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. W. A. Hunter. The bride was unattended, and was given away by her brother, Geo. Walker of Salt Lake City.

The bride, a tall beautiful girl, was gowned in a gray traveling suit, and wore a large black picture hat, and carried a bouquet of roses and ferns.

Only the members of the two families and a few intimate friends were present, among the guests being Mrs. L. H. Dennis of Washington, D. C., the mother of the bridegroom.

After an elaborate wedding breakfast the young couple started east, and will reside in Washington, where Mr. Dennis holds an important position in one of the government departments.

Some years ago he had charge of the Manual Training department at the Normal School, and has many friends here whose good wishes follow him.

Prof. Ira Shipman died at his home in Sunbury, Pa., Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 1st, of acute indigestion. The funeral was held Friday, September 3rd. As a tribute of respect the schools of Sunbury were closed and the members of the school board and the teachers attended in a body. He, was for many years superintendent of the schools of Northumberland County and later of the schools of Sunbury. He was, on several occasions, a member of the State Board of Examiners at this school, and a large number of the graduates will find his name on the certificate, and will kindly remember his genial and courteous manners. THE QUARTERLY deems it fitting to make this reference to his death.

'70, Armstrong, Amelia. We clip the following from a local paper of recent date: "By the decision of Miss Amelia Armstrong, who for many years has conducted a kindergarten school in the old stone building on Main street recently demolished to make room for a modern business block, to discontinue the school, there has left the profession one of the oldest and most successful school teachers in this section of the state. For a number of years she was engaged as teacher in the public schools of town but later established a kindergarten school in the old stone building a short distance below the square where she taught for many years and always enjoyed a large attendance of pupils.

'70, McKelvy, Dr. William (sp. course) who resides in Denver, Colo., was stricken with apoplexy early in August. Recent news received from him indicate that he has greatly improved and that nearly full sensations have returned to the parts affected.

'79, Breece Hannah, who is employed by the United States Government in Alaska, has recently been transferred from Wood Island to a school among the Kenai Indians about 250 miles inland where she will be one of three white people in the village.

In a recent letter she told of her trip inland when the horse which she was driving became frightened at a bear and jumped across a narrow ravine while the road lay around it. She passed over great mountains, through glacial streams, passed glaciers and through forests to reach her school. She does not expect to get any mail this winter. The nearest physician is 150 miles away and it would take four days trip with dogs to reach him.

On reaching the school she was surprised to find it furnished with the latest improved American desks and a model in construction and ventilation. There will be about 20 pupils.

'79, Albert, Charles H. A local paper says: "After a six weeks' trip through West Virginia, Indiana and Erie county, Pennsylvania, during which time he was engaged as instructor at seven teachers' institutes, Prof. C. H. Albert of the Normal School, returned home Sunday. Incidentally it marked the close of his twelfth season in such work, an evidence of his efficiency in that line of educational work, his services being always in great demand. While in West Virginia he was employed by the state. The last institute that he attended was at Evansville, Indiana "

'79, Jackson, Will. W. (special course) now resides at Williamsport, Pa. He recently made a short visit to Bloomsburg on legal business connected with the settlement of the estate of his father, the late Senator Geo. D. Jackson. Those who saw Will. say he looks prosperous and healthy as of yore.

'80, Creasy, S. Clifton (special course). The July issue of the Pennsylvania Lumberman contains a fine portrait of Mr. Creasy. He is president of the Retail Dealers' Lumber Association for Eastern and Central Pennsylvania.

'80, White, Heister V. (special course) was elected to the presidency of the Pennsylvania State Millers' Association which recently held its sessions at State College, Pa. Mr. White is greatly interested in the association and has taken a prominent part in its meetings.

'82, Stiles (Brooke) N. Burnette. A slumber song entitled, "Dream Boat," the words of which were written by Mrs. W. H. Brooke and the music composed by her son, Walter S. Brooke, '05, appeared in the September Woman's Home Companion. The song has already sprung into popular favor wherever it has been heard. It was the first song of a number which Mr. Brooke has composed that he has offered to a publisher and it was accepted by the first publisher to whom it was sent, most satisfying evidence of his ability as a composer.

'82, Finney, (Sterner) Nora, was the guest of the committee of the City of New York, having in charge the Hudson-Fulton celebration. Mrs. Sterner enjoys the distinction of being a great-great-grand-daughter of Elizabeth Fulton Finney, a sister of Robert Fulton, the steam boat inventor, and whose memory is being honored in the celebration.

During their sojourn there, they, with all the direct and collateral descendants of the inventor, received the homage of the Hudson-Fulton committee, a special boat enabling them to view the naval parade while they were the recipients of numerous other courtesies.

'82, Moore, Dr. E. J. The following is clipped from a western paper: Rev. E. J. Moore, the superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, a member of the Cincinnati Conference, is much in demand for pulpit supply work these days. He spends the first two weeks of August filling Chautauqua engagements in Kansas and Minnesota. In making up the programs for the coming season, many of the Brotherhoods already "have a date" with Dr. Moore. It is said that he is just as popular in the pulpits of other churches as in his own.

'85, Birch T. Bruce, now a professor in Wittenberg College, Ill., was one of the principal speakers at a largely attended Bible Conference held at Dixon, Ill. in August. We find the following in the Lutheran Observer of Sept. 3, giving an account of the Conference:

To select any for especial commendation where all were of such a high order of merit seems almost an odious comparison, but it seems to the writer that the work of Prof. T. B. Birch, Ph. D., of Wittenberg College, was of especial interest and value, and this feeling was in part expressed by Dr. Gerberding, who termed him "a find" in the scholarship of our Church."

'85, Berninger, Martha, was married August 26, at Van Couver, B. C. to Thomas W. Kidd of Montreal, Canada. They sailed the next day on the steamer Empress for Hong Kong, China, where the groom is engaged in the lumber business. They will remain in China until spring, expecting to close his business there by that time when they will return to VanCouver.

The bride was for a number of years a teacher in the Catawissa public schools, giving up that work to accompany Dr. Elizabeth Reif-snyder, to Shanghai, China. She was engaged in work at the Margaret Williamson Hospital for several years and then took up missionary work in Japan. Soon after returning to this country she became identified with the Y. W. C. A. work and went to China to open work in that country. It was while she was engaged in this work that she met her husband. For some time past Miss Berninger has had charge of the Y. W. C. A. work in Minneapolis, Minn.

'88, Quinn, Bridgetta L., who has been engaged in the Interior Department of the United States Government as Indian teacher at the Crow Agency in Pryor, Mont., returned to her home in Wilkes-Barre Aug. 12. Miss Quinn has been engaged in this service for the past six years and during that time experienced considerable of the wild life among the Indians.

This is the last year for her to engage in the government service although she has accustomed herself to the west and she intends returning after a short visit and take up her residence upon a large claim which she holds in Montana.

Miss Quinn had the honor of representing as delegate the allied Catholic Indian tribes and the Montana State Federation of Catholic Societies at the national convention in Pittsburg during the first week in August.

She speaks creditably of the Indians and their ambition to learn the rudiments of education and that they are not the savages they are painted to be. She says no one need fear the Indian who goes among them to do good.

'93, Guscott, Charles, is a deputy Sheriff of the big county of Luzerne—a good deputy. A Hazleton item in a July Philadelphia paper says: The Republican County Committee has elected Charles Guscott of this city, an attache of the sheriff's office, chairman of the Hazleton district, to conduct the fight on behalf of the county candidates in November. Mr. Guscott is among the leading young Republicans of Luzerne county. He was manager of the baseball team of the Bloomsburg State Normal School while a student there, and later was at the head of the Hazleton Baseball Club. Before going into politics he was a Hazle township school teacher.

'94, Ansart, Louis L., is an Assistant Examiner, Patent Office,

Washington, D. C. Mail addressed to him in this way will reach him.

'94, Ernst, (Snyder) Sara. The following is a Mauch-Chunk item of recent date: Mrs Sara Ernst Snyder of Pittsburg, formerly professor of English Literature at Albright College, now a missionary lecturer, will lecture on "The Missionary Motive" in the United Evangelical Church this city on Thursday evening.

'95, Patterson, Dr. J. Bruce. In the early summer Bruce spent some time in Columbia County visiting relatives and friends. About the middle of July he went to Standard, Louisiana, where he is physician for a large lumber company employing about two thousand men. He has been engaged in this capacity for some time. The company having recently closed a large contract in Missouri has moved to Standard, La., where they will be engaged for several years.

'95, Koerber, Geo. A., graduated at Lafayette in 1908 and since that time has been an instructor in the Physical Laboratory of that institution.

'96, Wilson, Edna B. Invitations have been received by Bloomsburg friends and relatives for the wedding of Miss Edna Bright Wilson, daughter of Mrs. Araminta Wilson, to William Lewis McClintock, the ceremony to be performed in St. Paul's Reformed Episcopal church, Broad and Venango streets, Philadelphia, October 6, at 6 o'clock in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. McClintock will be at home at 493 1/2 Osage avenue, Philadelphia, after December 1.

'96, Shuman, Dr. Warren, who graduated with high honors from the University of Pennsylvania, with the class of 1909, has entered St. Timothy's hospital, Philadelphia, he having been selected as one of the resident doctors, because of the high honors he won at the university.

'97, Miller, James M., editor, and one of the proprietors of the Wellsboro Republican, one of the best country weeklies in the State, visited at his old home in Espy for a few days in September.

'97, Knapp, Mary, is teaching in the public schools of Rochester, N. Y. Her sister Jennie, class '09, is also teaching in the city schools. Miss Mary is planning to take up subjects in Rochester University and work for a degree.

'98, Barrett, Nora. The Scranton Republican, Thursday, July 29 has the following from Archbald:

One of the prettiest of July weddings was solemnized at St. Thomas' church yesterday morning at 8 o'clock when Miss Nora Barrett, of Laurel street, was united in marriage to Michael Burke, of Mayfield. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. J. Comerford with a nuptial mass. The young couple entered the church as the wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Miss Mabel Kraft. During the ceremony Miss Kraft also rendered "Hearts and Flowers" and the "Venetian Love Song." A large number of friends of the couple witnessed the ceremony. The bride was attired in a white silk made en Princess, trimmed with baby Irish lace; wore a white picture hat and carried a large bouquet of bridal roses. Her attendant was her sister, Miss Anna, who was prettily attired in pink silk made en Princess. She wore a black picture hat and carried bridal roses. The groom's best man was Attorney M. J. Walsh, of Scranton. Following the wedding ceremony a delightful wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Barrett, of Laurel street. Mrs. Burke is a young lady of charming manner and her amiable disposition won her many warm friends. Mr. Burke is one of Mayfield's best young men. They both have the best wishes of their many friends. Miss Burke until her marriage was a teacher in the public schools.

'98-'06, Robbins, Auber J. and Gladys Ruhl '06 are being congratulated upon their engagement which has been recently announced. These young people are both popular among a large number of friends who are pleased to hear of this announcement.

and Mrs. A. G. Davison, at about 2:30 o'clock on Friday morning, Oct. 1. Death was due to ptomaines. He was aged about 27 years, and was very well-known in town, where he has a number of relatives and also was a graduate of the Bloomsburg State Normal School, class of 1899.

The story of his attack and death is sad as well as unusual. A young man of athletic inclinations, of no bad habits, and a careful liver, he was stricken less than two weeks ago with the attack of ptomaines. This, despite the efforts of the physicians, failed to respond to treatment, and gradually sapped out a life that had one of the most promising and brilliant futures before it.

It is thought that his illness was due to eating canned tomatoes as this was the only thing that he was known to have eaten prior to his last illness that could have caused it. Both the lower limbs were paralyzed and he had lost practically the power of speech.

From the Normal he entered Lehigh University where he was graduated as an electrical engineer. Changing his mind after leaving this school he entered the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia, where he was graduated two years ago as a dentist. He opened offices at No. 1212 Marion street, Scranton, where he had gained an enviable reputation as an able practitioner, and also had a large and growing practice, when the grim reaper cut down his young life while he was really at the beginning of his career.

Besides his parents he is survived by a widow.

The funeral will take place from his parents' home at 2:30 o'clock on Sunday afternoon. The Rev. I. B. Burrell of Benton, will officiate. Interment in the cemetery at that place.—Daily Sentinel Oct. 2.

'99, Ellsworth, Emma J. We clip from the Wilkes-Barre Record, Sept. 4: A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Chester L. Ellsworth in Centremoreland Wednesday, Sept. 1, when his youngest daughter Emma Jean, was given in marriage to D. C. Smith. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John R. Austin, pastor of the Centremoreland M. E. Church, and was witnessed by the immediate families.

The bride looked charming in a white embroidered robe. She is a graduate of the Bloomsburg State Normal School and has many accomplishments. Mr. Smith is well-known for his musical ability and is one of the representative men of Wyoming County. After an elaborate wedding dinner Mr. and Mrs. Smith left for an extended trip to Philadelphia and Atlantic City. They will be at home to friends at Centremoreland, Pa., after Sept. 10th.

'99, Coyle, Philip A. wrote THE QUARTERLY just too late for the July issue:

"Taught three years, fired out by change of politics, navigated to Philadelphia, took the examination for postal service, appointed March 1903, and here I am located at the corner of Broad Street and Glenwood Avenue. Domiciled at 3727 North Delhi, with the "best little girl on earth." All old Bloomsburg friends, all former schoolmates welcomed with open arms."

'99, Shepperson, Katherine. We find the following in the Danville Morning News, May 26th:

"Miss Katherine Basil Shepperson and Michael J. Buck, both of this city, were united in matrimony in St. Joseph's Catholic church at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, the Rev. Father McCann officiating. The marriage was solemnized with high mass.

The bride wore light blue silk trimmed with Venetian lace and carried bride's roses.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mary Shepperson, Front street.

On the 11:25 P. & R. train the newly wedded couple left for Philadelphia and other points. Returning they will take up their residence in Danville.

The bride received a magnificent array of presents, among which was a handsome set of china dishes, presented by the choir of St. Joseph's Catholic church.

Both bride and groom are well known young people of our town. The bride is the organist of St. Joseph's church. She is talented and most highly esteemed, the center of a wide circle of loving friends, whose kindest wishes are showered upon her as she enters the married state. The groom is likewise well known and popular. He is a young man of industrious habits and is prominent in affairs at the northern end of town.

'99, Curtis, Louise. The Susquehanna Evening Transcript, Friday, Sept. 3. A very pretty wedding occurred last evening at the home of Mr. C. F. Curtis on Jackson avenue, when Miss Louise Curtis was married to Mr. Winfred C. Decker of Albany, N. Y., before a large circle of friends and relatives, the Rev. Mr. Galbraith of the Presbyterian church officiating. The bride and groom entered the parlor to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, played by Miss Florence Wright, and took their places under an arch of evergreen. The bride was beautifully gowned in white chiffon voile over taffeta and carried a bridal bouquet of white roses. She was unattended. After the ceremony a dainty collation was served on small tables by members of the Dorcas Society of the Presbyterian church.

Mr. and Mrs. Decker left on the midnight train for the west and after their honeymoon will take up their residence in Albany where

Mr. Decker is in charge of the German department in the Albany Normal college. Mr. Decker has spent the greater part of the summer at Columbia College, New York City, where the degree of Master of Arts has just been conferred upon him.

The house was beautifully decorated with palms, evergreen and asters, and the bride was the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

'00, Jones, Walter H., has resigned as teller at the Keystone Bank and has accepted a position with the Dime Bank in the central city. Mr. Jones has been employed by the bank since it was organized and has been a valued employe. He has done much for the growth of the institution which he is leaving. His friends are sorry to have him leave West Scranton but glad that he is able to better himself.

He will commence his new duties with the Dime Bank within a few days. He received his first banking experience with the West Side bank, one of the strongest institutions in the city.—Scranton Times, Aug. 4.

'00, McCollum, Harry, is scoring a great success in his "A Night with the Poets." The Atlantic City, N. J., Sentinel where he recited, has this to say of him:

Owing to the tremendous success they have achieved, this most beautiful act will be retained for another week. This is the kind of act the people rave over. It is positively the most beautiful act in vaudeville, the stage settings are wondrously beautiful, the reading of the various poems by Mr. McCollum could not be improved upon. As a reader he is practically in a class by himself, and the quartette singing is excellent.

'00, Adams, (Yetter), Mary is the proud mother of a son born September 21, 1909.

'00, Cope, A. P. who graduated at Syracuse University, N. Y. in June, is now principal of the public schools, Ashley, Pa.

'00, Kashner, Benjamin, who for some time has resided at Seattle, Wash., has had the fortune to be presented by the State of Montana with a 160 acre farm, valued at $25,000. It was one of the 2500 given out by the government for the purpose of having them farmed, on condition that only after they have been farmed for fourteen months by the person to whom they were given, they will become owners of the same. The farm is located at Flat Head, Montana, and is on a fertile Indian reservation.

Mr. Kashner was formerly a book-keeper for a large wholesale and retail grocery firm at Seattle, which position he has resigned and will move in the near future to his recently acquired farm. He has written to his parents to come west and reside on the farm with him, but whether they will do this or not has not yet been decided.

'00, Follmer, Dr. Elmer G., is a physician with offices at Orangeville, Pa.

'01, Leidy, Rena L., was married Wednesday, September 15, to H. L. McHenry of Bloomsburg, Pa. The ceremony was performed at the parsonage of the Reformed Church, Sunbury, Pa., by the Rev. Robert O'Boyle. After the ceremony the happy couple left on an extended tour. They will reside in Bloomsburg.

'01, Ridge, Wm. W., has for the present at least, left the teaching profession. He is now located in Reading, Pa., and is Secretary of the National Text Book Company of that city.

'01, Belig, Mary G., has been appointed principal of the Little Meadow public school.

'01, Maue, Philip, is now a Junior at Lafayette College—Mining Engineering Course.

'01, Moss, Claude L., was married about the first of September to Miss Carrie C. Laufer of Wilkes-Barre.

'01, Albertson, E. Joe, arrived home from the Philippine Islands about the middle of August, and will remain until next spring on his leave of absence. In the meantime he will serve as Custodian of the Study Hall at the Normal School. He contemplates taking an examination for consular service which if passed will place him on the eligible list. He delivered an address at the Farmers' Picnic at Grassmere, Sept. 2.

'02, Baker, Geo. C., finished his Junior year at Lafayette last June as president of his class and manager of the college year book, The Melange. A. E. Keiber also finished the Junior year at the same college and was the leader of the College Debating Team.

'02, Keating, Helen C., is now on the eligible list for teacher in the New York City Schools, to be placed permanently in November. She has been substituting in these schools since last February.

'03, Housel, Grace, was married on Thursday, Sept. 9, to Mr. Ned F. Church, '05 (sp. course). The ceremony took place at Lock Haven where Grace's father, Wm. H. Housel, is Steward at the Normal School. We have no other particulars of the wedding. They will be "at home," Glen Iron, Pa. after October 1st.

'03, Gottschall, Lillian, (special course) was married Wednesday, Aug. 18th, to Rev. M. M. Dry of Aristes. The ceremony was performed by the bridegroom's father, Rev. C. F. Dry, pastor of the Lutheran Church of Mifflinville.

'04, Morris, Blanche, is teaching at Nazareth, Pa., the same school she taught so successfully last year.

'04, Henrie, Claire, is employed as a mining engineer at Bisbee, Arizona. He spent several days in Bloomsburg this summer visiting his parents and friends.

'05, G. Edward Elwell, who graduated at Trinity College, Hartford, in June is associated with his father in the Columbian Printing House, Bloomsburg.

'05, Traxler, William, elected teacher of biology and physics at Wyoming Seminary, has entered upon the duties of his position. He graduated this year at Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., and since his graduation there has been taking a special course at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y.

'05, Drum, Warren, will have charge this year of the Commercial Department in the Kingston, Pa. High School.

'05, Liebensperger, Helen D., was married Monday, December 7, 1908 in New York City to Hal. H. Murray. Mr. and Mrs. Murray live at large in New York State—they have no permanent address as Mr. Murray's work calls him from place to place.

'05, Yorks, Milton, is a Senior at Lafayette College—classical course.

'06, Albert, Bruce, is principal of the Benton, Pa., schools in which there are six instructors. He will fill this position with credit to himself and to the satisfaction of the public.

'06, Stiner, Elizabeth, is teaching in the public schools of Cartaret, N. J.

'06, Williams, Myrtle, is teaching her home school at Sunshine, Pa.

'06, Shambach, John, after a very successful three years' term as principal of the Millville High School has entered the Freshman Class at Lafayette College. He has been chosen class monitor.

'07, Anstock, Pearl, is teaching at Patterson, N. J.

'07, Moyer, William, has gone to State College where he will take special work in chemistry.

'07, Conner, (Vactor), Helen, is the happy mother of a daughter, born August 30th at West Hoboken, N. J.

'07, Kline, Pearl. We take the following from a local paper, Thursday, July 29. "At 5 o'clock last evening at the home of the bride, Miss Pearl I. Kline, daughter of Mrs. J. M. Kline of town, was married to Dr. Frank Baker of Bloomsburg. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Fox of Riverside, a former pastor of the Espy M. E. Church, and was witnessed only by the immediate families and a number of intimate friends of the young people.

The bride was attired in a beautiful Rajah traveling suit and was attended by Miss Ethel Williams, a cousin, of Kingston. Dallas Leiby acted as best man. Following the ceremony an elaborate wedding dinner was served after which the bride and groom left on the 6:05 D. L. & W. train upon an extended wedding tour. Upon their return they will reside in town, the groom being one of the town's well known dentists. Both the bride and groom are very popular and have many

'09, Wheeler, Lillian, is teaching at Huntington Mills, Luzerne county.

'09, Williams, George, has been transferred to the Grant street school building, and made principal to succeed Victor B. Houseknecht who resigned. Mr. Williams' room in the Church street building is in charge of a substitute teacher until Monday when Miss Helen Hill, the newly elected teacher will take charge. This substitute is Miss Rose Gallagher.—Hazleton Daily Standard, Oct. 1, 1909.

THE QUARTERLY here desires to thank all the graduates and others who have kindly furnished many items for this issue. We have not the time to acknowledge each communication personally, but we assure you that each is greatly appreciated. We have tried to be ubiquitous but failed. With the aid of each old student, however, we could closely approach it, so closely that "the difference would be less than any assigned value however small."

Now for the January issue, all together.

Philologian Society.

(ROBERT METZ)

The Philo Society seems more prosperous than ever before in the history of the school. Up to Oct. 1st one hundred and two names were proposed for membership, and on that evening a reception was given in honor of the new members.

A drama is being prepared to be given the Saturday evening before Hallow'een. Arrangements are being made to have a first-class entertainment at the annual reunion on Thanksgiving.

A beautiful Knabe piano has been purchased and an orchestra of eight pieces has been organized.

Callieian Society.

(CHAS. W. POTTER)

The first meeting of the Callieian Literary Society for the school year of 1909-10 was held in Callie Hall on Saturday evening, Sept. 11. There was a goodly representation of members, but many last year's faces were missed. The regular order of business was followed out, and a number of names was proposed for active membership.

The following Saturday evening another long list of names was proposed, and the regular order of business was followed by an interesting programme.

On Saturday evening, Sept. 25, a large class of candidates was initiated. The proceedings were very interesting and enjoyed by every one present.

The following Saturday evening the meeting was called to order by Pres. Potter. A number of candidates were installed as active members, and an excellent programme was very well rendered. After the regular meeting a delightful reception was given the new members. The hall had been very neatly arranged by the committee in charge. Refreshments were served and everybody enjoyed a very pleasant evening. Every one pronounced the occasion one of great success.

The various committees are busy with the work at hand. The public program committee reports that a program is well under way and will be given in two or three weeks. A drama which will be given in the near future is also being arranged.

A string orchestra is being organized and will be playing in a short time.

Putting all in a few words, the society is in a very prosperous condition and bids fair for success during the present year.

Y. M. C. A.

(MAURICE E. HOUCK)

The membership of the Y. M. C. A. is larger this year than in the past two years.

The class of 1910 claims there has been more interest shown this year than ever before in their memory, and they hope this interest will increase from year to year.

After looking over the men of the Y. M. C. A., we think that the chances of the Faculty in the annual athletic contests are rather slim this year.

The first meeting of the Bible Bands was held Sept. 26th.

A reception was given to all new
Y. M. C. A. members, Sept. 18th.

Y. W. C. A.

(NORA GEISE)

The regular summer conference was held at Mountain Lake Park, Maryland, the latter part of June. This association was represented by Miss Frisbie and Miss Nora Geise.

The first meeting of our Y. W. C. A. for the Fall term was held Sept. 9, 1909. At this meeting the delegates gave a report of the conference.

A reception for the new students was held in the gymnasium September 11.

We have adopted the same plan of using topic cards as last year.

For the Bible Study course we have chosen a study in The Life of St. Paul, which we find to be a most interesting one of its kind.

Athletics.

Foot ball is well under way ; the season thus far being marked by two victories. Although both games were very close, our goal line was not seriously threatened in either game. The team is still too lacking in experience to use frequently, the forward pass, on side kick, and other good ground-gaining plays which are disastrous if not properly executed.

With the largest enrollment the school has ever had, the candidates are out in larger force than ever before. While the men are not heavy, a good lively team is fast being developed by Coach Harry. We believe the boys will give a good account of themselves throughout the season.

Manager Chas. Potter has arranged the following excellent schedule :

Sept. 25, West Hazleton at Bloomsburg

Oct. 2, Sunbury High School at Bloomsburg.

Oct. 9, Catawissa at Bloomsburg.

Oct. 16, Dickinson Seminary at Williamsport.

Oct. 23, Bucknell Academy at Bloomsburg.

Oct. 30, Wilkes-Barre High School at Wilkes-Barre.

Nov. 6, Carlisle Indian Reserves at Bloomsburg.

Nov. 13, Lock Haven State Normal School at Lock Haven.

Nov. 20, Bucknell Reserves at Bloomsburg.

Nov. 25, Wyoming Seminary at Bloomsburg.

We clip the following account of the two games played, from the Morning Press.

NORMAL DOWNS HAZLETON IN HARD FOUGHT GAME.

Playing straight foot ball, the Bloomsburg State Normal School foot ball team opened the season Saturday with a victory, the Hazleton Ex-High eleven being the victims. Outweighed, Normal showed the result of its excellent coaching by clearly outplaying the visitors at all stages of the game. Not once did the visitors seriously menace the Normal goal while only the call of time prevented the Normal from again counting in the second half when the only touchdown of the game was scored by Harry following sensational runs by Brown, who twice circled the Hazleton ends for runs that netted in all at least 75 yards.

A good sized crowd was out for the game with a good sized town representation and for the first game of the season they witnessed a rattling contest. The visitors' weight told in their defensive work, their line being strong and their backfield good.

Normal essayed nothing but straight foot ball, mixing the plays through the line and around the ends in good shape. Not once was the forward pass attempted while the visitors worked that play a number of times.

Neither team was able to score during the first twenty minute half although Normal was the aggressor throughout the entire half. Time was called with Hazleton in possession of the ball, with play near the centre of the field.

THE SECOND HALF.

Rabb kicked the ball to Hazleton's fifteen yard line at the opening of the second half and line rushes by Hazleton brought the ball back twenty yards when Normal held and Kress was forced to kick, the ball going into play in Normal's territory and not far from the goal. Harry pierced the tackle for ten yards and Brown followed with his sensational end runs that put the ball on Hazleton's five yard line. Baker was sent through guard and centre for two yards and Harry went through tackle for the distance necessary for the touchdown. Rabb kicked the goal.

Normal took possession of the ball on Hazleton's kickoff and by rapid work brought the ball down to the field to within easy striking distance of the Hazleton goal, when time was called.

The first exhibition was very satisfactory and indicates some good foot ball on Mt. Olympus field this season. Keiser ran the team in good shape and kept his plays well mixed. The plays could have been pulled off much faster but the newness of the team undoubtedly accounts for this imperfection while the high tackling of which Normal was guilty can be laid to their lack of practice in that department of the game. Practically no attention was paid to tackling, awaiting the arrival of a "dummy" which is now here and will be placed in use this week.

The work of the team against the much heavier men indicates that the lack of beef will not be a serious handicap and that coach Harry has the possibilities of a great team this year.

NORMAL WON BY CLOSE MARGIN OVER SUNBURY HIGH WHO BATTLED GAMELY TO THE LAST.

Sunbury High School, who last year proved entirely too tough a proposition for Normal, bit the dust at the hands of Normal Saturday on Normal field in a hard-fought game, with a goal from the field made by Rabb, the only score of the game.

The teams were evenly matched and for a considerable length of time it looked much as though Normal would be unable to score. And it was not until the second half was well along that the three points that resulted in victory were made.

Sunbury made a game stand soon after the second half opened, playing a magnificent defensive game. Rabb kicked over Sunbury's line and the ball was put in scrimmage on Sunbury's 25 yard line. Normal became aggressive and by fierce tackling threw the Sunburys back for a 10 yard loss.

On the last down they kicked but made a gain of only five yards although they recovered the ball. On Sunbury's 35 yard line Normal held and worked the ball down to within three yards of the goal where the Sunbury line stiffened and Normal lost the ball.

Sunbury kicked for 30 yards but Baker, by a good run, brought it back for 15. It was here that Rabb placed a beautiful drop kick over the posts. Neither goal was endangered during the remainder of the game. The line-up:

Tennis, Quoits, Etc.

The tennis courts have been in constant demand this term. A movement is on foot to enlarge and improve the present courts. Two of them have never been popular on account of their small size. It is hoped that this may be remedied and a new covering of clay added to all of the four courts now in use.

A clay court for the accommodation of the quoit enthusiasts now graces one corner of the Normal grounds. Here the devotees of the game may be heard clinking the disks until the shades of night, and hunger break up the game.

It is said that all the men of the faculty have the auto craze. Two or three already own oil cans while one has the promise of the use of the monkey wrench now used at the baru for the school wagons. Another was on track of a second hand car last week, but on account of the dust he was obliged to take to the fields; thus all trace was lost. So strong has the craze become that gasoline is the only thing recommended to remove grease spots.

Whither are we drifting when such follies take possession of so staid a set of men!

Locals.

After thirteen years of efficient service, Mrs. Kate Larrabee has been obliged, by considerations of health, to resign her position in the school. Few teachers came into contact with so many of the pupils and few knew them so well as did she.

The readers of the QUARTERLY who in former years sat in the Study Hall, whatever may have been their opinions at the time, will now un-animously testify to the fidelity of Mrs. Larrabee, in her arduous position, and to the success that attended her administration. Neatness and good order prevailed and delinquents always feared that they would be found out.

Mrs. Larrabee had a deep and personal interest, also, in the girls entrusted to her care in the dormitory. In cases of sickness and sorrow, no sacrifice on her part was too great if thereby she might alleviate suffering.

She always took an active part in the religious exercises of the school, setting a good example as a regular attendant at public worship in the school and her church and seeking to have others attend.

Many of our readers will also testify that it was Mrs. Larrabee's influence that brought them to Bloomsburg. Her heart was always loyal to the institution and warm toward youth whom she might benefit.

The best wishes of all her associates in the Faculty during her long membership, and of the thousands of students who were in her care, accompany Mrs. Larrabee to her quiet home in beautiful Montrose.

—o—

The school has found it necessary to utilize all the space available for occupancy by students.

The Chemical Department, before its removal to the spacious laboratory in the Science Hall, occupied the most elevated floor upon the campus, the third story of the Steward's building. Most of this space is now being divided into rooms for students and in some respects they will be more desirable than any others, well supplied with all the modern conveniences of steam, heat, water and electric light, more spacious, and provided with single beds. The view from the windows is uninterrupted, one of the finest to be had from any students' rooms in Pennsylvania.

—o—

The auditorium is "full up" at chapel time this term. Seniors sit in the gallery, but the rest of the school fills nearly the entire first floor.

—o—

A "Spanish" table is one of the features of the side dining room. Quite a number of newly entered Cuban students are with us this term and are gaining their first impressions of the English language from Mr. Albertson who presides at this table.

—o—

The Students' Lecture Course offers five numbers this year instead of four as formerly. They include Laurant the Magician, Mrs. Pickett, widow of the gallant confederate general, a musical number, a lecture by Judge Brown of Salt Lake City, and a concluding entertainment by the ever popular impersonator, Leland T. Powers.

The first number of this especially attractive course will be given on October 25th.

On to Washington!

The School Washington Excursion which has been omitted for the past two years, is likely to be resumed this year.

The class of 1910 has started the movement for getting up a party, and the trip if taken, will be in charge of Prof. J. H. Dennis, with whom those interested will please communicate. Alumni and friends of the school are extended the usual invitation to join the party.

New Arrangements.

AGAIN AT HER POST.

The large attendance has made necessary a number of changes.

A nurse has been selected who shall devote herself to the wants of the sick in a room set apart for the purpose or in their own rooms, as may be advisable. Thus it is hoped students will be relieved of the care of their room mates who may be unable to go to recitations. Many of the readers of the QUARTERLY recall experiences that will lead them to approve heartily of this change.

Another change due to the number of students is hailed with pleasure by those now in school. It is no longer possible to make it profitable for all students not in recitations to sit in the library. The passing to and fro when reference books and others on the shelves are consulted, and other necessary changes of place by a room overflowing with students distract attention. Consequently all boarders may now study in their rooms. Those failing to use their time well will return to the Study Hall.

All students of recent years will rejoice with us that Miss Bell, who has for five weeks been an invalid, has sufficiently recovered her health to resume her duties.

It is gratifying to see her again at her desk.

NORTH HALL.

The upper building, in the basement of which is the laundry, will hereafter be designated as North Hall.

Upon the third floor at the North end an infirmary of four rooms has been equipped with hospital beds, an electric oven, and all other needed conveniences, such as hot and cold water, steam heat, electric lights, a bath and toilet room. Access is had by a commodious stair way without communication with any other part of the building. From the windows a commanding view of the campus and other buildings as well as the surrounding country may be enjoyed. By this timely provision contagious diseases may be prevented from spreading.

North Hall contains eight rooms for girls. It was scarcely opened before the increased attendance filled these rooms. They are very much liked by their occupants, and are likely to continue to be considered among the most desirable in school.

Alumni.

The QUARTERLY desires to hear from all Alumni of the institution. Please consider this a personal invitation to let us know all about yourself and all you can tell us concerning your classmates. Address all communications for this department to G. E. Wilbur, Lock Box No. 203.

Class Reunions, 2:00 to 5:00 P. M. Tuesday June 28, 1910.

These reunions have become, in a measure, the special feature of Commencement week, and each succeeding year is bringing back to Old Normal a larger number of graduates and former students.

The following classes ought to reune next commencement:—'70, '75, '80, '85, '90, '95, '00, '05, '08, and several have their committees, often self appointed, busily at work planning therefor. The classes celebrating the 25th and 10th anniversaries are guests of the school and are entertained at the institution. The school office will gladly aid any of the classes in arranging for their reunions. Do not hesitate to take advantage of this offer. Begin now. The class of '85 asks us to say that cards have been sent to nearly all the members in reference to the 25th anniversary. A few have not as yet been located. It is desired that any one who has been overlooked will communicate with one of the three members of the class named below, and it is also hoped that as many as possibly can will be present at the reunion. The committee referred to is simply provisional and are as follows: L. P. Bierly, West Pittston, Pa., Mrs. Annie Miller Melick, Media, Pa., and Miss Anna M. Fox, 343 Centre St., Bloomsburg, Pa.

The committee for the class of '90 are: James O. Herman, Edwardsville, Pa., Miss Lulu M. McAlarney, 106 Gaylord Ave., Plymouth, Pa., and Mrs. Bess Holmes Yost, Bloomsburg, Pa.

Lackawanna County Alumni Association.

The following is taken from the Scranton Republican Oct. 23:

With the most hearty good will prevailing as old and happy acquaintances were renewed, the ninth annual banquet of the Lackawanna County Alumni Association, of the Bloomsburg State Normal school, was held at the Scranton Bicycle club on North Washington avenue last evening.

Graduates from every class since 1880 were present to participate in the banquet and the dancing that followed. In all nearly a hundred guests were present, most of them living in this city or vicinity, while a few came from up the valley as far as Carbondale and a few from down the valley.

The school colors of maroon and orange were prevalent in the banquet hall, which was also handsomely decorated with ferns and cut flowers.

Prof. E. R. Hughes was elected president of the County Alumni Association and presided in a most capable manner as toastmaster of the banquet. Other officers of the Alumni Association elected last evening were: First vice president, Attorney Hayden Oliver, second vice president, W. H. Jones, secretary, Mrs. Robert Carson, treasurer, Prof. W. H. Williams.

Among the several speakers who responded to the toastmaster were: Prof. A. H. Welles of the Scranton High school; Attorney Granville Clark, of Luzerne borough, who is president of the Luzerne County Alumni Association; Prof. Geo. E. Wilbur, Prof. J. G. Cope and Mr. D. J. Davis.

Much of the happiness of the occasion was due to the careful preparation by the executive committee which was composed of Miss Margaret Lewis, Miss Stella Evans, Miss Laura Hughes, Miss Catherine Phillips and Miss Anna Kusche. Mr. H. E. Spencer acted as caterer.

The speakers were full of very pleasant memories of their school-days of Bloomsburg Normal school and were loud in their praise of the institution, claiming that the education obtained there has been a help to them all through life. Those who graduated away back in the eighties were no less enthusiastic than the ones who have lately had the privilege of being students there.

At 10 o'clock the banqueters adjourned to the dancing hall, where music for dancing was furnished by Miles' orchestra until late in the evening. The occasion brought together many former students who had not met each other for years, and many were the jolly reminiscences of the events of the good old school days, related there.

Luzerne County Alumni Association

The Wilkes-Barre Record of Oct. 29, says:

In twentieth annual reunion Luzerne County graduates of the Bloomsburg State Normal School gathered about the banquet board at the Hotel Sterling last night. Two hundred and twenty-five graduates of the institution and friends of the alumni were present. The affair was conducted in the private dining room of the hotel. Previous to the banquet itself, an informal reception was conducted in the balcony promenade. After the banquet and speech-making, the latter being brief but crisp and entertaining, dancing to the strains of Oppenheim's orchestra was engaged in until a late hour.

G. J. Clark was chairman of the postprandial session and introduced

Prof. Albert of the Normal school faculty, who spoke on the "Alma Mater."

Attorney John M. Garman, the only other speaker, delighted his auditors with a brilliant display of the fine vein of wit and humor he possesses.

Dr. D. J. Waller, Jr., principal of the Normal School, telegraphed his regrets.

The annual election of officers, which intervened between the speech-making and dancing resulted as follows: President, G. J. Clark; treasurer, B. Frank Meyer; secretary, Miss Nancy Wintersteen, all re-elected.

Susquehanna County Alumni Association.

This association was organized October 21st, at Montrose. The beginning was auspicious of bigger and better things to follow. Twenty five were present, and this too without previous general notice. Prof. Cope and Miss Swartz were present to lend aid and encouragement.

The following officers were elected: President, Dr. W. W. Preston '99, secretary and treasurer, Miss M. Evalyn Peck '08.

Schuylkill County Alumni Association.

Prof. Albert and Miss Smith aided in the organization of this association at Pottsville in December. Thirty were present and under the circumstances this was considered very good. You can look out for a rousing meeting next winter. The following officers were selected: President, R. A. McHale, Shenandoah; vice president, E. P. Heckert, Schuylkill Haven; treasurer Miss Margaret Collins, Mahanoy City; Secretary, James C. Cummings, Shenandoah.

Miss Mary L. Hastings is touring Europe with her aunt, Mrs. Grover Cleveland and Mrs. Cleveland's mother, Mrs. Perrin. Early in January before leaving Florence for Rome Mrs. Cleveland was a guest at a tea given by the Contessa De Montjoye, at her villa, at Castello. Other guests included General and Mrs. Greeley, Mrs. Cleveland's mother and niece, Mme. Maurogordato, the Contessa De Foresta, Lady Paget, Mrs. Hart and Mr. Chapin.

Miss Emily Smith, formerly Librarian at the Normal, after spending several years in Paris in study, has returned to this country and is now at her home in Scranton. The Normal hopes to soon have a visit from her.

'70, Vanderslice, Frank P., (Sp. Course), is now residing in Scranton. He is foreman in the printing department of the Scranton Correspondence schools.

'71, Garman, John M. Judge Garman took the oath of office as one of the law Judges of Luzerne County, Monday morning, Jan. 3, in court room No. 2. The bench was laden with flowers, in fact it was the first time in the history of the county, so say residents, that so many pretty floral tokens adorned any court room. It is said that the new Judge took hold of the scales of justice with all the ease and promptness that would characterize a long time sitting Justice.

'76, Dickens, (Davenport) Frances E., died at Minneapolis. Minn. Oct. 6, leaving a husband and two or three children. She was an active worker in the M. E. Church and left a large circle of friends to mourn their loss. Prior to her marriage she taught school at various places in Pennsylvania and Minnesota and at one time prepared pupils for the Normal School in the Shenandoah public schools.

'76, Harman, (Leonard) Lizzie, has a daughter, Mary E. Leonard, who entered the Sophomore Class, last fall at Mt. Holyoke College, South Hadley, Mass.

'79, Harter, Dr. T. C., (sp. course), has invented a House Fire Alarm which is said to possess great merit. It is said to be the only house fire alarm upon which a patent has been granted in America.

'80, Blair, Sam. (sp. course) is District Superintendent of the El-Paso District, New Mexico conference, M. E. Church. Sam is said to be as vigorous, energetic, nearly ubiquitous, as a preacher, as he was as a resident of the dormitory in 1879-80. He is a power for good, and his helpful influence is exerted over a wide extent of territory.

'82, Wasley, (Ball) Mame. A local paper, Nov. 13, has the following:

Mrs. Mame Ball, of Mahanoy City, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. George W. Keiter, left yesterday morning for New York City and after a brief visit in that city will leave for Los Angeles, California, where she will reside.

Mrs. Ball was before her marriage Miss Mame Wasley. She attended the Normal School and has many friends in Bloomsburg. The failure of her husband's health compelled him to dispose of his business at Mahanoy City and move to California.

'84, McHenry, Charles J., (sp. course) has achieved signal success in the piano field, having been associated with the old established piano firm of Wm. Knabe & Co. for a number of years. He made a visit to Columbia county during the holidays. A local paper says:

"While it is in answer to the invitation of the Christmas bells that he is coming back to the home of his boyhood to enjoy the warmth of the old home fireside with his own people, it is a matter of conjecture which sounds the sweeter to Mr. McHenry's ears—the music of the Christmas bells or the music of the Knabe piano.

'85, McHugh, Chas. F. In the recent Industrial Edition of the Times-Leader of Wilkes-Barre, appeared a very excellent article praising the life and work of Mr. McHugh as City Solicitor, among other things it says: "He came to Wilkes-Barre some eighteen years ago and entered upon the practice of the law, with an earnestness that at once betokened success. In 1898 he succeeded W. S. McLean, Esq., as City Solicitor, and has since then been thrice unanimously re-elected. He is considered one of the best posted attorneys on municipal law and to his carefully thought out advice and counsel the city is indebted for its easy transition into its present form of government and for the smoothness that has since characterized its workings."

'87, Reminger, Elizabeth. The following is a clipping from the N. Y. Independent, December 16, 1909:

"We are interested in noticing the attempt to be scholarly in the preparation of books based on national edics. Elizabeth D. Reminger is an example of this tendency, and in addition she is prompted by zeal born of actual experience in library work. Her The Story of Rustem and Other Persian Tales, taken from Firdusi, is an excellent book effectively told and illustrated; the material is handled with dignity and feeling."

Miss Reminger presented the Normal School Library with a copy of her book. The school authorities greatly appreciate the kind favor.

'87, Gardner, Frank, (sp. course) of Boston, Mass., and Leroy Gardner '00 (sp. course), with his bride, from Lorraine, Ohio, were guests of relatives in Bloomsburg during the Christmas holidays. They were heartily greeted by their friends.

'88, Hess, (Cool) Florence G. rendered a much appreciated solo in the Lutheran church of Bloomsburg, Sunday morning, November 21. Mrs. Cool is a soprano of note and has taken leading parts in "The Messiah," "Redemption" and "Holy City."

'89, Apple, Benjamin, editor of The Daily Item and American of Sunbury, Pa., has been appointed Census Supervisor for the 12th District of Pennsylvania which embraces the counties of Columbia, Montour, Sullivan and Northumberland. The job is worth about $1200 and he has the appointing of assistants at his command.

The supervisor in consultation with the director of Census, E. Dana Durand, will divide the district into sub-divisions most convenient for the purpose of enumeration, and with his consent is empowered to employ such persons as enumerators as he sees fit. In the 12th district the neighborhood of three hundred enumerators will be required to collect the required data.

"Taylor, is spending some time in the Bermuda Islands. In a letter to a classmate she says: "Bermuda is a glorious dream. It is so clean and wholesome, ancient and unique. I think I would be perfectly delighted were I obliged to spend the remainder of my days here. There are many beautiful flowers in bloom, both wild and cultivated. The Dr. and I are both interested in botany and have filled two large trunks with specimens."

'90, Magrady, Fred., is a member of the Northumberland county bar and "hangs out his shingle" in Mt. Carmel. He was recently specially admitted to the Columbia county bar to appear as attorney in a case before the courts of this county.

'91, McMenamin, Rev. Hugh L. (sp, course) visited the Normal School the latter part of November. He has a sister and a cousin in the present Senior class. Father McMenamin is now pastor of the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception at Denver, Colorado, and is engaged in the work of building a $500,000 cathedral,

'92, Shultz(Drinker) Nellie (sp. course) A local paper, Nov. 13, has the following :

Mrs. Fred E. Drinker died at her home, No. 4921 Warrington avenue, West Philadelphia at 1 o'clock on Friday afternoon. Death was due to diabetes, with which she had been afflicted for some years. She was aged 37 years.

While complete details are not procurable at this time, as near as can be learned she was taken ill at her home on Friday morning at 10 o'clock, immediately lapsed into unconsciousness and never recovered. Besides her husband she is survived by two children, Dorothy and David. A sister and brother, Rachael Shultz of Philadelphia, and Galen Shultz of Florida, also survive.

The funeral was held "from her late home in Philadelphia on Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock. The remains were laid to rest in the Arlington cemetery, Philadelphia.

'93, Miller, John K., is the representative of the White Cross Milk Company and largely through his efforts a plant costing about $20,000 will be located in Bloomsburg. The company has purchased land near the artificial ice plant and construction will soon be started. This will be one of a chain of similar plants throughout the country.

'93, Barkley (Van Doren) Jennie (sp. course), now resides in Albany, N. Y. where her husband, Mr. E. I. VauDoren, is superintendent of an Electric Light and Railway Co.

'93, Wallize, A. B., is now connected with the General office of Elliot-Fisher Company, Standard Writing, Adding Machines, Government department, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

'94, Ernest (Snyder) Sara R. In a November issue of "The Missionary Tidings," a paper published by the United Evangelical Church, appeared an excellent likeness of Mrs. Snyder. She is known as the "golden tongued orator."

'94, Patterson, J. Howard. has been prominently mentioned for the office of secretary and manager of the Williamsport Board of Trade, to succeed H. R. Laird, who resigned to become manager of the "Gazette and Bulletin" of that city. Howard is a Williamsport attorney-at-law.

94, Herring, Clinton. One of the saddest deaths that has recently occurred in this county was that at Orangeville Saturday afternoon, Dec. 18th, when Mrs. Clinton Herring passed away after giving birth to a baby boy.

Mrs. Herring, previous to her marriage, was Miss Grace Achenbach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Achenbach, and has always resided in Orangeville where she has a host of friends who mourn her unexpected and untimely death.

She was aged 32 years and is survived by her husband, and a daughter Dorothy, aged six years, beside the baby boy.

The funeral services were held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, in charge of Rev. Mr. Gearhart, pastor of the Reformed church of which she was a member.

'95, Hehl (Holmes) Theresa, is living at Denver, Colo. Her husband, Mr. E. B. Holmes, is the treasurer of the Advisory Educational League.

'95, Dunston (Downing) Grace, lives in Denver, Colo., and is teaching there. She is a widow with one little girl.

'95, Patterson, Dr. J. Bruce. In the last QUARTERLY we located Bruce in Louisiana and correctly so. But he is now on his way to Kunsan, Korea, where he will take charge of a hospital under the auspices of the Southern Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions.

The hospital which Dr. Patterson will take charge of was erected about a year ago, but has never been opened, owing to the fact that no available person could be found who was willing to make the sacrifice in order to go to this faraway country and assume the responsibility.

Kunsan, the city in which the hospital is located, contains 30,000 inhabitants, and Dr. Patterson will be the only English speaking physician in it. It will require him two years to learn the language and until then he will be terribly handicapped in his work.

'96, Fagely, Wm. W. and wife, Julia Sharpless, '95, who have been residing at Kansas City, Mo., where Mr. Fagely was assistant superintendent of the Northern Electric Co., have moved to Topeka, Kansas, where Mr. Fagely has accepted a lucrative position with the Independent Telephone Company.

'96, Smith, Crawford C., chief clerk of the county commissioners of Luzerne county has issued with his compliments, a neat little booklet "Political Calendar for the year 1910," which will be of great assistance to those having business about the court house.

'96, Kitchen (Fullmer) Florence, lives at Rocky Ford, Colo. She writes interestingly of conditions in and about her adopted home. She is a member of a Woman's Club which at present is studying General History. Her sister Lena, '00, makes her home with her but at the time of writing she was attending the Apple Exposition at Denver, 175 miles from Rocky Ford. Her brother Clark Kitchen, '03, and wife (Mabelle Parker, '04) and baby boy live near them. "Rocky Ford is a town of churches, good schools, pretty little parks, a Carnegie library, hospital, etc., and has no saloons."

'97, Johnson, Josiah F., is an electrical and mechanical engineer associated with the Westinghouse Machine Co. His address is 165, Broadway, N. Y.

'97, Lowrie, Blanche E., is teaching in Newark, N. J. Her address is No. 59, Court street.

'97, Wilbur, Harry C., is on the editorial staff of the Milwaukee Sentinel, Milwaukee, Wisconsin. His address is 149 Juneau Ave.

'98, Miller, Oliver P. is one of the hustling business men of Lewistown, Pa. He conducts a large and profitable laundry in the town and finds time to be actively interested in every measure for the good of the community.

'99, Echternach, Dr. Joseph P., was married at Narberth, Pa. Oct. 21st, to Miss Susan Gertrude Plank of that place. Dr. and Mrs. Echternach are "at home" at 1216 N. 52nd St. Philadelphia, where they will be pleased to greet all Normal friends.

'00 Newburger, Dr. G. M. We clip the following from the Wilkes-Barre Times-Leader, October 28th:

"Electricity in Medicine and Surgery" was the title of a splendid paper read by Dr. G. M. Neuburger at the meeting of the Luzerne County Medical society last evening. Dr. Neuburger has, perhaps, the most complete electrical outfit in this section and is thoroughly versed on the subject. He spoke of the treatment of diabetes, infantile paralysis and the general application in the treatment of various diseases.

'00, Belig, Maude, is a trained nurse with headquarters at 21st and Christian streets, Philadelphia. Maude was home on a short vacation in January. This is the first vacation she has taken in sixteen months and has had only one night off of duty since the first of last May.

'00, Watkins, William, was married October 16, to Miss Myrtle Kreigbaum of Elysburg, Pa. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents by the Rev. Mr. Faus, pastor of the Elysburg M. E. church. They make their home in Catawissa, Pa.

'00, Beagle, Jennie, has taught each year since her graduation. She is now teaching in the public schools of New Jersey. She may be addressed at Palisades Park, New Jersey.

'00. Geary, Ada, now Mrs. Edward N. Zern of Lehighton, Pa. made a very pleasant but short visit, in January to Columbia County friends.

'01, Kingsley, Jeannette F., who was the very popular assistant high school teacher at Peckville, had her excellent services recognized at a meeting of the school board in October, by being promoted to the position of vice principal made vacant by the resignation of the teacher filling that position.

'01, Maust, J. H., who has served very efficiently as a Deputy Sheriff of Columbia County under the two preceding sheriffs, has been retained by the present sheriff, W. P. Zehner who was a student here in 1887-8. A local paper says:

Mr. Maust brings to the office the experience of four years' work in the same, one of which as deputy during the term of W. W. Black, and three years as deputy under Sheriff Ent, during all of which time no one has ever had any just cause for complaint as to the manner in which the business of the office was conducted. Indeed, to be appointed to the same position under three different Sheriffs when there were a number of other applicants for the position is of itself one of the best evidences of his fitness and qualification for the same.

'01' Sharpless, Warren. We clip the following from the Daily Sentinel, Dec. 23rd:

The news has just leaked out that Warren Sharpless, son of Dr. and Mrs. B. F. Sharpless of Catawissa, and a former law student in the office of John G. Harman, but now practicing law in Belleverson, Fayette Co., was wedded on Thanksgiving day to Miss Jennie Cornelius, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Cornelius, of Catawissa.

The wedding took place in Lewistown, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Mr. Yocum, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, of that place.

Mrs. Sharpless is now in Catawissa but will leave in a few days for Bellefonte where the newly wedded couple will take up their residence.

'02, Kuntz, Edith L., has secured a position as teacher in the school of South Allentown. Her father, on account of failing health, resigned as pastor of a church at Freeland and moved to Allentown in October. Edith will be glad to see or hear from her Normal friends who may chance to be in that vicinity.

Address: 517 Washington St., Allentown.

'02, Moyer, Laura S. The Presbyterian Church, beautifully decorated with palms and chrysanthemums, was crowded last evening at six o'clock by an assemblage of friends gathered to witness the marriage of Miss Laura Sheldon Moyer, daughter of John L. Moyer, to Mr. Arthur Stevenson Clay of town, the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Clay of Philadelphia.

Rev. Spencer C. Dickson, pastor of the church, officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. G. H. Hemingway of Camden, N. J., a former pastor of the bride.

The ushers were L. W. Buckalew, J. Lewis Moyer, Jr., and Walter Clay of town, and John N. Costello of Philadelphia; the bridesmaids, Miss Sophia Nelson of York, and Miss Margaret Waller of Bloomsburg; the matrons of honor, Mrs. Ralph E. Miller and Mrs. Harry Keller of Bloomsburg; the maid of honor, Miss Helen Moyer, sister of the bride, and the flower girl, Miss Dorothy Grier, niece of the groom. John M. Fouse of Pittsburg, was the groom's best man.

Mrs. R. F. Colley played Lohengrin's march for the processional and Mendelssohn's for the recessional, and during the ceremony rendered several pretty selections.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's father, which was attended by about one hundred relatives and near friends. The house was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay left town on the eight-forty Lackawanna train.

They will be at home at 63 East Fifth street after December fifteenth.

Columbian, Nov. 4.

'02, Austin, Blanche. We clip the following from the Morning Press of October 20:

The home of Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Austin of Jonestown, was the scene of a very quiet but pretty wedding yesterday at noon, when their daughter, Miss Blanche, became the bride of George Warren Gibbons, of Wilkes-Barre, formerly of Benton township.

To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march the bridal couple, unattended, entered the parlor which was tastefully decorated with autumn leaves and white chrysanthemums where they were joined in holy wedlock by Rev. Andreas of the Methodist Episcopal church, using the impressive ring ceremony. Only the immediate families were present.

The bride is a graduate of the B. S. N. S. and since graduating has been a successful teacher in the public schools. She has always been interested in religious work and has been Sunday School teacher and organist in the church to which she belongs. The groom after attending school at the B. S. N. S. and teaching a short time entered the University of Maryland, graduating from that institution in 1908, and at present is employed in a drug store in Wilkes-Barre.

After congratulations were extended a wedding dinner was served when the couple left on the evening D. L. & W. train.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibbons will be at home to their friends on East Market street, Wilkes-Barre, after November 1.

'03, Hagenbuch, Rae. A remarkable experience of the United States Postal Service with a letter mailed in Bloomsburg to Rea I. Hagenbuch, Cardova, Alaska, occurred last August. The letter was in the mail that was carried down when the steamer Ohio sank in Coppec River and upon its recovery six weeks later was returned to Washington and re-mailed to Rae at Cardova, Alaska, and Rae later mailed it to his father, Isaiah Hagenbuch, Bloomsburg. Rae is very well and will remain in Alaska this winter.

'03, Redeker, Laura, was married early in October to Mr. Chas. W. Disbrow of Kalispell, Montana. The marriage was solemnized in the Presbyterian church, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The ceremony was performed by the pastor Rev. T. A. Stanclieff. A bridal tour was taken extending to Seattle and San-Francisco. They are at home in Kalispell.

'03, Shuman, Myron, (sp.

course), was married December 25, to Miss Kathryn Elanora Miller of Catawissa. The wedding was a quiet one and took place at the home of the bride's brother, Dr. E. C. Miller of Newberry.

'03, Grimes, Carl — Miller, Blanche '05. A local paper of November 19, has the following:

As the penalty for taking unto himself a bride without informing his friends in Millville of his intention, Carl Grimes of Millville, was forced yesterday to walk two miles to his home, while his bride was torn from his side and escorted to her new home in proper style.

The groom left Millville Monday, ostensibly for the purpose of purchasing merchandise in Philadelphia for the Grimes store, but, instead, with Miss Blanche Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Miller, of Muncy Valley, he went to Philadelphia to wed, the Rev. Mr. Moore, pastor of one of the Methodist churches in that city, officiating.

They arrived Thursday at Bloomsburg and after a brief sojourn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Johnston on West street, were driven to Millville by H. J. Shoemaker. Their friends were apprised of their coming and securing a wagon drove to meet the bride and groom. The meeting took place about two miles this side of Millville and several members of the reception committee removed the groom without ceremony from the carriage, and taking possession of the carriage, drove the bride into Millville, while the friends in the other conveyance whipped up their horses and left the groom to "hike" it home. When he finally arrived there he found the band out to greet his bride and himself, and not in years has Millville tendered any newly weds a more cordial welcome.

The bride is a graduate of the Bloomsburg State Normal School of the class of 1905, and after teaching two years at home, taught in New Jersey for a year and last year at Wayne, near Philadelphia. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Grimes and is manager of his father's store, one of the best known in the county.

'03, Skeer, Lloyd B., (sp. course), was married in Wilkes-Barre, Tuesday, Dec. 14, to Miss Georgia White of Bloomsburg. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. C. E. Mogg, pastor of the Central M. E. Church of that city. Their plans were kept carefully concealed and the marriage was a decided surprise to their many friends. They reside in Bloomsburg.

'04, Rosenthal, Libby, (Music), was married Oct. 20, to Lewis Marks, manager of the Mohican store in Wilkes-Barre. They were married at Scranton by Rabbi Druck, the ceremony being performed at the latter's residence.

They are at "home" in Wilkes-Barre.

'04, Hinckley, Emma. The Evening Courier, Tamaqua, Pa, of November 11, has the following:

It was learned today that Miss Emma Hinckley and John Saylor, son of I. T. Saylor, who conducts a bakery on West Broad street, were quietly married on the evening of October 16. The ceremony, which was very quiet, was witnessed by only the minister and his family and was performed by Rev. George Gebert in the parsonage of Zion's English Lutheran church. The happy couple kept the marriage a secret until today, when it leaked out and they both acknowledged the truth of it.

The bride is a graduate of Tamaqua High school and the Bloomsburg Normal School and was employed as stenographer for Kolb Bros. until last Saturday. She has a large circle of intimate acquaintances. The groom is employed by his father and is receiving congratulations of his many friends. They have taken up their residence with his parents, on West Broad street.

'05, Heacock (Davis), Lettie. Last October, only a few months after starting housekeeping Mr. and Mrs. Davis suffered the loss of their home by fire after it had been robbed of a considerable sum of money. The occupants of the house barely escaped with their lives. No clue to the guilty person or persons has been learned. Their home was at Zion's Grove.

'05, Conway, Nellie, died in Bluefield, W. Va., Sept. 25, 1909, at the home of her uncle. During her last illness she was nursed by Miss Mary Hesser who is a former student of the Normal school and now a trained nurse. We do not have the particulars of Miss Conway's illness and death.

'05, Hemingway, Vera. In the Camden, N. J., Presbyterian church, Wednesday morning, Mr. Charles Housenick, of Bloomsburg and Miss Vera Hemingway, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Hemingway, former residents of Bloomsburg, were united in marriage. The immediate family and a few friends only were present, owing to the illness of the groom's mother and sister. Upon their return from their wedding trip they will reside at J. G. Quick's until April, when they will occupy the flat at Main & Iron streets. Both bride and groom are well known and highly esteemed in Bloomsburg. Mr. Housenick being in charge of the extensive business of the Main street clothiers.—Columbian, Nov. 13.

'05. Pooley, Paul, who for several years past has been a reporter for the Morning Press has resigned that position and accepted a clerkship at the East Bloomsburg station of the Pennsylvania Railroad. In speaking of his resignation the Morning Press says:—In the resignation of Mr. Pooley, The Press loses a valuable man and the Pennsylvania Railroad secures one who will be equally as valuable to them. Entering the newspaper field known to but few Bloomsburgers and with no experience in the work, Mr. Pooley developed into a thorough reporter, while everybody is his friend. His character is above reproach and his zeal in any work in which he finds himself unwavering. Bloomsburg, unfortunately, has too few men of his calibre.

'06, Ruhl, Gladys, was married at the home of her parents in Bloomsburg, Nov. 2, to Mr. Auber J. Robbins of Bloomsburg, Pa.

The nuptial knot was tied by the Rev. S. C. Dickson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and the pretty ring service was used.

Attired in a handsome traveling suit of blue material, the bride-elect made a beautiful appearance as she spoke the fateful "I will." There were no attendants and only the families of the happy couple witnessed the ceremony.

Following the ceremony the bride was showered with well-wishes, after which they left on the 11:28 o'clock train on "The Reading" railroad, on an extended southern tour. Upon their return they will be at home on Market street for the present.

Mrs. Robbins is popular in the younger social set in town, and she has a host of friends who unite in extending their best wishes. The bridegroom is an attorney, but spends nearly all of his time looking after the extensive property interests of his father.

'06, Hartman, Harry H., (sp. course), has been elected captain of the 1910 Syracuse University eleven. Harry is a fine player and this last year, until put out of the game with injuries, played remarkable ball for Syracuse.

'06, Stiner, Elizabeth, Artemisia Bush '07 and Alice Shaffer '07 are teaching at Cartaret, N. J.

'07, Schmaltz, Ernest R. (sp. course), We take the following from the Morning Press, Oct. 8:

Ernest R. Schmaltz, the former Bloomsburg Normal base ball and basket ball star and former assistant in the gymnasium, one of the best known athletes that ever left Normal, and Miss Wilhelmina Eckhardt were joined in the holy bonds of wedlock Wednesday evening in St. John's Lutheran church at Plymouth, the home of the bride. The ceremony was performed promptly at 8 o'clock by the Rev. George Rechke and was witnessed by a large number of relatives and friends. The maid of honor was Miss Lena Halm while John Weimer, of New Orleans, also a former assistant in the physical department in the Normal School, and an all around athlete, acted as best man. Following the ceremony a reception was tendered the bride and groom at the home of the bride's parents. They have already taken up their residence in their handsome new home at Hughestown, where Mr. Schmaltz holds a lucrative position in the office of the Pennsylvania Railroad company.

'07, Brooke, Margaret, is teaching in Philadelphia and is meeting with fine success. She spent her Christmas vacation with her parents in Bloomsburg.

'07, Morgan, Mary. We clip from the Scranton Republican, Friday Oct. 22.

Prof. Edward H. T. Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elias Williams, of North Garfield avenue, was united in marriage on Wednesday, September 29, to Miss Mary A. Morgan, of Beaumont, Pa. The ceremony, of which but few of the groom's friends have learned, was performed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Jones, of East Orange, N. J., by Rev. Mr. Yongson, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of that place.

The couple was attended by Miss Minnie Webber and Mr. Howard Wenzel. The bride was attired in white liberty satin, trimmed with duchess lace, and carried roses.

The groom, who has many friends on this side, is a graduate of the Royal Academy of London and is at present engaged as a private musical instructor in Wilkes-Barre. He was formerly employed as instructor of music at Wyoming Seminary. Mrs. Williams was a school teacher at Beaumont, and is a graduate of Bloomsburg State Normal school of the class of 1907.

'07, Wallace, Agnes, is teaching in Livermore, California. This is her second year. She is getting a fine salary and likes her work very much. Her sister, Alma, '09, also has a position in the same city, but not in the same school.

'09, Bennet, Sue A., is teaching third grade in the schools of DuBois. She enjoys her work and is greatly pleased with her position. Miss Stella Shook '05, and Miss Sarah Williams '08 are also teaching at DuBois and doing good work.

'09, Supplee, Mabel (sp. course) is teaching at Neshanic Station, N. J.

'09, Marcy, Estella and Eva, are teaching in New Jersey, the former at Martinsville, the latter at Morristown.

'09, Ragan, May C., is teaching at Passaic, N. J. Grade teacher, Primary A. Our girls and boys are uniformly doing such excellent work as teachers in New Jersey that B. S. N. S. graduates are almost at a premium there.

'09, Gibbs, Alice V. The following is from the Daily Sentinel, Dec. 22:

Friends of Miss Alice V. Gibbs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gibbs of Horton street, Wilkes-Barre, will be surprised to learn that she was united in marriage on Nov. 27, at Newark, N. J. to J. Roy Burnett, of Madison, N. J. Mrs. Burnett is a graduate of the Bloomsburg Normal School and has many friends here who wish her much happiness.

Philologist Society.

Those who are interested in this society will be glad to hear that the usual aggressive spirit still characterizes all the work of the society.

A Philo orchestra consisting of eight pieces has been organized and adds much to the enjoyment of the programs, both public and private.

The drama given by the society was witnessed by about one thousand people, and was enjoyed by all.

The Reunion on Thanksgiving was an unusually pleasant occasion. Many old students were present at the meeting in Philo Hall, in the forenoon, where we were addressed by our president Mr. Metz, Dr. Waller, and several old members. A pleasant afternoon was spent in the gymnasium, which was very tastily decorated for the occasion.

Music was furnished by the Philo Orchestra. In the evening a concert was given by the Orpheus Concert Trio.

Among the several activities of the society special attention is being paid to debate, and an effort is being made to arrange contests with societies of other Normal Schools.

A public program is being prepared and will be given in a week or two.

A mock trial is also being prepared by the private program committee.

Last year we debated our sister society, Philo issuing the challenge. We are now awaiting and expecting a challenge from the Calliepien Society.

Calliepien Society.

The outlook for an unusually successful year in the Calliepien Literary Society is very promising. We have taken in a larger number of new members than any previous year. Many of these are active workers, enabling us to give interesting public and private programs.

A reception was given in Callie Hall, in honor of the new members. All present participated in games of various kinds, after which refreshments were served, making a very enjoyable evening.

A miscellaneous program was recently rendered in the chapel by the Callie members. The entertainment consisted of several recitations and musical numbers, supplemented by shadow pictures, illustrating the poem: "Maud Muller," by Whittier. Our next public program will consist of a drama entitled: "A Kentucky Bell," which depicts a typical southern home.

We have selected several questions to be debated in the near future. The question most recently debated was:

Resolved: that the reading of history is more beneficial to the individual mind than the reading of biography. The affirmative was held by Mr. David Moses and Miss Pearle Fitch; the negative by Mr. Frank Dennis and Miss Sarah Lewis. The judges, Misses Bond and Reber, and Mr. Gleason decided in favor of the affirmative.

Owing to the flourishing condition of the society we have decided to purchase a Knabe Upright Piano for the New Hall. Heretofore we have used a piano furnished by the school.

The Callies are now looking forward to their annual reunion to be held February 22. Plans are now being made for an enjoyable time. The evening entertainment will be given by Elbert Foland and The Italian Boys. Mr. Foland is a reader and all-around entertainer, while the Italian Boys are talented musicians. In addition to Mr. Foland's readings there will be solos, duets, and concerted numbers, and also the musical and literary fantasy: "A Night in Venice."

These entertainers are highly praised by those who have heard them.

Y. W. C. A. Notes.

We are pleased with the Y. W. C. A. room. During the past year four beautiful pictures have been placed there, and also two cushions. Two of the pictures were given by Miss Letson's chain letter circle, the other two by the Y. W. C. A. Miss Carpenter gave the cushions.

This association was represented at the Rochester Student Volunteer Conference by Miss Edith Cole, Edith DeLong, Myrtle Keefer and Miss Frisbie. Miss Frisbie was the Faculty representative.

Miss Guthapfel, a returned missionary from Korea, spoke to the association, Dec. 9.

Instead of holding the Bible Band classes in Chapel as in the past, the bands meet in some of the teachers' rooms.

A good-night prayer circle is held in Miss Frisbie's room every evening at 9:45.

We now have ninety-five members.

Y. M. C. A. News.

With the semi-annual visit of Field Secretary F. O. Koehler, of Harrisburg at the re-opening of the Winter Term after the holiday vacation, the Y. M. C. A. interest was aroused considerably, and the prospects for better all around work are very encouraging. The leaders of the various committees are hustlers, which fact can be noticed from the reports as compared with those of former years. The report of each department shows a definite increase.

At the present writing the Bible Bands are four in number, with probably a fifth to be organized before the close of the Winter Term. Each Band shows an increase in membership from that of former years. The Life of Christ is being studied now.

The Association was represented at the Students' Volunteer Movement at Rochester from December 29th to January 2nd by two delegates, Messrs. Clyde Myers, '11 and Elna Nelson, '11. Both delegates returned with very encouraging reports from the convention.

Great interest is being shown by the members in the mid-week prayer meetings this year. The record of the secretary shows an increase of 30 per cent. due partly to the excellent staff of speakers selected by the devotional committee.

Athletics.

With 1910 serving up the most approved styles in winter weather, the usual sports of the season are at their height. The Steward has given his annual sleigh ride to the senior girls, the skating and coasting parties have been enjoying the finest conditions, while inside the Gym. basket ball rules the day.

Nearly every boy in school gets into the game somehow or sometime. Class games, floor games, practice games, give him his chance which is eagerly accepted. While the season is barely opened, two games having been played, the contest for positions has been so keen that a very fair estimate of the best men can be made at this time.

A practice game with Milton H. S. was held on the afternoon of Jan. 12. Two teams were tried out against the Milton team, which by the way puts up a very clean, strong game. Some excellent material is being developed and the Normal team should make a good showing this year. Smith, the star of the new men, was unable to play on account of an injured knee. He will undoubtedly prove a strong factor in many a game this year.

Carl Erikson has been chosen captain of the basket ball team for this season.

NORMAL OPENS WITH VICTORY

The season of '10 of the Bloomsburg State Normal School basket ball team was unofficially opened yesterday afternoon when the entire Normal squad was sent against Milton High School who put up a rattling exhibition, even though they lost by a score of 35-23.

The Normal candidates showed up well in their first game and there is every indication that Normal will be creditably represented on the basket ball floor this season.

Milton's quintette was a fast one and offered no easy picking, with Musgrave's work especially brilliant for the visiting team. Milton's floor work was fast, but they fell down in basket shooting. Woodring and Polly were the Normal stars while the floor work of Keiser was also far above the average. The lineup was as follows:

B. S. N. S.		MILTON.
Polly	forward	Gohrs
Englehart	forward	Logan
Woodring		Musgrave
Keiser
Egan	centre	Frymire
Erickson
Milnes
Harrison	guard	Bennett
Creasy
Fausel	guard	Hess
Ed. Creasy.

Goals from field—Gohrs, Logan, 3; Musgrave, 4; Frymire, 2; Bennett, Polly, 4; Woodring, 4; Keiser, 2; Milnes, 2; Harrison, Erickson, Ed. Creasy, Fausel. Goals from fouls—Musgrave, Keiser. 2; Erickson. Referee—Prof. Bryant. Time of halves—20 minutes.

NORMAL HAD EASY PICKING.

The strong Hazleton Y. M. C. A. who are causing considerable of a sensation in the Hazleton city league, by their fast and strenuous playing, went down to defeat at the hands of the Normal quintet, Saturday evening, in the Normal gymnasium, by the score of 49 to 15.

The Hazleton team has a strong reputation and came here with the expectation of winning. Reimmiller, a deaf and dumb player, proved a fast forward for the visiting team. Bachman, the center, and Siddel, guard, were also fast and showed up well in floor work.

All of Normal's team played a good game and had Hazleton at their mercy all through the game. Keiser made 16 points by great basket shooting. Fausel, Woodring and Erickson did much in helping the local team win. Smith, who has been out of the game for the past two weeks owing to injuries, played the first half and made two field goals and shot four out of six fouls. Milnes, who was put in the latter part of the game, made a spectacular play, throwing a basket with one hand from a very difficult angle.

Normal opened the game with Smith making a difficult basket. The local boys were never in a serious position throughout the game. The first half ended by the score of 23 to 6 in Normal's favor.

The second half was more interesting than the first. Woodring made some fine plays in the half as did Siddel for the visiting team. This half furnished Normal 26 points and Hazleton 9, making the final score 49 to 15 in favor of Normal. The line-up:

NORMAL		HAZLETON
Keiser	forward	Leibensberger
Smith, Woodring,	} forward	{	Reimmiller
Erickson,			centre
Metz, Creasy	guard	Wagner
Fausel	guard	Siddel

Goals from field—Keiser, 8; Milnes, Smith, 2; Woodring, 4; Erickson, 2; Metz, Fausel, 4; Siddell, 2; Wagner, Bachman, 2; Leibensberger. Goals from fouls, Smith, 4; Erickson, Wagner, Leibensberger. Referee—McCrea. Timers—Bryant and Anderson. Time of halves—20 minutes.—Morning Press.

SHAMOKIN PROFESSIONALS JAN. 24.

The strong Shamokin Professionals went down to defeat at the hands of the Normal quintet in the Normal gymnasium Saturday evening. The game was fast and interesting from the start, with the score 25-15 in favor of Normal.

The first half was intensely exciting, Smith showing up especially well for Normal as did Kaseman for Shamokin. The half ended in a tie, 10-10.

The second half was more loosely played than the first, the ball being at Normal's end nearly the entire half.

Both teams played well, Kaseman and Dinger making Shamokin's baskets while Barr figured for them in floor work. All of Normal's players put up a brilliant article with Fausel and Smith figuring in floor work, and Erickson and Metz showed up in basket shooting. Keiser played his usual strong game and figured materially in the result. The lineup:

NORMAL		SHAMOKIN.
Smith	forward	Kaseman
Keiser	forward	Barr
Erickson	centre	Yost
Metz	guard	Dinger
Fausel	guard	Rhodes

Goals from field—Smith, 2, Keiser, 3; Erickson, 2; Metz, 2; Fausel, Kaseman, 4; Dinger; 2. Goals from fouls—Smith, Erickson, 3; Fausel, Barr, 3. Referee—Seeley. Timer—C. A. Albert. Time of halves, 20 minutes.

NORMAL SCRUBS WON FAST GAME.

The Normal Reserves and Clover Club Reserves met before the first half and between the halves of the Varsity game, with Normal winning in a loosely played game by the score of 28 to 7.

The line-up:

NORMAL RES.		C. C. RES.
Polly	forward	McKeand
Englehart	forward	Leiby
Smith	center	Jacoby
Creasy	guard	Wireman
Harrison	guard	McBride

Goals from field—Englehart, 7; Polly, 4; Smith, 3; McKeand, 2; Jacoby. Goals from fouls—McKeand. Referee—C. A. Albert. Timer—Chas. Morris. Time of halves—20 and 15 minutes.

Manager Chas. Morris, has arranged the following schedule:

- Jan. 15—Hazleton Y. M. C. A. at Bloomsburg.
- Jan. 22—Shamokin Professionals at Bloomsburg.
- Jan. 28—Kutztown Normal at Bloomsburg.
- Feb. 2—Normal at Hazleton Y. M. C. A.
- Feb. 5—Normal at Wyoming.
- Feb. 12—Normal at Juniata.
- Feb. 19—Lock Haven at Bloomsburg.
- Feb. 26—Wyoming at Bloomsburg.
- Mar. 4—Pending, away.
- Mar. 5—Kutztown at Kutztown.
- Mar. 10—Juniata at Bloomsburg.
- Mar. 12—Lock Haven at Lock Haven.

MODEL SCHOOL WON.

The Boy's Recreation Room has been supplied, thru Dr. Waller's kindness, with a number of games to provide entertainment for leisure hours.

THE QUARTERLY acknowledges the receipt of the following exchanges: "The Ursinus Weekly", "The Dickinsonian", "Pierce School Alumni Journal", "Orange and Black", "The Purple and White", "The Bulletin", (Valley City Normal, N. Eight hundred dollars were expended recently by the trustees upon iron single and folding beds for the ladies' dormitories. They have been so distributed as to equalize conditions as much as possible. These folding beds are as completely ventilated when folded as are the others. They add to the available space during the day, and to the shelf room. Those who in days past longed for single beds will realize the importance of this change.

The Manual Training Department, again in charge of Mr. Ben Frisbie, is keeping up with the times. Additional bench tools of the latest pattern have been supplied the individual benches, and the department is now in possession of complete equipment for work in hammered brass and copper, venetian iron work, book-binding and pyrography.

New bookcases have been added to the library to provide for the new books which are constantly being added.

—o—

The Seniors are busily engaged in trying to decide upon the disposition of their Class Memorial Fund. One of the propositions which has met with much favor is that looking toward the decoration of the school dining room. The trustees have expressed a willingness to cooperate with the Senior Class in this plan and it is quite possible that very attractive changes may be in evidence in this department by September next.

—o—

The Music Department has promised us a musical in the near future. The school orchestra has been reorganized under the leadership of Mrs. J. K. Miller and now consists wholly of students of the department: the brasses have been eliminated and the instrumentation now consists of fourteen violins with two flutes and a harp.

A Choral Club, made up mostly of students of the school, has been drilled by Charles O. Skeer and will assist the orchestra in the recital.

The work is to be given as the work of students, not of professionals, but from the pleasure derived from similar entertainments in the past, a delightful evening is to be expected.

Under the direction of Mrs. Miller the Music Department is again one of the strong departments of our big school.

The New Term.

New students came in with a rush on Monday, March 28th. The students in attendance during previous terms of the year were a little slower in registering, but at this writing all previous registration records have again been broken and the school now has enrolled a total of nearly 800 students. From inquiries and reservations already made it is more than probable that the 800 mark will soon be passed. It is needless to state that matters educational are "going some" these days on Normal hill.

Quarterly Publication Dates.

A slight revision of the publishing dates of the QUARTERLY has been made to better suit our school conditions.

Contributors to our paper will please take notice that copy will be placed in the printer's hands on the first of January, April, July and October. The paper will be mailed on the 15th of the same month and may be expected by our readers accordingly.

North Hall.

The rooms provided for the accommodation of students in the upper dormitory known as North Hall, have proved to be exceedingly popular. Originally only a portion of third floor was allotted to the use of students, but during the spring vacation further alterations have been made and now second and third entire floors of this building, except the portion of third floor set apart for use as an Infirmary, have been thrown open to the ladies of the school. Miss VanWyck, who is the teacher in charge of the building, has pleasant quarters at the south end of second floor.

F. V. Frisbie, who for several years past has held the position of steward and superintendent of buildings and grounds, tendered his resignation to the trustees shortly before the close of the Winter term. Mr. Frisbie, who intends re-entering active service in the Presbyterian ministry has been invited by the trustees to occupy the school residence, Buckalew Place, until he resumes his ministerial duties.

The position of steward will not be filled for the present. Mr. Perry Freas will assume charge of outside matters and other duties hitherto performed by the steward will be allotted to various individuals under the direction of the school Registrar.

Athletics.

To recount the victories, bewail the defeats, and commend the fine sportsmanlike spirit of the 1910 Basket Ball Team, is a task too large for the pages of the QUARTERLY, yet justice demands a resume of the season which closed March 16th. The best team work in years marked the play throughout the entire series. The boys caught the spirit of being in the play all the time and not merely taking an occasional spurt when the ball came into their territory. The lightness of the team was, at times, a severe handicap, yet their speed enabled them to at least break even with every team, except one, upon the schedule.

Smith was the star man of the team. Each man on the team deserves special mention for hard consistent work throughout the season. Capt. Erikson put up the best game of his career upon the floor. Fausel and Metz did star work at the guard position while Keiser and Woodring ran a close race for honors at forward.

HUNDREDS SEE "GYM" DISPLAY.

A BIG SUCCESS SCORED. BEAUTIFUL COSTUMES, HANDSOME DECORATIONS, GREAT EXCITEMENT.

BLOODLESS BATTLE OF CLASSES.

The sixteenth annual gymnastic exhibition of the Bloomsburg State Normal School is history. A crowd that taxed the capacity of the Normal auditorium witnessed the display, with the success of giving it in the auditorium rather than in the cramped gymnasium quarters fully established the first night.

It was a great night for the students and a great night for the audience. There was the usual class spirit, the usual class cheers, the usual class songs, all of which goes to make the exhibition the big indoor event of the year at the school.

The beautiful decorations, the riot of color, the handsome costumes all added to the success of one of the most successful exhibitions in the school's history.

By many people the annual gymnastic exhibition at the Normal is looked forward to as one of the most enjoyable events of the school year. There is always something new and interesting and one never tires of the part that is old. Reminds us of the patent medicine slogan, "once used, always used." With the "Gym." exhibition it's "once you go, always you go."

BEAUTIFUL THE DECORATIONS.

The new exhibition quarters did not hinder materially the decorating schemes. The auditorium was a mass of colors. The Seniors were naturally given the places of prominence in the decorative scheme, and they took advantage of their opportunity to flaunt their colors, red and white. But there was plenty of blue and white, for the Middlers, and brown and white for the Juniors.

The grand march, always the initial number in these annual affairs, was participated in by all the classes. The march was headed by the senior girls, who were tastily dressed in white bloomers and white waists and white ties. Following the senior girls were the senior boys, garbed in white duck trousers and white blouses, trimmed in red. Next came the Middler girls wearing blue bloomers, white waists and blue ties. Then the Middler boys in blue knickerbockers with white stripes and white shirts with blue bow ties. Next in order were the Junior girls with brown bloomers, white waists and brown ties. Next the Junior boys in grey trousers, white shirts and brown bow ties. Then followed the older Model school girls and boys, and, last but not least in the amount of applause they elicited from the audience, came the little tots, the first and second grades of the Model school. After the grand march the real excitement began. The rival classes started the din of yells and songs.

The second number on the program were the imitative exercises by first and second grades of the Model school. Everyone enjoyed the youngsters' part. And yet they enjoyed it too. In fact that is undoubtedly the reason the children enter so enthusiastically into their work, because they are made to enjoy it.

"Our Gym. Period" was given next by the third and fourth grades of the Model school. The participants executed a series of simple movements, showing what the children of the age do at Gym. period.

The fourth number was an exercise with tamborines, by the older girls of the Model school. These girls made a very pleasing appearance and were well drilled.

Following the girls the older Model school boys amused the audience by their calisthenics and their game called "The Beetle is Out."

The sixth and last number on the first page of the program was the spring board jump. This was an inter-class contest, and class spirit ran at full tilt. The Seniors captured the honors in this event, as they did in most of the others during the evening. Klopp and Wertman tallied five and three points respectively for their class. The Middlers and Juniors tied for third honors, Girton scoring one and one-half for the Middlers and Dobson the same number of points for the Juniors.

Part second was opened by a selection by the orchestra, consisting of Normal students who under the direction of Carl Erickson, '10, played very acceptably during the evening.

The first regular number of Part II, was entitled "Free Hand Calisthenics," and was given by the 1912 girls. Their intricate movements made a very favorable impression on the audience.

Following the calisthenics the Junior boys were seen to advance in a dumb bell drill. The number ended with a twisting-circle run, the whole number presenting a realistic picture of what might happen any day in the "Gym."

The second inter-class contest was the running high dives.

This took the fancy of the audience. The regular jumping apparatus is used in this work. The contestant gives a leap over the bar, landing on his hands; makes a forward roll, coming to his feet. B. Shuman won this event for the Seniors. After the regular contest Shuman jumped for record. He cleared the bar at 5 feet 6 inches. This is the first time this jump has been used at the Normal.

The 1911 girls pleased in their combination drill. The effect of the hoops, flags and dumb bells, being all used at the same time, made a very striking appearance.

Wands always afford an opportunity for effective drill work and in the hands of the Middler boys, proved no exception to the rule. Although seemingly at times somewhat handicapped for room, they executed their part of the program in a very acceptable manner.

Undoubtedly one of the hits of the evening was the scarf drill by the Senior girls. Three sections of girls, sixteen in each section, made their appearance singly, with red, white and blue scarfs, respectively. Each division went through a series of maneuvers as it made its appearance, and later the three divisions joined. It was beautiful indeed and merited the hearty applause it received.

The Indian Club Drill by the 1910 boys was enjoyed by all. The boys handled the clubs in a way that showed very plainly their familiarity with them. After the drill the boys put aside the clubs and running to the center of the platform formed a human pyramid, in which position they gave a very vigorous class yell.

The special Senior number, "Tennis Drill With Gymnastic Steps," proved a fitting climax for a successful evening. About a net stretched across the centre of stage, eight Senior boys and eight Senior girls with tennis bats and balls, executed a series of fancy steps with frequent tableau effect that was pleasing indeed.

The exhibition was a credit to all concerned, students and instructors alike, and will be remembered as one of the most successful in the history of the school.—Morning Press.

Alumni.

The QUARTERLY desires to hear from all Alumni of the institution. Please consider this a personal invitation to let us know all about yourself and all you can tell us concerning your classmates. Address all communications for this department to G. E. Wilbur, Lock Box No. 203.

CLASS REUNIONS 2:00 TO 5:00 P. M. TUESDAY, JUNE 28, 1910.

The indications at present, are that the reunions this year will exceed any thing of the kind in the history of the school. We believe that preparations are being made by nearly all the classes who ought to hold their reunions this year. These classes are '70, '75, '80, '85, '90, '95, '00, '05, '08.

REUNION CLASS OF '80.

Mrs. Celeste Kitchen Prutzman, Trucksville, Pa., is marshaling the forces of '80. She commands them to meet at 2:00 o'clock p. m. in "Prof. Noetling's old room" Tuesday, June 28. The delinquents without reasonable excuses, endorsed at the office, will hear from "Celeste" in no uncertain terms. She vouches to the Faculty for the good behavior of '80's while here.

REUNION CLASS OF 1905.

The members of the class of 1905 are planning for their Five-year Reunion to be held at Old Normal on Class Day, June 28, 1910.

It is hoped that as many as possible will be present and help to make the occasion a memorable one.

Mark the date on your calendar and make no other arrangements for that date.

Any suggestions in regard to the success of the occasion will be gladly received by President Geo. H. Webber, Elloree, S. C., or N. T. Englehart, Chairman committee on arrangements, Bloomsburg, Pa.

Butts, Rev. William Hilton, who had charge of the department of music at the Normal School during the years 1891-94, died suddenly at Gloversville, N. Y., Saturday, Feb. 5. Mr. Butts was curate of Christ Episcopal Church, Corning, N. Y., and had gone to Gloversville to occupy the pulpit of Christ Church of that city on the following day. Soon after his arrival at the hotel he was seized with an attack of acute indigestion and died before medical aid could be rendered.

'67, Elwell, Geo. E. (coll. prep) was elected a school director in Bloomsburg at the recent spring election by a very large and flattering vote. In his card in the papers just prior to the election he said:

"Without suggestion or solicitation on my part, I have been nominated for the office of School Director for the term of three years in Bloom School District.

Having been named for the office, it is quite natural that I do not want to be defeated. I have been a resident of Bloomsburg since my boyhood, and have always been interested in educational matters. Three years I spent teaching school, part of the time as a member of the Faculty of the Normal School, and for twenty years I was trustee of that institution, most of the time a member of the committee having in charge the employment of teachers.

The office of School Director is, or at least should be, a non-partisan one. It would be so, so far as I am concerned, should I be elected.

In case my fellow citizens see fit to call me to this important office, I shall devote to it my best efforts, backed by an educational and business experience of more than thirty-five years."

The QUARTERLY heartily congratulates the schools of Bloomsburg.

'69, Marr, Wm. A. (sp. course.) We take the following from the Columbian, March 17.

"While visiting his sister, Mrs. Margaret M. Barber, at her home in Philadelphia, ex-Judge William A. Marr died suddenly on Saturday night. He was widely known as a jurist, having served on the Common Pleas Court of Schuylkill county for the ten years ending January, 1909. A democrat of the old school, he took a deep interest in the affairs of his party, and on several occasions sat as a delegate in State and national conventions. Judge Marr was born 73 years ago, in Union county, but from boyhood lived at Ashland, where he studied law prior to his admission to the Schuylkill County Bar. Funeral services were held Tuesday, at 2 o'clock, at the Broad Street residence of Mrs. Barber, and the body was taken to Lewisburg for burial on Wednesday.

Judge Marr was well known in this county. Twenty years ago he was a regular attendant at the sessions of the courts here, representing as he did, many of the coal and other corporations in the lower end of the county. He was one of the counsel for the defense in the first Mollie Maguire trial, about 1869.

He was an affable gentleman and a good lawyer. We believe his last visit to Bloomsburg was in April, 1905, when he was a guest of the Bar, and one of the speakers at the banquet given by the lawyers of the county to Col. John G. Freeze on the 57th anniversary of his admission to the Bar.

'75, Creasy, William T., early in February made the following public announcement:

"For sixteen years I have served in the House of Representatives, doing the best I could in the interests of good government. I shall not be a candidate for reelection to the House, but expect to be a candidate for State Senator."

This announcement made something of a flurry in local democratic politics and almost immediately several patriotic citizens announced that they were willing to sacrifice their personal interests and comfort that they might be of service to their county and state. Among the prospective candidates are William Chrisman '78 and William C. Johnston '87 and there are others.

'78, Andrews, Charles D., died February 7th at Clifton Springs, N. Y., at the residence of his brother-in-law, G. W. Arner. Mr. Andrews was for many years cashier of the Cement National Bank, Seigfried, Pa. His death was the result of injuries and nervous shock sustained in the wreck of the Shriners' special train at Honda, California, several years ago. He had taken the trip for his health, and although badly injured, he assisted in the work of rescuing the other victims. The funeral was held at Seigfried, Pa., interment in Fairview Cemetery.

'79, Albert, C. H. The Tuskegee Student, a weekly paper published by the students of the Tuskegee Institute, Alabama, has the following in its issue of March 26.

"Professor C. H. Albert of the State Normal School, Bloomsburg, Pa., delivered a most interesting series of lectures to the students and teachers beginning Saturday evening, March 19th and ending Tuesday evening, March 22nd. About ten addresses in all were delivered to various groups of teachers and to the entire student body. The talk on Tuesday morning on Africa, and the one Tuesday evening in the Assembly Room of the Dining Hall were almost thrilling in their earnest, forceful presentation. The talk on Africa especially showed how splendidly Professor Albert has collected every salient fact as to the geography and history of the African continent. The talk on Tuesday evening had for its subject, "The Call of our Country for Men." This subject was treated from the standpoint of the great industrial possibilities of the future and enlisted the earnest and sympathetic attention of the entire student body, teachers and families who were present, as well as the special visitors, Prince Yun of Korea and his party who were on the platform.

'80, Brooke, William H. (sp. course) has been appointed special agent for the United States Census Bureau for Columbia and Montour Counties, and will gather statistics of the manufactories, mines and quarries of these counties for the coming census. Mr. Brooke's many friends congratulate him upon having received the appointment, and the Government is assured that the work will be done efficiently.

'85, McNiff, M. Katharine, of the Harrisburg High School and Mary Mickey, principal of the Paxtang School, Harrisburg, contemplate spending the greater portion of the summer vacation in study, the former at Chicago University and the latter at Columbia College, New York City. Their classmates earnestly hope that these plans will not interfere with their presence at their class reunion.

The following letter is of more than passing interest. The spirit of loyalty, the anticipation of pleasure, the enthusiastic purpose are expressed in a way voicing the feelings of many of the readers of the QUARTERLY, even though not of the class of '85; therefore, with the consent of the writer, this personal communication is made public.

My dear Dr. Waller:

I am delighted to learn that there will be a reunion of the Class of '85, during commencement week the coming June, and that no effort is being spared to have the fullest possible attendance. It will indeed be a pleasure to come back after a lapse of a quarter of a century, to renew old acquaintanceship, revive tender memories, and pay due homage to the faculty and school by whose ministrations our later successes were made possible. What an interchange of personal experience is assured.

Those whom the years have carried some distance from their homes have nevertheless kept in loyal touch with the school and her honored career of usefulness. Nothing short of absolute misfortune will find me absent when the roll is called on June 29th. I have been secretary of the Board of Education of the District of Columbia for three years, and find it very interesting and agreeable.

With best wishes to you personally, and to the Normal School in all its endeavors, I am,

Most sincerely yours,

HARRY O. HINE,

Class of 1885.

'86, Shuman, C. B., of Manistee, Mich., has recently been visiting friends and relatives in Columbia County. After graduating at the Normal School, he completed the course prescribed by the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy, went west and engaged in the wholesale drug business. He is president of the A. H. Lyman Drug Company, said to be one of the largest wholesale drug houses in the west.

'90, Brown, Ira S., who for many years has successfully conducted a large Business College in Bridgeport, Conn., has sold the college to other parties. He will devote his time more extensively to the interests of the Underwood Typewriter Co., of New York. We understand that the new management of the college has made arrangements with Mr. Brown whereby he will lecture at least once a month, to the college on Business Ethics.

'91, Nagle, Chas. L. (sp. course) resigned his position as teacher of the Lime Ridge Grammar School and accepted the management of the C. W. Runyon store, the store reopening Saturday, March 12. Mr. Nagle enjoys a wide acquaintanceship throughout the county and will no doubt make a most capable manager.

'91, John, E. Barton has been promoted to the position of superintendent of the Delaware division of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Practically ever since he graduated from the State Normal School and Lehigh University he has been employed by the Pennsylvania, having been supervisor of the Altoona division until a year ago when he was promoted to the position of principal assistant engineer of the P. W. and B. division, and located at Wilmington, Del.

The appointment of Mr. John to the superintendency is a strong tribute to his ability.

'91, Kschinka, Marie has been instructor in English for the last two years at the Berwick High School. We clip the following from the Berwick page of a local paper, January 24th.

A surprise to the students and faculty at the High School is the resignation of Miss Marie Kschinka, who for the past two years has been instructor in English at the High School, to accept a position as one of the teachers in English at the City High School, Syracuse, N. Y. The position is not elective, but the selection is made by the merit system. Miss Kschinka's name stood first on the list of qualified applicants and when the vacancy occurred she was notified to come at once at the maximum salary. The High School is one which 3,000 students attend and the position is a substantial promotion from that in Berwick.

'93, Weiss, Clem R., has resigned his offices of Justice of the Peace and secretary of the Poor Board of the Bloomsburg Poor District. We are told that he will locate in Philadelphia where he has secured an excellent position.

'93, Henderson, May. The following clipping, presumably from a Weatherly paper, was sent to the QUARTERLY. We have no means of determining the date.

Early Monday morning, about one o'clock, Mrs. May, wife of Robert A. Eadie, died at her home on Carbon street after an illness of three months. She is survived by her husband and two children. Several brothers and a sister also survive.

Deceased was ill for about three months, suffering from blood poisoning due to a scratch received on her hand while opening a can of fruit.

Mrs. Eadie was born about 35 years ago at Stockton and came to Weatherly to teach in our public schools. For a number of terms she successfully taught one of the grades and some years ago was married to Mr. Eadie. She was esteemed by all who knew her and her early and sad demise is mourned by a host of friends. Her husband has the sympathy of the community in his sad bereavement.

The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at two o'clock, from her late home. The Rev. W. T. S. Seybert officiated at the services and interment was made in the Union Cemetery.

'94, Wills, Walter S., (sp. course) made a pleasant call at the Normal early in March. He was here with the John B. Wills Musical Comedy Company. A local paper has the following:

Walter S. Wills, the son of John B. Wills, and the principal comedian, was a student at the Bloomsburg State Normal School some years ago. While here he sang in the choir at St. Paul's Church. The young man is a capable fun maker, and has been delighting the audiences with his antics.

'94, Hess, L. Floyd has been appointed First Assistant District Attorney of Luzerne county, and M. H. McAniff '84 Second Assistant.

'94, Pfahler, Dr. Geo. E. is President of the American Roent-gen Ray Society with headquarters at 1321 Spruce street, Philadelphia.

'94, Dieffenderfer, Rev. John P. is a clergyman in Hummelstown, Pa. He has been married during the past year and is both successful and happy.

'95, Bartholomew, I. A., is a civil engineer in the far west. He is located at Nyssa, Oregon. He is at present "engineering" on a large irrigation project in the employ of the Arnold Company of Chicago. This work was begun in March 1909 and will require three years to complete it. About 225,000 acres will be irrigated by this system and the total cost will be at least four million dollars.

'96, Barton, Harry S. at the February election was elected a school director in the Bloomsburg School District. Harry's experience as a teacher in these schools should make him a very efficient member of the board.

'96, Gruver, Mary is now engaged with the Singer Sewing Machine Company. Her address at present is Asheville, N. C.

'96, Lamoreux, Bertha, is teaching at Bridgeport, Wash. She taught in Pennsylvania until two years ago, when she took an extensive trip visiting the principal cities of the country and finally on to the far west, locating in Bridgeport. She is greatly pleased with the location, work and climate. Bridgeport is on the Columbia river.

'96, Powell (Williams) Esther.

The loving sympathy of the readers of the QUARTERLY will be extended to Mrs. Williams in this time of her great bereavement. Her husband, John H. Williams, one of the most brilliant younger members of the Bar of Luzerne County, after two very strenuous campaigns, one for the nomination, the other for the general election, was elected District Attorney of that great county. He had assumed the duties of his office for only a short time when he was taken ill. He hastened to Hot Springs for relief but without avail. His life, character and professional standing has been eulogized by all without respect to parties.

'97, Bahner, J. E., has moved from Palmyra, Pa., to East Greenville, Mont. Co., Pa. He says: "I find my work quite agreeable. Success to old B. S. N. S."

'97, Miller, James M., has resigned as editor of the Wellsboro Republican Advocate to become a member of the firm of Saxton, Sowden and Miller, lawyers and real estate dealers in Colome, S. D.

'00, Mowrey, Guy A. of Grovania has been giving stereopticon lectures on Mexico and on the Philippines. These lectures were well attended and greatly appreciated.

'00, Newberry, Mae. We have the following clipping from a Wilkes-Barre paper.

Cox-Newberry. In Wilkes-Barre Dec. 23, 1909, by alderman J. P.

Pollock, Hugh C. Cox of Iowa and Mae Newberry of Beaumont, and "further deponent saith not."

'00, Wilbur, G. Elmer is in charge of the department of Ancient Languages in the Duval High School, Jacksonville, Florida. The Bloomsburg Morning Press, February 22, says this:

"The pupils of the Duval High School at Jacksonville, Fla., publish a monthly school magazine, most pretentious in scope, and the issue for January, 1910, is dedicated to Prof. G. Elmer Wilbur, their foot ball coach, as well as their director in general athletics. The high esteem in which Mr. Wilbur is held by the pupils is strikingly evidenced throughout the entire publication."

'00, Landis, S. B. is in business in Ada, Okla. He likes that section very much and says the South West is a great country.

'01, Follmer, Gertrude M. who is in charge of the Department of History in the Berwick High School last evening lectured to a large audience of students and their friends in the Trinity Lutheran church. The subject was "Views From Ancient History" and was illustrated with lantern slides procured from Prof. Dennis of the Bloomsburg Normal School. The lecture was exceedingly interesting and attests the high standard of the Historical work in the High School.—Morning Press, March 1.

'01, Smith—Comstock, '05. We clip from the Columbian of February 10. A surprise was sprung on Monday when the announcement was made of the marriage of Miss Fannie Comstock to Ralph E. Smith both of Bloomsburg, which took place in Binghamton, New York, last Thanksgiving Day.

It had been intended to keep the marriage a secret until spring, when the school year at the Espy Intermediate School, where the bride is teaching, would have been ended. The illness of Mr. Smith, who is principal of the schools at Camptown, interfered with this plan, however. When he sent for his wife the news became known.

The bride and groom are both well known in town, and are popular among the young people. They are graduates of the Bloomsburg State Normal School. Mr. Smith is a graduate of Dickinson College, and was also a student in the Dickinson Law School.

'01, Albertson, E. Joe. Invitations have been issued to the marriage of Miss Beatrice Larrabee to Mr. E. Joe Albertson on Tuesday evening, April 19, 1910 at 8 o'clock in the First Presbyterian Church of Montrose, Pa. We understand that the happy couple will start at once for the Philippines where Mr. Albertson will resume his duties as Superintendent of schools in a portion of the Islands. The heartiest good wishes of the QUARTERLY accompany them.

'02, Keiber, Arthur E., is a member of the Senior class at Lafayette College and takes high rank in his work. His special subjects have been history and civics.

'04, Herring, Laura. The Daily Sentinel, March 29, says:

Miss Laura Herring, daughter of the Hon. and Mrs. Grant Herring, Sunbury, left on the Buffalo flyer Sunday afternoon for New York, where she will sail today for Munich, Germany, to study vocal music.

'05, Burgess, Lee W., passed his examinations in January for admission to the bar of Denver, Colorado. He says he is with one of the best firms in the city, Elliott, Bardwell and Hecox. Mr. Elliott is the District Attorney and Mr. Bardwell is a State Senator. Lee is greatly pleased with the West in general and with Denver in particular.

'05, Rarig, Howard R. (coll. prep.) We find the following in the Morning Press of February 15.

News that will be gladly received by his many friends throughout the county is that which Howard R. Rarig, now a medical student at the University of Michigan, a former medical preparatory student at the Bloomsburg State Normal School and later assistant to Prof. D. S. Hartline, under whom he prepared, sent yesterday, to Prof. Hartline. He writes: "I have just finished victoriously in the keenest intellectual race in which I have ever taken part. In announcing the selection of six honorary men from both the allopathic and homoeopathic departments, the anatomical staff of the university have deemed me worthy to be chosen of these six men for special honors."

Mr. Rarig is a native of Numidia and the honor that is his also reflects on the Bloomsburg State Normal School and its medical preparatory department where he got his preliminary training.

'05, Pooley, Paul. A local paper of March 14 says:

The wedding of two well known Bloomsburg young people was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Helwig, Catawissa Twp., at 6 o'clock Saturday evening when Paul M. Pooley, formerly a reporter on the Morning Press, and one of Bloomsburg's most highly respected young men, and Miss Minnie Snyder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Snyder of Newlin, but who for several years has been making her home with a relative, Pierce Creasy of East Eighth street, Bloomsburg, were married by Rev. Edgar R. Heckman, pastor of the First Methodist church, of Bloomsburg, the ceremony taking place in the presence of only the immediate families and a few intimate friends.

The bride and groom were attended by Miss Pearl Pooley, sister of the groom, and Charles A. Shuman of Forty Fort.

The bride was attired in a beautiful gown of white silk, trimmed with Valenciennes lace, while the bride's maid wore a beautiful gown of light blue silk.

The impressive ring ceremony was performed under a canopy of evergreen, the beauty of which was greatly enhanced by a large number of potted plants and cut flowers, while white silk ribbon tastily adorned the entire corner of the room in which the ceremony was performed.

Following the ceremony an elaborate wedding dinner was served by Mr. and Mrs. Helwig.

A large number of handsome presents, including linens, silverware and china, were received by the bride and groom.

Owing to the inability of Mr. Pooley to take a vacation from his employment as assistant agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad at East Bloomsburg at this time the wedding tour will be deferred until later. They will make their home in Bloomsburg where both are held in the highest esteem, with all their friends joining in congratulations.

'06, Lynch, Edward (sp. course) A February local paper says: "Patty" Lynch the former Normal star and one of the best pitchers who ever left Normal, signed a contract Monday with Cincinnati. "Patty" is now at State College where he will probably remain until the close of the college term. With New Castle last year he was one of the best pitchers in the Ohio-Pennsylvania League. "Patty's" advance in the base ball world recalls the fact that the men who at one time belonged to Normal base ball teams who went in for base ball, have always made good. Dave Williams, another Normal pitcher, was in the major league until his arm went back on him, while Hummel the local boy, is still there and likely to remain for years to come. The names of "Tommy" Hayes, "Al." Newton, "Art." Brown, "Candy" Keller, Fogerty and McCabe, as well as others are familiar in the scores of the minor leagues of the country.

'06, Shambach, John, formerly of town, and a former principal of the public schools at Millville, is the hero of the hour at Easton where he succeeded on the night of Washington's Birthday in pasting the annual Lafayette Freshman proclamation against the Sophomores on the soldiers' monument, the one particular spot in all Easton the Sophomores especially guard, for the goal of every Freshman's ambition, and the one not gratified in years, has been to place the poster where Shambach succeeded in placing it.

All evening long the monument was guarded by a delegation of Sophomores, who scanned closely each pedestrian as he approached the monument. It was after 10 o'clock when there emerged from a barber shop a workingman, clad in old clothes, with a slouch hat over his face and carrying a dinner pail. In the workingman with a straggly mustache the Sophomores failed to recognize one of the hated Freshmen, but it was Shambach on the job.

In one hand he carried an egg shell filled with molasses and as he passed the monument, he threw the shell against the monument, and pulling the proclamation from his pocket pasted it with the molasses against the monument. And then he took to the tall timbers, with the Sophomores. discovering the ruse, in pursuit. They caught him after a stern chase and he got "his," but he's the hero of the Freshman class and they have voted him a medal.—

'08, Turek, Frederick. The following appeared in the Wilkes-Barre Times-Leader of March 15.

Frederick Turek, one of Newport township's best known young men and for many years a resident of Glen Lyon, has announced himself as a candidate for Representative on the Republican ticket. For a period of nearly ten years this young man worked in and about the mines, at which time he was prominently identified with the U. M. W. of A. During the years 1902 and 1903 he was secretary of Local 599 of Glen Lyon. Later he entered the Bloomsburg Normal School to take the Latin scientific course and four years later was graduated with honorable mention. He also spent one year at Dickinson college. Mr. Turek is of Polish descent and a product of our public schools. He is a young man of good character, not only popular in Newport township, but throughout the entire Fourth district. His friends predict for him a large vote.

'09, Hemingway, Gladstone who was engaged as a clerk in the clothing store of Housenick and Company, purchased in January an interest in the firm and immediately entered upon the duties of the same.

'09, Stroud, Florence G., has been located for some time at Bloomfield, N. J. She was making preparations in January to enter the Newark Training school.

Philologian Society.

The society is now as large as at any time in its history with an enrollment of over two hundred members.

We have had several spirited debates during the last term. The members enter into this part of the work very earnestly.

We had hoped to arrange for a debate with our sister society, but it is doubtful whether we shall have an intersociety debate on account of the societies being unable to agree on the arrangement of details.

The society has arranged for a public program on April 9th. Some of the special features will be selections by the Philo Glee Club and the Orchestra.

The Philo Glee Club has been organized and adds much to the enjoyment of the programs.

Election of officers took place on April 2, at which time almost an entirely new staff of officers was elected.

During the last term we had several visits from ex-members of the society. They all expressed a pleasure in being with the society again, and told us many things about the work of the society in the past. They also gave us many good suggestions about our work at this time.

The members of the society have returned from the spring vacation and show a desire to get to work. It is hoped that the work will go better than ever this term.

Ex-members of Philo should not forget to visit their old society and see what it is doing.

Calliepian Society.

The society has just entered upon the last term of one of the most successful years in its history.

The private programs have been exceptionally strong and interesting, giving to the members that training for which the society is intended.

Two public programs have been given, one being the drama, "A Kentucky Belle," which was very well played by a strong cast, and proved to be the biggest hit of the season. Much credit is due Miss Ellis who had charge of the training.

After the drama, the cast met in the dining room and enjoyed a banquet provided by Steward Frisbie. All had a delightful evening.

Upon request the drama is to be repeated on April 23rd.

The annual reunion on February 22, was an affair that brought credit to the members of the society. The gymnasium was never more beautifully decorated. Elwell's orchestra was engaged for the afternoon and everyone enjoyed a jolly good time. A fine program was rendered at the business meeting in the forenoon, and in the evening one of the greatest treats ever offered in the auditorium was found in "Mr. Foland and The Italian Boys." A good sized audience was present and enjoyed the entertainment.

After accepting a challenge to debate our sister society, the committee were unable to make satisfactory arrangements, and the debate was called off.

The new "Knabe" piano has arrived and has been pronounced, by competent judges, a first class instrument.

The society is in excellent financial condition, and all in all this year's work stands a credit to the society and true to our motto :

Praestantia aut Nihil.

Y. M. C. A.

The election of officers for the coming year was held Tuesday evening, March 15, 1910, in the chapel. The following officers were elected: President, Mr. Nelson; vice president, Mr. Weiss; treasurer, Mr. Collins; secretary, Mr. Wiant; chairman of membership committee, Mr. Barron; chairman bible committee, Mr. Myers; chairman missionary committee, Mr. Naugle; advisory president, Prof. Sutliff. These officers were installed at the regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A., Wednesday evening, March 16, 1910. Prof. Sutliff led the meeting. It is expected that State Students' Secretary, T. O. Koehler, will be with us in the near future.

Y. W. C. A.

New officers were elected in March. The new officers were: Miss Edith DeLong, president. Lillian Sheard, vice president. Maude Williams, secretary. Roxie Smith, treasurer.

We had the privilege of having two missionaries with us recently. Miss Soper, a missionary from Japan, spent several days with us, and told us about the work which is being carried on there.

Miss Batty, a missionary from Buenos Ayres, spent a short time here. She told us about the condition of living in that part of the country and also about her work there. Miss Batty was formerly the Students' Secretary of Pennsylvania.

The visits of these missionaries have deepened the missionary interest of our association.

The spring term topic cards were distributed immediately after our return from vacation.

Miss Elsie Jones, our new State Secretary, expects to be with us April 9 and 10. The social committee have planned to have a pie social while Miss Jones is here.

Registration has passed the 800 mark as this item goes to press, and they are still coming.

—o—

Miss Burge who was called home a few weeks ago by the illness of her mother and sister, has resumed her duties.

Miss Elsa Riggin of Jenkintown, Pa., a pupil of Hugh Clark of the U. of Pa., and of the Broad Street Conservatory of Music was secured to assume Miss Burge's duties in her absence. By reason of the increased number of music pupils Miss Riggin's services will be retained by the department.

INTERSCHOLASTIC TRACK MEET.

Unless all present indications fail the meet to be held on Mt. Olympus, under the direction of the Bloomsburg State Normal Athletic Association this spring, promises to be the most successful athletic event of the kind ever attempted in this section of the state.

The date of the meet will soon be determined and the list of schools which will be extended invitations to send their track teams here will be made out. It is expected that no less than a dozen high schools and preparatory schools will participate, with Wyoming Seminary, Dickinson Seminary, Lock Haven Normal, and Berwick, Bloomsburg and Danville High Schools included among the number.

Candidates for the Bloomsburg State Normal School track team, to the number of about twelve, were out for their first practice of the season last week. This number will be augmented from time to time with the expectation of turning out a fast team from the school.

STATE EXAMINATIONS.

The annual examinations by the State Board for admission to the Middle and Senior Classes will begin on Saturday, June 18th at 9 a. m. Preliminary examinations by the Faculty of persons desiring to be recommended to the State Board will begin on Tuesday, June 14th at 8 a. m. The rules governing these examinations may be found upon pages 9 and 10 of the school catalog, a copy of which will be mailed upon application. There will be no State Examination at any other time.

—o—

FACULTY CHANGES.

Miss Sarah Robottom, of Jersey City, N. J., a graduate of the Pratt Institute, of Brooklyn, has entered upon her duties in charge of the Art Department of the school vice Miss Slayman, who resigned during the winter term.

Mr. Robert L. Johnson, class of 1909, who has just closed a successful year of teaching as Principal of the Stillwater school, has accepted the position of assistant teacher for the spring term. He will also take up some class work in preparation for college.

Mr. W. A. Stevens, of Chester, N. S., is the latest addition to the members of the Normal Faculty. Mr. Stevens received his A. B. degree from Amherst College in 1906 and later spent some time at the Chicago Lutheran Theological Seminary. After leaving the Seminary he taught school in Nova Scotia and was assistant pastor at Bridgewater, N. S. Before coming to Bloomsburg he was for two years superintendent of the Orphans' Home at Bridgewater.

—o—

1910 CLASS MEMORIAL.

The senior class of the Bloomsburg State Normal School will give as their class memorial this year a fund to be used toward the decorating of the dining hall, it being anticipated that the school will add to this fund an amount sufficient to work a complete transformation in the dining hall.

The fund could not be more appropriately used, for it has long been recognized that the dining hall is one of the least artistic rooms in the buildings and by the expenditure of the necessary money it can be converted into an inviting, and artistic room.

—o—

BIOLOGICAL CLUB LECTURES.

The Biological Club of the B. S. N. S., whose membership consists of the medical preparatory students and their instructors and friends, has had a series of meetings for the discussion of Biological subjects, as usual during the winter term.

The Club activities for this season will be closed by a series of lectures as per schedule.

Friends who are interested are cordially invited. The meetings are held in the Biological lecture room of Science Hall.

April 11, 8 P. M. "Myths of the Indian of the Susquehanna Region." Rev. Eph. Gearhart of Sunbury, Pa.

April 18, 8 P. M. Dean Seneca Egbert, M. D. Medico-Chirurgical College, Philadelphia. Subject to be announced.

FIELD WORK IN SCIENCE.

The Senior Class in Geology has already had a field lesson on the school campus, and will continue field studies of the geology of this region on Mondays as per schedule:

Lime Ridge, April 11, 1910, by trolley.

Other trips will be taken to the Hemlock Iron Ore Mines, Slate Quarry, Frosty and Dutch Valleys, Catawissa Mountain and North Mountain.

The Middler Class will have field studies as follows: School Campus, Fishing Creek Gap, Arbutus Park, Catawissa Narrows, Espy Swamp, Fifth Street Hollow, Dillon's Glen.

—o—

MANUAL TRAINING WORK.

The students in the various manual training classes have been putting out some very creditable and attractive work during the past term.

This department is, as before, under the direction of Prof. D. S. Hartline with Mr. Ben Frisbie in charge of the class work.

Many very pretty and useful articles have been completed in the new punched brass, such as lamp shades, pin trays, photograph holders, etc., and the boys are turning out very creditable results in the heavier hammered copper. Some quite ambitious work in this line has been satisfactorily accomplished, heavy copper serving trays, etc. Book stands, taborets, magazine holders and picture frames in burnt wood are popular, and some very excellent work has also been done in artistic book binding. The usual articles for school use, such as cube root blocks, botany presses, aquariums, etc., are also in evidence, while a number of students are bringing larger book cases and tables into completion.

All in all, the manual training exhibit at commencement promises to show a much wider variety of work than ever before.

THE BEN GREET PLAYERS.

The Ben Greet Players, an organization which presents the Shakespearean plays to the public under conditions paralleling as closely as possible those of Shakespeare's time, made an initial appearance to a Bloomsburg audience in the Normal Auditorium on Friday, April 8th. Two audiences which severely taxed the capacity of the Auditorium, highly appreciated the performance of "The Taming of the Shrew," during the afternoon, and "The Merchant of Venice" during the evening.

To Prof. Bakeless with Prof. C. H. Albert is due much of the success of the occasion. The co-operation of the High Schools of Berwick, Danville, Catawissa and Benton was secured by the untiring efforts of these two teachers, and so hearty was the response that it was not necessary to open the sale of tickets to the general public.

This company has been especially successful in presenting these plays in an open air setting, and the Normal campus would have been used instead of the Auditorium had the temperature conditions permitted.

Negotiations have already been opened with the management for a return of the company next year, and it is hoped that a date later in the season may be secured to permit of the out-door performance of the plays.

Commencement Notes.

The Commencement season of 1910 was an especially pleasant and successful one in every way, rounding out a year of more than ordinary success and busy effort for the school.

In the first place, every student recommended by the Faculty to the State Board made good before the Board so that every one was in a position to enjoy the festivities of the season.

The class of 1911 presented for the usual Middler Drama, Mansfield's play, "Old Heidelberg," on Monday evening, June 27th. A heavy royalty was paid for the use of the play and special scenery had to be constructed. Circumstances required the changing of two important characters in the play at almost the last moment, but 1911 was game and met the situation without dismay, and with Miss Vannatta and Mr. H. L. Baker pluckily assuming these parts the play was most successfully and creditably rendered before a crowded audience. A number of college songs were very acceptably sung in connection with the action of the play.

Tuesday, June 28th saw many enthusiastic alumni reunions and banquets.

The class of 1910 held the usual Ivy planting exercises in the afternoon, while the evening was devoted to the Class Day program. This latter, tho unusually long, was more than usually interesting and creditable to the class.

The annual graduation ceremonies were held Wednesday morning, June 29th, the Commencement speaker being Dr. Cook, Principal of the DeKalb, Ill. State Normal School, who delivered an extremely helpful and instructive address to the graduating class.

The Alumni dinner was well attended and was especially notable for the touching scene in connection with Prof. Wilbur's attendance thereat.

Mr. Geo. E. Elwell, in responding to the toast, "Our Alumni," took occasion to speak concerning the past history of the Association and to make a practical suggestion as to its future. Mr. Elwell's remarks will appear in full in the next issue of the QUARTERLY.

Prof. Wilbur's Recovery

It is needless to report here concerning the long and serious illness of Prof. Geo. E. Wilbur, following a serious operation at the Moses Taylor Hospital in Scranton, ten or twelve weeks ago. Daily bulletins of his condition were issued by the up-river papers and the telephone equipment of the hospital was severely taxed to answer the numerous inquiries concerning him, so wide spread and sincere was the affection for this truly veteran teacher, our "always young old boy," as he was termed by one of the Alumni speakers during Commencement week.

It is the QUARTERLY'S good fortune to be able to report that Prof. Wilbur has made one of the most remarkable recoveries in the history of the Moses Taylor Hospital, and is well on his way toward good health again. He has returned to his home in Bloomsburg and will spend his summer vacation holding court on his front porch among the throngs of loyal pilgrims who there resort, and in absorbing good Bloomsburg oxygen and other vic-tuals before resuming his duties as a pedagogue.

Athletics.

Base Ball, Track, and Tennis; these three have held the interest to an unusual degree during the last term. Base ball has held, as usual, first place, with a strong hold upon the student body through victories over Wyoming Seminary, Lock Haven Normal School, Ship-pensburg Normal School, Belle-fonte Academy, and other well known teams. Field Sports have received a new impetus through a very successful Interscholastic Meet held upon Mt. Olympus Field, Sat-urday, June 4, in which we took second place, Indiana Normal School, having a splendid team, winning first.

A tennis tournament of an un-usual kind, also marked the Spring Term. Each class and the Faculty held preliminary rounds to select a team to represent the class.

Steckroth and Wertman were chosen to represent the Seniors; Paul Hess and Ikeler, the Middlers; Rishton and Demaree, the Juniors, while Shambach and Sutliff succeed-ed in getting the call for Faculty.

An unusual but very satisfactory plan or schedule was arranged. Each team was scheduled to play every other team twice. This put the teams on a percentage basis as in a base ball league.

The faculty team, Shambach and Sutliff, won the championship for 1910, having played the entire six rounds without losing a set. The Seniors were their nearest competitors.

The base ball season closed with a final record of nine won and eight lost. Considering the fact that four of those lost were against strong professional teams and another was a twelve inning contest, the results were highly creditable to the team and to the school. The game lost to Bellefonte Academy was more than balanced by a double victory against the same team on May 30th, while a victory over Lock Haven Normal School on June 10th evened up the score with that team.

But one game was played with Wyoming Seminary this year, the rain preventing the contest at Bloomsburg. The victory at Kingston was the source of much rejoicing to the Normal School followers.

The team played very creditable ball, but the weakness at the bat of several members spoiled many a promising rally. Only five or six members of the team inspired hope when their turn came to face the pitcher.

In a spectacular twelve-inning game at Shippensburg, June 15th, Normal won against the Shippensburg State Normal team by a score of 6-0, the six runs coming in the first half of the twelfth inning when Shippensburg "blew up."

Sharadin was on the mound for the local Normal boys and allowed only four scattered hits. Both teams fielded brilliantly until the eleventh and in the last half of that inning Normal retired Shippensburg in one, two, three order. This was the second extra inning game in which Normal figured on the trip, and both of them were pitched by Sharadin. The score follows:

of Bloomsburg Normal, nosed out first place. Myers, of Indiana Normal, passed Henney near the tape in the third heat and in the finals, in a great race for Indiana.

Seybert, of Berwick, put up a great race in the half mile run, but Bruce, of Indiana, won by a narrow margin.

Both heats of the 220 yard dash were hotly contested. Metz took the first heat in great style. Myers nosed out first place over Poad and Boyle. In the finals, Kirkpatrick, of Harrisburg, distinguished himself and won out with Myers, Poad and Metz following close.

In the two mile run, Denuy, of Harrisburg, took the lead and maintained it, winning handily. There were ten starters with only four finishing. Costello made a great showing, but on account of a sore leg was compelled to drop out.

The discus throw was won by Little. Harrison was a close second, with Erickson and Dobson not far behind. A new record was established by the winner.

Henney was the winner of the broad jump. Sprague won from Myers in the last jump by 1/2 inch and won second place. Dobson took fourth.

The relay race was one of considerable interest. Normal was an easy winner. Houck started fine and finished with a good lead. Mitterling kept up the pace and Wertman gave Morris a good lead. Mor-

INDIANA TEAM WON THE MEET AT BLOOMSBURG.

WITH FIVE FIRSTS AND TWO SECONDS THEY CAPTURED CHAMPIONSHIP BANNER IN FINE STYLE.

NORMAL TEAM TOOK SECOND.

Marked by exciting events, in the presence of a large crowd, and with some thrilling finishes, the first annual inter-scholastic meet of the Bloomsburg State Normal School, held Saturday afternoon, on Mt. Olympus, proved the biggest kind of a success.

It remained for the Indiana State Normal team, which has been winning everywhere in the state this year, to capture the meet, with 40 1/2 points, this including five firsts and two seconds out of the eleven events. Bloomsburg Normal was second, with 26 points. Wilkes-Barre High captured third and Harrisburg High fourth.

HUNDRED YARD DASH.

The hundred yard dash proved one of the best events of the day and was run in three heats, Houck was an easy winner in this heat, while in the second heat, Metz, also ris in turn gave Boyle a lead and Boyle made a great run winning first place. The summary:

100 Yard Dash—Myers, Indiana State Normal, 1st; Poad, Wilkes-Barre High, second; Metz, Bloomsburg Normal, third. Time 10 4-5 seconds.

Half Mile—Bruce, Indiana State Normal, first; Seybert, Berwick High, second; Smith, Indiana State Normal, third; Garland, Harrisburg High, third; Baker, Bloomsburg Normal, fourth. Time 2 minutes, 12 seconds.

50 Yards, Grammar Schools—Freas, Berwick, first; Henney, Berwick, second; Broadhead, Berwick, third; Rishton, Bloomsburg, fourth. Time, 6 3-5 seconds.

High Jump—Sprague, Bellefonte Academy, first; Myers, Indiana Normal, second; Taylor, Wilkes-Barre High, third; Melbourne, Wilkes-Barre High, fourth. Distance, 5 ft., 4¼ inches.

Shot Put—Little, Indiana Normal, first; Dobson, Bloomsburg Normal, second; Devine, Harrisburg High, third; Baker, Bloomsburg Normal, fourth. Distance, 39½ feet.

100 Yard Dash, Y. M. C. A.—Mackamer, Danville, first; Kase, Danville, second. Time, 11 4-5 seconds.

220 Yard Dash—Kirkpatrick, Harrisburg High, first; Myers, Indiana Normal, second; Poad, Wilkes-Barre High, third; Metz, Bloomsburg Normal, fourth. Time, 23 3-10 seconds

Two Mile Run—Denney, Harrisburg High, first; Ricketts, Danville High, second; Marcey, Wilkes-Barre High, third; Irwin, Indiana Normal, fourth. Time, 11 min. 14 sec.

Discus Throw—Little, Indiana Normal, first; Harrison, Bloomsburg, second; Erickson, Bloomsburg Normal, third; Dobson, Bloomsburg Normal, fourth. Distance, 99 7-10 feet.

Run, Hop, Step, Jump—Dobson, Bloomsburg Normal, first; Henney, Wilkes-Barre High, second; Little, Indiana Normal, third; Myers, Indiana Normal, fourth. Distance, 38 feet, 9¾ inches.

Running Broad Jump—Henney, Wilkes-Barre High, first; Sprague, Bellefonte Academy, second; Myers, Indiana Normal, third; Dobson, Bloomsburg Normal, fourth. Distance, 19 feet, 1½ inches.

Relay Race, 1 mile—Bloomsburg Normal, Houck, Wertman, Morris, Mitterling, Boyle, first; Berwick High, Shoemaker, Bower, Bond, Seybert, Eshleman, second; Indiana Normal, Myers, Bruce, Smith, Irwin, Little, third. Time, 3 minutes, 35 2-5 seconds.

Alumni.

The QUARTERLY desires to hear from all Alumni of the institution. Please consider this a personal invitation to let us know all about yourself and all you can tell us concerning your classmates. Address all communications for this department to G. E. Wilbur, Lock Box No 203.

GET INTO LINE FOR COMMENCEMENT, JUNE, 1911.

The prophecy in our last issue has been fulfilled. Commencement of June 28, 1910 goes down in history as the best and most enthusiastic B. S. N. S. has ever known. Now get into line, everybody, to do better next year. Classes which expect to reunite should begin to stir the matter at once and communicate with those at the school who are in a position to help forward the preparation. The Classes of '86 and '91 will in turn be the honored guests of the school next year. Classes of '71, '76, '81, '96, '01, '06 and '09 should be out in force, also. Get to work all who are interested and all who ought to be interested for the best commencement in the history of the school in 1911.

'67, Elwell, Geo. E., (Coll. Prep). At the Alumni banquet on Commencement day, as president of the Association, in responding to the toast, "Our Alumni," made some pertinent suggestions to the members which we hope may bear fruit.

The QUARTERLY earnestly urges his committee, when appointed, to hustle for the cause he so ably advocates.

'79, Bakeless, O. H., will spend July in study at Columbia University, New York.

'80, Simons, A. J. was present at commencement with his wife to grace the graduation exercises of his niece, Miss Grace Gillner. The Dr. is as enthusiastic as ever, and Normal interests are still dear to his heart.

'80, Kitchen, Celeste C. (Prutz-man) by persuasive tongue and facile pen, gathered the '80 class in Room A for their 30th reunion, and they had a glorious time. Mrs. Prutzman goes into things with her school girl fervor, and succeeds admirably in scaring Old Time away.

'81, Wooley, Mary I. (Mrs. S. T. Townsend) writes from South Coventry, Conn., "Kindly note change in address. I don't want to miss the QUARTERLY. We moved here from Rockville, Conn., a few weeks ago. Mr. Townsend is interested in a fish-line factory and makes lines strong enough to verify the biggest fish story you can invent." This last statement will gladden the hearts of Prof. Cope and our other piscatorial artists of whom we have quite a few.

'84, Reichard, J. E. (Special Course.) One of the most widely known men in Central Pennsylvania died at the Joseph Ratti Hospital yesterday afternoon about 3:15 o'clock when James E. Reichard passed away following an operation for appendicitis, which he underwent Monday afternoon.

The operation itself was a success but the post-mortem held yesterday disclosed the fact that the diagnosis of the physicians was correct and that he was a victim of systemic poisoning which had affected his heart and caused heart exhaustion. The wound, the post-mortem disclosed, was healing properly, there was no pus and peritonitis had not set in.

The only child of Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Reichard, he was born in Frosty Valley and was aged about 48 years.—From the Morning Press of June 2, 1910.

'84, Limberger, Annie R. It is with pain we record the death of this brilliant, earnest daughter of the Normal. Miss Limberger taught for several years in the schools of Catawissa, Pa., where she made many devoted friends, and did much by her forceful Christian life and earnestness to hold the young women of the school and the town to high ideals and noble purposes. She then took charge of the advance grades of the training school at the Normal. Here too her life, work, and example enriched and ennobled the lives of hundreds of young women who learned to know and appreciate her rare, rich nature. In 1891 she took up her work in Mexico where she has labored wisely and well, and her rare influences will long survive her in the lives of her far-a-way girls and their descendants. She has built beautifully and well.

'84, Kinports, Harry A. is Secretary of the World Wide Mission of the Reformed church in America. He resides at 25 W. 22nd St., New York City.

'85, Beidleman, Henry H., who is class president of his much loved '85 was not only present, but royally led his legion thru the festivities of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the class. He is Superintendent of the Eagan School of Business, Bryant Park Building, 42nd Street and Sixth Avenue, New York. His eye is not dimmed nor his vigor abated. His loyalty to B. S. N. S. bubbled over in his address at the class banquet.

'85, Musselman, Frances, was present at the 25th reunion of her class, and we learn that she is a Physical Culture Specialist in Francis W. Parker School, 330 Webster Ave., Chicago, Ill., a private school supported by Mrs. Emmons Blaine, one of Chicago's wealthy women, whose life interest is children's education.

'86, Kline, Marion A., writes as follows :

Dear Dr. Waller : A copy of the B. S. N. S. QUARTERLY at hand reminds me of the fast passing years and that in a few months, it will be twenty-five years since our class graduated from the school. I expect to visit my home in Pennsylvania some time during the coming summer or fall and am surely going to hunt you up while there. I want to be present next year also at the twenty-fifth reunion of my class and will do all that I can to secure the fullest possible attendance at that reunion. I wish that you would send me a list of the members of my class who are still living, with their present addresses if known to you, and I will take the time to write to each of them to induce them if possible to be present at that time. I suppose that I have wandered the farthest away of any member of the class and it will probably be as difficult for me to get away as for any one of them, but I intend to be there unless something extraordinary intervenes. The world has been using me very well and I have been fairly successful in my legal practice, as I have all the work that I can do and more than I can do well. I have seven cases to be tried in the United States Court here during the coming month, in all which there are large property interests involved—one of them involving the receivership of property worth from five to six million dollars. In addition to that, I have about twenty cases to be tried in our District Court at the June term. This is in addition to other work which comes up every day in a lawyer's office.

I am glad to know that after a lapse of a quarter of a century, you and Prof. Wilbur are still hale and hearty and filling your old positions. I do not know who the faculty are at the present time, but I suppose that Profs. Cope and Albert are still there.

Wishing you the best of success in your efforts and asking to be remembered to any of our former friends whom you may meet, I am

Very sincerely yours,

M. A. KLINE.

(“Mary Ann”)

'87, Smith, K. Maude, accompanied by Miss M. Good, sailed for Europe on the Rheinland, June 24th. She will spend the summer in Germany, taking in the Passion Play at Ober Ammergau.

'91, Sutliff, William B. will study at the University of Pennsylvania during the summer.

'94, Quinn, Bridget C. The following little note to Prof. Jenkins will be a stimulus to more Normal girls to go west to teach Indians with the hope of finding a husband:

June always brings back Commencement, and that, Normal days, and as I've not received the QUARTERLY since changing name and station, I am decidedly rusty on B. S. N. S. affairs.

Living on a ranch is much more strenuous than teaching red skins to be good Indians, and vastly more than teaching public school, but I'll always have time to read Normal news.

So please change my degree from spinster to home maker, and my address to Mrs. J. E. Keough, Edgar, Mont., and I will be so much obliged.

You must of course know my former name, but 16 years brings forgetfulness, so in case you have forgotten, I was Bridget C. Quinn.

Hoping you are well and still a pleasure to Normalites, I am

Sincerely yours,

Mrs. J. E. Keough.

'94, Johns, B. M. Special from Tribune-Republican, Factoryville, Pa., May 31. On Sunday morning Union Memorial services were held in the Methodist Episcopal church, the pastor, Rev. B. M. Johns, occupying the pulpit. Prayer was offered by Prof. H. Lorren Fassett. The members of Capt. E. J. Rice post, Grand Army of the Republic, the ladies of Sarah Rice Circle and the Sons of Veterans attended the services in a body. The attendance was very large and the music by the choir was appropriate to the occasion. Rev. Mr. Johns delivered a Memorial day sermon. It was a patriotic, forceful discourse and well received by the audience. In the afternoon memorial services were held in Memorial hall. During the past year the veterans' ranks have been lessened by four deaths, and the Sons of Veterans by two deaths. In the evening the regular monthly union preaching service was held at the Baptist church, Rev. Mr. Johns occupying the pulpit, delivering an excellent sermon to an appreciative audience.

'95, Roth, Edward—Rinker, Ida, '90. The following clipping from the Republican of June 18, announces the marriage of two more of our B. S. N. S. Alumni. THE QUARTERLY wishes them joy:

At the parsonage of the First Lutheran church at Sunbury on Wednesday last Miss Ida Rinker of town was married to Mr. Edward Roth of Fernville.

Miss Rinker for many years was a popular and successful teacher in Bloomsburg Public Schools and for two or three years book-keeper for the American Seating Co., formerly the Bloomsburg School Furnishing Company.

The marriage was a surprise to their many friends. They are now on a honey-moon trip which includes Buffalo, Niagara Falls, and Toronto, Canada.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. D. C. Spencer. Mr. Roth is employed as shipping clerk for the Magee Carpet Mill. The couple have the sincere wishes of this community for future happiness.

'95, Patterson, J. Bruce. The following letter to the Morning Press will be of great interest to the many friends of Rev. Patterson:

Editor Morning Press;—I want to thank you for the very kind things you said about me in your paper in an issue some time early in January. There was a mistake made, however, which I wish you would be kind enough to correct even at this late date. The article said I graduated with honors at the Normal and at Wooster University, but that I am sorry to say is not the case. The records will show that I was a poor student at both these schools, in fact some of it was very poor. I can look on my medical work with more pride. I will be very glad from time to time to write your paper of the things of interest out here. This is certainly a very wonderful people. They put us to shame in many ways. I think of their love for the Bible. When I was at one station 33 miles inland from Kunsan I saw there a class of 620 Koreans who had come there to study the Bible for ten days. These were men, if you please. When I came back here and had time to look about I found there was a class of women also gathered for this special Bible study. The missionaries do not seem to say such things as we would at home if the people walked such long distances to learn of a faith differing from that of their parents whom they once worshipped. These missionary people are just like other folks but they don't know how to boast. When I first came I was worried that they were forgetting to work, they prayed so much. But it is the only way to make it go right. Well, as I was saying, these classes are held at each mission station for both men and women in separate classes. Those who attend are then more able to tell the Gospel story. This they nearly all do for they are not admitted into the churches till they have told others of the Savior. Very few are admitted unless they can read and write. A great many have to knuckle down and learn when they are told. The plan is to gather in a million souls for the Master this year in Korea. I cannot doubt that it will be done.

Very sincerely,

J. B. Patterson.

'96, Boyer, Charles L. The following from the Schuylkill Herald:

On Monday morning, May 23rd, Miss Lydia Kaufman of this town was married to Charles I Boyer of Johnstown, Pa., in the Grace Methodist church at Harrisburg, Pa. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John D. Fox, D. D., pastor of Grace church.

After the ceremony the bridal party, including Rev. and Mrs. Fox, were driven to the Lochiel, where an elaborate breakfast was served in a private dining room daintily decorated with pink and white cut flowers.

The young couple left on the P. R. R. for their home in Johnstown, Pa., where the groom holds a responsible position on tunnel construction work for the Cambria Steel Co.

'97, Von Dorster, H. R. From Morning Press of June 7th: Miss Florence Beishline, daughter of Mrs. Rachael Beishline, of Third street, and H. R. VonDorster, of Catawissa, gave their friends a complete surprise by being quietly married last Wednesday at Wilmington, Delaware, by Rev. Mr. Cockran, pastor of the Union M. E. church of that city.

Mr. Von Dorster is engaged in the business of manufacturing loose leaf books, office supplies and also represents the Cutter Desk Co., of Buffalo, N. Y., and furnished the three roll top desks for the Commissioners' office.

'97, Landis, John B.—McCullough, '97. From the Morning Press of June 30, 1910:

At the home of the bride's parents at Wilkes-Barre, at 1:30 Tuesday afternoon, Miss Emily McCullough was united in marriage to John B. Landis, of Berwick. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Henry L. Jones, of the St. Stephen's Episcopal church. The couple were unattended. The bride wore a navy blue traveling suit and picture hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Landis immediately left upon a wedding tour, upon their return from which they will reside in their newly furnished home on East Third street, Berwick.

The bride is a graduate of the Bloomsburg State Normal School and was a teacher in the Wilkes-Barre schools for several years. The groom is also a graduate of the Bloomsburg State Normal School and State College, and is superintendent of the blacksmith shop of the American Car and Foundry Co.

'97, Good, Mary, at this writing is on the briny deep. She will spend her summer in Germany. On the eve of starting she reports "all well," but warm. She accompanies Miss K. Maude Smith, and Miss Greenstein, a former teacher.

'99, Preston, Warren W., of Montrose, Pa., writes to one of the members of the Faculty: "Nothing of interest except something of greatest interest to Mrs. Preston (nee Maude Harrison) and myself—that is a little girl, the brightest and altogether the nicest little girl I ever saw—whose name is Alta Louise, born July 13, 1909. About the time the next issue of THE QUARTERLY appears she will celebrate her first anniversary. She already has many accomplishments." THE QUARTERLY extends its hearty congratulations to Dr. Preston and his wife.

'00, Holderman, Bertha A. sailed for Europe June 4, on Steamer Amerika.

'00, Hartman, Ethel. The following from the Morning Press of Saturday, June 18, will be of interest to the bride's many Normal friends:

A romance of college life at Ithaca, N. Y., had its consummation Thursday at Wallis Run, when Miss Ethel M. Hartman, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Hartman, and a grand-daughter of W. V. Robbins of town, was wedded to Mark Homer Landis, of Waynesboro.

The acquaintance was formed at Ithaca, where the groom was taking a post graduate course at Cornell, and where the bride was taking a post graduate course at the Ithaca Conservatory of Music.

The bride and groom were attended by the bride's sister, Miss Rowena Hartman, and George Eves, of Millville. At the wedding breakfast, which followed, the guests found in peanut shells, instead of the expected kernel, a slip announcing the engagement of Miss Hartman and Mr. Eves.

The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome diamond brooch, while the gift of the groom's parents was a handsomely furnished home and the deed for the property.

The newly wedded couple left Thursday on an extended wedding tour, which will include an ocean voyage on the Atlantic, a trip down the St. Lawrence to Lake Champlain, to Lake George and down the Hudson, terminating at Atlantic City.

The groom is a prominent Waynesboro manufacturer and the bride is popular with all who know her. She is especially well known in Bloomsburg, having graduated in the music department of the Bloomsburg State Normal School.

Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Robbins and Miss Louise Robbins, of Bloomsburg, attended the wedding, as did Mrs. J. C. Bickel, of Indianapolis, Ind., who is now visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Robbins, in town,

'00, Burns, Anna Laura, writes "Regret my inability to be present at reunion, but home duties, including two lively boys and a baby girl prevent my going so far." Address, Huntingdon, Pa.

'00, Bontz, Edna (Hassler) writes: "I should immensely enjoy being with you, but a little more than four months ago our household scepter passed into other hands and the one who now reigns supreme says his mother simply cannot be spared even for the tenth reunion of her class." The little tyrant. We sympathize; we've been there.

'01, Albertson, E. J.—Larrabee, Beatrice, '05. The following from the Montrose Independent, will be of interest to the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Albertson:

One of the most beautiful and impressive church weddings that has taken place in Montrose in recent years was the ceremony performed at the Presbyterian church Tuesday evening when Miss Beatrice Larrabee, of Montrose, became the wife of Mr. E. Joseph Albertson, of Manila, Philippine Islands.

The wedding march from Lohengrin's bridal chorus was played on the pipe organ by the organist, Miss Mary Finn. The six bridesmaids—Misses Atta Albertson, (sister of the groom), Bloomsburg; Louise Larrabee, (the bride's sister), State College; Ethel Jenks, of Glen Ridge, N. J.; Louise Slocum, of Scranton; Helen Curtis, of Susquehanna, and Edith Sturdevant of Meshoppen—entered from the side doors of the chapel and passed down the side aisles to the vestibule, the bridal party, headed by the ushers, advancing up the center aisle.

The bridesmaids were beautifully gowned, and without regard to uniformity of color, pink, green, yellow, white, lavender and blue dresses forming a pleasing diversification to the eye.

The bride wore a white satin gown with chiffon and pearl trimmings, tulle veil and orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. Suspended from the shoulders was a shower of lilies of the valley. Miss Larrabee's natural beauty, combined with the pristine whiteness of her bridal array, made her to appear the ideal bride. The bride's mother wore a gray silk dress with silver and net trimmings.

Prof. J. Y. Shambach, of the faculty of the Bloomsburg State Normal School, was best man. While the meed of praise at a wedding is generally bestowed upon the ladies, Mr. Shambach performed the numerous little exacting duties devolving upon the best man with a careful, yet unstudied, grace that met with favor from the spectators.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Alden, the ring service being used, assisted by Rev. Mr. Haynes. The bride was given away by her mother.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's mother on Maple street after the wedding, the bridal party and immediate relatives and friends being present.

At about 11 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Albertson left amid showers of confetti and followed by hearty cheers for a journey half way 'round the globe to their future home, for at least the next three years, in the Philippine Islands.

Mrs. Albertson is a graduate of the Bloomsburg State Normal School, class of '03 in music, and '05 of the normal school course, and was later graduated from Pratt Institute. The past year she has been engaged in teaching at Glen Ridge, N. J., resigning March 1st to prepare for her marriage.

Mr. Albertson is a graduate of the Normal School, class of '01. He has been in the Philippines since graduation, excepting the two trips made to the States. He has worked his way up to the position of superintendent of schools in one of the provinces, and his friends feel confident that still higher honors will be his. He has been spending a year's vacation in Europe and this country, and upon his return will resume his duties as superintendent.

'02, Baker, George — Gordner, Lillian, '00. The following is from the Morning Press of June 27th :

One of the prominent society events of Millville, took place Friday night when Miss Lillian M. Gordner, of that Borough, and Mr. George C. Baker, of Noxen, Penna.

were married in the presence of a large number of guests. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. D. Moore, of Danville, in the M. E. church at 8 o'clock. Miss Gordner is a graduate of the Bloomsburg State Normal School, and has been a successful teacher in the school of her home town for several years. She has also been prominently identified with the work of the W. C. T. U. and has always taken an active part in church work. Mr. Baker is also a graduate of the Bloomsburg State Normal School, having been a member of the class of 1902, and completed a post graduate course in 1905. At the recent Commencement of Lafayette College which was held this month, he graduated with honors from this institution.

After the ceremony had been performed a reception was tendered the bride and groom at the home of the bride's mother.

After September 1st they will be at home to their friends at Plainfield, N. J., where Mr. Baker will have charge of the department of mathematics in the High School of that place.

'02, Keiber, A. E. finished his college course at Lafayette with the class of '10, eighth in his class of seventy-six. We congratulate him as one of our aggressive, growing boys. What he takes hold of prospers. We anticipate for him a bright and prosperous future. He rather expects to continue teaching as a profession. The following special from the Inquirer comes as a surprise to his many friends:

Easton, Pa., June 23.—It was given out today that Arthur E. Keiber, a member of the class graduated from Lafayette College yesterday and Miss Martha J. Schug, one of Easton's most popular young women, were married on March 8, last. The bridegroom secured the license in Luzerne county where he resides, and Rev. Paul S. Leinbach, of this city, who performed the ceremony was requested to keep the affair quiet until after the bridegroom had been graduated.

'04, Moses, Wm. J. is studying in the University of Oregon located at Eugene, where our Dr. R. C. Clark has charge of the Department of History.

'04, Boyer, John B. completed his second year as principal of the schools of Milroy, Pa., and conducted a six weeks normal term for teachers and advanced students. Last year his enrollment was thirty-six, twenty-six of whom were teachers, nearly all of whom taught in the county during the year. The 1910 teachers' class all passed the Superintendent's examination June 21. Dr. Waller lectured to the class and patrons June 10th on the American High School.

'04, Hitchcock, Harriet. And so the story goes. Read the following announcement: Mr. H.

Chapman Hitchcock announces the marriage of his daughter Harriet, to Mr. Frederic McMurray, on Wednesday, the fifteenth of June, nineteen hundred and ten, New York City. Will be at home after the tenth of July, eighty-nine Clark street, Brooklyn, New York.

'04, Meixell, Besse Emaline. Another June wedding. The bride's many friends at the Normal rejoice with her and extend congratulations and best wishes.

A wedding announcement in which Berwickians will be interested and which comes as a pleasant surprise was that of the marriage of Miss Besse Emaline Meixell, of Beach Haven, to Horton J. Kirkendall, of Berwick, the ceremony having been performed at Lykens, Pa., at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening.

The sudden illness of the bride's mother caused a change in the plans of the bride and groom and instead of having the ceremony performed at home, they went to Lykens where Rev. L. M. Petterolf, pastor of the Reformed church at Lykens, and a close friend of the Meixell family, officiated at the ceremony.

The bride and groom are now upon their wedding trip at Washington, D. C., and upon their return they will make their home in Berwick, where the groom is engaged in the plumbing business and where he is one of the town's most highly respected young men. The bride is a talented musician, a young lady popular with all who know her and one who has many friends in Berwick.—Morning Press, June 10th.

'04, Trathen, Harry G. was married Wednesday, June 29, at Frackville, Pa., to the daughter of Dr. C. A. Bleiler, Miss Blanche Luella Bleiler. We wish Harry and his bride much joy. We regret that at this writing nothing with regard to the wedding, except the bare announcement has reached the QUARTERLY.

'05, Jolly, Raymond. The following clipping is from a recent number of the Morning Press. The QUARTERLY extends congratulations and best wishes:

Raymond Grant Jolly, son of Dr. and Mrs. George L. Jolly, of Orangeville, was joined in wedlock to Miss Rea Allen Brown, at her home in Jacksonville, Florida, on May 16th, 1910.

The bride is a very accomplished musician and composer. They will be engaged in Bible work in which Mr. Jolly has been engaged for some time.

'05, Leibensperger. Mr. and Mrs. Hal Murry announce the birth of a daughter, Mar. 26, 1910.

'05, Webber, G. Harris—Wendt, Lilian, '07, were married at Elloree, S. C., where Mr. Webber has been principal for the last two years. The following letter from "Harry" is comprehensive and to the point.

He and his wife have the best wishes of all their friends:

Washington, D. C., June 27, 1910.

To the Class of 1905 in Reunion Assembled :

Greetings. My leave of absence comes just three days too late for me to participate in the festivities of the Five Year Reunion. My thoughts are with you, and my prayer is that it may be an auspicious occasion.

My report must of necessity be brief. I have heard nothing but good reports of the members of the Best Class that ever graduated from "Old Normal."

As to myself—to make a long story short—I am married to one of the fair members of "1907." My school work has been quite successful for the past five years. Have received several academic honors. Am at present scientific assistant to Dr. C. W. Stiles of the U. S. Public Health and Marine Hospital Service.

I would suggest that a systematic effort be made to get a complete history of each member to be presented at the "Ten Year Reunion" in 1915. This to be gotten up in book form. A committee of five ought to be appointed to do this work. They may call on any other members to assist them.

I shall start a systematic campaign to get in touch with every member of the Class myself.

May every blessing be yours, and the tie that binds our hearts together in a common interest be strengthened as the years pass.

With best wishes to you all, I am

Fraternally yours,

Geo. Harris Webber,

Pres. Class 1905.

Present address, 1105 O. St. N. W., Washington, D. C. After Sept. 25th, Elloree, S. C.

'05, Krumm, Katherine K. (Two-good) is living in Memphis, Tenn. She sends her regrets that she is unable to be with her class at their fifth year reunion, and has many kind wishes for them and her old teachers. All remember Mrs. Two-good as one good whole-souled girl who always did her entire duty in a beautiful spirit. She will always be remembered kindly.

'05, Sitler, Ida. 404 South Fifth Avenue, Ann Arbor, Michigan, June 14, 1910. Mr. J. Y. Shambach, Bloomsburg, Pa.

My Dear Mr. Shambach.—I have received the Summons to the reunion of the class of 1905, and wipe a tear out of the corner of my eye as I realize the impossibility of my presence in Bloomsburg during the Normal School's Commencement week. There is but one thing I should rather do than once more walk and sit and talk on Normal Hill with the friends of '05, and that is to mingle and rejoice with some nine hundred 'youths and maidens' of the class of 1910 who meet for the last time, altogether, on June 30th, on the campus of the University of Michigan, to receive from their good Alma Mater the simple bit of parchment which tells that they have been faithful. And this is to be my joy. But tho I'm happier than I could ever tell the friends of the Orange and the Black, I am nevertheless just as sorry and as disappointed as I could possibly be that the two events must come during the same week.

I send every one of the '05 classmates my heartiest greetings and sincerest good wishes, and remain ever a loyal '05 er.

IDA SITLER.

'05, Yergey, Agnes, (Frye) sends regrets from Fulton, Mich. in response to the "summons" to the gathering of the class of '05, and promises to be present in spirit. We are sorry not to have her presence.

'05, Englehart, Nevin—Bomboy, Aleta, '06. We take pleasure in announcing, among the many June weddings, that of our very obliging book-keeper Mr. Nevin Englehart and Miss Bomboy of the class of '06. The following extract is taken from the Morning Press account:

The ceremony that united Miss Aleta Bomboy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Bomboy, to Nevin T. Englehart, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Englehart, of Almedia, was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents at 8:30 o'clock yesterday morning in the presence of upwards of 100 invited friends and relatives.

Rev. J. O. Biggs, of Dallastown, a former pastor of the bride, officiated, employing the impressive ring ceremony. Attending the bride and groom were Miss Sarah Mummy of Milton, and Harold Bomboy, brother of the bride. Miss Nelle Sweppenheiser, of Espy, rendered Mendelssohn's wedding march as the bridal couple entered; "O Promise Me" during the ceremony and Lohengrin's wedding march as they retired.

The bride was handsomely gowned in white silk, trimmed in white silk lace and carried a bouquet of bridal roses; the bridesmaid was dressed in white and carried a bouquet of daisies.

It was a white and yellow wedding and this color scheme was carried out with charming effect in the decorations. The ceremony was performed before a flower-laden altar with the rear of the altar beautifully decorated in ferns, daisies and buttercups. Daisies and buttercups were used to charming effect in the decoration of the room.

Following the ceremony an elaborate wedding breakfast was served.

The presents were exceptionally handsome, including much in cut glass, silver and linen.

The young couple will spend their honeymoon in New York and Niagara Falls and upon their return will make their home on East Fourth street, Bloomsburg, where the groom has been employed for the last five years as book-keeper for the Bloomsburg State Normal School. The bride is one of Espy's most popular daughters and a graduate of the class of 1906 in the department of music of the Bloomsburg State Normal School. The QUARTERLY extends its congratulations.

'05, Shambach, Jesse Y., is spending a few days of restful leisure with his parents in Williamsport. He will spend the summer in the University of Pennsylvania taking advance work.

'05, Tiffany, Lee J. It is with regret we record the death of Mrs. Isa Darrow Tiffany, at her home in Springville, Pa., April 16, 1910. The following resolutions were presented to her family by the County Alumni Association of which she and her husband were members. We extend the deepest sympathies of all Bloomsburg friends to the bereaved husband and family.

WHEREAS, It has seemed good to the Master whom she served, to call the wife, Isa Darrow Tiffany of our friend and co-worker Lee Tiffany to leave her sphere of usefulness while it was yet but the noon-day of life, and go hence to her reward, and

WHEREAS, By her death we as members of the Susquehanna County Alumni Association of the Bloomsburg State Normal School, lose one who has been an honorary member since our organization, we desire to express as fitly as we may, the regret which animates each of our hearts, be it

Resolved, Though the ways of Providence are past our finding out, we trust in the wisdom and the love which stand behind its inscrutable dealing, and with simple faith rejoice that the blow which has so desolated so wide a circle, has ushered our friend into a sure and abiding inheritance in the better world.

Resolved, That feeling our own loss to be but a shadow of the deeper gloom which has enshrouded her home, our tenderest sympathies go out to the husband and family upon whom this affliction has fallen most heavily, and we desire to extend to them our most sincere condolence.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be presented to her family, and that they may be placed upon the minute book of the Association as a permanent record of the estimation in which our friend was held.

Warren W. Preston, Pres.
M. Evelyn Peck, Sec'y.

'06, Conrad, Lottie Florella. The following from the Morning Press of Thursday, May 20th, will interest the many Normal friends of the bride.

The QUARTERLY extends congratulations, and cordial wishes.

Beautiful in its simplicity was the wedding solemnized yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. S. Conrad of Light Street road, when her daughter, Lottie Florella, was wedded to Benton Ridall, of Slickshinny.

The impressive Lutheran ceremony was performed by Rev. J. E. Byers, the bride's pastor, in the presence of the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends.

The bride was attended by Miss Effie Mae Conrad, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and Miss Gladys Rebecca Wharton, as bridesmaid.

'06, Howell, G. L., is the popular and efficient principal of the Truckville Rural High School. A class of four young ladies were graduated as the first class. He expects to continue medicine in the fall.

'06, Owen, Anna E. On April 28, at the home of Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, Brooklyn, Mr. W. S. Brincijoin and Miss Anna Owen were joined in matrimony. Mr. B. is a graduate of Bowdoin College. They will live in Dover, N. J.

The QUARTERLY extends congratulations.

'06, Patterson, Vivian A. Special to the Tribune-Republican. The home of G. B. Patterson, enhanced by tasteful decorations in green and white, was the scene of a pretty wedding Wednesday evening, May 25, when his daughter, Vivian, was married to Ralph Watkins. The prominence of the contracting parties was evidenced by the presence of scores of local friends and many out-of-town guests and relatives. Rev. Benjamin Johns performed the ceremony. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white duchess satin en train. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor was Miss Dora Patterson, a sister of the bride, who wore a handsome gown of pale green silk and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Doris Clark made a sweet little flower girl, being dressed in white with green ribbons and carrying a leg-horn hat filled with pink carnations and lilies of the valley. The best man was Marvyn Watkins, a brother of the groom. The ushers were Emery Cornell, of Scranton, and E. Patterson. Young ladies from the Methodist Sunday School class No. 7, served dainty refreshments. The gifts were numerous and costly. Mrs. Watkins is a high school graduate and also from the Bloomsburg State Normal School, and one of Wyoming county's successful school teachers.

'06, Welliver, William. The following from the Morning Press of June 7th, 1910:

The many friends in town of William Welliver, son of Charles E. Welliver, will be glad to learn that he has successfully passed his examinations and will graduate this spring from the Medical Department of the University of Penn-

Philologist Society.

Philo has just completed a most successful year. The spirit that was shown thruout the year shows that the Society has been steadily progressing. The interest in the Society work is pitched to the highest key, everybody responding promptly when called upon.

During the past term each class rendered a program. The class of '12 took the start by giving a very entertaining program. The class of '11 produced the next program. This was enjoyed by all. The class of 1910 rendered its program in a very pleasant way. The audience was pleased from start to finish. Singing by the Girls' chorus was a feature of the entertainment. The assigning of one night to each class to produce a program seems to be very helpful both to the Society and the individuals. Better programs are rendered in this way and more talent is developed. We propose to keep this scheme up next year.

The Society has added a few amendments and made a few changes in the By-Laws and Constitution. These will aid the Society in increasing its intellectual standard.

The Society is already making plans for its reunion on next Thanksgiving Day. Several companies have been considered. The reunion promises to be a complete success, and we hope to have with us all the Philos that can possibly come.

At the last meeting the following officers were elected: President, Paul D. Womeldorf; Vice President, Myrtle Belles; Secretary, Kathryn Gillis; Assistant Secretary, Miss Davis; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Green; Treasurer, Mr. Wright; Registrar, Mr. Keiser; Marshal, Mr. Becker; Assistant Marshal, Master Richardson. We hope these new officers will work together and strengthen the society.

Let every Philo return next year with at least one, if not more, new Philos. We hope you may all have a pleasant vacation and return next fall ready for work such as has never been done here before. Let us set our mark high and let us aim high so as not to fall short of our mark. The Society has increased wonderfully both in number and in power during the last year. Let us keep on raising these standards. We wish you all many days of joy and happiness until we meet again in dear old Philo Hall.

Calliepien Society.

The ending of the school year finds the Calliepien Society in a strong, healthy condition, eager to make the coming year the best ever.

The work this last spring term has been especially good, considering the fact that the spring is the hardest time of the year to get good results, owing to conditions of weather, "conditions" that the faculty have made it necessary to look after before the arrival of State Board Examiners, with commencement as a climax coupled with the extra work connected with it.

As suggested above, these things have not bothered us much, so we have had private programs at nearly every meeting, besides the regular Society work. The Society Journal, published every two weeks has been an extra strong feature of the program work. Much credit is due to the excellent editorial staffs that have had this line of work in charge.

A debate given early in June on the question "Resolved: that the lower animals reason," was won by the affirmative. John Bakeless piloted the winning crew, while Robt. Johnson performed a similar duty for the negative workers. Both sides acquitted themselves with credit, bringing out many new points on this much disputed question.

Soon after the opening of the spring term, a reception was given to the new members. Refreshments were served and a thoroughly good time enjoyed by all present. A mock quaker meeting was well given and proved very amusing. Miss Fitch had the evening's entertainment program in charge.

Our last meeting of the school term was an important one with nearly every Callie present. New officers were elected and installed. Elna H. Nelson was elected President. On this night also, under the leadership of Miss Share, the hall was tastefully decorated with 1910 pennants, etc., in honor of the Callie members of the graduating class that leave Normal halls this year. A much enjoyed program was rendered, one of the chief numbers being good things to eat. As a fitting climax, a few farewell speeches were given and the meeting adjourned, each member feeling that Old Callie was worthy of his or her very, very best.

Y. M. C. A.

Just before the close of the winter term, the annual election of officers was held. Elna H. Nelson was chosen president. Prof. Sutliff was selected as an advisory member for the Cabinet and he installed the new officers at the next regular Wednesday night prayer meeting.

The new cabinet officers have entered upon their duties with a zeal that is bound to show results by the close of their respective terms of office.

Wm. P. Weiss, Vice President, represented the Association this spring at the annual State Y. M. C. A. President's convention, held at State College, and returned with an enthusiastic report.

State Student Secretary, Mr. F. O. Koehler, visited us in May and gave an inspiring talk on summer conference work. We are glad to say that our Association has this year been represented at two of these great conferences, viz: Middle Atlantic Student conference, held at Pocono Pines, Pa., June 10-19, and Northfield Student conference, held at Northfield, Mass., June 23-July 3. Chas. Wiant, '11 represented the Association at the former, and Messrs. Francis Dobson, '12, L. L. Collins, '11, Clyde Myers, '11, and Clarence Barrow, '12 at the latter. These delegates will report at the opening of the school year next fall. Acting on a resolution adopted by the Cabinet, the delegates to these conferences have signed agreements, thereby promising to refund a part of the money furnished them by the Association to defray traveling expenses etc. This money to be refunded after they have left school and are engaged in a money-earning capacity. This new arrangement, if followed up each year, will soon become a great financial benefit to the Association.

Our mid-week prayer meetings this spring have been characterized by having almost wholly student leaders. We believe a feeling of good fellowship prevailed as the attendance was good at every meeting without a single exception.

The last Sunday night prayer meeting that our Association had charge of before the close of school was held in the grove with Prof. Sutliff as leader. It was a record breaker in attendance and enthusiasm.

Generous contributions were made by members of the Faculty to the fund raised for defraying delegate expenses.

Our plans are laid to start both mission and Bible bands next year—a year which we hope to have marked with work which will reflect credit upon the institution of which we are a factor.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. ends its year with an enrollment of one hundred and ten members; a new, enthusiastic Cabinet, and an increased sense of responsibility, and of work to be accomplished.

During the spring term we were fortunate in having with us Miss Elsie Jones, Territorial Secretary; Miss Jean Batty, Secretary from Buenos Aires; Miss Soper from India, and Mrs. Barcells, a leader of the W. C. T. U. All the speakers were interesting and inspiring, giving us many things to think out in the coming days.

As a result of more than the usual amount of interest in the Summer Conference, this year held at Denison University, Granville, Ohio, four delegates, Edith DeLong, Pearle Fitch, Jennie Harrison, and Anna Kline, were chosen to represent our Association. Miss Swartz accompanied them.
