DIALOGUE UNUSUAL NUMBER AT NORMAL

PAUL SHULL TALKS WITH "KING TUT" IN A DREAM

The dialogue presented by "Ted" Charlton '23 and R. Nesbit Straley '23 hit the mark at Normal Literary Society last Friday evening. Both Mr. Charlton and Mr. Straley carried their respective parts out to perfection.

Miss Madalyn Brown '23 showed ability in the presentation of the "Topics of the Day" when she gave sketches of Longfellow's life and in connection with this an original play by Miss Garnette Frey '23 was given known as the "Courtship of Miles Standish." "Boz" Grba '23, Oran Hays '23, and Miss Hazel Frye '23 made up the cast of characters.

The Gazette by Roger Jones '23 was well received by members of the society, especially the part which contained Paul Shull's dream. In a dream recently Mr. Shull met King "Tut." In conversation it was learned that King "Tut" was formerly from C. V. S. N. S. Mr. Shull then told him of the happenings of the Normal School today, when he was interrupted by blows of a pillow from his room mate.

Miss Janet Hayes '23 and Glenn Boyley '24 upheld the affirmative side and Miss Mabel Cornelius '23 and Roy Coover '24 debated the negative side of the question, Resolved, That the State of Pennsylvania should pay its World War Veterans a Bonus. The judges decided in favor of the negative. Other worthwhile numbers on the program were music by the Glee Club, a recitation by Miss Byrdee Myers '24, and a violin solo by Miss Helen Emig '23. Miss McWilliams was the visiting member of the faculty.

SCHOOL ORCHESTRA WILL GIVE CONCERT MARCH 17TH

March seventeenth is the date set for the concert of the school orchestra according to a statement made public by Prof. D. O. Slyter early this week. The plans for the concert are still somewhat tentative due to the fact that a victory by the Shippensburg Varsity over Millersville on Saturday will necessitate the postponing of the concert. The orchestra has been practicing hard for the past month or more and are ready to present a varied program on the seventeenth. The full instrumentation of the orchestra which represents the full equipment of the modern symphony orchestra will be used in the concert.

The Girls' Choral Club expects to present a program some time before the Easter vacation. The program will be appropriate to the season of the year and will in all probability be given the Sunday afternoon before vacation. It is the plan of the society to invite the general public to attend this concert which will entail no expenditure of money on the part of any person.

GIRLS' VARSITY WILL PLAY MILLERSVILLE TOMORROW

The Varsity girls are making final preparations for the big game at Millersville Saturday. Judging from the type of playing done by the Millersville girls at Shippensburg, this will doubtless be a hotly contested game. The lineup will be as follows:

Shippensburg	Millersville
Houck f	Lobark
Heiges f	Shoemaker
Felton c	Gibbs
Meyer sc	Stouffer
Miller g	Dodrer
Coble g	Severling

TRUSTEES LET FIRST CONTRACTS FOR RE-MODELING MAIN BUILDING

ACTION FOLLOWS APPROVAL OF PLANS BY THE GOVERNOR—WORK TO BEGIN IN THE NEAR FUTURE

Governor Pinchot has at last given his official sanction to the plan of the Board of Trustees for expenditure of sixty-five thousand dollars for the remodeling of the Main Building. His approval was secured only after he had made a personal investigation of the needs of the school.

Immediately after the project had been approved, the school authorities notified the contractors that they were ready to receive bids for the work. The first bids were let yesterday at a meeting of the House Committee of the Board of Trustees and work is expected to begin in a few weeks. Contracts for plumbing, installing new hydrants for additional fire protection, and for furnishing the necessary heating apparatus for the work that is to be done, were awarded to the Chambersburg Construction Company.

Alfred J. Lewis of York was the successful bidder for the contract for metal lathing and plain and ornamental plastering for the Auditorium, Parlor, Private office and the Main office. The plans call for a rearrangement of the present offices and parlors.

A new up-to-date stage and a new balcony are to be installed in the auditorium. Fire towers approved by the Underwriters' Association will take the place of the present wooden stairways. These towers will be placed at the extreme ends of the building. The Day Student Girls' Rest Room will be moved from its present location to the place now occupied by the Bookroom. The Bookroom will be located in the room adjoining Mr. Lackhove's office, now occupied by the CAMPUS REFLECTOR.

Another room will be annexed to the dining room directly opposite the one now used. The present partitions will be replaced by pillars. An addition will be built to the kitchen and new equipment will be installed. All dormitory rooms will be equipped with lights similar to those found in the Girls' Dormitory. In place of the worn floors now in the class rooms hard wood will be found and all the woodwork in the building will be renewed, probably in oak.

The building will be entirely replastered and repainted. New, completely equipped lavatories will be installed throughout. The plans were drawn by Robert Stair, of York, Pa.

In the near future the House Committee will meet to award the contracts for the remaining work. The authorities hope to have some of these alterations completed in a few months so that the summer students can benefit by them.

Normal Cagers Lose Close Game

DICKINSON RESERVES WIN BY ONE POINT

Dickinson College Reserves had a big job on their hands when they defeated the Varsity Basketball team last Saturday at Carlisle by the close score of 38 to 37. The game was fast and it kept the crowd on the verge of excitement throughout the entire period. Shippensburg fell short by one point when they staged a big rally in the second period. The snappy passwork of the Dickinsonians was the big factor in their victory. Craig was the individual star of the game; his shots from mid-floor gave the crowd many thrills.

Dickinson used the short pass to great advantage in the first half. Carpenter was the first to score for the Red and White and Heiges tallied first for Normal. Neither team gained much of a lead in scoring during the first half of the period but through the offensive attack of Carpenter and Loucke, Dickinson began to pull away from the Red and Blue. Craig, Grba, and Heiges led the offensive attack for Shippensburg in this half. The score at the end of the first half was 20 to 12 in Dickinson's favor.

The luck of C. V. S. N. S. seemed to have changed at the beginning of the second half, as they outscored the College Reserves, making 25 points to their opponents' 17. The Cumberland Valley teamwork was smoother and the guarding closer. In this period Craig began to run wild and cage some of his spectacular shots. Sterner, Grba, and Heiges also cut loose and before many minutes had passed the Dickinson bunch were fighting hard to maintain their lead of three points. The crowd cheered wildly when Craig caged a field goal from back of the center ring.

Shippensburg Dickinson Reserves
Heiges f Loucke
Craig f Cherchesky
Sterner c Joseph
Jones g Barris
Garba g Carpenter

Substitutions—Rothchilds for Barris, Stevens for Rothchilds.
Field Goals—Heiges 3, Craig 6, Sterner 2, Grba 4, Loucke 4, Carpenter 4, Joseph 1, Cherchesky 4, Barris 4.
Foul Goals—Heiges, 7 out of 15; Barris, 2 out of 3.

Marco Solves Many "Problems"

MAGICIAN'S PERFORMANCE A HUGE SUCCESS

Marco, the magician entertained the largest crowd on Wednesday night that has been in attendance at any entertainment course program this year. When Prof. Heiges made his usual announcement that there were a few seats in the front that could be occupied, only about a half dozen couples could find vacant seats.

This huge assembly was not disappointed. Delighted would rather express the general feeling. Marco gave a little introductory speech that found instant favor with the hearers. Following this little chat, he began (as one of the students said) "to do his stuff," and if one can judge from the evident interest and amusement shown in the audience, he must have "known his stuff."

The entertainment was divided into two parts, between which parts an intermission of about five minutes occurred. During this time, if Marco had walked out in the audience he would have seen quite a few novices attempting to amuse different portions of the audience.

The first part of his program was good, and many problems were solved, some to the consternation of some members of the audience, who "helped" the magician. However the second part proved even better and the "grand finale" in which Marco produced a confusion of colored silks that caused sigh after sigh to go up from the feminine side of the audience, found Marco a decided hit. Much of his success seems due to his conversational ability.

SHIPPENSBURG'S YOUNGEST LIBRARY VISITOR

Zola Lackhove, two and a half years old, the interesting little daughter of our Bursar, gravely presented herself at the library desk one afternoon, not long ago, and requested a copy of "Boy Boo" (Blue). Miss Quigley, always equal to any emergency, conducted her to the proper case and allowed her to select the coveted volume. Then, with all the dignity of an adult the tiny mascot of the class of 1923 toted her cherished book down the long chapel aisle toward home.

LONGFELLOW IS HONORED AT PHILO

MOUNTZ PRESENTS REVIEW IN UNUSUAL STYLE

Philo Society presented an interesting program last Friday evening with the numbers based on the life and works of Longfellow.

Miss Maud Parsons '23 recited a poem entitled "From My Arm Chair" by Longfellow. Miss Nellie Lindemuth '23 read a splendid biography on Longfellow.

A male quartette in charge of Frank Thornton '23 sang a medley of old time negro melodies, which was well received.

The debaters of the question, "Resolved, That there should be uniform marriage and divorce laws" showed that much careful preparation had been made for the debate. Miss Arlene Williams '23 and Miss Helen Black '24 upheld the affirmative; Miss Dorothy Kauffman '23 and Miss Catherine Witmer '23 the negative. The judges decided in favor of the negative.

Miss Luella Van Norman '23 and Miss Romaine Miller '24 provided entertainment by playing a piano duet. John Mountz, editor of the Philo Review, presented it in a manner different than has been customary. Several of Philo's men were chosen by him to read the various sections of the Review.

The new officers were installed at this meeting. The farewell and inaugural addresses by John Brougher '23 and Harvey Warfel '23, respectively, contained helpful suggestions.

Prof. S. S. Shearer, representative of the faculty at this meeting gave very helpful and worth while suggestions.

Two new members were received into the Society.

PERMANENT SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS TO BE CHOSEN

The seniors are to elect their permanent class officers next Friday afternoon. This election caused no little excitement this year for the enrollment of the seniors of each society is very close. Since this is the case no one has any idea who the officers will be or from which society they will be chosen.

Philo has had a meeting and elected their representative who is to meet with Normal representative to decide which society comes out first. Philo has also decided what will be their choice from first to tenth office. Normal Society also decided this at the meeting March the eighth.

STUDENTS DISREGARD REGULAR CAMPUS HOURS

At the meeting of the Girls' Student Council, Monday evening, the violation of campus hours and regulations was stressed. There has been a tendency on the part of some students to appear on the campus in groups of two's and also to disregard the ringing of the campus bell.

During the school days the campus hours are:—

12:45 P. M. to 1:15 P. M.
6:00 P. M. to 6:50 P. M.

Saturday:

12:30 P. M. to 1:30 P. M.
6:00 P. M. to 6:50 P. M.

Sunday:

1:15 to 2:50 P. M.

At a special meeting of corridor number 5, held on Tuesday evening Arthur H. Miller '23, was elected corridor representative in the Men's Association to fill a vacancy left by Blair Mann '24, who no longer rooms on the corridor.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1923

THE ALUMNI ARE INTERESTED

Dr. Lehman gave us an encouraging bit of news in Chapel Tuesday morning when he told us of the enthusiastic meetings of the Pittsburg and Philadelphia Alumni Associations which he attended last week. All the old grads seem to be particularly interested in the school band and the new school paper. There is a reason for this for nothing advertises a school so much as an athletic contest or on some big occasion as a real school band that knows how to play and nothing can do more to hold the student body together and keep up the interest of the Alumni than a live school newspaper that fosters school spirit and is ever awake to new opportunities for service.

The story of these meetings should serve as an incentive to make each and everyone of us work harder during the remaining weeks of the semester in order that everything may be ready for the advent of the former students when they return to their Alma Mater at the commencement season. The Alumni have been hearing a great deal of the big things that are being done around school and it is up to us to see that they are not disappointed when they come back to look things over.

SPECIAL MUSICAL FEATURE

An interesting part of the program given at the regular Y. W. meeting, under the leadership of Miss Mary Goodyear '23, last Sunday evening, was a solo sung by Miss Mina V. Ruth '23, entitled, "It pays to be ready."

This sacred song was written by G. W. Cowper, the father of one of Miss Ruth's classmates at Steelton High School. This young man had a beautiful Christian character. He had dedicated his life to Christ for Missionary work in the ministry. Before Commencement he was taken with fatal illness. On his death bed he said these words to his father, "Oh father, it pays to be ready." A short time afterwards he died. The father wrote this sacred song in memory of his son.

Following the reading of the scripture by Miss Mary Gordon '23, the topic, "Jesus, the companion of our day," was ably discussed by Miss Myrtle Lingle '23.

Miss Ada Brackbill '23, recited a poem after which Miss Beula Neusbaum gave a discussion under the title, "The Supremacy of Jesus Christ" as shown by His life and teachings.

"TALE OF TWO CITIES" TO BE SHOWN TOMORROW NIGHT

The film production of the "Tale of Two Cities" will be shown in the chapel to-morrow evening at seven o'clock. The leading part will be played by William Farnum. A Harold Lloyd Comedy and an educational film will also be shown.

The "Tale of Two Cities" is one of the greatest works of that famous English writer, Charles Dickens. It is a story of the French Revolution.

Ever since the world began men have tried to invent something that the women would refuse to wear. Thus far they have not succeeded.

Wanted—The Freshman who dropped a nickel in the box marked "Reflector Contributions."

RALPH ORNER

ADDRESSES Y. M. C. A.

Ralph Orner '23 gave a talk on the subject "Better Thinking" at the Y. M. C. A. meeting last Sunday evening. The thought brought out in his talk was that man has dominion over everything on this earth because of his thinking ability. He also set forth the idea that man is able to overcome the difficulties in his path by better thinking.

At the close of this discussion George Funt '23 read an interesting clipping from the newspaper relating to the same topic.

NEW CLASS, THE MIDLERS, ORGANIZED THIS WEEK

The organization of the new class, the Midlers, was completed this week. Wednesday the class met and elected the following officers: President, Ralph Swan; Vice President, Harry Wolf; Secretary, Miss Nan Hammond, and Treasurer, William Angle.

The new class, in which there are about twenty members, consists of people who have more than enough credits for Sophomore entrance, but not enough to enter the Junior class. This action is another step in making the Normal course more distinctive.

After the election the president took charge and appointed a committee to consider the choosing of class colors. Professor Gilbert is Dean of the class.

TENDERFOOT TEST GIVEN TO SCOUTS

At the meeting of the Girl Scouts last Saturday morning the Tenderfoot test was given. The scouts were examined in all phases of the work they have studied so far. In addition to the regular Tenderfoot test, Miss Ferguson gave a second test to show the ability of the girls as leaders in scout work.

By their gold and brown ties ye shall know them.

VARSITY IS PRIMED FOR CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

Grba Out with a Sprained Ankle

On the eve of the Millersville game, the championship game of the season, comes misfortune to the C. V. team. "Boz" Grba, Varsity guard and center was injured in practice on Wednesday evening when he fell and sprained his ankle. It is not known exactly how serious the injury is but it is very improbable that Grba will be able to take part in this contest. His absence will be keenly felt as he is good at slipping down the floor and caging a two-pointer as well as keeping the other side from scoring.

Capt. Hays has reported for practice for the first time in several weeks and it is likely that he will assume his former position at forward at the start of the game on Saturday. Heiges will again be shifted to guard and although he is shorter than Grba he should be able to fill the position as well as anyone. So with these two, Craig, Sterner, and Jones will face Millersville and put up the best game possible.

Both Shippensburg and Millersville have defeated every other Normal School in their section and Shippensburg defeated Millersville several weeks ago by a score of 27 to 32. If Millersville should win Saturday there would be tie with Shippensburg for first place in the Southeastern district. A victory for Shippensburg will mean the championship.

Enthusiasm among the students has been very noticeable during the past week. A score or more of fellows intended to hike to Millersville but it is now doubtful if many will go on account of the prevailing weather. However, it is assured that quite a few Alumni will be there in addition to a few students who expect to go by automobile. These rooters should give enough support to the team to make them fight their hardest.

TRAINING SCHOOL FRESHMEN GIVEN LIBRARY PRIVILEGES

The ninth grade of the training school visited the library on Friday and Monday to gather material for a composition project on the moving picture industry and the scheduled debate which is to come off in the near future on the question: "Resolved, That there should be two years of Latin in a four year high school course."

Miss Slavin gave an excellent talk to the young people in their class room on library privileges and customs, and the pupils have been intensely interested in this glimpse into formal research work.

"S' too bad" said Miss McWilliams as she sensed the burning of the Irish Stew from the kitchen. "S' too good to be true," said the students.

What will we do now?—No more basketball games in the evenings.

Girls, are you eating lots of carrots?

REFLECTIONS

VIRGINIA RANCK '23

"BOOTS" SHULER '24

I am going to begin a diary. Just one thing each day.

Thursday: I just came back from a visit to the Dorm. Say, Seniors do some awfully funny things. I went up to some girls' room and they were leaning out the window. I went over to them. Silence reigned but none of us got wet. I looked out the window too. Here they had a waste paper basket hanging on a rope. The rope wasn't long enough so they had it tied to two neck ties. They drew in the rope and here in the basket was a pie! And some poetry

"A" is for apple pie,
If you eat this you'll never die.

Why?
'Cause Rog and Andy sent this pie.

Friday: I went down to Dede's room. She was near the window too. These Seniors seem to have the habit. I sat down and waited. At last there came a whistle. Dede leaned out the window. I turned out the light.

Dede said, "Who's there?"
From below some one said, "The smartest man in the whole world. Ha, ha."

Dede said, "Oh, I beg your pardon. You see I was expecting 'Mighty.'"

I've been wondering who was down under that window.

Saturday: The Seniors just came back from the movies. I was leaning out the window and heard the following:

Kitty: "Oh, nobody loves me and my hands are cold."

Paul: "God loves you, and you can sit on your hands."

I wonder if she did!

Sunday: This is Sunday and all are on the campus. It was rather disgusting so I left. Everyone was taking pictures. It was all right until they got mushy. Two of them stood up like they were bride and groom. Then the minister got in front of them and they were married. I guess that girl thought that she might never get the opportunity to be really married so she might as well play at it. I hope they will be happy, but I doubt if any man could be happy with Virginia for the rest of his life.

Monday: Nothing much to-day. We had movies this evening. It was so light in the chapel that the strikes could not hold hands, so the movie was not liked as well as it might have been.

Tuesday: In class to-day we were talking about Medusa. Someone said that she was a woman who had snakes in her hair and could turn men to stone with a look. Someone else said that to-day women had rats in their hair and turned men to ice with a look.

Wednesday: I can hardly stand it. In every room in the dorm the girls are curling their hair. You can smell burnt hair every place. Also everyone is trying to make everyone else believe that they are not going to dress up. And all the time they are. They just want to look the nicest. Some women are deceitful.

The show is over. When I come up the steps I heard a girl tell her best friend what her "man" had said to her. I felt guilty for her because I was sitting beside the man on the other side and he did not say all those things. She must have been dreaming because he didn't talk much, being interested in the show. Later I found that she wasn't the only one with an imagination.

Miss McWilliams was forced to detain her class in chemistry a few minutes after the bell rang on Monday because of the disappearance of an apple. After investigating it was found that the lost article had gone the way of the alimentary canal and consequently one of the boys offered to secure another apple for Miss McWilliams. The class was then excused.

"This is the best novel I've enjoyed for a long time, said the goat as he swallowed MAIN STREET.—Froth.

In wandering through our enormous halls,
Dirty rooms
And other pitfalls,

A thought to me
Comes quick and clear,
As I reach a room
Cleaned twice each year.

The boys gather round
A bucket so deep.
And into its depths
Tobacco juice weep.

Reminding me
Of our own Gym floor
Where the Basketball Team
Runs up the score.

You make a try
But dribble not,
For if you dribble
You'll spoil your shot.

I joined the game
With a shot and a half,
And received a shower
Below the calf.

But now, at this time
Comes a knock on the door.
Who dares make a shot
Without yelling, "Fore?"

Under beds, behind curtains
The boys they advance,
While the man in charge
Stares as in a trance.

"Open now
That fatal door."
Says a muffled voice
Near the hardwood floor.

The door now moves
With a deathlike sound,
And in twelve bosoms
Twelve hearts now pound.

But standing there
Before our gaze
Stands a tardy member
Oran Hays.

The talk continues
As it did before.
Until Ted Charlton
Suddenly becomes sore.

And leaves the gang
Without a smile,
But gives the floor
To Charley Pyle.

Of a certain Ninth Avenue
Paul Shul relates,
Of the nicest girls
And the nicest dates.

While Roger Jones asserts
In a voice calm and cool
That he without doubt
Has the nicest girl in school.

But Smith now disgusted
Demands fair play,
And speaks out for Scotland
Just six miles away.

While Rice playing wise
Seeking every stray tip
Concerning his wardrobe
For the Southern trip.

Mac, feeling restless
Begins to sing
Of the flies in the sugarbowl
Electing a King.

The team now creeps slowly
When we just adjourn.
For Boz's shoes
Are beginning to burn.

So if in the evening
You're feeling so punk,
Go to room 245.
There's room on the trunk.

We are anxiously waiting to see what influence King "Tut" will produce upon both dorms. As yet we haven't taken any particular notice of the Co-eds carrying "King Tut Dolls around to classes.

MISS KATHERINE WILSON '23 TO PRESENT A ONE ACT TRAGEDY

"King Tut" to Be Subject of Current Event Topic

The play "Hattie" by Elva D. Pue will be the big event at Normal Society this evening. This is a melodrama of the tenements, containing human interest and pathos. Miss Katherine Wilson '23 is Chairman.

Miss Virginia Ranck '23 will give an interpretive dance.

The music will be furnished by a glee club number and a girls' chorus in charge of Miss Mary Good '23.

Miss Blanche Meyer '23 is making plans to hold the interest of the society by reading an instructive essay. A current event topic, "King Tut's Tomb" will be presented by Miss Blanche Straley '24.

Every "Normalite" is looking forward to the Gazette by Mr. Schuler '24. The boys always have a "peppy," interesting gazette.

GLEE CLUB TO GIVE

SPECIAL NUMBER

The Philo Glee Club will give for a special number, one of Sir Walter Scott's lyrics, "Love Wakes and Weeps," composed by Dr. Callcott, at the meeting tonight.

The musical numbers following this will be, vocal solo, Miss Ruth Hamilton '23; Piano solo, Miss Anna Webber '23, and a piano duet, Miss Clara Lenker '23 in charge.

Miss Laura Weibley '23 will give a synopsis of the life and inventions of Graham Bell. A general discussion on the topic of the day will be given by Elmer Gruver '26.

Philo Review will be edited by Kenneth McCurdy '26.

SENIORS ARE NOW CHAMPIONS

The Senior boys won from the Freshmen on Tuesday evening by a score of 12 to 6. The playing was unnecessarily rough throughout the entire game. This game marked the end of boys' interclass games with the Seniors holding first place.

Seniors—12	Freshmen—4
Tarman f	Wheibley
Bamberger f	Mathna
Thornton c	Easterbrook
Straley g	Koontz
Barnhart g	Fisher

Substitutions—Firth for Straley, Hoover for Barnhart.

Field Goals—Tarman 2, Thornton, Straley, Barnhart, Hoover, Wheibley
Foul Goals—Tarman, 0 out of 4; Mathna, 2 out of 6.

EDISON PROGRAM A SUCCESS

An Edison program was given by the pupils of the training school in their Assembly exercises February 28.

The life of Edison was divided into three distinct periods, each of which was presented in composition form by different pupils. Next a pantomime in three scenes was acted, illustrating the great inventor's boyhood and early manhood.

The first scene, showing Edison as a newsboy, was well given by the youthful actor. The curtain parted on the second scene, revealing Edison hard at work in his laboratory, amidst a maze of test tubes, beakers, and bottles filled with strange looking fluids. The youthful Edison sat with a thoughtful frown on his face. Finally the frown cleared and he began to mix some of the contents of the bottles together with rapid precision.

The third scene revealed Edison at work as a telegraph operator, and incidentally experimenting during his leisure moments.

A health play given by some third grade children was another number worthy of comment.

A little girl with a bandaged head came on the platform and seated herself with a sigh, saying she felt quite sick. No sooner had she said these words than a second child, with a round piece of pasteboard fastened to him, and labelled "pills" came and offered himself as a remedy for sickness. Two more children presented themselves, representing respectively "medicine" and "powders" and urged her to use them if she hoped to get well.

As the sick child wavered in her decision, children of another type entered one by one. There was fresh air, milk, fruit, green vegetables, and pure water, and so tempting did each appear, that the invalid made a prompt decision. With a positive wave of her hand she dismissed pills, powder, and medicine and expressed her determination to follow the suggestion of the happy health quintet.

The program was interspersed with the usual varied numbers of music and the whole was voted a success.

The feature of the next program is the anniversary of James Graham Bell and the making of a telephone.

During a very hot spell a man was riding in his Ford with one foot hanging out over the door. A small boy noticing this, shouted after him; "Hey, mister! Did you lose your other roller skate?"

GIRLS GO DOWN TO DEFEAT BEFORE HAGERSTOWN

Spellman Scores for Opponents

The Hagerstown High School Coeds defeated our Girls' Varsity here Saturday afternoon to the tune of 18 to 16. The game was close and exciting throughout. Miss Robb's tossers led at the half time, 8 to 7, but by good shooting of Spielman and close guarding the visitors took the lead and held it during the rest of the half.

Both teams fouled heavily but the foul shooting of both Spielman and Houck was poor. Two of the Hagerstown girls, Tenney and Friedinger were injured during the game. They were not seriously hurt.

Spielman was the individual star of the visitors scoring 17 out of their 18 points. The visitors although small and light were very fast and showed fine team work.

Moretz, the fast underclass guard, was greeted with cheers as she came on the floor and succeeded in keeping her opponent scoreless. The Normal girls put up a hard fight, but seemed to have less endurance than their opponents.

Normal—16	Hagerstown—18
Houck f	Spielman
Heiges f	Tenney
Minnich j c	Hull
Meyer s c	Malotte
Miller g	Eyerly
Coble g	Stonebraker

Substitutions—Felton for Minnich, Upperman for Coble, Moretz for Miller, Ranck for Upperman, Sleichter for Houck, Frace for Tenney, Stonebraker for Hull.

Field Goals—Heiges 3, Houck 2, Sleichter, Spielman 7.

Foul Goals: Normal—Sleichter, 1 out of 2; Heiges, 0 out of 1; Houck, 3 out of 13. Hagerstown—Spielman, 3 out of 11; Frace, 1 out of 7.

NEW GRADING SYSTEM ADOPTED BY THE FACULTY

Every pupil in the Normal School received a citizenship grade this semester, instead of a deportment mark. In citizenship is included attitude, co-operation, individual improvement, and initiative. Dr. Lehman fully explained this new system in chapel last week. The citizenship is determined by all the teachers one has in class instead of the deans alone. Each teacher gives every pupil a grade and the average is then taken. The numerical system for this has been abandoned and the letters used. The letters run from A to F inclusive. Grade A is given to pupils who exceed the reasonable expectations of the instructor. Grade B denotes work that is accurate and complete in every way, Grade C denotes work of medium quality, Grade D denotes work barely meeting the necessary requirements, Grade F denotes failure.

The faculty is now considering whether or not to use this system for all grading in the future. If this plan is adopted pupils will no longer receive a citizenship mark but this will be taken in with the other class marks.

RESERVES WIN SECOND GAME FROM BIGLERVILLE

The Reserves' basketball team won a hard fought game in the local cage last Saturday afternoon when they defeated the Biglerville High School team by the score of 16 to 11.

The Biglerville team was out for gore with a very good reason; the Reserves had sent them down on defeat on their own floor earlier in the season.

Bailey of the Normal School team was high scorer with five double pointers to his credit, while Knouse was easily the star for the visitors. It was only through the combination of lots of fight, good passing and close guarding that the Reserves were able to hand the Adams Countians a defeat.

This is the last game of the season for the Reserves, as a decision of the faculty was made last Tuesday evening to cancel the remaining games. However, the Reserves are to be congratulated upon their successful season, during which they won 7 games out of 8.

The line up:
Reserves—16 Biglerville 11
Smith f Knouse
Bailey f Oyler
Shuler c Minter
Gilbert g Fidler
Wert g Deihl

Field Goals—Bailey 5, Shuler 1, Knouse 2, Oyler 1.

Foul Goals—Smith, 1 out of 5; Tarmann, 3 out of 7; Minter, 5 out of 13.

Substitutions—Orner for Smith, Tarmann for Orner, Shull for Shuler, Orner for Wert, Robert for Diehl.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB BEGINS WORK

Miss Demaree Unable to Direct It on Account of Other Work

At a meeting of the Glee Club held last week it was decided that Prof. David O. Slyter should fill the vacancy left by Miss Demaree as Director of this organization. Miss Demaree was unable to continue her work as director of the Boys' Glee Club because of the many classes which she has and her extension work.

Rehearsals were scheduled for 4:15 every Monday. Consequently on Monday there were thirty members present,—six first tenors, nine second tenors, seven basses and eight baritones. Work was started on two selections which will be sung at Chapel Services next Tuesday morning. There is a demand in this school as in many other schools for music by men's voices and the school feels that this organization has not met the demand. This failure was due to the difficulty of arranging the schedules for a suitable time for rehearsals.

INTER-SOCIETY DEBATE SCHEDULED FOR APRIL 13

"Resolved, That the United States should immediately enter the League of Nations." This weighty problem will be solved at the inter-society debate between Philo and Normal, April 13, 1923.

Miss Parks of the English Department has agreed to meet with the two debating teams for the purpose of giving general instructions along the line of argumentation. Neither team will be given any special coaching, however, until after the inter-society debate.

Eight or more fellows started on the hike for Millersville this afternoon. Several will go tomorrow.
