RED AND BLUE NINE PUTS SKIDS UNDER KUTZTOWN

Heavy Hitting of C. V. Sluggers Plays Havoc with Visitors

STRIKE SHOWS GOOD FORM

Spurred on by their victory over the highly touted Mercersburg aggregation last week the Shippensburg diamond men walked rough shod over the Kutztown Normal nine last Saturday afternoon on Eckels' Field to the tune of 13 to 5.

Saturday's contest was the first of a two-game series with the Keystoners, the second game being scheduled for June second at Kutztown. From the very beginning of the game when Captain Hays clouted a double to left until the last ball was pitched, the Red and Blue players walloped the offerings of Shaffer, the Keystone twirler, in all parts of the field. The Kutztown Moundsman, while he struck out eight and only walked two, was nicked for eighteen hits and was poorly supported by his team-mates.

Harbaugh hurled the first seven innings for the Red and Blue and was effective except in the fourth when Kutztown collected two runs on two passes, a wild pitch and a passed ball. Walters, a rookie pitcher, who hurls from the port-side, pitched the last two innings and was very erratic. Three runs were gathered from his deliveries in the ninth on singles by Shaffer and Ortt and three free trips to first were issued to Linden, Stewart

Strike, McDermitt and Hays led the home team in the slugging department, Strike registering four singles. McDermitt driving out two circuit and Saturday is under the direction of clouts and Hays gathering a triple, a double and two singles out of four times at bat.

Gotshall was the individual star for the visitors, accepting five chances. He also had one of Kutztown's three singles.

In the first inning Shippensburg gathered one run when McDermitt drew a pass and advanced to third on Hays' steaming double to left. Grba bunted safely up the third base line scoring McDermitt. Strike struck out and Orner grounded to Shaffer Philo program tonight. Speaking for ending the inning.

The Red and Blue's next score came in the fourth when Strike, the first Miss Mary Hoffman and Miss Elizaman up, singled through third, and beth McNath '24 will support the negstole second. Orner sacrificed Strike ative side of the questinon. to third and Strike came home on a passed ball by the catcher. Jones took first when the catcher dropped the last strike and stole second. He advanced to third on Mann's single. Harbaugh struck out and Jones scored when Shaffer threw wild to catch him at third. Eby ended the inning with a long fly to Manns.

The home team's big inning came in the first when McDermitt was walked and stole second. Hays singled through third scoring McDermitt and Grba singled to short center scoring Hays. Strike singled through short scoring Grha and advanced to second when Orner bunted safely up the thira base line. Strike and Orner worked a double steal and Jones grounded to Gotshall scoring Strike. Mann took first and Orner scored when the catcher dropped the last strike. Harbaugh struck out and Eby retired the side with a grounder to Zimmerman.

Shippensburg scored once in the sixth when McDermitt drove screaming homer into deep left. The Red and Blue amassed four more runs in the eight on a homer by Me. Dermitt, a triple by Hays, a sacrifice by Smith, a single by Strike, and a double by Tarman.

Kutztown scored first in the fourth when Harbaugh hit Mott on the arm. Mott stole second and took third when (Continued on Page Four)

The track which encircles the ball field, is getting much needed attention. After the cinders have been put on and the track rolled, the track squad will be able to be given daily workouts.

AFFIRMATIVE WINS DEBATE

The Normal Gazette was the big ety last Friday night. Miss Kathleen Gibbons '23 was in charge and presented the Gazette in the form of a school with Miss Madalyn Brown '23 as teacher. Many members of the society participated.

The music of the society was furnished by Harry Markley '25 and Miss Susan Gardner 23. Both were well received by the society.

The question "Resolved, That the government should own and control the coal mines" was debated affirmatively by Paul Mehring '23 and Oran Hays '23, negatively by Miss Helen Dougherty '24 and Miss Gertrude Griffith '24. The decision of the judges was unanimously in favor of the affirmative.

A humorous recitation was given by William Hudson '24. Another novel event of the evening was "snaps" of C. V. S. N. S. presented by Ralph Heiges '23. This proved to be very entertaining and interesting to the so-

Nominations for officers for the ensuing month were made. Miss Cox, visiting teacher, gave favorable criticisms to the society.

All the officers were elected on the first ballot. After the election each of the officers elect made a brief address body.

REV. CROW ADDRESSES MID-WEEK PRAYER SERVICE

Rev. H. E. Crow of the Methodist Church was the speaker at the midweek prayer meeting last Wednesday evening. Rev. Crow referred to the long period of preparation of Moses in his efforts to become a leader.

FACULTY CLUB DECIDES

ON NEW PROGRAM

At the meeting of the Faculty Clus last Tuesday evening, the program of next year was decided upon. The club has decided to make a detailed study of the modern short story and also of the modern drama. The last meeting of the club this year will be a chicken and waffle supper will be

Tomorrow night the vital question, "Resolved, that the United States should immediately enter the League of Nations," will be debated simultaneously at Millersville, West Chester, and Shippensburg. This is the annual triangle debate between the two Societies of each of these three Normal Schools. While the Shippensevent of the evening at Normal Soci- burg Philo team is debating the Moore Society at West Chester, Normal will entertain Normal of Millersville here. The other two societies will meet at Millersville

Last year this struggle resulted in victories for both local teams, and the same is expected this year. Philo will be carried on by her victory over Normal two weeks ago, while Normal having learned her lesson in that disastrious struggle, has, under the coaching of Professor Pennington, prepared a brilliant offensive and are not to be caught napping in defensive arguments.

Professor Stewart will accompany the Philo defenders who will leave here about eight o'clock tomorrow morning, making the trip by rail. The team will spend part of Sunday on the rival campus, returning here some time Sunday afternoon.

Dr. Lehman will occupy the chair as presiding officer of the evening. A ten-piece orchestra under the direction of Professor D. O. Slyter will furnish music. After the judges decision has been announced, debaters, judges, officers, and all those immediately connected with the affair will be invited to the parlor where they will enjoy an hour of "chatter and repast." This part of the program is in charge of a Normal committee.

The same rules will apply for all three of these debates. An intermission of three minutes, for conference, between main speeches and rebuttal will be given. The main speeches can be twelve minutes in length, while five minutes will be allowed each of the two refutees of each team. The alternates, will not appear on the platform but will act as timers.

For Philo, Mitchell Dreese and Miss Florence Davis will refute; for Normal Miss Katherine Wilson and Miss Carolyn Cox will give the rebuttal speeches.

The judges for the contest here are as follows: Prof. W. S. Severence. Prin. Central High School, Harrisburg; Rev. A. R. Steck, Carlisle, and Hon. M. F. Hummel, District Attorney, Cumberland County Carlisle.

The teams will appear as follows:

At West Chester Shippensburg

West Chester Ethel Dixon Florence Davis Virginia Clark Helen Miller Pauline Swift Mitchell Dreese Rachel Dibert, Alt. Peggy Lehman, Alt At Home

Millersville Sara Cohen Elizabeth Cox Paul T. Huddle

Shippensburg Ethel Barr Caroline Cox Katherine Wilson Robert Brown, Alt. Ralph Heiges, Alt.

THE INTER-SCHOOL DEBATE

Tomorrow night the debating teams of Cumberland Valley face our two rivals in this district in the annual Southeastern triangular debate. The affirmative team chosen from the Normal society will argue with the negative team from Millersville in the Auditorium here while our negative team representing Philo society will journey to West Chester to contest with the affirmative team of that institution. The rivalry between us and our sister schools seems to have grown more intense as a result of athletic contests during the year. In this field of activity C. V. S. N. S. has not been a tailender by any manner of means, and it is essential that we now show our superiority along other lines as well.

We are especially desirous that our affirmative team shall swamp Millersville and avenge the two defeats in basketball during the past season. They will go into the fray with the student body one hundred per cent behind them and we know that they are determined to win for the honor of our school. The negative team will be playing the role of invaders and it will be necessary for them to carry enough C. V. spirit with them to counteract the influence of a foreign atmosphere.

This forensic contest is in a measure a battle for supremacy by the scholarship of the schools concerned. Looking at it from this standpoint, as we are inclined to do, it is all the more necessary that Shippensburg Normal carry off the palm as the victor.

HAVE YOU PAID YOUR SUBSCRIPTION?

We regret very much that it has been necessary for the Business Manager to call to our attention the fact that a large number of students have as yet failed to pay the final installment on their subscription to the CAM-PUS REFLECTOR. Every student who subscribed to the paper obligated himself to take the paper for the semester and is in duty bound to pay his bill. The Business Manager wishes to close up his accounts during the early part of next week so you will be doing him a big favor by paying IM-

The members of the Editorial Staff feel that they are being treated unjustly by the student body when so many have neglected to fulfill their obligations. Thirty cents is mighty small when compared to the work that has been required of every member of the REFLECTOR board in making the paper a success. The paper is yours. It belongs, not to a few people. but to the school. We feel justified in saying that it has added to her name and fame and believe it will do more in the years to come. Let us all show our loyalty to the school and to the paper by paying our just debts.

MANY ENJOY ANNUAL

PRESS CLUB DANCE The Annual Press Club Dance held last Saturday evening was a huge success. Each and every one of the hundred people in attendance voted this exclusive dance as one of the best social events held this year. With plenty of room for dancing and with irresistible strains from Neusbaum's Orchestra, the dancers spent an en joyable evening.

Fruit Salad, wafers, ice cream and cake were the delicious refreshments served. After the refreshment committee performed its duty, R. Nesbit Straley '23 presided, and introduced the speakers of the evening. Dr. Lehman, the first speaker, talked about the envelope system and the Press Club, which he organized in the school. Interesting and humorous talks were given by Prof. Heiges, Prof. Shearer, Prof. Gilbert and Miss Arnold who has the distinction of bein the first lady to address the Press Club at any of their social events.

Following the "home waltz," Miss Demaree conducted the singing of the Alma Mater and Wallis McKendree '24 led a cheer for old Normal.

Barnhart, who is playing right field for the Buccaneers, showed up in splendid form in the opening home game at Pittsburgh last Wednesday when the Sea-robbers trimmed Chicago, 7-3, thus breaking the latter's run of seven victories. Barnhart scored two runs, one hit, which was a twobagger and fanned but once to the Westerners.

The energy spent in an endurance dance of sixty five hours without stopping would wash dishes for a period of six weeks.

REFLECTIONS

VIRGINIA RANCK '23

As the robin sings His song so sweet, With pen in hand I must repeat.

The news of the week In form of a brief. Now this was ordered By the "Editor in Chief."

The girls' mass meeting From seven till eight. Seen much excitement And warm debate.

The "Honor System" Against wrong for right, Received much discussion, Far into the night.

Last night the band. In first parade, On the Athletic Field What a sight they made!

Now last week's game With its ins and outs, Sleeping fans And circuit clouts.

The game began The team's good support, Was due no doubt To the work of our short.

Of our man on second We too must tell How in running back Over the base he fell.

Our rooky catcher Showed splendid skill. By the manner in which He stopped many a pill.

While the man on third A sundae will buy, His alibi was The sun in his eye.

After a look in the grandstand Our pitcher would twirl. For there in the crowd Was seated his girl.

While many spectators In great surprise Wondered why first Put mud in his eyes.

His complexion to save And to look strong and great, Was his main intention Caused by a date.

The hits of our fielders Were nice and clean. It looked like a track meet On "OLD ECKELS GREEN."

These bays need no bicycles For their part in the game, If you get an error "Old Sol" takes the blame.

"BOOTS" SHULER '24

Our "Babe Ruth" in center With little ease Measured the tops Of the Avenue trees.

If "Babe" himself Would suddenly appear, Would he cause the grandstand To rise and cheer?

With mouths wide open They sat in a trance. The only cause I know Was the "PRESS CLUB DANCE."

To show school spirit Put away all conceit, And the "Ship Ship Yell" Let's all repeat.

Your friend will forgive you If you smite his cheek, It will be O. K. For the game next week.

Women's faults are many, Men have only two-Everything they say And everything they do.

Why do girls hate to have their strikes' fathers called 'Big Guns" in their home towns? Because that would make their sons "Sons of Guns."

Two feet apart on the campus They sat with vain regrets; She had been eating onions, He smokes cigarettes.

That's right, too. Don't you remember the night of the Press Club dance we had our first spring onions?

An old joke is quite often better than an original remark.

Oh! mighty mystic Pool, To lure thy secrets we must forever think. And so I woo thee, hate and curse thee, Bottle of Ink.

Are flying fish swimming birds?

I think that a hair net would improve our catcher. What say you?

Will the rest of our team live up to the home runs of one of the players? We are sure of it.

On Wednesday the favorite song seemed to be "Tomorrow."

And "tomorrow" all the socialed seemed to be very sociable.

No more letter carriers are wanted now and we think that antee a decided decrease in the price of stationery.

STUDENT COUNCIL LIFTS CAMPUS RESTRICTIONS

Twelve campuses and socials were lifted at the regular meeting of the Girls' Student Council held last Monday evening. A month was the minimum time set for the duration of the punishments, but since the girls kept their campuses and socials so strictly, it was decided to lift them at the expiration of a month.

There was also a long discussion concerning the nominees for the offices in next year's cabinet of the Council. Due to the fact that some of the girls nominated have since been elected to other important offices, it was decided to eliminate those candidates. As a result, nominations for the vacancies thus created, will be made in a meeting called Tuesday night for this purpose.

Readers of the CAMPUS REFLEC-TOR will no doubt be interested to know that Clyde Barnhart, who was graduated from this institution in 1916. has returned for his fourth straight season with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The campus has discarded its "blue" aspect and seems to be itself once again.

FIRST DAY STUDENT DANCE PROVES A HUGE SUCCESS

The first annual dance of the Day Students Association held in the American Legion Hall last Saturday night, was pronounced a brilliant success by all who attended. The huge success of the dance proved, beyond a doubt, that the day students are back of the idea and practically insures the Day Students' Dance being made an annual event at this institution. Fruit punch of an excellent quality was on tap for the benefit of the thirsty ones. Prof. and Mrs. L. C. Krebbs and Miss Ida B. Quigley acted in the capacity of patrons and patronesses. The committee composed of Robert McClay '23 Sarah Upperman '23, Clair Kelly '23, Marie Sleichter '23 and Hershey Eby '24, is to be commended for the excellence of the evening's entertainment. The music was furnished by Wingerd's Orchestra of Chambersburg.

The London doctor who finds women than men would have a hard time convincing a nurse.

PHILO PLAY IS FAVORABLY ACCEPTED BY LARGE CROWD

The big hit of the evening last Friday in Philo was the play "The Sun," by Galsworthy. This is a much higher type of play than is usually given in either of the societies. Prof. Stewart, as visiting teacher, expressed his pleasure of the fact. The main character was Walker Nelson '23, as "the man." The other characters were, Miss Sophie Reiter '24, as "the girl" and Harry Rice '24 as "the soldier." All the characters played their parts in an admirable way.

The Glee Club gave an unusually good selection, "The Old Road." This was probably due to the fact that the Glee Club was much larger than usual.

At this meeting the new officers were installed. They are: President, Aaron Hoover '23; Secretary, Miss Luella VanNorman '23; Critic, Miss Jeanette Stitt '23.

Harvey Warfel '23, ex-president, in his farewell address, extended his gratitude to the members for their helpfulness in the past and asked them to try to do still better. In his inaugural address, Aaron Hoover '23, incoming president, urged all Philomatheans to co-operate with the person or persons on the program by at least giving them their attention.

The "guessing contest" in charge of Miss Genevieve Mitchell '24, fully met the expectations of the society. The contest was in the form of a charade. The answer to each charade was a book. The answers were, Vanity Fair Mother, Study in Scarlet, Scarlet Letter, Seventeen, and Tom Sawyer.

Miss Mary Halloway '24 and Miss Romayne Miller '24 played a piano duet, and Jesse Snyder '23 was the chairman of an instrumental number, which, evidently required no small amount of practice.

"Historical Events of April," a discussion by John Brougher "23 was most instructive. Miss Florence Cooper's '23 biographical sketch of Jefferson was well prepared, fully covering the life of Thomas Jefferson, which was both interesting and educational. The Philo Review was under the editorialship of Lester Daihl

At the close of the program Prof. Stewart, faculty visitor addressed the society, commenting upon the excellence of the program. He proved that he was a loyal follower of the Society when he said that he stood up and applauded for Philo after her victory at the inter-society debate; and moreover, he expected to do the same thing should Philo win tomorrow night when she meets the West Chester debating team at West Chester.

LATIN CLUB DISCUSSES LIFE OF ANCIENT ROME

The Latin Club met today in room 62 at ten o'clock. Dr. Lehman and Miss Arnold were present at the meeting as special guests of the club.

The novel feature of responding to the roll call with a Latin quotation, enabled every member to take part in the meeting.

Roman domestic life was studied through a report from Miss Nellie Wiseman on "The Roman House" and one from Miss Miriam Whorley on "The Roman Dress." The topic "The Romans as builders, artisans and artists" was ably discussed by Miss Gail Kendig, while Miss Nellie Warren spoke upon "The Classical Influence upon Advertising."

Lynn Angle presented the Latin version of "Joseph, the Son of Jacob," and Miss Katherine Main presented the English translation of the same. Current events were discussed by Miss Phyliss Amos.

A quartet composed of Miss Roberta Fry, Viola Slope, Rachael Barbour and Edith Kendig, sang a selection entitled "Katy Did." As a closing chorus, the entire club sang "Integer Vitae.'

Somehow we can't blame those prisoners for indulging in dope-just a little device for shortening the time.

Attention! Endurance dance next Saturday,-seven until ten.

the business manager of the household and gave it the success and profit it enjoyed. She purchased three acres of land along the mountain road not far from the furnace. She erected a one and a half story house in which she lived until her death in 1853. This house became a mecca of the many who had heard of her wonderful yet simple power. The marvelous cures, made so simple, lost none of their virtue by distance The healer by faith was scarcely known by her family name, but as the Dr. Woman." The virtue of her pawer lay within herself and its outward application was by a rag dipped in a cup of grease and used for fevers, pains, wounds, rheumatism and every manner of disease, acute or chronic. The patients were received without any formality. They waited their turn. were questioned and greased, with the rag. The "Dr. Woman" then retired to her own private apartment and while the patient waited, she, for a short time, endured conditions similar to the afflicted and presently came out bearing the indications of what she suffered. Immediately the sufferer began to experience relief and was bade go home and final cure would come in due time. Patients came but once and but one application was made. For services rendered she made no charge, accepting whatever her patients chose to give. She accumulated a few hundred dollars.

In personal appearance the Dr. Woman was not attractive. She was tall, dark-haired and brown-eyed. She had a haggard countenance which was claimed to be the result of suffering from the disease of her cured patients. She had many peculiarities. One was that in visiting her neighbors she never sat on a chair, occasionally on the doorstep, but generally leaning against the wall.

She was of a kindly disposition and had very warm friends among the working classes. She was the mother of three sons and two daughters. At times when on her mettle she was a terror to her mountain friends, and could use both tounge and fists when arrested. Her grandson, Isaac J. Stine, was sent to school and graduated from Lafayette College, due o the ambition of his grandmother and financed by her savings. For a time he was a doctor and then took up newspaper work in Cleversburg.
