RED AND BLUE NINE WINS FROM FORESTRY SCHOOL

New Battery Proves Fatal to Forestry Men

Through superb fielding and masterly twirling by Grba, the Normal nine won its sixth game of the season from the Forestry School of Mont Alto by a set-back of 8 to 4.

Coach Sharadin had remoulded his combination last Saturday by placing Bailey behind the bat and sending Hays into the left garden previously occupied by Bailey. Bailey received a good game and had four put outs at home during the nine cantos. Grba was assigned to the mound duty and pitched good ball, permitting the woodsman but six scattered hits and one free ticket to the first bag. Shull, the regular tosser, played classy ball at the first cushion with ten put outs to his credit. Eby, McDermitt, and Bailey led the hitting for the home team, Eby and Bailey having two singles each and McDermitt having a double and a single.

Jones and Eby, two former varsity men, were back in the line up again after a vacation of several weeks. They were back at their regular places on the plot, Jones in the right pasture and Eby holding down second sack. Both played stellar ball in their come back games last Saturday, and Eby showed old time form at the pan by blasting out two singles and collecting two counters for Sharadin's warriors. Jones, also, after several attempts drove the ball out into left garden for a triple which brought his batting average up to par.

The Mountain Club scored in the first frame when Seibring, their opening man, socked out a triple on the second pitched ball of the game and scored on a single by Dunmire. Their next and last score came in the sixth when they registered three points which gave them a total of four.

The Red and Blue boys took the lead from the first by scoring twice in the initial inning and held it throughout the entire fray. Two more tallies were made in the third and one in both the fifth and sixth. In the seventh Aughenbaugh, the Mont Alto hurler, was withdrawn and Dunmire, their veteran twirler was installed and held the Red and the Blue batsman without a hit during that inning. In the eighth the C. V. tossers came (Continued on Page Four)

SMITH ELECTED PRESIDENT OF STUDENT BOARD

The Men's Association met Wednesday morning and elected officers. The voting was very close and it was necessary to cast a second ballot for the officers of secretary and treasurer. According to the constitution the officers, president, secretary and treasurer were to be present members of this year's board and of the Junior class but conflicts caused a deviation from the constitution. The installation of officers will take place Monday night. The first vice-president will be the corridor representative of corridor number one. He together with the other four vice-presidents, will be elected by their respective corridor in September. The following officers were elected: Pres., Clifford Smith '25; Sec., Wallis McKendree '25; Treas., John Harris '25.

You students who are perpetually "broke"—do you want to earn $2.50 easy money? Write a news article for the Campus Reflector about "The Always Reliable Store"—Doutrich and Company. Hand your article in at the office not later than Tuesday noon and Mr. Doutrich will decide if you are the lucky individual who will receive the prize.

MILLERSVILLE AND BLOOMSBURG WILL APPEAR ON DIAMOND

Great Opposition Expected from Both Aggregations

Preparations are being made for one of the largest games of the season when Coach Sharadin's diamond warriors will clash with their old standing rivals, Millersville, in the second contest on the term. The first game was played on the foreign plot and the Shippensburg outfit got the little end of the final tallies when they were handed out but the Red and Blue twirlers will be out for gore in tomorrow's battle. They expect to avenge the defeat by piling up a high score over the foreign invaders.

The Valley batsmen, from all indications will be in tip top shape for the fray since Coach Sharadin has given them a hard workout during the week. The combination, with Jones and Eby back in it, promises to be a fast working one and too powerful to be crushed by the Maroon and Gold machine from Millersville. Shull, who has been giving his twirling appendage a rest, will be back in the box tomorrow and deliver for Shippensburg while Bailey will receive for the home team.

The line-up will probably be as follows:

Shippensburg	Millersville
Eby 2b	Fasnacht
McDermitt cf	Fritzpatrick
Hays lf	Larkin
Rice ss	Showalter
Orner 3b	Shertz
Strike ss	Ream
Grba 1b	Herr
Jones rf	Detweiler
Bailey c	Cook
Shull p	Swanger

The C. V. S. N. S. baseball tossers will meet the Bloomsburg Normal Varsity nine in a double header on Memorial Day, on Eckels Field. The first game will be at 10:00 o'clock and the afternoon game will start at 4:00 o'clock.

The Bloomsburg squad comes here as leaders of the Northeastern Normal School League and with a string of victories hooked to their credit. The C. V. men will be out for revenge for the defeat which Bloomsburg handed them in football. Sharadin's men will be in first class condition to meet the rival sluggers after the continuous practice which they are being sent through daily. Shull and Grba probably will be on the mound for Shippensburg, while Zelloe and Brotherson will likely be the moundsmen for the visitors.

The line-up will probably be as follows:

Bloomsburg	Shippensburg
Felker cf	McDermitt
Haupt c	Bailey
Boyle 3b	Orner
Swetland lf	Hays
Markley 2b	Eby
Derk 1b	Grba
Foster rf	Jones
Hower ss	Rice
Brotherson p	Shull
Zelloe p	Grba

GIRL HIKERS COOK BREAKFAST AT "CAVE"

More than one hundred girls went on the first breakfast hike taken by the spring hiking squad last Saturday morning. The hikers left the Gym steps promptly at six o'clock and wended their way towards the "cave" where they had breakfast. The favorite menu, hot dogs, bacon, rolls and fruit, comprised the breakfast of the hungry coeds. After breaking camp the squad followed the path that leads to Shippensburg, arriving at school at seven thirty.

INTERESTING DISCUSSIONS GIVEN IN Y. M. MEETING

"Choosing the Line of Greatest Resistance" was the topic discussed at Y. M. C. A. by Irwin Stewart '24. Mr. Stewart took the view that one would fare better if he would choose the path of greatest resistance. He proved his statements by reviewing the lives of Livingston and Roosevelt. Mr. Stewart showed the boys, who were present, how these two men chose the line of greatest resistance and as a result, succeeded. One of Mr. Stewart's main thoughts was, "We measure a man's life by the service that he renders to other people." He closed by urging every one to try to do their best to succeed by following the path of greatest resistance.

The discussion last Sunday was especially fine. No fewer than five members responded to the call of volunteers. Of these the speeches of Mr. Brougher '23 and Mr. Hays '23 were especially outstanding. Mr. Brougher developed the physical phase of the question, taking Daniel as his model. Mr. Hays divided people into three classes: those positively moral, negatively moral, and those in between. He gave a personal illustration of his High School days to bring out his point. He closed his talk with a plea to all the fellows that they get on the right side of the fence. The speeches of Mr. Thornton, Mr. Straley, and Mr. Parthemer, are also worthy of mention.

FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF NORMAL SOCIETY TO BE CELEBRATED TONIGHT

"NOW AND THEN", A PLAY REPRESENTING SCHOOL LIFE AT C. V. S. N. S. WILL BE PRESENTED AS THE CLIMAX OF THE PROGRAM

JUNIOR GIRLS CAPTURE HONORS IN TRACK MEET

Edith Throckmorton Takes First Place in Two Events

The Junior Class shone in all her glory, Friday, by taking the first place in the track meet. The final score was, Juniors 28, Seniors 13, and Underclassmen 2.

Edith Throckmorton '24 won first place in the basket-ball throw by throwing the ball a distance of forty-three feet. Mildred Mercer '23 took second place by reaching a distance of forty feet. Virginia Ranck '23, Georgia Krall '23, and Hazel Fry '23, won the 100 yard dash which was run in three heats. The running broad jump was a tie between Blanch Meyer '23 and Margaret Taughinbaugh '24, each jumping thirteen feet. Ella Miller '24 captured second place. The fifty yard dash, which was run in two heats, was won by Prudence Markey '23 and Mary Gordon '23. Edith Throckmorton also carried away honors in the standing broad jump by jumping seven and one half feet. Alise Schellhase '23 took second place for the Seniors.

The spectators were very much excited when the three classes formed for "Skin the Snake" a very amusing race. The Junior team won first place but no second place was awarded as the other team fouled. The first and second heats of the relay were won by the class of '24 while the Underclassmen took second place by winning the third heat.

The last event which was the high jump was won by the Juniors also. Josephine Clark was awarded first place and jumped four feet, two inches. Mildred Brenneman '24 took second place by jumping four feet, one inch.

MISS MITCHELL TAKES SEALS PLACE AS EDITOR

Miss Genevieve Mitchell '25 was elected Editor-in-chief of the Campus Reflector last Tuesday morning at the regular meeting of the editorial staff. Miss Mitchell will succeed Mr. John Seal '24 whose resignation was accepted by the members of the staff. The election of Miss Mitchell as editor-in-chief leaves the position of news editor vacant. It was decided by the members of the staff that this vacancy would be filled at the next meeting.

Several matters of importance were discussed at the meeting. Ernest Kennedy '25, managing editor asked that all reporters write head lines for their articles.

COMMENCEMENT MUSIC PROGRESSING RAPIDLY

All the musical organizations are in the midst of preparations for Commencement music. The Girls' Choral Club will sing at the Baccalaureate sermon, at the Commencement exercises, and in connection with the Boys' Glee Club will lead the community singing. The band, besides preparing for Commencement, will continue its weekly open-air concerts and will lead the parade on Decoration Day.

Girl Scouts of the school will take an overnight hike Friday, June the first. They will start at 4:15 and hike to the Conodoguinet creek, a distance of five miles.

The Normal Literary Society will celebrate its Fiftieth Anniversary this Friday evening and the remainder of the week-end. This is expected to be one of the big events of the year since this year marks the half-century mark in the life of the society. The decorations will not be carried out with greens as the main background but the lighting will be used to bring out the desired effects.

H. H. Baish of the class of 1895 will be the presiding officer on this occasion and will deliver the opening address. Mr. Baish is in charge of the Teachers' Retirement Bureau of Pennsylvania.

The Society Orchestra has prepared several very pretty numbers which will be played in the intermissions while stage scenery is being shifted. Thirteen members of the school orchestra make up this organization. Mr. Edwin Harbaugh '24 has been in charge of the work of this group.

An Egyptian setting will be used for the dance and the scenery will be very simple. Virginia Ranck is the leading character in the dance.

The plot of the play is laid right in this school and should be quite realistic and enjoyable. One of the things brought out in the play is that the students are much the same from year to year and decade to decade. No part is particularly outstanding from all the other characters and hence many people have a chance to show their dramatic ability.

Music is to be furnished by the Glee Club which has been working faithfully, especially during the past week. Mr. Harry Markley '25 is the director of this number. Four young men of the society are prepared with a vocal number entitled "Good-Night."

Four violinists of the orchestra will play a quartet. The participants will be Miss Mary Good '23, Miss Miriam Aurandt '23, Miss Helen Emig '23, and Miss Gertrude Griffith '24.

An Irish Recitation is to be presented by Miss Cassandra Flaherty '23 who has always been able to present the society with an unusual number when called upon to do so. "Time" the subject of the oration written by Prof. Levi Gilbert, Wilson Dodd '24 is to deliver.

Miss Lela Pettigrew, graduated from the school in 1918 is the Secretary for this occasion. Many former Normalites will be in attendance at this entertainment and also over the week-end. A reception is to be given by the school in honor of Normal Society. The President and Secretary as representatives of the society are asked to be in the receiving line of the reception.

In looking over the plans for the celebration of the Fiftieth Anniversary, it seems that there is surely something or rather many things which can be looked forward to with much interest.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS ARE MADE ON CAMPUS

Many improvements have been made on the campus during the past week. Shrubbery has been planted as well as a number of beds of potted plants and flowers. The brilliant colors of the many blossoms add greatly to the beauty of the grounds. The grass near the fountain has been given special attention and the students have been asked to refrain from walking on this portion of the campus.

MEMORIAL DAY

In Flanders' Fields the poppies have again unfurled their petals in the spring breeze. How different is the world that lays at their feet today from that which they surmounted five years ago! No longer does screaming shrapnel tear them from Mother Nature's bosom. No longer are their roots saturated with human blood. The world is once more ruled by the golden wand of prosperity held in the hand of the Goddess of Peace.

But those who rest under the poppies in Flanders' Fields, are sleeping the sleep of the just. It is they, to whose memories we are offering up sacrifices. Too much cannot be said and done in honor of those who have paid the supreme sacrifice, offered up their lives that their country might live.

In our moments of reverence let us not forget these others who have laid down their lives at their country's feet. There are those who have marched under the stars and stripes during the Spanish War. They, too, have done their "bit" toward furthering the ideals of our great land; and surely we will never forget the wearers of the Blue and Gray.

All these have more than done their share in helping to put their country "Over the Top" of her enemies. The only way that we have of repaying them for what they have done for us, is by voicing our reverence this Memorial Day. By this sign we shall know if the iron of your patriotism is red hot, or merely sizzling from a recent dip into the water of cooled ardor.

HAIL NORMALITES

The honor of entertaining the alumni and former students has been conferred upon Shippensburg Normal School for the second time this month. It was but a few short weeks ago that the former members of Philo were loyally welcomed back and to-day the entire school joins in welcoming back Normalites. Yes, although you are primarily the guests of Normal Society, the student body unites as a whole in welcoming you into its midst.

The society reunions and anniversaries have always held a prominent place in the minds of the students of Shippensburg Normal.

It is the prospect of the elaborate program and entertainment that makes the thought of the rapidly approaching examination season endurable, for who could survive that grind if he did not have the pleasant memory of the reunion and anniversary to feast his mind upon in the spare moments between examinations? And, from the way the members of the committee have been buzzing around, we feel safe in assuring pleasant memories for both those who must endure the throes of the examination and those who have endured them—the alumni.

Could any more appropriate season of the year have been chosen for Normal Anniversary? Could our campus possibly have been robbed in a more gala attire than she is wearing today? Her dress is of green velvet with trimmings of bright blossoms. Yes, even the athletic field is all bedecked for you, Normalites. Of course you have noticed the new baseball diamond and cinder track. Surely the improvements which are being started at the rear of Main Building have not escaped your observing eye.

Then too, we call your attention to our enlarged orchestra and band. Speaking of the new organizations, we present this issue of the "Campus Reflector," an extremely young product of the school for your inspection.

Again Alumni and friends, let us welcome you to this dear old school in the Cumberland Valley. We sincerely hope that you will enjoy your visit at Shippensburg Normal. We are overjoyed to have you with us.

QUESTION BOX FURNISHES AMUSEMENT AT NORMAL

The outstanding number in the Normal Society program given in the auditorium last Friday was the question box conducted by Alma Crawford '23. The questions asked were many and varied and furnished the humor of the evening.

The special feature was a play in charge of Martha Wahrman. The characters were: "the girl," Kathleen Gibbons '23; "the boy," William McCullough '24; "the King," Sherrick Gilbert '24; "the queen," Martha Hutchison '24. The musical numbers were good, especially the piano solo by Mary Cross '23. The orchestra was in charge of Arthur Filler '24.

A recitation by Ruth Wahrman, "Press On," by Parker Benjamin and topics of the day by William McCulloch '24 comprised the literary side of the program.

Professor J. S. Grove, the visiting teacher, criticized the society for its apparent lack of interest in Friday's program and expressed the wish that more cooperation be given hereafter.

MUSICAL NUMBER AT PHILO MAKES BIG HIT

Last Friday evening Philo presented an unusually enjoyable program preceding the debate which was regularly scheduled and announced for the program, a very successful filibustering scheme was introduced by John Brougher '23. A very lively discussion concerning the merits and advisability of Mr. Brougher's motion to omit the debate called for the ruling of the parliamentarian. The filibuster was finally concluded by the vote of the society to hear the debate. John Seal '24 and Mildred Kapp '23 succeeded in convincing the judges that Frank Thornton '23 and Reba Shue '24 were not justified in asserting that "the permanent officers of the Senior Class should be elected by another method."

The election of Philo officers to serve next September was held. The following were elected: president, John Seal '24; vice president, Roy Funk '24; treasurer, Roy Whitesel '25; secretary, Miriam Witmer '24; critic, Sophia Reiter '24; curators, Helen Andrews '24, Reba Shue '24, and Harry Wolfe '25.

Miss Guver's impromptu class was clever and entertaining. The various members responded well to the stunts required of them. Oratory demonstration and musical ability figured prominently in this event.

The musical treat of the evening was the quartet arranged by Josephine Clark '24. Miss Clark '24, Mildred Mercer '23, Dorothy Curtis '24 and Clara Robinson '23, sang two negro folk songs, with true appreciation and marked ability. After enthusiastic and insistent applause the girls sang as an encore, "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot."

Thelma McBride '23 played as a solo "Woodland Echoes." "Philo March" written in 1890 by J. O. Russell and dedicated to Philo was given by Anna Steele '23. Dorothy Koser '23 contributed Phoebe Carey's poem "The Leak in the Dyke." Marietta Houck '23 gave the Philo Review.

Miss McWilliams was the visiting teacher. In her remarks she urged the society to keep its programs up to its high standard even though it may mean special effort during these busy weeks. Miss Mary Funk '22 visited Philo and addressed a few words to the members.

REV. WETZEL ADDRESSES TEACHER'S CLUB

"How to obtain the best results from the devotional period in our public schools" was the theme of Rev. D. J. Wetzel's address to the teacher's Club.

While discussing this subject he stated the law which is, "That at least ten verses from the Holy Bible shall be read or caused to be read, without comment, at the opening of each and every public school, upon each and every school day by the teacher in charge." Concerning this law Rev. Wetzel asked and discussed four questions which are: What is the purpose and the spirit of the law? Is the purpose of the law being fulfilled? How shall we fulfill the purpose of the law? What are the benefits to be derived from this? He said that in order to fulfill the the purpose of the law every teacher must have the right kind of preparation, carefully chosen Bible Readings and he or she must be able to read intelligently.

Rev. Wetzel gave Biblical references, concerning the lives of Christ and St. Paul, and also topical references dealing with the subjects of admonition, adventure, anger, armor of God, boastful service, boyhood, charity, cheer and danger, and Christmas lessons which are best suited for the schools of Penna.

Other parts of the program were an Instrumental Trio given by Messrs Barnhart, Snyder and Funk and a vocal solo by Miss Nina Ruth.

Miss Wright's special music students will give a recital in the Chapel next Thursday at 11:15. This is the first of a series of two recitals which are given annually under Miss Wright's direction. The program will be a varied one consisting of both vocal and instrumental numbers.

REFLECTIONS

"BOOTS" SHULER '24

No more we'll hear the trombone,
As it gives its deadly shriek,
Or hear the call for "Collars,"
Issued every week.

Yes, Campus Bell we'll miss you,
You were a source of gloom.
In a sweet melodious manner,
You'd call us to our rooms.

Too soon the carpenter's hammer,
In striking we hear it fall.
The sounds I always want to hear,
The sounds of The Fourth Floor Hall.

The great silence of study period,
We'll long for more and more.
Or familiar steps when stealing light,
On the noisy corridor floor.

We'll miss the Referee's whistle,
As the boys tear up the field.
Whether in field goal or touchdown,
Old Normal's honor to shield.

To the soft and homelike bedspring,
We'll say goodbye once more.
Or to the musical ability,
Of your roommate's basslike snore.

We'll miss the daily hunt,
Of the fourth floor cake of soap.
As the girls will miss the provisions,
At the end of the Dormitory Rope.

S stands for teardrops,
And teardrops stand for sorrow.
I wish that all could remain,
And there would be no morrow.

In room 244
We see a great change.
The cause of which
Is beyond our range.

A new face now
Adorns the wall.
What does this mean
This dreadful fall?

Is art declining
In this progressive age?
Since ZULU dolls
Are all the rage.

Her beaming smile
We chance to meet.
Scans our very soul
From head to feet.

No sunny clime
Or shady nook,
Could produce in nature
Such a look.

A work of the Gods
We all exclaim.
But who at last
Will take the blame?

In anger and revenge
He walks the floor.
The same old step
He made before.

But worry not
And laugh the while
She'll soon return
With her well known smile.

REFLECTOR WILL BE PUBLISHED THIS SUMMER

A Summer School REFLECTOR will be published during the nine weeks of our summer session. This publication will be published for students attending the coming session. It is hoped though, that many of our present readers will subscribe for the paper. Many of your friends will be here. You will want to know what they are doing in your old familiar haunts. The subscription price will be seventy-five cents. If you wish to receive the paper come to the Reflector Office. You will find a ledger there on one of the tables. Leave your name and address. It will be seen that every issue reaches you. You can pay your subscription during the summer.

Women! Women!

The other night in my sedan
There was just her and me, her man.
I talked of rain, and shine and old
Forgotten days, and pirates bold,
And ships, and sealing wax, and gold.
Then all at once she said, "I'm cold."
So I, though cool, took off my coat,
And wrapped my muffler 'round her throat.

And then I talked of golfer's stance,
The styles in clothes, the latest dance,
And how the medium faked a trance
And I grew cold, but gosh, her glance
Was colder yet, I ask of you
Just what it was I failed to do.

ORIGINAL PLAY GIVEN AT TRAINING SCHOOL

The Intermediate Grades of the Training School held their weekly group meeting in the chapel at 11:15 on Friday of last week. The program was in charge of the fifth grade.

The outstanding feature was an original play called, "Services of the Red Cross." In the play, which was written by Katherine Fitzgerald, one of the girls acted as teacher and the other children as her pupils. The pupils with the teacher discussed the services of the Red Cross organization.

Another number on the program was the pretty play entitled, "The Crowning of the May Queen."

Besides these two numbers the program included a quartet, a vocal solo, a recitation, a story, and a vocal duet.

The purpose of these weekly group meetings is to train the children in parliamentary law and to develop their initiative in planning programs.

CHAMBERSBURG DEFEATS NORMAL IN PRACTICE GAME

The Normal diamond warriors crossed bats with the C. V. Railroaders of Chambersburg on Tuesday evening on the latter's field. Although this was a practice game the Normal Varsity lost to a tune of 6 to 3. The game lasted for seven innings and was featured by several two base hits and a double play in the sixth inning. Angle of the Railroaders, and a Shippensburg High School star, was the individual star of the game having three hits out of four trips to the plate. One of the great factors in the loss of the game was poor fielding by Shippensburg in the field, only one ball being cleanly fielded.

Eby, the first man up, hit a slow grounder to the second baseman and was out at first. McDermitt, the next man up, hit a fast one to short and was also out at the initial sack. Rice managed to get on first through an error. But he died on the bag, when Orner grounded to the second baseman.

Chambersburg opened their half of the inning by knocking a high fly to right field, which was caught by Jones. The second man up duplicated the stunt by knocking a fly to Coach Sharadin, who twirled for the Normal nine. The next man up was safe at first on Eby's error. He stole second and came home on a two bagger. The next man up had an infield hit advancing his team-mate to third. Things looked right for another run but Coach fielded the next hit ball and the side was retired.

Strike opened the second inning by hitting a "hot one" to the second batsman, but failed to reach first.

Uish and Jones followed suit by striking out.

The last half of the second inning was marked by two strike-outs for Coach Sharadin, but the railroaders managed to tally another run on a walk, a stolen base and an error by Uish. Orner then retired the side by stopping a hot grounder and recovering it in time to get his man at first.

In the first half of the third came Shippensburg's only scoring. Bailey the first man up, was out at first. Coach then started the fire works by getting a nice single, the first hit for the Shippensburg batsmen. Eby then hit the ball to second, who was not able to hold it, and Eby was safe at first and the coach was perched on second. McDermitt arose to the occasion by knocking a screaming two-bagger, scoring the coach and advancing Eby to third. Rice continued the streak by knocking a slow one to third who fumbled, recovered and threw the ball over the first baseman's head. This play scored two runs and put the visitors in the lead. Rice was perched on third when the celebration was over and things looked bright for another run with only one down. Orner knocked a short fly to center but Rice was unable to score. Strike left Rice die on third by fanning.

C. V. opened her half of the inning with the first man up hitting to short but he was out at first. The Coach then fanned the next man but the railroaders tied the score with an error by Rice, a stolen base and a double. The next man knocked a high fly to Eby, retiring the side.

The Normal batsmen did not have a chance in the fourth as Uish, Bailey and Jones all struck out.

The Railroaders made their final score in this inning with two men out, three hits were registered in succession, scoring one man. Then on errors by both Orner and Eby, two more runs were scored. Then with a man on third, the next man was out at first.

The score by innings:

MIRIAM EMBICK '24 WINS ORATORICAL CONTEST

The oratorical contest held Wednesday at 4:15 in the Training School chapel to determine the winner of the five dollar gold piece offered by the class of 1916, was an excellent one.

The contestants were, Hurn Diller '23, Virginia Ranck '23, Miriam Embick '24, Mary Elizabeth Sieders '24, Ruth Wahrman '24, Peggy Lehman '25, and Guida Stine '24.

After consultation the judges awarded first place to Miriam Embick '24, second place to Peggy Lehman '25, and third place to Virginia Ranck '23. The judges were Rev. Wetzel, pastor of the Reformed Church, Miss Ruth Duke and Miss Mary Raum, both public school teachers.

OH, BUT YOU DON'T

Get what you want where you want it, when you want it. You must know where to get what you want when you want it. That is the biggest thing in our present day education.

It is part of our education to know how to look well, and to look well one must know where to get what he wants. But what do we want? We want the best and most attractive wearing apparel that can be secured. And who will help us solve this problem? Why Doutrich and Company, Harrisburg, of course.

Everybody is assured the best service by patronizing Harrisburg's "Live Store" which is prepared to equip you with the very latest in men's clothing. An increasing number of the young men of the Cumberland Valley State Normal School are availing themselves of this service for they know that they are guaranteed complete satisfaction. Don't fail to visit Doutrich's store in Harrisburg when you are selecting your Commencement clothes.

NORMAL BATSMEN WIN FROM MT. ALTO NINE

back with a storm when, with Orner on second, Jones clouded out a triple which scored Orner. The time honored squeeze play was then worked when, with Jones on third, Eby bunted neatly up the first base line. This gave the home team a four point lead and the visitors were unable to touch Grba's delivery in the ninth.

PLANS ARE ELABORATE FOR HEALTH PAGEANT

The health pageant which is to be held May 31, is coming along in fine shape. The participants are hard at work practicing and they expect to begin their costumes this week. The costumes have been designed by the Dennison Company in Philadelphia and as soon as the materials come work on them will begin. Posters and advertisements of the pageant are being circulated through the neighboring towns and country.

GIRLS TELL OF TRIP TO EAGLESMEERE CONVENTION

The Y. W. C. A. meeting on Sunday night was in charge of the girls who were at the Eaglesmere convention last summer.

Maude Parsons '23 told of the experience the girls had on their trip to Eaglesmere. Mary Etta Houck '23 read a list of the duties of the different committees at Eaglesmere. Other experiences of the trip were related by Janet Shearer '23.

The Rev. Bonsall lead the devotional exercises in Chapel, Tuesday morning. He spoke to the students on the four basic qualities emphasizing leadership which were printed in the Campus Reflector some time ago. He pointed out that an individual cannot be a good leader in any community unless he creates ideals for himself.
