ORIGINAL PLAY SCORES TRIUMPH AT ANNIVERSARY

Society Glee Club Presents Unique Numbers—Gym Decorated With Lanterns

The Fiftieth Anniversary of the founding of the Normal Literary Society was very fittingly celebrated by the program given by members of the society on Friday evening and the Reception given in honor of Normal on Saturday evening. No number on the program Friday night can be picked out as being far superior to all the other parts of the entertainment. Every part showed that much time, thought, and energy had been expended in its preparation in order that it might be the best possible. The decorations were very pretty although not elaborate.

The Society Orchestra opened the evening's entertainment with a selection. An address by H. H. Baish '95 followed with patriotism as the central theme.

Two selections from "High Jinks" were sung by the Glee Club which were enhanced by the members holding balloons for the chorus of "Float On" and by Miss Anna McFadden's dance and the solo work of Miss Alise Shellhase. Mary Good '23, Miriam Aurandt '23, Helen Emig '23, and Gertrude Griffith '24, played Schumann's "Slumber Song" as a violin quartet. The other musical number of the evening's program was a quartet by Clifford Smith '25, Andrew Sterner '23, Harry Markley '25, and Clarence Shuler '24. All lights but those above the platform were turned off while they sang "Good-night" by Parks.

Cassandra Flaherty's rendition of "The Leadin' Road To Donegal" proved that she was a daughter of the Emerald Isle. The oration delivered by Wilson Dodd '24 was in keeping with the occasion since it reviewed the growth of the school, hence the society, during the last fifty years. Mr. Levi Gilbert was the author of this oration.

The Egyptian dance was weird but pleasing to say the least. Virginia Ranck '23 did a solo dance while six other girls posed in the background. The dance was ended by all joining in and paying tribute to "The Sheik" which Miss Ranck represented.

A better climax than the play which was given could not be imagined. The first scene was laid in the parlor thirty years ago and portrayed some of the tricks and jokes played in those days which have come down to us as strange events. The second scene was also laid in the school parlor but on the day of Normal Anniversary, 1923. The old graduates of thirty years ago come back to visit their favorite haunts and see the work that is being done here. Dr. Lyman, as Principal of the school welcomes back the Alumni to Normal Anniversary and he tells them that the discipline and students are much better than they were formerly. But to his surprise he finds that the same sort of tricks are being carried on to this day. The people have changed but not their hearts. At the end of this scene a student comes in and reads an extract from the Will of I. B. Tite, a school director, which says that he wills the sum of One Hundred Dollars to the school in consideration of the untiring efforts of "Ted" Jackson, a graduate of thirty years ago. Dr. Lyman, representing Dr. Lehman took the check for the above amount to Dr. Lehman who was seated in the audience. Maurice Hykes showed that he had studied the actions and speech of Dr. Lehman. Dr. Lehman responded with a short speech in which he thanked the members of the Normal Society for their gift and congratulated them upon the celebration of the founding of the society. A big Shippensburg yell with Normal on the end put the finishing touch to the play.

The platform was extended about three feet for the entertainment and the front as well as the rear doors of the platform were swung back. The Orchestra was seated on the left side of the stage and a curtain was draped to the side when it played. At the front of the auditorium and close to the ceiling were streamers of red and white paper. The lights were covered with white cloth adorned with red tassels on the bottom. The back of the stage was covered with a black curtain for all but the play when screens about the color of the walls of the parlor were used. A low fence was at the fore part of the stage and was intertwined with wild honey-suckle blossoms.

As the entrance of the main building was approached, a big N with 50 hanging over it shown forth welcoming back old Normalites. Saturday this was transferred to the gymnasium. Between the gymnasium and the main building there were Japanese lanterns and in the gymnasium were five or six rows of lanterns with a row around the edge of the gallery. Paper streamers a few feet long hung from cords about the height of the lanterns. The orchestra was surrounded by a low fence with paper woven in it. Bozidar Grba '23 was in charge of all the decorations and surely did his part to make the week-end enjoyable.

REFLECTOR STAFF TO MAKE DRIVE FOR SUBSCRIPTIONS

At a meeting of the Business Staff of THE CAMPUS REFLECTOR last Monday, initial plans were made for issuing the paper next year. It was decided that it would be advisable to make a canvass of the school to determine how many students will subscribe for the paper next year. The assurance of an adequate circulation will give the staff a working basis for furthering the plans already made. If the students support the paper now it will materially aid the project and subscribers will be sure to receive the first issue.

Dr. Lehman has promised to give the staff ten minutes on Tuesday during the Chapel period when the canvass will be made. Subscription blanks will then be passed out among the students.

GIRLS WILL HIKE TO CHAMBERSBURG TOMORROW

The girls' hiking season will close officially with the hike to Chambersburg tomorrow morning. The hikers will leave school promptly at the end of the study period, under faculty chaperonage. In order to obtain credits for hiking from the G. A. A., every girl must walk at least to Greenvillage. From there the trolley will take them to Chambersburg where they will partake of an appetizing lunch. After spending the afternoon at Chambersburg the hikers will return to school in time for dinner.

RADIO IN RURAL HOME

Misses Schellhase and Bert and Mr. Theodore Barnhart assisted Miss Kieffer with a Radio concert at the home of School Director, Charles Plasterer. About thirty neighbors assembled to "listen in."

NEXT ISSUE WILL BE ON JUNE 11

Due to the fact that examinations will be held next Thursday and Friday and that the Commencement activities will begin immediately after them, there will be no REFLECTOR issued next Friday. Instead, there will be a special Commencement issue published Monday evening, June 11. Students who are planning to leave for home before the paper is issued and are desirous of having their papers sent to their homes, will leave their names and addresses at the CAMPUS REFLECTOR office.

KING "DISEASE" BOWS TO QUEEN "GOOD HEALTH" IN GIRLS' PHYS. ED. PAGEANT

Fair Dancers in Elaborate Costumes Portray Death-Battle between Germs and "Six Best Doctors"

LARGE AUDIENCE SEES FRAY

Last evening the Health Pageant arranged by the Department of Health Education was presented on the campus. A large audience assembled to see the defeat of King Disease. Queen Good Health, Miss Hazel Walters, greeted her loyal subjects and introduced to them her faithful attendants, "Sunshine," Miss Katherine Heefner, "Water," Miss Sophia Reiter, "Rest," Miss Katherine Baker, "Air," Miss Mildred Brenneman, "Exercise," Miss Sara Upperman, "Diet," Miss Mildred Kapp. King Disease, Miss Eleanor Heiges, sent his heralds to challenge Queen Good Health and her attendants to mortal combat. The queen, secure in the knowledge of the might of her fair maidens, accepted the challenge. The king appeared with his dread germs, "Diphtheria," Miss Rea Souders, "Flu," Miss Marian Moretz, "Typhoid," Margaret Lehman, and boasted of his power. The combat began. Gradually the forces of queen Good Health, led by Sunshine, Water, Rest, Air, Exercise, and Diet, triumphed over the germs and King Disease acknowledged himself vanquished.

The costuming was very elaborate and pretty. The various elements were realistically presented in the effect produced by the color combinations. The queen and her attendants were elaborately arrayed in regal style. They presented a stately appearance gathered around queen's throne. The background for all the colors was furnished by a large screen of greens.

UNDERCLASS DANCE PREPARATIONS IN FULL SWING

The Underclassmen dance will be held Saturday evening June tenth, in the gymnasium. Committees have been chosen to look after the matter of decorating the Gymnasium. Decorations for this event in the past have been very tasteful and it is believed that this year's committee will not let the standard of former years be lowered.

Professor L. Gilbert, Miss Hefferman, Miss Patterson, and Miss McCreary form an advisory committee for this event.

Neusbaum's Orchestra from Carlisle will furnish the music for the dancers. This dance is always considered one of the biggest events of the year and every underclassman is in attendance at the function.

FACULTY AND STUDENTS JOIN IN MEMORIAL DAY PARADE

400 Persons Representing C. V. S. N. S. March with Shippensburg Legion Post

BAND LEADS DELEGATION

More than 400 Normal School students took part in the parade to Spring Hill Cemetery on Memorial Day. The student body formed on the campus and marched down Normal Avenue to the Council House where they formed in line with the townspeople. The faculty headed the Normal School line. The formation was by classes, the Senior Class leading, followed by the Juniors and Underclassmen, each class carrying its own banner. At the beginning of the Normal line was the service flag carried by one of the students. There are thirty-eight blue stars and four gold ones on the flag.

In the line were the soldiers who fought in the World War and the Normal School Student Body led by the school band which made its debut Wednesday. Next in line came the members of the Sunday Schools of Shippensburg who carried flags and bouquets of flowers which were used to decorate the graves of the fallen heroes. The veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic were taken to the cemetery in cars. Following them marched the Shippensburg Girl Scouts.

Besides the Normal School Band the Lloydsville Band, the Scotland Orphan Home Band and the Shippensburg Band furnished the music for the marchers.

The services at the cemetery were brief but impressive. Rev. Roy S. Bowers, pastor of the Memorial Church, offered a prayer. The firing squad of the American Legion gave the rifle salute after which taps were sounded by the post buglers. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. John D. Lindsay, chaplain of the American Legion.

TEA TO BE GIVEN BY ARTS AND CRAFT CLUB

The art exhibit given annually by the members of the Arts and Crafts Club will be held Monday afternoon, June 11, at four o'clock. The exhibit will be composed of the work accomplished by the members of the club during the year. There will be displays of both raffia and leather articles.

As is the custom of the club, tea will be served during the exhibition in the art room and the adjoining corridor. Invitations have been issued to the faculty, as well as the student body.

A RED LETTER DAY

Are you going to do your share toward making "Campus Reflector Day" a red letter one? Are you going to get behind the "plough" and give the good work a lift with the pledge of your subscription when the drive for next year's subscriptions is launched in Chapel Tuesday morning? All together now, let's put this thing across in regular Shippensburg style!

Shippensburg Normal's Red and Blue Diamond Warriors won and lost to the Bloomsburg Normal nine, in two Memorial Day battles on Eckels Field. The first game played in the morning was a slug fest for the invaders, netting them a 12 to 1 walk-over. In the afternoon contest the C. V. men came back and fought their way to a 8 to 7 victory.

In the morning game the Bloomsburg twirler pitched good ball with eight strike outs to his credit, allowing eight hits. Grba, twirler for the C. V. lads in the first five innings of the fray, was credited with two strike outs and allowed the visitors eight hits. "Lefty" Walters, who took Grba's place at the beginning of the sixth, retired one Bloomsburg man on three strikes and allowed the visitors six hits. Altogether the Bloomsburg lads collected fourteen hits.

Bloomsburg managed to tally two runs in the first inning. The first man up was out on first, after he had hit the ball to Grba. The second man up hit a short one to short-stop and was safe at first as Rice failed to get the ball to the right place. Then on a stolen base, an error by Orner, another stolen base, and a hit between third base and short-stop the Bloomsburg lads tallied two runs. The first three men up for the home school were put out in one, two and three order.

The Bloomsburg batters tallied again in the third on a hit, an over-throw, a stolen base and a sacrifice. The visitors also scored three runs in the fourth. Two errors, two stolen bases, and an over-throw scored two of these runs. The last was scored on a homer, bringing in the man perched on second. Two more runs were scored in the fifth on a double, three singles, and two sacrifices.

Walters, taking the place of Grba, who took the place of Strike at first did not allow the visitors a hit in the sixth, but he was found in the seventh when he allowed a two-bagger, but the visitors failed to score.

The local Normal's only score came in the seventh when Orner scored a single, advanced to third on Jones' double, and scored on Bailey's single.

The visitors continued their scoring in the eighth by landing four runs. They were scored on five singles, a double and two sacrifices.

The C. V. Come-Back

The second game went better for the local boys as they found themselves on the long end of an 8 to 7 score at the end of the eighth inning of a scheduled seventh inning game. Bloomsburg started the fray by scoring three runs in the initial inning, but Shippensburg tied the score on three singles, a double, a stolen base and two errors. The home team nearly forged ahead when Grba was out at the plate in a close play.

Neither team did much in the second or third, but Shippensburg had the advantage over the visitors.

The Bloomsburg lads came near to crossing the rubber by the way they got men on both second and third with only one down but Grba who was in better form than in the first game, tightened up and prevented the visitors from scoring. The home team rose to the occasion and tallied once on an error, a bunt, and an over-throw.

The visitors tied the score in the fifth. The first man up was hit by a pitched ball. He was advanced to third on a double and scored on a squeeze play.

GUEST ARRIVES FOR NORMAL ANNIVERSARY

Behold our guest arrived Saturday evening to attend one of the most important social functions of the school year—The Normal Reunion Dance—and his suitcase with his very best suit, forgotten, resting comfortably in the station at Baltimore.

RECEPTION FOR SENIORS TO BE HELD TOMORROW

The annual reception given by Dr. and Mrs. Lehman to the members of the Senior class, Faculty and trustees, will be given tomorrow night at Dr. Lehman's.

Due to the unusual number of Seniors this year and the uncertain weather conditions no definite plans have been made.

The reception will begin at eight o'clock with Dr. and Mrs. Lehman and the class deans receiving.

Shippensburg again booked a tie by scoring two runs. Jones surprised every one by knocking out a "homer" with Orner on the initial sack.

The Bloomsburg boys forged ahead again by scoring three runs on a triple, a single, four errors, and a stolen base. At this time the Bloomsburg coach changed his pitcher and short-stop.

The local Nine then tied the score again. Bailey opened up with a double and scored on Eby's bunt and the Bloomsburg catcher's overthrow. The seventh inning was not marked with any scoring, but the prettiest catch ever made on the local field was made during this period.

Since the score was tie at the end of the seventh, it was necessary to prolong the game until the deciding run should be scored.

Bloomsburg was unable to score in their half of the eighth but the Shippensburg lads scored the winning run. Eby landed on first through an error and McDermitt followed suit.

Mitchell Dreese talked on "My Debt To A Good Book" at the Y. M. C. A. meeting last Sunday evening.

Mr. Dreese took the Bible as the greatest book in the world pointing out that it is the foundation of all faith and that through it people of times have found their God.

During the general discussion Dr. Lehman talked on the same subject. He asserted that books are the master thoughts of all ages and that through them we can talk to "kings and queens."

Other discussions on the question were given by George Funt, Ralph Heiges, and Mr. Moore, President of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet last year.

The meeting was closed with a prayer by Nesbit Straley.

TRAINING SCHOOL HOLDS ITS ANNUAL MAY FETE

The first of the important closing activities of the Training School was the annual May Fete held on the campus, Friday, May 25.

A large audience had gathered, made up of Normal School students, who had been dismissed early for the occasion, parents of the Training School children, and out-of-town visitors who had arrived for the annual Normal Society Anniversary entertainment which was to take place that evening.

Promptly at 3:15 o'clock the Royal Party proceeded from the Training School. First came tiny Zola Lackhove, impersonating the "Spring of May," followed by the Herald who preceded the May Queen and who was accompanied by the Maid of Honor and Ladies of the Royal Court, two of whom carried her long and much be-ruffled train. Four candlebearers bore the elaborate royal canopy, one at each flower bedecked supporting pillars. Two tiny Pages followed, after whom came the Crown Bearer, carrying the Queen's crown upon a cushion. Noteworthy in this train was the Jester in cap, bells and ruffles.

All the nations in the world had sent their best singers and dancers to the court to pay their homage to the Queen of May. Aesthetic, Danish, Italian, Irish and Indian dances; Japanese, French, Scotch, and Spanish dances; Clown dance, Flower dance, Gypsy dance, Greek dance, Dutch dance, Natural dances, Russian dance, American dance, and special features followed each other in smooth and pleasing variety, closing with the weaving of five May poles in varying color by the Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, and Seventh Grades.

The whole undertaking represented a large amount of planning, costuming, and drilling, and too much credit cannot be given to Miss Hefferman and her workers for its success.

WORLD WAR HEROES HONORED IN SPECIAL CHAPEL SERVICE

Memorial services were held at the school Wednesday morning in commemoration of the large number of students and alumni who took active part in the recent war. The student body at this time paid honor to the memory of the four young men from the school who paid the supreme sacrifice.

Outstanding poetry and popular songs of the war figured in the program. Dr. Lehman read one of the poems, "I've a Rendezvous with Death." The poems which are perhaps the best known of those that grew out of the war, "In Flanders Fields" and "America's Reply" were read by Miss Parks. Charles Pyle '25 recited "Field of the Marne" written by Frank Carbaugh '17. Mr. Carbaugh wrote this poem after he had received the wound which later caused his death.

Mr. Gilbert was in charge of the service, and conducted the opening devotions. He called upon Prof. Harley and Dr. Lehman to lead in Memorial Day prayers. In the opening exercises the student body sang "America."

Mr. Kriner gave a summary of the lives of the four men killed in service, Charles Kell '16, Arthur Noll '17, Frank Carbaugh '17 and Harry Taylor '18. Mr. Kriner, who knew these young men as students, told of the active parts they took in school affairs. He spoke of their bravery and unselfishness while serving their country. As John Mountz '23, Ralph Orner '23, and Edwin Harbaugh '24, played taps, Miss Cox and Miss McCreary decorated the bronze tablet placed in the school in honor of these four men.

Mr. Gilbert was chairman of the committee on arrangements for the service. The other members were Miss McCreary, Miss Cox, Miss Patterson and all the students who had done active service. The ex-soldiers of the student body who participated in the program were John Mountz, Roy Kriner, and Charles Pyle.

GOOD HEALTH TRIUMPHS OVER KING DISEASE

The words of the speakers could be distinctly heard by the audience. Unusual credit is due them for their ability to speak distinctly to an audience removed at such a distance.

Music for the dance was provided by an orchestra composed of girls from the four physical training classes. The school band gave a concert directly preceding the pageant. At the close of the musical number a bugle was sounded to indicate the opening of the Pageant.

The pageant was arranged and presented as an example of the correlation of the work in the Health Department of the school. Nutrition, Hygiene, and Physical Training were all combined in presenting the lot and the event. The close relationship of these subjects was clearly shown.

The pageant far surpassed the highest expectation of those who arranged it. Every number was a decided success. The whole affair beginning with the concert and concluding after every one had satisfied his hunger at the Ice Cream Booth, delighted the spectators.

The cooperation of the girls with the health department must receive recognition as the biggest factor in the evening's success.
