GRIDIRON WARRIORS TO MEET DICKINSON RESERVES

Coach Ingalls' Squad in Fine Shape for Fray

SAM ANGLE PROBABLY IN LINE-UP

After the opening game last Saturday and suffering defeat at the hands of the huge Mercersburg eleven, Capt. Gilbert and his squad will pry off the lid at home tomorrow at 2:30 o'clock on the Eckels plot when they will clash with the Dickinson College Reserves.

Coach Ingalls has given his men a strenuous set of workouts the past few days in order to set them going in A-1 condition for the fray tomorrow. Last Saturday's game was very valuable as it enabled Coach Ingalls to locate the strong and weak points of his machine. This week's practices were devoted extensively to the building up the less strong parts of the team and to the development of a more smoothly working combination. Hard scrimmages with the second team were on the program and were carried out in the fullest sense of the word.

Very little is known about the Dickinson squad but from the caliber of football that the varsity is playing this year it seems very probable that the reserve eleven will be in proportion, equally as strong. This will be the opening game of the season for the Dickinson scrubs but that is not saying much because from the amount of practice, training and scrimmage they have had with Murphy's stalwart eleven, the reserve force will be well seasoned and hardened for a stiff battle with Shippensburg. Last year the Red and Blue squad ran wild against the Dickinson Reserves by running up a score of 50 to 0 but this year it looks as though the teams will be more evenly matched.

If nothing prevents, the Band under the direction of Prof. Slyter will be out for the game. Indications point toward a record attendance for the opening home game of the season. New bleachers have been installed on the Eckels Field which will be of great value for the cheering squad.

Coach Ingalls will on all probability start the game with the same line-up as last Saturday with a few possible exceptions. "Jimmy" Smith who was sent into the Mercersburg fray at the closing minutes will likely start off the game at half while "Sammy" Angle who had his knee injured last Saturday and who was thought to be unable to play for several weeks will be back in the line-up again tomorrow at the regular post.

In interviewing Coach Ingalls and Capt. Gilbert relative to the condition of the team, the coach reports that never was the team in better shape and condition while Capt. Gilbert's only comment was that the team is in great shape and is out to win.

ARTS AND CRAFTS CLUB TO HOLD X-MAS SALE

The Arts and Crafts Club is making rapid strides in its plans for the Christmas Sale. The club has decided itself into four groups with a captain at the head of each group. She is responsible for the ordering of supplies. The four groups are: the leather tooling, which will make mats and bags; the applied art which will decorated vases and boxes; the raffian group which will make baskets and vases; and the back print group which will make calendars and personal cards.

The Club will make a collection of all the articles made between now and Christmas and will hold a large Christmas sale.

PROGRAM OF LENGTH IS PRESENTED AT NORMAL

Judges Vote in Favor of Affirmative Side of Debate

A program of considerable length was presented by Normal Literary Society, in the Training School chapel, Friday evening at 7 o'clock. Miss Nora Keefer, visiting teacher, spoke for a few minutes concerning the meaning and value of "Literary" the missing word in the Normal banner.

The question, "Resolved, That the peaceable annexation of Mexico to the United States would be advantageous to both countries," was debated affirmatively by Harry Gardner '25 and Russell Coover '25, negatively by Leah Decker '24 and Helen Dougherty '24. The Judges voted in favor of the affirmative side.

"Santa Lucia" a delightful selection by Carlos Manuel, was played on the piano by Pauletta Dugan '24. Miss Ethel McCormick '24 directed the double quartet in the preparation of "In the Gloom."

Katherine Werner '24 was unable to give the scenario "Amateur Love," scheduled for the evening's program, due to the fact that lighting fixtures and special curtains were unavailable, replaced this number by an impromptu class which consisted of a proposal, dance, song, reading and two discussions.

"Billy Brad" and the "Big Lie" the reading given by Ruth Frank '25 portrayed an imaginative youngster brought to task by a conscientious mother and a dutiful young father, because of the lad's love of fanciful story-telling. Charles Gentzler '24 showed marked original tendencies in the Gazette which he edited.

During the business meeting Harry Markley was re-elected director of the Glee Club. Mr. Markley anticipated having a glee club of high-standing this year, and expects to experiment with a new type of organization for the club.

SENIOR CLASS HOLDS BUSINESS MEETING

The Senior Class held a meeting Tuesday evening at 4:15 in the chapel.

The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the part which the Senior Class will play on the Arbor Day program. After a discussion the president, Mr. Slothower, appointed a committee of five, who will arrange for a suitable program for the annual Arbor Day celebration. This committee consists of: Miss Shirk, chairman; Mr. Sheets, Miss Minehart, Mr. Coover, Miss Altland.

As many of the Seniors have just come to Normal School this year, the question of rings and pins was then taken up. The president announced that Miss Reba Shue would take orders from any of the Seniors who desire a ring or a pin.

A committee of three was also appointed to select a pennant for the class and to submit the same to the class for approval. On this committee are: Miss Dugan, chairman; Miss Brenneman, Miss Sara Rider.

The committee appointed to select the tree for Arbor Day are: Mr. Funk, chairman; Miss Mower and Miss Baylor.

REV. EMMERT SPEAKS AT PRAYER MEETING

Rev. Emmert of the Church of the Brethren spoke to the students and faculty at the mid-week prayer meeting. The substance of his remarks was based on the inner struggle that goes on within our lives and our reactions to the influences surrounding us.

The closing thought was that the radiation from our hearts reveal whether or not the voices around us are as thunder crashes of despair and disappointment or as the angel's voice of peace and joy.

HALLOWE'EN SOCIAL IS BIG EVENT OF YEAR

Rewards to Be Given for Best Costumes

MANY UNIQUE EVENTS PLANNED

The next big feature in school society will be the Hallowe'en Social to be held in the Gymnasium Saturday 27, at 7 o'clock. The social is to be a masquerade affair. The individual having the least expensive and best looking costume will receive a prize. The individual having the most comic costume will be awarded a prize also.

Mr. Wingert of Chambersburg will bring a six piece orchestra of high caliber which will keep the ghosts on their toes. Weird notes will bring the masked figures into the line for the grand march past competent judges after they have gotten the thrills of the underworld.

Ghost stories will be told; witches will sing; black cats will roam the walls; stunts of an uncanny character will be performed; every noise, movement and shadow will make you shiver.

In addition to the excitement a barrel of cider will be tapped; ginger bread will be served; candy and red apples will be on every hand.

Any one who desires to send home for a uniform please do so at once. Costumes worn by the girls must be shown to Miss Arnold for her approval before Saturday morning, Oct. 27. The boys will present their uniforms to Mr. Gilbert for his approval. It will be dangerous to stay in your room that night.

SENIOR GIRLS TO HAVE THEIR FIRST NIGHT OUT

Girls Given Privileges at Special Meeting

A special faculty meeting was called Wednesday evening at 7:30 in the Training School Chapel, because of the contemplated absence of Dr. Ezra Lehman who expects to be attending the Dauphin County Institute at the time of the regular meeting.

Various matters of importance were discussed such as deficiency reports, duties of faculty advisors, excusing of students from study periods and matters pertaining to the discipline of the school.

Miss Edna Arnold, Dean of Women, presented a petition signed by the Senior girls of the school for special privileges. The girls were granted the privilege of going to church in groups of four, unchaperoned and also of going to town to the moving picture show one Saturday night a month with young men.

FACULTY HOLDS FIRST ORGANIZED CLUB MEETING

The first organized meeting of the Faculty Club was held Tuesday evening, October 9. Dr. Lehman presided at the meeting and also at the discussions. The question for the meeting was: "The Short Story as a Form of Modern Literature." A continuation of this question will be carried throughout the year.

Dr. Lehman read, "The Snake Doctor" by Irvin S. Cobb, as it appeared in the "Cosmopolitan" Magazine. After the reading, a general discussion was held. This discussion was followed by the reading of "The Dark City" by Conrad Aikon.

A SUM

Presence at the game Saturday, plus an overflowing quantity of pep, plus a share in the cheering, plus the good work of the team, equals a victory for C. V. S. N. S. Will YOUR sum bring that result?

IMPROMPTU CLASS BIG SUCCESS AT PHILO MEETING

New Methods of Discussion Developed by Mr. Smith

Anything from "heavy" debates to "light" proposals of marriage was to be found in the impromptu class taught by Miriam Embick '24, last Friday night in Philo Literary Society which was held in Main chapel.

The dancing and winsomeness of Betty Minehart '24 and Roy Funk's '24 susceptibility to her charms, made a very attractive Special Musical Feature. Another number which was given in an unusual manner was the Philo Review edited by Marion Emerick '24. The paper took the form of a meeting of the Alumni Society of Philomatheans held twenty years from 1923. By means of reports and exchanges of scandal the society obtained current events of the world, the school and the jokes on its inmates.

Clair Smith '24 started a new method of delivering a discussion by not discussing at all but by laying the topic for discussion open to the Society. The question "The Advisability of the Society Meeting Alternately," has been discussed before and many of the members took part whole-heartedly in the fray.

Sophia T. Reiter related Mark Twain's widely read story, "The Death Disk."

A male quartet in charge of Wallis McKendree '25, sang "Belinda Clarissa." Mr. McKendree has been in charge of many musical numbers and is capable of presenting excellent ones. Romayne Miller '24 played a piano solo. Miss Miller is a student of Mrs. Hale and has appeared on concert programs.

The officers for the next four weeks have been elected and they are: George Robinson '24, President; Ernest Kennedy '25, Vice President; Mary Burgoon '24, Secretary; Miriam Embick '24, Critic. The curators are: Genevieve Mitchell '25, Harriet Rhine '25, and Swirles Himes '25. Miss Robb, the visiting teacher commended the society on its excellent program and urged the society to put the new members on its future programs, so that they too, may get the necessary training and literary work.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT WILL COACH SOCIETY PLAYS

Miss Carrie Belle Parks, head of the English Department, met both Philo and Normal play committees Monday, for the purpose of discussing and acquainting the committees with her plan of work for the semester.

Miss Parks has offered the assistance of her department in coaching one play each month for the societies, provided the one play be in charge entirely of the members of the committee. Both committees will hold separate meetings every Wednesday morning at 7:45. One "cut" a semester will be allowed and persons over-cutting will be asked to resign from the committee.

The first Normal play will have the assistance of Miss Parks and Miss Slaven. Philo will be given the aid of Prof. Pennington, in the preparation of its first presentation.

CHORAL CLUB SINGS FOR CHAPEL SERVICE

Due to the absence of Dr. Lehman, Dr. Heiges had charge of the chapel service this Thursday morning. A special number was presented by the Girls' Choral Club. Two numbers were sung: "Under the Linden Tree" by Franz Schubert, and "Bendemeer's Stream" by Moore. After the singing of the songs Wallis McKendree '25 led the assembly in songs and cheers.

MERCERSBURG ACADEMY DEFEATS SCHOOL ELEVEN

Shippensburg Warriors Hold Line During First Canto

CAPT. GILBERT HARD FIGHTER

The fast Red and Blue eleven, in their opening game of the season, battled with an were defeated, 30 to 0, by the giant Mercersburg squad last Saturday on the Blue and White gridiron. Both teams put up a stubborn fight from the kickoff until the final ending. Mercersburg opened the contest by kicking off to Shippensburg, who advanced the ball to their 40-yard line. From that time on both elevens clashed with might and main back and forth across the field but each failing to tally. Ten seconds before the close of the first half when Hadley, husky star quarter back of the Blue and White, grabbed the pigskin and dashed off around right and for the initial touchdown. Whitmer kicked a successful goal for the "Mac" team.

Coach Ingalls' machine outplayed the Academy lads in the first half most of their gains being made by end runs. Shippensburg's line held up wonderfully against the tremendous weight of the Blue and White's "Boots" Shuler, veteran pivot man for the Red and Blue squad was forced to retire in the second quarter due to an injured eye, but assumed his regular job at the opening of the second chapter.

Mercersburg started the second session with a terrible onslaught through Shippensburg's line which was unable to stand the strain any longer. The Blue and White eleven were given little resistance by the Shippensburg giants in the third quarter and they were permitted to cross the goal twice and register both successfully kicked goals.

The fourth quarter was again opened up with smashing line plunges mixed with aerial attacks which were not so very effective. The McCormick machine was constantly being replaced by new men which added a great deal of strength to the hammering campaign. The Mercersburg aggregation again crossed the line and also kicked a goal from the field which netted 14 points in the final stanza. The fourth canto was marked, however, by the fact that Capt. Gilbert's outfit got together and held "Mac" McCormick's eleven on the one-yard line with a few seconds to play.

Sammy Angle flashy quarterback for the Red and Blue featured in the game with his end runs. Angle had his knee hurt in the first quarter and was handicapped considerably towards the close. Capt. Gilbert played a great game at guard, both on the offense and defense. "Jimmy" Smith, half-back, who has been out on account of an injured shoulder, was replaced in the last part of the fray at half and made a number of sensational gains and tackles.

The perfect football weather last Saturday brought out a large crowd to the game. The Shippensburg side line was filled while the Mercersburg bleachers were packed to the capacity.

AN OLD SONG

You've had it sung at you in a mild manner in the grades; you've listened to it being sung during your career in high school. Perhaps you have even joined in on the chorus in a half hearted sort of way. Oh yes, it is a good enough song, but let John sing it. Yes it is an old song. You have listened to its melody until the sound of the very first chord brings a look of patient endurance to your countenance.

But, as the sign at the dangerous railroad crossing commands you, "Stop, Look and Listen" a moment! In the long run it is the old song that is the prettiest. It is the old song that stands the wear of the years. It is the old song entitled, School Spirit, but this year the old words are put to new music.

You are insisting that you know the words. That is you know them when you are "talking" School Spirit to your friends in the corridor; but when you are on the football field, they seem to have strangely slipped your memory. The cheer leader performs the contortions peculiar to his trade, but when he lifts his baton you to sing the old song, you are mute, showing your School Spirit is not just a matter of talk! It is attending every game and cheering for our team. It is backing every proposition which is offered for the success of the school, not only in athletics, but in all school activities.

OUR CHEERING

Cheering is that machine employed by student bodies to infuse its representatives upon the field of battle with hope, with encouragement. It urges them to put forth the best that is in them in one more effort, the effort that brings the laurel wreath to rest upon their brows.

There are two kinds of cheering machines upon the market of school spirit today. One is the machine that is geared to exhilarate the team. It has a well oiled smoothly running engine. Its motor does not have that uneven chug-chug-chug-a-puff-and-then-it-stops kind of sound, and it runs straight along from the steady hum of the ignition to the roar of the perfectly running engine. It is the machine that has been tested repeatedly and at regular intervals in the factory, the four walls of the school, before it has been put upon the market of School Spirit.

The other kind of machine is the one that was put upon the market without any factory test or else very inefficient ones. To be sure it runs splendidly for the first mile or so, but it soon begins to fall to pieces. Here at this corner of the gridiron lays a portion of the engine. Across the lines with the enemy lays another piece while on the grandstand there is yet another part. The machine without all of its parts cannot operate successfully. It cannot animate its football team. The cheering machine has failed at the final test because it has not been tested repeatedly in the school factory.

What kind of a machine are we going to put upon the market this year? Is our engine going to fall to pieces on the football field, because it has not been tested sufficiently in the school? Is it not possible to have a regular stated time that such tests may be given to the machine of C. V. S. N. S.? Surely no one would object forfeiting an hour of time a week (after dinner for instance) for this purpose. Could not the chapel be used and attendance be made compulsory as in any classroom activity? Truly, it is necessary for the entire student body to get together at least once a week to work up its cheering and tryout new efforts. A practice other than during a football game and at some general assembly is essential for the improvement of the cheering at C. V. S. N. S.

Here is some oil for our engine from the faculty.

If all the students of C. V. S. N. S. would go to the football field, in the day of the game, primarily to help win the game, not merely to be amused or "thrilled;" if they would cheer to encourage the players, not simply to relieve their own feelings; if they would learn, perfectly, the words of the yells and songs, and then give them with vigor, following their cheer leader as they would their Glee Club director; in short, if they all feel personally responsible for a definite important bit of work at the games, we would have real cheering at C. V. S. N. S.

E. Arnold.

A football player needs pep and school spirit to put all he has into a game. At the beginning of a game he is usually supplied. When he is bruised, discouraged and losing, he needs some outside influence to keep him fighting. The outside influence is the individual presence of every member of the school joining with the group in praising the home team, when it is winning and urging them—when they are against the wall. If you can't play football, you can press the button that puts fight in the man who can play.

L. Gilbert.

KAMPUS KWERIES

What Is The Junior High Group?

The Junior High School Group, marked in the catalogue as group three, is made up of about twenty-five students who stand alone as a special class of '25. They entered C. V. S. N. S. and were forced to decide this year whether they would join forces with the present juniors or form a separate organization. The group decided in favor of the latter, and proceeded to elect officers. The junior high school group will put out a year book in partnership with the junior class. Definite arrangements as to the division of labor, space and financial aid have not yet been made. The new class will have a representation on class day and in all respects will be marked as an individual body. The new officers are: President, Wallis McKendree; Vice President, William Hudson; Secretary, Ruth Frank; Treasurer, John Harris; Historian, Helen Miller.

What Is Feed Night?

Every other Friday night is "feed night" the time when the inmates of the girls' dormitory receive an hour of extra light for the sole purpose of feasting. The menus are composed of anything and everything and the guests eat, drink and are as merry as house rules permit. "Feed Night" is an institution dear to the hearts of C. V. S. N. S. Girls, and families are never more popular than ever when they make a valuable contribution for the occasion.

What Is The Boarding Men's Association?

This high sounding title is the name of the Boys' Student Council. The Council is composed of three officers and one representative from each class and each corridor. The Council has charge of order in the Boys' Dormitory and all questions of personal conduct of the boys which should arise. The officers are: President, Clifford Smith; Secretary, Wallis McKendree; Treasurer, John Harris.

Why is there so much noise during Y. W. C. A. meetings on Sunday evenings?

Girls come back to school on Sunday evenings and forgetting about the services going on in the court, rush up to their rooms and celebrate their return. It is not because they would intentionally disturb the Y. W. C. A. meeting but is largely due to carelessness. If the girls coming back to school would try to remember that there are devotional exercises in progress from 6:00 to 6:30 and make an effort to be quiet the Y. W. C. A. would appreciate it very much for the meeting would be able to continue much more effectively.

DAY STUDENTS TO HOLD DOG PARTY MONDAY AFTERNOON

Last Tuesday the Day Student boys held a meeting to prepare for the annual "Dog party." The initiation will be held Monday evening at 4:15 due to the fact that the boarding men do not care to join with the Day Students in one big initiation. The old day student boys are going around with mysterious looks on their faces and these looks brood no good for the new boys, who are beginning to get shaky in their knees. In past years the fellows who were initiated felt pretty good after they left the gym as they were given eats, but this year there will be no eats. There won't be any chance for the fellows to become cheerful again, but instead they will leave the gym on stretchers.

The committees in charge of the initiation are as follows:

Committee of plans:
 McElhane, chairman; Gabler, McCulloch, Prof. Gilbert, Prof. Krebs.
 Committee of Preparation:
 Eby, chairman; Mathna, Barbour, Prof. Grove, Prof. Pennington.

Both committees are working hard and are preparing "real" stunts for the party.

New students, "Beware the Ides of October."

REFLECTIONS

THE SIX O'CLOCK HIKE

The girls came singing along the way
 At six o'clock in the morning.
 The songs they sang were light and gay
 At six o'clock in the morning.

But the girls, themselves were sleepy,
 'tis said
 And a long rope was used by one co-ed
 To pull another fair maid from her bed.
 At six o'clock in the morning.

Though the air was crisp and very cold
 At six o'clock in the morning.

No men were present their hands to hold
 At six o'clock in the morning.

As on they hiked with merry tread
 Some succumbed to a cold in the head
 And others had noses exceedingly red,
 At six o'clock in the morning.

Oh! There's nothing so jolly as taking a hike
 At six o'clock in the morning.

It's much more exciting than riding a bike
 At six o'clock in the morning.

Though all were hungry, quite hungry I fear,
 And one of them fell in the fall of the year,
 We'll all go again, if you'll join us,
 My dear,
 At six o'clock in the morning.

Oh! There's nothing so jolly as taking a hike

Y. W. C. A. CONDUCTS IMPORTANT MEETING

The Y. W. C. A. which met in the Court of the girls' dormitory last Sunday evening was in charge of Ruth Frank '25. The program contained speeches from all the heads of the different Committees which are connected with the organization.

The Committees with their chairmen are as follows:

Missionary—Katherine Lehr '24
 Program—Clara Sipe '24
 Membership—Dorothy Weaver '24
 Social—Eliza Lee Russel '25
 Bible Study—Ruth Wharman '24
 Publicity—Grace Filler '24
 Community Service—Ethel Warfel '24

Within a week, girls will be chosen to work under the leadership of the persons mentioned. A Piano solo, "Bercuese" from "Jocelyn" by Benjamin Godard was played by Dorothy Emerick '24. Mildred Brenneman '24 read the 121st Psalm.

A Cabinet meeting was called for 9:15 Sunday evening. The officers after discussing the advisability of sending candidates to the institute for the leaders of voluntary Bible Study and discussion groups among students, to be held at the Harrisburg Y. W. C. A. Saturday and Sunday, November 3rd and 4th voted in favor of sending at least three delegates as representatives from Shippensburg Normal.

Plans were made for the "Candle Light Service" which will be held Sunday evening at 6 o'clock, in the Training School Chapel. The new members will be welcomed into the organization at this meeting.

PHILO DRAMATIC COMMITTEE HOLDS FIRST MEETING

The outlook for dramatics is very promising indeed for Philo. There is much new talent in the society and the dramatic committee is much pleased with the prospects.

The committee composed of Wallis McKendree, chairman, Louise Swartz, Helen Miller and Clair Smith, held its first meeting on Wednesday morning in room 51 when plans were made to present a play in society on Friday, 19th.

The play chosen is "Seven O'clock" written by a member of Philo. The cast which was picked last week is composed largely of new members.

All plays produced in Philo this semester will be in charge of the committee. The Society is indebted to Miss Parks and Mr. Pennington who in conjunction with the committee will coach the plays.

THE BEST BOOK CONTEST

Again the Campus Reflector is calling your attention to the ten best books contest which is going on under the direction of Miss Parks. The contest is one which all students should be desirous of entering without a great deal of encouraging or compulsion on the part of the faculty, as the contest lends itself to the individual gain of the contestant. Not only will you secure one of the ten best books, but you will have the pleasure of "living" your ten favorite books over again. You like to tell your friends what you like and why you like them. The Campus Reflector is one of your best friends. Why not tell it what ten books above all others you prefer to read? We invite your communication.

Rules of the game are being quoted again for your benefit.

1. Contest closes October 19, 1923.
2. Letters must be written to the editor of the Campus Reflector; theme paper must be used; names must be signed; number of words must be stated at bottom of letters.
3. Letters are to give lists of the ten books preferred and reasons for preference; letters must be between 250 and 400 words in length.
4. One of the ten best books selected will be given as a prize for the best letter with the best selection of books.

GIRLS TO HIKE ON RESERVOIR HILL ROAD

Louise Swartz '24, head of hiking has announced that the road leading to Reservoir Hill will be used by the hikers at 10:30 A. M. Saturday. Miss Loretta Hefferman, hiking advisor and Miss Claudia Robb, advisor of the G. A. A., will accompany the girls. The breakfast hike is scheduled for the following Saturday.

These hikes are the means of bringing together the old and new girls and great companionship and friendliness has developed among the hikers. All the girls are urged to join the squad on the hikes.

JAMES SMITH ELECTED PRESIDENT OF JUNIOR CLASS

The first meeting of the Junior class was called Tuesday at 12:45 P. M. in room 53 to elect officers. The meeting was called by Ralph Swan, president pro tem. A large representation of the two hundred Juniors was present.

The officers elected were: Pres., James Smith; Vice President, Ralph Swan; Sec., Margaret Taylor and Treas., Mabel Frank. These officers were elected for one year.

Y. M. C. A. MEETING WELL ATTENDED ON SUNDAY EVENING

The weekly Sunday evening Y. M. C. A. meeting held in room 54 was addressed by Claude Melott '25. Mr. Melott's subject was, "Student Honor on the Campus and Corridor."

"Friendship, conduct and returning good for evil are factors which lend themselves to the building up of honor," Mr. Melott stated, "while anger and profanity tear it down."

Wilson Dodd '24 cited proverbs 26: 1 as a reference to honor. Dr. Heiges also discussed the question in brief.

FIRST DEBATE OF YEAR TO BE HELD AT PHILO

The much discussed question, Resolved that the Ku Klux Klan should be prohibited by state and national law, will be debated in Philo tonight. The question should be of vital interest to every student—especially since the Klan is trying to organize in Shippensburg. The question will be debated affirmatively by Swirls Himes '25 and Mary Hollaway '24 and negatively by Helen Miller '25 and Peggy Lehman '25.

Mary Edwards '25 is booked for a recitation. Florence Nicodemus '24 is in charge of the topic of the day. Knowing Miss Nicodemus's ability as we do a splendid report can be expected. Corbin Pennington '24 will give an oration. The subject is "The Value of Free Ideals." Mr. John Miller '25 is in charge of the Philo Review. Mr. Miller has not had a chance as yet to display his talent but a good review is expected. It will portray the school life in the Boys' Dorm besides containing the usual current events, school news, etc.

Miss Jean Swope '24 is chairman of the instrumental music. Under her direction there will be a violin duet. They will play several Southern melodies. Eleanor Coons '24 will sing "O! Wondrous Flower O' Mine."

FIRST MOVIE PROGRAM IS VERY WELL ATTENDED

Charlie Chaplin and Jackie Coogan Star in "The Kid"

"The Kid," featuring the well known comedian, "Charlie Chaplin," assisted by "Jackie" Coogan, juvenile actor, entertained a large gathering of the student body on Saturday evening in the chapel auditorium. "Buster" Keaton, as usual, performed his funny antics in the special comedy feature, "Love Laugh at Locksmiths." "Jackie" Coogan played the part of "The Kid." When a baby, "The Kid" had been deserted by its unwedded mother and was carried off to a place in the country by two ruffians where it was left beside an ash barrel. Here it was found by a man who proved to be its benefactor. The part of the benefactor was played by Charlie Chaplin. During the five years that he kept "The Kid," its mother and father obtained wealth and position and decided upon marriage if they could find their son.

In the meantime, the mother became interested in the child, whose identity was unknown to her. About this time, "The Kid" became ill, and its benefactor, in order to avoid having the child taken to a charity hospital escaped with him to a cheap boarding house. When next the mother visited her child, she found him gone, but in searching for a clue as to his whereabouts, discovered the note she had left with her deserted baby, and realized that "The Kid" was her own son.

Frantic, to have the child, she calls on the police to aid in the search and offers a thousand dollars reward for his safe return. The boarding house keeper, in hopes of receiving the reward, stole "The Kid" as he was sleeping with his benefactor and hurried away with him. His disappearance was at once discovered, however, and "Charlie Chaplin" reached the police station in time to claim the reward as his own, while "The Kid" was reclaimed by his long lost mother.

"Buster" Keaton in "Love Laughs at a Locksmith" represented a young man, endeavoring to become a successful business man in order to marry "the girl." As a furniture dealer, he created lots of laughter and the comedy ended with having him pursued by half the town, after having innocently cast a lighted bomb in their midst.

FLIRTATIOUS SONG AND DANCE AT NORMAL

Normal Society Has Planned Big Program

The Normal Literary Society which convenes in the chapel of the main building, 7 o'clock this evening, has planned an interesting musical and literary program.

Dorothy Weaver '24 will introduce with the help of eight boys and girls, a Flirtatious song and dance, while a piano solo will be played by Helen Rider '25, who is one of the new Normalites. The Normal Quartet substituting for the Glee Club, will sing two new selections. The Glee Club, under the directorship of Harry Markley, expects to appear before the society at the next meeting.

Glenn Bailey '25 has planned a discussion on "School Spirit" which will fit in closely with the spirit the school is trying to arouse in the students at the present time. A reading will be given by Sue Stoner '24 and an oration by Walter Strike '25.

The special feature is in charge of Sara Young '24, who is a very talented young lady having won various literary prizes during the years spent at the Harrisburg Central High School. Plans for this number have been guarded carefully. Mabel Smith '24 will close the program by reading the Gazette.

GIRLS' EARLY HIKE PROVES SUCCESSFUL

Saturday morning, shortly before the town clock struck six, Miss Robb, followed by seventy fair co-eds, started on the first early morning hike of the season. The leader took the girls out Queen Street, turned down the pike which led past the township school, wound over the hill and finally brought the girls to the concrete bridge that crosses the C. V. railroad tracks about two miles from town.

Here the hiking party halted; all joined in songs and yells before the girls started on the road which led to breakfast and rest. Although all the girls were hungry and a few said they were tired, everybody gave three cheers when it was announced that in two weeks, there would be a breakfast hike.

PROF. HARLEY, ADDRESSES TEACHERS' CLUB

The value of the Teachers' Club to the Community was the theme of Prof. Harley's talk to the Teachers' Club of the Training School last Friday morning. The first benefit of the club is to the individuals. All efforts should be bent toward the bettering of the individuals. Besides this, however, the club can be of great value to the community by organizing activities of the young people, planning interesting programs for Friday evenings, by chaperoning and advising them at their dances, by organizing Parent Teachers' Associations, by establishing public libraries in the schools, by helping put on campaigns of education-launching loans for new buildings and school improvements, by giving their endorsements. These are a few of the many ways such a club can benefit the community in which it is working.

Miss Weaver favored the club with a violin solo.
The constitution was read and adopted by the club, after which an election of officers was held. Mr. Dodd was elected president; Mr. Sheets, Vice-President and Miss Miller, Secretary.

JUNIOR RED CROSS CLUBS

"I Serve," Motto of Each Member

Each grade of the intermediate department of the Training School has organized a Junior Red Cross Club this term. The Clubs were organized under the supervision of the teachers. Each club elected its own officers.

The motto of the Junior Red Cross is, "I Serve." To become a member of The Red Cross each child must perform some service for which he receives a small sum of money. This money is brought into the treasury of the club and the child tells of the service he has done. Then his name is put on the club roll which hangs in the class room. Fifty cents is sent to the National Headquarters and the Clubs is enrolled in a National Roll. For the fifty cents, they received the Red Cross calendar and the monthly magazine, "Junior Red Cross News." Each child has the opportunity of reading this interesting magazine.

Through the year the children in keeping with their motto send baskets of food to poor people, fruit or flowers to their sick class mates and try to be of service wherever they can.

ACTION OF STUDENT BOARDS OF INTEREST TO STUDENTS

Actions in the dining room were reprimanded by the Girls' Student Council at a meeting last Monday night. The students have been disregarding the simplest matters of table etiquette.

Attention was called to the fact that dancing in down-town stores is being widely criticized and the council asks that all girls refrain from dancing when they are in the drug-stores.

The council also, asks for the co-operation of the girls in the use of the privilege of visiting between 7:00 P. M. and 8:30 P. M. This privilege is primarily for those people who wish to work together and not for social gatherings.
