VOL 4—No. 8

Dean's List Is Released, 58 Students Have B Average

The Dean's list of honor students—those having an average of B or better in all of their classes—was released recently from that office for publication in The Spectator.

The list, embracing 58 names, is the first to be compiled for publication in Edinboro. To be included in the "B average" group a student had to have all B's, or in case of a C on the card, he had to have a balancing A in a course of equivalent credit.

The idea is by no means novel to Edinboro. A number of the other teachers Colleges have had the idea in vogue for some time, and it is a common feature in most liberal arts colleges. The reason for not compiling a Dean's List at Edinboro before was the fact that under our grading system one is hard to manage. Where a system of numbers is used, the student's grades can be figured to the fraction of a point, and all those getting an average of 2.0 or 3.0, whichever the case may be, or better can be ranked in order of their position. The only distinction given in Edinboro's Dean's List is between the straight A and the straight B student. Eleanor Ghering, senior resident (Continued on Page Four)

Thespians Present "Quality Street"

Soon after Easter vacation the Dramatic Club will present "Quality Street," an outstanding play written by the noted author, Barrie, which they are able to present only after extensive dickering by our adviser.

The play is under the supervision of Miss Jane Stearns Ludgate, with Cliff Donnell acting in the capacity of assistant director. With its splendid cast, its colorful setting, done by Frank Brown, and its costumes of the 1900's the play should certainly be a good evening's entertainment.

The students are to be taxed a very low price of twenty-five cents, because only under these conditions can the play be a financial success. We would like to continue the year giving the students free tickets, but by doing during the Tournament of plays we have depleted our treasury. Hence it is a matter of merely a little amount of money for a wonderful play, we are sure the students will back us up in making this play a success in every way.

Because the presentation of this play is to be a difficult enterprise, it will be necessary to have the cooperation of the entire student body to make it a "financial success"—a financial success at Edinboro being breaking even.

Will Rose Leads Forum

Mr. Will Rose, of Cambridge Springs, recent candidate for Congress in the Crawford-Erie county district, led our Forum discussion on Friday morning, March 12.

Mr. Rose introduced the discussion: "When you sell your services, are you willing to sell your mind, are you willing to sell your convictions, when you sell your services? . . . College students are approaching the time when they are ready to sell their thoughts to the world."

He compared the chances of an ambitious college student in the growing small town with the chance he has in gaining his start in the "large metropolitan center", defending the opportunities of the small town. In case the graduate finds a position in a city he is apt to lose his individuality in the large organization which he finds there. Several references were made in connection with the better opportunities of a teacher.

At the end of a brief introduction, Mr. Rose sought the opinion of the people present as to success either in the city or in the small town. Most of these people were small towners, resulting in little sentiment expressed in favor of the large city.

A new figure to most of the student body, Mr. Rose left an impression of a person well versed in economics, pedagogy, and newspaper work. His answers to various remarks betrayed deep thinking and wide reading.

"G" Man Speaks

J. O. Franz, Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Pittsburgh district, spoke to the students Monday morning at a special assembly.

His topic, "Law Enforcement," dealt with the work of the F. B. I. in the prevention of crime and the apprehension of criminals.

He stressed the fact that out of over three million criminals in the United States, seven hundred thousand are under voting age. In connection with this, he also stressed the place of the teacher in the suppression of youthful criminals.

Franz's appearance here was under the auspices of the Chi Delta Sigma fraternity.

EASTER VACATION

Easter vacation will commence on Thursday, March 25, at the conclusion of the last class, and the classes will resume sessions on Tuesday, March 31, at noon.

Earl Spicer, Concert, Radio Star, To Close Course Wednesday

By Clara Harrington

On Wednesday evening, March 24, Earl Spicer, baritone singer, will appear as guest artist on the Lecture-Entertainment Program.

Mr. Spicer, who now holds a high place among the singers of today, has experienced a rapid rise. He spent his boyhood on a farm in Acadia. After college he set out from Europe in search of a career. In spite of numerous setbacks, he has achieved his present position.

Praise has been accorded his splendid voice by many noted personalities, including the conductors of the Queens Hall Symphony Orchestra, the London Symphony, and the London Choral Society. Following his appearance in America, he began immediately to establish a reputation here equal to that achieved in Europe. He has appeared with the Cincinnati, New York and Toronto Symphony Orchestras, the Bach Cantata Society of New York, Boston Handel and Haydn Society, and the Mendelssohn Choir Festival in Toronto. He has twice been engaged by Albert Stoessel to sing at the Chautauqua Festival. The radio audiences of both Britain and America are familiar with his voice.

Mr. Spicer has been described as being a skilful builder of programs and possesses an enormous repertoire of songs, oratorios, and operas. His appearance here, which will conclude the lecture-entertainment program for the year, is being looked forward to as a fitting conclusion to a praise worthy series.

Raiders Finish Season Strong

The Red Raiders, coming back after an early season slump which allowed them to lose five straight games, won six of the last seven contests to top off a more or less disastrous court season in a fitting manner and mark up a .571 percentage standing for the entire season.

Edinboro, after defeating the Ohio College of Chiropody and the alumni by sizeable scores, lost five straight games before breaking into the win column against Fredonia Normal of New York.

The Harrison men, taking six of the last seven games, lost only to Slippery Rock by a six-point margin after a particularly rough battle on the home court. This defeat was later avenged when Edinboro visited Slippery Rock and won a 41-37 battle to climax the season with a victory.

BUILDING PROGRAM

"The building programs for the State Teachers Colleges," according to Dr. Ross, "which are under the General State Authority acts, are now in the process of development at Harrisburg. It is hoped that in the next few weeks a definite announcement will be made as to what buildings will be constructed at each of the State Teachers Colleges.

"It is reasonably certain that Edinboro will be granted funds for the construction of a training school and a modern gymnasium. There will also be funds for modernizing some of the present buildings."

ATTENDS CONFERENCE

Dr. Carmon Ross, president, attended the twenty-fourth annual meeting of Schoolmen's Week at the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week.

Schoolmen's Week is the meeting of educators from the southeastern district of the Pennsylvania State Education Association.

ABOUT RULES IN GENERAL

Edinboro, erstwhile school of few rules, has seen, during the current year, many additions to the relatively small list of rules that were in effect during the year 1935-36. Last year Edinboro prided itself with a list of rules and regulations much smaller than the present list. In spite of this relatively small list, the college went along in a smooth manner, with no flagrant violations of good college custom being prevalent. Since that time there have been new regulations laid down in almost every campus activity—house rules, radio rules, dancing rules, and numerous other rules. Students, in general, are opposed to these, and it is not uncommon to hear opinions in the negative voiced wherever students gather. One of the most repeated of these opinions is: "We don't like the idea of being treated like children instead of college students, who should be able to govern themselves in a fitting manner." Another frequently heard statement is: "What is the purpose of a co-operative council? Does that body have any opportunity to approve the rules that are to regulate the customs of the students it represents?" From this it would seem that students have firm ground to stand on in their opposition.

ABOUT ENFORCEMENT OF RULES

Bells are an important factor in the enforcement of the regulations. The campus bell, which, besides marking the beginning and ending of classes, is the timetable for the evening program, is frequently rung at the wrong time. Several boys and girls were scored the other evening for dancing after the campus bell had rung, when in reality it was just 7:30, radio time—the bell had chimed out 7:30 at the early hour of about 7:20. The boys were somewhat embarrassed by this mistake. Things like that, insignificant perhaps, stimulate ill-feeling on the part of the students.

LET'S GO BACK

With no harm done to the harmonious running of the college, it seems that we could re-assume the more liberal rules and regulations that were in vogue during the school year 1935-36, and Edinboro could re-capture the pride it took in pointing to its few rules and regulations.

With the S. F. C. Council

James Hale was elected as chairman of the S. F. C. Council to fill the vacancy left by the expiration of the term of office of Neil Peiffer. Martin Schweller was re-elected to serve the remainder of the term as vice-chairman.

At the suggestion of the E Club in the form of a petition, a committee was appointed to investigate and act on the advisability of freshman rules for next year and the years following. The committee will report at the next meeting.

A committee was also appointed to edit and publish the handbook for next year. This is to be done by the close of the school year this spring.

FACULTY NOTES

Mr. Bates spoke at a meeting of the Fairview P. T. A. on March 10. Dr. Crawford was a speaker at a like meeting in North East on March 4.

Mr. Mallory was heard by the members of the McLallen Corners P. T. A. early in the month.

Dr. Ross is planning to attend a meeting of the Board of Presidents of the fourteen State Teachers Colleges in Harrisburg on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week.

Miss Florence Kunkel addressed the Business and Professional Women's Club of Meadville in that city on Monday of this week.

H. S. TOURNEY IN GYM

Many of the students from Erie and Crawford counties are looking forward to the class B tournament to be staged by Edinboro High School in the college gym on Friday and Saturday, March 19 and 20.

High schools that will be represented in the tourney will be Edinboro, McKean, Waterford, Randolph, Linesville and Saegerstown.

Reeder Snooze

Well, the Reeder Hall program assembly went over with a bang guess. It's not often that we find many distinguished artists featured in one performance. Anyway, originators and performers deserve a lot of credit for their time and effort. No doubt everyone noticed the ditches and piles of iron pipe around the campus. They say that the manager is planning to enlarge and improve Camp Haven.

A good way to get a pair of beautiful striped socks or a good shirt is to get to the laundry room first on Wednesday. First come, first served.

Professor VanSlyke certainly is dignified in a suit and professional attitude....Mr. Tex (Gable) Boers recently topped the list of movie stars in popularity among the ladies. If you want any ashes hauled, see W.Mrs. Forness and her new flame seen together quite a bit lately.

Under the able management of Henry (Shell Shock) Kirschner, Reeder Art Gallery is putting on exhibit of works done by prominent Reeder artists.

Mrs. Forness lost her master key. Mrs. Forness found her master key.

Gone With the Wind

By Paul Freeman

Since so many of our fellow students are reading, or have read the popular book, I think that this would be an advisable time for bringing the subject of books.

Speaking of books, you no doubt know that there is a condition existing in our library whereby numerous volumes have "Gone with the wind." By this I am referring to the books missing from our library. As a matter of fact, these self-same books have been lost, misplaced, troeyed, sold, or what have you to our students.

Why not give someone else a chance of using these books? Since two weeks time is sufficient for one to read a novel, reference book or biography. If you have any of these missing books, won't you bring them back to the library. Don't forget that books, too, have homes there is nothing they like better to rest on their respective shelves in the library after they have been there for a long time.

In conclusion may I add that instead of "Gone with the wind" we shall be proud to say that books in our library are "Brought back the breeze".

W. A. A.

Winter tournaments and varsity basketball have held the W. A. A. spotlight for the last three weeks. Varsity members are Kruszka, Ghering, Gilbert, Korb, G. Glass, Samkowski, Holmes, Luke, Fuller, Duncan, and Thompson. The first game of the season, played at Mercyhurst, was a hectic affair in which our team lost 22 to 45, but they are hoping to even the score when Mercyhurst comes here March 17. Our girls also met Thiel College on the Greenville floor last Saturday.

Nearly every girl in school has been active either as a player or spectator at the tournaments. Phi-Delta basketball was the first event, each society having four teams. The scores resulting from these games were: Blue teams—Phi 13, Delt 7; Red—Phi 12, Delt 49; Gold—Phi 13, Delt 23; Grey—Phi 33, Delt 16. After these games teams were chosen for interclass play. Results of these si. games were: Fresh. 17—Soph. 26; Fresh. 9—Jr. 12; Fresh. 24—Sr. 35; Soph. 28—Jr. 16; Soph. 43—Sr. 37; Jr. 16—Sr. 17.

That activity group, the 3:15's, displayed their various skills more individually. Tournament winners were: Paddle tennis—Bush and Fisher, Phi. Badminton—Hays and Hinkson, Delt. Ping pong—B. Glass, Phi. Deck tennis—Storer and Voxburg, Phi. Shuffleboard—Harrington and Davies, Phi.

Dorothy Fisher, Evelyn Hays, Virginia Neale, Bertha Glass, Gert Glass and June Welker were Miss Ruttle's guests at the international ping pong games at the Erie Y. M. C. A. on March 1. From watching Olympic champions play they learned several things about the game. For instance, c. perts use 18 feet of floor space behind the table.

BOWERY BRAWL

Scene on a corner—

"Hi, Eaba."
"How are ya, Butch?"
"Going to the Brawl?"

"Sure ting, kid. Wouldn't miss it on a bet."

And to the "rest of you mugs" (no offense, please) I'd advise you to drag yourself around to Haven Hall's annual Bowery Brawl that's being thrown on Saturday night, March 20, from 9 till 12.

Dick Warner's band from Erie will swing it for youse. Grub will be sold. Prizes for costumes.

So—you molls—get your men and bring 'em along. Get your tickets in Haven Room 52 and programs in Haven Suite "B".

As delightful as a three o'clock class.

Haven Hall

By Elsie

We are all thinking—How can nature be so cruel? Why, only yesterday the sun was shining and robins hopped about. Then, suddenly, the spring-like weather fled and winter came again.

Life is very uneventful; classes, chats, complaining. The main prop is the beautiful thought of Easter—and vacation.

First floor is very un hospitable! Their little rat visitor's prized entrances have been covered with tin.

And why does Marian Peterson go home so very, very often?

"There is something about a uniform" says H. Durlin.

Did you ever notice the interesting and different handwriting of the Havenites?

Congratulations to Lucille Turk on her first teaching position! It must bring a very secure feeling—within.

George Washington, the dashing young squirrel who visits side corridor of second floor (facing Normal Hall) has a way with him—and does he enjoy teasing for nuts.

Now is the time when a student's fancy sadly turns to thoughts of things she hasn't done. Now is the time to question the wisdom of taking so many week-ends "off".

Ruth Hagerson and Sully were Saturday evening guests of Brooksie in Meadville.

PROM PLANS PROGRESS

Plans for the Junior-Senior Promenade are under way. A tentative intensified program is in the making. The appointed committees are using every suggestion offered to the utmost degree to bring to you and your friends a real social function. At the present time arrangements are being made for clever and artistic decorations, and last but not least, the securing of a band whose scintillating swing music will satisfy your dancing urge.

Sport Comment

Members of the E. Club, varsity lettermen, have been working lately to raise money towards awards for themselves. There is only one way that this money can be raised without an outlay of cash on the part of the club, and that way is through solicitation of contributions, which is not the most pleasant way of doing the thing. Such things should be taken care of through the Student Activity Fund. In that manner the students would be shouldering the bill for awarding miniature basketballs and footballs instead of the faculty and the townspeople.

There has never been an organized system of awarding sweaters or letters to the boys. Some years seniors get sweaters, some years juniors get them, and some years nobody gets them. Seniors really have no use for sweaters, because they cannot get much benefit out of them when they are teaching school. Then, again, a sweater wears out. The miniature gold award seems to be the solution of this problem. But should the boys themselves required to go out and solicit the money to get them?

Athletics at Edinboro are strictly amateur, and no money is paid for competition in any sport. It is no more than fair that the boys who spend long hours in practice and competition in the name of the college should be taken care of in some manner. It is sometimes a year after a season that the boys get even the E certificate. Let's speed up the process and organize some efficient plan under the Council, so that in future years the honoring of the athletes will be out of the hands of the athletes themselves.

Steps should be taken before another school term rolls around to organize the five Teachers Colleges in the western end of the state into some kind of a conference, both for basketball and football. There was this type of a conference at one time, and it created a great deal of interest. One year Edinboro, having tied for the championship with Slippery Rock, trounced the Rockets in a third game on the neutral Thiel hardwood before a packed house of screaming fans.

There are numerous reasons why the five schools—Indiana, Slippery Rock, California, Clarion and E. S. T. C.—could profit by the conference idea. With each team playing every other team, and with the results going into league standings, interest would run higher, which means greater pull at the gate. A trophy for the winner would give each individual school added incentive to play better ball. Certain league rules could govern play, and in that way the games would be on an even basis.

In late years teams have been called conference champs, or tail-enders, but these titles have had no official weight.

With seemingly little red tape, officials ought to be able to draw up some agreements on a league, and

Raiders Trip Rockets

Edinboro's Red Raiders climaxed a mediocre court season at Slippery Rock on March 2. when they gained sweet revenge for the beating administered by the Rockets on the local court by trouncing he Thompson-coached team by a 41-37 count.

Edinboro started out fast and hopped on to an early lead that was commanded throughout the first half.

Slippery Rock scored twelve points in rapid succession shortly after the second half started, and held the Raiders scoreless during that period to take a one point lead—that was the only time during the entire game that the Harrison-men were behind.

Edinboro, paced by Case, came back in a hurry to re-assume the lead which was never relinquished.

The game was marked by the best display of court technique displayed by the Raiders this year. Not handicapped by the large floor, the boys passed the ball like a bunch of pros, and cut for the bucket like a band of scared rabbits.

Eddie Simon, the only senior on the entire squad, played his last game in an Edinboro uniform.

Case, rangy center, paced the Red and White team, caging twelve points to top all of the scorers.

CHI DELTS IN D-H TOURNEY

The Chi Delta Sigma fraternity will enter its gasketball team in the annual tournament in Erie. The tourney is under the auspices of the Dispatch-Hehald. Rred lase, Nich Voltich, Re and Ray Intrieri, Bob Scarpitti and several others of the frat will be on the roster of the team. The Edinboro entries in the annual classic in the years of 1934 and '35 became the only team playing under one banner to annex two championships. Joe Leson, who played on both of these tournament winners, was voted the most valuable player in 1934.

DEMONSTRATIONS LESSONS ON SATURDAY

Demonstration lessons for the benefit of teachers in service in the district served by Edinboro will be conducted at the campus training school on Saturday morning, March 20, at 9 a. m.

These lessons, which are followed by teachers' conferences, will be conducted by the Misses Garrison, Cooper and Howard. Lessons will be conducted in the following subjects: Number work and penmanship, grades 1 and 2; arithmetic and reading, grades 3 and 4; and history and English, grades 5 and 6.

Raiders Finish Strong

In league competition, the record shows that Edinboro broke even with all opponents except California, which, incidentally, was the only team to defeat Edinboro twice. In independent contests, the Raiders broke even with Thiel, defeated the alumni and Fredonia, and won both games with the Ohio College of Chiropr.

With John Wolfe topping the scores with a total of 159 points, the Raiders gathered collectively 580 points against their opponents' even 500. Nick Volitich took second place in the scoring race with 118 points.

Eddie Simon, stellar guard, is the only man lost to the squad by graduation, so next season will find nearly the same combination on the floor for Coach Harrison.

The complete season record follows:

	Edinboro	Opponents
Ohio College of Chiropr.	49	18
Alumni	51	35
California	33	43

Beta Xi News

The Beta Xi fraternity has completed the last week of its pledge season, and has taken in six new members from the freshman class. The new members are Dick Peterson, Lon Watters, Will Rogers, Leon Mead, Harry DePaulis, and Robert Lytle. A dinner was given in honor of the new members.

The committee to make arrangements for the annual spring party given by the frat for the members of the fraternity has been chosen. Members of the committee are Paul Pfeiffer, Alex Crevar, and Arden Davies. All minor committees will fall under these three members. The fraternity has decided to make the party semi-formal, with favors being given instead of the usual dinner.
