

Actual Construction Of College Buildings Begins On February 14

Bids Will Be Opened
By PWA on February 7
For Edinboro Program

CONTRACTORS DO WORK

Bids for the Edinboro building program under the General State Authority are to be opened on February 7, and the actual construction work is to be started February 14, according to an announcement received at the College office from Clarence E. Ackley, Director of Administration and Finance at Harrisburg.

With this announcement, the 750,000 dollar building program is definitely approaching full realization at Edinboro.

Reliable reports indicate that the new Auditorium, the Gymnasium, the Laboratory School and the power plant will all be started at the same time.

All work on these buildings is to be done on contract with private construction companies which assures that a minimum of time will elapse between the start of the work and its completion.

Besides the new construction, plans are also being made to entirely remodel some of Edinboro's present buildings and to reorganize the entire campus. Some buildings will be put to new uses and roads and walks on the Campus are to be relocated for added beauty and convenience.

(Continued on Page Two)

Promising Student Enrollment Expected For Second Semester

Mr. Wheatley Reports
A Distinct Shortage
Of Certain Teachers

CONSTANT INQUIRIES COME

According to an announcement by Dean of Instruction Wheatley, student enrollment for the second semester is very promising.

Hardly a day goes by without one or more inquires by prospective students concerning enrollment for the second semester which begins on January 18.

With a distinct shortage of teachers in the several fields and an improved demand for instructors in all fields of teaching, Mr. Wheatley also reports that requests for Edinboro graduates continue to come to his office. In many cases he is unable to find teachers to fill the positions.

THE SPECTATOR STAFF EXTENDS GREETINGS

With a sincere wish for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, the Spectator Staff extends heartiest holiday greetings to the faculty and students of Edinboro State Teachers College—Staff.

Dr. Ross Is On Way To Complete Recovery

Is Expected to Return
To Edinboro Home Soon

Latest word from Abington hospital, where Dr. Ross has been a patient since last week when he was stricken with a heart attack, indicates that Edinboro's President is progressing satisfactorily toward complete recovery.

In a letter to Dean of Instruction Wheatley, Dr. Ross said that he expected to be back in Edinboro in a week or ten days and back in his office shortly after that.

Speech Machine Makes Last Assembly Program Into Studio Broadcast

"As Others Hear Us"
Is Unusual Theme As Miss Ludgate Directs

STUDENTS, FACULTY ASSIST

A most interesting and unusual program was presented to the students in the regular assembly on last Wednesday when the recently acquired speech recording machine lent the atmosphere of the broadcasting studio to Edinboro's auditorium.

Miss Jane S. Ludgate, head of the Department of Speech, assisted by Miss Wilson, Mr. Bates and the entire student body and faculty, cooperatively produced a program that could well be called "As Others Hear Us".

To start the program off several announcements that had been previously recorded were played back by the reproducing machine.

Then, after some practice led by Miss Wilson with Mr. Bates at the song slides, a recording was made of three songs—"We Three Kings", "Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen" and "Oh Little Town of Bethlehem"—which were sung before the microphone by the entire assembly. At the conclusion of the recording, the record was immediately played back on the reproducing instrument.

Members of the assembly were
(Continued on Page Three)

MUSIC DEPARTMENT PRESENTS ANNUAL CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

Modernistic Cantata Is Major Portion Of Concert Featuring Variety Of Selections

Choir Supplies Music
For Apt Dramatization
By Laboratory Children

MISS WILSON IS DIRECTOR

With a modernistic Cantata as a major part of its program, the Music Department will present its annual Christmas concert in Normal Auditorium on Sunday afternoon, December 19th, at 4:00 p. m.

The Cantata, "When the Christ Child Came," by Joseph Clokey, is to be dramatized by grade children of the Laboratory School. Four members of the choir, Beatrice Case, Emily Carpenter, Richard Peterson and James Wilson, will carry the solo work while the College Choir supplies the background.

The Cantata will be preceded by a variety of musical numbers presented by different vocal and instrumental groups.

Among the selections that the College Choir will sing during this first
(Continued on Page Three)

Red Raiders Engage Kent University Team In Opening Court Game

Start Fifteen Contest
Campaign on Foreign
Hardwood Court in Ohio

SCHEDULE IS ANNOUNCED

The Red Raiders of the hardwood court will invade Kent University next Saturday hoping to start a fifteen-game season with a victory.

Edinboro should have a fairly successful campaign this year. Coach Harrison is drilling daily a squad of twenty prospects. Next Saturday's starting line-up will probably be composed of five of the following veterans: Wolfe, Voltich, Pfeiffer, Ray Intrieri, Re Intrieri, Reichel, and Case.

Competition for the first home game will be furnished by the Alumni. Some of the games played on
(Continued on Page Three)

W. A. A. Christmas Tea Will Be Held In Rooms On Thursday Afternoon

Faculty Members Are Urged to Attend First
Open House of Season

The annual Christmas tea will be held in the W. A. A. rooms Thursday afternoon, December 16, for all members and the faculty.

It is the first "open house" to the Faculty that has ever been given by the W. A. A. Each Faculty member is cordially invited and urged to attend this women's athletic organization.

This annual tea is one of the most outstanding events sponsored at the Christmas Season. The rooms are always well decorated, adding color and spirit to the affair that is typical of the season.

Preceding the tea, a meeting of the W. A. A. will be held in which all the awards of the athletic activities of this semester will be given out. Freshmen as well as upper-classmen will share in these awards for work well done. Letters and sweaters will be awarded to the deserving ones at this time.

Annual Dance Follows Big Christmas Dinner In Haven Dining Hall

Student Council Gives
Its Financial Support
For All-College Dance

STUDENTS, FACULTY AID

Following the traditional custom at Edinboro, an All-College Dance will be held in the Dining Hall after the annual Christmas dinner on Monday, December 20.

However, this year the dance which is sponsored and partially supported by the Student Council, will be offered on a new plan, and for the first time students and faculty will support the dance by free contributions.

The Student Council is making an especial effort to reach all off-campus students in order to insure wide participation by the entire student body and make this dance the best dance of the winter season.

Dancing will be from 9:00 to 12:00 p. m. Efforts are being made to contact Johnny Himebaugh and his orchestra to supply the music.

The Committee General Chairman is Miss Jeanne Strohecker and the entire Student Council is acting as Committee-in-Charge.

THE SPECTATOR

The voice of student opinion at Edinboro State Teachers College.

Published on Saturday throughout the School Year by the students of Edinboro State Teachers College at Edinboro, Pennsylvania.

STAFF

Walter Nissen	Editor-in-Chief
Ruth Diehl	Girls Sports Editor
Eleanor Storer	Assistant Girls Sports Editor
Norman Dilley	Boys Sports Editor
Louise Carlburg	Society Editor
Harold Packard	Exchange Editor
Charlotte Weaver	Feature Editor
John Clark	Column Editor
John Demiankow	Associate Humor Editor
Anthony Cutri	Humor Editor
Leon Mead	Art Editor
Max Young	News Editor
Richard Benson	Copy Editor
W. Verne Zahniser	Faculty Advisor

The subscription rate to the Alumni and general public is one dollar per year.

LACK OF FUNDS HINDERS ACTIVITIES

The Edinboro Players, our college dramatic organization, recently presented its first production of the year—a three-act play, "Night of January 16th". The play was well attended, and, from every standpoint, a grand success.

However, as in the case of its dramatic production last year, this organization was forced to make a small admission charge in order to insure the play's financial success. No one objected seriously to the small fee, though it was a nuisance and irritation to many, for the entertainment of the evening was many times worth the admission price. The point is, however, that those in charge of a production of this type—as in the case of other organization heads on the campus—should not have to wait until a final count of the box office receipts in order to determine whether or not their efforts have met with financial success. This particular production demanded weeks of preparation and the expenditure of much effort on the parts of many students, and yet, the element of finances was allowed to linger in the minds of those in charge. Luckily, though more because of hard work, the play was a financial success.

It seems as though Edinboro students would miss a number of worthwhile activities if the organization leaders did not have sufficient fortitude to risk continually financial loss. Yet, these leaders should not have to do this. Sufficient money should be allocated from the Student Activity Fund, a general fund set up for this express purpose, to remove all doubt of financial loss, and, at the same time, remove all admission fees from such events. Both moves would be welcomed by the students concerned.

If, as has been suggested, there is a lack of funds in the Student Activity Fund for these worthwhile activities, such monies can be put into that general fund by an increase in the Activity Fee. Such a move by the Student Council seems to be imperative in light of the decided hampering of the student activities because of lack of funds.

INCREASED PARTICIPATION URGED

Toward the end of the last school year, a compulsory state extra-curricular program based upon the individual preferences of the students, was instituted at Edinboro College. This program has been continued this year with added emphasis on the part of the administration in regard to the fullest participation by the student body.

No one questions the value of increased student participation in extra-curricular activities. Certainly we gain much practical knowledge by learning to work with other members of an organization and by assuming the character and personality building responsibility of shaping and carrying out the programs of these organizations. Even the note of compulsion may not be so objectionable for, after all, those things that are hardest to take, are usually the best things for us.

However, there is one angle of increased compulsory extra-curricular participation that deserves careful consideration by the faculty committee in general charge of the activities program and by the administration when it urges increased participation by the student body. That angle, in the form of a question is: With additional participation in extra-curricular activities, when is a student going to find time to prepare his classroom assignments? Many students, especially those that work (and approximately sixty on this campus do work) are already hard-pressed to meet the present demands of the extra-curricular program on their study time. Others, some with an irregular schedule and some with only the regular schedule, would not be able to give any additional time to extra-

(Continued on Page Three)

With Our Faculty Outside the Campus

By Walter Nissen

Mr. W. Verne Zahniser and Mr. Royce R. Mallory, both instructors in the English Department, attended the annual National Council of Teachers of English at Buffalo, New York, on November 26 and 27.

During their two-day stay in Buffalo, they learned what was new in the field of English and met Ronald C. McCreary, an Edinboro graduate, who was also attending the conference as a New York state delegate.

At a recent Parent-Teachers meeting at Springboro High school, Dr. L. H. Van Houten spoke to the group concerning educational problems.

Miss Esther Wilson, head of the Department of Music, and Martin Schweller, under-graduate President of the Student Council, contributed to this program with several musical selections.

Dean of Instruction Wheatley and Mr. Mallory recently attended the meeting of the Crawford County High School Principals Association at North Shenango High School at Espyville, Pennsylvania.

The Edinboro faculty members spoke to the group on the subject of "Guidance".

Dr. Van Houten took his Psychology I class, consisting of thirty-four members, to Polk State School at Polk, Pennsylvania. Mr. Zahniser and Dr. C. J. Christensen accompanied the students and their instructor on this trip.

During the next two weeks Dr. Van Houten, head of Edinboro's recently improved Child Study Laboratory, will give a series of visual and auditory tests to the grade children of the Corry School System. He has recently completed the work of giving similar tests to the grade children of Washington township.

Miss Maxine Teetsel Speaks To Y. W. Group

The regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held recently in the Haven Hall parlors with the program consisting of an interesting talk on athletics by Miss Maxine Teetsel and a short business meeting in which Christmas charity was discussed.

Plans were discussed for sending a delegate to Oxford, Ohio, to attend the National Assembly of the Student Christian Movement Association during the Christmas holidays.

It was finally decided to set Wednesday, Dec. 8, as Oxford Day when the students and faculty members would be asked to help contribute to the fund to pay the expenses incurred. The members of the "Y" also thought that Night Watches would be interesting to hold in Haven Hall so a committee was appointed to take care of them and to announce the date and time.

Way Back When . . .

By Charlotte Weaver

The Edinboro library rules and regulations were (as quoted in the 1918 college yearbook).

1. Tread cautiously, as you pass the desk.
2. Don't jar the ink.
3. Do not remove the dust from the shelves.
4. Don't ask questions, you might have to answer them.

Royce R. Mallory's nickname was "Hump" and he played half a football game against Union City with a broken collar-bone. His favorite slang? —It knocks 'em cold, Bo!

The Y. M. C. A. had the Y. W. C. A. beaten in membership. Actually!!!

Mr. Bates was sporting some of his French in terms such as "Vous Avez Raisons"!

The college garden (yes, garden,) was reported to contain such odd plants as the weiner tree (everlasting), the coleslaw bush (eternal) and the prunus (ad infinitum).

The girl's dorm was known as Lover's Haven. Tsh Tsh! What did that older generation come to?

It was rumored that Dr. Crawford had an affinity for "Five Brothers".

The dormitory girls serenaded the Reeder Hall boys and received a shower of H₂O in appreciation. The good old days of nighthood and chivalry.

The Art Department was a resident of the attic in Normal Hall. Anything to create an atmosphere.

Such toasts as these weren't censored!:

Here's to the faculty
Long as they live,
Even as long,
As the lessons they give.

ACTUAL CONSTRUCTION BEGINS IN FEBRUARY

(Continued from Page One)

These plans are still largely indefinite.

Upon completion of this entire program which will take quite some time to complete in its entirety, it is pointed out that Edinboro will have a college plant second to none in North-western Pennsylvania.

Mr. Aime Doucette and Miss Frances Skinner, of the Edinboro Art Department, traveled to Pittsburgh on Saturday, December 4, to attend a meeting of the Edinboro Art Alumni of Western Pennsylvania which was held in Hotel Webster Hall.

A large number of Edinboro graduates attended the conference, renewing acquaintances and meeting their former teachers. Miss Kunkel, former Dean of Women at Edinboro, drove to Pittsburgh from Shippensburg State Teachers College, where she now holds a similar position, to be with the group.

The Alumni group were taken through the International Exhibit in the afternoon, escorted by an Edinboro graduate, Joe Fitzpatrick. Fifty-four members attended the breakfast meeting at Hotel Webster Hall.

Boys' Sports

The following is a complete standing of intramural basketball to December 8:

Team	Won	Lost	Games
Y. M. C. A.	1	0	1
Off Campus	2	0	2
Reeder Hall	1	0	1
Spectator	0	1	1
Beta Xi	0	1	2
Chi Delt	0	2	2

The urgent need of a new gymnasium is doubly evident now with our boys' sports, girls' sports, and the high school games all being carried on in one small building.

Building Program—Hurry!

Some of our intramural games are to be played as preliminaries for varsity home games.

If he wishes, Coach Harrison can send a team of very tall lads on the court, or he can use his shorter bunch of razzle-dazzle ball handlers. He will probably start a combination of both at Kent University.

Max Young, the freshmen's best bid for varsity basketball, is temporarily laid up with an injured knee.

From Jerry Brondfield, NEA Sports Writer, we borrow the following football post-mortems:

Team living up most to pre-season expectations: Pitt.

Most consistent offense: Pitt.

Best defensive team: Ohio State or Fordham.

Trickiest play: Vanderbilt's button-button-who's got-the-button-play which beat Louisiana State, 7-6. In this play the quarterback took the pass from center, placed it quickly on the ground behind a guard's leg and ran toward the sidelines on a nice fake. Meanwhile tackle Ricketson stumbled, fell on the ball until the State men were chasing the faking quarterback. and then picked it up and ran down the other sideline for a touchdown.

Best individual effort: Whizzer White's two touchdowns, field goal, and two points after touchdown in the game in which Colorado defeated Utah 17-6. (I wish he were going to Edinboro.)

RED RAIDERS ENGAGE KENT UNIVERSITY

(Continued from Page One)

the home court will be preceded by intramural preliminaries. The complete schedule follows:

- Dec. 18—Kent University
- Jan. 6—*Alumni
- Jan. 8—Fredonia
- Jan. 14—*Clarion
- Jan. 15—*Fredonia
- Jan. 21—*California
- Jan. 29—*Indiana
- Feb. 4—Thiel
- Feb. 4—*Ohio College of Chiroprady
- Feb. 10—California
- Feb. 11—Slippery Rock
- Feb. 18—*Slippery Rock
- Feb. 25—Indiana
- Feb. 26—Clarion
- Mar. 4—Ohio College of Chiroprady
- *Home Games

Original Humor

By the Original Humorists

Tor: I've called to say how much I appreciated your treatment, doctor.

Doc: But I'm not your physician.

Tor: No, but you were my old uncle's and I am his heir.

* * * * *

Yippe: So your daughter is at finishing school? What is she finishing?

Yappe: She is finishing up my bank account.

* * * * *

Bim: A strong man like you ought not to beg. Why don't you look for a job?

Bum: I can't look, lady, I've got a stiff neck.

* * * * *

Drunk: Doctor, I've got a frog in my throat.

Dr. Take a glass of water.

Drunk: But, doctor, you can't drown a frog in water.

* * * * *

DRAMA IN ONE ACT

"Stick 'em up or I'll blow your brains out," he barked.

"Heh, heh," his victim enlighteningly giffled.

"What's de matter, cantcha hear?"

"Sure, but I just escaped from Polk." (Curtains)

* * * * *

"Girls are crazy to paint their faces so."

"Yes, but they must keep that fool girl complexion."

* * * * *

Someone, in the course of a conversation, asked a colored man: "Say, Sam, what has happened to George Brown?"

"Oh Yez! He done gone now," replied the colored man.

"You don't mean that he's passed away?"

"Yes-suh! Heah's how it happened—Ah was standin on a street corner when George come up to me and says: 'Sam, you've ben a hi-falutin' with my gal so right now you is as good as daid.' When he pulled his new blue steel revolver ah didn't stop to question him but took a swipe at him wit' my razor. He says: 'Ha Ha, you missed me!' Ah says: 'Like heck I did, just wait till you turn your haid.' "

CALENDAR UNTIL VACATION

- Monday, December 13—Dramatic Club
- Tuesday, December 14—Group A Clubs—Horace Mann, Debating, Rural Problems, Fraternities and Sorority
- Wednesday, December 15—Y. M. C. A.
- Thursday, December 16—Y. W. C. A.
- Friday, December 17—Movies
- Saturday, December 18—Basketball, Kent State University at Kent, Ohio
- Sunday, December 19—Cantata (Chor.), 4 p. m., auditorium
- Monday, December 20—Christmas Dinner and Dance
- Tuesday, December 21—Operetta by Edinboro Schools
- Clubs—Comstock, Press, SeaRab, Delta Phi Delta

INCREASED PARTICIPATION URGED

(Continued from Page Two)

curricular activities without endangering the quality of their scholastic work.

It seems as though there should be some sort of balance between classroom assignments and extra-curricular activities. Surely no conscientious student (and, oddly enough, most students are conscientious) likes to attend a club meeting or lecture number and throughout the meeting be harassed by the thoughts of that unprepared assignment for the eight o'clock class the next morning. Certainly it is not a pleasant feeling. Nor will budgeting of time or perfected and concentrated methods of study solve the situation for even if we were able to acquire this machine-like precision, there is that danger of causing students to work in the undesirable direction of mere cramming and assimilation of knowledge and information rather than the development of intellectual activity, judgment, and personality.

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM IS STUDIO BROADCAST

(Continued from Page One)

prone to remark that their united voices had been greatly improved.

Miss Ludgate then called on each member of the faculty to step before the microphone and give the students a word of Christmas greeting. This the faculty did to the best of their ability.

Next, the student leaders of campus organizations were asked to express their Christmas wishes via the mechanical voice.

After both these groups had spoken appropriate words into the recording microphone, the record that they had made was played back much to the amusement of the audience.

As a concluding number on the program, the famous speech in which the Duke of Windsor renounced his throne for the woman he loved, was reproduced and amplified as it had been originally recorded.

Mostly Girls' Sports

By Ruth Diehl

Hurrah, for the winter sports! They have certainly come in with a bang—especially skiing and tobogganing, if all this snow lasts.

Officially and regardless of weather, the winter sports program of the Edinboro girls began on Thursday, December 2, with 3:15 activities at 3:30 (the name of the activities is a little off with time scheduled) and Phi basketball practice at 4:00.

Miss Ruttle is conducting a coaching and refereeing class in basketball for those players who wish to learn to referee games. These classes, which are well attended, are on every Wednesday evening at 7:00.

The class that Miss Ruttle had in refereeing last year was very successful and she is hoping that some of the girls will pass the national test, so that they can referee outside games in their spare time.

This year almost every girl signed up for some winter sport. In basketball there are sixty-eight; for 3:15 activities which include all small court games, such as paddle tennis, deck tennis, ping pong, shuffle board, and badminton, there are thirty-two; in skiing and tobogganing, twenty-seven.

Edinboro Loses Fine Players

Although Edinboro has lost some fine players in basketball, the new Freshmen group of girls looks as if they will be able to replace those that are gone. Most of them have had experience by playing on their high school Varsity teams.

Emilie Hammermeister is helping Miss Ruttle in coaching those Freshmen who have never played basketball before coming to Edinboro. Emilie is one of the best players so we know she'll be a grand coach for the up-and-coming Freshman.

The Phis and Deltas, which comprise the two basketball groups, each practice twice a week on Wednesday evening and alternating each Thursday and Tuesday.

This year the Deltas have more players and look much the stronger of the two. However, they haven't beaten the Phis for years and the outlook is for a hard-fought campaign ahead. The season seems to be a direct challenge to the Deltas to show the Phis what good players really are. There is certain to be plenty of pep and fight in all these games this year.

Thus ends another review of girl's sports.

MUSIC DEPT. PRESENTS ANNUAL XMAS PROGRAM

(Continued from Page One)

part of the program are the "Hallelujah Chorus", "Glory to God in the Highest" and "Break Forth! O Beauteous Heavenly Light".

The trio, sextet, double quartet, string quartet and trumpet quartet will also offer selections at this time.

Miss Esther Wilson, head of Edinboro's Music Department, is directing this program which promises exceptional entertainment.

Haven Hall Hi-Lites

By Louise Carlburg

Pictures . pictures . . . sometimes it is bad enough to have one of us in a room . . . but 3 or 4 selves is just too much. (Aside—rather pleasant pastime . . . don't you think?)

Introducing the new play on the campus entitled "Winter" . . . with the dashing young December Wind and that cool beauty—Falling Snow in the leads. The villian, aptly played by that old-timer, Nose Trouble, seems to have the advantage from the start until that brilliant (comes in blue, green, pink and violet) and comparatively new player, Kleenex, comes protectingly to the rescue.

Don't forget those less fortunate than you this Christmas.

Smith, McFadden, Cochanides and Strohecker attended the very amusing play "Brother Rat" on Tuesday evening.

Too bad Marg Hammond isn't in training these days . . . Mary Green is so appealingly little girlish . . . Colletta's radio is grandpappy of them all . . . Where have I heard this . . . "Oh, I have so much to do before vacation" . . . Marge Oliver and Billie Gillespie representing the photographer . . . Snedden makes one more appeal for the return of her little black Scottie dog . . . it is black sponge and its home is Haven room 7. "Two lives have I" seems to be decreasing to one . . . just a supposition, of course . . . am I right . . . inmate of room 41? Vega, on second floor, is a cousin of our Mim Smith of last year . . . Helen Sylvander, that capable little person from Coraopolis . . . has been chosen to represent Edinboro at a Student Christian Movement held at Oxford, Ohio, from Dec. 27 to Jan. 1.

Edinboroish—Page Boy bobs . . . ju-ju's (?) on top of feminine heads . . . b r i g h t sweaters . . . gay scarfs . . . socks . . . ear-muffs . . .

BUD'S BARBER SHOP
AUSTIN BLOCK

THE SHOP OF QUALITY

Use Patone Hair Tonic

Dr. L. H. Van Houten Attends P. S. E. A. Meet

Doucette And Offner Named As Alternates

At a recent meeting of the college branch of the P. S. E. A., Dr. L. H. Van Houten, head of the Department of Education, was elected as Edinboro delegate to the annual state conference of this organization at Harrisburg on December 27th and 28th.

At the same time, Mr. Aime Doucette, of the Art Department, and Mr. H. L. Offner, Director Teacher Training, were named as alternates to the conference.

mittens . . . lockets and crosses . . . snow-boots . . . saddle shoes.

Ruth Hagerson and C. Burkhardt treked off to Cleveland last week-end . . . Symphonies may be frequently heard on the different floors these days . . . Sort of a lull in our life lately but the Holidays are coming! Consulting an Astrological Chart I find that those born in December are bold, fearless, determined and combative. They are artistic and musical, optimistic and exceptionally honest . . . They are nervous and high strung. Usually they have good health and live to a good old age. They must first understand themselves and then everything will be swept before them. Should guard well their actions on the 17th day of each month . . . so all you Decemberites . . . beware!

I wish for every one of you the happiest holiday of your lives . . . and don't forget to come back on Jan. 4.

COOPER-SWIFT COMPANY

appreciates the
College Students

Reeder's Digest

How are things in Reeder Hall? Oh, all riot, I guess! Have you noticed that the waiters are dropping very few trays this year? Could it be because the meals are more balanced? Lon Walters, Ericson, Beck, Woods, Lewis have all had their try at deer hunting—or have I misspelled the word "deer"? Most of them came back broke! Not even a buck! No doe—have I made it clear? Doesn't Roger's suit match the furniture at Haven Hall nicely though? Shimko's heart seems to beat faster when he is in Akron—Miller is considering asking special mailing rates to Turtle Creek—he feels that letters in gross loots should go cheaper—Schweller seems to remember still a wedding in Cleveland recently—blue eyes, too. Doctor Witalis' clinic has received much attention lately — Criswell's mustache is certainly a handlebar new We vote Packard our most gullible freshman boy—Woods and Watters have appropriately named their room "Walda-meer"—it being a foreign term meaning—Woods and Water. Neat, boys! I believe that the most conscientious worker in school is John Tomkons. Good natured and steady—he'll do all right! With weather as it is, this would be an appropriate time to tell jokes—it is so easy to get the drift! The Beta Xi boys are seriously starting their social season

Nature Club Attends Delightful House Tea

Instructors Entertain On Friday, December 3

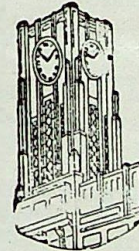

On Friday afternoon, December third, in their home on Maple drive, Miss Hudson and Miss Ketcham entertained the members of the Comstock Club at tea with Miss Elizabeth Harrington and Miss Velma Peck presiding at the table. The occasion was most delightful.

with a sleigh-ride party. Why doesn't Eric take his friend John with him when he goes hunting? He may not come back with a deer, but he can always come back with a Wolf! I don't know who is using the most paint lately—the painters who are beautifying Reeder or the art students who are beaut—who are busy! The new freshmen have learned that the three R's of school are Reeder, 'Riting, and 'Rithmetic! Mom Forness has the most unique stationery—ask her about it—Well got to go, it's bell time—Pete.

MEET THE BUNCH

at

JOLLEY'S

BOSTON STORE
ERIE, PENNA.

If unable to shop in person use our
MAIL ORDER SERVICE

Air Conditioned for Your Comfort

University Styles
in Belcourt

SUITS and TOPCOATS

$25 $30 $35

P. A. MEYER & SONS

817-819 State St., Erie

60th ANNIVERSARY SALE

Diamond Jubilee In Progress

New Fashions in Women's Coats, Dresses, Millinery, Hosiery, and all accessories at greatly reduced prices.

TRASK, PRESCOTT & RICHARDSON CO.

DEPARTMENT STORE
ERIE, PENNSYLVANIA