OBITER

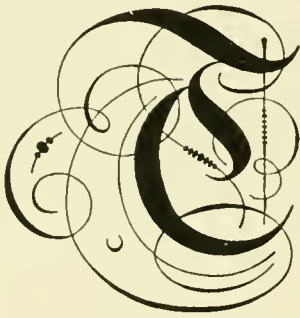

THE ANNUAL PUBLICATION OF THE
SENIOR CLASS OF BLOOMSBURG STATE NORMAL SCHOOL

Volume Ten

NINETEEN HUNDRED AND TWENTY-FIVE

FOREWORD

he compilers of this volume have tried to present to its readers a record of the events and activities in the history of the Class of 1925.

If, during time to come, as they pore over the pages of this book, the memories of campus and classroom life are brightened; if friendships are renewed and if the love for our Alma Mater is strengthened, then and only then will we consider our efforts worth while.

Far above the river winding,
Midst the mountains grand
Stands old Normal, dear to students
Far throughout the land.

Chorus:

Bloomsburg, Bloomsburg, Bloomsburg Normal,
Up on Normal Hill,
Years to come shall find us ever
True to Bloomsburg still.

Far and wide though we may wander,
Still our hearts are true
To our hilltop Alma Mater,
We our pledge renew.

Ever seaward Susquehanna,
Never resting flows,
Ever upward, striving, climbing,
Onward Bloomsburg goes.

OUR CLASS ADVISOR

S. Irvin Shortess

The same day we entered this Normal School, a loyal, loving, generous friend was also stepping into it for the first time. This boyish and yet manly man won our admiration at once.

We selected him unanimously as our class advisor. What class wouldn't be moved with such spirit when Mr. Shortess was the candidate? To him we owe the attainment of our accomplishments in this school. When we carried our troubles to him, he ironed out the wrinkles. When we expressed our desires concerning class activities, it was he who helped us make those desires, once dreams, realities. He put forth persistent effort to help us realize that service was our goal in this school. The service we rendered may well be credited to Mr. Shortess, our Advisor and Friend.

Class History

September 17, 1923, was a red letter day for B. S. N. S. Why? Because the present Senior Class—the class of '25, began its career in this renowned institution on that day.

During the two years intervening between then and now many changes have taken place. Shy, modest maidens have developed into bewitching ladies; backward lads have become stalwart men; and all have acquired a very dignified and distinguished air.

The course of time also brought to our class many successes, as well as a few misfortunes. Probably the most prominent of the former during our Junior year were the rendition of "Princess Bonnie," a drama, and the Junior "prom" given in honor of the Seniors. Anyone attending these two affairs could not deny that they were among the very best of their kind ever given at B. S. N. S.

But then, how could we help having a happy time with Arthur Jenkins as our president; Daniel Smith, vice president; Kathryn Price, secretary, and Frances Ruggles, treasurer?

Yes, our Junior year was quite eventful, but our Senior year far exceeded it. The first matter of importance to confront us was the election of officers. The division of our number as Juniors into two distinct classes—Middlers and Seniors—made this quite a complicated affair, but we finally succeeded in selecting Dan Smith as president, Anne Dougherty as vice president, Gladys Morgan as secretary, and Clara Martin as treasurer. Under the leadership of these people we were assured of a pleasant year.

The never-to-be-forgotten social events of this year were our class party and Senior dance. They will ever be remembered because of their extraordinary joyousness and spirit of festivity.

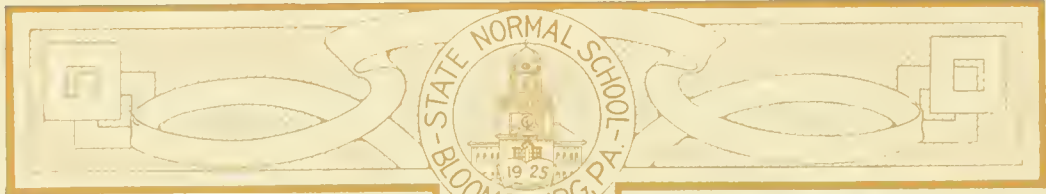

We have left behind us, too, many other pleasant memories, more than could be told here conveniently. Often shall we, in the future, revert to their pleasantness.

And now, we leave—but though our lives may be busy let us never forget that "He Who Seeketh Knowledge Seeketh Life!"

RUTH E. WALPER.

WHEN WE WERE JUNIORS

MADLINE AMSTADT
Berwick, Pa.
Berwick High School
"Madeline"

Madeline comes from Berwick, and is what we term an ever faithful commuter.

She is the most romantic girl of our class, and spends most of her spare time writing scenarios, stories and satirical letters. Madeline has a wonderful vocabulary and expresses herself exceedingly well, if anything troubles her.

Those who are fortunate enough to know her real well find her generous and sympathetic, besides being a very industrious student. She especially shines in English and History, and is a very active member of the Mu Phi Sigma.

Madeline informs us that she is going to become part of the golden west after graduating from B. S. N. S. as one of its teachers. We hope that nothing will prohibit you in your ambition. Loads of Luck, Madeline.

C. ELLEN ANDES
Nanticoke, Pa.
Nanticoke High School
"Ellen"

Ellen seems quiet to those who are not well acquainted with her, but oh, ask those who are. She is one of our steady, conscientious workers who always aims to get everything "just right" and usually succeeds regardless of hard work and midnight oil.

Ellen won the love and friendship of many children, but why shouldn't she when her interest was always there even in her fun and enjoyment. Those who worked with her realize the seemingly idle moments that were spent in carefully planning something to benefit the tiny tots.

We are sure that Ellen will prove a very successful teacher, but we doubt for how long. When she talks of finding time to answer important letters the question arises, "Will our promising young lady ever become a real old-fashioned school marm." However, the class of '25 joins in extending to you the best of success and luck in all you may undertake and may prosperity be yours.

WANDA APONICK
Nanticoke, Pa.
Nanticoke High School
"Wanda"

Wanda hails from Nanticoke and is proud of the fact, so she says. She thinks Bloomsburg is a nice place, too, and she ought to know?

We all know this outstanding dresser who just came to live in the "dorm" this year. Dorm life doesn't seem to agree with her. We wonder why?

Wanda is so conscientious and doesn't seem to have any good times, but she surely does because you can hear her laughter on fourth floor annex. She proved to be a very good proctor and did her letter writing while holding that high office.

Wanda has a jolly disposition and has made many friends while at Normal. She is well liked by all, and we all wish her success in her teaching which, without doubt, will be in Nanticoke.

THELMA ARMSTRONG
Taylor, Pa.
Taylor High School
"Teppy"

The old saying, "You cannot judge a book by its cover," is true in connection with "Teppy." Behind those brown eyes lurks a great deal of mischief. Modest, always smiling, and one peach of a "Gal," a good sport, and the best friend a girl could have is our "Teppy," and whenever there are cats to be served she always has a front seat.

As for the opposite sex, she doesn't say much, but we sure would like to meet the "Barney" we hear about. How about bringing him around, "Teppy?"

However, "Teppy" has serious interests too. She is a member of our noted Senior Girls' Glee Club and also an active member of our Y. W. C. A.

Our "Teppy" is very studious. This along with her sunny disposition will surely result in her success and happiness.

DORA E. BAKER
Milton, Pa.
Milton High School
"D. B."

Serious, considerate, and industrious, that's Dora.

Work is her primary watch-word, we know, and if she uses as much energy in teaching as she does in making pies and nursing we feel that no essential will be slighted. But then we get out of life what we put into it, so "success will crown true effort."

Of course, we know she will teach and be happy at her task, for serious and quiet as she appears, underneath that calmness rests a suspicious smile, which often breaks into joyous laughter, making us feel that after all she finds her school life an enjoyable one.

To such a classmate we are pleased to extend our heartiest wishes for lots of luck.

LUCY BARKLIE
Ashley, Pa.
Ashley High School
"Lucy"

Lucy was a very small girl when she helped us build the class of '25, but when you look at her now you can readily see that life at "Old Normal" has not contributed anything in helping her reach the clouds bodily.

When she studies you might just as well try to push a brick wall over as to try to draw her out of her shell. When Lucy is out of her shell she is always playing tricks on someone, but did you ever play a trick on her? If you want some excitement try her out.

Lucy tried very hard to make the basketball team, but at the last minute her heart would not let her, which made it very disconcerting.

We believe that Lucy will make a splendid teacher and in everything you do, Lucy, we wish you success.

HELEN BARRETT
Cambra, Pa.
Benton High School
"Barrett"

Quite industrious, quick and always on the job is "Barrett." Do you think that she would hand any work in late? I should say not, even if she had to lose a week's sleep.

"Barrett" comes from Cambra. Did you ever hear of that place? Well, it is on the map nevertheless, and so is "Barrett" even though she is small. She likes to spend her week ends at home in preference to B. S. N. S. I wonder why?

Even though "Barrett" does not take an active part in social activities of the school yet she is always interested in and hoping for the successful outcome of everyone.

You are a success at Normal, Helen, and there's no doubt but that you will be one wherever you go. Your classmates wish you all the success and happiness in the world.

SAMUEL W. BARROW
Ringtown, Pa.
Ringtown High School
"Sam"

"Sam" is one of the more sensible young men of our class. Still, his ever-present humor is known to all. The boys, especially, enjoyed his "bed-time stories" and will long remember the entertaining impersonations which often took place.

Besides being somewhat of a humorist, "Sam" is known to be a splendid vocalist. His bass voice was a marked characteristic of the Double Quartet. He was always ready to do his part in any program which might need his services.

We spoke about "Sam" as one of the more sensible young men of our class. Many of us have tried to give reasons for this. The most practicable answer states that it is due to his comparative maturity and—probably his immediate association with a member of the faculty.

BESSIE M. BEAVER
Numedia, Pa.
Newlin High School
"Bess"

"Bess" is one of the bright stars in the class of those who have chosen rural work. We find "Bess" at all times ready for fun and something to eat. "Bess" may well be distinguished among a group of girls by her stately and dignified appearance. At first seeing "Bess" you would think her quiet and distant, but having made her acquaintance she proves to be indeed a real sport.

"Bess" thinks that down town life appeals to her better than dormitory life, thus we find her two years were spent living down town.

Although "Bess" has chosen rural work, we are not quite sure that she will not teach very long, but we will find her a good housekeeper. We sincerely wish you the best of luck in your teaching career and also in any other work you may choose.

DORETTA P. BEAVER
Nescopeck High School
Nescopeck, Pa.
"Polly"

Although Doretta is a down town student her face is familiar in the girls' dormitory. She graduated from Nescopeck High School and then decided to join B. S. N. S. Her main desire is to become a teacher, we wonder if she will always follow this profession.

Her favorite pastime is writing poetry, dancing, and she may always be seen at the movies during her leisure hours.

Doretta is always smiling and happy no matter how gloomy the day may be. She is always willing to lend a helping hand to anyone in trouble. Doretta claims she is going to teach school. We wonder if she really means it. Ask State College, he knows.

What ever her future vocation may be the best wishes of the class go with her.

LELAND M. BENNETT
Plainsville, Pa.
Plains High School
Wyoming Seminary
"Lee"

Our editor is tall and stately, possessing a high degree of self-sufficiency. "Lee" is the kind of a fellow who is noticed not because of his stature alone but, by his accomplishments. He assumes a responsibility in direct accordance with his height.

And "Lee" is also scientific—in different pursuits. His radio set especially popularized his room and proved to the boys that he was an "up-to-date student." His scientific approach of new acquaintances was also noticed. This has been no less successful than the rest and the method of procedure will likely be imitated by many more young men who desire close friendship with the opposite sex.

We could say much more about this promising young man, but his great success as editor of our Obiter suffices to prove his ability.

ANTHONY A. BESHSEL
Trevorton, Pa.
Trevorton High School
"Mike"

"Mike" is a Trevortonian, as I suppose most of us already know, having at some time or other heard him tell of the quite unequal qualities of that fair town. His real name is Anthony, but he doesn't like the handle so we call him "Mike." He also gets "Tony," but he isn't in love with that either. He speaks in a tone of voice both authoritative and arrogant. A degree of authenticity, tinged with a tone of finality, is attached to everything he says.

Beshel's only sport is baseball, but he plays that well. He was a great help to our team last year. His timely hitting won more than one of the few games that we won last year. He was chosen to lead the team on the diamond this year and we are confident that his wide experience and initiative will aid him in piloting our team to many victories this year.

"Mike" chose the Junior High School group, but he intends continuing his education. He is planning to enter Bucknell next Fall and we know he will be a success.

VIOLA BOHM
Scranton, Pa.
Technical High School
"Vi"

A good sport, a real girl friend, a wonderful pal, an altogether charming Miss is our "Vi."

Viola is a tall and dignified looking girl and is acknowledged to be one of the sweetest and finest girls in the school. "Vi" gave us the impression that she was very quiet but since we have found out that she is full of fun. Her pleasant ways and sweet smile have won many and she not only stands high in her classes but makes a name for herself outside the classroom as well.

"Vi's" favorite song is, "The world is waiting for the sunrise." We imagine from "inklings" we have heard that there are wonderful memories attached to the song. A word to the wise, "Vi" believes that variety of (?) is the spice of life.

"Vi" is quite popular with the "kiddies" whom she teaches, so we predict that she will be a successful teacher, but we doubt very much if she will teach long. We're from Missouri! Best Wishes from the class.

PAULINE E. BOLIG
Selingsgrove, Pa.
Selingsgrove High School
"Polly"

Another pianist and not just a plain "another" either, because "Polly" is a whiz at "Ticklin' the Ivories." Get her started and she can beat any orchestra going as she proved the night when the Canaries disappointed us.

A stately blond, sophisticated and seldom indulging in our childish fun. That is not our "Polly." She might be stately, but she is always game for a good time as fourth floor can testify. When "Polly's" proctor—Oh my, we won't tell.

Susquehanna University could tell us more about her, but we don't need to know anymore to love her and give her our best wishes for her success as a teacher and no accidents as chauffeur of the Marmon roadster.

RACHEL BOLLES
Technical High School
Scranton, Pa.
"Bolles"

Brown wavy hair, blue eyes alert, a small trim figure and Rachel stands out before you.

You always find her working. She keeps herself just as busy as a bee, doing this and doing that all day long.

Her chief interests lay in athletics, art, and music. She was chosen as one of the athletic leaders in her junior year, and played on the girls' basketball team both years. You can see she believes in sports too.

She is guilty of supplying a great deal of the music which we hear floating around the hall in third floor annex. We don't call it a great crime.

Always cheery and gay she has many staunch friends among the student body.

We are most sure she will be a credit to her profession and that she will make B. S. N. S. proud of her.

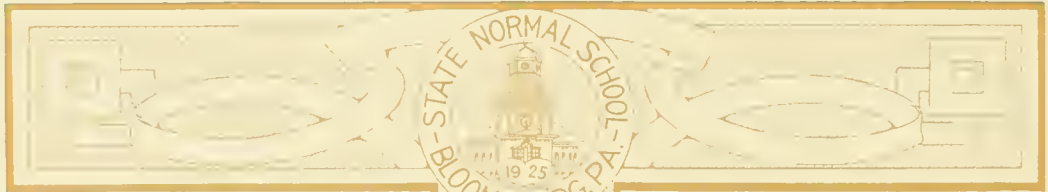

LAURA W. BRACE
Bloomsburg, Pa.
Bloomsburg High School
"Bracey"

The future Miss Swift you see before you. Laura is so to speak "some artist." She is also quite a dancer, we mean a fancy dancer.

She is one of the prominent members of the "Overall Gang," and certainly enjoys their good times.

Laura is quite interested in Ford Coupe's and thinks "Ambrose" a fine name for one certain Ford. Many times Laura takes a trip to Catawissa to visit a certain department store there. Why? There's a reason, but we won't tell.

If anyone mentions cats, Laura is right there. Her own cat "Impy" is the best cat in town—ask Laura. She expects to teach, but we have our doubts as to how long. Luck to you in whatever you do.

MARY V. BRADLEY
Muncy Valley, Pa.
Muncy Valley High School
"Mary"

Mary has only spent one winter with us. During this time we have learned to love her very much. She is very witty and if you do not think so ask her what she knows about Cross Word Puzzles.

Mary has spent four summers at Bloomsburg and she says she likes summer school better than winter school. I wonder why? Perhaps a certain young man, who spends his vacations in Bloomsburg but during the winter goes to college, could tell us.

It is all right to have two fellows, Mary, but when writing them both at the same time it isn't always wise to put their letters in the wrong envelopes. A little bit of thinking before sealing saves a lot of confusion doesn't it, Mary?

We wish you luck in your teaching, Mary, even though we don't expect it to be for very long.

MARY A. BRESLIN
Shenandoah, Pa.
Shenandoah, High School
"Bressy"

Mary is a veritable representative of old Killarney and can not be surpassed in her Irish wit. Her sense of humor is written on her countenance.

If you want to get a good laugh plus some cats, all you need to do is call at the headquarters of the L. I. D., but, of course, this was limited to the members only. The 1:20 music period in that room shall go down in the history of the L. I. D. as one of the most desperate struggles of our life at B. S. N. S.

Mary was always at the head of the intermediate class, at least in name, and many a time she wished that the "B" was removed from her name, because she was the first victim in every classroom. But after a few years of successful teaching she won't mind the "B" not the Breslin after "Bill" of the said name has his say.

CATHERINE R. BROGAN
Freeland, Pa.
Saint Ann's High School
"Kay"

"Kay" was not with us last year, but we surely can imagine what we missed. Her laugh can always be heard in the halls above every other voice. Many times this voice got her in "Dutch" with the dean and proctors. Hanging over balconies was one of her daring traits.

"Kay" was very good in art, especially if her friends supplied her with enough carbon paper.

Her interest does not lie in the teaching profession, but rather in the—oh, well, you know what I mean. She is an all around sport and we extend to her our best wishes for success.

ELIZABETH M. BROOKS
Lewisburg, Pa.
Milton High School
"Betty"

"Betty" is a tall, fair haired maiden about whose musical powers much might be said had we but time and space.

Roman myths tell us that Minerva was the goddess of wisdom. We suppose if "Betty" lives up to her name, and all her pupils listen carefully to everything she tells them, many Solomon will wend their way from her classes.

They say that "Betty's" fondness for "Jim" has changed since she came to Normal, for here she will not have anything to do with "Gym." Dame Rumor also reports that Bucknell is in Lewisburg. How about it, "Betty"? Has she misinformed us?

However, after all is said and done we feel that "Betty" will be a successful teacher, although we cannot prophesy an old maid's life for you, and the class of '25 wishes you success no matter what you take up.

ANNE BRYANT
Luzerne, Pa.
Pringle Hill High School
"Anne"

Oh! my, yes, Miss Anne must have her fun. If she ever kept quiet or went to bed at ten bells we would all have gone for the nurse.

A great deal of commotion, a loud, cheery laugh and a voice questioning, "Who's got something to eat?" That is Anne.

As for music, Anne is very musical. She and her "uke" rendered many selections during the year. We think she got her practice from Miss Patterson's special music class.

When it comes to opening doors Anne is right there. She never misses one. Since the Thanksgiving vacation Anne has been very studious—we wonder why? Three guesses.

Anne we are sure of your success and our best wishes are yours.

PAULINE M. BUCHER
Wilburton, Pa.
Conyngnam Township High School
"Polly"

She may be small, but as they say, "Good things come in small packages." "Polly" is one of our little girls who came from that unknown town, Wilburton. She is an industrious worker and spends most of her time studying and drawing. Art is one of her favorite hobbies.

If you do not find her studying or drawing you will surely find one of the cots in 459 occupied, for she approves of beauty naps.

There is one thing she never misses and that is a joke. She would lose an afternoon's sleep to hear one. You can always count on finding her where a joke is being told.

We wonder why she is always so anxious to get home for week-ends. We feel sure there is more attraction than the good things to eat.

We all know "Polly" does not intend to follow the teaching profession, but in whatever she may undertake we wish her success and happiness.

ADELINE BURGESS
Wyoming, Pa.
Wyoming High School
"Adeline"

Adeline is a prominent member of our lively, fun-loving crowd on third floor front. When she arrives, things begin to happen. She came to us with previous normal school experience, perhaps that explains her anxiety over the grill which was such a long time coming.

Do not get in her way the day before she has five classes if you would receive the slightest attention. As long as she has any work to do she knows no rest, and even the most tempting "feed" must wait until 9:30 or until the last lesson is prepared. Throughout the dormitory she is known as a conscientious worker and a mighty good sport.

Our sincerest wishes for a happy, successful, career follow you.

LILLIAN BURGESS
Wyoming, Pa.
West Wyoming High School
"Lillian"

It has happened before now that an over-ambitious girl studying in the hall after 10:30 has fallen asleep not to awaken until 2:00 A. M. Our advice is to do your studying during the day if you would sleep comfortably at night. Lillian is unexcelled as a rapid conversationalist, but a year of teaching is bound to develop one's choice of words and rate of talking.

There is no further need of mentioning her fondness for studying. She enjoys her work and has a keen interest for every school activity. Her friendship is highly prized by those who know her and her pleasing personality has won for her a deep regard throughout the Normal. "Go to it, Lillian!"

The class of '25 sends its sincerest wishes for success with you.

DOLORES CARDEN
Scranton, Pa.
Central High School
"Dolores"

It takes a long time to know Dolores as she really is—but when you get to know her, you find out it is something worth while waiting for.

Dot and Dolores roomed in town last year and they frequently entertained us with strange and thrilling stories of their adventures while they were there.

Dolores is subject to some strange illusions. On one occasion she found a piece of string on the rain-pipe outside her window and since that time thinks the school should hire a private officer to guard her room as she was certain someone was trying to climb in.

We are inclined to envy Dolores in her choice of m-a-l-e because while we sit around waiting for letters, he says it with telegrams.

Dolores always did love art. She even taught it for a while. This statement can easily be proven by the stunning night attire she frequently wears. What's a few colors among friends?

The best of luck and success to you, Dolores.

KATHRYN O. CASTLES
Scranton, Pa.
Central High School
"Kitty"

Did you say Pep? "Kitty" has it. Well, if you doubt it just ask any of the third floor crowd and "Nick." Who is "Nick"? Just read your Bible, you'll find his name somewhere between its covers. "Nick" sees only "Kitty" and "Kitty" sees only "Nick." It surely is a sad case. What will he do when "Kitty" leaves Bloomsburg this year? Strange things do happen they say. We wonder?

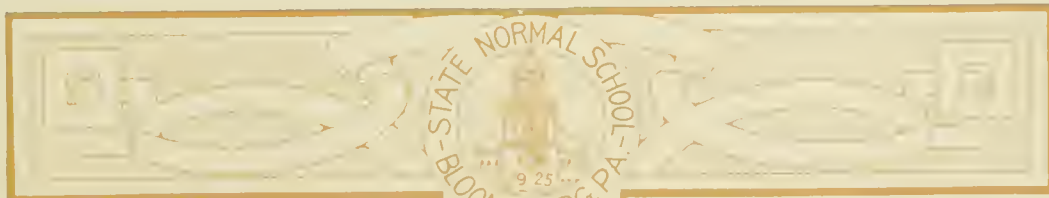

"Kitty" surely is a leader. Remember the dance she put through with a bang. It was voted the best dance we ever had while at Normal.

Keep up the good work, "Kitty." We're all expecting to hear of a certain Mrs. ———, a social leader in Bloomsburg putting her training into practice.

Besides being a social leader "Kitty" is also a singer. The Glee Clubs will miss her when she leaves B. S. N. S., as will also the Presbyterian choir.

We heard something lately about some chocolate Easter eggs. What was it all about, "Kitty"?

Best o' luck to you, "Kitty," and we wish you success in whatever you do.

ANNA M. CAWLEY
Hazleton, Pa.
Hazleton High School
"Jack"

Anna appears to be a very quiet girl, but appearances are deceiving. She is a tall, slender blonde. It will be a long time before she forgets the hair cut which she got from the "Third Floor Barber." Nothing, whatsoever, prevented her from taking her daily trip down town. I think it was on one of these daily trips that she acquired a "deep sea knowledge," namely fish.

Anna's activities as a member of the L. I. D. became fewer when the food supply diminished. But then who can blame her? The main by-law of the L. I. D. constitution was "cats," frequently and lots of them.

She has a perfect record attendance at the school dances. Her favorite song is "My Boy Friend and Me." Which boy friend she means we wouldn't even attempt to say because boy friends with her are like trolley cars, a different one every fifteen minutes.

Success to Anna!

MURIEL CHIVERS
Peckville, Pa.
Blakely High School
"Mitz"

If you know a blue-eyed, blonde-haired maid with a pleasant smile for everyone she meets, it's "Mitz."

She possesses a most pleasing manner, and she is always on the bright side of life, never bother the dark sides. Her chief worries at school are cats and trying to get enough sleep (enui sed).

By the way things look in the form of boxes of candy and letters from Cornell, "Mitz's" career as a school teacher will be short.

Whatever life may hold for her, we are certain that she will meet it in her usual bright and happy way.

"Mitz," we wish you much luck and happiness as a school teacher and—well, we will see later.

WILLIAM C. COFFMAN
 Bloomsburg, Pa.
 B. S. N. S. High School Department
 "Bill"

Here is a young man who left school to serve in the World War. He was gassed and wounded in battle, but after being dismissed from the service he came back to school. Through his earnest endeavors he has accomplished much.

"Bill's" first work with us was in the High School Department, where he made many friends. His immediate friends tell us that he looks back to those days with great pride.

His two years' work in the Normal Course has proved to his classmates that he is in earnest. We know that he will be a successful teacher. True to tradition, "Bill" has a strong inclination for the opposite sex, and it is likely that the predictions made by some folks will come to pass.

MARIE CONNELLY
 Sunbury, Pa.
 Sunbury High School
 "Marie"

Another one of the rural group! Although we did not know Marie in our junior year, we were glad to have her join us in our senior year.

Marie is a very jolly member of the group. She is an industrious girl and a good student, but she does not put all her time on books. She is very fond of music and occasionally gives a mandolin solo or plays for a dance in the hall. However, music is not her only accomplishment, for we find displayed many artistic designs in her room, in the form of vases, which are really masterpieces, and we will look for them in some great art gallery in the future.

Dimples are an asset to anyone, but we think in school teachers they are especially attractive. The only drawback is that dimples are not conducive to many years in the school teaching profession, but in whatever you do, may you have the best of success and happiness.

GILBERT COOPER
Glen Lyon, Pa.
Newport High School
"Coop"

"Coop" had come to us in that mad rush whereby the class of 1923 broke all records for fall enrollment by twenty.

"Coop" remained in obscurity until his ability along artistic lines was discovered then his host of friends and admirers grew by leaps and bounds. Printing initials on sweat shirts and advertising were his specialities in the junior year.

Under the tutorship of Professor Keller "Coop" has become very proficient in fine arts.

While at Normal School "Coop" had but one failing, namely, a certain young Scrantonian often seen in his company.

It is rumored that "Coop" intends to take an artist's course at Columbia. If he does, we are sure he will succeed.

CATHERINE COXE
Scranton, Pa.
St. Cecelia's Academy
"Catherine"

It is impossible in a short sketch of this kind to do anything like justice to many of our excellent classmates, and Catherine is among the first on the list.

Catherine is possessed of a gay optimism, and her ready smile and hearty laugh shows that her heart is where it ought to be (even though a certain person in Scranton has many claims on it).

A better natured and jollier girl is hard to find, for wherever or whenever you chance to meet her, she is always ready to give you one of her fascinating smiles. She has a most excellent sense of the eternal fitness of things and is a regular National Board of Censorship on the subject of clothes. Ask her if she admires a certain gown and she will reply: "It's very cute and it's the latest."

Here's success to you, Catherine.

MARION COXE
Scranton, Pa.
Central High School
"Marion"

Marion is one of those girls whose friendship we all wish to hold. Her loving disposition and kindheartedness are just a part of her very charming personality. She is an all around good sport and pal. Just one look at Marion and you can decide for yourself that she is full of pep and fun.

Marion's sparkling blue eyes have attracted many admiring glances from someone that suggests sugar. Is it not "Kane"?

We know that Marion has all the best qualities for teaching, but we would not feel safe in prophesying that she will teach for a very long time, for such an attractive little Miss with a "special ease" would never care to class herself among the self-supporting women. Luck to you, Marion.

J. MAUREEN CRANDAL
Camptown High School
Camptown, Pa.
"Maureen"

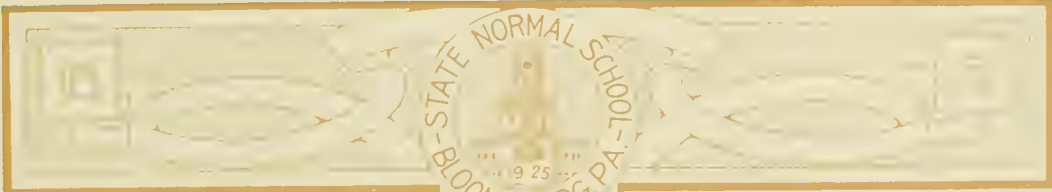

"Maureen," otherwise the other Funny, is another member of our class who joined us in our senior year. We are sorry she didn't join us sooner because she is an all around good sport who always sees the bright side of life even when she finds that her room has been stacked.

She loves no other study better than music and she might pass the final test if she could play the uke in place of dictation.

We all know she would judging from the drumming we've been forced to listen to from 9:30 to 10:00 o'clock. Crandal never sees anything eatable that she doesn't remark, "That would look good to me if it were cooked."

Her favorite color is "Red," and her ambition is to teach in Maine and attend summer school at State College. We wonder why? Perhaps if she told us a few things about the summer which she spent along the Hudson it would furnish a clew.

Best luck to you, "Maureen."

GRETCHEN V. CULVER
Wilkes-Barre, Pa.
Wilkes-Barre High School
"Gretch" "Mrs. Yost"

Here we find a jolly, good-natured, curly haired miss beloved by everyone in Normal. Yes, by teachers as well as classmates.

Last year she was always ready to help those who were ill or homesick, and this year she has really become a nurse. Whenever you want to find Gretchen just go to the Infirmary or to Mrs. Holmes' room. Indeed, she is a splendid assistant nurse.

I wonder whether or not the boys at North Hall know about her being such a capable nurse?

Last year, too, we used to hear Gretchen say that she intended to be an "old maid schoolmarm." We haven't heard her say that this year. Do you suppose someone has changed her mind? For information on this topic the best authority, perhaps, would be to ask the president of the senior class.

"Gretch" hopes to be an English teacher in a Junior High School, at least for a while. So she says.

Here's luck to you, Gretchen, in whatever you do, whether it be teaching or—anything else.

MARY H. CURWOOD
Shickshinny, Pa.
Shickshinny High School
"Curwood"

"Curwood"! Yes, we all know the name. A good sport, a real girl friend, and a wonderful pal is Mary. She is very happy and always has a smile, and is ready at any time for a good time, and is a live wire if there is anything going on. She never misses a trick and many a time has taken the blame for things she knew nothing about.

Her favorite pastime is eating and sleeping. If ever you want something to eat go to "Curwood's room, but especially on a Sunday afternoon after a Studebaker car has been up to the school. She sleeps most any time—except when there is salt in her bed.

"Curwood" can take a joke, for her room has been stacked and many times has she tried to act cross, but her sense of humor always came to the rescue.

"Curwood," we are sure of your success in the teaching profession, and we all wish you heaps of luck and success.

ELIZABETH DANIELS
Taylor, Pa.
Taylor High School
"Betty"

On first seeing "Betty," one would perhaps labor under the impression that she is only a demure, lovable, dainty little girl. However, on closer acquaintance, we discover that she is more than these imply. She possesses all the good qualities which are characteristic in a true and loving friend who would stick to one to the end.

"Betty" can both dance and sing as was evidenced by the fact that she danced in the Junior Drama and is a member of the Senior Girls' Glee Club.

Teaching as yet is "Betty's" confirmed vocation, and a more interesting and more conscientious teacher than she, would be hard to find. Besides this, "Betty" has many avocations. It might be mean to tell what these side lines are, but Dame Rumor has it that "Betty" is never lonely on certain nights in the week, whether she is at home or at school.

Our best wishes go with you.

FRANCES DAVENPORT
Watertown, Pa.
Huntington Township High School
"Davy"

Here is one of the down-town gang, and many have wondered why Frances did not room in the "Dorm," probably she heard of the strict rules of Normal Hill.

Was there ever a lesson assigned that we did not hear a comment or gentle hint from "Davy" that it was too long or we were too busy to do it. Never mind, everyone felt the same way, only they were too bashful to admit it.

Does anyone know a cure for acute rheumatism? I am sure we all recall the day during Education Week that Frances was to give a chapel speech on "Health," and unfortunately contracted rheumatism for "one day." We hope you find a cure real soon.

"All's well that ends well," applies here very well for in spite of "Davy's" pranks we are all glad to have known a kind thoughtful little miss, and your classmates and friends join in wishing you the best of luck and success.

ELIZABETH R. DAVIS
Wilkes-Barre, Pa.
Wilkes-Barre High School
"Betty"

"Betty" is small, but the kind of a girl that wins friends rapidly. She's just bubbling over with fun, but fun-loving as she is she still has time to be serious, which was shown by the good work she accomplished as a member of the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet and the Leader's Club. "Betty" is a conscientious worker, doing all and everything she is told to do.

"Betty's" voice can be heard at all hours of the day and her noted cry is, "Is the Mail in?" We know she is extremely interested in a young man from Lehigh. Perhaps that accounts for her famous slogan.

She is not destined to become a school "marm" as "Betty" wears a Fraternity pin. Everyone wishes her a happy and successful future.

LAURA A. DAVIS
Scranton, Pa.
Central High School
"Laura"

Laura is one of our few "happy medium" girls. She possesses just enough fun to add zest to all our good times and just enough common sense to balance her love of fun. No one can refrain from loving Laura.

Never shall we forget the duets with which she and Betty used to favor fourth floor suite. "Volume" was the keynote! This duet is now taken care of by a piece of furniture in Laura's room, namely, the bed. Such laments as that bed sings during sleeping hours is most certainly pitiful. Then, too, ask Laura about her front campus room. "It can't be beat!"

O, yes, Laura may appear very demure at times, but just try to find her equal when it comes to wit.

We were compelled to share Laura with the kiddies of the Training School and they adopted her in spite of our protest. Laura is sure a success, but we confess, however, that the work can't claim her for a very long period of time. Lots o' luck, Laura.

MELBA DAVIS
Wilkes-Barre, Pa.
Hanover Township High School
"Melba"

"Who's talking?" Well, here comes Melba Davis down the hall; thus her arrival is always announced, or by "Charlie, My Boy." Now we wonder—is there a prince charming thus named who hails from Hanover, too, and who might prove interesting? We wish we knew—Rah, Rah, Hanover!

Melba is responsible for many things that happen on fourth floor. We would like to know if she could throw any light on the subject as to who started the pillow fight one night at 10:30.

Melba's main interest lies in "Gym." She is at her best in a basketball game or a tennis tournament, and perhaps the word is more significant—"Yes, Melba"?

As a Fire Captain she has proved herself efficient, and we hope that in her life work she will be as successful. Success be yours, Melba.

VERNA E. DAVIS
Scranton, Pa.
Technical High School
"Vern"

After spending four years in Technical High School at Scranton and graduating with honors, "Vern" decided to follow the plans of others and cast her lot with the class of '25 at B. S. N. S. Are we glad she came? Well, we guess.

When you hear someone singing "Honey" you need not guess who it is for you will know it is "Vern."

She taught "gym," but we all know she had plenty of practice before beginning her task by calling "right face" and "left face" during the nights we slept six in a bed. How about it, "Vern"?

In classes "Vern" possesses all the dignity you can imagine, but when classes are over she is always ready for fun.

"Vern" likes "coupes," but there is another kind that she likes better.

We think it best not to try to foretell her future as things at present are quite uncertain.

Here's to your success in all your undertakings.

ELIZABETH DAVISON
Scranton, Pa.
Central High School
"Betty"

Here she is!
If you don't know "Betty" I should advise you to get acquainted with her. Her name is a by-word in the "dorm" for all that is lovable. She is always a friend worth having.

"Betty" is always ready to have a good time, and is a live wire if there is anything going on. Behind those black eyes there is an unending story of mischief which crops out about every so often.

But "Betty" has other good points. She is an active member of the Y. W., and an untiring worker on any committee.

As a teacher, she has met with a great deal of success here, and we are sure more success will be hers within the future. But will it last long? You never can tell.

Here's our best wishes for a happy future.

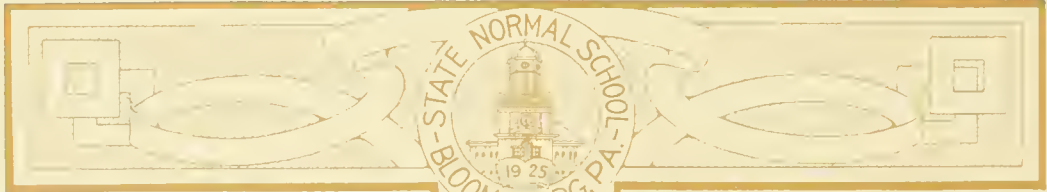

HOPE L. DENNIS
Wilkes-Barre, Pa.
Wilkes-Barre High School
"Hopie"

Behold, one of the most original young ladies in our class. If you have any special printing to be done just call on Hope. She can sing, she can study, she can play the "uke." Honest, she can do most anything. "Hopie" feels that the toil of the school room is great life if you don't weaken.

Her talent as an artist is shown whenever there is a demand for posters. Her favorite expression is "Oh, my heart!" We are not quite sure as to where her heart is, but if Studebakers have anything to do with it we can well imagine. When playing the "uke" why does Hope change "Charley, My Boy," to "Jimmy, My Boy"?

She is another who expects to make teaching her life profession. We have our doubts, Hope. But wherever you go and whatever you do, do not forget your classmates.

STEENA R. DEPPEN
Dalmatia, Pa.
Dalmatia High School
"Skeeter"

If you see a smiling blonde walk across the campus you will know that "Skeeter" has arrived.

Steena has decided musical ability as her singing, violin, and ukulele playing show. We predict great success to her if she will further develop this talent. In fact, we have never heard any opera singer put more pathos into her voice than does "Skeeter" when she sits on the window sill, gazes at the moon, and sings, "Oh, Where Is My Wandering Boy Tonight? It is hard to determine of which boy she is singing as there are so many. "Is it Guy, Patsy, Elwood, or Farry, Ted, Pete, Jack, or Larry? "Skeeter" is always a favorite at midnight feeds, and dances held at one A. M. The success of many such an affair was due to the pep and gaiety which only she could put into it.

We hope you will always be as happy as you were here, Steena, and our wishes of success are yours.

CATHERINE DEVINE
Wilkes-Barre, Pa.
St. Mary's High School
"Catherine"

Catherine is reserved and distant in her manner, but she has many strikingly attractive qualities which make folks crave an introduction, not to say even an intimate friendship with her.

She alarms us occasionally with some startling remarks, jocular or otherwise, and when she is in this mood, people around her sit up and take notice as her jokes always "carry over," and are always the funniest and most unique of all.

The fact that she is a member of the Senior Girls' Glee Club, the Girls' Special Chorus, and participated in the Junior Drama is sufficient proof that she has great social capabilities.

She is a splendid teacher, and we know of some who would gladly go to school again if Catherine taught. May you be successful in whatever you undertake.

HELEN D. DICKINSON
Wyoming, Pa.
Wyoming High School
"Helen"

Helen comes from Wyoming, which is noted in history, for what? Just ask Helen. Many an evening she has entertained us with a glowing account of its historical importance.

She is just a lovely girl, with blue eyes, fair skin, and above all is bestowed with the gift that many a girl nowadays admires and artificially gets, and that is the golden glint of her hair.

Helen is a very busy girl. She studies, reads, and is a member of our orchestra. She has selected the Junior High Group, specializing in Science and Mathematics, and is very efficient. There is a reason for all things, so there's one for this, and after she meets her professional ideal she will continue and practice these in Domestic Science and Household Mathematics.

The class of '25 wish you the best of luck, and may the class of '26 appreciate you as we did.

LAURA DIETRICK
Espy, Pa.
Espy High School
"Laura"

Laura is one of our day students hailing from that wonderful town, Espy. She prefers the constant noise of her home town, and the daily ride on the cars to the quiet life of B. S. N. S. Dormitory.

At first meeting with Laura you would think her cold and haughty, but after a few weeks acquaintance you change your opinion.

She is a very industrious student, and you can count on her always having her work prepared.

A pleasing personality belongs to her, and by her sweet smile and gentle ways, she has won many friends.

Laura is one of those wise girls who failed to hear Dame Fashion's call, but kept her crowning glory. We are sure she has held her dignity by holding to her tresses.

We wonder why Laura shows such great spirit in State College affairs. In whatever you may undertake we all wish you success.

KATHRYN M. DONEGAN
Nesquehoning, Pa.
Nesquehoning High School
"Duggie"

Here is a genuine "Wild Irish Rose." She is one of the jolliest girls of our class, and is always congenial.

The Intermediate Group is the easiest they say, but "Duggie" chose it before they told us that. She always leaves things go to the last minute, but she manages to get there just the same.

One of her favorite pastimes is walking. Why she would walk to the end of the earth if some one would go with her. When she was a little junior her strutting through the hall set many a senior's ear alert, expecting the dean to walk in on them.

She is usually seen presiding over the L. I. D. meetings, or else giving us a string of her Irish witticisms. Best wishes from the class of '25.

ANNA B. DOUGHERTY
Freeland High School
"Dock"

Here we have "Dock," who is always on hand when a good time is planned. If at any time you couldn't see her, somehow you knew she was around. We wonder why?

Do you remember the occasion on which "Dock" as Schrimps Sweetheart made her debut? Talk about your success, she was one, we'll say.

And not only in the line of acting, but our "Dock" is talented along other lines. She certainly can dance and sing. She was one of the stars who illuminated the musical world of B. S. N. S.

Here's wishing that "Dock," a good sport and a good friend, will meet the problems of teaching with the same attitude as she meets her friends. We wish her success and happiness in all that she undertakes.

A. PAULINE DOTY
Benton, Pa.
Benton Vocational School
"Polly"

"Polly" is an unknown (?) quantity in B. S. N. S., but is quite well known in State College. Her life is a mixed up affair, her home is in Benton, she stays in Bloomsburg, and her heart is in Penn State. Despite these difficulties she is becoming quite a proficient teacher.

A teacher? Well, we aren't certain whether she will continue in that direction, for you know that ambition is no cure for love.

The gentlest of all human natures has "Polly" except when she is in the "fighting spirit," then woe to the offender. During these periods, luckily of short durations, to those who know her not no words can describe her, and those who know her know that all words are faint.

But putting all jokes aside "Polly" is a very nice girl to know and to have as a friend.

DEAN S. DRISCOLL
Dushore, Pa.
Estella High School
"Dean"

Dean came to us in the summer of 1923 after spending one summer at Mansfield.

Dean drives a Dodge. No one disputes his knowledge about cars. To hear him talk about them you would think he was born in a garage and cut his eye teeth on spark plugs. He frequently takes the Dodge out for an airing, and it is rumored that the occupants are not always boys.

He has shown some ability in tennis, and in basketball he captained the "All Stars" to second place in the tournament games.

At the beginning of the second semester, Dean began to show us that he was not the woman hater he appeared to be at first, and stepped out quite frequently with a certain young lady.

Here's success to you, Dean, in whatever you may choose to do.

SUSAN DRUM
Mifflinville, Pa.
Berwick High School

Another Mifflin girl! Susan is supposed to come to Bloomsburg on the 7:00 trolley every morning, but when we count the Mifflin girls as they enter the trolley usually Susan is the missing one.

But she always gets there just the same. Susan dearly loves nature, and she even wanted to bring greens in to make the locker room cheerful.

Susan is always bewailing the ill-fate that made her slightly plump, but if she knew how sweet she was she wouldn't be starting to diet every two weeks.

We think that Susan made a wise choice when she chose the Primary group, because she seems to be right at home with the little tots, and her laughing hazel eyes instantly win both large and small.

We wish you all the luck in the world, Susan.

JOSEPH L. DUGAN
Lost Creek, Pa.
B. S. N. S. High School Dept.
"Dugan"

"Dugan" is one of our hardest working men. He seems to be studying all the time. Whenever you go into the library there you will see him reading some "Education" book. But with all this he finds plenty of time to do other things. He very often entertains the third floor with his pleasing Irish voice. His specialty being Irish love songs. I wonder why. He has a hand in keeping the third floor record spotless as he is one of the proctors, and a good one too.

Whenever there is a chance to play a game of basketball, "Dugan" is the first one there. He can play too. Ask the Remnants. They will tell you he won some of their games with a spectacular shot.

Dugan had a big hand in the success of the school paper helping to organize it last year and reorganize it this year. With all this he finds time to work in the dining room, where he is very popular.

So you see that first statement is entirely true, and he does his work very well. Keep it up after you leave here, Joe, and you are bound to be a big success.

LOUISE DURBIN
Plymouth, Pa.
Plymouth High School
"Louise"

Here is the one blonde member of the gang—her golden hair and big blue eyes make the name, Louise, a by-word of loveliness throughout the dormitory.

She is always there for the gang, and is always thinking of new ideas whereby she can put us on the map.

Louise appears to be a happy-go-lucky sort of girl, she is in something—but then like everyone else she does have her troubles occasionally! What about the eternal triangle—Syracuse, Bucknell, and State. We think this will prove the survival of the fittest.

She always did admire red hair—but after trying it for one short afternoon, she decided that her own golden tresses were just as good if not better.

Louise has certainly made a good beginning in her musical career. We all expect to see her become a prima donna some day. Keep the good work up.

Our best wishes for luck and success go with you, Louise.

RUTH M. DYER
Shamokin, Pa.
Shamokin High School
"Ruthie" (Sterno)

Ruth, better known to her friends as "Ruthie," is a girl who everyone knows and who everybody likes, especially on third floor annex, where "Ruthie" has lived since she came to B. S. N. S. She is the life of the party in room 373, and is usually entertaining her roommates. (Ruth has the pleasure of having two), and her pals with her funny remarks.

Ruth has decided to be a primary teacher, although fitted for most anything. But primary work isn't the only thing "Ruthie" has her mind on. In the middle of her junior year she became very much interested in the problem of transportation. Of course, there are many different kinds, and Ruth is only interested in the one, and that is a certain Buss which runs between Wilkes-Barre and Bloomsburg once in a while.

"Ruthie," we wish you the best of luck and success in the years to come.

MARGARET EMMITT
Bloomsburg, Pa.
Bloomsburg High School
"Marg" "Peg"

Honk! Honk! Here is "Marg." Did you say peppy? Well, I should say. You know she is getting more and more extravagant every day running around in that car. We also believe it affects the intellect to wear red (doesn't it, "Marg"). Margaret has become quite a noted speaker. If she keeps on in dramatics together with her high school experience she may become one of the woman's delegation speakers.

Margaret is one of the ladies who are planning to stay three years. We hope her plans do not miscarry. However since she purchased her new car it seems to require a special chauffeur to drive it.

"Marg" is also a very reliable person. She is a loyal reporter for the Maroon and Gold Staff and has recently been elected president of the Middler Girls' Sorority. With the reins in her hands we are sure to get somewhere.

Here is a good sport at all times and a good thinker besides. Best of luck, "Peg."

MARY S. ERICKSON
Scranton, Pa.
Technical High School
"Mary"

You know appearances are deceiving. We thought we knew Mary in our junior year, but we had to wait until our senior year to discover Mary and her real other self.

She is one of our studious girls and is a firm believer of doing the right thing at the right time. One often finds her pouring over some big book in the Library; but do not get the impression that studying is all she does. She frankly admits that she enjoys reading "kid" books for English, but teasing—well, there is no one who enjoys it more than Mary—just ask the girls.

Her awakening thought is—will I get any mail today? She is seldom disappointed—why—well, she is one of the truest pals that we know and we know that others feel the same way about it. To her many activities may be added the honor of being Treasurer of the Mu Phi Sigma, of which she is an enthusiastic worker.

Mary, we doubt if teaching will be your profession for long, but surely you will take hold of the future with the same thoroughness as you have the past and our best wishes go with you.

ALMA EVANS
Kingston, Pa.
Dorranceton High School
"Alma"

Has she pep? Can't be beat! Never remains quiet or allows anyone else to; that is, of course, excepting "study hour." Many are the exciting adventures which Alma has started and you can be sure that she doesn't think a thing of getting up at midnight to have some fun. Ask her about the Ku Ku Klub and its thrills!

Did some one mention onions? Yes, Alma is an ardent lover of that fruit, and many are the tears which she has shed over her onion sandwiches, but "True love never runs smooth," Candy before bed also has its charms for Alma.

The kiddies love Alma and we know she will be a successful teacher. Of course we don't know how long she'll be in the profession, but Alma says she is going to teach and when she promises she generally does it. But we're from Missouri!

Nevertheless, here's to you, Alma, wishing you the best of luck and the ability to say "Yes."

LUCY H. EVANS
Dushore, Pa.
Dushore High School
"Lu"

Lucy's middle name should be "Procrastination." Her motto is "Never do today what you can put off 'til tomorrow, and don't do it then if you don't have to."

"Lu" loves ??? teaching, and how long she will stick to it is hard to say.

She may be small, but just the same good things come in small packages. She is full of pep and life, always looking for a good time and usually finding it.

The most of us will never forget the many evenings Lucy played "orchestra" while we danced in the gym after dinner.

Thanks a heap, Lucy, and good luck be with you always.

MARGARET EYERLY
Espy, Pa.
Scott Township High School
"Peggy"

"Peggy" is one of the jolly girls from Espy. She puts her worries in the bottom of her heart and sits on the lid. In the Locker Room she doesn't seem to know what the word loafing means, for we find her studying while the rest are playing.

"Peggy" although a day student, is always on hand for all our parties and class stunts. Perhaps it is because she has a new interest in B. S. N. S. this year; however, she has a tendency towards nursing which would have been of use to her at certain times in her past life.

The town doesn't seem to have much attraction for her, but we hope that she will continue to be interested in her present work and teach for a few years around home and then if she must do something else she should spend a few years in or near Michigan, where she will be able to help if a call is sent again.

The class wishes you luck in your teaching and future work.

HELEN L. FAIRCLOUGH
Pittston, Pa.
Pittston High School
"Helen"

Here she is full of life and pep. A good sport, and a wonderful pal, and altogether charming "Miss" is our Helen.

Helen has black hair, large brown eyes, and is liked by members of both dorms. We find her true blue as a friend and coolly aloof to an enemy.

Helen is always present when a good time is planned or for a 10 o'clock feed. Her favorite cry being "Got anything to eat." She is also very fond of music, and can be found practicing it in her spare moments.

The first Sunday at B. S. N. S. a day Helen shall never forget. It certainly did rain, and her room was in a position to receive. It is true that Helen has chosen teaching as her profession—although we have our doubts about her statement concerning her teaching five years. However, we wish you the best of luck, Helen.

MARGARET FAY
Dorranceton, Pa.
Dorranceton High School
"Fay"

A good sport, a real girl friend and a wonderful pal is our "Fay." She is always ready to have a good time, whether it be stacking rooms or salting down the Seniors! Never afraid of the consequences even if they are for instance—water or sprinklings.

Remember in our junior year she was a victim of back hall diving, our nightly performances. "Fay" is a firm believer that "Love sends a little gift of roses," but mostly always it's a big gift. We notice since the Berwick Party, "Fay's" eyes are turned to (?) Keep the good work up, old kid. A man is a good friend to have down here.

"Fay" is a member of our Senior Girls' Glee Club, which recently made its debut in society. We, the class of 25, wish you success and happiness in whatever you do.

MARY ANN FETCH
Wyoming, Pa.
Wyoming High School
"Mary"

Have you seen the curly haired blondes coming across the campus? If so you will know that the "Fetch Twins" have arrived. If you take particular notice you will see that Mary always has a welcoming smile for you.

Although Mary has been with us only two years, she has proved her vocal ability by being an active member of the Senior Girls' Glee Club. Mary has a pleasing personality and winning ways with which she won her many friends while here.

Mary is so much like her sister, Sue, that it has been rumored that their boy friends have mistaken them for each other and have gone out with the other twin which was none too pleasant for either.

We feel sure that with her smile and helpful traits she will be a successful Junior High School teacher.

SUZANNE FETCH
Wyoming, Pa.
Wyoming High School
"Sue"

How many times have you seen "Sue" without Mary? Not many, I bet. They were so quiet it was weeks before we knew they were ever here, but finally we heard a loud commanding voice ring clearly down long halls on second floor, to this effect: "Mary, where's my tie?" We later learned that they were the blonde twins who hailed from Wyoming.

From our associations with them we find that they are very particular about their food. Many a Friday night we found "Sue" preparing free lunch in her room.

If there was ever a debate to be held in English class, "Sue" was always selected as chairman of one side or the other, for a better debater could not be found in the school.

Never mind, "Sue," the class of '25 extends to you their best wishes as a successful Junior High School teacher.

MARTHA A. FISHER
Sunbury, Pa.
Sunbury High School
"Martha"

A little girl with a very strong personality that's Martha. She has a smile for everyone she meets.

She is a good all around sport, ready and willing to lend a helping hand at all times. She is very industrious, and certainly has won credit for herself at the Normal. In other words, she is just the kind of a student that the Normal is proud of.

There is no doubt as to Martha's future, for with the sterling qualities that she possesses we feel assured that her teaching will be a success, and we all wish her the best of luck.

GRACE FITE
Benton, Pa.
Benton Vocational School
"Kid"

Grace is another of our downtown girls. To look at her picture you'd never think that this little girl has two flashing brown eyes and the most sparkling smile in the world. Do the boys take a second look? They do, for Grace has "A way" about her which will take her safely through this world, we are sure.

Aside from studying she is very keen on hiking, basketball and dancing. She believes the world loves a spice of wickedness.

Grace intends to teach awhile and then teach some more, but we doubt it, for her "heart line" shows that she will never lead an old maid's life.

May success be yours, is our wish for you.

WINIFRED FLAHERTY
Bloomsburg, Pa.
Bloomsburg High School
"Winnie"

Here is "Winnie," one of the best sports we know. She is well liked by all who know her, and no one enjoys a good time better than she. As to her giggle, well, it's positively contagious. Just ask any of her numerous friends.

One of her favorite sports is dancing, and doesn't she enjoy going to West Side?

However, do not think that she does not study. She is one of our best students, and as for teaching, we are sure that she will be successful with the "Kiddies" as she has selected the Primary group.

We all hope that your happiest and most successful days are ahead of you, Winifred.

MARGARET R. FLEMING
Kingston, Pa.
Kingston High School
"Peggy"

If you happen to see a girl with large grey eyes and a friendly smile, walking quietly up the hall, do not be afraid to speak. For the girl will be "Peggy" Fleming.

"Peggy" just smiles her way into a person's heart, if the person has a heart. If you are blue and you want some one to tell your troubles to, "Peggy" will give you a dose of happiness.

There is always a letter in "Peggy's" box. If you happen to meet her after she has read "the letter" you will see a far away look in "Peggy's" eyes. Will we ever know why?

"Peggy" always has her lessons, so when she receives her A's they are well earned.

May luck always come your way, "Peggy." May your days in the future be full of happiness and content.

MARGARET I. FLYNN
Plymouth, Pa.
Plymouth High School
"Peg" "Peggie"

"Peg" is another one of those "Up-Stream" lasses, who comes to us from Plymouth. Early in her junior year she demurely stated that "Variety was the spice of life," and, if possible, she intended holding to it while at B. S. N. S. We firmly believe she has, according to her vast number of admirers. What we cannot understand at B. S. N. S. is why she chose the teaching profession, when something such as Domestic Art or Science would probably play a much more important part in her life, not long hence. We hope not, but indications favor such a conclusion.

But here is the best of luck to you, "Peg," when you enter the teaching world. We are sure of your success because, character, knowledge, and perseverance plus Normal training formulate good teaching. Where there is happiness there is success.

ELIZABETH M. FORD
Nanticoke, Pa.
St. Mary's High School
"Betty"

Just one look at her and you will agree that she is a very fine girl. Full of fun, a friend most sincere, and always a cheery word when it is most needed she supplies. Is she not worth while?

Nanticoke is her home town and she says she expects to go back to teach. Although, news as to the special attraction is very scarce, we feel sure that some attraction does exist. To realize how many friends know the value of a special smile, just walk down the street with this fair maid and you may easily acquire an estimate.

"Betty's" good qualities are very numerous, but it is most essential that her chosen profession be not forgotten. In this field we feel confident that "Betty" will meet with true success, for she has proven our trust and we are wishing for her continued laurels.

GEORGE B. FOUGHT
Millville, Pa.
Millville High School
"George"

George is one of our earnest boys from the big town of Millville. His aim is to be a modern Rural School Teacher. We think his home town is the incentive for the fulfillment of this aim.

We also see in George the makings of an able "Hash-slinger." When he graduates with the senior class he will have been qualified to apply as head waiter in any of our large hotels. His faithful service in the dining room is his only necessary recommendation.

George is a great lover of the outdoors. He often takes leave of absence, and we are most sure that we can find him "back on the farm." We know that this inclination will make his chosen work a great success. Our best wishes go with you.

MARTHA FRITZ
Bloomsburg, Pa.
Bloomsburg High School
"Mart" "Fritzie"

"Mart" is one of our downtown girls, too, and she is one of the jolliest girls we know. She is always ready for fun and is a good sport. However, she does not leave her fun interfere with her studies and we are sure that she will be successful in her teaching.

She is a member of the "Overall Gang," and on the camping trip—wow! Stop—we won't tell, but we all had some fun. Ask Kay Jury and Laura Brace.

"Mart" likes to dance and play tennis. Martha is going to teach next year, and we wish her all the success in the world. Don't spank too many pupils, "Mart."

MARY L. GALLAGHER
Audenried, Pa.
Hazleton High School
"Gal"

"Well, for Mike's sake," if it isn't Mary. "Gal" is just the sort of a girl you would like to meet. She is as true a friend as you will ever find, and is always willing to do a good turn.

She is fond of fun, sport and study, and is one of the chief "Merry-makers" of third floor. If she isn't entertaining us with her ready wit you can be sure then that she is teasing someone.

Audenried must be a wonderful place and we all know it has its charms for Mary. We wonder why? There is a reason for everything.

"Gal" is a regular magnet when it comes to attracting friends, because she has more than she can count. The L. I. D. would surely be lost without her as a social entertainer.

May success be with you, Mary, and you have our best wishes.

JULIA M. GAUGHAN
Centralia, Pa.
Centralia High School
"Juel"

This bright-eyed, smiling lassie better known as "Juel," always assures her companions fun and laughter when in her presence. She is also delightful as everyone knows. She has a smile for everyone, and in exchange she looks for something to eat. Her main cry is, "Is it time for the meal bell to ring," can be heard floating through the halls at almost any time.

"Juel" is usually found studying, and as we know she gains results. She shows us that she is interested in her work as a teacher. We all wonder why "Juel" calls up Central, room 62. We sometimes think "Juel" would like to keep a little home in Centralia, but success be with you in your future whichever profession you choose.

ANNA R. GEARY
Danville, Pa.
Shamokin High School
"Anna"

We all like Anna. She is the tallest of our group, but that is no handicap. What would the "Cracker Jacks" do for a center if they did not have Anna. Yes, she is a good sports-woman, quick and active with the ball.

We all missed her when she left for home every week-end. It was, however, a joy to see her return, laden with flowers and good things to eat as well as her pleasing smile and cheery greeting.

It is never too much trouble for her to help anyone out. Whenever possible she was there on the job to do what she could. She has found pleasure in everything so far, and we are sure she will find it in teaching too. We all wish her success. Our best wishes are with you, Anna.

BEATRICE E. GEISINGER
Millville, Pa.
Millville High School
"Bea"

Beatrice's numerous friends will tell you she is full of fun and more, too. During the two years she has spent at Normal she has won many friends with her happy smile and pleasing personality.

Dame Rumor reports from downtown that "Bea" is becoming a very efficient teacher. But who could resist that charming manner! However, she has not spent all her time downtown, for she has taken an active part in the Glee Club.

We wonder why, when "Bea" journeys to get a check "Kash-ed" she invariably says, "I prefer "Bills." Sh! not another word.

We know that "Bea" with her many talents will become a proficient teacher, and the class of '25 wishes success to you.

MARION A. GOWER
Ashley, Pa.
Ashley High School
"Marion"

Marion came from Ashley High School. There she helped our basketball team keep up the reputation of the school. She has carried her athletic qualities into our team in the Normal School as a member of the Junior team last year and the Senior team this. She is an all around good member of the Senior Girls' Glee Club, a characteristic by which we hope she will always be known. Her hearty laugh and ready smile will be sadly missed by the juniors, we are afraid. But then we'll all miss Marion. We think the children of her school will be the luckiest on earth.

May success follow you.

DOROTHY GREY
Scranton, Pa.
Central High School
"Dot"

"Dot" has rightly been called the "Japanese Doll." You can readily see that by looking at the above picture.

She is without a doubt the "soap-box" orator of "the gang." She offers many interesting discussions on many subjects which confront us, and they most always are correct.

Beside giving "soap-box" speeches, "Dot" is very good at giving solo dances—particularly on the table in the girls' "rec" room. On one occasion the floor became exceedingly jealous of the table and the result was—well, "Dot" had a sore leg for a week or so later.

We all fear "Dot" is missing her vocation. We all think she should be a designer or dressmaker. This can easily be proven by the stunning Paris creations in which she frequently "steps out." Collegiate or not at all—that's "Dot's" motto.

Good luck to you, "Dot."

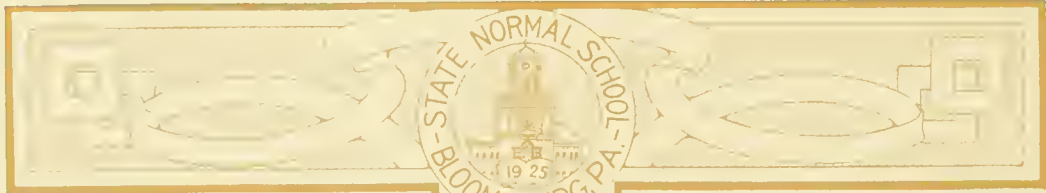

MARGARET GRIFFITH
Plymouth, Pa.
Plymouth High School
"Peg"

An industrious girl with a sweet disposition and a smiling countenance is our "Peg." She is another one of that fourth floor gang who helps to make things lively up there. There is really only one thing "Peg" finds hard since she is living there and that is living up to rules since she rooms with the floor supervisor. Ask Jean, she can tell you all about it.

Regardless of study hour, quiet hour, or any other kind of hour you'll find "Peg" serenading her fellow citizens with her "uke." Once her fingers begin to fly and she commences to sing, you might just as well lay aside your books. Can she sing? We'll say so. The fact that she was Lady Pomposo in our Junior Musical Comedy more than verifies our statement.

"Peg" has a great many friends which makes her a welcome guest no matter where she goes. May the best wishes from the class of '25 follow you, "Peg."

ESTHER GRIM
Tower City, Pa.
Tower City High School
"Esther"

If you see a head covered with curls, eyes that sparkle with mischief, and a mouth that tells of a newly invented prank, that's our Esther Grim.

When we first met Esther she tried to make us believe that she was quiet and dignified, but she could not fool us long for when we planned a good time Esther's hidden self would creep out.

Esther, instead of having one accomplishment like most of us, has three. We call them the three m's; men, music, and mathematics. To say which is the greatest developed is indeed hard.

Esther is generally acknowledged to be one of the sweetest, happiest, and most liked girls in our dormitory.

She claims that some day she will be a professor of Mathematics or Music, but we doubt it very much. We can see her only in her rightful place, and that is not in the schoolroom. The best wishes of the class go with you.

GERTRUDE S. GROSS
Wilkes-Barre, Pa.
Wilkes-Barre High School
"Gert"

"A friend in need is a friend indeed." This certainly characterizes "Gert," for on more than one occasion has she proven it. "Gert" never liked to see any of the girls stay at school over the week-end, so she always took some of them home with her. Were they eager to go? (For more reasons than one).

And play the piano? She surely knows her "stuff." Very willingly "Gert" always contributed her share of playing at the dances held every night in the gym. Her playing was not only confined to the gym either. As all of the seniors will remember, she helped to make "Princess Bonnie" what it was by acting as pianist.

Here's wishing you success as a teacher, Gertrude, for we know that you are bound to have it.

WILLIAM HADDOCK
Old Forge, Pa.
Old Forge High School
"Bill" "Fish"

"Bill"—what would you say?—an "Old Forge Product"? Yes, you are right. "Bill" comes from there and he has done his best to uphold its traditions.

"Bill" showed the baseball fans how second base should be played on the Varsity.

"Bill" was not so bashful after he became acquainted and towards the end of the term he seemed to talk very much about "Evelyn" this year—it would take a half a dozen secretaries to keep track of his talk about—girls.

Best wishes to you, "Billie," and a pleasant time when you leave us.

ROY HARING
Nescopeck, Pa.
Nescopeck High School
"Roy"

Roy is one of our day students and hails from that promising town of Nescopeck. Although he is A No. 1 in all subjects, in psychology he is a shark. Latin also is one of his pastimes. The only subject he really doesn't like is "Gym," and any kind of sport gives him the horrors. His most strenuous exercise is playing the piano. This, of course, makes him very popular with the opposite sex, but he manages to keep his equilibrium very well. He has had many street car episodes, but they do not seem to upset his sense of propriety. Taken all in all he is a good sport and liked by everyone. Roy's ambition is to complete his education at Ursinus and then enter the fields of teaching. We wish him every success in future life in whatever field he may choose.

GRACE ELLEN HARLOS
Kingston, Pa.
Dorranceton High School
"Joe"

Allow us to present The Grace of the Harlos, Grace, or "Joe" as she is known to many of us, is small in stature—but she has big ideas. For some reason or other "Joe" has taken a deeper interest in athletics—(football, especially), than she had last year. Of course, there is a reason—but we'll let you use your imagination. Her pet hobby is collecting worth while poems.

"Joe" is taking Junior High School work, and is intensely interested in it. Her one ambition is to go to Tennessee to teach the mountaineers. This is a worthy service, Grace, and we hope you can reach your goal, and we wish you the best of success and happiness.

MARION E. HALE
Wilkes-Barre High School
Bloomsburg State Normal
"Marion"

"Hey, wait for me." Why of course, Marion, with her glossy black hair, sometimes straight and sometimes curled. You see Marion can not make up her mind which way it looks best. Marion with her snappy black eyes and good natured grin is always carefree and happy, and if Marion wasn't all of those things there would not be any Marion.

Marion never goes out for athletics, but is always ready to help with the cheering.

Marion has many friends among both the girls and the boys. They are always increasing in number and will ever increase. May you have all the luck in the world, Marion.

MARIAN HARMAN
Bloomsburg, Pa.
Bloomsburg High School
"Husky"

Marian is one of the song birds of our class, for when it comes to hitting the high notes she's it. But "Husky's" talents do not stop at music. You should see her swing a wicked racket. Perhaps this was due to practice with (but we promised not to mention any names).

"Husky" attends all movies, etc., that feature toe dancing, and you should see the free demonstrations.

Every noon Marian hustles down the hill and if the mail man disappoints her she raves, but really this doesn't happen, often.

This girl possesses a likeness for Buick cars. In fact, she's always doing (Dew-ing) it—we mean reciting, of course—especially in Sociology.

Marian's "rep" for fudge and chocolate cake is widely known—perhaps this is an added attraction for the opposite sex.

Marian is an all around good sport and a friend to be proud of in the years to come.

EDISON D. HARRIS
Edwardsville, Pa.
Edwardsville High School
"Ed"

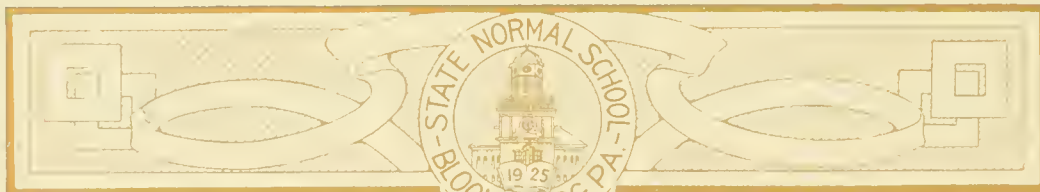

There is a very bright future in store for "Ed." For the possessor of such a rich tenor voice as his cannot help but make a great name for himself after he leaves us.

If, under any circumstances a good tenor singer was required, "Ed" was always the first person to be sought. As proof of this we refer you to his activities in the Double Quartet, or his part in the musical comedy, "Princess Bonnie." Then again if you noticed carefully, he was in big demand by all the church choirs. And surely you cannot forget our vaudevilles in which "Ed" and Dock gave such wonderful performances.

We also refer you to our school publication, Maroon and Gold. Of course it was excellent. Why shouldn't it be with "Ed" as the Editor-in-Chief?

His greatest weakness seems to be his liking for Kittys. Now, please don't misunderstand us, we don't mean felines.

No, he was not a radical. He fought not only for his own rights but for the rights of us all. He is a friend to feel proud of, a friend well worthy of our best wishes.

EDITH C. HARRIS
Wilkes-Barre, Pa.
Wilkes-Barre High School
"Eddie"

Edith looks quiet and sedate and studious, but—you'd be surprised. When she gets that daily letter from State College, her happy song runs, "Oh, girls, I got a letter from my boy-friend; listen to what he says." And you no longer think Edith looks sedate.

A black-haired lassie, always smiling, "Eddie" helps give life to her already lively crowd. "Variety is the spice of life," she thinks, even if it is only a rap on the door and a "Quiet, please!"

Edith sings in the famous Double Quartet and very well, too—but her melodious voice is often uplifted in the "Agony Quartet" of third floor annex. If you want a remedy for the blues, go around to room 357, and you will be cheered up all right.

"Eddie" is interested in dyes. As long as it's dyeing or di-ing and not dying, we are satisfied.

Here's the best of joy and happiness to a wonderful chum and friend.

VIVIAN HARRIS
Taylor, Pa.
Taylor High School
"Vivian"

Here is another one of our little girls from Taylor. One of our most industrious and hard working girls, always very exact and thorough in her work. Is she conscientious—well, we say she is. She is never known to go to class unprepared.

Her kind-heartedness has won for her many true friends. And is she not always willing to share her possessions with others?

She is a friend who is always true, though she sometimes seems to be very quiet.

One of Vivian's timely expressions is "Hurry Up," the reason being that Vivian never cares to be late in preparing her work or in going to or from classes.

She is a good sport, always ready for a good time. She rather expects to be a school teacher, but we doubt it. However, we wish you just the best of success and happiness.

MARYAN HART
Berwick, Pa.
Berwick High School
"Maryan"

Maryan is the kind whose school spirit is everlasting and though she is not anxious to make herself seen, she is often heard on fourth floor. She is the possessor of one of those "non-wear out" smiles, and is always full of pep and fun. When enthusiasm is needed and spirit, just call on Maryan.

If we think about our choirs, we immediately think of Maryan with her kind like voice, practicing, her cheery chirps.

Maryan will always be remembered as one of our sweetest girls, and we hope she will always be considered such. It is certain she will always have a most successful and happy life as a school teacher until ———.

Here's success and happiness, Maryan.

HELEN E. HARTZELLE
Catawissa, Pa.
Catawissa High School
"Helen"

Helen is another of the girls who comes from Catawissa and hurries up the hill every morning so as not to be late for the eight o'clock class.

Whenever you meet her she is humming a merry tune. She is a lover of music and has braved several stormy trips in order to attend the numbers of the Musical Course.

Helen is a great talker, too, but we like her all the more for it. We are sure she will use this talent very well in teaching.

She is also deeply interested in elocution, and her soul desire is to teach a while and then enter college; but somehow we doubt it, for her heart lines show that she will never lead an old maid's life.

Whatever the future holds for her we hope it brings her much success and happiness.

PAULINE N. HASSLER
Wilkes-Barre, Pa.
Wilkes-Barre High School
"Pauly"

"Where's Flo? Has anybody seen my room-mate?" These questions were constantly heard ringing through the dormitory halls and were asked by none other than "Pauly." Now, don't get the impression that "Pauly" is extremely talkative; indeed, she is quite the opposite, except—of course—at times. What these times are we'll leave to your imagination.

Let us try to give a brief description of "Pauly." (Notice we say try). Her smile, as you have probably noticed, is one of her most charming characteristics, but it is no more outstanding than her beautiful complexion and golden hair. And then her teeth, style, personality—oh, we may as well give this up as a bad job. "Pauly" is a type which can't be described with justice.

We must not fail to mention Pauline's willingness to accommodate. Not once has anyone asked her to do something without it's being cheerfully and well done.

Keeping these qualities, and many unmentioned ones, in mind we hope for and predict nothing less than an ideal future for our "Pauly."

CHESTER V. HAUPT
Trevorton, Pa.
Trevorton High School
"Chet"

Haupt came to us from that small but well known town of Trevorton which has given us many athletes of note in the past few years. He is an all around athlete. He plays basketball, football, and baseball equally well. Though he did not show up so well in his first year in football, his second year showing was creditable and in keeping with family precedent. Haupt gives us a thrill every time he gets into a basketball game.

"Chet" is a hoisterous sort of individual, but means nothing by it. If you have never heard his laugh we give our word that there is no other like it. He is very popular with the weaker sex and usually has several of the fair ones on a string. But of late he has been seen so frequently with a certain La Verne that we are inclined to believe that "Chester is getting better."

Chester having selected the Junior High School Group, is taking the three year course. We welcome you back next year, "Chet."

MARY M. HENIGAN
Old Forge, Pa.
Old Forge High School
"Midge"

Mary is one of our little girls who arrived at old Normal and immediately proceeded to work her way into the hearts of everyone. Her ability to throw off dull care makes her a very charming companion and friend to all.

With all her fun she is still a very earnest and studious little girl, and is what we call an all around good sport, always ready for a good time but willing to work if her help is needed.

We find that the old saying, "Good things come in small packages," does mean something after all. She shows us that although she is small she can accomplish great things as nothing seems hard to her.

As a teacher, Mary has proven herself a success in her practice at Normal. We hope she will be just as successful in her future teaching when days at Old Normal have become "just memories."

ELLEN C. HENRY
Jermyn, Pa.
Carbondale High School
"Henry"

Big-hearted Ellen. Everybody knows her and everybody likes her. She's the one to whom all the rest of "the gang" confide their troubles. Ellen never takes a back seat, she's both easily seen and heard, taking part in all the activities of the school.

Ellen's ingenuity in devising strange and startling costumes made her the pride of fourth floor last year, where she reigned supreme between 9:30 and 10:00—and sometimes after.

Another of Ellen's talents is fortune telling. She was immensely popular until someone discovered that the glowing futures which she painted for us were due to her desire to please rather than her technical knowledge of the subject.

Ellen and her exploits would furnish enough material for a book, but owing to the limited space here we will have to refer you to any member of "the gang" or—perhaps—Miss Conway.

The best of luck to a royal good sport.

MARTHA E. HERBERT
Mt. Carmel, Pa.
Nesquehoning High School
"Herbert"

When you ask Martha where she is from she always tells you Nesquehoning, even though she lately changed her residence to Mt. Carmel. The amount of mail and "eats" from and her holiday visits to Nesquehoning explains the mystery.

Martha at a glance appears to be quiet and studious, but knowing her changes this idea for she is jolly and full of fun when occasion demands.

She is a student with ability and has been very successful in the work of the intermediate group in which she has chosen to specialize. If you want any dressmaking done just ask "Herbert." Since her stay at B. S. N. S. she has become a genius at it, practicing it on her many friends.

She has won the love and friendship of everyone she has come in contact with, and we all wish her the best of luck and success in her chosen profession.

DOROTHY J. HERRING
Orangeville, Pa.
Highland Hall
"Dot"

And this is "Dot," one of the quiet and studious girls of our class who joined us the second semester of our junior year.

Dorothy is a graduate of Highland Hall, where she learned to be an exceptionally fine dancer and pianist and, may we say, singer. We all know how she loves to sing and especially the sequentials.

One of "Dot's" outstanding qualities is her dignified manner, but underneath this calm exterior there is a great deal of fun and merriment. She just loves to play bridge and likes it better than anything else she does, except, of course, to study Sociology.

We know you will make a splendid teacher, "Dot," and best of luck be with you.

MARION E. HESS
Shickshinny, Pa.
Shickshinny High School
"Hessie"

Loved by one, loved by all who know her. No one ever meets Marion that doesn't remember her. It's not only her brown eyes and her good looks, but it's her wonderful disposition and her charming ways. Marion is a true girl friend and a marvelous room-mate. She is not a joy killer, but is always ready to have a good time and enjoy life, especially when in the company of one of our collegians.

Marion is terribly studious. She gets up at five-thirty most every morning to finish the work started the night before. Now, I suppose you're wondering why she doesn't get her work finished in the evening. Why? She's in the Library with "Jamie." Never mind. We girls must have our moments.

We hope after you leave Bloomsburg you will be liked as well as we like you, and we feel there's no doubt about it. May you be successful in your future work, whichever it be—teaching, or?

RHODA D. HESS
Jamison City, Pa.
Jamison City High School
"Rhoda"

In the first part of our school year of 1923, a wind storm, the worst that ever raged in this part of Pennsylvania, had its course from Jamison City to Bloomsburg. Thus Rhoda explains her presence here.

Rhoda does not devote all her time on her studies as she enjoys playing tennis. She plays to her utmost strength and she is anxiously awaiting the season of tennis.

When you speak of basketball don't forget to mention Rhoda. She plays center and certainly does fulfill her position to the highest degree and with all of her mental ability. Few games were lost when Rhoda displayed her jumping ability on the gymnasium floor.

She also holds the audience spell-bound when she produces her checkerboard and displays to them her ability in this.

As a class we are glad that Rhoda has chosen the difficult task of doing her very best work in the Rural communities. We wish you a crowning success in your broad but delightful task.

AUDREY HIDLAY
Berwick, Pa.
Berwick High School
"Audrey"

"If she's smiling all the while"—that's Audrey! Dame Nature has given her the most amiable of dispositions and a pair of brown eyes to match. Is it any wonder that she has a host of friends wherever she goes?

Audrey says she likes Bloomsburg better than Berwick. Then how do you account for the fact that she always makes a special effort to be in Berwick on Saturday nights?

If Berwick is the center of Audrey's universe, then Latin is its Mercury. Yes, it must be, for she actually loves it. How distracting to competitors!

Almost every girl has an idol or dream hero who appears only across the silver sheet. And so it is that Audrey "just adores Thomas Meighan."

Audrey, we know that some day you will be an inspiration to future disciples of Caesar. Here's to health, happiness, and success for you!

MARY A. HIEDIX
Edwardsville, Pa.
Edwardsville High School
"Hiedix"

Stop! Look! Make way!—for here comes the Queen of Hearts. No better name could describe Mary, for does she not receive so many mysterious letters and packages each day?

In spite of the fact that she is one of the little girls of our class, she makes as much noise as any of us. She might impress you first as being very shy, studious, modest, and quiet, but after you've been with her, Oh, my! how she can talk, especially in regards to her love affairs. She certainly enlivens things with her giggles and her chatter. It is amusing to hear Mary say in her characteristic staccato, "For goodness sake," when she is surprised or elated over something.

We know she rather expects to teach, but expectations do not always come true, especially in the face of such circumstantial evidence. Nevertheless, Mary, we wish you a whole world of success in your teaching career.

GERTRUDE M. HILDEBRAND
Scranton, Pa.
Technical High School
"Gertrude"

Gertrude is another of the Scrantoni-ans, like the rest she is a true pal, a staunch friend and good sport.

She is a girl whose friendship is well worth cultivating, just the kind of a girl you are eager to meet for she possesses heaps of good qualities. Her pleasing personality has won for her many friends.

She is conscientious in her work and we are sure she will be successful in all she does. However, we do not think her teaching career will be a long one. We all thought Gertrude safe and hidden from the darts of Cupid, but she has disappointed us. Weekly boxes received in her name will never be forgotten. We have all had our share of the goodies served in room 364. Gertrude's motto is eat, sleep, and enjoy life while you may.

You have the best wishes of the class for success and happiness.

LaVERNE HILL
Nanticoke, Pa.
Nanticoke High School
"Hilly"

Pep—laughter—kidding and friendship gives us our LaVerne. She is always ready for fun any time it comes along; however, she does not wait for it to come but starts it herself.

Did you mention cats—well, LaVerne is always at hand when there is a "feed." But how generously she has supplied us with "eats," too, we shall never forget them.

They say "Good things come in small packages," and she certainly proves this statement, for isn't she just the best pal always?

But don't think that she is all fun and no work. Quite the contrary, she does study real hard. One of her favorite subjects is music. Just ask her. And teasing—well, she can't be beat.

LaVerne is making a hit as a school teacher, but some day she is going to make a home run (but not for school teachers). And with her go our best wishes for her success, and we hope she has just heaps and heaps of happiness.

ELEANOR C. HOFFA
Benton, Pa.
Benton Vocational School
"Pudge"

Eleanor is another one of our numerous auburn (?) haired lassies. But the peculiar thing about "Pudge" is that she is color blind when it comes to the question of the color of her hair. She rarely agrees with anyone in a discussion of that sort. We all agree that she is very conscientious, but occasionally she misses the train. In the early hours of the morning as she hears the clamorous "ting-a-ling" of Big Ben, she quickly reaches out, slyly shifts the lever from "Alarm" to "Silent" and calmly closes her eyes just five more minutes. Duty's voice is faint and slumberous conscience awakens later to realize that the B. and S. leaves on scheduled time and waits for no one.

Aside from these trifling things, Eleanor is an ideal friend and will impress people as a "dignified Senior," but ask someone who knows and the "dignified" will not be verified.

Best wishes.

SARA S. HOLLANDER
Old Forge, Pa.
Old Forge High School
"Tsetse"

A wee bit of a girl with brown hair and snappy brown eyes is Sara.

Her catchy laugh and the twinkle in her eyes is "enuf" to banish gloom. She is always ready for fun and gets plenty of it. Of course, there's a reason, "Tsetse" belongs to the fourth floor gang.

Do not think "Tsetse" lives to eat, quite the contrary, "Tsetse" never rises for breakfast, for she thinks 7:10 too early, and the other meals would be good if they didn't serve potatoes and butter. We wonder why?

If you wish to see "Tsetse" in her different moods, watch her at 11 A. M. and 5 P. M. Postum—there's a reason.

Cheerfulness is the predominate feature in "Tsetse's" makeup. She says teaching is a lifetime profession for her, but we know better.

At any rate, time will tell and we hope that the best of happiness and success will be yours, "Tsetse."

MARTHA HOOVER
Old Forge, Pa.
Old Forge High School
"Marty"

In the year 1923 Martha came into our midst a shy, backward girl, but before many months she was completely transformed. She was then re-christened and the "Fourth Floor Gang" called her "Marty."

"Marty" is noted for her unlimited wit and the cause of much merriment among her fellow students.

"Marty's" famous saying is "Have you anything to eat? I'm starving." She is "the life" of all parties, and no room is ever stacked without the aid of this professional.

In her senior year she made her appearance every night after ten (10) bells, as floorwalker.

We wonder why "Marty's" eyes glisten whenever she receives mail from E. S. N. S.

Good luck to you, "Marty," and heaps of success is our wish for you.

HELEN HOWELL
Danville, Pa.
Danville High School
"Helen"

Helen is one of our day students from Danville. Some of us seem to think Helen must be very quiet, because they do not know her. Helen does try to be very serious at times—but how those smiles peep out.

Helen is especially talented along her music line, and we hope she may be successful in attending a music school as is her desire.

Helen's ability to use a typewriter has made her one of the most helpful students to her teachers. Helen is always striving to help others no matter how busy she may be. She always sees so much to do that she is willing to give others just a little advice in helping her.

We know Helen is bound to be a teacher if she follows the professions of the family.

Best wishes for a bright future.

THELMA HURLBERT
Espy, Pa.
Trevorton High School
"Thelma"

Thelma is a day student. She faithfully makes the trip between her home, in Espy, and the Normal every day, regardless of weather.

Thelma is a wonderful sport. She is always ready for anything that promises to be fun, especially hikes. You can't suggest a hike that is too long or too difficult for her. She is a loyal supporter of our school. Many of our big games and concerts have lured her from home evenings and Saturdays.

Thelma is training to be a teacher, and her work here in the training school has proved that she will be successful.

Thelma, the class of 1925 wishes you all the success in the world.

ORPHA L. HUTCHINGS
Hughestown, Pa.
Hughestown High School
"Orph" "Hutch"

Webster quotes a friend as "an intimate; one not hostile; a promoter." "Orph" is all of these and more too. "Orph" is an all around good sport and nothing is ever too much trouble for her if she can be of service to anyone.

She has many outstanding characteristics. Her interest in dramatics led her into the Dramatic Club. By means of her devotion to children and her appealing personality, she has proved to us during her teaching semester that the school board that hires her will hire a treasure. How long the aforesaid school board will retain this treasure we cannot prophesy. Letters from Muhlenburg lead us to believe that "Hutch" will not remain long in the teaching profession.

When "Hutch" sometimes forgets about her work, it is then that she lends her assistance in creating mischief in back hall, third annex.

Best o' luck is the expression of our wishes for you.

MARY F. JACKSON
Avoca, Pa.
Avoca High School
"Jack"

"Jack" certainly is good-natured and is always willing and ready to help you if she can. She loves noise and lots of it, but she got tired of taking all the blame, so she started a quiet campaign on front hall of second floor. Results? Well, ask the floor supervisor.

One of "Jacks" favorite pastimes is drawing. Her artistic ability cropped out in the making of the posters for the Junior High School play, "The Three Bears."

"Jack" is one of the mainstays of Reillys. She just dotes on ham and lettuce sandwiches. She left us in February to become one of the bread-earners of the family. We certainly hated to see "Jack" go so soon as she was an all around sport, a true friend and a good pal.

Our best wishes go with you, "Jack."

EVERETT N. JAMEISON
Scranton, Pa.
B. S. N. S. High School Department
"Jamie"

"Jamie" had an advantage over most of us for he arrived at the Normal School one year before us. That this made him wiser was soon made known to us for it was only a short while after, we were settled that he could be seen accompanied by a fair lady.

This seemed to form a turning point in Everett's life, for from then he could occasionally be seen with a book under his arm or studying quite diligently. This was an occurrence that one was unable to see before he met his influencing friend.

In our second year "Jamie" acted as manager of the basketball team, and it would be quite difficult to find a more competent manager.

We often wondered why Marian was so jolly. After we knew "Jamie," we understood. It is almost impossible to talk to "Jamie" without laughing, for his sparkling humor is one of his predominating characteristics.

"Jamie" is a member of the Middler Class and from all indications will return to help Bloomsburg prosper again next year.

We wish him the best of luck, not only for next year but forever.

ARTHUR JENKINS
Wanamie, Pa.
Newport High School
"Jynx"

Among the many newcomers ushered into this Normal School in the September of 1923 we found one who hails from the small town of Wanamie, and who was destined to an eventful life during his stay.

Arthur, or "Jynx," as he was better known, soon won a great host of friends. Arthur had but two weaknesses, women and singing solos. Not a night passed but what "Jynx" did not give vent to some melodious strain, which floated to all the corners of the hall and brought Coach Mead on the run, thinking that some unfortunate was in dire distress.

To "Jynx" had fallen no few honors. To him had fallen the honor of piloting our Junior Class over its trials and troubles of the first year at Normal. He was our President and also Student Manager of the football team.

Best wishes for a bright, prosperous and happy future.

RUTH D. JENKINS
Wilkes-Barre, Pa.
Wilkes-Barre High School
"Ruthie"

It's the girl with the smile that wins and "Ruthie" surely is a winner. She has a smile for everyone, and it is a sure cure for the blues.

"Ruthie" has been at Bloom for only one year, but everyone knows her. She is out for all athletics, and is fond of hikes. We wonder why?

Did you ever look in Box 347? Yes, indeed, there is always a letter there from State.

What's "Ruthie's" favorite drink? Just ask her table mates and they will tell you milk and that makes pep. She surely has plenty of it. Whenever there is any fun going on, "Ruthie" is bound to be present.

"Ruthie" goes only to one meal a day, and the reason for this is that the scales don't satisfy her.

We will always remember her as a good sport, a true friend and a pal to everyone.

ANNE E. JENNINGS
Wilkes-Barre High School
Bloomsburg State Normal
"Ann"

Who is the lady gazing at? Oh, I see, the little girl over there with the beautiful brown hair and blue, very blue eyes. Goodness, she looks as if she would burst out laughing any moment. Yes, it is "Ann."

Maybe you have seen "Ann" come up the walk to school in the morning or at noontime. Always giving a merry e e e e e.

When it comes to athletics "Ann" is always in the lead, whether it is broad jumping, high jumping, running or tennis. "Ann" in playing tennis keeps her partner going.

"Ann" if you keep on smiling you will always have friends, and we all wish you the best of luck and success. "Ann."

GORDON P. JOHNS
Uniontown, Pa.
Coal Township High School
"Gordy"

"Gordy" first made his appearance here in the fall of 1923. He being of a quiet nature you can not hear him unless you see him.

In the junior year nature study is required. Professor Hartline gave "Gordy" such a wicked line that "Gordy" continued to work in that field.

When Coach Mead called for baseball material "Gordy" was one of the many to respond and at the end of the season he was awarded a numeral sweater.

We believed we are justified in expecting great things of "Gordy" in the Nature Study Work.

Good luck to you "Gordy" with all kinds of success.

MARION JOHNSON
Old Forge, Pa.
Old Forge High School
"Mem"

"Good things come in small packages," so it seems with "Mem."

Her pleasant smile and charming way brought her many friends.

The dances in the "Gym" without "Mem" would be a failure, for she never misses one.

Colgate is many, many miles away, but "distance lends enchantment."

She is one of the members of the fourth floor gang and partakes in the mirth and merriment which occur nightly.

"Mem" says teaching for her is a lifetime profession, but if what we hear is true we prophesy differently.

Wherever you may go and whatever you may do, the best wishes of the class go with you.

ELSIE E. JONES
Plymouth, Pa.
Plymouth High School
"Els"

Elsie is one of the blondes in our class, and her hair is naturally light in color (we can vouch for that). She lives on third floor front hall, where a number of jolly mortals live. We must not forget to say that Elsie contributes her share to the fun, whether it be a fire sale, or a dance, or an early morning party.

Elsie likes very much to take hikes and enjoys very long ones over the mountain to Catawissa or Danville. Isn't that so?

A pleasing personality, "Els" has and she is a fine friend and pal to all of us. Suppose that's why she is such a good teacher. But even if she is an excellent teacher and though she may be a success, we are positive that she will not teach more than ten years. Don't you think that is so, "Els"?

FLORENCE E. JONES
Edwardsville, Pa.
Edwardsville High School
"Flossie" "Flo"

"Flossie" is one of the Edwardsville gang. Her light hair, soft eyes, and sweet, turned-up nose have made a lasting impression on one chap we are sure. She is not bothered by conventionalities, but never does anything that would shock us. She is one of the little members of the class, one always knows when she is present, for Oh! how she can talk.

She has great ambition to learn to play the "uke." May we give her this bit of advice? Do not neglect your work to accomplish this ambition, because you will find plenty of time for this when you are settled in your Old Maid's Home" (?)

"Life is too short to spend it at hard labor," is "Flossie's" motto. In spite of this she often gets absent-minded and studies her lessons.

"Flossie" is one of our little classmates for whom we wish every success.

FLORENCE M. JONES
Sugar Notch, Pa.
Sugar Notch High School
"Flossie" "Flo"

If you should happen to see a little blonde lassie strutting through the halls singing with all her might "When You Wore a Tulip," or "Somebody's Wrong"—that's "Flossie." She likes to accompany herself on the uke or piano, too, and she can do it.

"Flo" is speedy in one thing, and that's talking. You should hear her "rave," especially if she has been affected very favorably or very unfavorably. No matter which the case, however, she is equally amusing.

During her two years here "Flossie" has achieved much prominence along scholastic, social, and athletic lines. Although "Flossie" works hard she is always ready to have some fun. In a word, the phrase "good sport" seems to have been made especially for her.

We wish you all the success you deserve, "Flossie," and that's by no means a little bit!

JAMES W. JONES
Kingston, Pa.
Kingston High School
"Jimmy"

Here's one of the live wires of Normal. No circle is complete without the presence of this young man. Possessed of a powerful voice he was given the job of cheer leader. Needless to say he fulfilled his task nobly. "Jimmy" also has the honor of being manager of the 1925 baseball squad. With all his work he has kept up well in his studies and burned the oil more than one night? What the future has for him we do not know, but by the happenings of this year we doubt if he will be single all his life. We wish him a most successful future and predict something big for him—possibly a steamboat captaincy on the Allegheny river.

JENNIE P. JONES
Edwardsville, Pa.
Edwardsville High School
"Jean"

Slim and graceful is this willowy maiden commonly known to her classmates as "Jean." She is one of the bashful sort (?) and in class when trying to escape the gaze of the trusting Profs., her favorite resort is to hide behind her pencil.

"Jean" is always in search of new thrills. We often wonder who is the joyful recipient of her favorite song—"I Love You Truly." We have discovered one thing, however, that "Jean" finds Bloomsburg not so bad, since she has met a certain "somebody." Thus, we are inclined to think that she has been with us this year in body, but, alas! not in mind. Wherein lies this outside charm? Perhaps—but that is a secret! We promised "Jean" we wouldn't tell.

This "happy-go-lucky" girl, who never worries about her studies, rather expects to teach, but we all doubt it very much as Practical Domestic Science often presents greater attractions.

Go to it, "Jean"! Here's hoping success will be yours.

MARGARET JONES
West Pittston, Pa.
West Pittston High School
"Red"

WANTED: Some words to describe this "Red Headed Gal," exactly five feet and no more from tip to toe. But in this small amount of space there are pecks of pep, humor, originality, life, bright ideas and such other qualities that make a personality that no one would want to miss knowing.

"Little girls should be seen and not heard," does anything but fit this situation, for wherever you go you either hear "Red" talking or whistling her individual whistle which no one else seems to have.

"Red" was elected Humor Editor of the "Maroon and Gold" for which position she was more than qualified, and has filled it with "De Cornum."

In spite of the fact that our happy-go-lucky classmate always finds good times, she takes some time for studying and we are sure she will fill the position of Primary teacher with the best ability ever.

Here's wishing you the most and best of luck, happiness and success—school teaching or no!

MARGARET L. JONES
Wilkes-Barre, Pa.
Wilkes-Barre High School
"Marg"

"Marg" is a big girl with a big heart. If you want a favor done, go to "Marg," and if there is any way in which she can help you, you can be sure of the help. The "Delphian Oracle" has nothing on "Marg" when it comes to springing wise sayings. Many a time those "Home Again Blues" were driven away by "Marg" playing "Linger a While at Bloomsburg Normal" on her "uke."

Happy, jolly and full of pep, that's our "Marg." You might think she is very courageous, but you are mistaken, especially when it comes to making friends with centipedes or bees.

She has quite a talent for singing, and we feel assured that Margaret will make a fine music teacher as well as a school teacher. She is very well liked by everyone, and we all wish her a happy and bright future.

KATHRYN H. JURY
 Bloomsburg, Pa.
 Bloomsburg High School
 "Kay" "Kate"

Here is another member of the "Overall Gang" and a downtown girl. As a dancer or artist it's hard to find better. She is always ready for a good time.

"Kay" is quite fond of Bucknell Delta Frat dances. She also likes photography and Buick cars. We wonder why?

"Kay" is a good student, and we know she will make a fine teacher. She is not particularly fond of athletics, but spends her time in a more leisurely manner. She is a good cook. The writer will never forget the meal she had at "Kay's" home.

She is always a good sport, willing to help a friend and well liked by all who know her. The class of '25 extend their best wishes to you for a bright and happy future.

MARIE M. KARNS
 Benton, Pa.
 Benton Vocational School
 "Mary Kairns"

Marie, more commonly known as Mary, hails from the great city of Benton. Really it would be hard to find a better sport or a more charming companion; but she isn't an angel by any means. If you happen to get near her when her tongue is clamoring, you will be forced to retreat, for she shows no mercy.

Marie becomes absent-minded sometimes and studies her lessons. She says it pays—sometimes. Her chief hobby is exchanging class rings with the Orangeville Sports. It doesn't matter about the size, that can easily be remedied at the nearest jeweler's shop. She is very much interested in State College just now. Guess, why?

Marie has one bad habit—frowning. We think she does it to camouflage her sunny disposition, for she sure is a lover of fun and a good sport, and is always ready for a good time. Marie intends to become an efficient Arithmetic teacher.

Best wishes from the class of '25.

MILDRED KARNs
Benton, Pa.
Benton Vocational School
"Molly"

"Molly's" chief aim is to be a friend to everyone, and a truer pal would be hard to find. She is a friend who is always ready to help a needy one.

After teaching two years she joined our class at B. S. N. S. during our senior year. We are sorry, "Molly," that you didn't join us sooner, though you keep your boarding place in a downtown home. She seems convinced that teaching is her vocation; we sincerely hope that she succeeds.

"Molly" is interested in a certain young man, and especially his "Ford." Ask her concerning some of her pleasant experiences.

Here's our best wishes for a bright and happy future.

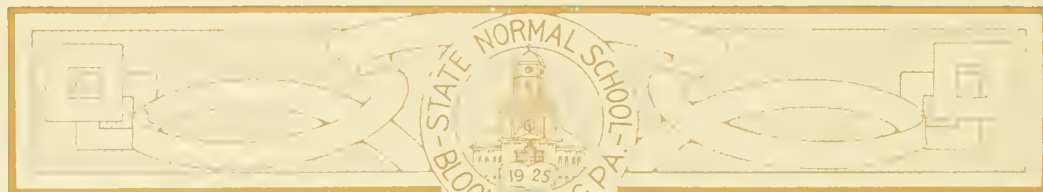

GENEVA KASNITZ
Berwick, Pa.
Berwick High School
"Geneva"

This stately maiden comes from the fair town of Berwick. She has as you can see from her photo, that distinguished air so common to Berwickians. Notwithstanding her dignity of manner, which is so becoming, "Geneva" is admired and loved by everyone.

Although, "Geneva" has never been interested in marksmanship, there was one occasion in which her natural ability in this field was revealed; that is to say, if you correlate, a dense fog, a trolley car, an apple core, and a man's left eye your conviction cannot be far off.

Naturally, we're interested in "Geneva's" life ambition. Well, to begin with, she's going West. What for? why, to teach; not for a man. The fact is this lady looks upon the opposite sex with indifference. Hail to the Spirit of Independence! Of course, you know, girls are subject to sudden sallys, and "Geneva" is not excluded.

Whatever you do, Geneva, you have our best wishes for your success.

JOSEPH KAZLUSKY
Lee Park, Pa.
Hanover High School
"Kaz"

"Kaz" is one of our three sport men. He has proved his worth on the court (basketball), field and diamond. "Kaz" is well liked at Normal and, because of this fact, together with his fine sportsmanship and athletic ability he was elected to the captaincy of the basketball squad of 1925. When not engaged elsewhere he may be found in the company of one of our fair co-eds. With all this he has made an enviable record in his school work, and we wish him success in whatever he may undertake.

MARY L. KEATING
Wilkes-Barre, Pa.
Wilkes-Barre High School
"Keats"

Behold! Another one of the 400's and Mary isn't the sober one of the "Gang" either. Do not judge her by the picture since she is by no means that sober. At nine-thirty o'clock "Eat's time is 'Keat's' time."

Her art projects are wonderful when the Kester sisters put their heads together and evolve something worth while. But in other things she keeps the best of them in a state of constant excitement to get ahead of her and so they seldom do.

That makes no difference, however, for "Keats" is a very popular young lady as you can tell by a look at her mail box. Monday and Thursday mornings. Most of it is post marked "State College" by the way.

Anyhow, we love you "Keats," doncha care. The whole class joins in the chorus singing:

"Here Comes the Bride."

JESSIE E. KEEN
Glen Lyon, Pa.
Newport Township High School
"Jess"

At last but not least comes "Jess." Everyone who lived on third floor annex our junior and senior year knew "Jess." She could not leave the annex even after one year of nearly freezing to death.

She decided to endure the cold in order to stand in for the good times the annex crowd had. If you want to find "Jess" about 11 A. M. and 5 P. M. you just have to go down to the mail box. "Jess" has eyes only for mail from Nanticoke. She is never disappointed either.

We all have our ambitions and Jessie's chief one is to become an efficient teacher. We have no doubt that she will be what she wishes, yet she might join an opera company, judging from the strains of music which floated up from the "gym." "Jess" was practicing. What ever her work may be we wish her the best of success.

MAUDE O. KEEN
Clark's Summitt, Pa.
Clark Summitt High School
"Keeny"

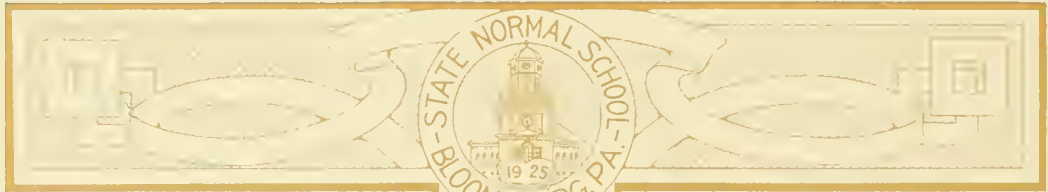

Here is Maude, one of the members of our class who we can't help but like. She is full of fun and puts pep in everything she does. If there is anything like eats or a feed you can make sure Maude will be there.

With those big, rolling eyes and that smiling mouth she has won many friends.

Maude has many interests you can't blame her though, for her main interest is more than good looking. We have all wondered why Maude seemed a "wee bit" partial to a little chap in the Fifth street school called Robert.

She expects to teach in Clark's Summitt. We wonder how many months?

We predict a speedy journey to success, though along what line we can not say. Time will tell. In the meantime, best wishes from the class of 1925.

THEODORE KEEN
Glen Lyon, Pa.
Newport High School
"Dud"

"Dud" came to us recommended for two things: a deep bass voice and an undying love of sweet things (candy, cake and girls).

"Dud's" voice made him a very prominent figure in musical circles. It first drew him into the church choir, later into the Junior Drama, where he rendered some of the best bass solos ever heard from an amateur, and finally led him into the double quartet and to Scranton, from where his voice combined with seven others was wafted on the breeze for the benefit of the millions of radio fans of the world. "Dud" was one of the most popular boys in the Dorm., being elected floor proctor and later the president of the Boys' Dormitory Club.

From all indications we think it is "Dud's" life ambition to spread knowledge and promote intelligence among his fellowmen. Success to you, "Dud."

HELEN R. KELLAM
Sterling, Pa.
Greene Dreher Vocational School

Helen came to us from Sterling, in the fall of '23, having been graduated from Sterling High School. She joined our group of "Middlers" and has very calmly shared our troubles with us.

During her junior year she was very enthusiastic over tennis, and as a result was a fine player.

Helen, we are surprised to think you are trying to run opposition with the barber, but nevertheless, it is more convenient to have one in the dorm. Helen is very congenial, so we ask—How many rooms have you visited in the last ten minutes? Oh, I beg your pardon, I forgot, it would take you so long to count them.

Never mind we will miss you in the halls of B. S. N. S. We wish you the best of success, Helen, in your teaching in the Junior High School.

BERNETTA KELLY
Scranton, Pa.
St. Cecelia's Academy
"Bernetta"

"Bernetta is a quiet, industrious sort of girl, who always has everything up-to-date. She has a big heart, which is the kindest ever, and she will do anything for her friends. She is a brown-eyed maid with a pleasant smile and a merry laugh. What would second floor do without her? We simply can't imagine anything so dreary. As a proctor she shines, for she insists that she can have no fun until after lights are out. Everyone knows that when there is any fun to be had, "Bernetta" wants to be in the midst of it. And as for "eats," the gang can testify that none can beat those to be found in room 276.

"Bernetta" has proved herself a sincere friend and pal. We are sure of her success, and our best wishes are hers.

ANNA M. KEMP
Drums, Pa.
Drums High School
"Kempie"

Here is one well versed in the affairs of B. S. N. S., having spent three years here. During her first year, she helped swell the ranks of the High School Department.

Did you say bashful? Well, maybe, she might look that way—but when you get her alone—or we should say when you're better acquainted with her, she can surely change your opinion.

If you want something from the library or want to learn to dance, just call in "Kempie" and she'll fill the bill. She loves to dance, and especially with—oh, he drives a Buick around town!

"Kempie" is one of those fortunate beings who are endowed with curly hair, and she is the envy of all the girls who are "slaves" to the curling iron.

We are very sure that Anna's course in life is not to be that of a teacher, but—well, no fair telling. Her friends wish her the best of success.

LEONA M. KERSTETTER
Shamokin, Pa.
Shamokin High School
"Leona"

"Leona" has taught two years in a Rural School and attended the B. S. N. S. for three summer terms. The class of nineteen twenty-five is very glad to count her as one of its classmates this year.

We all like "Leona!" She has a pleasant word and a cheery smile for everyone. If you need help just ask "Leona," she sure does know how and what to do. It makes no difference what your difficulty may be. It may include anything from mixing paint, mounting pictures, selecting the proper shades of colored paper to a broad discussion on such questions as: marriage, teaching, discipline, and dreams. And quiet. Yes, she is as quiet as a mouse. If she isn't busy reading some book, she is hard at work taking a beauty nap.

We all wish you success, "Leona," and may good luck follow your footsteps through the future.

LILLIAN M. KESTER
Freeland, Pa.
Freeland High School
"Chick"

Here is another of the bunch from Freeland which usually makes old back hall hum with excitement. She is one of the soap box orators of the "400's," and they succeed well as such in the "gang." Her delight is in sending proctors up to room 200 to report her. At the beginning of the year she was infatuated with a dark haired sheik, but this became obsolete because "Chick" never could remain settled for any great length of time. It surely was a pity for him. At present her thoughts are constantly wandering to Gettysburg College. "Chick" studied every now and then, but managed to get along on the then part of it. She will make quite a good teacher after three years' training, I hope.

The wishes of the class accompany you on your teaching career.

LORETTA W. KESTER
Freeland, Pa.
Freeland High School
"Yah"

Yes, she is "Chick's" sister and not so very different. As a member of the 400's "Yah" is usually the man behind the gun, because whatever the "gang does" "Yah" does too. She is right there when it comes to inviting proctors in for a midnight lunch and bribing them to keep "mum" about reporting "Chick." She can dance, she can't sing, she can do most any other thing. This adequately describes "Yah." Her fortune was told and the fact that she would not teach long was among the facts stated. Perhaps the "State" man can explain. Loretta was especially fond of psychology class, because in this class she continued her night's sleep. We are sure of "Yah's" success.

JOSEPH T. KLECKNER
Mifflinville, Pa.
Berwick High School
"Kleck"

Joe is a very scientific worker. He has worked out and moistened heat and air to such an extent that he has become an authority among the boys in the "Dorm" in this science.

Joe has also succeeded in winning a place on Coach Mead's gridiron. He has been a very efficient player on the football field. His hard struggles have helped to win many games.

Joe's interests are along these lines: science, athletics, and last but not least, the feminine line.

Here's wishing him all the success in his teaching.

MICHAEL KUSHMA
Drifton, Pa.
Foster Township High School
"Mike"

We all know "Mike." He is so different from the rest of men. "Mike" is a conscientious student, and is always up in his studies. He works with almost incredible stick-to-it-iveness. The results of his efforts gave him a high rating among the honor students of his class in his junior year. When speaking to him about school work, one might get the idea that he is not interested and that the subjects are boring. But closer contact reveals that he attacks his studies with a sort of savage delight and is bent on mastering them.

But Kushma finds time for amusement and recreation too. His favorite diversion is dancing, and we see him every evening in the "Gym" strutting along at a gallant pace.

"Mike" selected the Junior High School group as his field. We earnestly hope that he will find himself in the educational world, and if ever an opportunity is presented him we feel sure, from personal knowledge, that it will not pass by untried.

JOSEPH KANE
Wilkes-Barre, Pa.
St. Mary's High School
"Joe"

Here is a well-liked son of Old Erin from Wilkes-Barre way, easily distinguishable by his mop of raven hued hair and set of well groomed teeth. Although naturally quite unobstreperous he can at times be very much heard, as well as seen with "the gang."

Regarding the opposite sex he is not a group man and has not sought quantity, but has rather chosen to concentrate his efforts in the quest for quality. In view of this fact we at times think he is acting a little queerly, but knowing what we do about this affair we are well able to make allowances.

Besides the concentration above mentioned, practically all his effort in the world of sport is devoted to the grand old game of baseball, and his classmates will not be surprised to some day learn that he has turned professional. Be it rod swinging or bat swinging, we wish him a home run in life.

JEAN D. LACOE
Scranton, Pa.
Central High School
"Jean"

A wonderful girl, a true friend, a good sport, this is Jean.

One has to know Jean to understand her little whims and fancies, but when you do you will find she is the best and most wonderful pal anyone could wish for.

Speaking about men—well—"nuff sed."

As a teacher Jean will be on top for all the children love her and yes—she can be strict at times—ask her roomie.

She isn't serious always—just remember last year, when we were green little juniors, one evening there was a faculty party in Science Hall and—Jean's party followed the next day.

Jean is a most adorable girl—just ask her "devoted Flo."

Success and happiness in whatever you do, Jean, whether it be teaching or otherwise.

MARY C. LANNON
Hazleton, Pa.
Hazleton High School
"Goose"

When Mary came to the Normal everyone thought she was quiet, but now—she's quite merry.

Her avocation is athletics in which she is quite a star, and when it comes to basketball—watch her referee. We are all eagerly awaiting the day when she will follow in Miss Munro's footsteps as a physical director. Mary is contemplating taking up playground work.

There should be a special telephone line between third floor B. S. N. S. and her home town for her special benefit.

We think Mary is going to be a great politician in the near future as women now have their vote. She has been elected president of the Athletic Leaders, the L. I. D., and captain of the Whiz Bang Wee Basketball Team.

Mary is one of the L. I. D. who is not doomed to be a "school marm" all her life we are sure.

JOSEPH B. LAUBACH
Benton, Pa.
Benton High School
"Joe"

A good sport, to the last ounce of his 317 pounds. This is "Joe's" first year here, but despite the short time that he has been with us, he has become one of the most popular boys in the school. If it is pardonable to employ that much over-worked and abused clause, "he's quiet until you really know him," we'll do so for that is particularly applicable to "Joe." You'll find him always ready, whether it be for work or for pleasure. He came to Normal after teaching several years in the rural schools and, judging from selection of his course here, he must have liked the work. He's really quite industrious, as his reports prove. "Joe," we're mighty glad to have you for a friend, and we're wishing success, knowing that you will attain it.

EMILY M. LAWRENCE
Plymouth, Pa.
Plymouth High School
"Larrie"

Whenever you hear someone's melodious voice chiming through third floor or hear someone calling "toot de toot," you can make up your mind it's "Larrie." Her ability as a soloist was recognized her first year here and she was immediately appointed soloist for the Ku Ku Klub.

"Larrie" is an all around good sport, especially does she like hiking. Remember the time you hiked to the Country Club and some of your experiences while there? Never mind, "Larrie," we all had fun and, anyway, "It's the little things that count."

During our junior year, "Larrie" liked the library very much, and frequented it, especially in the evening. There seemed to be a dark attraction for her there, but since our last vacation she has found a lighter attraction in her home town.

Ambitious? Maybe so—but we can easily forgive that after knowing her, and we know she will make a perfect school teacher and we wish her luck.

MARTHA LAWSON
Shenandoah, Pa.
Shenandoah High School
"Mart"

"Mart" is one of our clever blonde girls. She is very industrious in work and play. Her main interest is in the mail box, for it brings some places nearer to B. S. N. S. We can't blame her for that.

"Mart" chose the primary grades for her work. Her ability to teach is not doubted. She has captured the hearts of both boys and girls in these grades. We all know Martha will make a first class teacher.

We all know "Mart" for a hustler, not only in cleaning rooms but also in her studies, never trying to get out of any work.

"Mart's" new theory is—if you want mail, do not expect any, and send some one else to the mail box in your place, then you are sure to get at least one letter.

Such pleasantries as these have made our friendship with Martha a delight, and will be long remembered by her many friends.

"Mart," we all wish you much success in your teaching career.

ARLIE C. LEISTER
Dalmatia, Pa.
Dalmatia High School
"Al"

"Al" seems to be very quiet and shy until one knows her, then you will discover that she is the best of good sports. Arlie believes in hard work, but she is always willing to stop studying long enough to listen to the latest joke or to gaze soul-fully at the moon. "Al" is very ambitious and is planning to attend Columbia University. She seems to have decided teaching ability, and we know she will be a success.

Her weekly boxes from home were appreciated by her friends and neighbors, as she was always generous with the "cats" which they contained.

Arlie's extensive plans for her future lead us to believe that she expects to make teaching her life's work. However, we won't be misled so easily, as a hint we will tell you that she prefers the state of Michigan to Pennsylvania.

No matter what "Al" does we wish her boundless of success and happiness.

STATE NORMAL SCHOOL
19
BLOOMSBURG, PA.

MARY LEVAN
Parsons, Pa.
Parsons High School
"Mary"

Mary has never been known to have any worries. She is famous for her optimistic outlook on life and for the fact that she boasts no member of the opposite sex has ever touched her heart. She is quite immune to their attractions, although we sometimes wonder why Mary was so exceedingly anxious to get home at times.

Although she professes to be a loyal member of "the gang," we sometimes doubt it owing to a certain automobile ride taken with friends of hers.

Mary likes Saturday night dances down here. They remind her of the dances in Wilkes-Barre. They're so different. What's in the name?

Mary is always set for action at the first note of the "rec" room piano, ready to initiate "the gang" into the mysteries of the latest dance steps.

Our best wishes for success go with you, Mary.

MABEL A. LINDENMUTH
Zion Grove, Pa.
Ringtown High School
"Mabel"

We don't know what we could do without our Mabel. She is a sort of balance wheel to us all. Naturally, she is of a quiet nature, and the busiest on the hall. She is always studying something and is very virtuous. Every once in a while it is possible to find her writing, writing; so intently she isn't aware you are watching, and that is when she is writing letters to, well, everywhere, we suppose.

When it comes to selecting eats, ask Mabel, she knows. Apple butter is her favorite, chocolate fudge comes next, and last but not least is a three-layer cake. There is no possibility of going hungry when Mabel gets a box from home.

We know she enjoyed her practice teaching and we wish her success for the future. Her friends are many and all are unanimous in saying, "She's one good sport."

ANNA N. LIZDAS
Lake Silkworth, Pa.
Lehman High School
"Anna"

Anna came to us in our senior year after having experienced some hard work at State College previously, as well as several years of school teaching.

Did you ever meet Anna that she did not have a winning smile and always ready to help, always ready for fun, and ready to eat. I wonder what class Anna enjoyed most while at B. S. N. S.? I am sure should we ask her she would say, the one where they told the most jokes, for here is a girl who enjoys jokes. But, yes, we must redeem what has already been said, for in spite of fun, Anna did studying, heaps of it. Anna, we are glad you found your way to B. S. N. S., thus we have had the pleasure of meeting a true jolly good friend and sport, and the class of 25 wishes you all luck, success and happiness available.

ESTHER M. LLOYD
Starruca, Pa.
Thompson High School
"Esther"

"Quiet" did you say. Yes, Esther is quiet unless there is something to giggle at and then she can giggle more than any other half dozen girls her size.

She comes to us from way up near the York State Line. We don't know why she came so far, but we're mighty glad she did, for, when of a friend you're in need, she's a friend indeed.

Esther is one of the few of the Junior High School group who is coming back next year. It will be very nice to see such a familiar face in the halls when we return to visit.

We hope that you will enjoy your third year as you did your first two. Here's wishing you success.

CORA E. LONG
Dalmatia, Pa.
Dalmatia High School
"Pickles"

Cora, hailing from the metropolis of Dalmatia, entered our class with a hearty "Hello" to everyone. Ever since she arrived we have been wondering how we ever could have gone through these two years without her.

She is one of the best all around girls in the world, always pleasant and happy, and is always a sure cure for the blues.

One thing Cora believes in is, economy, and thought it advisable to save money for the girls. No more alarm clocks—Oh, no! Cora made it her responsibility to get all the girls up for breakfast and sometimes she had roll call as early as four o'clock.

Cora says, she's a man hater, but according to the mail and phone calls, we wonder—

Take a look at Cora's scrap book if you want to glance at some handsome Romeos. You will soon see the type of a man hater she is.

Cora, the wishes of the class are with you, and we wish you a world of success.

ALICE LUDWIG
Bloomsburg, Pa.
Bloomsburg High School
"Babe"

Alice is a Bloomsburg girl, having recently moved from Berwick. We are glad because it brought "Babe" to B. S. N. S. She has shown signs of becoming a very successful school mistress. "Babe" is a very pleasant person, and is one of the sensible ladies who did not clip her raven locks. One can love her for being such a jolly, good sport. She is also an accomplished musician, and we have a hunch that she will go farther in this field. Alice says that she's going to be an old maid. Could a stringent old maid think of skipping an eight o'clock class?

However, our best wishes go with you, Alice.

ALICE R. LUMBERT
Forest City, Pa.
Forest City High School
"Al"

"Come on, play, 'Al,'" can be heard in the gym as soon as Alice enters. When it comes to playing the piano, Alice is a whiz, and as for pep, well, she's right there. She is quite a favorite in a crowd and feels quite at ease as long as a piano is near. She surely does show her disposition and pep in her playing.

As a teacher we don't think she'll last long—that is if letters from Washington mean anything. Concerning this, however—it is up to you, "Al."

She is an all around good sport, always ready for fun and a good time, and the class of '25 wishes you all the luck and success whether it be in teaching or in something else.

ANNA LYNN
Edwardsville, Pa.
Edwardsville High School
"Lynn"

Anna came to B. S. N. S. to cast her net in the deep blue seas of learning.

Her one desired activity is working in the dining room, and while there she delights in giving the workers her version of "School Days" and, of course, substituting? We wonder. Well, really, sometimes one might think that the waiters and waitresses had in their possession a real, live parrot, but during the long winter evenings it serves as good entertainment to the male quartet of kitchen dishwashers.

Last year Anna lived on second floor and to her advantage was very handy to the mail box. Every day at mail time you could see Anna stationed at the arch waiting for her daily mail. We know the mail box was a devout friend of "Lynn."

Good luck and success is the wish of your fellow classmates.

MARIE McCARTHY
Parsons, Pa.
Parsons High School
"Marie"

Marie is, to a certain extent, the most sensible one of the gang. She is the only one who seems to have a "sense of responsibility"; however, this sense of responsibility does not interfere with Marie's good time, and she is always ready for fun.

Her chief hobby is to pull something over on the other fellow. Remember the night she had half the administrative force of the school out looking for rag carpet? They found it—but not on the campus.

When the gang entertains in the "rec" room, Marie is the one who plays her piece for the dancing and usually plays three verses. She believes in signs, especially when learning new pieces on the "uke" and Mary has a code which Marie faithfully follows.

The "Y. W." will always have a faithful customer in the form of Marie, for she doesn't believe in going hungry.

The best of luck to you, Marie.

MIRIAM K. McCULLOUGH
Plymouth, Pa.
St. Gabriel's High School
"Mim"

"Mim" is a typical Irish Colleen with merry blue eyes and dark curly hair. Many times her hearty laughter was a sufficient cause for a "squelching." She was very bashful and quiet when she came to the Normal School, but now, oh, well, that's different. Since she joined the L. I. D. crowd we have discovered that she is a very jolly, good-natured girl. Cooking breakfast for the L. I. D. was an established "religion" with her. Her strange desire for "nothing without salt" is a crossword puzzle which none of her friends have succeeded in solving satisfactorily.

Her special hobby is hiking during blizzards or heavy rain storms. This winter she got all the blizzards she wanted, but I'm not so sure that she hiked that often. At the beginning of New Year she faithfully resolved to hike a mile every day and to keep her note-books up-to-date. I wonder if she broke any of her resolutions?

Heaps of luck, "Mim."

MARIE C. McDONNELL
Centralia, Pa.
McCinn's Business School
"Marie"

Although Marie was not one of us when juniors, we welcome her among us as a senior. She first started her career by taking a business course, but found it undesirable and took up the teaching profession. After two years of successful teaching she has come back to finish her course at B. S. N. S. We finally conclude that she has preferred to continue her work in the future teaching the kiddies.

Marie is very quiet and is not interested in the humorous side of life. If you do not find her in her room studying you will surely find her in church. Her only drawback is falling asleep while saying her prayers. Marie, we wish you success in all your undertakings.

KATHRYN R. McMENNIMEN
Wilkes-Barre, Pa.
St. Mary's High School
"Kitty"

"Oh, girls, you think you're Napoleon, but I am." This was "Kitty's" favorite expression. Of course, every one can't appreciate it, but a few of us can.

"Kitty's" last name was always a problem for the teacher to pronounce, so they just shortened it to Mac. It is a long name for such a little person, "Kitty."

"Kitty" believes in the motto that all work and no play makes "Kitty" a dull girl. Therefore, she lives up to it to the last degree. But, as she says, "It takes a clever person to bluff and get away with it." We agree with you.

"Kitty's" charming smile has won for her much popularity among the students. We never yet have seen her without it, so evidently she must be thinking pleasant thoughts.

The best of success to you, "Kitty," is the wish of all your classmates and friends.

CATHERINE McNELLIS
Larksville, Pa.
Larksville High School
"Catherine"

Catherine entered our school in the fall of 1922 as a junior. She completed her junior work that year, and then decided to give up the teacher's course. The following winter she spent in California, but the Normal School was forever on her mind, and soon she decided to return and join our senior class this year.

One of her most noticeable attractions is her broad, sunny smile. She is a quiet girl, but in a group of merry-making girls she is sure to do her part.

Her greatest ambition now is to become a teacher. We are sure she will be quite successful as she is very studious.

We all wish you success and happiness in your future, Catherine.

WILLIAM F. MAHER
Hopbottom, Pa.
Nicholson High School
"Bill"

"Bill" joined our class in our senior year, having been a student of Summer School. He is a very studious fellow, this fact being prominent in talks about anything educational. "Bill" has proved himself a true friend to all those who know him best.

We wish you the best of success in your future undertakings.

ELIZABETH MARONEY
Mifflinville, Pa.
Berwick High School
"Elizabeth"

Elizabeth is another of the famous "Mifflin" crowd. She is the sort of a girl that we all love to meet and work with. Speaking of athletics, Elizabeth is a splendid one, ever full of life and fun. The only time her athletic traits seem weak is in the morning when trying to catch the street car.

We think that Elizabeth has made a wise choice by selecting the Intermediate group as her profession, for the boys and girls just love her. This was proven in her training at the Fifth Street School.

We must consider ourselves fortunate to have Elizabeth with us in our senior year. She taught at Mifflinville last year, and made a success of her work.

Success is what we wish her, through her many undertakings.

J. NORMAN MARSHALL
Kingston, Pa.
Wilkes-Barre High School
"Bud"

"Bud" is a full fledged sheik to many of the women here at Normal. It is not uncommon to see him strut across the campus with one of our belles, bid her adieu at the classroom door, sit in class with another young sheba, but escort, after class, a young titian blonde to the library, there to desert her for another demure lassie.

Women are not the main pastime Norman spends his leisure at. As the ruler of the B. D. C. he has shown his executive ability at their meetings and under his supervision the faculty have been entertained at North Hall.

He has also been successful in caring for the social activities of the fellows as has been shown by him at the "Stags" the fellows have enjoyed.

We are sure Norman will achieve his aim in life if he continues to apply himself to mathematics after he leaves B. S. N. S. as he has here, and that some college will appreciate his efforts.

Best of luck, Norman, and may you achieve your aims successfully.

CLARA MARTIN
Hazleton, Pa.
Hazleton High School
"Claire"

Giggle in the dormitory, giggle in the dining-room, giggle in the class-room, giggle everywhere—that's Clara. Is it any wonder that a party isn't quite complete without her? Keep it up, old girl! That giggle and the pleasantness that accompanies it will eventually usher you into somebody's—well, I don't mean a school room! Or judging from your frequent Sunday visitors, maybe they have already.

One of Clara's favorite pastimes was dramatizing "The Sheik," and, oh! how she did perfect that hobby!

Yes, Clara likes to have fun, but she can work too. The success of the art exhibit was due greatly to her efforts, and what would the Y. W. C. A. have done without her? It was under her leadership that this organization obtained so many new members.

Clara's success as a teacher is assured, but as a housewife we predict that it will be even greater.

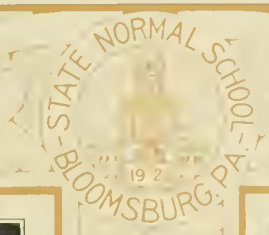

ELIZABETH MARVIN
Muhlenburg, Pa.
West Pittston High School
"Liz" "Betty"

Tall and stately with flaxen hair is our "Betty." Her cherry smile and wonderful disposition have made her loved by all. "Betty" is very studious, for whenever you see her, she always has her friend, "a book," with her. "Betty's" motto is "Work Before Play." However, I don't mean by this that she doesn't enjoy life because she always has time for fun.

In her junior year her popularity among the students was seen when she was elected to the honorable position of vice president of Student Council. She is another member of our noted Girls' Glee Club, in which she contributes her bit.

We don't hear "Betty" speak much about people of the stronger sex, but, oh, when she does? !! We have noticed that "Betty" likes to go home oftener this year than last, and likes to stay until Monday morning, for, like Postum, there's a reason.

We hope that you will always be as well liked and have success and joy in your chosen profession.

LYLE E. MATHER
Berwick, Pa.
Berwick High School
"Birdie"

"Birdie" is one of those girls who is liked by all who know her. Her kind, unselfish and wonderful disposition is quite prominent. "Birdie" always speaks her mind when it is necessary.

Now Lyle's hobby is athletics. In her junior year she was a member of the Junior Girls' Basketball Team. At every athletic event, one is sure to find her in the foreground. Her personal ambition is to be a Physical Directress.

She was very busy her first semester this year for she was teaching, and her pupils certainly took up a lot of her time. We noticed that some needed quite a bit of extra tutoring "especially Joe." Is he improving, "Birdie"? He certainly must be as Lyle has proved herself to be a very worthwhile teacher. We find it almost unnecessary to wish you success for we know that it is yours.

FRANK J. MATOS
Forest City, Pa.
Forest City High School
"Hooker"

Frank hails from Forest City. When he came to us as a junior he was very quiet, but does it apply to him now? The times have changed and so has Frank, Frank belongs to the "same old bunch" who have a fondness for cutting. We let it up to you to guess what they like to cut. To Frank, North Hall is a place of confinement, and he can often be seen on the front porch playing his "uke" or studying his books. If you want to spend an hour of fun, visit Frank. He is the jolliest man on first floor. He has many friends among the boys. We can see Frank now standing before the class telling an interesting story. Get the interest of the children, Frank, and we are sure your success will be assured.

JEANETTE MENSCH
Catawissa, Pa.
Catawissa High School

Jeanette appears very reserved and quiet, but those who know her find that she is really full of fun and is always ready for a good joke. She is a hard working and conscientious student, and always endeavors to do her very best.

She has always been very much in love with her music, especially when songs, sight singing, and sequentials were omitted. But who can tell, she may be a music supervisor yet, for, as she says, "You never can always sometimes tell what people will always sometimes do."

Being so fond of children and interested in this work we are sure that Jeanette will be a most successful teacher. We wish her best of luck and success.

RUTH E. MENSINGER
Mifflinville, Pa.
Berwick High School
"Ruth"

Here's another of our jolly, trolley tribe! "Ruth" is very good-natured and is ever ready to help others. She always wears a broad smile, along with the cheerful disposition, she also possesses attitude toward all her work and at every spare moment, one could surely find her in the Library, studying away. Many a recitation has been saved from flat failure because of her keen interest on the subject.

"Ruth" has chosen, for her future career the Primary group, and this is indeed a wise choice. With her winning smile and cheerful disposition she can win the interests of the little kiddies, quite easily we are sure. The class of '25 wishes you success in all your undertakings, "Ruth."

BESSIE M. MICHAEL Beach Haven, Pa.
Berwick High School
"Bessie"

It was hard to keep track of "Bessie," especially during week-ends. She had the most mysterious way of disappearing Saturday morning. At last we found out it was home she always went to.

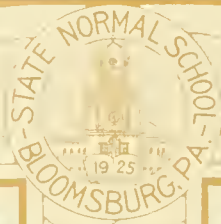

We were greatly attached to "Bessie" and regretted to have her leave us at the Dorm. and become a day student. She is a hard industrious girl, quiet and pleasant in her ways. We know she will make a splendid teacher as well as a homemaker. She was willing to help anyone in trouble and do whatever she could. Our best wishes are yours, "Bessie, in whatever vocation your choice may be.

GRACE A. MILLER
Mifflinville, Pa.
Mifflinville and Berwick H. S.
"Gracie"

Here's our little girl, and she's quite a girl we'll say. Does she know how to have a good time? Just ask her about—well, we advise you to make inquiries in your mildest tones; Grace does so hate inquisitiveness.

By the way, from the fine reports that come from downtown we believe "Gracie" is going to make one of our first class primary teachers. But to make an end of a little secret, we do not believe Grace will end her days teaching—not even very many days. If you remember correctly you will find that "Gracie's" main interest is in college, not teaching. But which ever road you choose, Grace, the class of '25 wishes you success.

MURA MILLER
Pittston, Pa.
Pittston High School
"Mura"

Mura is one of the tiny and shy girls of our class, but cheer up, Mura, "Good things come in small packages."

Despite her appearance of shyness we suspect after glancing into her sparkling blue eyes, and watching her large dimples, that she can appreciate a good joke and would not hesitate at playing one.

Mura is one of the "Tragic Trio," better known as the "Insurance Agent," and her most favorite pastime is entertaining through a megaphone. Her greatest ambition is to be a faculty member of B. S. N. S., but we are afraid that her ambition will be shattered if that steady flow of letters from Dunmore doesn't cease.

She is loved by a large circle of friends and is always anxious to do an act of kindness for those around her. We sincerely hope that her ideals for a college education may be realized and good fortune be her constant companion.

Success be yours, Mura.

IDA MITTELMAN
Scranton, Pa.
Old Forge High School
"Ida"

One could not fail to recognize Ida with her thick, black, bobbed hair and her sparkling eyes which are simply brimming over with mischief. She had no difficulty in impersonating a "Spanish Vamp" in the Junior Drama. She was a leader of the "Fourth Floor Hardware Department Gang," and a predominant character in all of their pranks.

"Sara" was her famous cry through all the corridors which proved that they were inseparable chums. She is always willing to lend a helping hand and is a Florence Nightingale to the sick. A man may be down but he's never out as long as Ida has something to eat and those Saturday night boxes were a salvation to many a hungry soul.

We imagine from various hints in the form of letters that Ida's teaching career will be short. Nevertheless, Ida, we wish you success at whatever you attempt.

GLADYS M. MORGAN
Edwardsville, Pa.
Edwardsville High School
"Hap"

"Hap" is another member of the merry Edwardsville gang. Her dark hair, hazel eyes, and friendly smile are not to be denied the conquest of every heart. She is gay, friendly—a good all around sport—always ready for a good time, but not to the extent of neglecting her duties.

"Oh-h-h-h-h!" This is her favorite expression, but you cannot appreciate it unless you are familiar with the tone of voice she employs when saying it.

Her popularity among her fellow students is shown by the various positions which she has held. She has shown her executive ability by successfully carrying out her duties as secretary of our illustrious class.

"Hap" has the distinction of being the only girl who likes Friday night dinners. Why? Is it because we sometimes have "Herring"?

We all join in wishing Gladys a happy journey through life with a final degree of M. R. S.

MILDRED M. MORGAN
Scranton, Pa.
Technical High School
"Mil"

Mildred hails from the prosperous city of Scranton. To look at her you certainly would get the impression that she was a shy, demure maiden, but when you know her you will find out that she is of the mischievous, fun-loving type.

When "Mil" first came into our midst she was a firm believer in the maxim, "Small people should be seen and not heard," so little was heard from "Mil." But "as days grow older so knights grow bolder," so in her second year we often see "Mil" in the company of some young knight.

"Mil" is a very popular young lady, particularly with the gentlemen, and we are always wondering who the latest one is. Because of this, we do not second year we often see "Mil" in the teaching profession for many years, but whatever she does we wish her joy and gladness along with success.

MILDRED MURPHY
Pottsville, Pa.
Cass Township High School
"Millie"

From all appearance we might think Mildred to be a meek little girl—but did you ever hear her talk? When she determinately states "I will" or "I won't," just coax awhile and see what she does, although she says she is too amiable and sweet to be stubborn.

Her chief pastime is to endeavor to find somebody's third rib, and her favorite saying is, "Did the rising bell ring yet?"

Now, "Millie" always says she likes the color "white," but we sometimes think that she likes "White" too. If not, why wonder if he will write again? But he will, and we can't blame him for it, because we like you ourselves. Such good-natured and ever-ready pals are hard to find and we assume that success will be yours.

FLORENCE E. MURRAY
Wilkes-Barre, Pa.
Wilkes-Barre High School
"Flo"

With pen or brush in hand busily painting or drawing you will find our dainty "Flo." An artist did you say? Well, if you have anything artistic to ask advice on just visit "Flo." How many hours of art are you taking, did you say, Miss Murray?

Not only in painting and drawing is she artistic. Did you ever see "Flo" dance? Remember the vaudeville show and you can't help but recall graceful "Flo" flitting airily across the stage.

When she isn't drawing and painting you will always find her with her inseparable chum, Jean. "Flo" rooms on second floor, but she lives on third floor back hall.

We've heard, too, that "Flo" has broken some hearts. Did you hear that too? Perhaps "Ox" and "Larry" could tell us more about that.

We wish you all the success in the world, "Flo." May all your dreams and ambitions come true!

ANDREW NAJAKA
Glen Lyon, Pa.
Newport Township High School
"Andy"

"Andy" came to us from "Newport," and from the start of school he showed that Bloomsburg would not regret his selecting of this school to study and play in—for play—he could and it is football that he played. Although "Andy" is very small amongst football men, in the season of 1923 he made an enviable record on the gridiron.

"Andy" also is very bashful among the ladies, from outside appearances, but we who know him better will not say that.

Here's to the best in life for him, for he seems to want to get the best out of life.

HELEN J. NASH
Kingston, Pa.
Kingston High School
"Nashie"

"Nashie"! Everyone knows her and why wouldn't they? She is always ready to make friends and has a smile for each and every one.

Stunts! Yes, she is on the job when stunts are going on. Never shall we forget the boxing match in the gym, when "Nashie" played an important role. She is another one who loves to eat and as a rule one can find good things to eat in her room. We must not forget her talent in music, she can sing "Charlie, My Boy" to perfection. I am afraid if the Ziegfeld Follies Co. saw "Nashie" in her dancing costume she would not be teaching next year, but would be in the front row of the chorus.

Every Sunday afternoon you can hear "Nashie" say, "Here comes a Buick up the hill, I wonder—?" So do we all, but what's the use.

There are many avenues open for our Helen, and it is difficult to say which she will pursue, perhaps somebody will help her to decide. Our best of wishes go forth with you, old pal!

VELMA L. NELSON
Starrucca, Pa.
Starrucca High School
"Velma"

That the old saying "Still waters run deep," may be applied to "Velma," is shown by her fine scholastic record at B. S. N. S. These successes have not come by inspiration, unaccompanied by hard work, as her friends can testify. She is never satisfied until she has finished her task whatever it happens to be. This industry has contributed much toward making her an excellent student. Besides she is an energetic worker in the Y. W. C. A. and a willing worker in school activities.

"Velma" does not believe in all work and no play, for, after her work is finished, there are few more jolly girls than she.

She has chosen the Intermediate group as her field of activity. We feel sure she will succeed in all her endeavors. Your host of friends wish you success, "Velma."

ESTHER F. NEWMAN
Dupont, Pa.
Pittston High School
"Esther"

Sh! Sh! here comes Esther. Her black curly hair is the envy of all the girls. She comes from the "big city" of Dupont, and her praises of it are never limited.

Esther surprised us all by becoming a Sunday school teacher, but we feel that she is very worthy of her undertaking.

Sunday is a great day for Esther, watching the automobiles go by, especially one with the license number _____.

She's an all around good sport and likes her fun just like the rest of the girls.

Esther is studious, and reading is her hobby; but she always finds time to attend the dances held every night at 6:30 on Fourth Floor back hall. She is full of inspirations, hopes and aspirations derived from reading the most recent and famous pieces of "literature."

Esther says she is going to teach forever and for aye, but we have our doubts. Good luck, Esther.

LORETTA M. O'DONNELL
Eckley, Pa.
Foster Township High School
"Larry"

"Larry" thought that her vocation in life was to be a druggist, but when she went to P. C. P. she soon realized that her thoughts led her in the wrong direction. Discovering her mistake she decided to take up the teaching profession and joined us at the beginning of the second semester of our junior year.

Ever since "Larry" came here she has had a great deal of trouble with "Gym" and "Art." She can get along very nicely with "Gym," but when it comes to "Art"—well, she just can't conquer him. We feel, "Larry," that if the names were changed you would like them better. Nevertheless, we are sure that through your hard work you will conquer both. Because of your nature to conquer difficulties we know that you will be master of every situation. We hope, "Larry," that your happiest and most successful days are ahead of you.

SAMUEL A. OLIVER
Ashley, Pa.
Ashley High School
"Lovin' Sam"

"Sam" is very popular with the boys and also the girls, especially, but there I promised not to mention her name, so you will have to guess at it. "Sammy" made a big hit with all Bloomsburg when he appeared as "Shrimps" and sang his "Fish" song in "Princess Bonnie." He had everyone in an uproar whenever he appeared on the stage.

But that isn't the only thing "Sam" can do. He played a "Bang-up" game for the seniors in the Senior-Junior football game. And he was often seen on the tennis courts playing a "Love" game of tennis.

Don't think because he does all this that he never studies, because he does, two nights before exam time. In spite of all we have said about him, "Sammy" is making a good record for himself and we wish him the best of success in his career.

HELEN E. OLVER
Beach Lake, Pa.
Honesdale High School
"Helen"

Well known throughout the halls is Helen for her ready wit and humor, her genial nature and irrepressible spirits. She is one of those happy-go-lucky kind and has a strong desire for automobile rides, but be careful, Helen, it isn't a Buick.

Since she is so gracious and considerate of all her friends, they in return would like to warn her to be a little more careful how she plunges pins through animals and carries them to fourth floor. You may be arrested for cruelty to such, some day.

Helen's favorite boast is—"I'll never encumber myself by taking a husband"—but how about the picture on your dresser? Oh, yes, we understand and we feel sure that you will be successful, and it will not be in teaching only.

Best wishes from the class of '25.

FRANCES R. O'MALLEY
Scranton, Pa.
Central High School
"Frankie"

"Say, you funny Griffith's girl, do you have any "Welsh" cookies? At any time in the day she can be heard calling this throughout the hall.

Don't misunderstand. There must always be a reason for every principle. And Tommy Jones is the reason.

"Frankie" we know will be a most successful teacher; but we know some other lines along which she will be equally successful. She has won for herself the reputation as a second Marilyn Miller. And as for posing! she can make Irene Castle turn green with envy.

She belongs to the gang of "Snappy Shooters" and to them she is an essential being. At times (that is if they were not such impossible ones) it would be difficult for us to decide whether it was Ella cleaning fourth floor, or her counterpart. How long did you practice impersonating, to attain such perfection, old dear? Yes? Well! "Oh! I didn't know that!"

Heaps o' Inck.

MAE R. O'ROURKE
Pittston, Pa.
Pittston High School
"Jordy"

Are you looking for a studious, conscientious girl? I am sure you will not be disappointed if you select Mae O'Rourke. There is no one who has worked harder or more diligently than our quiet, little Mae. She is usually studying that "famous" little green book, a favorite of every Normal School Student, "Parker's Types of Elementary Teaching."

Although her one ambition seems to be in the teaching profession we feel certain that her years as a teacher in the classroom are limited to a very few. Two "J's" and a trip home every week-end may help you to understand that prophesy.

Mae is a peace loving girl. She is always willing to be of service to any one who needs a helping hand. The L. I. D. have discovered that she has the rare faculty of settling disputes in a manner satisfactory to all concerned.

We all wish her the greatest of success as a teacher whether it be in the classroom or the home.

RUTH OWENS
Scranton, Pa.
B. S. N. S. High School Department
"Ruthie"

Ruth came to Bloomsburg last year to finish her High School course, and has been working ever since, but do not imagine that work is all she does—just look at the membership lists of all our societies and organizations and you will find Ruth's name on them all.

The three most pleasant periods of Ruth's day the first semester were spent at breakfast, lunch, and dinner, but who would not be if they were hostess of "the nicest training table" in the dining room.

Although men do not seem to cause Ruth much concern this year, we are inclined to believe that her interests are centered around Plains, judging from the numerous letters she weekly receives from there. But then Summer School is an ideal place to meet sensible young men, isn't it, Ruth?

EMILY A. PARK
Dunmore, Pa.
Dunmore High School
"Emily"

Without a doubt Emily's hobby is music. She sings in the choir and accompanies two glee clubs, to say nothing of being substitute pianist for the orchestra.

Many of us have often wished we were blessed with half the brains Emily is. She is one of the few who can't keep off the honor roll even if she wanted to.

A strange thing happened about Emily's pictures. We have been able to find all of them but one. One went to "Carnegie Tech," of course, but the mystery is, where did the other one go? How far do you suppose we'd have to go to find it?

It goes without saying that Emily will make a wonderful teacher. Here's wishing you heaps of success in your chosen work.

MAE J. PARRISH
Wyoming, Pa.
Trucksville High School
"Maidy Jane" "Doc"

Here is our studious, fun-loving Mae, responsible for half the good times on third floor, and always ready to join a crowd bent on taking advantage of the period from 9:30 to 10:00. Every school activity that is most worth while receives her hearty endorsement.

When it comes to a question of vacations on trains eastward bound, Mae always has data. Her love of the infirmary and willingness to spend her time there when she is ill, is noted throughout the dormitory. We hope she does not change her career to become a nurse.

Even when lesson plans pile up and there is studying to do, Mae always has time to answer questions and give a word of advice.

She is a conscientious and thoroughly likeable girl as is proven by her hosts of friends. Our class adds its sincerest wishes for success in your chosen career.

JASON PATTERSON
Bloomsburg, Pa.
Bloomsburg High School
"Pat"

"Pat," one of the popular downtown boys, is about to consecrate his life to the real business of school teaching. The majority of the class we dare say, do not know this self-restrained chap, but to all who really do know him, his friendship is very much appreciated.

In being a man of few words, Mr. Coolidge is possibly the nearest approach to this unique personality. The difference between Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Patterson being the fact that Mr. Coolidge is president of the U. S., while Mr. Patterson is not.

From this, one might gather that Jason does nothing but twiddle thumbs in his spare time, but perhaps his Ford Coupe could tell many an interesting tale. This Ford by the way will serve Jason well after he starts to teach rural work in which line he chose to specialize at B. S. N. S. We hope his honest efforts will prove him successful in his chosen profession.

ELLEN T. PHEBEY
Wilkes-Barre, Pa.
Wilkes-Barre High School
"Dell"

Ellen is our very own "Phoebe" bird—and she surely can sing. Her favorite song is "I Love You Truly." Where are your thoughts when you sing it, Ellen—Wyoming Seminary or Penn State? We might envy you those college men, but who could resist the charm of softly waving hair, a lovely complexion, and a cheery smile?

"Dell" likes dances and athletics, especially football. We wonder why? Of course, there are some especially nice football stars (aren't there?) so we can't blame you at all.

Now, Ellen is perfectly willing to study when there's nothing else to do. But when she hears the welcome cry, "Let's have a feed!" just try and keep her at those lesson plans. Midnight feeds are the joy of her life, with the exception of those long, interesting letters she receives.

But, forgetting to tease her, Ellen is a pal worth having, and we wish her all the luck and happiness possible for just one girl.

PEARL E. POUST
Orangeville, Pa.
Orangeville High School
"Pearl"

Rural conditions would certainly improve if all the teachers sent out by the rural group were like Pearl. She always accomplishes what she sets out to do; and the things she wishes to accomplish are many. Whenever the rural group has a hard problem to solve, Pearl is always on hand to do her share.

Her marks are of the kind we mere mortals dream about, and never get.

She, in her two years at Normal, boarded downtown, so the "dorm" seldom knew her cheery smile. Over the week ends, Pearl always set out for Orangeville. We wonder why Bloomsburg isn't to be endured for even one or two week-ends.

We feel that Pearl will be successful because she is so industrious. We wish we had more rural teachers like she. Pearl, in whatever you take up we wish you success and happiness.

EDYTHE M. POYCK
Wilkes-Barre, Pa.
Wilkes-Barre High School
"Edythe"

Another girl from Wilkes-Barre. Edythe is the happy go lucky member of her group of friends, and she is well liked by all. She is always right up to date in her studies and manages to keep ahead in one subject and that is—well, you can guess. See, Edythe, your State College letters are telling tales. Keep up the good work, Edythe, and you won't teach long. Edythe lived downtown last year and certainly enjoyed every minute of her stay, but we decided that she should grace our halls more often and so she thought she would live with us. Her stay here has been as pleasant, we hope, as last year's. We wish you all the success possible.

KATHRYN M. PRICE
Scranton, Pa.
Central High School
"Kay"

Pep! Pep! Pep!! Well, I should say. There aren't many that can keep up with our "Kay." She is pep personified, especially since she bobbed her hair.

"Kay" isn't what we could call studious, nevertheless she doesn't believe in slighting things, either.

"Kay" was a huge success as a nature study teacher, whether because she always was fond of that study (?) or because she loves hikes, we are not sure.

She is a peach of a sport, always ready for a good time, as any of the girls who roomed on fourth floor last year will tell you.

She says she is going to teach and we are sure the kiddies will love her, but—ask Shorty.

"Kay" has done splendid work in our Training School, and whatever comes, we wish her loads of success.

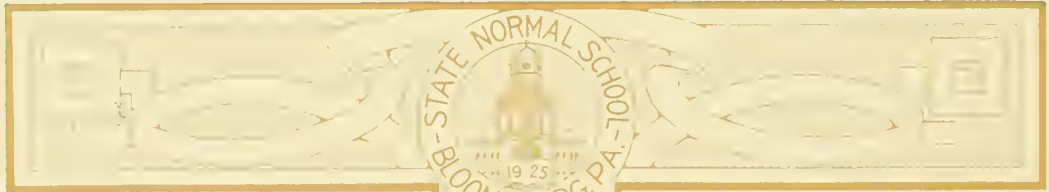

MARGARET E. PRICE
Ashland, Pa.
Ashland High School
"Peg"

Would you like to meet her? Everyone does! No matter where she goes her charming personality wins for her hosts of lasting friends. She is quiet and demure, having a delightful way about her, which is all her very own. Margaret is faithful to all her tasks, and never stops until they are finished. Making lesson plans, everyone knows, is her one delight.

"Peg" receives many boxes of candy. She tells us "from my mother" or "from my sister," but we doubt it. Every day "Peg" makes this resolution, "No more Reilly's, but each afternoon it is broken and made again the same night.

Margaret has chosen to be a teacher. We all know she will make a splendid one. She has given proof of this already, and is also interested in music. She has a pleasing voice. We were unaware of this at first, but her ability could not remain hidden for long.

We have all enjoyed "Peg's" friendship and have only known her long enough to want to know her better. Here's wishing her luck and success in life.

MARGARET R. PRICE
Glen Lyon, Pa.
Newport High School
"Peg" "Madge"

This is Margaret, the optimistic happy-go-lucky, and ever cheerful girl. She is tall, with dark hair and beautiful brown eyes. Who can help but like her?

Although our "Peg" likes dancing she refused an invitation to the State House Party. She only wanted to be different. Different describes our "Madge."

We said she is happy-go-lucky, but one of her few worries is Art. She has much artistic ability, which people do not appreciate. Of course, Margaret, we know you are ahead of the times. But some day people will learn that straight lines are not artistic, and your work will be heralded by the greatest of Artists.

"Peg's" greatest ambition was to become Proctor in Third Floor Annex. She always said, "Wait until I am Proctor!" We did. She "watered" the dorm girls "religiously." We wish she could be Proctor forever.

Margaret, many have enjoyed your company. We all leave our best wishes with you.

MARTHA A. PRICE
Forest City, Pa.
Forest City High School
"Martha"

Martha came to us from Forest City. This town, as we know, is well represented at Bloomsburg, and each one does his share toward its publicity.

She is a very studious lassie, and looks with disgust at the foolish actions and sayings of the Bloom inmates.

We never got acquainted with Martha as we would like to have been, because she desires the more serious side of life. Martha studied and struggled hard with music as she did with her other studies. So we know she will be a success as a teacher.

The first year we recognized her as one of the Shortess Gang and we wonder why she did not move to the dorm for second year, with the rest of the crowd. (What's the big idea, "Mart"?)

Anyhow, Martha, if there is anything in wishes, you surely will be successful.

MARY B. PROBERT
Mt. Carmel, Pa.
Mt. Carmel High School
"Mary"

Here is a girl we all hold dear. Although she has been with us only one year, her pleasing manner and gentle ways have won a place in the hearts of all. Many win friends in an outward frank way, but Mary always chooses the quiet, modest way.

She is a noted Marathon runner, and a whiz in art. The old saying is, "Some people are born with knowledge, some achieve knowledge, and some have knowledge thrust upon them." but Mary's school life began with the first, as she was very bright in all her classes and never believed in "skipping."

With all the sterling qualities which this Miss possesses there is every indication of a most brilliant career destined for her, and in departing from us, we extend to her our best wishes for a crown of true success.

CHLOE A. PROPER
Dalton, Pa.
Keystone Academy
"Chloe"

"Chloe" joined us at the beginning of our junior year and has been a faithful worker ever since she came amongst us.

From choice "Chloe" decided to take up Junior High work, and we are sorry that she will not graduate with us. However, she is an active member of the Mu Phi Sigma, and that means a lot.

She is very quiet until you know her, but then "still water runs deep."

"Chloe" doesn't like to be proctor. We wonder why? Is it because she wants to be sure that the seniors have a chance next year, and she'll be a senior? If that is your reason, "Chloe," we thank you for your kind consideration of others. That is just like the dear girl that you are.

We cannot predict your future as you have another long year ahead of you, but whatever you do the class of '25 wishes you success.

PEARL RADEL
Sunbury, Pa.
Sunbury High School
"Pearl"

Pearl carries herself with an air of intelligence and dignity, but behind that mask lurks jollity and humor. She is true blue even to those blue eyes of hers.

She is an officer of the Y. W. C. A. and an active and capable worker in that organization. She is always willing to help anyone along any line. Nothing that she has undertaken has remained unfinished. Pearl possesses that wonderful faculty of being able to make and keep friends.

Pearl's famous saying on Sunday is, "I wonder if my people are coming up today," and very rarely is she disappointed.

Pearl is diligent and thorough in her school work and is consistingly efficient in all she attempts. She does not believe in all work and no play, however. After the work is finished there are few jollier girls than she. She has chosen the Intermediate work as her field of activity. We feel sure that she will succeed in all her endeavors, and we wish her well.

BRONWEN F. REES
Kingston, Pa.
Dorranceton High School
"Bronnie"

Here she is, full of pep, always ready for a real, honest to goodness good time. A gloom chaser and a room wrecker is our "Bronnie." Remember the night of the Senior Banquet—more fun, but oh! the after effects—water?

"Bronnie" was noted for many things in her junior year, the most memorable being of her love for star gazing and faithfulness in attending basketball games, for, like Postum, there was a reason.

Besides all this "Bronnie" is very studious and talented. People often ask, can she sing? I'll say she can. Don't you remember our Junior Drama and our famous double quartet, in which she takes a leading part? But her famous song around the dorm is "Got any cats?" Her voice, along with her wonderful disposition has made her noted with "The Vic." Here's hoping you keep the good work up, and we wish you joy and happiness in whatever you attempt.

MARION J. REINBOLD
Ringtown, Pa.
Ringtown High School
"Marryin"

Here is another one of our girls whose appearance denotes modesty and quietness, but we find appearances deceiving, because Marion is generally present when we have fun on second floor. She certainly enjoys a joke as well as the rest of us.

Marion is also one of our studious girls. We can prove that because she is probably the youngest in our class.

Marion goes home every week-end, and, like Postum, there's a reason. Go ahead, Marion, only don't forget that you have another year at B. S. N. S.

As to her ambitions and hopes we know very little, but statistics show that she has an interest in the field of medicine. We feel that you will be successful as a teacher, but go to it, Marion. In whatever you take up we wish you success.

MILDRED L. RENTZ
Mainville, Pa.
Bloomsburg High School
"Mil"

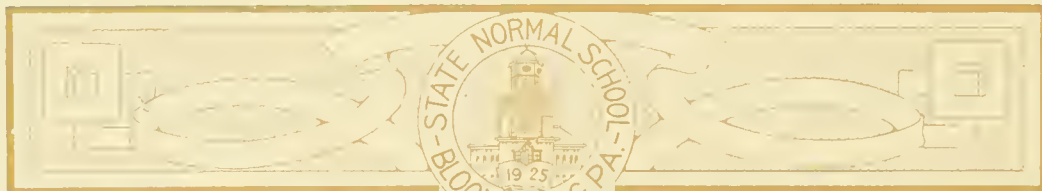

"Mil" is short but full of pep and vim. Dancing is her specialty. What would happen if she failed to appear in the gym after dinner every night.

Whenever there is anything funny happening, "Mil's" deep, musical laugh can always be distinguished from the rest, for "Mil" has a very pleasant voice, although it has been the trial of many proctors.

"Mil" thinks the townspeople are very nice. Which one, we do not mean to tell. She seems to be judging a whole town by one person. But, then, it is not a serious fault. She is one of the few that believes there is time for work and play. "Mil" hunts for both, but usually does not find the work, no matter how hard she looks.

We all think "Mil" has chosen the wrong profession. But, then it will not be for long.

Good luck and success to you from the class of '25.

HARRIET E. RHINARD
Berwick, Pa.
Berwick High School
"Harriet"

What is your first impression of Harriet when you look at her picture? Soberness and primness, we imagine. But Harriet is not that kind of a girl. She's an all around American girl, who can see a joke and laugh with the rest of us.

Now, don't think from what I said, that Harriet is gay and fickle. No, indeed! she's a sincere sympathetic girl, always ready to help those in distress and to do a favor.

Probably Harriet has acquired her dignified manner from overstudy and a future thought of teaching, but you should have known her in High School days. She was not what you would call dignified then, she was always ready for fun and a joke.

Well, Harriet, you will always be you, and we wish there were more like you.

We know you will make a success of teaching, but we wish you luck.

NADINE H. RICE
Trucksville, Pa.
Kingston Township High School
"Ned"

"Ned" had not been with us long before we all recognized her superior qualities. By the middle of the first year she had been chosen president of the Y. W. C. A. and in that capacity has set such standards as it will behoove the succeeding classes to follow.

Nadine is a good sport, always ready for a good time. She has a mild passion for playing tennis and, unless something extremely important happened was never known to refuse to play a game.

They say only those who are sure of being "old maids" choose the school teaching profession. "Ned" seems to be the exception. How about it, "Ned"?

But for such time as she does teach we all know Nadine will make a splendid teacher.

If success comes to those who deserve it, the floods of prosperity won't miss you.

GLADYS A. RICHARDS
Bloomsburg, Pa.
Hazleton High School
"Dutch"

Here's one of the best natured girls in our class. She is always very pleasant and a good pal to everyone.

She is quite fond of newspapers and likes to buy them at Ritter's newsstand. We can't imagine why unless it might be that a certain light haired young man is there frequently.

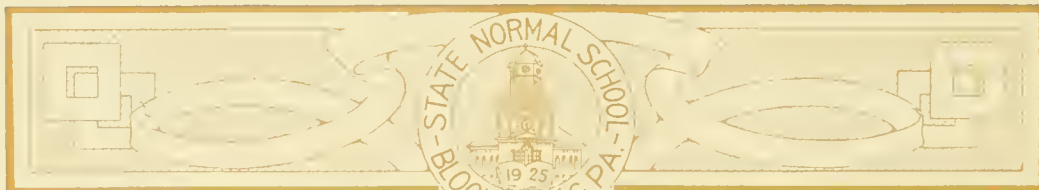

"Dutch" likes to swim and paddle canoes. She is a good student and we know she will make a good teacher if she does not get sidetracked before she starts in. Here's wishing you luck and success, "Dutch."

KATHRYN L. RINKER
Bloomsburg, Pa.
Bloomsburg High School
"Kate"

Quiet, but persevering is Kathryn, one of our downtown students. She believes in the maxim, "Never put off until tomorrow what you can do today," and she always has her work completed on time. She studies hard and is always ready to do a little more than is asked of her. She does not work all the time, however, for she is a jolly, fun loving girl and makes use of every opportunity of having a good time.

Kathryn's sole ambition is to be an Art teacher. She is particularly talented along this line, and we are sure that she will make a successful teacher. We wish her the best of luck and happiness in her chosen profession.

EVELYN G. ROBBINS
Bloomsburg, Pa.
Tredyffrin-Easttown High School
"Evelyn"

Evelyn is one of the trio of Robbins that help to make our campus a worthwhile place. Her interests are many. Some of the especially prominent ones are: Entertaining the gang from school at a "feed" or party, teaching the principles of color harmony, good spacing, etc., to the 8B1, practicing her music, both vocal and piano, and keeping Grace's boy friends guessing.

She came to us from Berwyn and her heavy correspondence would indicate many friendships not forgotten. In spite of this she professes a growing love for Bloomsburg and delights in her frequent visits to relatives living in the country.

She is an enthusiastic student and considers her school work before every other activity. She is an untiring supporter of those things most worthwhile and the success of many of our school and class projects is to her ability and effort. She is also a member of that thriving organization, Mu Phi Sigma.

May success be yours always.

GRACE D. ROBBINS
Bloomsburg, Pa.
Tredyffrin-Easttown High School
"Grace"

If you see a crowd of jovial, fun loving people, look them over carefully and you are sure to find our Grace. It is this very characteristic that has made her innumerable friends throughout the town and Normal. A four-square girl and a mighty good sport just about describes her. Her love of sports is prominent, but her love of driving the "cheney" out to the country more so. She acquired this love for driving in Berwyn, but then, a good teacher can make anything interesting.

Her scholastic record is excellent, and she has a high place on the Honor List. Much of her time is devoted to school activities and her co-operation and ability stamp success in whatever she attempts. She is a member of the Mu Phi Sigma and boosts its ever increasing progress.

Go to it, Grace, our sincerest wishes for the final accomplishment of your ambitions go with you.

ABBYE ROBERTS
Plymouth, Pa.
Plymouth High School

Here is a personage without whom the senior class of '25 would be incomplete.

Abbye is the joy of all teachers, for she is a most conscientious and industrious student.

It was no difficult feat to shock Abbye when she first arrived in these parts, but now all we can say is times have changed.

We feel sure that Abbye has missed her calling for as an impersonator she is right there. Her musical ability is of no small mention, but for some reason or other she has been rather backward displaying it. Don't be so modest, Abbye.

One can be sure that Abbye will make a good teacher for can you not remember the long hours during which she labored tirelessly with the less hopeful ones in that terrible monster, Junior Music?

Her most kindly disposition and her constant readiness to lend a helping hand have won for her a host of friends who heartily wish her a most successful career.

CHRISTINE B. ROEDER
Catawissa, Pa.
Catawissa High School
"Christine"

Christine is one of the quietest girls from the Locker Room, but not painfully quiet at that. During these last two years, Christine has become quite noisy, but one must, to be heard above the shouting down there in the Locker Room. Her giggle is very engaging as is her red hair, and by careful calculation we have found that by the end of her third year at Normal, Christine will have had one thousand, four hundred ninety-six rides in the trolley to and from Catawissa—she does enjoy it so much! Christine is not a man hater exactly, but rather a disciple of Platonic friendships.

Of course, she gets good marks, but we are proud to state that she is not a slave to her studies. We wonder if she will not major in Educational Measurements since she likes to score Intelligence Tests so well.

Best wishes from the class of '25.

REGIS M. ROHLAND
Old Forge, Pa.
Scranton Business College
"Ray"

We all know "Ray" as being a reliable and efficient person, especially at the after-dinner dances, where she is pianist, first and second violinist, or in other words, the whole orchestra.

She hails from Old Forge, probably that accounts for many things, one of which is, why "Ray" sports two diamond rings. Is there a man in the case? We'd love to know. "Ray" is rather serious at times, and then again full of smiles. For a true friend you can rely upon her, she's true blue and always ready to give a helping hand. Then again if you want to have a good time you can count on "Ray."

We wonder if she has chosen wisely in making teaching her profession. Whether you teach a group, "Ray," or one single person, may success always be with you.

MARTHA E. ROUSHY
Dallas, Pa.
Lehman High School
"Mart"

"Mart" came to us two years ago a very quiet, innocent, pious little girl, but you'd be surprised! We often wondered who the cut-up was, over to Shortes' that was responsible for the bobbing of "Mart's" locks. Does she study? Oh, my yes! She did the studying for the whole "Shortes Gang." Ask Martha, she knows.

No matter what they did to you, "Mart," you are just as sweet and affectionate as ever. We are not the only ones that loves this little lass, either. "Seeing is believing." (Isn't that right, "Mart"?)

Wish you much luck, Martha.

ROSE ROWLAND
Connerton, Pa.
Girardville High School
"Stick"

A brilliant head (of hair); a brilliant smile; and a personality that is a fit accompaniment to both; all combine to give you a picture of care-free, happy "Stick."

Rose's nickname does, by no means, imply anything stick-like for her sparring partner can vouch for her grace and aptitude as a dancer. She is always ready for fun and "eats" at all times.

As a student we have no comments to make about you, "Stick," except to query why the sudden craze for Junior Psychology?

As a girl who is always full of fun, a pleasant companion, and a good school teacher you take with you, in whatever field of work you take up, best wishes for your happiness and success from the class of '25.

ARLENE A. RUCKLE
Bloomsburg, Pa.
Bloomsburg High School
"Ruck"

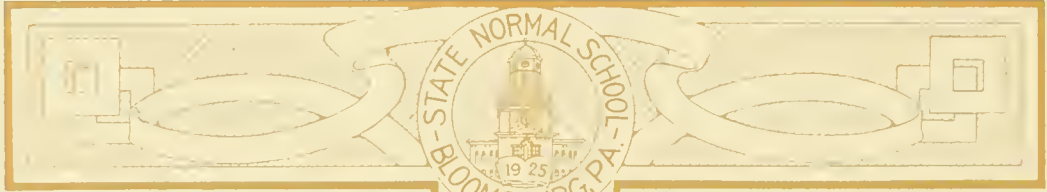

"Ruck belongs to the "Rural Group." She has a tendency to see the funny side of everything. Many an indicating twinkle has livened those moments when class has sunk into the dullest stage.

She is exceptionally fond of driving an Overland. She can tell you how to drive on half a gallon of "gas," as this would be a saving proposition you had better ask her how it can be done.

Arlene says she can swim if the pool is deep enough, but Arlene have pity on those of us who can not swim and don't make a swimming pool of the locker room.

"Ruck's" favorite expression is, "Oh! Horrors!" She also says she is going to be an old school marm, at least until Mr. Right comes along.

So Arlene, we wish you best of luck and good wishes.

ALICE RUGGLES
Hunlock's Creek, Pa.
B. S. N. S. High School Department
"Al"

This is Frances' younger sister. Unlike Frances, though, Alice does not give promise of being a Kreisler, but she is one of the songsters in our class. A number of times she has entertained us, both in the halls and in chapel, and we certainly did appreciate it.

As to her career, we are not at all well posted. Oh! yes, she intends to teach for some time, but we fear, according to some letters that she has received recently, that she will not make it a prolonged experience.

Her teaching at school was most successful, and we feel sure that her future teaching whether it be in a schoolroom or some "special pupil" will be successful.

FRANCES RUGGLES
Hunlock Creek, Pa.
B. S. N. S. High School Department
"Frances"

Look! See who is here. This is Frances Ruggles. She has some advantages over the majority of the rest of us. This is her fourth year at Normal School, and perhaps that accounts for many things.

There are three things that are of vital importance to this bright lass. Her teaching, her violin and—somebody from up near Shickshinny. We cannot say which occupies the most important place, but Frances, we wish you would enlighten us. Incidentally there seems promise of competitors in securing first place in her affections. The principles figuring—one of the North Hall residents, and one, a "son of the soil." Oh! well, the old saying that "to the victor, belongs the spoils," still may be true, especially in this case!

Frances is not certain just where she will teach??? But she says emphatically not in the country. Whatever you may decide to do, we hope for your success.

ELLEN RUPERT
Pittston, Pa.
Pittston High School
"Ellen"

A shy, demure little maiden is Ellen. She is one of the industrious members of the Rural Group, and is known for her thoroughness and careful judgment. Although she is always busy, she is "true blue" and always ready to give a helping hand.

One's first impression of Ellen is that she is a very quiet and reserved girl is true, but yet rather deceiving, for we all come to know her to be loving and jolly.

She has decided to become a Rural teacher.

Ellen surprised us during the Second Semester by having her hair bobbed, which is quite appropriate for a Rural School Teacher.

Because you are so conscientious, Ellen, we know you will be successful in your work. The class of '25 wishes you the best of luck.

FLORENCE A. RYAN
Wilkes-Barre, Pa.
Plymouth High School
"Florence"

Should you ever need a reliable, tactful, animated leader, Florence is just the person you want. Florence is always the ringleader in our fun, whether it be the subject of ears or mischievous acts. She makes a good leader for any undertaking, but her special delight is leading parades. (Early morning ones).

Florence is a fine violinist and is a member of our new orchestra, which is such a success.

We can say quite truthfully that Florence is an excellent teacher and possesses many desirable characteristics.

Of course Florence does not study all the time. In her spare time you will probably find her with the other three of the quartet, eating, reading, hiking, telling jokes or walking down town.

All your friends and classmates wish you luck and success, Florence, and we know you will have both.

GEORGE SACK

Glen Lyon, Pa.

Newport Township High School

"Sockie"

"Sockie"—when you hear that, what does it seem to say?—a star of greatest magnitude in Basketball, a fellow ever ready to enter into fun, whether costly or not, and a fellow who has his joke always on the end of his tongue ready to be told to the first he encounters. These are just a few of the reasons why "Sockie" is so well liked by every one who has come in contact with him.

"Sockie" comes from Newport and is therefore a member of the "gang."

He has not kept as clear from the girls as some of the other fellows. Last year it was "Mil." This year it is ??? I wonder who—ask him, he knows.

"Sockie" is not leaving us this year so you who stay will have the pleasure of his company and entertainments for another year.

ELIZABETH F. SARICKS

Freeland, Pa.

Freeland High School

"Betty"

"Betty" is one of the quiet members of our class but the saying is "still water runs deep," and I guess this is true of "Betty." She always sees the funny side of life, and as a rule is giggling at the happenings of the day.

When it comes to getting mail, "Betty" is Johnnie on the spot. We all wonder why? She is never absent from her classes and likewise she is never absent from the movies. She always has her lessons prepared, but we think her favorite subject is ED, measurements.

"Betty" is quite a visitor and visits many of the rooms but stays only a few minutes. But when it comes to music—"Betty" loves to sing, but when she starts all the rest stop, for they are all out of tune except "Betty." We are sure of her success as a teacher and the class of '25 wishes you heaps of success.

BLOOMSBURG, PA.
1825

SARAH B. SCHAEFFER
Mifflinburg, Pa.
Mifflinburg High School
"Sarah"

Sarah is a jolly good natured girl. A flash of her sunny smile and cheery "Hallow" is worth a great deal to her numerous friends. She is always seeking advice in this, that, or another thing. She is fond of discussing matters of great importance with her numerous friends. We all enjoy listening to her advice upon such matters, as our limited experience will not help us. Often we help her in clearing up such matters as she herself has had no previous experience to help.

Sarah has taught a Rural School one year and attended the B. S. N. S. for two summers. We are glad she decided to stay for the fall term and become a member of our class of nineteen twenty-five. We all wish you the best of luck, Sarah, for success in the future.

GENEVA E. SCHOTT
Hazleton, Pa.
Berwick High School
"Gene"

We girls in the dorm didn't have the opportunity of knowing "Gene" in her Junior year, but we know her now—only too well. She sure did keep the fourth floor annex floor warm, parading them so much, and those doors nearly banged off their hinges from the gentle closings she gave them after her frequent visits (mostly frequent). We only hope she will continue her visits which we enjoy so much.

Do we love her, girls? How can we help it. We sure can't blame any one for falling for her.

We often wonder what would have happened if "Gene" could not have enjoyed the week ends at Berwick.

Here's hoping you success and a school in Berwick for convenience.

CELIA H. SCHRAEDER
Newport, Pa.
Newport Township High School
"Al"

"Al" wended her cheery way to Bloomsburg in our Junior year and no sooner had she arrived than she began to make friends. Maybe it was her eyes and sunny smile; maybe it was her kindness and willing heart; but I'm sure it was her own sweet self that made us love her so. This is her first year of dormitory life and strange to say, she prefers the downtown life of last year.

At any rate we're glad she came and we're glad to say that she is a steadfast friend and true to all.

Every one wishes you success in your teaching at Newport.

FLORENCE B. SCHULTZ
Bloomsburg, Pa.
Bloomsburg High School
"Schultz"

Florence, it is difficult for us to say just what vocation you will finally choose. Last year (our Junior year at Normal), when the "Overland Sedan" played such an attentive and prominent part, we were quite certain that a school teacher you would never be. Florence, we believe that you are wise in taking up the teaching profession, because we all are confident that you have the ability of becoming something far greater than an ordinary school "marm." Your personality and character will lead you anywhere. Talk to a fellow occasionally in a friendly way about school work or some such monotonous subject, but always maintain teaching as your highest ambition in life.

If you should ever tire of this profession don't fail to remember the old saying, "All things great come to those who wait."

ALMA SEYBERT
Bloomsburg, Pa.
Bloomsburg High School
"Sy"

Your attention, people! "Sy" is one of the wittiest and most entertaining girls in the Senior Class. She likes a good time and you can usually find her present when there are any indications of such.

Alma shines in Art and Gym, possibly because she takes a greater interest in these subjects than any others. She is usually telling about the numerous affairs of the heart she has had and many times mentions various colleges.

Did some one say swim? "Sy" seems to take more interest in this sport than anything else. Sometimes we are inclined to think it is the company that goes with her to the creek—but of this we are not sure. Alma is a good sport, makes friends easily and is always ready to do her part in anything that comes her way.

With "Sy's" charming personality and winning ways we expect many things of her, and the class of '25 extend their best wishes.

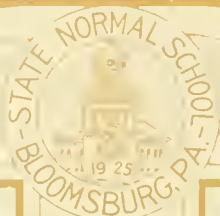

LEONE M. SHAIN
Tamaqua, Pa.
Sunbury High School
"Leone"

There came to Normal one September morning some two years ago a perfect stranger, heavily loaded down with baggage, including a cornet, which was destined for an eventual career. After much questioning she succeeded in locating the Dean of Women's office and was put in a room on back campus. But Leone refused to remain "put." Although a small stranger in a big place, Leone soon proved to us that "music" hath charms by the host of friends who gathered about her.

One word of warning, Leone. 4:30 A. M. is a poor time for cornet solos. She is a good sport and ready for anything, but there is one thing we'd like to find out—Which does she prefer, a Dodge or a Buick? We fear that Leone's career as a school teacher will be short, for judging from her popularity, we know she is not doomed to be an "old maid."

We wish you the best of luck and success.

BRUCE SHEATS

Lewisburg, Pa.
Mifflinburg High School
"Brutus"

Who has ever seen our noble "Brutus" without that noticeable grin of his? Whether he works, plays or studies, he always grins, but it is a grin he should be proud of. Bruce hails from the town of Lewisburg from where we get many of our good students. Although Bucknell University is located near his home, Bloomsburg Normal draws him to us. We wonder why? Perhaps Sheats can tell us.

Sheats is well liked by all the boys, and he often visits a certain sunshine suite on third floor. Gordon Johns always has the thing that Sheats comes up for.

We all wish this young man continued success as a teacher. We know he will succeed.

MARIE SHIFFER

New Berlin, Pa.
Bloomsburg High School
"Jess"

Marie is a very studious little maid, as her standing at B. S. N. S. will prove to you. Do not get the impression that she does not care for fun. Just mention a Nature Study hike, or any outdoor sports and you will not find a more willing helper than Marie. She is always interested in astronomy, geology and in all Nature about us.

We know of a certain lady on second floor who is very warm, and in Music class the windows are always raised as soon as she makes her appearance. Never mind, Marie, fresh air is what is needed most in the school room to keep your children alert.

When Marie goes home she is so anxious to arrive at her destination that she falls out of the coupe, but we, as a class of 1925, know you will make a fine Rural teacher and wish you the best of success in your teaching.

KATHRYN L. SHIPMAN
Montoursville, Pa.
Montoursville High School
"Kay"

Kathryn is one of those entrancing lassies with curly hair, grey eyes and winsome ways, truly an irresistible combination.

Like most girls, "Kay" likes a good time and it is altogether possible that residents or rather a resident of Hughesville proves a most pleasant companion.

Her favorite expression is, "You know what I mean." We understand "Kay."

She is always singing and dancing, but when the orchestra strikes up "Bebe"—then, oh then!

Kathryn made an ideal proctor, as any of the Juniors on long hall, third floor, will testify, and as a scholar few can surpass her.

With her smile and ability, we feel that Kathryn will be a teacher of whom the class of '25 will be proud of in future years, unless—. You know what I mean.

PEARL E. SICK
Mehoopany, Pa.
Tuckhannock High School
"Pearl"

Here is a girl whose friendship is well worth cultivating; just the girl you would like to meet.

She has a personality that has won for her many friends and is loved by all who know her as a true and faithful friend. She has always been a diligent, earnest student as well as a jolly companion.

Success has been hers in the past and we are sure she will have more as she strives onward to reach her goal.

Pearl, we wish you the best of luck and success. We know it is not an idle wish for if any one deserves success, that one is you.

ELIZABETH M. SIEBER
Dunmore, Pa.
Dunmore High School
"Betty"

If it's a good sport you're looking for you have one right here. Judging from all appearances one would say that "Betty" is a quiet, shy girl, but she is far from that. You know you can't always judge a book by its cover. Looks are certainly deceiving at times.

One peach of a girl, always ready for a good time and always on the job is our "Betty." If you ever want anything done and done well don't be afraid to ask her.

Can she write? We'll say she can. Not only along the literary line either for "Betty" can certainly write letters.

Although she didn't room in the dormitory for her Senior year, yet she is always a welcome guest. Many a good time did "Betty" take part in, especially in room 418. I guess Billie can vouch for that.

May success and happiness be yours at all times "Betty."

KATHERINE B. SIEGER
Mahanoy City, Pa.
Mahanoy High School
"Kit"

"Dimples" is a better name for her. Every one admires her dimples, which can always be seen, for she is always smiling. "Kit" is every one's friend, that is why she has so many.

If you hear "Huh! Huh!!" and then another "Huh!!!" never ask who it is. It is sure to be inquisitive "Kit." Nevertheless, this is one of her many admirable characteristics and how shall we learn, unless we are first inquisitive.

As usual, there is a "he" in the story. Need his name be mentioned? "He" thinks every Saturday is Alumni Day, and "Kit" thinks a Ford coupe is the best car on the market.

"Kit" is also one of our musical students. She belongs to the Glee Club and is a very good piano player of both classics and jazz.

We are doubtful whether teaching will be her calling. Whatever it will be, "Kit," we all hope for you the most of success and happiness.

JULIA H. SIMS
Lee Park, Pa.
Hanover Township High School
"Jude"

Although "Jude" has only been with us one year she has won a place in our hearts. Her sweet personality and unflinching good humor has made her every one's friend. She is always ready to help some one out and is, in reality, a friend in need.

Whenever a crowd of girls get together and you hear some one say, "Gee Kid! When I was in Summer School we—, and it was the breeze, you know"—you know that "Jude" is there.

"Jude" is very ambitious and always manages to get her work done. But she always has time for fun just the same.

Her one ambition in life is to be an old maid school teacher and teach the children to be old maids too. Never mind, "Jude," we are sure you will make a success of your life work.

DANIEL E. SMITH
Drums, Pa.
B. S. N. S. High School Department
"Dan"

"Dan" came to the school three years ago to complete his High School work—so he ranks with the "old timers" of the class.

"Dan" is by trade a "pumpkin-duster," but by calling a school teacher.

Who does not know "Dan"? Everywhere one goes about the building "Dan's" name is mentioned.

He is very popular with the ladies and if you don't believe this, ask a certain lady from Wilkes-Barre, who has her hands full trying to keep the other ladies away from him.

"Who is our class President?" "Dan" Smith, a good sport, a hard worker and a man who sticks to the ship until it sinks. He has done more for our class than can be imagined in working up our class spirit, and "initiative" is one of "Dan's" middle names when the time comes to out something across.

He is one of the most highly esteemed members of our class and we wish him the best of luck in his further adventuring in the cold, cruel world.

DELMAR SMITH
Berwick, Pa.
Berwick High School
"Dub"

Delmar wanders from the industrious city of Berwick.

Art is his pet, but he considers that none of his subjects are troublesome. Delmar may be found roaming about care-free and book-free. He has tried sports but a free spirit will not be bound down. He is a leader rather than a star, as his basketball squad has shown.

Delmar has many recollections of street car episodes. Finally, though, he concedes the gentler sex are all right, just to have fun with.

Then, too, Delmar holds progressive ideas. He considers that the trolley seats would make much better snoozing quarters if there was only more room for his "six foot two" frame.

When Delmar finishes his education in some Western College, we can see great things in store for a scholar of his type. Here's luck to a true pal and an honest sport.

MIRIAM SMITH
Benton, Pa.
Benton High School
"Mim"

"Mim" represents the "little town among the hills." She's caught all the sunshine that ever shone upon it and delivered it to us personally. Her big blue eyes, her little curls and her pleasing manner are the envy of all the girls.

We aren't the only ones interested in her, however. Wilkes-Barre post marks frequent her dua-weekly mail. Every now and then a western post-mark bedecks the envelope. It's no wonder that she loves to listen to a train puffing in the distance—eastward bound.

We wonder, yes we wonder, why "Mim" "adores" banks also. Perhaps the pretty bank building is the immediate cause but, say, what is the ultimate cause?

"Mim" stretches her imagination and sees herself away 'way off in some unknown town as the town school teacher. But imagination can't possibly tolerate all that stretching.

Sincere best wishes, "Mim."

FRANCES K. SNEAD
Buffalo, N. Y.
Masten Park High School
"Fran"

"Fran" is our other recruit from Buffalo. She came to Summer School last summer and liked it so well that she decided to come back and graduate with us.

"Fran" has gorgeous red hair and certainly lives up to that age old saying, "Red means pep." She is the life of any party, always ready for a good time. She loves to hike—and eat. "Fran" firmly believes that there is a time and place for everything, but that the place for fun is 460, and the time—any time. Of course not during study hour or after 10 o'clock (?)

"Fran" assures us that teaching will be her life profession but one never can tell what the future will hold for her. She has done splendid work in the Training School, so we are certain she will prove a great success as a teacher.

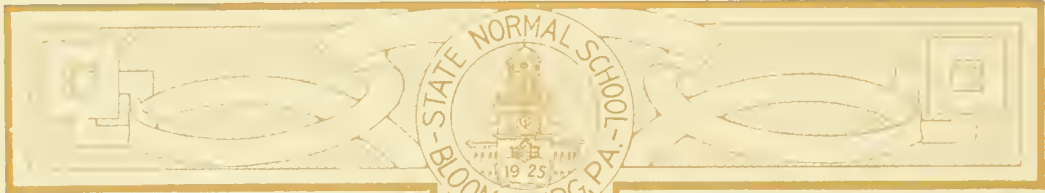

MARGARET M. SNEDDON
Shenandoah, Pa.
Shenandoah High School
"Sneddon"

"Sneddon" is one of our happy-go-lucky girls who thinks that everything will turn out at the end just as she wishes.

What's that I hear? My, but it seems familiar, but I can't make out what it is. At last, I have turned the corner and discovered that it is a crowd of girls gathered in back hall on third floor, and who do you suppose was the cause of all the noise?

No one else but "Sneddon." Although "Sneddon" is the life of a crowd she can be serious at times, for instance, when she is taking a test she gets an intelligent look on her face, whether or not she knows the questions.

We all feel that "Sneddon" will not always be careful, especially when she starts teaching; however "Sneddon," we wish you success.

WILHEMINA SPANGENBURG
Scranton, Pa.
Central High School
"Billie"

"Bill-lee-ee!" Oh! "Bill-lee-ee!" Now don't get excited, it is only Frankie calling her room mate. And she does that quite often, as the residents of fourth floor will testify.

Did some one ask whether she was quiet? Oh! yes??? Sometimes, for instance, when she is asleep or studying intently, which past time she indulges in more or less frequently. However, that is not the only interesting thing about her.

How many times have the "privileged few" enjoyed those "Interpretive dances," which makes us wonder, "Billie," whether or not you, in choosing your vocation, have chosen wisely?

We know that your interests are varied, old dear, and that you will make a success at your teaching, whether it be in the school room or a certain light haired individual from Scranton. Heaps o' luck to you, "Billie."

RUTH A STALFORD
Dushore, Pa.
Dushore High School
"Ruthie"

"If you want a thing well done, don't do it yourself," is "Ruthie's" motto. She formed this habit when she was a Junior and it has remained with her ever since. Of course, there are some things which she does herself, for instance—she displayed great skill in natural dancing in Miss Munro's class of '24. And was she a success? Just ask any one who was present at the exhibition. "Ruthie's" chief aversion is mice. She just can't tolerate them, and many a battle she has fought with these horrible creatures. "Ruthie" has several accomplishments besides those mentioned, namely, electricians, barber, and basket weaver. With such talent she ought to succeed in the field of teaching and we give you our best wishes.

JOHN F. STAMM
Mifflinburg, Pa.
Dickinson Seminary
"Stamm"

It is probably best that "Stamm's" real vocation has been kept quiet or Normal would lose the thrill that it now enjoys. Yes, "Stamm" is a full-fledged minister and has the authority to make binding contracts. But, cases, he is very busy at present attending to the duties of three parishes, his regular course of study, as well as extra curricular activities. Don't overwork the lad, as he is frail of body and may suffer a nervous breakdown. Then what would his parishioners do for a "Rev."?

John can find time for fun. If he is not wise-cracking, he is teasing some Mary Pickford or Pola Negri. He does not, however, allow play to overbalance work, as is shown in his enthusiasm at the Y. W. C. A. meetings, a place where a real worker is required.

Dame fortune will surely smile on a fellow with a disposition such as his and it goes without saying that he carries the best wishes of the class of 1925 when he leaves this year.

ALICE E. STEAD
Dickson, Pa.
Dickson High School
"Alice"

Good things are most always found in little packages! Just so with "Alice"! She isn't tall, and she isn't stout, but is just big enough to make her way in the crowd.

We all love Alice. At first we wondered what would happen if her ringlets were caught in a rain, but it was not long before we found that they would only get more curly and stay so too. That is a test the most of us could not pass.

Alice has a winning way with all her friends. She likes fun and enjoys dancing just as the rest of us do. Nevertheless she is serious and conscientious in her work. Whatever she undertakes she makes a thorough job of it. Though short of stature she is strong in determination. We all wish you success in your profession, Alice.

GLADYS R. STECKER
Bloomsburg, Pa.
Bloomsburg High School
"Steck"

Gladys Stecker is one of the down town girls who have cast their lot at B. S. N. S. for better or worse. I Q's, etc., have not changed her a bit. "Steck," as she is known to her many friends, is still a very lively funmaker. She even uses her drollness in teaching school. One would not think from her quiet appearance that there was a spark of fun in her. But there are some who have beheld Gladys' funny caricatures of her "dumb pupils actions," during her teaching and her imitations of the latest movie heroine, etc., to know otherwise.

Gladys has shown marked skill in her teaching during the first semester. This has not taken up all her time, for she is a great cross-word puzzle worker. She is even familiar with the latest song hits, such as "Charlie, My Boy."

Did you ever hear her say: "Right this way, folks; here's where you get your red hot dawgs"?

"Heaps of luck, Gladys.

JAMES H. STERNER
Bloomsburg, Pa.
Bloomsburg High School
"Jimmy"

James came to us this year to complete the course. He finished the Junior work several years ago, then had college work in New York and at Valparaiso, Indiana.

The school work is not new to "Jimmy" and he is making good as a teacher.

He is earnest in his endeavors, a good sport, has a sense of humor, and is quite an athlete. He shows up well on the "Locker Room Basketball Five."

"Jimmy" is quite popular with the ladies and seems much interested in the name of "Betty." "Do you know her?"

"Jimmy" is the philosopher of the Locker Room and shows this by his wise and ready wit. He is also quite a musician, and when asked the reason for his musical ability he says, "I am learning to play a "uke" so I will be able to twang a harp without first taking lessons." He has heavenly aspirations.

With your high aspirations and knowledge we are sure of your success.

LAURA B. STEVENS
Bloomsburg, Pa.
"La-La Steve"

Laura is one of the fortunate members of our class to be a twin; however, Ruth is taking one course and Laura is taking another, and consequently we do not see them together as much as we did in High School. This makes it all the more puzzling for new acquaintances to tell which one they are really talking with.

Laura is a jolly good natured girl and never worries about anything, at least we never hear her complain.

She is one of the athletic leaders this year, and we often see her making posters and designs for the promotion of athletics at Normal.

"Steve" is one of the Middlers and of course has one more year to spend in these famous halls of learning. Sometimes she tells us she is going to be a nurse. Time alone will tell which profession she will choose.

The class of '25 wishes for you, Laura, a happy successful future.

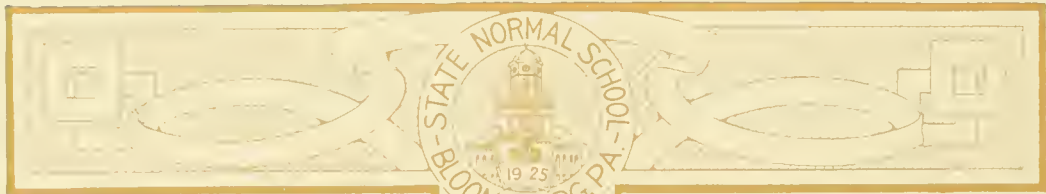

RUTH N. STEVENS
Bloomsburg, Pa.
"Rufus" "Steve"

Ruth is the other twin and always has a pleasant smile for every one. She is a friend worth having and one must really know her to appreciate her.

She is very fond of sports, as she has shown by the keen interest she has taken in basketball, but her duties have always taken the lead.

Sometimes she tells us she intends to delve into the mysteries of nursing and we feel sure she would be capable of following that profession. However, we think that perhaps she should prefer teaching certain cherubs from Berwick. How about it, Ruth?

We wish you success, "Steve," whatever your task might be.

ELIZABETH E. STROH
Kingston, Pa.
Dorranceton High School
"Libo"

If you hear someone scuffling up the hall; if you hear every door squeak as the scuffling approaches; if you find thumb-tacks, salt, crumbs, or the like in your bed, you may be sure "Libo" is still existing.

"Libo" is a conscientious worker preparing to teach in the Primary grades. We have no doubt that "Libo's" contribution to the State Teachers' Retirement Fund will be very small, at least if present prospects materialize, but we certainly would like to know why "Libo" always forgets the candy aforesaid "prospect" brings when "Libo" spends the week-end at home.

"Libo" isn't much for athletics, but she is strong for onion sandwiches. Eating is her favorite pastime. Her Friday night boxes always enable her to avoid our favorite food—FISH. Cheer up, "Libo," B. S. N. S. will not be your home forever.

Best of luck from your classmates.

Q. BLENDINA SUMNER
Camptown, Pa.
Camptown High School
"Deen"

"Deen" came to us in our senior year and from appearances she looks quiet and dignified, but if you knew, you'd be surprised. In less than two weeks she and her inseparable room-mate won the name of "The Two Funnys."

Judging from the mail she gets from State College we can readily see where her thoughts are in Sociology. Hence the reason for her brightness during Prof. Brill's services.

Her favorite avocation is hiking, and when it comes to "Cliffs" she gets there first.

If she is as successful in teaching as she is in making toast and coffee for four her worries are over.

We all like to visit "Deen" for she always has on hand either Kirby's best or Whitman's Samplers, even though they are won on a bet.

Best wishes to you "Deen."

NETTIE TEPLE
Numedia, Pa.
Newlin High School
"Nettie"

As we stand and gaze into the thoughts of this fair lassie we can see that therein lies knowledge. Nettie is very industrious, and always likes to have her work up to date. She spends her time eating candy and studying, that is, while she is here. We cannot say that she does much studying over the week-ends as those are spent at her home. Anyone can guess just why Nettie chooses to spend her week-ends with her parents.

Nettie has taken for her profession "Rural Work," and we can be sure that she will do good in her tasks as a teacher. How long Nettie will stay in the teaching profession we are not certain, but almost sure that she has a more definite and pleasant aim in view.

Luck and best wishes be with you at all times.

ELSIE THOMAS
Plymouth, Pa.
Plymouth High School
"Elsie"

Here is another one of our quiet girls, but if you should catch her un-awares and happen to get a glimpse of the ever present twinkle in her eye, you would assure yourself that Elsie is not as quiet as she seems.

Everyone knows that while Elsie is not studious she usually has her work done and in on time. However, this doesn't interfere with having a good time. Elsie is a great sport, provided the sport isn't too strenuous.

Elsie is sure teaching is her life work but, I wonder, perhaps we'd better wait and see. Anyway we wish you heaps of luck.

MARY ANN THOMAS
Plymouth, Pa.
Plymouth High School
"Sis"

Do you know "Sis," the girl who most always says "Hyah" when she passes you in the halls? You miss a great deal if you do not know her. She is very friendly and pleasant, and ready for any kind of fun. Mary Ann likes to go on long hikes and also to read and play her "uke."

"Sis" is a good one to work and spends a great deal of her time in studying, when she is not otherwise engaged. Her favorite study while here was Art. How about it, "Sis"?

"Sis" will make an excellent teacher, but we know she will not spend her entire life as one. Success be with you, is the wish of the class of '25.

RUTH THOMAS
Pittston, Pa.
Pittston High School
"O-Kay"

"Sweet personality—full of rascality"—that describes our Ruth. And did you ever hear her talk? When a lovely head crowned with reddish-brown hair is stuck in at the door, and you hear a merry laugh—well, there's no use trying to work any more.

Ruth's friendly smile and charming personality have made her very popular with everybody. Judging from the letters she receives from Lafayette, she's quite popular in other vicinities, also. But who could fail to love one who is both a good sport and a wonderful pal? Besides, Ruth is a member and an ardent supporter of the Mu Phi Sigma.

"O-Kay's" favorite pastime is strumming the uke and carolling "O Sole Mio," usually aiming her melody out of the window in the general direction of Bucknell. What is it they say about the secret wireless which some people have?

Although we know you'll never apply for a pension—here's wishing that Old Lady Luck follows you wherever you go—in the schoolroom or in the kitchen.

ADELE THOMPSON
Johnstown, Pa.
Johnstown High School
"Scissors"

We call her "Scissors" because she is always cutting up. Adele is a good sport but she doesn't like the "tricks" the alarm clock plays on her in the morning. "Call me at seven o'clock, but don't waken me"—that is always Adele's "good-night" just a couple of seconds after the "lights out" bell has chased us to bed.

Adele always said that she could not swim, but she must know how to float, for she fell asleep in the bath tub one evening and slept for a half hour without drowning.

"Scissors" is very fond of walking, and can always be seen down town after 3:20 every night possible, and like "Postum," there's a reason. Her usual salutation to her friends is "Have you seen—?" Never mind, Adele, we won't tell.

The class of '25 predicts a speedy finish to school teaching, Adele, and wishes you the best of luck and happiness for your future.

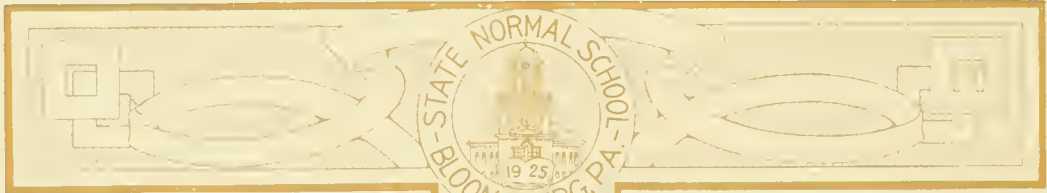

GRACE TROXEL
Winfield, Pa.
Sunbury High School
"Gwace"

Grace is one of our quiet little misses. We often see her, but we seldom hear her. She is one of the studious girls on fourth floor front hall, believing in work before play. However, Grace is always ready for a good time if it's in the line of hiking, or perhaps a feed.

Grace is a good friend, ever ready to help a friend in need, with pencils, paper, books, etc.

Grace is taking the primary group and has been very successful in her teaching here in the training school. We all wish you heaps of success in your future teaching or in—?

CARSON TROY
Mifflinville, Pa.
Mifflinville High School
"Tut"

"Tut" is one of our short, substantially built young men. As far as we know, he is one of the "never-worry" type of person which probably accounts for his corpulence. But then, it is needless to worry when one always earnestly prepares his work. This we know to be a dominant characteristic of "Tut."

For the greater part of one semester "Tut" lived with us in North Hall. Suddenly a great surprise befell the boys, as they saw him leave one afternoon with his baggage. Although this was quite a shock, the new Ford Coupe which he now drives to school also had great effect upon its first appearance.

We have demonstrated, in this young man's life, the progress which results from earnest endeavor. Any fellow who can own a Ford while going to school will surely, some day, be the sole (maybe) claimant to a Lincoln or Packard. We know that his car will be of great service when he starts to teach in that rural school for which he has prepared.

ARCHIBALD B. TURNER
Alden, Pa.
Newport Township High School
"Archie"

"Archie" came to us from the Newport Township High School. His fame as a basketball player preceded him to this school, and he has increased his fame during his two years at the Normal, for he is one of the best forwards ever turned out by this institution. He has also been one of the main factors on the baseball team, and also earned his letter in football, making him a three letter man. "Archie" is not only noted for his ability to play, but also for the good sportsmanship and spirit that he has shown during his activities.

Although "Archie" excelled in athletics he did not fall down in his academic work. His favorite subject seemed to be Science, especially Electricity, and, I guess, he got many a shock.

"Archie" seemed to be much happier in his second year. I wonder why?

We are sure you will be successful in anything you undertake, but that does not stop us from wishing you heaps of success.

MILLICENT A. VAN ZANDT
Waverly, N. Y.
Waverly High School
"Mil"

Here is another one of the "mid-dlers" who entered our class in the fall of 1923. Millicent came to us from Waverly, N. Y., and has shown a great deal of diligence in her work. Her appearance denotes modesty and quietness and appearances are not deceiving in this instance, for Millicent has one of these traits, but quietness is not to be found in her make-up. The twinkle of her eye reveals to us that she, too, like the rest of us, loves a good time,
and her laugh is very contagious.

She makes everyone around her feel that "life is worth living," and we are sure that whoever she meets will have the same impression.

We are sorry she did not live in the dorm with us, so that we might know her better, but nevertheless, she is good fun.

As secretary of the Mu Phi Sigma
"Milly" is very efficient and one of our peppiest sisters.

We all wish you the best of success in your teaching in the Junior High School.

LILLIAN R. VITALE
Pittston, Pa.
Hazleton High School
"Lil"

Lillian is one of that lively group that lives on back hall, third floor annex. And you can hear her laughing almost any time you happen by that way. She is jolly and is a true example of that saying, "Laugh and grow fat."

But "Lil" isn't always laughing.
You'll find her very often serious, and it's then she is studying measurements and sociology or some other subject.

"Lil" spends a great deal of time pondering over cross-word puzzles now. A very good pastime. Also she likes to go shopping at the Columbia, Victoria and the Texas. When she is doing neither of these you will find her writing letters to all her friends or reading, or playing tricks.

Lillian gets many boxes from home, not empty ones, either. It's then that we hear her say "Let's eat."

We know, Lillian, that you will have much success and you have the best wishes of your many friends.

ANNA WAGNER
Newton Lake, Pa.
Greenfield High School
"Boots"

Anna came to Normal after graduating from Greenfield High School in 1923. She is a carefree, happy-go-lucky person who positively refuses to worry until the last minute.

Anna had the pleasure of staying down at Shortess' last year. Did she have a good time? Just ask her. Will you ever forget the night you dressed up the dummy and placed it in a certain girl's room? Do you remember the incidents of a journey to Hazleton? Yes, those were the good old times.

Anna has taken primary work, and we all know she will make a good primary teacher because she likes the kiddies. Her favorite subject is music and especially the violin, or is it just the musician you like the best? Well, time will tell, and we all extend our best wishes to you.

LILLIAN WAGNER
Bloomsburg, Pa.
Bloomsburg High School
"Lill"

Lillian is one of our good students, and we expect great things from her.

She is one of the quiet members of our group, but that we think is an asset. She is one of our downtown girls and can often be seen trudging her way up Normal Hill in all kinds of weather.

"Lill" has chosen the Intermediate group, and we think she has chosen wisely. We are sure of her success as a teacher.

Just now, however, her interests are slightly centered on a certain person from Boston—well, I'll be jiggered—we've promised not to tell.

We certainly don't believe that you will teach long, but, however, we wish you lots and lots of happiness and success.

MICHAEL WALAKONIS
Ringtown, Pa.
Ringtown High School
"Pokey"

When "Pokey" came to B. S. N. S. several years ago he was a very quiet and bashful young man, but to our opinion he has done away with this handicap. Though rather quiet and unassuming he is what we would call a worker who works. Besides, he always has a cheery word and smile for everybody, so his friends are many; the fair sex included.

If a concensus of opinion would be taken regarding the matter, one would learn that "Pokey's" spare time is well apportioned among dancing, Glee Club, athletics, and other forms of good social diversion. He has traveled extensively, having taught one year at Helfenstein, Pa. This place is on the map—the township map of Rocky County, Pa. (Rand-McNally Atlas please copy).

Wishing you well, "Pokey," we say farewell.

REVA Q. WALKER
Susquehanna, Pa.
Susquehanna High School
"Reva"

Reva is one of the most loyal members of the class of '25. She has never been known to let a good time interfere with her studies; nevertheless she is quite lively.

She is a bundle of kindness, generosity, and jollity combined, and the dictionary hasn't anything on her for kind words.

Reva's interest was formerly centered in Starucca, but for some reason or other the attraction seems to be at State College now. Don't get excited—he could carry her interest from Starucca to State with him?

This little lassie is everybody's friend, and her ambition is to become a teacher. Be assured that the future generation will become one of the geniuses under her teachings.

All joking aside, we know that whatever Reva undertakes she will be a marked success, and we hope that in her career she will not forget her classmates and friends of old Normal.

HARRIET E. WALP
Berwick, Pa.
Berwick High School
"Harriet"

Harriet is another one of our Berwick girls. We all love her. Why? Harriet has everything to make people love her and probably her sunny smile and cheerful disposition are due to the abundance of fair hair which crowns her head. Even the most famous Beauty Parlor would envy the effects Harriet achieves in elaborate "coiffuring."

Harriet has chosen the Primary group as her future profession and, indeed, if you could see her working with the little tots you would know that her choice has been a wise one. There are, of course, even now, conflicting circumstances?

Harriet thinks many of her friends are slow, but she isn't well acquainted with herself. Now don't let me lead you to believe Harriet is slow in everything, she isn't. Some day she expects to be a nice little housekeeper.

Never mind, Harriet, we know you will succeed in anything you may undertake.

RUTH E. WALPER
Hazleton, Pa.
Hazleton High School
"Ruth"

One could write forever about Ruth and still have something to say. At a first glance you would think she was very serious but, not so, for whenever we plan a good time we can always count on Ruth to join in the fun. On the other hand when work is to be accomplished, Ruth is there with a helping hand.

Ruth is an excellent teacher and is greatly loved by the little folks whom she teaches. If you want any news just ask Ruth, for she was literary editor of the Maroon and Gold, our school paper.

Ruth's favorite pastime is dancing. Can she dance? We—admit that she can.

Judging from appearances, Ruth is not destined to be a school teacher. You're just right, Ruth, school teaching is not as exciting as—. Well, anyway, go to it and good luck.

EFFIE M. WASENDA
Alden Station, Pa.
Newport Township High School
"Effie"

One of the most important dates in the Normal history of 1923 was when "Effie" migrated from this little town of major importance to Bloomsburg, and thus pledged herself true to the "Alma Mater."

What would second floor long hall be without the merry laughter of this little lassie who joined the H. S. U. last year and having paid her dues for the present year we keep her name on the list as one of the faithful subscribers and earnest workers.

"Effie's" motto is, "It is not what I say, but what I do that counts," and we all love "Effie" because of her pleasing personality, and her very winsome ways we will not forget you very soon, and hope that you will be very successful in your chosen profession. We are sure you will, because "Effie" never worries over her work; yet she always has an answer, and she can reason her given questions through, so here's luck to you, "Effie," and best wishes from your classmates.

DEBORAH S. WATERS
Catawissa, Pa.
Catawissa High School
"Deb"

Science—! Psychology—! Math—! These are Deborah's special interests in B. S. N. S. She really is quite a genius when it comes to solving difficult mathematical problems. Of course, her interests are not all along such educational lines, and outside of school, dancing, cross-word puzzles and hiking are her favorite sports.

Did I hear you ask—Is she a sport? Well, she certainly is an all around sport. She finds pleasure in everything she does. If you ever happen to hear peals of laughter coming from the locker room (for Deborah is a commuter), you may be sure that "Deb" is entertaining the crowd.

EVELYN WATERS
Edwardsville, Pa.
Edwardsville High School
"Ev"

"Ev" is another one of the Edwardsville crowd. When we first met Evelyn, we were under the impression that she would be one of the "good" girls of the school, as she always had such an innocent appearance. However, we soon discovered that she was always ready for a "lark" with the rest of us. Nevertheless, for this dark-haired, dark-eyed maiden, a good time does not suffice. When she attempts to do a thing, she does it and does it right. Evelyn is one of those true, constant friends, well worth having, who are so rare and hard to find.

We did think that Evelyn's mind was unmolested by thoughts of the opposite sex, but we changed our thoughts, inasmuch as her favorite pastime is waiting at the mail box. Never mind, Evelyn, that's all we'll say about it!

As a student, she ranks with the best, and we all prophesy great success for her in her chosen profession, hoping that her song of life will not be a solo, but,—a duet.

LILY E. WATKINS
Kingston, Pa.
Dorranceton High School
"Watty"

Lily, after teaching and attending Summer School, decided to spend her senior year with us. Although she has been with us only one year it has become very evident that she is a most agreeable person and we honestly think she would like to have joined our ranks sooner.

Lily is a good sport and always ready for a good time. She just adores hiking, and if you mention "feeds" she is right on hand.

Lily is studious. She lives up to her motto, "Work before play," but she does like to play. She's a star at preparing stories for Juvenile Literature class and is a shining light in the Senior Girls' Glee Club and an active member of the Dramatic Club.

We are sure Lily will be a success as a teacher and wish her all the happiness in the world.

GRACE A. WEBER
Buffalo, N. Y.
Lafayette High School
"Skutch"

"Skutch," after a year at the Buffalo Normal, felt that she needed a change of atmosphere, and so came to Bloomsburg, and was duly installed as one of the inmates of the fourth floor annex.

When "Skutch" makes up her mind to do something she does it, for instance, she decided she was interested in football and forthwith attended all the games. Did Muhlenburg have anything to do with this sudden interest, "Skutch"?

"Skutch" is an all around good sport, always ready for anything that is good fun, be it basketball games, hikes, or feeds. She does love to write lesson plans, but sometimes forgets that there are such things as conferences and "gym" classes.

If the reports of her teaching in the Training School are to be relied upon we are sure "Skutch" will be a huge success as a teacher. We all wish her luck.

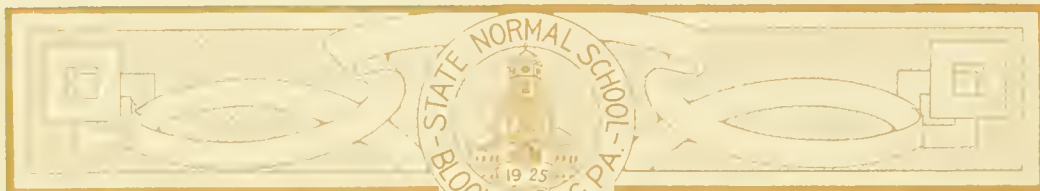

HARRIET K. WELLIVER
Jerseytown, Pa.
Jerseytown High School
"Pat"

Harriet has an excellent voice which she uses very proficiently, especially when the "gang" begins their evening carols in the dishroom. She is a good "waiter." It doesn't make any difference whether she is waiting on a table or on Norman, she always takes her time.

We call her "Pat" for short, and when the 9:30 bell rings you can see "Pat" tramping down the hall to the Y. W. C. A. room for candy. No doubt she has sampled every kind of bar and roll they have in stock. Probably this fact explains the sweetness of her temper.

We are all glad to have "Pat" as one of our classmates and wish her success in the future.

HELEN I. WELLIVER
Bloomsburg, Pa.
Bloomsburg High School
"Mike"

Helen is one of those quiet girls that always works (?). At any rate she is a good sport and loves to play tennis, providing there is a masculine partner. Nevertheless, putting all joking aside, she is one of the popular and best liked girls in our class. She is always around to help her friends and is always having fun with some one.

The present interests of the young lady consist of Ford Coupes, floor lamps, and softly shaded illuminations of all sorts. But there—before we reveal any more secrets we need more light on the subject. How about it, Helen?

We really wonder how long she will teach! No matter how long it is, may she ever be successful.

WILLIAM C. WELLIVER
Berwick, Pa.
Berwick High School
"Bill"

"Bill" is a quiet but thoughtful lad hailing from Berwick. Although he has been boarding in Bloomsburg, we note that he managed to meet the "Locker Gang" at East and Main every morning. He has been a very active and reliable man in athletics. "Bill" has starred on the "Locker Room" basketball team.

"Bill," although he has been a devoted student, has interests in Berwick every mid-week. Here's wishing him a brilliant career.

ESTHER M. WHALEN
Shenandoah, Pa.
Shenandoah High School
"Es"

To "Es'" disappointment this year the boys were transferred to North Hall. We all feel sorry for her, because she had become quite skillful in sitting on the edge of the window ledge. As secretary of the L. I. D. she kept the minutes full of fun. Her special way of entertaining the crowd was Irish Jigs. When "Bressy" was indisposed "Es" took charge of the 1:20 music class in room 347.

When Esther isn't sleeping, a favorite pastime, she is playing cards. She shows great displeasure when called upon to play her King of Hearts. There's a reason. Some Kings are especially interesting, although Esther's room was one of the smallest it always held the largest crowd.

Through her ability to make delicious fudge, the Library fund was increased considerably.

Several years from now we shall be reading about the famous music supervisor of the Shenandoah Schools, Esther Mary Whalen. May success be yours.

MYRTLE M. WHARMBY
Plymouth, Pa.
Plymouth High School
"Mert"

Myrtle lives on front hall and she seems to like it there. One reason for her liking it is, perhaps, that she can see everything that is going on or by. Isn't that so, "Mert"?

"Mert" is small but not so small that she can't make enough noise. Myrtle does not believe that little girls should be seen and not heard. She is full of pep and makes those about her feel as lively as she does. Myrtle's voice can be heard quite frequently, and very often she happens to laugh just when she shouldn't.

Myrtle studies, though, and is one of our good students. You can't expect her to be laughing and talking all the time. "Mert" likes to go on hikes with the "other three" and helps them in their celebrations and feeds. To be sure your dimples and smiles, and bright eyes will bring you many friends, Myrtle, and we wish you success in your chosen work.

JENNIE S. WHITENIGHT
Bloomsburg, Pa.
Bloomsburg High School
"Jennie"

Jennie did not have to come far to join our ranks as she was already stationed here in Bloomsburg.

You can always see her climbing up Normal Hill for her classes, but you very seldom hear her. She is one of those very quiet girls before you know her, but then she never gives her best to anyone who does not know her.

Jennie is one of our very hard working Middlers. She thinks that the world would stop going around if she didn't have her work prepared for the teachers.

She is interested mostly in English. Why? Ask Jennie, as she knows better than anyone else.

We are sorry that she will not finish with our class as she is one of the Mu Phi Sigmas, but we are glad that we can share her with the next year's class.

As success has always been yours in the past, we feel sure that you will always be successful in the years to come.

DEBORAH A. WILLIAMS
Taylor, Pa.
Taylor High School
"Deb"

Curly haired, ambitious, and always ready for a good time is our "Deb." Every night after ten o'clock you may hear a wrap, a turn of the knob and then see her bounce in for it is "Deb," either wondering whether eats are being served or having some hard luck story to tell us, and her stories usually turn out to be funny. "Deb's" disposition has endeared her to many girls in the "Dorm."

"Deb" is different from her roommate in that she likes people of the "stronger sex." In her junior year, whenever one chanced to gaze out of the window, you could see "Deb" and (?) very interested in a game of tennis, usually a "love set." But in her senior year, her eyes have turned to stripped autos.

Besides all this she is a member of the Senior Girls' Glee Club and also of the Student Council.

Whatever you take up, "Deb," the "memorable gang" and the rest of the class wish you the best of luck and success.

HARRIET M. WILLIAMS
 Bloomsburg, Pa.
 Bloomsburg High School
 "Harry"

So this is a Bloomsburg girl. Straight from downtown. Harriet is one of our entrancing blondes. Amiable, peppy and pretty, this is "Harry." Harriet is also a very good scholar when she wants to be. But she is not one who must use all her energy for knowledge's sake. Her formula is when a mixture of bluffing gets you there just the same, what's the use of studying. We would like to see her teaching school next year with as great a success as she had in her practice teaching, but the "Ray" that is shining brightly upon her may destroy this plan.

Harriet has a fine personality which makes her able to win her way through the various situations.

And isn't Harriet an active member of the Dramatic Club? And doesn't she visit Reilly's every evening for a refreshing drink?

Here's luck to you
 What e'er you do.

ISABEL E. WILLIAMS
 West Pittston, Pa.
 Pittston High School
 "Lou"

Judging from the picture one would think our Isabel was mischievous. But how could our own dear Student Government President be that, for, doesn't she tread on the pathways guarded by angels—namely the waxed (?) floors in the girl's dorm? Her melodious voice surprises many a midnight party with the familiar commands, "quiet, please," or "lights out," and she is willingly obeyed for who would want to grieve her?

Of course there are times when duty is laid aside, and Isabel entertains the crowd by foretelling the future. We always appreciate her in the role of Good Samaritan, when she assists us over difficult places in our lessons. We predict a greater reward than teaching to such a chum and pal.

There is still another characteristic we just must mention—"Lou's" magnetic attraction for the opposite sex. For instance that "Red Haired Man." Is he a football star from the Old Home Town, and does he like our President? Judging from letters and boxes she receives, we'll say he does.

We wish our President all the happiness in the world, for she deserves it.

GENEVIEVE M. WILSON
Scranton, Pa.
Central High School
"Gene"

Talk! did you say—well! The man who said we'd never discover perpetual motion never heard "Gene" talk. But somehow we never tire of hearing her for she has the rare faculty of saying something when she is talking.

One of the greatest sources of perplexity to "Gene" is men. She never knows which one she likes best, but most of us have noticed that she has a decided weakness for the name Joe.

A girl whom we are glad to number as one of our friends, is the thought we have of her. Constant, true and loving, all that we desire in one whom we want as a close companion and chum. She is always ready for fun, and surely enjoys a "feed."

Everyone wishes you success in the nth degree, "Gene."

GERTRUDE WILSON
Sunbury, Pa.
Sunbury High School
"Gertrude"

We first thought that Gertrude would be very hard to get acquainted with, but after a few days of companionship we learned that she was a fine girl.

Gertrude never fails to help anyone who seeks her aid, and she is at all times ready to do her bit if it makes someone else happy.

She possesses a rare sense of humor and her jokes and witty sayings hold a prominent position among those which we have laughed long and heartily over. Perhaps you might be deceived by her Quakerlike demeanor, but you'd soon learn that she enjoys a good time as well as any hoydenish maiden.

She does most excellent work in her studies and, indeed, rumor has it that she is "some" teacher.

This is quite an unusual combination: Wit, humor, love of good times, and an excellent teacher. We hope that you will continue to be successful.

KATHERINE WILSON
Hartleton, Pa.
Mifflinburg High School
"Katherine"

Katherine is another of our quiet girls, as you've heard, all good things don't come in large packages. While perhaps not so well known as some of the other girls, those who know her prize her friendship.

She is one of the quietest and busiest girls we know, always working, but those who know her best say she is a wonderful sport, usually ready for a good time. We know she is a friend in need who can be relied upon to always extend a helping hand.

Katherine is cut out for a teacher of little children. She'll never overwhelm them, especially as to size. We wish you heaps of luck and happiness.

INEZ A. WINTERSTEEN
Mifflinville High School
Berwick High School
"Inez"

"Inez," as you can see, is one of a very few fair ladies, who still retains her crowning glory. She has those sad, tearful eyes, which give her face such a wistful expression, but, you know, they say "Looks are deceiving," and in this case it is true. You should see "Inez" when she gets started at some mischief, especially in the girls' locker room, where she and a certain fair maiden, by the name of Madeline engage in sword fighting. Many are the times she held her worthy opponent at bay on the point of her sword—I mean her umbrella. Folks, take heed, beware of those blue-green eyes, for you never can tell what's behind them.

"Inez," how that name suits you! We wish you success and happiness in your teaching, if that is what your future is to be.

BLOOMSBURG, PA.
1923

MILDRED G. WOLFE
New Berlin, Pa.
B. S. N. S. High School
"Mildred"

A great storm came over Bloomsburg in the fall of 1922 and when it cleared up much to our advantage it left with us Mildred Wolfe.

Mildred is a very studious little lady, as her high standing at "Old B. S. N. S." plainly shows us. Amid her other school work, Mildred devotes a large amount of her time helping Mrs. Hartline as she is very interested in Nature and all things around us.

There is a little girl on back hall, who is always anxious for the mail, and she almost always receives a letter. Never mind, Mildred, we are all anxious for the postman, and often receive letters ourselves, but time will tell why Mildred watches the mail box.

We all wish you success in your teaching, Mildred, or any other occupation you decide upon.

MARGARET M. WOODRING
Plymouth, Pa.
St. Gabriel's High School
"Peg"

Have you had the pleasure of knowing "Peggy"? Peppy! Peppy is no name for this sophisticated young lady teaching primary grades.

Of course that won't last long, for "Peg" intends to leave for New York as soon as possible, where she will be forever gazing at skyscrapers. One of whom she is particularly infatuated with, although no real skyscraper could phase him. But enough of that. State has its attractions, too, you know.

"Peg" enjoys all the social functions of the school, and never missed a dance except one—too bad, "Peg."

The 400s surely changed from the 398's when "Peg" came. We join with the class in wishing you the best of success and happiness in New York, "Peg."

LORA WOODWORTH
Hanover, Pa.
Hanover Township High School
"Askam"

Yes, people, here is another Hanover lassie. Hanover must specialize in producing people interested in Gymnastics. This is proven by the fact that Lora was chosen "Gym" leader and captain of her basketball squad.

When there is any fun to be had Lora is always on hand. They have many mirths in room 425, especially after 10:30.

Lora's exhibition of the Scarf Dance was delightful and charming to be sure. Fourth floor always enjoyed her dancing fantasies after 9:30.

Lora is taking teaching as her life work, but we sometimes wonder if she won't be divorced from her original purpose.

In whatever you may decide to do our success to you.

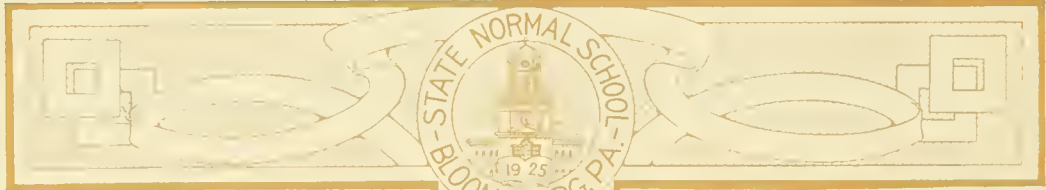

M. ALICE YODER
Berwick, Pa.
Berwick High School
"Yoder" "Alis"

When it comes to talking of anyone being a general favorite—Alice is it. When it comes to needing a real friend, pal, or counselor, find Alice. Alice fills any bill that's waiting. She's just a good, sweet chum that any and all of us will be glad to remember.

Of all places in the world that Alice was in her glory was in American History class. Those poor girls in the last row—"Alis" did torment them. And, Alice, for your own benefit we certainly hope that Prof. Brill never discovers the vast amount of candy you ate in that dear old class. We wonder if we'll ever forget it—and the pie a la mode. Alice does have such loud whispers when it comes to reviewing her luncheon menu! "Oh, yes, and we just had huckleberry pie a la mode. Gee, it was good!"

We all wish you success.

ELIZABETH K. YOST
Benton, Pa.
Benton High School
"Lizus"

So, this is Elizabeth. One of our very quiet and meek little girls who says not much but smiles a great deal.

"Lizus" is a good student, hard working and conscientious, but she is always full of fun and ready for a good joke.

Elizabeth is always telling us how much she loves to sing and study music? Her greatest ambition is to be an up-to-date director of Physical Education, and we are sure that she has the ability to succeed in this line of work. She says that she intends to make teaching her profession, but from reports and observations we doubt if it will be permanent.

We know that you will succeed, Elizabeth, and you have our best wishes for a bright and prosperous future.

LOUIS ZECK
Newport, Pa.
Newport High School
"Lefty Lou"

Here is another one of our Newport boys. You can not help knowing him for he is distinctive. We soon came to know of his artistic ability. "Louie" is our left handed artist, and he has proven his worth in all of the work he has turned out.

"Louie," like the rest of the members of the "same old gang," has a fondness for cutting something that begins with the letter "C." No, it's not cake.

"Zeck" is always seen with a smile. Even though he meets with trouble, the smile does not wear off. He has not selected his life work, but whether he becomes an artist, a fire chief, or school teacher we know he has quality and will succeed in anything he undertakes.

CHESTER ZIMOLZAK
Glen Lyon, Pa.
Newport Township High School
"Zim"

"Zim" is another student who came to us from the Newport Township High School. He is well known and liked by both sexes, especially the girls. I wonder why? He was a little shy when he first came here, but he soon got over it.

"Zim" took part in football and basketball. He was a substitute in both sports the first year, but the second year he was one of the stars on the football squad. He also made the varsity in basketball in his second year, and helped win many a game.

"Zim" was noted for his oratorical power. His ability was shown best in history and geography class, for he gave both Profs. Brill and Albert many a good argument. He has made a success of his two years at Normal, and we are sure his success will continue with him throughout his life's work.

DON'T MISS THIS ONE

You have a treat indeed, my friends;
We wish to express it aloud,
For we know that an Obiter never before,
Contained such a good looking crowd.

ENROLLMENT—290

We beg leave to introduce to you the Junior Class of B. S. N. S. We feel sure that you would appreciate this if you knew any of the class. For instance, there is "Jerry" Fitzpatrick, our class president; Edith Morris, our vice president; Arlene Sweet, our secretary, and Joe Kane, our artistic treasurer.

When we entered this institution the Faculty decided that it would hardly be fair to give us the standard I. Q. Tests. You see, they knew we would break all known records and thus outshine most of the fair Seniors.

The Junior Class is noted for its initiative. But then we could hardly help this, having Professor S. L. Wilson as our Class Advisor. Our first public appearance was in the dedication of a bronze memorial tablet in honor of the soldiers of B. S. N. S. who fell during the World War. Then came the Kid Party at which all the Juniors appeared as they used to years ago. Did we have fun? Well, I should say. And of course there was the Junior Prom, which we will never forget in our young lives.

As for Athletics, well, our Junior boys certainly have gained fame for B. S. N. S. "Jerry" Fitzpatrick was the varsity football captain, Bill Walsh, John Macdonald, "Stan" Zeveny, Bill Swinehart and Jack Rowland were the varsity team. Then on the squad were Bill Stoker, "Mike" Yozviak, Hugo and Grier Reimer, "Mutt" Anskis and Joe Kane.

Our boys could certainly play basketball too. Bill Walsh, Bill Stoker, Nick Van Buskirk and Stan Zeveny were "subs" on the varsity team. The Junior varsity team also won for itself many laurels.

In closing, we wish to thank the Seniors for showing us many good times and to wish them all a successful career.

MARY ISAACS, '27.

ORGANIZATIONS

Maroon and Gold

At the beginning of the 1924-1925 school year it was decided to change the name of the school publication from "Bloom-IN-News" to "Maroon and Gold."

At the end of last year the paper was on a fairly sound basis but it was soon learned that it was not strong enough to stand the test unless much work was done. The members of the Staff, with the Faculty Advisors, have made the publication worthy to be called a part of Bloomsburg State Normal School.

Every member of the Faculty and every member of the Student body subscribes to the paper, which makes it possible to meet desired financial goals. A vaudeville was given the beginning of the second semester, under the direction of the Staff of "Maroon and Gold" for the benefit of the paper.

Many difficulties have arisen in the year but have been overcome by the untiring efforts of the Staff, which is made up of the following members:

Editor-in-Chief—EDISON HARRIS.
Assistant Editor-in-Chief—GEORGE JANELL.
Literary Editor—RUTH WALPER.
Assistant Literary Editor—FANNIE HILBERT.
Sports Editors—ELIZABETH DAVIS AND MIKE BESHIEL.
Training School—KATHRYN PRICE.
Circulation and Exchange—HUGO RIEMER.
Assistant Circulation and Exchange—CORALONG.
Alumni Editor—SAM BARROW.

W. S. G. A. COUNCIL

Women's Student Government Association

We have watched the Women's Student Government Association grow and develop and we, the class of '25, have done our best to maintain its high standards.

We have many hopes, aims and aspirations, and it is with regret that we lay down the pleasure of helping in this work.

The Dean of Women and the Student Council, consisting of four officers, the class representatives, and the supervisors of each floor, may be called the executive body of the association. They fix the penalties and fines, and enforce the laws.

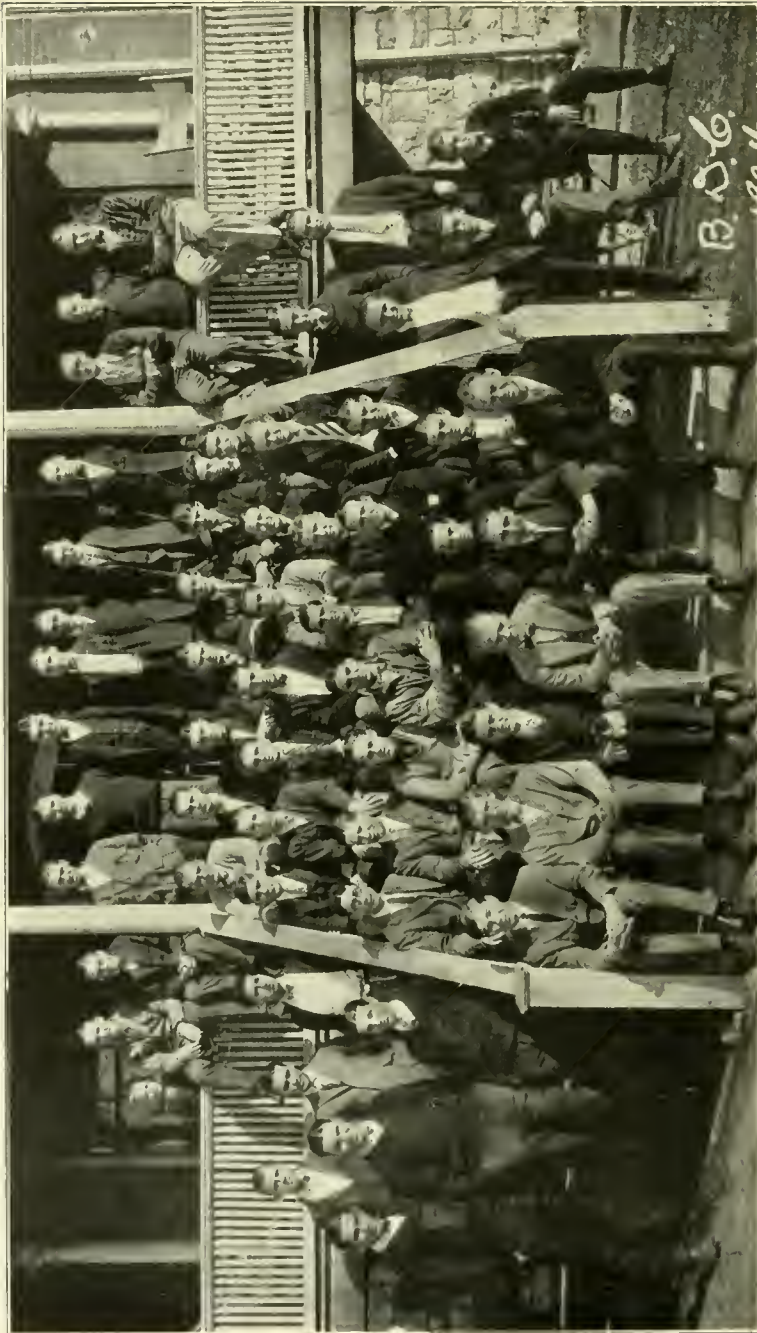

We are leaving, but will always think of it as our organization. It is our earnest desire that the incoming Senior Class will further the work that has been so well done.

Boys' Dormitory Club

Boys' Dormitory Club

Following a warm initiation, the new members, all of whom survived, were admitted to the club. They were then tendered a hearty reception by the old members.

To celebrate our first year in the new dormitory, we had a house warming party to which all the faculty members were invited. Eats, music and a talk from each faculty member were the prominent features and a good time was had by everyone.

On two occasions, the entire hall was opened for inspection by students, faculty and friends. Needless to say all the rooms were in ship-shape.

During the year we have had numerous parties such as card parties, Christmas parties and the like.

At this time the club wishes to acknowledge receipt of the picture "Lady Hamilton," from Mrs. J. K. Miller, and to thank her for the same.

The officers of the club were:

Y. W. C. A. CABINET

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. holds no mean place in the curriculum of the school. It is at these weekly meetings that we gather together and in our busy lives pause a few moments in reverence.

The Y. W. C. A. can be justly proud of the year's attainments. Last year six earnest members journeyed to Millersville Normal to meet the organizations of other schools and to gain inspiration which might enable us to carry on the work for the ensuing year.

At the next conference held at Eagles Mere, another group of delegates secured still more inspiration and instruction.

With the opening of the fall term, came the opening of a new field of work, that of welcoming and guiding the incoming class. Close on its heels came the joint reception of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. at which the new students were made to feel one of us.

Probably the biggest affair of the year was the Japanese Bazaar, which, through the co-operation of the Senior and Junior girls, was a marked success.

During the year, Miss Nichols, of the Student Volunteer Movement, and Miss Wiggin, representing the Student Friendship, visited us. The Student Friendship Drive showed that we, as a small fraction of universal students do not forget our fellow students in need.

As an advisor we could not have had a greater source of assistance nor one more ready to co-operate, than Miss Mason. Without her and our President, we would truly have been a ship without a rudder.

Seniors of 1926, it was with pride and hope that we took the lighted torch which has been passed on to us. We hope we have held it high. It is to you whom we hand it on undimmed. Cherish it and guard it.

Y. M. C. A. CABINET

Y. M. C. A.

The membership of the Y. M. C. A. has fallen off very noticeably in the past few years and with this sad fact staring the organization in the face, we realize that there was plenty of work to be done during the present year. Although the numerical strength of the "Y" is not what we would like to have it, we are glad to be of any Christian Service whatsoever.

The mid-week meetings reflect the religious vigor and sincerity of the student's life, and they have been a source of inspiration to those attending them. The cabinet officers have endeavored to make the meetings as attractive as possible, so as to make them really worthwhile.

Much of the credit for our success may be given to Rev. John F. Stamm, a fellow student, for his fine talks and leadership at meetings. We are also glad to regard Professors Brill and Carter as regular attendants at meetings. We certainly do appreciate their fine moral support.

Soon after the opening of the school year in September, the Y. W. C. A. together with the Y. M. C. A. gave a reception to the student body in the gymnasium as a "Get Acquainted" party. This was a huge success.

Officers elected for the school year 1924-25 were:

| | | |
|-----------------------|-----------|------------------|
| President | - - - - - | ELMER J. DANIELS |
| Vice President | - - - - - | DANIEL SMITH |
| Secretary | - - - - - | EARL FARLEY |
| Treasurer | - - - - - | SAMUEL W. BARROW |

RURAL GROUP

The Rural Group

"The world belongs to the energetic."—Emerson.

Why have we, The Rural Group, chosen rural teaching? It was not because we thought it was easy. We know that we are going into a field that has endless opportunities beckoning the energetic to come. But we are also conscious of the fact that rural school teaching is looked upon as a job for the adequately prepared. It is a part of society too vital to be tampered with.

We have organized an active Rural Club. The aim of this club is to attempt the solution of rural problems as they appear in class discussions.

All students interested in rural work are eligible for membership. We have had many enjoyable evenings together which was all due to the splendid spirit of the group. Along with the more serious problems we introduced group conversation which embodied individual participation in retelling interesting past experiences. In this way our meetings were always interesting and spirit never lacking.

The significance of this group of students is not always recognized by fellow-students. Needless to say, this is due to the general feeling toward the rural communities. Life there is looked upon as unattractive and burdensome. It is for just that reason that we have chosen rural school teaching. If we can make the country more attractive, and give to the country child what is justly due him, then our aim will have been fulfilled. We must attribute any future accomplishments to our able instructor, Prof. D. H. Robbins. His inspiring leadership has always guided us to the very best attainable.

DAN SMITH.

Μ Φ Σ

Everyone of course by this time has heard of “Mu Phi Sigma,” and instantly when that name is mentioned we think of the Middler girls.

Undaunted by the boys not desiring an organization, the girls decided that the Middlers had been on the “not wanted” list long enough at B. S. N. S., and they determined to put an end to the existing status of affairs. Consequently after a stormy and heated meeting with the boys and no satisfactory agreement being reached, the girls determined to dissolve and form a Sorority. This culminated on January 27, 1925, when the Middler girls met and elected the following officers:

| | | |
|-----------------------|-----------|--------------------|
| President | - - - - - | MARGARET EMMITT |
| Vice President | - - - - - | EVELYN ROBBINS |
| Secretary | - - - - - | MILLCENT VAN ZANDT |
| Treasurer | - - - - - | MARY ERICKSON |

In the course of time, Miss Mason and Miss Moore were chosen as able and worthy guides. They have worked unceasingly to make our Sorority a successful venture.

The girls have received their pins and they are attracting considerable attention, as well as receiving many favorable remarks about the unique design.

By the end of the year, the girls selecting the three-year course will be pledged and thus they, with the Middlers who return next year, will continue the Sorority. The Charter Members are looking forward to the day when they return to old B. S. N. S. to be received by a national Sorority which they had helped to establish.

DOUBLE QUARTETTE

Double Quartette

The double quartette which was organized during the first semester, under the direction of Miss Antoinette Perner, has made a splendid record for itself and has delighted many audiences throughout the county by its singing.

It is composed of a group of especially selected voices, and the work is purely voluntary on the part of both the members and the director.

Many rural school districts took advantage of the offer of its gratis service for the benefit and promotion of their local school library funds. Miss Pearl L. Mason, Normal School Librarian, accompanied the quartette on its trips and during the programs, gave a school talk on the advantage of the school library and the value of good books for children.

A complete program by the quartette with special numbers by Miss Perner and Miss Pursel was broadcasted from the Scranton Times on March 13.

The members of the group are :

MISS ANTOINETTE J. PERNER, Director

MISS PEARL L. MASON, Librarian

MISS HELEN HARTZELLE, Reader

CLAIRE M. CONWAY
Dean of Women

Claire M. Conway

Miss Conway came to us this year as our new Dean of Women. She is a graduate of Union City High School and of Bucknell University where she received both her Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts Degree. She is also a member of the $\Pi B \Phi$ Sorority.

School and community welfare work has consumed much of her time; still she has devoted herself to self improvement. For many summers she has attended Columbia University.

Miss Conway served as the head of the English Department in the Nanticoke High School for several years past. Her ability as an English teacher has been proven to us by the many happy hours spent in the English Literature Classes this year. She has appeared upon the Programs of High School Department of the State Educational Association and the National Council of English Teachers. Her activities in these organizations won for her recently the Presidency of the English Section.

Miss Conway has always been interested in young people aside from the Scholastic standpoint. Her first and last thoughts are better things and better advantages for all.

B. S. N. S. is and will always be proud of having had Miss Conway as their Dean of Women.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. Reception

On September twenty-ninth the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. held their annual reception for new students.

The gymnasium was beautifully decorated in the "Y" colors, blue and white.

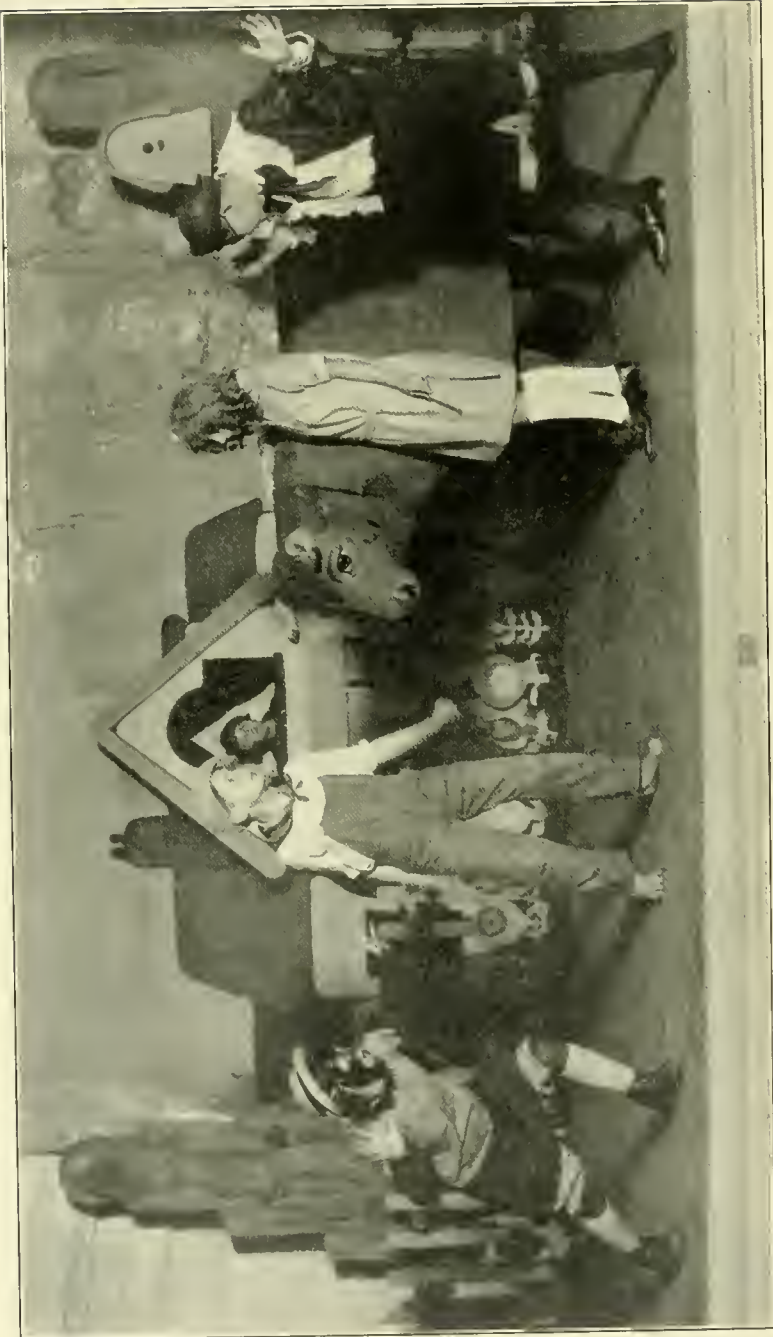

The members of both cabinets, Dr. and Mrs. Riemer, Miss Conway, Mr. Meade, and Miss Mason composed the reception line.

The early part of the evening was filled by a very delightful entertainment. Miss Nadine Rice, president of the Y. W. C. A., gave an address of welcome; Elmer J. Daniels, president of the Y. M. C. A., also spoke for a few minutes. Isabel Williams gave a musical recitation, accompanied by Ruth Thomas, and "Doc" (Ann Dougherty) sang a solo.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to dancing and refreshments. Alexander's Orchestra furnished the music.

OUR JUNIOR MUSICAL COMEDY

THE THREE BEARS

The Three Bears

The initial production of the second annual play of the Junior High School Art Club, "The Three Bears," was given December 12, 1924. Weeks before that time the pupils of seventh, eighth and ninth grades of the training school were busy making costumes, scenery and posters for this great event. The play was very well directed by Prof. George J. Keller, Art Instructor at B. S. N. S., and tryouts were held six weeks in advance of the play.

The production of this play was directly an outgrowth of an Art Project, to artistically decorate some of the recitation rooms of the school. Methods for attaining the necessary funds were suggested, and "The Three Bears" was written, (including parts of the original story of the Three Bears and Goldilocks) by members of the Art Club.

There were five performances given of the play—two in Berwick and three in Bloomsburg. The total admissions to this play broke all state records for amateur productions, with a grand total of six thousand two hundred fifty. Recognition of the work done in the Art department came from every part of the country and newspaper editorials were writing concerning the work done in Bloomsburg.

The accomplished results of the play can be seen by the artistic redecoration of the stage in the Auditorium, which is now a study in warm gray; and the redecoration of Room 43, Science Hall, in warm gray and blue. One hundred dollars ($100) of the proceeds was given to the Library Drive as a gift of the Art Club. Along with the material results may be included the educational value received from participation in the play. These may be looked upon as worthwhile results of the play "The Three Bears."

"Gruff," the bear cub, was one of the leading characters in the play, and he acted his part with perfection. The other characters of the play were: Goldilocks; the three Bears; Goldilock's aunt; Algernon, Goldilock's city cousin; Jack; Narcissus, Algernon's colored maid; Mother Goose; a cow; a sunbeam; a sandman; six moonbeams; and Huxie, Jack's dog.

The Normal School Orchestra, directed by Prof. C. Rush Carter, furnished delightful music before the play and between the acts. Suitable intermissions in the forms of a cornet solo, a darky monologue, and a girl's trio were very well given. In every way this production has surpassed the former one, "Red Riding Hood."

The electrical effects of the play were taken care of by Earl T. Farley. Grace Robbins acted as property manager, and Grier Riemer, Paul Foote, Gilbert Cooper, Gordon Johns, and William Maher assisted with the scenery.

Misses Ruth Carver, LaVerne Reese, Clare Beckley, and Ivere Guffrovitch assisted with the tickets at the various doors.

As a final celebration, the cast, the orchestra and all who were in any way connected with the production, had a very enjoyable banquet and dance at West Side Park, Berwick, Feb. 1, 1925. At the last meeting of the Art Club, the members chose the play "Cinderella" for the production next year.

FOOTBALL TEAM, 1924

Football

When we assembled, September 16, all eyes were turned to the football field. We hoped that the football team would be as good or better than the one representing us the previous year when we had joint claim with West Chester for the Normal School Championship. Captain Fitzpatrick and Joe Kazlusky were the only two letter men from the previous year, but the new material looked very promising, and Coaches Mead and Baker worked faithfully to produce a winning team.

The team suffered greatly from injuries during the season. Sam Barrow, guard, sustained a broken bone in the face during the first game which kept him from playing the remainder of the season. Joe Schwall, fullback and punter, received a torn knee ligament during the Susquehanna game, which forced him out of the game the rest of the season. This left the team without a dependable kicker. Keen, right end, had a bruised knee which lowered his playing condition generally, and kept him out of several games toward the close of the season. Haupt, the flashy halfback and drop kicker, was next in line of injuries, having received a broken collar bone in scrimmage. Fitzpatrick, captain and star of Normal's eleven, had his shoulder badly bruised and was kept out of the Shippensburg game. Zimolzack, right tackle, played several games with a badly swollen foot, and there were many other minor injuries.

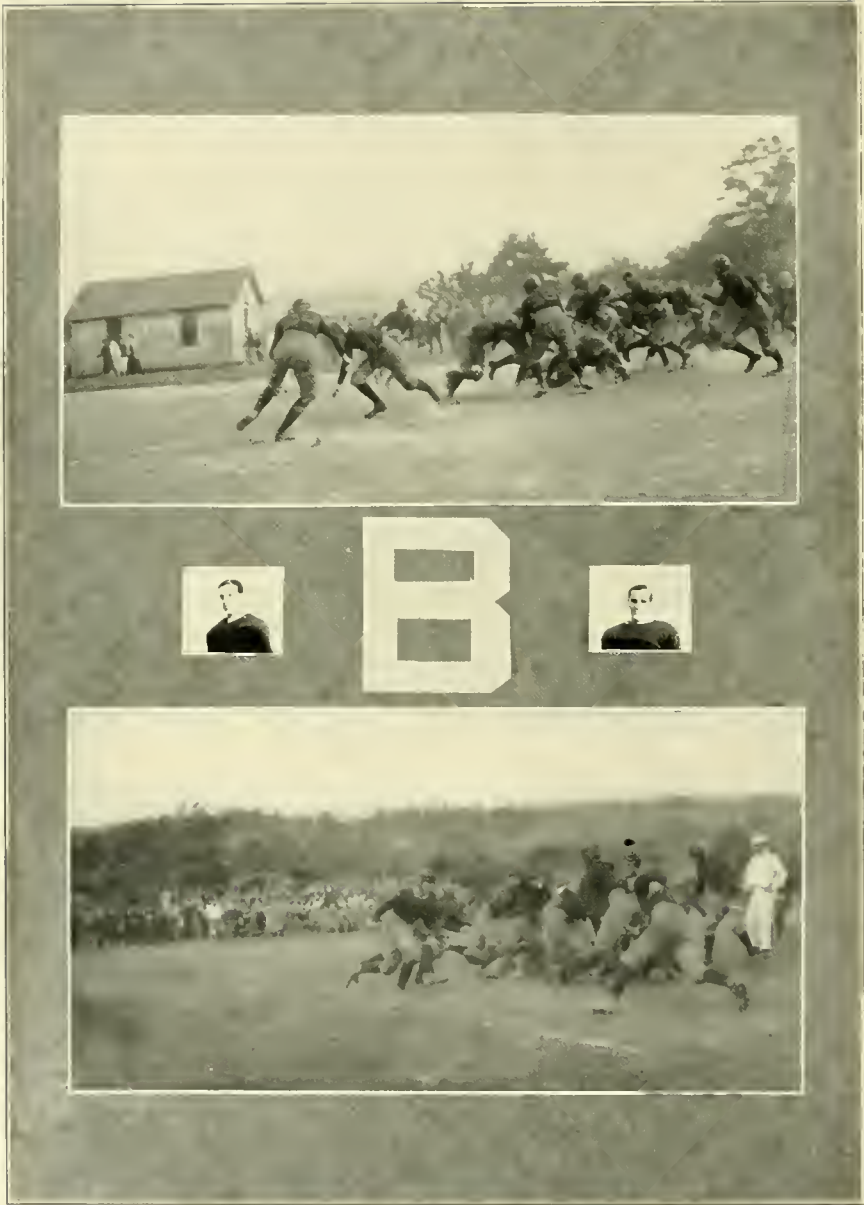

The season opened October 4 with Pottsville High School as the opponents on Mount Olympus, and we won by a score of 40-6. The following Saturday, Normal journeyed to Selinsgrove and played a fine game against the heavy and more experienced men from Susquehanna University. After a desperate battle we lost, 13-6. The following Saturday on Mount Olympus, we were defeated by the strong Stroudsburg eleven, 15-0. This did not discourage us and, on October 25, we journeyed to Mansfield and defeated them, 6-0. The next Saturday we lost a heart breaking game to Keystone Academy, 7-2. We outplayed them in every department of the game, but luck was against us. November 8, the team came back strong and beat the heavy Bucknell Reserves, 7-0. We paid dearly for this game, however, for we lost Captain Fitzpatrick for the Shippensburg game when we sorely needed him. We journeyed to Shippensburg on November 15 and played them amidst a snow storm. They defeated us, 40-7, inflicting the worst defeat a Normal team has suffered in years.

Normal journeyed to Wyoming Seminary to battle that institution Thanksgiving Day. The team was badly crippled by the absence of Haupt and Schwall and although we put up a plucky fight, we were defeated, 30-0. The one redeeming feature of the game was the playing of Captain Fitzpatrick. "Jerry" smashed up play after play, and his playing through the entire season was the shining light of the team.

The season's record is as follows:

BASKETBALL TEAM, 1925

Basketball

On Saturday night, March 14th, 1925, Bloomsburg Normal closed another very successful basketball season with a victory over Wyoming Seminary. A total of 16 games were played, 11 of which were victories for Normal and 5 which were setbacks.

Stroudsburg Normal was the only Normal school which was able to defeat us, they defeating us both at home and on their own court. The other defeats were at the hands of Bellefonte Academy, which team also defeated us twice, and Dickinson College Junior Varsity.

We won two games each from Shippensburg Normal, Mansfield Normal, Dickinson Seminary, Rochester School of Optometry, Wyoming Seminary, and one from Dickinson College Junior Varsity. Of course our big victories of the year were those two imposed upon our ancient rivals, Wyoming Seminary. We defeated them at home, 33-32, in an extra five minute period, and at Seminary, 34-30. It was the fifth straight defeat we handed Seminary.

Normal Basketball League

The Normal Basketball League was formed for the benefit of the students who wished to play basketball but were not on the varsity or the junior varsity teams. Eight teams were formed and almost the entire student body joined the league. All the names of fellows who wished to play were thrown in a hat and five names were drawn out for each team.

The varsity players alternated with refereeing, and their work was good at all times. The games were played on Monday and Wednesday evenings, four games being played each night. Each team was scheduled to play seven games, but the season ended in a tie between the Locker Room and the All Stars, so a play-off was necessary to decide the issue. These two teams, therefore, played one more game than the other teams.

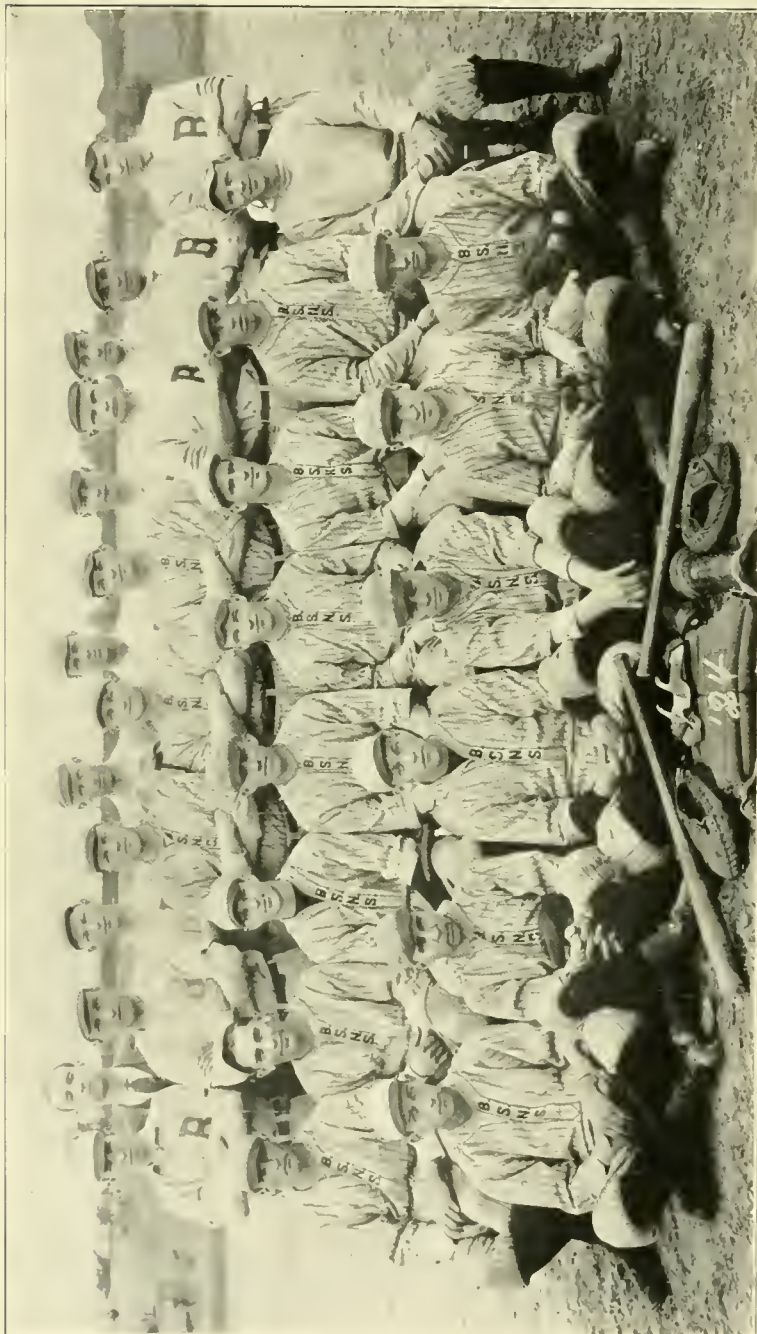

In the deciding game the Locker Room, led by Welliver, beat the All Stars 19-11, and as a result were crowned Normal Champs. The Locker Room team was composed of day students.

All the players who participated in the games received much benefit and pleasure from them, and it is hoped that the league will continue every year from now on.

The members of the teams together with their league standing is as follows:

BASEBALL TEAM, 1924

Baseball

Although the record of the baseball team during the Spring of 1924 was far from impressive, the boys showed a fighting spirit and a spirit of true sportsmanship. They showed that they were good losers as well as good winners.

The team was coached by George Mead, Physical Director of the School, and managed by Professor Hall and Frank Buss. The team was entirely of new material with the exception of Earl Brotherston, the only surviving letter man of the famous team of 1923.

Captain-elect Boyle did not return to school, so Archie Turner was elected captain to fill the vacancy. He handled the coveted honor very capably.

The fielding of the team was of fine calibre, but it was woefully weak with the bat. This is the main reason for the poor record made.

The team was composed of: Catchers, Captain Turner and Barrow; pitchers, Brotherston, Cooper, Fought and Haupt; first base, Toole, Haupt and Cooper; second base, Haddock and Fought; shortstop, Beshel; third base, Brotherston; left field, Jenkins; right field, Kazluský, Keen and Lerda.

The team started off rather impressively, beating Susquehanna University, 6-5, in their first start of the season. We then defeated Scott Township High School, 6-2. The other notable event was our victory over Dickinson by the count of 9-2.

At the baseball banquet, Beshel, of Trevorton, was elected to lead the team in 1925.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL AND ATHLETIC LEADERS

Girls' Basketball

The girls' basketball season at Bloomsburg State Normal School this year was more extensive than that of any previous year.

Early in October special sessions were arranged in Junior and Senior classes for those who had not played before as well as those who had.

Under the direction of Mary Lannon, Rachel Bolles, and Lora Woodworth as student coaches seven teams were organized, namely: Go-Getters, Eagles, Comets, B. J's., Red Sox, Whiz Bang, and a series of preliminary games was arranged and played in November and early in December.

Late in December Junior and Senior Class squads of twelve members each, representing not only playing ability but also scholarship ability, was chosen. In January a series of three interclass games was played with the Seniors as victors.

There were almost ninety girls out for basketball this season and the spirit they showed was exceptionally fine. The prospects for next year look very bright.

Athletic Leaders

In the Spring of 1924 each of the six Junior classes elected two girls to represent them in an organization which in the fall took the name of Athletic Leaders.

Under the direction of Mary Lannon as president, the organization has endeavored as its purpose to stimulate and develop leadership, to promote a wholesome spirit throughout the school, and to raise the standard of Girls' Athletics as well as Girls' Physical Educational Department of the Normal School.

The group has functioned through committees, namely: Basketball and Equipment, Publicity, Poster, Song and Cheer, Secretarial, each member having been assigned some specific responsibility.

The members also assumed active leadership in the Junior gymnasium classes, in taking and recording the roll, making announcements and inspecting the girls' uniforms.

The organization selected orange and black as its colors and is indebted to Racheal Bolles for the very striking insignia she designed. To Laura Stevens goes the credit for successfully working it out on arm bands.

In February fifteen new members were selected from the list of thirty-five girls which the Junior class nominated. The standard for membership require leadership ability, two point scholastic standing, a grad of B. in gymnasium and a fine wholesome spirit.

The Athletic Leaders, through their untiring efforts and willingness to serve have built up a strong constitution which should stand the test of time, have aided considerably in coaching basketball and other athletics and have made the events of the department real historic occasions. The honor of sharing in these accomplishments is given to the Charter Members: Racheal Bolles, Betty Davis, Helen Dickinson, Ann Dougherty, Marion Hess, Florence M. Jones, Mary Lannon, Velma Nelson, Laura Stevens, Helen Welliver, Deborah Williams, and Lora Woodworth.

The Athletic Leaders owe a debt of gratitude to Miss Edna F. Munro and Miss I. B. Post, its faculty advisors, who, because of their whole-hearted devotion and unlimited service, have organized and developed a club, which, we hope, will become an outstanding feature of the Bloomsburg State Normal School.

Junior-Senior Football Game

"Priceless articles are done up in small parcels" is a proverb admitted by all to be true. It was again proven on November 3d, 1924, when the Seniors defeated the Juniors by the score of 10-0. The game was played on Mt. Olympus before a crowd of 1,000 fans (more or less), and was the best game ever played by the class men.

The Juniors boasted themselves up to the sky before the game and went in the favorites. "But silence is golden" is another proverb, and the Seniors also proved this. They saved their wind for the game instead of using it before—hence the result.

Long before the game the "rooters" were out cheering for their respective teams. Earl Farley and Dean Driscoll led the cheering section for the Seniors while Marvin Blose filled that capacity for the Juniors. The Senior cheering section, of course, far outshone the Juniors.

The Seniors scored shortly after the start of the game. They kicked off and took the ball on downs on the Juniors' twenty-yard line. They failed to gain more than a few yards and on the last down Beshel dropped a pretty three-pointer between the bars from the 25-yard line. The teams played equally well the rest of the quarter. In the second quarter the Seniors resorted to their trick plays which included the "Heisman Shift," the "Colgate V," and Coach Knute Rockne's famous aerial attack. These plays completely baffled the Juniors and, near the end of the quarter, Zeck, the flashy halfback and signal caller, ran around right end on a trick formation for a touchdown. Beshel added the extra point with a drop kick. Half time score—Seniors 10, Juniors —.

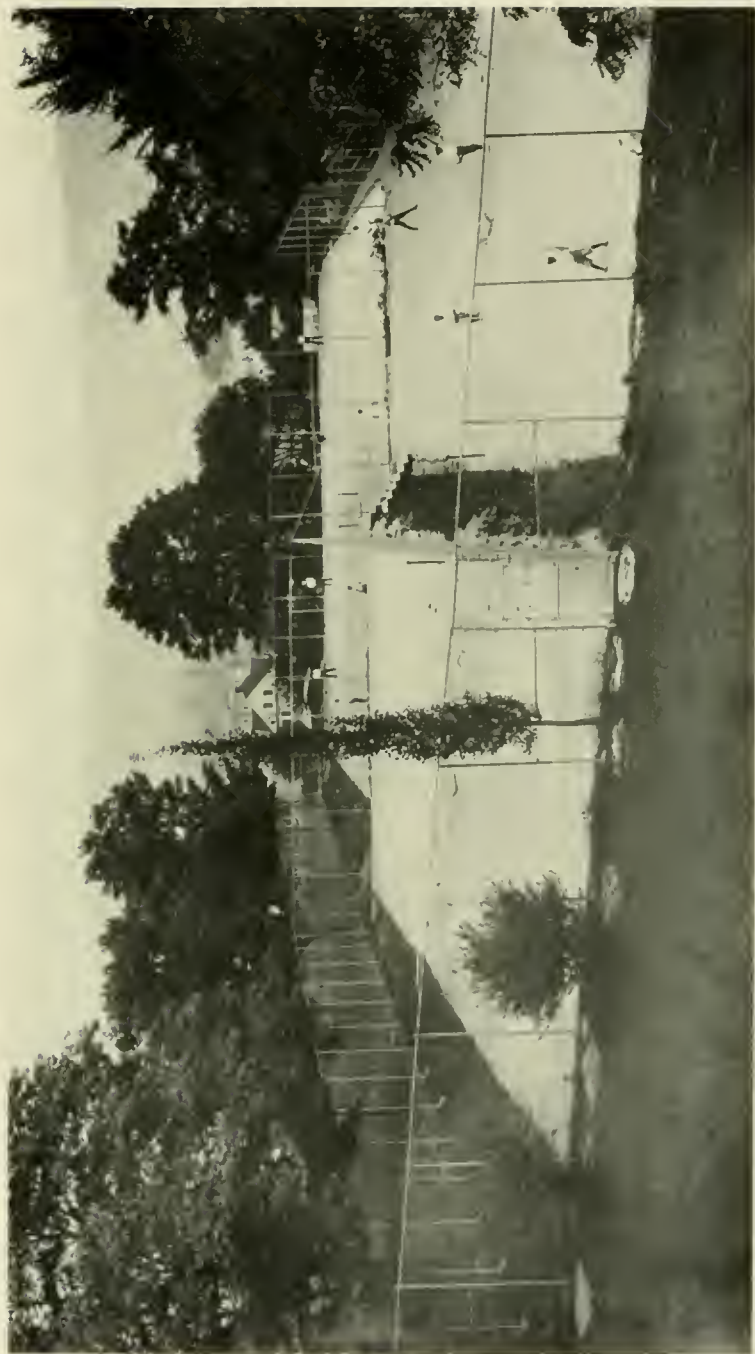

The Seniors took things easy during the second half and were contented with keeping the Juniors from their goal line. Without a doubt the upper classmen could have scored a few more touchdowns for they were just as fresh as when starting the game.

Normal Brain

In the beginning of the year we heard Mr. Fisher, our psychologist, speak of streams of consciousness, heredity, evolution, neurones, environment, sublimation, stimulation, transitory nerves, psychological basises, intelligence, perception, aesthetic emotions, gregariousness, etc., and etc.

We never did know what he was talking about yet we sat up in our seats and tried to look wise. After several tests in which we gloriously flunked, "Doc" Fisher decided to make an extensive investigation as to the contents of the Normal Brain at B. S. N. S.

The results of these scientific investigations can be seen in the above sketches.

Jackie Shortess—"Daddy, may I marry Grandma?"
 Mr. Shortess—"Of course not, she's my mother."
 Jackie—"Well, daddy, you married mine."

Love

"Love is like an onion,
 You taste it with delight,
 And when it's gone, you wonder
 What ever made you bite."

"Dot" Grey—"Just think of it! A rare treat! Chicken, pie, vegetables, ice cream, cake, all for twenty-five cents."

John Opiary—(Always ready for cheap stuff)—"Where?"

"Dot"—"No place! But just imagine!"

"Bluff, and the class bluffs with you, Recite, and you recite alone."

A Cynics Outlook of Life

The Raven

Once upon a midnight dreary,
 While slumbered sound and heavy
 Dreaming things I never dreamed before—
 While I lay there heavily napping,
 Suddenly there came a tapping,
 As of someone strongly rapping
 Rapping at my bed-room door.
 "Tis Miss Conway" I muttered
 Rapping at my bed-room door.
 "Miss Conway—and nothing more."

- - -

Miss Conway—"What are our girls coming to?"
 Coach Meade—"To our boys, of course!"

Little words of nonsense
 Little words of bluff
 Make the teachers tell us
 "Sit down—that's enough."

Ruth Thomas—"What is the scientific name for snoring?"
 Bud Marshall—"Sheet music."

"You look as if you were beside yourself," said Keen to Zimolzack, who was standing beside a donkey.

|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| My Madeline! My Madeline! Mark my melodious midnight moans; Much may my melting music mean, My modulated monotonous. | Mankinds malevalence may make Much melancholy musing mine; Many my motives may mistake, My modest merits much malign. |
| My mandolins' mild minstrelsy My metal music magazine, My mouth, my mind, my memory, Must mingling murmur "Madeline!" | My Madeline's most mirthful mood Much mollifies my mind's machine My mournfulness's magnitude Melts—make me merry Madeline! |
| Muster 'mid midnight masquerades, Mark, Moorish maidens, matron's mien, 'Mongst Murcia's most majestic maids Match me my matchless Madeline. | Match making mas may machinate, Manoeuvring misses me mis-ween Mere money may make many mate, My magic motto's, Madeline. |

Melt, most melliflous melody
'Midst Murcia's misty mounts marine
Meet me mid moonlight; marry me,
Madonna mia! My Madeline.

Strange Things That Happen

1. Miss Troxell forgetting to eat breakfast.
2. Miss Stone giving an "A."
3. Chicken dinner on Sunday.
4. Dancing until twelve o'clock.
5. Going out without a chaperon.
6. Meeting a man in the girl's dorm.
7. Sitting on the porch after 9 p. m.
8. Coolbaugh forgetting to think about himself.

Strange Things That Did Not Happen

1. Absence of zeros in the Nature Study Department.
2. "Jiggs" minus his blushes.
3. Prof. Brill wearing a wig.
4. Girls being allowed out until midnight.
5. Prof. Nelson being angry.
6. Prof. Fisher loafing in a pool room.

Love and Arithmetic—He was teaching her arithmetic. He said it was his mission; He kissed her once, he kissed her twice, he said, "That is addition." And then they "added," smack to smack in joyful satisfaction: And then he took a few from her, and said "That is subtraction." And still sat there side by side, in mutual adoration: and then, while paying back ten-fold, he said "That's multiplication." He said "That's multiplication." Then papa came—he raised his foot and snorted in derision—The chap struck earth ten meadows off—Pa said "That's long division."

Gregg Shorthand Wins Again

In the shorthand contest for the Bottome Cup, held by the New York State Shorthand Reporters' Association, December 29, 1924, Mr. Martin J. Dupraw, a writer of Gregg Shorthand, won first place. The results were as follows:

| Name | System | Mistakes at 200 words a minute | Mistakes at 280 words a minute | Per cent. Accuracy |
|------------------|-----------|-----------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------------------|
| Martin J. Dupraw | Gregg | 2 | 10 | .995 |
| Nathan Behrin | I. Pitman | 11 | 14 | .988 |
| Harvey D. Forbes | Pitmanic | 40 | 60 | .956 |

Mr. Dupraw is a student at New York University, Mr. Behrin a Supreme Court Reporter in New York City, and Mr. Forbes is an official court reporter in Buffalo.

The results conclusively demonstrate once again that even the highest speeds are attained in Gregg Shorthand in a shorter time and with a greater degree of accuracy than is possible with the older system.

Gregg Shorthand wins because it is easier to learn, easier to write, easier to read—and is the swiftest of all systems.
