FOREWORD

TO CARLYLE, history was the lives of great men; to Macaulay, it was a lot of little things. Both of these divergent views may be reconciled in a modern college education. There is the world of books quite naturally; but there is also the world of friends, of personalities, of organizations and activities, of sports and the will to win, of laughter, and of tears. A college annual is a faithful mosaic of college life; no book can be more typical or more personal because the subject of any college yearbook is You. The 1949 OBITER is a faithful representation of your experiences at Bloomsburg. Within the past four years American educational institutions have met the challenge of a changing world; you, as an undergraduate, have witnessed the impact of a government-sponsored mass educational program which threatened briefly to destroy the time-honored educational system. In this transitional year of 1949, the hustle and bustle of the post-war years have slowly subsided into the complacent drone of academic progress. Like the Ivy, education continues its growth, slowly spreading its tendrils into every nook and cranny in its inexorable search for knowledge.

A History of Ivy Day

The increasingly rapid current of passing years has swept away a number of B. S. T. C.'s traditional observances and has caused others to become so condensed and accelerated as to be barely recognizable by early alumni. Our annual Ivy Day Exercises fall in the latter category.

When Ivy Day originated on campus, about 1909, (1911 is the first one recorded in the college scrapbook), the exercises actually consisted of a combination Ivy Day oration, Class Night program, and pre-view of Commencement, rolled into one. The 1912 program is fairly exemplary. The class of 1912 was "gowned in the class colors" and carried ropes of daisies which were the class flower. The procession started at the north end of the grove, weaving in and out of the trees until they reached "the natural stage just north of Science Hall." After planting the ivy along the northwestern corner of Institute Hall (now Carver Hall), the class, followed by friends, relatives, and alumni returned to the grove where the class song was sung, after which a welcome was extended by the class president. The Ivy Oration was then presented, followed by the awarding of class numerals to members of the basketball and track teams. The class poem, which had been chosen previously in a contest, was recited by the author. An address was given by Prof. Dennis, a faculty member, and finally, the president of the college, Dr. D. J. Waller, spoke to the graduating class. With minor variations, this was the general procedure for the next 24 years.

Until recently, weather permitting, the exercises were held in the Grove. Before the presentation of the pergola by the class of 1916, programs were conducted on approximately the same site which the pergola now occupies, but either on a temporary wooden platform or on a grass carpet strewn with evergreens.

Although the erection of the pergola was authorized by the class of 1916, it was not finished in time for their Ivy Day program; therefore the class of 1917 was the first to use it.

The classes were once gowned uniformly in their respective class colors, but later changed to white dresses or suits with ties, sashes, or carried pennants with the class colors.

There is no record of the years 1919-1923 in the college scrapbook, but it is presumed that the programs were much like those of preceding years.

The 1924 Ivy Day introduced a new type of program, stressing poetry and the enactment of certain of the classics. These features predominated for the next five years. Part of the entertainment was described as follows: "At the sound of Pan's trumpet, twenty wood nymphs attired in costumes of green appeared from the woods beyond the pergola and gave a dance of nature." Several poetic references to ivy were made in the Ivy Oration, one of which was a portion of Dickens' lines from Pickwick Papers:

"Fast he stealeth on, though he wears no wings,
And a staunch old heart has he;
How closely he twineth, how close he clings,
To his friend, the huge oak tree!
Whose ages have fled, and their work decayed,
And nations have scattered been;
But the stout old ivy shall never fade
From its hale and hearty green,
Creeping where no life is seen,
A rare old plant is the ivy green."

In 1925, Ivy Day and Class Night became more specifically divided. Many traditional features of Ivy Day, such as the class poem, class will, prophecy and history were incorporated into the Class Night program. Also the number of lengthy speeches was radically reduced. The class song was retained in the ivy exercises and other features were substituted for those discarded. In 1925, the play "Robin Hood" was enacted by the Senior group.

In 1926 the Seniors braved chilly winds to present a Greek pageant on the pergola.

The play Oberon and Titania from A Midsummer Night's Dream was given in 1927, in addition to the usual procession, the ivy planting oration, and singing of class songs. This was the first year that a girl was chosen to give the Ivy Oration. The young woman so honored was Miss Evelyn Harris, of Berwick. Having once broken ground, the women held sway for the next four years, with four consecutive female orators.

The class of 1928 dramatized three Greek myths. Because of inclement weather, the program was held in the auditorium.

Among other outstanding features of the 1930 oration, the following anonymous reference to Ivy was included:

“Then we’ll return and seeing it on high,
Shall read a life of living history,
Strong tendrils and bright foliage above,
Below torn branches and the fading leaf,
Thus shall we do, Thus conquer, Thus fail!
We—the common branches of one vine arise
Sprung from this hill and nurtured ’neath these skies!”

Special features of the '31, '32, and '33 programs were folk dances and May dances which had been presented earlier in the year as part of the May Day exercises.

1934 was the first year that there were no dances or other features. The ivy was planted, the Oration given, and Miss Moore led the group in singing “Maroon and Gold” and the Alma Mater. From this year on, the Ivy Day observances were of a simple nature.

The Oration of 1935 dealt with the symbolism of ivy and its parallelism to the future of the class, as did the speeches of other years. John McGrew, the orator, said, in part: “Of course we would plan to do graduate work.

For just as the ivy needs continual nourishment to keep it alive and growing, we too need constant intellectual nourishment if we wish to attain our full growth.”

1936, which marked a quarter century of Ivy Days, was highlighted by a series of rhythm clog dances on the pergola by five senior girls. That year, for the first time, a lawn party was held for alumni, friends, and relatives, following the Ivy Day exercises. This took the place of the Class Night program, and the parties were held with few exceptions for the next seven years.

In 1943 the party was still a feature, but Class Night was also held.

1944 was a very quiet year, with little beside the Oration being scheduled.

In 1945, simple exercises were held after the Baccalaureate sermon, in the morning, and this has been the custom for the past four years.

Thus we have traced the transition of Ivy Day through the years: from the elaborate classical ceremony of the early 1900's to the brief, simple exercise of today. No matter how the formal procedure is changed to conform to the times, ivy and its symbolism will always remain the same.

ODE ON GRADUATION

The heavy rush of somber marching strains,
The memory of towering spires 'mid
Groves of campus pines, forever green. . . .
These have slipped away to fade and die,
Deserted at last in an alien world
That heeds not sentimental reveries.
The tasseled square, the symbol'd cloak
Are now but antiques of an earlier day;
But, still, the fragile sprig of ivy
(Inherited from keepers long gone by)
Close-held in your firm, clenched grip,
Is yours to emblazon, silhouette, or imprint,
On the ever-widening, sweeping horizon.

A sprig of ivy! Mayhap it seems trivial,
A bare reward for tasks belabored;
Too meek in cry, too weak in its assertion
To brave the world as does a crest of arms.
But, no! 'tis not the stoutest sword alone
That blades the widest, sharpest swath.

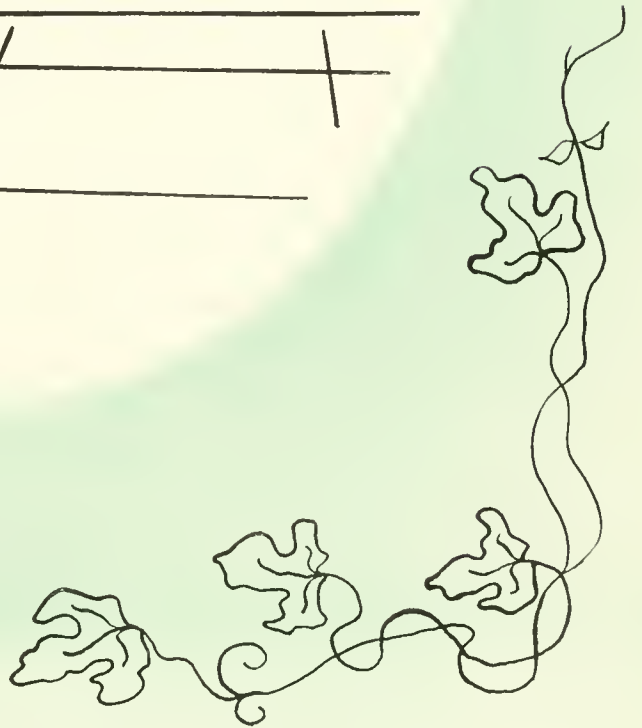

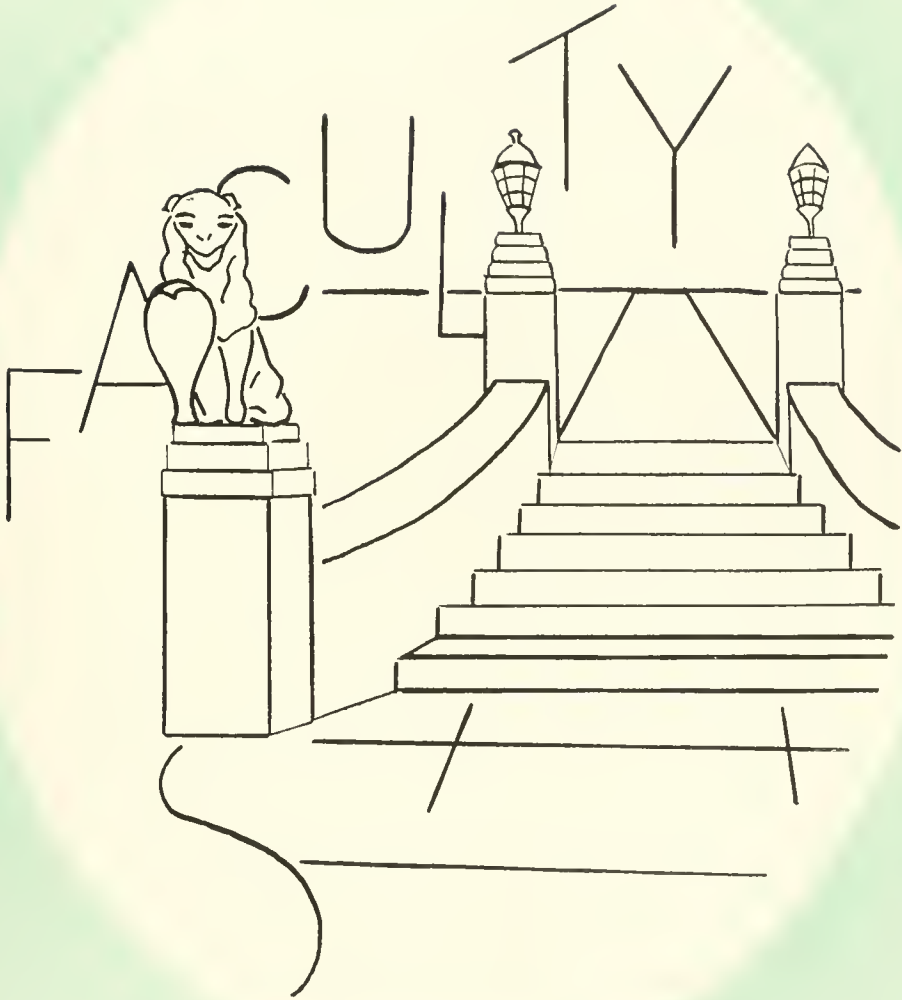

Nor brightest shield that longest clings
To an untinged, gleaming coat of valor.

An ivy charm to unlock the chest . . .
To unveil the hidden beacons that Point to roads seldom walked, if ever:
A green-leafed emblem of philosophy
That has but three aims to boast:
One for the Ideals of Truth,
One for the Light of Endeavor,
The last for——Whatever you will:
Your choice, as an individual,
Yours to fill, or yours to leave blank;
Or, yours to crowd with many hopes
As life has seemed, to you, to promise.
And when your foot has felt the current,
Fast-moving, ever-pulling, never still,
Beneath your knowledge-armored weight,
Hold high the branch of ivy that you clasp,
Step full upon the barge of Time,
And journey with life to far-off ports
That hold the garnered treasures you seek.

Students

It is not long since you as Freshmen came up College Hill
To work and play where nearby the Susquehanna flows, since time was old and things were still.

Like you, others saw beauty with each season pass—colors, green in summer everywhere
Then brown leaves fall and white snow drifting down until only pine and hemlock were not bare.

Year after year new students came and went until you, too, were here in this long file
But soon you will go and others come, who in their turn will only stay awhile.

But, in a way, you do not go from here, for every student leaves something here behind.
Something that lingers after they are gone, something that lingers on in every mind.

They studied once just where you studied now; on these same chairs they sat with worried brow.

They found it hard to work the problem right—the same old problems you worked last night.

And so you go, but still you stay behind, for something that you left here will be ours.
To make us think of you, to hope you'll find long years of usefulness and happy hours.

Harvey A. Andrews

President.

To the Senior Class

It has been my responsibility to admit you to this college, assist you in your education, recommend you for graduation and for certification as a teacher.

Now I look forward to your success as a teacher and hope that in the not too distant future you may be listed as a Master Teacher.

Thomas J. North

Dean of Instruction

TO THE CLASS OF 1949:

For my message to you I am adapting some words spoken by Plato centuries ago to the young leaders of Athens who were ready to begin their work:

We have brought you into the world to be masters of yourselves and leaders of the other citizens, and have educated you far better and more perfectly than they have been educated, and you are better able to share in the public duty. Wherefore each of you, when his turn comes, must go out into the world and play his part in life the better for having better seen than others what is the Beautiful, the True, and the Good.

Sincerely yours,

MARGUERITE KEHR,
Dean of Women.

The Deans

TO THE CLASS OF 1949:

The world seems to me a wonderful place today, and I am sure that it is just as wonderful to you. At graduation time you deserve to experience that glorious feeling of satisfaction that comes from reaching an important milestone. You have worked hard. You have made sacrifices. You have acquired training and knowledge. You possess new tools you will learn how to use in search of progress. For this is no final goal. It is but the preparation for something you want but have not achieved.

Each of you faces a challenge that calls for supreme effort and great wisdom. Before you is a responsibility to keep freedom in America. At no time in the history of the world have the stakes been higher. To preserve the dignity of the individual man. To remove the fear of want and oppression. To preserve these United States as a rock of material and spiritual strength in a world of chaos. To bring eventual peace with well-being to all people.

This responsibility is the most serious job of your generation. May your endeavors contribute to the happiness of people everywhere and thus assure your own greatest happiness.

The class of 1949, to whom this annual is dedicated, reflects the swollen enrollments of the post-war period. The accelerated program under which the college has been operating since the close of World War II accounts for one of the largest graduating classes in the history of Bloomsburg State Teachers College. Out of a total of 200 Seniors, a great number of veterans attending college under the G. I. bill have completed their four-year college course in three years.

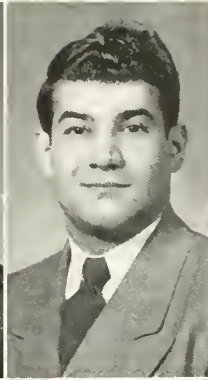

As a general rule, members of the Senior Class have been too busy to contribute to the social and recreational activities on the campus. A large segment of the class has been assigned to Williamsport for practice teaching, while other members of the class have had teaching assignments in Bloomsburg, Danville, and Berwick.

The Seniors are looking forward to graduation in May, and particularly to the Senior Ball which will be held at the Hotel Sterling in Wilkes-Barre. This affair supplies a fitting climax to the years spent at Bloomsburg in preparation for the teaching profession.

Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities

Seven seniors have been accepted for recognition in the 1948-49 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. These upperclassmen were chosen as the seniors who have contributed most to the College, and will accordingly be ranked among outstanding students of other colleges in the United States.

These seven men and women have contributed much towards making the campus experiences of themselves and others richer in many ways. They have served on the Community Government Association, worked with the College publications, officiated at campus organizations, participated in athletics, and served the student body faithfully whenever an opportunity presented itself.

Traits taken into consideration by those making the nominations for this year's selections were: Scholarship, leadership and co-operation in educational and extra-curricular activities, general citizenship, and professional promise.

The Class of 1950, strengthened by additional members as a result of the accelerated program, returned to Bloomsburg this year to renew their educational pursuits.

In addition to sponsoring a Thanksgiving dance, the Junior Class held its Junior Prom early in the spring. This gala event, one of the highlights of the social calendar, was presented in the Centennial Gymnasium and was enjoyed by the members of the class and their numerous guests.

Many members of the class participated whole-heartedly in the school activities and contributed to the success of the entire school year.

The present Junior Class, which will be graduated in 1950, represents the first of the large classes resulting from the G. I. education bill. When the class of 1950 enrolled in Bloomsburg State Teachers College in 1946, the class roll consisted of 150 eager students. Veterans predominated as a result of the mass movement toward education on the part of returning veterans.

The transition of the Freshman Class into an august body of Sophomores is not accomplished without a considerable loss of personnel as a result of the transfer of approximately eighty Liberal Arts students to the Penn State campus as well as by the loss of numerous class members who take advantage of the accelerated program made possible by the extensive summer school curriculum. Despite these losses, the Sophomore Class now boasts of 170 members who have taken an active part in all school activities. Members of the class have provided capable leadership in sports, assembly programs, extra-curricular activities, and all scholastic events.

The Sophomore class always provides a warm welcome for incoming Freshmen. Having so recently experienced the rigors of college customs, the Sophomores were particularly zealous in enforcing Freshman Week regulations. Several class meetings were held throughout the school term for the purpose of determining class policy, and the loyalty of the Sophomore class was demonstrated by the large turnout for the OBITER group picture.

Under the capable leadership of Mr. Clayton Hinkel, the Sophomore Class elected officers early in the school year. The only social affair sponsored entirely by the Sophomore Class is the Sophomore Cotillion. It has been the custom in former years for the Sophomore Class to present a lavish spectacle in Centennial Gymnasium soon after the second semester opens. The officers of the class are already making plans to continue the tradition established almost a century ago during the tenure of Dr. Francis P. Haas, former President of the college.

The Freshman Class of 1948 has an unusual number of talented and energetic members, as evidenced from their assembly program at the beginning of the term. The program which they presented was one of the most outstanding in the history of the college.

The Freshmen soon "made themselves at home" and are now active in all phases of college life. The Frosh formal was held, as is the custom, the first Saturday following the Easter vacation. The dance was well attended and was a tribute to the class's hard work in preparing for it.

All members of the class are looking forward to increased participation in school affairs during their remaining undergraduate years. It is their hope that these years ahead may be increasingly productive in rewards gained through study and learning, and through the fellowship and experience of extra-curricular activity.

The Iota Chapter of Phi Sigma Pi, a national professional educational fraternity for men, was installed at Bloomsburg in 1930. Since that time, it has grown into an organization of fifty members.

To become a candidate for membership, one must show outstanding qualities of leadership in the professional and social life on the campus. The ideals of Phi Sigma Pi are high; but, at the same time, practical and workable. Those who are affiliated with the fraternity strive for the acquisition and dissemination of knowledge, the application of professional skill in promoting the welfare of the human race, and the fostering of fraternal fellowship.

Among the campus activities which the group has sponsored are the mock Republican Nominating Convention and the informal initiation of pledges. The latter was conducted in the dining-room and lounge, and provided entertainment for the college community.

The Alpha Omicron Chapter of Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary fraternity, was organized for the purpose of providing an honor society for colleges which are doing extensive work in dramatics. It provides among colleges of the United States and Canada a bond of fellowship and contact for those who are interested in better dramatics and the college theater. The members of the Bloomsburg Chapter have worked faithfully to maintain the high standards and ideals of the national organization.

The fraternity is composed of those members of the Bloomsburg Players who have done superior work in dramatics and who have qualified for membership. This year several members of the fraternity spent a week-end in New York where they attended performances of the play, Mr. Roberts, starring Henry Fonda, and of Inside U. S. A., starring Jack Haley. Those who made the trip in the College station wagons were Betty Jane Anella, Edwin Allegar, Owen Dichle, Barbara McNinch, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Millard, Mary Helen Morrow, Charles Schiefer, Carson Whitesell, and Miss Alice Johnston.

Techniques of acting and production were observed by the group, and the plays were analyzed at a December meeting of the Bloomsburg Players.

Gamma Theta Upsilon, a professional geography fraternity, was established to bring a closer bond of fellowship among the undergraduate students of geography, and to promote geography in education.

Because of the war period, from 1941 to 1947, the local chapter was inactive. On Homecoming Day, October 25, 1947, with the assistance of alumni, members, and Dr. H. H. Russell, the Delta chapter was reorganized.

Professional meetings were held throughout the current year, with many interesting and intellectual discussions marking the meetings. Several panel discussions were held, at which time the geography of Russia was discussed, and many interesting talks were heard concerning the experiences of the fraternity members who visited various parts of the world during their tours of duty.

Waller Hall Association

All women residents of Waller Hall belong to the Waller Hall Association, which has succeeded in making dormitory life cheerful, friendly, and pleasant.

The Governing Board shares with the Dean of Women and the Assistant Dean of Women in the government of the dormitory. Through its committees, the Board carries on various activities for the dormitory women.

The House Committee has charge of general furnishings and holiday decorations; anything related to the comfort or appearance of the dormitory. This Committee plans the annual Homecoming Open House which includes the judging and presentation of awards for the most attractive dormitory rooms.

Fire drills and safety precautions are delegated to the care of the Fire Chiefs and Wardens.

During the year the Social Committee arranges dormitory social events. The Waller Hall tea, held during Freshman Week, gives new students and upper classmen the opportunity to become acquainted with each other. It is an appropriate and enjoyable beginning for the new year of living in Waller Hall.

One hundred members composed the Women's Chorus, making it one of the largest organizations on campus, as well as one of the most active.

As had been customary for many years, the Chorus holds its weekly rehearsals in Room 8 of Science Hall. The club is fortunate in having several excellent accompanists who share the responsibility. As concert dates approach, the members participate in many extra rehearsals.

Under the guidance and direction of Miss Moore, the group contributes to various school functions. The Women's Chorus appeared in three large music programs. During the Christmas season they joined with the Men's Glee Club in the presentation of a program of Christmas music for assembly. The club Spring Concert was unusually well received. During the year the group continued its former practice of singing programs over radio station WGNR. As a final activity, the chorus again joined with the Men's Glee Club in an assembly program.

The Men's Glee Club, which was disbanded during the war, has grown steadily since its reorganization in 1915. This year it reached its highest point of interest and achievement.

The Glee Club, with the highest enrollment of its history, began practice early in September. Rehearsals were held every Wednesday, but as the school year progressed so did the interest of the group to the extent of increasing its rehearsals to twice a week.

The first concert of the Club was presented in the early part of December, 1918, when they entertained the Elementary School Conference. Later they joined with the Women's Chorus to present the annual Christmas Program in assembly. In March the club presented the first of its series of off-campus concerts.

The success of the Men's Glee Club was due primarily to the efforts and skill of its leader, Miss Harriet M. Moore, and to the keen interest of the men in their work. The club extends its hearty thanks to Mrs. June Keller Jacobs who ably served as accompanist.

The students of the Secondary, Elementary, and Business Departments are indicating their awareness of the need for professional growth among American teachers. To promote such growth students have become members of the Future Teachers of America, a national group established by the National Education Association to:

1. Give teachers in training practical experience in working together in a democratic way on the problems of the profession and the community.
2. Interest the best young men and women in education as a lifelong career.

In naming their chapter, the local group is honored in commemorating Professor Oscar Hugh Bakeless, whose life on this campus so well exemplified the aims of the organization.

The Student Christian Association has as its purpose the advancement of Christian fellowship on the campus. Among other noteworthy activities, S. C. A. supervises the purchase and distribution of Christmas gifts for needy children of Bloomsburg, the presentation of a Christmas pageant, Christmas caroling, the Easter Sunrise Service, and a picnic supper at the close of each term. Last year the Association sponsored the annual Freshman party, a hike during Freshman week, and Sunday evening hymn-sings.

The organization is divided into the following four commissions: Christian Heritage, Personal and Campus Affairs, World Relatedness, and Social Responsibilities. These groups hold open discussions on their individual topics and take turns preparing programs for the regular S. C. A. meetings which are held first and third Wednesdays in Navy Hall.

The Men's Dormitory Association, which boasts of 180 members, is one of the most active organizations on the Bloomsburg campus. Primarily interested in the welfare of its members, the organization, in addition to regulating conditions in the dormitories, maintains a recreation room in the basement of North Hall for the benefit of its members and sponsors several social events during the school year.

With the opening of school, veteran members of the organization provide a hilarious welcome for the incoming Freshmen. For several weeks while customs are in effect, Freshmen are inducted into the mysteries of dormitory life by their more experienced brethren. Impromptu programs are staged nightly for the edification of the "Frosh."

Last spring, the Men's Dormitory Association sponsored a "smoker" in the recreation room. "Doc" Mifflin, well-known local magician, entertained the guests with an hour's exhibition of sleight-of-hand.

This fall, George Thear's popular orchestra, consisting of Thear as leader, Marvin Meneeley, Dick Wagner, Frank Hontz, and Paul Lopota entertained the student body in the Waller Hall Lounge. This party was sponsored by the organization as part of its social program. A buffet supper was served to 300 guests and Thear's orchestra provided music for dancing.

Several impromptu get-togethers are held in the recreation room in North Hall. The association renovated the pool table during the past summer and has provided two dart boards for entertainment. Ping-pong tables and cards also provide relaxation for members of the group.

The association also sponsors several intra-mural sports programs. Interest runs high in the various touch-football battles, volley ball contests, and softball games played between competing teams of dormitory students. On one occasion a softball benefit game was held to aid a member of the association who had been injured in one of the intra-mural contests. At press time, the intra-mural basketball program is underway with keen competition between rival quintets from Waller and North Hall.

Deans Hoch and Redman are sponsors of the association. Through their interest and co-operation, the organization is now one of the most active groups on the Maroon and Gold campus.

The Science Club is one of the largest organizations on the campus. The chief aim of the club is to arouse the interests of the members in both the natural and physical sciences. Many phases of chemical, biological, and physical sciences are studied. The programs consist of discussions, moving pictures, quizzes, demonstrations, and field trips for the purpose of studying scientific aspects of the campus.

The rapid acceleration of scientific discoveries resulting from experimentation carried on during the war period provide the club with much interesting material. The limitless possibilities of atomic energy, jet propulsion, the Mt. Palomar telescope, and new plastics are but a few of the intriguing subjects discussed by the group. Members of the club carefully observe all developments in their chosen field.

The highlight of the club's activities is the all-day field trip which usually is held in the spring. On this trip the club prepares a picnic lunch and afterwards the members separate into smaller groups and gather specimens for nature study. Dr. Kuster and Mr. Lanterman then comment on their scientific value. Officers for the coming year are nominated and elected in May.

Maroon and Gold

ROBERT CANOUSE
Editor-in-Chief

The Maroon and Gold is the weekly campus newspaper published by the students for the purpose of promulgating news and opinion of current interest. It also serves as a medium of recognition and encouragement for those members of the student body who are interested in journalism.

The past year has been one of the most successful in the history of the publication. An energetic and enthusiastic staff worked wholeheartedly toward making the 1948-49 term a banner year. The fruition of this effort was reflected in the high level of interest demonstrated by the student body.

When the renovation of Noetling Hall was undertaken, the Maroon and Gold had the unique distinction of being a newspaper without an office. This situation, however, was quickly remedied by giving the staff temporary quarters in a storage room on the ground floor of the same building. When the renovation is completed, the newspaper will again return to its former location on the second floor.

Permanent faculty advisers of the Maroon and Gold are Mr. Wilson and Mr. De Voe. Editor-in-Chief for the current year was Robert Canouse. Wayne Von Stetten and William Stimeling were the associate editors.

The Obiter

WAYNE VON STETTEN
Editor

OBITER DICTUM. "Spoken by the way." . . . We owe a debt of gratitude to the early editors who chose this fitting title for their annual publication. The first volume of the OBITER was published thirty-three years ago. Improvement has followed from year to year with the addition of new features and new ideas. Although all yearbooks must contain essentially the same material, it is the hope of each editor and staff to produce a book as different as possible from any previously published. Following this tradition, the staff presents several innovations.

The 1919 OBITER has introduced a unique idea for the introductory pages of the various sections of the publication; the inclusion of color in the yearbook; the insertion of a section devoted to our students selected to be represented in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities; and the enlargement of the sports section of the yearbook.

Our editor, Wayne Von Stetten, and the associate editor, Kay Chapin, had a busy time gathering a staff with a will to work. Frank Luchnick dashed madly around the campus with contracts and checks with a mercenary look in his eye. Bob Walther and John Maturani had a merry time lining up the necessary group pictures, while Grace Smith and her capable staff had their headaches scheduling seniors for their individual pictures. Sports Editor Curt Miller hounded the Publications Office for the latest "scoop" on athletic doings, and Don Butcofsky had his hands full cutting the copy as it trickled across his desk.

KAY CHAPIN
Associate Editor

Jim Boyle, and his co-workers, Ed Sheehy, Pinky Williams, and John Czerniakowski did a commendable job handling the advertising.

The OBITER "story" has all the elements of drama, with its constantly shifting scenes. Early in the fall, the editor signs a contract for the printing of the annual. After a conference with the publisher, a tentative dummy is prepared in duplicate. The space is roughly apportioned to the various sections, and indistinct mental layouts take shape on the drawing board. Finally, the plan for the yearbook develops into a working blueprint which becomes a reality months later.

Once the book is plotted on paper, the yearbook staff coordinates the scheduling of individual and group photographs. Representatives of the staff procure advertisements; other members of the staff make up the composite informal pages, secure subscriptions, and perform the countless small tasks that contribute to the success of the project.

All copy for the 1949 OBITER was delivered to the publisher early in February. This early "deadline" made it impossible for the editorial staff to give complete coverage to the 1948-49 basketball summaries. The baseball and track write-ups, out of necessity, must summarize the previous season. Aside from these minor changes, which are the direct outgrowth of a tight publishing schedule, the 1949 OBITER is as up-to-date as the new "bold" look.

Nor is the editor's task finished when all the material is in the hands of the printer. Reading proof is an exacting and time-consuming job. Every effort is made to eliminate errors from the text of the OBITER before it reaches your hands. Then, after the final "ok," the 1949 OBITER is printed, bound, and delivered to you.

All in all, the staff has enjoyed working together; it has been a great experience. We have done our best to give you a yearbook that will bring back pleasant memories of the years you spent on the campus of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College.

The editorial staff includes Donald Butcofsky, Joseph Putera, Charles Moore, J. Eddinger, B. Johnson, and Paul Slobozien. On the business staff are: Edward Sheehy, John Czerniakowski, Barbara Sherman, Jean Stewart, William Miller, Glenn Von Stetten, Joan McDonald, and William Homisak. Ruth Elder is staff typist, and George Kearney is a member of the art staff.

Plans are already underway for the 1950 OBITER. The half-century mark will call for special efforts on the part of the school editors. Although the theme has not been chosen, it will undoubtedly include special emphasis on the significance of this mile-stone. The Twentieth Century, without question, has released the greatest forces for good and evil the world has ever witnessed. The editors of the 1949 OBITER sincerely hope that the latter half of the century will bring peace and prosperity to all peoples.

For the first time in the history of the college, an all campus magazine has been published. Named The Olympian, this new-born publication offers an opportunity to students interested in improving their literary ability and style. The initial issue was released in April.

The magazine features short stories, sketches, narratives, and non-fiction articles written by the students of the college.

It is hoped that The Olympian will become a permanent feature of campus life.

The Business Education Club, one of the largest organizations on the campus, completed another successful year, both socially and educationally. During the past school year, the club had an active membership of over 150 students. Its membership represents 25 of the 67 counties in Pennsylvania.

A variety of educational, interesting, and entertaining programs were included among the activities of the club during the year. Joseph E. Sopko, chairman of the program committee, did a commendable job arranging and scheduling the club programs. Some of the outstanding programs included talks by prominent business people, demonstrations of business machines, interviews of student teachers, educational business films, a "Wiener Roast" on Mount Olympus, and a Christmas party.

The club sponsored the annual Commercial Contest, one of the big events of the college year. The year was climaxed by the Business Education Club banquet where the installation of officers for the ensuing year took place and the Club Annuals were distributed.

The Athenaeum Club, which was organized in 1945, has fostered an increasing interest in classical music among its members. A study of both modern musicians and of the past is emphasized. Biographical sketches are frequently used to supplement background, and recordings are played to illustrate points of technique and to build up appreciation for the works of the masters.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Olive Beeman the club has received new impetus. The college maintains an extensive library of classical and semi-classical records which are filed in the college library. This collection adds immeasurably to an appreciation of classical music, consisting as it does of many of the major musical compositions. In addition, the club has been fortunate in having many fine musical contributions from its members, as well as in being able to secure talented guest performers on several occasions.

The Day Men's Association is made up of all non-resident male members of the student body, and represents one of the largest organizations on the campus.

Its purpose, primarily, is to give the Day Men representation in student government and planning, and to afford them opportunity to meet collectively and discuss matters and problems relevant to their welfare.

The Day Men have several informal parties and dinners each year. These, along with regularly scheduled business meetings, provide occasion for group and committee discussions, and for the formation of plans and policies to meet the changing needs of the organization.

The Day Men's Room has been located in Navy Hall, pending the completion of the new Day Room in Noetling Hall. The Noetling Hall Day Room, when completed, will provide a thoroughly modern and centrally located place for study and relaxation. This room should be completed and available to the Day Men before the end of the present school year.

Sponsor of the Day Men's Association is Mr. Wisler.

The Catholic Students' organization, better known as the Newman Club of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College, was organized in November, 1947, with The Very Reverend Father William J. Burke, pastor of Saint Columba's R. C. Church as the Club's Chaplain, and Professor Walter S. Rygiel of the college faculty, the Club's sponsor. It is affiliated with the National Newman Club Federation which is composed of three hundred Newman Clubs in Universities and Colleges.

The purpose of the club is to deepen the spiritual and enrich the temporal lives of the members through a program of religious, intellectual and social activities and to develop capable student leadership.

The Club's programs were varied, attractive, and inspirational. Among the many activities held by the Newman Club was a Hallowe'en party. Several interesting speakers addressed the Club, one of whom was the secretary to the warden of the State Penitentiary, and the other was Mrs. Walter S. Rygiel, Harrisburg Diocesan Chairman of Catholic Literature, who addressed the group during Catholic Press month. Other activities included dances, reports on travel, question and answer periods, dramatics and club publications. At the end of the year a Mass was offered for the graduating Newmanites, and a banquet was also held in their honor at the Moose Club in Bloomsburg.

Students of Bloomsburg State Teachers College of the Presbyterian denomination organized an off-campus organization early in the school year. After electing officers, the members of the group decided to name their organization the Knox Fellowship.

Under the guidance of Mr. Harold Lanterman and Dr. J. A. Russell, both members of the college faculty, the organization has developed into one of the most active church groups in the college community. Bi-monthly meetings, largely of a social nature, are held in the church basement where there are many opportunities to participate in sports and other recreational activities.

Informal parties are held at nearby cabins and summer homes of members of the church congregation. Plans have been made for a trip to Eagle's Mere as soon as weather conditions permit tobogganing and other winter sports.

At a recent meeting of the group, it was decided to hold meetings of the Fellowship weekly rather than bi-monthly as a result of increased interest in the informal meetings. The Rev. G. Douglas Davies, Presbyterian minister, has been largely responsible for the continued success of this student organization.

The Knox Fellowship is an off-campus organization. No extra-curricular credit is awarded by the college to this particular activity.

The purpose of the Aviation Club is to stimulate and develop interest in flying. The club promotes aviation as a hobby and a means of keeping its members familiar with the latest developments in aeronautics. A series of motion picture films have been shown concerning the operation and identification of various aircraft. In addition, the club has held open discussions on personal aviation experiences. Many of the club members have acquired aviation ratings.

The Aviation Club is under the supervision of Mr. W. B. Sterling, who is the director of the College Aviation Training Program. Mr. Sterling served as a flight instructor for army personnel during the war. In 1947 he was in charge of a co-ordinated flight program operated jointly by the College and the Bloomsburg Airport as part of the G. I. training program.

The Aviation Club foresees the necessity of training youth in the fundamentals of aircraft construction and flying skills. Rapid development of both military and commercial aircraft makes the Aviation Club one of the most popular organizations on the campus.

In the past, the club has made a study of the great English and American poets and their works. Each year many outstanding poems are contributed by members and are added to the club's coveted "Book of Verse."

The club is divided into committees which take turns in preparing and presenting programs for the semi-monthly meetings. Periodic social events are a regular feature of the club's program of activities.

Publications Committee

The great responsibility of advising and assuring the success of the student publications of the College falls on the shoulders of the Publications Committee. The committee meets occasionally to discuss informally the problem of appointment to responsible positions of the various publications. They also formulate the policy of the newspaper and yearbook, which in turn reflects the policy of the College itself. The committee serves in an advisory capacity to the students and has helped the various publications through many difficult situations.

In addition to the staff of the various publications, the responsibility of getting the printed matter into the hands of the students falls largely upon the shoulders of the printers and their staffs. The Maroon and Gold staff receives able assistance from the Keystone Publishing Company; likewise the OBITER staff depends greatly upon the assistance of the Grit Publishing Company. The Publications Committee and the staffs are deeply indebted to these people and most appreciative for all they have done to make the campus publications for 1919 successful.

Maroon and Gold Band

The Maroon and Gold Band serves to provide an opportunity for expression to those who are interested and able to play instruments, and serves as a training unit for band directors of the future. In the fulfillment of these opportunities it serves its secondary purpose, entertainment for the college community.

The Band has been instrumental in the stimulation of school spirit on the college campus. In the execution of this function, the organization has been second to none.

The unit, under the direction of Mr. Charles Henrie, has been quite active during the past year, especially during the football season. The group played for all of the home games, besides traveling to Lock Haven, Shippensburg, and East Stroudsburg. At these games, the band, under the direction of Roy Brandau, put on half-time shows featuring a corps of nine twirlers, and played for school songs and cheers during the games. The "Rabble Rousers," a comic unit of the band, played at the pep rallies.

The organization marched in the Hallowe'en parade in Bloomsburg, making a definite hit with the crowd, and received invitations to march in other Hallowe'en parades.

In October, 1918, the band was feted with a chicken dinner at Dutch Hill Church. Attending were President Andruss, Dean North, and other members of the faculty as guests of the organization.

At the close of the football season, the group organized into a concert band and has played for four radio broadcasts during the year, besides presenting three assembly programs in the college auditorium. It has also given concerts at the Bloomsburg and Scott Township High Schools, and played for the May Day celebration last May.

Athletic Club

The Athletic Club first made its appearance on the campus of Bloomsburg State Teachers College in March of 1948. Its members are composed of all men students who have been awarded either a major or minor letter while a member of any intercollegiate athletic team in any sport conducted by this college.

The purposes of this organization are to promote brotherhood among the athletes in our college, to foster a spirit of co-operation and sportsmanship within the student body through examples that we make, and to act as a liaison organization for athletes between the administration and the members of the various athletic teams.

While the Athletic Club is still in its infancy, extensive plans have been made for 1948-49. The Club plans to promote several dances during the second semester, in addition to their fine work in securing used textbooks for incoming freshmen athletes.

At press time, the Athletic Club hadn't announced their officers for the year. Officers for 1948 were as follows: George Menarick, President; Matthew Maley, Vice President; Thomas Metz, Secretary; Richard Wolford, Treasurer. The Club Sponsor is Mr. Robert B. Redman.

The "B" Club is an athletic organization for girls. In order to be eligible for "B" Club membership, a girl must earn one thousand points. These points are accumulated by participating in individual or group sports.

"B" Club social meetings are held the first Monday night of every month. At these popular "get-togethers" refreshments are served and the official business of the club is discussed. This year approximately sixty girls attended a "B" Club Christmas party held at the home of Miss McCammon. Every Thursday night the girls hold intramural activities in the Centennial Gymnasium, where they have access to the gym floor and swimming pool. This gives the girls an opportunity to learn and to participate in a variety of athletic activities.

Intramural leagues provide hotly contested games in the sports of field hockey, volleyball, cageball, softball, and basketball. Such sports aid in furthering the ideals of sportsmanship, the spirit of co-operation, and the development of athletic prowess.

FOOTBALL

Athletics have always been an important part in the curriculum of B. S. T. C., but it is doubtful if any but few envisioned the day when the football season would conclude with not a single defeat or tie on the Husky record.

But, a policy of inducing the best football material possible to bring their wares to our campus has paid off in the results that we all know so well. Students and alumni, both, received what they have so long desired.

Many factors are responsible for this season's successes. Excellent conditioning that kept injuries at a minimum, a wealth of capable reserve strength, and favorable weather conditions, in addition to the natural ability of the players, combined to place on our campus the only undefeated-untied football team in Pennsylvania.

The team gave its best at all times; perhaps slackening a bit when the going was easy, but rising to the heights when the chips were down. In only one contest did it register an overwhelming score; but in none of the games was there any doubt as to the best team on the field.

Credit must be given to every man on the squad. When the regulars retired, the reserves carried on in great style as they gained the valuable experience that will pay off next season.

This 1948 edition of the Huskies was a fighting organization that well deserves the plaudits it has received from sports fans and coaches in Pennsylvania.

In the face of less than lukewarm student support, the players worked together as a unit and supplied an adequate replacement for school spirit in the team spirit they displayed at all times on or off the field. Perfection was their goal and they appeared to be striving constantly to attain it. A glimpse at the record is enough to indicate how close they came to reaching their objective.

Last August, it was well known that Coach Redman had a good team, but no one, last of all, Redman himself, considered it the great team that later events proved it to be. Gone were a number of stars that had formed the nucleus for a winning combination the previous season.

Among the departed was Matt Maley, one of the finest passers that has ever set foot on a Husky gridiron, but he remained in a coaching capacity and saw veterans Steve Kriss and Joe Apichella and newcomer, Bob Lang, form a passing trio that had no difficulty hitting George Paternoster and Elmer Kreiser, the finest pass receivers in the conference. When he wasn't passing or running, Kriss was out there snatching aerials himself, an art at which he was as capable as anyone.

A pleasant surprise of the season was the excellent showing of Dan Parrell who had seen little service last year. Dan took over at the fullback position and made a valiant bid to become the leading scorer in the state. Joe Apichella returned to school to become one of the leading ground gainers on the Husky team.

Tom Donan and Rodney Morgans at the tackle posts built up such a reputation for fearlessness that they, themselves, were feared by all opponents. Frank Luchnick and Larry Mussoline, though quite inconspicuous, earned the plaudits of their teammates for their staunch work at the guard positions. Johnny Maturani turned in stellar performances as first string pivotman, and was spelled in this position by the ever-competent Bernie DePaul and Paul Slobozien, who also saw duty in the backfield.

Luchnick, Albano, Mussoline, Donan, Paternoster, Kazmerovicz, Wayne Von Stetten—ah, what a bunch. They'll be sadly missed by the Huskies when the curtain rises next year, but there is enough material left, plus the probable addition of able freshmen, to enable Coach Redman to look forward without shivers.

SUMMARY OF 1948 SEASON

The outstanding feature of the undefeated 1948 football season of the Huskies was probably the well-balanced attack and defense molded by Coach Redman and his aides. True, several individuals were selected from the many to gain the honors that can fall on but a few, but if any particular player stood out before the others, he wasn't noticed by the multitudes that watched the Huskies perform.

Along the line, Tom Donan reached the zenith of football glory in Bloomsburg by being named in succession to the first All-Conference and All-Pennsylvania team, third string Little All-America and honorable mention on the All-Eastern squad which contained many of the greatest names in American football. Elmer Kreiser and Joe Apichella made the All-Conference first team and followed this by receiving honorable mention on the All-Pennsylvania and All-Eastern squads. An aftermath of all the football laurels being thrown Bloomsburg's way was the information that several National Football League clubs were seeking Donan and Frank Luchnick, who was named to the All-Conference second team. Another interesting note was that every one of Bloomsburg's rivals that picked an All-Opponent team picked Donan and Kreiser.

BLOOMSBURG 25 — WILKES 0

Almost every man on the squad saw action in this game sponsored by the Berwick Lions Club at Berwick's Crispin Field. An added attraction was the return to the scene of their high school triumphs by Steve Kriss, Bernie DePaul, and Don Peterson.

Apichella sparked the Huskies on their first touchdown drive—one that carried fifty-five yards. The payoff came on a Kriss to Apichella pass that netted thirty yards and six points. In the second quarter, Dan Parrell scored the first of the many touchdowns he was to make this season when he plunged over from the two-yard line after the Huskies had recovered a Wilkes fumble on the nineteen. Reedy tore through the opposing line for a touchdown on the first play of the last quarter. Possibly the most exciting action of the entire game came in this period when Lang intercepted a Colonel pass on his own twenty-eight yard line and skirted down the sideline until he crossed the goal line for the final Husky score.

BLOOMSBURG 7 — MANSFIELD 0

The Huskies made it known right from the start that they were going to be THE team in conference play by nipping a highly-touted Mansfield eleven, 7-0. Striking early in the first quarter for a touchdown and extra-point, the Huskies held on to their margin through the remaining periods to chalk up their first conference win. They never relinquished the ball as they took the opening kickoff and marched sixty-five yards for the score. Parrell dove over from the one-yard line and George Johns converted.

BLOOMSBURG 6 — LOCK HAVEN 0

In contrast to the Mansfield game, the Huskies waited until midway in the last period to score their single, but winning, touchdown before 4,000 partisan fans at Lock Haven. As in the previous contest, the deciding touchdown came after a sustained drive, this one carrying from the Husky forty-yard line with pass plays eating up most of the yardage. Joe Apichella went the last nine yards on a power play inside his own right end.

BLOOMSBURG 20 — MILLERSVILLE 13

For the first time of the season the Huskies found themselves trailing the opposing team, but they came back strong to edge a surprisingly strong Millersville eleven by a 20-13 count. The Marauders ended all hopes of an unscored upon season by the Huskies when they crossed the Husky goal line in the first quarter and added another six-pointer in the final period. Late in the second quarter, Kreiser blocked a Millersville punt that was recovered by the Huskies on the Millersville forty-nine. A drive started that terminated when Kriss scored from the one. Parrell added the second Husky score after a Millersville fumble had been recovered on the eleven-yard line of the Marauders. Later on, Parrell tallied his second and the Huskies' third touchdown of the night.

Reading Down and Across: Jones, Wolford, DePaul, Johns, Gabriel, Tavaisky, Jarman.

BLOOMSBURG 13 — SHIPPENSBURG 7

Overcoming a seven-point deficit, the Huskies made it six straight by downing a power-laden Red Raider squad that was at high pitch because of the homecoming celebration on their campus. A Hatfield to Stuart pass in the first quarter brought six points that raised hopes in the Red Raiders of a victory, but the Huskies embarked on a seventy-eight yard sustained drive that netted them their first touchdown when Parrell scored. The big play of the game occurred in the final period when, with the Huskies trailing, 7-6, Kriss heaved a long pass to George Paternoster who took the ball on the Husky twenty and raced across the goal unmolested. Johns added the extra point and the score stood at 13-7 when the game ended several plays later.

BLOOMSBURG 27 — KUTZTOWN 0

The Husky avalanche continued to roll as it chalked up an easy 27-0 decision over Kutztown before a capacity Homecoming Day crowd at Mt. Olympus. The game started with a march by the Huskies from their own thirty-eight that carried them across the goal-line when Linkhorst passed to Steve Kriss from the twenty-two yard line of Bloomsburg. In the second quarter, Parrell scored and Kriss intercepted a Kutztown pass in the third period and sped across the goal to give Bloomsburg a 20-0 advantage as the reserves took over. Don Peterson was credited with the final touchdown of the day when he caught a pass thrown by Glenn Von Stetten. Johns missed the extra-point try, but the game was won, 27-0, anyway.

BLOOMSBURG 25 — KING'S COLLEGE 0

A willing but outmanned King's College was trampled, 25-0, by a merciful Husky team that played what was, perhaps, its worst game of the season. The first of Bloomsburg's touchdowns came in the opening minutes of the first quarter when King's fumbled the kickoff and Bloomsburg recovered. Several plays later, Apichella scored the first touchdown. A jaunt of forty-four yards by Kriss brought the Huskies' touchdown number four in the last quarter after Parrell had sandwiched two six-pointers between Apichella's score and Kriss' run.

BLOOMSBURG 47 — LYCOMING 0

As expected, the Huskies crushed impotent Lycoming by a score of 47-0 before a disappointingly small Appreciation Day crowd. At no time in the game did Lycoming have a chance to win, and never was the Husky goal threatened. Touchdowns were scored by Lang, Peterson, Von Stetten, 2, Jones, and Parrell, 2. The most noteworthy part of this game was the fine performance of the reserves who played all but a few minutes at the beginning of each half.

BLOOMSBURG 14 — EAST STROUDSBURG 0

The Huskies wrote a new record into Bloomsburg archives when they crushed East Stroudsburg, 14-0, to complete the first undefeated-untied season in the school's history. A safety was scored by the Huskies in the first quarter when a Stroudsburg back fumbled in the end zone after a vicious tackle by Tommy Donan. Later in the period a drive was initiated by the Huskies that brought about the first touchdown after changing goals at the end of the first quarter. Parrell plunged over from the one-yard line to make the score 8-0. Jim Reedy drove off-tackle for seven yards and a touchdown in the third period and the score stood at 14-0 until the end of the game.

Hail the Champion!

Basketball

With seven veterans back and a number of better than average newcomers on hand, Coach Wisner and Husky fans viewed the opening of the cage season with a high degree of optimism.

The quintet did nothing to destroy championship hopes when it pried the lid off the '18-'19 schedule with an impressive 45-40 victory over a battle-tested Millersville quintet. Newcomer Dave Linkhorst and veteran "Smoky" Andrews paced the Maroon and Gold attack with fourteen and ten points, respectively.

Leaving the home court for the first time, the Wishermen ran into trouble at Lock Haven and fell before a last period assault of the powerful Bald Eagle court machine, 55-45. Andrews continued his sparkling play and tallied seventeen points to lead both teams.

Smarting from the Lock Haven defeat, the Huskies came back strong to smash the Wilkes College Colonels by a score of 69-37. Andrews connected for fifteen points in this game which was outstanding, probably, because the Colonels' high-scoring ace Sekerchak, was limited to sixteen points, a small sum when contrasted to the forty odd points he had averaged per game until this contest.

Again the Huskies hit the road—this time to East Stroudsburg. It seemed the cover was on the Bloomsburg basket as the home team walked off the floor with a 13-32 victory. Quite a few reserves saw action, but they were unable to break through the ever-alert Indian defense.

The Huskies journeyed up the Susquehanna and came back. That is about all that can be said of the 63-47 loss suffered at the hands of the vindictive Kingsmen. Coach Wisner used frequent substitutions, but nothing was quite enough to stem the tide of spectacular long shots and perfect lay-ups.

After two successive losses, Coach Wisner changed his style of attack a bit, and the cagers were eagerly awaiting the arrival of the Lock Haven Bald Eagles in Bloomsburg. Undefeated in their two previous home encounters, the Huskies were in an ugly mood, anxious to redeem themselves and once again jump back into championship consideration. With the return of several injured key-men to action, prospects were bright that they could do this.

Soccer

Playing the toughest schedule in Bloomsburg history, the lads of Coach Peter Wisner made a commendable showing, though winning but two out of eight games. With an inexperienced team taking the field against powerful Lock Haven in the opening game, things looked dismal indeed for the Wishermen, but much to the surprise of everyone, Lock Haven was forced to go all out to eke out a 3-2 verdict over the Maroon and Gold. Dent and Diehle did the scoring for the losers.

A new lineup was installed by Coach Wisner as the booters opened their home season against Howard University. This proved to be in vain, though, as Howard spotted the Huskies two goals in the first quarter and then went on to win 1-2. Owen Diehle scored both goals for the Huskies.

Playing at Lincoln in the third tilt of the year, the Husky kickers came through with their first victory of the season by a 1-0 score.

With high hopes of avenging the earlier defeat by Lock Haven, the Huskies met the Bald Eagles on Mt. Olympus and in one of the most exciting fracas ever played here, the Huskies had to bow by a 3-2 score.

Not disheartened by their latest reversal, the Huskies did battle with West Chester and after leading for the greatest portion of the game, succumbed 5-3 in a game that went into two extra periods.

With one win and four losses on the record, the Huskies met Lincoln before the Homecoming crowd and received another jolt as the colored school was in a revengeful mood that day and blasted out a 4-2 victory over the luckless Wishermen.

A trip to the nation's capital proved fruitless as the Huskies bowed for the second time this season to Howard, this time by a 2-0 count.

The last game of the season more than compensated for gloomy results of the games that had gone before. Meeting highly favored East Stroudsburg on Mt. Olympus, a pepped-up team presented Coach Pete Wisher with a 2-1 victory over his alma mater and made it the second year in succession that the Warriors have fallen to the Huskies.

Although on first sight the season seems to have been a dismal one, this year's soccer team is deserving of bouquets for the spirited attempts they made to duplicate the record of the year before. The spirit of Bloomsburg was truly represented on the field in every game. The opposition realized that they were in a ball game and with a few breaks perhaps victory could have been snatched away from defeat in several of the games. Even though such fine players as Conrad and Allegar will be lost through graduation, Mensinger, Dent, Vincent, Diehle, Getchey, Kline, Heydenreich and the others will provide a valuable nucleus around which to build a winning team in 1949. Thus, no tears should be shed for the losers, but rather hopes held high for next year's potential winners.

Track and Field

Looking back to see what our men of the cinder-path did in 1913, we find that the season was none too sparkling. But prospects for the coming season are little more than bright with a number of outstanding thin clad performers returning for another fling at the ancient sport.

The game the Huskies like to forget in 1913 was the opening meet with the Shippensburg Red Raiders who won by the overwhelming score of 110-10.

The Huskies bounced back with a vengeance, however, several days later when they trounced a fair Scranton aggregation by 78 to 43.

Cheyney Teachers sent a strong team to Bloomsburg for the next meet and was surprised by a Husky crew that tabulated sixty-eight points to the visitors' fifty-eight.

It was the Shippensburg slaughter all over in the next meet, though, with the only difference being in the opponent, Lock Haven, which showed no mercy as they took the Huskies in tow to the tune of 112-14.

The Wisher lads had the misfortune to meet both Lock Haven and Shippensburg on the same field in the State Meet which went to Lock Haven. The only points garnered by the Huskies were through the efforts of Elmer Kreiser who picked up three points with a fourth in the discus and a fifth in the shot put.

A perennially great Lincoln team paid a visit to Bloomsburg and repaid the hospitality of their hosts by stealing a 99-27 victory.

A disastrous season came to close when the Huskies went to East Stroudsburg to be trampled 30.5 to 45.5.

Baseball

The initial game with Millersville was a forecast of things to come. Though pitching excellent ball, Mike Evans was handed a defeat through four costly errors by his teammates that permitted the Marauders to tally four unearned runs and take the ball game by 4-3.

With Evans in the hospital because of a bad appendix, Henry Brunn took over the pitching chores and limited Shippensburg to four hits as the Huskies won a close contest, 9-8.

In a wild ball game that included 11 runs in a single inning, Lock Haven defeated the Huskies here by a 11-9 score.

The Redman coached nine suffered a sound thumping by the East Stroudsburg Warriors who went on a rampage here to triumph 9-1.

The Maroon and Gold then hit the road and took the measure of King's College in Wilkes-Barre, 10-1.

Henry Brunn took the hill at East Stroudsburg but was chased from the box as the Big Red trounced the Huskies for the second time, the score being 15-4 in this affair.

Shippensburg prolonged the Husky slump as they eked out a 9-8 victory.

An even split was gained in the final two contests of the season. Mansfield, which had lost its previous four games, came up with a winning combination that scored six runs while limiting the Huskies to but two.

An Alumni Day crowd witnessed the Huskies take their final contest of the season against King's College. Though vastly improved, the Monarchs were no match for the determined Huskies who were out to atone for the miserable showings in the past games.

Girls' Sports

Under the direction of Miss Lucy McCammon, Women's Physical Educational Directress, with the aid of Mrs. Robert Redman, women's intramural sports have become one of the favorite extra-curriculars of both the dormitory and day women. Participation in the various intramural tournaments, as basketball, volley ball, and softball, has not only been entertaining, but also helpful in gaining "B" Club points.

Every Thursday evening during the past school year, the Centennial Gymnasium has been turned over to the women students for athletic activities. These included swimming, ping pong, and shuffleboard. Other activities which have been enjoyed are a scavenger hunt, a Christmas party, and a wiener roast.

During the year many girls learned to swim and some took special courses in advanced swimming, junior and senior lifesaving. These latter ones are sponsored by the Red Cross; successful completion earns the participant certification by this organization.

One of the features of BSTC's May Day celebration in the past is the part taken by the women's physical education classes. This year, they participated in folk dances and intricate May Pole windings; a few did novelty acts to add to the entertainment of the Queen and her court.

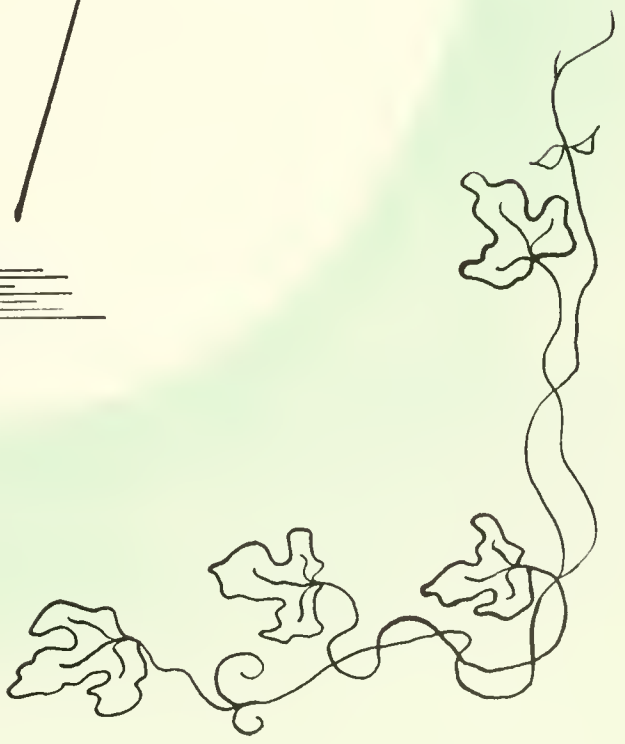

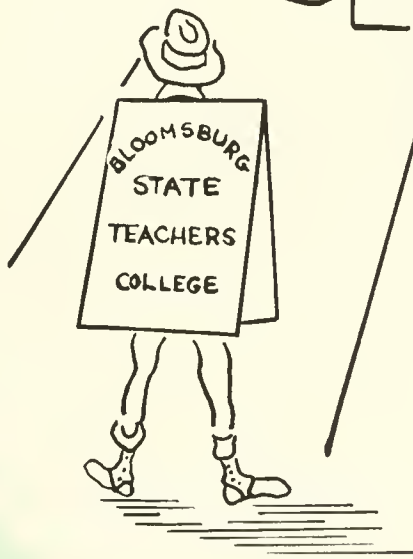

Springtime also saw the formation of a hockey team, as well as the usual softball combinations. This sport is relatively new on the campus and plans call for further expansion of this competitive sport.

In Appreciation

As we glance about the OBITER Office, it seems difficult to realize that our task is completed. We have attempted to present to the students of Bloomsburg a publication that is worthy of our fine Institution. Whether we have succeeded or not you must judge for yourself.

The keynote of the work this year was co-operation. We, the staff of the 1949 OBITER wish to extend our heartiest thanks to the faculty, the students, the various classes and organizations who aided us in every way possible. Special thanks go to Mr. DeVoe, without whose assistance the formation of the OBITER would have been an impossibility; Mr. Wilson for his valuable guidance; Dean North for the use of his class records; Miss Zealberg for the use of the Library files; Mrs. Knight and Mr. Hausknecht for their kind co-operation; Miss Eyerly for her courtesy in making the mail available for the OBITER staff; Mr. Garner and Mr. Hallisy for the use of their files, and President Andruss for the use of the OBITER Office. We are grateful to the Grit Publishing Company for their cheerful co-operation in the printing and binding of the book; to Mr. I. L. Dobyns for his fine work on the photographs, and to each and every member of the staff who gave countless hours of their time in order to reproduce a picture of the school as we have found it.

The 1949 OBITER is now in your hands. As we present this book to you, we do so feeling that we have done our very best.

THE OBITER STAFF,
