Maroon and Gold

There are colors to cheer,

There are names to revere,

There are stories of others told . . .

*But the colors we cheer,
And the names we revere,
Belong to Maroon and Gold.*

*There's a glorious past,
There are names that will last,
There's a spirit that sends a call . . .*

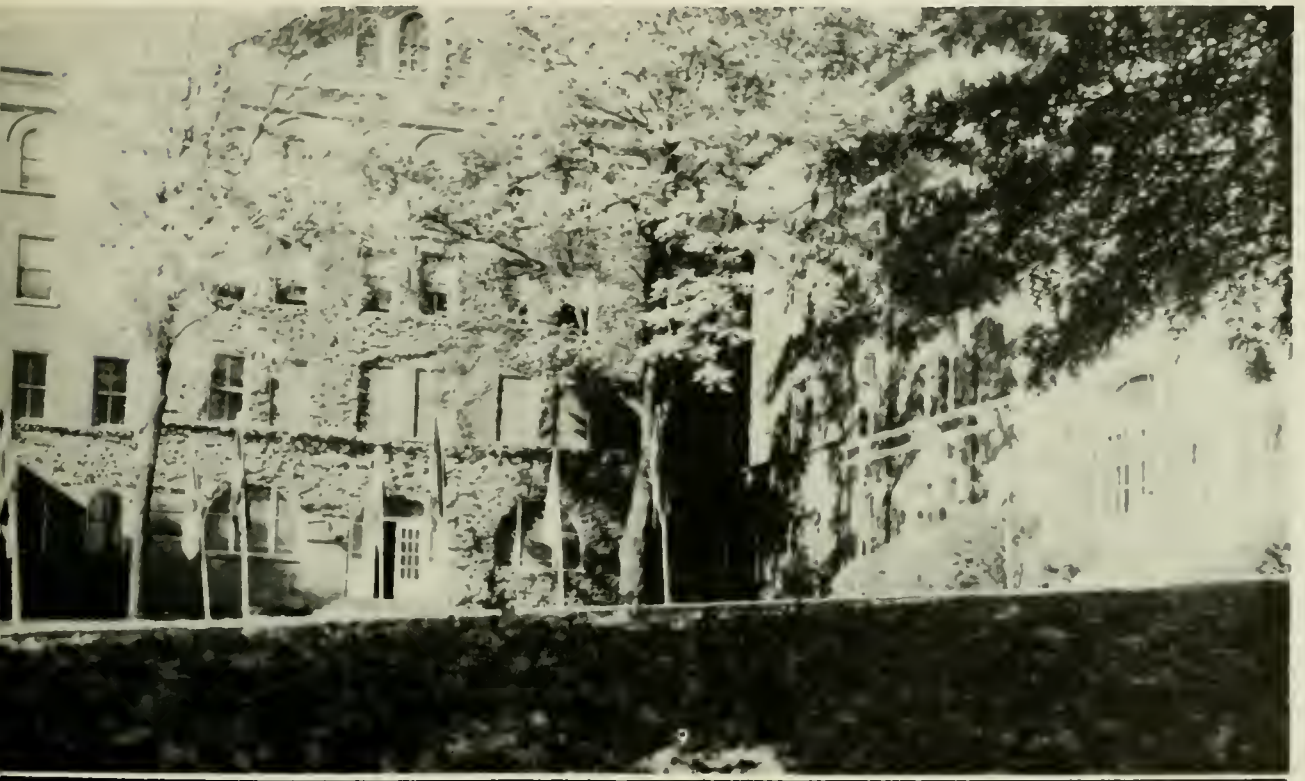

*Here's a team to defend,
Here's our pledge to the end,
To the colors that must not fall.*

*All together now
for Bloomsburg
Take the colors to the goal...*

*Another score
for Alma Mater
Another victory on the scroll...*

*All together now
for Bloomsburg,
Maroon and Gold
in every play . . .*

*It's the spirit of old Bloomsburg,
It's the end of a perfect day.*

F A

The campus was deserted . . .

... save for the old gym getting a face-lifting ...

Then the door started opening to Long Porch ...

... Noetling Hall awoke from a brief slumber ...

... and the horde appeared.

Registration began ...

... and continued.

... the rush began for Dr. North's office.

Elementary seniors started thinkin'
" 'bout da kids" ...

Even before all the Frosh had their pictures taken ...

... and secondary students plunged back to Science Hall.

... cars began pulling up beside Navy Hall ...

The summer's gossip was exchanged ...

... we found Ed Jones was back ...

... and the bed-makers.

... as was "Little John" ...

We started studying ...

... and listening ...

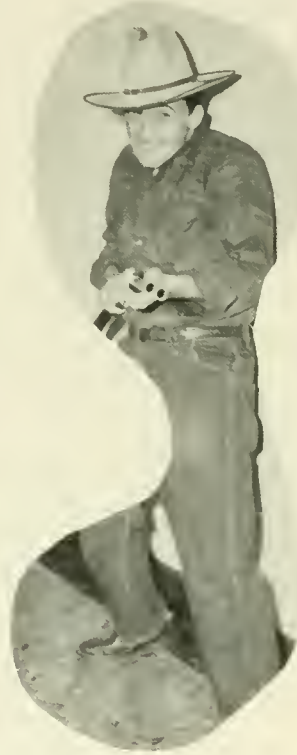

... and reviewing ...

... or talking ...

... or just acting normal?

... old friends got together ...

Mary started worrying 'bout a new squad ...

MARY HOFFECKER

... and then we discovered the Freshmen ...

... who started learning 'bout Customs ...

... and the Customs Committee.

They carried umbrellas . . .

. . . learned what was featured at the movies . . .

. . . and how to get to Wilkes for the football game.

And the seniors recalled bygone days . . .

. . . when Crisci wasn't president of anything yet.

So the Frosh ate (or threw) pie . . .

... reverted to childhood games ...

Football - 1953

After a good start in '53 by taking their first three opponents by sizeable margins, the Huskies' defense floundered against Scranton and they had to be satisfied with the short end of a 25-7 score.

In the following two weeks the Huskies eleven took two close ones from California and New Haven, and then were beaten in the all-important conference championship game against West Chester on Mount Olympus. In the final game of the season, Lock Haven gave them little resistance and they finished the season with a victory.

Basketball 1953-54

The Husky cage squad was unable to keep its State Teachers College championship, but did come out ahead on the scoreboard with a record of 9 wins and 7 losses. One of the outstanding accomplishments of the campaign was the 101 points scored over Cheyney, the first time B.S.T.C. has gone over the century mark in basketball scoring.

The team this year will lose only two men, seniors Jerry Kopec and Joe Ondrula.

Baseball 1953

Lack of experience and some bad weather kept the 1953 Huskies from continuing the pace set in previous years. However, they did come through with a better than average six win, four loss record. The Huskies were able to take their teacher college rivals in stride, beating West Chester, Mansfield, Kutztown and Millersville, but losing to Lock Haven twice in bitterly fought contests.

Mr. Shelly's track and field men were unable to come up with a victory last spring, but what was lacking in team scoring was made up by the skill of several freshmen who carried most of the load.

These four men averaged ten points apiece per meet. Using them as a nucleus, the Husky track squad should come up with something in '54.

. . . the purposes of a yearbook are so numerous, to list them would be an impossibility. In this volume we have tried to capture Bloomsburg—everything it is—everything it stands for. In doing so we have revised many strongly embedded procedures: we have abandoned or supplemented the others.

We have followed life here as it occurred—through its environment of flaming color, of coldness and white, of blossoming greenness. Here are people, buildings, and scenery. In a year from now, a decade from now, with God's help a generation from now, pick up a slightly worn volume entitled Obiter 1954. If in leafing through its pages you suddenly pause a moment and smile a little, or laugh, or even sigh—if the three ingredients we have included start arranging themselves in a sweeping flood of memories—then our work will not have been in vain, and any purpose we might have had will be completely fulfilled.

THE HONORABLE
EDWARD MARTIN
United States Senator

To the Senior Class of B.S.T.C.:

Bloomsburg State Teachers College has contributed over the years many of the finest educators in our great Commonwealth. I was tremendously pleased to learn that this year's class will include more than 150 more future teachers.

I have always felt, based upon my personal experiences, that teaching is one of the most rewarding of all professions. It is assuredly one of the most important.

I congratulate each and every one of you, both upon the completion of your undergraduate work and upon the high purpose and dedication with which you have chosen this magnificent profession. Your opportunities are limitless and the challenge is almost beyond belief.

I send you every good wish.

Sincerely,

EDWARD MARTIN

THE HONORABLE
JAMES H. DUFF
United States Senator

To the Class of 1954:

I am very glad to have this opportunity to congratulate you, the new graduates of the State Teachers College at Bloomsburg.

It is heartening to know that over 150 well-trained young people will be joining the teaching force in our Commonwealth. As a Pennsylvanian I am proud of the high standards of education which prevail throughout the public school system in our state and I fully appreciate the spirit of dedication and self-sacrifice which has inspired many of you to become teachers.

Your imprint upon the future is assured from the moment you first step into a classroom. I know you will accept the challenge in the fine tradition of which your Alma Mater can truly boast.

Sincerely,

THE HONORABLE
JOHN S. FINE
Governor
Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

To the Class of 1954:

I have always believed that the real hope of democracy lies in education. There is no more important work than that which good teachers do in guiding young Americans along the paths of learning.

The teacher's task requires sound men and women who think clearly, who are guided by high ethical standards, who teach with an honesty of purpose, and who are loyal to their high duty and responsibility. These characteristics of the good teacher give dignity to the teaching profession.

You who are about to enter the classrooms of our Commonwealth as the teachers of Pennsylvania's children face a wonderful and exciting challenge. On your shoulders will rest the responsibility for building into good citizens the young people who will advance our Commonwealth and nation to a higher point than we have ever known before, and who will at the same time preserve the heritage of our democracy.

To each of you at Bloomsburg, my best wishes for success and happiness in your chosen field.

Cordially,

A large, stylized handwritten signature in black ink, which appears to read "John S. Fine". The signature is written in a cursive style with large, sweeping loops and is positioned above the printed name.

FRANCIS B. HAAS
State Superintendent of Public Instruction

A Message for the Graduating Class of 1954:

To you, the graduates of the Class of 1954, I pass on the challenging message contained in a curious document written in 1798 but not published until one hundred and twenty-four years later—in 1922.

William Manning, a New England farmer, wrote an essay with the title "The Key of Liberty." Mr. Manning's argument was compressed into these words: "Learning and Knowledge is essential to the preservation of Liberty and unless we have more of it among us we Cannot Seporte our Libbertyes Long."

In these crucial mid-century years, America is looking to the schools to make our youth socially competent, morally responsible, and unswervingly patriotic citizens. It is gratifying to know that year after year your Alma Mater is sending forth well-prepared teachers to render the service needed by our Commonwealth and by our Nation.

My sincerest congratulations and best wishes to you all.

Cordially,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Francis B. Haas". The signature is written in dark ink and is positioned below the typed name.

FRANCIS B. HAAS

To the Seniors of 1954:

Life is now your college.

As you go from your Alma Mater, you take with you the hopes, prayers, and well wishes of not only your parents, friends, and classmates, but also of those whom you leave behind at Bloomsburg.

In the profession of teaching, please remember that in the beginning the student is more interested in the teacher than what the teacher teaches. Human relationships are more important than the facts written in books.

To have had a part in your college years has been a gratifying experience of

Harvey A. Andruss

DR. THOMAS P. NORTH
Dean of Instruction

To the members of the Class of 1954:

This message is written at the very turn of the New Year, a year that will be memorable in the lives of many who read this Obit. To some, it will be a year of gladness and accomplishment; to others, one of sadness, and in too many cases a time of failure, because of inability for self discipline.

To all of you we extend out best wishes, and pray that you will strive for your share of the riches of the immortals.

Sincerely yours,

THOMAS P. NORTH
Dean of Instruction

Dr. North—twenty-five years of service to Bloomsburg.

JOHN A. HOCH

Dean of Men

To the Class of 1954:

Congratulations to you who in a very few weeks will change your title from "student" to "faculty." May your training at Bloomsburg lead you to awaken in your students a knowledge of their potentialities and help you to guide them toward effecting those potentials. Then may you earn the satisfying titles—friendly, understanding, patient, helpful—the titles awarded without fanfare to a successful teacher by his grateful students.

Sincerely yours,

ELIZABETH B. MILLER
Dean of Women

To the Class of 1954:

Commencement is a time for looking back, and this book will help you to remember the high spots of your life at Bloomsburg. Commencement is also a time for looking ahead. We who have followed you through these last four years will miss you, and we hope you will return often as alumni. As you leave to measure yourselves against the demands of life, we wish you that real success which satisfies the heart.

Sincerely yours,

JOHN A. HOCH

WILLIAM JACOBS
President, Class of 1954

MR. EARL A. GEHRIG
Senior Class Advisor

My fellow graduates:

You are entitled to be proud that within a short time you will be bringing to a close your college career at Bloomsburg. Many sacrifices have been made by you and your families in order that you could reach this accomplished goal. May I be one of the first to offer my sincere congratulations.

With the sacrifices have come many rewards. It will not be long until you look back upon the many happy memories that come from within these ivied walls. Bloomsburg will leave a mark upon you that can never be erased; likewise, you will leave behind your records—some to be excelled, others never to be equaled, but none that can be replaced.

You are about to embark into a bigger school of learning than the one you are leaving. Abraham Lincoln once said, "I will prepare myself, and my chance will come." The years ahead offer many challenges to you to use the knowledge you have gained here. Use it wisely! Most of you will be helping others to improve their worth. With extraordinary perseverance, many experiments, and a great deal of patience, you can master your problems and attain all of your goals.

I want to thank you for the honor and privilege it was to serve as your class president. It is my heartfelt wish that life may be filled with much happiness for you and yours.

Sincerely,

William Jacobs
