STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE
BLOOMSBURG, PENNSYLVANIA

To the Readers:

Each one of your four years at Bloomsburg State Teachers College has been or will be a year all its own.

In this year's edition of the OBITER we have told the story of this year at Bloomsburg. We have not attempted to recapture every memorable occurrence, our space being limited, but we have endeavored to depict many important happenings in our college life.

We hope that most of your memories are the same as ours and that the 1959 OBITER will serve as your memory book of the year 1958-1959 during the many years ahead.

THE STORY OF THE YEAR

The story of the year 1958-1959 began in September 1958. While many were enjoying those last few days on the New Jersey beaches, Bloomsburg was once again taking the appearance of a college, as freshmen poured in to be orientated in a new way of living. They soon learned where to get something to eat, and the route to the nearest movie theatre. They quickly made new friends, heard tall tales from upperclassmen, became familiar with the campus, and developed the art of mountain climbing, all in just a few days.

The upperclassmen returned with stories of wild and adventurous summers. It was widely agreed that the vacation had been the best part of the past year. Everyone longed for those free summer days. All too soon we found ourselves climbing to Navy Hall to complete registration for the new semester. The freshmen were indoctrinated into the "hurry up and wait" routine of the long lines, but the upperclassmen were quick to inform them that things were much better now than in the "old days." Again we heard the familiar cries of "Oh, no! Not five 8 o'clocks again." "$11 for two books!" and "Who do I see to drop this course?"

The first day of classes arrived and the freshmen rushed out at 7:45 carrying all their books, while the upperclassmen sauntered out at 8:05 after a two-minute breakfast in the Lounge. The Elementary and Secondary students, along with the Special Education majors, made their way between Science Hall, Noetling Hall, and Centennial Gymnasium, while the Business students soon discovered that Navy Hall was to be their home for the next four years.

During the next week "buttons, frosh" echoed across the campus. Freshmen appeared in some rather ridiculous "get-ups." The upperclassmen, spirited by the Customs Committee, made sure that these new additions to our college didn't get too lonely or bored. After a week of fun, we all settled down to the routine of another year.

Academically, the first round of tests came and went, and we regarded our instructors with mixed feelings. "This is the toughest year yet" was the general cry from the upperclassmen, while the frosh just sighed and decided that college wasn't all fun.

Football season brought new heroes. Ginny Hardy's enthusiastic cheering squad led a loyal student body in rooting for the Huskies. Mr. Miller's Maroon and Gold Band and Molly Mattern's majorettes provided enlightening half-time entertainment.

Homecoming weekend was soon upon us. The clubs, fraternities, and dormitories were busy dreaming up ideas for the parade. Wood had been gathered for the bonfire. Friday night began at the pep rally where the team was cheered. After the bonfire, some relaxed and some danced to records in the Husky Lounge. The Maroon and Gold Band awakened a few sleepy Waller Hall residents on Saturday morning as they entertained alumni, friends, faculty, and students with a concert on the Carver Hall lawn. The efforts of many were viewed by the judges as they watched the parade from their ring-side seats in front of the Capitol. After lunch at the Commons, the College community and weekend guests made their way to Mount Olympus to view the annual Homecoming football game. The traditional cider and doughnuts were enjoyed as friends and students chatted about past years at Bloomsburg. Dinner at the Commons and dancing at Centennial Gym was the agenda for the evening. All too soon the orchestra was playing the last strains of "Good Night, Sweetheart" as friends and alumni bid farewell.

The annual Varsity Club Dance was another outstanding event on our social calendar. Suspense dominated until a lovely Bloomsburg coed was crowned as Varsity Club Queen.

Thanksgiving vacation arrived. Parents listened patiently to a story of how a deficiency slip, which preceded some students home, was the Dean's mistake, but they were not impressed. Vacation ended quickly, as always, and we headed back to school determined to do better.

Winter made herself known to our campus. Climbing to Centennial Gym and Navy Hall through the snow and ice made those 8 o'clocks even more miserable. The basketball and wrestling fanatics replaced the avid football fans. We were counting the days on our calendars until Christmas vacation. Much excitement preceded the first big dance of the year. The sophomore Cotillion will long be a night to remember. After a week of spiriting, the Waller Hall women exchanged gifts and ate heartily at a party in the Husky Lounge. The freshmen were overwhelmed by the beauty of our campus during the Christmas season while the upperclassmen once again became just a bit melancholy at the sight of the many gaily decorated trees.

The three and a half shortest weeks of the year were too soon a thing of the past and we were back again at the "friendly college." Our campus was soon hit by an epidemic of "test fever," a disease whose symptoms are contemplation of studying and whose remedy is simply study. Tests were soon over, the writer's cramp healed, and good-by to another semester.

A new semester began, and everyone had the chance to start anew. Many seniors returned to classes while others anxiously took over their student teaching positions. Academically, the second semester was much like the first, although it seemed just a few weeks longer. The freshmen had their first real stab at social life as they spent many hours planning their "Hop." A night to remember for a starry-eyed coed as Nikki Scheno, gracious 1958 Coed of the Year, crowned her successor.

The Husky Lounge "buzzed" as the school's politicians participated in an exciting campaign to elect the new CGA officers. Colorful posters, campaign speeches, election rallies, and a few promises preceded the big day. Five happy candidates celebrated their victories.

The sports page of the Maroon and Gold made a quick change to baseball and track. Three o'clock classes in Navy Hall seemed to be more popular now to those who were lucky enough to have window seats.

Once again bags were being packed for another vacation. Parties filled the calendars of some, while others had reserved their Easter vacation to begin research on term papers that were due in a few short weeks. Memories of this relaxing week were soon interrupted by more term papers, reports, picture files, and piles of unfinished work. Most of us were positive that we would never complete this semester's work.

Another night to remember. The junior class upheld its reputation and came forth with a perfect spring night to add to a sparkling Junior Prom.

Many hours spent in the Husky Lounge, pinochle games in the "smoker," rocking on Long Porch, listening to our favorite records on the Hi-Fi, or just casual walks downtown provided much relaxation during our leisure hours.

We were soon given the opportunity to elect a Bloomsburg coed as May Queen. The last minute touches were made to the May Day program, while the many participants paraded to Centennial Gymnasium daily to practice for this gala event. A sunny spring day set the scene as many friends and relatives from near and far watched Ron Romig, CGA President, crown the May Queen, and viewed the talent of the Benjamin Franklin Training School students along with the fine program of the college students. The traditional winding of the Maypoles gave much festive color to an invigorating day. The annual May Day Dance in Centennial Gym brought May Day to a fine climax.

The finishing touches were being made to this semester's work when another epidemic of "test fever" hit our campus. Spending many hours in the library, followed by burning the midnight oil for a few nights, seemed to be the best remedy. A look around our campus—the terraces, the courtyard, and Long Porch—showed evidences that many had also developed "spring fever."

Seniors were busy sending invitations, receiving graduation gowns that were too short, being fitted for gowns and dinner jackets for the Ball, signing contracts for that position that wasn't exactly what they wanted but close to home with long vacations, attending Honor Assembly and Ivy Day Exercises, practicing for graduation, and rushing to several "on-the-spur-of-the-moment" parties. Underclassmen were still taking finals, finding rooms in Waller or North Hall or a nice quiet apartment downtown, and packing in their spare time.

And then came the day when Long Porch took on a very strange appearance—boxes, trunks, and sad-looking animals filled every available space. "Write soon," or "See you on the beach," seemed to dominate the conversation on this sunny spring day. Happiness to be going home was slightly overshadowed by "You know, I think I'm going to miss this place."

While freshmen, sophomores, and juniors were making their way home, the "up-on-a-cloud" seniors were getting ready for a big night—the Senior Banquet and Ball. After the greatest night ever, many traveled home to rest up for the big day. In the meantime, alumni returned to campus to meet and chat with former classmates and friends.

Graduation day! The day that seemed to be so far away was here. The class of 1959 proudly paraded to Centennial Gymnasium, reminiscing over four short years—their problems and achievements—and happily thinking about the many years ahead—their opportunities and challenges.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

A Message to the Class of 1959:

“Human history becomes more and more a race between education and catastrophe,” wrote H. G. Wells more than three decades ago.

If this is true, teachers will have a great deal to do with the shaping of things to come.

That you may face this task with hope, confidence, and faith in the future, is the reasonable expectation of your Alma Mater.

To the Graduates of 1959:

Commencement is a time for looking ahead, but it is also a time for looking back. If, in looking back, you see that you have "lived" these four years, you may look ahead and expect to derive pleasure from your work and appreciation from those with whom you work; for college is more than preparation for life. A college education is life. It is my hope that you have proof of having lived these years at college.

May you enjoy professional success and happiness.

Sincerely,

Elizabeth B. Miller

DEAN OF WOMEN

Mrs. Miller receives students at the All-College Reception.

To the Seniors of 1959:

It is with particular interest and feeling that I extend congratulations and best wishes to this class of 1959. It seems just yesterday that we both entered Bloomsburg State Teachers College for the first time. During these last four years we have enjoyed new experiences—academic, social, and cultural—which I hope, have improved our respective preparation for the work we do in education.

We have experienced many changes at Bloomsburg during this time—increased enrollment, new buildings, academic requirements, and changes that naturally come with progress. In helping you to adjust to these changes it is our hope that we have helped prepare you for future service to Education—one of man's most vital needs.

DEAN OF MEN

Dean Blair gives last-minute instructions to Ozzie.

To graduating Seniors:

To say that the road ahead will be a smooth one would be to disillusion you; to say that it will be a challenging and sometimes frightening one would be staying more within the bounds of actuality. For in this world of increasing tension and turmoil, we need, more than ever, young men and women provident enough to see the rewards of hard work and straight thinking and the perils and disappointment in apathy. We hope that, during the past four years, we have prepared you well for the task that is cut out for you. Be proud of the profession you have chosen, and we will be proud of you.

CGA Standing Committees are part of the framework of the governmental system of the school. Every aspect of government essential to the college community is represented by a committee comprised of members of the student body. The chairmen of these committees are responsible to the Vice President of CGA who is Chairman Ex-Officio of each committee.

Individually, each committee has a specific job to do. The student body may make suggestions or offer advice to the chairman. The total picture shows, however, that these duties of the committees overlap. As a result, the problems of the school are sufficiently covered, and the governmental duties are thus performed.

ATHENAEUM CLUB

The purpose of the Athenaeum Club is to familiarize students with many types of music. During the year the members listen to records and discuss various aspects of the compositions. The programs are diversified, and include selections ranging from classical to progressive jazz.

Through listening to the music and discussing the compositions, the members gain a better knowledge of and deeper interest in music.

AVIATION CLUB

The Aviation Club, a co-educational organization, was formed with the purpose of stimulating and developing an interest in flying. The only requirement for admission is an interest in aviation.

During the meetings, which are held twice a month, the members study and discuss various aspects of aviation. This year excursions were made to the radar station and Bloomsburg Airport.

Mr. W. Bradford Sterling is the club's advisor.

"B" CLUB

"B" Club has been established to foster a spirit of co-operation and sportsmanship, and to create a greater interest in athletics among the women of the college.

Any woman in the college is eligible for membership in the club if she can earn 500 points through participation in athletic events during the school year.

"B" Club meets twice a month and plans projects such as their spring camp-out, which is held during a weekend in April. This camp-out, it is hoped, will soon become a traditional activity at B.S.T.C. They also worked simultaneously with the Varsity Club on its project, the "Sportsmen's Holiday."

POETRY CLUB

The Poetry Club meets on the second and fourth Thursday of each month in the Social Rooms of Science Hall. Membership is open to all students.

All members join in the informal group study of poetry and through this develop a sound appreciation and become acquainted with its fundamentals. This increases their enjoyment of creating, reading, and discussing this type of literature. Thus, the Poetry Club fulfills its goals, and also brings to students a more complete background.

The College Choraleers is an organization that endeavors to provide an enjoyable and purposeful singing group. Membership is open to all male and female students who enjoy singing and are able to attend rehearsals. This year the chorus has been divided into two groups, a men's glee club and a women's glee club. The programs presented included selections by each of the groups and also numbers by the combined chorus.

The year's activities included a program presented for the Annual Conference for Teachers and Administrators and Christmas selections recorded and broadcast nationally. The group, in addition, presented various other concerts and programs for both college students and the townspeople. Through its many activities the Choraleers provided much musical enjoyment for our college community.

Mr. Nelson Miller and Mrs. Jane Evans are co-directors of the Choraleers.

MAROON AND GOLD BAND

Student musicians, a capable director, and an interested and appreciative student body—these are the elements that are combined to make the Maroon and Gold Band one of the finest organizations on campus.

The services this group performs for the college community are numerous. During football season the fast stepping marching band can be seen at all football games, pep rallies, and parades, doing its part to cheer the Huskies on to victory. After football season is over our marching band then becomes a concert band which presents many interesting and varied programs for the enjoyment of both the college community and the residents of the surrounding areas.

SCIENCE CLUB

If you are interested in either the biological or physical sciences, then more likely than not you are a member of one of the more popular clubs on campus, the Science Club.

It is the purpose of this organization to study and discuss topics dealing with the various branches of these sciences. This is accomplished through the use of films, lectures, group discussion, and an annual all-day field trip.

Through membership in this organization, a much more thorough understanding of science and the role it plays in our lives is acquired.

STUDENT EDUCATION ASSOCIA

The SEAP endeavors to promote professional interests and activities, to develop professional educational standards, and to strengthen teacher-student relationships. The various projects of this chapter prove very profitable to the college community as a whole.

The most outstanding activity proving most beneficial is the tutoring service. Since the organization is composed of juniors and seniors of the three curriculums, these upperclassmen are capable of tutoring those students desiring help.

The entire program is designed to meet the needs of students, as well as to aid student teachers in their experiences.

SEATED: D. Barnhart, President; S. Stetler, Secretary. STANDING: C. Higby, Vice President; Mr. Clayton H. Hinkel, Advisor; R. Henry, Treasurer.

The purpose of the Student Christian Association is to advance the knowledge of Christian Fellowship on the campus, to create a better understanding of the Bible, and to better realize the importance of religion in life.

Each meeting includes prayer and worship. Programs may consist of group discussion on pertinent subjects, talks by interesting speakers, film-strips, and special services, such as seasonal parties or All-College Vespers.

This year the SCA made Christmas cards for the Bloomsburg Hospital and sent two representatives to the National YMCA Conference over the Christmas holidays. During National Brotherhood Week in February, the organization presented an assembly program for the benefit of the college students.

(2) Associate—students who have completed the first year, and have an active interest in training in the field. (3) Key Members—Advanced students in the field with a 2.7 average. The Alpha Delta Chapter of Pi Omega Pi is a Professional Business Education Fraternity fostering its aims to encourage, promote, extend, and create interest and scholarship in commerce, to aid civic betterment in colleges, to encourage and foster high ethical standards in business and professional life, and to teach the idea of service as the basis of all worthy enterprise.

A second semester sophomore standing scholastic rating of 2.3 and two semesters credit in the Business Education Club are required for initiation into the fraternity.

This year, being the Business Department's 30th anniversary, the organization's main project was bringing the fraternity's alumni file up to date, making a summary of this information, and sending it to the members. Additional projects were preparing name tags for business conferences, and helping with registration at these conferences.

Problems, Coach Blair?

This year's Husky team, under the coaching of Walt Blair in his second year as head coach, provided the record books with many outstanding statistics. The Huskies began the season in a blaze of power and continued their outstanding championship play throughout the year. The Husky brawn boasted a five win, two loss and one tie record. The Huskies never let up until the final gun sounded.

COACH RUSSEL HOUK

The Husky matmen had the best year since their organization. Veterans Jim Garman, Bob Rohm, Dick Rimple, Stan Elinsky, and Bob Asby, strengthened by outstanding freshmen like Maynard Aungst and Gary Allen, brought forth a team that will be hard to match by coach Russell Houk during future wrestling seasons at B.S.T.C.

The Husky wrestlers made a very good showing at the Wilkes' Tournament with Jim Garman placing third in his weight class. The team exhibited exceptional talent in its wins and was defeated only by the top area squads. The boys were always in there fighting and B.S.T.C. can long be proud of the 1958-59 Husky wrestlers.

BASEBALL-1958

Once again our baseball team, led by their new coach, Walter Blair, boasted a winning season. From the very beginning it was evident that our club was out to win. Although there were some rough spots during the season, Coach Blair quickly ironed them out and the team went on to display its talents in the typical Bloomsburg fashion. The Husky baseball team ended the season in second place in the Pennsylvania State Teachers College Athletic Conference.

A JOURNEY INTO DARKNESS

Scene from the top of the Loree Breaker.

In April of 1958, 24 members of Dr. De Voe's Nineteenth Century Novel Class visited the Loree Colliery at Plymouth, Pennsylvania, as an outgrowth of reading Zola's GERMINAL, a story dealing with coal mining in northern France during the 1860's. Students and faculty members were the guests of the Hudson Coal Company, Scranton, Pennsylvania. After visiting the Loree Colliery, the group proceeded to the Morgan Shaft at Larksville where they were dropped six hundred feet below the surface in a cage in approved miner fashion and where they witnessed the dangerous operation of "robbing pillars."

SENIORS

Dear Fellow Graduates:

We are in the twilight of our long day at Bloomsburg. As our work here draws to a close, it is appropriate that we judge, each to himself, what Bloomsburg has meant to us and in turn what we may have meant to it. Our professional future will be largely governed by the training, knowledge, and growth that we have acquired in partaking of Bloomsburg's academic offerings and the meaningfulness of our personal lives will be determined to a large degree by the personal contacts and experiences that we have had here. On the other hand, every class leaves its mark on Bloomsburg and we, certainly, are no exception. During the last four years our class, through its academic and social performance, has subtly enhanced the image of Bloomsburg State Teachers College. So it is that though we are taking much from our college, it is not without contributing something of ourselves to it.

As we look back over the years here at the college, we find ourselves engulfed by a bitter-sweet stream of poignant remembrances. For each one of us they are different, but as a class, that from the first possessed a strong esprit de corps, we share a common history with like memories. But let us not long occupy ourselves with things that are past. Soon we will be graduated, an event that will be a monumental milestone in the history of our lives. But as commencement nears and we prepare to say good-bye to each other and to the school, may we be mindful of the parental sacrifices that made it possible, and may we take heart and gird ourselves for those vicissitudes which will follow graduation. Let us carry into the world those experiences that we have had here at Bloomsburg and may they help us become useful members of our society and achieve a personal success while serving to our utmost the cause of mankind.

Speaking for the class, I should like to extend our sincere and grateful thanks to: our President, our Faculty, our Parents, the Board of Trustees, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and our class advisors—Mr. Miller, Mr. Hilgar, Mr. Stradtman, and Dr. Seronsy—who have spent much time and effort in our behalf.

It has been a great honor serving you as president and I should like to take this opportunity to wish you success in whatever you may undertake and may your thoughts often return to your former classmates and to the Bloomsburg State Teachers College.

Sincerely,

Donald Ker

WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN

Recognition by WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES means that the student was, first, officially recommended from the university or college he attends and, then, accepted by the organization.
