Student Life

By Ruby Schuon and Sherri Zechman

8:00 a.m. the alarm goes off. "Oh no!" "I have an eight o'clock class and my research paper is due!" How familiar that sounds to college students. The element of rushing around from dorm to class and class to dorm is part of a student's life at BSC.

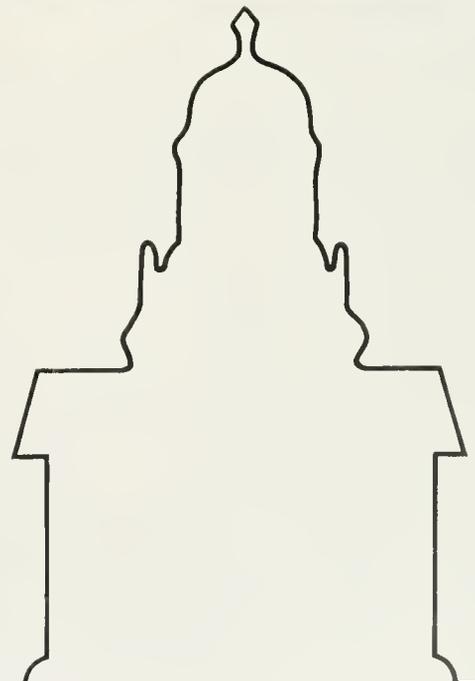

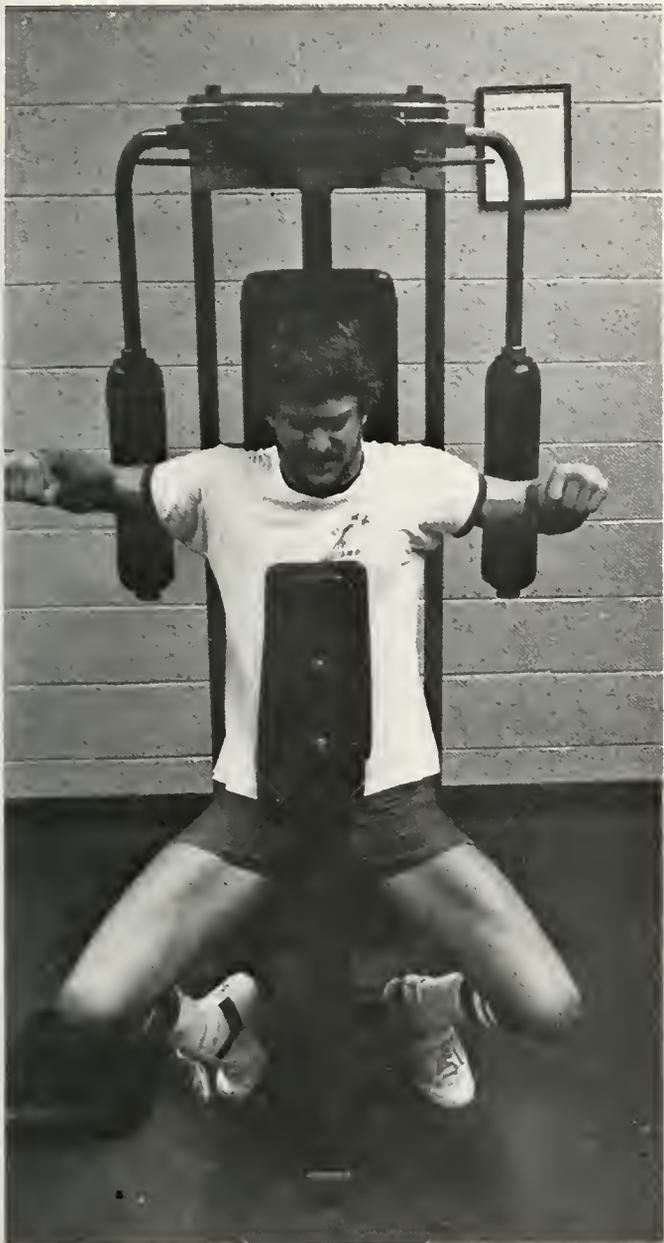

A student is faced with attempting to organize his schedule from going to classes, working, and maintaining a fulfilling social life. One way students handle this juggling act of their lives is by enjoying the social life offered here at BSC. Partaking in the festive party atmosphere proves to be rewarding for meeting new people. Some festivities offered range from new wave parties, to beach parties with real sand.

The Union offers a highlight to the daily activities of students. Billiards, bowling, pinball and video games, and ping pong are available. A snack can be enjoyed in the snack bar area, or one can talk and study with friends in the Presidents' Lounge. The Union is the center of life for all on and off campus students.

Most of all, BSC offers students a chance to live the kind of life they want. The unique student life offered can be found in friendships, classes, living arrangements, and most importantly, the individual himself.

A Home Away From Home

What does the smell of freshly popped popcorn, doing laundry for the first time, watching soaps in the T.V. lounge, and keeping late hours in the study lounge bring to mind? Dorm life, a student's home away from home.

Life in a dorm can be very fulfilling, but it's only what you, the student, put into it. Special events are organized to better familiarize everyone with each other. There are decorating and various events for homecoming, date parties, rollerskating parties, and mixers with other dorms.

Though dorm life sounds like a bowl of cherries, there are some simple regulations that go along with it. Signing guests in and out is highly suggested, especially in single sex dorms. Fire drills are nice to have every now and then at 1:00 a.m. in the morning.

If you plan on staying out late, don't forget your I.D. It might be helpful if you plan on getting back in your dorm.

Even though a resident dorm family has its disputes; it is indeed our home away from home.

Off-Campus Living Provides Unique Life-Style

Cooking your own meals to paying high PP & L bills are things experienced by students living off campus. Moving off campus provides the opportunity to live a preferable style of life. There are no time restrictions for returning home, or rules for signing in a visitor.

One advantage of off-campus living is preparing what you want to eat. You can prepare many types of culinary delights from hot dogs to peanut butter and jelly sandwiches. Granted, it's not home cooking, but it beats the Commons by far.

Another advantage of off-campus living, directed toward those who love to entertain, is the ability to have social gatherings. You decide how long, and how many people you want to entertain. Expenses arising from such social gatherings are important factors to be taken into consideration.

If you're cold-blooded during the winter then off-campus living is for you! This is one area where students become conservative. Lowering the thermostat is a common practice, especially when monthly bills roll around.

Living off-campus gives everyone an insight to the responsibilities undertaken while maintaining a home of your own. Most of all it prepares students for a life style of their own in the real world.

Hamburgers Again?

Long lines, dirty silverware, and crowded tables were common when students entered the college dining hall. BSC was faced with a new food service this year and along with it came new ideas: dipping your own ice cream, more variety in the salad bar, and a larger selection of beverages.

Although H.W. Wood Food Service, from Allentown, faced difficulties at the start of the fall semester, adjustments were made and students were more satisfied.

Special night dinners broke up the monotony of roast beef, fish, and pasta with tomato sauce. The most popular was steak night, including onion rings and baked potatoes with sour cream. Other successful special nights included Halloween dinner, picnic night, Valentine's Day dinner, and fast food night.

Ticket punching became obsolete once the computerized meal tickets were introduced to the Commons. Though the word "error" lit up quite often, the system proved to be time-saving and accurate in the long run.

Whether the food be good or bad, the Commons is the place to satisfy those hunger pangs encountered by all.

Satisfying Those Dreaded Hunger Pangs

It's late at night and you're starving. What do you do? Pick up your phone and order out. Luigi's will deliver anything, from pizza to cheesesteaks to fill your empty stomach. Other popular places to eat are Sal's, Berrigans, and Laubachs.

You say it's a hoagie you want, then Berrigans is the place to go for that item. They have the best hoagies around, and they're frequently sold by organizations on campus.

Sal's Place is always hopping with business on a Friday or Saturday night. Any after party craving for Italian food can be satisfied at Sal's.

Laubachs has a variety in selections. They're famous for "the best cheesesteaks in town."

Once you've tried all these places for good food and still aren't satisfied, there's only one thing left to do, take a trip to the Hotel Magee. If there's one thing Bloomsburg is noted for besides the college, it's the superb smorgasbord put out by the Magee.

Dining downtown can prove to be very fulfilling. With the variety offered, who could ask for a better selection.

Our Town

A second "Hometown." Well, maybe not quite, but Bloomsburg has made an indelible mark on every student at BSC.

For those from rural areas, Bloomsburg is much like home — perhaps it has a little more to offer. Getting adjusted is not such a big change. Suburbanites and those from cities appreciate the quiet interlude Bloomsburg provides from the frantic and fast-paced life-styles of their home areas.

Some common activities around town include window shopping and browsing in the local retail stores, going to church, catching the latest movie, and frequenting one of the local "watering holes." For the more active student, Bloomsburg has roller skating, bowling, and an excellent terrain for any level jogger or biker.

Bloomsburg is appealing for both its security and its appearance. Students feel quite safe in town — a change from having to look over one's shoulder. The hometown charm and character are there for any student looking for them. Without trying hard, Bloomsburg makes our stay at college an enjoyable one.

KUB . . . Center of All Things

Ask any student where the hub of activity is on campus, and they will tell you the Kehr Union or KUB for short. The Union serves as the social center and often the study center of a student's life.

The Kehr Union is equipped with a four lane bowling alley, snackbar, sectional multipurpose rooms, two lounges, and numerous offices. Some of the services provided are a bank, mail room, and nurses' station.

Some of the activities going on range from aerobics to pinball, cultural events to pool, watching television to just talking in the snackbar. The student publications are found in the Union as well as the radio station. The many conference rooms are used by the numerous organizations at BSC for meetings and activities.

The Coffeehouse and President's Lounge serve as a popular place to study, especially around final exam time. Mini-concerts are often held in these rooms. Perhaps one of the busiest spots on the whole campus is the Union Information Desk. The ladies do a great job at answering the numerous requests for information each day.

The Union is a multi-functional building — no matter what type of activity you are interested in you can find it at the KUB.

You Need It . . . The Store Has It

You can find just about everything you need at the College Store. Textbooks, the most important items, can be purchased at the school store with no problems, except for rising costs and long check out lines.

The store provides many services besides the sale of school supplies. It buys back used texts, which is a big help for those students seeking funds toward new texts. The store also has a drycleaning service, which is very handy. Need pictures developed? Just drop them off at the store and they'll have them processed in no time.

For those students who like a break from studying, check out the school store's supply on books, magazines, and newspapers. They carry reading material to please everyone. The store handles a fine selection of clothing with BSC emblems from T-shirts to winter jackets. These items make great gifts for people at home, or friends here at school.

When graduation day approaches, the place to get caps and gowns is the store. They also handle many different styles of class rings for those interested.

Though groceries can be purchased at the school store, it's not your typical grocery store. The school store supplies just about everything under the sun for college students.

Andruss at Work and Play

Get a book! Plan your social calendar! Come to Andruss Library! While most college libraries are used as a place to study and do research, BSC students have been innovative and use the library for these purposes and also as a social meeting place. And why not? Everyone needs a break while cramming for tests and finishing those papers.

However, 1982 has not been all fun and games for the Andruss Library. Problems have arisen with funding and space. The last few years have seen a dramatic decrease in the number of newspapers and other periodicals available to readers. This has been due mostly to a lack of funding. Also, much needed rearrangements have cut the amount of seating available to the consternation of students who like to do their work in the library.

The staff at Andruss has been doing their best in trying to facilitate the library users' needs and BSC students commend them for their work.

Learning — Form and Feeling

Learning — frustrating, challenging, exciting, stimulating, boring . . . these feelings are experienced by all students. As much as we complain about all the time we put into our studies, we realize that it will all pay off in the future. Our education will serve us well in not just doing our jobs better, but in coping with life in the “real world” better.

Learning can take many forms. It may be studying texts in a favorite spot or practicing scales and chords on a piano in Haas. Learning can be “simple” as looking at and observing the structure of the skeleton or just listening and taking notes during a lecture.

BSC provides one of the most enjoyable places to learn. We have good professors, well-kept facilities, and a beautiful outdoor environment. The years spent at BSC learning are among the happiest in our lives.

I AM TRUSTY HUSKY AT YOUR SERVICE . . .

Waiting forever to get a terminal, short hours, and many frustrated people, are popular characteristics of the computer center at BSC. A limited number of terminals, and the increasing demand for computer courses, caused many problems in the computer center located in Ben Franklin. In the near future these problems will hopefully be solved by expanding the system and installing new terminals.

The computer center is utilized by many different areas on campus. It serves academic, administrative, and research communities on campus. Scheduling by students is totally relied upon by the system. Science students also use it to correct their lab experiments.

The system, UNIVAC 1100-21 has a main memory storage of one million characters of information. BASIC, COBOL, FORTRAN, and ASSEMBLER are typical examples of languages used on this system.

. . . TERMINAL INACTIVE

** ROOM F1 WILL REMAIN OPEN UNTIL 2:00 AM
AS DEMAND WARRANTS.

Quest Develops Mind and Body

Quest is a program for and about people, with its emphasis on participating and trying. It is learning through doing that helps individuals enjoy and utilize their hidden human potential.

Quest courses are open to everyone sixteen and above; both students and the community are encouraged to get involved. Reasonable rates, along with provided equipment, make these recreational opportunities hard to pass up.

Quest offered activities like sky diving in Hazleton, cross country skiing in Crystal Lakes, rock climbing in Mocanaqua, canoeing and rafting on the Lehigh River, spelunking, backpacking, and creative leadership workshops.

Building Body and Spirit

BSC students don't spend all their time worrying about academics. Most like to spend some of their time exercising — keeping their bodies and their spirits fit. Indoors or outdoors, students can be seen exercising anywhere on campus. Many jog, play basketball, play tennis, throw frisbee, swim at Nelson or Centennial, dance to aerobic music, or play street hockey on the Tri-level . . .

Street hockey at the Tri-level — a way to build genuine team spirit as well as keeping the body fit. This past spring there were seventeen street hockey teams; each working actively together. Hockey was not only a sport for the participants, but became a real social event at BSC with hundreds of spectators cheering on their favorite teams.

Academics

By: Lynne E. Miller and Queta Schuerch

"Quality education" has been the theme of the McCormick administration in the past, but educational quality of BSC was one of the prime concerns of faculty and administration this year as the economic crunch put a squeeze on everyone's budget, including the college's. Even though the college's spending was curtailed in some areas, we have received a quality education that we can all be very proud of.

However, our education doesn't only include what we have learned in our classrooms, but also encompasses our interpersonal interactions with other students, staff, faculty, and administrators.

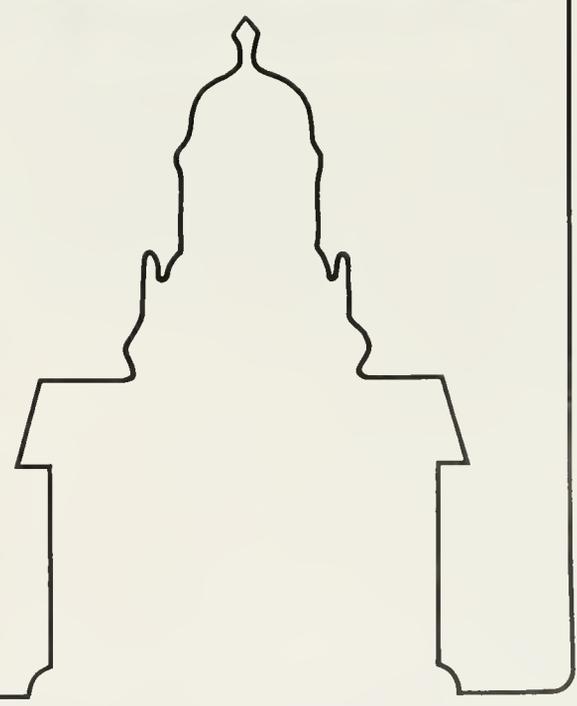

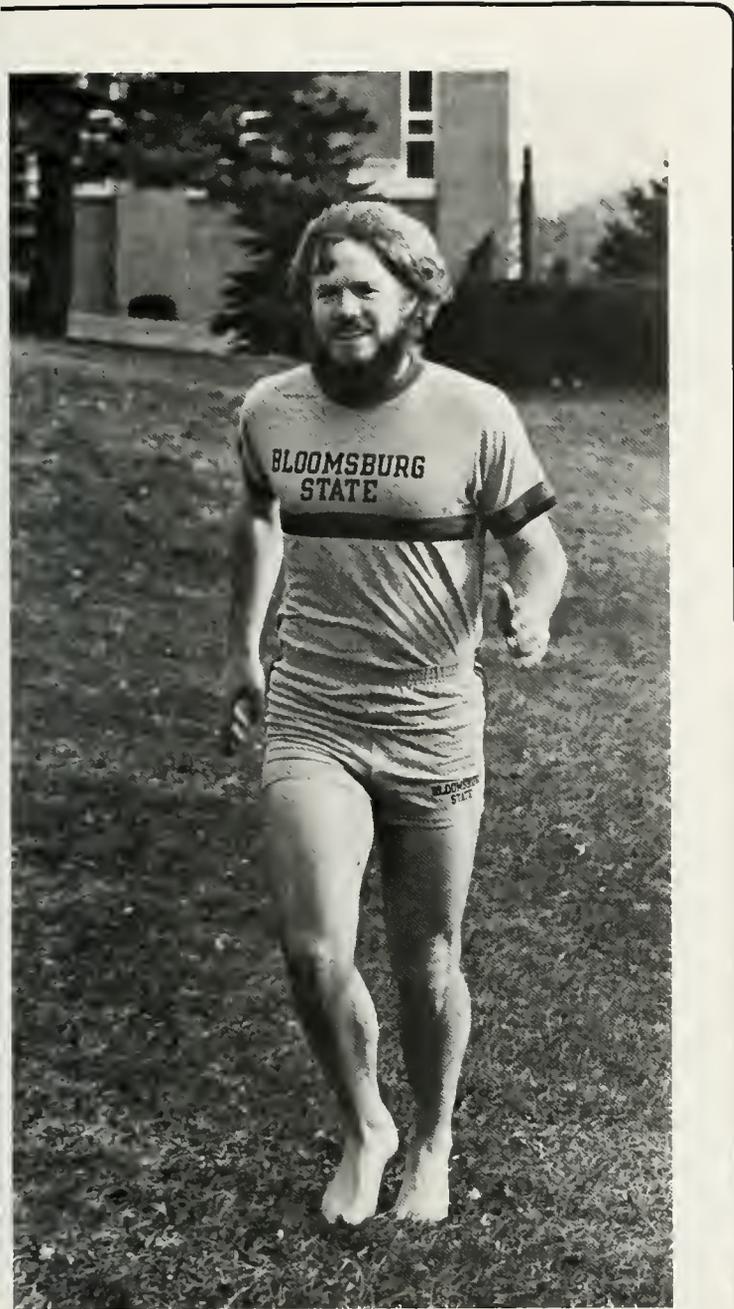

The faculty and administration at BSC view the students as people, as individuals, as human beings. Not just as a social security number hidden away in some computer for four years; not just as one of the masses that spends their time, then travels on their way. They see us as who we are and as what we are. And that's what makes the quality of our education so great . . . our one-on-one interactions with the faculty and administration.

It's rare at many other colleges to see students and faculty members having coffee together, talking together, or joking with each other. But at BSC, this occurs every day. It's not uncommon to see administrators casually chatting with students, it's not even uncommon to see the president of the college eating with students in the Commons.

And that's why we are all so close, that's why we learn, that's why we are who we are, and that's why BSC is what it is. They care about us, they really do, and as long as they continue to care, students will continue to learn. John Dewey, a famous educator, said this, "Education is a social process . . . Education is growth . . . Education is not a preparation for life; education is life itself." And our education at BSC is, in fact, life itself.

BLOOMSBURG STATE COLLEGE

THE PRESIDENT

AREA CODE 717
389-2111

Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania 17815

To the Class of 1982:

I appreciate this opportunity to extend to all members of the Class of 1982 my personal congratulations, and those of the faculty, staff, trustees, and alumni. You have achieved significant goals, and you have good reason to be proud.

The "Obiter" provides a pictorial review of only one of your years at Bloomsburg State College, but as you look through it now, or in the future, you can reflect on the events of earlier years that also gave meaning to your Bloomsburg experience.

With few exceptions, you arrived as individuals, probably a little apprehensive, and without personal ties or relationships with other students. You changed that. You acquired confidence in yourselves and your abilities, and direction for your lives. You formed lasting friendships and participated in activities that made the college experience both enjoyable and meaningful.

Most importantly, you became active members of an educational community committed to helping you develop attitudes, values, and social skills that will lead to personally satisfying and rewarding lives. I am confident that, as alumni, you will find that the college has fulfilled its commitment to you; I hope you will remain active members of the college community through involvement in alumni affairs.

I know you appreciate the support and encouragement you received from your families, just as the college acknowledges the support of taxpayers and their representatives in providing a substantial part of the cost of your education. Mention of finances will, of course, remind you of fee increases and other effects of inflation, but while you were here the college was successful in obtaining a more equitable share of appropriated funds, and Capital Budget funding for a new Human Services Center and other needed repairs and renovations. I appreciate the support many of you gave these and other efforts that have enabled Bloomsburg to maintain the high quality and integrity of its programs and retain its position of leadership in public higher education.

Bloomsburg State College wishes you well.

Sincerely,

Organizations

By: Kathy Bakay and Cathy McMenamain

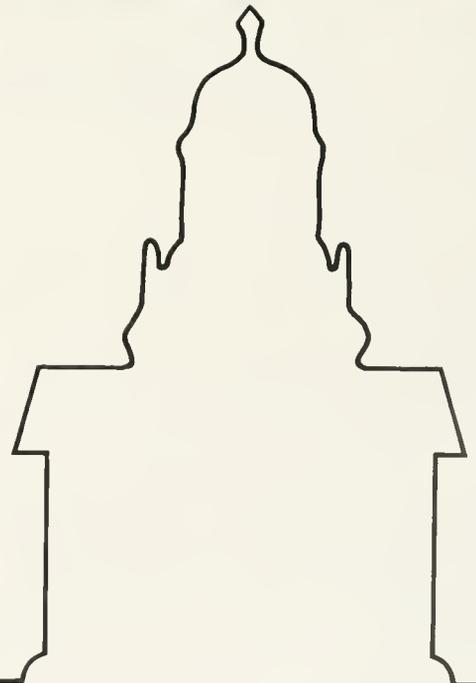

A large part of college life is becoming involved with the organizations on campus. Many people join organizations to meet new people and make new friends while others join to get involved in their prospective fields.

These groups differ greatly in both size and purpose. The size of these clubs range from as small as five members to well over one hundred members. Their natures are diverse for these groups can have social, academic, cultural, or athletic purposes.

Joining these organizations can be as easy as simply having an interest, becoming a member, and participating in their activities. However, some groups require long initiation processes or certain cumulative averages.

Becoming involved in any kind of organization is a necessity in order to make college life complete and successful. Although there are many reasons for participating in any organization, perhaps the most invaluable reason is the experience gained through interpersonal relations. Learning to deal with and get along with all types of people may well be the most precious lesson taught at college.

Sports

by Kellie Fithian

1982 was a vintage year for some of the BSC sports, and it was a year of sour grapes for others. But no matter what the sport, our athletes endeavored to do their very best and excelled in many instances over their competitors.

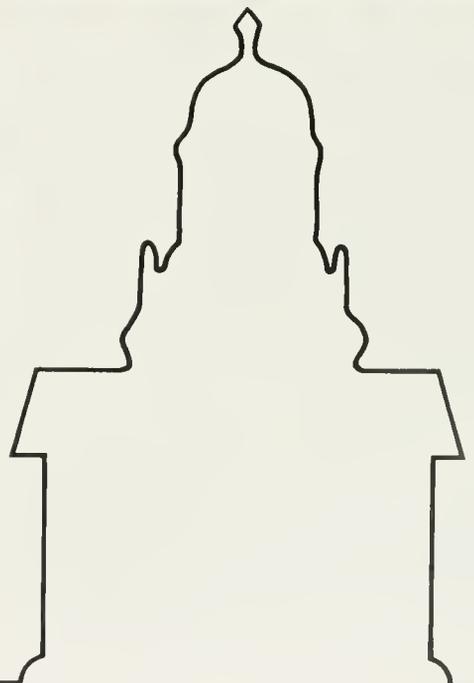

One of the high points of the athletic year was the field hockey's capture of the national championship. The men's basketball team came close to winning their title but were defeated by old foes, Cheyney State. Of course, the wrestling team did a good job as usual.

On the other side of the coin were the dismal season for soccer and the disappointing football scores. However, from these defeats these teams may very well bounce back next season to post some encouraging records.

Win or lose, all athletes should be commended for their ambition and perseverance. They give of themselves to help bring some honor and distinction to Bloomsburg State College.

Horn, Coach D. Koons.

The 1981 Field Hockey season proved to be a great success for the BSC Huskies and coach Jan Hutchinson. They closed their season in November with an overall record of 19-4-2. Their victories included second place finishes in the Trenton State and PSAC tournaments, first place in the Regional tournament and the first ever Women's National Title at BSC.

The Huskies opened their season at Trenton State, bringing home from the tournament a second place finish. They went on to win ten of the next twelve games, earning a third place seed in the PSAC tournament held at Slippery Rock. The Huskies beat second seed Millersville to play in the finals; however, lost to first place Lock Haven 1-0, to finish second in the state. Returning to BSC, Bloomsburg lost and tied the final game of the season.

Their record of 13-4-2 was good enough to get them a fourth seed in the EAIW Mid-Atlantic Regional Hockey Championships held at Glassboro State College in New Jersey. The Huskies worked their way through the ranks by beating Messiah, Gettysburg, and Salisbury, to cop a first place finish. Then it was on to the AIAW Division III National Championships held at Sweet Briar College in Lynchburg, Virginia. Seeded second the Huskies drew a bye in the first round and went on to defeat teams from Calvin, Michigan; Brockport, New York; and Lynchburg, to bring home the title.

The 1981 Husky Football team had a few bright spots in an otherwise dismal season which closed without a victory. There were some great individual performances. Junior tight-end Mike Blake was an All-Conference selection and was the obvious star of the team. Sophomore Stan Kucewicz made second team All-Conference at flanker as did senior Jim "Chief" Zaccheo at guard. On defense, senior safeties John Bolton and Brian Greenberg were also named to the second team.

New head coach George Landis will be looked upon to lead the Huskies to become challenges to such schools as Millersville and Shippensburg State. With the experience gained this past season, some exciting in-coming talent, and some timely breaks, you can be sure the BSC Husky football team will be much improved and filling them in at the Redman Stadium in 1982.

The 1982 Soccer season was characterized as a re-building time. Many of the members were young and inexperienced though they progressed into a team. They developed a sense of teamwork.

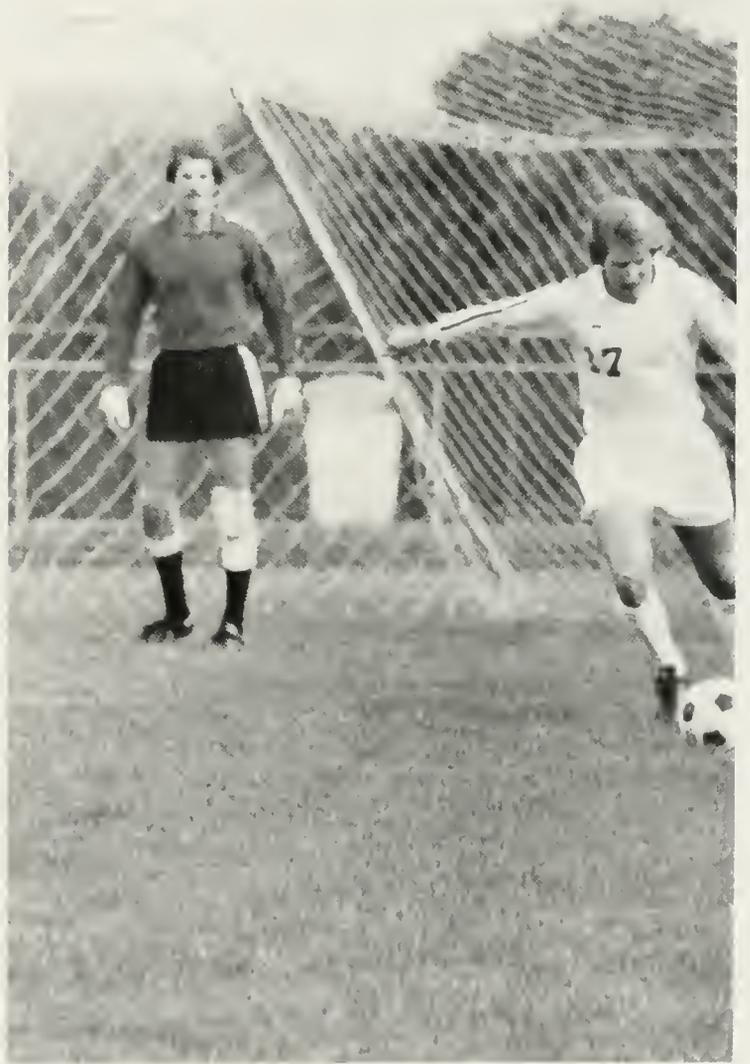

Highlights during the season included their key win over Scranton 1-0. The Scranton team was number 1 in the division. BSC had faced a tough bout against Lock Haven losing in the last two minutes. Lock Haven was the National Champion in the 1981 season.

Key individuals helped make the team what it was. Mike Keller was a key offensive leader. Gary Gallagher, co-captain contributed to important defensive play. Freshman Craig Rotile made All-Conference.

Although the team was inexperienced, the individuals styles and ambition have now brought them to a veteran level. Through ability and desire they achieved teamwork.

The 1981-82 men's basketball team was one of the finest in BSC history. Coach Charles Chronister's troops set a school record with 24 wins. The Huskies 24-7 record was good for a second place finish in the PSAC.

Lead by forward Mike Wenrich and guard Jon Bardsley, the Huskies earned a berth in the NCAA championship tournament, where they fell to arch rival Cheyney State. However, the Huskies still earned a seventh place ranking in the final national poll.

Highlights of the season were a six game mid-season win streak and a thrilling one point over Cheyney. The 54-53 victory, at the buzzer, was only the second road win over Cheyney in Coach Chronister's eleven years at Bloomsburg.

Although they could not successfully defend their 1981 state title, the Huskies thrilled large crowds of avid fans, and brought much positive attention to Bloomsburg.

The Women's Basketball team ended the season with a 6-13 record. The team started the season by winning the first four games. Unfortunately the team fell into a seven game losing streak when they returned from Christmas break. Although their record didn't show it, the team played each game with hustle and determination. Co-captain Trina Knittle broke her ankle midway through the season and was out of the starting line up for four weeks. The team did as well as they could without her, losing by only 2 points in many games. Many school records were broken by members of this year's team. Diane Alfonsi had the most points — 240, and the most steals — 95. Hilarie Runyon had the most rebounds — 222, and the most blocks — 99, and Jeanne Radcliff had the most points by a freshman on the varsity team.

Don Reese capped off the Husky wrestling team's most successful season ever with a second place finish in the NCAA Division I championship tourney. At 134 pounds, Reese came within one match of winning the coveted National championship. The Husky squad also included three of the best freshmen in the country. Tony Dagle, Tom Gibble, and John McFadden obtained Freshmen All-American status as a result of their fine seasons. There were only two other colleges in the nation with three freshmen All-Americans. McFadden placed fourth in the EWL and Gibble qualified for nationals as a result of his third place EWL finish. Other national qualifiers were Tom Fiorvanti, Joe Wade, and Al McCollum. McCollum came up one win short of becoming an All-American. The national tournament was held at Iowa State University. The Huskies had their highest placing ever in the national tournament, finishing 13th in the country. This high finish topped off a great season for the whole wrestling team.

Junior Phil Spampinato, team captain, sophomores Phil Christian, Tom DiMarco, Carl Helstrom, and Matt Thran, and freshmen, Rick Fenton, Dave Henwood, Kurt Hilss, Jim McFadden and John Murphy, along with junior transfer Tom Baumann led the men's swim team to a successful season. Sophomore George Weatherstone expertly performed in both the 1-meter and 3-meter diving events. The team began their season without 2 of the key swimmers. Rick Fenton had an emergency appendectomy, and Tom DiMarco had the flu. The team did fairly well in the early season building up their strength each meet. Although the team was young and this season was marked as a rebuilding one, the Huskies finished with a winning record and prepared for the championships. "Our season was every bit worth the efforts of each member," said coach Eli McLaughlin. All of the swimmers performed with determination at each meet and many of them broke personal records. The Huskies finished 8th in the State Championships, with 53 hard earned points. "Overall, our swimmers and divers are to be commended for their efforts and cooperation throughout the season," said coach McLaughlin.

The Year in Sports

Seniors

By Tracy Kriebler

We have made it, or so we think. While we have just completed our college education, the end is not here. For some seniors there are a few more years of school or specialized training. For those seniors that are directly entering the career world, there are adjustments to be made. Most of our lives have been spent in a school environment, and now is our chance to enter the real "rat race."

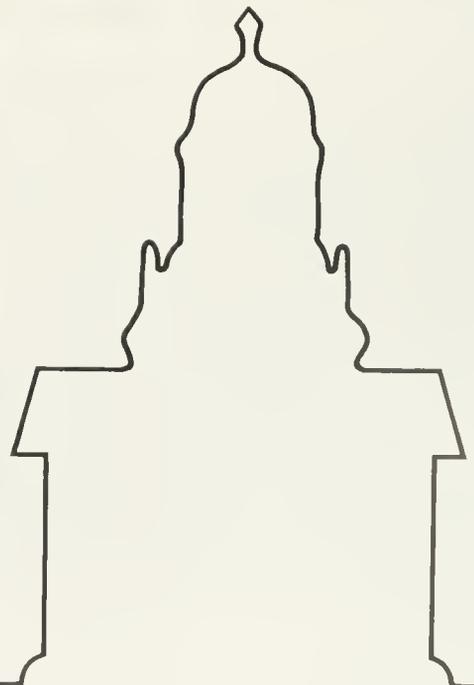

There will be disappointments along the way in our climb to success. Just like a child who falls, we too should brush ourselves off and start over. Graduating from BSC is a way for many to begin again. New adventures and new experiences will be encountered.

Graduating brings a feeling of relief, no more exams, term papers, professors or classes. There is also the relief of not having to lug a day's work up to campus from your apartment that seems five miles away, especially in the rain and snow. Our departure from BSC also means no more waiting in the registration or drop-add line for two hours only to find out that there are no open seats available. These are just a few college problems that we will not have to be concerned about.

A sad feeling also lingers with us during graduation; the realization that there will be a departure from BSC and our friends. Our friends have played an important role in our lives; getting us through the rough days and sharing our happy moments. Graduation is a time in which we will have to say good-bye to our friends. We will all be going our separate ways. Although their physical presence will not always be with us, the memories shared will remain with us through each passing year.

Events

By Bob Pasternak and Pamela Shupp

Aside from fraternity and date parties, weekend movies and Pac Man competitions, certain cultural and musical affairs must be afforded special attention. The 1981-1982 academic year held many of these memorable events for BSC students. The Dance Marathon, Pavlova Celebration, Madrigal's Elizabethan Feast, and Bloomsburg Players' Productions are just a few of the happenings that provide students and the community an opportunity to enjoy and appreciate the college. The Community Arts Council was often responsible for many of these events. The Kehr Union Program Board and Greek organizations might also be found sponsoring numerous activities at BSC. As usual, students felt that it was important to support and attend these events; acknowledging them as a large and pertinent part of their college life.

Fall, Back-to-School, and the Bloomsburg Fair

The Bloomsburg Fair is always one of the highlights of the year for both local and college communities. This year the fair was held September 28 through October 3. At the fair, you can find a wide assortment of foods, crafts, animals, games, rides, and people. It offers the BSC student a unique look at the area and its surrounding communities, as well as an opportunity to see big-name entertainment like Bob Hope and Eddie Rabbitt. During fair week you can be sure that Bloomsburg is usually at its best.

Utopia . . .

A Little Less Than Perfect

On October 27, Utopia performed before a less than half full crowd at Nelson Field House. The band, which is made up of Todd Rundgren, John Wilcox, Roger Powell and Kasim Sulton, entertained BSC students as Rundgren danced, jumped and kicked his way around stage to a background of boring but effective lighting. This individualistic group performed their original compositions, with their song "Just One Victory" coming out on top.

The Beat Goes On

The Army was swinging in Haas Auditorium on September 21. The U.S. Jazz Ambassadors performed to a small but enthusiastic audience of jazz aficionados. The Ambassadors impressed the audience with their special talent for performing jazz favorites and innovative arrangements. Several of the numbers performed solos and served as prime examples of the dedication, training, and excellence of this group.

Support The Arts

The "Star" Ballet

Starr Danias, principal ballerina for the Joffrey Ballet, recreated the role of Anna Pavlova in the production of "The Pavlova Celebration" at Haas Auditorium on October 21. A full company of dancers performed in solo and ensemble to music played on a cassette tape deck and amplified over the microphone. Despite the technical difficulties, the performance was enjoyed by all those who attended.

Mellow Music at BSC

Livingston Taylor was originally scheduled to play at BSC December 4, but because of hospitalization, could not meet this obligation. So, on February 25, 1982, Taylor made it to BSC, and it was well worth the wait. BSC graduate Jim Lyman put in a strong opening act, performing many original compositions. Livingston Taylor then entertained students with his rapport, sense of humor, and easy going attitude. Those who attended the concert were well-entertained that evening as they sang along to songs like the comical "Cambridge Kinda Guy."

Homecoming — A Musical Celebration

This year's Homecoming celebration, October 9-11, was based on the theme "I Am Music" and began on a high note with the annual pep rally, bonfires, and fireworks on Friday night.

Saturday dawned bright and windy with the soccer game against Lycoming College and the Homecoming Parade both starting at 10 A.M. The winning float in the parade was Chi Sigma Rho and Sigma Iota Omega's combined effort, "Sousa — the Music Man." The winning dorm in the decoration contest was Montour Hall and carried the theme "Broadway Shows."

The day went on to see the Huskies' suffer a disheartening defeat against West Chester, 56-8 in BSC's 54th annual Homecoming football game. At halftime, tradition was broken as Patricia Campbell, representative from the Third-World Cultural Society, was crowned Homecoming Sweetheart. She is the first non-Greek in BSC's history to capture this honor. Carol Perlinsky was crowned as this year's Freshman Sweetheart.

The weekend came to a close with a Pops Concert presented by the Husky Singers, Concert Choir, and Women's Choral Ensemble on Sunday evening.

String Quartet Hits a High Note

The Fitzwilliam String Quartet, comprised of four young Englishmen, presented a concert on September 23. The quartet which has been praised as one of the world's outstanding string quartets, enjoys the reputation of being one of the foremost interpreters of Shostakovich.

Reeves on Reagan

On October 23, Richard Reeves, a political correspondent and syndicated columnist, was keynote speaker at the Twelfth Annual Journalism Institute. Reeves' topic was Ronald Reagan and the 1980's. He discussed the President's cuts in social spending, defense policies and Reagan's role as "parent of the nation." Reeves went on to predict that Reagan will not be re-elected.

Family Entertainment

The McLain Family Band treated BSC to its performances of traditional bluegrass music on October 25. The six member band combined their vocal and instrumental talents to create a lively and foot stomping show that shook the seats of Haas. The concert presented a new dimension to BSC students who had never been exposed to this type of music. Regardless of its uniqueness, the performance was well received.

Chorus Brings Music Into the Air

The Branko Krsmanovich Chorus opened the spring semester's Artist-Lecture Series on January 20 in Haas Auditorium. The Yugoslav Choir has added new dimensions to the art of choral singing. They have gained world-renowned fame because of their brilliance, power and impact in choral music.

Boar's Head and All . . .

On December 2-5, the Madrigal Singers presented an Elizabethan Feast. The Scranton Commons was the setting for this authentic 16th century feast. The group performed selections in English and Latin from that period, but also presented works from the 20th century. The Madrigals put forth an excellent performance and their efforts were greatly complimented.

Dancing Feet Raise Money

BSC's 8th Annual Dance Marathon was held January 29-31 with a total of 203 dancers raising nearly $8,000 for the Bloomsburg Chapter of the American Red Cross. This year's theme, "BSC Goes to the Movies," brought out such film characters as Mickey and Minney, the Pink Panther and the Tin Man. During the 50 hours of the marathon, dance contest, costume contests, and special music hours were featured. Jim Lyman, a BSC graduate, served as Master of Ceremonies.

New Wave Rolls Into BSC

The night of November 19 brought new meaning to the term new wave at BSC. Amidst tight pants, spike heels, leopard stripes and the essential sunglasses, the group The Results performed a wide array of new wave music. Songs by the B-52's, Devo, and The Pretenders were among many of those that could be heard. The highlight of the night was an infamous rendition and dance of "Rock Lobster," as BSC students laid on the floor, arms and legs kicking in the air.

Urgently Needed: Volunteers

Thirty-two agencies from the Bloomsburg area attended the volunteer fair held October 22, in the multipurpose rooms of Kehr Union. The agencies offered information to anyone interested in doing volunteer work in the Bloomsburg area. This marked the first volunteer fair at BSC and it is hoped that it will be instrumental in establishing a volunteer service center on campus. Local agencies that participated included the Bloomsburg chapter of the American Red Cross, mental health agencies, Girl Scouts, and Columbia Day Care Center. The fair stressed that students, through volunteering, can gain valuable career experience, investigate career opportunities, find new interests, help others, and meet new people.

Fair for Your Future

On Tuesday, March 30 the fifth annual Career Fair took place in the Kehr College Union. The fair, sponsored by the Career Development and Placement Center, was set up in an informal atmosphere so the participating organizations could answer questions about available opportunities. Over 30 companies, school districts, graduate schools and other organizations were present, including the YMCA, Girl Scouts, Pennsylvania Power and Light, Hess' Department store and many others. The Career Fair gives students a chance to find out what kind of opportunities there are available without leaving campus.

High School Singers Invade Haas

On February 16, William Decker and Richard Stanislaw hosted the Sixth Annual High School Festival, in Haas Auditorium. Nine schools and directors participated in the program which was funded by the CGA. Those high schools all from Pennsylvania included Dallastown, Fairfield, Quakertown, Bermudian Springs, Pleasant Valley, Lackawanna Trail, Christopher Dock and Newport. Each high school performed various musical selections on their own and then the choirs combined to perform a few selections. The Festival allows students to become acquainted with the music department at BSC, and also with the college in general.

b.f. Maiz

On February 11, b.f. Maiz presented a dramatic performance of original poetry entitled "Let Us Poet." The presentation, sponsored by the Human Relations Planning Committee, kept the audience spellbound. It was personal and moving as Maiz walked throughout the audience without notes from which to speak. He visited BSC for two days, meeting with interested students and faculty. Besides being an eloquent speaker, Maiz is also a reknowned writer and philosopher and can speak knowledgably on various subjects including criminal justice, "humanism," and drug addiction.

Camille Yarbrough

Camille Yarbrough a well-reknowned, actress, and composer brought her own style of singing and recitation of the "black experience" to BSC on March 23. Ms. Yarbrough performed many of her poems, songs and dialogues in an engrossing presentation, sponsored by the Human Relations Planning Committee. Through her presentation, based on her own experiences as a black woman, she enlightened the audience to "Tales and Tunes of an African American Griot." The performance stands out as one of the more educational culture-oriented events of the year.

Be My Date?

The Fourth Annual BSC Dating Game was held Valentine's Day, February 14. BSC's version, like the TV show, posed many provocative questions to the contestants. It proved to be quite entertaining for the audience as well as the participants. BSC students were enlightened as to the numerous and varied dating habits of their fellow students.

Everything But Coffee

When Students need a break from normal route, they need only wander to the Union as the Coffeehouse awaits.

The past year has seen a variety of acts perform in the Kehr Union Coffeehouse. Musical talent like Rod MacDonald, Tangent, Willie Sordill, and Lester & Marcus, have entertained and interacted with the audience. Also, comedians like Andy Scarpati or the crazy group, Slap Happy, have filled the room with laughter and hysteria.

The Thursday evenings provide the students with a time to relax, sit back, and enjoy various performances by fellow students and outside entertainment in a personal and friendly atmosphere.

SAMSON

Handel's oratorio, Samson, was performed on April 15-17 in Haas Auditorium. This production of Samson, directed and choreographed by Judith Haskell of New York City, was based on John Milton's "Samson Agonistes." William Decker conducted the Concert Choir and Chamber Orchestra in their captivating renditions and Hitoshi Sato's excellent set design added much to the production. A professional opera singer, Harry Danner, performed the title role of Samson exceptionally well, as did all the other performers in the production. The oratorio marks a successful cooperative experience by the Music and Theatre Departments at BSC.

Popular Inspiration

In an effort to relay God's message to college students, popular Christian music is utilized. The music may not sound "religious," but the lyrics convey a special message to those who listen closely. Randy Stonehill performed in Carver Auditorium in April. His brand of contemporary Christian music was thoroughly enjoyed by the crowd that attended the concert. It is not only outside entertainment that attempts to convey God's message to BSC students. Mark Cable, half of the popular Lester and Marcus, performed solo this year in the Kehr Union Coffeehouse. His special brand of music has been enjoyed by many BSC students, not only those involved in the Christian groups on campus.

Sign A Song

IMAGE is a sign language interpretation group comprised of 11 women and 2 men who sign to music. The group performed in the fall and also in the spring under the direction of Dr. G. Donald Miller, Jr. The students, costumed appropriately, using expressive facial gestures and body language as they signed to various popular tunes. One of the highlights of an IMAGE performance is a hand routine which is signed by the performers in white gloves and a fluorescent light. IMAGE is always well received by what can only be described as a captivated audience, especially when the house lights go on and the audience gets a chance to sign along. IMAGE succeeds in promoting the importance and uniqueness of manual communication.

Air Bands Mouth It

The Second Annual Air Bands competition took place April 20, in Carver Auditorium. Larry Murphy and Mike Pucillo, originators of the competition, again hosted the show. Last year's winner, Scurvy, started the show with their display of "air talent," creating a rowdy atmosphere in the packed auditorium. The following acts included impersonations of Joan Jett and the Blackhearts, Pat Benatar, Olivia Newton-John, and the Sugar Hill Gang along with many others. Each group was judged on three areas: audience appeal, originality, and enthusiasm. After much heated debate, Scurvy placed second and Dirty Deeds won the 35 dollar first place prize for impersonating The Who.

Rainbow Connection to Christ

The Rainbow Connection is composed of several Christian students from BSC. Aside from performing annually at BSC, the group performs at churches and colleges in Pennsylvania and New York. Through a series of skits, comedies and pantomines, they strive to present God's message to those who do not have a personal commitment to Christ, as well as to inspire those who do. Their performances are entertaining and humorous as they work to relate their message.

Kids Abound

On the weekend of May 1-3, BSC responded to the sound of pattering feet. Brothers and sisters and assorted surrogate siblings were invited to campus for two days of action packed activities. Swimming, kite flying, playing Ms. Pac-Man and seeing the Muppet Movie and Bugs Bunny in Carver were a few of the things that kept the kids occupied.

Fun-filled Fall Festival

Both college students and townspeople enjoyed the annual Fall Jamboree September 19. On the lawns surrounding the Kehr Union were many and varied types of crafts to be seen and to be bought. The musical entertainment included John Manion, a singer/songwriter, Rolly Brown, Bob Doyle, and the Allegheny String Band, a knee-slapping bluegrass band. The Jamboree is an event that marks the beginning of the new semester.

RENAISSANCE JAMBOREE '82 "IN BLOOM" APRIL 30th and MAY 1st

The weekend of April 30 and May 1, found BSC and the Town of Bloomsburg cooperating to make Renaissance Jamboree '82 a combined success. Overcast skies could not dampen the festivities built upon the festival of events, exhibits, and live entertainment. Such events included a demonstration by Dr. John's World Frisbee Champions, a performance by the Limberjacks, an Appalachian clogging company, and an exhibition by Artista Skating Club. Rod MacDonald, Jay Smar and Cranberry Lake, a four musician jug band, upheld the tradition of folk music at the Jamboree. Performances could be viewed at either the Iron Street stage or the Courthouse stage at various times throughout the day. Food and craft booths, which ranged from macrame to wood crafting to watercolor paintings, were lined along Main Street. Other activities included sidewalk drawing and face painting. Bugzy and Babe, two street clowns, along with characters like Big Bird and the Grimace, entertained children as well as adults.

ABC Sports Commentator Speaks to Spring Grads

Ms. Diana Nyad delivered the Commencement address at the 1982 Spring Commencement ceremony, Sunday, May 16 at the Bloomsburg Fairgrounds.

Nyad is a full-time commentator with ABC Sports announcing a broad range of events covered by the Wide World of Sports. But, she is also considered to be the greatest long-distance swimmer in the world. From 1969 to 1979 she competed in races down the Nile, across the Great Lakes, and in dozens of bodies of water throughout the world. In 1979 she swam 89 miles from the Bahamas to Jupter, Florida, the longest swim in history.

Originally, the marathon swim was scheduled from Cuba to Florida, but her attempt failed because of bad weather and a poor navigator."

She says that the same determination and discipline she used as a swimmer will help her become the best commentator.

Nyad urged the graduates to use the same intensity, effort and courage as they begin their careers.

Epilogue

by Paul Mitchell and Scott Righter

OBITER is Latin for "a passing" or "a journey." This is what our years at BSC have been. We have passed from our age of innocent youth and have started our journey on a life of our own.

We have tried to show the passing of time at BSC in this OBITER — a glimpse of the way things were in 1982.

The Epilogue section is a conclusion. In this part of the book we would like to thank those people who helped us "get it together." The Epilogue summarizes some of the major national and local events that had an impact on us throughout the 1981-82 academic year. We end with some last images of the school on the hill and cherish the feelings accumulated at Bloomsburg State College.

Tuition Hike Rescinded

During Christmas break, Pennsylvania's state colleges and university received an unexpected, unpleasant Christmas gift; a tuition hike of $75.00 for the spring semester.

Reasoning for the rise in tuition was attributed to delinquent salaries to faculty. With the assistance of the Association of Pennsylvania State Colleges and University Faculties (APSCUF), faculty members filed a civil suit against the State College and University Directors (SCUD). In December, 1981, the suit was settled in favor of APSCUF.

During spring registration, the Commonwealth Association of Students (CAS) lobbied at BSC. They petitioned students, parents, and faculty for a total of 3500 signatures for their cause. Student tension was at an all-time high. Michelle Kessler, BSC's CAS coordinator, said, "Students were fired up and outraged about the hike."

Student Solidarity Day, February 11, proved to be one of the biggest events at BSC for this year, and possibly for years to come. Miss Kessler; Karen Chawaga, CGA president; Dr. Larry Jones, Vice President/administration; Tom Gordon, student representative/board of trustees; held a press conference in the Kehr Union. Over 500 students attended a campus rally carrying signs and plaquards voicing their opposition to the tuition hike. The rally attained local and state wide recognition in the news media.

By February 22, months of hard work paid off. The State Supreme Court ordered a temporary injunction against the SCUD tuition increase. On February 24, the SCUD board, rescinded the $75.00 increase.

Bomb Threats Plague Campus Security

What do Hartline Bakeless, Sutliff, Centennial, Old Science, Northumberland, and Luzerne have in common? They were the sites of several bomb threats which plagued BSC this year.

The first of 23 threats, was received in November, and the threats continued until late April.

According to Dr. Frank Davis, Assistant Vice President of Administration, a system of tracing calls was placed on a random selection of dormitory phones. As a result, two male dorm students were charged with two separate bomb threats. This being a federal offense, the students face a maximum penalty of five years in prison and/or a $10,000.00 fine.

At no time were any bombs found in any of the campus locations. However, the college pranks disrupted exams, classes, and activities causing ill-feelings among students and faculty.

Landis Named Head Football Coach

George J. Landis, assistant coach at Dartmouth College for the last four years and former defensive back at Penn State University, was named head football coach at BSC on January 13. He replaced R. Clark Boler, the head coach for the past two years.

Landis, 32, a native of Linwood, New Jersey, helped guide Dartmouth to an Ivy league co-championship with Yale this season and worked with the Big Green defense that led the entire ECAC, in team defense, allowing just 13.7 points per game.

Dartmouth veteran head coach Joe Yukica commented, "Among the young coaches that I have come across in my experience, I regard him as one with very high potential to be a head football coach at the college level. I'll go one step further and say that a better head coach prospect will be difficult to find."

The new coach lettered for three years at Penn State and played in the 1969 and 1970 Orange Bowls in the Nittany Lions' defensive backfield. In 1970 he was named to the All-East defensive team and was also honored as South Jersey's College "Athlete of the Year." He went to Penn State from Mainland Regional High School in Linwood where he was a varsity starter for all four years and gained All-American honors. He also played varsity basketball for three years and baseball for four years.

Joe Paterno, head coach, Penn State, commented on the appointment, "George Landis is one of the brightest young coaches in the East. He has been successful in everything he has done. Based on his versatile athletic background and his commitment to football, I feel very confident that he will be successful at Bloomsburg State College."

His coaching experience started at Penn State where he assisted on the Nittany Lions' staff while earning his graduate degree. He was defensive backfield coach at Villanova and Cornell Universities before taking a head coaching position at Mainland Regional High School, where he served for two years. In 1978 he joined the Dartmouth coaching staff as defensive backfield coach.

The new coach, who received a unanimous recommendation of the committee, began his duties at the start of the Spring semester.

Concert Committee Schedules Unsuccessful Bands

The concert committee scheduled Ian Hunter and Gary U.S. Bonds for a September engagement in Haas Auditorium. In late October, the concert committee provided Todd Rundgren and Utopia. However, student attendance was poor and less than half the expected amount of tickets were sold.

Reasons for low attendance were voiced as: bands were not appealing to the majority of BSC students; high cost of tickets; poor scheduling. On the defense, the concert committee claimed that bands which might have sold more tickets, were not touring and band prices were out of BSC's range.

Editors' Message

Well, here it is, the 1982 Obiter! It was not an easy book to put together. We started last fall with a fresh staff with very little experience in the college yearbook business. Through many trials and frustrations (not to mention a few fights), we learned by experience and feel that we did a pretty good job.

There were a lot of people who contributed to the success of the book and the editors, Paul and Scott, would like to express our appreciation for their efforts. First, we'd like to thank last year's editor, JoAnn Borski, for making us co-editors; the idea of co-editors worked out better than we thought it would. Next, we thank our wonderful staff for sticking it out and putting up with us. Ruby Lee and Sherri Zee — you did a great job covering Student Life. Lynn and Queta — thanks for jumping in and rescuing the Academic section. Lynn, you are a joy to work with; and Queta, don't feel bad someday you'll learn to speak English (meanwhile, take good care of Conrad). Cathy we appreciate your pinch-hitting for Kathy B., sorry you're allergic to yearbooks! Kellie, we don't know how you did it, but you got your Sports in on time. Pam, what can we say? You are an Event by yourself. Tracy Kriebel a/k/a Stacy Kiebler — thanks for the Senior section, typing, and some wonderful breakfasts. Did you say you are going to do the Senior section at Penn State next year? Dot Dot Dot . . . Janice, thanks for the checks and taking care of all our bundles. Kerry, we here you are really quick with your fingers (typing of course). Kevin, we hope you enjoy your desk, thanks for the excellent photography — you are almost as good as Saroni! Bob, we never figured out how such an old man with poor eyesight could take such good pictures. We would like to thank Mr. Hoffman, our advisor, for his help and for letting us be independent in making this book. Lastly, a special thanks goes to Mike Gilroy, our representative from Herff Jones Yearbooks. It must have been trying dealing with an inexperienced staff. We are glad to have met Barb — the voice on the phone.

We hope the graduates of Bloomsburg State College of 1982 have found this book to be full of many happy memories. Good luck in the future and remember the "college on the hill."
