TOM RIDGE
Governor

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

April 26, 1996

Greetings to everyone gathered for the 100th anniversary celebration of the Community Government Association at Bloomsburg University.

For the past century, your organization has provided a forum for young leaders to meet and share ideas about student government. This event commemorates the wonderful spirit of service and activism that energizes our nation's schools. By working with peers and dedicated faculty members, the students of Bloomsburg University have learned ways to better serve their school community and enrich their education.

I obtained my first real experience in public service through my participation in student government, and I know that the lessons learned in this endeavor will serve you for the rest of your life. I hope this anniversary celebration inspires all of you to continue the work of the Community Government Association with renewed energy and fresh ideas, and I commend you for working to make our future brighter.

Best wishes for a wonderful event.

Congratulations!
 Today is your day!
 You're off to Great Places!
 You're off and away!

You have brains in your head.

 You're on your own. And you know what you know.
 And YOU are the guy who'll decide where to go.

Oh, the places you'll go! There's fun to be done!
 There are points to be scored. There are games to be won.
 And the magical things you can do with that ball will make you the winning-est winner of all.

So...

Congratulations my daughter. Your wonderful qualities have made a lasting impression on me that I will admire for as long as I live. May life be as good to you as it has been for me by having you for a daughter. Never give up on any of your dreams. The universe is your boundary and fame any failures as a foundation for growth.

Years ago you devised a plan and began travelling on it's path. You have experienced many things in the past four years.

Some which left loving thoughts.

Others brought pain for you to work through.

Friendships were developed which will not be forgotten.

Tales which are better left untold and others which brought joy and laughter.

You have grown and matured from your experiences and what you have learned. Now your pathways have split into different directions.

Will you remember what you have learned?

Will you demonstrate your maturity in dealing with others?

Will you take responsibility for yourself?

Will you show others the respect they deserve?

Did you develop the ability to think beyond today?

Can you distinguish the difference between your dreams and reality?

Remember those who helped you along the way as you did not accomplish this much alone. Make sure they know and feel like they were and are an important part of your life.

Everything we've told you "might" not be true, but it is from our experiences and our hearts.

All our love,
Mom and Dad

Stefanie, we cannot believe how fast you have grown up, from a beautiful baby to a beautiful young lady. Now you are graduating from college. It's so hard to believe. You have accomplished so much in four years. You made the Dean's List, played Varsity soccer for four years, and you were able to keep your GPA above a 3.0. What more could we ask for? We are looking forward to your graduation and a B.S. degree in Elementary Education. You are going to make a wonderful teacher. We all love you and are very proud.
Love Mom, Dad, and Family

There once was a boy named Tony who used to give his parents a lot of baloney
I can't go to school because I'm sick used to be his trick or he'd say report cards don't come out until June and then he'd hide it in his room
Somewhere along this long haul
Tony decided to get on the ball and got off his lazy "rear"
and now he's making his family so proud
they want to shout "We love you" out loud
But as he graduates today
we really have to say
"GET A JOB!"

CONGRATULATIONS, TONY TETI
