

Gable, Atomic Energy Expert, Highlights Program Tomorrow

ANTHROPOLOGIST TO APPEAR NEXT WEDNESDAY, OCT. 15

Edinboro's forthcoming assemblies will be of interest not only to those who possess purely romantic natures. Tomorrow Mr. Luther Gable will speak on "Atomic Energy, Black-Light, and Radar." Next Wednesday, October 15, Oscar Juneke, noted anthropologist, will speak on one of his many unusual lecture topics. "Romance of Holland" will be Mr. Roeland Van Cavel's subject on Monday, October 20.

Mr. Gabel, who not only gives talks but platform demonstrations as well, is a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and of the Institute of Radio Engineers. Having served three and one half years in the Army Signal Corps, Mr. Gabel received a citation for outstanding contributions at the Fort Monmouth Signal Laboratories.

Mr. Juneke has studied in Prague and has also attended the University of Ohio, Oxford University, and the University of Paris. Curiosity led him to the hinterlands of Africa, the wilds of Labrador, and the isolated communities of Europe. Mr. Juneke speaks twenty languages and dialects. At the present time he is teaching anthropology at New York University. Among the subjects on his repertoire are "What is the Small-Nation Mind," "Nations Are People," and "Behavior Depends Upon Women."

DR. VAN HOUTEN ANNOUNCES COMPLETION OF NEW LAB

Dr. Van Houten has announced that the Federal Government is ready to turn over the new laboratory building to the school.

Death In The Afternoon

Rusty is a big dog, a fast dog, and Mr. Mallory's dog; but all of those attributes were not enough to protect him from a querulous skunk which had appropriated the Mallory estate as its own domain. Rusty chases birds, not skunks; and one of the latter species held the field, night and day, until last Friday afternoon. For it was then that Brer Mallory, armed with his seldom-miss rifle, decided to show Brer Skunk "who's boss around these parts!"

Rusty having taken refuge behind a nearby chicken coop, Brer Mallory advanced for the kill. Brer Skunk, with deadly pennon flying, charged. Ping! Ping! Ping! — Ping! Ping! Five messengers of death merely fanned the breeze around the side-stepping, pivoting, feinting, still advancing foe, evidently waiting to close in before discharging his lethal weapon. With an epithet hurled in the general direction of Sears Roebuck, Brer Mallory, a steely glint in his eye, decide to fire a final volley before retreating to the woodshed. Ping! Splash! Brer Skunk's soul took its flight, his mortal remains eventually finding a resting place in the waters of the Cove.

All was calm. Rusty resumed his favorite occupation of snapping flies; and Brer Mallory went forth, like the Ancient Mariner, to tell his tale.

Mr. Zahniser To Talk At Penn's Week Program

Governor James Duff has directed that the week of October 12 be designated as "Pennsylvania Week" and that the occasion be observed in the public schools with appropriate ceremony. Accordingly, the assembly program on Wednesday, October 15, will have Pennsylvania Day as its theme.

Mr. Zahniser will talk on "Points of Interest and Spots of Color in Northwestern Pennsylvania" and will illustrate his remarks with colored slides. Many of the scenes depicted will be shots taken on the campus and in the vicinity of Edinboro proper. Slides showing various campus activities will be featured.

The program will be in charge of Mr. Zahniser, Mr. Neel, Miss McDonnell, Mr. Griffin, and Dr. Offner.

Instructors Attend Curriculum Meeting

A conference of representatives from the fourteen state teachers colleges of Pennsylvania was held in Harrisburg on September 18. This was the first of a series of conferences which are being held for the purpose of rebuilding the entire curricula of Pennsylvania State Teachers Colleges in relation to needs in the training of teachers for the public schools. The conferences are a part of the general curriculum study provided for by the last legislature. The whole philosophy of education is to be re-examined and a general philosophy worked out for each department.

The current study is under the direction of the State Department of Public Instruction. Dr. Van Houten is a member of the Curriculum Committee of the Board of Presidents of State Teachers Colleges. Dr. Robert M. Steele, president of California State Teachers College, is chairman of the committee.

Representatives from all subject-matter fields will attend these meetings at one time or another. Those members of the faculty attending the meeting on September 18 were: Miss Ludgate, speech; Mr. McNeese, physical science; Dr. Hoshauer, mathematics; and Mr. Mallory, English. No date has been set for the next conference.

Faculty Member Granted Pa. State Doctorate In Ed.

Mr. John C. Hoshauer of the mathematics department received his doctorate in education from Pennsylvania State College on September 19, 1947, thus climaxing a long career of steady progress in his field of specialization.

Dr. Hoshauer received a diploma from State Normal School, Kutztown, Pa., in 1918; the Bachelor of Science degree from Bucknell University in 1926; and the Master of Science degree in mathematics from the University of Chicago in 1930.

A veteran of both world wars, Dr. Hoshauer served in the Army in World War I and the Navy in World War II. His Navy service included a tour of duty as an anti-submarine officer in the Pacific area; later he served as an instructor in various schools which trained candidates for commissions in the Navy.

Prior to coming to Edinboro last year, Dr. Hoshauer was the head of the mathematics department in the Williamsport High School.

In qualifying for his doctorate, Dr. Hoshauer majored in statistics and research; his minor field was mathematics. His dissertation was an investigation concerning the relationship between the competence of high school graduates in arithmetic and the number and type of mathematics courses pursued in high school.

Alpha Deltas Elect Leaders

The Alpha Delta Sorority has reorganized for 1947-48. At the first meeting of the year, election of officers was held, with the following results: president, Mary Alice Armagost; treasurer, Virginia Rice; corresponding secretaries, Nancy Parker and Jane Venman; historian, Dona Flower; critic, Marjorie Campbell; marshals, Jean Simoni and Norma Lalley.

Plans are currently being made for the Founders' Day Dinner, a dance, a hayride, and a freshman party. Jeanne Kennedy is in charge of arrangements for the Founders' Day Dinner, which will be held in Erie on October 24.

Since the sorority room in Music Hall is not yet in order, weekly meetings are being held at Mrs. Campbell's home. At the September 30th meeting Miss Forness was honored on her birthday with the presentation of a nice luncheon cloth. (No, she wouldn't reveal her age.)

Jerry Sheehan Tops Slate In Heated Freshman Election

News Briefs

President L. H. Van Houten has been a traveling man the past few weeks. He has made several trips to Harrisburg, attending various meetings in connection with the administration of the college.

The Dean of Instruction's Office has compiled the vital statistics concerning the enrollment for the current year. There are 529 men and 310 women on campus this year, making a grand total of 739. In addition, 123 persons are attending extension courses.

A further breakdown reveals that there are 243 Penn State assignees, 330 male veterans, and 3 women veterans. An analysis of the figures according to classes shows 506 freshmen, 131 sophomores, 56 juniors, and 40 seniors.

The Canterbury Club elected officers for the coming year in a meeting on October 1 at the home of Miss Whitney. Officers elected are: President, Wilma Jeanne Fox; Vice-President, George Hinski; Secretary, Dorothy Davies; Treasurer, Mark Rutledge; Faculty Advisor, Miss Ketcham. Bishop Sawyer, of Erie, will be here on October 12 to administer Holy Communion to the Episcopalian students.

The Off-Campus Women's Club will hold a picnic next Friday, October 10, in honor of new members, according to an announcement by Clea Johnson, president (Continued on page three)

Simoni And Reader Organize Pep Club

This year, under the direction of Mr. John C. Lynch, co-captains Jeanne Simoni and Mary Lou Reader have organized the cheerleaders into a Pep Club.

Members with previous experience will cheer at first, giving the inexperienced people a chance to learn what it takes to make a good cheerleader. During this training period they will also sell tickets and be ushers at games.

AHO, BONEY, MALONE ALSO WIN IN HEATED CONTEST

The results of the freshman class election have been announced by John Erickson, chairman of the nominating committee. Officers elected for the coming year are: President, Jerome Sheehan; Vice President, Helen Aho; Secretary, Marjorie Boney; Treasurer, Richard Malone.

The whirlwind election was marked by vigorous campaigning from the opening class meeting until the ballots were cast last Friday. Signs and placards appeared around the campus almost overnight, supporting the various candidates. The campaign took on big-time characteristics with decorated automobiles and a leaflet-dropping airplane.

Candidates were nominated by the nominating committee and by petition. Members of the nominating committee were: John Erickson, Emil Krzan, Roy Sherman, Stewart Smith, Marilynn Haight, William Norcross, and Edward Makovsky.

History Teachers To Sponsor Club

Dr. Hendricks will make an announcement in assembly tomorrow concerning the organization of the Forum Club, which is to be sponsored by the social studies department. The purpose of the club will be to give any interested students an opportunity to choose and to discuss issues of national and international importance.

Formal plans have not been made, but the intention of the club sponsors is that it meet approximately every third week. One of the most interesting of the club's activities will be the holding of assembly programs, to be featured by student speakers and audience participation.

Dr. Hendricks, Mr. Neel, Mr. Griffin, and Mr. Wozniak, as members of the social studies department, will sponsor the new activity.

National Group Honors Teacher

Miss Helen McDonnell, English instructor, was initiated into Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary association for women teachers, at Erie last Saturday morning. The initiation of eighteen candidates was conducted as one feature of a state conference of the organization. Approximately one hundred delegates were present to hear an address by Miss Kinnaird, who is N. E. A.'s representative to UNESCO.

Other faculty members from E. S. T. C. were present at the conference, Miss Ludgate being in charge of the initiation ceremony. Mrs. Campbell, Miss Baron, Miss Forness, Miss Whitney, Miss Ketcham, Miss Ruttle (president of Gamma chapter for the past two years), Miss Blanche Howard, Miss Maude Howard, Miss Burchfield, Miss Shenk, and Miss O'Dell are also members of Gamma Chapter.

The Training School will be closed October 16 and 17 while the teachers attend the annual Erie County Institute of the Northwestern District P. S. E. A. Several of the Training School Teachers will serve as officers of various groups.

A New Spirit

A new spirit is abroad on the campus of E. S. T. C. this year, and it has been made manifest in various ways. With a minimum of confusion, registration was over and classes were underway. Faculty members soon reported high morale among their students, and few of the latter have since found time to "gripe" about all those things with which the perfect citizen can always find fault. Even our erstwhile washroom artists and poets have found more wholesome outlets for their creative urges.

School spirit is something to be felt, not written about, and it was certainly felt at the first dances and at the initial pep rally. Faculty members were glad to stand in line for an hour while the incoming freshmen filed through to say their "how d'ye do's." A contagion of a different sort was caught on the night when flames and cheers leaped high to inspire our gridders, who went down "trailing clouds of glory" in their first game.

All of these strands of high morale held us together last Saturday afternoon when the Red Raiders and their followers took the field against a favored foe. The outcome is history, as is the holiday generously decreed by President Van Houten, who wished to make signal recognition of the "great victory won and the fine spirit shown." The Spectator wishes to express the students' appreciation for that gesture and to pledge us all to hold our ground against either outward foes or internal dissent.

Where We Stand

When any newspaper changes hands, whether it be a great metropolitan daily or the bi-weekly publication of a small college, it behooves the new management to issue a statement concerning their policy in conducting the affairs of that paper.

While the personnel of The Spectator has changed considerably since last year, the policy of the paper will remain basically the same: we will print "all the news that's fit to print"; we will publish a paper of which the student body need not be ashamed; we will allow sound judgment and good taste to be our only censors; and, finally, we will set our standards at a level which will not insult the intelligence of our student body.

The above are high aims for any newspaper to maintain. In a college, the realization of such goals depends, to a large extent, upon the cooperation of all members of the school community — administration, faculty, and student body. With assistance in the matter of news tips and with constructive criticism of our efforts, the E. S. T. C. family can help The Spectator staff edit a paper worthy of us all.

A Fair Return

One of the basic tenets "The Spectator" has observed in recent years is not to accept donations from "patrons" or "contributors." We have not and do not intend to ask for charity. If we cannot publish a newspaper which can support itself, the student body would be far better off with no paper.

"The Spectator" is maintained by two sources of income. A portion of the expenses is met by those funds allocated to the paper in the annual budget of the Student Activities Fund. The remainder of the cost must be borne through the sale of advertising.

Merchants in Edinboro and surrounding localities have been most generous in their support of this paper and of other student activities. We are not asking you to purchase from our advertisers simply because they do advertise in "The Spectator." That would be an insult to your judgment, to your taste, and to your intelligence.

However, we do wish you would give our advertisers an opportunity to serve you insofar as is possible. If that service proves to be satisfactory, all of us profit thereby; if it is not satisfactory, you are certainly under no obligation to return. If you can, give them that initial opportunity.

TWO NEW TEACHERS AT TRAINING SCHOOL

Mr. Doyle Schwab, English instructor, and Miss Christine Lancaster, critic and demonstration teacher in grade three, are new members of the Training School staff. Holding Bachelor's and Master's degrees from the University of Pittsburgh, Mr. Schwab is an Army veteran with fifty-three months' service. Miss Lancaster, having an A. B. from Allegheny and an M. A. from Columbia, has had most of her experience in the public schools of Connecticut, her most recent teaching having been done in a training school in Texas.

Summer Marriages

by MARIAN EADES

There's no loafing for Cupid on the campus of E. S. T. C. If you don't believe it, survey the list of returning students who were married this summer. Ralph Zindel and Marion Biby were married on May 28, 1947, while Patricia Faulk and Arthur Jarvis said the nuptial vows three days later, on May 31. Patricia Worster and Harold A. Ghering, Jr., were wed on June 6. August 23 was the wedding day of four couples: Lois Rhea and Byron Masters; Marilyn Palmer and Charles H. Patton; Jeanne Leeming and Thomas Tyson; Arlene Roth and H. A. Graham.

Mr. and Mrs. Zindel, married in the Methodist Church of Edinboro, were attended by Mrs. James Williamson, sister of the bride, and matron-of-honor, Doris Zindel as bridesmaid, Johnny Skelton of Edinboro as best man, and Roy Biby and Norman Schruers as ushers. The couple spent their honeymoon in New York City.

Pat and Art Jarvis were married in St. Luke's Lutheran Church at Westview, Pa. Edith Faulk, sister of the bride, was maid of honor; George Concelman was best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Ghering were married in the Park Presbyterian Church at Waterford. Mrs. Ghering was attended by her sister, Mrs. Ronald Burdick, as matron of honor, and three friends as bridesmaids. The best man was Harold Stroebel, a former E. S. T. C. student. Three friends served as ushers. The Gherings spent their honeymoon camping near Kane, Pa.

Lois and Byron Masters were married in Knox Methodist Church, Knox, Pa. In the bridal party were Jane Marshall, sister of the bride, who was maid of honor; two bridesmaids; Richard Masters, brother of the groom, as best man; two ushers, and the niece of the bride as flower girl. The couple spent their honeymoon at the Finger Lakes, N. Y., and Bradford, Pa.

The Pattons were married in St. Paul's United Evangelical and Reformed Church, Erie, Pa. Dolores Sayre, an Edinboro graduate, was maid of honor; there were three bridesmaids. Dick Barron was best man, while four friends were ushers. Marilyn and Charles went to Lake Placid, N. Y., for their honeymoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Tyson were united in a formal ceremony at St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, Homestead, Pa. Mrs. Tyson had Elsimae Breakwell, her cousin, as maid-of-honor, and three friends as bridesmaids. She also had a flower girl. Richard McFadden, E. S. T. C. student, was the best man. The couple spent their honeymoon at Sea Island, Georgia.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham were married in a private ceremony at the First Unitarian Church of Erie. They were attended by Martha Peterson as maid-of-honor and Leslie Agens, former E. S. T. C. student, as best man. The Grahams spent their honeymoon in Cleveland.

Meet the Faculty

by DOLLY JOHNSON

Coming to the ranks of the faculty this semester are two new members. Just to let you in on some inside "info" concerning these two instructors, the following is submitted.

Right out of the rip-roaring, gold-mining town of Cripple Creek, Colorado, comes Mr. F. R. Schlessinger. Yep, Colorado born and bred! Mr. Schlessinger received his Bachelor's and Master's degrees from the Colorado State College of Education, Greeley, Colorado. Before entering the Navy in the capacity of radio electronics technician, this instructor taught in the public schools of Colorado for fourteen years. (This bit of information Mr. Schlessinger reluctantly gives, not wishing to date himself.) At Edinboro he is teaching physical sciences and the introduction to math analysis. When not over in Loveland Hall, this commuting faculty member may be found on Route 19. You see, Mr. Schlessinger and his family, which includes two sons, live in Erie. As his chief hobbies he lists radio, photography, and fishing.

Completing the duo of new faculty members is an old Edinboro alumnus, Mr. Carl L. Wozniak, Class of '36. Mr. Wozniak also hails from Erie, Pa., and has taught in the schools there. Last semester Mr. Wozniak taught at Alliance

College in Cambridge Springs. Currently he can be found lecturing on the social studies in Recitation Hall. Mr. Wozniak received his Master's degree from the University of Pittsburgh in 1946, and is now working for his Doctor's degree at the University of Texas. In what little spare time he has, Mr. Wozniak enjoys listening to some good music or leafing through a good book.

It is through Mrs. Campbell that we learn that in his undergraduate days Mr. Wozniak was very instrumental in boosting the college musical organizations, and that it was through this faculty member's initiative that the local chapter of Mu Kappa Gamma, musical fraternity, was started.

(Continued from page one) of the group. The picnic will be held on the rear lawn at the home of Marjorie Campbell, who will act as hostess. In case of rain the affair will be held in Music Hall.

The Y. W. C. A. will hold an inspirational service for all girls in Music Hall this evening. The organization sponsored a "Big and Little Sister" tea in the Haven Hall parlors on September 20.

The Newman Club held its re-organization meeting in Loveland Hall recently and elected the following officers: President, Ange Juliano; Vice President, Frank Bedogne; Secretary and Treasurer, Angeline Vitale. Reverend O'Dwyer outlined the planned social events for the coming year, which include a hay ride, social, communion breakfast, and dance.

Approximately one thousand new books will be added to the library in the near future. The orders, consisting of a wide variety of subjects, have been approved by the state authorities. Generous donations by Mr. Lowder and Mrs. F. S. Heinaman, widow of the late Mr. Frank S. Heinaman of the Edinboro mathematics department, have swelled the total number of volumes.

Edinboro OUTPOSTS

by ART JARVIS

Do you think the days of the itinerant school teacher are gone? If so, you're mistaken. Many of our faculty members journey forth to established outposts throughout this section of northwestern Pennsylvania. Our campus does not consist only of the thirty-five acres here in Edinboro; it extends in all directions, like spokes in a wheel, to Erie, Franklin, Meadville, Sharon, Titusville, and Warren. From Monday through Thursday at least one of the Edinboro faculty members can be found in those cities, conducting extension courses for teachers in service, who are either continuing work for their degree or completing certification requirements.

On Monday nights Mr. Boak and Dr. LaFollette head southeast to Titusville, where they have classes in World Literature and Educational Psychology, respectively. At the same time Mrs. Campbell, Mr. Mallory, and Mr. Wozniak turn eastward toward Warren, where they meet classes in Music Appreciation, Educational Psychology, and U. S. History.

On Tuesday nights "operations Edinboro" takes place in Sharon, where Miss McDonnell teaches English Literature; Miss Whitney, Educational Psychology; Mr. Griffin, the History of Civilization; and Mr. Zahnizer, the Principles of the Teaching of English.

On Wednesday nights, Mr. Wozniak wends his way alone to Meadville to give a class there in the History of the U. S. and Pennsylvania.

On Thursday, Franklin and Erie are the sites of Edinboro's educational outposts. In Franklin Miss Morton teaches a class in English Literature; Dr. Butterfield, a course in Mental Hygiene; and Mr. Neel enlightens students on the History of the U. S. since 1865. In Erie, Dr. Gatzky gives the fine points of visual education methods; Mr. Ellenberger instructs a class in Ethics; Dr. Hendricks teaches a course in the History of the U. S. and Pennsylvania, and Mr. Lowder expounds his theories on the modern novel.

Nor is it always smooth sailing for these modern knights of the road. Although the motto of the Post Office Department is not to be applied literally to the E. S. T. C. faculty members, they do carry out their missions when the going is tough. Recently Mr. Neel was stranded outside Meadville until after midnight when the Old Dodge decided to rest awhile after a late-shift class at Franklin. The extension-class teachers' motto might well be, "Vogue la galere!"

ESTC Vets Organize Top-Flight Dance Band

by JOE MAY

An ambitious, talented group of musicians, led by the versatile Angelo Susi, is becoming quite popular in Edinboro and vicinity. Organized last June, the combination now consists of Andrew Paycos, on accordion; Danny Susi, handling the drums; Jim Fordenbacher, bass; Ange Susi on sax; and Paul Grack, taking the vocal slot.

The actual history of the band, however, goes back much further than last June. It began in May, 1943, in Greensboro, N. C., where Ange Susi and Andy Paycos first became friends. At this time they were playing in an Army Air Force band under the baton of the late Glenn Miller. Eighteen months of this duty proving to be monotonous, both men transferred to an infantry division and were shipped to the European theater, seeing action in France and Germany.

Upon the cessation of hostilities, both men were again assigned to an Army band. While in Vienna they played at the Vienna Opera House on a program which was broadcast from coast to coast in the States. Shortly after this, both men were discharged; but they had laid firm plans to attend the same school and eventually to form a dance band.

Ange, who had attended Edinboro before serving in the Army, was the first to return to school. With him came his brother Danny, recently discharged from an armored division which had won fame in France, Germany, and Austria. Danny, well known in music circles around Bradford, brought with him his experience and ability at beating the skins.

Paycos did not go to school immediately; instead he went to his home in Philadelphia, where he gave private music lessons. However, at the start of the 1947 summer session, Andy finally came to college, and the band was quickly organized.

No band is complete without a bass, and Jim Fordenbacher aptly filled the role. Not without experience, Jim had played with various bands while serving two years in the Army Air Corps; and, prior to his enlistment, he had played with several orchestras in and around Pittsburgh.

Only one element was now lacking — a voice — but Ange remedied this by securing the services of Paul Grack. Paul, an Erie boy, saw three years of service in the Infantry. His tour of duty included action in France, Belgium, Holland, and Germany. As a vocalist, Paul has been quite popular and much in demand in the better night clubs of Erie.

By the latter part of June the band was well organized and playing at the Bartlett Hotel in Cambridge Springs. Their music was so well liked that they were offered several attractive jobs in Cleveland and Buffalo, but their attendance at summer school made acceptance impossible.

The band is currently playing at "Dan and Lee's" in Albion. The boys have played at several social functions on the campus this term, and they are slated to furnish the music for the Alumni Dance next Saturday night.

Pool Regulations Announced

The Athletic Department has announced the 1947-48 regulations for use of the swimming pool. No student will be admitted to the pool unless he observes these regulations.

The first requirement is a heart and foot examination, which must be taken at the infirmary between 11:00 A. M. and 12:00 noon. A permit indicating a clean bill of health must be procured from the nurse and presented to the life-guard before the swimmer may be admitted to the pool.

All swimmers must have a shower and foot bath immediately before entering the pool.

A list of all eligible swimmers will be posted near the pool.

RED RAIDERS SNAP LOSING STREAK

Booters Lose To Strong Teams

The soccer team began its season in an inauspicious fashion by dropping its first two games of the campaign. A well-drilled Slippery Rock team outplayed the Red Raiders in all departments to win the lid-lifter by a four-to-one count. Captain Tom Quirk scored the lone Edinboro goal on a well-placed free kick.

Westminster won a hard-fought 2-1 game from Edinboro on October 2 on the Red Raiders' home lot. Fine defensive play by goalie Bob Roessner was of material aid in holding down the score, although defensemen Snyder and Ghering more than held their own against the rugged invaders.

Edinboro will entertain Grove City on October 14. The Red Raiders then hit the road for games with Thiel on October 17 and with Grove City on October 28. The team closes its season at home on November 4, with Allegheny furnishing the opposition.

Sport Slants

by JERRY REYNOLDS

The 1947 edition of the football Red Raiders, although to a great extent composed of young gridders fresh out of high school, has proved itself a scrappy fleet of battlers by scoring 12 points against a huge Findlay bunch in its opener and by defeating the Clarion Teachers by a 7-6 score . . . this, incidentally, was a trick that the Raiders were unable to turn all last year, when they lost all games and scored only 7 points . . . As stated by Coach Nelson M. Jones, of the Findlay team, Edinboro has "more fight and spirit than any other team he has seen, and although they were beaten decisively by the Findlay giants, they made a commendable showing." . . . This compliment was given to Coach Arthur L. McComb and passed on.

Not to be outdone by the football team is Coach B. R. "Sox" Harrison's basketball team . . . to back up three lettermen — Bubbles Lloyd, John Peckham, and Al Babcock — is a wealth of new material that includes Joe Scalise, of Warren, Jim Broadhead, of Bradford, and Myron LaMont, of Sharpsville . . . The team starts practice late this month and is expected to give its own press notices once the season starts.

WAA Hockey Team To Meet Alumnae

The W. A. A. hockey team will launch its season with a game against the alumni on October 11 at 11:00 A. M. The alumni will field a strong team and promises to give the varsity a good workout.

The W. A. A. varsity will have a wealth of veteran players to carry out its schedule. Shirley Hazen, a three-year veteran, will be joined by the following two-year players: Marilyn Patton; Kathryn Bartoo; Clea Johnson; Anna Johnson; Dorothy Johnson; Nancy Spraggon; Dorothy Peplinski; Mary Jane Rozelle; Eunice Theobald; Dona Flower; Wilma Jean Fox; Jane Twitchell; and Druth McClure.

A number of players have had one year of previous experience: Lois McCartney; Margaret Gilbody; Jeanne Simoni; Jane Venman; Nancy Coates; and Mary Lou Reader.

Several inter-collegiate games are being planned. Two invitations have been received for hockey dates at Cleveland and at Allegheny in which six to eight colleges will participate. The girls are looking forward to playing host to Lake Erie College, a school with a six-year physical education course, which provided the toughest opposition of last season.

of potential clud wielders for this year's W. A. A. field hockey team. is already showing off the athletic prowess of the ladies . . . the girls initiated the season last week as the Phi team downed the Deltas in an intra-college game . . . the girls will meet a strong alumnae squad next Saturday, Homecoming Day.

Looking over the Raiders during practice the other day was Dr. Floyd A. Wright, graduate of the Edinboro class of 1915, who stated this was his first visit to the school since his graduation . . . he is an instructor in the law school at the University of Miami, at Coral Gables, Florida, and was a member of the battling Raider football squad while at Edinboro.

To Meet Husky Rockets At Homecoming, Sat.

Coach At McComb, considerably heartened by the 7-6 upset his football charges registered against a strong Clarion eleven last week, is busily pointing his charges for their meeting with a rugged Slippery Rock squad this Saturday. The last home game of the year will climax Homecoming Day.

The Red Raiders, picked by most sports writers in this section to wind up in the cellar of the newly-formed State Teachers College Conference, upset the dope bucket last Saturday by pushing over a quick touchdown, converting the extra point, and then holding tenaciously for the rest of the game. Barney Edwards cracked over early in the first quarter for Edinboro's touchdown after a long run by Joe Concilla had set up the score. Art De Giovanni's perfect extra point proved to be the margin of victory when the visitors failed to convert after scoring in the second half.

Coach McComb and his men need not be ashamed of losing to Findlay in the season's opener. The Ohio school was definitely out of Edinboro's league; nevertheless, the Red Raiders gave the big, fast visitors a tougher battle than the score — 34-12 — would indicate.

The key man in the newly-installed "T" formation is quarterback Dan Chisholm. His split-second timing and heady thinking have been as much an asset as have been his booming punts. Joe Concilla, the crazy-legged boy from North East, gives Coach McComb a fine break-away runner who can change the complexion of a game with one run. Art DeGiovanni, the boy with the educated toe, is also a hard running halfback. Barney Edwards, of Wesleyville, rounds out the backfield at fullback.

Jack Millward, who scored the first touchdown of the season in the Findlay game, and Jack Bills are two ends who will continue to bother the opposition considerably. Other outstanding linemen are Dave Thomas, "Butch" Evanoff, Linc Vansickle, Felix Matuszewski, Pete Chiesa, Walt Gratson, George Sarachine, and co-captains Hank Diller and Sam Salchak.

After closing out their home stand this Saturday, the Red Raiders will hit the road for four games. Thiel will furnish the opposition on October 25, Mansfield on November 1, Alliance (in the Erie Stadium) on November 6, and West Liberty on November 15.

Edinboro Ducks Begin Practice

With a rugged 11-meet schedule confronting them, the members of the Edinboro swimming team started practice sessions last Monday under the guidance of Coach Arthur McComb. Since only four men — Art Warren, George Otto, Fred Abbott, and Gene Myers — of the 1946-47 squad are on campus, freshmen will have a good chance to qualify for the ten open positions on the team.

The Red Raiders open the season on December 13 with a home engagement against Fenn College. The only other meet in December is at Allegheny on the 19th. Two meets, both at home, are scheduled for January, with Geneva and Thiel furnishing the opposition. In February, the Raiders are on the road against Slippery Rock, Buffalo State Teachers College, the University of Pittsburgh, and Westminster. Allegheny is here on February 26. Edinboro will compete in the Penn-Ohio Meet at Carnegie Tech two days later. Grove City is here on March 6 in the final meet of the season.
