PLAYERS SET FOR TWO-DAY STAND

Sammy Monte Plays For Frosh Dance

The Freshman Class will sponsor a semi-formal dance in Crawford Gymnasium this Saturday evening, with dancing from 8:30 p. m. till 11:30 p. m. Music for the affair will be furnished by Sammy Monte and His Orchestra. This twelve-piece aggregation hails from Youngstown, Ohio, and is well known in the Pittsburgh area.

Freshmen in good standing will be admitted free together with their guests. Admission price for outside couples and freshmen who have not paid their dues will be $1.80.

Committees appointed to make arrangements for the affair are: decorations, Bill Buchanan, Emilie Atwater, Marilyn Haight, Yvonne Nottingham, John Allegretti, and John Windahl; advertising, Warren Williams, Virginia Hall, Audrey Nicely, Martha Murdoch, Jim Crawford, and Bob Chavern; band, Roy Scarazzo, Rocco Longo, Bob Merryman, Christy Argyros, Ronnie Krape, Clark Morey, and Heinz Johnson.

News Briefs

Miss Skinner, Mr. Haller, and Mr. Bruce attended the meeting of the Erie Art Club on November 14th. A lecture, "Make Mine Modern," was given by Mrs. M. Monger of the Cleveland Museum of Art. A reception was held after the formal meeting.

Dr. Hendricks delivered the feature address at the Training School's Armistice Day program last Tuesday. His topic was "American Democracy."

At the Y. W. C. A. meeting last Wednesday, Allen Lake spoke on the subject, "Am I My Brother's Keeper?" This was a consideration of the problem of the starving people of Europe. The annual Christmas program of the group will be held on the evening of December 10.

The dates for the annual Art Conference held at E.S.T.C. have been set for April 23-24.

Mrs. Miller attended the 27th annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Association of Deans of Women in Harrisburg on November 7th and 8th. The group stressed the importance of activating religion for students on campus, since students as a whole have indicated a desire for such a movement.

Dr. Van Houten will attend a meeting of the Board of Presidents of the State Teachers Colleges this Friday in Harrisburg.

The Forum Club will meet during the activity period on Friday, December 19, instead of on the evening of December 1, according to an announcement by Dr. Hendricks, one of the faculty sponsors for the group. The topic for discussion, "The German Problem," will not be changed.

Thanksgiving recess for the Training School begins at 2:25 p. m., Wednesday, November 26, and ends at 9:00 a. m. Monday, December 1.

Council Declares Financial Policy

The Student-Faculty Council at its meeting last Wednesday armed itself with a formidable weapon to enforce compliance with directives concerning the handling of finances.

The Council agreed that, in the future, any organization which does not follow the proper procedure in ordering purchases to be paid for out of the Student Activity Fund will receive no further financial aid from the Council.

The proper procedure for such orders was pointed out. The organization making the purchase must obtain four order blanks from Dr. Hoshauer, treasurer of the fund. After these blank forms are properly made out and signed by the group's faculty adviser, one copy must be presented to Dr. Hoshauer, one copy must be turned over to the Council, one copy must be retained by the organization, and one copy must be presented to the merchant or individual from whom the purchase is made.

Chairman Harold Graham emphasized strongly that cooperation must be obtained from all organizations involved if the present financial system is to operate successfully. He further pointed out that any unauthorized spending would increase the deficit that already exists and would permanently impair the credit of the Council, since orders placed illegally cannot be paid. Dr. Van Houten declared that all organizations must maintain an accounting of their funds and must have their books ready for an audit at any time.

The matter of cheating in tests was also discussed at some length by the group. Upon the suggestion

Peace Advocate To Speak On Dec. 5

The assembly speaker for Wednesday, December 5, will be Dr. Vernon Nash, educator, author, lecturer, and world traveler. Dr. Nash is an outstanding advocate of world peace through responsible government and is expected to speak on some phase of that topic.

Dr. Nash has led a varied and interesting life. He was a Rhodes Scholar from Missouri in 1916. During World War I he served with the British Army in India and East Africa. In 1924 he founded the first school of journalism in Asia at Yen-ching University, Peiping, China. In 1932 he was visiting-professor of journalism at the University of Missouri, which has one of the outstanding schools of journalism in the United States. In recent years he has spent much of his time on the lecture platform and serving with voluntary committees in organization work in the field of post-war planning.

will be held in the Training School gymnasium on Monday afternoon, December 1. The meeting will be open to members of the college faculty and the student body.

The ScaRab Club is hard at work on its plans for a lavish ball on February 14th, according to an announcement by Big Bug John Wright. It has been decided that the affair will be a costume ball and that the general theme will be surrealistic.

Waiters To Give Ball On Dec. 6

Edinboro's men and women in white, the dining room waiters and waitresses, are sponsoring a dance to be held in Crawford Gymnasium the evening of December 6. Dancing will be from 7:30 until 11:00, with a popular Erie band furnishing the music.

Since the event is being staged primarily for the entertainment of the waiters and their friends, the dance will be a closed affair. Each member of the dining room crew will receive two tickets, one for a friend and one for himself. The price of tickets, one dollar per couple, includes entertainment and refreshments.

The idea for the affair was suggested by Miss Beattie and eagerly seconded by the dining room personnel. Gale Boak was selected general chairman, and committees were set up as follows: entertainment, Ted Lynch; refreshments, Jack Rogers; decorations, Louis Cicchini, Phyllis Kinsley, and John Wright; tickets, Al Lake; advertising, Bob Rosequist; and program, Tom Brown.

Freeland Directs Xmas Tableau

A Christmas program, consisting of a tableau and a choral concert, will be presented in the Auditorium on Sunday, December 14, at 4:00 p. m.

In the tableau various scenes will depict the Wise Men, the Shepherds, the manger scene, and the appearance of the angels. There will be two narrators, Terry Malinowski and Edwin Kwiatkowski. The tableau will be coordinated with the music from Fred Waring's "Christmas Cantata," with Warren Williams acting as accompanist.

Actor, Educator To Appear Here

The regularly scheduled assembly programs of December 10th and 17th will feature Hedley Hepworth, English born and educated actor, and Alfred Hooper, English educator, lecturer and writer.

Mr. Hepworth, who is considered Britain's foremost authority on Dickens, is making his fifth trans-continental tour, in which he impersonates such fictional characters as Fagin, Sydney Carton, Scrooge and Mr. Micawber in his lecture on "The Immortal Characters of Dickens." Mr. Hepworth's repertory of literary masterpieces consists of over fifty humorous and dramatic studies from the works of modern authors, poets and dramatists. So realistic are his impersonations that the British Secret Service utilized Mr. Hepworth's talents for under-cover work during the war.

Converts Math-Haters

Mr. Hooper, a former headmaster of a famous school in England, is an outstanding teacher, writer and lecturer. He has written such books as "The River of Mathematics" and "Mathematics Refresher," in which his discussions are inspiring and interesting as well as educational. Mr. Hooper will speak about mathematics as the key that opens up the treasure-house of modern science. His lectures have proved a great value to those interested in various phases of science and to those who call themselves "haters" of math.

The Mixed Chorus of 70 voices will sing Christmas choral pieces for about half of the program. A brass quartet will play before the tableau begins. Mrs. Campbell is in charge of the program, with George Freeland directing the tableau.

Edinboro Players Present Comedy November 21, 22

"The Great Big Doorstep," a three-act comedy written by Frances Goodrich and Albert Hackett, will be presented by the Edinboro Players tomorrow night and Friday night at 8:15 p. m., in the Auditorium. In addition to the stage entertainment, play-goers will be presented with an attractive 12-page souvenir booklet and will have an opportunity to patronize the latest in coke bars, lent to the Players for this occasion.

The play is the story of the Crochets, a Cajun family who live in extreme poverty in the Mississippi River region directly above New Orleans. A beautiful doorstep, once attached to a mansion up the river but washed down by the floods, decorates the front of their miserable shack and becomes the symbol of their dreams for a better life.

Commodore Crochet, played by Edwin Kwiatkowski, is the dreamy head of the family who insists that some day their luck will change and "their ship will come in." His wife, played by Jeanne Tyson, is more practical minded and raises lily bulbs to sell. The numerous children of the Crochets add much to the comedy: Evie, Joan Finneyfrock; Topal, A. Louise Johnson; Arthur, George Gall; Fleece, Roberta Rohrer; and Elna, Jeanne Simoni.

Large Supporting Cast

Supporting roles are portrayed as follows: Tayo Delacroix, a barber, Tom Tyson; Mr. Tobin, a Texan, John Patterson; Mrs. Beaumont, a florist, Patricia Hamilton; Mrs. Dupre, the landlady, Marilyn Swanson; and Uncle Dewey Crochet, Louis Cicchini.

Others who are assisting with the play in various capacities are: Margaret Gilbody, Florence Weyrauch, Midge Perkins, David Jones, Robert Wallace, Robert Roessner, Byron Chadderdon, Marie Hall, Betty Gross, Jane Venman, Fred Sammons, Marie Hall, Emily Atwater, Shirley Hazlewood, June Hancock, Virginia Batchelor, Ted Levi, and Virginia Hall.

The setting for the comedy is the front yard of the Crochet home, with the rickety, clap-board cabin with its shining white doorstep, a huge tree, and a love-seat being the principal props.

Vets' Personal Adjustment Service Announced

The Pittsburgh Regional Office of the Veterans Administration announces that a personal-adjustment counseling service is now open to all veterans.

This service is available to all veterans, male or female, and is designed to permit veterans who may have personal problems of any nature for which they need help to come in and discuss them with trained counselors. There are no forms or applications to fill out; all interviews are in strict confidence and are not included in Veterans Administration records.

For an appointment with the Personal Counselor, phone Grant 5300, Extension 243, or write to the Personal Counselor, Veterans Administration, Fulton Building, 107 Sixth Street, Pittsburgh 22, Penna.

We'd Like More Of The Same

The assembly program of November 14, entitled "Pennsylvania Panorama" was one of the most interesting and best staged presentations seen in our auditorium in the past several years. The participating students and their faculty advisers are to be commended on a job well done.

The most heartening aspect of the program for many people is that it is now obvious that a group of Edinboro students, with good motivation and proper guidance, can produce a voluntary activity of considerable merit. Many organizations and individual students about the campus might well profit from that example, for while it may be true in part that any school is only what the teachers make it, the attitude of the students and their willingness to participate in all phases of college life have considerable influence on college morale.

This fine program was one more step in the right direction. Let's maintain our present course, perhaps speeding up the pace somewhat, in order to make our college an institution of which we can be proud and in order to establish worthwhile traditions for future classes to follow.

"Honesty Is Praised And Starves"

The ugly problem of cheating during examinations periodically raises its head on many college campuses. It would seem, from casual observation, that such an undesirable condition is developing on our campus. One student has remarked that cheating by one group of individuals has been so well organized that the members should pay union dues.

However, there is nothing humorous about the practice. It is a vicious thing which has tragic and far-reaching results. Any sensible person must stop and think hard when he realizes that these individuals who crib and cheat their way through college are the teachers of the next generation, the generation upon which the world bases so much hope. If their teachers are so morally debased, what can we expect of our children?

Then too, this nefarious business has some unfortunate, immediate results. The average student, who ordinarily gets by with a comfortable "C" average and who is in classes with a group of crib artists, suddenly finds that the people who are normally below him are blossoming into "B" and "C" students. Because grades are based on a curve to a considerable extent, Mr. Average Student is shoved into the failing class. He is faced with the dilemma of cheating or not surviving. Thus the unwholesome business spreads and assumes more serious proportions, until the lid blows off. When the day of reckoning does come, the chances are that the goons who began the whole, vicious cycle will escape unscathed.

Teachers can take steps to make cheating more difficult, but only the students can check it completely. We must stop and consider the moral problems involved. As one individual has remarked, those persons who continue to ignore ethical concepts might well remember that Lake Conneauttee will be ice-free for some time.

Mr. Ralph Bruce New Art Teacher

The latest addition to Edinboro's faculty is Mr. Ralph Bruce, new member of the art department. Mr. Bruce is teaching courses in Drawing and Perspective, Advanced Drawing and Composition, and Lettering.

Mr. Bruce comes to Edinboro with an exceptionally fine background in the teaching profession. He received his A. B. in Fine Arts at the University of Indiana and his M. A. in Practical Arts from Columbia University. Prior to coming here, Mr. Bruce taught at Michigan State Normal School, Ypsilanti, Michigan, which is near the Willow Run development.

In addition, Mr. Bruce taught several summers at Georgia Teachers College, Collegeboro, Georgia, and Northern Teachers College, Marquette, Michigan. He also taught in the township schools of Boston, Indiana, and was art supervisor for the county schools of LaGrange, Indiana. Mr. Bruce has spent several summers in Provincetown, Massachusetts, studying landscape painting. Exhibits of his work have been shown in Detroit and Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Bruce, an Oberlin College graduate, is filling in for her husband at Ypsilanti until a suitable replacement for him can be found. As soon as she is released from her temporary duties, Mrs. Bruce, with Elizabeth Ann and Robert, will join Mr. Bruce in Edinboro, if he can find a house here. At present he is living in his small trailer, now located behind Crawford Gymnasium.

CAMPUS CRUMBS

(It's Strictly For The Birds)

Walter Winchell may be one of the listening posts of American public opinion, as some of his admirers claim, but by establishing his distinctive type of column he has proved a curse to editors of college papers. Since numerous students have suggested that The Spectator needs a "good" gossip column, we'll give it a whirl. Personally we'd rather write a bitter column, raging and roaring about great national issues about which we understand nothing.

Don Young, that rotund cherub with the weird sense of humor, has been observed hopefully parking his risky jalopy (it's a real risk to ride in it) along Meadville Street ever since the day of the Big Smash-up. If his luck continues to be poor, he can always trade it in for a good second-hand bicycle. . . . Our nomination for Miss Deep-Freeze of Edinboro: Mary Noxon. Don't look so gloomy, chicken, the tough days are still ahead — just wait 'til you hit some of the education courses. . . . A gal who should prove mighty popular hereabouts is pretty Ann Markham. Her pop owns a big music store in Erie.

Lee Davis, one of our serious-minded married students, was once a member of the nationally famous Mask and Wig club of the Unniversity of Pennsylvania. The club is a top-flight organization which sponsors annual musical-comedy shows which appear throughout the East. "Daddy," a popular hit tune of a few years back, was taken from a Mask and Wig presentation.

"Stretch" McKinney has shocked his numerous friends by appearing in a necktie these days, with his hair combed yet. It must be love. . . . Student Council should buy Carol Carr a footrest. These new-fangled seats leave no room for Carol to park her dainty number threes on the seat ahead. . . . George Freeland is in line for some congratulations for his fine job of staging the "Pennsylvania Panorama" program last Friday.

Sorry to hear that Frank Files was forced to drop out of school because of his father's death. Let's hope he's back here next semester. . . . Petite Helga Aho strengthens the claim of the Marine Corps that their women's auxiliary put a premium on attractiveness.

Mu Kappas Hold Initiation Rites

Mu Kappa Gamma Fraternity held an initiation ceremony on Monday evening, November 15th, in the Bronze Room of the Auditorium.

LeVieve Obert, president of the fraternity, conducted the ceremony. She was assisted by Clea Johnson, Katherine Bartoo, Marjorie Perkins, Marjorie Campbell, Romaline Hall, Wilma Jean Steadman, Mary Artello, Dorothy Davies and Paul Zarenko.

The Mu Kappa Gamma, which is an honorary music society, voted in and initiated the following members into their organization: Nancy Coates, Frances Hanna, Florence Weyrauch, Roberta Rohrer, Betty Phillips, Allen Lake, Raymond Goodwill, Kenneth Harvey, and Glenn McKinney.

At the conclusion of the business meeting and initiation service, refreshments were served.

Haven Residents Give Formal Tea

The Haven Hall girls sponsored a tea last Sunday afternoon in honor of the faculty members and the off-campus women. Mrs. L. H. Van Houten, Mrs. H. L. Offner, Miss Ruth Morton, and Miss Joanna Beatty officiated at the urns.

Appropriate background music was furnished by several of the girls. Helen DeFlavio sang "Ave Maria" and "Sympathy"; Irene Cristeo and Evelyn White presented a clever violin duet. Piano music was provided by Vinnie Petruso, Marian Eades, and Norma Hamel.

One interesting feature of the occasion was the use of the candle holders, ornamental silver-candlesticks, and crystal flower dish recently received by the girls of Haven Hall from an anonymous donor.

Ted Stewart

Stewart, Student Organist, Tells How Hobby Began

Ted Stewart, the young man who plays the organ for our assembly programs, is a firm believer in the theory that everything works out all right in the end. Ted has come to this conclusion the hard way.

When Ted, who hails from Oakdale, Pa., was only seven and too young to protect himself, his parents and three piano-playing sisters decided that he should take music lessons. Ted dutifully began piano practice, although his heart wasn't in it.

By the time he entered Langley High School in Pittsburgh, Ted decided he really liked music. This led him to take two years of private organ lessons. In high school he was student director of the a capella choir and assistant director and organist for the high school choral club, which performed at many church functions in the area.

Although he has never played professionally, Ted's main hobby is music. He prefers the organ to the piano because, he says, "You can get so much more out of an organ as far as tone quality is concerned." Even though the Hammond is easier to play, he likes the pipe organ better.

Taking Engineering Course

Ted, a Penn State freshman, is taking an industrial-engineering course and hopes after he graduates to become manager of his father's shop, the Pittsburgh Machine and Supply Co. Here at Edinboro, Ted is a member of the Choir and of the Ensemble. He is also organist for the Presbyterian Church in Edinboro.

Ted says he wouldn't give up his music for anything and now is really glad that his family did hold that little conference when he was seven. Edinboro students have had ample reason to be glad, too. His fine playing of the background music for "Pennsylvania Panorama" last week is but one example of the talent Ted so generously contributes to school functions.

Phi Delt Official To Visit Edinboro

Miss Amy Swisher, regional secretary of Delta Phi Delta, national art fraternity, will visit E.S.T.C. this coming week-end as a guest of Chi Chapter. Head of art instruction at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, Miss Swisher will help the members of the local organization make plans for future activities.

Having recently conducted a successful art exhibit in Haven Hall, the members of Chi Chapter are now working on Christmas cards, to be sent to other chapters of Delta Phi Delta. A craft exhibit in Loveland Hall is another project being contemplated by this active group.

"The Great Big Doorstep" is the seventy-seventh presentation for the Edinboro Players, now in their twenty-second year of production. Miss Ludgate, directing the play, is assisted by George Freeland and Therese Malinowski, student directors.

Erie Team Plays WAA Here Today

The Edinboro W.A.A. field hockey team tangles with the highly touted Lake Erie College girls on the Edinboro field this afternoon. The local team, after having beaten the field hockey teams of Grove City College and Slippery Rock last Friday in a playday at Grove City, is expected to be "high" for the game with its traditional rivals.

According to Coach Nettie Mai Ruttle, the Erie team has beaten the Edinboro girls four out of the last five times they played. However, the Erie girls are not too far out of the local team's reach and an upset is hoped for.

Hoshauer Stars For E. S. T. C.

Joan Hoshauer drove through the two goals in the second half against Grove City Friday to give the locals the over-all win with two points, while Slippery Rock had one and Grove City had none.

Grove City played Slippery Rock to a 0-0 tie in the first half, followed by a 2-0 win by Edinboro over Grove City in the second half. The local W.A.A. then dropped one point to Slippery Rock in the final quarter.

Accompanied by Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, Miss Ruth Morton, and Miss Ruttle, the following girls made the trip: Nancy Spraggon, Joan Hoshauer, Clea Johnson, Anna Johnson, Dorothy Johnson, Jeanne Simoni, Margaret Gilbody, Mary Lou Reader, Donna Flower, Barbara Buckley, Wilma Jeanne Fox, Druth McClure, Jane Twichell, Eunice Theobald, and Bertha Hammermeister.

Facing Tough Schedule

Bills Breaks Leg As Raiders Drop Final At West Liberty

Injuries invaded the Raider team last Saturday as they met the West Liberty State Teachers College gridders in a sea of mud at the West Virginia school to lose the season's finale by a 26-6 score. Playing against an undefeated West Virginia State Teachers College championship team, the locals were up against strong opposition all the way.

Badly injured during the game were Jack Bills, who received a broken left leg just below the knee, and Ed Sarachine, who got some badly bruised ribs. Bills remained in a West Virginia hospital after the game, while Sarachine made the trip back home with the team. The shoulder of Hank Diller was also badly bruised in the fray.

Palombini Scores For Raiders

The Raider touchdown was scored late in the last quarter after Hank LaTempa had blocked a West Liberty kick. Ange Juliano made an 18-yard run to set up the score, and Pete Palombini, diminutive quarterback, sneaked the ball through center for the score.

The West Liberty team, which had a change of uniforms during the halftime intermission, scored two touchdowns in quick succession after the start of the second half; then the mud-caked Raiders held on for the rest of the game. West Liberty had scored twice before in the first half.

Dan Chisholm, halfback, managed to pull Edinboro out of a deep hole early in the first quarter when he kicked from his own 3-yard line to the West Liberty 30 — a distance of 67 yards. The play of Jack Millward was also exceptionally good, according to Coach McComb.

The game ended the grid season for the Red Raiders with one win and six losses.

Olympic Wrestling Coach To Conduct Clinic Here

Charles Speidel, famous Penn State and Olympic wrestling coach, will act as instructor at a wrestling clinic to be held at Edinboro on December 6.

Announcement of the clinic was made by Coaches Art McComb and James Reed last week-end and by Lowell C. Drake, president of the Northwestern Pennsylvania Coaches Association, the organization sponsoring the affair.

It is understood that a meeting of the association will be held at Edinboro the same day to map plans for a basketball clinic to be held early in January.

Ducks Prepping For First Swimming Meet

Although all of his consistent point-scorers graduated last year, leaving only three returning lettermen, Coach Art McComb is whipping his swimming team of Edinboro Ducks into shape and expects to make a fair showing in the season's opener against Fenn College on December 13.

Along with a promising squad of new material, veterans Art Warren (student manager), Gene Myers, George Otto, and Fred Abbott will represent Edinboro in the 11-meet schedule.

Vitale Beats Hall To Cop Tennis Toga

In the beginners' W.A.A. tennis tourney Angeline Vitale, a freshman, won the championship early last week by defeating Marie Hall, a junior, 8-6.

Other playoffs, including a golf tournament, were postponed because of the inclement weather.

Juniors Top Sophs

The final game of the inter-class hockey tournament was played last week, the Juniors easily winning from the Sophomores by a 6-1 score. Clea Johnson scored four goals and Anna Johnson tallied two for the Juniors, while Mary Lou Reader poled in the only Soph tally.

HUTCH'S HUT

Sport Slants

by JEEP REYNOLDS

Coach Nettie Mai Ruttle is up and about again after having been laid up for nearly a month with a knee that was injured in a fall. Miss Ruttle's injury was one of the main reasons for the postponement of the Detroit trip for the field hockey team.

An interesting sidelight caused by the absence of Miss Ruttle was Coach Sox Harrison's coaching of the girls' gym classes. The coach felt right at home, since for many years it was his regular job to coach both girls and boys. The girls also expressed their enjoyment in having "Sox" teach them the rudiments of volleyball.

Besides the good play of Joan Hoshauer, who scored the only two Edinboro goals in the meet at Grove City last Friday, it is revealed by W.A.A. Sports Reporter Druth McClure that the play of Margaret Gilbody and Anna Johnson was also exceptional, although all of the girls did a fine job.

Of the three Raider basketball letter-winners to return this year, Bubbles Lloyd had the highest standing in the scoring race last year. Lloyd garnered 85 points for his efforts, an average of 9.4 points per tilt for nine games. Al Babcock was next high with 34 points, while John Peckham had 32. All of these men were eclipsed, however, by John Lipchik, last season's star, who tallied 165 points, 11.8 counters per game.

According to Miss Ruttle, the girls' field hockey teams have lost only six out of forty-two games played in the last ten years. Sounds like a good batting average to us.

Fredonia To Face ESTC Here Dec. 11

Crawford Gym is a scene of feverish activity these days as Coach B. R. "Sox" Harrison prepares his 24-man Edinboro basketball squad for the December 11 home-opener against Fredonia. The squad was cut down from 35 men to 24 on Monday.

The tilt with Fredonia will inaugurate a 17-game schedule — ten at home and seven away — for the Raiders. E.S.T.C. will also meet a strong Alumni team on December 16.

With John Peckham, Bubbles Lloyd, and Al Babcock the only returning lettermen from last year's team, which won seven and lost eight, the Raider mentor is confronted by a huge rebuilding job. Two reserves — Jim Currie and Bob Bloom — saw action last year and will be in for a great deal of consideration in the future.

One thing that is evident at this early date is the squad's lack of size. There are only three or four players who have what one would call ideal height for college basketball.

At this time, the tentative squad consists of Bubbles Lloyd, John Peckham, Al Babcock, Jim Broadhead, Joe Scalise, Myron LaMont, Jim Currie, Bob Bloom, Stretch McKinney, Stew Smith, Paul Crossman, and Whitey Swanson. Also Paul Haley, John McNeas, "Doc" Ghering, Clarence Nicolls, Drew Hare, Jack Greenawalt, Jim Boyd, Bob Pletcher, Chuck Andrews, Chuck Owen, Bob Vincich, and Mike Talko.

The past week's drills for the team have emphasized passing and offensive play.
