

CIRCLE-IN-SQUARE RETURNS

Student Government Holds First Meeting

The first meeting of Student Congress was held last week in the Faculty Lounge.

One of the major issues discussed was a new system for election of the Homecoming Queen. As in the past, the student body has elected five semi-finalists. However, the final decision will rest with a panel of impartial judges. Campaigning was also discussed. It will be restricted to campus except in the case of fraternity and sorority houses.

Joe Casale was placed in charge of setting up a display on some aspect of the campus in co-sponsorship with Pitt for the Region Four Assn. of College Unions.

Financial matters discussed included: two hundred dollars to be allocated for the previously mentioned display, seventy-seven dollars to be given to the American Industrial Arts Assn. for the purpose of attending the Industrial Arts Conference.

Harry Serene, Student Congress President, announced that all clubs previously dropped from Student Congress for absence from meetings are reinstated for this year.

A motion was made by George Speer to have the administration study the question of having Who's Who on American Campuses, an annually published book, at CSC. The motion carried.

The next meeting will be held on October 21, in the Faculty Lounge.

Actors Here Next Week

Desire Under the Elms, Eugene O'Neill's masterpiece, will be presented by the Circle-in-the-Square Theatre Group on October 20, at 8:00 p.m. in Steele Auditorium.

The play was first produced and published in 1924. Although O'Neill's previous plays had indicated the author's intention of delving far below the surface events of life, this play was the first to define the profound problems that consumed him for his entire life.

Each character in Desire is involved in a fierce pursuit of his own personal goal; as the play unfolds against the harsh background of the bleak, stony countryside the clash of goals creates a war of pride, greed, hatred and love.

Ephraim Cabot, a New England farmer believes that "God is hard" and bases his life on this principle. Abbie Putnam, an attractive woman of thirty five, half his own age, marries him in order to provide a home for herself.

Abbie, in order to keep the farm in her possession, tells her husband that she will conceive a child by him, and the child will be heir to the farm. When the child is born, it's a mystery as to who really is the father.

Events grow throughout the thrilling dramatic experience producing emotions of jealousy, anger, love, fury and disappointment.

The production, Six Characters in Search of an Author which was presented last year along with Under Milkwood, has won three Obies, as well as the Outer Circle Award and the Lola D'Annunzio Award.

Tickets may be obtained at Mr. Dochinez' office in the Old Book Store.

Players to Present 'Come Blow Your Horn'

Come Blow Your Horn, a hilarious comedy by Neil Simon will be presented as the College Player's fall production on November 19, 20 and 21. Director of Players, Mr. Roger C. Emelson and his energetic cast are now rolling Simon's clever dialogue around on Steele stage.

The author of this New York "hit", Neil Simon, is a talented television writer. If you enjoyed "The Show of Shows", Garry Moore Show" the "Caesar Hour" or "Sergeant Bilko", all written by Simon, you are certain to like the rollicking scenes in Come Blow Your

Horn, which opened on Broadway in 1961 with Hal March in the leading role of Alan Baker, a 33-year-old playboy with a plentiful set of playmates. Frank Sinatra played the movie version lead. Simon's current play in New York is Barefoot In The Park which was also seen recently on tour at the Nixon in Pittsburgh.

In his smart bachelor apartment in the east 60's of Manhattan, Alan Baker plays host to a series of girls and somehow neglects his job in the family business . . . the biggest fruit business in the East! Young Buddy, Alan's brother, envies this carefree existence so he decides to move in with Alan and share the wealth. Buddy's indoctrination period with the weaker sex follows immediately when he is introduced as a big Hollywood producer, Oscar Manheim, and the girls come flocking to be discovered. Mamma and Poppa Baker soon interrupt this experiment in fine living, trying to get Buddy to return home to prevent what Poppa says, "You'll be a bigger bum than your brother and he's got twelve years on you."

The setting is a modern Manhattan apartment complete with living room, kitchen and bedroom. In this typically equipped utopia with its fireplace, bar and city view, Alan has all the comforts plus every known lure to insure happy bachelor days.

Good Morning!

New Flag Poles are soon to be erected on Campus.

New furniture in Binns.

Still another new face for the California Times. The newspaper is finally back on Campus.

California lost to Slippery Rock on Saturday. The Vulcans will travel to Shippensburg tomorrow.

Circle-in-the-Square is appearing at Steele Auditorium on Tuesday at 8:00 p.m.

College Players are now in rehearsal for their fall Production, Come Blow Your Horn.

Cold weather seems to have arrived. People can be seen on campus wearing their winter coats.

There will be another Pegasus this year.

WRA held a "play-day" for freshmen girls. It was a huge success.

The College Choir is planning to present Amahl And The Night Visitors at Christmas time.

The office of the California Times has been moved. We are now in Vulcan, in the office previously occupied by Mr. Moore. Mr. Moore and Mr. Dochinez both have their offices in the old book store.

Driving on campus is no longer permitted, except for deliveries.

The autumn leaves are falling all over the place.

Library seats become scarce as enrollment increases.

New staff members needed for California Times.

Book store line dwindles as trimester proceeds.

Despite rumors to the contrary, Columbus Day was not observed here by a half-day session.

Political campaign grows in intensity as election day grows nearer.

EDITORIAL

New Term, New Times

California Times, the weekly voice of California State College, has once again changed hands in its editorial policy and staff.

The new editors would like to state the paper's policy:

- 1. In the past, the newspaper has been governed by a national rating service, the Associated Collegiate Press. It is the belief of the co-editors that this rating service has dictated previous policies of the newspaper. Therefore it is our intention to cancel this service and set our own policies.
2. Greek societies will once more be considered an important part of campus by the California Times.
3. The paper will belong to the students of California State College instead of a rating service or particular campus groups.
4. No longer will the California Times be a newspaper filled with continual complaints. Only serious problems will be discussed objectively if they are constantly ignored.
5. Sarcastic tone will be discontinued.

The staff welcomes all letters and constructive criticism. We sincerely hope that the student body will be open-minded concerning our policies.

It is a time for decision for the California Times. And a time that we hope will place this paper on your priority reading list each week. It is a time for each and every member of the student body to 'accentuate the positive and eliminate the negative.'

What Others Say . . .

W. & J. — RED & BLACK

Although only a few items of the student activity budget have been released, it has already been made known that there is little chance of continuing the Student Council lecture series. We feel that this represents a considerable loss for the intellectual life of the campus.

We know that the Student Council has received added requests from many organizations. But we do not feel that a balanced budget and the lecture series are mutually exclusive.

Last year the Student Council spent $1100 on the lectures and we feel that out of their total $36,000 budget, they should be able to match this sum this year.

The lecture series is one of the few all-campus events. Last year William Rickenbacker and Norman Thomas received excellent turn-outs. Their lectures and the discussions which followed, were highlights of the second semester. No price tag can be placed on the amount of intellectual stimulation that took place because of their appearances. It will be a definite step backwards if the Student Council fails to renew this program.

Even more important, is the possibility of the Student Council failing to take the initiative in any more of the intellectual as well as the social life of the campus.

We believe that the lecture program can, and should, be salvaged. However, we feel that the Student Council should again take immediate steps to have the student activity fees increased. This increase could eventually provide the student body with an excellent lecture program and would meet the rising costs of other activities.

The Pants Trick

It's easy to call a meeting to consider a course of action
It's easy to appoint a committee to study a basic problem
And nothing is easier than turning out a report filled with recommendation
But when all the studying, and the recommending and the discussing are over—someone along the line has to do the PANTS TRICK
Someone has to get off the seat of his pants and do something.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

It has been said that the students of California State College lack school spirit. However, Saturday's display of enthusiasm at the football game proved just the opposite.

To further this interest in the games of the varsity teams, the Pep Club has been organized this year under the direction of the Girl's Physical Education Department.

The main purpose of the Pep Club is to support the varsity teams vocally at the games. However, advertising the different games will also be a function of this organization.

The Pep Club will sponsor buses to away games, beginning with the football game at Shippensburg State College. There will be reserved seats at the games for Pep Club members.

This club is still open for membership. Anyone interested is to contact Miss McConnell, the club sponsor, Tom Holder, or Lois Wilson. Incidentally, any girl interested in trying out for cheerleader must be an active member of the club.

The Pep Club meets Thursday evenings at 7:30 in Steele.

Yours truly, Lois Wilson

Freshman Customs End With Bonfire

This fall over eight hundred new Freshmen converged upon the campus of California State College. A long remembered part of their first few weeks of College will be Freshman Customs. Customs are designed to help the Freshman become an integral part of the college. They help weld the Freshman Class into a spirited working unit.

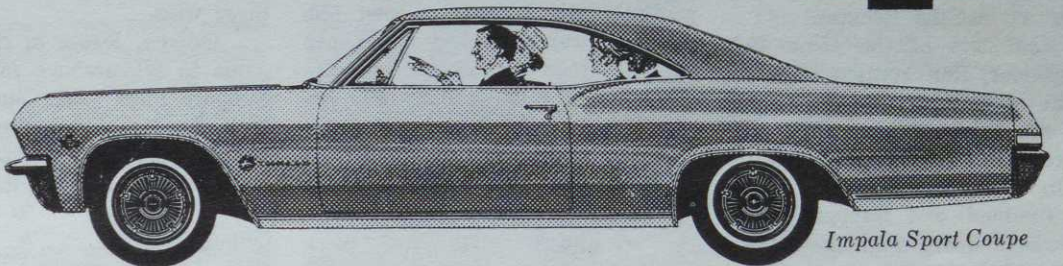

From September 28 until October 13 all Freshmen were required to wear the customary red and black dinks and a 3"x5" identification card indicating the name, hometown, and major of the Freshman. The Freshman also found many things forbidden to him such as walking on Senior Walk or stepping on the grass. One young man was seen on his knees straightening the grass he had stepped on and apologizing for injuring it. Other Freshmen could be seen marching through town singing their favorite song or the Alma Mater. Although many of the customs may seem foolish, they helped the Freshman to be acquainted with the college and enabled him to meet many new friends.

The highlight of Freshman Customs was the bonfire held Friday, October 9. The Freshman Class marched in mass to the College Farm singing their favorite songs. The Freshmen were serenaded by the sororities and fraternities. The big moment of the evening was the burning of the Freshman signs.

Although most Freshmen are glad that Customs are over, they will never forget the fun they had participating in them and the friends they acquired.

ROCKETS DEFEAT CSC VULCANS

Vulcans Lose In Conference Game

by Philip L. Hanna

The mighty Vulcan gridders of CSC went down to defeat last Saturday afternoon at the hands of the Rockets of Slippery Rock by the score of 20-13.

Vulcan gridders outplayed their adversary from the north on practically all points, including fumbles, which proved to be the deciding margin in the game.

In first downs, for example, the Vulcans exceeded Slippery Rock 28-7 and in total yards gained, the Vulcans out-drove the Rockets 435 to 227 yards. Unfortunately, Slippery Rock recovered three out of four Vulcan fumbles and intercepted three Vulcan aerials to capture the win.

Vulcan quarterback, Bill Lee, took to the air 25 times, completing 16, for a total of 205 yards. At the same time, Bob Hodgson carrying the ball 18 times for a total of 92 yards, was the leading ground gainer against the Rockets.

At the start of the game Vulcan griddler, Ron Matteucci returned the opening kick-off 21-yards from the fifteen to the California 36-yard line. After advancing the ball to about mid-field, the Vulcans fumbled and Slippery Rock recovered and drove in three plays for their first touchdown, early in the first quarter. The kick for the extra point was good and this gave the Rockets the lead at 7-0.

Later in the first period Slippery Rock took possession of the ball by virtue of another CSC fumble and moved 79 yards for the T.D. The point after touchdown was wide of the mark, but the Rockets led 13-0. As the whistle blew to end the first quarter, the Vulcans had the ball on Slippery Rock's 45-yard line.

As the result of an interception in the second period, the Vulcans scored their first T.D. The conversion for the extra point was missed and the score was 13-6, Slippery Rock.

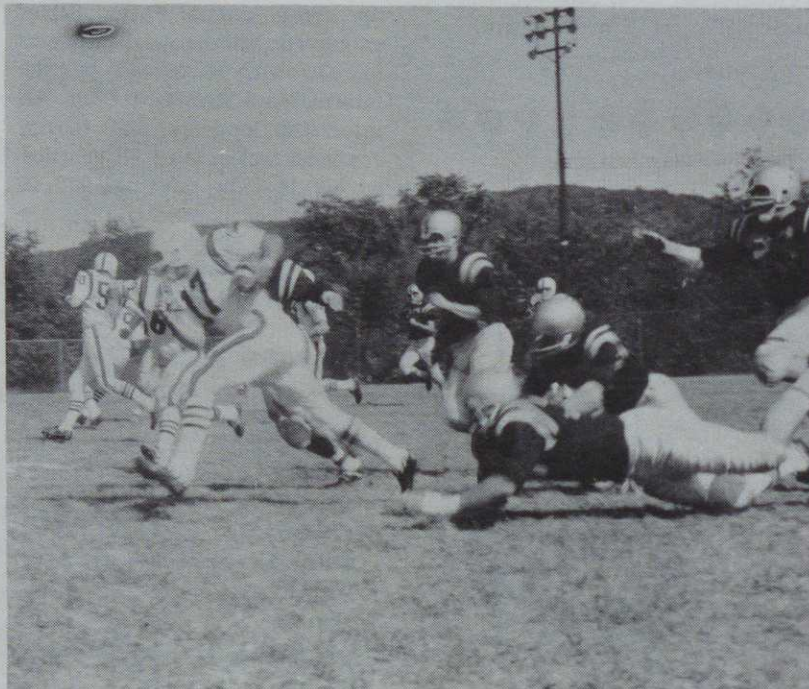

While the clock was running out in the first half, the Rockets again went on the offensive and scored with only five seconds remaining in the half. At the conclusion of the first half the Vulcans were trailing 20-6.

In the second half the Vulcans held the Rockets to just two first downs while scoring their second T.D. This put Slippery Rock ahead by only one touchdown with more than a period to play.

The real disappointment came when the Vulcans had a chance to tie the game, but fell literally inches short of the mark, as the result of a goal line fumble recovered by the Rockets. When the gun finally sounded to end the game, the score remained 20-13 against the Vulcans.

Conference Notes

Indiana's 13-19 loss to Waynesburg, defending co-champion of the West Penn Conference, may have cost the Big Indians a bowl bid. Feelers were received from two small college bowls, according to Karl Klogi of the Indiana Evening Gazette. . . Most recent Dunkel ratings read East Stroudsburg 55.2, West Chester 54.2 and Indiana 53.3. . . Slippery Rock (against Shippensburg) and West Chester (against Millersville) hold season's high number of first downs in conference play with 21 apiece. In wide-open contest at Shippensburg, the Rockets and Red Raiders had total offensive gain of 759 yards, surpassed only by the 961 yards tallied last year in Lock Haven after Clarion defeat: "If we only had a Lou Groza!" . . . East Stroudsburg has a "mouse" running around the football field. He's 5-5, 155 pound Glen Ray, known as the "Mouse" on Coach Gregory's Cinderella team. . . A field goal in last two seconds of play gave Mansfield 16-13 win over Cheyney. Wolves dropped 60-0 decision to East Stroudsburg. . . Because many construction details are incomplete, Clarion's board of directors decided not to use new fairgrounds football stadium this season. . . 35 candidates turned out for Bloomsburg's wrestling practice last week under Assistant Coach Jerry Maurey.

STANDINGS

East Stroudsburg today is the only undefeated and untied football team of the 14-team Pennsylvania State Colleges Athletic Conference. The Warriors lead the eastern section of the football conference with three wins.

Indiana, leader of the western section with two wins, lost its' first game to Waynesburg in non-conference play. Edinboro upset Clarion, Slippery Rock nosed out California and Millersville surprised Mansfield with the losers dropping their first conference game. The standings (overall record in parenthesis):

Western Section				Eastern Section
	W	L	T Rtg.		W	L	Rtg.
Indiana (4-1)	2	0	0 250	E. Stroudsburg (4-0)	3	0	233
Slippery Rock (2-1-1)	2	0	1 217	West Chester (2-2)	2	1	183
Edinboro (2-1-1)	1	1	1 183	Kutztown (3-1)	1	1	175
California (3-2)	1	1	0 150	Mansfield (3-1)	2	1	150
Shippensburg (2-2)	1	2	0 133	Millersville (2-2)	1	2	117
Clarion (2-2)	1	1	0 125	Cheyney (0-3)	0	2	75
Lock Haven (1-3)	0	3	0 50	Bloomsburg (0-4)	0	2	50

Team Record

The record of the Vulcans as it now stands is three wins and two losses. On September 12, the team travelled to East Tennessee University and met defeat at the hands of the ETU Buccaneers.

Bouncing back from their defeat in this exhibition game the fighting Vulcans came back to triumph over Marietta College of Ohio on their own field.

In their first conference game of the season the CSC gridders defeated Lock Haven State College to put themselves temporarily in first place in the conference standings.

Taking a rest from conference competition the Vulcans then travelled to Glassboro, S.C. of New Jersey and chalked up another victory to their credit.

After losing to Slippery Rock last week, in a well-played game, the Vulcans hope to bounce back once more and go on to defeat the teams remaining on their schedule.

Schedules

Even though football season is now at the pinnacle, the basketball and wrestling squads are already thinking in terms of practice and games (or matches in the case of the grapplers).

On Dec. 1, the basketball team will begin its season with an exhibition game with Waynesburg College on the Vulcans' court. The first conference game for the California cagers will be an away game with Lock Haven on Dec. 5.

At the same time the basketball squad is travelling to Lock Haven the CSC grapplers will be opening their season by travelling to Frostburg S.C. The first home meet for the wrestlers will be against Edinboro on Dec. 5.

The California Times would like to extend to both teams their wishes for a successful season.
