ACU CONFERENCE RESULTS

Players Present Comedy

Steele Auditorium is alive again with the rehearsals of the College Players, as they prepare for their production of Neil Simon's Broadway hit-play, "Come Blow Your Horn". Productions are scheduled for November 19, 20 and 21. There will be the usual four performances with the three evening stagings starting at 8:00 p.m., and the Saturday matinee at 2:00 p.m.

While the actors involved are memorizing their lines and working with Mr. Emelson, the director of the show, the committee heads are getting the backstage people prepared.

The committees and those in charge are: publicity, Gloria Petrovay and Blair Wojton (co-chairman); prop construction, Lee Havralesko and Fran Bator (co-chairman); set decoration, Jean Leibowitz (chairman); lights, Bill Speary; and make-up, Ruth Ann Zippay.

The play centers around the lavish New York bachelor apartment of Alan Baker, playboy par excellence. Alan, played by Rush Curtioff (not Torchiak as reported in last week's Times) enjoys the haphazard existence he has always been accustomed to until his younger brother Buddy, played by Bob Shank, decides to move in with him. After the two brothers get settled things begin to happen.

Other members of the cast are: Connie, Marcy Rye; Peggy, Kim Gallo; Mother, Noreen Dougherty; Father, Frank Borecca, and an unexpected visitor — Karen Cerecone.

Stage manager for the production is Tim Davis, and his assistant is Karen Cerecone.

Jim Welling Elected Vice President of ACU

California State College began its first student administrative role in the Region IV Association of College Unions this past week with the election of Jim Welling, one of the members of CSC's delegation, to the office of Vice-President of the Region.

Elected by twenty universities and colleges, Welling will represent an area comprising three states and will be in charge of publishing a Newsletter to all the colleges within Region IV. This Newsletter will originate from CSC and will contain information concerning the student union activities of the various colleges.

The Region IV Conference, attended this year by Joe Casale, Harry Serene, Jim Welling, Melinda Csensich, Laraine Mores, and Wilmer Lucas, was held at the University of Pittsburgh on October 22, 23, and 24. CSC's display of pictures and publications exhibited at this conference was awarded second prize.

Three workshops, concerned with "The Role of Students in the Operation of a Union," "Programming for Special Groups," and "Imaginative Utilization of Existing Facilities," and three general sessions were attended.

Members of California's delegation also took an active part in the discussion groups concerned with "Small Schools" and "Schools Without Union Buildings." Joe Casale served as moderator.

Barantovich is Queen

The beautiful autumn afternoon of Saturday, October 24, 1964, was made all the more beautiful by the presentation of the five lovely finalists for Homecoming Queen. The finalists included Joann Barantovich, Donna Loncaric, Lillian Rocco, Christine Turnbull, and Joann Wingrove.

As the audience waited in suspense the name of the queen was announced. The name was that of Joann Barantovich, and as the student body, faculty, alumni, and guests looked on, Miss Barantovich was crowned by Betty Bellan, 1963 Homecoming Queen.

Miss Barantovich is a junior in the Atypical curriculum. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Barantovich, 607 Fourth Street, Monongahela.

She has been on the Dean's List and is very active in campus organizations. She is co-chairman of the Committee on Social Activities, recording secretary for the Delta Zeta sorority, and a member of Sigma Alpha Eta, Honorary Speech and Hearing Fraternity.

Author to Speak Here

John Braine, famous, young English author appeared on campus at Steele Auditorium Oct. 30, at 1:00. Mr. Braine is remembered largely for his world famous, controversial novel, "Room At the Top". His novel has been described as the "Most discussed, debated and lauded first novel."

Mr. Braine first spoke to the student body at 1:00 and later visited and spoke to the creative writing class at 2:00.

The visiting author has recently published a new novel entitled, "Life At the Top", a sequel to his first. "Room At the Top" not only earned Mr. Braine acclaim as a novel, but was converted into a movie starring Lawrence Harvey and Simone Signoret, who won an academy award for her performance.

"I'm glad I'm writing at a time when the English Novel is beginning to widen its range, and its new vitality shows every sign of increasing," says John Braine, who refuses to number himself among the so-called Angry Young Men of Britain. Peppering his talk with sidelights on his compeers in British writing, the author discusses the changes in the modern novel and the "new-wave" of English and American novelists.

Friday's assembly was certainly one of the most-remembered of the semester at CSC. All students, whether English majors or otherwise, were much interested in hearing a prominent man such as Mr. Braine speak.

CONGRESS

The regular meeting of the Student Congress was held in the Faculty Lounge on Oct. 21, 1964. The first question brought before the members assembled was the election of a financial secretary. From those nominated Mike Serene, sophomore, was elected.

Next on the agenda was the election of Bob Balzidar and Kathy Nibbs to the Student Cabinet.

It was then announced by President Harry Serene that Honorary Fraternities must bring their constitutions to the Student Cabinet for approval.

The election of Freshman Class officers was held on October 23, 1964. The following officers were elected: president, Lorraine Bonito; vice-president, Sandy Warholic; secretary, Donna Blangger; Treasurer, Meredith Anne Stewart; Rep. to Congress, Carole Carte.

Thanks for Homecoming

Most of the students who attended the 1964 Homecoming event —will agree that it was a successful and memorable occasion. To produce such an event, it required careful planning, thoughtful consideration, and most of all it took a great deal of time and cooperation.

The Committee of Social Activities is to be highly commended, and especially, two very devoted students, Joe Casale, and John Kalakos. Joe, who served as Master of Ceremonies for the half-time activities and co-ordinator for the judges of the queen and floats, did an excellent job. John managed to solve every other problem which confronted him as co-chairman of CSA.

The Judges are to be thanked for finding time to come and participating in this event. Those who worked late into the night so that they would be able to present the many floats should not be forgotten. Also students that attended the game and encouraged our team, and the sophomore class that was responsible for the dance should not be forgotten either.

Floats - - Too Expensive?

Once again the annual homecoming of California State College has come and gone, and like this yearly affair, so have the floats come and gone. Built as monuments to the organizations they represented these floats are now part of the past. This practice is ridiculous when one realizes the amount of money wasted on floats every year. We have no way of knowing the exact figure, but feel safe in estimating that at least $1,000 is spent every fall.

Considering the fact that most of these floats are used only once it seems ridiculous to spend this much for an hour's showing.

We do not, however, feel that the practice of building floats should be completely abolished; merely curbed. Restrictions should be placed on size and amounts to be spent. Much of the money used to construct floats could be put to use through better channels (such as improvements in houses in the case of the Greek Societies.) Spending over $200 for crepe paper and chicken wire, just to destroy after one day's use is ridiculous.

The annual homecoming parade is a beautiful sight to behold, but wouldn't it be just as beautiful if the floats were smaller and better built; rather than bulky and haphazardly thrown together in order to meet the deadline? The California Times urges the administration to enact a rule curbing expenditures for floats, or, if such a rule already exists to begin enforcing it.

ANTHOLOGY PLANNED

Sheridan-Kent Press is presently engaged in preparing a multi-volume anthology of university and college student poetry, which is intended to represent the widest possible cross-section of student poetry ever assembled in one collection.

The format is tentatively planned as a sixteen volume collection with one volume being released every two weeks beginning in January. It is hoped that every major university and college in the United States and Canada will be adequately represented. The anthology will also include as many of the smaller schools as is physically possible.

There are no restrictions on style or subject matter, but due to the enormity of the editorial task, shorter poems will be preferred.

The major purpose of this anthology is to collect and make available under one title, the best poetry of today's students, poetry that would otherwise go unnoticed in the small poetry magazines, or because of the limited nature of those magazines, might not even be published.

Sheridan-Kent Press feels that there is a vast store of untapped talent among students and it is time that this talent was recognized and rewarded. To this end, two Sheridan-Kent Scholarships will be awarded on the basis of greatest poetic potential.

There is no limit to the number of poems any poet may submit. Along with the work, a short autobiographical note mentioning the school at which he (she) is registered, a self-addressed envelope and postage should also be enclosed. The poems should be sent to Mr. M. David Lewis, Editor, 1093 McDonald Ave., Chomedy, Quebec, Canada.

Looking Back At Old CSC

By Joyce Goodwin

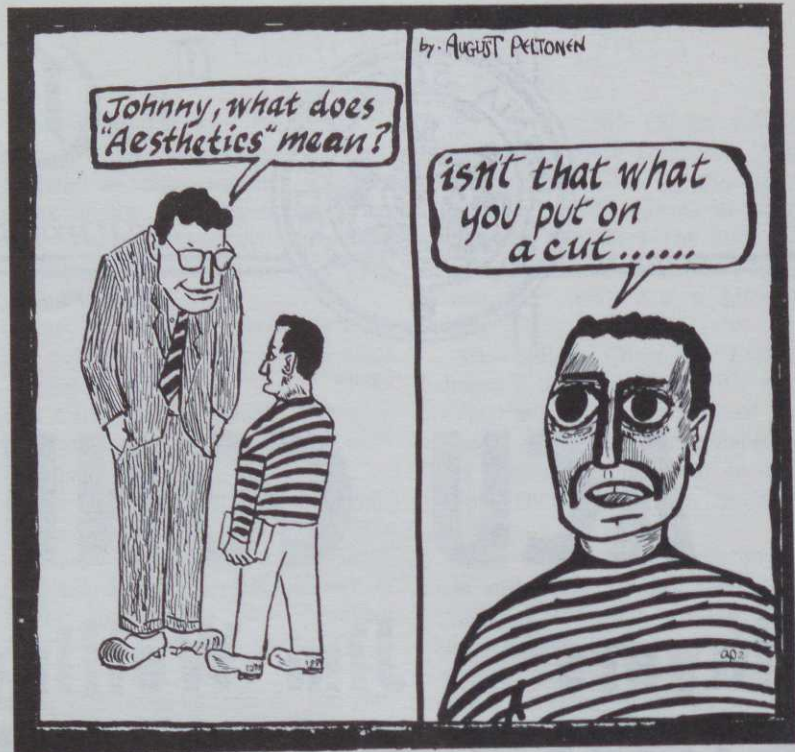

October, 1935
Appropriations for athletics were as follows: football, $1,445; basketball, $1,215; tennis, $77.87; varsity total, $2,737.87.

October, 1939
In an analysis made by Dr. Thomas M. Gilland, director of the placement service at California, it was found that the Industrial Arts Department had a 100% record in placement. Of the twenty-seven persons who completed the Industrial Arts curriculum, 25 were in teaching positions, one was taking graduate work and the other was employed in industry.

October, 1941
Because of a depleted football squad of only eleven members resulting from the loss of students through selective service and employment conditions, the California State Teachers' College Athletic Council approved the cancellation of the last three games of a seven game season.

October, 1942
Due to a shortage of food caused by the war, Uncle Sam took over in the kitchen and dining hall. This action resulted in two meatless days for students each week. Tea drinkers had to drink a tea substitute called Matte, while those who preferred coffee were getting only 35% of the real thing.

October, 1946
The Art Club held its first meeting two weeks after adopting its constitution and by-laws.

SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA

Sigma Sigma Sigma National Sorority was founded on April 20, 1898 at Longwood College in Virginia. The Gamma Gamma Chapter was installed on September 30, 1960. This chapter has been known previously as Gamma Pi Chi, a local sorority and has been on CSC campus since 1928.

Tri-Sigma has taken part in numerous social service projects, the most recent being the Robbie Page Memorial Fund, which has made extensive grants to polio research and modernization of North Carolina Memorial Hospital at Chapel Hill.

Some of the objectives of Tri-Sigma are to establish a perpetual bond of friendship, to encourage high scholastic achievement, and to demand high ideal of character.

The presiding officers are: pres., Eva Priester; vice pres., Marti Jenkins; corres. sec'y., Carole Ashcraft; rec. Sec'y., Frieda Riedel; treas., Peggy Runciman; scholarship chairman, Barb Vance.

Tri-Sigma is to be congratulated on winning the Panhellenic Scholarship trophy for the past six semesters.

Greek Civilization will be a weekly feature of The California Times. Each week a different fraternity or sorority will be highlighted.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Bob and Bobbi,

One week ago today, one of CSC's students, Jim Welling, was elected President of the Region IV Association of College Unions. Because of Jim's position, a Newsletter concerned with student union activities will originate from CSC and will circulate to each college within Region IV, an area comprising three states. These two outcomes are of special significance because they have contributed to making CSC better known, and they will continue to do so.

Each student's undertaking reflects upon his college, and the prominence of his college likewise will prove to be of the greatest importance in his life. If, then, we are dissatisfied with our college, let us remember that we the students, and not just the administration are also responsible for its welfare.

What can we do? The publication of a worthy Newsletter describing our student activities is one example. Working toward making our fraternity, sorority, or club the best possible; maintaining an interest in student government and student affairs; and stressing the name of CSC wherever we go are others. There is something each of us can do, though it may be ever so small, to make California better recognized and respected.

Sincerely,
Laraine Mores

Dear Editor,

The other day, I had occasion to review a map of CSC's proposed building program. It seems strange that in all the wonderful plans for new buildings nowhere is there a plan for a new infirmary.

The building housing our present infirmary, is scheduled to be torn down. Thus, the CSC student body of the future is left two alternatives; either, they must have perfect health or they must find off campus facilities to accommodate them in time of illness.

One possible solution would be for the college to contract Brownsville hospital to take care of the student health needs. However, this involves transportation difficulties and still leaves the campus without emergency facilities.

A much more feasible solution would be to incorporate into the building plans an infirmary building which will be adequate to serve the growing student body.

Sincerely
Ruth Ann Zippay

Dear Bob and Bobbi,

I have a question which needs answering. Why, during our homecoming ceremonies, were the Alma Mater and the National Anthem completely omitted?

It seems strange that even a midget league football game has the National Anthem for its opening performance.

At every high school game I've seen in the past ten or twelve years, the band has played the school's Alma Mater.

If ten-year-old football players and high school bands can play these two important songs — why can't we?

Your truly,
Wade Miller

Editors' Note:

We can't answer your question Mr. Miller, but perhaps the readers or the band members will submit an explanation which would be published in the next issue.

TKE's Second Prize Float

AKL's Winning Entry

"Sky's The Limit" (1st Prize)

Choir and Band Joint Entry (2nd Prize)

Awards Announced

The beauty and pageantry of the Homecoming Parade is gone, but the excitement of award-winning and triumph are still prevalent on campus.

The brothers of Alpha Kappa Lambda are celebrating their triumph in copping the overall grand prize, for their entry "Ask not what your country can do for you, but what you can do for your country." The beautifully constructed float, which awed the parade watchers was picked to be the winner by many onlookers as it passed in review.

The AKL's also captured the first prize in the fraternity-sorority class. Second prize in this division was awarded to Tau Kappa Epsilon for the float they constructed around the theme, ". . . and the glow from that fire can truly light the world." Both the first and second prize winners in this class were based on quotations taken from the late President Kennedy.

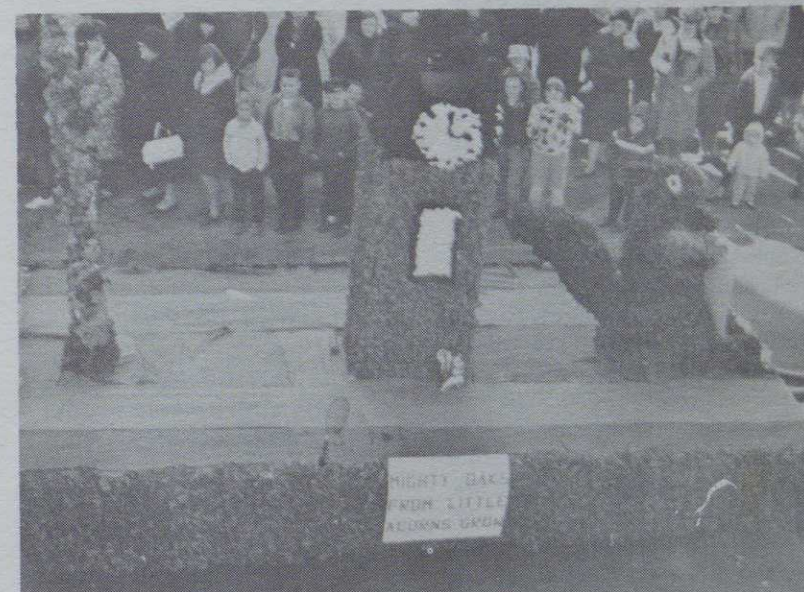

In the division allowed for clubs allocated by the Student Activities Association, first prize was awarded to the Astronomy and Physics Club for their entry "Sky's the Limit", and the College Choir for their float which held that "Music hath the power to soothe the savage beast".

Being that there were only two classes entered in their respective division, the choice was simply who was to get first prize. The prize was awarded to the Class of '65 for their "Live Modern Electrically." The remaining entry in this division "Great oaks from little acorns grow" was then awarded second prize.

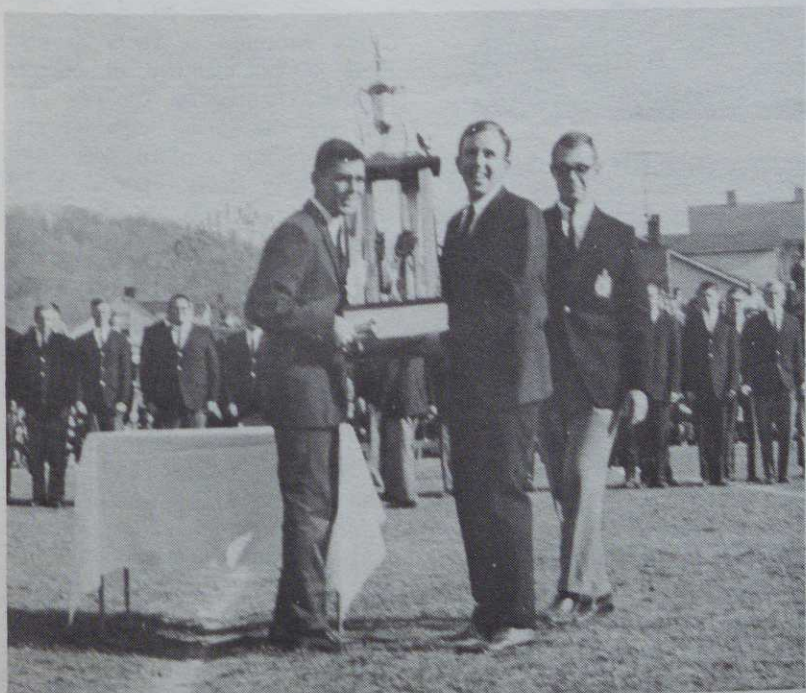

There has been discussion as to whether fraternities and sororities should have been judged separately. The California Times has been told that this is to be done, but as this issue is going to press no official announcement has been made. If such an announcement is made, it will be reported in next week's issue.

AKL Wins Award

This summer, Bill Frey, John Scott, and George Graff,—all brothers of Chi chapter of AKL, attended the Golden Anniversary Conclave of their fraternity at the Clairemont Resort Hotel near the founding chapter at the University of California at Berkeley, California.

At the Conclave, each chapter had a chance to discuss and obtain help on problems at their school—on everything from IFC relationship to better housing.

They had a chance to meet many of the founders, tour San Francisco and Oakland, and attend several banquets during their five day stay.

While at the Conclave, Chi chapter here at CSC was picked as one of four chapters to receive the annual National Executive Council award to chapters with "an outstanding record of accomplishment" during the previous year, when local conditions and the size of the chapter are taken into consideration.

The brothers are especially proud of having won this award, as this is the second time they have been so honored in their five year history at California.

CAMPUS CLUB CORNER

SPEECH AND HEARING CLUB ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

The first meeting of the Speech and Hearing Club was held on Thursday, October 15, 1964, at 7:00 p.m. The main business of the meeting was the election of officers for the coming year. Bill Riggor, acting president, conducted the election.

Those elected were: pres., Mark Delzangle; vice pres., Mary Noel; sec., Bonnie Treater; treas., Frank Rosseau; Rep. to Cong., Bob Baldizar; and alt., Paulette Carnicelli.

New members were also welcomed and a vigorous drive for additional members is soon to be underway. Membership is open to all students interested in Speech and Hearing; particularly to those majoring in Elementary Speech and Speech and Hearing.

The club's sponsor, Dr. M. B. Moree, talked on the duties, responsibilities, and importance placed on the Representative to Congress and the Alternate.

Mark Delzangle, the newly elected president, set the next meeting for Thursday, November 5, 1964, at 7:00 p.m., in Noss Annex 117. Following the meeting there was a social hour at which refreshments were served.

PARKING PROBLEMS

By Larry Davis

Along with the many changes at CSC this trimester, the parking program has been improved. What used to be open parking lots are now designated Faculty, Staff or Student. Each student who uses his car to come to campus must have it registered with the Dean of Men.

Everyone is given white stickers with his parking number on it, which are placed on the bumpers of his auto. The faculty, in turn, are registered and are given orange stickers. Failure to have these stickers on any car in the lots results in a fine.

Also, parking in any lot but the one designated results in a fine. Everyone should understand and follow these few restrictions in order to save oneself expense and be guaranteed a parking space.

There are still a few more necessary and suggested improvements that should come: They are: 1.)

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB SCHEDULE

- Oct. 30—Lloyd Smoyer: "Vietnam: Key to Southeast Asia"
 - Nov. 6—David Silbermann: "Peking Re-enters World Politics"
 - Nov. 13—Steve Toth: "What Can the United States Do About Red China"
 - Nov. 20—Gerald Pavloff: "India Between Two Power Blocs"
 - Nov. 27—Scott Steetle: "U.S. Policy and the Sino-Soviet Split"
 - Dec. 4—Wesley Anderson: "The Vexing Problem of Foreign Trade: Free Markets or Bloc Economy"
- The meetings will be held every Friday in Old Science 205 at 12:00 noon.

The Greeks Speak

Delta Sigma Phi

The Brothers of Delta Sigma Phi are proud to announce recent changes and improvements to their house on the hill. Improvements include floodlights and paint to the house's exterior. Also there is a new enlarged party room — the Pyramid Lounge.

The officers for this year include: President, Dave Gilmore; Vice President, Skip Kughn; Secretary, Paul Watkins; Treasurer, Dan O'Hara.

One of the biggest surprises to all the Brothers came this summer when they learned their chapter was rated fifth in the nation in pledging—thirty-seven men in two trimesters!

Alpha Kappa Lambda

The Brothers of AKL, glad to be back at California this year, have celebrated with a party every week since school opened.

Along with their heavy social schedule, they have, of course, been working busily on their homecoming float. The past week was spent in trying to catch up on lost sleep and studying.

The brothers have also managed to get in a little painting inside their house. The latest addition to the house is a huge cartoon on the living room floor, although most of the painting has been done on the ceilings.

Sigma Tau Gamma

The Brothers of Sigma Tau Gamma would like to announce the engagement of Bonnie Krivoski to Frank Rousseau, also the pinning of Judy Zekkey to John Hosni, and Jackie Bell to Roy Tracy.

The Brothers would like to congratulate Alpha Kappa Lambda on their winning float and Miss Joanne Barantovich as being chosen Homecoming Queen.

Zeta Tau Alpha

The Sisters of Zeta Tau Alpha would like to announce their officers for the 1964-1965 term. They are: president, Karen Jo Heald; vice president, Patti Hall; Secretary, Ellen Forrest; treasurer, Maureen Shanahan.

The fall pledge class includes: Judy Connair, Dottie Patton, Karen Ritz, Donna Smith, Kay Dray Eileen Doria, Nancy Chilzer, and Janet Shipley. Other pledges are: Linda Maxwell, Sandy Tressler, Janet Stuvek, Thelma Postorius, Linda Webber, and Diane Russell.

The sisters hold their meetings in Fleck Dorm on Third Street.

Theta Xi

INSURANCE

Mr. Howard Reckhow of Maginnis Associates, Inc., will be on campus Wednesday and Thursday, October 28th. and 29th., to deliver insurance policies and to talk with anyone who has further interest in the insurance program (major medical, term, life, income protection) which are sponsored by the Association of Pennsylvania State College Faculties.

Mr. Reckhow will be in the Alumni Lounge from approximately 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.
