

BRONISLAW HUBERMAN TO PLAY HERE

One of the Greatest Violinists of Our Time.

Bronislaw Huberman is scheduled to play for us Friday, Nov. 14th, as the third number of our Musical Artists Course. He is one of the greater violinists of our time, not alone because of his extraordinary technique and the breadth and richness of his tone, but because of a sureness of mastery which lends perfection to every detail of his interpretation.

Bronislaw Huberman played Spohr's "Second Violin Concerto," a difficult and advanced work, at the age of seven. He is one of the rare examples of an infant prodigy whose artistic maturity has kept every earlier promise. At the age of ten, Huberman spent eight months with the famous master, Joseph Joachim, at Berlin, and with Charles Gregorovich, Hugo Heerman and Marzick.

Huberman does not claim any particular school. He studied and developed his playing along individual lines and also by hearing other artists, especially singers.

AILANTHUS TREE PRUNED

A few days ago we noticed that the Ailanthus tree which is situated at the left front of the girls' dormitory was being pruned by the "campus kings," or in other words, the gardeners. Many people are wondering why this was done, so we think a little explanation will clear the matter.

The occupants of the office on the first floor—those facing front campus at the place where the tree stands—never had that factor which is so necessary to do the best work, the factor of good lighting. They had electric lights, of course, but it is easier to work in natural light. This was due to the prodigious size of the tree and the lowness of its limbs, through which the sun-light could not penetrate.

Prof. Brill took upon himself the responsibility of having this condition remedied. After conferring with Dr. Riemer it was decided to prune the tree immediately. Thus it was done, and a transformation instantly took place in the offices. Only the lower limbs of the tree were cut off, so that its beauty and the beauty of the campus are not in any way marred. The tree itself now allows more light to enter the building and still dignifiedly stands guard over its surroundings.

Y. M. C. A.

Fellows, why don't you come to the Y. M. C. A. meetings held every Wednesday night at 7:10? One of our aims is to create a social atmosphere among the fellows living at North Hall, but we cannot accomplish this unless you come to the meetings. Anyone desiring membership in our club will please see Elmer Daniels. You are cordially and cheerfully urged to join.

M. Morgan—"Doc, are you Welsh?"
Ann D.—"No, Peg, Jewish."

HONOR LIST, 1924.

The Bloomsburg State Normal School has adopted a system of rating its students at the end of each semester. The purpose is for the recognition and encouragement of scholarship. Each letter grade is given a value, A 3 points, B 2 points, C one point, D zero, and E minus one. Thus a student known as a two point student must have an average of B. This grade requires ability and concentration of effort at the Bloomsburg Normal School.

As this plan was adopted too late for the publication of the ratings of the class of 1924 at graduation, the following list composing ten per cent. of the class is given at this time.

The rank of the student is designated by the numeral opposite the name. It will be noticed that the list falls into eight groups; one for first place, two for second, two for third, four for fourth, five for fifth, three for sixth, five for seventh and six for eighth place. The names and addresses are as follows:

- Blose, Carl—2.7 Dornsife.
- Ent, Editha—2.6 Bloomsburg.
- Partridge, Catherine—2.6 Honesdale.
- Fear, Cathran—2.5 W. Pittston.
- Lowenberg, Clare—2.5 Bloomsburg.
- Benninger, Walter—2.3 Hazleton.
- Burkett, Emma H.—2.3 Glen Lyon.
- Dechant, Kathryn—2.3 Renova.
- Ridgely, Mildred—2.3 Wyoming.
- Andrews, Marion—2.2 Slatington.
- John, Lorothy—2.2 Bloomsburg.
- Nelson, Olga—2.2 Nesquehoning.
- Morse, Doris—2.2 New Milford.
- Terry, Ruth—2.2 Trucksville.
- Krolkowski, Helen—2.1 Glen Lyon.
- Lerda, Louis—2.1 Glen Lyon.
- Stapinski, Martha—2.1 Glen Lyon.
- Curtis, Mary—2.0 Nanticoke.
- Deming, Beulah—2.0 Uniondale.
- Tempest, Ruth—2.0 Shenandoah.
- Williams, Frances—2.0 Kingston.
- Wilson, Dora—2.0 Moscow.
- Lyons, Theresa—1.9 Wilkes-Barre.
- McHenry, Marjorie—1.9 Bloomsburg.
- Pensyl, Frances—1.9 Bloomsburg.
- Smull, Sara—1.9 Danville.
- Ulrich, Marion—1.9 Hazleton.
- Zydanowicz, Helen B.—1.9 Glen Lyon.

MISS SCHOTTENFELS TO SPEAK.

Will Address Y. W. C. A. Tonight.

We are all patiently waiting for our Y. W. C. A. meeting tonight. Those who come are sure to have a treat, for Miss Schottenfels has very kindly consented to speak to us, and we know that she will be very interesting, as that is one of her outstanding characteristics. Charlotte Morgan, an active Junior, will lead the meeting and have charge of the devotions. Another number on the program will be a vocal solo by Kitty Castles, one of our many talented Seniors.

We are looking forward to an unusually good meeting tonight, so don't miss it!

Wanted: A private telephone line between Kingston and Bloomsburg for Alice Morgan.

NORMAL GRIDDERS AT SHIPPENSBURG

Game Promises to Be a Treat For Grid Fans

On Saturday Coach Meade's proteges, otherwise known as the B. S. N. S. football team, will journey to Shippensburg for the annual football classic. Oh! what a treat for the grid fans!

Bentz, of Penn State fame, is coaching Shippensburg this year. He will be remembered by the Maroon and Gold because of the flashy team he brought to B. S. N. S. last year when he was coaching Mansfield. The game will therefore be partly a brain contest between Bentz, formerly of State, and Meade, formerly of Michigan.

It will be remembered that last year the Maroon and Gold won a hotly fought contest from the red and blue by a score of 3-0. The famous toe of Captain Brotherston furnished our three points.

The Shippensburg squad is one of the best in the history of that institution and only two weeks ago defeated the strong West Chester Normal School 7-0. They are determined to defeat Bloomsburg and thereby atone for the defeat suffered by them last year, but B. S. N. S. claims they cannot do it. So there you are, football fans. Go to the game and see for yourselves which is the better team. The probable line-up will be as follows:

- | | |
|--|-----------------------|
| B. S. N. S. | C. V. S. N. S. |
| Fitzpatrick --- L. E. --- Kline (Capt.) | |
| Klecker --- L. T. --- Parthmer | |
| MacDonald --- L. G. --- S. Gilbert | |
| Swinehart --- C. --- Barth | |
| Rowlands --- R. G. --- H. Gilbert | |
| Zimolzak --- R. T. --- Schuler | |
| Turner --- R. E. --- Stevenson | |
| Walsh --- Q. B. --- Bailey | |

CONCERT WELL UNDER WAY.

Prof. Carter Securing Excellent Cooperation.

The three Glee Clubs are cooperating very well with Prof. Carter in his plans for a concert to be given soon. Because of the conflict with other special occasions during Education Week, the date of the concert is still undecided. Mr. Carter has arranged an excellent program, which will be announced in our next issue.

SOCIAL NOTES.

The members of the B. S. Club delightfully entertained in honor of Miss Maryan Hart at her table in the dining room. The table was decorated with favors and candles, and in the center was a large cake which held nineteen candles. Miss Hart was the recipient of many useful gifts, some of which were a gun, kiddie paddle, and a rattle.

NORMAL DEFEATS BUCKNELL

At the game on Saturday the referee's whistle blew promptly at 2:30 o'clock. Captain Fitzpatrick won the toss and elected to receive. Bucknell kicked over the goal line and the ball was returned to Normal's 20-yard line. Kaz made a 4 yd. through tackle and Haupt gained 1 yd. through same place. Zeveney kicked to Bucknell's 45 yd. line and they returned it to the 38 yd. line. Normal held for one down but on a false kick formation. Bucknell gained 8 yds. around right end. They fumbled on a 3 yd. down and Fitzpatrick recovered for Normal. Normal started scrimmage on their own 45 yd. line. On the first play Walsh was thrown for a 2 yd. loss but Bucknell was penalized 10 yds. for roughing and Normal received first down on Bucknell's 45 yd. line. Kaz and Haupt made 2 yds. and 4 yds. respectively, but Zeveney was held without gain and kicked to the 20 yd. line. Bucknell fumbled the punt and Jere again came to the rescue and recovered for Normal. Haupt hit centre for 2 yds. and Kaz made 7 yds. through tackle. Walsh made 7 yds. and a first down. On the next play Kaz hit the line for 4 yds. and a touch down. Haupt added the extra point with a drop kick.

Bucknell kicked over goal line and ball was again brought back to 20 yd. line. Normal failed to gain and Zeveney kicked to 49 yd. line. Fitz made a pretty tackle and held Bucknell for no gain. On an end run and 2 line bucks, Bucknell carried ball to 36 yd. line for a first down. On the next play they made a nine yd. end run and 1 yd. through centre for another first down. Bucknell fumbled on the next play and McDonald recovered for Normal on 28 yd. line. Normal gained but 4 yds. in 3 downs and ball was on Normal's 32 yd. line as the quarter ended. Score first quarter—Normal 7; Bucknell 0.

2nd. Quarter.

Zeveney made a poor punt, the ball sailing to 42 yd. line. Bucknell scored a first down on 2 line bucks and then circled around end for 25 yds. Bucknell advanced the ball to the 4 yd. line but on the next play they fumbled right on the goal line and Normal recovered. Zeveney kicked and Bucknell fumbled the punt. Zim recovered for Normal and ran clear to Bucknell's 22 yd. line before being downed. Bucknell's line held and Normal lost ball on 13 yd. line. On a poor pass Bucknell lost 5 yds. Then kicked to Normal's 45 yd. line. A pretty pass from Kaz to Turner gained 35 yds. for Normal. Here they tried a series of forwards but they grounded and Bucknell received a ball on the 20 yd. line. Bucknell advanced to their own 35 yd. line as half ended. Score at half time: Normal, 7; Bucknell, 0.

Second Half.

Bucknell again kicked over goal line and Normal started scrimmage on their 20 yd. line. Normal failed to gain and Zeveney punted to the 40 yd. line. Bucknell gained 15 yds. on an end run. Bucknell fumbled and Zim recovered for Normal. On a bad pass Zeveney lost 8 yds. and was forced to punt. On a series of forwards

SENIOR CLASS NOTES.

Do you remember that a few weeks ago the offices of secretary and treasurer of the Senior Class were left vacant due to the automatic resignation of two Middlers? Well, at a meeting of the Senior Class on November 4, these positions were filled. Gladys Morgan and Clare Martin were elected secretary and treasurer respectively. Both girls have already proved their capability of holding these positions, so it is unnecessary to say anything more about them. Congratulations, Gladys and Clara!

ATTENTION, EVERYONE!

Girls' Basket-Ball Promises to be Interesting.

The efforts of the Junior girls in basket ball have not been in vain for at last they have acquired two All-Star American teams. From all appearances we are certain that at the Championship games either the "Go-Getters" or the "Eagles" will be on top. In fact, they may be so good that for the sake of justice we'll have to call them the "All-American Stars," (Venus, Andromeda and Cassiopeia).

The "Go-Getters" certainly live up to their name. As soon as the whistle blows the centers "go" after the ball, and if they don't get it there is always another "Go-Getter" there ready to pounce upon it. Many times a real foot ball tackle is made. But then, why shouldn't they get the ball with such quick steppers on the team as: Forwards—Kitty McHugh, captain, and Helen Stapinski; Guards—Alice Budd, Helen O'Dell; Center—Margaret Scanlon; Side Center—Francis Cawley. The substitute for the team is Gertrude Powell.

Last but not least—"The Eagles." The "Go-Getters" lead the "Eagles" a merry chase, but piercing eyes always see where the ball is going before it starts, and so it is with the "Eagles." With abundance of power and speed they soar down on the ball. At the games, just watch those forwards get the ball in the basket. They don't need anyone to stand above and drop it in, either. Among the powerful "Eagles" are: Forwards—Emily Davies, captain, and Marjorie Davy; Guards—Emma Selecky and Stephina Rasmus; Center—

KAMPUS KLATTER.

He—"I'm sure I have insommmia."
Dr.—"Well, what are the symptoms?"

He—"I just know I have it, because I woke up twice during the prof's. lecture."

How About It, Poky?

Sociology goes right over some people's heads.

In Hygiene class during a discussion of eye sight:

Marion Hale. (One of the West Chester gang)—"I know a person who was all right till five years of age and then went blind for two and one-half years."

Mr. Nelson—"Then did this person recover his sight?"

Marion—"Oh, yes, I'm all right now."

Anna Miller; Side Center—Mary Pennman. Substitutes—Loureta Lora, Margaret Reese.

On Wednesday, November 19th, our first game will be played. It is impossible for us all to play basket-ball, but we can at least come to the games and show some pep. We have peppy cheer-leaders and snappy songs and cheers, so with a good-sized crowd why shouldn't the games be a success? Don't forget to mark this on your calendar of coming events: "Wednesday, November 19th, at 4:20 P. M., Girls' Basket-Ball Game. Special Day. Don't Miss It!"

DORM DOINGS.

They say that Edith Harris has an interest in State College. Of course you never can tell, but if letters prove anything it certainly is true.

What happened to the fire hose the other night? We seem to have nocturnal prowlers with us.

Gertrude Hildebrand was on the sick list, but is better now.

Laura Sipple has left school to be married. Guess she didn't like third floor.

Anne Bryant entertained her mother over the week-end. Her father also came down on Sunday. Company keeps away the blues, doesn't it, Anne?

Famous sayings on third floor: "If we had some cocoa, we'd make some fudge, if we had some milk."

We girls of the dorm were sorry to hear of the misfortune encountered by one of our number. Rachel Bolles had her eyes painfully injured when a basketball burst in her face. We heartily wish her a speedy recovery.

PIE! PIE! PIE!

We are pleased to learn that the baker has a new assistant. Cheer up, ye pie fiends! Let us live in hopes that we get pie at least twice a week hence forth and forever more—Amen.

Why does Helen Fairclough persist in singing "I Love You Truly?"

The Senioritas Stroh and Evans entertained recently at a Spanish onion party at Imps Inn.

J. S. C.

This is a club organized primarily for the purpose of good times and eats between 9:30 and 10:00 o'clock. Its distinguished members are: "Curly," "Len," "Toots," "Bert," and "Ray."

Music Stars Progressing.

Miss Paterson's star music pupils of the Senior IIC division are progressing slowly, but surely, in learning that cherished "Crimson Where the Apple Cheeks Are Shining." They have agreed with Miss Patterson that the tune of the book itself is really better than their own. After a few more energetic rehearsals, under the direction of Elizabeth Marvin, the girls feel that they will have the pears hanging down in the right direction and the crown on straight. We all wish them success.

Gladys Morgan and Florence E. Jones cracked their voices. They are not worrying about it, however, for Gladys will in the future sing part songs and Florence will sing pieces.

The girls on third floor annex are competing in a "Mouse Ridding Contest." According to the latest report Rachel Bolles and Pearl Radel are in the lead.

Thursday evening Louretta Lorah entertained the following at a birthday feed—"Em," "Tom," "Pat," "Mike," and "Jack."

The following continue to enjoy their usual "feeds" in Room 460, "Cant Elope Inn"—"Skutch," "Gene," "Fran," "Aud," and the two "Pegs."

One of the most important members of the Racquet Club has moved downtown. It was Mary Kuchta who deserted her roomie, Mildred Housh, to do this. We miss you, Mary, but we know you'll get more studying done now than ever before.

Miss Rachel Crover, of Wilkes-Barre, was entertained over the week-end by two third floor-ers. That candy certainly was good, Rachel.

A MODEL LESSON PLAN.

Many of our readers, especially the teaching seniors, are probably wondering why we have introduced this particular department in our paper. We have done it because we feel that by printing a plan that has proven successful in actual practice some student or alumnus will be helped in his teaching. It may also be a means of giving ideas to others. We hope that it will prove of some value to someone.

Grade III.

Subject:—Number work.

Teacher's Aim:—To put meaning back of addition and subtraction.

Child's Aim:—To be able to solve problems given by the teacher.

Material:—Paper and chart representing menu card.

PREPARATION.

How many have ever eaten in a restaurant or in the dining room of a hotel? What do we usually find on the table that helps us in ordering our meal? Yes—a menu card. On this card are listed the different kinds of food and their prices. We have a menu card with us this morning.

PRESENTATION.

We are going to play that each little girl and boy is a cashier in a restaurant. We must know the prices of the foods in order to know how much money our customers must pay us. I will tell you what each person buys and you write down on this piece of paper the amount of money they must pay. (Pass a piece of paper to each individual. Children write names in upper right hand corner.) Teachers give problems and children write the answers. (Demonstrate on blackboard first). There are ten problems.

1. How much must you pay when you buy a roll and soup?
2. How much must you pay when you buy a sandwich and fruit?
3. How much must you pay when you buy chicken, pie, and a roll?
4. Mr. Jones orders a roll, soup and tomato salad. What is his bill?
5. How much must you pay for a sandwich and a cream puff?
6. Tell what two things you can get for 10 cents.
7. Tell what three things you can get for fifteen cents.
8. A man buys soup and a roll. He gives you ten cents. How much change does he receive?
9. A little boy buys soup. He gives you fifteen cents. How much changes does he receive?
10. Tell the cost of three things you would like for lunch.

Summary: Have each child give a combination that he is sure of, before he is dismissed.

SHORT STORY.

A Frat House Chat.

Two handsome young collegians were industriously studying in their room in North Hall. After meditating quietly for a while the silence was broken by this remark, "Maybe I wouldn't like to live over again one night of last summer. We were canoeing. The moon shone brightly and its reflection turned the water to silver. It was one of those calm, dreamy nights which are made for romance. Paddling and drifting by turns, we glided along. The maiden fair reclined among soft cushions on the floor of the canoe. She was beautiful—shiny, golden tresses, sparkling blue eyes—a coaxing voice—Oh! what more could you want? But those good times are over now. Well, such is life, anyway!"

"Yes, but you can talk all you want to about your dreamy canoe rides," said the room-mate. "You should have been with me last summer on this particular night. It was at a dance. The blare of saxophones filled the air. Everywhere excitement prevailed. My damsel fair was of the shiekess type—straight black hair, flushed cheeks, carmine lips, black dress trimmed with red. She was certainly some stepper. Dance? Well, I don't mean maybe! Yes that girl of mine was some Georgia Peach."

"Quite a thrill, roomie, but as I said before, those happy days are over—for a while, anyway. Oh, I say—the mail must be in—I hear the boys. Get mine, will you?"

"Oh, I'll do that little thing for you?"

The speaker left the room and returned a few minutes later reading a letter.

"A thrill, buddy?" asked his room-mate.

"No, three deficiencies!" was his reply.

PERSONALS.

Betty Saricks and Martha Hurlbert spent the week-end at Peckville.

Peggy Griffiths entertained Miss Helen Jones, of Plymouth, over the week-end.

"Jean" Jones recently had as her guest Elizabeth Whitby, of '23.

Edith Fisher visited the Edwardsville girls recently.

Gladys and Charlotte Morgan entertained their mother and two sisters on Sunday.

Billy Spangenburg had as her guests for the week-end, Helen Baker, Harold Lessais and Frank Young, all of Scranton.

Pauline Hassler, Margaret Jone, and Lucille Henry went home to Wilkes-Barre for Saturday and Sunday.

Eddie LaBarre was "Peg" Killian's guest on Sunday.

"Gene" Wilson's mother and Mr. Moses were here, too.

Evelyn Kaufman and Bill Partridge, '24 graduates, were here over the week-end.

wards Bucknell worked ball to 28 yd. line. Bucknell failed to gain the necessary 10 yds. and Normal took the ball on downs on the 28 yd. line. Zeveny punted to Bucknell's 38 yd. line. It was a fine kick. On the next play Bucknell's quarter back made an end run to Normal's 12 yd. line before being thrown by Jere, who made a flying tackle. Capt. Fitzpatrick received a bruised shoulder on the play and had to be assisted from the field. It is the first time the plucky end has ever been taken out of the game because of injuries. Yazviak went in for Fitzpatrick. Normal's line held like a stone wall and Bucknell was pushed back 4 yds. in 3 downs. Ball was on Normal's 16 yd. line as quarter ended. Score third quarter—Normal 7, and Bucknell 0.

Bucknell tried a forward on the last down but it grounded. Normal took ball on 12 yd. line. Haupt hit left guard for 7 yds. and Zeveny made a first down. Normal advanced ball to Bucknell's 40 yd. line but lost it on downs. Bucknell tried a series of forwards which failed. Normal took ball on 42 yd. line. Kaz and Haupt made 3 yds. and 1 yd. respectively. A forward pass failed and Zeveny kicked. Bucknell fumbled and Normal recovered on Bucknell's 22 yd. line. Normal got a first down by a series of line bucks. Haupt tried a field goal from the 25 yd. line but it grounded. Bucknell took the ball on their own 12 yd. line and by a series of forward passes advanced it to their own 25 yd. line as the game ended.

The line-up was as follows:

NEW MEMBERS OF THE FACULTY.

Good things usually come in small packages. Thus it is with Miss Kulp. The Juniors who take English Composition and the Seniors who study story telling under her will verify this statement. Miss Kulp is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and received her master's degree in English from the same institution. Having taught in the West Philadelphia High School for girls, Girard College at Philadelphia, Normal University in Illinois and other places, she has come to us directly from Shippensburg Normal. We hope she will enjoy her course in teaching here as much as, if not more than, she has in the former places.

We have with us this year as a member of the faculty one who is an alumnus of our own school, B. S. N. S. We are, indeed, glad to welcome Professor Nelson to our midst. He has come to us after having taught at Dickinson Seminary, Highland Park School, and at Bethlehem, Pa. We know he is well prepared since he obtained his A. B. degree at the University of Michigan and his master's degree in Physical Education at Harvard. Mr. Nelson teaches Health and Hygiene to the Juniors. Since he served a term in the army we find him a very interesting teacher.

Miss Kulp and Mr. Nelson, again we welcome you!

gate. Her talk was very interesting and we wish to have more such speakers during the year.

We are all looking forward to Education Week, which begins on November 17. The Junior High's part in the Education Week program is to give a pageant. The cast is now being chosen for it. All arrangements for it are not completed as yet, but you may expect a fine piece of work when it is given.

Mildred Higgins: "Do you know Jo?"

Helen Goulden: "What Joe?"

Milly: "Banjo."

Did anyone ever turn a store upside down for you?

This stock is always in apple pie order when you come in---but we are perfectly willing that it should look like the Wreck of the Hesperus when you go out.

If you are looking for a suit or a friend---if it's in this stock---you shall see it if it takes the finish off the woodwork---and when we both have found what you are seeking---you won't confuse us by saying "I'll think it over."

Come in---you can upset the store without upsetting us!
