ARTIST COURSE PRESENTS RUSSIAN LYRIC SOPRANO

Madame Olga Averina, Young Talented Russian Soloist, to Visit College

OFFERS CLASSICAL PROGRAM

The sixth of the Friday night entertainments will be presented March 9th. The artist featured will be Madame Olga Averina, noted Russian soprano. Madame Averina will sing for her audience a program of famous classical compositions.

This talented young Russian made her debut in New York City in 1929, and was unanimously acclaimed by the music critics there.

Madame Averina possesses the necessary qualities that constitute a delightful voice, which is well trained. To this she graciously adds commendable musicianship, refinement of style, and admirable taste.

She has made many appearances in the last several years. These include Harvard, Yale, Colgate and many appearances at private musicales.

FRESHMEN HOLD DANCING CLASSES

Fad Started by Sophomores Finds Support With Fresh By Reason of Its Success

That the Sophomore Class started a movement of benefit to the social affairs of the college when it organized classes in dancing for those of the class who do not now dance, is evident in the decision of the Freshmen class to also hold such classes of instruction.

The first of such classes was conducted in the gymnasium last week, on Tuesday night, from 9:30 to 10 o'clock. Even more enthusiasm was shown by the yearlings of the college than by the Sophomores, there having been about fifty or more couples on the floor for the first class. The piano in the gym was used to provide music. No definite date has been set for the next class, but others have been planned.

SENIORS TO MEET

There will be an important meeting of all Seniors Wednesday morning at 10:00 o'clock. It is expected that Mr. Kristzer will make definite plans for graduation.

Editor House Cleans Staff-General Ousting Results

Only Efficient, Reliable and Dependable Reporters Are Retained on New Staff

Because of the election of an associate editor, the editor of the Maroon and Gold has seen fit to revamp the entire staff.

The greatest change occurs in the editorial board with the elimination of Social Editor and the creation of a new office of News Editor. This change was effected with the idea in view of making the mechanics of the

Kappa Delta Pi Holds Founders Day Affair

THREE MEN FOR ASSOCIATE EDITOR

Election For Newly Created Office to Take Place During Chapel on Friday

Three nominees for the office of Associate Editor have been selected by Student Council. Election for the office will be held during chapel on March 8, with Alfred Vandling, president of Student Council, presiding.

Ernest Lau, a graduate of Bloomsburg High School and a Sophomore in the College, is the first nominee. Mr. Lau displayed his journalistic ability this year by advancing himself from the berth of Reporter to a Feature writer.

Bernard Young, one of the present Sports Editors and present President of the Sophomore Class, is another candidate. Mr. Young has been on the staff for two years, and is a graduate of Berwick High School.

The third nominee is Elmer McKechnie, also a graduate of Berwick High School and the present Business Manager of the paper.

NEW HANDBOOK COMMITTEE TO BE HEADED BY EDITOR ACTING WITH COMMITTEE

Howard Bevilacqua, Managing Editor of the Maroon and Gold, has been appointed Editor and Chairman of the new handbook. Mr. Bevilacqua will be aided by a committee of three with the Dean of Men, Dean of Women, and Dr. Haas.

This committee will be a most important one, since it is expected that it will be the organ for the proposed war on dead wood in the hand book.

The first point of attack will start from the Constitution which is undergoing revision. It is expected that the second change will occur in the Freshman customs policy. From then on any thing can happen.

This is the first year that the committee has had this particular organization. In former years, the committee was headed by a chairman, without the inference of the chairman being an editor. It is not supposed that the editor of the hand book will be considered on the basis of a publication editor.

Mr. Bevilacqua is choosing his committee with great care and exactness, which as yet has not been organized, since its work will not start until the week of March 12.

paper less dependent upon the editor and associate editor.

The editor has used her power of vacating and filling offices very freely. The number of reporters has been somewhat reduced.

The record of each reporter was gone over carefully. Only those reporters who showed themselves dependable and reliable were retained. Any person who neglected to appear for assignments two times or who handed in late copy was disqualified.

We wish to encourage under-class reporters who have been eliminated this year to try again next year.

Program Includes Initiation, Election of Officers and Evening Banquet and Dance

DR. HALL-QUEST IS SPEAKER

The Fourth Annual Founders' Day of Gamma Beta Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi will be held tomorrow, at the Bloomsburg Teachers College.

The activities for the day have been definitely planned. At 2:30 there will be election and installation of officers and initiation of new active members.

The new members are as follows: Margaret O'Hara, Laretta Faust, Louise Yaeger, Blanche Garrison, Mildred Ford.

At 6:00 o'clock a banquet will be held in the College dining room with Dr. Hall-Quest as guest speaker. Following this, there will be dancing in the College gym and cards in the Social Fraternity Rooms of Noetling Hall.

A large number of Alumni members are expected to attend to make this the outstanding event of the year. All members who wish to attend the banquet have filed their names with Betty Krumnacker, Chairman of the Banquet Committee.

This fraternity is very active under the leadership of the following officers:

Joseph Gribbin — President
Alfred Vandling — Vice-President
Miriam Eroh — Recording Secretary
Mildred Quick — Corresponding Sec.
Esther Evans — Treasurer
Sarah Lentz — Historian

WALLER HALL TO HAVE S. U. GUESTS

Girls Representing Selinsgrove Campus to Spend Friday in Dormitory

Waller Hall will have as its guests today, six girls from Selinsgrove who will represent Susquehanna's campus activities. The girls will have tea with the Day Girls, dinner in the college dining room, and later in the evening will attend the Men's Glee Club Concert as guests of that organization.

In connection with this college visiting, mention should be made of the many visits that were exchanged last year by our girls and co-eds from other campuses.

It is expected that next week a trip will be made to Bucknell by some of the girls on the governing board.

YEARBOOK IS PROMISED FOR FIRST OF MAY

The 1934 Obitter is rapidly taking the shape of a book and will soon be entirely in the hands of the publishers, according to the editor of the annual, Ronald Keeler.

Organization of the material in the book is well underway, and much of the copy has been sent to the printers. Over half of the contents are to be in their hands by the fifteenth of March, the remainder to be sent in before April. The book will be issued sometime between the first and fifteenth of May.

COLLEGE PLANS FOR ROTARY-KIWANIS

Seventh Annual Dinner Will be Held Thursday Evening, March 15

The seventh annual Rotary-Kiwanis dinner will be held Thursday, March 15.

Dr. Haas, chairman of the affair, states, "This affair is an effort to bring together a cross-section of the community and give them a cross-section of the college."

The plans are as follows: Following the dinner, there will be a program in the auditorium consisting of a Welcome by Alfred Vandling, President of the Community Government Association; Selections by the Glee Clubs, Dramatic Club and Orchestra, and films. Following the program, there will be dancing in the gym. The orchestra for the dancing has not been selected.

GEOGRAPHY CLUB TO STUDY LINDBERGH TRIP AS SEMESTER BASIS FOR PROGRAM WORK

A unit of program study composed of the Lindbergh 1933 air trip to four continents (North America, Europe, Africa, and South America) is being used by the Geography Club this semester.

Each member takes one region wherever Colonel Lindbergh landed and gives a historic, geographic and economic background of the particular region, and its inhabitants.

The first member of the Club to be on the program was Miss Moroski who gave an interesting preliminary survey dealing with the purpose of the trip, route and equipment used.

The program for the past few weeks was as follows:

February 15—Miss Garrison—Nova Scotia.
February 22—Bruno Novak—Greenland.
February 22—Frank Wojcik—Iceland.

March 1—Albert Hayes—Southern Scandinavia.

The tentative program for the next few weeks is as follows:

March 8—Dominick D. Delliquanti—Leningrad, Moscow area.
March 15—David Foust—British Isles.
March 22—Thomas Davis—Northern France.

This unit of study will run as far as May 10, inclusive, after which it is expected that a hike will be taken to some nearby natural scene of geographic interest. One of the suggestions for this hike is Kitchen Falls, Pa.

DR. MAUPIN RETURNS

Dr. Nell Maupin, local counselor of Kappa Delta Pi, returned on Thursday from Cleveland, Ohio, where she was Gamma Beta's representative to the National Convocation.

Many subjects of importance to the fraternity were discussed by outstanding educational leaders. Dr. Maupin will make a report of the convocation at the next regular meeting of Kappa Delta Pi.

FACULTY TO ATTEND NINTH ANNUAL DISTRICT MEETING OF STATE ED. ASSOCIATION

On March 9 and 10, the Ninth Annual Convention of the Northeastern Convention District of the Pennsylvania State Education Association will be held at Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

The theme of the meeting is listed as "What Next In Education?" Some of the nationally known speakers for the sessions will be Dr. Maroney, of Columbia; Dr. Rule, Dr. Hoban, and Lowell Thomas.

B. S. T. C. faculty will be represented by the activities of Mr. Rhodes who will preside at the business meeting on Friday afternoon in the Department of College and Teacher Training, the address of Mrs. Lucille Baker, on "Teaching Number Fundamentals," and that of Miss Garrison's "Correcting English and the Content Subjects." Mr. Andrus will speak on "Socialization of Bookkeeping." Dr. Kehr will address the Round Table discussion for Deans and Advisers of Girls on "What Do We Owe Our Girls?"

On Friday's Election

In a very few days the new Student Council legislature on elections will go into effect.

If the law is interpreted in the sense in which it was passed, without any hedging, the day of the election of associate editor of Maroon and Gold will find the three nominees for the office on the chapel platform, expressing their views on newspaper administration. That is what should happen. We sincerely hope that no slip-up will occur. We are anxious to see the student reaction to the new legislature, moreover we anticipate the addresses of the nominees.

This election will establish a precedent for the future affairs. Mr. Lau, Mr. Young, Mr. McKechnie, to what use will you put your allotted five minute addresses? What are you going to tell the assembly? Will you have a platform ready? Will you suggest definite, individual plans for the betterment of Maroon and Gold, or will you take the matter lightly?

You are all members of the present staff. You should realize what our aims have been in favoring this new legislation. Show Student Council that it used good judgment in posting three nominees for the office who are staff members.

A Monster In Our Midst

Alas, the fatal days have come on which many youths and fair maidens are to endure that terrible monster feared by all B. S. T. C. students. Six times each year this modern Minotaur visits our institution. Dire and ill omened is its approach, and for a week the shrieks of maidens and the dull mournings of youths in torment may be heard.

During this awful week the shades of many anguished minds can be seen flitting in distracted and agitated wanderings through the halls and over the snow covered campus. Hitherto, this place has been frequented by the followers of the god of fatal darts, Cupid. All too soon have the days of trial and torture come upon the B. S. T. C. students.

On the fatal morning of the first dark and dismal days of his visit, weird shrieks are heard in the distance. The faces of the maidens turn pale, and their courageous male companions, although themselves trembling, try to comfort them. Soon a heavy pall spreads over the sky; all is quiet as death. The many-headed monster appears in several rooms simultaneously. Students, outwardly calm, trudge slowly into the trial rooms.

For a week the onslaught of this terrible monster is continued. The faces of those who have seen the bloodshed and heard the roar of unanswerable questions, become more haggard and wan. Very few have a gleam of hope in their glazed eyes. Appetites fail and even tempting dishes in the dining room fail to help the despairing spirits to recover.

At length, when the most brave in heart are almost ready to succumb, the end of the week arrives, and the six weeks tests are over at last! In most cases, we hope, the student has won his battle. We also hope he keeps in academic training for in six weeks the monster returns.

Customs Again

Customs are with us again. At floor meetings of Waller Hall, the Governing Board sought to investigate the attitude of the Freshmen and Upper-class women on the matter.

The vote was without enthusiasm at the upperclass meeting place. A good number of the Seniors have developed the attitude of indifference because of their intended absence from the College next year.

We cannot all be so short sighted. School keeps even though the Seniors leave strange as it may seem.

The Frosh yelled boisterously for bigger and better customs. That is interesting and might demand one editorial in itself. But the Maroon and Gold has lectured at various times and in various moods from year to year on the customs issue.

Nevertheless we are going to make a suggestion. We should like the Governing Board and the Student Council to consider it seriously.

In view of the fact that colleges are becoming more professional in their conduct which is especially evidenced in the case of the State Teachers College, we suggest a rigid enforcement of rigid customs for a period of four days. Violators of the customs should be granted a trial before Council, and such customs extended for four days more as Council deems just. At the end of the eight day period violators should be punished by having their social privileges taken away in proportion to the seriousness of their offense.

Immediately we anticipate the moans of people who shudder at the punishment. We can see no other way in which the importance of customs can be regained. We can see no other way to eliminate the wearing of freakish outfits far into the months and still have customs obeyed.

The Honor Roll

On page 4 of this issue of the Maroon and Gold there appears a list of some hundred students who have a "B" average or better for the first semester's work of the year. The list does not include the cumulative average for a number of semesters. It is the First Semester Honor Roll.

Heretofore only first year students have been accorded a Roll of Honor. This is the first effort to recognize publically the scholarship of all students in the College.

It is not known whether this will be instituted as a regular procedure or whether it is merely an experiment. Undoubtedly it would have its merits as a regular custom.

Numerous projects could be worked out from the list to supply much incentive for the lifting of student scholarship standards. It would prove interesting to note the number of Day students on the list in comparison with the Dorm students, tallying the result with the proportion of Day students and Dorm students attending the College. It would be interesting to find the number of students from various localities as compared with other localities, taking into consideration the number of students enrolled from the respective districts.

Perhaps the statistics would be meaningless but at least they would arouse interest.

Maroon and Gold wishes to congratulate the members of the Honor List. Keep up the good work.

From Other Colleges

Dartmouth College was recently bereaved by the death of nine students who were suffocated by carbon monoxide gas, while asleep in the Theta Chi fraternity house. This was an exceedingly sad tragedy.

In an effort to preserve records of the anniversary celebration last fall, the Centenary office of Haverford College has recently finished the compilation of a scrapbook, which includes the publicity features of the celebration. This scrapbook will ultimately be placed in a fireproof safe.

Mr. Charles D. Cooper, director of teacher training at the State Normal School, Brockport, New York, claims that the prospects for teacher placement this year are brighter than they have been for the past several years.

To a question calling for the principal parts of any Latin verb, a student at the University of Mississippi, handed in the following answer on his examination paper: slipper, slippers, falli, bumptus. The professor added this notation to the paper: fallo, failere, functo, suspensus.

The latest report concerning college fraternities places Phi Beta Kappa first according to age; Phi Delta Theta, first according to number of members; and Kappa Sigma and Sigma Alpha Epsilon tied for first in reference to activities.

Several students of Boston University submitted the following code for colleges: (1) All 9:00 classes will start promptly at 9:20, except on Monday when they will begin at 9:37; (2) All professors will be allowed two cuts per week and will be under compulsion to take them; (3) Final examinations will contain only those questions which are known by the students, thus permitting shorter exam periods and making possible a gain in efficiency.

Action to abolish varsity football at the State Teachers College and the State Normal School of Trenton, New Jersey, recently failed to gain the approval of the Students' Executive Board.

At the convocation held at Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pennsylvania, in honor of their sesquicentennial, William Rose Benet and Stephen Vincent Benet, American authors and critics, along with John Charles Thomas, baritone of the Metropolitan Opera Company, and eighteen other distinguished men received honorary degrees.

After milling their gold ore, mined at Ester Dome, two students and one graduate of the School of Mines at College, Alaska, received $33.76 per ounce for their gold.

A census taken of the smokers in the Men's Dormitory of the School of Mines, reveals that slightly over half, or twenty-four of the regular residents are smokers. To the other twenty-two smoking is more or less of a personal aversion.

Fire in the Fireplace

The other evening, when the mercury in our thermometer curled up into a disconsolate red ball, the Lady suggested that I build a fire in the new fireplace. The remark was not unexpected. In fact, I had anticipated it by casually mentioning my great fatigue; the greenness of the new supply of wood; the good movie that was playing, and the lateness of the hour. These, however, were only futile gestures. There would be a fire, preferably in the fireplace, although my visions included the house as well.

As a matter of fact, my experiences with this particular fireplace had been decidedly unfortunate. First there was the procedure to be followed in operating the thing, which was enough to scare any sensible man. The theory, which the architect patiently explained to me, was that one piled wood in the fireplace, turned knob D two and six-tenths turns to the right, lighted the fire, then turned knob Z three and a half turns to the left, did something to handle K, et voila! Red and gold flames—in theory—curled over the romantic white birch; there was a gentle glow—also in theory—and one reclined blissfully before the jaunty flames at peace with the world. This too was in theory.

And then I tried to buy some wood. After telephoning half a day and being told that Mr. Wood did not work there, I finally stumbled upon a quick witted ice man who grasped the fact that I desired wood for a fireplace. The wood arrived—big chunks of it, which the truck driver gleefully tossed through the cellar window, incidentally breaking every pane, aside from the damage he did to the bird bath, which he backed over.

With these sad thoughts for a background, I reminded the Lady of the large number of fatal accidents caused by fireplaces, smoking chimneys. She remained adamant. There would be a fire in the fireplace, which made the consensus of opinion evenly balanced.

With just a little trepidation, I scurried to the cellar for the wood. As I have remarked, the wood was in chunks—big ones. By artful legerdemain I managed to secret one chunk under each arm and mount the stairs, exquisitely banging my elbows on the narrow door of the wood bin.

Gingerly, I reposed the chunks in the fireplace, turned knob D five and nine-tenths to the left—or was it to the right, did something to handle K, and held an imported, ten-cent match to the chunks. No fire. I tried again. Still no fire. At this point, the Lady, who was watching me with what I interpreted as a supercilious attitude, remarked that I might try some kindling. I graciously thanked her and hied away for the kindling. Two hours later I returned with some affectionate splinters, a cut finger, and some supple kindling. This time the Lady remarked that I might try some newspapers. I did, and found later that I had burned the only edition which I hadn't read.

Anyway, I arranged the newspapers, kindling, and chunks in what I believed to be a graceful pyre, asked the blessing of Prometheus on my work, and held another ten-cent match to my magnum opus. This time I was rewarded with a tiny flame that flickered apathetically and then began to smoke. Did the smoke go up the chimney? It did not! I turned knobs K, Q, Z, and D. I poked, prodded, and caressed the fire, and still the smoke engulfed the room. I danced, entreated, implored and begged, and still the smoke poured into the room. The Lady, who begged me to control myself, calmly suggested that there was probably something wrong with the fireplace. But that was only her tact; I am positive she thinks that it was all my fault. Anyway, I scalded my hand pouring water on the fire, bribed the firemen to go away, and then called the paperhanger.

And I'll take my romance with gas logs, please!

Annual High School Basketball Tournament to Begin on March 17th

Twenty-nine High Schools Asked To Participate in Thirteenth Annual Tournament

TEAMS DIVIDED INTO CLASSES

Under the auspices of Dr. Nelson, Coach Buchheit, and "Prof." Koch, the Lettermen's Club is sponsoring the Thirteenth Annual High School Basketball Tournament in the College Gymnasium.

The first round of the elimination series will be held Saturday afternoon and evening, March 17—semi-finals, Friday evening, the twenty-third—finals, Saturday, the twenty-fourth.

The tournament will be divided into two classes—A and B. Invitations have been sent to the following teams in the A section:

Ashley, Sugar Notch, Luzerne, Newport, West Hazleton, Coal Township, Freeland, Bloomsburg, Shamokin, Bylthe, Danville, Sunbury, Edwardsville, Nanticoke, Hazleton, Plymouth, Frackville, Kingston.

Of this group, Ashley, Coal Township, Blythe, Danville, Edwardsville, and Plymouth have signified their intention of participating in the "play-off."

Class B teams are:

Montgomery, Hughesville, Gilberton, Nuremberg, Rock Glen, Pulaski, Orangeville, Numidia, Lake Township, Conyngham Twp., Littlestown.

Acceptances have been received from Rock Glen, Pulaski, Orangeville, Numidia and Conyngham Twp.

Coal Township, "two time winner" of the series, needs but to emerge the victor of this contest to retain permanent possession of the loving cup awarded to the team winning three tournament titles in succession. In the class B division, Conyngham Township was the last year's successful quintet.

These numerous cage teams represent the best of their respective localities, and a close and thrilling race is expected.

Larry Evangelista, prominent college sports figure, has been appointed general chairman. The following committees are cooperating with him:

Corresponding: Gribbon, Chairman Harter, Sell.

Locker Room and Gym: Sopchak, Chairman, Young, Camera.

Hospitality: Kelly, Chairman, Border, Perch, Kitch, Rompola, Shakofski, Cohen, Jaffin, Valente, Krauss, Mericle, B. Young, Joe Dixon, Bartoldi, Schrope, Pennington, Kreitzer, Shelhamer, Gennaria, Dry.

Score and Time Keepers: Phillips, Chairman, Beck, Malone, Rompola, Blackburn, Line, Krauss, Washeleski. Dining Room: Beck.

Dr. Nelson is chairman of the awards committee, the purpose of which is to select the best all-around team, outstanding players, and present the awards.

Because of his interest in athletic activities at the Bloomsburg State Teachers College "Bill" Hess, of town, will take care of the programs.

The members of the Lettermen's Club, make up the personnel of the

BASEBALL EQUIPMENT IS SELECTED AND ORDERED

Baseball equipment has been chosen and ordered for the baseball season, and other work is being performed to get everything in readiness for the return of intercollegiate baseball on the Mount.

The uniforms chosen consist of plain, unstriped gray suits, having maroon piping on the sleeves and "Bloomsburg" spelled out in maroon letters across the front of the shirts. On the back, there will be maroon numerals.

The caps will be gray with a maroon "B" and maroon visor. Stockings will be maroon and white.

SPORT SHOTS

An interest in volley ball has been shown by some of the boys; therefore Thursday noon has been set aside for that sport. If you wish to get a good laugh, come out and watch them perform.

Even so it is no funnier than the basketball games which take place on Monday noons. As this is true, if you are able to attend the volley ball contests or in case the gym is crowded, on Thursday noons, don't neglect to be present Monday.

After much pondering, the only explanation for both of these attractions being so outstanding is that the same group of boys (or perhaps better "men") participate in both the events.

Last week the Jayvees downed a "pick-up" team from North Hall. No one knows what the final score was, nor is anyone sure just who composed the North Hall team, but Elder said after the game, "Boy, were those guys rough."

ATTEMPTS AT FIELD GOALS KEPT

In Check-up During Two Games, Huskies Were Found Better Than Opponents

In a recent check-up during our last two home games with Millersville and Stroudsburg, it was discovered that our team converted a higher percentage of their attempted field goals than either of their opponents.

Although no record of this sort has been kept through the year, it is almost certain that our team has converted a comparatively higher portion of their field goals than their opponents, for these statistics were obtained when the Huskies faced two very strong teams.

JAYVEES TRIM MANSFIELD IN AN EXCITING GAME

After playing three quarters of basketball in which first one team was ahead and then the other, our Jayvees defeated the Mansfield Juniors by the score of 31 to 20.

The entire game was very exciting, both teams playing A-1 basketball. Sammy Rowlands and Tony Shakofski were our chief point getters, the former getting 7 points and the latter collecting 6 markers.

HUSKIES FINISH SEASON TOMORROW

Meet Stroudsburg Quintet in Last Game of Current Season; Two Play Last Games

TEAM TO BE CONGRATULATED

Captain Valente will lead his team to the court floor against East Stroudsburg tomorrow evening for the last time this season. The speedy little captain and the feisty Jaffin will make their final appearance under the colors of the Alma Mater.

The team, together with Coach Buchheit, is to be congratulated for the splendid manner in which they have "come through" in winning eight out of eleven contests.

After having disposed of the Mansfield passers with ease, the Huskies are prepared to make that final launch against the Red and White Five. The boys are determined to give "everything" they have and are confident that they can repeat the unquestionable victory scored on the home floor.

"We give our hand to each and everyone of you men—Good Luck—we're with you and know that you will come through."

LARISH AND KARNES MAY RUN IN ANNUAL BOSTON MARATHON

Joe Larish and Jim Karnes, both well-known members of the college cross country team for the past few years, are considering seriously upon entering the annual Boston Marathon to be held some time in the middle of April.

If arrangements can be made for the college to send them as representatives of the Maroon and Gold, they will make the trip to Boston with the hopes of running the full marathon distance, which is over twenty-six miles.

Neither of the men has ever run the full distance of a marathon, although both have participated in abbreviated marathon races in the state. Larish won the local prize in the Berwick Marathon two years ago, and with Karnes, also participated in the run again this year. Karnes and Larish likewise ran in a marathon race near Philadelphia last Fall. In that race Karnes finished first, ahead of many of the leading distance runners in the Middle Atlantic States.

Intramural Winners To Meet in Playoff

The intramural basketball season was brought to a close after a thrilling number of games had been played covering a period of three months.

The second half of the race was composed of teams, the members of which had profited much through constant participation, that displayed passing ability, and offensive and defensive powers somewhat comparable to that of the varsity and junior varsity combinations.

Team eight, captained by Marcinkavicz, was the winner of the second half, having emerged the victor by virtue of five consecutive victories as against no defeats. However, this is no indication of the narrow margin with which the team won its games. The members of this team are: Marcinkavicz, (C), Menapace, Pietruszak, Sallitt, and Kupstas. Menapace lead the league in points scored during the second round, while Marcinkavicz was "high man" at the end of the first session.

B CLUB NOTES

This year all umpires for baseball must pass a test to show their proficiency. All girls who think they can qualify for these positions, look up your rules.

All officials including timers and scorers for basketball for the rest of the season have made at least 80 per cent in a test on rules given last Thursday.

Anyone who has passed the referees test in basketball is eligible to play two-court basketball on Thursdays the rest of the season after 4:30 p. m. Two-court will count 10 points per practice.

It looks as if the commercial team in the inexperienced group is going to win the tournament. Perhaps, the other three teams will decide otherwise.

HUSKIES EASILY DOWN MANSFIELD

Exhibit Superior Brand of Basketball to Win From Opponents, 41 to 27

By exhibiting an all-around superior brand of basketball over a fighting Mansfield team, the Maroon and Gold Huskies again won an easy victory to the tune of 41 to 27.

As in other games, accurate and lightning-like passes proved the undoing of the opponents. Our team began to score early in the game, garnering 21 points while Mansfield managed to get the tiny total of 8 counters.

Again team work prevailed, every lad doing his bit. "Big Boy" Wilson, our pivot man, was high scorer with 16 tallies. Captain Ernie Valente, who has been troubled the last few weeks by a sore hip, broke into the line-up for two quarters and skipped past his guard to contribute 5 points to the mounting score.

TO A CO-ED

O co-ed dear if you only know
How many times I think of you,
How many days my heart feels blue,
How many dreams I dream of you.
O co-ed dear if you only cared
How many sighs I could be spared
How many kisses I would have dared
How many times my love declared.

GOOD BASKETBALL MATERIAL EXPECTED

Candidates for Diamond Team Will Be Called Out Soon After Easter Vacation

SCHEDULE LOOKS INTERESTING

With the passing of basketball season, the athletically minded of the colleged are turning their thoughts and attentions to baseball, which will be brought back on the campus as an intercollegiate sport after having been abandoned for one year.

While the abilities of the prospective candidates cannot be determined because of the year of inactivity on the diamond, there seems to be every indication that the coming season should be a good one. Plenty of good material seems to be found among those of the college who play baseball for a hobby.

The pitching staff looks especially strong, and the outfield has men left from two years ago. As for the infield, it will probably develop into a good one with the many Freshmen interested.

Shelhamer, captain of the track team, and former pitcher with the Maroon and Gold, looms forth as the best and most experienced pitcher. Other strong possibilities for the pitching staff will be Shakofski, Valente and Litwhiler. The latter made a name for himself when pitching for the town independent club last summer.

The outfield has some good prospects in Gribbon, Beck, and Blackburn, all of whom played two years ago. Parr, a Frosh, also is strong in the outfield.

The infield is the most unsettled department with a gap left by the withdrawal of Kafchinski from college. His position, Dr. Nelson, the coach of the team, believes can be filled very well by Washeleski.

Every candidate will have an opportunity, according to Nelson, and no one is sure of a position as yet. The man who can hit will be the most likely to make the team because it is the opinion of the coach that any hitter can be developed into at least a fair fielder.

Coach Nelson expects to call for candidates immediately after Easter vacation, depending upon weather conditions.

At the present time there are only five games scheduled, but two other games are possible. The schedule is as follows:

- April 14—Shippensburg—Away.
- April 25—Shippensburg—Home.
- April 28—Mansfield—Away.
- May 5—Mansfield—Home.
- May 15—Stroudsburg—Away.

Games with Susquehanna, West Chester, Bucknell, Millersville and Bridgewater, Mass., are pending, with the most likely acceptance being with Bucknell and Susquehanna.

INTRAMURAL CHAMPIONS WILL MEET BUCKNELL

Announcement was made by Dr. Nelson, Director of Athletics, that the winning team of the men's intramural basketball league will play the winner of the intramural league from Bucknell University.

The invitation to play Bucknell was immediately accepted, although no definite time or place for the contest has been made as yet. This announcement is of particular interest because of the movement towards more intramural sports in the college.

DR. KEHR RELAYS CONVENTION NEWS

Dean of Women Attends National Meeting of Women Deans in Cleveland, Ohio

At the regular House Meeting of Waller Hall on Monday evening, Dr. Kehr gave a charming report on her trip to the meeting of Deans of Women in Cleveland, Ohio.

The House Committee chairman announced that another inspection of the dorm rooms would take place next Friday.

Off campus judges will inspect the rooms at that time and will give the interesting rooms some sort of award.

The judges will be members of the American Association of University Women.

This will be the third inspection and award of the year. The women members of the faculty made one tour and the Governing Board another.

athletic unit of our College. These men have given their time and services on the football, basketball, baseball, track, tennis and cross-country teams, and it is because of their efforts that "sports" has become so prominent under the colors of the Maroon and Gold.

Our athletes receive sweaters for participation in intercollegiate contests, and the staging of this basketball tournament is but a means to help defray the cost of these awards.

The cooperation of each and every member of the student body is requested so as to make this even a huge success.

Series tickets will sell for the small sum of $1.00 and can be obtained from any member of the Lettermen's Club. Single admissions will be 35c for the first night of the elimination and 40c each for the semi-finals and finals.

Professor Fisher Addresses the Y. M.

Bernara Galganowitch conducted the meeting of the Y. M. and presided over the usual program of hymns, with Mr. Sell giving the prayer and Luther Peck leading the Responsive Reading.

Mr. Fisher spoke on Working Together With God, and treated the subject in a practical usable and modern fashion.

Mr. Cole, the State Student Secretary of the Y. M., was also present at the meeting and told the boys about the value of Freshmen developing leadership within themselves in taking part in College affairs. Mr. Cole also mentioned the advisability of boys becoming more familiar with the meaning of Lent and its implications, one of which should be church attendance.

Sophomore Cotillion Was a Successful Valentine Affair

Phil Guinard Plays For a Large Crowd in Gymnasium on February 24

The Sophomore Cotillion, one of the leading social events of the year, was held Saturday night, February 24, in the college gymnasium. Every one had a lovely time, proving this event to be one of the most delightful dances of the college year.

The gymnasium was beautifully decorated in red and white with Valentine effect as the result of Ernest Lau's labor. The main door entrance was transformed into the shape of a heart. The programs were also of red and white.

Phil Guinard's orchestra furnished a fine program of music for the dancing. During the evening punch was served.

Patrons and patronesses were: Dr. and Mrs. Francis B. Haas, Dr. Marguerite Kehr, Dean and Mrs. W. B. Sutliff, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Koch, George Buchheit, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Andrus, Dr. and Mrs. T. P. North, Mr. and Mrs. S. I. Shortess, Miss Ethel Ransom, Mr. and Mrs. George J. Keller, Miss Harriet Moore, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Reams.

The committees in charge of the successful affair were: Orchestra—Robert Abbot, Erdine MacAlister, Sam Green.

Decoration—Charles Michael, Mervin Mericle, Howard Waite, Anthony Verhovshek, Betty Chalfont, Katherine John, Florence Pietkowski, Gladys Rinard.

Program—Howard Bevelacqua, Mae Willis, Ruth Wagner.

Finances—Mary Kuhn. Refreshments—Dan Jones, Alex Kudgus.

The well-attended and delightful dance was sponsored by the Sophomore class under the very efficient officers who are:

President—Bernard Young Vice-President—Ernest Lau Secretary—Margaret Schubert Treasurer—Mary Kuhn

Contribution of Women Discussed

Adelaide Peiffer presided at the regular weekly meeting of the Y. W. in Science Hall Wednesday evening.

The club had an open forum discussion on a very appropriate topic for any organization interested in developing finer womanhood. The general theme was the Contribution of Women to the Enrichment of Life.

In connection with the discussion an article was read, Hopeful Zest. The essential attitude of combining truth, love, and beauty for the true appreciation of life was emphasized.

Kampus Kulm

This week we had the main attraction and despair of the hour, the hectic struggle between students and the elements. A fine double-bill: Students versus Weather; Students versus Subject Matter.

An account of the affair can be summarized by saying that it was just a matter of recall. Interested parties known as old-timers were trying to recall when there was a more exasperating winter, while ye party of the first part, battling ye party of the second part (also last part) the students, were trying to recall where in the heck their woolen socks were, and why in thunder they never heard of so and so problem or word before.

Here the story is cut off abruptly—similar to a movie serial, see? Six weeks later the next chapter or second round will be staged. A change of scenery will be necessary—Spring this time.

The students enter the fracas this time with more preparation and experience. However, the opponents are stronger—More material for quizzing, and the weather is Spring. And how the students go romantic, and down for the count. A sad story 'twill be.

The honor roll reminds us that there are many students not listed who, so it happens—darn the luck—who fell down some in their work of the first semester, but who have a high average for cumulative work. We know several who rank high in this manner who are not listed and consequently do not come in for the publicity.

Recognition should be given the students on a basis of work done for the benefit of self, the group to which they belong, and for the betterment of the College community.

The methods employed foster chiseling and grade—chiseling which we must admit has reached a level of perfection.

It is an exceptional student who can be very social, a leader, talented, and still be high in scholarship. Some students work with no play; some play with no work. Our hat is off to the student who works hard academically, extra-curricularly, and still has time enough to throw-a-line with the boys.

A study of recent educational meetings reveals the fact that sword wielded in the name of economy is to the prospective teacher a double-edged one.

Now that basketball and baseball and track are not yet in season, athletes will have to study it seems to pass the time away.

Seniors begin to muse and blink—It won't be long now. Frosh are deciding whether or not they will help enforce customs next year. Sophomores wonder whether the Junior year is any harder. Juniors anticipate the pleasure of being Seniors.

News flash reveals the fact that most of last year's Seniors are still looking for a job.
