MAY QUEEN FROM TRAINING SCHOOL FOR FESTIVAL

May 16 Set For Date of Annual Frolic on Mount Olympus;
To Begin at 3:30

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS INVITED

On May 16, B. S. T. C. will hold its annual May Day on Mt. Olympus. The program will begin at 3:30. This year the children of the training school will give the dances and choose the May Queen from their own group. The College girls will assist in the winding of the May poles. The College is inviting eight girls from each of the high schools in Columbia County to participate in the games which will begin after lunch and continue the remainder of the afternoon. Final plans for May Day have not as yet been completed but the College is looking forward to this event with hopes that good King Sol will be there also.

SENIORS TRY OUT FOR CLASS NIGHT

Preparations are well underway in the form of an entertainment for class night. It is probable that a musical comedy will be given. No cast has been selected as yet. Try-outs are scheduled for next week. Miss Johnston will be the dramatic instructor, and Miss Mary Mayan, of town, will direct the dancing. The committee for Class Night is: Joy Morris, chairman; Michael Sopchak, Mary DeWald, Jean Phillips, Sarah Lentz, and Elbert Ashworth.

Election of Class Advisors in May

It will be to the advantage of class members to note in advance the regulations concerning the election of advisors as stated in the Handbook. The Handbook states that an advisor may not repeat as advisor to the same group of students or the same college class, nor be advisor to more than one group at a time. The election of Senior, Junior and Sophomore advisors is scheduled for the first Wednesday in May preceding their entrance into the specified classes. Dr. Nelson has prepared the following list of faculty ineligible for the office of advisor because of their activities in former years:
Senior—Mr. Andruss, Mr. Fenstermaker, Dr. Maupin, Dr. North.
Junior—Mr. Fenstermaker, Mr. Shortoss, Mr. Keller.

(NSFA)—Cribbing was made compulsory in a quizz in a University of Texas psychology class. Each student was directed to look at other papers, to compare answers, and to cheat in any way provided he did not talk.

Department of Commerce to Hold Fourth Annual Event at the College

TWENTY-NINE SCHOOLS ENTER

Professor H. A. Andruss, Director of the Department of Commerce, has announced that everything is in readiness for the Fourth Annual Pennsylvania Commercial Contest which will be held at the College on May 5. To date, twenty-nine high schools from various sections of the state have already registered for this important event which is the only one of its kind in the state. At first it was decided to limit the contest to twenty-five high schools, but on account of the large number of replies and the keen interest shown, it was necessary to extend the number. May 1 has been set as the final day on which applications for the contest will be accepted and all indications point to a contest in which between thirty and thirty-five different high schools will be represented.

Larger High Schools Entering
Each successive contest brings with it the larger size high schools to compete. This year we will find among those entered, William Penn High School of Harrisburg, Williamsport Senior High, Sunbury, Mt. Carmel, Coal Township, Bloomsburg and Berwick. The success of the past two contests at this institution has made this possible.

All Past Winners Entered
The winners of the past three years will have an opportunity to display their skill next Saturday. Wyoming, winners in 1931; Northampton, 1932 champions, and Berwick, last year's victors, will all be striving for a second hold on the coveted honor. In the event that a high school wins the contest three times, it becomes the permanent possessor of the cup.

Events
The contest events will consist of Bookkeeping, Gregg Shorthand, Typewriting, Business Law, and Business Arithmetic. Mr. Andruss will have charge of Business Law, Miss Hoke will direct the Gregg Shorthand con-

ANDRUSS ATTENDS PITTSBURGH MEET

Professor Andruss of the Commercial Department will address the Tri-State Commercial Education Association on Socialization of Bookkeeping on Saturday. Prof. Andruss is very much interested in the subject and has carried on many investigations which have supplied his knowledge and background in the field. Professor Andruss's address will be made to the bookkeeping division of the conference. The meeting is being held at the Frick Training School in Pittsburgh, with some of the outstanding men in the field of commercial education as its delegates.

SENIORS ELECT VANDLING ORATOR

Outstanding Senior Closes Successful College Career; To Deliver Ivy Day Oration

Bringing to a close a highly successful college career, Mr. Alfred Vandling was accorded the privilege of delivering the Ivy Day Oration for the departing Senior class. Mr. Vandling started off his long series of activities of service to the college as a Freshman in his forceful rebuttal speeches as a member of the College Debating Team which has since disbanded. As a Sophomore he presided over his class as president and was one of the charter members of Gamma Theta Upsilon. From that time Mr. Vandling has been editor of the Maroon and Gold, Junior Class Vice-President, Vice-President of Gamma Theta Upsilon, Phi Sigma Pi and Kappa Delta Pi, President of the Community Government Association, and member of the Obiter Staff.

Representing the student government of Bloomsburg, Mr. Vandling visited the N. S. F. A. convention at Washington and recently spoke in behalf of the N. S. F. A. at Susquehanna University.

Mr. Vandling's most outstanding contribution to the college has been in the field of government and administration. He expended his efforts in placing B. S. T. C. on a level with colleges not only in building a stronger student governing organ but in bringing Bloomsburg into associations and relations with leading colleges and universities of this section of the country.

SPECIAL NOTES

Unusual as it may seem all social and athletic activities are centered on foreign shores or away from dear old Bloomsburg this week-end. The schedule is as follows:
Track Meet—East Stroudsburg.
Double Quartet—At the Alumni Association Banquet at the Bellevue Stratford Hotel in Philadelphia, Pa.
Y. M. C. A.—West Chester, Pa.
Y. W. C. A.—East Stroudsburg, Pa.
Student Delegation—Penn-Harris Hotel, Harrisburg, Pa.
Men's Glee Club—West Hazleton and Dallas, Pa.
And on Monday, April 23, Mr. Shortoss, Charles Michael, Verna Jones and Lauretta Foust attended a conference at Bucknell University.

Beck Elected Head of Student Assembly

Candidates State Political Platform
in Efficient and Thought Provoking
Manner

H. BORDER IS VICE-PRESIDENT

During Assembly on Monday morning, April 23, the following persons were elected by popular vote to the offices of the Community Government Association:
John Beck, '35 ----- President
Harrisburg, Pa.
Harold Boraer, '37 -- vice-President
Berwick, Pa.
Anne Quigley, '35 ----- Secretary
Mt. Carmel, Pa.
Bruno Novak, '35 ----- Treasurer
Scranton, Pa.

Mr. Beck, a graduate of Scranton Tech, is well qualified for the office to which he has been elected. President of his class in his freshman year, Beck proved his executive ability in the next two years, serving as president of the Dramatic Club and president of the Lettermen's Club. Mr. Beck is also accomplished in the field of sports, playing varsity football in his freshman and Sophomore years and baseball in his Freshman and Junior years. He is also a member of the Phi Sigma Pi, national professional fraternity.

Mr. Border, honor student and one of the present Freshman representatives to the Student Council, is our next vice-president. He was one of the few Freshmen to receive a letter in football, and was one of the mainstays of the wrestling team.

The office of secretary is quite capably filled by Miss Anne Quigley, secretary of Kappa Delta Pi, who can do only two things—play the piano in the gym and take notes. If Miss Quigley can take notes as she plays the piano, the students have done well in their choice.

Bruno Novak, treasurer-elect, has outlined his future program in a terse, pithy statement: "I don't know where the money goes, do you?" Mr. Novak, a graduate of Scranton Central, was a member of the wrestling squad, is president of the Nature Study Club, and a member of Kappa Delta Pi.

B. S. T. C. Represented at Susquehanna

The B Club has received an invitation from Susquehanna University to participate in their annual Play Day on April 28, 1934. Three other colleges including Bucknell University, and Lebanon Valley College, will take part in the activities.

Play Day will begin at 2:00. Twelve girls have been invited from each college. Each group will have a color and the color team will consist of girls from each of the colleges.

The schedules of sports include hockey, soccer, volley ball, baseball, tennis, golf, archery and quoits. After the games all girls are invited to remain for dinner.

Those who are going to represent our college are: Blanche Kostenbauder, Patsy Yale, Dot Schmidt, Bertha Hornberger, Ann Ebert, Julia Schlegel, Blanche Garrison, Veda Mericle, Mary Bierschmitt, Joy Morris, Muriel Stevens, Beatrice Thomas.

(NSFA)—Visitors to Franklin Institute in Philadelphia are greeted by Mechanical Egbert, the robot, with a "How do you do?" and "I'm very glad to see you."

WALLER HALL INVITES BUCKNELL TO HE-SHE PARTY.

Phil Guinard's Orchestra to Play
For Affair in the Gymnasium
Tonight

OFFICERS TO BE ANNOUNCED

The annual "He-She" party for the women of the College will be held on Friday night, April 27, in the gym. Priscilla Acker is chairman of the affair, with Jean Smith social chairman. Miss Acker has appointed the following students to assist her: Irene Frederick, Betty Krumanacker, Isabelle Roughe, Janice Nichols, Olga Pregon, Sarah Shnure, Louise Shannon, Mildred Auten, Anne Ryan and Helen Rishell.

The program will consist of dancing with Phil Guinard's orchestra playing, and skits by the day and dormitory women. Prior to intermission there will be the Grand March, while during intermission the officers of the two organizations for the coming year will be announced.

Prizes will be given for the funniest couple, best-looking couple, funniest man, funniest woman, best-looking man, and best-looking woman.

Programs can be secured from any of the above committee. The women of the faculty, wives of the faculty, and wives of the Board of Trustees are cordially invited to come and join the girls in their fun.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB CONCERT ON FRIDAY

Combination of Chorus, Orchestra,
Soloist and Harp Promises
Much

Friday evening, May 4, at 8:15, the Girls' Glee Club, under the direction of Miss Jessie Paterson, will present its annual spring concert. The cantata "The Lady of Shalott" will be the feature of the evening. The guest soloists will be Miss Marie E. Mallman, harpist, of Philadelphia, and Miss Isabel Miller, soprano soloist, of Bloomsburg.

The "In and About Susquehanna Valley Music Supervisors' Club" and 125 supervisors of music in the school service area will be guests at the concert and dance.

Phil Guinard's orchestra will furnish the music for the dance which will begin after the concert is finished.

The committees in charge of the affair are as follows:
Ticket—Thelma Knauss, Kathryn John.

Ushers—Dawn Townsend, Kathryn Wertman, Esther Evans, Mary DeWald.

Poster—Sarah Lentz, Kathryn Yale, Euphemia Gilmore, Kathryn Sellar, Thelma Knauss, Winifred Keen, Erdeen McAllister.

Stage—Harriet Sutliff, Sarah Lentz, Grace Footo.

Bands For Chapel

The expressions of delight following the recent concert in the auditorium by the Williams Band, of New York, awakens us to the fact that the student body can be satisfied. Every student, it is believed, left the auditorium that day with a feeling of appreciation for the band and its program.

With the possible exception of the program by Sigmund Spaeth, the band concert held the attention of more students and guests than has any other entertainment on the chapel program this year. From the reaction of the student body we may justly conclude that band music is extremely popular with everybody. It offers something that other types of music does not offer.

It is not asking too much, therefore, to suggest the addition of at least one visiting band on the chapel schedule each year. With such a program come entertainment and satisfaction, as well as a better appreciation of music which is ordinarily considered boring by some students.

More Brain Work

The time has come when we must put on our thinking caps in order that we may select next year's officers for various campus organizations. Some of the questions which should immediately pop into your mind are: Does he have the ability and initiative to carry on this type of work, or is he better suited for something else? Will he do his best as our representative, or will he aspire to personal honor and glory? Will he be fair in his decisions? Is he sincere? Will he show partiality toward friends? These are only a few of the many questions which should be given a thorough mental examination by the electors of these officers.

Did someone whisper, "Why go through all that 'bunk'?" Well, you see, it's this way. The persons elected to these positions have a great responsibility to shoulder. Backed by the support of their organizations, they represent our school activities, not only on our own campus, but to other schools and outside organizations. Of course, we want our school to be honored, and we want our school to be progressive—above all to advance scholastically and socially. The only way to gain such objectives is to choose such officers who will have the initiative, ability, and courage to advocate such measures and suggestions which will aid in achieving such desirable ends.

Nuff Sed—except get the grey matter stirred up a little bit at least.

A Good Sport!

How often we have mentioned that such and such a fellow was a good sport because he didn't play dirty when the referee was not looking, or because some one else admitted that his rival had really won the race. Yes, such persons are good sports, but why restrict good sportsmanship to athletics? Good sportsmanship can be had in all countries, in all walks of life, in all institutions—it is even present in the process of education. As the end of the school term is rapidly approaching, this feeling of sportsmanship should become as evident in our school life as it is in track and baseball.

If your grades are in the red, think about the good times you had during the year. Admit that you haven't been doing your best—that you have not shown the proper attitude or spirit in the classroom. Think these things over before jumping on your teachers and saying professor so and so is inconsiderate and unjustly burdens us with lessons. Be fair to the teacher—study the daily assignments and avoid the unnecessary and unpleasant situations in the classroom.

Think! How did you spend your "Leisure" time? If you wasted it talking or (in the beautiful spring days) gazing dreamily out of the window, and then let your studies slide until the next day only to find that you had an unexpected class meeting or a special chapel session, why credit the resulting failure to your teacher?

Perhaps you have been careless and have wasted your time, and after receiving your last grades you are likely mourning for those lost seconds. Even though the last six weeks is here and is already fast dwindling away, there still remains a slim chance for redemption, so get out the old book and dust it off for use.

However, if you have waited until too late to be a "good sport" then don't blame Prof. "S and So." Yet, according to an old saying "It's never too late." Be a good sport by getting into harness, and increase your pace so as to regain some of your losses while on the last lap.

Books For the College Editor's Library

The college periodical rightly edited may easily become the major intellectual and spiritual opportunity of the college life. Whether it will take this place will depend upon the purpose, the ideals, and the working techniques of the journalistic staff. No one can be a successful editor who is not a reader and a thinker, who is not able to deal with an idea as an idea, to separate it from the verbal trappings in which it is clothed, and to make it his very own. The following books are worth owning, reading, marking, and rereading. By adding others to these two lists the college editor can develop a personal bookshelf which will be an extension of his mind.

- The first list gives a general background of philosophy and outlook.
- (1) A History of the Freedom of Thought, by J. H. Bury. Henry Holt, N. Y. 1913.
 - (2) The Work, Wealth and Happiness of Mankind, by H. G. Wells. Doubleday, N. Y. 1932. 2v. $7.50.
 - (3) The New Exploration, Benton Mackaye. Harcourt, N. Y. 1928. $3.00.
 - (4) Constructive Citizenship, by L. P. Jacks. Doubleday, N. Y. 1928. $2.50.
 - (5) Other People's Money, by L. D. Brandeis. Jacket Library, Washington, D. C. 1932. 15c.
 - (6) Recent Social Trends in the United States. Textbook edition, McGraw-Hill, N. Y. 1933, 1v. $5.00.
 - (7) A Sociological Philosophy of Education, by Ross L. Finney. Macmillan, N. Y. 1928. $2.50.

The second list deals more specifically with the immediate problems of today's life. It may be out of date almost before I give it because new and better books may be produced during the months ahead, but it is a good starting point.

- (1) Looking Forward, by Franklin D. Roosevelt. John Day, N. Y. 1933. $2.50
- (2) The Roosevelt Revolution, by Ernest K. Lindley. Viking Press, N. Y. 1933. $2.50.
- (3) The Industrial Discipline, by Rexford G. Tugwell. Columbia University Press, N. Y. 1933. $2.50.
- (4) Concentration of Control in American Industry, by H. W. Laidler. Crowell, N. Y. 1931. $3.75.
- (5) The Modern Corporation and Private Property, by Berle and Means. Macmillan, N. Y. 1932. $3.75.
- (6) A Planned Society, by George Soule. Macmillan, N. Y. 1932. $2.00.
- (7) The Coming Struggle For Power, by John Strachey. Covici-Friede, N. Y. 1933. $2.75.
- (8) The Social Economic Goals of America. Journal of the National Education Association. January, 1934, pp. 6-12. 1201 16th St., N. W., Washington, D. C.

Both of these lists have two weaknesses: They are too narrow and too short. The editor must deal with life as a whole. In an age of intense specialism when things are broken up into such small parts that they tend to lose their meaning, it is the task of the editor to be not a specialist but a generalist who acquires some knowledge of many things so that he can point out their significance and inter-relationships.

Maroon and Gold prints the list because of its adaptability to any prospective teacher's library.

To All Persons to Whom These Presents May Come

"You ask me why I didn't take my diploma? The answer is obvious. It wasn't worth five dollars!"

Henry David Thoreau

When the Sage of Walden left Harvard five dollars richer than his classmates, he established a precedent which has never been universally popular. In truth, considering the annual hogira of bleating sheep from rocky pastures to staid livingrooms, it may be said that the noble example was irretrievably lost to posterity.

Now, however, due to the reawakened interest in the aesthetic appeal of a five dollar bill, it may be safely predicted that Thoreau's action will be widely emulated. This year the fabled balances will swing in many a student's hand. In one pan will glisten the cellulose equivalent of about one-seventh of an ounce of gold; in the other a parchment scroll jocularly tied with gay ribbon.

To choose between five dollars and a diploma in this year of grace, 1934 A. D., is not particularly difficult, even though the general scheme of each is the same. The bill has a seal, a mass of heterogeneous printing, a few illegible signatures, and some vignette engraving calculated to confuse the novice. The diploma has all these attributes, though on a slightly grander scale.

The fundamental difference is found in two sentences. One, which is found on the bill, says, "Will pay to the bearer on demand—FIVE DOLLARS." Permit me to repeat, "FIVE DOLLARS." And again I say "FIVE DOLLARS." Not a generalization, nor a passing jest, but a definite promise to pay. Nothing could be clearer or more satisfying.

But the diploma! Ah, there's the rub. Most diplomas start off something like this: "To all to whom these presents may come—GREETINGS!" So what? I am greeted several times each day, but only once during my lifetime have I been promised five dollars. Even more, by a hurried visit to a nearby bank, I found that promise valid and in accordance with the laws of the land. One must choose, therefore, between a graceful phrase in Gothic and a promise worth five dollars. "I know not what course others may take, but as for me—" Not, though, that I am materialistic. I merely have a passion for definite statements. The monetary aspect is of secondary consideration.

But a diploma! What can one do with the thing? It could be "hanged" beside—well, what could it be "hanged" beside? It wouldn't look well beside a Maxfield Parrish, and it's slightly too frivolous for the Maja Nude. I guess it will have to be merely hanged. But how much more artistic a five dollar bill would look! To be able to glance up and read, "Will pay to the bearer on demand—FIVE DOLLARS" would be bliss beyond the capacities of enjoyment.

Thoreau, my greetings and felicitations. Your noble example has lifted us to a new aesthetic plane wherein we shall take the promises and extend the greetings. May we ever be as true to our high ideals as you were to yours. (But I'm afraid we won't!)

—Paul Brock

SHARING PLAN RECEIVES FAVOR

C. Homer Artman, the author of the "Sharing-Teaching Plan for Beginning Teachers," which appeared in a recent issue of the Maroon and Gold, reports that school directors are quite favorably inclined towards the plan. He believes that applicants for teaching positions this year will profit from any efforts they may put forth to secure the adoption of the plan; also that willingness to accept a sharing-teaching position would be a strong point in favor of the applicant.

While visiting Florida recently, Mr. Artman was quite fortunate in having an interview with Miss Katie Dean, the Principal of the Miami Beach Elementary School. The "cadet" system in effect there this year should be of interest to all new teachers. A "cadet" is a beginning teacher, usually a college graduate and properly certified by the state, who is assigned to assist the teachers of a certain grade. If there are four teachers in the grade, the cadet has four periods in her work-day, one period under each teacher. From week to week she has her periods shifted so that in the course of the year she has assisted in all subjects under all the teachers. This appears to be a wonderful training for the cadet, but Miss Dean points out that the welfare of the pupils is the first consideration.

COMMERCIAL CONTEST SCHEDULED FOR MAY

tests, Miss Murphy, the typewriting, and Mr. Arney will administer the Business Arithmetic and Bookkeeping tests.

The schedule of events are as follows: Typewriting and Bookkeeping at 9:00 A. M., Shorthand and Business Law at 10:00 A. M., Assembly of all contestants and teachers in the Auditorium at 11:00 A. M., Luncheon at noon, Typewriting and Bookkeeping at 1:00 P. M., and Shorthand and Business Mathematics at 2:00 P. M.

Visual Aids to be Shown

Professor Andruss has procured three very interesting educational films which will be shown at the group conference which will be held in the auditorium at 11:00 o'clock. This will be the first time for these films to be shown in Pennsylvania. All three deal with the teaching of Commercial subjects.

"Teaching Beginners How to Type-write," by Eleanor Skimm, former President of National Commercial Teacher Federation.

"Correct Shorthand Technique," by Mrs. Ethel Wood, State College, Pullman, Washington.

"Magic In It," by the Department of Agriculture. This is a film dealing with Farm Accounting.

Following is a list of high schools that have signified their intention to take part in this year's contest:

1. William Penn (Harrisburg).
2. Williamsport.

HUSKY SLUGGERS WIN OVER L. H. S. T. C.

Remarkable Pitching on Part of Litwhiler and Home Run by Shellhammer

"Go thou and do likewise." Maybe that sentence of instruction by Dr. Haas was the spark to the fire of B. S. T. C.'s impressive victory over Lock Haven S. T. C. at that place last Saturday.

The victory was impressive only from the defensive side, however. Marked by fine team play and superb pitching, the team won 5 to 2, in a twelve inning game.

"Woody" Litwhiler turned in a five-hit win, with 21 fan-outs as against 4 walks, and then won the game himself with a double, his third hit, in the twelfth, to drive in the winning run.

Aby seconding him was Shelhammer, the track captain, who put the ball out of the park in the seventh to tie the score at one all. This saved the game, as it was scheduled for only seven innings.

While he gave up two runs, only one of the two yielded by Litwhiler was earned. This was the one that stalled off the outcome a little longer in the ninth one three singles. In the fifth they got a big run on a walk, a sacrifice, Washleski's error, and Moleski's wild toss.

In the ninth B. S. T. C. apparently won the game when the catcher's error sent Parr to base and he scored on fielder's choice.

However, in the twelfth, everything was dead. Moleski singled and Karshner did the same, his hit falling about a foot short of Shelhammer's drive and returning to the field of play. Then Litwhiler slapped his double and scored them both and was in turn scored by Parr's fielder's choice.

After this victory the team is primed to get revenge on Shippensburg, Wednesday afternoon. Let's help them and be out cheering.

CINDER BURNERS WIN SECOND MEET

Carrying over their spirit shown in the meet with Bucknell, the Maroon and Gold track and cinder men scored their second win of the season in a dual meet with the Lock Haven Teachers. Bloomsburg scored 75 to Lock Haven's 51 points.

Each team scored seven first places, but the Huskies got ten seconds and ten thirds to four in each place by the Red and Black.

Blass, first year man, was the high scorer of the meet with 17 points. He was followed by Hoy, of Lock Haven, with 14.

The Buchheit squad turned in 27 points as the result of the mile, two mile, and half mile and set records in each event. Karnes won the mile in 4:53, cutting 11 seconds off the 5:04 set by Larish, of Bloomsburg, last year. Bartoldi, brilliant freshman performer, clipped 12.4 seconds off the two mile mark by turning in the time of 10:51.6.

Captain Shelhammer tossed the discus 114 feet, which was 6 feet, 4 1/2 inches better than his mark of last year.

Menapace, a newcomer on the squad, showed his form by gaining first berth in the 220 dash and third in the low hurdles over the same distance.

Coach Buchheit is rapidly developing a strong track and field team—in fact, the best that Bloomsburg has had up to this date. The men have faced some real competition in their last two meets, and have come through. There is every reason to believe that they will improve as the campaign grows older, and continue to "chalk up" scores in the win column.

Summary:

Track Events

100 yard dash—Hoy, Lock Haven, first; Miller, Lock Haven, second; Jaffin, Bloomsburg, third. Time 10.4.
220 yard dash—Menapace, Bloomsburg, first; Miller, Lock Haven, second; Howell, Bloomsburg, third. Time 24.6.
40 yard dash—Jaffin, Bloomsburg, first; Parr, Bloomsburg, second; Malone, Lock Haven, third. Time 55.6.

BUCKNELL LOSES TO HUSKY TRACK TEAM IN FIRST MEET

As was predicted by the showing made by athletes in the inter-class meet, the Buchheit Field and Track Team defeated a powerful team from Bucknell University in their first dual meet.

The Huskies trailed the visitors during the first half of the contest, but finished strong in the track events to score a clean-cut victory.

Much improvement has been shown in the squad over its performance of a week previous to this in that it has added strength in the dashes and hurdles.

Summary:

100 yard dash—Wilkinson, Bucknell, first; Zypulsky, Bucknell, second; Menapace, Bloomsburg, third. 10.4 seconds.
220 yard dash—Wilkinson, Bucknell, first; Zypulsky, Bucknell, second; Menapace, Bloomsburg, third. 23 2-5 seconds.

Javelin throw—Litwhiler, Bloomsburg, first, 158 feet, 3 inches; Wilkinson, Bucknell, second, 156 feet, 4 3-4 inches; Remaley, Bucknell, third, 155 feet, 1 1/2 inches.

RACQUET WIELDERS OFF TO GOOD START

The Huskie Racket Squad, under the directorship of "Prof" Koch, scored a decisive victory over the Shippensburg netmen in the opening match of the season.

Each player on the Bloomsburg Team showed his "mettle" at some time or other in the matches by placing shots, crossing their opponents and handling "hot, fast" drives with ease.

Captain Krauss opened the season by defeating McVickers in straight sets. Gennaria, veteran, came through after a poor start to score a victory over Spittal. Snyder offered little if any opposition to Taylor, who came through with two sets.

In the doubles, Krauss and Gering defeated Spittal and Danzberg, 6-4,

B CLUB NOTES

The tournament games of experienced girls' baseball began Monday, April 16. Games will continue to be played every Monday and Friday nights. In case of rain the games will be played in the gym.

Although only about one half of the teams were out Friday night, competition was keen. Teams one, five and six won their games.

The two managers for the baseball season are Miriam Eroh and Ruth Wagner.

Everyone is busy earning points to get their award.

Hikes, tennis and roller skating are popular recreations. A little less than three weeks on May 15, all points for awards this year must be in. Get busy and get your award as next year it requires 500 instead of 300 points.

TRACK MEET FOR HIGH SCHOOLS MAY 5

After much deliberation and shifting of dates, the decision has been reached in favor of holding a scholastic track meet on May 5.

It has been eight years since anything similar to this affair has been planned by the college. It is expected that the contest will take place with the same characteristics as the High School Basketball Tournament.

The event will help encourage high schools having track and field teams since the meets in which high school teams can compete are very limited. This is a real service to high school athletics.

The meet was first set for May 5, but was later changed since May 5 seemed to be an extra-ordinarily full time. However, all of May seems to be well crowded with events so it was decided to shift back to the original date. The meet will open at eleven o'clock in the morning.

The shift back to May 5 will be especially satisfactory to Wyoming Valley schools since May 19, on which the meet was scheduled, was to be the date for District 2 games, and some readjustment would have been necessary if the important teams from the Wilkes-Barre region were to compete. 11:30 A. Fourth Annual Banquet Will be Held May 19 at State Teachers College

EXPECT A LARGE ATTENDANCE

Lou Little, the perserving master of Columbia's team who took that team to California and accomplished what bordered on the miraculous, will be the guest speaker at the fourth annual athletic banquet at the college.

Little, a star at the University of Pennsylvania in his days of actualletic map and then went to Columbia, playing, put Georgetown on the ath-Columbia is known not for its athletics but rather for its scholarship, yet Little took a measly handful of candidates and started to build and mould his teams. The result has been the production of teams that have won the respect of nation-wide critics in the football fields.

The athletic dinner was established to honor publicly and before the entire community, the outstanding athletes of the college not only for intramurals, intercollegiate, but for girls and boys athletics.

The affair has always been held at the close of the sports season and near the end of the school term.

The heads of the Health Department and Athletic Council feel that Mr. Little's presence will help much in making this a most outstanding of banquets.

It is expected that holders of athletic awards from other years will return as guests of the college to watch the under-classmen receive their awards. Lou Little will undoubtedly have an interesting address that will be of value not only to the athletic-minded of the college but to others as well.

COLLEGE DOWNS YELLOW JACKETS

Shows Improvement in Field and Greater Improvement at the Bat

The college baseball team defeated the Berwick Yellow Jackets in a surprisingly improved game, as a practice contest, to the score of 11 to 1. The game played for seven innings. Shakofski started for the college and only ten men faced him in the three innings which he played.

The only man of the Berwick club to reach base was Remaley.

Whitey Moleski finished the game for the Bloomsburg team. He walked Dollman in the fourth who went the rest of the way around on Karschner's error and Moleski's wild pitch. Fulkerson started for the Yellow Jackets but was helpless without his team's support. Henrie pitched the last inning.

Score by innings:
Yellow Jackets --- 000 100 0—1
College --- 100 004 x—11

Two Base Hits—Moleski, Rompola, Karschner. Struck out—by Shakofski, 5; by Moleski, 4; by Fulkerson, 4.
Sacrifice Hits—Blackburn. Earned runs—College 6. Left on bases, College 5; Yellow Jackets, 6.

IN A PERSIAN GARDEN RECEIVED WELL BY ASSEMBLY

Original Costumes, Wit and Humor Add Much to Enjoyment of Production

DICK KELLY DIRECTS THE PLAY

On Wednesday morning in chapel, the Junior class presented to the student body a very delightful and entertaining musical comedy, "In a Persian Garden." The wit and humor had the group in continuous laughter. The songs were greatly enjoyed by the entire audience.

The play took place in the Shah's garden in Persia. The oriental costumes made an added attraction to the play.

Ann Quigley furnished the music for their songs and dances. Dick Kelly very efficiently directed the cast composed of:

- Nowebah, nurse of the princess and an evil sorceress. Flora Robinhoit
- Zohdah, beautiful Persian princess and daughter of the Shah, Charlotte Hockberg
- Ted, mining engineer from the U. S. A., Harold O'Brien
- Billy, Ted's friend Dick Kelly
- Sam, a colored valet for Ted and Billy, George Van Sickle
- Lohlah, Zohdah's friend, Madlyn Fiorini
- Shah of Persia John Beck
- Sheik Tony Conte
- Chorus Girls: Lucille Miller, Genevieve Bowman, Veda Mericle, Louise Yeany, Harriet Styer, Santina LaBrutto, Dorothy Berninger

BLOOMSBURG DOWNS SHIPPENSBURG TEAM

In a strong, chilly wind Wednesday afternoon, Bloomsburg State Teachers College had sweet revenge upon Shippensburg to the tune of a 5 to 1 baseball game.

Continuing the standard work of the pitchers that Litwhiler started against Lock Haven, Moleski turned in a fine piece of twirling with a three-hit near shut-out victory. The team supported him in batting better than previously with nine hits and four earned runs.

Bennet Dry was the hitting hero of the day with a single, triple, one run driven in and one scored.

With the wind interfering and making flies difficult to judge, the fielding was ragged. B. S. T. C. had five errors and Shippensburg three.

In the ninth inning Shippensburg finally scored on Visotski's error, a pop single made by the wind, an out and a scratch single to short. Moleski fanned two in the second, fourth, and fifth and used the other Ko's to help him out of holes.

PHI SIGMA PI IN SESSION FRIDAY

Representatives of Eight Eastern Teachers Colleges Attend the Conference

Representatives of eight eastern teachers colleges attended the Eastern Conference of Phi Sigma Pi on Friday and Saturday, April 20 and 21, with the high light being a banquet, attended by eighty persons, in the dining hall of the school.

Dr. Henry Klonower, honorary member of the host chapter, was the speaker at the banquet. He spoke of the changing attitudes toward the teaching profession in Pennsylvania. Dr. Klonower spoke of the value of professional preparation in the terms of service to childhood and of the increasing understanding of the relation of public education to the perpetuation of democracy.

Dr. Charles Manwiller, national president, and C. O. Williams, national secretary of the fraternity, were in attendance and presided at the meetings.

Greetings were brought by the national president and secretary and by E. A. Keams, advisor of Iota Chapter, Bloomsburg.

The visitors were guests of the Bloomsburg Players in the evening when "The School for Scandal" was presented in the College auditorium.

A dance for the fraternity and the members of the Bloomsburg Players followed in the gymnasium with music by Jack Taylor's Collegians.

The final session of the conference was held in Science Hall at nine o'clock Saturday morning.

Dr. Henry Klonower, chief of the teacher division, State Department of Public Instruction, spoke on "How a Member of the State Department Looks at the Professional Fraternity."

The following led round table discussions:

"Professional Programs," William Parsons, California; "Social Programs," Julian Shinol, Indiana; "Project on Iowa Reading Tests given to Sophomore Class," Harold C. Reppert, California; "Maintaining Scholarship," Michael Wargo, Slippery Rock; "Founder's Day," Kenneth Snyder, Clarion; "Balancing the Budget," Stanley Heimbach, Bloomsburg; "Alumni Members," Carl Johnson, Mansfield; and "Interfraternity Relations," Carl Walker, Indiana.

Chapters from the following institutions were represented at the Conference: Wilson Teachers College, Washington, D. C., and these Pennsylvania Teachers Colleges, Eta chapter, Indiana; Theta chapter, Mansfield; Lambda chapter, Clarion; Omicron chapter, Shippensburg; Mu chapter, Slippery Rock; Kappa chapter, California, and Iota chapter, Bloomsburg.

ALUMNI CLASSES INVITED FOR MAY 26

Invitations have been sent out to 8,000 graduates of Bloomsburg State Teachers College for the Alumni Day Activities on May 26. Thirteen classes have been planning special feasts for the day and promise to make the day a most memorable one.

One of the outstanding events endorsed for the program is the dedication of the Alumni Room to Professor Bakeloss, who had been serving as an officer of the association when he passed away this fall.

Classes in reunion meet are: 1874, 1879, 1884, 1889, 1894, 1899, 1904, 1909, 1914, 1919, 1924, 1929, 1932. These groups will meet in special places at nine o'clock Alumni Day, and adjourn to the auditorium for an address by Bruce Albert at 11:30, which will be followed by luncheon in the college dining room.

EDITOR ANSWERS SOME QUESTIONS ASKED BY HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

1. Where is Bloomsburg and how can I get there?
Bloomsburg is located in Columbia County, Pennsylvania, in the beautiful Susquehanna Valley and may be reached over the Pennsylvania, Lackawanna or Reading Railroads. A fine concrete highway brings the Greyhound Bus Lines from Scranton on the way to and from Harrisburg, Washington and Pittsburgh and makes transit by private cars or local bus lines easily available in all directions.
2. Is Bloomsburg a town where I should enjoy spending my college years?
Bloomsburg is a town of about 10,000 English speaking people. Clean wide streets, fine department stores, ample water supply, fine churches, first class movie theatre and good public schools make it an attractive and home-like place.
3. What is the purpose of a State Teachers College?
The State Teachers College at Bloomsburg is strictly a professional college devoted to the preparation training of Elementary and High School Teachers. It grants, by State authority, the Bachelor of Science Degree in Education and its graduates receive a college certificate issued by the Department of Public Instruction which is a license to teach in the Elementary Grades or in the Junior or Senior High School, depending upon the course of study completed by the candidate.
4. Does the college at Bloomsburg offer preparation to teach any of the special subjects taught in the High School?
Yes, it has a Commercial Department which prepares its graduates to teach all the usual Commercial branches in any High School. Thirty-five Freshmen is the limit of enrollment. Early application is advisable.
5. Must I have Commercial work in my High School Course to take the Commercial Course at Bloomsburg?
No. Any graduate of an approved four year high school whose entrance requirements have been met may take this course.
6. What are the entrance requirements?
Briefly—graduation from an approved four-year high school, ability shown by graduation in the upper half of your class, good health and the character and personality which give promise of professional development.
7. Am I excluded if I graduate in the lower half of my class?
If recommended by the High School Principal an opportunity will be given to enter by examination.
8. What extra-curricular activities are provided?
A fine gymnasium and a large athletic field provide places for the development of the excellent football, basketball and baseball teams which have represented the college for many years. Track teams of note are developed each year. Tennis is an intercollegiate sport, and ample courts are provided. The Dramatic Club, Glee Club for men and the Chorus for women provide another means of culture. The College Band, handsomely uniformed, adds to many college events. The Orchestra, under capable leadership, is another notable organization. The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. aim to develop the social and religious life of the students. Weekly meetings are held. Professional Fraternities add to the opportunities of high grade students who desire to carry the expression of the professional spirit into their extra-curricular life. The weekly production of plays by the Dramatic Association gives opportunity for this delightful form of expression. In addition there are clubs for those interested in particular subject matter.
9. What do you mean by Elective Fields?
Each candidate who desires to teach in a high school has certain subjects in mind which he would prefer to teach. At the beginning of his Sophomore year he chooses at least two fields in which he specializes for the ensuing three years. He may select two fields from the following: English, Latin, French, Social Studies, Geography, Science and Mathematics.
10. Can I plan my work to secure certification in more than two fields?
Yes. Capable students usually have three and by judicious use of free electives and a summer school they may secure four.
11. Is it possible to get a certificate to teach with less than four years of preparation?
An elementary or grade teacher may secure a State Limited Certificate at the end of two years. This can be renewed by earning twelve additional semester hours of credit by the end of the third year following the issue of the Certificate.
12. May I live in the Dormitory?
Yes—pleasant, well furnished rooms are available for all women students in Waller Hall. Shower baths, and an elevator to all floors add to the comfort of the students. An up-to-date new steam laundry cares for each student's laundry. The fee of $7.00 a week covers board, room and laundry. Men who live in North Hall will find it equipped with all modern conveniences—steam heat, ample showers, etc.
13. What provision is made for Day Students?
A large, well furnished room is provided for the Day Women together with an adjoining room for the noon luncheon. The Dean of Day Women has her office adjoining the large room. The Day Men have an equally attractive room on the first floor of Carver Hall.
14. How large an enrollment have you?
The usual enrollment is between 650 and 700. Of these there are about 250 men.
15. Do you have a good Library?
Two trained Librarians are in charge of an adequate library of over 15,000 volumes. Magazines, periodicals, and newspapers are provided in abundance. With the student help the library is open practically all day and evening. Reference books of all types are constantly available.
16. Are students allowed a measure of self government?
Yes. The Community Government Association aims to cooperate with the responsible authorities in guiding and regulating the affairs of all students under the jurisdiction of the college. The Student Council meets every two weeks and is made up of representatives from each of the four classes and from other organizations within the college.
17. Is provision made for Social Life?
Yes. Dances are sponsored by each class and by the fraternities and other organizations. The Gymnasium and the Social Rooms in Noelling and Science Hall furnish ample room for various social events. Adjoining the Social Rooms in Science Hall is a well equipped kitchenette where refreshments may be prepared for small parties.
18. Do I have to pay each time I go to a concert or ball game?
The Activities Fee paid by all students at the opening of the semester admits each student to all athletic events, concerts and lectures given under the direction of the college. All students are thus free to go to all football, basketball and baseball games. Intercollegiate and other tennis matches are open to all. The finest musical organizations and Concert Stars are engaged for the Entertainment Course offered by the college.
19. What is my first step if I wish to enter the State Teachers College at Bloomsburg?
Write to the Dean of Instruction, William B. Sutliff, and request him to send you the Application Blanks.

Kampus Kulm

After our grand slam last issue as a sort of local Winchell, we are hesitant as to just how far we should go in exposing the idiosyncrasies of our fellow suffering (we don't know what from) students. So after listening to Penner, Winchell, Wynn, and having read McIntyre, Brown, and Brisbane, we give up from disgust or want of an inspiration either or both.

Nevertheless, we cannot help noticing how unconcerned the Seniors are becoming, how nonchalant the Sophomores, egotistical the Juniors, and the Freshmen have grown up considerably.

Have you ever had your feelings trampled upon? We had. After spending many precious minutes writing and venting our meager thoughts and feelings, we observed them being trampled upon by the Day students in the Day Room. Oh why do they have to vex us by throwing papers around after having read them. Woe is we!

Have you been concerned about your health? Then weigh in on the scales in the offices of the gym and you will become so, unless you remember this. I stepped upon the scales the other day and watched the indicator speed around and come to an abrupt stop at one hundred and sixty-five pounds. I stepped off, became engaged in conversation with friends, stepped back on again absent-mindedly (the earmarks of a good teacher) and the bally thing registered two hundred and ten. The shock was terrible, but I recuperated in time to begin this.

This boy Karnes is becoming so good that there will be no end to the number of tricks he will be pulling while waiting for the rest of the Two Mile Field to catch up and furnish him some companionship. In a recent meet with a rival college, he stopped right before the tape and untied his shoe lace and retied it before a group of gaping timers and judges. We expect Jim to bring along his shaving kit about the next race, and prepare his toilet while waiting for the other runners to catch up. Anyway, Jim is some runner and is entitled to have his fun.

Don't you just admire the fellow who sits around and boasts and boasts about how many afternoons a week he has off, and how he is getting too much sleep? It doesn't sound humanely possible that anyone can be so self-centered.
