

Maroon and Gold

State Teachers College, Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania

Win
State
Meet

VOL. XI—NO. 13

BLOOMSBURG, PA., FRIDAY, MAY 11, 1934

PRICE FIVE CENTS

GERALD WOLFSON TO EDIT YEARBOOK FOR NEXT YEAR

Sophomores and Juniors Elect Miss
Georgina Betterly and Ernest Lau Assistants

J. BUTLER, BUSINESS MANAGER

Gerald Wolfson, a graduate of Scranton Central High, will be editor-in-chief of the Obiter for next year. Mr. Wolfson is an active member of the present Junior Class, and belongs to the Kappa Delta Pi, honorary fraternity. He is starting already with his plans and is gaining some experience by working with Keeler.

John Butler, of Dunmore, who is active in commercial work and is a member of the Phi Sigma Pi fraternity, has been chosen to run the business end of the year book for 1934-35.

Two associate editors, representing next year's Junior and Sophomore classes, have been elected to assist the editor-in-chief. Mr. Lau, president of next year's Junior class and varsity track man, will be the Junior assistant. Miss Georgina Betterly, a Day Girl and a member of the A. B. C. Club, will be the new Sophomore associate editor.

GIRLS INVITED TO SPRING FESTIVAL

Play Day-May Day to be Combined
Into One Event at College
This Year

Play Day-May Day will be observed on Wednesday, May 16. The college has invited eight girls from each of the following high schools to take part in the activities: Beaver Township, Benton, Berwick, Bloomsburg, Catawissa, Centralia, Centre Township, Conyngham Township, Fishing Creek Township, Greenwood Township, Locust Township, Main Township, Madison Township Mifflin Township, Millville, Mt. Pleasant Township, Orangeville, Roaring Creek Township, Scott Township and Sugarloaf Township.

Sixteen girls from the college, outstanding for their social ability, have been chosen to act as personal hostesses to the guests from the nearby high schools. These squad leaders will assist in all the games and help the girls to become acquainted.

The program of the day will begin at 9:00 A. M., when the girls will be assigned to their color teams and meet their squad leader. At 10:00 the training school and guests of the day will assemble in the Auditorium to hear a program by the College Music.

Continued on page four

JUNIOR PROM TONIGHT IN GYM WITH PHIL GUINARD

Juniors Make Elaborate Plans in Novelty Decorations and Programs

TO BE HELD IN THE GYMNASIUM

The Junior Class of B. S. T. C. will hold their annual Prom tonight at 8:30 o'clock in the gymnasium. Very elaborate plans have been made to make this the outstanding dance of the year.

Contrasting colors of yellow and dark blue are being used for the color scheme in decorations and in the unique programs.

Phil Guinard and his singing orchestra will furnish the music. Everyone is anticipating this event, including the Junior Class.

The Patrons and Patronesses are: Dr. and Mrs. Haas, Dr. Kehr, Mr. and Mrs. Fenstermaker, Dr. Maupin, Dr. and Mrs. North, Dr. and Mrs. Russell, Miss Alice Johnson, Miss Moore.

Committees in Charge

Orchestra—George Van Sickle, chairman; Madalyn Fiorini, Ernest Lau. Program—Edwin R. Creasy, chairman; Harold C. Henrie, Veda Merville, Jack Beck.

Refreshments—Bennett Dry, chairman; John Butler, Clarence Slater. Decoration—Bruno Novak, chairman; Louise Yeany, Daniel Sallitt, Adeline Peiffer, John Deppen, Camella Pennica, William Reed, Betty Row, Thomas Howell, Mildred Ford, Lucille Miller, Helen Bray, Helen Culp, Harriet Styer, John Yeager, Eudora Mendenhall.

Pillow—Santina La Brutto, chairman; Loretta Faust, Erma Moyer, Erma Frey, Ruth Flanagan, Lucille Gilchrist.

OFFICERS FOR CLASS OF '35 ELECTED

McKechnie to be Senior Class President; Candidates Win in Close Election

On May 8 the Junior Class held their election of class officers in Room H. The election was under the supervision of Mildred Ford, Bennett Dry, and Albert Makowski.

After several days of political campaigning, the following officers were chosen:

President, Elmer McKechnie; Vice-President, Bruno Novak; Secretary, Jean Smith, Treasurer, Stanley Helmbach; Class Advisor, Dr. Russell; Women Representative to Student Council, Elizabeth Row; Men Representative to Student Council, William Reed; Obiter Editor, Gerald Wolfson; Business Manager, John Butler.

The election was probably one of the closest political contests that has been staged at the college in a good many years. The fact was evidenced in the discussion by a few members of the class concerning the results; however, since the entire election was carried on in a legal, orderly fashion, the above officers will carry on the Senior activities next year unless resignations occur.

C. G. A. OFFICERS RETIRE OFFICIALLY

Mr. Vandling Reviews Accomplishments and Activities of Retiring Student Council

Officers of the Community Government Association and members of the Student Council for the year 1934-35 officially retired from office Monday night after a very busy business session. Monday morning the new officers of the Association and the new Council members were sworn in by the retiring president, Alfred Vandling.

A delightful dinner party was held in the college dining room Monday evening which was attended by the old and new Council members. Mr. Vandling presided as toast master and Dr. Haas spoke informally. Many humorous responses were given by different members of the Council.

The retiring president in his report reviewed the accomplishments of the association during the past year—they are:

1. A complete revision of customs for one year and a subsequent revision for next year.
2. Membership of our college in the National Student Federation of America.
3. Bloomsburg adopts an official mascot, the Husky.
4. The sending of delegates to the N. S. F. A. convention in Washington and a meeting of the Association of Penna. College Students at State College.
5. Worked out a system of awards for extra-curricular participation.
6. A complete revision of the Obiter set-up.
7. Changes in the set-up of the Maroon and Gold Staff.
8. Students seeking major offices must appear in chapel and give a speech.
9. A more permanent means for the handling of the association's finances.
10. The naming of an Editor of the Handbook and a complete revision of the contents of the book.
11. Several amendments to the Constitution of the association.
12. The Standing Committees of the association accomplished much by way of revisions and innovations. Many new ideas were put into practice and found to work successfully.

The officers of the association for next year are: President, John Beck; Vice-President, Harold Border; Secretary, Anne Quigley; Treasurer, Bruno Novak. Members of the Council are: William Reed, Betty Row, Elmer McKechnie, Ernest Lau, Sara Shuman, Jean Smith, Adeline Peiffer, Frank Camera, Daniel Jones, Julia Schlegel, Harry Nelson, Ray Schroepe.

Sophomores to Picnic

The Sophomore Class, closing the present year with a surplus in the treasury, have decided to have an outing before the end of the semester. At a recent class meeting, a committee of four was appointed to arrange the details of the party. The members are: Betty Chalfant, chairman; Robert Savage, Daniel Jones and Frances Riggs.

So far, no definite plans have been made. Rolling Green, Columbia Park and Spring Brook have been discussed as suitable places. The date has been tentatively set as May 18.

POSTPONE DISTRIBUTION OF YEAR BOOK TO MAY 16

Mr. Keeler, editor of the Obiter, wishes to call attention of all subscribers to the Obiter that the book will not be distributed this week-end as formerly announced but on the 16th of May.

The reason for the change in date has been an unlooked for delay in the binding of the books. The entire book is printed but a slip-up occurred in the making and binding of the covers.

Even with this delay, Mr. Keeler and his staff is to be commended upon the efficiency which made this early distribution possible.

HANDBOOK COMMITTEE WORKS TO MAKE BOOK PRACTICAL FOR STUDENTS

Working with the idea in view of making the Handbook more practical and usable the Handbook Committee composed of Ernest Lau, Sam Cohen and headed by Howard Bevilacqua, with Alfred Vandling and Dr. Haas as advisors, are at work upon revision of the book. Each individual page of last year's book has been mounted and criticized with suggestions for change. The members of the committee have been interested in investigating the reason why students do not use the handbook. The present length and width of the book seems to meet the students' approval, however, the criticism has been made that it is a little too bulky.

Proposed changes will make the cover more durable and wearable, make the contents less impractical, reduce the size of the print, hence reduce the size of the bulk, improve the index, recheck the data for all time records in athletics and leave space for addresses in the back of the book.

The book will be designed for the use of present students as well as the use of new Freshmen in orienting themselves.

Any student criticism will be gladly received by the committee if written out and handed in at the Maroon and Gold office.

Botany Trip to New York Museum

Zoology Class Completes Interesting Trip to North Mountain Last Wednesday

This week-end members of the Botany Class, under the leadership of Professor Hartline, will make a trip to New York City where a study of animal and plant life at the National Museum will be made. Because of the interesting and faithful work of Mr. Hartline these trips have become an annual affair.

Last Wednesday afternoon the Zoology Class went upon a field trip to North Mountain. The entire class tramped up and down the hills until dark, searching for and finding some of those plants with the long names.

During the trip, Mr. Hartline frequently stopped to explain to the eager students some of the phenomena of nature. The trip must have been a decided success, for on the way home the class was treated to a ham and egg supper by their instructor.

With a puzzled look on his face, Larry Evangelista said, "But, Dr. Russel, an Iowa Society in Southern California!"

Athletic Banquet Next Saturday, May 19th

List of Awards Not Ready For Publication as Yet; Lou Little to Address Banquet

May 19 has been definitely set as the date for the Annual Athletic Banquet at which time Lou Little will address the college students. Final arrangements are being made for the awarding of the various numerals and letters for service in the field of inter-collegiate, intermural and men and women's athletics.

No list of awards can be published as yet because both letter organizations have not completed their investigation of individual records.

It was presumed in the beginning of the second semester that all awards for service whether for athletics or otherwise would be made at the Athletic Banquet, but since the Awards Committee has worked out a system of college awards for Seniors only, this has been set up in a separate plan and will have a separate day for its function.

Alumni holding athletic awards have been invited back for Saturday evening. As in other years the banquet will be followed by dancing in the gymnasium.

Men's Glee Club

The Men's Glee Club has been unusually active the last few weeks in creating an admirable impression of Bloomsburg in nearby vicinities. The club recently presented programs in the high schools at West Hazleton and Dallas.

Wednesday they gave a concert at the Lutheran church at Drums, and Tuesday evening were hosts at a formal dinner dance at Rose Tea Room at Light Street.

FRESHMEN PICK NEW GROUP OF OFFICERS

Camera, Hazleton Graduate, Will Lead the Sophomore Class Next Year

Frank Camera, a graduate of the Hazleton Senior High School, was elected president of next year's Sophomore class. Mr. Camera, an active member of the Freshman class, received his letter in football last season and was also a member of the wrestling squad. He was recently elected secretary of the Letterman's Club.

Lamar Blass, elected vice-president, has been very active in the sports field, being a member of the football, basketball, and track team. He graduated from Conyngham Township High School.

Anna Joan Laubach, Berwick High graduate and Freshman representative to the Student Council, was elected to the office of secretary. Miss Laubach has taken an active part in school activities, and has done a great deal of work for the Freshman class. She is a member of the Dramatic Club, A. B. C. Club, and Jr. Chamber of Commerce.

To the office of treasurer was elected Edward Webb, Tower City boy. Webb is a member of the Men's Glee Club, Jr. Chamber of Commerce, Y. M. C. A., and was recently elected vice-president of North Hall.

Harry T. Nelson, president of the Freshman class, was elected as the male representative to the Student

Continued on page four

Maroon and Gold

"Give Us Insight Into Today and You May Have Your Future and Antique Worlds"

EXECUTIVE BOARD

Editor-in-Chief Thalia Barba
 Managing Editor Howard Bevilacqua
 Associate Editor Bernard Young
 Business Manager Elmer McKechnie

EDITORIAL STAFF

News Editor Madelyn Dunkleberger
 Exchange Miriam Eroh
 Girls' Sports Blanche Garrison
 Features Alfred Vandling, Ernest Lau, Paul Brock
 Sports Bernard Young, John Gress

MANAGERIAL STAFF

Office Manager Erma Moyer
 Circulation C. F. Nyhart, Bennet Dry

REPORTERS

Beatrice Thomas, Veda Mericle, Gladys Rinard, Sara Shuman, H. T. Nelson, Helen Hartman, Jean Reese, Daniel Jones, Peg O'Hora, Betty Harter, Amanda Walsh, Stanley Heimbach, Rosebud Golder, Mary Langan, Josephine Mayce, Dominick Delliquanti, Sam Cohen, Gilbert Kline.

TYPISTS

Anthony Verhovshek Erma Moyer Dorothy Foster Irene Frederick
 Howard Waite Florine Moore Santeena LaBrutto

FACULTY COMMITTEE

S. L. Wilson Miss E. Shaw Miss Pearl Mason

Member of
 Pennsylvania School Press
 Association

Member of
 Columbia Scholastic Press
 Association

Published During the School Year of 1933 and 1934 by the Students of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College

BLOOMSBURG, PA., FRIDAY, MAY 11, 1934

New Teaching Technique

Something new in B. S. T. C.! One of the members of the faculty has offered to the Seniors the opportunity of working with an apparently new idea in class technique, that is the Panel Discussion. This device is really a modification of the conference method. Its purpose is the same: namely, the orderly and deliberate considerations of all significant aspects of an important problem. After selecting the problem to be discussed five or six people serve with the discussion chairman as jury panel. Members of the panel are seated before the class with chairs either in a semi-circular fashion or along one side of the table with all members the panel facing the audience.

Questions are raised, answers proposed and comments offered by any member of the panel. After the question has been fully discussed by the panel the discussion is thrown open to the audience.

The device has two serious weaknesses. (1)—Discussion is less free because of the audience situation, and (2)—Statements by panel members and consequent action by the group may be hasty or ill considered. However, these weaknesses by constant use of the panel may be overcome.

The plan is being tried out in the Senior Philosophy of Education classes. Although the device would hardly be applicable to any high school class except Seniors, as professional people it is well for us to follow up new phases in our field.

If so desired arrangements can be made for students or faculty members to enter the various audiences and view the experiment.

And They Call It the Maroon and Gold Office

A hat rack wobbles in the rear right hand corner with a towel flung over a checkered woolen scarf. Two desks and a table fill up the rest of the space. Boys come in growling for soap and somebody's razors. A track man wants to know what happened to his new shoes which were under the desk and scores of botany students line up and make a waiting list for the use of the typewriter. A geography student storms in, dumps all the drawers which house exchange papers on the floor, repile books on Changing Civilization, Rome and the Romans, Philology and Grammar from the desk to the floor, kicks over the waste-basket, pounds on the Obiter desk and when asked if anything is desired, replies: "Where are the Australian maps I left here last Tuesday?"

Sometimes the Editor of the Obiter squeezes in between chairs and legs and asks in a meek, timid voice: "Can I get into my desk, please?"

Before the end of every day at least one person mistakes the office for the college information bureau and inquires as to the whereabouts of the sand for sandbags, operating room in the Bloomsburg Hospital, the attendance of Prof. Koch in his office and WHERE IS OLENDYKE?

Next year there will be added to this list of dependents three associate editors of the Obiter. Maroon and Gold office will have nothing on Japan as far as overcrowded population is concerned.

Tentative Report of Graduates

Dean Sutliff has released the following tentative report of this year's graduating class which gives an interesting picture not only of the number who are graduating but also the distribution of the graduates in courses and classes.

TENTATIVE REPORT OF MAY GRADUATES

Two-Year Elementary	86
Total	86
Elementary (Four-Year Primary)	5
Elementary (Four-Year Intermediate)	4
Elementary (Four-Year Rural)	0
Secondary	54
Art
Commerce	23
Health Education

Home Economics
Industrial Arts
Kindergarten
Music
Total			86
Grand Total			172

Below is the distribution of the class of 1934 as of this date:

	January (Tentative)	May	August (Tentative)
Two-Year Primary	6	26	4
Two-Year Intermediate	7	43	5
Two-Year Rural	2	17	4
Four-Year Primary	1	5	0
Four-Year Intermediate	0	4	0
Four-Year Elementary	1	0	0
Secondary	4	54	1
Commercial	3	23	4
Total	24	172	18

From Other Colleges

It has been reported that a skeptical Senior at the University of Wisconsin pinned a five dollar bill to his blue book and wrote, "Let your conscience be your guide." He passed.

Princeton Freshmen are reputed to prefer Phi Beta Kappa keys to varsity football letters.

The Music Department of Haverford College was the recent recipient of over 800 music records, many scores and books, and a victrola from the Carnegie Foundation.

Five Lehigh students recently were allowed to grade their own papers. Four of these students graded themselves lower than the profession did, while the other gave himself one point higher.

A vacation of twenty-four hours was given to the students of Lynchburg College, Virginia. On this day, under the direction of the professors, the students cleared away the debris which had accumulated on the campus during the winter.

The Freshmen of Lock Haven State Teachers College recently enjoyed a farmers' dance. The gym was a scene of straw and wagon-wheels, stalls and scarecrows, overalls and sunbonnets.

Ted Shawn, renowned dance instructor, while at the Illinois State Normal University, stated that he advocates universal dance instruction in public schools.

Probably the smallest college in existence today is Huron College, near London, Ontario. It has a total enrollment of twenty students and five faculty members.

Dr. Sigmund G. Spaeth's new Haverford Song Book will appear very soon. Dr. Spaeth was a member of the 1905 class of Haverford College.

Two professors of the University of Oregon have found by a series of tests that the way in which the student holds the book he is reading has a profound influence on his ability to absorb the material presented.

While five hundred students of Temple University were signing what they thought was a petition to extend the Easter Holiday, they were really agreeing to commit suicide on the fourth of April.

Men, according to an experiment conducted by Dr. Esther M. Greish-cimer of the University of Minnesota, have a much easier time reducing than women do.

On Flying Kites

"Please, mister," asked the tattered urchin who had knocked so timidly at my door, "Do you have any soap coupons?" I'm afraid that my stare of astonishment must have frightened him, for before I could answer, he gulped and added, "You see, I want a kite. If I get twenty soap coupons, I can get one. You haven't got any, have you, mister?" He regarded me hopefully.

Kites—Spring. Thoughtfully I looked out over the placid hills. Yesterday they had been covered with the debris of winter, but over night a faint, but discernible, change had taken place. Over the hills and meadows there was a green, vibrant bloom, a pulsing of quickened life. On the mountainous horizon, silvery, blue clouds jostled each other.

Again I looked at my apologetic beggar. He was—well, just tattered. All of him. One shoe was several sizes larger than its mate. One sock dangled limply; the other was precariously supported by a frayed garter. His trousers and shirt looked as if they had been washed in a stone crusher.

"Why don't you make a kite?" I asked. My urchin looked at me soberly. His eyes wore as clear as the spring day.

"Well, you see, mister," he began, "Mom, she don't know how. And Pop says he's busy."

Impulsively I tousled his mop of brown hair. "Son, you and I are going to make a kite. Right now. Think we can do it?"

He looked at me speculatively. "I—I guess so, mister," he finally decided.

My enthusiasm could not be dampened so easily. "You bet we can," I stated. "Now let's see. We'll need some pine sticks. Those we can get in the garage. Then we'll need some paper, a little flour, some carpet rags, and lots of string."

"Oh, Lady," I howled into the house, "I want some flour, some carpet rags—bright ones, please—and some string." There was no answer. But then, I scarcely expected one.

And so we went to work. An old packing box contributed a few choice pine sticks. The newspaper was recovered from the ash can. A quick sortie into the kitchen—when the Lady wasn't looking—produced a cup of flour and a heterogeneous mass of vari-colored string. A trip to the attic—via the back stairway—furnished some gay velvet from the Lady's trousseau.

"Why, to make flour paste. Didn't you ever make flour paste?" I was amazed at such ignorance.

"Nope," he answered. I noticed a new respect in his eyes.

Blithely we planed, whittled, pasted and daubed. After an hour of concentrated effort, the kite was finished. It was lopsided, warped, and daubed with thick paste. The tail was downright pathetic, despite its high origin. Worse yet, the portion of the newspaper was used told all about the newest love nest. I hoped my urchin could not read. But we had made a kite.

My urchin regarded me with profound respect. "Gee, mister," he admitted, "You're clever."

I was tempted to call the Lady, but after serious contemplation of the velvet, I discreetly remained silent. After all, we men are not without honor among our own sex. Let that suffice.

Carrying the kite carefully between us, we hurried out to a small, smooth hill. Our shadows only intensified the green under our feet. A warm, eager breeze tugged at our cheeks. Near the base of the hill, a maple flamed red. My urchin suddenly pointed with his free hand.

"Look, mister," he whispered. "There's a pretty bird."

I nodded sagely. "That son," I pronounced, "is a Carolina Wren. We call it Thryothorus ludovicianus." His astonishment was so great that he nearly stumbled.

"Gee, you know everything, don't you mister?" he asked.

Again I was tempted to call the Lady, but the thought of flour liberally sprinkled over the kitchen floor forbade so rash a move. I contented myself by looking as intelligent as possible.

As we reached the top of the hill, I handed the end of the string to my urchin.

"Now, son," I directed. "You walk down the field until all the string is played out. Be sure to keep the breeze in your face. When I say 'Now' start running. Understand?"

"Sure, mister."

Half fearfully I watched him scurry away. If the kite wouldn't fly—but it had to. The silver in the sky, the blue of the cloud-smothered mountain tops, and a boy with his first kite. It had to fly. There my urchin was, far down the gentle slope, his lithe body tense with anticipation. Selfishly, I wanted him to think me clever. I wanted the kite to fly.

"Now!" I shouted. He ran. As the string tightened I balanced the kite into the air. For a moment it wavered back and forth. I swore softly. Suddenly, as the breeze strengthened, the crude polygon floated upward. Soon it was only a gay mote against the blue. Now and then I caught the flash of sunlight on velvet.

Proudly I walked to where my urchin was holding the kite string with both hands.

"Gee, mister," he whispered. "It's great, ain't it?"

I nodded. "Yes, son, it's great. Let me hold it for a minute, will you?"

A look of alarm passed over his face. "You'll be careful, won't you, mister?" he entreated. Regretfully he passed the string to me.

For a while I wondered at the tiny mote in the sky tugging at my hand. How could such a small, distant object pull so hard? Finally the answer came. Soberly I handed the string to its tattered owner.

"Never stop flying kites, son," I bade him.

Every day now I see him on the hill top. And I—Well, I still fly kites. My materials only are different. A few thoughts gleaned here and there; a few hopes tangled into an incoherent mass; a few strivings knotted together; these make my kite. When the rolling hills vibrate with green, and capricious breezes tug at the pines, I send my kite skyward. For hours it strains at my hands, pleadingly. Then, jestingly, the breeze is gone. Slowly, forelornly, my kite tumbles to earth—a few pieces of wood, and old newspaper, some faded velvet. Just reality. But someday, another breeze will blow. Again shall I feel that gentle tugging at my hands, striving to lift me skyward.

Team Downs Mansfield In Decisive Victory

Mansfield's Only Score Came in Third When Brockway Made
A Double Hit

HUSKIES SCORE EIGHT TO SIX

Again on their home field, the Huskies' baseball team won its most decisive victory over Mansfield last Saturday, 8 to 1.

Behind "Whitey" Moleski, who gave only five scattered hits, the Huskies turned in a fine fielding game, and made all of their nine hits count.

The team is rapidly showing that the game at Shippensburg was an accident and was due to lack of available practicing time.

Mansfield's only score came in the third when Brockway doubled, went to third on an infield out, and scored on Pope's single.

The Huskies scored in the opener when Visotski was hit by a pitched ball, went to second on Blackburn's sacrifice, and scored on the first of Rompola's two hard singles.

Bloomsburg scored two in the fourth when Beck doubled, Moleski was safe on Brockway's error, Visotski walked, and Shakofski doubled.

In the sixth, Beck and Moleski doubled for another score.

The eighth put the game on ice when Litwhiler singled and Washeleski scored him with his double. Beck and Moleski struck out, Visotski walked and Shakofski again doubled. Then Rompola got his second single to drive in the final run.

The box score and summary:

B. S. T. C.
Visotski, ss	2 2 0 0 3 0
Blackburn, lf	1 0 0 1 0 0
Shakofski, lf	3 1 2 1 0 0
Hompola, 2b	4 0 2 2 2 0
Dry, c	5 0 0 7 2 0
Litwhiler, rf	4 1 1 2 0 0
Karshner, 3b	4 0 0 0 1 0
Washeleski, 1b	4 1 1 12 0 0
Beck, lf	4 2 2 0 0 0
Moleski, p	4 1 1 2 3 0
Totals	35 8 9 27 11 0

M. S. T. C.
Brockway, 3b	3 1 3 0 1 2
Anderson, ss	4 0 0 1 0 0
Pope, 1b	4 0 1 3 0 0
Kolcham, c	4 0 0 12 1 1
Carpenter, lf	4 0 0 1 0 0
Stevenson, cf	3 0 1 3 0 0
Klein, 2b	3 0 0 3 0 0
G. Barton, rf	3 0 0 1 1 1
Ripley, p	3 0 0 0 1 0
Totals	31 1 5 24 5 4

R. B. S.—Rompola, 2; Shakofski, 3; Pope, 1; Washeleski, 1; Moleski, 1.
Doubles—Brockway, Beck 2, Shakofski 2, Washeleski, Moleski. Sacrifice Hits—Blackburn. Hit by pitcher—by Moleski, (Brockway). Struck out—by Ripley 10, by Moleski 7. Bases on balls—off Ripley 3. Stolen bases—Rompola, 2. Umpire Huttenstine.

PHI SIGMA PI OFFICERS

At a special meeting held in Professor Reams' office, at 12:30 on Wednesday afternoon, the following officers were elected to serve for the coming year:

President—Stanley Heimbach
Vice-President—George Kessler
Secretary—William Morgan
Ass't. Secretary—Howard Walte
Treasurer—Anthony Shakofski

FRATERNITY ENTERTAINS

On May 1 the Alpha Psi Omega Fraternity, with Miss Johnston as hostess, entertained the members of the cast of "School For Scandal" and the Dramatic Club officers in the social rooms in Science Hall. Refreshments were served and dancing and games were enjoyed by those present.

HUSKIES MAKE IT FOUR STRAIGHT

Track Team Wins Over Shippensburg 74½ to 51½ in an Outstanding Exhibition

A Huskie Track Team will enter the State Meet at West Chester tomorrow with a clean slate as a result of its victory over Shippensburg by the margin of 74½ to 51½.

This meet was the outstanding exhibition that the Maroon and Gold athletes have staged thus far this season. The Buchheit Squad, came through for no less than eight first positions and one better in seconds.

The "big gun" (in the person of Coble) of the visitors was overpowered by "iron-man" Bertoldi of the home team. Karnes wisely tired the Shippensburg star by setting the pace during the early laps, with the winner trailing until the time was ripe, when he stepped to the front by passing two opponents.

Coach Buchheit has a well-balanced team, showing power both on the field and cinder path. The team has been improving with each meet, and is now ready for the real test against all comers at the down-state college.

Field Events

Pole vault—King, S., first; Cohen, B., second; Line, B., third.

Shot put—Blass, B., first; Wilson, B., second; Shelhamer, B., third.

Discus throw—Shelhamer, B., first; Mericle, second.

Javelin throw—Shelhamer, B., first; McCalion, S., second; Coble, S., third.

High jump—Wineman, S., first; March, S., second; Blass, B., third.

Broad jump—Blass, B., first; Meyers, S., second; Wineman, S., third.

Track Events

100 yard dash—Meyers, S., first; DiYenno, S., second; Menapace, B., third.

220 yd. dash—Meyers, S., first; Menapace, B., second; DiYenno, S., third.

440 yd. dash—Snyder, S., first; Jaffin, B., second; Parr, B., third.

880 yd. run—Sell and Parr, B., second.

Mile—Bertoldi, B., first; Miller, S., second; Coble, S., third.

Two mile—Karnes, B., first; Bertoldi, B., second; Miller, S., third.

220 yd. low hurdles—Snyder, S., first; Line, B., second; Menapace, B., third.

100 yd. high hurdles—Blass, B., first; Line, B., second; McCleary, S., third.

Baseball—As I See It

The game opened with Glue at the stick and Small Pox catching. Cigar was in the box. Strawberry Short Cake played short and Corn was in the field. Egg was umpire, and he was rotten. Cigar let Board walk. Song made a hit and Sawdust filled the bases. Then Soap cleaned up. Cigar went out and Balloon started to pitch, but went up in the air. Cherry tried it but was wild. Then Ice Cream went in, and kept cool until he was hit by the ball. Then you should have heard Ice Cream. Lightning finished the game and struck out six men. Lunatic was put out because he was off his base. Bread loafed on third and Light was put out on first. Crooks stole second. (Cabbage was manager because he had a good head). Knife was called out for cutting first base. Grass covered lots of ground and the crowd cheered when Spider caught a fly. Steak was put out on home plate. Clock wound up the game by striking out. If Door had pitched, he would have shut them out.

—John Gress.

TRACKMEN CONTINUE WINNING STREAK

Defeat Stroudsburg Cinder and Track Men Capturing Eight First Places With Ease

Continuing to show improvement, the Buchheit Track Team scored a decisive and clean-cut victory over the highly "touted" athletes from East Stroudsburg.

The features of the meet were the double wins by Menapace in the 100 and 220 sprints; and by the veteran Karnes in the one and two mile paces; Captain Shelhamer's showing in the javelin and discus throws; and first-year-man Blass's feats in the shot put and broad jump.

Track Events

100 yard dash—Menapace, B., first; Shaffer, E. S., second; Rahn, E. S., third. Time 10.2.

220 yard dash—Menapace, B., first; Shaffer, E. S., second; Rahn, E. S., third. Time—24.6.

440 yard dash—Duda, E. S., first; Parr, B., second; Jaffin, B., third. Time 53.8.

880 yard run—Duda, S., first; Parr, B., second; Sell, B., third. Time—2:07.

Mile—Karnes, first; Lau, second; Bertoldi, third. Time—4:53.

Two mile—Karnes, first; Bertoldi, second; Lau, third. Time 10:51.

220 low hurdles—Luff, E. S., first; Magill, E. S., second; Menapace, third. Time 28.4.

100 yard high hurdles—Luff, E. S., first; Line, B., second; Blass, B., third. Time 17.1.

Field Events

Pole Vault—Arnberg, E. S., first, 10 feet, 3 inches; Cohen, B.; Reed, E. S.; tie for second, 10 feet.

Shot put—Blass, B., first, 37 feet, 6 inches; Arnberg, E. S., second, 36 feet, 6 inches; Shaffer, E. S., third, 35 feet, 9½ inches.

Javelin throw—Shelhamer, B., first, 165 feet, 10½ inches; Oberholtzer, E. S., second, 160 feet; Birnbaum, E. S., third, 152 feet, 11 inches.

Discus throw—Shelhamer, B., first, 122 feet, 4 in.; Blass, B., second, 115 feet; Arnberg, E. S., third, 114 feet, 2 inches.

Broad jump—Blass, B., first, 21 feet, 1½ inches; Merchner, E. S., second, 20 feet, 7 inches; Rahn, E. S., third, 20 feet, 1½ inches.

High jump—Oberholtzer, E. S., first, 5 feet, 6 in.; Blass, B., and Parsons, E. S., tie for second, 5 feet, 4 inches.

Tennis Team in Win

A strengthened Shippensburg Tennis Team, which a week before offered little resistance to the Koch-coached squad, extended the Huskies to the limit in their return match.

The weather was rather cool, and it took the members of both teams some time to get "loosened and limbered up."

The visitors took three single matches as compared to an equal number by the Bloomsburg Courtmen.

Singles

McVickers, Shippensburg, defeated Krauss, Bloomsburg, 7-5, 7-5.

Taylor, Bloomsburg, defeated McCahan, Shippensburg, 6-3, 9-7.

Cornely, Bloomsburg, defeated Erickson, Shippensburg, 6-3, 6-4.

Whitmire, Shippensburg, defeated Gennaria, Bloomsburg, 8-6, 7-5.

Spittal, Shippensburg, defeated Gering, Bloomsburg, 7-5, 8-6.

Chudzinski, Bloomsburg, defeated Danzberger, Shippensburg, 6-1, 7-5.

Doubles

Taylor and Cornely, Bloomsburg, defeated McVickers and Erickson, Shippensburg, 7-5, 6-1.

Whitmire and Spittal, Shippensburg, defeated Krauss and Gennaria, Bloomsburg, 1-6, 6-1, 6-4.

Gering and Chudzinski, Bloomsburg, defeated Danzberger and McCahan, Shippensburg, 6-3, 8-6, 6-2.

B CLUB NOTES

May 15, 1934, will be absolutely the last day to turn in points to secure an award at the Athletic Banquet. Posture and sportsmanship will be given in Science Hall for all girls receiving awards.

The last game of experienced girls' baseball will be played May 18. Since there has been a reorganization of the teams since the beginning of the season, no team this year can win the tournament.

The Bloomsburg girls upheld the college standards at Susquehanna University. Mary Bierschmitt and Patsy Yale were on the winning team. Although few of our girls had experience in either hockey or soccer, they played an average game. On every baseball team a Bloomsburg girl played either catcher or pitcher. Ebert made the only home run of the game. Schlegel did good pitching. Muriel Stevens served in volley ball so long her arm got tired. All the other girls did well in the games.

All preparations have been made for the B Club camping trip of May 12 and 13, at Camp Lavigne. Alumni B girls, B Club girls and prospective members have been invited to attend.

Mansfield Downed By Bloomsburg in Close Score of 2-1

By putting on a final inning rally and holding Mansfield to only seven hits and one run in nine innings, "Woody" Litwhiler turned in his second win in as many starts.

Bloomsburg again turned in a weak hitting exhibition with only three hits, one of which was a bunt by Jack Beck to score Bill Karshner with the winning run of the game.

In the fourth, B. S. T. C. scored both runs on Bunnell's error that allowed Rompola to reach first, Dry's sacrifice, Karshner's double, and Beck's perfect bunt.

Mansfield scored on Bogaczyk's pinch-single and steal of second, Anderson's bunt, and Pope's single.

The coincidence of the game was: B. S. T. C. had only three hits, Mansfield had seven; Litwhiler struck out eleven, Ripley thirteen; and Bloomsburg had five errors, and Mansfield had two.

But the important thing was the score: Bloomsburg, 2; Mansfield 1.

The box score and summary:

B. S. T. C.
Visotski, ss	3 0 0 1 1 3
Blackburn, lf	2 0 0 1 0 0
Van Sickle, lf	2 0 0 0 0 0
Rompola, 2b	4 1 0 2 0 0
Dry, c	3 0 0 12 1 0
Karschner, 3b	4 1 1 2 1 0
Beck, cf	4 0 1 2 0 1
Washeleski, 1b	3 0 1 3 0 1
Gibbon, rf	1 0 0 0 0 0
Litwhiler, p	2 0 0 0 1 0
Totals	30 2 3 27 4 5

M. S. T. C.
Brockway, rf	3 0 0 2 0 0
Anderson, ss	4 0 1 0 1 0
Pope, 1b	6 0 2 9 0 0
Bunnell, 3b	5 0 0 0 4 2
Stephenson, rf	4 0 0 2 0 0
Carpenter, lf	4 0 3 0 0 0
Bartor, c	3 0 0 11 1 0
Cheney, c	1 0 0 2 0 0
Warren, 2b	4 0 0 0 1 0
xBogaczyk	1 1 1 0 0 0
Totals	30 1 7 27 4 2

R.B.S.—Karshner, Beck, Pope. Sacrifice—Visotski, Dry. Double—Karshner. Stolen Bases—Ripley 2, Karshner, Bogaczyk. Struck out—by Litwhiler, 11; by Ripley, 13. Bases on Balls—off Litwhiler, 1; off Ripley 1. Hit by pitcher—Brockway. Hit by Litwhiler—Anderson. Left on bases—Bloomsburg, 4; Mansfield, 12. Umpire—O'Keefe.

TRACK TEAM TO COMPETE FOR STATE HONORS TOMORROW

Our Undeclared Huskies Leave For West Chester Tonight; Keen Interest in Two-Mile Run

Tomorrow our undefeated track team will make a determined bid for state-wide recognition when it invades West Chester to take part in the Annual State Teachers College track meet. Last year, even though it was the first year for inter-collegiate track our team managed to garner several counters. With a number of experienced track men back plus a host of new candidates for this year's team, Coach Buchheit has developed a fine squad—a team evenly balanced, with good men in each event.

So far this season the Huskies (maybe we better call them the Greyhounds) have in turn defeated Bucknell, East Stroudsburg, Shippensburg, and Lock Haven. Of these teams, only Lock Haven fell before us last year—and thereby hangs a tale—we're going to make out in a big way in the State Meet.

The probable events and the men who will compete in them should be of interest to you. Captain Shellhamer should be the first person discussed, but as he is a weight man it will be all right to leave him until last. From last year's squad only Jaffin remains of the dashers, but Dick Menapace has shown plenty of speed and he will be Freddie's running mate in the 100 yard and 220 yard dashes.

Parr, a Freshman and brother of Allen Parr, former hill and daler of B. S. T. C., will team up with Jaffin in the 440 yard run. Sell, veteran track and cross country man, will run the half. Parr and Elder will also show their mettle in this event.

Again this year, our team is the strongest in the distant runs, with the members of the cross country team taking honors in this division. Led by the veteran and consistent winner, Karnes, Lou Bertoldi and Ernie Lau will surely add some points to the total score at West Chester tomorrow.

Menapace and Blass will have to take part in both the low and high hurdles unless Line's arm responds to medical treatment. Ernie sprained his arm in the Meet with Shippensburg. This injury will undoubtedly keep him out of the pole vault, so Sammy Cohen will have to carry on all alone in this event.

Both Blass and Cohen are expected to come through in the broad and the high jumps. This brings us to the weighting list, so now Captain Shellhamer will make his bow. Shelly is figuring on heaving the discus out of sight, and Blass says he is going to sink the shot-put forty some feet, but just to make sure, these two fellows are going to compete against each other in both of these events.

Litwhiler and Shellhamer have been throwing the javalin close to 170 feet so we'll be expecting a new record in this event. With this fine aggregation, together with Trainer Petruzic, and managers Roan and Savage, Coach Buchheit is certain that the team will show up better than last year and even says that the Huskies have a good chance of winning.

Team, we're back of you to a man, so let's go to West Chester and tear through to a victory. * * *

P. S. Coach, you better take an extra box along so that you can carry the medals home safely.

P. S. No. 2. Karnes says he is going to nab Knabb, the State Champion two-miler.

We think so too, Jimmy, so go to it.

Latrobe Wins Contest Run by Commercial

One Hundred and Sixty Five High School Students At Fourth Annual Affair

CONTEST INTEREST GROWING

Twenty-eight schools represented by fifty teachers and one hundred and sixty-five high school teachers attended the Fourth Annual Commercial Contest. Since Latrobe High School won this contest, we can no longer refer to the interest of educators in Eastern Pennsylvania, but will christen the future event here and now as the Pennsylvania Commercial Contest.

The interest in this contest is growing each year, for this year members from one high school traveled over 200 miles to attend the event.

The names of the five highest students of the contest are:

Gregg Shorthand

Pauline Cohen, Ambler.
Audrey Thruston, William Penn, Harrisburg.

Irene M. Ziegenfuss, Northampton.
Nicholas Fanok, Northampton
Marie Jarvis, Collingdale.

Bookkeeping

Joseph Cestello, Latrobe.
Anna Ridilla, Latrobe.
Stella Oleski, Wyoming.
Veronica Goryl, Wyoming.
Harold, Tingley, Bloomsburg.

Business Arithmetic

Charles Wertman, Catasauqua.
Mary Uhnick, Catasauqua.
Kermit Kleintop, Slatington.
Helen Burchell, Sunbury.
Hannah Stewart, West Hazleton.

Typewriting

Mary Shoop, William Penn, Harrisburg.
Samuel Blumberg, Collingdale.
George L. Scoble, Northampton.
Sara Miller, Northampton.
Margaret Edgar, Glen-Nor.

Business Law

Walter Harvey, Latrobe.
Anna Ridilla, Latrobe.
Arthur Frith, Wyoming.
Earl Dilliplane, Coal Township, Shamokin.
Marian Simons, Cass Township, Minersville.

As stated before, Latrobe High School won the Loving Cup. A gold charm is awarded to the contestant standing first in each test, a silver charm to the second, and third place receives a bronze charm.

Teachers who attended the contestants were as follows:

Renza Lamb, Mt. Carmel; Madolin Tucker, Northampton; Paul Baker, West Hazleton; A. B. Erikson, Sunbury; Kenneth Reed, Ivan Schnece, Slatington; Paul Swank, John Noetling, Trevorton; W. P. Hartman, Catasauqua; Mary J. Salad, Cass Township, Minersville; Vaughn Spotts, Coal Township, Shamokin; Walter Shank, Lawrence Imboden, Schuylkill Haven; Margaret Edwards, Edwardsville; Miriam Eshelman, Harold Kramer, Berwick; Elizabeth Yergey, Marysville; G. F. Gleason, Tyrone; Evelyn Kulp, Ambler; Walter Rygle, Wyoming; Angellner Dymond, Dallas; Calvin McHose, Dallas; Mabel Oxford, A. F. Hunsberger, Quakertown; Elizabeth Talbot, Collingdale; Lowell Fisher, H. L. Althouse, West Chester; Mary Schurr, Perkasio; A. E. Drumheller, Latrobe; Charles Schmidt, Glendon; A. L. Healey, Plains; N. A. Yeany, Bloomsburg; R. C. Peterman, H. L. Person, Williamsport; A. G. Keener, A. P. Orth, William Penn, Harrisburg; Margaret Ray, St. Clair.

(NSFA)—At one time Harvard required all bachelor of arts graduates to translate the Bible from its original form into Latin.

—Harverford News.

GIRLS GLEE CLUB CONCERT SUCCESS

Girls to Have Dinner and Theatre Party in Sunbury on Monday, May 14th

Friday, May 4, the Girls' Chorus, under the direction of Miss Jessie Patterson, presented their annual Spring Concert to a large audience in the College Auditorium.

During the program, several solo parts were sung by Miss Isabel Harriet Miller, a former member of the chorus, and a graduate of New York University. Miss Marie Mellman, harpist, also a guest artist, and a member of the Zimmer Harp Trio of Philadelphia, played several selections in a most delightful manner. She especially delighted the audience by playing "Annie Laurie" for her encore number.

The Cantata, "The Lady of Shalott," was most charming. Miss Miller also sang the solo parts of this.

The College Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Howard Fenstermaker, furnished several selections during the program.

The accompanists were Mrs. John K. Miller and Miss Mildred Deppe.

Members of the Susquehanna Valley Music Supervisors Club, who met at the College on Friday, were guests at the concert and dance which followed in the gym. Music for dancing was furnished by "Doc" Harter's Orchestra.

The chorus is planning to have a dinner-theatre party at Sunbury on Monday at the Homestead Tea Room.

GIRLS ARE INVITED TO COLLEGE SPRING FESTIVAL

Continued from page one

cal Organizations. At 11:00 the girls will have folk dances in the gym.

Play Day will begin at 1:30. There will be team and individual games including dodge ball, bat ball, baseball, relays, clock golf, croquet, tennis and quoits. At 2:30 the entire group will play cage ball.

May Day activities begin at 3:30. After the crowning of the May Queen, selected from the Training School, all the grades will give folk dances and songs. The visitors, college girls, fourth, fifth and sixth grades will do the Seven Jumps and Paddy Whack dances.

The last event of the day will be the winding of the seventeen Maypoles by students of both the college and the Training School.

The following committees have been appointed to care for Play Day—May Day:

Registration and Information—Margaret O'Hora.

Equipment and Scoring—Blanche Garrison.

Stand—Blanche Garrison, Rosebud Golder, Madelyn Florini, Dorothy Moss.

Officials for Play Day games:

Relays—Kathryn Yale.

Dodge Ball—Rose Dixon, Margaret Hawk.

Bat Ball—Euphemia Gilmore, Betty Row.

Clock Golf—Nellie Kramer.

Croquet—Priscilla Acker, Agnes Pakutka.

Tennis—Anna Ebert, and Amanda Rabb.

Quoits—Miriam Eroh, Madelyn Florini.

May Day Decorations—Elizabeth Feinour, Clara Singleman, Gertrude Tannery, Jeanette Fawcette, Louis Hartman, Geraldino Harder.

FOUNDERS DAY BANQUET FOR PHI SIGMA PI--ANDRUSS MADE FACULTY MEMBER

On Saturday evening, May 5, at the American Restaurant, Phi Sigma Pi held its annual Founder's Day Banquet.

Mr. Andruss, head of the Commercial Department, was the guest speaker. He spoke on Watson's plan of departmentalization of education. He explained that the Commercial Curriculum could be very easily departmentalized. Following Watson's plan, he stated how it could be broken up into the following departments:

Department of Health.
Department of Vocations.
Department of Family Relations.
Department of Citizenship.
Department of Leisure.
Department of Philosophy.
Department of Money and Goods.

After his speech, Mr. Andruss was made a faculty member of the fraternity.

Those who attended the banquet were:

Dr. Haas, Dr. North, Dr. Garwood, Professor Reams, Professor Andruss, Ernest Valente, Fred Jaffin, Arden Roan, Stanley Heimbach, Alfred Miller, Alfred Vandling, Carmer Sheldhamer, Paul Brock, Fred Sonnenberg, Clarence Slater, George Kessler, William Morgan, Anthony Shakofski, Howard Waite, Sam Cohen, Robert Van Sickle, Larry Evangelista, John Butler, William Young, Frank Chudzinski, and James Gennaria.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS FORM A FOREIGN POLICY LEAGUE

(NSFA)—Students at the University of North Carolina have formed a student Foreign Policy League whose purpose is "to organize and make articulate student opinion on issues and problems of foreign policy." In the meetings of the League students will be afforded an opportunity for discussion of and definite expression of opinion on current questions involving the international relations of the United States. Leaders of the group want it made clear that the league will not stop at discussion, but that after a matter has been debated in the group a decision will be made as to whether further action will be taken toward pressing the views thus definitely expressed upon the authorities charged with the responsibility of conducting the international relations of the United States. The league will also attempt through discussion and publication to combat the propaganda of interested groups by bringing to light the factual basis of the situation or problem under discussion.

—Daily Tar Heel.

FRESHMEN PICK MEN GROUP OF OFFICERS

Continued from page one

Council. Mr. Nelson, a graduate of the Hazleton Senior High School, is a member of the Dramatic Club, Jr. Chamber of Commerce, Maroon and Gold Staff, and the Obiter Staff.

Julia Schlegal, a graduate of Fleetwood High School, and treasurer of the Freshman class, was elected as the woman representative to the Student Council. Miss Schlegal is a member of the A. B. C. Club, and the Jr. Chamber of Commerce.

Georgiana Betterly was elected to the new office of associate-editor for the Obiter. Miss Betterly is a member of the A. B. C. Club.

Mr. Keller was elected class advisor.

He—Why do you persist in driving thru antiquated wreck?

He (muchly married)—I spend many evenings downtown and that car is my alibi for not getting home.

Some persons who press their divorce suits ought to take them first to the cleaner.

HIGH SCHOOL INSPECTS COLLEGE

Orangeville Comes to College on First of Series of Proposed Visits

Orangeville High School was the first of a group of invited high schools to accept the invitation of Dr. Haas to visit and inspect our college. About fifty students spent the morning on the campus, viewing not only our campus attractions, but also observing different classes while in progress. The Orangeville group were the guests of the college at lunch.

The Hospitality Committee took over the responsibility of entertaining the group with the Campus Guides doing their part to show a true picture of college life at Bloomsburg.

The several coaches talked to the boys in an informal manner on general status of athletics at Bloomsburg.

As stated before, Orangeville is only the first of a series of proposed trips to be made here by neighboring high school students.

(NSFA)—According to a survey at Lehigh University, it was disclosed that, after 25 years following graduation, Phi Beta Kappa men still lead other members of their class. The best record of all, according to the survey, was made by the man voted the "biggest dreamer," while the "biggest freak" ran him a close second.

—Syracuse Daily Orange.

PART CAST FOR SENIOR CLASS NIGHT PROGRAM PARTS NOT COMPLETE

Seniors are working in true Trojan fashion on their class night program. Although no definite form has been set up for the musical and no name has been given, part of the cast has been selected and are going ahead working out dancing, singing and talking parts.

Under the present conditions, there will be no specified "leads," although there will be outstanding singing roles.

An unusual amount of interest has been evidenced by the Seniors in the musical comedy and that fact in itself will help make it an outstanding success. Up to date the people selected for participation are: Mary Bierschmitt, Bernice Curwood, Roberta Conrad, Ruth Henson, Esther Evans, Ann Edwards, Rachel Beck, Kathryn Wertman, Ann Johnston, Thelma Knauss, Ruth Welliver, Alice Kealey, Nora Bayliff, Louise Yeager, Margaret O'Hora, Margaret Hawk, Katharine Yale, Grace Foote, Sara Lentz, Harriet Sutliff, Gertrude Tannery, Mildred Quick, Maryruth Rische, Mary Langan, Florence Hartline, Priscilla Acker, Jeannette Reese, Alfred Miller, Robert Hawk, John Shellenberger, Elbert Ashworth, John Krepich, William Creasy, Robert Van Sickle, John Partridge.

(NSFA)—The date bureau which is in progress of formation at Brooklyn College will not charge a fee to undergraduates for registration, but is contemplating requiring the faculty to pay for its services.

—N. Y. Times.

Kampus Kulm

What activity! What activity! Methinks the campus has been converted into grounds for a many ringed circus. No No! That wasn't meant as a slam, but we are wondering whether there are any classes going on, that is, aside from those we have to attend.

Again we say that B. S. T. C. cannot be excelled in the extent of her hospitality.

Have you noticed the change in attitude of our student body toward office holding? We harken back to last year when the president of the C. G. A. was tearing his hair trying to find enough candidates to complete the roster, but now—everyone is trying to nab onto an office. It hasn't been definitely decided in our minds who is responsible, or what is responsible for the changed attitude, but it must be indicative of the times.

Joe Kollege, the campus sheik, says he is going to wear a tux to the Junior Prom, and white linen to the Senior Ball. . . Now, who is the more snooty?

A Senior remarked that the Juniors are the most exacting so and sos. . . It's a wonder they didn't ask whether your partner had blue eyes and a mole on the instep, etc. . . in other words, they want to be sure there is no crashing the gate.

When Karnes loses a race, that is News.

Seniors may be found doing either of two things these days: comparing notes as to how many more teaching days there are, or consulting an almanac to see what the weather will be for commencement week so as to shed or not to shed the long woollens.

The Phi Sigs will readily admit that Dr. North is the Pecks Bad Boy of their organization, so that they have to give him several one hundred point, true and false quizzes, a month to settle him.

SCREENINGS: The grass is growing greener . . . Whoa, that was last year! What! Where have I been all year? Oh, Mr. Van Winkle! . . . Favorite saying at this time of the year: "Listen you, if I had a dime I would be doing things, I would!" . . . Visit Buchheit's office and read the year's sports told in pictures. . . The Day Men have about decided to organize. . . Been playing the same tune in the gym for so long. . . Girls Chorus Concert was fine. . . Tappy de Tap, click, click, the chorus works out for class night, and they can dance. . . Kretzer looks worried. . . R. Van Sickle has a speaking acquaintance with a squad of orchestra leaders. . . Ye Maestro Harter came through nicely in a pinch. . . Banquets, banquets, and banquets. . . If all the Ivy planted would have grown ????. . . don't check up on yourself, you might become disillusioned. . . after all this is Spring and near the end of the term and soon near the end of the tale. . . snuff.