NEW POETRY NOTE BOOK

Definite plans for the production of a poetry notebook for the College Library were laid this week when a gathering of B. S. T. C. poets met with Dean Kerr. The group feels that this idea will be more worthwhile than a poetry contest, for a permanent record can be kept in this way.

The book will be divided into several sections, enabling those who write comical verse to contribute their share, as well as those who write poetry of a more serious trend. There will be a section for members of the faculty who wish to present some of their moods in poetry.

This is the first time that a project of this type has been attempted. There is much real literary talent in hiding on the campus and there is no reason why there should not be a record in our library of those with literary inclinations. This is the opinion of one of the students interested in the poetry notebook, and the general opinion of the others.

In the last six years Bloomsburg tennis teams won 27 matches, lost 10 and tied 2. Three of the six years, they were undefeated. The previous year they won five and lost four.

1500 ON CAMPUS FOR CONVENTION

DOROTHY SANDS, IMPERSONATOR, HERE AGAIN SOON

Dorothy Sands, America's most versatile actress and impersonator, will be with us again on April 12. Last year she presented "Styles in Acting" which contained scenes from the English Theatre acted in the style of the period "From Millamant to Mae West".

Upon her appearance here, Miss Sands will probably present "Our Stage and Stars", consisting of the American Theatre in Review from the first comedy to the movie vampires.

Dorothy Sands is in the south at the present time. It was just recently that one of her new shows for next season had sprouted and sprung into being. Dorothy Sands calls it "Stars of Yesterday and Today."

James Sauders To Lecture

The student body of the college will have the pleasure of hearing a most interesting talk given by James Sauders at chapel program on Monday, April 15. His presence at the college in former times has always proved very educational to his very enthusiastic audiences.

His subject has not yet been announced, but the students can be sure of a very enjoyable program.

MCGREW CHOSEN IVY DAY ORATOR

Honored by being the choice of the graduating class of 1935, Mr. John McGrew, prominent student of the campus, will deliver the Ivy Day Oration on Monday, May 27. Mr. McGrew is a native of Mahonoy Plane, Schuylkill County.

During his four years of college, John has kept up a splendid scholastic record he made in high school and has always been one of the outstanding students on the campus. He always has a cheerful disposition and wears a sunny smile, which combined with his ability as a leader and a student, caused him to be well liked by all members of the college community.

Mr. McGrew is president of the Kappa Delta Pi, National honorary scholastic fraternity. During his freshman year he served as a class officer, and since that time he has been active in campus affairs, taking part in dramatics, nature study club, geography club, and intramural sports of all kinds.

Y. W. C. A. INSTALLATION

Following a dinner party in the college dining room last Wednesday evening, the installation of the new Y. W. C. A. officers, whose names appeared in the last issue of this paper, took place in the social rooms of Science Hall.

A very impressive candle light ceremony under the leadership of Miss Mason, the adviser of the society, was used in officially installing the new officers.

Prof. C. H. Albert gave the girls an inspiring talk.

EDUCATORS OF 10 COUNTIES ATTEND

Many Interesting Discussions Are Held Under Able Leadership Of Distinguished Educators.

DR. JAMES N. RULE, SPEAKS

Last Friday and Saturday the Northeastern Convention District of the Pennsylvania State Education Association, which was organized at Bloomsburg in 1926, held its tenth convention on our campus. General sessions were held on Friday afternoon and evening and Saturday morning, while department and sectional meetings were in secession both Friday evening and Saturday morning. The departmental and sectional programs provided for every grade, subject, and department of school interest.

The program was developed around the thought of, "Character Education as an essential constant factor in any epoch of Social and Economic change". The entertainment and social features consisted of a concert by the Berwick State and National School Band, the annual Convention dinner, and an informal dance after the Friday evening Session.

Fred W. Diehl, superintendent of the Dr. James Rule Montour County Schools and a familiar figure on our campus, is president of the district convention. Counties comprising the district are Bradford, Carbon, Columbia, Lackawanna, Luzerne, Monroe, Montour, Northumberland, Pike, Sullivan, Susquehanna, Wayne, and Wyoming.

Some of the outstanding educators in the east who took part in the program are: Dr. James N. Rule, State Department of Public Instruction; Dr. Homer T. Rainey, of Bucknell; Dr. Ben. G. Graham, Superintendent of Pittsburgh Schools; Dr. Jay B. Nash, New York University; Dr. G. T. Holcombe, Member Board Eastern Penitentiary; Mr. John Cramer, superintendent of the Huntington Reformatory; Frederic Snyder, Author, Traveler, Lecturer, Kingston, Pa; John A. Tallmadge, Cedar Crest College, Allentown; Naomi K. Hade, Susquehanna University; W. Harmon Wilson, Editor of the "Balance Sheet"; and C. W. Lillibrigde, Superintendent of the McKean Company, Penna. The following representatives from our State Department were present: W. H. Bristow, D. E. Crosley, C. Valentine Kirby, W. P. Loomis, V. A. Martin, M. Claude Rosenberry, J. Y. Shambach, and Tressa C. Yeager.

The local committee on arrangements was composed of Dr. Francis B. Haas, chairman; William W. Evans, William B. Sutliff, John C. Koch, Miss Irma Ward, L. P. Gilmore, Dr. Marguerite Kehr, Earl N. Rhodes, and C. M. Hausknecht.

THREE PUBLIC PLAYS PRESENTED BY BLOOM PLAYERS

This is a busy time for the Dramatic Club. Three plays have just been produced for the entertainment of the public.

On Thursday, March 14, at the Rotary-Kiwanis College Night the play "Speaking to Father" was given. The audience appreciated and enjoyed this clever comedy.

At the meeting of the University Women's Club on Mar. 19, a Dramatic Club play was the feature number on the program.

On March 22, still another play was presented during the chapel period at the Bloomsburg High School.

Students Judge Play

One of the varied duties of Dramatic Club Members is to act as the judges at the various poetry contests in Columbia County. Students have recently acted at Mainville and at Mifflinville.

Faculty Banquet, April 9, 1935

Arrangements are being made for the Annual Faculty Banquet in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Haas. This social event is to be held this year at the local Elks Club on April 9. The committee in charge is as follows:

Mr. Shortess, chairman; Mrs. Baker, Miss Moore, Mr. Keller, Miss Hazen, Miss Ward, Dr. Nelson.

FRATERNITY PLANS FOR FOUNDERS DAY

The Fifth Annual Founder's Day of Gamma Beta Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi will be held Saturday, April 13. As yet, arrangements for a speaker have not been completed, but definite plans for the activities of the day have been made.

At 2:00 P. M. there will be an initiation for all new active members, immediately followed by the election and the installation of the officers for next year. Between the hours of three and five a social tea will be in progress for the alumni members of the society in a social room at Noetling Hall.

In the evening, beginning at 6:00 o'clock, a banquet will be held at the Elk's home. Following this there will be dancing in the ball room of the Elk's home, and card playing in the social rooms of that building.

A large turnout is expected for this event, with a great number of alumni present. All active members who intend to be present for the banquet should notify either John McGrew or Charlotte Hochberg as soon as possible.

At a recent meeting the following committees were named: Banquet: Howard DeMott, Betty Harter, Verna Jones, Mervin Mericle; Decorations: Kathryn John, Violet Brown, Elmira Bankes; Speaker: Charles Michael, Earl Kershner, William Turnow; Afternoon Social Committee: Verna Morawski, Loota Nevil, Anne Northrup, Mabel Gordan; Program for the Day: Dan Jones, Ernest Lau, Pat-sy Yale, Hannah Steinruch; Music: William Morgan, Tony Conte, Ralph McCracken, Adeline Pfeiffer.

ON OUR BEST BEHAVIOR

That the Fourteenth Annual High School Basketball Tournament sponsored by the Men's Letter Club was a decided success again proves that the organizations of our school have the ability, the initiative, and the determination necessary to do a thing well. Under the direction of their sponsor and the officers of the organization the entire personnel cooperated in working toward a common end.

Not considering the financial returns of this annual event, the efficient manner in which this year's tourney was handled certainly reflects creditably upon both the Lettermen's Club and the School Community. With committees appointed long before the dates set aside for the affair, all games were played according to schedule, and every detail was taken care of in "tip-top" fashion.

Just as this specific group has earned commendation for their display of ability to do things right, so has the entire school community cooperated recently in a truly spirited manner. The Maroon and Gold staff feels that it is not too late to congratulate each member of our college for their part in making the recent Kiwanis-Rotary night the most successful one ever held on this campus.

Certainly the family-like attitude of our students at times when numerous outsiders visit our campus is a splendid advertisement for Bloomsburg State Teachers' College. Many high school students from within our ment, and more of them will do so when the annual play tournament and the annual high school commercial contests get underway in the near future. teaching area have already visited our school during the basketball tourna-

It behooves us as citizens of this school to impress these visitors favorably, not only because it is best to use good manners, but because many of these persons might decide to attend Bloomsburg in the near future, influenced by the hospitality shown them during their short stay here.

PRACTICE TEACHERS HANDBOOK

Of much interest to members of the Maroon and Gold Staff and others of the College was the recent announcement in the Shippensburg Standard Sentinel that certain members of the faculty at the Shippensburg institution are now compiling material for a mimeographed book for student teachers. This book will probably appear on the campus for the first time at the beginning of the next term.

Students of Bloomsburg will look upon this project as a progressive one, knowing as they now do that such a book is a valuable asset to the student teacher in becoming acquainted with practical teaching. It is the hope of the Maroon and Gold that other Teachers Colleges in the State adopt the plan. Now, upon the publication of Bloomsburg's "Suggestive Helps for Student Teachers" for the third successive time, the administration and compilers are ready to announce that the book has been a success.

MAYBE ITS THE SPRING

How annoying it is for both the teacher and those who wish to understand a certain point or get an assignment during the last few minutes of a class period when numerous attendants begin to get ready to leave. Between the noises produced by the rustling of papers and books, and the arranging of wraps, one hears about every third word of the person speaking.

With the advent of spring one consolation becomes evident. No more shall we be bothered by those who put on their coats before the bell rings. Now the cracking of papers and perhaps a few unguarded whispers will alone remain to disturb and interrupt us.

Of course we become bored in some of the classes at times, but with only five minutes to go we should restrain ourselves for the sake of those who wish to understand some difficulty. If a teacher is only partly finished answering a certain question, how difficult it is to hear his conclusion when at least half the class is producing all kinds of noises in order that they might leave as soon as possible.

SUCH MANNERS

The old saying is that if at first you do not succeed, try, try, again. During the forepart of the current school year there appeared in these columns a few articles lamenting the fact that numerous male members of the school could not refrain from smoking on the Carver Hall Porch and throwing their cigarette stubs on the adjacent campus.

Last fall the stubs looked quite out of place when strewn along the sidewalks together with countless half-burnt match sticks. However, a severe winter came to the rescue of those who still had some pride concerning the appearance of their campus, and covered the unsightly mess with a blanket of snow. But, now that the snow has melted, the remnants of last fall's "cigarette stub crop" has reappeared and is being supplied daily with fresh recruits.

It probably goes without saying that the very persons who are so careless about the school in such matters would certainly take care not to litter the lawns of their homes in a like manner. Of course not, their parents would see that they did not do so. That's just what we need here. Everyone of us should make it a point to ask these delinquent persons to "keep in step with the rest of us". Perhaps a more authoritative source is needed to inflict penalties on those who break the "smoking on campus ruling".

WHERE IS HE—?

Not once did he appear at the basketball games of the past season. Just his presence might have encouraged the team in the pinches, especially during the last few games. Where is our mascot? Roongo hasn't put in an appearance since the last football contest.

His being an outside dog might account for his absence during the basketball season, but that is no reason why he should remain at home during the coming baseball and track seasons. Cheerleaders, we'll be looking for our Husky at the first baseball game.

NEWS FROM OTHER SCHOOLS

Schools Save Electricity. A parent-teacher association in South Dakota (Chamberlain School District) intends to build an electric light plant in one of the rural schools.

In Montclair, New Jersey, the schools saved $1298.00 last year by combining light and power meter readings. By using a single meter reading the Montclair schools were enabled to report a large reading and thus secured a lower rate.

More than five hundred volumes which originally formed part of Napoleon Bonaparte's library have been presented to Princeton U. by Andre de Coppet, a New York banker.

The nerve ends of one eminent professor at the University of Washington (Seattle) were slowly fraying over the habit that coeds have of continually powdering and rouging during his lectures. So, one day, he conspired with a male student in the front row. Next day this man came in, sat down, and slowly proceeded to lather up before the class.

A real barn dance is one of the most important dances of the year at State Teachers College, Bridgewater, Mass.

A study of student failures at the University of Georgia revealed that those who failed their courses in comparison with the remainder of the student body had more absences from class work, spent less time in study, had more disorderly conduct, had parents who had been less educated and tended to come from broken homes.

The University of Nebraska can boast of at least one Scotch student. He paid his tuition this year with twenty-three pounds of pennies.

Athen, Ga.—Lack of knowledge of English words and their meanings is one of the most serious causes of student failures at the University of Georgia, it has been announced here by the department of psychology. Freshmen of the University of Georgia were compared with the freshmen of many other colleges by means of psychological tests given the first year students. While in ability to use English the Georgia college beginners did not show up as well, they did better than those of other colleges in tests that required thought and judgment, such as in the arithmetic and artificial language tests.

"When you were chewing that boarding-house beef steak last night, you knew it was hard work, but did you know that you used between 60 and 80 pounds of force on it?" asks the Daily Northern. The measurement was made on a phagodynamometer—but they did not use the beef steak we ate!

Professor H. N. Colby of the University of New Hampshire has invented a burglar proof system for chicken coops; but he is not certain whether a professional chicken thief would be detached by his invention. The professor would be delighted to have an expert experienced chicken thief call at the University to put his professional skill against professional science.

A group of students of New Hampshire University have been living comfortably on 30 cents a week for each, with well balanced nourishing meals. Slender girls actually gained weight during the eleven weeks of this experiment in economy.

At Ohio University, 100 students have lived on $3.50 each per week, including both room and board. Each student paid $1.25 per week for rent, heat, light and telephone. Food, purchased and prepared cooperatively, cost about $2.25 per person per week.

Students at the Saint Mary of the Pine Academy, at Chatawa, Miss., are said to sleep outdoors all winter. The young ladies engage in vigorous outdoor sports; and sickness at the academy is extremely rare.

A recent poll among girl students at Rhode Island College of Education showed that the girls like teaching best, and marriage second best, as vocations, with nursing as the third choice. Quite a few girls stated they would like to become aviators; while others expressed an interest in radio broadcasting as a career.

THE LANGUAGE of the MAP

Come with me for a trip over the map of the United States. We are going to study the odd "language of the map" by which we mean the queer names on the map. We must travel fast so we had better start at either Rapidcity or Hurricane.

Just imagine a mixture of languages — Indian, Japanese, German, Scotch, Irish, Spanish, French, and English — and then you get an idea of "map language". We mean the kind of a jumble you get when you read the names of the towns and cities on a map of the United States.

The first Americans influenced a great many names for towns. There are Mishawaka, Chattanooga, Kankakee, Menomonic, Chillicothe, Anadarko, Waurika, Towanda, and Chickasqui. It's nice that they are scattered all over the continent. Just think of the troubles of the Iowa postmasters who have to puzzle with spellings for Ottumwa and Oskaloosa.

Natchitoches, too, is enough to make you want to move to Kalamazoo which is much easier to spell and pronounce. Then, what do you think of the combination of Davenport, Darlington, Wink, and Smackover? Don't you wish you were Pekin?

There are many towns with simple names which are very picturesque in their simplicity. For instance, what child—or grown-up, for that matter—would not like to live or visit in Broken Bow, Beeville, Red Wing, Bad Axe, or Flint? Steamboat Springs, Mystic, and Lame Deer are just as clever.

Combinations of names of towns are very interesting. There are King City and Lordsburg, and Ritzville and Fort Bragg. Then, there are Faith and Powers, Sweetwater and Plummer, Whitefish and Herington, and Payette, and Silver City.

For exclamations, how do you like Eureka and Boise? For real Americanism we must not forget Jonesboro and Smithville. There really should be a town named for John Doe in order to make things complete.

Even the movie stars are represented. There are first names of Clark, Marion, Helene, and Tallulah. Then we find the names of Crawford, Crosby, O'Neill, Carroll, and Rogers. For the Baron Munchausen fans, we will include Hugo. Vas you dere, Charlie?

Isn't it just like Kentucky to have a town named Lynch? Virginia was more aristocratic and named a town Lynchburg. But, if the meanest man in the world were looking for a town, he should take Poison.

Citizens of one town must have thought that it was the ideal size for they named it Wymore. That

MAC GOVERN WILL SUCCEED SLESSINGER AT KUTZTOWN

Man Who Raised Athletic Standards at West Chester Is Named Head Coach in Kutztown "New Deal."

Kutztown, April 1. James E. MacGovern, an ex-West Chester coach, has been signed to coach varsity sports at this school for the coming year. He succeeds Mr. Slessinger, whose resignation of January 19 becomes effective at the close of the present term.

MacGovern began his coaching career in 1919, and from that year to 1923 he tried his hand at three different schools Englewood High, Summit High, and New Roselle High, all located in New Jersey. In 1923 he hooked up with West Chester and lasted there through 1930. When MacGovern came, West Chester began to go places in sports, and now is entrusted with the task of putting Kutztown on a level with the down-State institution in athletic competition.

"Terrible Terry", as the new coach is affectionally known, will be a pivotal figure in Kutztown's "new deal" in football next Autumn, when the new $40,000 athletic field is opened and a pretentious schedule undertaken. The grounds will be dedicated on September 28, when MacGovern will lead his forces against Lebanon Valley college, marking the first time in the history of the local school that the Maroon and Gold will have clashed with a liberal arts institution in the grid sport.

SPRING FOOTBALL PRACTICE FOR THREE WEEKS

Nearly enough fellows for two full teams have reported for spring football training, most of them new and untried men. This period of conditioning, lasting for three weeks, give the coaches an opportunity to look over prospects for next year's team.

Time is being spent in teaching the fundamentals of the game and running through some plays. The spring football candidates are: Supchinsky, Mericle, Henry, Laubach, Border, Richie, Klinger, Ziller, Hendler, Muczuga, Kolonkusi, Harvey, Hill, Beaver, Cesari, L. Dixon, Kupstas, Klembora, and Reagan.

Coach Raber Seely, of Berwick, is again assisting Head Coach Buchheit in the training period.

Event Probably Most Successful Ever Staged By Lettermen's Club; Freeland, Gilberton, Rock Glen, Crowned New 1935 Champions By Virtue Close Wins.

The Fourteenth Annual High School Basketball Tournament may go on record as one of the most successful tournaments ever sponsored by the Lettermen's Club. Pleasant weather brought out record crowds of rooters to cheer their favorite teams in their intensely exciting and close struggles for championship titles. As a result the gymnasium was filled to its utmost capacity and a constant din was in the air with the wild cheering of thrilled spectators.

William Reed Manager

Much of the success of this tournament must be attributed to William Reed, who, as tournament manager, was instrumental in securing teams of high calibre and by those dogged persistence and tireless efforts everything clicked smoothly. The Lettermen's Club is to be congratulated for sponsoring an event of this nature and bringing into closer relationship with the college the various high schools.

In the finals R. Glen defeated Nuremberg in the afternoon for the class C title in a 32-23 decision after overcoming a big first quarterlead. Nuremberg had defeated Rock Glen twice in winning the Tri-County League title. After Klose, Nuremberg's lanky center, was removed on personals, Rock Glen steadily pushed ahead in the scoring to win the class C laurels.

Kulpmont Wins Thriller

On the evening at seven o'clock Kulpmont and Sunbury battled it out for third and fourth places in class A. Throughout the game neither team trailed behind the other more than five points. Kulpmont won 30-28 when Siket, a Kulpmont forward who failed to score before the last quarter, slipped the ball through the basket in the last five seconds to play. The game was fast and spirited and a real thriller to the crowd.

Immediately following Gilberton defeated Mount Carmel Township 36-31 to become the title holder of class B. Gilberton was threatened constantly until a last period spurt put them in the championship class. Gilberton was second to Frackville in the Schuylkill County League while Mount Carmel Township was more or less a dark horse in the games.

Freeland Dethrones Frackville

The most thrilling game of the tournament was played when Frackville vainly attempted to retain its title from Freeland. Two extra points.

GIRLS CONTINUE SPORTS PROGRAM WITH BASEBALL CENTER OF INTEREST

Another sign of spring can be seen around the campus. The girls are now beginning the season of baseball. The manager for this year is Irene Smith. Many girls attend sessions every Monday, Thursday, and Friday nights from 4:00 to 5:00 o'clock. Thursday has been set aside so that all girls who are interested in officiating will have an opportunity to play ball. As yet, definite teams have not been selected.

The "B" club girls are patiently waiting for the announcements of the

ALL TOURNEY CAGE TEAMS SELECTED FOR CLASS A AND B

The task of selecting a first and second all-tourney team was unusually difficult this year because of the exceptionally good players. Those players, who were selected for the first team, are the most outstanding and therefore deserve their positions in the first team. Those players selected for the second team are close runners-up. Frackville and Freeland each placed two men on the first team while Dietrick, star Sunbury forward, received the other place. In the second team Frackville also placed two while Freeland, Gilberton, and Kulpmont each placed one. The all-tourney selections are as follows:

First Team

- Charles Boyle, Freeland, Forward
- George Dietrick, Sunbury, Forward
- John Piconis, Frackville, Center
- Nich. Mischissen, Freeland, Guard
- Cyril Copeland, Frackville, Guard

Second Team

- George Pavilaitus, Frackville, Fwd
- Ted Burchill, Frackville, Forward
- Grover Krone, Freeland, Center
- Michael Sabrinski, Gilberton, Gd
- Robert Parker, Kulpmont, Guard

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL IN FINAL SUMMARY

The second half of the intramural basketball season has just been concluded. The fourteen teams composing the intramural basketball players were divided into two groups, the odds and the evens. Each team played six games with teams from the same group. Then the winners of each group played each other for the championship. This team was made up of Slaven, Troutman, F. Morgan, and Maczuga. Throughout the second half this team gave a very fine exhibition of speed, accurate passing and good shooting.

The individual scoring for the first twenty-eight fellows was as follows:

Slaven, 89	Border, 28
Harmon, 73	Line, 28
Troutman, 63	Havalicka, 27
Camera, 55	Rompolo, 27
Rokosc, 55	Bartish, 26
Schrope, 53	Welliver, 25
Kupris, 49	Davidson, 25
Zalonis, 37	Kupstus, 24
D. Litwhiler, 35	Cohen, 24
Mericle, 33	Gara, 23
Zawleski, 31	Kotsch, 22
Marcinkavicz, 31	Reagan, 20
Butler, 30	Saltzer, 20
Cornelie, 29	Kessler, 20

This scoring is not confined to the six games played by each one. Many of the players substituted for others who were absent from games.

The standing of the teams was as follows:

MILLERSVILLE T. C. CLAIMS MYTHICAL CAGE TITLE

Record Of Eleven Wins and One Loss Stands Out Among Teacher Colleges As Best; First Claim To Crown Since 1930.

By virtue of a season of eleven wins and one defeat in Teachers College competition Millersville State Teachers College claims the mythical basketball championship for the year.

The records of the Millersville institution show two wins each over Shippensburg, Bloomsburg, and Kutztown, with single wins recorded over Mansfield and California. West Chester and Millersville divided a twin bill.

Center Outstanding

Much of Millersville's success on the court this season was due to the towering center, Walter Gantz, who seemed to have things quite his own way when he wanted them. Bishop and Wileman were also more than just ordinary basketball players.

Their claim to the state championship this season is the first for Millersville since 1930. Coach Pucillo, the head coach of athletics at Millersville, can always be depended to produce fighting teams.

A rumor on the campus that Millersville was to play some post season games with F. and M. and a few other colleges turned out to be nothing more than mere student talk.

BASEBALL PRACTICE BEGINS ON MOUNT

There is great activity on Mt. Olympus. B. S. T. C. athletics have left winter quarters (the gym) to practice in the fresh air and the golden sunshine of Bloomsburg's outdoors. We are concerned with Dr. Nelson's proteges, the baseball players who were tendered equipment last week, and last week departed themselves on the athletic field.

Feeling that the men had progressed enough in the gym,, and remembering last years cold and muddy practices, the coach chose two teams and had scrimmage last Wednesday afternoon.

Among those present were last year's battery men, Dry and Rockoz, catchers, who received some of the hooks and slants of Whitey Moleski and Woody Litwhiler, two of last year's star hurlers. The infield of Washleski, Rompolo, Visotski, and Karschner, performed, with Captain Beck and Vansickle among the team's outfielders.

The opposing team with an infield of Kafchinski at first base, Sircovics at second, Riley at short, and Finder at third, with Dan Litwhiler, Tommy Vershinski, Slaven, and Shakofski in the outfield made as many "early season" errors as the "vets". Other men who saw action were Derr, Sircovics, and Patrick as Catchers; Burger in the infield; and Slaven, pitcher.

Despite the short time on the field many clean hits were driven out. Of course it is too soon to blame the pitchers, as so many errors were committed behind them that many extra men batted. But, Rome wasn't built in a day, and fielders don't judge their hops accurately in the first week of play.

All available uniforms were distributed, but that didn't deter those with-

FAST GAMES IN 1ST ROUND OF TOURNEY

GILBERTON - CONYNGHAM Class B

In a fast game Friday afternoon Gilberton beat Aristes and went into the finals of the class B. At one time Gilberton had a 12 to 3 lead, but Aristes came back to the short end of a 15-13 score, and stayed within close distance of the winners. At one time Gilberton led by only 33-32, but then started drawing away, and won by a 50-44 score.

THE LANGUAGE of the MAP

may be a hint to prospective settlers. Down in a southwestern state someone very considerably put Bison near Buffalo and up in Maine (this may sound all wet) there are neighboring towns of Bath, Waterville, and Rumford.

To end this "map language" lesson, we shall give you some "Food For Thought." There are over 300 cities and towns in the United States which bear the names of foods. Some of the combinations are: Almond, Fig, Nutt, and Peanut; Oyster, Clam, Red Fish, and Salmon; Duck, Turkey, and Bacon; Cocoa, Coffee, and Tea; and some named for berries and fruits.

But, wait Haven't we forgotten something? Surely, we should not forget names which stand out just because of their silly sounds and syllable combinations.

There is Yonkers which sounds like a goose cry. In this age of slang, Y-zoo City and Bunkie ought to be near Raspberry. Then, there are Biloxi, Hibbing, Shosone, and Bemidji. For the last we suggest that you imagine a very staid, gruff, dignified old man with steel gray hair and immaculate clothes saying in a deep and serious tone, "I'm from Walla Walla." Would you laugh?

riods were needed before Freeland could make the field goal that was required to topple Frackville from the class A throne by the decision of 34-32. Freeland generally got the jump but never led Frackville by more than three points until the closing minutes when a 30-24 lead was built. This, however, was evened up before the regulation time had expired. With the score standing at an even 30 an additional period was required but at its close the score was still tied at 32. A rest period of five minutes was granted after which a Freeland forward converted a field goal into the two points necessary to win.

Bands Present

Both teams had their bands with them to add to the terrific din with their conflicting tunes. Excitement ran rampant as spectators watched Frackville jealously endeavor to guard its title from the covetous Freelanders. Freeland after years of tournament playing doggedly determined to get a hand on the A class title and to avenge themselves on Frackville for a defeat previously administered. In one of the most dramatic games ever played in the college gymnasium they succeeded their purpose.

Winners Receive Awards

At the conclusion of the games "Bill" Reed presented the various awards to the different teams. After a brief comment upon the sportsmanship qualities of those playing and the excellent games he presented the big silver basketball trophy to the Freeland high school coach. Several teams have won this trophy twice but have never succeeded in winning it the third time required for permanent possession. This is Freeland's first time. Freeland must repeat the victory next year to again receive the trophy. Gold medals were given to each of the Freeland players and the basketball which the game was played to the Freeland captain. Plaques were given to Gilberton and Rock Glen, B and C class champions, as symbols of their victories. To the players of the Gilberton and Frackville teams, runner-up of class A, silver medals were presented. Bronze medals were given to each of the Rock Glenn players, champions of class C. Kulpmont players, third in class A, and Mount Carmel Township players, second in class B, were also given bronze medals.

Father Gast Speaks In Chapel

During chapel exercises last week, Father Gast, rector of the local Episcopal Church, talked to an interested student group on the subject of character building. By comparing this important process with the erecting of a house, he suggested that we might now be molding our foundation for a strong and beautiful castle, instead of being satisfied with a loosely thrown-together hovel.

Aside from being intensely interested in his work, Father Gast is a friend of the college and close follower of our many activities.

KAMPUS KULM

"Gather 'round, my dear fellow students, And hear the tale of McCutcheon's impudence."

This boy McCutcheon gets into the gosh-awfullest "fixes" we ever heard of. What now? . . . Well it happened quite a while ago, but it's worth telling . . . It was this way:

Freddie goes to a convention — one of the kind where you are assigned to a private home to stay . . . Now, handwriting courses must mean nothing to F., at any rate his signature on the registration was mistaken for "Frances"!!

To get on, Freddie steps out to a dance the first night there (it was probably a Sunday School convention) and turns in rather late . . . Groping his way through the darkness, our hero goes through the house and up to the room. Still without a light, for he wouldn't want to disturb anyone (not Freddie!) he begins removing his coat, necktie, shirt, and . . . etc . . . Just about this time a piercing shriek shatters the silent darkness, and frightened Freddie turns to behold a fair damsel sitting up in the bed! . . .

Needless to say, he hit the trail for parts unknown with unbelievable speed! . . . Moral — pay more attention to your handwriting! . . . Or something . . . (Guaranteed to be true).

Father Gast is a very good speaker . . . It's been a long time since anyone held the interest of this student body as he did . . . Let's hear him again! Final words on the basketball season . . . tournament a success . . . fast, interesting games up until the very end . . . The last game the most exciting of all . . .

You should have seen the people on our campus while you were gone! Betcha' there were more'n two thousand . . . Some very good talks were given . . . Dr. Rainey and Dr. James Rule both spoke . . .

Myron Beaver is some little cut-up . . . He wears football shoulder pads . . . Somebody told him they were worn around the hips, so he of course put them there . . . Have you had your attack of spring fever?? . . . More than likely it's just arriving . . . Bet the church permissions have doubled in the past week or so . . . Walks are frequent . . . In the spring a young man's fancy . . . And how! . . .

Things seem to run in cycles around here . . . for a while after the second semester started we had lots to do . . . dances, basketball games, plays, and even some classes . . . but lately its been only classes . . . Of course we must attend a few of them. Pretty soon we'll be busy again . . . Seniors especially . . .

Looking forward to Easter already — and we just came back from a short vacation . . .

You take your life in your hands if you go up on Mount Olympus around four o'clock these days . . . Fellows running around the track about sixty per . . . Baseballs, javelins, discus, footballs, and shotput flying through the air, broad fellows pole vaulting, broad jumping, playing baseball, football . . . Miss McCammon and a bunch of girls playing baseball too . . . The spring sure brings 'em out in a hurry . . .

There are some who won't be out for a while — Verna Jones gets the measles . . . Dan looks sorta lost now . . . Wouldn't be surprised if he got them too . . . Ken Merrill recovering from an operation in the Berwick Hospital . . .

O-o-oh! . . . Pardon the yawn, it . must . . . be . . . the . . . spril . . . zzzzzzzzz . . . zz . . . zzzzzzzzz.
