Featured on the program were Miss Isabel Miller, soloist, and the college trio consisting of Miriam Utt, Lorraine Snyder, and Betty Collett. Following the concert, a dance sponsored by the Music Clubs and the C. G. A. was held in the college gymnasium with Bruce Bell and his orchestra furnishing the music.

Ukrainian Children in Assembly Program

The assembly audience enjoyed a program of Ukrainian songs and dances on Friday, April 1. A group of children whose parents are of Ukrainian descent, had the audience entertained throughout the whole hour by presenting a fresh and novel form of amusement. The gay colors that the children wore, their extreme youth, and the grace and beauty with which they offered their talents, held the whole room in rapt attention.

Miss Adele Hartman, a teacher in the Shamokin schools, brought the children to Bloomsburg. After the assembly program, Miss Hartman presented some films depicting the Hawaii Islands, the enchanting vacation land which she had visited recently. The films were shown in Science Hall to several classes, who found added pleasure in viewing the lazy and gay life of the islands in the far Pacific. On the whole, Friday April 1, was indeed a pleasant one.

Great Ovation Given Dr. Armitage in His Many Interpretations

Chapel Entertainer Portrays Characters from Dickens

The students showed their love and interest in Charles Dickens by their enthusiasm for the able interpreter, Dr. Frank Armitage, when he realistically mirrored the life and characters of some of Dickens' better known novels on Friday morning, April 8.

Dr. Armitage went through a series of quick changes of facial expressions as well as costumes, when he portrayed Grandfather Smallweed of "Bleak House," Sidney Carton, of "The Tale of Two Cities," Schoolmaster Squires of "Nicholas Nickleby," Wilkins McCawber and Uriah Keep of "David Copperfield."

The students took an active part in the class conducted by Schoolmaster Squires, but proved that they were not such very good spellers, according to Master Squires. But they took their punishment like men.

Dr. Ade Outlines "New Education"

State Superintendent Public Instruction Addresses Large Audience

Dr. Lester K. Ade, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, pointed out the relationship of the "new education" to the students in professional teachers colleges when he spoke to the student body on "New Education" in a special chapel program on Thursday, April 7.

This new education which is gradually being adopted in schools throughout the nation is based on the theory of a child-centered school. Marks are not of primary importance in the new education; the emphasis has shifted to the students, not to the subject matter; to an estimate of his accomplishments, not to the desire of the teacher to prove by grades how poor he is or to a desire to pass him on.

Grades and records have been used in many ways as forms of coercion. In Dr. Ade's opinion, there will always be need of coercion in some degree. But, while the keynotes of the old school were to memorize, to recite and to pay attention, the new school calls for emphasis upon interests, needs, activities and experiences. The activities must be purposeful and the experiences meaningful.

"Whether we welcome it or not, Dr. Ade said, the schools are changing. Nothing in science is fixed, nothing in education can be. The modern teacher, instead of asking 'which one,' 'which kind' and 'how many' is using such expressions as construct, report, describe, discuss, writeup, how, compare, prove, explain, why. This you will note is far removed from the tool stage."

He advised each student and teacher to formulate for himself a working philosophy with definite objectives—one he can call his own. Base it upon fundamental sciences.

Waller Hall

Open House for visitors from home was held over a recent weekend by the girls of Waller Hall dormitory at the Bloomsburg State Teachers College. The open house was held from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m., during which time parents, other relatives and friends of the Bloomsburg co-eds were guests on the campus of the college.

The committee in charge of the open house included. Deborah Jones, West Pittston, chairman; Florence Park, Dallas; Sara Hummel, Middleburg; Ruth Brodbeck, Douglasville; Betsy Miller, Park Place; Jean Brush, Wilkes-Barre; Florence Tugend, Dalton; Mary Reilly, Scranton.

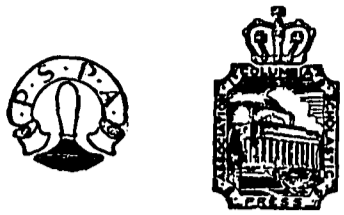

Girls Take Advantage Spring Permissions

The calendar says spring, and that means special permissions for the girls of Waller Hall. Spring permission has been looked forward to by all the girls. This means that they are permitted to be off campus, without signing out, until 7:15 p.m.

During the past two weeks girls have been seen strolling around inspecting the progress of the buildings, or taking a walk through town. Many have been seen roller skating and bicycling in the early twilight.

"The Last Lap"

The "last lap" is finally upon us. Books are once again opened, the library is filled and pencils are chewed. Everyone is warming up for the on-rushing exams. We should all be in the pink of condition after the long vacation we had. Let's all buckle down and see what we can do. The next vacation will be appreciated more if you work hard in between.

Character Analysis

Here is an interesting chart brought back from the Rainbow Room by one of the boys who went to the conference at New York. You can analyze your friends by it.

GIRLS WITH —

Brown eyes—Are the World's lovers.
Blue eyes—Possess sound judgment.
Black eyes—Love soft music and romance.

MEN WITH

Large ears... Are always "regular fellows"
Small ears—Are set in their ways.
Thick ears—Are always home at mealtime.
Thin ears—Are light and touchy.

Old Carver Hall Bell Will Ring Once More

Speaking of the end drawing near, you are all in store for a treat. How many of you know that when our Alma Mater was an academy the students were summoned by a large bell which hangs in Carver Hall tower? Well, it all happened in History and Philosophy. The class was discussing early education in Pennsylvania and in connection with this Dr. North mentioned the episode of the bell. The class was so surprised and interested that it decided to see whether or not it could be arranged to have the bell rung on Alumni Day.

It is all arranged now. If you are on the campus on Alumni Day you will hear, for the first time in many years, the peals of the Carver Hall Bell.

Literary

Now that vacation will soon be at hand, we will all have plenty of leisure time to "read all the books we've been wishing for, but never had the time to read."

Sigmund Spaeth — "Music Detective" — takes popular music and detects from what great classic it has been taken.

"Stories Behind the World's Great Music" tells the story of such famous compositions as Mozart's Requiem.

Dog lovers will enjoy the new little book by Brand Whitlock entitled "Little Lion." Mr. Whitlock once asked a friend, "Did you ever notice how much Pekinese dogs resemble little lions?" "Little Lion" may be read in an hour or more and will keep the reader interested and amused with its tender biography of one little lion.

Some of the other interesting books are: Schuman Heink by Mary Lawton; Madame Curie by Eve Curie, her daughter; Last Flight, Amelia Earhart; I've Been to London, Temple Bailey; and The Rains Came, by Louis Bromfield.

And So Victoria by Vaughn Wilkins

Court intrigues, horrors of child labor, disreputable old English kings, romance, adventure—all are found in this outstanding book. Of Queen Victoria there is practically nothing, for the story deals with the events in the life of an idealistic young Englishman which led up to the successful ascension of Victoria to the throne.

Christopher Hornish, the unloved son of a scoundrel of French ancestry and a royal princess of pure English blood, has his whole life influenced by the treachery and scheming of some of the royal family of England in preventing Victoria's ascension to the throne. He, despite the Hanoverian blood in his veins, is an idealist of the first water, and will have nothing to do with their diabolic schemes, for he sees in young Victoria the beginning of a new and finer line of English monarchs. He, himself, can build a new life apart from the degradation of his ancestry, but his youthfully high ideals can not, at the time, permit him to understand the attempt of the woman he loves to build something of fineness and stability out of the wreckage of her life. In his successful attempt to overthrow the plots against Victoria's ascension, he gains this understanding and realizes Margaret Atchill's true spiritual purity.

April Is Big Month For Anniversaries

Dr. Lester K. Ade, Superintendent of Public Instruction, said today that the month of April, which is usually marked by Arbor and Bird Day celebrations in Pennsylvania, claims among its days the birthday anniversaries of five famous naturalists and an equal number of anniversaries relating to natural conservation.

The two best known naturalists whose birthdays occur in April are John Burroughs, 1837-1921, born April 3; and John James Audubon, 1785-1851, born April 26. Much of the work of Audubon is associated with Pennsylvania, especially in the area of Philadelphia.

Other naturalists of note born in this spring month, Dr. Ade said, are Joseph T. Rothrock, 1839-1922, John Muir 1838-1902, the founder of Arbor Day. Rothrock, a Pennsylvanian, was the founder of the State Forest School at Mont Alto and of the Pennsylvania Forestry Association. He served for a time as the first commissioner of the Department of Forestry and as botany instructor in the University of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Ade pointed to at least five anniversaries of April which are directly related to conservation. April 1 marks the first day of Conservation Week in the United States. April 8 is the tentative date for the observance of Arbor, Bird and Forest Days in southern Pennsylvania and April 22 for northern Pennsylvania. April 17 is the beginning of the celebration of Garden Week.

Many April anniversaries also pertain to men and events that have figured directly in education. Hans Christian Anderson was born on April 2; Washington Irving on April 3; William Shakespeare on April 23; Thaddeus Stevens, who championed the Free Public School Act of 1834, was born April 3, 1792; Joseph Pulitzer, founder of the Pulitzer Prizes for social achievements, was born April 10, 1847; John L. Motley, famed historian, was born on April 15; Friedrich Froebel, founder of the Kindergarten System, was born April 21, 1782, and Herbert Spencer, great English teacher, was born April 27, 1820.

Mondschnine Named Head North Hall Ass'n

John Mondschnine of Coplay was elected President of the North Hall Student Government recently. Edward Mulhern, Forty Fort, was named vice-president; Clark Renninger of Pennsburg, member of the freshman class, was elected secretary; and Norman Maza, Nanticoko, was elected treasurer. The newly elected officers will be installed at a future meeting of the North Hall Student Government Association.

Y. M. C. A. Notes

The Y.M.C.A. has been exceptionally busy during the past several weeks. Several members of the faculty have given interesting talks before the group. Dr. Kuster spoke on "The Code of Honor of Students;" Mr. McMahan presented "Your Trade Mark;" and Mr. Rygiel spoke on "Points on Making a Good "Y" Program."

On March 30, the entire club participated in a very spirited panel discussion on holding vesper services in the college auditorium every Sunday night for a half-hour.

Husky Sluggers Whip Lock Haven by Score 12 to 3

Inclement Weather Interrupts Baseball Practice Sessions

The early outdoor workouts of the baseball team were interrupted by inclement weather but the Husky nine has shown no under-training effects in games played so far, and if the few injuries sustained on the recent successful road trip clear up as expected the 1938 team should experience a highly successful season again.

Whitey Moleski, pitching main-stay of Bloomsburg "Huskies" for several seasons back, recently graduated, has been on the campus working with the pitchers to help Coach Nelson. Moleski has now reported to Draper, North Carolina, as he is under contract with the organization for the 1938 season.

Picture of Track Team Appears in 'Rule Book'

Presented as State Champs of 1937 Season, with Records Of All Events

The National Collegiate Athletic Association in the publication of the National Rule Book for 1938 has honored the Huskie State Champions by printing a picture of the team along with the event each boy participated in the record of each event.

The boys won the State Championship at the State Meet in Harrisburg on May 15, 1937. They are going to compete again in the coming state meet to be held at Shippensburg, May 14.

Juniors Were in Lead In Intramural Track

The Junior class of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College took the lead in the inter-class track meet held recently at the Bloomsburg State Teachers College. Leading with 29 points the juniors were trailed by the freshmen who scored 22 points; the sophomores brought up a sad rear with only 4 points; and the seniors failed to tally at all. Five events were held in the first part of the inter-class track meet, and the remainder will be staged after spring vacation. The summary of yesterday's events are as follows: Shot put—Bonham, Frosh, first, 38 feet, 10 inches; Harwood, Junior, second, 38 feet, 6 inches; Hopfer, Junior, third, 36 feet, 6½ inches; Karnes, sophomore, fourth, 31 feet, 5½ inches. 80 yard dash—VanDevender, Junior, first; Mulhern, Junior, second; Hausknecht, Frosh, third; Hess, sophomore, fourth. Husky Mile Relay Team Determined To Capture Event in Penn Relays

Zelesky, Kemple, Mulhern and Van Devender In Good Form for April 29 Race

On Friday, April 29, the four members of the Huskie relay team will journey to Philadelphia in an attempt to give Bloomsburg State Teachers College a place in the world of track. This year's relay outfit is composed of such formidable names as the Zelesky, Kemple, Mulhern, Van Devender combination. These four runners have been working out for the past few days on Mount Olympus under the tutelage of Coach George Buchheit. Already the combination is approaching championship form in preparation for the gruelling mile relay run of the Penn Relays.

Possibly two other runners will accompany this quartet to the Quaker City. They are the Espy "cross-country twins," Ken Hippensteel and Don Karnes. It is expected that they will enter the 3000 meter steeplechase which has been famous in the past for its many hazards. Entering this event will be a novel attempt for Bloomsburg, but much is expected of the "twins" in bringing home the laurels.

Last year the Huskies were represented only in the mile relay. The same combination which will represent B.S.T.C. this year ran a spectacular race to finish a close third in a field composed of the best relay teams in the country. The Zelesky, Kemple, Mulhern, Van Devender combination is much stronger this year and the hopes are high as to the gain of a victory. Coach Buchheit, appearing quite optimistic, says that the Penn Relays is Bloomsburg's chance to gain a place in big-time track. The relay team, upon being questioned on the coming event, expressed in unison that they will give their all for B. S. T. C.

Van Devender's 60-yard Win Features Husky Performances at Scranton

Bloomsburg Places in 60-yd., 880-yd., Relay And Mile Run in Scranton Armory Events

Frank Van Devender raced 60 yds. in 6.2 seconds to tie the nationally-known Ben Johnson's Scranton Armory record and help his team mates sweep honors in the annual indoor invitation meet at Scranton Tuesday, April 12.

While the time turned in for the 60-yard dash was such that it placed the event in a feature position on the scorer's sheet, Bloomsburg runners participating in the 880, the mile, and the open 8-lap relay set rapid paces in placing firsts in those events. This was especially true of the relay, in which the Husky combination (Mulhern, Karnes, Zelesky and Van Devender) placed first in 2:33.3, well ahead of the second-place St. Thomas team and the third-place Carbondale combination. The Bloomsburg "B" team (Horn, Joy, Stover, Kemple) finished in fourth position.

In the 880-yard special race Zelesky turned in a remarkable performance for indoor competition with a time of 2:09, while in the 60-yard event in which Van Devender commanded so much attention Mulhern, Horn and Joy finished on the heels of the leader in that order.

The spotlight was on Glenn Cunningham in the feature race of the meet, and the flying Kansas miller raced the distance in 4:32.1 to finish ahead of Bloomsburg's Kemple. Olexy of Penn State, number one man for the State College team in the event, followed Kemple in third position, with Hippensteel in fourth. All runners were given a 100-yard handicap except Olexy, who ran with a 40-yard handicap.

Mansfield Wins Tennis Match, 7-2

Mansfield State Teachers College defeated Bloomsburg 7-2 at Mansfield April 27. Zalonis and Villa won singles matches in straight sets for the Huskies only 2 points.

The Mansfield team was considerably stronger than a year ago. Three Frosh, including Frenchko who holds the Northeastern Penna championship, have added strength.

Injuries Fail to Halt Winning Ways of Maroon and Gold Nine

Litwhiler's Seventh Inning Homer with Two on Board Opens Successful Drive

Lock Haven was surprised Wednesday afternoon when the injured Huskies beat the Bald Eagles by a score of 12-3.

Norman Maza, of Nanticoke, who had his pitching arm injured when struck by a batted ball at the University of Pennsylvania game a week ago, proved his recovery has been complete.

Danny Litwhiler, who returned lame, drove out a home run in the seventh with two aboard and followed with a single in the ninth. McCutcheon, still bothered by an injury, left in the early innings while Banta and Housknecht did not make their appearance on the field. Both have injured ankles.

Andy Giermak, catcher, had a second inning homer with one man on base and later contributed a double and single to the 16 hit Husky barrage.

"Feg" Houck came through with four hits, one a double. Forsythe filled in at third and handled six chances faultlessly and had a booming triple in the eighth with one on.

During the past several years Dean Andruss has appeared on the program of this Association twice, has contributed to the Year Book in 1932 and 1936, and has served as Pennsylvania State Membership Chairman of the Eastern Commercial Teachers Association, which is the largest group of commercial teachers in the United States.

Professor W. C. Forney, Head of the Department of Business Education at the Bloomsburg State Teachers College, and Mr. Herbert McMahon of the same department, also attended the meeting.

GIRLS' SPORTS

Baseball, tennis, and quoits are on the program for all girls of the College who care for outdoor sports.

Dorothy Thomas, manager of baseball, informs us that there are one hundred girls out for baseball with nine on a team and no substitutes allowed. The games are played four nights a week—Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday.

The tennis tournament under the leadership of Donnabelle Smith and the quilt tournament lead by Martha Wright are scheduled for activity as soon as the spring weather permits.

Many coeds joined in the roller-skating party on East Fifth street last evening from seven to nine. The party was given police protection.

Six Veterans Form Nucleus of Net Team

Veterans from the 1937 net team include Bill Strawinski, Harrisburg, who with a No. 1 position lost but one match in 1937; Adolph Zalonis, Wilkes-Barre, who will be rounding out his fourth year of varsity tennis; Maelyn Smethers, Berwick, who will be playing his third year in varsity competition; Robert Hopkins, Lost Creek; and Walter Withka, Simpson, who will be playing their second year.

Dean Andruss Named Member of National Terminology Comm.

National Council of Business Education is cooperating with Phi Delta Kappa Fraternity in standardizing the terminology used in the various fields of education. Dean Harvey A. Andruss, of the State Teachers College at Bloomsburg, has been selected as a member of the Terminology Committee by the National Council. All of the current terms in the field of education will be defined, compared, and contrasted, so that some such uniformity of practice will emerge from this study as is now found in the Encyclopedia of Social Sciences, which has been in the process of completion for a number of years.

First Local Commercial Contest Staged in 1931

Beginning in 1931, the State Teachers College at Bloomsburg, acting through the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Pi Omega Pi Fraternity, has sponsored an annual contest for commercial students from the High Schools of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The number of schools participating has grown from twelve to fifty so that in 1936 it was necessary to divide the High Schools into two classes.

These examinations are planned to test the student's ability in performing tasks similar to those required in actual business situations. Out of the experience of the past seven years, has been evolved the true and false-correction test and the problem-point test. One is an improved modification of the two response test and the other offers an opportunity to score figure problems objectively on a point basis. These new testing media are used in the examinations in bookkeeping, typewriting, business law, and business arithmetic. Sufficient experimentation has justified the inclusion of these examinations in the annual bibliographies collected by Rutgers University and the office of Education, Washington, D. C.

The faculty of the Department of Business Education has cooperated in making contests and classroom examinations available for schools in fifteen states in the Union. They have also compiled several civil service examinations for the Unemployment Board of Review, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. Certain cities, Toledo, Ohio among them, use these contest examinations to help in the selection of their teachers of commercial subjects. These examinations have attracted wide-spread interest in newer evaluation devices in education and business.

The 1938 examinations will be given at the College on April 30 and May 7. Twenty-two schools with 117 students and teachers have enrolled for the April 30 examination. Twenty-four schools with 90 students and teachers have enrolled for the May 7 examination.

Al Finder

February 16, 1912 the sun rose brightly into the heavens and looked down upon a Shamokin home to greet a chubby baby boy who was later christened Alphonse E. Finder and was destined to make athletic history in his home town and at B. S. T. C. His first acquaintance with a baseball was disastrous for his powerful little wing hurled the projectile thru a plate glass window and made his pa slightly peeved at him. However this chashed opened his athletic career. A flawless shortstop who can whack out a hit at will can sum up his baseball prowess while his speed on the gridiron has won many yards for his Alma Mater.

1926-27 Started baseball and basketball career and was a member of the Grammar School Champ's Club. Made an evitable basketball record in the community.

1927-28 Became a yearling in H. S. Donned football togs and made quarterback on second team. Played varsity baseball and won his first scholastic letter award.

1928-29 Earned three letters—football, basketball, baseball.

1929-30 Again varsity man. Beginning to get old stuff these first string jobs.

1930-31 Co-Captain of both football and basketball. Had a whale of a season. Baseball discontinued on account of no competition.

1928-31 Played semi-pro baseball and semi-pro football with Shamokin Dramatics. Crowned champs of the Susquehanna Valley League.

1931-32 Named Coach of Jr. Varsity sports at Coal Twp. High and developed some mighty good material that later were runners-up in the H. S. state finals.

1932-33 Played more semi-pro ball and was again an integral part of the winning aggregation. Played Tri-County League baseball with Catawissa and hit for the top average of .462.

1933-34 Played in Central-Penn League. Team came in second. Hit .342. Entered B. S. T. C. and copped letters in football and baseball. Bloomsburg was state champs this season.

1935-36 More of the above at Bloom. Hit 18 homers in a Central-Penn League and achieved the name—"Home Run King."

1936-37 Played varsity football and baseball on the local campus and was elected captain of the Husky nine.

1937-38 Varsity football, varsity baseball and a member of the Intramural champs, Al Finder wins up his college career in sports with a fine record behind him which he can be proud of.

1938 Signed contract to play with Draper, N. C., in the Bi-State League. His first entrance into organized baseball circles in all of his 14 years on the diamond. This his 14 years on the diamond. This year also sees him wind up 4 years of varsity baseball at Bloom.

Our congrats to a fine fellow and one of the best ball tossers and clubbers ever recorded on the athletic rosters of the local college. Wherever this maroon and gold product goes he is bound to produce something outstanding when he coaches the sport that is to him a hobby

May "Popular Science" Prints Story About Prof. Keller's Favorite Hobby

Narrow Escapes While Training Simba and Other Animals Related in Story by Ed. Teale

Again Prof. Keller is lauded on his unique hobby which is rapidly gaining nation-wide recognition. This time it is by Edwin Teale in the May issue of Popular Science.

Mr. Teale gives an interesting account of the "backyard circus" and the "amateur trainer" with professional ability. Many of Prof. Keller's back-yard students are now appearing in vaudeville, circuses and motion pictures. Mr. Keller is continually adding to his collection, releasing his graduates to professional agencies when they have mastered the professor's prescribed curriculum. Mention was made of the Jungle Farm which attracted some 17,000 visitors last summer.

In discussing animal tendencies and nature, Mr. Teale tells of many narrow escapes Mr. Keller has had when his animals have turned upon him during a training period. One such incident was of Simba, a 170 lb. mountain lion, who, in leaping upon a swaying pedestal and becoming frightened, leaped for the nearest object in sight—Mr. Keller. Its great claws ripped the back out of his leather jacket and knocked him flat upon the ground. Later this Simba was taught to walk a tight rope—the only animal of its kind to perform such a feat.

The article is illustrated with pictures of Mr. Keller and his interesting animals, with which most of us are familiar.

Each member was given a sheet of paper out of which he was to tear a husky. The whole procedure was done behind the back. Eleanor Beckley and Ralph Baker were the winners. Each was presented with a prize.

Philosophy Corner

The world was given us to work and play in; apparently there is an increasing number of those who merely want to play and live at the expense of those who work.

Little things are the best, cheapest, and most effective forms of advertising yourself among those who do not know you.

George W. Blount.
