Business Club Delegates Report on Convention

Miss Betty Burnham represented the Business Education Club at the 47th annual convention of the Eastern Commercial Teachers Association, which was held in Philadelphia during the Easter vacation.

In her report to the club on April 20, Miss Burnham presented high lights from the convention. The theme of the convention, "Post-War Planning in Business Education." Of special interest were various systems of shorthand which are coming into prominence. They included Speedscript and Stenotype. The new shorthand keyboard typewriter was also explained to the group.

Miss Burnham told of the intensified teaching of typewriting demonstrated at the convention. She also presented helpful suggestions for more effective transcription methods.

Mr. W. S. Rygiel, club sponsor, attended the convention and commented on business applicants lack of training in certain phases of commercial work. Several speakers noted that one of the outstanding faults of beginning workers is the inability to follow directions.

The various literature which Miss Burnham and Mr. Rygiel obtained at the convention will be placed in the library for reference.

SENIORS TEACH!

Forty-two commercial, elementary and secondary Seniors are student teaching this trimester.

The Seniors in the Business Education department are practicing in Berwick, Bloomsburg and Danville. Those who journey to Berwick are—Betty Smith, Helen Parangosky, Anne Sabol, Edna Snyder, Florence Faust, Carmel Sirianni, Melva Kocher.

The accelerated students are teaching in Bloomsburg because classes interfere with bus schedules. Those who make up this group are Jean Ackerman, Saramarie Dockey, Salvatore Mazzeo, Harold Miller, Beth Ertel and Helen Oyer.

Mary Louise Scott, Joyce Hay and Lillian Baer carry lunches to Danville.

Elementary Seniors teaching in the Benjamin Franklin School are Anne Shortess, Lois Bryner, Margaret Latscha, Betty Fuller, Nelena Pope, Anita Behler, Louise Adams, Hazel Enama, Maryruth Lovering, Wanda Farnsworth, Effie Patterson, Ella Shargo, Meda Calvella, Lois Farr, Ruth Jones, Mary Parr, Mary Heimbach, Harriet Sterling and Fred Dent.

Secondary student teachers are assigned to the Bloomsburg High School and the Danville High School. Those in Bloomsburg are: Julian Zinzerella, Edward Hendricks, Betty Hagenbuch, Poletine Comuntzis and Margaret Dean. Jean Schrader and Mary Louise Madl travel to Danville.

PRESIDENT ADVOCATE EDUCATIONAL REVISION

Harrisburg, Pa., AP—Reduction of Pennsylvania's state teachers colleges from 14 to 6 was called for on April 19 by the Association of College Presidents of Pennsylvania in a program which also advocated drastic revision of the Commonwealth's educational administrative system.

The association representing 56 colleges and universities, urged that the remaining eight existing teachers schools "be used for the vocational and welfare needs not now adequately provided for in the State."

Another recommendation asked the State Legislature to increase the powers of the State Council of Education, now an advisory body, and make it "responsible for the State Superintendent of Public Instruction."

It also asked for a change in present law so that the Superintendent of Public Instruction be appointed by the council with the approval of the Governor "for a term of six years" and that he "shall not be a member of the State Council of Education."

The Association also advocated establishment of 4,000 four-year scholarships, 1,000 to be awarded each year, "for undergraduate study leading to a baccalaureate degree and useable in any college or university in Pennsylvania, approved by the State Council of Education."

The scholarships, which would be competitive, would have a value of $300 for a college year of two 16-week terms or its equivalent.

He-She Gala On Slate For May 19

The day-dorm party is coming in full swing again. The date selected is May 19. Guests of the college will be past presidents of the two organizations and faculty members and wives. At the end of the evening the present officers will introduce officers for next year.

SOCIAL SERVICE CLUB ACTIVE IN WAR WORK

Social Service Club—Attention B. S. T. C.! The Social Service Club needs waste paper. Boxes for it have been placed in the Day Room and one on each floor in the dormitory. Paper must be neatly folded or stacked and magazines should be given to Elvira Bitetti in the dormitory or Evelyn George in the Day Room.

If any girls are interested in doing work such as reading to the children at the hospital, participating in the Scrape Drive, knitting, or making scrap books, see Betty Zehner or Nelena Pope.

Many of the girls cooperated in the Red Cross Drive by working at the Red Cross Booth. This was a Social Service Club project, but many girls who were not members

Pauling and Chorus Will Give Program In Chapel on May 1

Commencement Activities Previewed TO BE UNUSUAL PROGRAM

Instead of the usual three-day commencement, this year's graduating class will have a two-day commencement because of transportation difficulties.

On Sunday, May 28, the Rev. Samuel William Strain will deliver the baccalaureate sermon in the auditorium in Carver Hall at 2:30 in the afternoon.

James R. Young, ace foreign correspondent and author of "Behind the Rising Sun," will deliver the commencement address on Monday morning, May 29, at the college. For 13 years Young was the director of the INS Far Eastern Office with headquarters in Tokyo. Young, one of the foremost speakers in America today or Japan, has a clean-cut insight into the Japanese manner of thinking, and of characteristics of the Japanese people. He is an authority on Japan and knows the type of enemy we face.

Alumni Day will be observed on Saturday, May 27. The program, now being arranged, will probably include a baseball game and an outdoor review of the Civil Air Patrol Cadets of Squadron 43, composed of units from Bloomsburg, Ashland, Sunbury, Shamokin and Milton.

May Banquet To Be Star Event

At a social meeting on Thursday evening, Pi Omega Pi, the honorary business fraternity, entertained the following newly pledged members: Gloria Belcastro, Rose Boyle, Eileen Falvey, Mary Schroeder, Catherine Longo.

Pi Omega Pi will have its largest event of the year on May 17. The members and guests will have a large banquet and party at the Kocher Hotel, Light Street.

SEMI-FORMAL COMING SOON TO THE COLLEGE

The big social event of this semester, as far as the lower classmen are concerned, will be the Freshman and Sophomore Hop on June 3.

The band committee, Ruth Fortner, chairman, Isabell Gehman and Horace Readler, is principally interested in securing the services of either Chuck Thomas and his Ambassadors of Wilkes-Barre, or Ivan Faux and his orchestra from Sunbury.

The "semi-formal" will be opened for members of the Freshman and Sophomore classes and their guests.

gave freely of their time. The club would like to take this opportunity to thank those who assisted with this project.

Will be Assisted by Women's Chorus Under Direction of Miss Moore

Miss Betty Pauling, assisted by the Women's Chorus under the direction of Miss Harriet M. Moore, is presenting the following musical program in chapel, Monday, May 1:

"The Lass With the Delicate Air"—Arne, arr. by Fox—Women's Chorus, Shirley Anne Williams, Soloist.

"The Little Yaller Dog"—Gallatly—Joyce Kramer.

"La Brunette"—Severn—Joy Dietterick.

"Carmencita"—Mexican Folksong, arr. by Riegger—Women's Chorus.

"It Must Be Wonderful Indeed"—Lisz; "Heavenly Manna"—Franck—Athamantia Comuntzis.

"Golliwog Cakewalk"—Debussy—Louise Adams.

"Perpetual Motion"—Bohm—Walter Rygiel.

"Villanelle"—Del 'Acqua—Marie Johnson.

"The Miller's Wooing"—Fanning—Women's Chorus.

Dean Commends the Students For Their Achievement

Dr. North announced a long-awaited for Dean's List in chapel on March 20.

To the embarrassment of those people named, he made them rise so that the rest of the student body could give them the "once-over."

Those whose names were on the list had a 2.0 cumulative average and a 2.5 average for a trimester average. They were: Lois Bryner, Poletine Comuntzis, Helen Cromis, Mary Dewald, Harold J. Miller, Nelena Pope, Mildred Dzuris, Mary Lou Fenstermaker, Athamantia Comuntzis, Mary M. Schroeder, Ruth Fortner, Isabel German, Harriet Rhodes, Karliss Kight, Alberta Naunas, Helen M. Wright, William Barrett, Richard R. Martin, Harry N. Peelor, Carl L. Stahlo, Letcher F. White.

FRANKLIN COMMISSIONED

Lt. T. R. Everett, executive officer of the V-12's, presented Chief Franklin with his commission as lieutenant j. g., DVS, U. S. N. R. The college witnessed the presentation during the assembly period Friday, April 21.

Lt. Franklin has been stationed at Bloomsburg since last summer.

FACULTY NOTE!

Saturday, April 22 Miss Bertha Rich unluckily fell and broke her wrist. Everyone hopes it will mend fast.

Horizons to Widen

The postwar period will see opportunity for college training extended to all Americans who can benefit from it, regardless of their financial status. This opinion is expressed by Dr. David D. Henry, executive vice-president of Wayne University, in the introduction to his annual report.

"Our nation," he states, "will implement the equalization of opportunity so that no longer will higher education be available just to those who happen to be able to pay their way. I think we can safely prophesy that in the years ahead there will be a demand for higher education unparalleled in the history of the nation or of the world."

Dr. Henry also forecast that, with the coming of peace, collegiate education will foresake narrow specialization and will be re-established upon a broader cultural basis.

"We recognize," he declares, "that the narrow specialization of university education today, forced upon our institutions by the war, does not represent the kind of balanced education which universities traditionally provide. Specialization has its place, but the great tradition of higher learning encompasses also the philosophies, the sciences, the humanities, and all those subjects which have to do with human relations in a civilized world. The day will come, when victory is won, when we shall find higher education returning to its normal balance.

"Men and women," he concludes, "will be hungry for the intellectual nourishment which has been denied to them, and communities will be eager to have full access to the fruits of learning." ACP.

WHERE HAS OUR SOCIAL LIFE GONE?

What has happened to the social life at Bloomsburg? Are there going to be no more social activities from now until the end of the year? The last dance for all members of the college community was right after the opening of the March trimester. More persons attended the dance than any other single function since last September. Everyone there certainly seemed to be having a good time.

EMILY SAYS...

Etiquette! The word itself causes many a soul to stiffen and cringe at the very mention of it. Really, it is quite a simple thing. Good manners are based almost entirely on kindness. The rest of etiquette is based on convenience of form and the wish to make life decorative and interesting.

We all enjoy doing that which we do well. This column "Emily Says—" aims to give helpful hints to those who would cultivate the social graces so important in every-day living.

The first topic to be discussed is that of "Introductions." Answered will be questions such as "Must a woman always rest when introduced? Is there more than one correct way of making an introduction? When, if ever, is a woman introduced to a man? When may one introduce oneself? What would or might you do if you were introduced as 'Dope' instead of 'Stope'?"

Until then—don't spill your tea or drink from the saucer!

Aunt Penelope

Dear Aunt Penelope: B. S. T. C.

I am an ardent fan of yours and I noticed in your policy that you can give advice on the art of getting and maintaining an A. Those eight-weeks grades are coming up and frankly I am worried. How about it, can you help me?

Sincerely,

An Ardent Student.

Dear Ardent Student: B. S. T. C.

You should see my files on "A-Getting." Did you know that your Aunt Penelope was the person responsible for the phenomenal success of the Jukes and the Kailikak's? Great statesmen such as Mussolini consult me before making any decisions. I have guided more people down the ladder of success than the head boss of Hades.

Here are a few "gems" from my collection. Flattery is useful on both male and female professors. Tell him he is the best teacher, outside of ten or fifteen others, in B. S. T. C.

Act helpless! Nothing is more appealing to an instructor than that blank wondering expression after he has spent an hour explaining a term. He'll dote on it.

Always give advice freely. Teachers, especially experienced ones, love to be told how to teach. After all this is a teachers college.

Now I'll take the nasty little item the "test." Try first to talk the instructor out of it. Tell him you don't understand the material. Tell him anything that will prevent the test. If, however, all these things fail and the test is inevitable you must prepare for it. There are many ways to transport information from a text book to a test paper. It can be carried in the head but that's silly and not much fun. I like to write the information under red nail polish on my finger nails. Then when I see something in the test that I don't know I peel off the polish and there is the dope.

Another method is V-mail. Send your text book to the nearest V-mail center and have it made into a convenient palm size. Then smuggle it into the classroom under your pom-

The orchestra was the best we have had at an all-college dance for years.

Why not have a dance like that again and soon? Or have a party of some kind? Let's put a little life into the college community.

DORSEY ORCHESTRA TO PLAY AT DANCE

There is a word of haunting beauty to every newspaperman or woman; a word of sublime meaning; a word that is like a chicken dinner to a starving man; like a drink of water to a man on the Sahara without a canteen; like a drink (not water) to a dipsomaniac; like a bottle of hair-restorer to Rudy Tezak . . . and that word is Filler. Now, to the uninitiated, this word may have no meaning, so in order to educate you further along journalistic lines, following is a definition of the aforementioned word.

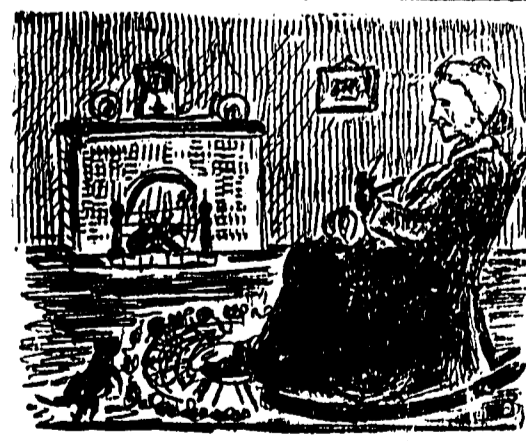

It's like this; early to bed and early to rise makes a man gather no moss, which allows us to draw the conclusion that ratchets are small so take six. And do remember this, my child, when you go out into the world, and profit by these words; the rose bowl isn't filled with roses but the dust bowl is filled with dust. And if you put ten cents in you can talk for six minutes, but that's only after seven o'clock, and you can't talk then anyway because Fred Waring is on. It might be opportune to mention at this time that this is a prize-winning contest, so tear the wall paper from your living room walls and send it to us with a self-addressed stamped truck and we'll shoot the chassis to you, lassies.

Always keep your galoshes on even when it isn't raining, because you never know when you'll get run down with a bicycle, and you do want to die with your boots on, don't you?

Another main point is that chlorophyll is just a mixture of Scotch rusk and Mail Pouch, so don't be afraid of it. Well, not more than four or five times, baby. And to get to the point, if you want to have your wash on the line Monday morning before any one else, stay up all Sunday night and do it.

In conclusion, it is probably rather obvious to you by now, what the meaning of the word FILLER is! So I will not explain it any further at present, but no doubt there will be more of the same in future issues.

Also, it must also be obvious that the title of this little epic is merely to catch the reader's eye. After all, who said that Dorsey's orchestra was going to play at B. S. T. C.? He must be playing at a dance somewhere.

padour or back of the tongue of your shoe.

If this information isn't sufficient or is ineffective you have only the beastly alternative—study. But that is a drastic step I never advise. It would be far better to quit school and join the local Nazi Bund. You won't need any head work in that.

Affectionately,

Aunt Penelope.

Co-eds at Montana University don't believe in love at first sight. And despite the war-time trend, they are in no big rush to get married. These facts are revealed in a campus survey of attitudes toward engagement and marriage in a sociology class. The conclusions were based on the answers of 95 university women, the average age of the group being 19. A romantic 18 per cent said "love at first sight" was a requisite to a happy marriage, but an impressive 82 per cent thought there is nothing to it. They also agreed that 25 is the ideal marriage age for men, and 23 for women.

Plastics now may be made from potatoes! A process developed by the College of Idaho utilize waste potato pulp to make a water-resistant plastic suitable for insulators and ceramic products. (ACP).

What are the first three words a bride thinks of when she is getting married? Isle, Altar, Hymn!

What is the present-day collegian's version of an "ideal professor?" At a survey conducted at Westminster College the fellows surprised a lot of people by saying that they would rather have middle aged women standing before them in the classroom rather than a glamorous young graduate. "Less distraction from the books," one male explained. To add a bit of humanism, students appreciate the touch of "absent-mindedness" so traditionally associated with college professors. For example, forgetting that quiz he intended to spring as a surprise, or failing to call for that list of physics problems.

BISONS DOWNS HUSKIES IN HOME OPENER

B. S. T. C. Nine Bow 9-6 in the First Baseball Row of Season

Bucknell, having opened their season earlier in the week with a win over Elizabeth College, marred the opening of the Huskies' baseball season last Saturday by pounding out a 9 to 6 victory. But it was a battle all the way with the Huskies improving as the innings went along.

Bucknell Takes Lead

Bucknell obtained a commanding lead in the initial inning when with two men away, two Bloomsburg errors followed by two singles gave the Bisons a three-run lead. However, the Huskies marked two on their side of the ledger following Gezich's triple and a Bucknell error in the home-team half of the first, and in the second, Kenealy, waiting on third after pounding out a three bagger, scored on Don Gleasner's pinch hit single.

The guests then proceeded to put the game on ice with four big runs in the top of the fifth. Again the locals bounced back and went on the war-path. Burns, who hurled effective ball for the opponent, became wild and walked three men in succession. Catcher Kenealy brought the Huskies within one run of tying the score when he immediately cleared the bases with a tremendous homer into deep center field.

Bucknell Pushes Over

The score remained 7 to 6 until the visitors' half of the eighth at which time Bucknell pushed over two runs—and that was the ball game.

Gil Sittler started on the mound for the Huskies and hurled good ball for an opening game of the season. Don Gleasner, a V-5 who has hurled semi-pro ball, pinch hit for Gil in the second frame and finished the game.

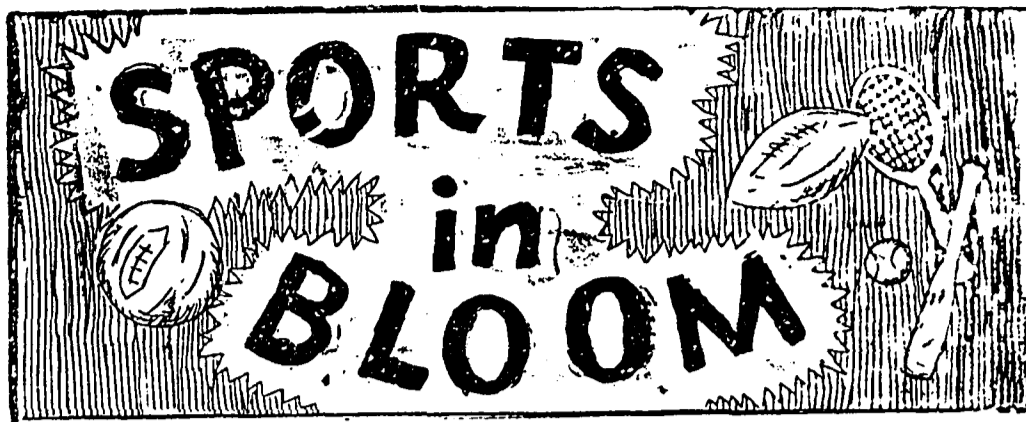

The box score shows that Bucknell collected their nine runs on fourteen hits while Bloom garnered six runs on seven hits.

Sports

There were so many 4-F's after the last sport's quiz that we are giving everyone a chance to be reclassified. Allow five points for each correct answer.

25 ----- 4-F
30 ---- Limited Service
35 ----- 1-A

- Who won the 1943 "Most Valuable Player Awards" in the American League? The National League? Ten points if you answer them both.
- How many miles an hour does a pitched baseball travel? 40-95-113-128-720.
- 1936 was the last year in which the Olympic Games were held. Name the country that acted as host.
- Don't get discouraged because this one is a cinch. What is the important stroke in tennis?
- Of course you know that Warmerdam is the only man to vault 15 feet or more, but do you know the greatest height he has vaulted officially? Was it: 15' 2 1/4"—15' 4"—15' 5"—15' 7 1/4"—15' 8 1/2."
- is to Wisconsin as Bollermakers is to Purdue.

Tennis Schedule

In spring a young man's fancy turns to—why? tennis, of course. So far there are six scheduled matches in store for Bloomsburg. The home and away series are with the following schools—Bucknell, Lehigh and Muhlenberg. The only set dates are on May 6, at Bucknell and May 20 with Bucknell here. Arrangements for some other matches are not complete. Get ready for May 20 and go out and help Bloomsburg beat Bucknell.

Koch to Coach Team

Dean Koch is in charge of the tennis aspirants and he will call for organized practice as soon as the weather man permits.

ANSWERS TO SPORTS QUIZ

- The American League—Spurgeon Chandler of the Yankees; National League—Stanley Musial of the Cardinals.
- 95 is close enough. Atley Donald threw one in the Cleveland Stadium which traveled at the rate of 94.7 miles an hour. This was the fastest time ever recorded on the speed meter owned by the Indians.
- Berlin, Germany. Boy! It wouldn't be possible to hold a marble tournament there now.
- The service.
- 15' 8 1/2" and without a parachute.
- Badgers.
- Hershey, Pennsylvania.
- Robert M. Grove. He won exactly 300 before retiring.

BASKETBALL SCHEDULE

As of today there are eleven baseball games carded for B. S. T. C. The schedule will probably be altered, as the season progresses. The team will continue to function during the summer months.

April 15—Lehigh—(Rain)	-----	Away
April 22—Bucknell—(6-9)	-----	Home
April 29—Elizabethtown	-----	Home
May 6—Muhlenberg	-----	Home
May 10—Elizabethtown	-----	Away
May 20—Bucknell	-----	Away
May 24—Muhlenberg	-----	Away
May 27—Olmstead Air Force	-----	Home
May 31—Lehigh	-----	Home
June 23—Olmstead Air Force	-----	Away
July 22—Penn State	-----	Away

- Where is the Golf Capital of America? I'm sorry we can't tell you that the course referred to is located in Pennsylvania.
- We don't want you to go away mad, so try this one on for size. Who was the last pitcher to win 300 Major League games?

TRACKMEN COMPETE IN PENN RELAYS

Coach Buchheit and five members of the track squad left for Philadelphia yesterday afternoon to participate in the Penn Relays at Franklin Field. Bloomsburg, along with Virginia State, Muhlenberg, Morgan State, Lincoln, Loyola, Brooklyn College, Rider and Franklin and Marshall, is scheduled for the College Relay which gets underway this afternoon at 1:30. The event is one mile in length so each man will run the 440.

Preparation

In preparation for the relays, the team, manned by Navy V-12's, performed in the Indoor Track Meet at Camden Convention Hall on April 8. They turned in a good report, placing in four events. Carl McHenry won his heat in the 50 yard dash, and finished third in the final. Thomas Pippitt took third in the 2 mile run. Robert Hamblet won his heat, 600-yard run, on time but did not qualify for the final as the second heat was much faster and occupied the first four places. In the mile run Joseph Morgan finished fifth in a field of eight.

Untarnished Score

B. S. T. C. possesses an enviable track record. During the last seven years the Huskies have not been defeated in dual competition, accumulating a total of twenty-three consecutive wins over such teams as Muhlenberg, East Stroudsburg, Susquehanna, West Chester and Bucknell. The track schedule for this season is still in the tentative stage, consequently it is not ready for publication.

Coach Buchheit picked five from the following men to run this afternoon for the Maroon and Gold: Edward Watson, Bob Hamblet, Carl McHenry, Andrew Markus, David Jackson, Richard Smith, Joseph Morgan, John White and Rex Hoffman.

Busy All Year

Junior—Gee, it's tough. I don't know what to do about my school-work. I can't study in the fall because I gotta play football. Can't study in the winter 'cause I gotta play basketball. And in the spring I gotta play baseball.

Frosh—What about the summer?

Junior—Can't study in the summer because I gotta girl!

Poetry

Out of the mist of an April cloud,
Falling to soak the thawing earth;
Glossing the grass a silky green;
Mixing below with the river's fog;
Hated by some for its dampening sweep;
Greeted by buds which make May proud;
Blood to the life March mothered in birth;
Striped with a beauty seldom seen;
Gluttonous mud sops her up like a hog;
Swelling rain comes flooding the deep.

IF

What would this world be if:
A head of cabbage wore a hat.
The feet on a ruler wore shoes.
The hands on a clock wore gloves.
The chair legs had hair.
The eyes of a potato wore glasses.
A light plug could socket.
If people could eat track meet.

Pvt. Loren L. Collins wrote a jolly letter which we meant to publish in the last issue; but somehow our limited problem caused the "good wine" of our column to be cut out. This time we'll start with Loren's letter: GO AHEAD, "CHIPPS."

Mr. Chipps?

Pvt. Loren L. Collins.
Yes! I was transferred from the Engineers to the Air Corps. But that isn't all. I was given a position as Photo Technician at the Base Photo Lab. I am very enthused over my new assignment and I am acquiring knowledge that will prove very helpful and beneficial to me in my hobby after the war. Gosh! But I will be glad when this is over.

I have approximately twenty more months to go here in the Aleutians. Men! Have you ever lived in a world without a beautiful red head or a gorgeous brunette, or a golden blond maiden to cast your eyes upon and wink at now and then, or pass on the street and say, "Oh! I thought you were Marjorie." Well, I am, and I don't like it. I know I didn't take much interest in women while I was at college, but I never dreamed, at that time, it would go to this extreme. Did you?

We have a few nurses here, but I am not an officer, I am just a Buck Private. But we all hope some day our dream will come true and we will be able to cast our eyes upon a damsel again.

After Thought

Keep the postman busy, for the more mail you write, will return the male you want that much sooner.

Reason Enough

Lt. Edward Walinchus.
Visited the Shakespearian memorials—his burial place, his wife's and mother's birthplaces, etc. Little did I dream I'd see these places when I sat in Miss Shaw's Lit. class. I even wrote an essay on Strafford-on-Avon for her. In general everything is quite ancient here and old fashioned, though the people are kind and friendly—give me the U. S. A. The reason why I want to come back to Bloom is for just a dip in the pool.

Nearly Bloomsburg

A/S Michael Soback.
It certainly was a surprise to get a copy of the Maroon and Gold down here in North Carolina. It really brought me memories of B. S. T. C.

This college, at which this C. T. D. is located, is somewhat similar to Bloomsburg. They even have a Maroon and Gold paper. It reminded me of home when I first came here.

I've met a few of the fellows from B. S. T. C. here in N. C., Leo Carter and Frank Taylor are well-known to B. S. T. C. I would say Bloomsburg was well represented in the Armed Forces.

In closing, I wish to express my gratitude to those of you who made it possible for us in the Service to get a copy of the Maroon and Gold.

"Short Word Hardy"
S/Sgt. Al. Hardysh.

Just dropping you a short, very short notice in a change of my address as I want to be sure to get my copy of the Maroon and Gold. All is well here, wish I could be with you all on May 27th. Let's hope!

Way Back When

Cpl. Anthony Sicurella.
I received two copies of the Maroon and Gold. They were a little late; however, I read every word.

I ran into a son of an old "Bloom" man—Ray W. Taylor—he attended from 1902-1904. Have you got him on your records? He tells me his Dad was quite a football star.

I would like to hear from my former classmates—Betty Hagenbuch, Helen Parangosky, Stella Williams, and all the rest of my friends.

I am attached to a medicine unit and like it very much.

Please accept my sincere appreciation for your efforts in getting the Maroon and Gold to me.

They Say

That the college students were very happy to have Lt. Stew Yorks and Sgt. Larry Doster on campus again. It seemed like old times.

That Phil Yeany just received his commission in the Army Air Corps and is also among one of our welcome visitors on campus. Jerry Fritz, Clayton Patterson and Davy Jones were back two weeks ago. Lt. Jones was certainly glad to see that his red pajamas were still flying in the tree. They are a faded lavender by now, though.

That Ginger Rogers says weekends in Bloomsburg are rather boring these days.

That we were slow in telling you about Peggy Heness being engaged to Pvt. Joseph Stoddard who is stationed at New Jersey.

That Betsy Smith has to get up at 6:00 o'clock every morning except Saturday and Sunday to go to Berwick; and that even on Saturday and Sunday she sets her clock for 6:00 so that she can have the pleasure of turning it off, telling it just exactly where to go, and finally turning over to sleep some more. It sounds like a good idea—in fact, I now hear that more student teachers are trying it.

"Wings Over Bloomsburg" stepped out once more. This time the film traveled to Berwick High School on Wednesday morning, April 19.

Lt. John Koch before showing the film spoke on the changes airplanes will bring to the world after the war. Students at the end of the movie were given an opportunity to ask questions.
