Freshman Hop - Sophomore Cotillion A Success

The long-awaited and much-talked about Freshman Hop-Sophomore Cotillion was held on May 4, amid a steady downpour. "Mother Nature" wasn't particularly kind to the college community that day, but in spite of that, the dance was a decided success.

The springtime atmosphere created by maypoles and rainbow striped crepe paper, prevailed during the entire evening. Lovely gowns and corsages made the environment much more delightful.

Ivan Faux and his orchestra began playing at precisely eight-thirty and so the hop got off to a good start. By alternating two slow pieces with a fast one, Mr. Faux pleased every type of dancer including the "dreamer" and the "jitterbug." A half-hour intermission refreshed the couples sufficiently enough to allow them to finish the evening at an enjoyable pace.

The line of patrons and patronesses was surprisingly long, and both the

School Represented At Lock Haven S.C.A. Conference

'We Transform Our World—'
Theme of Area Meeting

Student Christian Association sent two delegates, Renee Paul and Marjorie Stover, to Lock Haven State Teachers College for S.C.A. Area Conference on May 4, 1945. The conference began Friday evening May 4, 1945, and continued until noon Sunday, May 6, 1945. There were speakers from State College, Pennsylvania, Bucknell University, and Mansfield State Teachers College. Forty delegates from colleges in the Middle Atlantic Region represented their Student Christian organizations from their campuses. O.D.T. ruling limited the number of out-of-town delegates because of over-crowding transportation facilities.

The theme of the conference was "We Transform Our World" and all of the speakers and the discussion groups talked around that central idea.

The first address given by Rev. Robert Eads of Penn State was "We Look at our World." He emphasized the fact that people are forgetting religion and its power in our lives. People are beginning to feel that they do not need what the church has to offer. He said that we cannot separate religion from all of life and have a good world.

The second address was given by Dr. Gordon Poteat of Bucknell University and its text was "We Act In Our World." Dr. Poteat spent a great deal of his life in China. He told of the tremendous tasks the Chinese people have done in their world. He cited instances of huge undertakings by one lone ambitious Chinaman with ideas and courage. He told the groups that anything can be done if the individual wants it badly enough and is willing to work to make it a success.

Professor William V. Dennis from Penn State gave the closing address on "We Transform Our World." He said that the "starting mark" in transforming our world is for us to "look at ourselves." We must then decide definitely on what kind of a world we want and then see what we can do to help make it that way. He said that we, as college students, must learn all we possibly can by reading, discussing and then finally meditating on what we have read and discussed.

Throughout the conference in all of the addresses and discussions the problem of racial equality came up. It was apparent that this problem will be a major one in the future.

Quiet Celebration Here on V-E Day

Following this theme from President Truman's address, the College Community celebrated V-E Day with continuous classes broken only by an assembly at 9:30.

The singing of hymns, praying of the Lord's Prayer, pledging allegiance to the flag, the summarizing of the President's address, and the comparing of this war and its peace to other conflicts in the United States by Lt. Ferguson constituted the service in recognition of the official V-E Day.

Business Educ. Dept. Sponsors 13th Annual Commercial Contest

Examinations Given in Book-keeping, Shorthand and Typing; Thirteen Schools

The Thirteenth Pennsylvania Commercial contest was held at the Bloomsburg State Teachers College Saturday May 5. Thirteen schools were represented, bringing fifty students and faculty members to the campus. Examinations were given in Shorthand, Typewriting and Book-keeping.

Individual awards were given to contestants winning first, second, and third places in each contest. First place was given a gold charm, second place a silver charm and third place a bronze charm. A plaque was presented to the school scoring the greatest number of points.

The students in the Department of Business Education assisted in conducting the contest.

Five Years of Transition . . .

What of the Future?

by HARVEY A. ANDRUSS

Buildings and Equipment

While colleges are not buildings alone, the plant provides background and atmosphere for learning. Even the casual observer notes the construction of a new building without having any idea as to what goes on inside.

Public funds are more easily obtained for those additions to the plant which are most likely to be noticed. Just prior to the opening of the five-year period under consideration, the General State Authority had expended almost $600,000 in a building program which placed the following new structures on our campus—(1) Gymnasium; (2) Laboratory School; (3) Shop Building; (4) Addition to the Heating Plant.

The problem of putting these buildings into operation on a budget, based on the operation of the plant before the buildings were constructed, meant a delay in putting the new structures into use. Equipment was needed, and most of all new underground conduits for power and light of all buildings had become an absolute necessity.

During the half-decade just past, over one-third of a million dollars has been spent on Buildings and Fixed Equipment, Movable Equipment, Contracted Repairs, Grading Roads and Walks. These funds are provided as follows:

General State Authority	$177,193
College Budget (Estimated at April 1, 1945)	160,000
Total	$337,193

The ability of the college to provide almost one-half of the amount expended was due to the funds from its war programs.

Among the chief changes brought about by our war programs has been the shift in enrollment which has made necessary increased facilities for men. The conversion of dormitories was made possible through rebuilding of five toilet rooms and the replastering and relighting of North Hall (Men's Dormitory). The conversion of the dining room into a cafeteria was the result of labor shortage accompanied by the renovation of the kitchen.

The net result of all the changes made to accommodate the war programs can best be summarized by stating that the total dormitory facilities of the college can now be available for either men or women, depending on the relative needs. An increased number of students can be accommodated in the dining room through the use of cafeteria service. This may mean a great deal in the future.

Prior to 1940 from 100 to 150 men had to find living accommodations in the Town of Bloomsburg, since we did not have dormitory facilities to accommodate them. At the same time, our dormitory facilities for women were used to less than 50% capacity.

While eight (8) different war programs have been in operation during the five-year period, the primary function of the college, the education of teachers, has continued to develop. This improvement has been reflected in existing areas, namely, Business, Elementary, and Secondary Curriculums, and through the addition and expansion of certain other areas, such as Educational Clinic, Field of Speech Correction, Field of Aeronautics, and the addition of Spanish as an elective in both Business Education and the Secondary Fields. The Experimental Laboratory School in Aviation was without parallel in our nation in 1944.

Circus Comes To College

Wednesday morning, May 2, the college community was hilariously entertained by Professor George Keller of the local faculty.

True to form he brought his own cheering section from the Training School and after a few friendly remarks about certain of his colleagues, Mr. Keller told the story of his hobby for training wild animals and his lifelong love for the circus. This tale proved to be not only very entertaining but promoted the idea that Americans are a very curious lot and also that they can be plain-ordinary "suckers."

Following his most enlightening and amusing story Mr. Keller showed a colored film which gave a picture history of his animal show. Not everything one sees that goes on behind the scenes is as exciting and enticing as one would surmise. For example, it would not be very advantageous to set up a stand in the very near future at the college and try to sell candied apples.

It Happened Again

With Spring well on its way, the birds are busy building their nests. As the bluebirds visit the mission at Capistrano, so too, does Ben, the Robin, visit North Hall by making her home on the fire-stairs.

It's a long story how Ben came here. It was way back in 1936 when we had that terrific flood that Ben made his home on the Stairs. Ever since the robin comes back and made its home on the stairs, but in a different position; so that the wind or the rain won't affect the nest any. During this year, I'm told, she was quite fortunate, for she had her picture in the Press as she was feeding her young.

As the boys and the janitor in North Hall saw that spring was in the air; so too, were they watching a poor little robin once more making a nest. While the nest was being constructed, the boys went around their business as usual. But, when four little blue eggs were seen in the nest, everybody at North Hall began to walk around and worry as if they were a father of a newly-born babe. Then action began. The janitor, faithful Ben Bordent, put up a notice once again with his most favorite passage, "Expectant Mother, Please keep off the fire-stairs." Having this passage in mind at all times, the boys refrained from using the fire-stairs. So today we have four more new members up at North Hall. Yes, they are four new robins, Ernie, Crano, Frank, and Joe.

HAVE YOU NOTICED?

Have you noticed the "Thought for Today" bulletin board at the left side of the Social Room entrance? If you are a thoughtful individual (and we hope you are) perhaps you will have a suggestion for "Thought for Today."

May Queen to Reign at Annual Fete
 Kutztown State Teachers College will crown their May Queen at the annual May Day celebration in the college auditorium. The Old English theme of the pageant will be carried out with elizabethan costumes and a verse narrative: "Sgt. George and the Dragon," the traditional English Christmas pageant, will be part of the festival.

Sports n' Stuff

Mushball is definitely the thing that everyone is doing these days at Indiana State Teachers College. Shrieks of RUN! RUN! are heard everywhere, while the bewildered coeds firmly hold their ground—so astonishing it is to actually hit a homer.

Sad news came to the lifesavers last week when the pool had to be closed because of the lack of chlorine. Ah well, things are tough everywhere these days.

A Legitimate Cut

Ginny Tomion of Michigan State College was more than a little embarrassed last week when she cut her 4 p.m. lit class only to meet the professor in the hall. She explained that some cigarettes had just come in at Byrnes' stores and even offered to split a package with him. Prof. A. J. Smith held out for a whole package.

Huskies Wallop Ursinus 10 to 1

The rainy spell felt by Eastern Pennsylvania during the past two weeks has more or less stymied the efforts of the college baseball team to show its contents. Just one of the four scheduled contests against college competition was able to be squeezed in between showers. The games rained out were the two scheduled with Elizabethtown and one against Bucknell U. The only one played which we won handily was against Ursinus at Collegeville.

Rain Wins Out

From the moment the umpire belated "Play ball" there were threatening skies while they finally gave forth a steady drizzle which started in the eighth inning and continued to the end of the game.

The Huskies opened the first inning going down in order with Terhune sending the centerfielder far back to haul down his high lift. Ursinus threatened in their half loading the sacks with 2 out, but Stackton was cut down at the plate trying a steal of home, retiring the side.

Huskies Build Score

In the top half of the second Davis opened up with a single and raced around to third as Klinefelter drilled one through the box. Klinefelter wasted no time stealing second. Mariaschin walked loading the bases. On the next play Shaud bobbled Masterson's roller permitting 2 runs to score leaving men on first and third. Bottger lined a single to right scoring another tally sending Masterson to third. Strong followed with a one bagger Masterson scoring Bottger stopping at second. Mueller tied for a double play on Zagoudis' smash but only managed to force Strong at second. Zagoudis stole second placing runners at second and third who promptly came in on Terhune's smash past second. At this point Mitchell replaced Starer on the mound and wasted no time making Pratico and Davis go down on strikes ending the Husky explosion. Ursinus failed to pick up anything in the last half of the frame wasting a hit by Mueller.

Saul Steals Four

Typical of the hustle shown by the Huskies was Mariaschin's theft of home in the third inning. After he had singled, stole second and was sent to third via Masterson's roller to Shaud, he promptly rode home on the first pitch making a nice slide past the catcher. Mariaschin, by the way, stole four bases for the day.

Both teams picked up counters in the fifth inning, the Huskies knotting two and Ursinus their lone tally. In the Bloom half two doubles by Klinefelter and Strong sandwiching two singles by Mariaschin and Masterson netted two markers. Two walks, a hit batter and a single spelled the story of the Ursinus tally.

Strong kept the opposition in check, not having any difficulty except for a little trouble in the seventh inning which he ended himself throwing out Robertson. The Huskies countered their last tally in the sixth frame on Pratico's single and Davis' double. In the ninth Connell replaced Mitchell on the mound and struck out the side.

It's still early in the season for comparison, but Navy beat Ursinus 11-1 and Ursinus defeated Muhlenburg 9-0. You can draw your own

1945 Track Opposition Exhausted, So Team "Hangs Up Spikes"

Charlie Johnson Number 1 Man for Husky Squad

After one dual meet and a successful fling that brought a fourth place at the Penn Relays last Saturday, the track season came to an abrupt halt this week with the announcement that all available competition had already been exhausted. Disbandment of the team brought to a close a promising season, which should have seen a good share of success go to the Navy Trackmen. None of the existing school marks were cracked, but this was a well balanced team which was capable of holding its own against any of the opponents B.S.T.C. might normally have encountered.

Penn Relays High Spot

High spot of the season of course, was the fourth spot garnered at the Penn Relays by the mile team consisting of Devine, McCormick, Spegal and Johnson. Running in a wide field the Huskies trailed Lincoln, Wayne University, and Swarthmore to the tape. Johnson broke away quickly but tired at the end of his heat and the Huskies were in fifth as McCormick took over. "Barney" pushed the Bloom aggregation into fourth as he passed the Rider runner, and Spegal and Devine held on to that spot for the rest of the way but couldn't do better than cut Swarthmore's third place advantage by several yards.

Whole Squad Success

conclusions as to the caliber of the team "Doc" Nelson has under his wing.

Business Ed. Members Discuss Phases Of Business Careers

Mr. Forney, Director of the Business Education Department, was the speaker at the regular meeting of the Business Education Club held Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Forney discussed the Thirteenth Annual Commercial Contest held Saturday, May 5, and assigned duties to the members of the club.

This contest is sponsored by the Business Education Department of the college, assisted by the members of the Business Education Club and Pi Omega Pi Fraternity.

Members of the club read brief characterizations of the humorous types of office workers.

Some of the members spoke about their experiences in office positions they held during summer vacations. They discussed the interview, the types of machines they used, the type of work they did, and some of the humorous incidents they encountered.

Science Club Plans Annual Field Trip

At the last meeting of the Science Club on Thursday, May 3, Barney McCormick, A/S gave an interesting demonstration of the Cathode Ray Oscilloscope which is used to detect currents of electricity.

Plans are being formulated for the annual field trip to Kitchen Creek Falls on June 7. Committees appointed for this event are: Food, Pauline Egizie, Chairman; Lola Good, Eugene McBride, and Charles Wagner. Transportation, John Hmelnicky and Dolores DeVizia.

Seniors Make Plans For Graduation

Obiter Still on Sale

At a recent class meeting the Senior Class various committees reported on the Canteen, Obiter, and Memorial. The Obiter is expected to be finished the week before graduation to be held June 23.

Tentative plans were made for Ivy Day and Baccalaureate scheduled for Wednesday June 20. The seniors are using the money from the profits of the Canteen to help pay for the Obiter and Class Memorial.

A few Obiters are still available. If you haven't ordered yours, do so now.

Receive Active Pi Omega Pi Members

The regular monthly meeting of Pi Omega Pi was held in the Social Rooms of Science Hall, Thursday evening, April 26.

The main event of the evening was the initiation of the following students who are now active members of Pi Omega Pi: Kay Kurilla, Anne Bucinell, Isabel Gehman.

USO Scrapbooks, New Project for S.S. Club

The latest activity of the Social Service Club has been the making of scrapbooks containing cartoons, jokes and short stories to be sent to soldiers in hospitals overseas. The U.S.O. provides the blank books which are filled with clippings by members of the club.

The Social Service Club is to be congratulated on its work during the clothing drive.

Sgt. Alvin Woodring

Alvin has recently been issued a membership card in the "I bombed Japan Club," an organization composed of Eleventh Air Force combat personnel who have bombed Japanese positions in their home territory in the Kurile Island chain.

Al obtained membership in the enviable club by virtue of participation in raids over Shimushu Island. He is an aerial gunner.

Pfc. Ralph Seltzer

Ralph has been reported a prisoner of Germany. Two letters have been received from him under the dates of January 24 and February.

2nd Lieut. Earl Harris

Second Lieutenant Earl J. Harris, twenty-four, was killed in action on the island of Cebu in the Philippines on March 28.

The officer, an infantryman, was wounded on Bougainville on July 8, 1944 but returned to action after being hospitalized more than two months with injuries to the foot and arm.

The officer held the Purple Heart with one cluster having been wounded on Leyte, March 12, although his wounds at that time were much less severe than he had earlier sustained at Bougainville.

He was in the invasion of Leyte, first of the Philippines to be reconquered, and from there went to Cebu.

Cpl. James Marion

I received the Maroon and Gold of March 20 and 27 in yesterday's post. Thanks loads. I like to keep up with all the doings back in school. I noticed that a few of the girls have graduated. It doesn't seem possible that the years go by so quickly. I think that time just stands still in the Army. I had a letter from Xen last week. I guess he is itching to get into some combat flying. I guess its just human nature to want something more. I went down to Bournemouth, Bath, and Salisbury on furlough a couple of weeks ago. I met a fellow who went to High School with me. We were guests at a Rotary Club luncheon.

I am going to try to take a course at one of the universities when I get my next furlough. I will once again try to write more often.

An Oak Leaf Cluster to his Air Medal has been awarded to Staff Sergeant Charles H. Bomboy, 24, Bloomsburg, Pa., for "courage, coolness and skill . . ." while participating in bombing attacks on military and industrial targets in Germany.

HIGH FLIGHT

Oh I have slipped the surly bond of earth
And danced the skies on laughter-silvered wings;
Sunward I've climbed, and joined the tumbling mirth
Of sun-split clouds--and done a hundred things
You have not dreamed of --
Wheeled and soared and swung
Here in the sun-lit silence.
Hov'ring there
I've chased the shouting wind along,
and flung
My eager craft thru the footless halls of air.
Up, up the long delirious, burning blue
I've topped the wind-swept heights with easy grace
Where never lark, or even eagle flew--
And, while with silent lifting mind
I've trod
The high untrespassed sanctity of space,
Put out my hand and touched the face of God.

CLOTHING AND FURNISHINGS

"Day" Ditties . . .

I entered the Day Room today to find a buzzing sound from one of the corners. Circled around were Winnie Ebbie, Bitetti, and Flaharty discussing their new assignments of student teaching. Main discussion was Will it be more work with lesson plans or Not? (Dear me, Oh for the life of a student teacher.)

Sharpless has been quite busy this week tearing her hair out to take her exam to enter a Nursing course.

I also noticed up at the gym class that the girls are warming up for their spring training in baseball. Dainty Smith trips lightly up to strike out, while the opposite Utt goes up and makes a home run. Shaffer throws a fly. Miss McCammon hollers "Out! Throw the ball to Fisk. Pappas why didn't you run home?? Stitzel, you dare move from your base! Hathaway, don't carry the bat with you. Come on. Let's play ball!! Bitch, get near your base. All right now. Bases are loaded. Now watch your step."

Berlew, the star player catches a fly, throws the ball to all loaded bases making three outs. (Did you ever see such miracles? Wow! What a team!)
