Editorially

Homecoming Day this year has a greater significance than ever before. It is a celebration that marks both the arrival of veterans and alumni and the departure of the Navy from the College community.

College life once more seems to be slowly regaining its pre-war status, and the presence of men in civilian clothes has become more noticeable. Every member of the campus has seen the "blues" and "whites" of the Navy men so long and so often that their absence will create a different atmosphere than has prevailed for several years.

Because they are so numerous and so varied, it's rather difficult to list all the contributions the V-12 men have made to B. S. T. C. Without a doubt, their largest contribution lies in the field of sports. With the assistance of able coaches and a few civilian men, the Navy-manned basketball, baseball and football teams soared to top-ranking positions, and thus gave the college outstanding publicity and boosted the school spirit.

Not to be neglected is the part the V-12's played in reestablishing and maintaining the social life of the school.

Oh! the Life of a Freshman!

Have the students of B. S. T. C. suddenly gone crazy? No, you are wrong. What has suddenly taken over the campus is a spirited group of Freshmen having customs. This Freshman class is really taking college in its stride and the college, or at least the upperclass dorm and day girls, are taking the Freshman girls in. The girls who show all their loveliness without the use of make up and jewelry are dorm frosh—and those girls who wear blouses inside out and backwards, put half their hair in a pigtail, wear one stocking and one sock or different colored socks, carry their books in everything from buckets to pillow cases—those girls are the new day women. The dorm girls get their share of initiation in the dorm, but the day girls have theirs out in public. For instance, on Friday, October 12, the day Frosh staged a fly funeral. They really did the works. They murdered a poor unsuspecting fly, then mourned

Student Teaching in the Limelight

At the present time, it is usually quite disconcerting to hear a group of seniors talking together. They are generally talking about their children and recounting the clever and not-so-clever things the miniature quiz kids have said or done. They are not, however, discussing their own precocious offsprings as one might at first believe, but instead, "their" pupils.

For the great event to which seniors look forward with such mixed feelings has come—the time when they take the big trip around to the other side of the desk and become the teacher instead of the pupil. By this time, almost all of the student teachers have taught their first lesson.

The elementary student teachers under Miss Hazen and her staff of training teachers at the Benjamin Franklin Training School, and the secondary student teachers under Mr. Baylor and his corps of cooperating teachers in Bloomsburg, Berwick and Danville High Schools are learning to put theory into practice. Most of them say that it is a grand experience, but that it keeps them well occupied. Their present assignments will remain the same until the next semester.

The following people are either trudging to and from the high school, scurrying up and down the hill to the Benjamin Franklin, or rushing at the last minute to catch a bus to Berwick or Danville:

Completely Absent

The absent-minded professor looked in most of the stores in town for his lost umbrella and finally located it.

"Oh, thanks, thanks so much," he exclaimed. "You're the only honest store in town. All the others said they didn't have it."

Quiet Please

The man in the theatre was annoyed by the conversation in the row behind him.

Huskies Defeat East Stroudsburg, 13 to 0

Kishbaugh Sprints 90 Yards For a Touchdown on Opening Kickoff October 6

The East Stroudsburg State Teachers College gridgers inaugurated their 1945 football season on October 6, by bowing before the Bloomsburg V-12 eleven, 13 to 0. A few brave spectators witnessed the game through a steady drizzle. The initial score in the game came in the first thirty seconds when the East Stroudsburg kickoff was taken by Kishbaugh on the ten yard line who raced 90 yards to score, crossing the goal line unmolested. Simon then crashed the center of the line to make the extra point good. After a see-saw affair, the first quarter ended with the East Stroudsburg team holding possession of the ball.

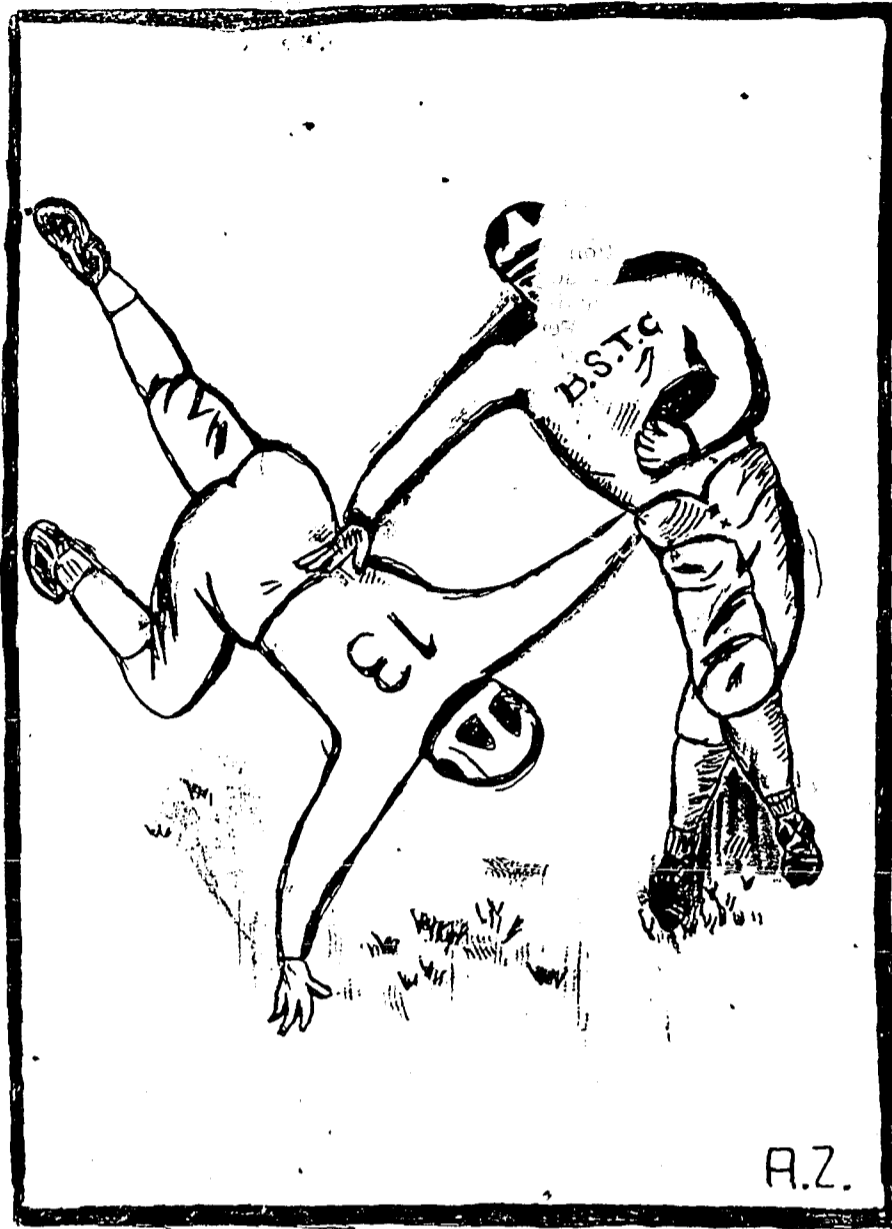

After a few exchanges of punts, the Strouds had their backs to the wall because they were deep in their own territory. After successfully running a few plays, Bloom advanced the ball, thus giving the Huskies possession in East Stroudsburg's 30 yard marker. This was the set-up for the second score because Zagoudis then let loose with an aerial that Ackerman snatched out of the sky to score standing up. The placement for the extra point failed, and the Reds trailed the Huskies 13 to 0.

Bloomsburg's kickoff after the score was returned by Mink to his own 35 yard line. A series of running plays by Stitser and Virgilio failed to materialize, and East Stroudsburg was forced to kick on downs. Runs by Lickwood, Bloomsburg's substitute halfback, failed to penetrate the line of scrimmage; so Bloomsburg was forced to kick. The East Stroudsburg charges then displayed their power when they pushed the V-12 gridgers to their own 5 yard line. The best defensive play of the game was shown at this point with the Husky line holding, sparked by co-captain Bob Cloutman who sailed through to spill a reverse play on the last down for a considerable loss. The half ended with Bloom in possession of the ball and leading 13-0.

The third quarter proved to be a stalemate with neither team being able to advance the ball enough to offer a serious threat. The period became a punting duel between Mink of East Stroudsburg and Strong of Bloomsburg with boys getting off some fine kicks. The period ended with Bloomsburg holding possession.

A pass from Simon to Devine started the last quarter and it was good enough for a first down on the East Stroudsburg 30 yard line. Bloomsburg lost the ball on a fumble the next play and Jones recovered for East Stroudsburg. This play started the East Stroudsburg's charges rolling once more as Jackabella, a hard charging back who went into the game as a substitute, began an almost single handed march from his own 30 to Bloomsburg's 7 yard line. Here, however, the Bloomsburg line proved impregnable, and East Stroudsburg lost the ball on downs as the final whistle blew. Carazo, Lapchak, Matalavage and Stetser all played good ball for the Big Reds, as did Devine, Kishbaugh, Strong and Allenby for the Huskies. Although East Stroudsburg lost the game, they piled up 12 first downs against 5 for the Huskies.

Football Team's 1945 Debut

Huskies Lose 7-6 to the Lock Haven State Teachers College Last Saturday

Bloomsburg State Teachers College football team, making its 1945 debut at Lock Haven on Saturday after only eight drills, put up a real battle before being stopped by the Bald Eagles 7 to 6 in a good game. It was the second contest for Lock Haven who opened a week earlier against Scranton. Bloomsburg's team was wavered entirely by Navy Trainees.

The Bald Eagles scored in the first period on a drive that was on the ground most of the way, but featured a pass which ate up considerable yardage and gave them a first down on the Huskies' twenty. Later Tefel, Bald Eagles' full back, went over for the touchdown, and Pinberg cracked the line for what appeared to be the winning point.

The Huskies drove back in the second period, starting in mid-field and cashing in on a twenty-yard pass play. Johnny Zagoudis, a reserve back, tossed the pass to Jim Strong, left end. The play started as a reverse. Strong caught the ball in the end zone. Cloutman tried to tie the score with a placement, but the kick was too low. Bloomsburg had a splendid chance to push over a winning score late in that period when Simons intercepted a Lock Haven pass in his own forty and raced to Lock Haven's ten.

Neither club could get a sustained drive going in the second half. Lock Haven had a slight advantage on the basis of statistics. The victors gained eighty-six yards rushing to sixty-two for Bloomsburg and had a nine to eight edge in first downs. Lock Haven gained 122 yards on passes to eighty-two for Bloomsburg. They intercepted three Bloomsburg passes and the Huskies snared two launched by the Eagles. Lock Haven fumbled four times and the Huskies but twice. The victors lost fifteen yards on penalties, and Bloomsburg was set back forty yards for rule infractions.

The line-up:

| Bloomsburg | Lock Haven |
|------------------|-----------------------|
| Strong | L. E. Eyer |
| Nutaitis | L. T. Skitka |

American System Is Not Perfect!

The American System is not perfect. It would be just plain silly to claim that there isn't plenty of room for improvement in our American Way of Life. But this much can be said. Although our system is not perfect, it's many times better than a system of strict government control of everything.

Proof? Look to Europe. There, to solve the problems of poverty and unemployment, quite a few countries tried to find the answer in "the government taking over."

What happened? Recent events tell the sad story. After the government took over "for the good of all," it began to gobble up more and more power through more and more controls of business and personal lives.

Were "the people" better off? If being virtual slaves of a tiny but all-powerful dictatorial band is being "better off," then the people of Europe were really "in the park." But we Americans don't like being "better off" that way.

No, our system isn't perfect. No system can be "perfect" until the people themselves improve. But this much can be said. The way to make the American System better is for each of us to be better citizens—and not to seek perfection in constantly increasing government control which in the end means slavery.

some years ago, from the University of California.

He has been, in addition to his work at the college, keenly active in the life of the community and in demand throughout Central Pennsylvania as a commencement and after-dinner speaker.

For years he has taken a leading role in the activities of the Caldwell Consistory and is now a member of the Board of Trustees of that body. He was crowned as a Thirty-third degree Mason at the sessions of the Supreme Council in Cleveland, Ohio, in September, 1944.

Dr. Nelson has been associated with the rapidly growing college alumni association throughout his tenure at the local institution. He has for years served as a member of the board of directors and business manager of the Alumni Quarterly. The directors at their annual meeting in June elected him president of the association, filling a vacancy created by the death of R. Bruce Albert.

He is a past president of the Bloomsburg Kiwanis Club, a member of its board of directors.

He was named faculty manager of athletics at the Teachers College one year after he was named to the faculty and efficiently held that position throughout the balance of his service in Bloomsburg. His baseball team of 1934 won the State Teachers College championship and several of his squad through the years have gone on into professional baseball. These include Danny Litwhiler, now in the service, who has played in the big leagues four years with the Philadelphia and St. Louis clubs of the National League, and Bernie Cobb, now coach at Shickshinny high school, who had several years in Class A and AA minor league competition and one season was named the outstanding player in the Texas League.

In Waller Hall Gymnasium, Friday, October 5, the Freshman class plus the nurses really went to town. With everyone dressed in the best (?) clothes of her extreme youth the party got underway with kid games and a grand march. Some of the faculty guests of the party presented those most deserving with appropriate prizes. The Freshman orchestra, a group of six girls directed by Miss Moore, played several pieces. Other entertainment of the floor show included a rip-roaring truth-and-consequences game, vocal and instrumental selections and a reading. The refreshment committee provided soft drink, pretzels and animal crackers which hit the spot. After partaking of the "cats" ambitious Freshmen turned on the juke box and danced. The party ended with the singing of the Alma Mater and Good-night Ladies.
