Cheyney Host for Annual Associated Student Government Conference

The State Teachers College at Cheyney, Pa., was the host on October 26 and 27 to student delegates representing the Associated Student Governments in all the Pennsylvania State Teachers Colleges. Before dinner a brief recreation period in the college gymnasium was enjoyed.

The high-light of Friday evening was a three-act monodrama by Miss Welty entitled, "The Mystery of Theodosia Burr," written and produced by Miss Welty. This is an account of the talented and determined "first

The First American Army University

By HARVEY A. ANDRUSS, President, B. S. T. C.

An Educational First

In Shrivenham, Berkshire, England, began the first American Army University for G. I. students. July, 1945, was spent in revising catalogue descriptions, constructing schedules, and preparing registration routines for 4,000 enlisted men and officers sent from Continental Europe.

August marked the arrival of G. I. students from every state of the Union. New York headed the list with 595, Pennsylvania was second, and Nevada just got under the wire with one student. Almost half of the students had attended college previously, 12½ per cent having graduated. The average was 24 years and every state university was represented. Thus the Shrivenham Army University was not only the first of its kind, but truly an American institution.

An English Setting

Berkshire is a delightful part of the English countryside. The village of Shrivenham is two hours' traveling from London and less than one hour from Oxford. For a period of eight weeks, students lived in a setting saturated with tradition and history; within sight of White Horse Vale and White Horse Hill, the campaigns of King Alfred against the Danes, the contest between St. George and the Dragon, Wayland Smith's magic forge, and the scene of Tom Brown's School Days.

A Truly Representative Enterprise

Only a unique project as an army university could attract a faculty of 225 from civilian colleges and universities and army officers with previous teaching experience in institutions of higher learning. These instructors, many of whom are distinguished teachers and scholars, came from 150 different institutions. Institutions were most cooperative in releasing members of already depleted staffs to undertake this most important and challenging assignment.

In the first American Army University instructors find the most exciting experience of their professional careers—students of high quality, responsive, charged with seriousness and high purpose, eager to pick up the broken thread of their schooling or tense with the anticipation in beginning their college careers.

Since soldiers awaiting deployment or transport could not get to an American campus, a complete university was brought to him. A university with all the trappings and outward aspect of an institution in America—library, laboratories, seminars, catalogues, registration, counseling, lectures, competitive athletics, football team, coaches and cheerleaders, dramatics, band, orchestra, chorus, art exhibits, dances, dates, school journeys, field trips, radio, hobbies, arguments, loafing, "cokes," and bull sessions.

The Army University is truly an American institution.

The Army Plan

The Army Education Program is that part of the training program providing educational activities not related directly to military duties or supervised recreation. Its objectives are:

- To assist in the maintenance of military discipline and morale.
- Without delaying the separation from service of any individual, to assist in the preparation of each man for his return to civilian life.

Implementing this program, gave rise to several kinds of schools to provide educational facilities capable of answering the needs and preferences of an army composed of men and women who represent all levels of educational achievement and all kinds of occupational and professional aptitudes. The chief school organizations are:

- The Unit School of 1,000 men or less. Its program includes vocational training, on-the-job training, general education, literary training, and educational advisement.
- The Technical School offers specialized vocational or on-the-job training.
- Civilian Colleges and Universities are used to the extent they are available when the size of the institution, its location, the breadth of its curriculum, its proximity to other cultural advantages, its scholastic repute are such as to promote sound international relations and produce results approximating those found in representative American institutions.
- The University Study Centers are intended to:
 - Provide educational opportunities

Noted Pianist to Perform at College

Dorothy Parrish, talented young American pianist whose playing is colorful and imaginative will perform for the College Community November 14. Miss Parrish has presented concerts all over the world.

Indirectly

Maggie—"Yes, Nellie was furious about the way in which the newspapers reported her marriage."

Mollie—"Why, did it mention her age?"

Maggie—"Well, a bit indirectly, I'd say. It stated that, 'Miss Nellie Spinstor and Mr. Batch were married, the latter being a well-known collector of antiques'."

Cheap Enough

HUSKEY QUINTET STARTS DRILLS

Thirteen Games Now Listed; Most Candidates Are War Veterans

A tentative thirteen game basketball schedule of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College has been announced for the current season by Dr. Thomas P. North, Acting President of the college.

The schedule as arranged at present includes the following: December 12, Elizabethtown, away; December 15, Kutztown, home; January 5, Lock Haven, home; January 12, Shippensburg, home; January 18, Millersville, away; January 26, Kutztown, away; February 2, West Chester, home; February 12, Lock Haven, away; February 16, Millersville, home; February 22, East Stroudsburg, away; March 1, East Stroudsburg, home.

Bloomsburg will be represented on the court this year by a team composed largely of ex-service men. Candidates practicing now include: Hmelnicky, Exeter; Flaherty, Bloomsburg; Samois, Danville; Scarella, Parnell, Pape, Zimmerman, all of Hazleton; Davis, Kingston; Harmony, State College; Blackburn, Trucksville and Hartman, Bloomsburg. The last nine are ex-service men.

GREYHOUND STRIKE IS A HEADACHE

The Greyhound lines strike which started Wednesday, October 31, has proved to be a headache to the college students. The students prior to the strike could hardly wait for the week-end to come around the corner; but now that attitude has been changed. Everyone is hoping that the week-end will never come because that's the time when more headaches seem to occur. It means that people who are anxious to get home must either telephone for their parents to come for them, or else use the thumb, which—incidentally girls— isn't bad when you know how to do it.

Perhaps if the Navy were here, the attitude of the students might be different because there was always excitement with them around. There wasn't a dull moment—especially with the music in Waller Hall, so early in the morning as well as in the evening.

STANLEY HIGH TO ADDRESS P. S. E. A. ON NOVEMBER 30

Stanley High, one of America's best known lecturers, will address the Northeastern District meeting of the Pennsylvania State Education Association, Friday evening, November 30, at the Bloomsburg State Teachers College.

A former World War I pilot, Mr. High joined a commission traveling through Europe to study reconstruction problems after which he journeyed widely in China and Japan. He has been director of talks for the National Broadcasting Company and a regular contributor to the Saturday Evening Post. At present as roving editor of the Readers Digest he makes politics, public affairs and public men his special field. The subject of his lecture at Bloomsburg will be "What Kind of America Do We Want?"

"Hi neighbor," did you hear about all the fun that was had at the square dance on Monday evening, November 5, which was held in the old gym of Noetling Hall at 7:30 P. M.? Everyone had a hilarious time trying to square dance to the music of Bulla's orchestra. They learned to promenade, alleman left, grand right and left, and elbow swing, under the guidance of Harry Dietterick and Dean and Mrs. Koch.

To get in the swing of it, the students formed a huge circle around the exhibition set, in order to learn the basic steps and calls. Later they made individual sets of eight, and, because of the man power situation, girls in slacks masqueraded as fellows.

The dancing terminated at 10:30, and it was obvious by the aching feet and smiling faces that all the square dancers spent an enjoyable evening.

HUSKIES TO PLAY ELIZABETHTOWN

The Bloomsburg State Teachers College basketball squad, composed largely of G. I.'s returned to school, is holding practice sessions in preparation for their regular scheduled opening game with Elizabethtown on December 12, away. An effort is being made to arrange a game with the Bloomsburg alumni to be played locally preceding the Elizabethtown game.

A change in schedule shifts Elizabethtown at Bloomsburg from February 12 to February 27.

An effort is being made to amplify the present thirteen game schedule with additional games. An attempt will be made to schedule games with Bucknell, Penn State and Susquehanna.

The present squad will be enlarged in the opening of the second semester, January 26, when a number of returned veterans plan to enter the local institution.

M. & G. BAND AND ORCHESTRA ORGANIZE

After being inactive for three years the Maroon and Gold Band and Orchestra has started rehearsals. The following group of people who turned out last Tuesday are just enough to form the foundation of a good orchestra. They are looking more to the future than to anything they could do this year. More people are needed to prepare a program on a broader scale. Rehearsals are held every Tuesday at 4:00 o'clock in room 40. All people who play band or orchestra instruments should join.

Ring Offered For Marathon

John Snowden Will Give Prize in 36th Running at Berwick on November 22

More diamonds gave new lustre to the 36th running of the famous Berwick marathon race when C. N. MacCrea, director, announced that the Hon. John Snowden, of Williamsport, has contributed a diamond ring for the event.

Mr. Snowden is the senator from the district in which Berwick is located.

3 Diamonds Offered

That makes three diamond rings now on hand for the general field. This award will be known as the senatorial prize.

Because of the attractive award an outstanding field is in prospect for this year, MacCrea said. There are several more trophies being considered by interested parties to complete an outstanding prize list.

Previously, Harry J. Haas, of Philadelphia, and Congressman Wilson D. Gillette, of Towanda, signified that they would offer their usual diamond rings this year for the Thanksgiving Day classic set for the afternoon of November 22.

MacCrea said that the announcement of the remainder of the prizes would be made within the next few days. He expects that this year will be one in which a large field of harriers will try their skills on the hills of the course.

SECOND OPEN HOUSE MEETING FEATURES SCAVENGER HUNT

On October 25, the second "Open House" at the centennial gymnasium was held for the girls. The program was divided in two parts and was under the direction of Miss Lucy McCammon.

The first part of the program consisted of a fast-moving cage ball game, ending with a difference in score of one point.

This was followed by a scavenger hunt. The girls were divided in teams of six and sent with lists to find the specific articles named. Some of the articles required were an animal's tooth, a kitten, a red hair, something unusual, a man's shoe, and a hot dog. After the hunt everybody met at Miss McCammon's home for refreshments of cocoa and doughnuts. The evening was a success and everybody had a wonderful time.

LEWIS ALVER SPOKE TO COLLEGE ASSEMBLY

Mr. Lewis Alver, author, world traveler and businessman, was the guest speaker at a recent assembly of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College. Mr. Alver later in the day was the guest of the Economics class in college in which Mr. William Forney was the instructor.

One Thing at a Time

The old man had been very much occupied all by himself over near the fire place. He was working with a stub of pencil and a piece of paper.

"Doggon!" he exclaimed happily, "if I ain't learned to write!"

His wife dropped her knitting and came to look over the scrawl. "What do it say?" she asked.

"I don't know," the old man replied with a puzzled frown. "I ain't learned to read yet."

Business Education Club Inspects an Italian Typewriter

Mr. Rygiel Pictures the Telephone of Tomorrow; Meeting Was Held October 4

The Business Education Club held a very interesting meeting on October 4 in Carver Hall.

Kay Kurilla, Atlas, Pa.; Rose Cerchiaro, Nesquehoning, Pa.; Gloria Gillis, Duryea, Pa.; Helen Fehl, West Reading, Pa.; Evelyn Witman, Shillington, Pa., and Anne Williams, Luzerne, Pa., presented two humorous skits, entitled "How Not to Apply For a Job." Following these skits, there was an open discussion of job-hunting technique.

John Guy, Nesquehoning, Pa., veteran of five years service with the Army, demonstrated an Italian typewriter which he "liberated" from the Germans when the American Army entered Italy. After the meeting, each student was given an opportunity to inspect and operate the machine.

Mr. Rygiel, sponsor of the Business Education Club, explained the probable improvements which will appear in the telephone of the future. Mr. Rygiel said that the telephone will not only be equipped with television, but will also have some means of recording calls in case of the owner's absence.

Rose Cerchiaro, Gloria Gillis, chairmen; Harold Miller, Danville, Pa.; Eileen Falvey, Berwick, Pa., were appointed as an Honorary Membership Committee to select the Senior who made the most outstanding contribution to the Business Education Club.

STUDENT CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION HAS WEINER ROAST

On October 3, 1945, the Student Christian Association held its first meeting of this year with thirty-eight old and new members attending.

The officers for this year are: President ----- Renee Paul Vice-President ----- Mae Klinger Secretary-Treasurer ----- Mary Probst Advisor ----- Miss Major The Program Committee consists of June Novack and Mary Moser.

At the last meeting of the S. C. A., a weiner roast was held on Mount Olympus. After the business meeting, appropriate songs and games were enjoyed by all.

Two delegates, Janet Gilbody and Mary Moser, are going to be sent to an S. C. A. Conference at Williamsport, Pa.

FRESHMEN GIRLS COMPETE AGAINST SOPHOMORE GIRLS

The Freshmen class has shown its spirit and eagerness for competition with the upperclassmen. Several cage-ball games between Freshmen and Sophomores are being conducted successfully.

Although excellent players compose the Sophomore teams, the Freshmen are doing a fine job in holding their own.

More games have already been scheduled and both teams are practicing during their regular class periods.

In offering this opportunity for expression of true team work in athletics, Miss McCammon has stimulated a great deal of interest in gymnastics on the campus.

G-2 on Servicemen

Lt. James Dennes was recently married to Miss Mary Anne Voss, of Lynn, Missouri. He is located at Camp Crowder, Missouri.

Some familiar faces on campus on Homecoming Day were: Cpl. John Magill, Lt. Thomas Graw V. S. W., Ensign Mike Remetz. Mike reported to California for overseas duty. EM3/c Conrad Schaeffer is home for a twenty day leave. S/Sgt. Raymond Chaudler is "sweating out" a discharge. Lt. Andy Magill has been spending some of his life in India. Cpl. John Thomas and his "missus," Louise Seaman, Stuart Yorks has recently been discharged. We hear wedding bells are in the offering.

Cpl. Laren Collins is headed toward home after two years in Adak in the Aleutians. "Chips" expects to be discharged.

Sgt. Carl Berninger, who is stationed at Morrison Field in West Palm Beach, Florida, recently visited the campus.

Cpl. Harry G. John has received his discharge, having recently returned from nineteen months overseas service in England and Italy, with the Engineer Division of the Eighth Army Air Force.

Lt. Lee R. Beaumont is teaching in the Commerce Department at the Shrinham Army University in England.

Betty Katerman and Raymond Alcott were married on Homecoming Day. They will make their home in Cambridge, Mass., while Ray studies at M. I. T. He recently returned from over two years service in the Middle East, Africa and Italy, with the Air Force as a meteorologist. Ray also worked in the office of Strategic Services in the Paratroop Division.

NOTICE!

The Booster Committee has been reestablished this year to assist in backing and promoting any activities that concern the College Community. As co-chairmen of this committee, Jean Richard and Peter Parnell, are endeavoring to carry out their duties as well as possible; but to make such a venture a success, they need cooperation of the entire student body.

Rosanna Broadt, as chairman of the Bulletin Board Committee, will gladly post any information or news that concerns the students. Any material to be thus posted should be given to her or to Betty Lingle, her assistant.

Anyone interested in publicity who has workable and original ideas should speak to either of the chairmen about them and would thus be contributing to his college.

The sooner everyone realizes that this committee is willing and able to boost any extra-curricular activities, any social or sports events, or just anything in general that needs promoting, the sooner it will be able to function advantageously for the whole school.

Conclusions

It isn't what you think about a girl that counts—it's what she thinks you think . . .

There was a time when girls stayed home because they had nothing to wear . . .

No woman can be wholly convinced that a man really loves her until he buys her something she doesn't need at a price he can't afford . . .

A man who says he is boss in his home will probably lie about other things, too. . .

Every married man knows that home is the place he can say what he pleases because no one pays any attention to him. . .

Girls

I think that I shall never see
A girl refuse a meal that's free
A girl whose hungry eyes are fixed
Upon a cake that's being mixed.
A girl who doesn't always wear
A bunch of junk to match her hair.
Gals are loved by guys like me,
Cause who would want to kiss a tree.

"THAT DOES IT" OR "THE INEVITABLE INITIATION OF THE GREEN TEACHER"

There she was, standing precariously on the brink of a new adventure, ready to plunge into the "deep" of student teaching.

The subject was spelling. "Is there a word you would especially like to study before we have the test?" And of course, there were—many of them.

"If you have no other word you wish to study, you may open your spelling notebooks and get your pencils ready for the test."

In a surprisingly short time the children are ready. With a special effort she brings her voice, which she has swallowed—remember, this is the first time—back to its normal position and prepares to speak.

But what is that waving around at the back of the room? You've guessed it—a hand.

To be or not to be—will she or will she not call on her?

Up goes the surrender flag. "Have you a question, Helen," she asks. (As if she would wave her hand so irrationally if she didn't have a question).

"Miss Dodo, would you mind erasing the words we have been studying from the board before we take the test?"

That does it! Miss Dodo has taken the plunge. The waters may be deep for a while, but she'll make it to the other shore because there are boys and girls, just like Helen, rooting for her.

Do Your Best

There are so many heartaches, there are so many tears,
And life flows along in silence as we travel through the years.
It's up to us to be happy, it's up to us to be gay,
Our lives would be so empty if we made no efforts on our way.
What's the use in fussing, why be always glum,
All you need is gumption and a good dose of fun.
Then your face looks better, your eyes are brighter too,
You'll step six inches higher, a better man are you.

Other interesting features of the two-day conference program included a tour of the campus, group photographs of the delegates, informal reception, business at which time Edinboro State Teachers College was voted to be host to next year's conference, and an informal buffet luncheon.

The delegates from Bloomsburg to this conference were: Anne Baldy, Helene Brown, Henry Gatski, Marcia Patterson, Helen Wright and Dean John Koch.
