THORNHILL COMING!

Contracts Are in the Mail

At a special meeting of the College Council called by the president, William Horvath, on Monday, October 21, the council members voted unanimously for the dance featuring Claude Thornhill and his orchestra. President Andruss approved their decision.

The dance, one of the most important events of the school year, will be held Tuesday, November 26, the night before the Thanksgiving vacation which begins Wednesday noon, in the Centennial Gymnasium. The time has been set at 8:00 o'clock to 12:00, and the dress semi-formal.

Each student is allowed to bring one guest couple. The price of the tickets is $2.00 per person. These tickets are on sale now in the C. G. A. office.

The C. G. A. Social Committee, headed by Robert Millard, contacted Claude Thornhill through the William Morris Agency, Rockefeller Center, New York. The contracts are already in the mail and so definite plans can now be completed for the dance.

At the present, Thornhill is playing in the Hotel Pennsylvania, New York City, and can be heard nightly on the radio. His theme song, "Snowfall," and several of his other records have been requested for the "juke box" in the gymnasium so that the students will have an opportunity to become familiar with his style. There is little probability, however, that any of the students aren't already Thornhill fans because his band ranks so highly on the Name Band List.

The "Maroon and Gold" will publish a picture of the orchestra and interesting information about it in the next issue.

B. S. T. C. REPRESENTED AT ANNUAL CONFERENCE

Invitations have been received for the Ninth Annual Conference of Associated Student Governments of the State Teachers Colleges of Pennsylvania, to be held at the State Teachers College, Edinboro, Pennsylvania, on October 25-26. President Andruss appointed Dr. Kehr as faculty representative, and the College Council elected Mary Moser and Harry John student representatives from B. S. T. C.

The purpose of this conference is to open to discussion groups the various problems confronting the student bodies represented. This year, there will be four major problems discussed:

1. How can a small school initiate a co-operative store financed with the student activity fee?
2. Do Penn State students create new problems on campus?
3. Extra-curricular activities.
  - a. Is limiting an individual's extra-curricular activities advisable?
  - b. What method of limitations can be placed on each individual?

The tiny dance floor was jammed. One young woman begged her G. I. partner to sit the rest of the dance out, but the young man would have none of it.

"I should say not," he told her, happily. "This is the first chance I have ever had to bump into a captain!"

A five-year-old boy fell and cut his upper lip so badly that a doctor was summoned to sew up the wound. The distracted mother groaned:

Mother—Oh, doctor, I'm afraid it will leave a disfiguring scar.

The boy said (looking up into his mother's tear-filled eyes)—Never mind, mother dear, my mustache will cover it.

William Hummel To Edit Obiter

Yearbook Staff Has Been Selected From Senior Class

This year's Obiter is to be edited by William Hummel, of Espy. "Bill" who served as Editor for the 1946 Student Handbook, has written feature articles for the MAROON AND GOLD for the past two years.

The Obiter staff has selected a colonial theme for this year's Obiter. The colonial aspects of the campus will be accentuated and carried out through the book. The staff is also planning to use "Old English" type wherever possible to conform with this colonial theme.

The following have been chosen by the Senior Class President, with the recommendation of members of the faculty, to assist the editor: William Hummel, Editor; Renee Paul, Assistant Editor; Harriet Rhodes, Business Manager; Helen May Wright, Manager of Photography.

The art work in the yearbook is under the direction of Basil Lynch. Various classes and clubs will furnish the remaining personnel.

For the information of the Freshmen, the Obiter contains all data about the Seniors and Senior class, besides features on all clubs, societies, sororities, fraternities, sports, and other activities of the college community.

Information has been sent to the bidders through the business manager, although no replies have yet been received.

An Inheritance

Little Johnny brought home his report card and with it was a note from the teacher.

"Dear Mrs. Jones," said the note, "Johnny is a bright boy, but he spends all his time with the girls. I'm trying to think up a way to cure him."

Mrs. Jones studied the note, then wrote the teacher as follows:

"Dear Miss Smith: If you find a way to cure him, please let me know. I'm having the same trouble with his father."

School Spirit and Your Cheerleaders

Did you ever notice in newsreel shots of major league baseball games the great enthusiasm exhibited by the fans for "their" team or in the shots of college football games the support the spectators give "their" school elevens?

Evidently few people on the Bloomsburg campus have observed such examples or similar ones. It's very apparent at the college games there's a minimum of that quality, known usually, as school spirit, around here. With the enrollment we have this year, the largest in the college's history, our team support ought to be double or triple what it has been the past few years. As yet, it seems lacking a majority following.

The college has a fine troupe of cheerleaders. These students try hard to arouse vocal support—to let the team know that the rest of the college community is standing behind them and in spite of all their efforts, these rooters are receiving little cooperation cheering them on to victory from the student body.

Not everybody can represent his college on the gridiron, the soccer field, the basketball court, the baseball diamond, or in other of the athletic events; but those majority who must be spectators could let the community know they are proud of their teams and are right behind them in every game.

Support your team by displaying a school spirit that proves your loyalty. Your cheer-leaders are ready to lead you. Help them out next game and the next game and all through the sports seasons.

An Interested Spectator.

The Cad!

"So you deceived your husband," said the judge gravely.

"On the contrary, your honor, he deceived me. He said he was going out of town and he didn't go."

Let's Not Destroy the Foundation

Our free American Way of Life is founded on one big idea—business and personal freedom. For, we have found down through the years that, when people and business are free, we have more of the other things which go to make up the American Way—jobs, more things for more people, more happiness, more progress.

For personal freedom means that men and women can give their imaginations and creative abilities the widest possible opportunity to seek out new ways and means of improving man's lot.

And business freedom gives us the plant, productive capacity and sales ability to see that more and better goods are produced and distributed to more and more people.

Yet, there are still some folks who want to destroy that foundation of our American Way. These folks insist that personal and business freedom should be replaced by more and more government control so that people can have "more security."

Before we permit anyone to destroy that personal and business freedom on which our American Way is founded, let's remember what a strong foundation it is—and give it the protection it merits.

Ed. Note:—The poster covering the above article has been placed in the lobby.

NEED MORE FACULTY MEMBERS

The college enrollment plan is to admit two sections of Freshmen in January, with around forty to a section. This will require the addition of two faculty members, making the number of new members for the term twenty.

This was a pretty good buy! On August 1, 1868, Alaska was bought from Russia for $7,200,000.00.

Practice Teaching Daze

"Hello, Teacher." That is the affectionate greeting used quite profusely these days among the dignified Seniors who are doing practice teaching in several of the local schools. If they seem to have a far away stare in their eyes, it is not because they feel superior to the other students, it is because they are still a bit dazed by their new positions.

After three long years of college, suddenly they find themselves apprenticed to training teachers. Now is the time for them to try their techniques, subject matter content, and personalities on young Americans.

Along with class observations and teaching, they are still college students. This is one of their last chances to store information, directly or indirectly, before they are turned out into the cruel, cold world. It's read this, read that; become acquainted with a great variety of source material for the fields to be taught; learn how to find information when it is needed, no one can learn everything; find out about the other subject matter fields, see how they all tie up together; how is the education world being changed, what are the future teachers going to do about that; know about teacher's ethics, placement services, pensions, tenure, etc.; what are the desirable personal qualities in a teacher, the professional qualities; what do you think about this, about that, and so on.

From the descriptions found in many books they formulate a mental image of an ideal student teacher. The composite picture generally is an individual—well groomed, poised, in good health, having a definite air of assurance about him, overflowing with personality, a good worker and co-operator, a minor genius in his field, etc. This is another explanation for that strange facial expression. It is an attempt toward transforming into this most desirable character.

That is why, understanding underclassmen, one should have patience with these people. Do be sympathetic and though you may not be the least bit interested, be willing to listen to their practice teachings joys and sorrows. Remember, you will be a Senior some day.

WHO'S THE CULPRIT?

"Beat Bloom." That's what those glittering, gold and black letters that were found on many of the college walks spell. Apparently a frustrated sign-painter visited B. S. T. C.'s green campus last Thursday, in the dead of night, and, after having printed that subversive motto in several places, dumped the remainder of his paint on the head of one of the lions.

Whoever he was, the artistic vandal escaped detection completely. One opinion places guilt on a group of children who may have been prematurely celebrating Hallowe'en. The general opinion, however, is that some modern Michaelangelo did it in an attempt to lower the students' morale for Saturday's game with that school. It would take more than that feeble attempt to stop the "Huskies" moving ahead with a determination to give the opposing team something to think about.

NOTICE!

Copies of the "Maroon and Gold" will be placed in the library and the Day Men's room in Navy Hall every Friday where the Day Men can secure them.

Step Down!

There's a tale going around the Iowa State campus of a certain English prof who went over to a local apartment house and asked to see the list of people living in it and also the waiting list. He didn't have to go through very many names before he found the one he was looking for, and said, "Put my name down for this man's apartment, please. I just flunked him, and he'll be dropping out of school any day now."

Scotch Drink

"Can you tell me the difference between a Scotsman and a coconut?" No answer forthcoming, the speaker said: "Well, you can get a drink out of a coconut, but—"

"Excuse me," put in one of the company, "I happen to be a Scotsman. Would you like a drink?"

"Oh, yes," eagerly answered the joker.

"Then buy a coconut," he replied.

Service Pin Stories

Robert F. "Bob" Schramm is a returnee who hails from Pottsville, Pa. He is a Junior in the Biz-Ed Curriculum and shows a general interest in all sports as well as other campus activities.

Bob entered the army in September, 1942, and served as a Regimental Adjutant with the rank of 1st Lieutenant (CE) in the 41st Engineer Regiment, Corps of Engineers. He spent 30 months overseas from January, 1944, to July, 1946, serving in England, France, Belgium, Holland and Germany.

Bob claims his most interesting event to be his entry into Paris on August 28, 1944, and the reception accorded by the French "women." (Hmmm). He rates the American Theater, ETO (3 stars), Victory and Army of Occupation Medals. He was discharged on September 12, 1946, and has settled down at Bloomsburg with his newly acquired wife. Bob says, "I reserve comment on BSTC girls at present. Aspirations—to obtain a Masters Degree in Accounting from Duke or Northwestern and to work in Government GAO as Accountant." (Good luck, pal).

Horace "Bud" Readler is a second-semester frosh in the Commercial Field who claims Wilkes-Barre as his home town. He expresses a liking for tennis and swimming.

Bud held the rank of Sergeant and served as a rifleman with the 45th Division; then as Secretary to General Wainwright with the 4th Army Headquarters. He spent nine months overseas in England, France, Germany, Rhineland Campaign, and Central Europe Campaign. He was discharged July, 1946, after 22 months of total service and rates the Good Conduct, ETO-Combat Infantry Badge, and Victory Ribbons.

Bud's most interesting event was helping liberate the concentration camp Dachau. He is single and says the campus fems are "very, very nice."

Here comes the Navy . . . in the person of Joseph "Salty" O'Rourke, may we present a Biz-Ed Frosh who comes from Wilkes-Barre where he went out for football and track in high school.

"Salty" entered the Navy in February, 1944, and served as boatswain's mate, second class with the seventh fleet in charge of 3rd division of Deck Fore and master-at-arms. He was attached to Great Lakes (NTS), Shoemaker, Calif., USS Hector, USS Sculptor, and the Hawaiian, Marianas, Philippines, and Marshall Islands. "Salty" rates a Presidential Citation, American Theatre, Asiatic-Pacific, and Philippines Campaign ribbons.

"Men make the Navy; the Navy makes MEN" is a slogan to be kept in mind, girls, when considering a mate or even a date. Oh, oh, here's a catch. "Salty" says, "The girls here are pretty nice stuff, but most of them are in love with Themselves."

Phi Sig Gets Back in Pre-War "Groove"

At the informal initiation of the Phi Sigma Pi Fraternity held recently, the pledges were given assignments to fulfill during the evening. In order to carry out these "missions," the men wore various costumes and performed several very interesting stunts.

First to appear was Jack O'Donnell, dressed as an undertaker. The unusual thing about this mortician was his method of advertisement—none other than a sign of the "Eat at Joe's" variety hanging on his back.

Several minutes later there occurred a sight for "sore ex-G. I.'s." Bob Millard and Joe Barchak were being placed on guard duty by Sergeant of the Guard Mario Berlando and they were attired in the uniform all true G. I.'s loved best—pajamas. Their principle duty was to announce the correct B. S. T. C. time with a reminder that "The night is black as pitch and cold as heck."

About this time by-standers, at first notice, thought B. S. T. C. was having an unscheduled night football game. But upon closer observation they found it to be Eugene "Doc Blanchard" Brady and Joe "Bolester Laskerkarnovichski" Lyons dressed in football uniforms with Bob Llewellyn acting as their cheer-leader. "Doc" and "Bolester" played a fast, rough, but perfectly coordinated game of ball—ping-pong, that is! Later they engaged in a furious contest of checkers.

Royal Conrad made his appearance in gym clothes playing his clarinet to give the "football team" some peppy music??? Who could have told him that he was a one-man band?

While this was going on, Jim "Fluffy" Tierney appeared on the scene in an almost perfect image of some of the Waller Hall co-eds. Jane Russell had nothing on "Fluffy," but still Jim had a difficult time in interesting any of the fellows in a dance. Mr. Englehart will be interested to know how poorly illuminated the campus is at night with only seventeen light standards. "Fluffy" knows—he counted them.

John Guy and Jim Marion were getting some practical experience in Salesmanship by trying to persuade passers-by to use their brand of tooth powder. Jim Marion brushed the teeth of one of the well-known lions to demonstrate the effectiveness and proper use of this tooth powder.

Harold "Mammy" Reinert, in his portrayal of a colored "mammy," would have caused many an old Southern gentleman to sit up and take notice as "Mammy" eagerly dusted all the picture frames in the ancient halls of B. S. T. C. "Mammy" also polished one of the lions near Carver Hall.

George "Lulu" Stasko wore a diaper, a baby bonnet, and in one hand he clutched a bottle of "slightly" watered milk. "Lulu" attempted to explain the "Birth of the Safety Pin."

Don "Shoe Shine Boy" Houck claimed to be a descendent of one of the up-river tribes of Indians and to prove this fact he roamed the halls of B. S. T. C. with a blanket slung around him Indian fashion. When it was discovered that Don was shining shoes some fellows even volunteered to get several pairs of their footwear from their rooms.

Later, all of these "characters" by the light from their various matches were hunting for four-leaf clovers in the vicinity of Senior Walk.

NAVAL AVIATION IS TOPIC OF DISCUSSION

Mr. James Rooney, a former pilot in the Naval Air Forces, talked to the Science Club at their last meeting about various phases of Naval Aviation. He said that the question most frequently asked by people is, "How does a pilot know his way back to the carrier?" In answering this, Pat explained the types of navigation used in the Navy—dead reckoning and celestial—and said that a great many navigational aids were developed and used during the war. Some of these include radar, ZB, IFF, and the radio altimeter. When asked how it is possible to land a plane on a dark deck, Pat said that the Navy just makes you do it over and over until you know how. However, this can't be done without some aid. The flight officer, or in slang terms, the wave-off man, is, to the pilots, the most important man on deck. As a plane prepares to come in the flight officer shows by signals and flags whether he is too high, too low, or off course in any other way. Lights on the plane's wings help him to determine this.

Everyone agreed after the talk that he had learned a great deal of interesting information.

PRESIDENT OF MEN'S GLEE CLUB

This year's officers of the Men's Glee Club have been elected and announced. They are: James Rooney, President; Fredrick Cook, Vice-President; Daniel Kelley, Treasurer, and Ray Starr, Librarian.

The men in this organization made their first appearance in an assembly program yesterday.

ADDRESSES PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION

"Parental supervision is the main factor in the responsibility of parenthood," C. D. Jenkins told the Benjamin Franklin Parent-Teacher Association at their recent meeting. He also stated that we must plan more with our children and learn to play more with them. A child is not molded like clay, but character is formed. Traits of parents live on in their children forever. Confidence of the children must be had and held. He closed his timely message by saying, "Teaching is not an easy job."

The banner was presented to the Third Grade for having the most parents present, while the plaque went to the Fifth Grade, next in line.

Mrs. Harry Keller, Jr., is the president of the P. T. A., an organization made up of teachers and parents of the children attending the College Laboratory School this year.

LETTER FROM LOWELL THOMAS

At a recent C. G. A. meeting, Mr. Bailer read a letter from Lowell Thomas written to President Andruss concerning colleges in the Near East. As a result of this letter, it was decided that William Horvath, President of the College Council, should appoint an International Student Relation Committee to consider ways of aiding these colleges. Mr. Bailer agreed to accept the chairmanship of this committee.

Well, Well!

We expect to move in the spring. Don't you think it will be kind of wet?

President Andruss Convention Speaker

If the schools and attitude toward education in peace time take steps to improve, then the Army has been instrumental in starting a movement which will strengthen our national life, President Harvey A. Andruss, president of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College, said recently in an address at Allentown High School before the Eastern Convention District of the P. S. E. A.

Speaking on "Army Education in Retrospect," he spoke of the various elements which went into the Army educational program, including unlimited sums, the powerful motivation of war and patriotism, and modern equipment.

In part he said:

"In the early 1940's, at every meeting of educators we heard the outcry that we should do things 'the Army way.' At least the question was asked, 'If the Army can do it why can't we?'"

"Now is a good time to reflect.

"Shortcomings of public and private education previous to the war were not wholly a matter of not knowing what to do. We were only too well aware of them. Granted, that the limiting factors were removed, we cannot automatically assume that a better citizenry would have been educated but at least it could have been attempted."

"Educate for peace, then go to war reluctantly and we try to find a scapegoat for our shortcomings.

"The general questions remain unanswered. However, it can be stated as follows: Give unlimited funds, amply compensated teachers, small classes, modern equipment, motivation as powerful as that of war and patriotism, can we expect public schools to be as effective in educating people for peace as the Army was in educating soldiers for war?"

"Answer this question as you will. It is evident that the Army did isolate and identify the shortcomings of American education and thus warn the American taxpayer. If we then take steps to improve schools, teachers, and attitudes toward education then the Army has been instrumental in starting a movement which will strengthen our national life."

CALCULATOR COMPANY GIVES DEMONSTRATION

An interesting demonstration by Monroe Calculator Company featured the program at the meeting of the Business Education Club. Mr. Rau and Mr. O'Malley, representatives of the Monroe Calculator Company, demonstrated several types of business machines and told of their latest improvements and developments. Students were also given the opportunity of operating the various machines.

Robert Schramm selected members from the club to participate in the mock trial to be given on November 7.

The club is planning to sponsor a dance in the spring and will publish a club annual again this year.

FUMBLES COSTLY AT MILLERSVILLE

Millersville Teachers Capitalize on Two Third Period Miscues

Pushing across two third period touchdowns as a result of two costly Bloomsburg fumbles, the Millersville Teachers came through with a 13-0 victory over the Huskies in a conference game played under the lights of Glatfelter Stadium at Columbia last Saturday evening.

The meeting between the two schools was the first since 1940, Millersville having dropped the grid sport in '41, the last year BSTC played football on a pre-war basis.

For the Marauders, it was their "home" inaugural of the after dark game, and the fans responded in favor of the arc light affair. Over 3,000 fans witnessed the tilt, and many were Bloom spectators.

Third Period Blues

With Millersville driving hard toward the Husky goal, Wayne VonStetten, playing before the home folks, intercepted a Marauder pass on his goal line and returned it to the Bloom 12. However, a costly Husky fumble was recovered by Cassel, Millersville, on the 18 shortly after. After gaining only three yards in three plays with a stout Husky line holding the Millers at bay, the "bad boy," Dick Reese, got good blocking and went fifteen yards for the initial six points. Noel, who decided last week's victory at Lock Haven with his kicking, booted the ball between the uprights to give Millersville a 7-0 lead.

After Jim Reedy returned the kick-off to the Bloom 38, another miscue gave Millersville the ball on the Huskies' 34. Ken Brenner shot a pass to Dougherty good for 18 yards. Then Brenner hit tackle for the score. This time Noel's placement was wide, but that was the ball game right there.

The first half was played for the most part between the two thirty yard lines except for one Marauder threat which carried to the Husky 13 where Sal Arduini recovered a Miller fumble. The Huskies marched to the Millersville 35 in the second period. A fourth period drive saw the Maroon and Gold lads drive to the Millers' 20 before losing the ball on downs.

Once again the stout Husky line held the opposition to less first downs than those gained by Maroon and Gold backs. Bloomsburg headed this department, 13 to 8.

Two Husky starters were performing before the home fans, VonStetten, quarterback, and Tom Donan, right tackle, both Columbia boys.

WILL MEET TEST AT SHIPPENSBURG

When looking at the Husky football schedule at the beginning of the fall term, someone muttered "not a soft touch in the group." And the boys are not taking the Shippensburg State Teachers College gridiron machine as a set-up. The two schools renew one of the oldest Teachers College rivalries tomorrow afternoon when they tangle at Shippensburg.

The forces of Coach Eddie Gulian show two wins as against two losses for the season's work. Victories were posted over Kutztown, 13-6, and Slippery Rock, 13-7, while losing to California and East Stroudsburg by identical scores, 32-7. These latter two scores may make the Red Raiders appear rather weak, but such is not the case. Last week's victory over a favored Slippery Rock team erased all such doubts from the minds of the prognosticators. Now they don't know how to pick the Shippers.

Shippensburg has long been a thorn in the side of Husky football teams, and tomorrow the Maroon and Gold clad lads hope to change things a bit. The Husky line, nothing short of sensational during the first four games, will be out to spill the fast array of Red Raider backs. Maley and company are just about due to break out with a touchdown barrage, and Husky boosters are hoping tomorrow to be the day.

The Red Raiders boast a couple stars of yesteryear—Galbraith and Hubley. And they also have Keifer, who ran 79 yards against California for the only touchdown. All indications point to another thriller in the Husky football parade.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL

Army, Penn, Notre Dame, Tennessee and Texas along with UCLA on the west coast remained out in front in the national gridiron during the past week-end.

The Mules from West Point slugged out a 48-14 win over supposedly powerful Columbia. Penn ran all over Virginia, a fairly high ranking team, 40-0. Tennessee pulled one of the biggest upsets of the season by whipping previously unbeaten Alabama, 12-0. Texas triumphed over a good Arkansas team, 20-0. UCLA flashed a 13-6 win on the scoreboard over the University of California.

Fans are waiting for the Army-Notre Dame and Army-Penn games, which will be staged on successive Saturdays, November 2 and 9.

West Chester Upset By Bald Eagles

Lock Haven's Bald Eagles upset the apple cart by defeating powerful West Chester last Friday evening under the lights at the latter place, 13 to 6. Previously, the Killinger-coached crew had run rough shod over Moravian, Drexel, CCNY, and PMC, but it didn't matter to the Havenites, who were determined to improve their conference standing.

For West Chester, it practically dropped them from consideration for the conference championship this year. They meet only two other conference foes, and even in winning those two, another team is almost certain to show a higher percentage because of the low number of conference games scheduled by West Chester.

Clarion and California continued to hold the top spot, both meeting outside opponents over the week-end. Clarion was not only beaten for the first time but also scored upon for the first. Thiel College did it, 14-13.

Other conference tilts saw Mansfield win another, this time from Kutztown, 14-0, and Shippensburg upset a favored Slippery Rock eleven, 13-7. Outside the circle, East Stroudsburg put the cleaners on Cortland, N. Y. Teachers, 25-6, and Indiana tacked up an impressive 33-7 victory over Fairmont State while Edinboro was dropping another, this time to Alliance, 20-0.

California at Clarion

Two very important games appear on the week-end menu. California and Clarion, presently deadlocked for the top spot, will battle it out at Clarion to decide who will be the leader. East Stroudsburg will visit West Chester this evening in a game which will decide the future of the Big Red from Stroudsburg way.

Husky Booters Are On Two Day Trip

With one game under their belts, the BSTC soccer men are in for a busy time this week-end. Today, the Husky booters are in Trenton where they clash with the strong Rider College eleven, and tomorrow they will face powerful West Chester at that place.

The squad left early this morning for the New Jersey State Capitol, expecting to arrive there shortly before noon. After the Rider game, the team will journey to West Chester for the Saturday game. The squad of some twenty players is traveling in cars and will probably arrive home late Saturday evening.

Rider and West Chester are two of the strongest soccer teams in the east which means the Huskies will have to be on their toes. Rider has long been noted for its powerful soccer elevens, that school having substituted soccer for football during the past ten years.

West Chester has long been a power in the collegiate soccer realm. Recently, the Rams lost to East Stroudsburg, 2-1, in two extra periods; they dropped another to a star-studded Penn team, 3-1. Penn has four former All-Americans on its squad.

PRO FOOTBALL

Last week-end saw another group of thrilling contests reeled off with some high scoring. In the National League, the Los Angeles Rams, with Bob Waterfield doing plenty of passing, topped the Detroit Lions, 35-14. Green Bay came from behind to trip the much-improved Pittsburgh Steelers, 17-7.

The Philadelphia Eagles were minus Steve Van Buren and lost to the Chicago Bears, 21-14. Washington kept the lead in the Eastern Division by beating Boston, 14-6, and the New York Giants finished strongly to beat the Chicago Cards, 28-24.

In the only All-American action, the Cleveland Browns rolled merrily along by beating Los Angeles, 31-14. It was the seventh straight for the Browns.

Anatomy

"Anatomy is the human body. It is divided into three separate parts, the haid, the chest and the stummick. The haid holds the skull and the brains if there is any; the chest holds the liver and the stummick holds the vowels, which are a, e, i, o, and u, and sometimes w and y."

Yes, Mother

My daughter says she doesn't want to get married.
Just wait till the wrong man comes along!

And how do you account for this piece of rubber I found in the meat pie?

That just goes to prove the motor car is replacing the horse.

THE SPORTS DIARY

By MILLARD C. LUDWIG

The half-way point has been reached in the 1946 football season. Thus far the record shows one tie and three losses. On paper that may not seem a creditable record, but in view of the fact that the job to be done this year was nothing short of gigantic, Head Coach John Hock, Assistants Martin and Landis, and the squad can be complimented. None of the games thus far has been a runaway, the Millersville contest showing the widest separation of points. The Mansfield and Lock Haven games were thrillers while the Clarion and Millersville affairs were marred somewhat by a muddy, rain-soaked field.

Four games remain on the schedule—Shippensburg, Kutztown, East Stroudsburg and Rider, N. J., College. All will be tough ones, especially the Stroudsburg fracas, for the Big Red is really rolling, having vanquished Panzer, Shippensburg, and Cortland in short meter, rolling up 83 points to the opposition's meagre 13. They're all tough this year. Ask anyone who knows. What school isn't loaded with football talent? Bloomsburg has just as much or more, but a break here and a break there, usually the wrong way, have marked a couple would-be victories as losses.

Kutztown is the Homecoming attraction this year, and the Berks County boys boast one of the heaviest Teachers College squads. They have won but one while losing three thus far, but their losses too have been by narrow margins. The Homecoming game has always been a lucky day for the Huskies. Time after time the Maroon and Gold has risen to the occasion beating the opposition, though many times the enemy was much stronger. We well remember 1941 when the Huskies had dropped four straight by rather lopsided scores and hadn't scored a point up until Homecoming Day. Kutztown was the opposing team that day too, and the Huskies again gave the grads something to cheer about, winning, 14-0. Let's hope the last four games will give us a good brand of football, just as the first four did.

It is not yet definitely known, but the Rider College game, scheduled here for November 16, may be played at night. At any rate it is almost certain to be played at downtown Athletic Park. This was decided due to the low temperatures usually experienced on Mt. Olympus during November. A Saturday night game will be something new, and in the event it is played under the arcs, a capacity crowd is expected to watch the season's wind-up.

Little is known about Rider College, but it is a step forward in playing an out-of-state school. We have always looked forward to the day when Bloomsburg would play schools outside the Teachers College Conference. There is a good chance that City College of New York will appear on the Husky football schedule next year. Rider is not only meeting the Huskies on the gridiron this year, but the Maroon and Gold booters are in Trenton today as guests of the New Jersey school.

One of the busiest and toughest court schedules in history has been released by Coach Howard W. Yost, at Lock Haven State Teachers College. The Bald Eagles will really be stepping out when they tangle with powerful Long Island University in the opening game November 26. The Havenites visit Bloomsburg January 11 and play host to the Huskies February 12. Other conference schools listed are: Kutztown, Mansfield, Millersville, West Chester, East Stroudsburg, and Shippensburg. Non-conference opponents are: Detroit U., LaSalle, Alderson-Broadus, Cortland, and Ithaca. The boys will have to go some to beat that schedule. It looks as though the Havenites are stepping out just as West Chester and East Stroudsburg have done in the past few years.

Putting the sport shot here and there . . . East Stroudsburg's powerhouse soccer team continues its mad surge through the ranks. The latest victim was Lafayette, 7-1 . . . Somebody said that Goepfert is around again—that's right—he's back at East Stroudsburg once more . . . He's the slippery back who gave opponents so much trouble in '41 and '42. Fans thought they were through with him when football season was over. But he plays basketball just as well and caused fans some uneasy moments during the hardwood season . . . Local fans will remember him, for he was stationed here a while with the V-12 unit, playing on the '43-'44 basketball squad . . . The Varsity Club of Lock Haven Teachers College is giving life time athletic passes to all former Bald Eagle athletes who show up for Homecoming Day there on Saturday . . . Larry Joe, star halfback at Penn State, established a record when he scored three touchdowns in less than three minutes against Bucknell recently . . . The Lock Haven soccer game served as a reunion for many of the boys . . . John Parcell, Bald Eagle center halfback, is from nearby Orangeville, and many of the Huskies had played against him in high school . . . If plans work out, Lock Haven may be here for another soccer game in November . . . It is planned to play it at Athletic Park under the lights, something new in the way of the boot sport around here.

Yes, he's a regular little press agent.

Lawyer—Now, if you want my honest opinion . . .

Client—No, I just want your professional advice.

Apologize

The theater was in an uproar. Manager—"They are calling for the author."

Man Responsible For the Play—"But I can't make a speech!"

Manager (grabbing the playwright and impelling him along the passage. As he shoved him towards the curtains): "Well, just go in front and tell them you are sorry."

Husky Booters Lose Opener to Lock Haven

Scoring late in the third period and again shortly after the last quarter opened, Lock Haven defeated the Husky soccermen, 3-1, on Mt. Olympus last Saturday afternoon. It was the opener for both teams and taking that fact in consideration, both displayed a creditable brand of soccer.

At half time, the score was 0-0, although both elevens took turns driving at the goals. However, neither offense was powerful enough to get the ball into the net.

The Bald Eagles tallied first with about five minutes gone of the third period. Boyer passed to Rute who headed it between the uprights for a 1-0 lead. However, the Huskies came back about three minutes later when Royal Conrad took a pass from left wing and drove the ball through.

With three minutes remaining in the third quarter, Lock Haven scored on a corner kick. Wagner's boot was headed through by Joe Ticcony. Shortly after the final period opened, another corner kick gave the Havenites their other goal when Rute headed another into the net to make the final score read 3-1.

Eight Hands Round

Anyone passing the Old Gym on Monday evening, October 22, heard the refrain—"Swing your Mar, swing your Pa, swing your gal from Arkansas!" With further investigation one learned that the rafters of the gym were creaking with the gaiety of a real old-fashioned Square Dance. Mr. Deitrich called the sets and Bulla's Orchestra furnished the music. The patterns for the sets were explained for benefit of those who were just beginners. Round dancing was alternated with the various sets so that those who didn't shine at Square Dancing could display their talents as jitterbugs or as experts in the Art of Polkas. Beginners and the old-timers danced until they collapsed with exhaustion. The "Kiss in the Moonlight" dance was unanimously acclaimed the most popular dance of the evening. Weary and happy students finally trudged home after a night of fun and perhaps for some their first experience in Square Dancing.

Landlord to prospective tenant: "You know we keep it very quiet and orderly here. Do you have children?"
 "No."
 "A piano, radio or victrola?"
 "No."
 "Do you play any musical instruments? Do you have a dog, cat or parrot?"
 "No, but my fountain pen scratches a little sometimes."

LOOK RECORD REVIEW

TOPS IN WAX—Vol. 2 King Cole Trio. Capitol's album release of their top-flight trio provides nearly thirty minutes of today's best record entertainment.

Nat "King" Cole (bass) dip into the song hits of the past and produce memorable song and instrumental stimulation. The album offers four 10-inch discs with these titles in standout: I Don't Know Why and I'm In The Mood For Love, both with King Cole vocals; and, as instrumentals: To A Wild Rose and I Know That You Know. Here is music with inspired arranging and a jazz beat . . . it's King Cole Trio Time!

VOCAL ALBUM—Decca has The Andrew Sisters in a five record album containing the songs that made them famous and kept them at the top. All sides are in the effervescing and vivacious style typical of the Andrew gals. Some of the best remembered: Bei Mir Bist Du Schoen, Apple Blossom Time, Pennsylvania Polka, Joseph! and Beat Me Daddy.

VOCAL STANDOUTS—Columbia issues Dinah Shore's hit selection, Two Silhouettes, from the Walt Disney production Make Mine Music. This goes down as one of Dinah's best. On the reverse, she sings That Little Dream.

Dinah Shore Got Nowhere. Liltin' Martha Tilton sings You Make Me Feel So Young, an effective rhythm tune, and Somewhere In The Night, a ballad (Capitol). Eddie Howard and Trio make a superb recording of the hit that is currently sweeping the country—To Each His Own; then he with band reverses to Careless (Majestic). For a good femme vocal of To Each His Own: Trudy Irwin on a 4-Star label.

has the most talked of band in the country, waxes his best of the year. Raeburn produces effects, not moods. In Stravinsky, Boyd does a subtle three-part descriptive: Part One introduces the band as it might be in a pre-Stravinsky cycle—fast, with tricky effects, as any modern type band might play it. The cycle closes with a drum break which also introduces Part Two. This represents the epic meeting of Boyd and Stravinsky. The part closes with another drum break to open Part Three. Here is the modernist Raeburn of post-Stravinsky influence, whose defiance of tradition has excited nationwide attention. The reverse, I Have Only Eyes For You, has a David Allyn vocal (Jewel).

DANCE—Woody Herman and his combo from within the band play a fast jump—Fan It. Featured are the vibes of Red Norvo, Woody's vocals, and solos by tenorman "Flip" Phillips, Bill Harris (trombone) and Sonny Berma

Billy Butterfield Berma (trumpet). Backing this up, Woody and band play Blowin' Up A Storm. Solos on this side that rate special mention: Woody on clarinet; Chubby Jackson, bass; Billy Bauer, guitar, and Bill Harris, trombone (Columbia). Capitol makes a scoring with their second Billy Butterfield release: Sharp Scarf, an adaptation from Chaminade. Solo honors are divided between Butterfield and Bill Stegmeyer (clarinet). Both augment the effectiveness of other's passages. On the reverse—Rumors Are Flying, with a Pat O'Connor vocal.

—Sam Rowland

NEW AND WORTHY IMPRESSIONS IN WAX

THAT'S MY HOME—Gene Krupa, dance (Columbia)

NIGHT AND DAY—Russ Case, dance (Victor)

TO EACH HIS OWN—The Ink Spots, vocal (Decca)

AREN'T YOU KIND OF GLAD WE DID—Vaughn Monroe, dance (Victor)

HANGOVER SQUARE—Ray McKinley, dance (Majestic)

Statistics Concerning College Enrollment

Bloomsburg State Teachers College now has the largest enrollment of full-time and part-time students, for a normal year, in the more than a century of its existence.

The total is 843 with 738 full-time students and 105 part-time students. Of the full-time students, seventy-six are Freshmen assigned here by the Pennsylvania State College for their first year of college work. The Penn State transfers are comprised of thirty-eight girls and the same number of men.

There are 662 full-time students in teacher education work. The largest department is business education with 310 enrolled.

The previous high for regular students was just ten years ago, 712 having registered in 1936. The highest over-all enrollment previously was the 824 for the 1938-39 term.

During the war years, when there were numerous night classes, there was a total enrollment of 999. Many of the full-time students in that period were in the military service. The night classes were large and composed of residents of the area taking studies which would qualify them for work in war plants.

There are now 403 veterans of World War II, including six women, who are taking full-time work.

There are nine extension courses with a total enrollment of 134. Those classes are being conducted at Sunbury, Kingston, Danville, Mount Carmel and Hazleton.

THE B-CLUB HOLDS HALLOWE'EN PARTY

The first B-Club meeting of the year, held at the home of Miss MacCammon, centered in a Hallowe'en atmosphere. The members sat on the floor before a long banquet table with a jack o'lantern centerpiece. Sitting tailor fashion or even "doing as the Romans do," eating in a comfortable reclining position, the girls thoroughly enjoyed the tomato juice, French fries, salad, barbecued hamburger, coffee and doughnuts.

The new officers of the year took charge of the business meeting. The newly elected officers are: President, Rosanna Broadt; Vice President, May Klinger; Secretary, Shirley Keiser; Treasurer, Renee Paul.

The girls discussed plans for future meetings and the possibilities of establishing a hockey team.

A school teacher was recently stopped in Detroit for driving thru a red light and was given a ticket calling for her appearance in traffic court the following Monday. She went at once to the judge, told him that she had to be at her classes then and asked for the immediate disposal of her case.

"So," said the judge sternly, "you are a school teacher. That's fine. Madam, your presence here fulfills a long-standing ambition for me. For years I have yearned to have a school teacher in this court. Now," he thundered, "you sit right down at the table over there and write 'I went through a stop sign' 500 times."

In a crowded street car sat a very thin lady greatly discomfited by the presence of an extremely fat lady who sat next.

Turning to her neighbor, the thin lady remarked: "They really should charge by weight on these cars."

Fat Lady: "But if they did, dearie, they couldn't afford to stop for some people."

George Dotzel's home town is Wilkes-Barre, Pa. A Freshman, taking the Business Education course, "Lippy" has hunting as a hobby (hunting what?) Entering the Navy on November 26, 1942, he was assigned to the amphibious forces where his duty was landing troops. His highest rank was that of B. M. 1/c. In May, 1943, George left for overseas and went to North Africa, Sicily, France, England, Scotland, Hawaii, Japan, the Philippines, Guam and Saipan during two and a half years of overseas service. He had been in the Navy for three and one half years when he finally received his discharge on February 22, 1946. The medals and ribbons he earned were for serving in the Asiatic-Pacific theater of war, the American theater of war, and the European and African theaters of war, where he participated in three major battles. The most interesting or unique event during his service was "getting discharged." George is single, girls, and says, "The average girl at B. S. T. C. is very friendly and sociable."

Albert H. Lapchak, from Hazleton, is better known as "Lappy" or "Al." His hobby is sports and he has played football, basketball and softball. Taking the elementary course, Al expects to graduate in 1950. This boy really put in some time in the army, having as a total length of service, four years and ten months. He was in the Quartermaster branch and was assigned to the 9th Division and 3342 Q. M. Trk. Co., where he was a truck driver. His highest rank was that of corporal. Three and one half years of service he spent in Iceland, England, France, Luxemburg, Germany, and Holland. He was discharged July 25, 1945, after earning medals and ribbons for Good Conduct, American Defense and the European Theater of Operation, with five bronze stars. He lists as the most interesting events, making the invasion of France and getting discharged from the service. A single man, Al says that the girls at B. S. T. C. are very sociable, very nice to talk to, and nice to get along with (whee!).

Diner—"Two eggs, please. Don't fry them a second after the white is cooked. Don't turn them over. Not too much fat. Just a small pinch of salt on each. No pepper. Well, what are you waiting for?"

Hopeful

Why does he hang around that woman with a past? Oh, he's just waiting for history to repeat itself."
