Merry Christmas

Santa Claus Visits Business Education Club December 12

Santa Claus (the busiest man there is) made an appearance at the Business Education Club on December 12, in the Navy Hall Auditorium.

Robert Schramm acted as master of ceremonies at this annual Christmas party, and led the members in singing several Christmas carols. With the help of several members, an educational quiz about Christmas was presented by the master of ceremonies.

Santa read a list of the presents which various members requested that he bring to their homes on Christmas Eve. He also presented gifts to Mr. Walter Rygiel, Frank Pape and Herbert Fox, whose birthdays occur on December 25.

Andrew Ardos, dressed as a messenger boy, read a telegram and sang "Happy Birthday" to all members having birthdays in December.

The conventional favorite, "Twas the Night Before Christmas," was read by Betty Lehet.

To help give everyone the proper Christmas spirit, Elizabeth Reece sang, "Winter Wonderland," accompanied by Alice Smolski.

Work has begun on the Club Annual. The staff is as follows: Editor, Rose Marie Kraiser; Associate Editors, Harry Zavacky and Charlotte Reichart; Art Editor, Al Zimmerman. The Chairmen of committees are as follows: Write-ups, Shirley Walters and Mary Fox; Alumni news, June Novak; Assembling, Edith Fling; Will, Robert Schramm; Duplicating and Typing, Jim Tierney and Betty Fisher; Distribution, Martha Wilson; Lest We Forget, Harold Reinert.

Students To Attend National Convention

The local Alpha Delta Chapter of Pi Omega Pi is growing by leaps and bounds. Fourteen new members have been admitted this semester. They are: Joseph Barchock, Estella Friday, Clement Koch, Betty Lehet, Joseph Lyons, Harold Miller, Harold Reinert, Reginald Remley, Donald Rishe, Paul Rowlands, Ralph Seltzer, Robert Schramm, Lado Savelli and James Tierney. Congratulations to all of you!

At a recent meeting of Pi Omega Pi, Rose Marie Kraiser and Harriet Rhodes were chosen as student delegates to the National Convention of Pi Omega Pi at the Hotel Sherman in Chicago, Thursday and Friday, December 26 and 27. This convention

Xmas Decorations Brighten BSTC

Thanks to the efforts of Edith Fling and Al Zimmerman, the Campus has taken on an air of Christmas. Although it is only a preview of what to expect at home, they and their committees have done a creditable job.

The only outside decorations this year are the lights on the belfry of Carver Hall. Those lights serve as a very effective reminder that the long awaited holiday is here at last!

The Old Gymnasium was decorated by Al Zimmerman for the Christmas dance. He received much well-meant advice, but at times was short on the physical aid. However, he did an excellent job.

Flying Club To Work In Conjunction With Aeronautics Classes

Because of the Christmas vacation, the activities of the Flying Club have been suspended until further notice. When the bell tolls, beckoning the students to their classes again, the club will have a great many problems confronting them. Their first problem will be to elect officers and set up a program for the coming semester. The present officers of the club have stated that any member who desires to change his curriculum to aeronautics next semester should give his attention to the fact that upon returning to school, he must visit the Dean of Instruction and state his desire to change his curriculum. The club plans to work in

Five Seniors Are Selected For "Who's Who Students"

Their Names and Biographies to Appear in 1946-47 Edition of Well-Known Directory

Robert Bunge, Wililam Horvath, Shirley Keiser, Paul Rowlands and Helen Wright have been accepted to have their biographies appear in the 1946-47 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges," the official annual directory of distinguished students selected from colleges and universities throughout America.

This is the second time B. S. T. C. has been represented in "Who's Who Among Students." These seniors were selected by the college administrative officers on the basis of:

1. Actual ability.
2. Past Record.
3. Personal traits.
4. Leadership.
5. Practical qualities.
6. Service to the college.
7. Scholastic achievement.
8. Contribution to extra-curricular activities.
9. Potential usefulness to society.

This publication has a two-fold purpose: First, to serve as an outstanding honor in which a deserving student, after displaying merit in college and accomplishing his goals, would be given recognition without having to pay some fee. Second, to establish a reference volume of authoritative information on the great body of America's leading college students. One of the chief functions of this publication is making employment contracts for their select group of graduates each year.

Observation and research has proven that these people who are active and outstanding as students follow the same pattern after graduation and are well-fitted to work toward key positions in business and society.

"Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges" has developed into an integral part of college and business life, functioning in several vital capacities:

1. As an incentive for students to get the best results from their college experience.
2. As a means of compensation to students for what they have already achieved.
3. As a standard of measurement for students comparable to other recognized scholastic and service organizations.
4. As a recommendation of successful students to the business world.

Eastern States Association of Professional Schools For Teachers STUDENT NEWS EXCHANGE

Active student participation in assembly planning was revealed recently by the 17 teachers colleges and normal schools who responded to a twelve-state survey conducted by the ESAPST Student News Exchange.

There the unanimity ended, however, for the colleges responding were almost evenly divided on the issue of required attendance. "At no assembly is student attendance required," reported Frostburg, Md., State Teachers College. "for it is the general opinion of the student body that adults should be allowed to choose the activities which they feel they should attend and from which they will benefit." Featuring an identical free-choice program, Salisbury, Md., State Teachers College believes "that the assemblies should be of such calibre as to make the students want to attend."

On the other side of the "required attendance" fence is Rhode Island State College at Kingston where "it is felt that since a properly conducted assembly is not only an educational experience, but a socially integrating force, as well, attendance should be mandatory." Seconding the motion is the State Teachers College at Gorham, Maine, which explains that "attendance is required because we feel that the students would otherwise miss a great deal of college life."

Special features to spice the routine assembly programs were reported by seven schools. Framingham, Mass., State Teachers College, for instance, sponsors a series of chapel programs during the fall, where clergymen from all denominations, Protestant, Catholic and Jewish, give inspirational talks. And when the curtain goes down following a Plattsburgh, N. Y., State Teachers College Assembly where a guest speaker has been presented, the action, interest, and excitement continue, for "a social program, either a luncheon, dinner, coffee hour, or tea, is planned in connection with the speakers. This gives the students a chance to meet interesting people and have discussions concerning the field they represent. Students are selected on the basis of representation from each class. An accumulative record is kept in order to make sure that each student will receive at least one invitation during his four years at school."

Greater variety in assembly programs was called for by seven of the colleges, while a few of them spoke up for more student talent, movies dealing specifically with education, and talks on social and economic problems.

Weekly assemblies are held by eight of the colleges, others holding them every day, once a month, twice a month, three times a month, and "whenever the need arises."

Colleges responding to the survey were North Adams, Framingham, Lowell, Fitchburg, Westfield State Teachers Colleges (Massachusetts); Johnson, Castleton, Lyndon Center State Normal Schools (Vermont); Frostburg, Salisbury, Towson State Teachers Colleges (Maryland); Kingston State Teachers College, Rhode Island College of Education, Providence, Bryant College, Providence (Rhode Island); Plattsburgh State Teachers College (New York); University of Delaware at Newark (Delaware); Gorham State Teachers College (Maine).

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

"Perhaps this suggestion isn't quite so important as..." These are the words that started a little speech which has been greatly twisted in the minds of some students. To you dear editor, let this supplement my talk:

Thoreau once said, "How can we expect a harvest of thought who have not had a seedtime of character?" I quote from a Webster dictionary, "character is, the peculiar qualities impressed by nature or habit on a person, which distinguishes him from others." If we are not on a higher plane than the average person, a plane which "distinguishes us from others," then why are we in college? It is my belief that character is made up of many small things which are combined to make that big thing. The topic of current interest and discussion is only a small thing—who cares about grass anyway?

It has been brought to my attention that some schools have a grounds and building committee. One of the duties of this group is to fine any person one dollar if he is caught walking on the grass. I think that has never been introduced here and I hope it never will be. I am sure that we are above that sort of thing. There is not one group of persons that can be blamed for our very charming "mud walks." I myself have, on many occasions walked across the grass.

It is my belief that every man and woman has a natural love for beauty. I am sure that all will agree that Bloomsburg State Teachers College has a beautiful campus. Wouldn't you like to help keep it that way?

The state may pay the bills, but we have to live here. You can usually "tag" the type of people that live in a house with a "moth eaten lawn"—if no natural difficulty is involved. This isn't blamed on Johnny or Mary—the whole family is accused and rightly so. The whole family probably had a hand in ruining the lawn. "So what—the landlord will pay the bill."

Perhaps it doesn't mean much. Only character, the outward show for the love of things beautiful.

What do you say, students?

Sincerely your,

Joseph Curilla.

CHRISTMAS BELLS

I heard the bells on Christmas Day
 Their old, familiar carols play,
 And wild and sweet
 The words repeat
 Of peace on earth, good-will to men!

And thought how, as the days had come,
 The belfries of all Christendom
 Had rolled along
 The unbroken song
 Of peace on earth, good-will to men!

Till, ringing, singing on its way,
 The world revolved from night to day,
 A voice, a chime
 A chant sublime
 Of peace on earth, good-will to men!

Then from each black, accursed mouth
 The cannon thundered in the South,
 And with the sound
 The carols drowned
 Of peace on earth, good-will to men!

It was as if an earthquake rent
 The hearth-stones of a continent,

The Freshmen girls really turned out for basketball this year, and will prove to be stiff competition for the upperclassmen throughout the season.

Other features of the evening were ping pong, badminton, and swimming. There will be no Open House the Thursday after the Christmas vacation, January 3.

What's the Use?

Razors pain you;
 Rivers are damp;
 Acids stain you;
 And drugs cause cramp.

Guns aren't lawful;
 Nooses give;
 Gas smells awful;
 You might as well live.

 The household born
 Of peace on earth, good-will to men!

And in despair I bowed my head;
 "There is no peace on earth," I said,
 "For hate is strong,
 And mocks the song

Then pealed the bells more loud and

 The wrong shall fall,
 The right prevail,
 With peace on earth, good-will to men!"

THE SPORTS DIARY

(By MILLARD C. LUDWIG)

The nineteen game schedule listed for the present basketball season is the heaviest for the Maroon and Gold in many years. Before the war, the greatest number of contests listed was usually fourteen. It is definitely another step forward athletically to schedule more games. A lesser number seems quite improper for a college team, but such was the case here for many years. From 1935 to 1942, some excellent teams were produced, but because so few games were played it was difficult to gain the proper recognition. During those seven years, the Husky teams dropped no more than five games in any one season.

* * * * *

When the Huskies trimmed Elizabethtown College December 7, many thought it was a pushover. It may have been, but local fans will recall that last year Ira Herr's boys beat the Maroon and Gold twice. Not only that, but Bloom was at this writing the only school to defeat the down-state boys. Previous to the Husky engagement, Elizabethtown had defeated Philadelphia School of Pharmacy, 59-46, and since that time handed Haverford College a stinging 60-52 defeat. In this game, Dick Hivner rolled in 23 points and Jimmy Keith 21. Neither the Pharmacists nor Haverford is a push-over. Hivner was one of the lads largely responsible for the two victories over Bloom last winter.

* * * * *

Over a period of years, Elizabethtown has turned out remarkable athletic teams for a school of its size. This year they are "crammed to the rafters" with 300 students enrolled, but during the war, the Lancaster County institution was lucky to have 100. Elizabethtown has played and is now playing strong schedules. During the war, they maintained soccer and many times had no more than fifteen boys on the squad. When the great George Senesky was playing at St. Joseph's, Elizabethtown listed them on its basketball schedule. They were beaten badly, but a lad named Merl Black made history. He held the high scoring Senesky to four points, and it wasn't because George played only part of the game. He just couldn't score against Black.

* * * * *

Here's one for the record book: Two University of Nevada athletes, Scott Beasley and Harold Hayes, played a football game at Honolulu Saturday, December 7, then hopped a plane and made the 5,000 mile trip to New York City in order to participate in the basketball fracas between Nevada and St. John's on Tuesday, December 10. The two boys arrived at Madison Square Garden about three hours before game time. Hayes "felt great," but Beasley said he was "a bit tired." They had about eight hours sleep during the jaunt. Incidentally, Nevada, coming up fast in the athletic world, won both contests, defeating the University of Hawaii, 20-7, in the Aloha Bowl football game, and upsetting St. John's, 55-49 at the garden.

* * * * *

High-scoring basketball games seem to be the rule rather than the exception this winter, for the boys are tossing them in from all over the court. Rhode Island State, of course, continues its system of playing—"the best defense is a good offense." Arnold College scored 57 points against the Rams last week, but that was just a peanut contribution in comparison to Rhode Island's 120. Long Island's Blackbirds, once again loaded with talent, swamped Fort Monmouth, 96-64. Another "over the century mark" was turned in by Ohio U. when the Buckeyes torpedoed Marietta College, 105-25. Such torture! However, one very low score has been reported thus far this season. Niagara U. posted a 20-13 win over Oswego State Teachers, of New York. That is certainly a low score for college basketball.

* * * * *

Harry Donovan, Muhlenberg's All-American guard, who as a freshman last year was rated as one of the top players in the east, ran wild against the University of Newark last Wednesday night to score 43 points, nine more than the entire Newark team could compile in dropping the 83-34 decision to the Mules. The brilliant Donovan hit the mark for seventeen field goals and nine fouls. He now holds the present season's collegiate record for most points scored by an individual in one game.

* * * * *

Bucknell upset a favored Penn State five last week, 38-34, in an extra period. With the score 32-30, Penn State leading, Frankie Haas dropped in a field goal to send the game into overtime. Haas is the son of Francis Haas, former President of B. S. T. C.

* * * * *

One of the longest runs of the gridiron season was the 108 yard trek made by Anton Houlik, of Wichita University (Kansas), against Arizona State last Thanksgiving Day. Houlik took the ball on the second half kickoff behind his own goal line and raced all the way for the score. However, his team lost, 34-19.

Reminiscing past New Year's Day Bowl games: The Sugar Bowl at New Orleans has seen some peculiar happenings in the twelve year history. Except for the Oklahoma A. & M. romp over St. Mary's last season, never has more than one touchdown separated the winner and the loser. . . A 3-2 victory was listed by Texas Christian over L. S. U. in 1936—sounds like baseball. . . Another "baseball score" was recorded when Fordham defeated Missouri, 2-0, in the '42 engagement, Santilli, star Fordham tackle blocked a punt which rolled out of the end zone. . . The Duke-Alabama tiff of '45 was a thriller-diller with the Blue Devils winning, 29-26—sounds like basketball this time. . . Harry Gilmer hit the mark with eight consecutive, leaping, completed passes. . . The lead changed hands four times. . . The '41 battle between Tennessee and Boston College was according to many the most exciting of all Sugar Bowl tilts. Charlie O'Rourke led the great Boston team to a 19-13 win over George Cafego and company. . .

* * * * *

In the Rose Bowl, Roy "wrong way" Reigles ran the wrong way and as a result Georgia Tech. by means of the safety registered an 8-7 win over California in the 1929 fracas. . . A fourth string quarterback, Doyle Nave,

HUSKIES NAME ALL-OPPONENT TEAM

East Stroudsburg Has Four on First Team; Also Named Best Club of the Year

Powerful East Stroudsburg held four positions on the first team of the All-Opponent selections recently announced by the Husky gridders and coaching staff.

The Big Red, which dropped only two games during the season—West Chester, 13-7, and Bloomsburg, 7-6, while vanquishing five other foes very easily, was also named the outstanding eleven faced by the Maroon and Gold during the season.

John Petercuskie, punt blocking specialist who patrols right guard; Al "Lone" Ranger, right end, named by many as the outstanding end in teachers college football; Danny Drigan, shifty quarterback; and Bernie "the flash" Rockovitch, 165 pound scatback who takes care of right half, were the four Mountaineers to make the first eleven.

Mansfield, Shippensburg and Millersville each placed two on the first squad. Joe Walsh, the AP All-State end and Little All-American mention, and Vito Magdalinskis, center, were the two members of the Mansfield team named on the initial eleven.

From Millersville, Michael Kushick, left guard, and Albert "Pee-Wee" Reese, slippery left halfback who was a terror to opponents all season, were rated best at their respective positions.

Shippensburg's Floyd Wolfgang, left tackle, who not only played a lot of tackle against the Huskies but did the same all season, and Martin Hubley, whose long range punts kept the Maroon and Gold continuously in trouble, represented the Red Raiders.

The other lad making the first team was Robert Muth, giant Clarion tackle, who stood out in the "mud test" at Athletic Park.

Lock Haven's Bald Eagles, who defeated the Huskies, 20-12, early in the season, placed three men on the second team. James Stover, left tackle; Dean McGhee, center; and Robert Snaith, right end, were the Havenite standouts. Snaith was the lad who scored two touchdowns and continuously kept the Huskies in trouble on the pass-receiving end.

East Stroudsburg, Clarion, Millersville, and Mansfield each placed two men on the second team. Charlie Ritinski and Chuch Peterson represented the Big Red; Bill Worrell and Charles Rimer were Clarion's gifts; Millersville came up with Dick Smoker and Hubert Peters, stalwart fullback; and Mansfield had its two backfield stars, Ralph Grant and Bob Gagalski.

The Husky gridders also named Petercuskie and Ranger as the two outstanding linemen faced during the season. Ranger was particularly tough in spilling the Husky backs, and Petercuskie, in addition to his stellar line play, blocked a punt which led to the Big Red score.

It is important to note that these selections were made on the basis of performances against Bloomsburg only and did not consist of any records compiled while facing other schools.

Danny Roskos, Big Red scoring ace, failed to make either team, but the selectors felt that other backs were more outstanding in the appearances against Bloom.

The first and second team selections follow:

First Team

- LE—Walsh, Mansfield.
- LT—Wolfgang, Shippensburg.
- LG—Kushick, Millersburg.
- C—Magdalinskis, Mansfield.
- RG—Petercuskie, E. Stroudsburg.

- LT—Stover, Lock Haven.
- LG—Peterson, E. Stroudsburg.
- C—McGhee, Lock Haven.
- RG—Worrell, Clarion.
- RT—Smoker, Millersville.
- RE—Snaith, Lock Haven.
- QB—Grant, Mansfield.
- LH—Rimer, Clarion.
- RH—Magalski, Mansfield.
- FB—Peters, Millersville.

Robert J. "Snooky" Bruchs, of Hazleton, Pa., has women for his favorite hobby, but he also found time during his high school career to be a cheerleader in '39 and a varsity basketball player in '40. At present Bob is a freshman business student.

Bob tells us that he entered the United States Navy February 23, 1943, became a code expert with the rank of RM1c and was assigned to G-2 intelligence. As to more detail on his duties, he has been sworn to secrecy. The places where Bob can admit to being at are: The University of Wisconsin, Imperial Beach, California; NTS, Sampson, N. Y.; U. S. S. Delilah. He spent 24 of his 38 months of service overseas, specifically from December, 1943, to December, 1945.

Bob received the Good Conduct

Medal, Victory Medal, Presidential Citation, Secretary of the Navy Citation, American Theatre Ribbon and the Asiatic-Pacific Ribbon with four campaign stars. As official decoder for Admiral Halsey he has had some very interesting experiences, but unfortunately he is not at liberty to disclose them.

With "Snooky" for a nickname I can't see why Bob would make a statement like this, "there are entirely too many lovers on the campus for us lonely hearts." He's still single, too.

Tulsa University's Golden Hurricane played in five consecutive bowls before this year, the Sun Bowl in 1942, the Sugar in '43 and '44, the Orange in '45, and the Oil last year. This season they decided not to accept a bowl, although at least three invitations were extended the Hurricane, who dropped only one of ten games. The five bowls netted Tulsa somewhere in the neighborhood of $200,000.

LOOK RECORD REVIEW

TOPS IN WAX

Exclusive Records offer one of the finest albums of the year in Magenta Moods. This features the voice of ex-Ellingtonite, Herb Jeffries and the musical scoring of talented Buddy Baker, music director of Exclusive. Six sides in the three 10-inch record album spot the vocals of Jeffries and his treatment is done in the relaxed style of his former Ellington waxings. Buddy Baker makes good use of both a 30 and 18-piece band, using each alternately as the effect requires. Leading titles are: Flamingo, large band production in a descriptive vein that makes full use of some of the greatest recording men in the nation; All of Me, which shows taste in ballad recording through the use of a smaller band, and a design to create "listening music." Basin Street, again with the large band, creates a new recording freshness in moods and effects.

Buddy Baker

VOCAL STANDOUTS

Vaughn Monroe produces Dreamland Special, an album in the "Dream" vein, similar to his recent Moonbeam album release. Titles: Dream, My Dreams Are Getting Better All The Time, My Isle Of Golden Dreams and I'll See You In My Dreams. Four 10-inch records with the above titles among the best (Victor). Perry Como also has an album making its bid as a lasting tribute to the Xmas season: Perry Como Sings Merry Christmas Music. Among the four 10-inch discs are these selections—Winter Wonderland, Silent Night, Santa Claus Is Coming To Town and Oh Come, All Ye Faithful (Victor). Jo Stafford fans will enjoy her fine work with the Lyn Murray Singers in the Capitol disc: White Christmas and Silent Night.

Perry Como

DANCE

Freddie Martin makes an enjoyable ballad pairing of Once Upon A Moon, backed with You Are Everything To Me. On both sides he uses the vocalizing of Stuart Wade (Victor). Artie Shaw likewise, has a two-sided vocal release, his with Mel Torme' at the mike: For You, For Me, Forevermore and Changing My Tune. The Shaw clarinet fills the instrumental spots. Two good, danceable sides (Musicraft). Here is good jazz improvisation, but, in the swing vein because of the use of full band: Eddie Heywood and his orchestra playing, You Made Me Love You and Heywood Blues. Vic Dickinson, trombonist, has the large part of the first side and Eddie's stylized piano, in solo, has the second side feature (Decca). The Duke plays Swamp Fire, a Victor release, featuring the famous Ellington piano and the top-ranking bass of Oscar Pettiford. On the backing, Just Squeeze Me, Ray Nance (trumpet-violin-arranging) in the Ellington band carries the vocal. Interestingly, an earlier Nance recording, Subtle Slough, is used as background for the theme.

Artie Shaw

JAZZ FOR COLLECTORS

Comet Records Present: Art Tatum, a three 12-inch record album for jazzists and classical students. Among the six sides, special standout work is seen in: I Know That You Know (fast and frantic), Dark Eyes (contrasts in slow and fast), and Body and Soul (with tempo contrasts also). The great Tatum, along with his supporting instrumentalists, Slam Stewart on bass, and Tiny Grimes, guitar, weave intricate technical patterns requiring almost unbelievable technique. The versatility of each artist resolves into team improvisation, lifted by momentary inspiration of the take-off instrument—an interesting, exciting study in good jazz.

Twenty Bowl Games For Holiday Season

Record Number of Post Season Grid Clashes Are Listed

No less than twenty post-season or "bowl" football games will be reeled off between now and January 2. This is an increase of five over last year when fifteen appeared on the list.

Two of the bowl games have already been played. Toledo U. defeated Bates, 21-12, in the Glass Bowl inaugural on Saturday, December 7. Last Saturday, once beaten Muhlenberg, met once beaten St. Bonaventure in the Tobacco Bowl at Lexington, Ky.

Lifting the lid on the "holiday season," College of the Pacific will tangle with North Texas State in the first edition of the "Optimist Bowl" at Houston, Texas, this coming Saturday. It will be the final appearance for the "grand old man of football," Amos Alanzo Stagg, who will move to Susquehanna next spring.

Not listed as a bowl game, but rather a regularly scheduled affair, the Green Wave of Tulane will entertain the University of Southern California at New Orleans this Saturday.

Saturday, December 28, the annual Blue-Gray classic will be held at Montgomery, Ala., (or if you like it, the North vs. South). This colorful fray, which pits those college stars of the Mason-Dixon line against those south of the mark, has been gaining recognition each year until it has almost reached the East-West clash in popularity.

New Year's Day, of course, brings the "bowl fever" in full bloom with eighteen being played in the south and far west. The Rose Bowl, with its $100,000 guarantee to each team is still the prize, principally because of the larger seating capacity than that of the Sugar Bowl. The New Orleans classic turned away some 150,000 requests for tickets. The guarantees for some of the bowls are listed as follows: Rose, $100,000; Sugar, $70,000; Cotton, $50,000; Oil, $40,000; Orange, $35,000; Gator, $25,000; Cigar, $17,000; and Alamo, $15,000. This amount is received by each team participating.

The eighteen contests are expected to draw some 470,000 fans, another record for New Year's Day football. Bowls appearing for the first time this season are the Cigar, Tangerine, Will Rogers, Harbor, Cattle, Alamo, and Lily. There will probably be a couple more before action finally gets underway. The complete list with the records of the competing teams follows: (games won, tied, lost, in that order).

FLYING CLUB

in actual flight because of financial or other reasons, they will be able to gain considerable knowledge pertaining to navigation and the principles of flight. A number of the students of the college have stated their desire to change to aeronautics and they are anxiously awaiting the day when their courses are completed and they are able to take their best girl or wife for a Sunday afternoon picnic to some distant place.

The officers and members of the club wish to take this opportunity to wish every member of the College Community—A MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS

good executives? Edith Fling has made the BSTC Special run on time! She is also to be commended for the tasteful decoration of the Lobby and the Social Rooms, Carson Whitsell aiding with the latter. Edith's committee spent several enjoyable (?) hours locating and gathering the decorating material, but she has been amply repaid with praise.

The Day Girls decorated their room. Of course the males are barred from that pulchritudinous sanctum, but gathering from all reports, and what is visible from the hall, they have made it into a home-like living room.

The members of the College Community present their thanks to those hard-working persons who have done so much toward making the pre-holiday rush bearable.

Cora: "I had a funny dream last night and when I woke up I had chewed the inside out of my pillow."

Dora: "Don't you feel sick today?"

Cora: "Oh, just a little down-in-the-mouth."
