Nine Named In Who's Who

B.S.T.C. is the proud Alma mammy of nine promising students who have made a grab at the first rung of the ladder of success, by being chosen to appear in the 1947-48 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." This honor is conferred on outstanding students throughout the nation and is based upon their achievements in scholarship, campus activities and leadership as evidenced by service to the college.

The local students chosen to appear in the annual publication are:

Anne Baldy of Catawissa. Anne is a Secondary student whose principal fields are Science and Math. Anne has been a very active young lady in college. Among her many accomplishments we found that she has been President of the Women's Chorus for two years, chairman and treasurer of C.G.A., president of the Athenaeum Club.

Betty Fisher of Bloomsburg. Betty is a business student interested principally in Accounting and Retail Selling. This popular young miss has let no grass grow under her feet as far as campus activities are concerned. She was president of the Day Women's Association for two semesters, secretary of C.G.A. two semesters, treasurer of Pi Omega Pi, treasurer of the Social Service Club, and Secretary of her Sophomore Class.

Martha Hathaway of Danville. Martha is an Elementary student who has speech as her principal field. Martha is known throughout the campus for her musical ability and is pianist for various college organizations, including Women's Chorus. She was also chairman of C.G.A. for two semesters.

Anne Northrup of Dalton. Anne is one of the friendliest of our co-eds. She has been a member of the Mixed Chorus, YWCA and athletics.

Harold Reineer of Slatington. Harold is a Business student taking General Commercial with Retail Selling as a field. Harold was committee chairman of his Freshman Class, vice president of the Business Education Club for two semesters and president of S.C.A. two semesters. These are a few of the many things that have kept Harold on the go.

Harry Relty of Shamokin. Harry is a Secondary student with Math., Social Studies and Aviation as his principal fields. His popularity and capability are evidenced by the various offices to which he has been elected. This year he is president of the C.G.A., and in the past has been president of the Bloomsburg Players, president of the Men's Dormitory Association and council chairman of the C.G.A.

Michael Remetz of Swoyerville.

Grace for Thanksgiving

We thank Thee for our land, and give Thanks that our gracious land to some—
The friendless and the fugitive—
Affords a haven and a home.

For gallant sons, alive and dead,
We thank Thee, being thereby blest;
We thank them, as we break our bread,
Wherever now they serve Thee best.

We thank Thee that we still can eat,
And speak, and praise Thy name and Thee,
And shape our dream, and share our meat,
And build — and keep — Thy victory.

Mike's principal fields are Science, Math., and Social Studies and he is a Secondary student. Among his many other activities Mike was librarian of the Mixed Chorus and president of Alpha Psi Omega.

James Rooney of Philadelphia. Pat is a Secondary student interested principally in Science, Social Studies and Aviation. Pat is a "brain" but has taken time out to be president of the Men's Glee Club for two semesters, chairman of C.G.A., program chairman of the Science Club, and chairman of the Assembly Committee.

Jean Richard of Bloomsburg. Jean is a Secondary student majoring in Speech Correction and minoring in French. We only have space enough for a few of her campus activities among which were: Member of C.G.A. Council, Girl Reporter for Freshman Class, Associate Editor and Editor of the Maroon and Gold, chairman of the Freshman Class orchestra, chairman of C.G.A., and vice president of the Athenaeum Club.

The activities mentioned for the above students are not all complete and are on the most part merely those in which offices were held. Activities for the year are not included since they are not yet registered in the Dean's office.

Deebel Elected Obiter Editor

In an election held Tuesday at the CGA office, William Deebel, Shenandoah, was elected by a majority vote to serve as the editor of the 1948 Obiter. The election was the second of its kind, but the first, held the week before, was invalid because an insufficient number of students cast ballots and a majority vote was not obtained.

Deebel nosed out several other candidates and the issue was decided by early afternoon on the day of the election, GAA officials announced. The election took place from 11 to 3 p.m. Tuesday.

Deebel, a member of the Junior class, is also a member of the Maroon and Gold editorial staff, serving in the capacity of associate editor. His duties as editor of the Obiter will begin immediately and work on the year-book will start soon.

At the same time on Tuesday, sophomores voted for their class treasurer. The outcome of this election resulted in a landslide, with Frank Luchnick, Mt. Carmel, the ultimate victor and the new sophomore class treasurer.

F.T.A. Meets

The first meeting of the Future Teachers of America Association was held November 5 in the Social Rooms of Science Hall at 7:30. Mr. Roy Dalberg, President of the Association, opened the meeting with a brief history of the Association. Mr. Robert Schramm gave a report on the special meeting which he attended in October and at which a Representative of the P.S.E.A. gave a short talk.

The various committee chairmen were announced by the President, and each gave a brief resume of their function. The Chairmen and their committee are: Edward Bollinger, International Committee; James Dorrner, Public Relations Committee; Clayton Patterson, Activities Committee; Clem Koch, Legislation Committee; Mary Mosier, Social Committee; Carson Whitesell, Financial Committee; Thomas Lewis, Program Committee.

Mr. Lewis introduced the speaker, Dr. Oliver Kuntzelman, Superintendent of the Sunbury Schools. Dr. Kuntzelman spoke very impressively on the "Challenges Facing Future Teachers of America." He told the future teachers that much will be expected from them. They must have a philosophy of life and a philosophy of education. They must be psychologists and counselors. They must be able to understand the attitudes of young people and the individual differences.

Fashion Flashes . . .

A lovely bridesmaid dress which can be used as your good date dress is shown above as pictured in the October issue of Junior Bazaar. It is made of grey taffeta—one piece dress with a tiny jacket. Dress has square neckline, narrow shoulder straps, very full skirt of soft all around unpressed pleats, but gives a flat stomach look. The short jacket fits snugly. It has small round collar, self buttons. At the bottom of the skirt are three large ruffles. Underneath the ruffles horsehair gives it a new look.

The Gold Brick

by Robert A. Baylor

Benjamin (none) Podolsky, age, 30; eyes, blue; hair, brown; height, 5 ft. 6 in.; rate, radar man 3/c; hobby, chasing women and caging drinks (very efficient at both); ambition, to be a civilian; reading preference, anything sexy or socialistic.

Podolsky was a vigorous, remorseless "gold-brick". He would go to any extreme to avoid work. During his first month aboard ship, he managed to "get lost" every time a work detail would come up. The way he managed to disappear so completely came to be a mystery aboard ship. It was the captain, himself, who solved the mystery.

All hands had been called to the bow for the purpose of handling ammunition. As usual, and according to script, Podolsky disappeared. It happened that the captain was entertaining guests on this particular day, and, as was his wont, he was showing them about the ship. Upon reaching the bridge, he noted that the flag-bag was improperly fastened; accordingly he approached the bag with the intention of securing it. He bent over to accomplish this when, upon hearing a strange noise emanating from inside the bag, he threw back the cover. There, sleeping like a baby and with an angelic look on his face was—Podolsky!

Inspection after inspection found Podolsky's cleaning station, the degaussing room, to be the worst on the ship. Imagine our surprise, therefore, when several days before the monthly inspection was due, Podolsky was reported to be busily painting and generally renovating the degaussing room. Inspection day arrived, and it was one of those days when everything went wrong. By the time the inspection party reached the degaussing room everyone, from the exec on down, was hanging back fearfully.

The captain entered the room, and we prepared for the stentorian blast which we were sure would follow. Seconds went by and not a word from the captain. The rest of the party peered anxiously into the room. It was spotless! The deck, which had been a dingy yellow color, was now a glistening green. The walls were covered with degaussing equipment and even it was polished and shining. All concerned breathed a quiet sigh of relief. The captain was so shocked that even he was speechless. When he regained his facilities of speech he began heaping congratulations on Podolsky. It was then that some awful Belial must have pushed him, for he stepped over to the corner and picked up a small radar-repair kit. This kit was about the size of a small fishing tackle box. As the captain lifted it the entire inspection party gave a gasp of horror; beneath the kit was a glaring rectangular patch of the old yellow paint.

Podolsky had painted carefully around the box rather than pick it up!

Youth today is the vanguard of the new fashions. It accepts the longer skirts; it is pinching in the waist. It fancies the Gibson-girl look found in the shirtwaist and skirt and tiny sailor. When it goes a partying it is daintily feminine. With the new year girls will dance in modern skirts of barrel outline. Formal parties there are gowns of Victorian beauty.

Elegance reigns for formal occasions. New York couturiers have turned out dresses of rare beauty. In their fashions, they use the idiom of the past as well as the expression of a swift moving modern age. They offer bouffant skirts or sleek silhouettes. Formal gowns of rich fabrics are built over bustles and pads; even the slimmest among them are not without their rounded look.

For semi-formal occasions, the ballarina length will be most popular. These dresses will feature the pinched in waist, the whirl-a-way skirt and beneath it a petticoate with a deep flounce. Color will reign. Pastel shades and grey will take the front-line position.

Fashions express a new exuberance born of freedom designers find in the unlimited use of fabrics. They provide their style with rhythm and motion and offer women a grace they have not known for many years.

AN EDITOR'S JOB

Getting out a paper is no picnic.
If we print jokes, people say we are silly.
If we don't they say we are too serious.
If we clip things from other magazines,
We are too lazy to write them ourselves.
If we don't we are stuck on our own stuff.
If we don't print every word of all contributions, we don't appreciate genius.
If we do print them, the columns are filled with junk.

If we make a change in the other fellow's write-up we are too critical.

If we don't we are blamed for poor editing.

Now, like as not, some guy will say We swiped this from some other sheet.

WE DID.

Score at Will in 9-3 Win for 6th Triumph

Displaying one of the most devastating attacks during the 1947 soccer season, the Bloomsburg State Teachers College booters rang the curtain on the most successful campaign in the school's history by pounding out a record-breaking 9-3 victory over Elizabethtown College at that place on Saturday.

The field was blanketed with approximately two inches of snow at the kick-off, and rollers were required to mark what would ordinarily be the chalk lines. However, the snow did not stop the deadly Husky attack, which has carried the Maroon and Gold to national honors.

Records Broken

Several records were shattered in Saturday's triumph. It broke the former record for most goals scored by a Husky soccer team in one game—six. The old record of five wins in a single season was also broken for this was the sixth victory. This year's mark is by far the best percentage, and the total goal production for the year is the highest in Husky soccer history. There were several other records which were broken.

Lose Six Seniors

This contest marked the end of collegiate soccer for six of the Wishermen, and all played a vital part in the drive toward a high national rating this year. Captain Clayton Patterson, Nescopeck; Johnny Magill, Fern Glen; Millard Ludwig, Millville; Pat Rooney, Philadelphia; Reginald Remley, Bloomsburg; and George Stasko, Wilkes-Barre, are the Huskies who participated in the record-breaking performance as their swan song.

The Scoring

Once more the Huskies pounded the enemy goal immediately after the kick-off. Goalie Frankie Keath, who turned away approximately 40 shots during the afternoon in a magnificent display of goal tending, pushed aside the Maroon and Gold thrusts until the eight minute mark when "Con" Conrad, Benton, booted a corner kick near pay dirt area, and Pat Rooney lined the ball past Keath.

Elizabethtown came back and on its first attack on the Husky goal scored when Captain Meyer passed to H. Gingerich who lined a beautiful shot into the nets. The Huskies retaliated with two quick goals. On a shot by Ludwig, Keath failed to control the ball, and Patterson shoved it through. Moments later Conrad passed in front of the goal, Patterson picked it up, slipped the oval to Owen Diehle, Philadelphia, and he made it 3-1 with a true shot.

The Huskies pulled away in the second period with two more. At the eight minute mark, Ludwig shot one at Keath, and when he fumbled the ball Diehle booted this one between the uprights. After fifteen minutes, Pat Rooney scored his second goal on a beautiful liner from about thirty yards out, and the Huskies left the snow-clad turf at halftime, leading 5-1.

Second Half

Coach Wisner inserted an entire new team into the fray to begin the third period with the first half eleven resting in the locker room. Elizabethtown took advantage of the fact that the new team was not warmed up and scored two goals, Meyer booting both on mad scrambles in front of the goal.

With the score 5-3 and six minutes remaining in the third period, the original Husky eleven trotted back on the field. Within a few minutes they had the game tucked away. A penalty kick was awarded the Huskies for unnecessary roughness, and Patterson lined the ball into the net. He repeated the performance a few minutes later when the same Elizabethtown fullback, Bucher, repeated the offense.

The Huskies added two more in the latter part of the fourth quarter. Once more exhibiting some smooth passing, Conrad passed to Doyle Johnson who kicked to Diehle. He passed to Ludwig who lined the ball into the upper left corner of the goal. Doyle Johnson closed things up with a scorching liner which hit the mark to make it 9-3. The Huskies were knocking at the enemy goal when the final whistle sounded.

Six in Row

This marked the sixth straight win for the Wisner charges, giving them by far the best record in college soccer history. The overall record for the year was six victories, two ties, and one loss, and with this high mark the Husky booters are almost certain to land in the top ten of the fifty some teams in the Eastern Intercollegiate Soccer Association.

Opposing coaches, referees, and other noted soccer officials have remarked all season at the clever passing of the Husky line and the smoothness of defensive play, and it will not be surprising if a few Huskies are named to participate in the annual North-South All-Star game held each year.

Let Us Remember
We Have Much To Be Thankful For--

Let us be thankful that we attained a decisive Victory—that freedom and decency still live—that America was untouched by destruction—that we had a united will to carry on—that we had leaders of great vision—that we had men and women of courage!

Let us never forget, however, that we barely attained the victory! Let us never forget that Germany was a few months behind us in developing the atomic bomb. Let us never forget that on innumerable occasions in both wars, our battles were won with very slender margins.

THE SPORTS DIARY

by
MILLARD C. LUDWIG

The past weeks saw BSTC athletic teams accomplish a task which wasn't easy — defeating East Stroudsburg State Teachers College in two sports for which the Big Red have always been famous. Saturday, November 8, the soccer team reached a goal which no other Husky team had been able to do in previous attempts when they beat the Big Red in "the Battle of East Stroudsburg" (or "the splash party"), both names fitting the picture.

That soccer game will be remembered for many years. It was played under adverse conditions, the Huskies knew that the Big Red wasn't easy and that if they were to gain any recognition for the season, despite the fine record, they would have to win. Coach Peter Wisner, sticking to "the book" for various reasons, wanted the victory more than anything else in the world.

East Stroudsburg being a physical education school, the Big Red has long been a power on the soccer field, having won seven and tied one last year to rank third in the EIL. Every year they have nearly a hundred candidates out for soccer, and it stands to reason that they will have outstanding teams. Another point noted about the soccer situation at E. Stroudsburg was that the students really get behind the soccer team. All are sports minded, and when the football team is away they support the soccer team, and vice versa.

By racking up that record-smashing 9-3 victory over Elizabethtown College last Saturday, the Husky booters have given the college soccer recognition. Those acquainted with these collegiate organizations will tell you that in order to get anywhere in a new set-up you have to produce something far beyond the average athletic team. This has been the case of the soccer team, for in its first season as a member of the Eastern Intercollegiate League it has turned in a fine record, one that should show Bloomsburg among the top ten of the fifty some colleges in the organization.

On Armistice Day the Husky football team came through with another thrilling display of a movie finish by scoring two touchdowns and making an extra point to edge the Big Red, 13-12. It was almost a repetition of last year when the Pocono school led nearly all the way, 6-0, only to have the Huskies score a touchdown in the fourth period on a Maley to Paternoster pass and Krepich's placement to win, 7-6. This time it was 12-0 going into the last period and the deficit was much larger, but once more the Redman-coached outfit accomplished the feat.

Certainly lady luck did not smile on the Huskies. Time and time again penalties, intercepted passes after deflections, and fumbles paved the way for Big Red scores. The Husky line performed magnificently in holding the Mountaineer backs at bay, and late in the game they opened holes big enough through which a wagon could have been driven. They opened holes against a line which was ranked with the top lines in the state. Before the game, East Stroudsburg ranked second in the state defensively, having allowed only three touchdowns in four games before Tuesday's clash. This included such strong teams as Panzer, Shippensburg, Cortland, and West Chester.

Defeating a physical education school like East Stroudsburg in two major sports, and for the football team two years in a row, is no small task, for it will be remembered that those schools have the "cream of the crop," supposedly. They have many advantages, for they attract athletes and they spend more time on sports. The equipment is definitely better, especially in the case of soccer. Frankly, the Husky soccer team isn't dressed among the top ten. However, it's better to have a good record and be rated among the top ten in that respect than to be in the "well dressed top ten" yet finish among the lower teams.

Looking back over the records, this is definitely the year for which we've been waiting. Both the football and soccer teams boasted the best seasons in history of the school. The composite record of the two sports shows 12 wins, two ties, and three losses. It is doubtful if any other teachers college can show such a record for two fall sports. We know of one teachers college, which is undefeated in football, but the soccer team has lost four games.

This week the Philadelphia release on the State Teachers College Football Conference stated that the football title would probably be shared by Mansfield and West Chester. The article further states that under an old ruling the team winning the championship must play at least four conference games. However, because of the fact that West Chester boasts an undefeated, untied record of eight wins in eight starts, the release goes on, they can claim a share of the title.

That doesn't seem fair to Mansfield or the other teams involved. Bloomsburg and Shippensburg, for instance, play seven and eight conference games, respectively. We're not saying it would happen, but about eight of these teachers college teams are tough to beat, and if West Chester played that many games the Rams might not be undefeated. West Chester didn't look impressive in its 6-0 win over Millersville last Saturday. In fact, the Marauders outplayed the Rams in the first half.

Today's game

California at Lock Haven

Two weeks ago West Chester shellacked C.C.N.Y. to the tune of 47-0 with Freshman star Joe Carlozo scoring four touchdowns. But behind that game is an interesting story. It seems that last March when C.C.N.Y. signed a contract to meet the Rams on the gridiron they did so with reluctance, and the athletic director of the New York school remarked that they would never get anywhere by playing colleges like West Chester State Teachers. Coach Glenn Killinger, of the Rams, himself an All-American on Walter Camp's selections, was fighting mad when he saw the article. He pasted the item on the bulletin board and vowed that C.C.N.Y. was in for a beating. So they were, according to the score. East Stroudsburg added insult to injury by walloping the New Yorkers, 42-6, last Saturday.

With the football season now at a close as far as BSTC students are concerned, a little review of the highlights seem to be in good order.

Looking back to see what our men in moleskins did, we find that the college has compiled the most successful record in its history—modern history at any rate. Outstanding were the thrilling victories over Lock Haven and Stroudsburg, and the overwhelming defeat of Millersville. The unsuccessful efforts against Mansfield and Shippensburg were completely overshadowed by these and other victories registered by the Maroon and Gold, as well as the above par play of Kreiser, Donan and Maley, which netted them nominations to the All-Pennsylvania team.

In the Mansfield game our squad plainly showed its superiority over its opponents, but evidently lacked the final push necessary for victory.

Not disheartened by this one-point reverse, the Huskies bounced back to win a spectacular 19-14 victory over the favored Bald Eagles from Lock Haven and followed this with an 11-7 triumph at Clarion.

The big guns of Coach Redman's team really went off with a bang against Millersville in a game which found the Huskies winning handily by a score of 37-0. That this was no minor feat was shown by the recent performance of Millersville against the undefeated and bowl-bound West Chester aggregation which had to go all out to win by a lone touchdown.

Despite this overwhelming triumph, the Huskies lost their chance at the championship a week later when Shippensburg put on a terrific air barrage in the second quarter that netted them three touchdowns and a 19-12 victory. The squad came back to register a 24-7 win over Kutztown, and in the final home game of the season our boys spotted the highly touted East Stroudsburg eleven two touchdowns early in the game and came on to win in the last quarter 13-12 in as thrilling a game as anyone could wish to see. This game produced a bright light in freshman fullback Dan Parrell, who had seen little action prior to this contest. His line plunging paced the Husky drive towards the winning touchdown.

A sort of anti-climax was the 34-0 decision over Rider College at Trenton in the final game of the season.

Outstanding in the Husky successes this season were the three players nominated to the All-State team. Of these three, Matt Maley is a repeater from last year.

Maley, who hails from Pottsville, paced the Husky offense with his brilliant passing. This 190 pound junior completed 16 out of 32 passes against Lock Haven and hit his target for several passes in the Stroudsburg contest that eventually proved to be the key to victory.

The Husky offense could hardly have been so formidable had it not been for the great line, and heading this forward wall was the 210 pound sophomore from Columbia, Tommy Donan. Perhaps he was one of the brightest of the many bright features in the Husky lineup.

Six-foot four inches are the vital statistics concerning the bone-crushing Elmer Kreiser, freshman end from Columbia who was often on the receiving end of Matt Maley's passes. Throughout the season, the towering wingman threw key blocks that enabled the ball-carriers to score.

In the True Spirit of Thanksgiving Day

Let us all bow our heads in prayers of thankfulness for the privilege of living in a land that has escaped the ravages of war, a land whose brave sons and daughters died that truth, humanity and righteousness might triumph over cruelty and treachery.

Today the Stars and Stripes fly victoriously over a merciless vanquished enemy. There is much for which to be grateful to the Almighty . . . to have many loved ones back home, for a bountiful harvest, for the opportunity to live in a land of peace and plenty and for other countless blessings.

May we not forget those less fortunate, whose loved ones will never return, those who made the supreme sacrifice that the spirit of Thanksgiving in America may live on forever.

LET EVERY ONE GIVE THANKS.

Husky All-State Candidates . .

MATT MALEY

Because of their outstanding play during the 1947 season, three Bloomsburg Teachers College gridgers have been nominated for places on the 1947 All-Pennsylvania team, and each of these Huskies has a better-than-average chance of winning a coveted berth on one of the All Star elevens named by the state-wide press associations.

Matt Maley Is Leading Candidate for Honors

The Huskies' outstanding triple threat halfback, Matt

TOM DONAN

Maley, is the scribes' first nomination for All-State honors. Maley, who learned his football at Pottsville under the guidance of "Tubby" Allen, has been the sparkplug of the Maroon and Gold's attack all season despite injuries that kept him benched during the Clarion and Millersville games. The 190-pound junior set what is believed to be a local record (at least) when he completed sixteen out of thirty-two passes in the 19 to 14 win over Lock Haven. A better-than-average punter, Matty whacks out plenty of yardage, every time he lugs the ball.

Tommy Donan, Sophomore Tackle, Is Second Choice

Second Husky nomination is Tommy Donan, aggressive sophomore tackle, who has starred in every game to date except the Shippensburg contest, which he watched from the bench because of a knee injury. The 210-pound youngster hails from Columbia where he starred as a high school guard under the direction of Woody and Boyd Sponaugle. He is a sixty-minute player who makes things plenty rough on visiting backs, while his offensive play is well-nigh perfect.

Kreiser, Big and Tough, Is Another Choice

One of the biggest and toughest ends in State Teachers College football this season is big Elmer Kreiser, a young giant who learned his football chores at Columbia High School. "Big Elm" towers six feet-four inches and weighs 230 pounds, yet he is one of the youngest members of Coach Bob Redman's squad, having just celebrated his twentieth birthday. Rated by opposing coaches as the best defensive end they have had to contend with this season, Kreiser is also a pass catcher who rates with the very best in the state. He is only a freshman, so rival schools will see a lot of him during the next three years, and pass defenses will have to be overhauled in order to check this young Columbia giant.

Repeating their 1946 performance when they scored three times in the first period and then coasted along to victory, the Husky eleven duplicated the feat and won an easy 34-0 victory over Rider College at Dunn Field, Trenton, last Saturday night before a fair sized crowd.

The game was played under adverse conditions, and the slippery turf hampered the Husky attack considerably. Both teams experienced difficulty in handling the ball, and fumbles were numerous.

Rider fumbled the kick-off, and the Huskies recovered on the 20. Matt Maley ripped off a first down, and Bernie Rodgers went the rest of the way for the score. Ed Tavalsky, Johnstown, who has been bothered with injuries all season, split the uprights with a perfect placement to make it 7-0.

Paul Slobozien intercepted a Rider pass and ran it back to the Rough Riders' 42. The Huskies went to the 5, and then Rider took the ball on downs. In desperation, they tried one of their 21 passes during the evening. Matt Maley intercepted this one and went 30 yards for the score. Tavalsky again place kicked the extra point.

With Rider backed up against its own goal line, Bob Rosebrook punted to his 34. Two plays picked up four yards, and Don Snyder passed to Billy Dugan for the third score of the period. Tavalsky made it three for three with another extra point, and the Huskies led by a 21-0 score.

Attack Bogs Down

During the next two periods, both teams failed to get any sort of a drive started. Punts were numerous, both elevens fearing to handle the slippery ball for any length of time. Rider took to the air frequently but with little success.

Pictured above is Coach Robert Redman, who led the 1947 version of the Huskies to their most successful season in the history of the school. Mr. Redman, along with the able assistance of John Hoch and Tom Lewis put on the field a team which all of us will long remember as outstanding in many respects.

Last Period Drive Beats Big Red

Two Passes Highlight Late Drives for Scores

Down 12-0 going into the last period, the Husky eleven came behind to win a thrilling 13-12 victory over a rugged East Stroudsburg eleven before a good sized crowd at Athletic Park last Tuesday. The game had originally been scheduled for last Saturday but due to bad weather it was rearranged for Armistice Day. A smarting rain fell throughout the contest and aided considerably in fumbling.

Maley to Kriss

With the Huskies in possession of the ball on the Big Red 30 as the last quarter opened, Parrell picked up a yard for a first down. Maley faded back and looped a pass over the center. Steve Kriss gracefully moved under the pigskin and gathered it in around the 5 despite the fact that two Mountaineer players were all over him. On the next play Wayne Von Stetten crashed off tackle for the touchdown to make it 12-6. Then came what was later to be the deciding play. On the try for point,

College Soccermen Beat E. Stroudsburg

In one of the most hectic battles ever staged on a soccer field, the Husky booters came through with their fifth straight victory by defeating East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, 4-3, in the Pocono city last Saturday afternoon. It marked the first time in eight years that a Husky soccer team has defeated the Big Red.

Playing on a muddy-water-soaked field, the direct result of a pelting rain for several hours before game time, the Huskies held a slight disadvantage at the kick-off. The sea of mud was expected to bog down the usually powerful Maroon and Gold attack, which has highlighted the drive for national recognition in the Eastern Intercollegiate Soccer Association.

Diehl Scores Two

The Wishermen, however, pushed aside the weather obstacles and opened the first period with a furious attack on the Big Red goal. It wasn't until the fifteen minute mark, however, that they crossed the chalk line. On a corner kick by Millard Ludwig in the goal area, Owen Diehl chested the ball through to break the ice.

Early in the second quarter the same combination worked again. Ludwig sent another corner kick into paydirt area, and Diehl headed this one through to give the Huskies a 2-0 lead.

A few minutes later Captain Clayton Patterson had possession of the ball about thirty yards out and sent a scorching liner into the nets to give the Huskies a comfortable lead at halftime.

Second Half

When the third period opened, the Big Red unleashed a deadly attack which saw them score after five minutes had passed. Henrie, Mountaineer left wing, shot one by goalie Leroy Henry, who previously had held a record of sixteen scoreless quarters as guardian of the nets.

Back came the Huskies with a roar. Patterson originated the play at midfield, passing over to Ludwig. He crossed the ball to Neil Dent, who passed to Doyle Johnson. The latter took one dribble and booted the oval squarely between the uprights to make it 4-1, and the Huskies breathed easier once more.

Big Red Strikes

The Big Red, a team which doesn't know the word "quit," came back with a vengeance. With the heavy, soggy ball bouncing around crazily, Jack Schalles picked it up and shoved the pellet past Henry, and the count was 4-2.

With about six minutes to go in the fourth quarter, Daniels, inside left, got off a long boot from about twenty five yards out. The ball sailed into the upper right corner of the goal, and the Big Red fans went wild.

The next few minutes saw both teams display a fighting brand of the sport which is seldom seen. After playing nearly eighty-eight minutes of hard, bruising soccer with few substitutes, both elevens battled frantically for possession of the ball as the Big Red fans cheered their team on from the dormitory windows, automo-

In the last period, the hard-charging Husky forward wall blocked a Rider punt, and Gazenski recovered on the 15. Stan Krzywicki tossed a touchdown pass to Charlie Kasmerovicz. Rider fumbled on its own 32, the Huskies recovering. Numerous ground plays moved the ball to the 10, and Don Snyder heaved one to Steve Kriss for the final touchdown. Maley caught a pass for the extra point to make it 34-0.

The statistics showed both teams rolling up seven first downs, but most of Rider's was through short gains or penalties. The homesters were never able to get a real attack moving although they took to airplanes frequently. The Huskies led in total yardage, 331 to 155. Net yards gained showed the Huskies well ahead, 320 to 90.

Last Game

This game marked the final contest for three Husky seniors. Bernie Rodgers, Hazleton St. Gabriel's; George Menarick, Edwardsville; and Stan Krzywicki, Forty Fort, participated in their final game. All have turned in fine jobs as the Huskies closed the most successful season in Bloomsburg history. Menarick finished his fourth complete year in the grid sport.

Last Period Drive

Angelo Albano shot a pass to Maley to make it 12-7.

East Stroudsburg failed to gain after the kick-off. A penalty moved the ball back to the 15, and Schwartz punted. With Parrell, Kriss, and Maley doing the running the Huskies went to the Big Red 7 when a fourth down pass by Maley was too long. East Stroudsburg failed to gain again, and Schwartz punted. From the Big Red 39, the Huskies began to roll once more.

Von Stetten got 5, and Kriss picked up 5 more for a first down. Von Stetten got 7 and Kriss 4 for another first on the 18. Maley gained 6 at right end, but Kriss lost 4. Maley faded back again, got good blocking, spotted Georgie Paternoster in the end zone, and the short boy grabbed it proudly to put the Huskies in front. The try for point pass was bad, and the kick was blocked, but it didn't matter.

East Stroudsburg capitalized on breaks to score in the second period. With five minutes gone in the second quarter, the Huskies had the ball on their 16. A bad pass from center rolled around the goal line and in a mad scramble Charley Ritinski, big right end, recovered for the score. Whitehead's try for point was no good, and the Big Red led, 6-0.

Not long after the Huskies started a drive from their own 35 and had gone to the East Stroudsburg 22. Maley's pass was deflected by an intended receiver, and Bernie Rockovitch gathered it in after going through a juggling act on his 10. He swept to the south sidelines, got good blocking, and when a Big Red lineman hit Steve Kriss, the West Hazleton flash appeared to be off on a long touchdown jaunt.

However, Kriss didn't give up. He picked himself from the ground and was a full 15 yards behind Rockovitch on the 50. With a tremendous burst of speed he overtook the Mountaineer back on the 5, and for a while it looked as though Kriss' run was not for naught. However, on a fourth down
